Admiral Coghlan will be grand marshal, while other prominent republicans have been named to lead the respective divisions, of which there are thirty-three. Two thousand police have been assigned to handle the crowd at points along the route.

Bryan Appeals to Public.
By Associated Press.
Winchester, Ind., Oct. 31.—William Bryan, in winding up his tour of the west today issued an appeal to the public to support the democratic ticket, calling attention to the issues of the campaign as clearly set forth by that party. Mr. Bryan says that with a democratic victory for the national ticket and with a democratic congress and with the moral force of the popular verdict, he believes he can compel the senate to yield to the expressed will of the people and permit the passage of the more urgent reforms he advocates. "We therefore have a right to expect the co-operation of those who favor the reforms set forth in our platform," his statement concludes.

Where They Speak Today.
By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 31.—Judge Taft continued his tour of New York State, beginning at Elmira and will end with a night meeting at Rochester. Bryan devoted the day to Indiana and will address a night meeting at Chicago. Secretary Root will speak in New York city tonight. Gov. Still Susceptible.
He was a nervous, fidgety young man, and he looked with considerable apprehension at the woman next him who held a baby, its face covered with black veil. The baby gave now and then a sharp cry, which the woman recently tried to suppress.

Bert Haverly, Once a Prominent Comedian, Dropped Dead in Cafe.

A Meeting Suppressed.
By Associated Press.
Constantinople, Oct. 31.—A threatened outbreak on the part of a company of Turkish troops attached to the garrison at Yildiz Kiosk was promptly put down this morning with a single volley from the Loyal Battalion. Three mutineers were killed and fifteen were wounded.

PIPE IS ORDERED FOR THE GAS LINE.
Mayor Noble received a letter today from E. R. Brown, one of the associates of M. W. Bahan in the project to pipe gas to Wichita Falls from Petrolia, in which he states that pipe for the entire line from Petrolia to Wichita Falls has been ordered and will be delivered within the month of November. He further stated that he believed the line would be laid to Wichita Falls before the first of January, 1909, and that within a short time after that date the pipes would be laid within the city.

Mr. Bahan and his associates have secured control of the Clayco company's big gas well and there is every prospect that the citizens of Wichita Falls will be burning gas within the next few months.

ADDRESSES GOOD CROWD.
U. S. District Attorney Atwell Makes Short Talk.
A good crowd of voters, mostly republicans, gathered in the district court room this afternoon to listen to an address on the political issues of the day by United States District Attorney W. H. Atwell of Dallas, who is the nominee of the State republican ticket for the office of attorney general of Texas.

The speaker has been making a tour of the State and speaking from one to a half-dozen times each day, and was therefore very tired and gave evidences of this throughout his address of about forty-five minutes. He criticized the present democratic administration severely and appealed to his hearers to support the republican State ticket. If any converts were made they did not make it known.

Mr. Atwell only stopped off here between trains and immediately at the conclusion of his address boarded the northbound Denver for his next speaking place.

Business Change.
Mr. K. A. White has sold his interest in the North Texas Furniture and Coffin Company to his business associates, Messrs. George E. Davis and L. H. Lawler, who will conduct the business as heretofore at the same stand. Mr. White has not yet decided what line of business he will engage in.

Seek an Injunction.
Special to the Times.
Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 31.—Attorneys representing the new city democratic committee, of which Ben Ayres is the chairman, went to Dallas today, where they will seek an injunction from the district courts there for an order restraining the holding of a primary in Fort Worth on November 3rd. The new committee asked the injunction from three judges here, all of whom refused to grant it. If a temporary injunction is granted it will prevent a city primary. The new committee declares that it has assurance that Dallas will grant the injunction. The city committee is fighting the injunction.

A PLOT TO BEAT TAFT IS ROCKEFELLER'S STATEMENT SAYS ROOSEVELT AND TAFT

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt today issued a statement in regard to Rockefeller's announcement of his preference for Taft, in which he says that Rockefeller doubtless made an agreement with the democratic party to make the announcement. He says that it is self-evident on its face that if Rockefeller really wanted Taft elected, he would have kept quiet about it, and that he had come out for him as the best way in which he can damage him the most.

