WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1908

NUMBER 135

CALL FOR $100,000

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE NEEDS THAT AMOUNT TO CARRY OUT WORK.

$248,567 CONTRIBUTED

Committee Issues Detailed Statement of Receipts and Expenditures Up to October 9th.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 15.—The democratic national committee this morning gave out an extended statement of the contributions to the campaign fund of the party up to October 9th, showing the receipts so far as $248,567, with disbursements of $225,962, leaving a balance on hand of $22,604.

The committee calls for an additional $100,000, which it says is absolutely necessary to carry out the campaign to a successful issue.

Of the total amount received, about $100,000 came through democratic newspapers.

ASKS HELP OF STATE.

President Neill of Texas Farmers Union Sends Telegram to Campbell.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 14.—In line with the declaration of war on night riders by the Farmers' Union, President Neill has telegraphed Gov. Campbell requesting that he, on behalf of the State, offer a reward of $500 for the apprehension and conviction of a night rider, pledging the support of the Farmers' Union in any way they may assist.

Before leaving for Comanche and Howard counties today, where he will meet the county unions, Mr. Neill announced this action and reiterated his statements as to his eagerness for the night riders "so-called" to be brought to light for the exoneration of the union and to show to the contrary that the enemies of the union are at the bottom of the plot.

When asked as to the position of the union relative to the proposed amendment for levying taxes in rural districts for school purposes, Mr. Neill said:

"The farmers are for it, first, last and all the time. One of the prime objects of the union is to bring about better conditions in the rural districts for the education of our children, and we are heartily in sympathy with the rural district taxation move to that end."

BOY CRITICALLY ILL.

Eugene Lithicum Impaled on Horns of Frightened Goat.

Special to the Times. Nacogdoches, Tex., Oct. 15.—Eugene Lithicum, aged 6 years, was seriously injured by a pet goat today. The animal became frightened and started to run and in trying to stop it the boy was impaled on its horns, one penetrating his cheek and the other horn piercing his arm. The condition of the boy is critical.

By Associated Press. St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—The twelfth annual convention of the National Grain Dealers Association assembled here today for a session of three days. About a thousand delegates are in attendance. The first session was given over to addresses of welcome and the annual report of President Reynolds of Crawfordsville, Indiana.

TO PUT ON REGULAR PASSENGER SERVICE

The traveling public will hail with delight the announcement made by C. L. Fontaine, general freight and passenger agent of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, that effective at 12:01 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 18th, that road would place in service a regular passenger, mail and express train on its line between this city and Frederick, Oklahoma.

The freight and passenger business on this road has increased to that extent where it was impossible for the new road to handle the business with a mixed train to the satisfaction of the management or the passenger traffic and beginning on Sunday the 18th, this new regular passenger train will be placed in service on the following schedule:

Leave Frederick 9:00 a. m.
Arrive Wichita Falls 12 m.
Leave Wichita Falls 3:30 p. m.
Arrive Frederick 6:30 p. m.

SEARCHING FOR BANDIT.

Gordon Robber Believed to Have Been in Weatherford Today.

Special to the Times. Weatherford, Tex., Oct. 15.—The officers today are scouring the city for the man who is believed to be the Gordon bandit who led the posse a long and futile chase yesterday.

A man answering his description in detail applied for a room at a hotel near the station this morning, but was turned away, all the rooms being taken.

PEACE OF CHINA AND JAPAN THREATENED

By Associated Press. Zeouf, Oct. 15.—Serious complications affecting the peace of China and Japan are threatened as the result of an engagement between the Chinese and Japanese troops in Northern Korea in which several were killed or wounded. The refusal of the Chinese war office to permit the pursuit of the detachment of soldiers who are said to have been the aggressors may result in the crossing of the frontier by the Japanese troops.

Engineers Inspect Plans.

Special to the Times. Austin, Tex., Oct. 15.—The board of government engineers is here to examine the plans for rebuilding the dam of the Austin Water and Light Company. The new plans call for a million dollars less than the previous contracts.

IN TO SEE THE SHOW GETS OUTSIDE HELP

GREAT CROWD IN TOWN TODAY TO SEE THE SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS.

STREET PARADE PLEASURES THE PROHIBITION MUDDLE

Local Officers Have Strenuous Time With "Uncle Si" and "Aunt Jerusha."

