THREE TORNADOES SWEEP OVER MEDICINE LODGE

A SINGLE NIGHT

TOWN IS TORN AND RENT
BY TERRIFIC STORMS.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

May Die—Many Homes De stroyed and Crops are Badly Damaged.

Associated Press.
Medicine Lodge, Kan., June 24.—
Three distinct tornadoes struck Medicine lodge last night, destroying twenty houses in the northern part of the town. Six persons were injured seriously. One is missing. So far as property is concerned, no lives were lost.

Associated Press.
Medicine Lodge, June 24.—Most seriously injured person was Mrs. May Smith. She is injured internally and is expected to die.

The first tornado struck Medicine Lodge shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday night, destroying the wires and cutting off all communication. The second storm appeared shortly before midnight. All three storms came from the northwest and were accompanied by a terrific rain and hail which damaged crops.

A BIG GAIN SHOWN.

Census Shows a Gain of 408
Over Last Year.

Further indication of the increase in population in Wichita county is shown in the reports of the scholastic commissioner taken to Judge Yeager of the county court and ex-officio county superintendent of schools.

These reports show that the total number of persons between the ages of 17 and 17 years in Wichita county last year was 408. This is a clear gain of 408 over last year's report and indicates an increase in the population of the county of thirty per cent in a single

By Associated Press.

Boise, Idaho, June 24.—A great crowd gathered this morning in the court room where William Haywood is on trial to hear the speech of Clarence Darrow outlining the purposes of the defense in combating the evidence put in by the State. The attorney for the defense began in a slow, mellow drawl characteristic of him to state the theory and plan of the defense.

"The State's attorney has told you,"
said Darrow, "that the murder of Governor Steunenberg was but an incident. They have told you that the Western Federation of Miners was an organization to commit murder, to control politics, to hire lawyers and do other criminal things. Part of this is true and part is not true." Darrow mentioned the fact that the State's attorney, Hawley, was the first lawyer employed by the Federation and laid out the plan of the organization.

"Federation an Industrial Organization."
"The Western Federation of Miners," said Darrow, "is an industrial, not a murderous organization. It has from time to time taken a hand in politics, but we are not going to hang every organization which has done such things. If we did not corporation would be safe." Darrow said there was no claim that the Federation was an organization of angels. "Angels do not work in the mines," declared the attorney. "They are mine owners.
We are not here to apologize for anything the Western Federation of Min-

FIVE WERE KILLED

WHEN THE PASSENGER CRASHED INTO FREIGHT ON A SHARP CURVE.

SMOKING CAR TELESCOPED

And Three of the Fifteen Passengers Were Killed—Many Injured.

Rochester, N. Y., June 24.—Five persons were killed and more were injured last night on the Avon branch of the New York Central railroad one mile east of Pittsford, when a passenger train crashed into a freight on a sharp curve at a point known as Mitchell's Farm. The smoking car was telescoped and three of the fifteen passengers were instantly killed. The son of engineer Lyons who was in the cab with his father, and a brakeman were among the number killed. The dead are:

- EMMETT LYONS, aged 14.
- M. S. CUTTING, station agent at railroad mills
- B. H. Verom, brakeman.
- J. B. McARTHUR, bridge foreman.
- Unidentified man.

Man! Poor Man!

