GUARANTY BILL PASSES IN HOUSE

VOTE ON MEASURE BY CURETON AND OTHERS, NINETY FOR AND SEVENTEEN AGAINST.

SOME PROVISIONS

Of the Bill as It Was Passed in the House Yesterday.

Austin, Tex., April 2.—Guaranty of bank deposits held the boards in both houses this afternoon, the Senate picking the subject up just about the time the house passed the bill by Messrs. Cureton and others, and shortly before the vote finally passed the bill by a vote of 90 to 17.

The Cureton bill went through the house without the adoption of any amendments materially changing it. In fact, the only amendments adopted were those offered by the authors and supporters.

Provisions in Measure.

The bill, as passed, provides that Statebanks which have been in existence one or more years shall, in the first year, pay an assessment equal to 1 per cent of its average daily deposits for the preceding year, and if necessary the banks shall pay pro rata an additional sum sufficient to make the total of the guarantee fund $500,000. The annual assessments shall increase progressively at the rate of one-fourth of 1 per cent until the guarantee fund shall equal five per cent of the total deposits.

As to New Banks.

Banks which have not been in existence a year shall, during the first year of the operation of this law, pay into the guarantee fund a sum equal to 3 per cent of their capital and surplus, which sum shall be held until the bank has been in existence a year, when its contribution to the guarantee fund shall be based upon the basis of its deposits, as provided in the case of the older banks. The initial contribution of new banks will increase progressively each year at the rate of three-fourths of 1 per cent until a maximum of 15 per cent of capital and surplus has been reached.

Fund Subject to Draft.

The money contributed to the guarantee fund will remain on deposit with the several banks contributing it, subject to draft of the Commissioner of Banking in case it is needed. If a bank fails or suspends the funds will be drawn upon to pay the depositors. In the event the fund should not be sufficient to pay all depositors, then certificates for the excess will be issued by the Commissioner. These will constitute a first lien against the guarantee fund.

Additional Assessments.

Additional assessments may be levied against the banks, but these may not exceed 2 per cent in any one year. The guarantee fund applies only to non-interest bearing deposits, but the bill provides for savings departments of State banks, which shall be kept separate from other departments of said banks. The limitations as to investments, etc., are similar to those of the New York law and the funds and securities of savings departments are to be exempt from other debts of these banks.

Existing Law Amended.

The bill amends the existing banking law in many particulars respecting supervision, capitalization, etc. An important change is that which permits the loaning of 90 per cent of the capital, instead of 75 per cent, as the existing law provides. It is provided that banks of $10,000 capitalization may be organized in towns of 750 to 3,000; $50,000 to $60,000 and $100,000 in towns of over 6,000. In these latter, however, banks of $50,000 capital may be established not less than a mile distant from any chartered bank.

ALL LINES OF BUSINESS WILL CLOSE CLEAN-UP DAY.

Wichita Falls will be a closed town on Clean-Up Day next Tuesday, according to the agreements received by the Clean-Up committee. In addition to the dry goods, clothing and furnishings, furniture, grocery, barber shops, hardware, lumber yards, building contractors and other business the confectionery and drug stores will observe the day. The pool halls and bowling alleys have fallen in line with the spirit of the day and it is safe to say no movement could possibly receive heartier co-operation than the civic enterprise which is being undertaken by all the citizens.

Preliminary cleaning is being done all over the city and many volunteers and teams will be at the disposal of the clean-up organization on the day set. The picnic dinner given by the ladies and the music furnished during that hour will enliven the work.

MAY TRY TO KNOCK OUT NEW CHARTER

Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Tex., April 3.—Believing that the legislature exceeded its powers when it designated J. F. Grant, former mayor of North Fort Worth, as the fifth city commissioner when it passed the new Fort Worth charter enactment, Mayor Harris today ordered an investigation in the acts of the legislature by the city attorney.

The new charter appoints Grant city commissioner at a salary of three thousand dollars, and J. W. Baskin assistant city attorney.

The mayor clearly indicates that the new officers are not needed and wants the city attorney's opinion on the legislature's authority.

In his annual report Commissioner Sam Davidson says the legislature has heaped eight thousand dollars salary expenses for unneeded officers on the city by the new charter.

FIRE THREATENS ENTIRE SOUTH END FORT WORTH

Texas News Service Special.

BULLETIN—Twenty-four blocks south of viaduct gone and fire still raging.

