LEG CRUSHED

SWEETON MEETS WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

UNDER CAR WHEELS

Attempting to Board Moving Freight—Was Taken to Fort Worth Hospital This Morning.

John Sweeton, agent for the Wichita Valley at Holliday was seriously injured about 9 o'clock last night while attempting to board a freight train at Holliday. Sweeton thought he would jump on the train at Holliday last night and return on the west bound train this morning. He caught on the caboose, but his hand or foot slipped and he was thrown under an empty flat car that was trailing behind the train. The wheels ran over his leg, crushing it badly between the rails.

He was brought to this place as soon as possible, arriving at 9:50, and taken to Dr. Walker's office, where he received surgical attention. Dr. Walker, local surgeon for the Wichita Valley, states in his official report that Sweeton sustained a compound comminuted fracture of the middle and lower third of the left leg. He removed the pieces of bone, amounting in all to about three inches of the tibia and one inch of the fibula.

Dr. Sweeton's statement to the surgeon was: "While attempting to board a moving freight, my foot slipped and I fell, and a trailing flat car ran over me."

He was taken on No. 8 to Ft. Worth, where he was several hours late and did not leave here until this morning. He is expected to be taken to St. Joseph's hospital there. He was accompanied by Dr. Walker and Dr. J. C. A. Eaton, who is a brother-in-law to the injured man, and was doing well when he left here. In the opinion of the surgeon, the operation would have done all right, but at his request he was taken to Fort Worth.

Sweeton is a single man.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR SURGEONS

When the accident was reported to the railroad officials in this city last night, a special train was made up of Dr. J. C. A. Eaton and Guest to accompany Dr. Walker. They were joined at Georgetown by Dr. Nettleton, who assisted in the caring for the injured man.

Charles A. Eaton, late of Fort Worth, is the new pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd. The new rector will assume his duties on next Sunday.

ELECTRICAL STORM

DEATH OF THREE PERSONS IN NEW YORK.

FIRE THE RESULT

Such Damage is Done—Heat Was Sweating Before the Storm.

New York, June 27.—In an electrical storm which swept over this city and surrounding territory yesterday evening, following a day of sweltering heat and humidity, lightning killed three persons, injuring several others and causing many fires, doing considerable damage. In the city two church steeples were torn to fragments by lightning bolts.

STRIKERS ARE HOPEFUL.

San Francisco Telegraphers Say That Companies are Badly Crippled.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., June 27.—A hopeful sentiment prevails at the headquarters of the striking commercial telegraphers. The men still assert that the companies are badly crippled. President Small, denying that the operators of Chicago and other large cities are to be called out, reiterated his former statement that it was desired by the union officials to prevent a general strike, but that if it be found necessary, he will call out the men at other points. No hint of such intention would be given until the strike order is actually transmitted.

300TH ANNIVERSARY

Of Discovery of the Hudson and 100th Anniversary of Fulton's First Trip Will be Celebrated.

By Associated Press.
New York, June 27.—The days from September 15th to 26th will be set apart for the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson river and of the 100th anniversary of the first application of steam to navigation by Robert Fulton, which was made on the Hudson. This decision was reached by the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Commission yesterday in accordance with the report of the committee on the scope and plan of the celebration.

UNIFORM BILL OF LADING

Agreed Upon By Trunk Lines and Commercial Interests.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., June 27.—A binding agreement between the shippers and the railroads in the form of a uniform bill of lading has been agreed upon by the representatives of the commercial interests and all trunk lines of the country and the interstate commerce commission has concurred in the agreement. The new bill will be a part of the interstate commerce law and will constitute a railroad receipt binding on the carriers.

THREE PAY DEATH PENALTY.

Convicts Who Shot Guards in Attempt to Escape Are Hanged.

By Associated Press.
Jefferson City, Mo., June 27.—Harry Vaughan, Edward Raymond and Geo. Ryan were hanged in the county jail here simultaneously today for the killing of Prison Guard John Clay during a concerted attempt to escape from the penitentiary on November 24, 1905. Guard Ealson and convict E. Blake were shot dead at the same time. The convicts were serving sentences for robbery when the outbreak was planned.

A BRICK FACTORY WANTED.

Plant Would Pay Good Money Here and is Badly Needed.