Man! Poor Man! He hoppeth out of bed in the morning, and his feet are pierced by the tack of disappointment; he sitteth down to rest at noon-day and he is stabbed in his neither anatomy by the pin of disaster. He walks through the streets of the city in the pride and glory of his manhood and slippeth on the banana peel of misfortune and unjoins his neck. He smoketh the cigar of contentment and behold it exploded with aloud noise for it was loaded. He sliddeth down the banisters of life and findeth them in the splinters of torture. Behold he is impaled up on the hook of despair and furnishes bait for the leviathan of death in the fathomless of time. Sorrow and trials follow him all the days of his life. In his infancy he is afflicted with worries and colic, and in his old age he is tortured by rheumatism and in-growing toenails. He marrieth a cross-eyed woman because her father was rich and findeth that she has not sense enough to fry meat. His father-in-law then monkeyeth with options and goeth broke. What is man but a tumor on the neck of existence? He playeth the races and betteth his all on the brown mare because he has received a tip; the sorrel gilding with a bald face winneth by a neck. Behold, he runneth for office and the dead beat pulleth his leg ever and anon and then voteth against him. He exalteth him self among his people and swellth with pride, but when the votes are counted he findeth that his name is pants. He boasteth of his strength in Israel, but is beaten by a slick man from Tallow Neck. He goeth forth to breathe the fresh air and meditate upon the vanity of all earthly things and is accosted by a bank cashier with a sight draft of $327.30. A political enemy lieth in wait for him at the market and walketh around him crowing like a cock. What is man but a pimp on the face of politics? He trusteth to a man who claimed to be filled with righteousness, and standeth up high in the synagogue and gets done up, for behold, his pious friend is full of guile and runneth over with deception.

From the cradle to the grave man giveth his cheeks to the man who smiteth him. Verily, man, is but a wart on the nose of nature, a bunion on the toe of time, a treckle on the face of the universe.—Ex.

WOMEN HARD TO PLEASE.

Architects Say They Change Their Minds After Houses Are Built.

What does a woman demand in the building of a home?

Architects will tell you that she demands everything impossible. She wants to experiment, they say, and when her experiments do not turn out well, she blames the architect, says the Detroit News-Tribune.

Here are some opinions heard in the architects' offices, from women who have had experience in housekeeping, in boarding and in home building:

"I want a big porch," said one. "When I build a house, I will build the porch first and if I have any money left I will build the house afterwards. I will have a sleeping porch and a porch in which I may sit in the sun in the winter afternoons, and a screened-in porch where I may eat breakfast on summer mornings and a romy porch where I may serve tea to my friends in the afternoons."

"Plenty of closets," demanded another. "A house without closets is like home without mother. A linen closet on the second floor, with plenty of open shelves for the linen. A spare closet in the hall for the best clothes and a closet in each bedroom, with shelves for hat boxes."

"Give me a small kitchen and a large dining room," said another. "Our mothers used to clamor for large kitchens and I could never discover why. I saw the kitchen in a dining car once, and as soon as I could, I modeled mine like it. Too large a kitchen makes too much walking and cleaning. And a dining room large enough to put another leaf in the table without crowding your guests against the radiator or bumping them into the side-board, is another necessity in a well-regulated home."

"A bathroom on every floor," urged another woman. "I'll do without furniture in my parlor to have comfortable bathrooms with a bathtub big enough to take a bath in without swamping the adjacent territory. And when I build my house I'll have an ornamental window in the bathroom, high enough so that one will not have to worry about shades and curtains."

"What do I want in my house?" repeated still another woman. "I want it to be all living room. We always keep open house here, and of all things I despise a small living-room, where you have to crowd your company. I want a big living-room, with a big fireplace, where we can burn real logs and plenty of space for a couch or a piano. The ordinary architect never seems to make any allowance for a couch or a piano. The wall is always cut up with windows or doors or bumps or cat-a-corners. I want a room big enough for plenty of chairs and tables for a cup of coffee to be put on when you are gathered around the fireplace looking at the flames."

Don't forget the number—261. King & White will appreciate it. 34-11 of the one to whom he had sold, and the price cut in two. The man who was "short" and who a few minutes before had been eagerly counting his profits now knew that they had been turned to loss, because the man from whom he had borrowed his short stocks for delivery would be in no condition to repay for them, the next day, when they should be returned to him. The "short" man was himself, therefore, "long" stocks he had bought to cover his "short" sale. In depressing the price he had been working against his own pocket instead of against the bulls he had thought he was opposing. All was confusion and black despair. There is, indeed, no blacker place than the floor of the stock exchange after a panic cyclone has swept it, and is yet lingering in its corners, while the survivors of its fury do not know whether or not it will again gather force.

