CLEAN-UP DAY GAINS MOMENTUM

BUSINESS HOUSES ARE ALMOST UNANIMOUS IN CO-OPERATING FOR THE WORK.

CAPTAIN OF DISTRICTS

Have Been Named and a Thorough Working Organization is Being Perfected.

Additional agreements to close on Clean-Up Day are being received as rapidly as the ground can be covered. The business district, from present indications, assures the committee, will observe the day in such a manner that all lines of trade will be at a complete standstill on that date.

Handbills are being printed to be given to the merchants for the purpose of distributing to out of town trade, so that all can be advised of the closed condition which will prevail. Other notices will be printed and distributed to each occupant in their respective districts calling upon the citizens to do preliminary cleaning up of their premises, so that the work can be concluded in one day. The teamsters are co-operating in the movement and the business houses running wagons or drays are expected to furnish similar assistance to enable the unburnable debris to be carted away.

Sanitary measures will be adopted by scattering lime in places needed and the oiling of ponds is expected to be done as soon after as practicable. Captains of districts have been selected from the list of volunteers. The captains will receive instructions to work under and are expected to work themselves, in addition to having charge of an allotted territory for which they will be responsible. In the business section the districts are made in one block, where congested conditions prevail and in the more thinly settled portions up to four and five blocks.

The line-up for captains are as follows: John G. Gilbert, Frank Kell, H. M. Hughes, J. Barnett, F. M. Tidwell, J. W. Pond, J. M. Bland, J. C. Ward, W. Lee Moore, M. Marcus, P. H. Parker, A. W. Karrenbrock, P. H. Pennington, Myles O'Reilly, C. H. Hardean, J. C. Zieler, J. A. Kemp, Will McAbee, J. T. Young, C. B. Woods, E. B. Gorsline, A. S. Fonville, O. T. Duncan, N. Henderson, J. D. Eldridge, T. J. Taylor, A. T. Darden, A. H. Carrigan, J. L. Lea Jr., W. L. Robertson.

For Bellevue Addition J. L. Downing and J. L. Jackson have been selected. In the factory district D. P. Talley, A. D. Terrill, M. Stansforth and J. V. C. T. Christensen are appointed to round up that section.

George Dobson will have charge of the city teams and Andy Bird, colored, has agreed to secure help in cleaning up the colored settlement.

Other volunteers for general work are as follows: Dean Howard, H. B. Patterson, G. D. Anderson, T. T. Reese, W. W. Coleman, J. B. Stokes, Kitt Cowan, V. A. Fields, W. F. Smith, John W. Bradley, C. W. Morgan, Pat Murphy, J. M. Hooper, J. L. Powell, G. W. Eagle, Dr. L. Coons, R. C. Hardy, T. B. Greenwood, T. M. Sims, Wichita Furniture Co., P. W. Nolen & Co., John Haier, B. B. Bacon, C. A. Malone, the St. James hotel and W. F. Jourdan. A number of men will be added to the rolls from the business houses to be closed and other volunteers are expected to come forward in the next few days. Many more are needed to accomplish the desired results.

The committee has requested Superintendent Toland of the public school to take up the matter of closing the schools with the school board. The school children will find plenty of work to do around their premises.

Of the teamsters who have announced their intention to co-operate in the movement, B. Crawford will place a wagon at the disposal of the committee, A. B. Taber three wagons, A. C. Walker one wagon, Wichita Elevator Co. one wagon, O. W. Bean & Son one wagon. Requests for teams have but recently been mailed and sufficient time for a reply has not elapsed at this time. Fully fifty wagons will be needed to make a complete round-up.

All the barber shops will close, which includes the following: T. M. Sims, B. C. Williams, Fred Carter, L. H. Lawler, H. J. Sparks and Priest & Fletcher.

Fain & Ingram, King & White, Fred Mahaffey, Wichita Plumbing Co., W. W. Coleman, Wichita Paint Co. are additional business firms who will close. The confectionery stores have agreed to close from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. If the drug stores will do likewise. The latter will comply, from present indications. The building contractors are falling into line, additions to the list being Fritz L. Ernst, Fred Smith, Mr. Ammons, G. D. Bellamy.

