

Fillies Win District Championship

Bovina's Fillies wrapped up their first district championship in six years Friday night at Lazbuddie.

They downed the Lazbuddie girls with ease, 46-31. The game was more important than the score indicated, however, because the Fillies had to win to take the championship outright. If they had lost to Lazbuddie, they would have been tied for the championship and forced into a playoff with Nazareth.

The Bovina girls had a 7-1 mark in district play. Only an upset loss to Hart by a narrow margin marred their record. Nazareth was 6-2, losing only to Bovina in two contests.

They now go against Cotton Center in the first round of regional play (bi-district). A meeting of Bovina and Cotton Center school officials has been set for tonight (Wednesday) in Dimmitt to work out the time, place and other details of the playoff game.

Winner of the Bovina-Cotton Center clash will advance to the regional tournament at Canyon March 5-6.

Though the details concerning the game will be decided on tonight, Coach Milt Fitts is of the opinion that the Bovina-Cotton Center game will be played Monday night, March 1, at Dimmitt. That is the earliest possible date for the game to be played according to interscholastic league rules.

In another meeting, also at Dimmitt tonight, officials and coaches from district schools will select members of the all-district basketball teams and will schedule dates for spring sports.

Lazbuddie's girls jumped to an early lead Friday night, but it was short-lived and the Fillies were safely in front, 14-7, at end of the first period.

They increased the margin to 24-10 at halftime and were in front, 36-20 at the three quarters mark.

Sandra Patterson was high scorer with 18 points. Lynn Looney and Judy Strawn had 13 as Nancy Cumpton contributed two.

The Mustangs completed their '64-'65 basketball season at Lazbuddie Friday night. A 39-52 loss to the Longhorns made their District record 1-7.

The Ponies put up a hard fight early and lead through approximately half of the initial quarter. They trailed by four, 11-15 at the end of the period. Lazbuddie was in front 21-38 at the halftime rest stop.

Scotty Rundell lead Bovina pointmakers with 11. Roman Ramirez had 10, Jerry Roach eight and Gene Pruitt seven. In a B-team girls' game, played before the main events at Lazbuddie, Bovina was victorious, 42-38. Gayle Minyen made 18 of Bovina's points as Carol Kirkpatrick had 16 and Lanell Christian six.

The Fillies' season record is 13-10. Mustangs were 1-19 over the season.

Fitts, who coached both squads, is in his first year at Bovina High.

THE NEWSPAPER THAT WORKS FOR A BIGGER, BETTER BOVINA

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1965 BOVINA, TEXAS VOL. IX, No. 33

WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

This is a great week in, and for, Bovina.

The Fillies have wrapped up a district championship, plans for a new bank building have been announced, the annual FFA livestock show is Saturday, the city is about to build a new building of some kind, plans for a new post office are already working and we're having more weather, some of it good, than you can shake a stick at.

The fellow who said, "Nothing ever happens in a small town," knew about as much of what he was speaking as a Plainsman does about sailing.

Things change with time.

This week, for instance, we learned that high school teams no longer play "bi-district" basketball games, according to the state interscholastic league.

The proper term now, we understand, is "first round of regional play."

We daresay that a lot of people we know will be a long time in abandoning the bi-district term. If that turns out to be the case, we don't much blame them.

Texas Tech basketball fans can be as cruel as any. They have, however, been comparatively lenient on us in recent weeks in spite of their team's tremendous success to date.

Frankly, we think this niceness comes about because they aren't yet sure of just how good their team is. They aren't really confident yet. The Texas Aggies, for one, scared the wits almost out of Red Raider fans in their recent game and the Double T crowd was so proud of the close win that they weren't in much of a howling mood, we'd guess.

We'll admit, too, that we have purposely made it as hard as courtesously possible for TT people to talk with us about basketball. We've been getting a lot of experience in making a quick shift of the subject.

Back during football season, or the end thereof, we were doing some crowing for Parmer County over the fact that it was on the brink of having three district champion football teams.

Though it appeared that Farwell and Friona might win, things didn't turn out that way and Bovina's Mustangs were the only team to bag a championship.

It's different, and better, from a basketball standpoint, though. Friona has two district champions, both boys and girls; Bovina has the champion Fillies, of course, and the Farwell Steers have been, or are in, a best of three series with Springlake to see who represents that district in post-season play.

