AMERICAN FEDERATION ORGANIZER URGES LABORERS TO VOTE WITH DEMOCRATS.

PURPOSE OF THE UNION

Discussed and Speaker Shows Why Laborers Should Take an Active Interest in Politics.

Monday night in Carpenters' Hall a fair-sized audience, composed of men and women, assembled to hear General Organizer Henry M. Walker of the American Federation of Labor discuss the subject of "Unionism and Politics." For two hours the speaker ably and efficiently expounded the principles, policies and objects of the labor organizations and farmers' unions, as well as explaining the effect of the injunction in labor disputes and the result of the party in power evading the enforcement of the national eight-hour law, giving protection to the trusts and favoring the special interests that are oppressing the people.

He thoroughly reviewed the efforts to secure legislation at the hands of a republican congress by labor's representatives and their failure, the step taken and the visit made to the Chicago convention and the turn down received, and the reception accorded and pledges made by the Denver convention of the Democratic party. He spoke in part as follows:

"Farmers and labor union organizations are founded upon that principle which holds that the individual's material interest must be dealt with before advancement can be made along other lines and interests.

"The union tries to take the jobless man with an empty stomach and secure for him employment at shorter hours and reasonable wages—living wages—thereby placing that individual in a position to buy books, to have time to study and advance his spiritual, political and other interests.

"The individual without a job, hungry and having no means of subsistence, is not in a receptive mood or frame of mind to listen to any kind of teachings. But, secure for that individual an opportunity to work and exist, and then he will become interested and will be in a condition of mind to advance along spiritual or other lines.

"Every known interest, calling or profession is organized. The doctors have their medical association, the lawyers their bar association, the merchants their merchants' association, etc. Each of these organizations place the price upon the commodities of their members to be disposed of by mutual agreement and understandings in organizations, which is commonly known as their 'code of ethics' or 'trade understandings.'

"Labor and farmers' unions hold that the labor and the product of their members are the only commodity they have to dispose of, and that they must be the ones to price that commodity or product in order that their families shall receive the necessities of life.

"The doctors' medical association denounces the 'quacks,' the lawyers' bar association hates the 'shyster' and the labor union has no use for the 'scab.'

"The laws of our land in most every instance provides that a man to hold the position of county, district or higher judgeship, must have been admitted to the bar and a practitioner of law for a number of years. He must have been admitted to the bar, by passing an examination, before an examining board, composed of lawyers—members of the lawyers' union—and found to be a competent workman in his line. That is the 'closed' or union shop principle which labor contends for.

"The law makes similar requirements of a man who attempts to practice medicine, and thus you have, the 'closed' or union shop principle established again by law, but when it comes to the laborer, the law ignores him entirely upon this very important matter.

"The combinations of capital and employers organize to fix and maintain prices upon the commodities they handle, to perpetuate larger dividends and profits regardless of how it effects the interests of the human family.

"The intelligent and competent wage workers of our cities, on the railroads and in our mines, organized to fix and maintain an equitable price for the only commodity they have to dispose of—their labor—and to protect their members in times of sickness and distress, to take the little child from the sweat shop, mill and factory, and place her in school, giving her a healthier mind and sound body, and for many other beneficial objects.

"The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America is organizing the farmers of our land so that they can place the price at which the products of the farm shall be disposed of and protect themselves against the stock gamblers and manipulators and dealers in the commodities that the masses of the people are directly interested in.

"Since the organization of the farmers, the farmers and the laborers have been studying as they have never studied before, and on lines never presented before to them.

"The farmers have learned that the wage laborers are their principle customers and without them their products would rot in the field. They have learned also that the better wages the laborers receive the more can they consume of farm products and the better prices they can pay for them. When a plan of co-operation was proposed by the farmers the laborers were as prompt to catch the idea as the farmers, and realized that the farmers were their best customers, and with-

Farmers Not Night Riding.

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 29.—Farmers are not doing this night riding, declared Colonel Sam Hampton, organizer of the Farmers' Union, upon reading yesterday the notices posted on gins near Mount Pleasant, warning ginner not to gin any more cotton.