The closing feature will be unanimous and the miscellaneous lines not seen are expected to close in connection with the general policy of the day and the absence of any trading. The committee also wishes to lay stress upon the fact that the day is not being made a holiday to allow citizens to go fishing and that unless hearty co-operation is manifested among all classes of citizens that, if necessary, at the last moment it will call off all plans rather than impose on a couple of hundred public spirited citizens the burden of cleaning the streets and vacant lots while the majority are fishing at the lake.

The down-town dinner is expected to be in the nature of a picnic and music by the local band is expected to be dispensed during the recess.

SKIRMISHES WITH CRAZY SNAKE

OKLAHOMA MILITIA HAS SEVERAL ENGAGEMENTS WITH NEGROES AND INDIANS.

REAL BATTLE TO COME

Unless Desperadoes Surrender, Fight to the Death is Expected.

Texas News Service Special. Muskogee, Ok., Mar. 29.—Up to noon there had been no encounter between the State militia and the Creek Indians and the negro allies. It is reported that Crazy Snake has deserted his followers and is on his way to Washington to intercede with President Taft.

Texas News Service Special. Muskogee, Ok., Mar. 29.—Meager reports are coming in today from the front, where six companies of State militia went last night to exterminate Chief Crazy Snake and his two hundred desperadoes. The reports say there have been several skirmishes, but the real battle is yet to come, avoiding the Indians and negroes do not surrender unconditionally. The officers are not expecting them to surrender. Since Wednesday six whites and six Indians have been killed.

Band Trying to Reach Mountain Stronghold.

Texas News Service Special. Oklahoma City, Ok., Mar. 29.—One hundred Creek Indians, half-breeds and negroes, under the personal command of Chief Crazy Snake, kept up their march on the warpath early today, retreating before five companies of the Oklahoma militia. The band is making an effort to reach a stronghold in the Tiger mountains before making a stand against the troops. At the rate of progress the troops are making, they will overhaul the Indians shortly after noon and force them into a fight under conditions unfavorable to the Indians. Frontiersmen who are acting as scouts say the old chieftain's forces are showing signs of disintegrating.

During the night a war dance caused a great uproar in the camp. Crazy Snake took part in the dance.

Twenty-Four Indians and Many Negroes Killed to Date.

Texas News Service Special. Henryetta, Ok., Mar. 29.—Col. Roy Hoffman this morning when he arrived at Hickory Ground to engage Crazy Snake, divided his forces. One company of troops was sent to Pearce, and another to the Tiger mountains to search out the Indian forces. It is reported that the Indians headed by Crazy Snake are ambushed near both places and waiting for the soldiers to advance. Dr. Wallace, who has been treating the wounded negroes and Indians at Hickory Ground, says that twenty-four tribesmen have been killed since the outbreak started several days ago. The Indians and negro outlaws have joined forces and have destroyed every hut, tent, and small building in the outlying districts. The farmers banded together and a battle resulted. Crazy Snake has gathered many outlaws from other States. Officers Odell and Baum, killed last Saturday, were buried today at Checotah. The bodies of the Indians and negroes killed by the farmers have been found in the fields. Seven were found late yesterday afternoon. In dividing the troops into three parts, Col. Hoffman declares that he is running no danger and will easily defeat the enemy.

Soldiers Will Show No Quarter.

Texas News Service Special. Henryetta, Ok., Mar. 29.—The Indian camp is six miles west of Henryetta. Colonel Hoffman's troops are still maneuvering for a vantage point to force Crazy Snake's army either to surrender or to shoot all down. If the Indians resist, the soldiers will show no quarter. Pickets from the enemy have been seen at different times, but the Indians are still hiding. No one has been killed or wounded today. It is believed that Crazy Snake is trying to lure the troops on until after dark and begin the battle under cover of night on ground with which he is thoroughly familiar. When the Indians are found, the militia will demand their surrender and will commence firing upon the instant of their refusal.

Storey, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, yesterday afternoon here, five candidates are already in the field seeking the appointment. Governor Campbell will not announce his selection until after the funeral. Tax Commissioner Dashiell, it is believed, will be the governor's choice. The general opinion is that Representative Mobley of Henderson county, will succeed Dashiell. The other candidates to succeed Mr. Storey are J. L. Wortham of Dallas, E. P. Curtis of Smithville, J. B. Bartholomew of Palestine and Charles Graham, chief clerk of the house. The railroads prefer Bartholomew, it is reported.