Taft-Rockefeller Interests Similar, Says Mr. Bryan.

In a statement given out last night relative to the statement of John D. Rockefeller declaring his intention of supporting Taft, W. J. Bryan said in part:

"The democrats have reason to be grateful for testing the mask of the republican campaign and revealing the duplicity that has characterized it. Instead of openly attacking the side of monopoly, the republican organization has kept up a pretense of reform, and Mr. Roosevelt rushed into the arena and allowed the charge that the trusts were opposed to Mr. Taft, to stand. I challenged him to name one trust officer that was supporting me, and not being able to find an official, he named a St. Louis attorney who, in one case, represented the president of a branch of the Standard Oil company."

"Mr. Roosevelt, in his eagerness to relieve the republican candidate of the odium of trust support, accepted this as proof that the Standard Oil company was supporting me. Now Mr. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil company, comes out openly in support of Mr. Taft and gives reasons that lay bare the false pretenses upon which the republican campaign has been conducted. If the republican party would honestly welcome that, having made arrangements for the funds to finance the campaign and having pledged the republican party to protect the trusts from punishment, it would release the rank and file of the republican party from further support of the republican ticket."

"The republican party cannot serve two masters. Its real master has now stepped forth and asserted his claim to the party's services. No republican need be deceived any longer as to the indissoluble bond that binds the republican organization to the predatory interests of the country."
"It will be noticed that this statement comes out too late to be used in the weekly papers or circulated among the masses, but in time to be used in the business centers to influence those business-men who look to the big financiers for advice."

Federal Office Holders too Active.
By Associated Press.
Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 31.—Geo. Neal, vice chairman of the democratic State committee and active head of the democratic campaign in this State, sent a telegram today to President Roosevelt, complaining of the activity of certain federal office-holders in the campaign, calling attention especially to the marshals of the Southern and Northern districts of the State and to the fish commissioner.

A HOMESEEKERS EXCURSION FOR WICHITA FALLS

M. K. AND T. OFFERS TO RUN A SPECIAL EXCURSION TRAIN TO WICHITA FALLS.

S. G. Langston manager of the promotion of immigration department of the M. K. and T. railway system, in a letter to Secretary Gohlke of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, approves the suggestion of the secretary concerning the use of a stereopticon outfit to interest farmers in Illinois, Indiana and other more thickly settled portions in the Wichita Falls country and offers the co-operation of his department to the project.
In answer to a letter addressed him by Secretary Gohlke, Mr. Langston writes as follows:
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 28, 1908.—Mr. F. H. Gohlke, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls, Texas, Dear Sir: I am in receipt of yours of the 23rd, advising me that a bundle of pamphlets is being forwarded as baggage through our agent at Wichita Falls. These pamphlets have been received and I shall be very glad to give them judicious distribution.
In the event that you are successful in raising the fund to send a man with a stereopticon outfit and samples of products into eastern and northern territory for the purpose of advertising, I would suggest that you start him in Illinois. This is a very prolific territory and a large percentage of the actual settlers are coming from this State. It would be my suggestion, for example, that your man make his temporary headquarters in St. Louis, running out on the Baltimore and Ohio southwest for one trip, stopping at various points along that line, returning on the Big Four, then out on the Clover Leaf, returning on the Wabash and so on until he has covered the territory. I shall be very glad to have our traveling passenger agent in Illinois work with him as much as possible and give him such information as may be desired regarding the various towns at which exhibits may be made.
If, as a result of this advertising, you are successful in making up a party of say 100 people, I think we could arrange for a special train to Wichita Falls, the tickets to be sold at the regular excursion rates on an authorized date. This matter, however, could be taken up at a later time if the movement develops. Very truly,
S. G. LANGSTON.

Denver Carried That Many Through Here During the Past 24 Hours.