"I have ridden, slept and worked with the average Texas farmer," he continued, "and I know that there is not a more law-abiding citizen on earth. I think this Mount Pleasant affair is a joke, perpetrated by some sharper who wants to stir up a little excitement. There is no danger of this night riding business spreading in Texas and no one should become alarmed. When the farmers, who are the most dependable people of the country, turn anarchist you may as well get your gun to protect yourself."

The Times' Bryan-Kern dollar fund is growing steadily since the campaign has warmed up and the dollars are coming in faster than at any time since the fund was started.

Good democrats everywhere are getting into the harness and there is going to be some valiant fighting all along the line between now and election day.

This is the fight of the people to wrest the government from the hands of the predatory interests. Roosevelt and Taft declare that Bryan is the tool of the special interests, but at the same time these two worthless refuse to make public the contributors to the republican campaign fund. To use a vulgar expression, this looks to a man in the street like there was an African in the coal shed.

Chairman Mack says that 80 per cent of the money so far received by the committee has come through the dollar funds in democratic newspapers. It is noteworthy that if the favor-seeking interests are seeking the election of Bryan they are inconsistent in not offering contributions to help secure his election.

Just how much the trusts are contributing to the republican fund, the public cannot find out as Roosevelt, the dictator, will not permit the contributors to be known until after the election.

Every democrat who contributes a dollar to the Bryan fund thereby declares himself in favor of letting the people rule and a square deal and an open and above board policy.

Those contributing to day were:

D. W. Walker $1 00
L. H. Mathis 1 00
J. C. Hunt 2 00
W. E. Douglass 1 00

ASKED TO KEEP STILL

PRESIDENT'S MONDAY MORNING LETTERS HURTFUL TO REPUBLICAN PROSPECTS.

TAFT IS FORGOTTEN

Interest is Centered on Bryan and Roosevelt to the Isolation of Judge Taft.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—It is known that influential republican leaders have advised President Roosevelt not to make any further reply to anything that Mr. Bryan may have to say to him. It is also true that letters and telegrams from republicans in every doubtful State have been received at National headquarters, protesting against the president writing any more letters. Indeed, it was these letters from so many republicans in doubtful States which induced republican managers to advise the president not to write more, no matter how great the provocation.

It is not known whether Mr. Roosevelt will heed the advice which has been given him. He does not realize, probably, that every time he writes a letter to Mr. Bryan the effect is to make the voters forget that such a man as Judge Taft is the candidate this year. In addition, it is recognized that Mr. Roosevelt does not wield as trenchant a pen as is shown by Mr. Bryan, a fact most signally illustrated by Mr. Bryan's letter, published last Sunday.

B. F. YOAKUM SPEAKS TO LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN

When you invited me to address you I at first hesitated as I am not a public speaker, but I was anxious to meet with you because of the relations existing between us and I am glad of the opportunity.

I am an employee and glad to meet with you as such. We have a common interest. Good times for the railroads means good times for us all. Bad times for the railroads means bad times for us all. No good can come to this country when the hands of the clock are not at war with the dial, or when any part of the general machinery of our social life is out of harmony with its other parts.

To succeed we must work together. In talking to you I realize that you represent the 70,000 Locomotive Firemen who generate the power which moves the traffic of the railroads of the Nation, and that hard times has resulted in a large number of your membership being either out of employment or working on short time. Last year the firemen's payroll was fifty-three million dollars, but since October it has been running at the rate of eight million dollars less per year.

Your organization is a member of workers who travel while they work and burn money while they work. The average mileage that each fireman travels a year is over 25,000 miles and he uses $2,500 worth of fuel. The importance of this will be more clearly illustrated when I say that fuel cost represents over ten per cent of the total expenses of railroad operation.

Every mile each fireman travels ten cents is spent in fuel. This is ten cents of every dollar earned by the railroads. Of that dollar the employees get forty-two cents. The forty-two cents to employees and ten cents for fuel shows where fifty-two cents out of every dollar taken in by the railroads go.