The senate and house met this morning and adopted resolutions of respect to Commissioner Storey and adjourned until Wednesday morning. Members of both houses will attend the funeral.

Refusal to Fix Date for Hearing Guaranty Bill.

Texas News Service Special. Austin, Tex., Mar. 29.—Indicating that the fight over the bank guaranty bill will be even more stormy before it is defeated or passed, the senate today by a vote of nine to twelve refused to fix the time for the consideration of the measure.

Senator Seater, an avowed opponent of the bill, urged fixing the time, contending that the platform demands should be passed or killed. Friends of the measure feared its defeat and refused to permit the naming of such a time.

Biographical Sketch of Judge Storey.

Deceased was born in Chattahoochee county, Georgia, Oct. 6, 1834, and was of Irish and Scotch lineage, his ancestors having come to America in the early colonial days. His great grandparents participated in the war of the revolution and his father and grandfather in the war of 1812. His father, Colonel John T. Storey, was a Virginian, and his mother, nee Lucy McLester, a North Carolinian. She was the sister of the late Captain Harvey McLester, who resided for years in Bastrop and later in Dallas. Soon after his marriage, Colonel John T. Storey moved to Jackson county, Georgia. In 1832 he moved to a place on the Chattahoochee river, three miles north of Summerville, in what was then the Cherokee nation, but what is now Chattahoochee county. He represented his county in the Georgia senate for a number of years and commanded the regiment that moved the Cherokees to the west of the Mississippi river in 1838, visited Texas in 1839 and purchased land near Seguin and removed to Texas, then a republic. In 1845, shortly before it was annexed to the union. He first settled in Gonzales county and in 1847 moved to Lockhart, then known as Lockhart Springs. In 1846, with three of his sons, he joined a company of rangers commanded by General Henry E. McCulloch and was elected and served as its lieutenant. In 1858 he was elected the first county judge of Caldwell county. His death occurred at Lockhart in 1858 and his wife died at the same place in 1874. Hon. L. J. Storey completed his literary education at Austin college at Huntsville, read law in the office of Rogan & Whitts at Lockhart in 1857 and 1858, was admitted to the bar in October of the latter year and practiced law there for twenty-eight years thereafter as a member of the firm of Nix & Storey, his partner having been Captain J. Nix. He later practiced from 1886 as the senior member of the firm of Storey & Storey until appointed a member of the railroad commission. He assisted in mastering the first company from Caldwell county for the Confederate army, which was known as Company B, Twenty-sixth Texas cavalry, General X. B. Debray's brigade. With it he saw active service in Texas and Louisiana, taking part in the battle of Galveston, and the principal engagements in Louisiana from the battle of Mansfield to the close of the Red river campaign.

Life of Public Service.

Judge Storey was 75 years of age. He had devoted the greater part of his life to the public service, and in his career as a lawyer, magistrate, legislator in both branches, lieutenant governor and railroad commissioner, he won and held the confidence of the people and a reputation for care, ability and integrity such as few men have enjoyed. During his fifteen years of service on the railroad commission, he was twice chairman. Conservative in the discharge of his official duties, he believed in doing justice both to the people and the railroads, a policy which was so strongly put by his distinguished contemporary, the late Judge John H. Reagan. As chairman of the railroad commission he spared no pains to make it an efficient tribunal of the people.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

The Higher Moral Standard of the Public Service.

Farm and Ranch. There are many who persist in believing that the country is getting worse, and who long for "good old days," when men were honest and true, and modern degeneracy had not reached the public.

That there is evil in public life may not be denied, but there is also good; and the ratio of good is growing.

There was a time when things now condemned were regarded as proper; and a few years since public office was not regarded as a trust, but as a personal advantage. The incumbent made his office serve him and his friends, with less regard for the public than now. Men in public office appointed friends and retainers and kingsmen to subordinate positions with little regard for qualifications, and felt that to reward party adherents was evidence of virtue. A politician's boast was that he "stood by his friends."

In these later days there are many who believe that "public office is a public trust," and who faithfully live to this higher ideal.