Deputy Sheriff Vandegriff spent a strenuous half hour this morning during the parade of the Sells-Floto circus in a vain effort to keep "Uncle Si" Jones and his good wife, "Aunt Jerusha," who drove in from Archer county this morning in a one-horse chaise, from getting mixed up with the parade. When first seen by the officer, "Uncle Si" and "Aunt Jerusha" were delaying the progress of the brilliant pageant by driving directly in front of the elephants just before the parade turned into Indiana avenue. The old people were in imminent danger of being trampled upon by the huge elephants when the officer bravely dashed to their rescue and fairly dragged them from the path of the parade.

"Uncle Si" did not seem to realize the gravity of the situation and at the first opportunity again whipped his horse across the line of the parade. The officer was hot on his trail and after pulling his horse out of the parade the second time reproved the old gentleman rather severely. "Uncle Si" was intractable and reminded the officer that "this is a free country," and "I've paid my poll tax for thirty years, and have got a right to drive where I goddam please."

Uncle Si stuck up for his rights as a free American citizen and so persistently interfered with the parade that the deputy finally seized his horse and halted the protesting nestor into a court of justice.

Not until then did it dawn upon the officer that he had contributed no small part to the day's amusement.

The pair were the cleverest clowns ever seen in Wichita Falls and after all the officer is not to be blamed. The free street parade this morning was exceptionally pleasing and a great crowd is witnessing the performance at the big tent in the Crescent Lake addition this afternoon.

Another performance will be given tonight, after which the show will be loaded for shipment to Vernon.

LIGHTFOOT FILES BRIEF.

State's Answer to Waters-Pierce Petition Now Before Supreme Court.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—It developed today that the supreme court probably will not reach the Waters-Pierce oil litigation before October 27.

Two steps in the proceedings were taken today. The answer of Texas opposing the consolidation of the two cases was filed by Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot.

Monday he will file the motion to dismiss the appeal in the receivership suits. County Attorney Brady of Travis county, who is interested in these proceedings, was admitted to practice before the supreme court. A motion was also filed by Mr. Lightfoot to permit oral argument of the motion made by the State at the last session of the court, for a rehearing of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railway case, involving the constitutionality of the Lone Star gross receipts law. The Henry C. Pierce extradition case will not be reached by the court for several days.

Cotton Growers' Convention.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 14.—A mass meeting of cotton growers and allied interests of the South generally will be held in Memphis Nov. 10, 11 and 12. It is expected from 6,000 to 8,000 delegates will attend.

The determination to hold the convention at Memphis and the dates were decided upon at a conference between Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, and representatives of various commercial and civic bodies of the city held here today.

The prime reason for the calling of the meeting, as given by Mr. Jordan, is to check the downward tendency of the market price of cotton, for which, he says, the growers are directly responsible by marketing the staple too fast.

Foot Severed By Conveyor.

Special to the Times. Ennis, Tex., Oct. 15.—Ollis Grizzle, white, today was the victim of an accident at the oil mill here, in which a seed conveyor almost severed his foot.

CECIL LYON GETS MONEY FROM HITCHCOCK TO USE IN CONGRESSIONAL FIGHTS.

Special to the Times. Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—It was learned here today by the correspondent of the Texas News Service, that Chairman Hitchcock of the republican national committee will extend help to South and Southwest Texas republican congressional candidates. This was done at the request of Cecil Lyon, who asked for speakers and money for the entire State ticket. Aid from the national committee will be given the Fifteenth Texas district in the fight against Garner. Lyon reported that the prohibition muddle was the inducement for aid.

SINNER IS LOST

DOCTRINE OF ETERNAL PUNISHMENT MUST STAND OR FALL WITH CHRIST'S DIVINITY.

INTEREST IS GROWING

Large Crowd Heard Rev. Scarborough at the Baptist Revival Meeting Last Night.

The congregation at the First Baptist church last night was the largest since the meeting began. Mr. Scarborough preached an unusually strong, logical and scriptural sermon. That the sinner is lost and lost now was the substance of the powerful discourse. He showed that the doctrine of eternal punishment had to stand or fall with the divinity of Christ. "We believe that there is a heaven on the authority of Jesus. It was Jesus that had most to say about hell. If he deceived us about the latter he may have deceived us about the former."

When the appeal was made to sinners at the close of the sermon there were five professions of faith.

The services at night begin promptly at 7:45. There is also an afternoon service at 4 o'clock. The pastor and members of the Baptist congregation extend a hearty invitation to all the people of the city to attend these services.

