3,000 tires turned in during city-county clean up so far

By Leigh Jenkins
Contributing Writer

Brackettville City Manager Henry Garcia said more than 3,000 tires have been collected at the City-County Community Clean Up project.

At press time, Garcia said 285 loads of debris had been taken to the temporary collection site on Sheedy Street, on the east side of town, 49 of which were all tires.

The project began on April 25, and is being paid for with grant money.

Garcia said he has been pleased with the success of the project so far.

Garcia and Kinney County Judge Tim Ward have declared they would like Brackettville to be the, "cleanest town in Texas".

Garcia, together with a group of Kinney County Volunteer firemen, spent Sunday, May 1, cleaning up Sheedy Street between the collection site and Spring Street. This area has, for many years, become an illegal dumping ground.

Garcia appointed; Haenn arrested

By Leigh Jenkins
Contributing Writer

Henry Garcia was appointed to the Fort Clark Springs Association Board of Directors at a Special meeting on Monday, May 2.

Garcia will complete the term left open by Sam Holloman after his resignation on April 26. Garcia will serve the last year of Holloman's three year term.

This will be Garcia's second time being appointed to the FCSA's board. Garcia was appointed in October, 2010, to fill one of the two places left open by Hattie Berleth and Rick Keyes after they both resigned in protest when the board voted in majority to fire former Director of Operations Felix Cerna.

Garcia did not seek election on the most recent ballot in March.

The board reorganized after Garcia was sworn in. Debbie Isaacs is now the president; Henry Garcia: vice president; Larry Farlow: Secretary; and Garland Young: Treasurer. William Bill Haenn is a board member.

In other news, board member William Bill Haenn was arrested on April 28 for theft.

Information obtained from the Kinney County Sheriff's Department alleges an ownership dispute developed when Haenn would not return a table he had in his possession to a man claiming to be the owner.

Haenn was released the same day after posting a $1,200 bond.

The case will be heard in County Court.

Relay surpasses goal

Farzana to host reading of second book

Farzana Doctor

By Leigh Jenkins
Contributing Writer

Canadian Farzana Doctor will host a reading of her second novel, Six Metres of Pavement, at the Kinney County Public Library on Monday, May 9, at 11:30 a.m.

With cousins living at Fort Clark, Doctor, has spent time vacationing here in Brackettville and is excited about her book signing next week.

Doctor said in an electronic interview, the book was inspired by, "a story of a man who forgot his baby in the back seat of his car. That story lingered in my mind, particularly the question of how parents manage to go on with their lives after making such a tragic and fatal mistake. So, I set out to write a story to answer the question: how do you get over the worst mistake of your life? The story begins 20 years after the tragedy, and really is about how this father survives and finds redemption. At first, his survival is pretty messy (he drinks too much, has sex with strangers, is isolated) and later it's through a couple of reluctant relationships that he forms that he finds love and manages to move on with his life."

Doctor's book will be available for purchase at the event.

Legislature may disappoint local school district

By Robert Westbrook
BISD Superintendent

Every school district knows it will have to play the hand it is dealt when school takes up again in August 2011. It's a little harder, though, when you feel like the state hasn't been dealing strictly from the top of the deck.

In the years leading up to HB 1 in 2006, the state made absolutely no attempt to fund or even move in the direction of a formula system that applied fairly to all districts. Excuses are continually made for why higher-funded districts needed the extra money, but the state was never held accountable for the reason other districts could be funded so much lower. That fact should be an embarrassment to every Texan that knew it was happening and did not take a stand against it.

HB 1 (2006) offered a glimmer of hope that the state system was moving in the direction of increasing equity. But that's all it was, for in 2007, state leaders enshrined the grossly inequitable school finance system by reducing M&O tax rates 25% and not counterbalancing the loss of those 33 pennies of tax rate with a higher basic allotment, which would have been required for the formula system to at least keep the prior year's funding level. HB 1 (2006) compressed the maximum M&O tax rate from $1.33 to $1.00 (25%) for 2007-08 and beyond.