There is a good opening in Wichita Falls for some practical brick manufacturer to locate a plant and get large returns from his investment. A gentleman well acquainted with the facts said to a representative of the Times this morning that the freight alone on the brick shipped here from Gainesville during the past year amounted to a sum equal to ten per cent on an investment of $100,000.

The clay found in this locality is of a superior quality for brick making. This is shown in buildings erected here fifteen years or more ago with home manufactured brick. These brick today are better and give a better appearance than those shipped here from Gainesville. Some time since, several barrels of clay were shipped from this place to Zanesville, Ohio, to a pressed brick plant there. The product from this clay was pronounced by experts to be of a superior quality.

The local demand for brick alone would make a brick plant here highly profitable and the excellent shipping facilities for points in the surrounding territory from which comes an ever increasing demand for the product, will furnish a good market for all the brick that could be made.

DAVIS ON THE STAND

CONTRADICTS STORY TOLD BY ORCHARD IN DETAILS.

COMING OF THE TROOPS

Was Followed By Much Trouble—Asserted That Governor Released Thugs From Penitentiary.

By Associated Press.
Boise, Idaho, June 27.—When W. F. Davis was recalled to the stand on the opening of court this morning, Senator Borah took him over period he spent hiding in the Hercules mine after the Bunker Hill explosion. He said Paulson and another man were there. Could not identify the other man. He remembered two men calling at the mine while he was there. They were union men. Orchard said that he was at the Hercules mine at this time. Davis was unable to recall Orchard as one of these men.

Bringing the witness down to the Cripple Creek days, Borah wanted to know when the witness first met Steve Adams. Davis could not recall the time. He said he was at home on the night of the explosion in the Vindicator mine. Earlier in the evening he had attended, with Sherman Parker, the union meeting at Victor. Davis denied that he called at Orchard's house and took him to the meeting. He could not remember whether Orchard was at the meeting. There were 800 or 1,000 men there. He could not recall when he first saw Orchard after the meeting.

Peaceful Before Soldiers Arrived.

Davis testified yesterday that the Cripple Creek district was entirely quiet and peaceful up to the time the troops were sent in. Today Borah cited to shootings, but the witness declared that most of them occurred after the troops arrived. The Maintainer district was quiet, although he admitted he had known of nonunion men being beaten before the troops arrived. Borah wanted to know if the strike commanders did not have to spend most of their time in preventing the men from going back to work. Davis said that it required some work to keep the men in line, for the mine owners had secret agents at work all the time and were trying to misrepresent things to the miners.

Thugs Were Imported.

Davis denied he had told J. F. Campbell of the Vindicator that if he did not open up something would happen to the property. He declared that no unusual conditions existed in the miners' convention at Denver at the time of the Vindicator explosion. Orchard had testified that Haywood said he was having some difficulty in keeping the men together and thought something ought to be "pulled off." Darrow took up the redirect examination of Davis by referring to the trouble at Cripple Creek before and after the troops were sent in. Davis said that aside from an assault on an old man named Stewart, the beating up of the Justice of the Peace and the killing of a woman, there were no extraordinary disturbances. After the troops came, however, there was much trouble, because the "Governor of Colorado turned a lot of thugs out of the penitentiary and sent them into the district."

Tells of Attempt to Wreck Train.

W. W. Rush, who was formerly an engineer on the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad and was on the train when the Western Federation claims an attempt was made to wreck the train in order to put the blame on the Union, was the next witness. He said that D. G. Scott, chief of the detectives, told him to be very careful in running the train on the night of November 14th, 1903, as there would be an attempt to wreck the train between Economick Mill and Victor. Rush told Scott that he did not think that the train could be wrecked there and Scott asked him where would be a good place to wreck the train. Rush told him on the second left hand curve east of the overhead crossing. Scott took the train with Rush that night and told him to stop near the locality mentioned. He did so and then saw a tall and short man drop off the rear of the train. In answer to Darrow, he said that K. C. Sterling is short and Scott is tall. The next morning Scott and Sterling told him: "They removed the rail at the identical point you thought they would."

Hawley Was Attorney for Miners.

Ed. Boyce, who was the first president of the Western Federation after the trouble at Couer d'Alene, was the next witness and said that James H. Hawley, now the leading counsel for the State, was at that time the attorney for the miners and was one of the first to suggest the amalgamation of various independent unions.

ASK FOR PERPETUAL INJUNCTION

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Wants 2-Cent Law Declared Void.