Passenger traffic on the Denver road has grown to that extent where the road's equipment cannot handle the passenger traffic over its lines, especially on occasions like the present, when a large per cent of the people along its line seem to want to go visiting. Last night four extra passenger trains, together with the regulars, were required to handle the excursionists bound for the Dallas fair, and then a number of people could not get on the packed trains. It is estimated that over 3,500 passengers or excursionists passed through here during the past twenty-four hours on their way to Dallas.

Another excursion is on for tomorrow and it is safe to say that all trains will be packed.

AGREE TO LOWER
CATTLE RATES
Special to the Times.
Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 31.—The railroads today agreed to drop their right and make no appeal in the cattle rate dispute provided the interstate commerce commission would permit them to make the lower rates effective on November 17th instead of November 1, in order to get out their new tariff sheets. This will end a long and bitter struggle for a rate reduction and will save the Texas stockmen $300,000 annually. The commission will agree to the request of the railroads.

To Build New Railroad.
Walter Brown is loading his railroad grading outfit onto the cars preparatory to shipment to Abilene Monday, where he will start work next week on a contract to grade seven miles of the new railroad from Abilene to Winters. HITCHCOCK CLAIMS 326

The Republican Chairman Claims More
Votes Than Do the Democrats.

Hitchcock Claims More Than Democrats.

New York, Oct. 31.—In his forecast of the composition of the electoral college which will choose the next president and vice president of the United States made public at republican headquarters tonight, National Chairman Hitchcock claims 326 republican members or 83 more than would be required to elect their candidate.
For the republican ticket Mr. Hitchcock is sure of New York, Ohio and Indiana. He also includes in the republican column Nebraska, Montana, Maryland and Nevada. In explaining his list Mr. Hitchcock said that he believed the chances were even in Kentucky and Missouri, with their thirteen and eighteen votes respectively. If, by any chance, any of the states claimed should go democratic, he said, they would be Maryland, Montana and Nevada, with a total of 14 votes. This would leave a republican margin of 69 and of this advantage, he expressed himself as perfectly confident. The national chairman does not include Tennessee and Oklahoma in his list and concedes the chances in these States are against the republican ticket. His forecast, Mr. Hitchcock said, was based upon information received by him up to date from party leaders throughout the United States.

Watterson's Descriptive Power.
Colonel Henry Watterson, after quoting from John Biglow, the companion of Samuel J. Tilden, who calls Mr. Taft a dancing bear for Roosevelt, hurls this bolt at the belabored trust party:

"What else is Judge Taft but a dancing bear? He danced first to the Anti-Trust Music made by Roosevelt. Then he dances to the Trust Music made by Sunny Jim. He dances first on one foot and then on 'other—seeking to make a single giant straddle between the Corn-raising west and the Trust-breeding east. He is for publicity and against publicity. His last dance—the dance of death—is the old plea of hard times. Elect Me, good times, beat Me, bad times. We heard it from the Hayes crowd in 1876. We heard it from the Garfield crowd in 1880. We heard it from the Blaine crowd in 1884. Regularly every four years it bobs up serenely with its 'Wolf! Wolf!' Translated into plain English, it reads simply republicanism is essential to prosperity, hence to make republicanism perpetual. Yet, with the circumstances in conclusive rebutment—three of the greatest panics the country has ever known came under the rule, reign and brand of the republican party, in possession of every department of the federal government—and most of the States.

"Was ever such blind fatuity heard of? And now nothing but money can save them. They must pile it up mountain high in what they call the 'doubtful' States to get a smell of R. They have to fight and buy Ohio—their nominee's own State—if they get it at all. In New York their only hope is to swap off Hughes for Taft. Indiana is lost beyond recall, or purchase. Illinois comes majestically to the front line under the lead of grand old Adlai Stevenson.

