MEACHUM GREER BILL MAY PASS

CURETON BILL CANNOT PASS THE SENATE NOR SENTER-HUME
BILL PASS THE HOUSE.

APPROPRIATION BILLS

Will Be Taken Up in the House Tomorrow—Three Weeks More of the Session.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., April 21.—Neither the house nor the senate was in session today. Nearly all the legislators are attending the San Antonio carnival.

The house expects to take up the appropriation bill tomorrow, when the members will receive the printed copies. The senate bill has not yet gone to the printers and action on the measure in the senate will be deferred until next week.

Three weeks more of the special session remain and nearly all of that time will be taken up with the appropriation and bank bills.

It has practically been ascertained that the Cureton bank deposit bill cannot pass the senate, nor the Senter-Hume bank guaranty measure pass the house. A discussion among the members foreshadows the passage now of the Meachum-Greer bill, which appears satisfactory.

Big Fish Fry at Thornberry.

Special to the Times.
Thornberry, Tex., April 20.—Not having heard from our neck of the woods for a long time, I feel it my duty to report and tell how we do things in Thornberry.

It is getting a little too dry to farm, so Saturday morning we went fishing on Red river on J. W. Berry's farm.
When we got there we found a large stove and a boat load of fish. Leo Bryan supplied the stove, Henry Bunker and crew the fish. The dressing of the fish would have been a sight to anyone that never saw the like. But the most delightful part was when Joseph Stephenson announced dinner ready. There were sixty-two of us able to get around the table and the way fish did disappear. But there was enough and to spare, and everyone had all the fish they wanted to take home. There were 500 pounds caught, varying in size from 1 to 8 pounds.
It was a day that will be remembered a long time.

The people of Thornberry have concluded that it is all for the best when it is too dry to farm it is just right to fish. So we are all right between fishing and farming. We can make a living.

Your scribe hopes they will have another fry, and if we find it out will be the editor to go, if I get to go.
OLD SETTLER.

WEST AND ALLEN WILL BE BURIED AT SHAWNEE.

Texas News Service Special.
Oklahoma City, Ok., April 21.—Mrs.

the bodies of their husbands, who were lynched by the mob at Ada Monday. Both will be buried at Shawnee, their former homes.

The women are grief stricken over the affair. They are accompanied by fifteen young children, composing both families.

Higher Court Proceedings.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., April 21.—The proceed-error were granted in the Sherman Gas and Electric Company vs. Beiden case from Grayson county.

Mineral Wells, Tex., April 21.—The

H. Warwick of Fort Worth, vice president, and Dr. E. H. Buss of Mineral Wells, secretary.

INVESTIGATION OF TYLER COURT HOUSE DEMANDED.

Texas News Service Special.
Tyler, Tex., April 21.—A sensation was sprung here today when Cone Johnson filed a petition with County Attorney Bullock, alleging that the material used in the construction of the new $160,000 court house was not in accordance with the contract and demanding an investigation. The petition was signed by many Smith county citizens. They allege that the workmanship on the building is inferior.
The brick work was done by negroes and the citizens are indignant over the fact.

Former Senator Turpie Dead.

ICE JAM AT NIAGARA FALLS IS BECOMING SERIOUS.

By Associated Press.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 21.—The ice jam here is becoming perilous. At Lewiston the ice is probably eighty feet above the normal water level.
As the jam moves down it carries the embankment before it, cutting it clean off as it passes.

NEW PYTHIAN LODGE AT IOWA PARK

A party of twenty-five members of Pioneer Lodge No. 49, Knights of Pythias of Wichita Falls went to Iowa Park yesterday afternoon where they assisted in the installation of a new Pythian lodge having forty-five members, thirty-five of whom were initiated last night, the other ten being already members of the fraternity.

Fifteen members of the order from Electra and one member from Vernon participated in the installation ceremonies. During the evening the ladies of the 1908 Library club of Iowa Park served a banquet which was one of the most elegant feasts ever spread in that section.

The menu was as follows:
Consomme and wafers, cold ham, eggs farci, sliced tomatoes, salmon croquette, french peas, risole of chicken, roast fowl, asparagus on toast, meat salad, vegetable salad, olives, pickles, celery rolls, jelly, block cheese, pies, cake, coffee, mints.
The Wichita Falls contingent returned early this morning and reported a most hospitable entertainment.

instructed to draw up an ordinance prohibiting the passing of handbills upon the streets.

fer with the Sisters of St. Mary relative to the extension of the sewers.