If the Steers win their playoff, that'll make four district champions from one county. That can't be a bad record, sports-wise.

If your figuring on entering a political race on the local scene -- city or school -- best be getting your hat off and in the ring. Deadline is just a couple of weeks from now.

There were no candidates either place as of Monday.

They're not bad jobs, either. The city pays in American money for the services of its councilmen. There's no cash for school board members, but we understand that the prestige is tremendous.

Bank Planning New Building

Accept School Project

New classrooms at Bovina Schools, which were completed last month, were officially accepted from the architect at a special meeting of the school board Monday afternoon.

Atmar Atkinson, of Lubbock, the architect for the building, was present at the session.

In other action, board members voted to replace cork tile in the school auditorium with another type of floor covering.

Completion Date Scheduled Aug. 1

A new building is to be constructed for Bovina's bank.

The new structure will be located across the alley south of the present building on Third Street. Contract for the building is expected to be let in 30 days, announces Bob Estes, bank president.

The present bank building, which includes three rental offices, has been sold to Otis Spears. Possession changes hands August 1.

Spears says S and S Dry Goods, next door to the post office, and the children shop of Spears Family Fashions, on Third Street, will be housed in the building. Offices in the building will remain as they are, Spears says.

Estimated cost of the new bank building will be $75,000. It will be located on a 140 by 90 foot lot.

Tentative plans call for the building to be 75 by 50 feet in size. This is approximately the size of the present building which is 57 by 66. However, the new building will have no rental space, according to Estes.

The new bank will feature a community meeting room, a drive-in window, and a night depository.

The building will be constructed of brick with a brick and glass front.

"The new facilities will allow us to offer our customers the latest, most modern, banking facilities available anywhere," Estes says.

Location of the new bank is considered ideal in that it is less than a block from the downtown area and yet is on Third Street, which is considered the town's second most important from a business standpoint.

"We feel that a new bank building is necessary if we are to keep up with the growth and progress of the community and area," Estes points out.

Council Talks New Building

In a called session Monday night, Bovina's city council discussed plans for a new fire station and city maintenance building.

City officials were to confer with an attorney this week in preparation for advertising for bids for the building, which will be of steel and concrete block construction.

The new structure will be located on North Street, immediately west of the water tower. The property is owned by the city.

Advertising for bids for the project is expected to begin within the next couple of weeks.

Blade Banter

By Jeanne Kerby

The measles, mumps and chickenpox have started going around among the children, so Spring must not be far away. I've always wondered why these diseases are so seasonal.

Since you are supposed to acquire the disease by coming in contact with an infected person, why do they always break out at the same time of year?

When we first got a TV set several years ago one of my small nephews was visiting with me. Of course, he was very intrigued by it. His main interest, and the part he watched for, was the "cartoon." This was what he called the animated commercial for Gillette.

After watching some of the current programs being shown on TV we have about come to the conclusion that he had the right idea. I think some of the commercials are better than the so-called programs.

I saw a cartoon recently that fit me to a tee. Intended to put it up in my kitchen but lost it in the shuffle somewhere. It depicted a lady getting into a cab in a downtown area and the caption read, "Just drive slowly around the business district. I've forgotten where I parked my car." Does anyone else have this trouble?

With the city and school elections coming up in the near future, we have heard some discussion again about ladies serving in these capacities, and the fact that they felt they would do a very commendable job. Maybe we are a bit prejudiced, but we think women have some very good ideas. Maybe this will be the year that we elect some women to fill these positions.

I would like to say "congratulations" to the members of the girls basketball team and Coach Fitts on winning the district championship. We want to wish them lots of luck in their bi-district encounter with Cotton Center and we hope they go all the way to Austin!

Fillies' District Title First In Six Years

District title won by the girls basketball team last week is the first since 1959. At that time district teams were playing a round robin and a district tournament, with each counting half on the district championship. Bovina's Fillies captured both for undisputed title to the championship.

That year also saw the Mustangs winning district and bi-district but losing their first game at regional. That is the only year in recent history that both boys and girls teams captured the title.

The district win for the Fillies in 1959 was the second consecutive year for them to be named district winners. In 1958 they won bi-district, the regional tournament, but lost their first game in the state tournament at Austin to Sugarland.