"It is all over but the shouting. They may pour out the Taft-Sinton millions—they may pile up the tainted trust dollar—they may repeat the villainies of 1896, 1900, and of 1904—but it will avail them not. The chink of gold can not deaden the sound of the deathrattle in their throat—all the bonfires from Hell to Breakfast cannot give a rosy flush to the deathly pallor that shines upon their cheek—like Belshazzar of old, they read the writing on the wall—caught and caged—and they exclaim, 'Woe, woe is me, my sin has found me out at last,' and then Belshazzar cries from the bottomless pit, 'You bet it has, just as mine found me out—misery loves company—both of us were weighed in the balance and found wanting—you are mighty late about it, but come along down here and bring old High Tariff and old High Finance along with you—Satan and all of us are preparing for a regular bear dance when you get here!

"Slow music. Dim lights. Then the blazing anarole of democracy; and whilst the boys sing 'sound the bold anthem, war dogs are howling, proud birds of liberty scream through the air,' the spirit drums of Old Hickory beat in unison, and—
"The Star-Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave.
"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

AN ISSUE THAT LIVES.

Houston Post.
One issue that has been prominent in this campaign will remain before the people until it is settled right, regardless of how the election goes. That is the question of publicity. The demand for publicity has grown out of the campaign corruption that has marked the course of the republican party in national elections for many years, and it is a demand that the republican party has contemptuously ignored because, apparently, it believes those who have voted the republican ticket do not care what means are invoked to win elections.

There is considerable sentiment in favor of publicity among the republicans. Even the republican candidate declared himself in favor of it before the convention which nominated him assembled. That convention by a practically unanimous vote repudiated publicity as a platform declaration, because its members, largely federal office holders and corrupt politicians, did not care to have the alliance between the republican organization and the predatory interests exposed.

As a sop to the demand for publicity, it was agreed that a statement of contributions should be made twenty days after the election, but this agreement does not include the receipts of the congressional committee. It is proper to assume, therefore, that the congressional committee has been exempted from the publicity agreement because that body has been made the receptacle for the tainted money of trusts and monopolies that buy privileges from the republican party.

The entire course of the republican organization with respect to publicity has been shifty, showing plainly that the methods which have disgraced republican campaigns in the past are yet relied upon to get results.

The people are coming to know, however, that there is not a more vital issue pending today than that of publicity. If a few men controlling vast wealth may obtain privileges to exploit the people in return for money paid to republican committees for the purpose of debauching the electorate, the republic cannot endure long. The system is so foul that decent men must marvel that it could gain a foothold in a country whose boast is that its institutions are based upon the honest suffrages of the people. If such flagrant corruption can endure with the consent of the self-respecting and patriotic members of a great party, the world will not be long in reaching the conclusion that the ballot in free America has become impotent to correct abuses.

The privileges which the predatory interests purchase are not half so dangerous as the apparent tendency of a vast body of men to condone any offense against morals which enables the party with which they affiliate to win an election. Publicity has become a paramount issue, and it must win or dark days are ahead of the country.

A German Editor Who Would Not Take The Bate.

Republican State Executive Committee, Cecil A. Lyon, chairman.—Sherman, Texas, October 23, 1908.—Dear Sir: If prices are right, I wish to place a political ad in your weekly issue of next week. Kindly give me rates for full page, both display and reading matter, and one, say about half and half. I request this by return mail. I, of course, don't ask your paper to sacrifice any of its political, religious or moral opinions and only make one condition on the placing of this advertisement with you, and that is that the issue which contains it will not contain anything in opposition to the republican State ticket in this State.

Kindly let me hear from you by return mail, and if prices are satisfactory will forward copy with check to cover same. Yours, truly,
CECIL A. LYON,
Chairman Republican State Executive Committee.