When unjust attacks cause the loss of business to railroads, there is of necessity a reduction of expenses. They can, as has been the case within the last twelve months, temporarily reduce the maintenance of track, engines and cars, but this is only for a short time, as the safety of the lives of the traveling public and the employees become too serious a question to allow the railroads to run down.

In viewing this important question we must not look at it wholly from a standpoint of today. We can form a more correct idea of what this vast country's development means by looking ahead ten years. Most of us have been in the employ of railroads for the last ten years, and I hope we will continue for the next ten. I shall give you a few comparisons to show what a magnificent future there is for the railroad employees and the general prosperity of the country if we can establish permanent regulations that are mutually fair to the public and the railroads, and all pull as one for best results.

Within ten years the number of firemen in the railroad service has increased 92 per cent. During this period the fireman's annual payroll has increased from twenty-three million to fifty-three million dollars.

It is an interesting illustration of the efficiency of the railroad service of our country, which furnishes to the public better and cheaper service than any other country, the pay of the employees of this country is more than double the pay of Great Britain. The Locomotive Fireman of Great Britain is paid $300 per annum, while the average pay of the Locomotive Fireman of this country is $760 per annum, but as American citizens, considering your efficiency and loyalty, the money is well paid to you when your standard is compared with the standard of employees of any other country on earth.

We have seen what has been accomplished during the last ten years. With the same progress let us see what the next ten years will bring forth if fair treatment is accorded to the railroads of our country, if its upbuilding goes forward. The railroad mileage of this country last year was 227,000 miles, which is an increase of 24 per cent. In ten years, during which period there were constructed 44,000 miles. On this basis, within the next ten years there should be 55,000 new miles of railroad built. In the past ten years the gross earnings of the railroads have increased 130 per cent, and at this same rate of increase the gross earnings in ten years will be six billion dollars; as the railway employees receive 42 cents of every dollar earned by the railroads, their pay roll will have increased from three million dollars per day as it was last year, to seven million dollars per day, or annually to a total of two and one-half billion dollars. The pay roll of the firemen alone, which last year was fifty-three million dollars, will amount to one hundred and twenty-two million dollars at the end of the next ten years if our country is permitted to develop as it should and as it has for the last ten years; and the number of firemen will have increased from 70,000 to 160,000 men. Within the next ten years our population at the present rate of increase will be more than 100,000,000 people. While these are remarkable figures, they are nevertheless true, and all loyal Americans must feel there is greater work of development yet to be accomplished in our great fertile and productive Nation in the future than in the past, with only one-half of its area developed. With the increased business of the railroads I have shown for the next ten years, one man out of every six of our entire adult population will be a railroad employee, or a total of four million employees—a great magnificent army of men—and we should look forward to the protection of these properties on fair terms and not to Government ownership, which would be a mistake. We are a happy family and want to continue our freedom of organization as railroad co-workers and not as uniformed Government servants reporting to inexperienced Federal authorities and Superintendents at Washington.

To build these railroads, buy equipment and improve existing railroads within the next ten years will require the enormous sum of six billion dollars of new money. Where is the money to be had? Money necessary to carry out this work of upbuilding is the first requirement, and without it no development can go forward. The hundreds of millions of dollars of deposits of farmers, manufacturers, merchants and savings of the people at large in the country's National Savings Banks and Trust Companies are not available for railroad construction. Such money has its uses in the development of agricultural, industrial and mining enterprises, and we must, therefore, look to New York for money to build the necessary railroads to carry on the great work of railroad construction essential to development.

For five years attention has been called, and very wisely and very properly to the duty of a trustee. In some cases trustees prove false to their trusts. Corrective laws, enacted and enforced within the last few years, have been wise and have made for honest business methods, and have strengthened confidence of the world in us and in our enterprises. We have gone forth to the world giving notice everywhere that hereafter men who are charged with the largest responsibilities of trusteeship in corporations must do their duty in their management. But did you ever think that with all the publicity given to the mismanagement of corporations, it is true that not one in a hundred of the corporations of this country has gone wrong.