The opposition for bi-district in that year was Cotton Center, who they will meet again this year. In '59 the Fillies were victorious by a 52-45 margin.

In regional play they defeated McCauley and Textline and then lost to Bula in the finals 55-46. They had defeated Bula in '58 by two points in the regional finals for their trip to the state meet.

On the following Wednesday the Bovina school officials were notified that the UIL had ruled that Bula was ineligible to participate in the state tourney, due to an infraction of league rules, and that Bovina had been named to represent the region in the state play-off. The Fillies left immediately for Austin for their second state tournament in as many years.

The Fillies were victorious in their first two encounters, defeating Grandview 53-43 and rolling past Skidmore-Tynan 90-80. In the state finals they were defeated by North Hopkins 64-47.

In the semi-final game with Skidmore-Tynan they set three state records. The 90 points were the most ever scored in a state tournament, the 170 total was the most for two teams and 38 field goals were the most scored by both teams in one game.

Members of the 1959 squad were Nita Beth Estes, Joan Kay Ezell, Janice Richards, Carolyn Crump, Cynthia Patterson, Kay Hartzog, Frieda Downs, Mildred Young, Myrna Downs, Margie Dane, Penny Lloyd, Cella Berry, Arlene Clayton, Lexie Stevenson, Joy Redden, Nancy Cumpston and Brenda Jones. Managers were Nickle Wolfel and Barbara Taylor and coach for the Fillies was Charles Don Smith.

Nita Beth Estes and Janice Richards were named to the all-state girls basketball team and Joan Kay Ezell and Kay Hartzog received honorable mention.

Dan Cupid Party For Intermediates

Young people of Intermediate I Dept. of First Baptist Church were entertained with a social in Fellowship Hall Sunday night.

"Doctor Dan Cupid's Hospital Party" was the theme. They had games in the various wards, including the children's, rehabilitation, operating and emergency. They had teams of broken hearts and misplaced hearts.

Carol Mast was honored for her "operation in the dark," the best picture of cupid shooting an arrow, drawn in complete darkness.

Jerry Morris and Ronnie Dyer won the rehabilitation award by feeding each other jam sandwiches while blindfolded.

The serving table was laid with a red cloth and centered with a heart tree. Refreshments of home made ice cream and red heart shaped cake were served.

Young people attending were Rodney Murphy, Ronnie Dyer, Darrell Kirkpatrick, Jerry Morris, Lynn Murphy, Teresa Page, Kathy Estes, Carol Mast, Carol Kirkpatrick, Carol Jamerson, Vickie Hawkins, Martha Adams, Judy Denny, Betty Stone and Diane Stowers.

Also attending were Jack Boggs and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Aday. Hosting the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Don Murphy and Mrs. Harold Hawkins.

Mrs. Bell Hosts Luncheon

The Thursday afternoon Bridge Club met last week for a luncheon and bridge in the home of Mrs. Durward Bell.

A valentine motif was used throughout her home. The luncheon menu featured fried chicken with all the trimmings, cake and coffee.

Winning high prize for the afternoon was Mrs. Don Sides, low Mrs. Jim Hemke, traveling, Mrs. Bedford Caldwell and bingo Mrs. R. E. Wilson.

Others present were Mrs. Jimmie Charles, Mrs. Johnnie Horn, Mrs. Dean McCallum, Mrs. A. M. Wilson, Mrs. Leon Grissom, Mrs. Vernon Willard, Mrs. J. E. Sherrill and Mrs. Jim Ware.

This Week's DEVOTIONAL

HE HELPS WITH OUR BURDENS

Read John 14:15-21
"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever." -- John 14:16.
Some years ago when a new office building in Oklahoma City had just been completed and the new occupants were moving in, an executive stood at a third-floor back window watching a workman attempting to load a truck with some steel shelving which has been cut too short and had to be replaced.