BULLETIN—The Union Station is on fire.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 3.—Fire that threatens the entire south side residence section is raging before a thirty mile an hour gale and already fifteen dwellings in four square blocks in the fashionable district have been destroyed.

Three churches are doomed. The Broadway Baptist, the Broadway Presbyterian and the Swedish Christian are now all burning.

The flames originated in the residence of S. H. Hackett, at the corner of Peter Smith street and Jennings avenue shortly before 2 o'clock. With inadequate water pressure the fire department is unable to combat the progress of the flames in the face of the wind and the ruined district is rapidly extending across the southern part of the city.

It is estimated that the damage is already a million and a half dollars.

Several persons were burned and injured by being overtaken by the flames in their frantic efforts to escape with valuables.

An appeal has been made to Dallas and Waco for fire fighting equipment and relief has been assured with haste.

PRICE OF WHEAT GOES SKYWARD

MAY WHEAT SOLD AT $1.21½ ON CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
TODAY.

DUE TO URGENT DEMAND

Today's Price Has Only Been Reached Twice in the Last Twenty Years.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., April 3.—May wheat sold on the board of trade today at $1.21½ per bushel, equaling the high point reached during the celebrated Gates deal in 1905. Only twice during the last twenty years has wheat sold at a higher figure on the local exchange. The present high prices are due to the urgent demand for cash grain.

Wheat is harvested earlier by several weeks in the Wichita country than in any of the other great grain producing regions of the country and it now seems probable that the wheat growers of this section will get their crop on the market before the price takes a drop.

The fire covered all trace, leaving no clue for the police.

FUTURE PAPER PULP SUPPLY

AT PRESENT RATE OF DESTRUCTION SPRUCE FORESTS WILL SOON BE GONE.

CORN STALKS SUBSTITUTE

Experiments Now Being Conducted Indicate That Corn Plant Offers Practical Material.

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 3.—In view of the diminishing supply of pulp-making woods and the consequent increase in the cost of paper, the serious problem which awaits solution is, whence will come our future paper supply? Interest in the matter lies in the fact that everybody uses paper and it is presented in its serious aspect when one considers that the destruction of our pulp-making woods goes on at a tremendous rate.

Experts declare that there are not enough spruce forests standing in the United States to furnish a future constant supply of wood pulp for making paper under the present methods of forest conservation and waste. It is probable, however, they state that there exists sufficient spruce forests in this country and Canada which, if protected by reasonable conservation, will furnish a sufficient supply of spruce wood for paper making for all time. It would seem that the production of news-print paper and other cheap grades of paper are dependent upon the continuation of cheap ground wood produced from spruce trees, and that condition is likely to continue.

So serious did the Select Committee on Pulp and Paper Investigation of Congress consider the situation that they recommended that both the general and state governments should endeavor to encourage the production of spruce forests. It was pointed out that the benefit to be obtained from continued production of spruce in the future will go not only to forest owners, but to the entire population.

Experts of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, have been making a careful investigation to see what can be found to take the place of wood for the manufacture of paper and whether the necessary plant is at hand or whether we will have to hunt the world over for it.

The experiments, now being conducted by this department, grew out of the agitation resulting from the decreasing supply of pulp-making woods. Congress from time to time has made appropriations to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to test such plants and woods as may be required to ascertain if they be suitable for paper making purposes. These investigations, under the direction of Nathan A. Cobb, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, are being carried on in cooperation with the Bureau of Forestry, which has a laboratory here, available for certain phases of the work.

As explained by Professor Cobb today, paper may be made out of many materials, but the important point to consider is, out of what material can paper be made upon a profitable commercial basis? Many important factors enter into this problem. None of the fibrous plants so far experimented with are altogether free from disadvantages on this point.

The experiments thus far have had to do principally with such plants as corn stalks, cotton stalks, flax, sugar bagasse, tulle, rice, straw, okra and several other things. While these experiments have not progressed far enough to warrant definite conclusions as to whether any of them can be manufactured on a paying commercial scale, it is asserted that corn stalks offer the most promising outlook. A very much finer paper can be made from corn stalks than from the wood pulp. Samples already made show that all grades of paper can be made out of corn stalks. The Bureau of Plant Industry is now planning to make a commercial test of this corn stalk paper in co-operation with some of the paper manufacturers in New England.

An additional advantage which corn stalks have over other plants investigated is the fact that a by-product is secured in the manufacture of paper from corn stalks which practically pays the expense of the manufacturing process up to the time the material is taken from the "digestor." This is (Continued on Page 3.)