What I desire to call your attention to is that underneath all this business there is a solid substrata of commercial integrity, that the business of this country is, with very rare exceptions, conducted upon honest lines, that the men who are in charge of large enterprises are as a rule honest and faithful. In Wall Street there are men whose business life has been given to supplying their own funds and funds of investors of this country and Europe, who have confidence in them, to build up the railroads of this country. Ninety per cent of the 105,000 miles of railroad serving the people of that great domain lying west of the Mississippi River has been built by funds furnished by New York bankers. Some of their investments have been profitable; while others have not. They took their chances and have experienced receiverships and foreclosures. On the whole, however, they have made a profit. They are entitled to a profit for supplying the necessary funds to enable the country to grow and its resources to be developed, but one hundred times more profit has been received by the owners of lands, of mines, by merchants and manufacturers in the different commercial and manufacturing centers than the bankers received upon their investments.

At 4 per cent, per annum it requires the investment of $19,000 to earn as much a year as the average earnings of the firemen, $760. At present there are a million men, women, estates, trustees, corporations, banks, etc., who hold railroad securities as investments. It is just as essential for the prosperity and steadiness of the railroad business to have the man who invests $19,000 in railroad securities feel safe and secure as it is that you, whose investment is your time, feel sure of your employment with the railroads. The danger which threatens the man's investment just as surely endangers your pay roll. Money is timid. This is natural, as most of the men who invest money do so for others. Those making investments for others are held accountable for their judgment by those who own the money. If a trustee or guardian or a banker invests the $19,000 we are using to illustrate, for an estate, a ward, or a client, he tries to put it where he is sure of the $760 a year for the benefit of the owner of the money. He is just as careful about this as you are in receiving for your time $760 per year. The investor hesitates to risk his money in a business which is being constantly attacked by our law makers. Continued agitation makes him afraid for the future. I want to make plain to you that the attacks on the business hit the employe harder than the man who invests in stocks or bonds, as the railroad employe gets 42 cents of each dollar earned while the investor receives 21 cents. Keep these facts plainly in mind and you will see that your interest and that of the investor are inseparably linked in a partnership, only you have twice as much at stake as the investor in the gross earnings of the railroads of this country. What can we hope to gain by our politicians continuing to stamp the bankers and capitalists as a body as unscrupulous in their business methods in dealing with our corporations and institutions?

Is it not the interest of every railroad employe and every investor in railroad securities to ask the shapers of our political policy to go slow and consider well such a vital interest to such a large number of our citizens and general welfare of the country, before enacting laws or restrictive legislation or authorizing commissions to reduce rates and regulate the operation of these properties to a point that will prevent the building of railroads when other people are willing to furnish the money?

The American Railway Employes' and Investors' Association has been formed—not for political purposes or for any purpose detrimental or placing unfair burdens upon the public, but as set forth in the articles of organization to do whatever lawful things may be necessary in order to secure a fair return alike to capital and labor invested in American railroads, with due regard at all times to efficient service, fair treatment and safety to the public.

This declaration is eminently fair to all interests and every railway employe and every railway investor should be interested and identified with this association, which is organized on broad and comprehensive principles. Its work will do more in restoring the country to its normal condition than anything else, as it speaks for the interest of all and against none, as its aim is to bring around closer co-operative relations between the employes and the investors in railroad securities. The regulation of the railroads by the government should be fair, but such as will effectively prevent any favoritism or injustice by railroads in their dealings with the public. An attempt on our part as railroad employes and investors to undertake to create unfair conditions through legislation or otherwise in favor of the railroads against the public would be a serious mistake, and would receive the resentment and condemnation of the public, and properly so. The American people, when they come to understand the true situation, the real cause of the troubles now facing the railroads and retarding the development of the country, will lend their support to the end that fair treatment be accorded them.