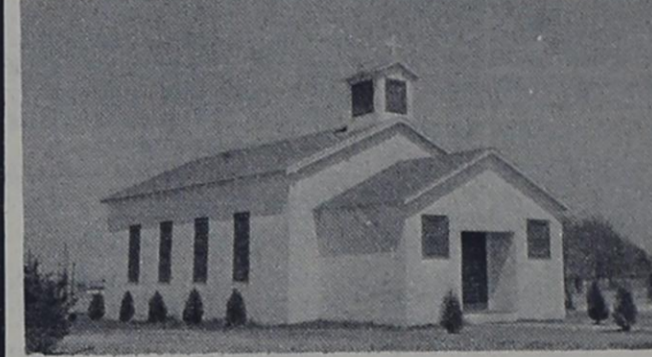

The small workman had one end of the shelving in the truck, but when he, with some difficulty, managed to lift the other end, he had no additional power to push the steel forward into the waiting vehicle.

At that crucial moment, out of the back door of the building came another workman, a giant of a man, who caught hold of the little fellow's burden, gave it a forward shove into the truck, and then patted his partner on the shoulder.

This was an earthly picture of the work of the Holy Spirit. He comes to us in our times of great need, helps lift our burdens, and provides courage for continued service. He shoulders the burden for all who are heavy-hearted, for all whose souls are weighed down with problems, difficulties, and disappointments.

Of course, it goes without saying that members of the governing bodies are apt to receive ample, and then some, belly-aching from dissatisfied patrons. There's always criticism, though, for people who are doing things so don't let that possibility stand in the way of your candidacy.

Willie the Weatherman was right again. Two weeks ago, he told us we'd have a "whizding" on or about the 15th of this month. Sure enough, on Monday morning, the 15th, there was spitting snow, high wind and extremely low temperature.

We'll admit that until the 15th rolled around, we weren't sure just what a "whizding" was, weatherwise. But we'll know what to expect when another one is predicted.

We're patiently waiting to hear a diet success story. There's still a lot of diet conversation, but there's very little being said about how successful dieting is.

We need still more encouraging. We guess it would be incorrect to mention here that "the proof is in the pudding?"

New Bank--

Buildings which are now on the location are slated to be moved in the next week or so. Construction is expected to begin shortly after the contract is let in about 30 days.

A basement is planned for the new structure. It will be used primarily for record storage. Estes points out.

Plans for a new bank building have been in the making for the past year. The property to build it on was purchased only recently.

The bank is currently in the process of changing from a national to a state banking association.

A meeting of stockholders of the bank is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Purpose of the meeting is to "consider and act upon a proposal to change and convert the banking corporation into a state banking association."

Stockholders may attend in person or by proxy. Following the change, name of the bank will be First State Bank of Bovina.

First National Bank of Bovina was founded in the Fall of 1955 and opened in temporary offices. The present building was constructed in '56.

Advantages Of Recirculation Systems For Irrigated Farms

High Plains Water District personnel state that "economic, legal, and moral pressures have caused many high plains farmers to use recirculation systems to control irrigation tailwater."

Recirculation systems consist of a drainage ditch to collect and convey the tailwater, a sump for temporary water storage, a pumping plant to pump the water back onto the farmland and a pipeline to convey the water from the pumping plant to the head ditch.

Don Reddell, engineer of the High Plains Water District, lists the following advantages recirculation systems offer high plains farmers.

- (1) prevents the ponding of water at the lower end of the field which interferes with plant development and causes reduced crop yields.
- (2) prevents the flooding of adjoining neighbors farmland, thereby reducing the threat of legal action.
- (3) prevent the flooding of the public roads and eliminate sources of automobile accidents.
- (4) prevents the flooding of public road drainage ditches and reduces county expense for road maintenance and repairs.
- (5) prevent mosquito breeding by eliminating the shallow, tepid waters necessary for mosquito breeding.
- (6) provides an additional source of irrigation water, in some cases increasing it by as much as 20 to 25 per cent.
- (7) improves the efficiency of water distribution by allowing the farmer to use a larger head of water to get the water to the end of the rows quicker. This provides for a more uniform moisture penetration by eliminating deep moisture penetration in the upper portion of the field, not enough moisture in the middle of the field and deep penetration at the lower portion of the field where ponding occurs.
- (8) reduces the amount of irrigation labor necessary. Many farmers using recirculation systems state that one man can now irrigate as much as two or three men before the recirculation system was installed.
- (9) recovers and reapplies nutrients carried from the farm in tailwater. Water District tests show that about 30 pounds of nitrogen in the form of nitrates were being lost per acre-foot of tailwater. The recirculation system salvages these nutrients as well as the tailwater.
- (10) recovers and reapplies rich top soil carried from the farm in tailwater. Water District tests show that on the average 9 to 10 tons of soil are carried off the farm in each acre-foot of tailwater. Recirculation systems are reclaiming approximately 50% of this top soil and returning it to the farm.
- (11) improves plant growth rate because tailwater is much warmer than ground water. Cold ground water causes a temporary cooling of the soil and reduces the rate of plant growth for a few days. The warm tailwater does not lower the soil temperature appreciably, and allows the plant to continue its normal growth rate.

