WICHITA TRAGEDY

Lewis Shoots and Fails to Wounds Jourdan Thomson.

DAW-WHITE CASE

In Which the Participants are Negroes.

After parelling the famous tragedy which attracted attention of two continents in Wichita Falls early this month in which the three participants were negroes.

At half past one o'clock this afternoon Lewis, a negro aged 21 years, shot and fatally wounded Thomson another negro in a room in the servants' quarters at the rear of W. E. Skeen's house on Scott Avenue with Lewis' whom Lewis had been separated about a month.

Nothing was done with a double shot gun, the shot was fired from an open window on the West side of the room. The load took effect in Thomson's right side just above the heart, making a wound which it must prove fatal within a few hours. After the shooting Lewis although the officers have been searching for him ever since, has not yet captured their man.

It is seen Lewis still had the cartridges and a bottle of beer in his possession. He is believed to be in hiding in the brush on creek and the officers are still effecting his capture within a few hours.

No Menace is Meant by Movement.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—Details of the war movement if the Atlantic fleet in the Pacific waters have been theoretically worked out, weeks in advance by the Naval General Board, but these details are necessarily subject to constant change resulting from the withdrawal of battleships from active service on account of having been declared antiquated, or in need of repairs and the substitution of other ships going into commission, fresh from the builders hands. There is in the navy department today scarcely any one authorized to afford any information as to the contemplated fleet movement. The opinion of officers on duty today is that the route most feasible for big ships is by way of the Straits of Magellan. The route across the Atlantic through the Mediterranean and Suez canal is open to the objection that it would bring the ships almost into Japanese waters and that the movement might consequently be regarded as a menace which Secretary Metcalf has stated has never been contemplated. The Suez route too is longer by a thousand miles than the Magellan route.

Remember we want some of your business next month. King & White.

MAILED FROM ALASKA

WITNESS TELLS OF ORCHARD'S ATTEMPTS TO "SHAKE" HIS WIFE.

TRIAL MAY BE DELAYED

A Witness For the Defense Is Killed While Boarding Train in Denver

By Associated Press.

Boise, Idaho, July 5.—When the Haywood trial was resumed today at 10 a. m., the defense offered as the first witness Marion W. Moore, of McCabe, Arizona, as member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners.

As Moore took the stand Attorney Clarence Darrow announced that another member of the board, Frank Schmelzer, was killed in Denver night before last while boarding the train coming to Boise as a witness.

Owing to this unfortunate circumstance, Darrow said the defense might be compelled to ask a day's delay a little later on, as it would be necessary to secure from various sources the testimony expected from Schmelzer.

Moore was asked as to the circumstances under which he agreed to take a letter to Alaska for Harry Orchard and mail it from Nome to Mrs. Orchard in Colorado. Moore said he first met Orchard in Denver in May 1904. "I was sitting on a bench in the court house square when he came up and introduced himself, saying he had seen me in Couer d'Alene," said Moore. "I saw him several times after this, once on Seventeenth street in 1905. I told him that time that I was going to Alaska to organize a union at Nome. Later in the evening Orchard came to my room and asked if I would mail a letter from Nome for him. It was addressed to Mrs. Harry Orchard. He told me he wanted to get rid of "that woman." He said he might come to Alaska later himself. I arrived at Nome August 12, 1906 and two days later mailed the letter."

On cross examination Moore said he did not enquire whether the woman to whom the letter was addressed was Orchard's wife or not. Orchard referred to her as "that woman."

Following Moore came Mrs. Mike Fallon of Butte, Mont. The witness was formerly the wife of Harry Waters, generally known as "Kid" Waters, a "gun-man" who was employed as a detective by the Mine Owners' association in Colorado. She had seen Waters in company with D. C. Scott, Lyte Gregory and Harry Orchard.

Boise, Idaho, July 5.—Owen Barnes was the next witness. Barnes was implicated by Orchard in the manufacture of certain bombs. Barnes lost both feet while mining in 1904. He lived in a cabin near the Independence depot. Orchard only came there once he said. He denied ever having assisted in the manufacture of bombs. He never committed or planned to commit any act of violence with Harry Orchard, he declared. Barnes said that the day of the Independence depot explosion on June 6, he was attending the Democratic national convention in St. Louis.