The bad effect on the business of the country is so far-reaching that it would be impossible to go into the many avenues where it is felt. George Harris, president of the Burlington told me that his company last year purchased 80,000 tons of new rails against none this year. It requires on an average two tons of iron ore, one ton of coke, and one-half ton of limestone, all of which must be supplied by labor, to make one ton of steel rail. This one railroad not purchasing its requirements means the loss of 12,000 car loads of freight to the railroads, which loss falls largely upon the employe, as he loses 42 cents of every dollar that would have been earned in moving this freight. The number of tons of new rails and fastenings purchased by all the railroads of the country during the year 1907 was 3,000,000 tons, which meant the movement of 13,500,000 tons of raw material and finished product or a total of 450,000 carloads of freight. This is taking money from the employes pretty fast. This forcibly illustrates the doctrine and the principles which we should preach that any political party or any candidate either for national or state office, who stands for a policy that means the retarding of the growth of this country and the building of new railroads, the improvement of the old ones, stands for a policy that takes the throttle from the locomotive engineer, the bell cord from the conductor, the lantern from the brakeman and flagman, the hammer and the chisel from the shopman, and the track tools from the trackman. Further war against capital means war against labor; war against your wages; war against the farmer and merchant who need adequate facilities and safe and comfortable travel; war against the welfare of every manufacturer in the country and against every workman employed by them.

The interests of the people of our country are interdependent, and in a great measure co-operative. We are both producers and consumers. While our population is only a little over 25 per cent of the population of the world, we produce 20 per cent of the wheat, 40 per cent of the iron and steel, 55 per cent of the copper, 70 per cent of the cotton and 80 per cent of the corn of the world.

Any policy that stirs up internal strife, that prejudices one against another, that injures or endangers our groundwork of co-operation, is hurtful alike to all. As a nation we should stand shoulder to shoulder for the rights of both the public and the law-abiding corporations, and the indiscriminate denunciation of all capital of the country should cease.

Those who have the true interests of the country at heart should work for the enforcement of the laws which have been made effective in the last

In conclusion, I wish to say that I am heartily in sympathy with you and your work. I believe organized labor and organized capital can better work together, and the future will so demonstrate. I believe every man who works is entitled to be classed as a working man, and I am still working, and I have worked, as most of you know, in the different departments of railroad. My first railroad work was on a section. From there to the traffic and operating departments until I reached my work of construction. Within the last twelve years I have planned and carried out the construction of more than five thousand miles of railroad. I am proud of this work. The railroads I have built are now employing thirty thousand men, and with the employes and their families these railroads are now supporting over 100,000 souls. I wish I could continue to build roads in sections where they are needed, furnishing employment to deserving men, support of their families and means of education for their children.

I am not talking to you as a politician. I am not asking for your influence at the polls except so far as it is necessary to protect our mutual interests from further abuse.

I have endeavored to talk to you as a fellow worker. There will probably always be family questions to be settled between the railroads and their employes; but we should stand together in the protection of the loaf; its division is a matter to be settled between the railroads and their employes; but if another five or ten per cent is taken off, the remaining ninety per cent won't go round.

A little whitening put on a damp cloth will clean paint easily and well.

To properly mix spices through a cake mix it with sugar and sift both several times.

Bottles that must be air tight should have the corks dipped in melted paraffine until thoroughly coated.

Grass stains on clothing should be soaked in paraffine. The garment may then be sent to the laundry as usual.

A weak solution of turpentine poured down the water pipes once a week will drive the water bugs away.

Try kerosene oil to clean the rubber of your clothes wringer. This will succeed where other agents fail.

Should cakes stick to the pans put a hot cloth on the bottom for a minute or two. If papers are used, sticking is infrequent.

When filling bottles with calsup or chili sauce allow about an inch from the top and fill with vinegar and no mold will form on top.

A teaspoonful of turpentine added to a pail of warm water is excellent for all cleaning purposes. Also put a little in suds on washday.

Before ironing eyelets open the closed eyelets with a wooden skewer or stiletto and you will have less trouble in bringing out the best effects.

Bolled green corn and cold-bolled rice trussed together in equal parts and served on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise is used as a salad in one family.

If the shoes become wet, slip them immediately over the shoe trees and wipe them as dry as possible. When the leather has dried rub a little oil into it with an oiled rag. Rub in more oil before polishing the shoes.

A thrifty housekeeper utilizes in salads any cold fish which may be left. She frees it from skin, bones and any crisp part, flakes it; heaps it in a mound in the center of a platter, arranges a green salad around it and dresses it with mayonnaise.