BUREAU OF CENSUS REPORTS GINNINGS

Preliminary ginning totals, as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Census, show 1,891,868 running bales ginned in the 23 High Plains counties through January 16, 1965. This figure compares with a total of 2,090,740 bales as of the same date last year, a decrease of almost 200,000 bales or about 10 per cent.

While these are only preliminary 1964 production figures they should be fairly close to final production for the year. The report also indicates a drop in State production from 4,375,887 to 4,053,000 bales. Latest USDA estimates place total national production at 15,317,000 bales, up slightly from the 15,289,986 bales grown in 1963 and the largest crop since 1953.

Most observers attribute the drop in High Plains production to drought conditions which prevailed over the area during the growing season. Only seven of the 23 counties -- Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Deaf Smith, Parmer and Swisher -- were able to show an increase in bales produced. Of these, Castro had the largest increase, percentage-wise, with 28.7 per cent. In the 16 other counties where production went down, Howard with its large dryland acreage had the heaviest percentage loss at 52.9 per cent, followed by Dawson with a 36.8 per cent drop and Lynn with 32.2 per cent.

The 23 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers and their ginnings, in 500 pound running bales, appear below along with the comparable figures for the 1963 crop.

Texas Farm Land More Valuable

Texas farm and ranch land prices reached a record high of $94 an acre in 1963. This, said Boyd Andrews, Extension resource development specialist at Texas A&M University, was an increase of 10 per cent over the average price in 1960.

He added that a recent study by the resource economics section of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology points out other interesting facts. Due to the vast differences in soil types and locations, sale prices ranged from $20 to over $1,000 per acre.

While land prices moved upward, the net farm income was declining. Thus requiring a larger investment for a smaller return. A popular view expressed to the study group was that the low net farm income does not justify the existing high land prices, Andrews said.

But a closer look at the dominant sources of demand for agricultural lands may help explain the situation, the specialist added. First, he said, the average net farm income can be misleading. Many farmers and ranchers receive a far greater return than the average indicates. This group is capable of adjusting rapidly to incorporate technological advances and financially able to bid up the price of land to gain a larger economic sized unit. The strong demand for strictly agricultural land comes almost entirely from this group, Andrews said.

Another important source of demand for agricultural land is from industry and urban developments. In many areas of Texas industry is expanding and using large acreages of agricultural land and pushing prices upward. Urban centers are spreading out and taking up more and more land and highways are also taking their share, the specialist said. These intensive uses of land exert great influence on land prices, the study noted.

A third important source of demand comes from urban dwellers. These buyers are interested in using land for agricultural purposes as well as for homes, weekend farms and for recreation. These demand sources for land are the dominant forces in the Texas land market and are not expected to change in the near future, Andrews said.

Have you ever stuffed a meat loaf? It's an excellent way to extend an already economical dish. First prepare your own special meat loaf mixture, using 1 1/2 pounds ground meat, and place half the mixture in a greased 4 1/2 x 8 1/2-inch loaf pan. Prepare your favorite stuffing recipe, using about 4 cups crumbled enriched bread, and spread over meat mixture. Cover with remaining meat and bake in preheated 350° oven 1 1/2 hours.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

'STREETCORNER RESEARCH' is a project at Harvard University aimed at having juvenile delinquents talk themselves out of apathy and hostility by talking about themselves into a tape recorder. This unusual therapy has proved a success, researchers say, as arrests and time in prison for one such group were only half those of untreated young criminals from similar circumstances.