THE DENOMINATIONAL COLLEGES FAVOR OF GOOD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In our opinion Texas needs a strong, efficient and effective system of public free schools for the masses of the people, and for the purpose of enabling our young women and young men to make adequate preparation for entrance into college. That our State is greatly behind in providing good schools in which to teach and train the girls and boys of Texas for the duties of life and the responsibilities of citizenship no well-informed person will deny. A careful study of the public school systems of Texas and other States will convince the most skeptical on this point.

Taking into consideration the public free schools, Texas presents the following educational rank when compared with the other States of the Union: In amount of school funds raised for each person five to eighteen years of age, 34 per cent; in per cent of school funds raised by local taxation, 42; in expenditure of money per capita of average attendance for schools, 35; in expenditure of money per capita of total population for schools, 35; in average length of public school term in days, 39; in per cent of scholastic population enrolled in school, 42; in number of years children attend school free of charge, 45; in illiteracy of native born whites, 32; in illiteracy of foreign born whites, 45.

Attention is directed to the fact that there are 93,379 children in Texas who did not enter school the last year of which we have complete statistics; that of every 100 children residing in the country districts forty-seven were out of school all of the time the schools were in session; that the average daily absence from the country schools was 262,946 children; that the money invested in the school houses and grounds in the independent school districts of the State amounts to $26.17 per child, while that invested for the same purpose in the country districts amounts to only $6.95 per child; that there are 444,516 white children residing in the country districts of the State, the desks in the school houses of which have a seating capacity of only 300,000 children, leaving 144,516 white children for whom there are no desks in the schools of Texas; that it would be impossible to house and to comfortably care for the children of this State if they should all start to school at this time.

Is there an intelligent, honest man in Texas who is willing to have continued, without protest, a policy that keeps the door of educational opportunity locked to thousands of confiding, innocent children? We think not.

The pending constitutional amendment, relating to public free schools, if adopted in the November, 1908, election, will authorize the legislature to enact a law giving force and effect to the principle of local self-government in providing good public free schools in both urban and country districts. Surely no right-minded person will question the wisdom and the justice of permitting the people to provide, with their own means, for the support of their own schools in which to educate their own children. The adoption of this amendment will limit the rate of taxation for school purposes in the country school districts, and in the towns and villages incorporated for free school purposes only, to fifty cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of property. Before any tax whatever could be levied it would have to be authorized by a majority vote of the property tax-paying voters.

Texas needs longer school terms, better school houses, country high schools, a larger number of thoroughly qualified and capable teachers. The adoption of this amendment will contribute to the attainment of all these desirable ends. We, therefore, appeal to the people of Texas for the support of the pending constitutional amendment, relating to public free schools, in the November, 1908, election, and ask the religious and secular press of the State to assist us in placing this matter properly before the people.

NEW YORK WAITERS.

They Spoiled the Appetite of the Transplanted Citizen.

"These New York waiters have got on my nerves," said a transplanted citizen from a smaller town. "Dining in the magnificent hotels and restaurants would be a joy if some one would kindly remove the waiters while you ate. I can think of nothing but the big, black lizzards that hover over your head in Florida.

"There are so many waiters standing around, all in black, and they look so big and get their faces or their hands so close to you and your dinner that you feel like throwing the china at them. When your waiter has disappeared a smaller edition keeps right after you, filling your glass, removing dishes, giving you more butter, and if you look away from him the head waiter has his eyes on you.

"The most maddening thing of all to me is the way the waiter orders your dinner for you. One took me in hand the other night, and I let him have his way just to see what he would do to me. I hate fish, but he averred that fish was the best thing I could eat and one particular dish was the chef's masterpiece. He brought it and, ye gods, it was fish all greasy with a dope made of cheese and mushrooms that about finished me; but, fortunately, he only let me take two bites when he whisked my plate away and set down a salad that had several kinds of fruit laced to lettuce leaves, with strips of red and green peppers and French dressing over that. I barely looked at that when he took it away in triumph and gave me an ice cream thick with chestnuts and fruits.

"Now, I dine on rare roast beef, plain lettuce and never take dessert, so you see how near he came to sulking me. 'Come again, sir,' said he. 'Not if I'm unconscious,' said I."—New York Times.

Goldsmith's Actor.

Lord Nugent was one evening very eloquent to Goldsmith in praise of M. (a bad actor): "But, my lord," said Goldsmith, "you must allow he treads the stage very ill—he waddles."

"Waddles?" said Lord Nugent. "Yes, he waddles like a goose. Why, you know we call him Goose M. Well, and then, you know, when he endeavors to express strong passion he bellows."