Graft which once went unrebuked is now quickly condemned, and no man is so high that he may not be called to account for his conduct. Democrats and republicans alike strike down the men whose conduct merits condemnation; and the corrupt official has no place of safety.

It should be the work of our people to add to the dignity of the public service and to hold every public servant to strict accountability for his conduct.

In some instances blows have fallen heavily. Things once permitted, or suffered, are now punished, and the first offender to feel the strong hand of the public declares himself the victim of the changed attitude. The reply to this is that wrong was always wrong and evil has not become better, because wrong has often been perpetrated. No precedent can make it right to betray a trust, or to filch from the public treasury.

There is a demand for faithful conduct in public life, and more insistent requirements that officials shall be clean and above suspicion.

To the credit of those who seek public employment, the demand is being met with more efficient service, and a higher standard of life among those who serve. The public service is better—indefinitely better—for the work which has been done, and for the high standard which has been set. It is growing better and time is not distant when an unclean man cannot be elected to office. And in this definition of uncleanliness we include those who ignore relations which society declares man shall hold to society.

The man who supports a rake or libertine for public position places the seal of approval upon the candidate, and declares to the world his approval of conduct which ought to be condemned. Fewer and fewer men are willing to do this.

It is unsafe to trust with money, or other good thing, the man who defies social laws; and morally corrupt men will always be dangerous officials.

The world grows better, and public service grows better with it.

If all men hope for is not accomplished in a day, yet there will be many days and need for changes will not grow less desirable until they shall be secured. Each man who lives rightly and has courage to speak for the right, helps to establish the higher standard, and helps to enforce its recognition. And always the standard grows better—higher.

IN CLUBDOM

New Century Club.
Regardless, the prevailing storm, that wrapped our plain in one fiery hue, and sent clouds of dust swirling in angry gales, the women of the New Century club were snugly nestled at the home of Miss Lucile Brooks with a program to be carried out in order and decorum.

To roll call the needed reforms that are a daily presentation to every individual whose interests are centered in home, there were no answers present. But each had a hearty suggestion that would have melted the 'mossy' visions from some of the male providing mediums of our neglected avenues of would-be progress.

During the business session there were several letters read from other points in the State and committees appointed to make provision for the coming welfare of our organization. The subjects under discussion were "America's greatest philosophers" and "Women in Education."

Emerson, the ideal philosopher, his life and character as a writer, and his influence on the lives of the future peoples was beautifully portrayed by Mrs. C. B. Montgomery.

The highest duty of an American woman is to equip herself intellectually to forcibly meet the demands that tend to lift woman from the mires of the past and place her on the plane where she is ever ready to proclaim in others of her sex, through example, that to be reasonable in all things, to possess a true knowledge of justice and virtue is to be the foundation on which a nation becomes austere and temperate in ambition.

After being refreshed by a sherbet and cake we were held by the hostess through one of her musical improvisations that we always appreciate.

The Floral Club is now enjoying a full membership and we are contemplating our hall where we shall seat the large number we are endeavoring to bring into our work, that is being looked forward to by the well-meaning of our city as the real influence that shall become the central orbit of the lesser satellites. When we get a number of floral beds in the city park and beautify the grounds at the back of the city hall and have our homes well filled with the blossoms that shall testify to efforts of our interested women, we feel that we shall be proud of the fact that we have pioneered a work that not a few of our people shall be eager to help us in.

The results of "Tag Day" were to our women most flattering, but when we read of Dallas "tag day" with her contributions from interested parties of $100, we felt that we would fall short in comparison should Dallas lay her $3,912 by the side of our highly prized $250.

When we see what others are doing we see that we are in our swaddling clothes. Let's get up, out of this and become examples. MEMBER.

Tariff and Business.

From the Wall Street Journal.
The argument that business suffers whenever the question of tariff revision is taken up is a very popular one. According to people who take that view the time for tariff revision will never come. If business is booming, we are told that it would be folly not to let well enough alone. If business is depressed, we are warned that we are likely to check a revival, and if business is rallying, we are told to stand out of the way and let it rally.