An order was passed, permitting J.
L. McClure, driver of the hose wagon, to occupy two rooms above the fire department headquarters.

The council spent some time in executive session.

Rev. A. J. Bush Home From Hamlin.

Rev. A. J. Bush has returned from Hamlin, where he dedicated the new Christian church Sunday. He reports that a church organization of thirty-five members there has built a neat and handsome church valued at about $3500 and that the church is free from debt. The church was organized about five months ago by Evangelist Boggers.
Rev. W. M. Peafn is pastor of the new church.

Rev. Bush was much pleased with Hamlin, which he found to be a progressive little city of about 4000 inhabitants and enjoyed his stay there very much.

The Times is requested to announce that there will be a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held at the Baptist church on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Texas News Service Special.

The rainfall yesterday covered all far north as Frederick on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, to Childress on the Fort Worth and Denver, to Newcastle on the Wichita Falls and Southern and to Stamford on the Wichita Valley.

The precipitation was generally about the same as at this place, although in some places it was lighter.
The rain revived all vegetation and will give the newly planted crops a good start.

Rain in the Concho Country.

San Angelo, Tex., April 21.—Stock-en and farmers today are rejoicing over a splendid rain which visited this entire section late yesterday,

WILL PROSECUTE LYNCHERS AT ADA

Texas News Service Special.
Ada, Ok., April 21.—As the result of a conference between County Attorney Wimblish and District Judge West at Atoka yesterday, the announcement was made today that Judge West will call a special session of the grand jury investigate and return indictments against those implicated in the lynching of four cattlemen here Monday.

Both officers declare they are determined to make a vigorous investigation and will learn the names of the leaders of the mob. The court will hold its session at Ada and it is said will commence the investigation next Monday.
Attorney Wimblish says that the members of the mob will be punished to the fullest extent of the law if he can prove anything against them and says he believes he can do this.

The citizens of the town are still reticent regarding the affair.

The rain thoroughly soaked the ground for the first time in six months.

ton of a young white woman in the died with blood.

CHANGE TODAY IN RECEIVERS

STATE RECEIVER ECKHARDT TO TAKE CHARGE OF WATERS-
PIERCE CO. PROPERTY.

120 BILLS, $10,000 EACH

Some of Biggest Money Uncle Sam Makes Contained in Shipment of Cash to Austin.

Austin, Tex., April 20.—Formal transfer of jurisdiction over the property of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in Texas and actual control thereof will be made Wednesday afternoon in Sherman when Robert J. Eckhardt, State receiver, will take it over from C. B.
Dorchester, who has been receiver under an order from Federal Judge Bryant. Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot will be in Sherman, having left for that place tonight. Mr. Eckhardt is in Sherman, having departed from Taylor last night.

Taylor to Be Headquarters.

The headquarters of the company will be moved from Sherman to Taylor.
The surrender of the property follows an order made by Federal Judge Bryant at Beaumont Monday in obedience to the mandate of the highest court in the land, the United States Supreme Court. Judge Lightfoot secured the order from Judge Bryant at Beaumont and returned to Austin this morning.
He will go to Sherman to see the transfer is made in due form, with the State protected in all respects, and its receiver safely ensconced in his rights.
Mr. Lightfoot will act for Attorney General Davidson, who is in San Antonio.

To Pay Fine Saturday.

The oil company has made several offers to pay the fine and interest, totalling $1,808,000, and the money has been sent to Austin and reached here today by express, but Judge Lightfoot authorizes the statement the money will not be received by the State until Saturday. He does not expect to return from Sherman until Friday late, after banking and office hours, and will not be in a position to take the money until Saturday, as he originally announced. The State's receiver must be in full possession of the oil company's property before the State will accept any of the penalty money.

It is understood the shipment of cash from New York to pay the fine includes 120 $10,000 bills, being currency of the largest denominations made by Uncle Sam.

No Affair of Legislature.

There is no truth in the report the legislature will have to appropriate the money necessary to pay the attorneys in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company case. The legislature has nothing to do with the payment of the fees.
In fact, the treasurer would have no authority to accept an amount other than the amount of the penalties with the attorneys' fees deducted. The penalties will be collected by the attorneys for the State, of which County Attorney Brady is one, the fees deducted in accordance with the recent ruling of the State supreme court and the balance paid into the treasury. The supreme court held specifically as to the terms of the law under which the fees shall be collected.