ING OF BARN.

Defendant in Murder Trial at Abilene Proves Good Witness in His Own Behalf.

Abilene, Tex., April 2.—The examination of the defendant was resumed this morning in the Tom Barnett murder trial. He testified that he went to Cisco Monday, Feb. 1, to see about buying some feed and while there met Johnson, whom he had formerly met in Fort Worth, and he sent the telegram signed W. A. Johnson, at Johnson's request, so that his brother and other members of the firm might get it at Abilene and not make any deal for the cattle. He returned to Abilene at 5:25 that evening, and after going home between 9 and 10 o'clock, retired, and did not wake up any more until the barn was reported on fire. He stated that he did not kill Alex Sears, and had nothing to do with the burning of his barn and the Fish school house.

He was put through a severe cross examination and admitted that Sears had never seen the Clyde property, which he claimed that he was trading at $75 per acre to Sears. He stated that no one was present in any of the conversations between him and Sears when the cattle were traded for land; that he had no personal funds of his own, except an interest in the firm of George Barnett, and that the land he was trading stood in his name, but in reality belonged to his sister, Eula Barnett; that after he sold the cattle to Dishman he paid out about $1000 of the money to parties at Clyde and wrote a check to his sister for the balance on Feb. 3, the day that he was arrested. He stated that Sears did not state on Sunday, while defendant was at his house, at Anson, that he Sears was coming down Monday night, but said that he would be down soon, Monday or Tuesday. Had he known Sears was coming down on the train he would have met him; that he had been in Abilene only a few months and knew but few people, being those he had dealings with. That he did not know where Johnson lived, but met him in Fort Worth, and had seen him but twice, once in Fort Worth and once in Cisco.

Palm Sunday.

Tomorrow is Palm Sunday, commemorating the triumphant of Christ into Jerusalem, when mounted upon an ass, he rode into the city, and a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way. And the multitude that went before, and that followed, cried, saying: Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest. (Matt. xxi:8-9.)

Their enthusiasm, however, speedily cooled and He whom they had delighted to honor on the Sunday was on the following Friday put to a cruel and lingering death amid the applause of the populace.

From a very early date, accordingly, of the Christian era, the Sunday before Easter was called Palm Sunday, because on this day the church ordained that boughs of palm trees should be carried in procession, in imitation of those strewed before the Saviour when he rode into Jerusalem. The palms were consecrated by the priests. A portion of them were (or still are) preserved to be burned for holy ashes to lay on the heads of the people on Ash Wednesday in the following year. The rest were distributed, first among the assistant priests and next among the congregation.

To represent the Christ, a priest used to ride in the procession on an ass, carrying the host. Sometimes a one, and then the figure on its back, one, and then the figure on its back, representing the Saviour, was also of wood. The whole was mounted on a platform with wheels and was drawn through the streets by a rope. The people threw down their palm branches before this ass as it passed and eagerly picked them up after the wheels had passed over them, guarding them afterwards as charms against storm and lightning.

a molasses product which undoubtedly will have considerable food value for live stock. The idea is to utilize material of this kind and to be in a position to turn this by-product back to the farmers at a reasonable rate. The by-product is practically the same as is now being used extensively in the South as feed for cattle and mules. Considerable quantities of this molasses are imported from Cuban sugar factories, and Louisiana planters are using large quantities of it, and other planters in the country are coming more and more to use it.

Paper has been made out of corn stalks before, but never in a sufficiently economic way to pay for manufacture, but this by-product may change the situation. Ton for ton the amount of pulp from the corn stalks is just about the same as from wood, but the pulp from the corn stalks is of a finer grade than the ordinary wood pulp. Immense quantities of it are available, which are not now utilized. It is cheaper and more easily handled than any of the other materials experimented with.

The first important step looking to the manufacture of paper from corn stalks has been by Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, who introduced a bill establishing in that state an experimental mill for making paper from this product. The measure has been held up in the House pending the experiments which the Department of Agriculture is carrying on to determine whether paper can be made from corn stalks on a commercial basis at a profit.

"Do you regard the manufacture of paper from cotton stalks now as a commercial possibility?" Dr. Cobb was asked today. "I cannot venture an opinion as to the outlook for cotton," he answered. "The matter of collecting and handling cotton stalks would be even more difficult than that connected with the assembling of corn stalks."