Next came Jacob Wolf a former clerk for George Pettibone and in whose name letters containing money were sent to Harry Orchard in San Francisco. Wolf said that many of the Colorado miners when in Denver made Pettibone's store their headquarters. He often made purchases for them and allowed them to leave bundles, etc., in the store. He met Orchard at the store once but did not remember ever having seen Steve Adams there. He saw Pettibone open and read a letter in 1904, later he went to the post office and registered a letter for Pettibone.

"What was put into the letter" was asked.

"A union card and a Masonic charmed."

"That's the last you saw of the letter?"

"Yes sir."

There was no cross examination.

The defense claims that Orchard asked Pettibone to keep his union card and Masonic charm and some money for him when he started West in 1904 following the deportations from Cripple Creek.

Archie Lester Harper, a young man just admitted to the bar in Denver, told of being arrested at Victor, Colo., the day following the Independence depot explosion.

"What for?" asked Darrow.

"I was told I talked too much in a college debate at the State University at Boulder, the question being debated was, 'Resolved that the calling of the militia in Cripple Creek was uncalled for, and unwarranted, I was upon the affirmative side.'

Harper said he was taken by two whitecappers. Major Naylor of the militia whom the witness knew happened along and ordered his release but refused to have the white masked men arrested as Harper demanded. The witness was told that his father John Harper who had been manager of the union store at Victor had been deported to Canon City. Young Harper and a companion walked 35 miles to Canon City and found the elder Harper there with his head cut and bleeding.

John Harper followed his son upon

THE TERRIBLE COST

THIRTY-SEVEN DEAD AND 2340 INJURED IN CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH.

SCORES AND HUNDREDS

Of Victims Will Be Added to Death List By Tetanus, the Grim Aftermath of Gunpowder Wounds.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 5.—The Tribune today says:

Thirty seven men and women and children are dead, and 2340 are maimed, lacerated or burned as the result of yesterday's excess of patriotism in the United States. The number of dead does not include five that were drowned. The roster of the dead is four more than last year's mortality.

Unfortunately, the death roll will increase day by day as tetanus, that grim aftermath of gun powder wounds, claims its victims by the scores and even hundreds for weeks after the Fourth.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—All records for fatalities following the celebration of Independence Day in Pittsburg were broken this year. Up to 10 o'clock today 19 deaths were reported to the Coroners office, while the number of the injured were three score. It is said that many that are injured will die.

Old Copper Mine.

Seymour, Tex., July 4.—A proposition is now on foot, headed by R. E. Fowlkes of our town, to develop the old copper mine situated some ten miles west of Benjamin. This mine was once owned by New York capitalists and ore obtained therefrom yielded 90 per cent pure copper. But on account of the mine being so far from the base of supplies it was finally abandoned. And while these capitalists struck a vein that was very rich it is thought they never did reach down to the main bed of copper. Not only copper is present in these beds, but rich deposits also of kaolin, red mineral and gypsum are there. Some even think the cement deposits are as valuable as those at Acme. In order to reach this mineral a spur will be built out from Benjamin, or else the Mineral Wells and Northwestern will go through the property.

Whole Village Destroyed.

Maloney, N. Y., July 5.—Almost the whole village of North Lawrence was ing in the Union hotel, the fire swept

A high wind aided the progress of the flames and the village was without fire apparatus and summoned help

SQUIRES LASTED ONE ROUND.

Burns Knocked Out the Big Australian
Within Two Minutes After Fight
Was Started.

San Francisco, July 5.—Many of the sports and followers of the fistic game whom it cost from $5 to $20 in addition to their railroad fare to see Tommy Burne solve Bill Squires, in the first round at Colma yesterday left today for their homes. There were general expressions of disappointment and disgust among those who had come hundreds of miles to see what they believed would be a finish fight. The morning papers declare that the "public was sold again." They declare that the fight "Fiasco" and the greatly overrated champion from the Antipodes is cartooned as a "Leon." The gross receipts of the fight were $25,251; of which Burns' share was $8,000, and Squires $4,960.