Hon. W. A. Trenckmann, editor of the Belleville Wochenblatt, comments on this proposition made to his paper in his issue of October 29 as follows, the translation being a liberal one:

So, Cecil A. Lyon, who for many years has led the republican party in Texas in accordance with his own wishes and has been the dispenser of all Federal patronage, is willing to give us a fat advertisement, and send his "check" therefore, if we will obligate ourselves in the last issue before the election not to say anything against the republican State ticket. Very kind, but for $20-$40 which, according to the rates of the Wochenblatt, this would cost—we are not ready to sell out, but are curious to know whether there are any of our colleagues to be found so cheap. The proposition is a reflection upon every publisher of a newspaper, regardless of what party he may belong to, and can only emanate from a man who believes that anything can be bought with money, including newspaper publishers. The proposition is in accord with the methods pursued by the manufacturers in the North, who give notice to their employes that if Bryan is elected they will close their factories on November 4, but if Mr. Taft is elected they will open their factories on November 4, thereby endeavoring to intimidate the laboring people and to force them to vote in accordance with their will. It is even said that in our State some of the "lumber kings" have declared that if Taft is elected they will double the laborer's wage. We are curious to know what the answer of these threatened laborers will be as we are to know what the Texas newspapers will say to Cecil Lyon's proposition.

But this matter has another side. There are in Texas probably 800 papers, and we assume that the same circular letter which was addressed to us was sent to practically all of them, for we are not vain enough to believe that Mr. Lyon has selected the Wochenblatt especially for this purpose. Eight hundred newspapers, at the average rate of $25 per paper, amounts to $20,000. The great number of circulars which have been sent out in the last week by the republican campaign committee cost surely $10,000. From whence comes this money, in the State, which, according to the assurances of Mr. Simpson, has been driven to bankruptcy through the democrats? It is possible that the republican national campaign fund, which must have been large, is the source from whence it comes—an amount so secretly guarded and which has been liberally drawn upon—but this alone would not be sufficient. It is true that Mr. Lyon is a very wealthy man. Mr. Simpson likewise is wealthy, but as neither of them look for an election of the republican ticket in Texas, it is not to be believed that they would put their personal wealth into the campaign fund.

When we look at the republican platform, however, we find the answer. It promises the repeal of taxes upon "gross receipts," on "intangible assets," a reduction of the ad valorem tax and all character of taxes whereby the great corporations are compelled to pay a million dollars in taxes, with the result that the Texas people would have to pay a large increased volume in taxes. That is all worth the effort to go into one's pocket. Then the new full rendition law is condemned by the republican platform, whereby the very rich corporations, as, for instance, the great newspapers, some of which heretofore, such as the San Antonio Express, never paid any taxes on their capital stock or practically none, while the farmer and the industrial worker were forced to render for taxation their possessions. Is it a wonder, therefore, that some of these papers which call themselves "democratic" energetically espouse the republican ticket? Also the "future gamblers," who heretofore sheared their lambs in Texas, now that their occupation has been taken from them, may be prepared to contribute, if not to defeat, at least to strike the democrats a blow. H. Clay Pierce and the Waters-Pierce Oil company, whom a democratic attorney general has taken to task so severely especially.

That is all easily understood. But, that the people whose burden of taxation as a whole has been reduced in the last year to one-half for the first time since the existence, have enjoyed a minimum of seven months free school for all children, will permit themselves to be misled through such circulars which are paid for by the money of those who would wish to put the burden of taxation upon the individual through a platform which is so "double-dealing" that it may, by false construction, catch the German voters, is fortunately not possible of realization.

"The Opium Fiend."

For a performance of rare enjoyment—one that theater-goers will enjoy with more than ordinary pleasure—attention is called to the presentation here of Copeland Brothers' success, "The Opium Fiend," which will be seen at the Alrdome Tuesday, for one night only. The success is a brand new western drama, written by Mr. E. L. Copeland, and has won among the leading western stories of the season its place at the very apex of all western dramas. It is possessed of a beautiful love story, told in simple, straightforward manner, and also serves to introduce us to the perilous interrogative, "How can a person who has any self-respect voluntarily begin a habit that will degrade him to a position worse than that of the beasts?" We see in the character of Caleb Crow a poor, broken-down slave to opium, who not being satisfied with his station in life, attempts to drag everybody else down to his level. His infamy with John Hargraves, a lucky prospector, soon reveals that he has induced Hargraves to the toxic narcotic, and the result of which is shown when everything is given up to satisfy the cravings for opium. His beautiful daughter is also intimately acquainted with Crow, and in his fiendish desires he asks for her as his wife. Being refused, he murders the father and lays the crime upon the girl's shoulders. A young Arizona cowboy comes upon the scene and with his broad, breezy style soon discovers the facts. Everything ends happily.