GOOD SOUP

Soup without meat stock or meat flavoring is rare. Unless made by an expert chef, vegetarian soup is usually thin and poor; yet meat in soup really spoils or hides the delicate appetizing flavor of a perfect vegetable. WEATHER FORECAST.
For Wichita Falls and vicinity
Tonight, generally cloudy. Cold
Tuesday and generally cloudy.

It looks good to us to see our people carrying packages wrapped in paper with a local merchant's name printed on it, instead of some mail order house. It shows the right kind of spirit and a mark of wisdom. Keep it up, and when some one presents you with a mail order catalogue, use it to start fires with.—Byers Sentinel.
Right you are, Brother Kessler. There is no surer or better way to place a town on a prosperous rating than for its citizens to patronize their home merchants. Patronize home industry and home merchants is a good slogan for any town.
The adherents of the fower and better laws idea in Texas are citing the Legislature to the example of the Missouri Legislature as being entitled to all the prizes, the belt, the loving cup, the blue ribbon and all the gate receipts. The Missouri solons have been in session since the first week in January and up to the end of last week are said to have actually permitted a bill to reach its third reading. Oh, what an excellent opportunity for another circular letter from the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

NOTICE TO THE LADIES OF WICHITA FALLS.

There will be a meeting of the ladies of Wichita Falls Tuesday afternoon, March 30th, at 4 o'clock in the office of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of arranging to give a picnic dinner to the workers on Clean-Up Day, April 6th. To insure the success of this feature of the day, the ladies of Wichita Falls are requested to attend the meeting tomorrow afternoon, when some system of soliciting estates and mastery and securing the necessary cooperation in preparing and serving the dinner will be adopted.
This plan will not be confined to the members of the ladies' societies in the city, but will be a feature of Clean-Up Day carried out by all the ladies of Wichita Falls. The endorsement of the Civic League has been tendered this worthy enterprise and the members will co-operate heartily with the ladies of the city.

President Civic League.

BURKBURNETT TRUCK GROWERS ORGANIZE.

As the result of a meeting of farmers and business men held on Saturday afternoon last, the Burburnett Truck Growers' Association was organized with thirty members. A. J. Vanclve was elected president and John Finney secretary.
Industrial Agent T. L. Peeler of the M. K. and T. railway was present and delivered an interesting discourse on watermelon culture. His talk was very instructive and highly appreciated by those who heard it.
Another meeting of the association is scheduled to take place Saturday afternoon, March 27th, at 2:30 o'clock, and every farmer or business man interested in scientific farming is urgently requested to be present. It is absolutely necessary that the organization be perfected and the members pledge themselves to put in a certain acreage, in order that a suitable market be established.
Oklahoma farmers are invited to become members of the association.—Burburnett Star.

Waterworks for Throckmorton.
Miss Lila Davis has bought the Lindsey place, consisting of 160 acres of land, three-fourths of a mile west of town, and has let the contract for a rock dam to be built. This dam is to be 300 feet long, 20 feet high and 8 feet thick at the base. It is to be built in an arc form and having supports built out of stone every 20 feet. The base of these supports are to be 20 feet long. This will form a lake covering 30 or 40 acres and will furnish water sufficient for a city of 5000 inhabitants.
A standpipe will be placed on the bluff near the lake and mains laid furnishing water to any part of the town. The base of the standpipe will be 100 feet above the town.
Judge A. H. Carrigan of Wichita Falls came in Tuesday evening. We understand he is here to make the contract for the waterworks dam, as he is executor and legal advisor for Miss Lila Davis.—Throckmorton Times.

'The Devil' at the Majestic.
It is seldom that a well known dramatic production can be condensed into a short sketch so as to tell the entire story of the play. The Bellows, Temple & Aller company, however, have succeeded in this difficult task by producing a one-act version of the famous play, 'The Devil,' retaining all the good points of the play and making it one of the real successes in the vaudeville today. This act has been a big hit on the large circuits throughout the West, and at present is on its way East, where future booking will keep them busy for a long season.
The management of the Majestic is indeed fortunate in securing the services of these talented artists and 'The Devil' will no doubt appear before a large audience tonight. 275-1tp

Reports Another Case of Rabies.
A reader of the Times takes issue with the subscriber who condemned the city authorities for keeping in effect the dog muzzling ordinance and says that 'Subscriber' was mistaken when he stated that no new cases of rabies had developed. He reports that on last Tuesday W. H. Stanbury, living at the corner of Seventeenth and Broad streets, killed his dog because it had developed symptoms of acute hydrophobia. The reader thinks that to muzzle the dogs now would spread the epidemic and heartily commends the authorities for keeping the ordinance in force.