Tom Corbett who handled the pool room at Colma estimated that $72,000 changed hands on the fight.

A QUAKER ROMANCE.

The Wooing of Katherine Hollingsworth by George Robinson.

Valentine Hollingsworth accompanied William Penn in the good ship Welcome and settled in Delaware upon the banks of the Brandywine. Katherine, his daughter, "a delectable Quaker maiden," the pride of the little settlement, was wooed and won by big George Robinson. But George was of the Church of England, and Katherine "must be married in meeting."

"George," writes the author of "Heirlooms in Miniature," "was willing to join the society, be a Friend and be married in meeting or anywhere else that Katherine said. Accordingly he and Katherine made their first declaration fifth day, first month, 1688."

The elders, however, had "scruples," seeing that George's conversion was very sudden, and they asked him this searching question:

"Friend Robinson, dost thou join the Society of Friends from conviction or for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth?"

George hesitated. He prized the truth and he did wish to marry Katherine. So he answered:

"I wish to join the society for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth."

The Friends counseled "delay and that Friend Robinson should be persuasively and instructively dealt with." Shrewd men as they were, they allowed Katherine to deal with him, and within a year George joined the society as a true convert.

An old manuscript reads, "He and Katherine were permitted to begin a long and happy married life together, being for many years an example of piety and goodness to those around them and retaining their love of truth and loyalty to the society to the last."

HE HIRED WEBSTER.

A Sharp Nantucket Man's Bargain With the Great Lawyer.

Of course Webster was in demand by those who could afford to pay for his services. A sharp Nantucket man is said to have got the better of the great defender of the constitution in an amusing way, however. He had a small case which was to be tried at Nantucket one week in June, and he posted to Webster's office in great haste. It was a contest with a neighbor over a matter of considerable local interest, and his pride as a litigant was at stake. He told Webster the particulars and asked what he would charge to conduct the case.

"Why," said Webster, "you can't afford to hire me. I should have to stay down there the whole week, and my fee would be more than the whole case is worth. I couldn't go down there for less than $1,000. I could try every case on the docket as well as one, and it wouldn't cost any more, for one case would take my time for the entire week anyway."

"All right, Mr. Webster," quickly responded the Nantucketer. "Here's your $1,000. You come down, and I'll fix it so you can try every case."

Webster was so amused over this proposition that he kept his word. He spent the entire week in Nantucket and appeared on one side or the other in every case that came up for hearing. The shrewd Nantucketer hired Daniel out to all his friends who were in litigation and received in return about $1,500, so that he got Webster's services for nothing and made a good profit to boot.

The Hygiene of Underwear.

The average person wearing two sets of underclothing a week, says the Youth's Companion, will make the change in the middle of the week, but it would be far better if the two sets were kept going the entire week on alternate days. With the biweekly change, the clothes worn during the day are aired only for seven or eight hours in the twenty-four and never have the purifying process of sunning. With two sets going on alternate days, one set can be aired two nights and one day, and, if possible, should be hung up where they can receive the direct rays of the sun for some hours. They should not be kept in a dark closet.

A Wonderful Cataract.

The falls of Iguazu, situated near where Argentina, Paraguay and Brazil meet, form one of the most wonderful cataracts in the world, being greater in extent and more varied in character than the better known falls of Niagara. The first plunge of the Iguazu falls is 210 feet, followed by two others of 100 feet each, while between the two series of falls there are cataracts and rapids covering a vast expanse and surrounding picturesque lands.

The Left Wing.

"Is there any portion of the fowl you prefer, major?" asked the hostess blandly.

"The left wing, if you please."

"Yes," retorted the major, gazing dubiously at the platter. "I believe it is always good military tactics to bring the left wing of a veteran corps into action."—London Times.

ENCOURAGE GOOBER GROWERS.