By Associated Press.
Uniontown, Pa., June 27.—In an effort to have the two cent fare law in Pennsylvania declared unconstitutional, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, occupying the Pittsburg and Connecticut road, has filed an equity suit here asking that the law be declared void and that the court of Fayette be perpetually enjoined from recovering from the railroad any penalty imposed by the act.

Sentence Again Postponed.

San Francisco, Cal., June 27.—The passing of sentence upon Mayor Schmitz upon his conviction in the French restaurant cases, was postponed today until July 8th.

SUBPOENA DODGING

FAVORITE OCCUPATION OF THE STANDARD OIL OFFICIALS.

ROCKEFELLER SUMMONED

Together With Other Officials to Appear in the U. S. District Court in Chicago.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Subpoenas were lately issued by United States District Court for the leading officers of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the Standard Oil Company of Indiana officials. The officers of the parent concern summoned to testify are John D. Rockefeller, John D. Ashbold, Henry Rogers, vice president; W. H. Tilford, treasurer; C. M. Thrett, secretary; W. H. Howe, assistant treasurer; and Charles T. White, assistant secretary. The issuance of the subpoenas was the direct result of the refusal of the auditor of the Standard Oil Company yesterday to inform the court of the financial condition of the Indiana company.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana was indicted upon the charge of using illegal freight rates tendered it by the Chicago & Alton railroad, and after a long trial found guilty on sixty-two counts. The maximum total of fine of $29,000,000 is possible and the judge wishes to ascertain the financial condition of the company before fixing the fine.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

Will Be Spent By Gould and Harriman Systems for Equipment.

By Associated Press.

New York, June 27.—The Harriman, Gould and other large railroad systems have secured car contracts calling for the expenditure of upwards of fifteen million dollars and orders are pending for cars to the value of fully ten million dollars more. Heavy contracts are about to be made also for locomotives for their western lines.

Big Doings on the Fourth.

Manager Lucid is arranging to have big doings at the ball park on the Fourth of July. Besides ball games in the morning and afternoon, there will be a big shooting tournament in the morning and two couples will be married at the park—one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Excursion rates will be given on all railroads into Wichita Falls and big crowds are expected here on that day.

MAIL CARRIERS QUIT

MEN AT BUTTE SAY THEY CANNOT LIVE ON PAY.

LIVING IS TOO HIGH

And the Increase Effective July 1st Not Big Enough to Give Relief.

By Associated Press.

Butte, Montana, June 27.—All mail carriers in this city went on a strike last night, declaring they could not live in Butte on the present scale of wages, despite the increase which becomes effective July 1. The men have been receiving $600 the first year and $850 for the succeeding years.

IT INJURES COTTON

JORDAN CRITICISES NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

REFUSE FROM LIVERPOOL

Is Accepted on New York Exchange and This Exerts a Depressing Influence.

Atlanta, Ga., June 25.—President Harvie Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association, who returned last night from a tour of Europe in the interests of the cotton growers of the South, today gave out the text of a letter to the president of the New York exchange, which was published in New York today. In this letter he says: "I am informed by prominent cotton factors and brokers of Liverpool that a shipment of 9,000 bales of American cotton in one lot would soon leave Liverpool for New York to be tendered on July contracts, sold through the New York cotton exchange; further, that the bulk of this shipment of 9,000 bales sent back to America was cotton which had been tendered on the Liverpool exchange and refused by the arbitration committee on account of its being too low a grade to meet the minimum requirements of the Liverpool contracts. I was shown the sample of a portion of the grades of this shipment of 9,000 bales, and was informed that such cotton was regarded as the refuse of the Liverpool market. As I understand it, the rules of the Liverpool and New York cotton exchanges as to the tender of grades on contract are practically the same, and that nothing below good original white is tenderable in either market. If the rejections of the Liverpool cotton exchange are a legal tender under the rules and regulations of your exchange, then the New York cotton exchange must be the lowest in the world, or else not fairly and honestly administered.

"There appears to be no secret or attempt at concealment in Liverpool as to this special shipment of low grade cotton, and they seemed to take it as a matter of fact that New York was the best place to get rid of such refuse cotton at a profit.

"It cannot be denied, and this matter I wish to urge upon you, that the notorious accumulations of the world's refuse cotton in New York, where it is recognized and received as legal tender against contracts, means the existence and perpetuity of a depressing influence upon the price of spot cotton in the South which no true American citizen should stand for.