THE BEST FLOUR ON THE MARKET

WICHITA MILL & ELEVATOR CO

How to Have Perfect Cake Always

Good cake is the result of two or three quite important features.

- 1st. The recipe.
- 2nd. The materials.
- 3rd. The oven or the heat of the oven.

We said recipe altho it is not the most important, for no matter how good a recipe you have and no matter how perfect an oven you have; unless the materials you use are of the best you can't expect to have the best cake.

One of the most important materials is flour, and until SWANS DOWN PREPARED CAKE FLOUR was devised, the selection of a cake flour was not easy.

Igleheart Brothers solved the problem with their Swan's Down Flour, which has all of the elements in it to produce the very best cake even under conditions that would ordinarily mean failure.

Light, fluffy cake which stays moist and delicious for days is always the result when using Swan's Down.

STYLISH SPRING

SUITS

WORSTEDS AND LINENS

The new shades of light weight worsteds in Spring suits are extremely delicate and very pleasing to even the most critical.

They are especially well suited to the prevailing styles of tailoring and makes it possible for even the lighter and darker complexions and slight and plump figures to secure not only a highly attractive and becoming shade but also a design that is most becoming.

The linens will be fully as popular too and the new weaves are going to induce many women who have never used linens before to use them this Spring and Summer.

We want you to call and see our Spring suit display for we have by all odds the largest most complete and—better than that—the most attractive line of suits at moderate prices while we also have the more expensive weaves also.

Better call soon for the extremely attractive display is producing rapid sales even now, and before long the selection will be broken.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The sun bath is of more value to the health than much warming by the fire. To cure a sting of a bee or wasp, mix common earth with water and apply at once.

Bent whalebones, the genuine article, are straightened by soaking them in boiling water, for a few moments and then ironing them straight.

Neuralgia may very often be speedily relieved by applying a cloth saturated with essence of peppermint to the seat of pain and leaving it there.

Soft soap, made from half a pound of hard soap and two quarts of boiling water, is more economical for laundry purposes than ordinary washing soap.

A good deodorizer is made by applying a hot poker to a lump of gum camphor in a saucer. The strong fumes will clear the atmosphere of a room in a few moments.

One teaspoonful of ammonia in a cupful of water will clean gold or silver jewelry. A few drops on the under side of a diamond will clean it immediately, making it very brilliant.

Delicate colors can be set by soaking in a cupful of common salt to every two quarts of water. A tablespoonful of turpentine in a pintful of lukewarm water will set colors as well.

Leather belts or boots that have been soaked or dried hard may be softened by rubbing them plentifully with coal oil. If the leather is very dirty wash it with hot soap suds first.

To renovate velvet, free it from dust by laying it face down and whipping smartly; then brush with a soft hair brush; dampen on the wrong side with borax water and hang, pile inward, in the sun to dry.

To prevent buff and gray lines from fading or growing streaky in the process of laundering, add a tablespoonful of black pepper to the first water in which they are washed and then launder in the usual way.

Great care should be taken to dry towels thoroughly before putting them away. If placed in the linen presses without being thoroughly aired, while still damp, a mold is likely to form on them, which, it is said, produces skin diseases.

An insect in the ear may be destroyed by pouring a teaspoonful of warm olive oil or camphorated oil into the ear and keeping it there for some time, holding the head in a position to retain the oil, which will afterward come away with the dead insect.

A good scheme for freshening the appearance of white silk parasols, or any silk that will stand water, is to wet them thoroughly all over, open them and let them remain until dry. All wrinkles are done away with, and instead of a mussy, half-worn looking article, one has an apparently new parasol.

The straw hat of last season may be cleaned by scrubbing it with a brush and pure castile soap and water. If it looks yellow after this treatment, rub it with lemon juice to bleach it. Then press the brim straight with a hot iron. A new hat band will complete the rejuvenation, until the hat looks like new.

