REV. W. A. STUCKEY WILL BE SUC-CEDED HERE BY REV. J. A.
STAFFORD.

NEW PRESIDING ELDER

Rev. Roach of Ladonia Appointed Presiding Elder of the Bowie District.

Rev. W. A. Stuckey, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church South in this city, has been appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist church at Bonham, and Rev. J. A. Stafford, formerly presiding elder in the Galnesville district, has been sent to this place.

This information was conveyed in a telegram received by Mrs. Stuckey this afternoon, who is in attendance at the North Texas conference at Sherman.

The appointments were made this afternoon just before the close of the conference. In his telegram Rev. Stuckey also stated that Rev. Roach of Ladonia had been appointed presiding elder in the Bowie district, in which the Wichita Falls church is located.

Mr. Kemp on Local Option.
[Advertisement.]
Editor Wichita Times:

Dear Sir—In view of my great concern for what I believe to be for the best interest of our little city, I feel constrained to give public expression of my views anent the local option election to be held November 30th to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors in this county.

While the election is ordered for each precinct, the only two precincts to be affected by such election will be Wichita Falls and Electra, as all other precincts of the county have heretofore voted local option in their respective localities.

After having given this matter thoughtful consideration and viewing it from every standpoint, I have been reluctantly forced to the conclusion that it is my duty as a loyal citizen desiring to promote the best interests of our community to cast my vote against local option.

As much as I despise whiskey, as much as I would like to blot it out of existence (God knows there is no man in this county who has greater cause for being opposed to the liquor traffic), the excessive indulgence and use of intoxicants by members of my family has been the means of causing more unhappiness than every other evil influence combined in this world, there is no man in Wichita county who will exert himself more to drive intoxicating beverages from the face of the earth, I truly believe that its utter destruction would be the greatest blessing that could be bestowed upon mankind; entertaining as I do this strong prejudice against the use of intoxicants, I repeat that it is with great reluctance that I decided to cast a negative vote upon this question.

I will not attempt to defend whiskey in any manner. I do not believe that any good citizen can conscientiously defend the use or sale of it. When the question was first proposed, my first impulse was to vote in favor of local option, but after mature deliberation and a more careful investigation of the situation have decided that to vote local option upon this town will not accomplish the end sought. I am convinced after investigation that a large majority of the voters of Wichita Falls are opposed to it, and if local option carries at all, it will be by a very small majority, which majority will be given by those localities in the county where local option already exists.

It has been my experience and observation that wherever local option has been attempted in communities where the sentiment is not overwhelmingly in favor of it, it has proven a failure.
It engenders hard feelings among citizens; it is productive of all kinds of strife, and does not prohibit. In some of our neighbor towns it has been the means of utterly destroying the peaceful relations between the people, and I fear that this will be the outcome in our little city if local option is forced upon them by the votes of the outlying districts.

We are doing nicely now. So far as I am able to observe we have as orderly and as moral a community as any along the Fort Worth and Denver railroad. In fact my observation has led me to believe that there is less drunk-ness and disorderly conduct in Wichita Falls than in many of the so-called prohibition towns, notwithstanding the fact that we have had in our midst a class of transient citizens the past year during the construction of our two new railroads, whom it is understood are more addicted to the use of intoxicants than any other class of laboring men.

I love Wichita Falls; next to those that are dearest to me by nature's ties, this little city's welfare is the dearest thing to me on this earth. We have been getting along so peacefully of late, all of our people are prospering and happy, and if nothing happens to disturb the harmonious relations now prevailing, and which are so essential to the upbuilding and advancement of the best interests of every city, I confidently believe that 1908 will see Wichita Falls making greater strides than any year in her history.

These are my honest convictions. I know that many of my good friends will differ from me, but I shall not fall out with them for doing so. I am not going to make any fight with my neighbors and friends who take a different view, but if local option is voted on this town, I believe that we will soon have cause to regret it, just as our neighbor towns, Henrietta and Bowie, have; in the latter the community is all torn asunder. As a result of the efforts to enforce local option, the situation has become so serious as to render it necessary to appeal to the Governor to invoke the aid of the State Rangers to prevent actual bloodshed.

So long as whiskey is manufactured and sold man will use it. Just how is the best way to regulate and control the sale of it is indeed a very serious question. I think there are localities where local option is a blessing; at the same time I believe that there are other localities where the effort to prevent the sale of whiskey by licensed saloons has been productive of greater harm than good.