An excellent toothpowder is made of two ounces of precipitated chalk, one ounce of powdered borax and half an ounce of powdered orris root. Some people like camphorated chalk, but as camphor is liable to split the enamel of the teeth it often causes decay.

NOT BOTHERED WITH THE "CAINTS."

Mineral Wells Index: Wichita Falls people wanted oil, so they built a railroad out north to Petrolia and got it. The town wanted railroad competition and the people built a railroad to Henrietta and secured the Katy. Then they wanted coal, and built a line into the Young county fields, and now the black diamonds are being dumped into that city. They wanted a line to Abilene, and now they have regular service from Fort Worth to Abilene. They wanted good sidewalks and built them. Mineral Wells has coal right at her very doors. Will she have the enterprise to dig for it?

Dallas News: The Wichita Falls people have thrived and waxed great because, for one thing, they have never suffered an epidemic of that repulsive and town weakening disease called "the caints." Whenever a town's people contract the "caint" complaint the town ought to be embalmed.

The Index might have gone further and said that when Wichita Falls wanted an up-to-date opera house, her Chamber of Commerce took the matter up and built one at a cost of nearly $40,000; when she wanted a Federal building, she went after it; when she wanted a railroad across Red river, she built it; and when she wanted natural gas she offered the proper inducement to capital, that will furnish it within the next six months; when she wanted water for domestic, manufacturing and irrigation purposes, her enterprising citizens organized a company and built a dam across Holliday creek six miles southwest of this city and now has a lake of storm water covering 2,500 acres at an average depth of 17 feet, which furnishes a sufficient supply to irrigate 4,000 or 5,000 acres of land and have a sufficient amount left in the reservoir or lake to abundantly supply a city as large as Dallas for a whole year. When the dam broke it was predicted that it would never be rebuilt, but it was, and that as soon as men and teams could do the work, Wichita Falls is no ordinary town, and so long as her citizens stand together she will continue to grow and prosper. There is no place in the Southwest that offers greater inducements and opportunities to capital than Wichita Falls, which has six railroads with seven outlets, the richest coal field in Texas 52 miles to the south, an abundant supply of water for all purposes and surrounded by as rich and fertile a farming and stock raising country as can be found in the world.

out the patronage of the farmer every shop and factory would close or run very short time and the laborers would be out of employment; also that, when the farmers get equitable prices for their farm products they are able to buy more of labor's products and thus stimulate all industries. And here was common ground upon which both classes could stand, a ground of mutual interest and personal friendship, and they clasp hands.

The speaker claimed that a mutual understanding had recently been reached whereby there would be co-operation along national legislative lines between the farmers' and laborers' organizations. And continuing, he said:

"In these days we sometimes hear some people say that the Declaration of Independence was good enough in its time, but that the declaration that all men were created equal, entitled to the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—that these were and are his inalienable rights—are a lot of glittering generalities. So say our enemies. Let me say to these that if they had begun to keep the world in darkness centuries ago they might have succeeded in keeping us in darkness today, but the spirit and the air of our geographical conditions, our climatic surroundings, simply make the people of this country think, and you cannot keep the liberty of the American people away from them. If you had begun with our grandfathers and succeeded, you might succeed today, but we have learned the lesson of what liberty, justice and humanity means, and we propose to fight it out until these principles are established.

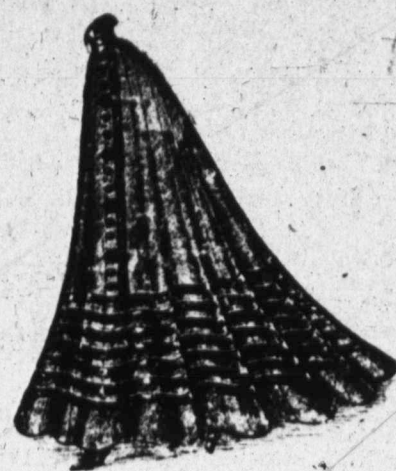

"This movement among the people of our country is an aroused conscience, an aroused indignation of their wrongs that have been heaped upon the toiling masses of our country. Who is there in all the United States who will say that the organization of the American labor has not done good for the working people, the masses of our country? Is there a man so blinded, so prejudiced, as to deny the great good that the organizations of labor have done? And when I say the organizations of labor I don't mean alone the organizations in the factories, the workshops, mines and mills, but I mean also the organization of the men on the farms and the railroads.