While it is possible to make a very high grade of paper from cotton stalks, it has not yet been demonstrated that it is practical to manufacture paper from this material as an economic matter. Cotton stalks are much more difficult to assemble for shipping than corn stalks, being much more 'bulky' and therefore not easily packed together.

Professor Cobb stated that a larger percentage of fiber per ton can be secured from corn than from cotton stalks.

One of the greatest obstacles in making paper from cotton stalks hitherto has been in bleaching. Professor Cobb thinks that if some means can be adopted whereby the outer bark can be gotten rid of by mechanical agitation, an important step might be achieved toward the utilization of cotton stalks for paper making.

The prediction is made by Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture that if cotton stalks come into universal use for making of paper, the saving annually to the farmers of the South will be not less than $50,000,000 through wiping out the boll weevil. This little insect pest lives and thrives in the dead cotton stalks and if the stalks can be utilized in the making of paper, Dr. Howard declares that the Southern farmer will add to his annual income not merely the price paid by the pulp makers for the 13,000,000 stalks left in the fields each year, but the additional $50,000,000 that he loses through the attacks of the boll weevils.

Among the other products which seem to offer good prospects from which paper can be made are 'bamboo' and cane from the canebrakes. These products grow in vast quantities all over the South, particularly east of the Mississippi River and there is no question about them being convertible into paper.

Healthful Vinegars are Necessary

The human system needs a certain amount of Vinegar regularly to keep the digestive organs working well, but it ought to be good pure Vinegar. Recognizing this fact, we take no chances in buying Vinegar. We sell which are accepted as the standard of quality by Government and Pure Food Authorities. You will find our Vinegar different from the harsh strong kind usually sold in bulk as Cider Vinegar. You use Vinegar as a flavoring to make food better. If Vinegar is not better flavored than the food, it's worse than useless. That's why it doesn't pay to economize a few cents when buying Vinegar—you want something to make things appetizing, and it costs but little enough anyway.

You can depend on the quality of Vinegar or anything else you get from us. We guarantee satisfaction. Try us for "Particular Things."

WEATHER FORECAST.
For Wichita Falls and vicinity Tonight fair and warmer. Sunday fair.

On next Tuesday a new board of school trustees composed of seven members are to be elected and in voting for men to compose this board the very best material the district can possibly afford should be chosen. Much in the way of additional school building will have to be done during this and next year and in order to finance this work and at the same time maintain a nine-months school will require capable men. More bonds will have to be issued for the construction of a high school building and the purchase of one or possibly two other sites for school purposes and this election should demand a greater per cent of the voting strength than has heretofore characterized these school trustee elections, when not more than ten per cent of the voters took the trouble to go to the polls and vote.

Before selecting a site for a high school building, the school board has asked for expressions from the people—those who pay the taxes and those who have children to be schooled. In extending this invitation it is only another evidence that our school board is composed of broad-gauged men—men of a large caliber who believe that the people should be consulted about such matters. The Times trusts the people of Wichita Falls will avail themselves of this opportunity. It believes they can make suggestions and that in the location of the new building, the school board will give due consideration to each and every proposed school site.

The refusal of Hon. Horace Chilton to accept the vacancy on the railway commission created by the death of Judge Storey is a matter of regret to almost the entire people of Texas. He would have proven a worthy successor to Judge Storey and in truth and fact, his appointment would have been the best since the time Governor Hogg appointed Senator Reagan. It is understood that the main reason for Senator Chilton declining the appointment is that he could not afford to give up his law practice.

It would not be surprising if Horta (the alleged insane Italian who is said to have attempted to assassinate ex-President Roosevelt on board the Hamburg in mid-ocean last week) would turn out in the end to be only an enterprising press agent. The ex-president is very fond of notoriety.

The effects of the recent rains which fell over this section of country this week is already being felt in business circles. The farmers feel encouraged, and when this is true they are not afraid to make purchases and turn their money loose on the prospect of good crops.

Will Rebuild Gin.

Electra News.
 Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Electra gin plant Monday night of this week. The old building and machinery were burned down the 6th of March, along with a considerable amount of cotton, but that was a very small loss compared to Monday night's fire. It is supposed that a tramp built up a fire to warm himself and let it get the start of him. The gin plant was practically new, having been installed last year at the cost of $7,800, on which was carried $4,200 insurance. Eighteen hundred dollars' worth of cotton and $260 worth of cotton seed were consumed, which was about two-thirds covered with insurance. This was a heavy loss for Mr. Cross as well as to Electra, as the gin was still running and had enough cotton on hand to keep them busy for thirty or sixty days. Mr. Cross informed a News reporter that he would commence the erection of a new, modern gin plant just as quick as he can buy the machinery and will be ready to begin ginning cotton the first of the cotton season. He says for us to tell the farmers that they could plant as much cotton as they wanted to, as he would be able to begin ginning in the early fall.