"The criticisms of the New York exchange, its methods and transactions by the cotton interests abroad, not only injure the usefulness of your exchange for the safe conduct of business, but they also injure the entire spot cotton interests of America."

In concluding, Mr. Jordan appeals to the president of the New York exchange to check the delivery of cotton refuse scraped up in foreign markets and enforce the rules of the New York exchange for the safeguarding of the American interests.

HELLA TEMPLE AT VERNON.

Nobles of Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine Send Novices Over Hot Sands.

On June 23 Hella Temple, with its officers and twenty members, paraphernalia and equipment, went to Vernon to hold a ceremonial session for the purpose of conducting a class of thirty-two novices over the hot sands of the desert. The work was all done in an excellent manner and so realistic as to cause one of the novices, a prominent Judge of one of the courts, to feel himself called upon to make a second speech at the banquet which followed, to offset his judicial reckoning of the proceedings of the initiation, which was handed down during the closing ceremonies of the session.

The procession through the streets was a unique affair, headed by the visiting nobles in full dress uniform and regulation, fez, and immediately followed by ten of the novices, who openly declared their principles by climbing aboard the water wagon, and they in turn and close behind by an equal number astride the native burro, and then the tenderfoot novices in chain gang order, bringing up the tail end of the procession.

The visit closed with a reception and a splendid banquet at the Masonic hall, where all the members of the order, many prominent Masons, and a large number of ladies were in attendance.

It was declared that the trip was a delightful affair from start to finish, and was pronounced a perfect success by all nobles in attendance from Dallas and Fort Worth.

Following is a list of those on whom the degree was conferred:

- Albert Gallatine Powell, Memphis.
- William Frederick Sterley, Fort Worth.

FRIDAY, THE 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

was he going to keep to it until he got to Forty-second street and try to make Fifth avenue along that congested block with its crush of Grand Central passengers and lines upon lines of racks and teams? No. His head must be clear. Again he threw the great machine around the corner and into Fortieth street. For a part of the block our wheels rode the sidewalk and I awaited the crash. It did not come. Surely the new world Bob was speeding to must be a kind one, else why should Hag Fate, who had been at the steering wheel of his life-car during the last five years, carry him safely through what looked a dozen sure deaths? Without slackening speed a jolt we swung around the corner of Fortieth into Fifth avenue. The road was clear to Forty-second; there a dense jam of cars, teams and carriages blocked the crossing. Bob must have seen the solid wall for I heard his low muttered curse. Nothing else to indicate that we were blocked with his goal in sight. He never touched the speed controller, but took the two blocks as though shot from a catapult. The two? No, one, and three-quarters of the next, for when within a score of yards of the black wall he jammed down the brakes, and the iron mass ground and shook as though it would rend itself to atoms, but it stopped with its dasher and front wheels wedged in between a car and a dray. It had not stopped when Bob was off and up the avenue like a hound on the end-in-sight trail. I was after him while the astonished bystanders stared beautiful gray-clad figure of five years ago. There the two arms resting on the desk. There the two beautiful hands holding the open paper, but the eyes, those marvellous gray-blue doors to an immortal soul--they were closed forever. The exquisitely beautiful face was cold and white and peaceful. Beulah Sands was dead. The hell-hounds of the "System" had overtaken its maimed and hunted victim; it had added her beautiful heart to the bags and barrels and hogsheads stored away in its big "business-is-business" safe-deposit vaults. My eyes in sick pity sought the form of my old schoolmate, my college chum, my partner, my friend, the man I loved. He was on his knees. His agonized face was turned to his wife. His clasped hands had been raised in an awful, heart-crushing prayer as his Maker touched the bell. Bob Brownley's great brown eyes were closed, his clasped hands had dropped against his wife's head, and in dropping had unloosed the glorious golden-brown waves until in fond abandon they had coiled around his arms and brow as though she for whom he had sacrificed all was shielding his beloved head from the chills and dark mists of the black river that laps the brink of the eternal rest. The "System" had skewered Robert Brownley's heart, too. I staggered to his side. As I touched his now fast-icing brow my eyes fell upon the great black headlines spread across the top of the paper that Beulah Sands had been reading when the all-kind God had cut her hair.