Since it has been demonstrated that peanuts do well in this section of the country and that prices are good, many farmers have given cotton second place in their programs and are placing their bets on the goober. Until the past few months little was generally known about the demand for this toothsome nut and some farmers still fear that the industry may be overdone. To those who have entertained such fears the following from the Beaumont Enterprise will be interesting and instructive:

The consumption of peanuts in this country is constantly on the increase. A few years ago, the imports of peanuts were nil, but in recent years the increase in such imports has been marvelous. It is estimated that there were consumed in the United States last year no less than 12,000,000 bushels of the goobers.

At present Virginia and North Carolina supply two-thirds of the total crop of the nuts, and Georgia and Alabama and Florida nearly all of the remaining third. The cultivation of the peanut in Texas is considerable as compared with the totals of the country and yet there are large areas in this state admirably adapted to the growth of the nuts. The increase in the imports and consumption of peanuts during the past few years creates a condition that is of importance to the farmer of Texas.

At times the farmers and orchardists have run up against the results of over production and it is not surprising that they are a little wary about renewing the experience in other lines, but if the above excerpt from the Beaumont paper is reliable, and there is no reason why it may not be fully depended upon, as the statistics are accurately gathered, there is no danger of over production for many years, if at all. One reason for this is because it is only on certain kinds of soil that the peanut is profitable, and that area is comparatively small.

Besides this is the fact that consumption of the nut is so rapidly increasing that the demand of the coming years can not well be met, and so long as we grow only for the domestic demand there is no danger of over production. We hope to see no cotton planted in future on peanut land, and thus the price of that staple will be increased.—Abilene Reporter.

A representative of the Times took advantage of an invitation extended by Mr. J. A. Kemp to make a visit to the Olney country on the Fourth. The automobile party started from this city at about 6 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth of July and by 10 o'clock we landed at the hotel at Olney, a distance of 45 miles. Two hours were spent at Olney, which is located in Young county, and is surrounded on all sides by as fine a farming country as can be found in Texas or elsewhere.

As yet the little village has a population of only about 200 people. Its enterprises consist of a State bank, five or six business houses, hotel wagon yard, telephone exchange, three churches and a large two-story frame school house. That the people in and around Olney are well-to-do and prosperous is evidenced by the fact that when an opportunity was given them to secure the Wichita Falls and Southern railway, they called for a meeting of citizens and raised a bonus of $20,000 in cash and in addition to this gave one hundred acres of land for the depot grounds and terminals and right of way for fifteen or twenty miles of road.

From interviews with farmers, the Times learned that last year more than an average of a bale of cotton to the acre was made on all lands planted to cotton in the Olney neighborhood. This year the acreage in cotton is more than double what it was last, and the crops in fine shape, being a good stand, free from grass and in a high state of cultivation.

The greenbugs damaged the wheat and oat crops of this section of country greatly, but nearly all farmers who planted these crops last fall have raised wheat and oats that would justify the expense of harvesting. The threshers are now running and the lowest average yield of wheat realized was five bushels per acre. One crop of oats made an average yield of fifty bushels per acre.

That this is a fine farming country proven by the fact that land has been selling for the last year or two at about $30 per acre. When the railroad reaches Olney, the value of this farming land, as well as grazing land will be greatly enhanced.

The opening up of this country will mean much to Wichita Falls, as it will more than double her trade territory and place her business people in close touch with a thrifty class of farmers whose acquaintance they can well afford to cultivate. At present nearly all Olney people do their trading at Graham. After the building of the Southern it will be much more convenient for them to do their shopping in Wichita Falls.

Olney is twenty-seven miles from Graham by the nearest wagon road and forty-five miles from Wichita Falls. Before the Rock Island built to Graham, many of these farmers brought their products to Wichita Falls to market, because they could get a better price for them here. This trade was lost by Wichita after the Rock Island was built, but will now be regained. The Southern will be completed in time to bring all cotton produced in that section of the country to be marketed here, and will be a saving to the farmers who produce it of more than a dollar per bale in freight charges.