I believe it is most unfortunate that the good people who petitioned for this election did not confine it to the precincts affected thereby. If the majority of the citizens of Wichita Falls are opposed to local option in their town, is it right for the voters of the outside precincts to force it on them? Local self government is one of the greatest cardinal principles, the very foundation stone, so to speak, upon which was builded our great governmental structure. I truly believe therefore that it is the duty of the citizens in the outside precincts under existing circumstances to refrain from voting on this question at all and leave the matter to be settled by the voters residing in the localities affected by the result of such election. Very respectfully,

J. A. KEMP.

EXPERTS ON STAND

NOTED ALIENISTS TESTIFY THAT
MRS. BRADLEY WAS INSANE.

SHOOTING INTENTIONAL

Dr. Hill Admits, But Declares That in Her Aberration Woman Thought She Was Doing Right.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—The trial of Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Brown of Utah, was resumed today at 10:05 o'clock.

The defense at once put on the stand a new witness, Dr. I. Rich of New York City. Dr. Rich said he saw Mrs.
Bradley on the day of the shooting and that she looked "looney" and had an idiotic laugh.

Dr. Hill of Baltimore, an expert, was then called and stated positively that on the date of the shooting Mrs. Bradley was insane and incapable of distinguishing between right and wrong.
On cross examination, Dr. Hill said in his opinion Mrs. Bradley intentionally shot Brown, but that her state of mind was such that in her aberration she believed she was doing the right thing as distinguished from wrong.

Dr. Evans' Dramatic Testimony.
Dr. Evans testimony was dramatic.
He spoke with feeling of his great sympathy for Mrs. Bradley and referred contemptuously to Senator Brown for his ill treatment of her, all of which he said broke her health and unsettled her mind. He said that Brown, by his own hand, destroyed children which he had begotten. His reference to Senator Brown was so pointed that Justice Stafford admonished him that Brown was dead and could not answer for himself, and further that Brown was not on trial. Dr. Evans was not cross-examined.

As Judge Powers read extracts from the torn letters written by Mrs. Bradley and found in the hotel, expressing love and devotion for Senator Brown, Mrs. Bradley sobbed and wept and nearly fainted. At 12:30 recess was taken until 1:15 p. m.

DONS ARMY GRAY IN WHICH TO DIE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 26.—"Daughter, get out my Confederate uniform.
I am going to die and I want to be buried in my fighting clothes," said H.
C. Montroy, of Coahoma County, Mississippi, a well known planter, when, a week ago, he foretold his death in Memphis today at a sanitarium.

One week ago he was apparently well and had just come in from the field directly after some farming operation. The next day he came here to submit to an operation for a wound received in the Civil War that had never entirely healed.

Montroy came in his uniform and he died in it, being dressed, at his request, a few hours before the end came.

In one battle Montroy received six severe wounds. Five bullets were removed, but the sixth could not be located. He always said that whenever it hurt him he would die, and last Saturday he felt a twinge of pain similar to that on the battlefield when he was wounded.

A young man who gave his name as Marion Malsdale was arrested at the Denver depot by Sheriff Davis yesterday afternoon for a disturbance he had caused. When searched by the officer a revolver was found in the young man's pocket and he will be held over to await the action of the grand jury.

We are requested to announce that all barber shops in this city will be closed all day Thanksgiving, Nov. 28th.

NOT OF THE STANDARD.

Interior Department Discredits Charge Spoken Against Texas Company.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The charge that the Texas company is affiliated with the Standard Oil Company, even indirectly, is not credited at the Interior Department. The officials of that department are very much concerned with the relations of the Texas company, because its permit to lay a pipe line across the Creek and Choctaw nations of Indian territory was granted upon the condition that it was not and would not become allied with the Standard Oil Company.
Mr. Hitchcock, who was secretary of the Interior when this permit was granted, exacted conclusive evidence that this company was in no way controlled by the Standard. It was stipulated also that its permit should be automatically revoked in the event that it should become part of a trust.

The company cannot transfer its privilege without the consent of the secretary of the interior, and he has the right at any time to demand a list of its stockholders.

Inquiry was made at the Interior department this afternoon as to the status of the Texas company. It was said that the department satisfied itself thoroughly before granting the permit that it was not a Standard Oil Company operating under an alias.
Once since then, and since Mr. Garfield has been secretary of the interior, an intimation was received that the Texas Company had fallen under the control of the Standard. An investigation was instituted and it was found that the suspicion was unfounded.