To make chocolate caramels, put in a saucepan half a cupful of molasses, of white sugar and of brown sugar, a cupful of grated chocolate and a cupful of cream or milk. Stir the mixture constantly over the fire until it reaches the hard-boiled stage. Then add a teaspoonful of vanilla and turn the mass upon a buttered tin, making the paste an inch thick. Mark into squares and cut before it is quite cold.

All kitchen supplies should be kept in glass jars, the different sizes each to themselves.

Then the housekeeper can see at a glance just what supplies are needed. Besides it is more sanitary.

Use these jars whenever practical in the ice box, especially to keep fish, oysters, lettuce or parsley, and, in fact, any food with a strong odor or any food which may become impregnated with the odor of other foods.

Have covered crockery dishes for use in the ice box and see that they are scalded when washed.

A clean, easy way to wash the table silver is to put it in a wire draining basket having a handle. Then immerse it in a pan of scalding hot suds and scrub the silver with a hard mop. When washed lift the basket from the pan and place it in the sink.

Pour a kettle of boiling water over it and let drain. Very little labor is required to dry it with a soft cloth.

You will find that a half worn whisk broom makes a good scrubbing brush for enameled ware. When your whisk broom becomes worn take them and trim them to a stub. Then scald with soapy water, then with clear water and finally rinse with cold water.

When washing enameled ware if the food sticks you will find that a few strokes with one of these brooms removes it without injury to the cooking utensils.

For lovers of beaten biscuits, I would suggest that they try my way—I make the dough as usual and when made I run it through a small clothes wringer which I keep for this purpose. I screw the wringer to the table and run the dough through about twelve or fifteen times.

The Jeweled Hair Net.

Milwaukee Journal.
The jeweled net is coming back into favor. The Chinese women wear it in its best workmanship, and it can be imitated in this country.

Women who have tiny jewels which they would like mounted in some ornate way may hand them over to the jeweler now for such a net. It is made of gold thread and the jewels are strung on or mark the joining of the strain, where they make a kind of lattice work.

This is laid over the head, covers the knot, but does not rest on the brow. It may be that the extreme style will be taken up by a few ultra-fashionable women, which is to drop a rare pendant jewel from the center of the net on the forehead.

Possibly no one thing so evidences the eagerness with which women accept new lines as the way they have discarded the pompadour. It has ruled supreme for so many years that it seemed a fixture of the coiffure.

When the new flat style of hair came in people generally laughed at it and spoke of it as a freakish French idea. Critics even took the trouble to write protesting letters to papers and magazines that published the fashion illustrations in which women wore this kind of a coiffure.

Now it is the smart and accepted thing not only in the street but at formal social affairs where women are hatless.

THE DEATH PENALTY.

Horrors incidental to Old Time Execution by Drowning.

Execution by drowning was abolished in France by Henri Quatre, only to be revived by one of his successors. It was finally abolished as a statutory method of execution by the earliest decree of the great revolutionaries.

As late as the eighteenth century death by drowning was decreed to a felon in Edinburgh, and in the middle ages it was a common enough mode of doing a convicted criminal to death. That execution of this nature was considered as humane as any other, so far as the victim was concerned, is shown by the fact that it was not unknown among the early Jews, who varied the punishment of stoning adulteresses by drowning them. Among the Egyptians it was common. The Roman lex cornelia sanctioned the method by placing it on the statute records. Tacitus tells us that the Germans copied the practice from the Romans. The Teuton termed it the "last baptism," and he did not allow his powers of imagination to sleep when he set about devising additional varieties which should add to the excitement attending upon the doomed person's departure from life. The convict was sewed up, Monte Cristo fashion, in a bag, and with him were inclosed a vicious dog, a hungry cat, a violent rooster, a venomous viper, all very much alive and presumably kicking.

For what reason it is hard to see, but death by drowning was by many peoples considered preferable for criminal women. In the case of very debased or very mean offenders the Romans had a more or less pleasant fashion of drowning the doomed ones in marshes, first incasing them in elaborate crates.