School Board Made a Good Trade.

The school board thinks that in buying a half block of ground on Broad street that they made a good trade.
We can easily get the $9,000 paid for this property back by selling it if we don't want to use it. It would be no trouble to get our contract taken up by individuals. Just half this amount of ground across Eleventh street would have cost $8,000. The location from every point of view is a good one. It is on the car line and is accessible from all parts of the city. Very truly, W. J. BULLOCK.

T. J. WAGGONER'S BARN BURNS

The barn of T. J. Waggoner on South this afternoon just before the Times cause of the fire is unknown.

TO GOV. CAMPBELL

PRESIDENT OF THE COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES ASSOCIATION DEFENDS ORGANIZATION.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTIONS

Bitterly Denies that a Lobby is Maintained at Austin to Direct Legislation.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 16.—To Hon. T. M. Campbell, Governor of Texas: Sir—In your message reconvening the Thirty-First Legislature in extraordinary session, for the second time, you delivered yourself of the following misrepresentation:

"I have interpreted the democratic platform without the aid of the liquor lobby, railroad lobby or of the commercial secretaries' lobby, which last mentioned instrument is the nucleus around which is gathered every special interest now represented at the Capitol. Its headquarters established in Austin upon the assembling of this legislature, with the evident purpose of directing legislation, is supported from a source unknown to you or to me. We can only surmise from the character of its work. I have interpreted the platform as I understand it, and as the people understand it, and not according to the view of those interested or of those politicians who have shown a marked activity in their efforts to defeat all legislative action except to pass an appropriation bill and go home."

From the very first the Commercial Secretaries' organization has been offensive to you for the reason, I presume, that it has dared to discuss the economies of State and to encroach upon the self-assumed prerogative of an arrogant family of office seeking and office holding politicians to conduct the enlightenment of the people, with respect to public policies, free from the interruption of thoughtful voters and progressive citizens who feel a deep concern in government and in the growth and welfare of the State.

The Legislature may treat your reflections upon its right to interpret platform demands without the interference of the executive, as it chooses, or it may resent or tolerate your petulant criticisms of it as it pleases. With that I have nothing to do beyond the entertainment of my own opinion about it as a citizen of Texas who believes even now that the spirit of democracy still lives and that the constitution still has some binding effect upon the consciences and deeds of officials whom the people in their sovereign capacity choose to be, not their dictators and masters, but their representatives and servants.

But I do feel myself competent and authorized to speak for the Commercial Secretaries' Association, and to that phase of your extraordinary message I shall address myself with all the candor which your unwarranted assault upon that organization invites.

You say that you have "interpreted the Democratic platform, without the aid of the Commercial Secretaries' lobby." You have done nothing of the kind, for the Commercial Secretaries have had no lobby at Austin. They have done no lobbying with the members of the legislature in behalf of their organization or in behalf of any interest that may have been or that may now be quartered at Austin. If you do not know this, it is because you wilfully refuse to know the truth. I have had personal charge of the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association established at Austin, and was the authorized representative of that organization in legislative matters. I have never discussed legislation of any character or description with any member of the Thirty-First Legislature, before or since the convening of that body, and our aid has never been solicited or given to the representatives of railroads, prohibitionists, anti-prohibitionists or any other special interests. The force maintained at Austin consisted of myself and one stenographer.

Again you say in this message, to which I am addressing this letter: "Its headquarters, established in Austin upon the assembling of this legislature, with the evident purpose of directing legislation, is supported from a source unknown to you or to me. We can only surmise from the character of its work."