Editor's Pants Story.
A newspaper man is an enemy to bulletin board advertising on general principles, but there are occasions when bulletin boards may bring better results than a paper. The editor for an exchange remarks that he observed one in front of a store in his city not long ago which read, "B U Buy Pants Come In and See Ours." He went in, and there was not a confounded man clerk in the store (they were all females), so he bought a fan and walked out.—Coymans (N. Y.) Herald.

in wonder. As we neared Bob's house I could see people on the stoop. I heard Bob's secretary shout, "Thank God, Mr. Brownley, you have come. She is in the office. I found her there, quiet and recovered. She did not ask a question. She said, 'Tell Mr. Brownley when he comes that I should like to see him.' Then she ordered me to get the afternoon paper. I handed it to her an hour ago. I think she believes herself in her old office. I shut off the floor as you instructed. I did not dare go to her for fear she would ask questions. I have"—but Bob was up the stairs two and three steps at a time.
My breath was almost gone and it took me minutes to get to the second floor. My feet touched the top stair, when, O God! that sound! For five long years I had been trying to get it out of my ears, but now more guttural, more agonized than before, it broke upon my tortured senses. I did not need to seek its direction. With a bound I was at the threshold of Beulah Sands-Brownley's office. In that brief time the groans had stilled. For one instant I closed my eyes, for the very atmosphere of that hall moaned and groaned death. I opened them. Yes, I knew it. There at the desk was the

OHIO FOR BUFFALO SOLDIERS.

Mr. Foraker touched the heart of the poor African in a tender spot at Wilberforce, but the Fire-brand Senator can never prove that his affection for the race is sincere until he assaults the president for not quartering all four of the negro regiments at military posts within the Senator's own State of Ohio.

On general principles, the heart of another Ohio man, Rutherford Birchard Hayes by name, "bled for the poor African" while in the act of calling in troops whose bayonets had kept the said African on top in Louisiana and South Carolina. If the Firebrand Senator will read Stephen Bonsal's article in the North American Review on the "Negro Soldier in Peace and War," his Senatorial heart must bleed copiously for the poor African who carries a government gun.

Though the negro troops "fought nobly" at El Caney and San Juan Hill, nobody wants them around when they are doing garrison duty in this country. They are ostracized wherever they go. If it is proposed to send some of them to a garrison east of the Hudson, New England sends its Senators to the White House, protesting vehemently.

There has not heretofore been a Republican State in which the party would not have lost votes if the negro soldiers had been stationed in it, but the eloquence of the Firebrand Senator encourages the hope that Ohio would be glad to have them.

If they are sent to the Philippines they are prematurely recalled for some occult reason, which is supposed to be that their presence is subversive of discipline in the army and demoralizing to the natives.

And so it has come to pass that the "buffalo soldiers," as the Indians call them, have been kept most of the time in the inhospitable South, or on the arid plains of the Alkali Belt. Just now they are mostly corralled in Oklahoma, which by the present administration is treated as only a stepdaughter of our Uncle Sam.

It is surprising that during all these years the War Powers at Washington have overlooked the land of Foraker and Hayes, where the hearts of great men are so tender for our brothers in black. Though the Twenty-fifth Infantry, of which Foraker has constituted himself the special champion, has a long record of outrage upon civilians, with the "conspiracy of silence" running all through it, we may hope that it would become a model regiment on Ohio soil and under the sympathetic influence of Ohio's vociferous citizen who sits in the Senate.

The Democracy unanimously approves the suggestion that the experiment is worth trying. The War Department has of late been proceeding upon the mistaken notion that the negro soldiers do best when commanded by Southern officers. Let Foraker now demand that at least one battalion of the Twenty-fifth Regiment be stationed in Ohio and that none but Ohio men be put on guard to officer all four of the regiments in which the Sons of Ham are enlisted.—St. Louis Republic.