CHAPTER IX.

The governing committee was holding a meeting in its room. Bob rushed in unceremoniously. "One word, gentlemen," he called. "I have more trades outstanding, both buys and sells, than any other member or house. Before deciding whether to adjourn in an attempt to save 'the Street,' I ask your consideration of this proposition: If the exchange will in that great throng knew that upon the announcement they were about to hear, might depend, at least temporarily, the welfare, not only of Wall street, but of the nation, perhaps even of the civilized world. The president spoke:

"Members of the New York Stock Exchange:

"The governing committee instructs me to say that Mr. Robert Brownley has asked that operations be suspended for 30 minutes, in order that he be allowed to address you. Mr. Brownley has agreed, if this request be granted, he will upon resumption of operations purchase a sufficient amount of stock to raise the average price of all active shares at least one-half their total drop—all of it, if possible. He agrees to buy to the limit of his fortune of a billion dollars. I now put Mr. Brownley's request to a vote. All those in favor of granting it will signify the same by saying 'Yes.'"

A mighty roof-lifting "Yes" sounded through the room.

"All those opposed, 'No.'"

There was a deathly hush.

"Mr. Brownley will please speak from this platform, and remember, in 30 minutes to the second, I will sound the gavel for the resumption of business."

Bob Brownley strode to the place just vacated by the president. The suspend operations for 30 minutes, and allow me to address the members on the floor, I will agree to buy stocks all around the room, until they have regained at least half their drop—all of it, if possible. I will buy until I have exhausted to the last hundred my fortune of a billion dollars. This should make an adjournment unnecessary. I know that this is a most extraordinary request, but you are confronted with a most extraordinary situation, the most remarkable in the history of the stock exchange. Already, if what they say on the floor is correct, over 200 banks and trust companies throughout the country have gone under, and new failures are being announced every minute. Half the members of this and the Boston and Philadelphia exchanges are insolvent and have closed their doors, or will close them before three o'clock, and the shrinkage in values so far reported, runs over fifteen billions. Unless something is done before the close, there will be a similar panic in every exchange and bourse in Europe to-morrow."

crowd was growing larger every minute. The ticker was already hissing a tape biograph of this extraordinary situation in brokerage shops, hotels, and banks throughout the country, and in a few minutes the news of it would be in the capitals of Europe. Never before in history did man have such an audience—the whole civilized world. Already arose from Wall, Broad and New streets, which surround the exchange, the hoarse bellow of the gathering hordes. Before the ticker should announce the resumption of business these would number hundreds of thousands, for the financial district for more than an hour had been a surging mob.

For once at least the much-abused phrase, "He looked the part," could be used in all truthfulness. As Robert Brownley threw back his head and shoulders and faced that crowd of men, some of whom he had hurt, many of whom he had beggared, and all of whom he had tortured, he presented a picture such as a royal lion recently freed from the jungles and just freed from his cage might have made. Defiance, deference, contempt, and pity all blended in his mien, but over all was an I-am-the-one-you-are-the-many atmosphere of confidence that Wichita Falls, Texas; June 24th, 1907.

Scarcity of labor in Wichita Falls was never greater than now. The principal reason for this is that the wage earners do not care to live in a town where it is almost impossible to secure a home for their families. The fact that there is a shortage of desirable residence houses is doing more to keep people away from Wichita Falls than any other one thing. The Times is glad to note, however, that two strong companies have just been organized, and one of them will award the contracts for the construction of twenty-five or thirty neat cottages on or about July 1st. The other new company will invest its capital stock in business property and has already purchased several very desirable business lots, with the intention of having constructed on them substantial business houses. With the addition of these new residences and new business houses, the situation will be relieved to some extent, but it is conservatively estimated that at present there is a demand for at least fifty new residences. It is to be hoped that this demand will be met, if not by these two companies, then by private individuals who have money and want it to earn good interest. In the opinion of this paper there is nothing that will bring better returns just now than desirable residence property.