"Bellows?" said Lord Nugent. "To be sure he does—bellows like a bull. Why, we call him Bull M. Well, then," continued Goldsmith, pursuing his triumph, "his voice breaks and he croaks."

"Croaks?" said Lord Nugent. "Why, the fellow croaks like a frog. We call him Frog M."

"But M. is a good actor."

"Why, yes," said Goldsmith, "bearing the goose and the bull and the frog and a few other things I could mention, and, not wishing to speak ill of my neighbors, I will allow M. is a good actor."—"Memoirs of the Earl of Nugent."

The Gypsy Life.

"Just as soon as my husband and I have $500 saved up besides our fare we are going back to England," said a woman player. "Then we are going to buy one of those kypsy wagons they have over there. They are too awfully jolly for words, don't you know? They are quite wide, have bunks, a cunning little kitchen and sitting room. You wander through the country all day; then at night you stop, cook your supper, sit under the trees and sleep out in the open or in the wagon, just as you choose. Many of my artist and theatrical friends have them and just wander from place to place. It is an ideal way to live; beats houseboats or bungalows. If you have ever slept out in the open and watched the stars over your head you feel smothered in a bedroom. I played through Australia, and we went from place to place in a big wagon, sleeping out of doors at night."—New York Times.

Ballooning Among the Clouds.

It has been my lot to see in arctic regions some hundreds of thousands of icebergs close at hand, and I have always believed them to be the most beautiful objects on earth, but the clouds of the sky, close at hand, are almost as beautiful. If you mount above one of these majestic things, swiftly overtopping one by one its folds and wreaths, and if remembering how high it is you look down and see only small green patches of earth through holes in the cloud carpet below, you have a little thrill of conception of how lonely a man would feel falling away down there and not being able to see the spot where he must alight. It is a safe little thrill, however. You know that you are not going to fall. Such dizziness as some persons feel in standing near great heights on the earth is almost unknown in ballooning.—Albert White Vorse in Success Magazine.

THE UPPER AIR.

Danger in the Chill That Comes With the Fall of Night.

Few people who visit Denver realize that it is located only a few feet short of a mile above the sea level. At such altitudes the climate is always treacherous. The midday sun may be broiling hot, but after dark the air is soon chilled and one is liable to contract a cold.

Several of the Spanish cities stand upon the crests of tall hills, where such climatic changes occur after nightfall. When, as a boy at the grand opera, I saw Spaniards in "Carmen" or "The Barber of Seville" toss their long cloaks or capes about their faces I assumed that the act was intended to disguise them—to hide their faces. Nothing of the sort. The Spaniard, like the Italian of the Alpine regions, always covers his mouth after sun-down to minimize danger to his lungs from the night air.

Curiously the women haven't any fear of the chill that follows the darkness. They may be seen in low cut bodices at all hours of the evening in the cafes, at balls and on the streets. The men, however, are in terror of cold night winds. Pneumonia and tuberculosis carry off a great many victims in Spain and northern Italy.—Julius Chambers in Brooklyn Eagle.

Six His Limit.

To the man who has a horse to sell considerable leeway is allowed in the matter of setting forth the animal's merits. "I've got the very horse you want," said G'leon Lane, the Bushby livery stable keeper, to one of the summer residents.

"He has no bad tricks?" queried the gentleman. "Safe for the family?"

"Lauzee, yes," returned Mr. Lane heartily. "Any lady can drive him, and half a dozen children could get on his back and he'd never notice 'em. Not a trick to his name."

"Ah," said the summer resident, "I don't wish a horse without any spirit."

"Spirit!" echoed Mr. Lane. "Well, you just ought to see him on circus day, that's all. And I'll tell you confidentially 'twouldn't be well for too many people to get on that horse at once."—Youth's Companion.

Mother Earth.

When Junius Brutus and the sons of Tarquin asked the famous Delphic oracle who was to succeed Superbus on the throne of Rome they received for an answer, "He who shall first kiss his mother." As the two princes were hastening home to fulfill what they thought was meant Brutus fell to the earth and cried out, "Thus do I kiss thee, O Earth, the mother of us all!" This is perhaps the earliest recorded instance of the use of the term "Mother Earth."—Exchange.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Dainty Bits of Neckwear.
There never has been a season when so many clever attractive things have been designed for women's neckwear. From the narrow silk tie, tied in a four-in-hand knot to the elaborate jabots designed to wear with coat suits, the range is endless. The combination of embroidery and white linen in collar and tab is particularly popular. One of the most attractive coat sets of collar and cuffs is made of Irish crochet, applied to hand made flannel net.