Railway Attorney Spoons has been quoted in a Washington dispatch to the Fort Worth Record as saying that "Texas is not for Bryan for the Democratic Presidential nomination." Mr. Spoons, evidently meant to speak only his own sentiments on the question, rather than the sentiments of the rank and file of the Texas Democrats. He is too well informed about political matters in Texas to seriously circulate the report that "Texas is not for Bryan." Some people outside the state might be made to believe that that was the sentiment of Texas Democrats. Texas is for Bryan for president over any man who is a candidate. The attempt to "boom" Senator Culberson for the nomination is not the work of his best friends. Those best acquainted with our political conditions in Texas, know full well that the friends(?) who are booming Culberson are in reality his political enemies, as well as the political enemies of Bryan. They also know that if those so-called friends of Senator Culberson thought for a moment that there was the least shadow of a hope for the election of a southern man for the presidency that they would be working tooth and nail to bestow this great honor to another favorite son of Texas. Culberson is aware of the political conditions that prevail in Texas, and he is not going to be "worked" in any such manner. He is also aware of the fact that there is nothing he might ask for at the hands of Texas Democrats that would be denied him. When he is convinced that there is a possible chance for the election of any Southern man to the presidency it will be time enough for the people of Texas to begin to agitate his claims for the honor. Until that time arrives the rank and file of Texas Democrats are committed to Bryan, who was endorsed for the honor without a dissenting vote by the fast Democratic convention held in this State. Mr. Spoons was aware of this fact when he allowed himself to be quoted as saying that "Texas was not for Bryan for president."

Cattlemen generally are complaining that while cattle are scarce and beef is high that the price paid for the cattle on the foot are not in proportion to the shortage or the prices at which the packing house products are sold for. They think the market is being manipulated by some one at some point, and are making an effort to discover who the man is that has so successfully succeeded in forcing the price of beef up and price of cattle down in the face of the fact that cattle are more scarce now than ever before. For years the supply of cattle has been constantly getting shorter. Stockmen who formerly had thousands of steers to market annually now have but hundreds, and in some instances none at all. The big ranches are being broken up everywhere and the land upon which the cattle grazed is being sold off in small tracts to farmers. While the breaking up of these large ranches is a good thing for the country at large, those who still own their grazing lands and who continue to raise cattle are unable to understand why the shortage of cattle does not increase the price of the animal on foot in proportion to the increased price of it slaughtered. Someone evidently has a corner on the beef and cattle market and has a firm grip on both ends of the string.

The Daily Times feels encouraged with the patronage it already has and the business people of Wichita Falls who, by patronizing the paper, are making it possible for this growing, thriving little city to have a daily paper that will compare favorably with daily papers that are published in towns twice the size of this. For their generous patronage these enterprising business people deserve some returns for the good money they are spending every day to support the paper and the Times does not consider that it is going too far when it calls the attention of its readers to the ads that appear from day to day in its columns. By building up and supporting a daily paper these live, wide-awake business men are building up Wichita Falls, and are entitled to and should receive the patronage of every enterprising citizen. Look over the advertising columns of the Times and see if the man from whom you buy your groceries, dry goods, clothing, etc., has shown a sufficient amount of interest in the upbuilding of Wichita Falls to ask you through its columns for a share of your patronage.

If sufficient labor can be obtained, the farmers of this section of the State will be able to raise a large cotton crop. Owing to the destruction of the wheat and oat crops, the acreage planted to cotton and corn is at least six times what it was last year, and with a favorable season and plenty of labor to cultivate the crop and pick it after it matures, at least 12,000 bales of cotton should be marketed here this fall.

Cotton choppers are in demand in this country. The same can be said of every other class of labor.

WICHITA FALLS

Wichita Falls needs many things just now, but nothing more than more residences. Good tenans for at least a hundred neat cottages could be found within a week's time.

Wichita Falls continues to push ahead. There is no better evidence of this than the price at which property continues to change hands at advanced prices.

Grading on the Wichita Falls Southern is progressing rapidly. It is now thought that its train will be running into Archer City by tober 1st.

The Real Secret of Good Baking

Most every housekeeper has her own method of mixing bread or cake and a good one too, but in spite of this it very often happens that something goes wrong--the bread is not light or the cake is heavy or the biscuits are not as nice as could be wished.

Did this ever happen to you?
Did you wonder what the reason was?

We are not sure we can tell you but we do know that a great many baking day troubles can be laid to bad flour. You would not expect to get good results with bad eggs or bad lard, and no more can you expect to get good results with bad flour.

How you can tell the difference. Get a flour that is guaranteed, such as our home product.

"BELLE OF WICHITA"
At $1.60 Per 48 Pound Sack

It may be a little higher than you have been paying for some of the foreign brands, but the results will be better. Let us send you a sack today and if it does not please you, we will refund your money and not be cross about it either for we want our goods to please and the only way we have of finding out is to have our customers tell us when anything goes wrong.

Money back on any article purchased here, if not as represented.
Your orders are respectfully solicited.

Wherein the Railroads
Have Erred.

By
E. H. HARRIMAN,
King of American Railroad
Magnates.