THE UNWRITTEN LAW

AND EMOTIONAL INSANITY WILL BE THE PLEA OF DEFENSE.

ON A CHARGE OF MURDER

Former Virginia Judge is Arranged at Houston, Virginia.

By Associated Press.

Houston, Va., June 24.—Empanelling the jury for the trial of former Judge W. G. Loving for the murder of Theodore Estes, son of Sheriff M. K. Estes of Nelson county, began today. The trial promises to eclipse in sensational interest the McCue and Strothers Bywaters case in Culpepper. Judge Loving, armed with a double-barreled shotgun, instantly killed Estes while he was unloading a car of fertilizer in Oakridge on April 22. The shooting was a sequel to a buggy ride taken on the evening prior to the homicide by young Estes with Elizabeth Loving, the 19 year old daughter of Judge Loving. The girl, when brought home, it developed had been drinking and it is alleged her escort had maltreated her. Acting under the impulse that his daughter had been drugged and assaulted, Judge Loving immediately searched out Estes and killed him. The plea of the defense will be emotional insanity and the "unwritten law."

Mrs. Vera A. Stephens, of Childress is visiting her father, Mr. L. G. Stearnes, and the family of Mr. J. F. Stearnes. She expects to remain here for a week or two.

Yours to please every time and all the time. King & White. 34-tf

Why Do You Like COFFEE?

We take it for granted that you do, but it is very likely that you cannot tell off-hand why you like it, except that it is good.

Just why it is good may puzzle you somewhat, but to assist you in selecting the kind you want the following information may be of interest to you.

The looks of the coffee has very little to do with the quality of it, for it is not the bean itself that satisfies your coffee appetite.

The bean is composed of a large number of little cells, invisible to the naked eye, but which contain the essential oil.

Before the Coffee is roasted these little cells are not worth anything, but they contain the oil, that after being roasted to a certain point produces the flavor which makes coffee a delightful drink. There are therefore, two things which must be watched in buying coffee:

1st. To get a blend of growths which shall contain just the right kind of oil, and second, to have that blend so roasted so as to make the rich mellow flavor which you like so well our Spurrs Concord is especially recommended to suit your taste, packed in pound bags at 25 cents per pound. Or better still, Spurrs Revere Mocha and Java in two pound tins at 75c per can. All we ask is a trial of either, the coffee will do the rest.

DARROW OUTLINES THE COURSE OF DEFENSE

ers has done. It has been a fighting organization from the first and if it dies it will die a fighting organization. It has had a troublesome career. It has been opposed by every device of the mine owners, but it has prospered," Darrow detailed the benefits that the organization had brought to the miners and said that the Butte union alone has paid more than a million dollars to the widows and orphans of its members.

Pinkertons Responsible for Every Crime.

Darrow said that as soon as the Federation was born that the mine owners set about to destroy it and as the chief means hired the Pinkerton Detective Agency with McFarland at its head. "We will show you," he said, "that they have hired detectives and placed them in the local unions, that these hired men constantly advised the miners to strike and that when the strike was on they counseled violence, dynamite and murder. They did it at Telluride, they did it at Cripple Creek and they did it at many other places. We will show that the Pinkerton agency has been the chief factor in this case from the very beginning." Darrow said that probably many foolish, intemperate things had crept into the Miners' Magazine, but editors had no college education and Moyer and Haywood paid little attention to it. He said the defense would read from the magazine, showing it did not advise violence, but counseled a wise administration and discussed the economic conditions temperately. He said that the defense would show that Jack Slompkins was thrown in a "Bull Pen" in Couer d'Alenes and maltreated. He was stood up at a post by colored soldiers and the bayonet driven into his breast. The defense would show, Darrow asserted, that Orchard was shot by a gambler who had never done a day's work in his life and that he was not at Bunker Hill and Sullivan's Mill, as he had testified, when it was blown up and did not participate in most of the crimes of which he had boasted.