At every juncture, the state has done its utmost to maintain privileged funding for some districts and always at the expense of an equitable formula system.

Today, most Texas schools are already dangerously underfunded. The formula system is in shambles.

Now, with less than 4 weeks left in this session, here we are again. The Senate will vote in the next day or two to cut funding for low-funded districts to avoid reducing high-funded districts any more than absolutely necessary. How do you justify something like that? How can that be right?

How do you turn your back on the fact that 60% of our children live in poverty. How can you ignore that Texas will need world-class quality in all of our schools, if, indeed, we expect Texas to compete on the world stage?

What's important? Well, for sure that varies considerably among legislators, and there are many who try every session to make the system better. But, we are also sure that funding a quality education for the least of our children is not very important to the people who have the power and position to make that happen.

And that's a shame.

Paper Log: PLOG by Leigh Jenkins

I don't wear makeup everyday, but I absolutely love makeup. A few weeks ago I had the opportunity to sit down in Alana Flurry's dream den.

Alana is our local director for Mary Kay Cosmetics and has a whole room full of eyeshadow, skin cream and MASCARA!

When I first sat down she took my picture, all pale and sad and a little while later, after I looked like Barbie's mom, she took another picture of me all happy and completely painted.

My point is not about the makeup, but about how a woman made a choice to succeed and she has. I was told once that of all the millionaires in the United States, only a percentage of them are women - but the scoop is that 75% of all the women millionaires sell MARY KAY!!!!!!

Of course I asked question, after question, after question, and Alana tells me her story of how she quit her full time job to sell MK full time. Its a very inspiring story that I will not repeat in my PLOG. This is a story best heard directly from her own MK lips. So reach out to her. You'll enjoy it and in the end you'll look better!

I enjoyed my time with her and the beauty tips she offered were invaluable...And if you need extra money or are thinking about a career change see Alana and remember I also heard that during hard economic times makeup sales go up!!!! Plus if you sell enough makeup they give you a pink car!!!!!!

Angry Words

Fly Lady Marla Cilley

Angry Words by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley

What is it about our busy lives that cause us to spout angry words like a geyser? At the drop of a hat we can spew nastiness all over our loved ones, friends and even total strangers.

I have heard every excuse in the world for the angry words that come from our mouths. They start with, I had a bad day, I didn't get much sleep and the worst is you made me do it. This excuse is no different from the abusive husband who blames his wife because he hit her.

I will never forget a testimonial we received from a mother who sent her child out into the world with angry words ringing in his ears. Those angry words were the last words he ever heard from his mother because he was killed when a car ran over him. There is no excuse for ever allowing abusive language to hurt anyone.

Think back to when you were a child. Can you remember some hurtful words that were yelled at you in anger? When a room full of people of all ages was asked this question they could recount the event as if it were yesterday. Angry words linger and fester! They cannot be taken back. They leave your lips and scare people for life!

I want to get to the basis of this ILL behavior. This is just what it is! I think it is because you are not getting your nap out. We all know how our babies act when they have not had their naps. Lack of sleep makes you cranky, angry, fat, sick, side-tracked and unable to concentrate. These are some of the symptoms we experience from our inability to go to bed, shut our brains off and get the rest that our bodies need.

There are lots of reasons we do not get enough sleep. It could be that you don't go to bed at a decent hour or when you do go to bed your mind will not shut off. You may need to see your doctor for some help. Another reason is that you have sleep apnea. Your doctor can help you with this too. I am a light sleeper and have discovered that wearing earplugs has helped me to get a good nights sleep.

These earplugs keep me from hearing every little noise in the house. Not only have I had more energy but I think this is one of the reasons I have reduced my Body Clutter. I have started to dream again and feel refreshed when I get up in the morning. Not everyone can do this because of being alone in the house or having babies. A white noise machine can also help you to sleep better.