Fog-fanned cruelty in killing off their female criminals the earlier Albanians were certainly the most inventive in the matter of ingenuity. It is commonly known, of course, that even the modern Albanian has respect for womankind than any other known male in the human catalogue, not even excluding the Chinese. The approved method of doing a criminal or even a displeasing woman to death prevalent among them up to rather less than a century ago was to chain her in a tank into which the water was allowed to flow gradually. As the water reached her breast it was allowed to recede, sometimes back to her ankles, when the refilling of the tank began anew. If the woman had children the torture was varied by the drowning or mutilation of them before her eyes. To various parts of her body was attached such food as attracts rats, of which a number would be let loose.—New York World.

Fog Filters in London.

"All London public buildings are now erected with fog filters," said an architect. "They are essential. London's yellow brown fog, made of the smoke of a million soft coal fires, smells of sulphur, irritates eyes and throat and causes headache. It penetrates houses. Waking on a winter morning, you can't see across your bedroom for it. So now all public buildings filter it. The air is drawn in one orifice only, and fans hurl it against curtains of cotton six inches thick. It is forced through these curtains, it comes out on the other side for distribution through the various rooms a fairly clean, pure, transparent air. But the white filter curtains! Every day they must be changed. It takes only an hour to gray them, and by nightfall they are as black as ink."

Scottish Impartiality.

Color sergeant of highland company (in which were one or two English) calling the roll:
"Angus Mackay!" No reply. (Loudly.) "Angus Mackay!" Still no reply. (Sotto voce.) "I ken ye're there. Yer aye at yer jooty, decent mon, but ye're ower modest to speak before sae many folk. I see ye fine." (Marks him down in the roll.)
"John Jones!"
Squeaky voice replies, "Ere."
Sergeant—Oo, aye, ye're here or say ye're here, but ye're sic a muckle leas I canna believe a word that comes out o' yer mouth, see I'll jist mark ye doon as absent!"—London Answers.

Historic Tree Still Stands.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram in its issue of March 17, made a mistake in a write-up of the tree under which the Cattleman's Association was organized, in stating that Mr. Joe N. Payne said there was no house within one-half mile of the tree at that time. The Graham Hotel was standing on the same grounds it is at present which is only a few feet from the tree. We have written for the cut that was printed in the Telegram in connection with the write up of the organization of the Association, and the old tree as stated to a reporter of that paper by Mr. Payne and in case we are loaned the cut will give our readers next week the picture of this tree together with the information Mr. Payne gave the reporter. The old tree is yet standing and since the last meeting of the cattlemen at the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, it has become a part in the organization of this great association that is dear to all the members. This tree should be looked after and cared for by our citizens.—Graham Leader.

'THE DEVIL'

No stage production in recent years, with the exception, perhaps, of the dance of Salome, has evoked more criticism or drawn larger audiences to the high-class theaters than has the drama of the above name.

The one-act version of this famous drama by The Bellows, Temple and Aller company at the Bijou theater drew large audiences last evening, and they were not disappointed, for the drama is a strong one, and the sketch, although short, in the hands of these capable artists, loses none of its strength. Patrons of this popular little theater should not miss seeing this company, which will be here only two more nights. The pictures, too, are very interesting.—Chickasha (Okla.) Republican.

'The Devil' will be presented at the Majestic tonight by the same company. Prices, reserved seats, 20c; general admission, 10c. 275-11f

The Trade Cigar and Napoleon

If Napoleon had been a cigar maker he would have missed Waterloo and exile, but he would also have missed a greatness and glory that will live as long as English, French or any other tongue is a living or dead language. This is no historical essay, but a reminder that we are wont to claim the 'TRADE CIGAR' the Napoleon among cigars.

The "Trade Cigar" Made by JOHN ROBERTSON

cigar maker, who for more than nine years has been in continuous business on one street, in fact the second oldest firm on Ohio Avenue, goes to prove, if naught else, that we are 'stayers' and 'doers' too. Our friends have told us we were too partial to the great Corsican, have in conversation and in advertisement alluded to him too much. But, if you can't be great yourself, the next best thing is to be the associate of great men. To be mediocre is the privilege of few men, to be great is the ability of few. It is easy to grow five feet, difficult to grow seven. Miss reading of Waterloo, miss smoking the 'TRADE CIGAR' and you've lost the best and who is so great a loser as he who misses the best.