The mission of the Commercial Secretaries was conceived by citizens whose names are mentioned herein and their associates. Every one of them is a contributor to the support of the organization, and that you would know if you were frank as they in their work for Texas, or wanted to know as a fellow patriot desiring, instead of spurning, their competent and effective aid. You, in effect, declare that citizens of Texas like Paul Waples of Fort Worth, Royal A. Ferris of Dallas and J. B. Wilson of Dallas, B. W. Williams and D. H. Scott of Paris, John L. Spruill of Hamilton, B. B. Cain of Tyler, W. B. Munson and G. L. Blackford of Denison, J. M. Lindsey of Gainesville, R. E. Smith of Sherman, E. W. Kirkpatrick and J. White of McKinney and William Cameron of Waco, O. E. Dunlap of Waxahachie, E. J. Fry of Marshall, R. J. Kleberg of Kingsville, J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, W. C. Stripling and W. G. Burton and S. B. Burnett of Fort Worth, M. Lasker and I. H. Kempner of Galveston, Cato Sells of Cleburne, W. D. Cleveland Jr. and J. M. Rockwall of Houston, C. B. Mulally and Edwin Chamberlain of San Antonio, J. A. Happer and Z. T. White of El Paso, W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo, Walter, Tips of Austin, L. M. Bule of Stamford, George W. Carroll and W. P. H. McFaddin of Beaumont, and a host of others were in league with the corporations and in secret covenant with the special interests. I submit whether these men are trustworthy and representative citizens of Texas, or whether they have not been identified with interests in their respective communities that have advanced the development of the State and the promotion of the general welfare quite as much, to put the proposition as mildly as respect for the exalted position you occupy will allow, as you and some of your adherents, who are so free to impugn the motives and assault the integrity of your fellow citizens, have done or are capable of doing? I wonder what quality is in such citizens as these that prompts you to charge them with having created and set to work 'instrument that is the nucleus around which is gathered every selfish interest at the capitol.' It is easy enough for an executive who does not resent the entry of business men into the arena of economic thought as an intrusion to review the work of the Commercial Secretaries and to learn the truth about it.

Detailed reports of the receipts and disbursements of the funds of the association have been made from time to time to the members of commercial clubs when requested. An annual report will be made at our State meeting, which will be held within the next sixty days. If a special report is desired it can be secured by any member of a commercial organization on application through their local club. The work of the organization has been done in the open and is before the public, and has had for its goal the betterment of conditions in Texas. During the session of the Thirty-First Legislature the organization, from its headquarters in Austin, issued a roster of the members of the Thirty-First Legislature. For this the association was given a vote of thanks by the senate. It issued a roster of standing committees and defined the duties of each. It compiled a product map, showing the wealth produced by the farms, mines, factories and fisheries of Texas by counties during 1908 for the information of inquiring legislators and others who cared to become informed on the subject. No information concerning the developed or undeveloped resources of the State could be found on file in any of the departments of State at Austin for public distribution. The interest which the public takes in such literature may be illustrated by the demand for the maps. The map has been reissued three times, and foreign consuls have requested copies to place on file in European libraries, and requests have come for copies from all over the United States. Copies of the journal, giving daily proceedings of the house and senate have been furnished commercial clubs for the information of their members and citizens interested in legislation; copies of bills and special reports on legislation have been made to commercial clubs when requested; copies of laws of general interest have been printed and distributed and every service possible rendered local commercial clubs.

The Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association, by disseminating information concerning the resources of the State and by directing attention to the conditions which are necessary to the permanent prosperity of Texas, has done far more to carry into the legislation of the State the intent of the recommendation and pledge made to capital and industry in the platform adopted at the San Antonio convention than you, who have resented its activities and maligned its motives, while scheming to strike down local self-government and to erect upon its ruins a centralized government with the headquarters in the capitol, the unbridled power of which should be lodged in a municipality of boards and bureaus. Respectfully, J. A. ARNOLD, Secretary Legislative Committee, Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

WEATHER FORECAST.
For Wichita Falls and Vicinity —Tonight fair and colder, with frost. Thursday fair and warmer.

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 21st, 1909.

Attorney General Davidson has virtually announced that he will be a candidate for governor next year, or at least says in an interview that he will accept the nomination if tendered. The chances are, however, that the nomination for that honor will be most diligently sought after before it is tendered to any one of the several prospective candidates, and with such men as Cone Johnson, O. B. Colquitt and probably two or three more fully as prominent and able politicians or statesmen in the race, the campaign for governor next year will be quite interesting with the result in doubt until the vote is counted. Davidson is strong before the people of Texas, as is likewise Johnson and Colquitt, but if it should simmer down to a three-cornered race, and the prohibition issue injected into the campaign, Cone Johnson, being a pro., will have the edge a little bit on his two opponents, both of whom are pronounced antis.

Lawyer Politicians Get all the Jobs.
James Stephen Hogg, the founder of the Texas railroad commission, was of the opinion that it should be made up of one lawyer, one practical railroad man and one business man or farmer, familiar with the interests involved. Modern politicians have reversed all this and now it is declared that three lawyers are necessary. The business and faring interests of the State, the shippers, so to speak, are without representation. This is a funny old world—this world of ours and the lawyer-politicians grab all the jobs. It will be in order later along to name a lawyer-politician as State expert printer.—Dallas Times Herald.