Mr. Kellogg, who is prosecuting the Federal government's suit against the Standard, also looked into the relations of the Texas Company, it was said at the Interior Department, but was unable to find any evidence tending to show that it is connected with the Standard.

Funeral of N. Weaver.

The funeral of N. Weaver, whose death occurred at his home near Burk-burnett yesterday at noon, took place from the Baptist church in this city at 1 p. m. today, Rev. T. R. Bowles preaching the funeral sermon, at the conclusion of which the remains were taken in charge by the Masonic lodge of this city, and assisted by the Knight Templars of Vernon, who came down to attend the funeral, marched in a body from the church to Riverside cemetery, where the remains of their deceased brother were deposited in their last resting place with all the honors that could be bestowed by that order.

Previous to the funeral hour the Masons assembled in their lodge rooms over the First National bank, and were there joined by the Vernon Knights, and from there marched to the church.
There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Deceased was born in the State of Kentucky March 26th, 1871, and at the time of his death was in his 37th year.
He had been a resident of Wichita county about twelve years, and during that time followed the occupation of a farmer. His acquaintance was a wide one and those who knew him best held him in high esteem. He leaves a devoted wife and several small children and they have the sympathy of all in the great sorrow that has visited them.

ILLNESS AND DESPAIR

Drove Uncle Weston Cook, Aged 83 Years, to Choke Life Out of His Own Feeble Body.

Special to the Times.

Archer City, Tex., Nov. 26.—The body of Uncle Weston Cook, one of the oldest residents of Archer county, was found hanging from a beam in his barn with a halter rope about the neck late yesterday afternoon at his residence twelve miles southwest of Archer City. Death had occurred some little time before the body was discovered and strangulation was the cause.

Mr. Cook was 83 years old and was known to nearly every resident of Archer county. He had been separated from his wife and ill health and his old age combined to make him dependent and cause him to hang himself.

The deceased had a nephew living at Archer City, also one living at Henrietta.

"E Pluribus Unum."

The motto "E Pluribus Unum," never authorized by law to be placed on the coin of the United States, first appeared on an American coin in 1786. There was no United States mint then and, in fact, no United States, the constitution forming the union not having as yet been adopted. There was a private mint at Newburg, N. Y., and "E Pluribus Unum" was first placed on a copper coin struck at that mint. Few collections have specimens of this coin, and it is valuable. In 1787 a New York goldsmith coined a piece of money which was known as "the sixteen-dollar gold piece," and upon it the motto was stamped in this form, "Unum E Pluribus." Only four of these coins are known to be in existence. They are valued at more than $2,000 each. New Jersey issued various copper coins in 1787 with the motto stamped upon them. A great many of the early coins, before there was any legal authority for national coinage, were made in England. Most of these were copper, and were coined for different States and all bore the words, "E Pluribus Unum." The United States mint was established in 1792, but the use of the national motto on any of the gold, silver or copper coins was not authorized or directed by any of the provisions of the act establishing it. The motto remained on the early gold and silver coins until 1834, when it was omitted from the gold coins. In 1836 it was omitted from the 25c pieces and in 1837 from all silver coins. It was not stamped on any coin again until it appeared on the nickel and the standard silver dollar.

The words "In God We Trust" were first placed on the 2-cent piece, which came into the subsidiary coinage in 1866. The motto was placed there by direction of James Pollock, then director of the United States mint at Philadelphia, and not by any legislation of congress authorizing the minting of the 2-cent piece. The motto was subsequently stamped on the silver half and quarter dollars.

LEWIS ON TRIAL FOR DEATH OF TERHUNE

The trial of Moses L. Lewis for the murder of Leland Terhune is now in progress at Roswell, New Mexico. The work of selecting a jury was completed Friday and on Saturday the presentation of evidence was begun. The defense moved on Saturday that the confession of Lewis not be submitted as evidence before the jury, alleging that undue influence was exerted in securing the confession.

J. A. Terhune of Iowa Park, the father of the murdered man, is now at Roswell attending the trial.

A young constable arrived in a certain borough in Scotland and in the course of duty found it essential to apprehend a very old offender. Arrived at the police station, he ushered him into the cells with the comment, "Mind the step."