"The idea has grown after all, money is going to rule, and the question that

A Gentry Show- Wichita Times Story Contest

Dear Little Times Readers: We have decided to give our little folks an interesting contest, one that you are all familiar with, that is, the Gentry Bros' Dog and Pony Shows that visits Wichita Tuesday, Oct. 6th.

Near the center of the page today is a picture of some very important members of the show, which you will see next week. Well, we want you to write a story about this picture or about a circus and we will give a family ticket to the shows as a premium. The contest opens at once and will close Saturday, Oct. 3rd, 6:30 p. m.

You can write on one of the following subjects or else you can pick out something in the picture which adorns the Times today.

- "A Day at the Gentry Shows."
- "The Parade."
- "The Elephants."
- "What I Enjoy Most at the Gentry Show."

"The Most Interesting Animals." Just think; you are in a position to take every member of your family, father, mother, sisters and brothers, to these pretty shows as your guests if you win. Won't that be fine and dandy? Sit down right now and write the best story you possibly can.

Each contestant in writing must observe the following seven rules:

- Seven Rules for Contestants:
 1. Use one side of the paper only.
 2. Write neatly and legibly, using ink or a sharp lead pencil.
 3. Number your pages.
 4. At the bottom of your last page write your name and address.
 5. Do not copy stories or poetry and send as your own work.
 6. Address the envelope to Story Editor Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas.
 7. Your stories must not contain more than 300 words.

Here Is Your Chance!

Two Little Times Readers can get tickets for all the members of their family by naming the Pony or Writing Story

Some Wichita Falls or Vicinity Boy or Girl to name the Baby Pony with Gentry Show under Auspices of the Daily Times.

Under the auspices of the Times a new baby pony with the Gentry shows will be named by some little boy or girl when the show visits Wichita Falls, Tuesday, Oct. 6th. In each of the Gentry advertisements a coupon will be run daily. Fill out this coupon, bring or mail it to Pony Editor, Times, before Saturday night 6:30, Oct. 3rd, as the contest closes at that time. The judges selected by the Times will decide which name they deem the prettiest, and to the lucky sender of the name the Times will send a family ticket and also a permit to ride in the parade at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. It's delightfully good to know you have named one of these prettily arched necked and spotted ponies. That little pony will travel all over the United States and Canada and all the little boys and girls in every town will hear the story of how the beautiful little pet got its name in Wichita Falls, and when and by whom. The coupon appears today and will continue daily until and including Saturday, eve, Oct. 3rd. Look for all the coupons in the Gentry ads you can find and send as many names as you want to, but all must be on the coupons clipped from the advertisements.

New Pillows.

One usually has to recover pillows every season or so and brocade is a popular material used for them now. It is not considered decorative enough alone and so the self-colored brocade is used for the foundation of the pillow and decorated with applique ornaments, cut from satin and velvet and put on with gold cord and embroidery in oriental patterns. A favorite color in brocades is a shade of dull, soft crimson. The combinations of colors are numerous and fetching, but one that is especially attractive is yellow, tan, orange and gold. This makes a very rich cushion and one that should harmonize with almost any richly furnished apartment.

ABOUT OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Enrollment is 229 Greater Than That for Same Time Last Year.

Editor Times:— At the end of the third week the total enrollment in our public schools is 908 pupils, while at the end of the first month last year the total enrollment was 679.

Owing to the crowded condition of certain grades at the 13th street high school building, the school board was forced to transfer all belonging to those grades to the Tenth street and Crescent Lake schools. We regretted to do this, but it was absolutely necessary on account of room.