Would Disprove Orchard's Story By the First Witness.

"I don't like to take any bloom off of a peach like that, but we will show you he is not the murderer he boasts himself. We will compensate him by proving him to be the most monumental liar that ever existed before our first witness leaves the stand. Gentlemen, we will convince you, we will even convince Hawley himself, that this man Orchard has lied in the most essential points of his story. We believe we have from twenty-five to thirty witnesses who will take the stand and contradict this man abundantly. Some of these will be miners, but others will be eminently respectable people who have never done a day's work in their lives." Darrow briefly sketched the wanderings of Orchard.

Plain, Honest Men—All of Them.

Darrow then took up the careers of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone and declared that all three were Americans—plain, honest men. "Haywood," he declared, "is a plain, blunt, courageous working man, fighting the militia when necessary, fighting for the protection of widows and orphans; Moyer, who is the head of the Federation, fought in every conceivable fight as men like him, born of such stock, will always fight; Pettibone," he said, "was a happy, careless, sunny man, with a laugh and a joke for everyone." He then took up Orchard and showed his character to be very different from the accused men. He traced Orchard's career of crime, going into the details of many murders which Orchard had committed. Darrow was about half through with his speech when the noon recess was taken.

OLD SETTLER.

The perfunctory way that many people perform their religious duties seems automatic rather than preference. This is more the results of the forced habit of early training than any desire to be derelict in the proper respect for religion.

No doubt there are men today who remember that, when they were boys, how they were compelled to learn their catechism and chapters in the Bible when their companions were going to the swimming hole or playing ball on the commons.

That reminds me of a good little boy who did not die young, but was sent off to college in a distant city. From childhood he had been used to kneel at his mother's request and say, "Now I lay me down to sleep," etc. When the time came for him to depart from home, among other instructions for his guidance, he promised to kneel at his bedside every night and repeat the Lord's prayer.

After the newness of his environments wore off, his sport and studies occupied his time. He would go to his room tired and sleepy and the habit of prayer became a task, at first perfunctory, then with great effort. Finally, the bad boy who was once good, conceived a plan to comply with the letter of his promise, but not the spirit.

One evening he made a typewritten copy of the prayer and proceeded to post it on the head of his bed, and each night when time to retire arrived he pointed to the typewritten copy and exclaimed:

"Oh, Lord, those are my sentiments."

Among our new arrivals we quote you Virgin corn at 10c a can or $1.15 a dozen. Give it a trial.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

MARKET IS LIVELY AND A NUMBER OF TRANSFERS MADE.

NEW BUILDINGS TO GO UP

Substantial New Structures Will Be Erected—Several Deals Not Yet Closed.

Several good trades in Wichita real estate were closed last Saturday, and the deals indicate that the market tendency is still on the upward move.

Jackson & Moore report the sale of the building at the corner of Eighth Street and Ohio Avenue, and occupied by Jackson Brothers implement store, to the Wichita Falls Investment Co., by H. J. Jackson of Orange at a consideration of $12,000.

R. M. Moore has purchased a half interest in the vacant lot at the southwest corner of Indiana Avenue and Eighth Street for a consideration of $3,000. Mr. Moore and Mr. Charles Bean, who is the owner of the other half interest in the lot announce that as soon as they can secure the labor they will begin the construction of a two-story brick business block with a ground dimension of 50x150 feet on the lot.

H. B. Patterson has purchased the residence of Howard Mahaffie on the southeast corner of Ninth and Bluff streets for a consideration of $3,500.

Several other large deals are pending and will likely be closed within a day or two.

It is understood that several substantial buildings are to go up in the business portion of the city at once, but an authoritative announcement cannot be made at this time.