Mr. Cross is a good gin man and we are glad to learn that his misfortunes have not discouraged him in the least.

STYLISH SPRING SUITS WORSTEDS AND LINENS

The new shades of light weight worsteds in Spring suits are extremely delicate and very pleasing to even the most critical.

They are especially well suited to the prevailing styles of tailoring and makes it possible for even the lighter and darker complexions and slight and plump figures to secure not only a highly attractive and becoming shade but also a design that is most becoming.

The linens will be fully as popular too and the new weaves are going to induce many women who have never used linens before to use them this Spring and Summer.

We want you to call and see our Spring suit display for we have by all odds the largest most complete and—better than that—the most attractive line of suits at moderate prices while we also have the more expensive weaves also.

Better call soon for the extremely attractive display is producing rapid sales even now, and before long the selection will be broken.

FLOWERS.

Buds and bells! sweet April pleasures
Springing all around,
White and gold and crimson treasures,
From the cold unlovely ground!
He who gave them grace and hue
Made the little children, too!

Then he gives the pleasant weather,
Sunshine warm and free,
Making all things glad together,
Kind to them and kind to me.
Lovely flowers! He loveth you,
And the little children, too.

Though we cannot hear you singing
Softly chiming lays, Surely God can see you bringing Silent songs of wordless praise!
Hears your anthem sweet and true,
Hears the little children, too!
—F. R. Havergol.

In Honor of Miss Lee Miller.

A charming hospitality was the party which Miss Orth gave in honor of Miss Miller of Fort Worth, Texas, at her home, 1701 Tenth street, Thursday evening. The spacious home was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being carried out—pink and white. Lovely cut flowers of roses, violets, ferns and carnations. The interesting game for the evening was "42," which was played to the accompaniment of the string orchestra. During the evening punch was passed around. At the conclusion dainty pink and white ice cream was served. Mr. and Mrs. Zook, Gertrude Orth, Laura McGlasson and Annie Carrigan helped Miss Orth serve. Those who participated in the evening's enjoyment were Misses Daisy CLOPTON, Lee Miller of Fort Worth, Minnie Young, Lucile Brooks, Sazie Field, Bonnie Skinner, Cowan,
Sibyl Kemp, Sadie Kell, Nellie Wade, Laura McGlasson, Zella Rainey, Evelyn Coffield, Willie Stafford, Lena Matlock, Gretchen Ziegler, Annie Carrigan, Mrs. Zook and Mrs. Wilson, and the Messrs. Bill Cumming, Lian Boyd,

Perry, Lamar Fain, Walker Hendricks, Webb, Harley Heath, Zook and

"42" Club.

The "42" club was most delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. Jackson. The usual number of games were played, after which dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed.

The Bridge Whist Club.

The Bridge Whist Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Wiley Blair and spent a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Zook Entertains.

Mrs. J. B. Zook entertained her sister, Miss Lee Miller of Fort Worth, with a "42" party Friday morning.
The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns. At the close of the game a delicious salad course was served. Miss Dot Walker won first prize, a 2-pound box of Jacobs' candy, and the consolation prize, a pair of pink silk hose, went to Miss Lutie Orth.

Those present were the Misses Sibyl
Kemp, Lutie Orth, Sazie Field, Dot
Walker, Katie Lou Avis, Laura Mc-Glasson, Lucile Brooks, Icie White,
Gretchen Ziegler, Bonnie Skinner,
Blanche Joline, Mollie Sitton, Miss Cowan, Daisy Clayton, Sadie Hill and the Mesdames Keith, Hughes, Shu-mate, Blair and DuVal.

Baptist Ladies Entertain.

On last Monday afternoon, in response to an invitation given the Battist Ladies' Aid Society, nearly every member braved the battle of the elements and gathered at the home of Mrs. R. E. Huff, who in her own winning way made us welcome.

When all had arrived, greetings were exchanged which warmed hearts, and, seated round the cheerful fire warming chilled bodies, we were called to order by the president, Mrs. Smyre.