The cast is adequate in the main, in some respects better than the many. Miss Margaret France, Mr. Nick Becker and Copeland Brothers being particular favorites.

We will have our doors open and ready for business on next Saturday, Oct. 31st. The Nickle Store. "Watch windows." 144-6t

"All are Meteors With a Different Name."

"We wither from our youth, we gasp away—
Sick, sick: Unfound the boon—unslaked the thirst.
Thought to the last, in verge of our decay.
Some phantom lures, such as sought at first—
But all too late—so we are doubly cursed.
Love, fame, ambition, avarice—'tis the same.
Each idle, and all ill—and none the worst.
For all are meteors with a different name.
And death the sable smoke where vanishes the flame."

In all probability, for millions of years, the sun has risen to bless us by day and the stars have twinkled through the evening twilight. Each of us, during our short stay, have watched in our own way, the repetition of yesterday. Men have dug and delved, studied and worried, they have searched and theorized on the origin of man. They have polluted and deluted the sacred laws with their poor mortal theory of evolution; the opinions, the theories, the deductions, the figures and the facts are varied entanglements, intricacies and perplexities, based on personal opinions. But as varying, as far apart as they may be as to the origin of humanity, they are all agreed as to our destiny.

The poet Byron understood humanity, as a study of the above extract will show. With each birth a destiny is fixed; a fate is sealed; we may be kings and queens, presidents or leaders of men, or we may be only their subjects. Whatever our station in life, "All are Meteors With a Different Name." But from the first day of our existence, we are all pushed by the ceaseless, unchanging roll of time. "Though to the last," even when we begin to bend under the weight of years "some phantom lures, such as we sought at first." But, alas! Some day, somewhere, our sun of life must sink to rise no more. Each of us, either long or short our lives, have felt the twang of a broken chord, caused by the hand of death. Each has bowed to this immutable law; our heart has been broken (as it were) by the death of loved ones. But, alas! It must be so! We can do nothing but mourn their departure, try to perpetuate them by keeping their names and deeds engraven in the hall of memory, erect at their last resting place some beautiful and lasting memorial. Out of respect, in loving remembrance of father, mother, brother or sister, "is the last and only duty we can perform. We would say to you, with all due respect, do your duty and place the order now. "Obeying Mother."

A man had just arrived at a Massachusetts summer resort. In the afternoon he was sitting on the veranda when a handsome young woman and her 8-year-old son came out. The little fellow at once made friends with the latest arrival.

"What is your name?" he asked. Then, when this information had been given, he added, "Are you married?"

"I am not married," responded the man, with a smile.

At that the child paused a moment, and turning to his mother, said:

"What else was it, mamma, you wanted me to ask him?"—Harper's Weekly.

The efforts of Secretary Gehlke to have special homeseeker excursions run direct to Wichita Falls from points in Illinois, Missouri and other sections of the Middle West is a project that should have the hearty support of every well wisher for the prosperity and growth of Wichita Falls. A good many other Texas towns have had an advantage over Wichita Falls in this respect in that homeseekers are unloaded from special trains at their stations, while the prospectors who came to Wichita Falls have been compelled heretofore to put themselves to considerable inconvenience to get here.

Most of those who have come have been stragglers from the special excursions from other points. Now that Mr. Gehlke is enlisting the interest of the immigration departments of the big railroads in the running of excursions direct to Wichita Falls, a great influx of homeseekers can be brought here within the next few months if the project receives sufficient financial support.