Now let's look at what happens around you when you have this ILL attitude: Your children run for cover, your husband has learned to ignore you and your co workers give you a wide berth. Then you compound the lack of good sleep with the stress that we place on ourselves with perfectionism. It's a wonder we can stand ourselves. You know that may be real problem.

When we don't like ourselves, we don't do what we need to do to stop this vicious cycle of NO SLEEP, STRESS and SOUR Attitudes.

I want you to find peace. We can't have this peace if we are lashing out at our family in anger.

Lifetime Income: A Great Mother's Day Gift

Emily Cooper
Edward Jones in Del Rio

It's almost Mother's Day. If you're a mom, you give much to your family. But it's also important to think about your own financial future.

For a variety of factors, including time spent away from the workforce to care for their families, women may accumulate less money for retirement than men. That's why you should try to fully fund your IRA and contribute as much as possible to your 401(k). Once you retire, you'll need to calculate how much you can withdraw from these accounts each year so that you don't outlive your resources.

If you've "maxed out" on your IRA and 401(k), you may want to consider other investments, such as a fixed annuity.

Cards and flowers are on their way — but talk to your financial advisor about strategies to help you enjoy all the Mother's Days of your life in the comfort you deserve.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these appeal procedures if you have a concern about:

- the market or appraised value of your property
- the unequal appraisal of your property
- the inclusion of your property on the appraisal roll
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the qualification for an agricultural or timber appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- the ownership of property
- the change of use of land receiving special appraisal
- any action taken by the chief appraiser, appraisal district or appraisal review board that applies to and adversely affects you.

Informal Review
(Insert description of appraisal district's informal review process, if any, then give name and telephone number of person taxpayer should contact.)

Kinney County Appraisal District
412 S. Ann St Brackettville TX 830-563-2323
8AM - 12PM and 1PM - 5PM

Review by the Appraisal Review Board
If you can't resolve your problem informally with the county appraisal district (CAD) staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals or other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the CAD to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date and place of the hearing. If necessary, you may request a hearing in the evening or on a Saturday or Sunday. Prior to your hearing, you may ask to review the evidence the CAD plans to introduce at the hearing to establish any matter at issue. The CAD might ask you for a copy of the evidence you plan to present. The law provides that before a hearing on a protest or immediately after the hearing begins, you or your agent and the CAD shall each provide the other with a copy of any written material intended to be offered or submitted to the ARB at the hearing. To the greatest extent practicable, the hearing will be informal. You or a designated agent may appear in person to present evidence or you may send notarized evidence for the ARB to review at your hearing. The CAD representative will present evidence about your case. You may cross-examine the CAD representative. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. In most cases, the CAD has the burden of establishing the property's value by a preponderance of the evidence presented.

In certain protests where the owner has submitted an independent appraisal before the hearing, the chief appraiser has the burden of proving the property's value by clear and convincing evidence. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at

(Insert address.)

Kinney County Appraisal District
PO Box 1377 412 S. Ann St.
Brackettville TX 78832

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court or an Arbitrator or SOAH
After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 60 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. In certain cases, as an alternative to filing an appeal in district court, you may file, not later than the 45th day after you receive notice of the ARB order, a request for binding arbitration with the county appraisal district. In certain cases originating in certain counties, as an alternative to filing an appeal in district court, you may appeal to the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH). An appeal to SOAH is initiated by, not later than the 30th day after you receive notice of the ARB's order, filing with the chief appraiser of the county appraisal district a notice of appeal with the applicable filing fee.

Tax Payment
You must pay either the amount of taxes due on the portion of the taxable value not in dispute or the amount of taxes due on the property under the order from which the appeal is taken.

More Information
You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at (insert appraisal district name, address, telephone number).

Kinney County Appraisal District
412 S. Ann St
Brackettville TX 78832

You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Assistance Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline
On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the ARB approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines
For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is not later than the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

* The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is not later than the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

(You may insert deadline for protests concerning omitted property if doing so would avoid taxpayer confusion.)

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1) or no later than the 125th day after the date you claim you received a tax bill from one or more of the taxing units that tax your property. The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.