RESPIRATORY CRIPPLES are helped by an Intermittent Positive Pressure Breathing apparatus (IPPB) developed by National Cylinder Gas, Chicago. It assists in breathing a medicated mixture of oxygen and air, allowing exhalation by natural lung recoil. The physician-prescribed IPPB can restore breathing regularity to emphysema victims for 10 to 12 hours at a time.

HAILSTONES are being collected in central Illinois in the interests of science. State meteorologists and scientists of the Atomic Energy Commission study them for traces of radioactivity. Gallon samples are requested from residents.

Quality Of Some Produce Affected By Weather

Weather does make a difference in the quality and supplies of some fresh produce arriving at local markets, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

This is a good time of the year to compare prices on fresh, canned and frozen vegetables to decide on best values. Headlining choices at the fresh vegetable counter are cabbage, head lettuce, carrots, celery and hard shell squash. Other quality offerings include cauliflower, broccoli, yellow squash, snap beans and eggplant.

In the citrus fruit line, oranges are the most plentiful, with ample grapefruit offerings still to be had.

Canned fruit will be featured often in the coming weeks. Watch for exceptionally good values in canned citrus juices fruit cocktail, freestone peaches, pears and red tart cherries, says Mrs. Clyatt. In the meat department, several good cuts are being featured which are just right for pot roasting. Shoulder steaks and ground beef are among other good values. Boston butt

Great Agriculture Yields Industry

"With great agriculture comes great industry," says the chairman of the board of directors of Texas A&M University.

Board Chairman Sterling G. Evans, of Houston, made the statement in a speech before 1,100 people from 13 southern states who met here recently at the annual meeting of the Southern Agricultural Workers Association.

In his speech, "Southern

THE SMASHING IMPACT of a giant meteorite striking earth is simulated at Stanford University where a "b-b" (air-rifle shot) suspended on a thread plinks against a 300-lb., 12 1/2-in. diameter steel ball. Scaled up, the power of this Lilliputian collision equals the crash of a projectile 20-to-40 miles in diameter against the earth, or the blast of a 5 to 10 megaton H-bomb.

Agriculture in an Urban Society," Evans stressed the need to make the American public aware that "the greatest hope for industry lies in the field of agriculture."

Cheap food, housing, medical care and transportation can come only through great and efficient agricultural workers, Evans said.

The south has sent large numbers of people to the north and west, he continued, but still retains a relatively young population.

More than three million people have gone to other areas from the 13 southern states since 1950, according to Evans, with the heaviest migration from West Virginia, Arkansas and Mississippi.

"This migration will continue unless the economic growth of the south is speeded up substantially," he said.

Even though the south is gaining in education, it still lags behind other areas of the country, stated the well known businessman and cattle breeder.

He noted, however, that although income levels of most people in the south fall below those of the north, southerners with four years of college education show slightly higher incomes than the same group in the north and west. "What an opportunity this gives for exploiting the possibilities of a college education for southern universities, he said.

Ship Your Livestock Carefully

Approximately 80 per cent of the bruises which show up on beef, pork and lamb carcasses at the packing plant can be eliminated if the basic rules for handling livestock are observed. Frank Orts, Extension meat specialist at Texas A&M University, says these losses are reflected in lower prices to livestock producers at the time of sale.

And, he adds, most of the bruises occur in the region of the highest priced cuts on the carcass. In the case of hogs, hams are most often bruised. In cattle, it is the loin and usually the area of the short loin. The bruises are due mainly to loading chutes which permit two animals to move up but only one to enter the smaller door on the truck. This trouble spot can be eliminated by reducing the width of the chute or adding adjustable sides to make it the same width as the loading door.

Orts suggests the use of a canvas slapper instead of clubs or canes when loading livestock. Also the elimination of all protruding nails, bolts and broken boards from fences, doorways and trucks; the removal of machinery and junk from the feedlot or barnyard; the dehorning of cattle when young; the use of sand for truck bedding to prevent slipping; the use of partitions to separate cattle, sheep and hogs of different sizes and light feeding of livestock before loading them.

Livestock travel best, he adds, on a light fill and properly shrunk cattle will get a better reception at the market due to a better dressing percentage. And last but not least, he suggests that the drive to market be done carefully and kept free of sudden stops.

During this season, when weather conditions are not always the best, taking care of the little things can add dollars to the selling price of a load of livestock, he says.