Rebelling Against Dame Nature.
Women sometimes adopt a fashion, or a change of an existing fashion, often a detail of the costume, for no other apparent reason save that it is a change—something new. They have been comfortable for a period with a certain fashion. Then Paris dressmakers, because they must have new details to sell their gowns, issue an edict changing the styles. American dressmakers and manufacturers of women's fine gowns fall in with the money making change and behold—we have a new fashion. Many times it isn't as comfortable or as practicable as the old one, but it is new, therefore the women must have it.

Time was when she followed a new style blindly and retained it, though she suffered inconvenience from it. But more recently she has asserted her independence and discarded styles that were not comfortable and gone back to the former more practicable ones.
An interesting recent example of this is the rebellion against the long sleeve. For several seasons the short sleeve was worn by women who found it comfortable, slightly and in every respect a desirable fashion. Paris says this year that the sleeve must be long, even to the back of the hand and must fit the arm tightly. The American makers of waists halted this with delight. It meant something new. So did the American dressmakers. They advised long sleeves and made them very long. But already the indications are strong that the long sleeve is doomed. Women are finding it uncomfortable after the short sleeve, even for evening wear, and will undoubtedly revert in the early spring to the short sleeve.

The Origin of Knitting.
Knitting has been known for centuries and as early as the fifteenth century good examples of knitted work were to be found especially in Italy, Spain and Germany. Among the first knitted stockings were those made of silk worn by Henry II of France on the day of his sister's wedding to the duke of Savoy in 1559.

Since then silk has been more and more worn for stockings. The stocking itself has been improved also in many ways and now the latest development is the double-tipped stocking made with the re-enforced so-called garter top that will not wear out where the hose supporter clasp bites the fabric.

Present Aspects of the Campaign.
The result is doubtful, says the Washington Post. Two months of the campaign—and a stirring campaign it is—have passed and yet no evidence has appeared that the republicans are composing their differences. Two months have passed and no evidence has yet appeared that the democrats have played the fool, as General Grant used to say they could be depended upon to do at a critical moment. The democrats have been aggressive from the beginning and they have been waging a winning fight in most of the doubtful States.

As our Washington namesake remarks: "As it was two months ago, so it is today, so far as the powerful factors which make up the grand total are concerned. The republican party is torn with dissension in nearly every important State upon state issues, and to a great degree its efficiency in the fight for national control is suffering from these State troubles. Republican correspondents tell of serious losses to Hughes in New York, of great antagonism to Deneen of Illinois, of the divisions that threaten to lose West Virginia to the party State ticket, of the defections in Ohio, and the bolting of State nominees by republican journals, of party quarrels in Iowa of a desperate nature, of the schism in Wisconsin, of fears of the State ticket in Indiana, of party strife in many important congressional districts; and yet the same correspondents in each and every State will sum up that these things will not affect the national republican ticket."

What do the straw ballots or the quotations of the gamblers on Wall street amount to in the face of these admitted conditions? The great movement of labor to Bryan has not been checked, although all the old-time devices have been invoked. Men have been promised that there would be plenty of work after Taft was elected; they have been threatened with idleness if Bryan is elected; they have been threatened with wage reduction and all sorts of calamity, but labor is immovable in its determination to cast an untrammelled vote this year.

Labor got a dose of republican promises and republican policies last time. It was promised all things good and got a panic and idleness instead, and it now knows that the economic fallacies of the republican party cannot produce or maintain prosperity.

The republican doctrine of protection means scarcity and scarcity means limited production and high prices, artificially maintained. Labor is learning that abundance, not scarcity, means prosperity and wealth. Abundance means cheap living and greater consuming ability, and greater consuming ability means greater demand for all the products of labor and greater demand means wider opportunities for employment.

These axiomatic truths are much better understood by labor now than ever before and in the ratio that a proper understanding of them grows, the popular trend toward democracy becomes accentuated.

The republicans are finding that their troubles are deep seated, that they are not merely local quarrels to be adjusted by a division of the spoils. And this explains why it is that in the closing days of the campaign the leaders of the party of privilege are terror-stricken at the uprising of the people in peaceful revolution against their oppressors.—Houston Post.

SIX BURNED IN EXPLOSION

By Associated Press.
Amherst, Ohio, Oct. 15.—Six persons were badly burned and others less seriously injured here late last night when a tank car on the Lake Shore railroad exploded, following a wreck. A crowd of fifty persons were caught up and hurled down a twenty foot embankment next to the tracks.