Getting Them Ready

You can see what's coming; and you don't have to guess who's going to get the best of it, either. With clothes it's different; we're getting lots of men ready for winter; the difference is that both sides of the transaction "get the best of it."

Every time we sell a man a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit or overcoat we make a profit and a friend; he gets a bigger profit, and cause for Thanksgiving that will last a good deal longer than the best dinner he'll ever have.

If you have clothes to buy, you're foolish to accept anything less when you can get Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes: all-wool; perfect tailoring; correct style; and fit guaranteed.

Plenty of other good things, too: underwear, such as you want for winter wear; shirts, hosiery, gloves, hats, men's wear generally.

CONTRACT FOR NEW BRIDGE AWARDED

The county commissioners last night awarded the contract for the building of the new bridge across Holliday creek southeast of town to the Leveridge Bridge Company of Fort Worth. The bid of the successful contractors was $2,555.00.

The contract calls for the completion of the bridge by March 1st, 1908.

The bridge is to be erected just above the old bridge on the Henrietta road. It will have a 100-foot span of steel and the approach on one side will be forty feet in length and upon the other 20 feet. The pillars and abutments will be made of concrete.

In all, seven bids were offered by as many different companies.

Building Work Still Going On.

While the financial stringency and the impending local option election have in some measure reduced the volume of construction work in this city, new buildings are still going up and a large number of men are employed in construction work.

T. R. T. Orth's new two story cement block business house on Indiana avenue is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy.

T. H. Nichols, who recently came here from Seymour, has his new wagon yard on North Indiana avenue almost completed and will open up for business tomorrow morning.

A sixty-foot extension to the room occupied by the Panhandle Implement Company on Ohio avenue is being built. Brick is being used in its construction. The addition will extend to the alley, paralleling the Coleman-Lysaght-Blair wholesale grocery.

Work has been started on the new cement block buildings on Ohio avenue which are being put up for N. Henderson and W. M. McGregor, and other construction work is going on in different sections of the city.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS

THE approaching year's end brings with it the season for reckoning up the measure for good and ill, which Father Time has handed out to each one of us since the last harvest. To the tiller of the soil, the carpenter, the man with the dinner pail, the active toilers in life's various fields of endeavor, and every man and woman whose efforts add to the welfare of the nation, this self-balancing of life's ledger becomes a duty and a pleasure. The time honored custom of setting aside a certain day each year when the entire Christian world may unite in grateful homage to a beneficent Providence for the blessings and success which have fallen to the shore of each is one of the privileges bequeathed to us by those stern soldiers of fortune who rendered their first Thanksgiving service on Plymouth Rock, in 1620. During the year Nineteen Hundred and Seven all lines of legitimate endeavors have given stupendous returns to the worker, while harmony and good-fellowship have sounded the universal key note of the nation's prosperity. The year just passing has been fraught with the most cordial relations between us and our customers and business associates, hence, we take this opportunity of offering our mead of thanks and praise, and of tendering to you our most hearty congratulations upon the achievements of the past, along with our sincere wishes for a further and greater measure of good to you in the future. We sincerely trust that our business and social relations will, with the help of an Almighty Providence, continue to be what they always have been in the year gone by, and that the ties shall be more closely cemented with the coming of each anniversary.

WILL AGAIN BE POSTPONED.

Both Sides in Thaw Case Ask for Postponement—Insanity Plea Likely.

New York, Nov. 24.—The second trial of Harry Kendall Thaw, set for one week from tomorrow, will be again postponed, and there is little chance that it will be called until some date well along in January. The decision to ask for a postponement has been agreed to by both sides. It is partly due to the fact that the task of selecting a jury would be made doubly hard by the approach of the holidays and the prospect before the talesmen of spending both Christmas and New Year's Day locked under the care of court bailiffs, and also to the fact that Thaw's counsel has applied to the court for permission to inspect the secret evidence presented before the lunacy commission during the progress of the first trial.

As an added cause for delay, there is a rumor that the attorneys now representing Thaw may apply for a change of venue, declaring a fair trial for their client in New York County is impossible. Such a move, if made, would be based upon the alleged unfriendly attitude of many of the local newspapers and the extent to which the evidence was printed and read in this country.

The District Attorney will vigorously oppose the granting of a change of venue.

ENGLISH INN SIGNS.

One That Cast a Reflection on King George III.