THE present agitation against corporations has brought about a condition of distrust that has increased the hire of money to an extraordinary degree. The cost of the capital necessary for the railways to continue their improvements is at least 25 per cent greater than it was TWO YEARS AGO. If we had to pay the same rate of increase for labor and material, it would bankrupt us all. It is a fear that these big systems will be DISSOLVED that has really been an important agency in creating the spirit of distrust.

They—we—all of us, ought to have considered the possible effects of this agitation BEFORE IT WAS BEGUN or before conditions that made its growth possible were allowed to continue.

IF WE HAD ALL MET TOGETHER ON COMMON GROUND AND CO-OPERATED FOR OUR MUTUAL BENEFIT, NOBODY WOULD BE WORRYING OVER THE SITUATION AS IT IS TODAY.

We men at the head of the great corporations are coming to a better understanding of what the government EXPECTS OF US. We are beginning to get the point of view of the administration. We feel that we are now, ALL OF US—the public, the government and the railways—on a common ground, where we can deal with each other in the RIGHT SPIRIT.

I'm more than willing to give my support to such a process of enlightenment. I'm ready to make the advancement of such a scheme of co-operation my chief interest. Surely there could be few conditions imaginable that would be of WIDER PUBLIC BENEFIT than to eliminate hostile friction.

Railroad managers have, I am willing to admit, in the past neglected to build up a strong, harmonious relationship between themselves, the government AND THE PUBLIC. This matter has been left to subordinate officers, and the result has been that such relations have been completely neglected.

NOW WE MUST TAKE THE MATTER IN OUR OWN HANDS IN ORDER TO BRING ABOUT A BETTER UNDERSTANDING AND CO-OPERATION.

Our policy in the past has been a MISTAKEN one, but it cannot be said that we have neglected our service to the public. When one considers what the railroads have done to develop this nation we cannot believe that the railroads have been anything but beneficial to the nation. The marvelous development of the country has been due in a very large degree TO THE ENTERPRISE OF ITS RAILROADS.

The American Woman Excels English Sister.

By T. P. O'CONNOR, Ex-Member British Parliament.

THE American woman is just the opposite to her English sister. From earliest infancy she has an opportunity to know boys and men AS THEY REALLY ARE—just plain human beings, some of them good, some of them bad; some of them noble, some of them ignoble; some of them fine, some of them rough. And surely the women themselves, on the whole, must be good and pure and noble or else the American man, with his quick intelligence, his fine brain and his subtle mind, never would have held SO PERSISTENTLY to his ideal. The American likes not only the one woman, BUT WOMEN. He takes the trouble to understand their point of view, their lives and their occupations. He is interested in them, he finds them companionable and makes friends of them, and he has studied them appreciatively and helped them in their development.

The American woman, with her quick perception, her lively intelligence, her opportunities of knowing and understanding something of human nature and the protection and the care she receives from her men, is the MOST FORTUNATE WOMAN IN EXISTENCE. Sometimes perhaps she asks too much of life, but she also gives a great deal. She is capable, well read, witty. She is gowned beautifully and wears her clothes with distinction, and her taste is an instinct. The taste of a woman in England is a question of three generations at least. It is a thing of cultivation. With an American it is SIMPLY AN INSTINCT. Indeed, the taste of the American woman is one of the most remarkable things about her.

The thing that the American woman has to be most proud of is that she has made her mark upon this old and conservative civilization.

ENGLISHWOMEN HAVE LOOKED ON IN WONDER AT THE COMFORTABLE INTIMACY, THE AGREEABLE FRIENDSHIP AND THE HELPFULNESS OF ONE AMERICAN WOMAN TO ANOTHER, AND THEY ARE BEGINNING TO COPY AMERICAN MANNERS; THEY ARE BEGINNING TO BE AGREEABLE TO EACH OTHER.

WOULD BE STATE CAPITAL.

Shawnee Gives Formal Notice of Her Candidacy.

Shawnee, Okla., June 26.—Formal announcement was made yesterday by the Shawnee Morning Herald that Shawnee would be an aspirant for the State capital of Oklahoma.

The Herald in substance declares that the enabling act locating the seat of government at Guthrie until 1913 was undue interference on the part of Congress, that it was not the desire of Oklahoma to thus be restricted and that Oklahoma will select a site and build a State capital building, so that the removal of records and offices can be made on the first day of January, 1913, when the limitation on the new State expires.