Wanted—More Members.

At the monthly membership meeting Tuesday evening the secretary gave everyone present a blank membership card to be returned with the name of a new member.

Mr. Nat Henderson turned in the name of a new member early Wednesday morning. In the mail the same day came a card which was filled out at the instance of Mr. Frank Kell. Before the day closed Mr. W. A. Sirickland turned in two new members. One new member volunteered after the general meeting Tuesday evening, making five converts within twenty-four hours. They are P. C. Maricle, A. A. Hughes, H. A. Allen, E. H. Cox and C. E. Holder. The question is who will be the next booster to round-up a few.

Most ancient languages were innocent of any system of punctuation. In many early manuscripts the letters were placed at equal distances apart, with no collectin link between, even in the matter of spacing, an arrangement which must have rendered at sight somewhat difficult.

Use Some of Heinz India Relish On Your Next Roast...

There are two good reasons why a good relish is almost essential on either hot or cold meats.

1st. It adds wonderfully to the taste of any meat or fish whether hot or cold—makes it doubly appetizing.

2nd. The materials from which a good relish—such as Heinz India Relish—is made are especially good for digestion. It stimulates a good healthy stomach action and thus aids the whole system.

Heinz India Relish is good and sharp—not too sharp—and has a very delightful and piquant flavor.

You will want and use it often after once trying it. 35c per bottle.

TRAPS FOR MARINERS

Some Points of Peril That Are Dreaded by Seamen.

MERCILESS KENTISH KNOCK.

This Real Davy Jones' Locker is a Vast Cemetery For All Ships That Are Gripped by Its Relentless Sands. Sable Island's Fingers of Death.

The exact location of Davy Jones' locker is not shown on any ocean chart extant, principally because it is a state and not a place, but if any one ocean death trap deserves the title it is the Thames estuary. The British naval department has a chart upon which it marks the position of wrecks with a black dot. On this chart the Thames mouth tract is a solid black spot. So numerous have been the wrecks that the dots run together. The point where the black dots actually pile one on top of another is the Kentish Knock, and this is the place among all of the ocean's danger spots that deserves the title of Davy Jones' locker.

At the Kentish Knock it is not keel shattering rocks of piercing points of coral that wreck the ocean travelers. It is sand, treacherous, clinging sand, that grasps the doomed ship with a grip of steel and holds it firmly while the angry sea beats it to fragments. Many a vessel posted at Lloyd's as missing would be duly accounted for if the Knock sand would give up its booty. There is no hope for ship or man when Father Neptune asks toll at the Kentish Knock, for the nearest land is twenty miles away and the nearest lifeboat at Margate, thirty miles away.

The sands of the ocean are far more dangerous than the rocks. The sand banks extend over more space, therefore offer more points of contact than the rocks, which usually rise in one slender pinnacle. The waters flow over them in smooth waves, and there are no warning breakers.

Next to the Thames mouth tract in point of danger is the Hugh, the salt water river on which Calcutta stands. The most trying part of a large vessel's voyage from New York to Calcutta is the last few miles of this calm river. In this strange river in windless weather and flat, calm water vessels have been lost, dashed to pieces on the ever shifting sand banks by the force of the tides. The sands grasp the keel of the marked vessel, and she stops, but the tide moves on with relentless force, and the helpless ship is carried over on her beam ends. She careens over and founders with all on board. One of the worst shoals in the Hugh bears the name James and Mary. It was the name of a great Indian merchant shipwrecked on the sunken sand banks.

Another danger point dreaded by the master mariner has neither sand nor rocks, but a great submarine waterfall. In the English channel there is a point just beyond the Shambles banks where there is a sudden drop in the sea bottom. The channel tides sweep over the banks and down this sudden drop, creating rapids equal in fury to those of Niagara. The American ship Georgian foundered in Portland race, the name by which this danger point is known, and all hands went down with her.

Ships bound to New York from Europe pass quite near a deadly hidden shoal which runs out from Sable Island, lying off Sable cape, in Nova Scotia. The shoal runs out for miles in five directions like the fingers of a great hand reaching out for what it can destroy. When the gales blow heavy seas boom upon the shoals with sufficient force to shatter the staunchest vessel afloat, and when the wind ceases the beaches are strewn with wreckage, and the bodies of those who have perished. The distance from the shore is too great and the surf too heavy for the life savers to reach a struggling vessel, and few lives are saved at this point. Ten vessels have been wrecked in this trap in a single day.