Penalties of Indolence and Filth.

Dallas News.
The person who pays a heavy doctor bill and probably a much sadder account to somebody else as the result of a fever or other ailment in the family may not derive much consolation from subsequent knowledge of the fact that the whole penalty as well as the grievous loss might have been prevented by the timely expenditure of a few dollars in cleaning-house or in repairing the screens or the drainage. It is a well known fact that most ailments of children are traceable to animals, insects or to vermin. There are some who send for the doctor when the thing to do is to clean the house.

New Orleans and several other cities of the South have begun a war of extermination on mosquitoes and flies, directed by their health officers and upheld by police authority. New Orleans especially is engaged in a crusade against both of these pests. Mosquitoes are to be destroyed by destroying their breeding places. Every precaution is being taken. Stagnant water that cannot be drained is being treated by the oil process. Once a week every pond about the city is oiled. People are educated to keep their premises clean and free of all places where mosquitoes might possibly breed. Houses are screened; people are urged to attend to this duty without delay. A member of the New Orleans health board is out in an interview urging every precaution against the common house fly. He says among other things:

Already in our midst, the housefly, the dirty fly, the typhoid and cholera infantum fly, will soon swarm in thousands and millions, unless precautions are taken. The housefly, which we were taught in our childhood to treat with kindness, has been exposed. Its habits are filthy. It breeds in stables and garbage pails and carries the filth it reveals in tracks it across the sugar, the butter and the beefsteak. It paddles its horrid feet, gummy with the vilest rotting matter, in the baby's milk. The doctors have declared war on the housefly. It probably disseminates every disease. It is a nuisance. It can be driven out of every city. In an age of knowledge, screens and cheap disinfectants there is no excuse for flies in any household. Clean up your premises and report to the health department your neighbor who does not. Get rid of breeding places of flies and you will get rid of flies.

There is no family so poor it cannot afford to screen its home. Screens will turn away all flies as well as mosquitoes. The unscreened house, in other words, is a dangerous thing, and screens on windows and outside doors are an excellent investment from several points of view.

From the same city comes a card bearing the following advice to the people of all the Southern cities:

There ought to be some way to compel landlords to screen houses, flats and tenements against flies. People ought to be compelled to screen their windows and doors so flies cannot get in. Especially should this be enforced in the tenement districts. If the poor tenants of these houses will not do it, the landlords ought to be compelled to do it. We will try and work out a plan that will be fair to all, but that will compel the screening of all houses. The News quotes the foregoing in full, because it presents the problem as clearly as it could be presented in any other language. Now is the time when this sort of work should be done. Unless it is done soon the afflicted members of the family, as well as others not yet afflicted may be confidently expected to develop chills and fever or other diseases that come of the well known causes. It will pay to clean up, to patch your screens, to dispense with all useless household pets that endanger the comfort and health of your family. Unless this is done, the indolence may be confidently expected to have its bad and sad ending in due time.

In and About New York

Automobiles Destroying the People's Patience at a Rapid Rate.

It is safe to say that ninety-nine of every hundred New Yorkers hate automobiles as the devil hates holy water. The hundredth man is either in the auto business or owns an automobile which has not yet had time to kill him or somebody else or to make his bank balance on the wrong side of his book. No matter how nice some of the more costly machines are to look at and long for, they are all pretty much alike in their ability to pollute the air with stifling odors and dust, spoil any and all good roads that are not of solid stone or good old original American mud, pierce the air with barbaric sounds, scare a lot of people almost to death and kill others so quickly and unexpectedly that they have not time to be scared. Nobody who knows the mechanism of these machines doubts that they might be propelled through the streets without subjecting any one to harm or annoyance, but nobody who knows human nature doubts that the kind of men who are fond of automobiling and spend most money and time on it will never cease to menace life and comfort until their impulses are restrained by the strong arm of the law with a big fist at the end of it and a policeman's club in the fist. As a sample of these fellows' contempt for law and order and other people's rights, more than a hundred of them were arrested recently for cause in a single evening in a single street of this city, although not all the evening was given on the job or the entire street under surveillance. Honest autoists, for there are such, confess to their friends that the longing to go fast is as irresistible as the craze for drink, it seems to be a bit of human dynamite that can't be controlled after it begins business. I have seen it turn truthful men into unblushing liars for the time being and incite loveable women with babies in their arms to wild glee when their auto frightened older women on the street crossings. There are exceptions to the rule, as there are occasional honest men in jail, but the "We-own-the-earth" and "The-public-be-d---d" manner of autoists in general has created a general sentiment of rage that may yet make the people take the law into their own hands. A law forbidding the existence of automobiles capable of making more than ten miles an hour has been talked of in New York, and undoubtedly it would reform the "sport" out of existence, for it would rule out the pestilent class that cares nothing about riding but everything for speeding. Tollgates too, with high charges, are being discussed in the suburbs, where the finest macadam roads in America are being ruined by huge, heavy, speedy touring-cars belonging to men who are not tax-payers in the town or county whose property is being destroyed. Something radical to abate the nuisance is sure to be devised before long, no matter how much money the auto-makers and drivers may put up to defeat it.