Advantages of Compression at the Gin.

Compression of cotton at the gin is now the issue in the minds of all the thoughtful men who know what "gin compression" stands for. The time may not yet be ripe for the adoption of the gin compressed bale, because of the very general lack of information among the masses of the people concerning compression of cotton in any style, but the time for a campaign of education on this subject is fast approaching. The bale of cotton compressed at the gin and routed from that point of shipment direct to port or domestic factory will require less than one-half the car service en route to the mill or port, will require less handling, will reach market in better condition and bring a better price per pound, all other things being equal. All of these advantages will in the course of time accrue in part to the growers' interest. Therefore we favor the study of this matter of gin compression—compression at the individual gin.—Farm and Ranch.

Be Happy.

Man is a little cuss and hasn't long to stay. He flies around and makes a fuss and then he hikes away. Some men imagine they are great and try to tear up Jack, but each one meets the same old fate and trots the same old track. Great Caesar's dead and turned to clay and so is Cicero. Alexander has gone the way the rest of us must go. The sages, poets, heroes, all the men of worth into an open grave must fall and crumble back to earth. Then let's not join the mad fray and struggle like the deuce, and agonize our lives away for really what is the use? Let's live and love and sing the while and work some now and then, and give to everyone the smile that cheers the heart of men. And whether we are crowned with flowers or chilled with winter's snows, with happiness let's fill the hours till we turn up our toes.—Ex.

FORT WORTH IS INTERESTED.

People Gratified That Railroad to Roswell is Proposed.

Gratification was expressed yesterday by many Fort Worth people over the apparent plans of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient to construct a line from Fort Worth to Roswell, N. M., crossing its main line at Benjamin. The opinion is unanimous that paramount among Fort Worth's present needs is such a railroad. Nothing they argue, will mean so much for the future of the Panther City, and no railroad that could be built would promise to bring and hold such an enormous trade for the business elements of this city.

It is pointed out that unless this great western territory is connected directly with Fort Worth, that lines from the north will enter it and draw its trade to Kansas City and other points, when it rightfully belongs to Fort Worth, the gateway to the vast domain.

Such a road is considered a remarkably feasible project, and therefore there seems to be but little doubt that the Orient route is now interesting itself in the proposition.

In addition there is much concern regarding the report that Captain Burk Burnett and others propose to construct a line from Dickens east to a connection with the Weatherford, Mineral Wells & Northwestern, affording some twenty counties direct connection with Fort Worth. This, in itself, would mean much for Fort Worth.—Fort Worth Record.

Joint Installation of Masonic Officers.

The officers elected by the Blue Lodge of Masons last Friday and the officers elected by the R. A. M. Lodge a week ago will be jointly installed tonight at the lodge's hall in the third story of the First National bank building.

J. D. Avis, the newly elected worshipful master of the Blue Lodge, has made out the following list of appointive officers for the ensuing year:

- Senior Deacon, L. C. Hinckley; Junior Deacon, C. W. Richolt; finance committee, J. A. Richolt, Frank Collier, Claud Woods; hall committee, L. H. Lawler, T. C. Thatcher, Fort McHam; affiliation committee, G. D. Anderson, R. S. Rodgers, Alex. Kahn; stewards, W. E. Skeen, Geo. Mater, T. J. Taylor, V. E. Stamfil.

Webb Buys Another Well.

In a deal consummated in Fort Worth yesterday, Sidney Webb of Bellevue purchased the famous Carlsbad mineral water wells at Mineral Wells. The consideration was $62,000.—Fort Worth Record.

Rev. J. A. Cahill of Port Arthur occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church yesterday both at the morning and evening services, delivering two thoughtful and inspiring sermons. Rev. Cahill is a former pastor of the church here and has many friends in this city, who were glad of the opportunity for hearing him again.

Meeting of the Texas Five Million Club.