The rocky danger points in the ocean have nearly all been tagged, and light houses have been erected on the most dangerous—all except one. There is no lighthouse on the Virgin rock, and there never will be. Out in the mid-Atlantic a giant pinnacle rears its head up from the ocean floor and endeavors vainly to reach the surface of the sea. It is too short by about eighteen feet. There it stands with its sharp point hidden by the ocean waves, waiting to pierce the bottom of some unsuspecting vessel and send it down to join the pile of ships' ribs and dead men's bones that litter the floor around its base. The waves seem to be in league with the rock, for the waves seem to try to pass over its head the waves shoot it down into a trough at the bottom of which the point of the rock is waiting to rip out her keel.

These danger spots, however, are but annexes to the real Davy Jones' locker, the Kentish Knock, that cemetery of ships and men where dripping ghosts of master mariners and their men fit over the ruins of their vessels. —B. R. Winslow in Los Angeles Times.

Bridge Builders.

We read of the heroes of the battlefield, the ocean and various other callings, but there is another class of men whose work is also heroic, but who are seldom heard of—men who face death high in the air. They are what the engineer calls "riggers" and are the creators of the world's big bridges and the huge skyscrapers of American cities. Without their bravery and skill the towering structures which span the world's great rivers and gorges could not be put together.—Wide World Magazine.

Said What She Meant.

"Oh, I am so awfully ashamed of myself," said Edith Jones to her dearest girl chum. "When Henry proposed to me last night I intended to say, 'So sudden!' but I quite lost my head and exclaimed, 'At last!'"

NEWS FROM THE COAL FIELD

In writing of the development of the Young county coal field by the Belknap coal company, the Newcastle News last week says:

"Soon after the organization of the company was formed, contracts for the sinking of two shafts were let, Shaft No. 1 being situated about one mile south of the townsite and No. 2 at a point near the north boundary of the same. At Shaft No. 1 a 43-inch vein of coal is being worked at a depth of 42 feet and at No. 2 a 53-inch vein is reached at a depth of 100 feet. Shaft No. 1 is being fitted out with a 150-horse power boiler and a 100-horse power double cylinder hoisting engine, improved cages, etc. No. 2 is equipped with two 150-horse power boilers and a 125-horse power double cylinder hoisting engine, self-dumping cages, etc. All of the machinery is of the latest and most modern improved types with respect to speed, safety and convenience. When each mine is worked sufficiently to put on a full force, the company will employ 1,000 miners. This means a heavy pay roll all the year round and insures the town a steady and permanent growth. As soon as the two shafts are gotten in good working order, the company is to open up other shafts in this vicinity. A most promising feature of the mining industry at this place is that there will be no company stores run in connection with the mines.

In the spring of the present year the commissioners court of Young county contracted for two bridges to be built across the Brazos river; one at a point a few miles south of Graham and the other 1 1/2 miles south of Newcastle. When the last mentioned bridge is completed, it will open up one of the richest agricultural sections of Young county and Newcastle will draw a large volume of trade from a vast area of this new territory extending twelve miles south. Contractor Pigg has about completed the former bridge and will begin work on the Newcastle bridge about November 1st. A part of the material is already on hand and the work, once begun, will be pushed rapidly to completion.

SYNOPSIS OF GAME LAWS.

The Laws as Amended and Passed by the Last Legislature.

As the Times has been asked a score of times lately as to the game laws, especially the dove and quail season, the following is reproduced for the benefit of its readers whom, we feel sure, do not wish to violate the law. Note especially the dove and quail law:

As the period of the open season approaches, many persons will be inquiring about the changes in the game laws of the State when certain game may be killed. Following are the game laws which were enacted by the Texas legislature in 1907 and which are now in force:

Section 1.—Wild birds and animals property of the public.

Section 2.—Unlawful to kill, catch, ensnare or have in possession, living or dead, any wild bird other than game bird. Unlawful to purchase, offer to purchase, transport within or without the State for purchase, wild turkeys, ducks, geese or grouse, prairie chickens, pheasants, partridges, quail, doves, plovers, snipe, jacksnipe or curlews.

Sec. 3.—Unlawful to destroy nests or take eggs of any wild birds.

Sec. 4.—Fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, or imprisonment not less than five nor more than thirty days, or both, for violation. Every bird a separate offense.

Sec. 5.—Unlawful to sell, offer for purchase, deer, antelope, Rocky mountain sheep, hide or antlers thereof.

Sec. 6.—Netting or trapping wild birds prohibited.