A Primeval Forest Within the City.

As New York was the first American town to put on airs and call itself a city, a man in search of a bit of primeval forest would hardly expect to find it here. Yet we have one, and not in the more recently annexed area either, but right on Manhattan Island. Some of the trees are so old, although still healthy, that they had got their growth when Hendrick Hudson first sailed into the river which bears his name; and behind them was an Indian village from which emerged a husky lot of sons of the forest families of Manhattan who put up a good fight against Hudson's crew. This forest is at the extreme northern end of the island, and although residence sites on the edge of it command about a hundred thousand dollars an acre the wilder portions have not yet seen a surveyor's lines and stakes. It owes its longevity to its ground-plan, which, like the East Indian kingdom of one of Rudyard Kipling's characters, is principally on edge and in holes. Any one attempting to build in it would have to convey his materials by balloon or sink a deep shaft through granite rock and then tunnel many hundreds of feet to a practicable road. But the coming Hendrick Hudson memorial celebration indirectly called attention to this bit of nature unspoiled; a handsome bridge to keep the old explorer in mind is to be erected near by, and the forest is probably to be acquired by the city and preserved as a public park.

City Beneficiaries Unwelcome in the Country.

There might be more and greater public beneficiaries if it were not for the difficulty in finding sites for them, but city real estate is too costly and too hard to find in large plots for the purposes which some good millionaires have at heart, and there is almost unanimous opposition, in all the suburban districts within easy call, to the erection of what are called "institutions" within their limits. Almost all our local hospitals, asylums, sanitariums, etc., which have needed to enlarge their facilities have been obliged to go out of the city to do it, and there are so many of them already in Westchester county, contiguous to the city, that a map showing them all resembles one of certain parts of the far west where Indian reservations are as close together as thieves at a county fair. The ground was purchased when it was cheap, railway speed was much less than it is now and high rents had not driven hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers to suburban villages. But now any land within an hour and a quarter of a railway station is worth thousands of dollars an acre to cut up into building sites, and would-be buyers are swarming all over it, to find in many cases that just the ground they want most of all is part of the site of a projected hospital, asylum or something of the kind, or is being held by the owner for a big bid from a company which has the money to start a new and enormous cemetery. Like several which may already be seen in a fifteen mile ride on a single suburban railway. Of course, nobody wants to live in a town with a hundred acre cemetery or institution with no thoroughfares through it, and with no other way of getting from one part of town to another without going around two or three sides of a high fence from half a mile to a mile long. The institutions like farther and farther out, so the would-be founders of new benefices for the afflicted and helpless; the natives wish them well on general principles, but—won't they please look a little farther out the road? A thoughtful lunatic in Bloomingdale Asylum has given the subject much attention and concluded that the only way out of the trouble is to move New York itself, with all its helpless and afflicted dependents, several hundred miles up State to a county where land is abundant, too poor for farming, sparsely populated and therefore very cheap. But even this plan has its weak spots.

Millions of Rich Men's Money Going Where It Will Do Most Good.