Houston, Tex., June 24.—The next regular meeting of the Texas Five Million Club will be held in El Paso during the latter part of August, the exact date to be decided upon within the next few days.

With a commendable spirit of progressiveness the border city has offered $500,000 if the Diamond Jubilee and Southwestern Exposition can be secured for their city and provided the government will make an appropriation of at least $1,000,000. The subject will be discussed further at the El Paso meeting.

Preparations for this event are already under way in the Five Million club offices, and it is conservatively estimated that six hundred members will journey to the western border on this occasion. The trip will be known as the "Vacation Convention," and it is hoped that every business man in the State will defer his summer vacation until this time, when all can spend a delightful time together at an altitude of 3,700 feet above the sea.

One of the enjoyable features of the trip will be a journey to Cloudercroft as guests of the El Paso Commercial Club. This alone will be worth the time and money consumed in the trip.

THE OPENING GAME

IS ON AT THE BALL PARK THIS AFTERNOON.

JACKSBORO AND DECATUR

Are Coming for a Series of Three Games Each.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, his majesty, Mr "Umps," will call play ball for the opening game of the season in Wichita Falls.

The contesting teams are Manager Lucid's professionals and a home talent team. The same teams will play again at the same hour tomorrow afternoon. These two games are in the nature of benefit performances and the proceeds will go toward making additional repairs and improvements at the ball park for the convenience and comfort of the patrons.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the strong Jacksboro team, which has defeated some of the strongest teams in the state, will be here for three games.

On July 3, 4 and 5 the crack Decatur team will play here and on the Fourth there will be both morning and afternoon games.

A special watchman will be placed at the railroad crossing for the protection of the patrons and Manager Lucid announces that smoking in the grand stand will be strictly prohibited. He will make every effort to maintain the best of order.

The admission of ladies at the games this afternoon and tomorrow will be free.

All the members of team will not arrive until July 2, but in the meantime the Wichita team will present a strong line-up and interesting games are expected.

Some Burkburnett Sales.

Real estate values are soaring in the Burkburnett neighborhood. The Red River Valley Townsite Company reports the following sales in that vicinity last week:

A tract of twenty-five acres to "Doc" Weaver at $125 per acre; a tract of sixty acres to Dr. McGee at the same figure and another tract of five acres to "Doc" Hayes at the same consideration.

J. C. Doneghy, president of the First National bank at Burkburnett, returned last night from a two weeks trip to St. Louis and points in the territories.

Mr. Doneghy went to St. Louis for a visit with his family, who spent the winter in Mexico. He found them glowing with health and spent a very pleasant visit with them. In St. Louis he says he found more people planning prospective trips into this country than ever before. The flood of immigration is turned in this direction and this is destined to be a populous country in a few years.

Mr. Doneghy has extensive land interests in the Indian Territory oil fields. He found that his holdings had become very valuable. There has been a wonderful improvement in the crop conditions wherever he visited and he was more than pleased to find the improved conditions in this section.

He returns to Wichita much refreshed after his trip and is more firmly convinced than ever of a prosperous future for this section.

Frederick Equals Vernon.

An enumeration of the population of Vernon a week ago shows 2,632 people. The official census of Frederick, taken last January, shows 2,612. We believe we are safe in saying Frederick has caught up the twenty necessary to equal Vernon and is now, at least, as populous as that city.—Frederick Enterprise.

Tanglefoot catches the germ as well as the fly. Order from King & White.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

Christian Church.

At the Christian church Sunday morning, Prof. Lee Clark made an excellent talk along the line of personal responsibility. He showed that the standing of any church depended solely on the conduct of its individual members and if they had a low standard of moral action the church would of necessity be in disrepute.

Aside from the regular routine of service, Mrs. Clark sang a solo entitled "I Heard the Voice of Jesus say." She is an accomplished musician and a fine singer.

On account of the fact that Prof. Clark had an engagement at Iowa Park in the afternoon, there were no services at the Christian church Sunday night.