Sec. 7.—Unlawful to shoot wild fowl than by ordinary shotgun placed to shoulder.

Sec. 8.—Unlawful to kill, catch or ensnare Mongolian pheasants, wild prairie chickens, antelope or Rocky Mountain sheep for five years from the passage of this act.

Sec. 9.—Open season: Deer, November 1 to January 1; limit three bucks; turkeys, December 1 to March 1; limit three turkeys; Quail, partridges, doves, November 1 to February 1; limit 24 birds per day.

Sec. 10.—Unlawful for common carrier to transport game without affidavit made by party killing and shipping same. Parties killing game can only transport same by making affidavit that game is for personal use and not for sale, and this must accompany same. Three days killing of wild ducks (75) permitted at one shipment.

English or European house sparrows, hawks, buzzards, rice birds, black birds and owls can be killed at any time.

Possession of game out of season is prima facie evidence of guilt, and in every instance of violation every bird or animal constitutes a separate offense.

The State game warden or his deputies, have the same power and authority to serve criminal process as sheriffs and the same power to require aid in executing such process. He may arrest without warrant (Sunday or week day) any violator of the game law.

YOU MAY CHOOSE FOR YOURSELF

Either "Hard Times" or "Good Times," for It Has Come to be a Personal Problem With Each Business Man. . . .

THE "hard times" are over, generally speaking. They are not over for those people who are content to have them continue. With the advent of Fall activities in business will come to each merchant, to each man who is conducting a business, the opportunity to say a long good-bye to "hard times," or to cling to them a little longer. It is to be largely a test of courage--the making of this choice. A test of advertising courage--mainly.

The stronger business men will choose good times as a matter of course--and will proceed to make the choice effective by a campaign of real advertising. There will be better, bigger, more effective advertising done this Fall than ever before.

The afraid-merchant will wonder "where the money is coming from to pay the bills." He will, in some cases, decide that he must not "take the risk." That will be HIS DECISION FOR "HARD TIMES" in preference to "good times," so far as he, personally, is concerned.

Prosperity is now a personal question. Yours is a personal question with you. This is both true and important.

Archimedes.

As a mechanic Archimedes produced the correct theory of the lever and invented no less than forty interesting devices, including the endless screw, the pump, the organ and the "burning glass," with which latter novel weapon he is said to have set fire to the ships of an enemy's fleet from a considerable distance. The story is probably fabulous, but none the less interesting, as exhibiting the faith of the people in the man and as indicating the character of his pursuits.

As engineer Archimedes was looked upon as hardly less than a magician. He produced catapults which threw enormous stones and heavy pikes at long range into the ranks of the enemy or into his ships, and great derricks were built by him with which to lift the attacking craft out of water or to upset it, destroying all on board. His proposed use of the lever meant the production of the inconceivable inventions in machinery and engineering construction, and his own estimate of its importance was expressed by the familiar quotation, "Give me whereon to stand and I will lift the earth." Archimedes was the first and perhaps the most inventive and greatest of early engineers. His lever is still moved by the world, and his spirit is inherited by generations of the men who have made modern civilization possible.—Cassier's Magazine.

The Jews and Thirteen.

Commenting on the thirteen superstitions in the Oestereichische Wochenschrift, Jacob E. Ehrlich, a Jewish writer, says: "The number thirteen is surely not a bad one for us. The holy writ tells of the thirteen attributes of the Most High, and we have thirteen feast days in each year. Our great arch enemy, Haman, was hanged on the 13th of Abas. The thirteenth birthday of our sons is a day of joy because on that day the child becomes a member of the religious community. The dream of Joseph was of thirteen—the sun, the moon and eleven stars—and Jacob had thirteen children."

Wigs and Trousers.

The wig went out and gave place to the natural hair, powdered and pig-tailed, as a result of the movement back to nature which accompanied and preceded the French revolution. But why did the wig come in? Some say that Louis XIII. started the fashion when he began to grow bald, the court imitating him out of a desire to please the monarch. Be that as it may, the wig "caught on" as few articles of costume have ever done, and those who have begun to despair of the masculine leg ever being emancipated from the fact that wigs prevailed for considerably more than a century in England, whereas trousers scarcely existed a hundred years ago, to say nothing of being the universal wear.—London News.

Corroborated.

"Though many people think so who bear me play," said the long haired amateur, with studied carelessness, "I have no intention of becoming a professional musician. I play merely to kill time."

"I knew that as soon as I heard you," emphatically replied one of his listeners.—Kansas City Independent.