So much gets into print about the way in which millionaires squander money on things which the reader is sure he would not look at if the cash were his, that it is pleasing to record a different kind of expenditure by some people who have money to burn, and don't let it scorch their fingers or their souls. A few days ago a daughter of the late Jeremiah Milbank gave the Children's Aid Society a full half million dollars to found a free sanitarium in the country for sick and crippled children. She had already given the city a superb outfit of public baths that cost a hundred and fifty thousand dollars and placed it just where it could be used principally by people too poor to hire homes with bathrooms in them, and she and her brother have given three million dollars to New York's Barnard College, the great women's school under the wing of Columbia university, which is drawing aspiring girls from every State in the Union and many from Europe and the waking nations of Asia. Her father established "The People's Palace" in Jersey City, across the river from New York—a building suggested by Walter Besant in his novel "All Sorts and Conditions of Men." Unlike Besant's heroine, Mr. Milbank gave the "palace" to a church, but the thousands of men and women who use it do not find it a bit the worse on that account. Large sums of money for similar purposes are being given from month to month by wealthy New Yorkers, but much of it is bestowed so modestly and impersonally that the general public do not know anything about it until they chance to see or hear about a great, new, perfectly appointed structure that can not possibly bring any money into the pocket of the founder.

4TH REGIMENT BAND

The Fourth Regiment Band of Weatherford is the acknowledged leader of musical organizations in Texas, and the band carries with it the best vocal talent in the State.

The Chamber of Commerce has contracted to bring this organization to Wichita Falls to crystallize the growing sentiment that Wichita Falls should organize a similar military band second to none in the State.

Sufficient talent to accomplish this object has been practically arranged for and all that is necessary is that the citizens of Wichita Falls attest by their presence their unqualified approval of the project, so that the necessary financing can be accomplished in short order. Free weekly band concerts at the court house square will be given after the military organization of musicians is completed.

Parquet seats are $1 and balcony 75 cents. Tickets can be procured by phoning the Chamber of Commerce, No. 390, these tickets to be exchanged for reserved seats at the Wichita Theater, beginning with April 21st.

Tickets can also be purchased at the theater box office.

A portion of the proceeds will go into a starting fund for the new band.

"Boost the Band That Will Boost the Boosters."

PRESS COMMENTS.
In the State contest for bands yesterday at Gaston Park, first prize was awarded to the Fourth Regiment Band of Weatherford.—Dallas News

The band as a whole is so well balanced, that to find fault or criticize intelligently, one would have to be a master of the musical art. It is by far the best band that has visited Brownwood.—Brownwood Daily Bulletin.

The concert last night at the capitol grounds by the prize winning Weatherford Band of the Fourth Infantry, was without doubt the best ever rendered in Austin.—The Austin Statesman, July, 1907.

Lovers of good music were treated Saturday night at the Lyceum Theater to a program of classic and popular selections by the Fourth Regiment Band of Weatherford. Their music is equal to that of the best concert bands, and the boys have made many friends on their tour of West Texas by their gentlemanly conduct as well as their music.—Abilene Reporter.

In the Casino, at Elmhurst Park, last night one thousand people listened to the Fourth Regiment Band in one of their best programs. That the crowd was delighted was attested from the fact that an encore was demanded to every number. Texas is justly proud of this band.—Mineral Wells Health Resort.

Believing it to be to the best interests of both that they should be accorded different dates, the meeting is, for the present time, at least, withdrawn, and will be arranged for at a later date.

Ex-Editor of the Times Pays a Compliment.

Mt. Pleasant, Tex., April 19, 1909.—Wichita Times, Wichita Falls, Texas: Through the kindness of some friend, I received a copy of the Daily Times special edition, and so soon as I could get my breath after reading it over in a perfect wonderment at the marvelous development of 'The Best Built City in Texas' and of the success of my friends along with that development, I wish to add my humble praises for success so deservedly won. It makes me want to come back home.

Inquiring friends may be glad to know that I am enjoying a good business here; and that this town, too, is coming rapidly to the front as a watering place and summer resort.

With best wishes for 'The Best Built City' and her citizens, I am, Yours truly, W. M. TABB.

P. S.—Here's a dollar; send me the Weekly Times a year.

Lest you forget, we have the largest line of millinery in the city.

The Phoenix Sanitary Duster

This duster is made from rope manilla. It will outwear any duster of any other material costing five times the price. Being of glazed rope manilla dust will not adhere to it as to other dusters, as it can be gathered upon it and readily shaken off. It will do the work other dusters fail to do, as it can be shoved into corners, shelves and crevices without being injured. It will not scratch fine surfaces as other dusters will. Moths or other insects will not destroy it as other dusters. It does not contain or will it convey any germs of disease, and is absolutely the only sanitary duster offered the public. The lasting qualities of the Phoenix are greater than any other duster, and it is sold under a guarantee to last ONE YEAR. The price is ridiculously cheap--15c with wire handle and 25c with wood handle, and are far superior to any feather duster made.