After a short business meeting an excellent program was rendered, consisting of vocal, violin and piano solos, interspersed with original poems, which accompanied the free will offering for parsonage fund.

We were then invited to partake of the most delicious refreshments, served in the daintiest possible manner.

Then the hour was growing late and we could no longer linger; but 'twas with regret the hand of our kind hostess we clasped, thanking her for one of the most pleasantly spent afternoons within our recollection.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

New Century Club.

Mrs. Schwab was at home Wednesday with a warmth of personality and an atmosphere known and felt by the group of worshippers whose standard of measurement is always copied from the home "mile post."

When the roll was called, each had some item of interest that left an imprint on memory's page.

The lesson opened with one of "Rubenstein's melodies" by Miss Brooks, after which "Early Days in Texas" were indulged in by Mrs. McGregor, whose graphic style was pointed—in its trial with the Indian in his savage wild, also the rude, barricaded cabins, with many details from family legend.

"Why Texas is Called the 'Lone Star State' and Why the 'Star' has five points" by Mrs. J. W. Lee was of historic value, as she proved how futile had been her research for data pertaining thereto. Hence we were told that Texas having won her own independence and having stood alone in her glory, enjoying her own well devised forms of government, she was nicknamed "The Lone Star State" and that she took the five-pointed emblem from those of our national emblem. That when America became independent of English rule, she ordained the five-pointed star rather than symbolize the English star of six points.

A sweet little poem by James Webb was read by Mrs. Farris, about Texas, that aroused our patriotic spirits and swelled us with pride of country and fever for adoption.

Then while the rain's gentle tread moistened the tender blade and strengthened the fading bloom, and we awaited the folding of the dripping pinions of cloud-land, our hostess continued the program by two vocal solos, in which the baby voice of the hostess' little daughter, Marie, was softly blended with her own, and one instrumental rhapsody by Mrs. W. H. Walker, Miss Marie Burnette then captured our "home-going" inclinations by one of her attractive readings that we enjoyed extremely.

The refreshments were bountiful and of the daintiest character, after which we took our leave to "homeward wend our muddy ways."

MEMBER.

"Flora."

Flora, with her unlimited membership feels boastful of her future, as it stretches out before her, when she allows her imagination to wander around in the city of her birth where she has had the hand-clasp of so many of her well wishers and listened to the prophetic expressions of her generous admirers.

Last Tuesday from 3 to 5 she was assembled at the home of Mrs. Dr. Robertson in her floral bedecked parlors, where every face whose countenance bore evidence of much concern was glowing with the enthusiasm for the success of a broad work that shall touch the lives of our good women of Wichita Falls.

Several letters from the different Florist of our State were read in which their "greetings" and well wishes were sent to us making us feel that there were others that were glad to have us on their Floral roll.

Mrs. C. B. Brooks read a beautiful paper on "The Influence of Flowers on the World" showing that they are one of Nature's chiefest educators—lending into the human soul that power by whose law we are enabled to grasp the true undefiled meaning of things that are pure and sacred.

Miss Daisy Clayton then rendered one of her beautiful instrumental compositions that keeps us in touch with the harmony of things.

A committee was appointed to attend the Chamber of Commerce meeting to enlist our workers for clean-up day.

We were then left in conference with the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce who promised their co-operation and offered their hall to us to be used at any time we might desire.

"Flora" is now open to all moral womanhood. She expects to enroll a number of good women at her next meeting. The prize list will be published right away, for the different flowers and arts of the club.

The Year Book is in course of construction and when complete will be a little treasure well worth the time devoted to its making.

the wholesale trade. It is understood that he will retain his interest in the light company, in which he owns considerable stock. The intelligence of Mr. Kelley's removal from here will be received with a common feeling of regret, not only among the personal friends of the family, but all who are interested in the city's improvement and growth, as from the time he became a citizen here he has been one of the principal factors in every enterprise whether commercial, industrial or moral, that was designed to benefit the community. The business of the light company was never before so satisfactorily conducted as it has been under his administration, but his duties in that connection have never interfered with his active participation in all movement for the upbuilding of the city. As a member of the Board of Trade he was a constant and zealous worker, and whenever any duty was assigned to him his energies were never relaxed until it was thoroughly performed. The sections of splendid pike roads built within the past year extending out from the city will be permanent monuments to the civic pride and public spirit displayed by him and the band of workers associated with him in their construction.—Hillsboro Evening Mirror.