Many farmers are also holding their yeast for the purpose of shipping it to Wichita Falls when the Southern is completed.

They Disagreed.

"These fellows were fighting," said the policeman.

"Your honor," began one of the prisoners, "I beg of you not to accept so crude a misconstruction of our act. Doubtless you have heard of a gentleman's agreement?"

"Certainly."

"Well, we had one, but it had progressed to the stage where it became a gentleman's disagreement."

Yet was the judge deaf to reason.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Catch Question.

Of Bishop Short, who held the see of St. Asaph, many curious stories are told. Occasionally he put questions to candidates for ordination that apparently had no connection with the discharge of their parochial duties. They tested probably their wit or tact, two necessary qualifications to public men, but nothing more. One such question proposed by the bishop was the following: "Which has the greatest number of legs, a cat or no cat?"

As might be expected, this created a titter, but the bishop would not take a laugh as the answer, and consequently he repeated the question and desired some one to solve the problem. At last one of the candidates, smiling, said, "I should think, my lord, a cat."

"No," retorted the bishop; "there you are wrong; for a cat has four legs, and no cat has five."—London Telegraph.

A Patient Dog.

My brother has two dogs, one a large mastiff, the other a tiny Spitz which he can hold in the hollow of his hand. Don, the big dog, had been taught to lie down and face his food, but not to touch until the command, "Eat." had been given him. His mistress, in a hurry to leave for a day's shopping, gave Don his breakfast one day, but forgot the permission to "eat," and when she returned late that night the faithful dog lay with his paws on the plate of food, but not a particle had been touched.—Chicago Tribune.

Blunt Dr. Dougal.

Dr. Dougal of Keith, who was made an honorary member of the Aberdeen society in 1795, had a reputation for bluntness. A talkative woman went to him one day and said to him, "Doctor, what is the matter with my tongue?" "Just needin' a rest," he replied shortly. On another day a patient went to him and complained, "I have a deal to suffer with my eyes, doctor," whereupon he answered, "Better suffer with them than without."

JAPANESE DISBELIEVE REPORT
THAT U. S. WILL SEND BATTLESHIPS TO PACIFIC COAST.

PREY TO TORPEDO BOATS

United States Does Not Possess Naval Bases Adequate For A Ren
devezous.

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, July 5.—A report from Washington attributing the proposed sending of sixteen battleships to the Pacific coast to Admiral Dewey's private plan is generally disbelieved here by those whose knowledge and experience entitles their opinion to some attention. The United States is not known to possess any naval base in the Pacific adequate for such a purpose and the impression prevails that the sending of a large squadron where sufficient rendezvous does not exist would simply mean that the vessels would be an easy prey to torpedo boats and destroyers. Should sixteen battleships be so employed as to disprove this, a record breaking naval feat will have been accomplished.

An order has been placed for four Ford machines and the shipment is expected to arrive within a few days. With characteristic energy the Wills Company is extending the territory of its operations throughout northwest Texas and is making Wichita Falls the sales center for automobiles and automobile supplies.

JAILED FOR DEBT.

At One Time the Law Was Severe on Those Who Owed Money.

In nearly every country until comparatively recent times debtors have been subject to imprisonment. After the panic of 1825 101,000 writs for debt were issued in England. In 1830 7,000 persons were sent to London prisons for debt, and on Jan. 1, 1840, 1,700 persons were held for debt in England and Wales, 1,000 in Ireland and less than 100 in Scotland. From time to time modifications in the laws governing the imprisonment of debtors have been made, so that fewer debtors are imprisoned for this crime each year.

In 1829 there were 3,000 debtors in prison in Massachusetts, 10,000 in New York, 7,000 in Pennsylvania, 3,000 in Maryland and a like proportion in other states. Many of these persons were jailed for debts of $1. The law providing for the imprisonment of men who could not pay their debts was shown to be impracticable by statistics taken from Philadelphia, where in 1828 there were 1,085 debtors imprisoned for debts amounting to $25,000. The expense of keeping these persons in confinement was $362,000, which was paid by the city, and the amount recovered by this method was $25.