The Baptist Church.

At the Baptist church Sunday night the pastor preached an interesting sermon from Ezekiel xxxvi-26. He showed that indifference, neglect, prejudice, murmuring and complaining were things that would aid materially in hardening a man's heart. He showed that it was possible for a man to harden his heart to that extent that God would give him over to hardness of heart and aid in the hardening process.

He said that the steps to be taken by any person who desired to soften his heart were to pray, to read and search the heart and try to understand God's word and then go as far as the light they had would lead them. He closed by putting this pertinent question: "If Christ should come tonight with a seal in his hand, would our hearts be soft enough to receive the impression of His divine likeness?"

Many Houses Built.

That Wichita Falls is growing in population is evidenced by the fact that City Tax Collector Lee reports that one hundred and two new houses were completed for occupancy during the year which ended January 1, 1907. This is taken from official figures and is not subject to contradiction.

Since January 1st Mr. Lee estimates that no less than forty additional houses have been completed and made ready for occupancy. These figures, taken in consideration with the number that are now under construction, and the fact that there is nothing like enough houses to supply the demand, indicate the growth of the city.

BIG BOLL WEEVILS.

Grayson County Planter Finds Them in His Cotton.

J. E. Wilson, land owner and cotton planter, residing seven miles southeast of Sherman, today brought to the city two unmistakably well developed specimens of boll weevils found in his field.

The weevils caught were the only ones he saw, but he says they were in land where they were thickest last year and their appearance was much earlier than they came last year. Mr. Wilson states that some of his neighbors have found the pests in their cotton.—Sherman Democrat.

A Good Record.

During the week which closed last Saturday night, Homer Mundy, the boy who is contesting for the prize of $600 offered by the Saturday Evening Post, placed orders for 1733 copies of the paper.

These orders were telegraphed to the Post Saturday night and if Homer is not first in the contest, the boy who wins the prize must have done some tall hustling last week.

The announcement of the winners in the contest is expected within a few days.

DORCHESTER STAYS AWAY

While Eckhardt Leaves Taylor to Appear in the Coming Contest.

Austin, Tex., June 23.—Attorney General Davison, and Assistant Lightfoot will return in the morning from Galveston to appear in the Third Court of Civil Appeals in behalf of the State's motion to have the State court receiver, Robert J. Eckhardt, take immediate charge of the property of and business of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company. If granted this would mean that the State would go into the Federal Court and have its receiver Mr. Dorchester, who was appointed by the Federal Court, relieved, provided that the Court would grant such a motion. Other wise there would be a hard fight to a finish between the State and the Federal Courts.

When the State presented its motion in the Third Court of Appeals last Friday afternoon it asked that the hearing be set as soon as possible, preferably for the following day, in the morning or afternoon, but owing to the representation of local counsel for the oil company the Court permitted the matter to go over until Monday.

Union Meeting of Young People's Societies.

The young people of the different churches et together at the Methodist church Sunday evening and rendered a nice program. First the societe's sang several good songs. Mr. Robertson then lead in prayer, after which Mr. Durland rendered a piano solo and Mrs. Stroh a nice vocal solo.

A paper was read by Miss Anna Carrigan and several interesting talks were made on the missionary subject, "China."

Arrangements were made for a union meeting once a month in the future.

Mrs. D. E. Gallagher of this city and Miss Britton of Seymour, left this morning for Dallas, where they go to visit friends for a few days.

A BARREL FULL

We have just received a barrel of shredded cocoanut direct from the largest importer and manufacturers of shredded cocoanut in the world.

This is not the usual bulk cocoanut that has the oil extracted, but has all the oil retained and the flavor of the fresh nut. It will cost you but 25 cents per pound, and if not the best you have ever used either in bulk or package you can have your money back.

When you go fishing remember we have many things in lunch goods not obtainable elsewhere. Our store will be closed all day the Fourth of July.