Cleansing Agent For Household Metals Is Club Topic At Black

Choosing the proper cleansing agent for household metals was topic for discussion when members of Black Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. John Bengert recently. Mrs. Roscoe Ivie and Mrs. Ellis Tatum led the discussion and gave a demonstration on the numerous cleansing agents available. The group reached the conclusion that the cleansing agent that will get the job done and preserve the beauty of the metal is the proper agent to use.

A report was heard that $79. had been the profit from a recent farm sale at which the club served dinner.

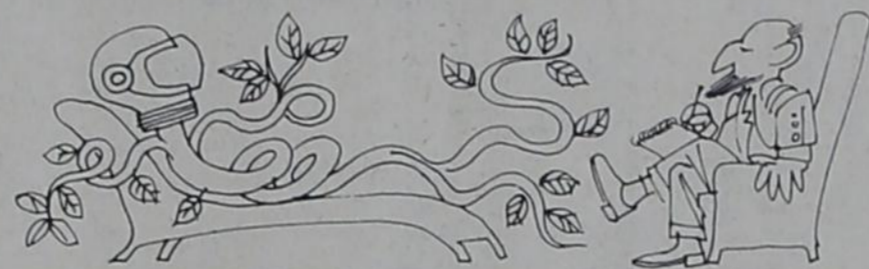

One new member, Mrs. K. E.

Deaton was welcomed.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames Ralph Price, Lloyd Prewett, Pete Braxton, Fern Barnett, Gene Welch, Harry Lookingbill, Johnny Mars, Travis Stone, Tom Presley, Clyde Hays, Bill Carthel, Helen Fangman, Roscoe Ivie, Ellis Tatum and the hostess.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

PROLONGED WEIGHTLESSNESS may not affect man but plants... potential sources of oxygen and food on long space voyages... "go crazy" without the restraining influence of gravity. Prof. Charles J. Lyons, Dartmouth College botanist working on the problem for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, reports that plants in a weightless state become twisted. Leaves and branches fold back around the stem, overlap, curl and twist.

Try this recipe for Lebkuchen, a traditional German bar cookie. Bring 3/4 cup honey to boil in a large, heavy saucepan. Cool to lukewarm. Blend in 1/2 cup granulated sugar and 1/4 cup brown sugar. Add 2 eggs and beat well. Sift together 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves and 1/4 teaspoon allspice. Gradually add to egg mixture, beating well after each addition. Stir in 1/2 cup each finely chopped candied citron and lemon peel and 3/4 cup chopped blanched almonds. Spread in well-greased 10 1/2 x 15 1/2 inch jelly roll pan. Bake in preheated 350° oven 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned. When cool spread with confectioners sugar icing and cut into bars.

OCEAN-GOING tankers frequently carry thousands of gallons of crude black oil on one leg of a trip and edible oil on return. The transformation is made possible by a white powder called Planisol. It is hot water soluble and can emulsify any known oil, according to Northwest Chemical, Detroit.

Carrots Have 'Built-In' Convenience Features

The carrot is a wonderful vegetable, which certainly should be rated among "convenience" foods.

So says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

The sweet and tender, well-scrubbed carrots which reach produce centers all year round do not actually need paring or scraping. Wash them, brush well with a vegetable brush, and cut off the top and bottom and slice.

Chill the carrots and eat them raw if you want the very last unit of Vitamin A, suggests Mrs. Clyatt. Or cook them until just crisp and tender in no more boiling water than is needed to keep them from sticking. A scant teaspoon of sugar, along with salt, butter or margarine, enhances the flavor of carrots. Other good flavorings are onions, celery leaves, chives, parsley, green peppers, grated orange peel and spices such as nutmeg, ginger, cloves, sweet basil and white pepper.

Some homemakers may sometimes ask what has happened to the carrots with tops. At one time, the tops distinguished the tender young carrots from the solid and mature "soup carrots." Not so today. Now, the tenderest of young carrots are sold without tops.

The tops were found to draw off moisture from the root or carrot portion, and thus hasten deterioration. Moreover, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association explains that leaving the tops on increases the cost of crating, icing and shipping carrots. The newer method of shipping has helped keep carrot prices comparatively low.