Remember the business men's excursion over the Wichita Falls and Northwestern to Frederick next Thursday. The excursion will make stops at all stations between Wichita Falls and Frederick. Make arrangements to go now.

Details of Bowie's Killing.

The following dispatch in the Fort Worth Record gives additional details of the killing of Porter Brodie at Bowie, concerning which a short dispatch was printed in yesterday's Times:

Bowie, Tex., Oct. 30.—As the result of trouble of long standing, Porter Brodie, aged 32 years, was shot and almost instantly killed this afternoon, two pistol bullets fired by Pat Smith piercing Brodie through the body, both entering just above the heart. Either wound was sufficient to cause death, Brodie was the proprietor of a barber shop, while Smith operates a frosty joint here. When the men met in the street today Smith drew his revolver and opened fire, two of his three bullets taking effect, Brodie dying almost instantly. After surrendering Smith stated that he thought his life was in danger, as Brodie made a threatening movement toward his hip pocket as he approached. When searched after his death, no weapon was found about Brodie.

Occurring on the principal street of the town, the tragedy created intense excitement as both men have numerous friends here. Brodie first came into prominence a few months ago when he engaged in a sensational encounter with the late Walker Hargrove.

As an illustration of the great earning power of the telephone and telegraph companies, as compared with the amount invested, it is interesting to know that all of these companies in the State, and there are a great many telegraph companies in addition to the Postal and Western Union telegraph companies, own property valued by the tax assessors of the State at a little less than five and a half million dollars.

The annual receipts of the Southwestern company is more than half of the amount at which all the companies in the State are assessed for ad valorem taxes.

The Quail Season Opens Monday.
The season for hunting quail opens tomorrow (Sunday), and a good many local nimrods will take out their dogs for a preliminary to active shooting on Monday. The temptation may be too great for some and if you hear the report of a shotgun breaking the quietude of the Sabbath, you may know that some hunter in his zeal for the chase has so far forgotten himself as to break one of the ten commandments and the laws of the State of Texas. Quails are reported to be very numerous and the birds are fat and plump.

The above is the "Official Ballot" to be voted on November 3rd. Those voting the straight ticket of their party can do so by drawing a pencil mark from bottom to top through the other six tickets using a black lead pencil for the marking. In order to vote a "split" ticket, it will be necessary to cross out the names of the candidates on all the other tickets that are in opposition to the candidate the voter wants to cast his ballot for. One ballot will be furnished to each and every voter by the presiding officer of the election precinct, which the voter will be required to mark within sight of the election officers, and in the event the voter needs information, this will be furnished by calling on the presiding officer of the election. According to the election law, only an average of one and a half ballots to each voter in the county is allowed to be printed. In giving the order for ballots the County Clerk is instructed to base his calculations on the number of poll tax payers in the county for the year previous to the election. Basing his calculations on the 1907 poll tax list, the County Clerk ordered 2,150 ballots printed. This year, 1908, over 1,700 poll taxes have been assessed and counting the exemptions, it will readily be seen that in the event a full vote is polled there is but little more than one ballot for each and every voter and if many of these ballots are spoiled in making them the voter will be required under the Terrell election law to write out his own ticket in full

New Century Club.

Did you ever see children hurrying home from school, when some nick-nack had been promised on their return? Well, it was with just such glad-some feelings that our club women entered the home of Mrs. Anderson on Burnett avenue, for the program called for a lesson in domestic science, and our hostess had assured us of a fair sample of the recipes to be tried.

We hurried through with all formal business and repaired to the cozy kitchen, where, on a hot range were several double boilers making music to the modern tune of creamed oysters, creamed rice, fruit salad and chocolate cake, these delicacies being demonstrated by Mesdames Andrews, Ashmore, Burnside and Miss Brooks, while we took notes and waited with whetted appetites.

When all was ready we were, too, and it is useless to say did justice to each course.

May the club spirit progress, bearing in its wake a newer and fresher growth of womanhood, whose ideals shall be nobler, and in their excellency have the semblance of perfection.