Shawnee claims to have the support of Indian Territory as well as the backing of Southern Oklahoma.

Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Guthrie are regarded as candidates for the capital.

South McAlester has pledged her support to Shawnee, as has Muskogee.

Inconsistency is Apparent.

The new Sunday regulation is attracting much of the public's attention as to the policy adopted in its enforcement. It permits the sale of tobacco to smoke, but prohibits the sale of peanuts to roast. It permits the sale of "Kissme" gum to chew, but prohibits the sale of a lemon to squeeze. You may sell the coconut, but you can't sell the banana. You may buy the cream, but you can't buy the peach, handled by the same concern, under the same roof, on the same floor and over the same counter.

Under what law are these exceptions and exemptions to be headed? This can't possibly be the new law; and it can't be the blue law; and certainly it isn't the Jew law; because the Jew law prohibits all sorts of manual labor and all transactions in which money or valuables were to exchange hands.
Why cannot the Sunday law be applied to all and everything alike without discrimination?—Bartlett Tribune.

Paris, Tex., June 25.—About fifty Snake Indians, the name given to the full blood Choctaws who refused to accept allotments, are camped about eight miles from Garvin, I. T., and are said to be stirring up recruits in that section. There is a rumor current that the leader has a letter from President Roosevelt stating that if the Snakes will drive out the whites and the Indians who accept allotments their lands will be given back to the Snakes, which is said to be believed by some of the Indians.

everybody in the neighborhood attended, coming to the picnic grounds in the morning. Dinner was spread upon the ground in the shade of some trees on the creek bank and it was just the kind of a dinner that nobody knows better how to get up than the good housewives of Allendale.

Fishing was the principal feature of the program and a good catch was made.

Our own Marshal Gwinn, who can hear a noise like a big dinner and a fishing party further than any man we know of, laid aside his official cares for the day and was one of the earliest arrivals on the picnic grounds. The Times has it from pretty good authority that our marshal was the principal actor in a number not on the program. It appears that after he had eaten all the "grub" he could hold and had helped catch all the fish in the creek and had enjoyed the day to its fullest extent, that Marshal Gwinn began to make preparations to return to Wichita. As he had in mind the telling of some big fish stories on his arrival here, he bethought himself of the necessity of securing evidence to back up his yarns and was in the act of lifting some heavy piscatorians from a sack at the water's edge, when two girls, whom he had been teasing the whole day long, slipped up behind and gave him a gentle push. Their little joke worked better than they had expected. Gwinn, pushed out of balance, stretched out like a monster frog and plunged head foremost into the pool, which was nearly ten feet in depth.
He came up dripping and sputtering and soon reached the shore.

He repaired to the shelter of some distant bushes and wrung out his clothes, but in the excitement he forgot all about the fish—that's the reason that the fish yarns he told at the city hall this morning were the most extraordinary ever heard.

The 1906 Cotton Crop.

Texas grew 4,281,824 bales of cotton of 500 pounds each, valued at $223,- 000,000 last year. Cotton brings more money into the state than any other crop and it is believed that the time is coming when the state can produce 20,000,000 bales.

In 1906 Clay county produced 24,854
bales; Wfberger, 11,553; Montague, 39,742; Archer, 819; Young, 24,943;
Throckmorton, 7,831; Baylor, 10,027;
Haskell, 11,678. This year Wichita has the largest acreage in her history and if conditions are at all favorable, the crop this year will greatly surpass all former records.

If your coal man as been giving you dirt, try the Wichita Grain and Coal Company. They keep only the best.

HAM!

Ham is food that builds healthy bodies--because it contains the vital elements needed to make bone and muscle. And ham is delicious; the very smell of it sizzling in the pan makes your mouth water. But to have the sweet, juicy, tender kind, you must remember the brand Swift's "PREMIUM". Yes, "PREMIUM" in fact as well as in name. There's "PREMIUM" on the best ham--Swift's "Premium." And its Premium and Quality and Flavor as it steams on the platter at breakfast time. That is the ham we are cutting--a specially selected large size "PREMIUM,"--as a large ham cuts much better than a small one and the meat is better, juicier and sweeter, and you can buy as much or as little as you like--from a single slice up. We are slicing Swifts "Premium" and Armours "Star brand" Breakfast Bacon and Boiled Hams on our Slicing Machine--You will want some for your Fourth of July Outing.