Imprisonment for debt was abolished by congress in the United States in 1833, though this measure was not fully enforced until 1839.—New York Tribune.

WIFE OR CHILD, WHICH?

An Ingenious Problem With Two Interesting Equations.

Some time ago George was bragging about never having told a lie, and he said he never would. An Irishman, hearing the assertion, made a wager with George that he could make him tell a lie in two minutes.

So Pat began: "Supposing you and your little child and her friend were out in a boat for a row; the boat suddenly capsized, and you were all thrown into the water. Now, which child would you save?" asked Pat.

"Well," answered George, "under the circumstances I should save my own in preference to any one else's child."

"Very good," answered Pat. "Now, suppose you and your wife and child were out for a row and the boat again capsized. Now, which of them would you save, your wife or your child?"

After a thoughtful pause, George answered that he would save his wife.

"There you are," cried Pat. "You said at first that you would rather save your child in preference to any one else's, but now you say that you would save your wife, who is somebody else's child!"—Pearson's Weekly.

"What?" asked the man who is always preaching, "have you ever done to make this a brighter world?"

"I've done a lot in that line, stranger," said the one with the large, rough hands. "I'm a barn painter by trade, and I generally paint 'em red."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Trials of Life.

Visiting Prison Chaplain—Ah, my friend, this world is full of trials. Incarcerated Guest—Don't I know it, miser? Ain't I ad my share of 'em? But it ain't the trials I minds so much. It's the verdicts.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Phases of the National Game.

There are two sides to almost anything, and the national game is far from being an exception. From the standpoint of the baseball enthusiast "our town has a club in the league." From the standpoint of the professional player the league has a club in each city. In the heart of the baseball patriot our club is a band of heroes, going out to conquer other cities and uphold our honor. In the mind of the man with soul so dead they are stock companies—properly financed. To the excited partisans at a game each player is an earnest contestant for his side. To the man who is from foreign parts it would be an important fact that they are hired men, employees with salaries set by companies that all belong to the same corporation, and that they get their pay for playing and not for winning. To the public it is a game. To the president of the company it may be a good or bad "performance."—Century.

Women and Cards.

It seems that the passion for card playing among Jewish women is not of recent date. More than a century ago Miss Rebecca Frank wrote:

"The ladies of Philadelphia have more cleverness in the turn of an eye than those of New York have in their whole composition. With what ease have I seen a Chew, a Penn, an Oswald or an Allen and a thousand others entertain a large circle of both sexes, the conversation without the aid of cards never flagging nor seeming in the least strained or stupid. Here in New York you enter a room with a formal set courtesy, and after the how-dos things are finished. All is dead calm until the cards are introduced, when you see pleasure dancing in the eyes of all the matrons, and they seem to gain new life."—Hebrew Standard.

the stand and related his experience during the strike period.

The defense in the trial of Wm. D. Haywood is nearing the end of its case. Moyer will take the stand late this afternoon or tomorrow morning. The six witnesses this morning closed up the loose ends in the net of contradiction in which it is hoped Harry Orchard may be entangled. Written evidence was introduced to show that a conspiracy existed between the Mine Owners association and the Citizens Alliance, the Governor and militia of Colorado and the Pinkerton detective agency, all were seeking to destroy the Western Federation of Miners.

WE HOPE YOU HAVE HAD A GOOD TIME.

The weather is still hot and it is hard to get anything that "tastes just right." One of those Fat Shore Mackeral is mighty nice for Breakfast, and for Dinner and Supper you will want something that is both cool and appetizing. A pudding made from a high grade Corn Starch, Bermuda Arrow Root, Sago or Tapioca and put on the ice to cool, just about hits the spot this weather; or you can take a package of Gelatine, or Jello, and a bottle of Welch's Grape Juice and make any number of dainty, delicious and healthful dishes that are particularly seasonable. No matter what it is that appeals to you, we can supply the ingredients, and if we don't happen to mention what you want, ask for it---it's here.