The schools are starting off in good shape, everything is adjusting itself nicely and we believe with our corps of excellent teachers Wichita Falls will have this year one of the best and most successful schools in her history. Respectfully,
W. J. BULLOCK,
Secretary School Board.

Keep us in mind for your October trade. We can take care of you to your satisfaction.

Dr. T. R. Boger returned last night from St. Louis where he was called by the illness of his wife who was taken sick while on a visit with relatives there last week. The Presbyterian Ladies' Meeting.
The ladies of the Presbyterian church held their usual monthly missionary and social meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Y. McCune on Ninth street. About twenty-five ladies were present and two new members were added to the list of enthusiastic workers.

After the regular devotional exercises, the topic for the month was taken up and discussed by the members. Mrs. A. H. Carrigan read a paper which was a reminiscence of Christian work in the early history of Wichita Falls. This paper was so much enjoyed by all present that a motion was carried that a copy be given the Daily Times for publication that all the old settlers of our city might have the pleasure of reading it.

Another well prepared paper was read by Mrs. J. J. Dalton, after which the missionary meeting adjourned and a delightful social hour followed. Mrs. O. E. Maer added much to the pleasure of this hour by reading several very amusing selections from "The Maxims of Methuselah." The Aid Society orchestra furnished unique music to the edification of all present. Cream and cake followed as a fitting close for this meeting in which hearty good will prevailed.

The Ladies' Mission Society and B. Y. P. U. will give a Christmas Bazaar on December 10th. Wait and buy your Xmas gifts from them. Object, to buy a mission library. Place to be named later. 121-11c has been launched upon the ocean of our day and which finds its echo and re-echo on the billows as they follow each other ceaselessly is the question "Shall the people rule?" My friends, for nearly a quarter of a century there has been growing the impression that, after all, the combinations of capital, great corporations, trusts, shall rule, despite what the people demand.

STANDS BY FRIENDS

"Is there a man or woman within the sound of my voice in this audience who believes that the purpose of the Sherman anti-trust act was to prevent the organization of working girls to protect themselves? Is there anyone who believes that it was intended to include the farmers and printers and bakers and carpenters, the men who perform daily work?"

The speaker condemned the interpretation given the Sherman anti-trust act with respect to the suppression of the right of the transmission of information from one labor union to another.

"The injunction, of which you so often hear, has been used against us frequently. We don't want the presumption raised against us that we are not law-abiding, patriotic citizens. If any of our men are guilty of wrongdoing, of unlawful conduct, or crime, we say arrest him and hale him before a jury of his peers; and if found guilty sentence him and punish him under the law; we say that you can't give this interpretation to one class and deny the same interpretation to another class. Some people say, 'Well, these injunctions stop you from committing violence.' Is that so? Did you ever hear of a band of robbers against whom the judge issued an injunction restraining them from committing crime? Did you ever hear of a man against whom a judge issued an injunction restraining him from committing murder?"

"The injunction does not prevent the commission of a crime, and it was not intended to have that effect. Injunctions are never issued against workmen unless they become engaged in a dispute with their employers.

"My friends, I ask you then to consider, in the light of that thought, that there are two men who are now before their people of this country asking your suffrage, the one representing all the reactionary forces of corporate wealth and greed—William H. Taft—and the other standing for the principles of Christ—William J. Bryan.

"The present situation in which the workers of our country are placed by reason of the decision of the supreme court of the United States of which the normal activities of labor's associated efforts are jeopardized and made unlawful, and the men constituting the rank and file of our movement threatened with civil suits, as well as persecution under the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law; the perversion, the abuse and misdirection of the writ of injunction, under which many men throughout the country, including Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison have either been sent to jail or are now threatened with and undergoing proceedings by which they may be sent to jail, demands that every worker and citizen at this crucial time, should know the facts and do his duty. So we appeal to our members and their friends to stand by our friends and elect them, oppose and defeat our enemies, whether they be candidates for president, or congress, or other offices, whether executive, legislative or judicial."

"Conscious of the nobility of our movement, the honorable aspirations of our cause, and triumph of justice and right, and high resolve, we submit our cause and our appeal to the judgment and conscience of our fellow-workers and our fellow citizens."