One of the last stopping places of the London and Weymouth coach was at a little Dorset village, whose principal hostelry was known as the Ass' Head. So good were the refreshments, so obliging the host and so reasonable the charges that the inn did a thriving trade and was well spoken of throughout the district. In one of George III.'s visits to Weymouth the royal party stayed at this inn and had lunch. This was very gratifying to the loyal host, who immediately took down his original signboard and erected a full length painting of the king in its place. Henceforth the inn should be known as the Royal George. The proprietor of the rival hostelry in the village purchased the Ass' Head sign for a few shillings and had it placed over the door of his house. Now, it so happened that the coachman and guard of the Weymouth coach had been changed on the day this alteration of the signboards took place, and they were both strangers to the district, but their instructions had been to stop at the Ass' Head, and, seeing the sign on the rival house, they pulled up there. This much annoyed the original owner, who, foreseeing that his pocket might suffer for his loyalty, immediately had nailed to the bottom of the painting of King George a board with these words in large letters: "This is the original Ass!"—London P. T. O.

DISCOVERY OF COAL.

Mentioned by a Jesuit in 1679 and Mined First in 1749.

So far as known the first mention of the occurrence of coal in the United States is contained in the Journal of Father Hennepin, a Jesuit missionary, who in 1679 recorded a "coal mine" on Illinois river near the present city of Ottawa, Ill.

Coal was first mined in the Richmond basin, Virginia, about seventy years after Father Hennepin's discovery in Illinois, but the first records of production from the Virginia mines were for the year 1822, when, according to one authority, 54,000 tons were mined.

Ohio probably ranks second in priority of production, as coal was discovered there in 1755, but the records of production date back only to 1828.

The mining of anthracite in Pennsylvania began about 1790, and it is said that fifty-five tons were shipped to Columbia, Pa., in 1807. Reports of the anthracite coal trade are usually begun with the year 1820, when 365 tons, one for each day of the year, were shipped to Philadelphia from the Lehigh region. Before this, however, in 1814, a shipment of twenty-two tons was made from Carbondale, also to Philadelphia. It is probable that the actual production prior to 1820 was between 2,500 and 3,000 tons.—Washington Star.

A Cause For Thanks.

In the audience at a lecture on China there was a very pious old lady who was slightly deaf. She thought the lecturer was preaching, and every time he came to a period she would say "Amen" or some other pious exclamation. The people in the audience, which was composed mostly of the village church members, knew she was being reverent and did not even smile when she exclaimed until finally the lecturer mentioned some faroff city in China, saying, "I live there." At this point clearly and distinctly could be heard the old lady saying, "Thank God for that."

WAITS FOR BRIDE, BUT NOT IN VAIN

Fort Worth Record.

"While there is life there is hope." Sunday last Rev. J. S. York of the Methodist Protestant Church of Bowie, formerly of Corsicana, announced publicly that at 5:45 p. m. Sunday he would wed Mrs. Stella Bounds of Ardmore, Okla. A great crowd gathered at the Santa Fe station in anticipation of the event and when the train pulled in the 74-year-old bride-groom-to-be smilingly waited for the prospective bride to alight. All in vain. The prospective Mrs. York failed to materialize. Disappointed, but not dismayed, and with his faith in his promised wife unshaken the loyal elderly lover continued to meet every incoming train until noon yesterday, still with no result.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, still haunting the depot and hoping against hope, the wearied swain was informed by a bystander that, if he was not greatly mistaken, the bride-to-be was then at the Richelleu hotel, impatiently awaiting the hour she was to become Mrs. York. Grasping at a straw, Rev. Mr. York hurried to the hotel and was overjoyed to find Mrs. Bounds ready and waiting for him.

A happy reunion followed and Marrying Squire Bratton was hastily summoned to the scene. An immense throng surged about the couple in the parlors of the hotel as Judge Bratton pronounced the words which made the happy couple one, and the vicissitudes of the preceding twenty-four hours were forgotten and forgiven in the joy of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. York departed last night for their future home at Bowie, where the happy groom will continue his labors in the Methodist church.

Both contracting parties are of advanced age. The groom is 74 years old, and while the blushing bride did not state her age it was evident that she had passed the age of girlhood. The couple departed with the best wishes of a host of impromptu friends who had shared in the hopefulness and anxiety of the groom.

New York, Nov. 26.—Howard Maxwell, the former president of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor at his home in Brooklyn today. He was taken to the hospital, where it is expected that he will die. Maxwell was indicted on a charge of larceny and forgery.
