APPROPRIATION BILL IS CUT

GOVERNOR ELIMINATES OVER $2,000,000 FROM THE STATE'S EXPENDITURES.

BOND ITEM IS VETOED

University and A. and M. College Suffer—Nearly All Institutions are Pared.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., May 29.—Gov. Campbell submitted his veto message on the appropriation bill late yesterday, he cutting out a total of $2,251,481—by far the biggest slice ever cut off by a chief executive. Of this amount, the bond retirement item represents about half, being $1,068,900. The rest comes out of the department and State institutions appropriations. The university appropriation of $240,000, or $480,000, was cut to $380,000. The Agricultural and Mechanical college suffered in an amount about equal. The San Jacinto battlefield appropriation was cut out in toto, and every State institution suffered under the knife, an average of $30,000 being taken from each. The scholarship appropriations for the normals were knocked out, and many building appropriations were eliminated.

In vetoing the bond item, the governor indulges himself in some caustic remarks upon the legislature in general, criticizing their extravagance quite sharply.

Dr. L. Coons received a letter yesterday from Dr. Dudley Miller, demonstrator in charge of the Texas Tuberculosis Exhibit, confirming a telephone message received several days ago as to the dates for the exhibit here—on June 6, 7 and 8.

Dr. Coons is now making arrangements for the exhibit and a further announcement will be made later.

A supply of literature relative to the exhibit has also been received.

The Fort Worth baseball team arrived today for two games with the Wichita Falls nine. This afternoon and tomorrow the nines will meet and two sharp contests are looked for. INSTALL NEW PHONE SERVICE TONIGHT

When the citizens of Wichita Falls arise tomorrow morning they will find that the night has brought them a very material improvement in telephone service. Promptly after midnight tonight the Southwestern Company will change to the "flashlight" system, installing the improved switchboard in their new headquarters at Eighth street and Indiana avenue.

Under the new system, the necessity of turning the crank when calling central is eliminated, and it is necessary only to lift the receiver. This turns on a tiny incandescent light in front of the operator, the light remaining on until connection is secured. When this improvement is in working order, Wichita Falls will have as efficient service as any city in the State.

The management expects to "cut over" after midnight tonight. It is planned to have a reception in the big new building soon, when the improved plant and its workings will be open to the inspection of the public.

John W. Dale and Mrs. Ellen Gillard of Syracuse, N. Y., were married at Fort Worth last Wednesday, and are residing at Wichita Falls temporarily. The groom is well-known in newspaper circles in northwest Texas—Bowie Cross Timbers.

GOVERNOR HAS MADE NUMEROUS ENEMIES

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., May 29.—Gov. Campbell's slashing of the appropriation bill to the tune of two million dollars has caused no little stir among some of the State departments, which regard his action unfavorably. The governor seemed indifferent to the increased duties in the departments and cut out applications for necessary help. The cutting out of the appropriations for the State university and A. and M. college is also causing much comment, especially his action regarding the A. and M. college.

A number of State officials and employees point out that while many State institutions suffered by the veto, the appropriations to benefit the Rusk iron industry and the State railroad at Palestine were let alone.

COOKE COURTHOUSE GOES UP IN FLAMES

ANCIENT STRUCTURE AT GAINESVILLE DESTROYED THIS MORNING.

RECORDS ARE BURNED

Important Papers are Missing—Building Was Old and in Very Poor Repair.

Texas News Service Special.
Gainesville, Tex., May 29.—The Cooke county courthouse was destroyed by fire this morning, the building being a total loss. Many important papers went up in smoke, and a very small part of the official records and belongings was saved from the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is fifty thousand dollars, with about one-third insurance.

The building was erected in 1878 and was in a very poor state of repair when burned. It was an architectural monstrosity, being considered one of the ugliest public buildings in the state.

Back to the Wood Ticks.

There is a class of homeseekers which are not wanted here under any consideration, and when we come to think of it, we do not believe they are wanted anywhere else. We refer to the "post-oak-er," the man who will mortgage his stove, to raise money to go to the circus with.

We have only two classes of people here: The man who is considered good and who can get goods or money on his mere say-so, and the fellow who is not considered worthy of confidence. The latter will have a hard time of it raising money on security even, being considered undesirable to have any dealings with.

Now we haven't got the class of men in this country who sponge off of the improvidence of such weaklings, and the upshot is that the "post-oak-er" seldom stays long. He cannot find congenial company here, is out of his element and the fleshpots of Egypt forever haunt his memory. Let him go back to where he came from, to the country that is best suited for his style of beings. Here we have neither time nor inclination to help people who won't help themselves, and their growing and fault finding about everything in this country falls upon unappreciative ears.—Quannah Friberg-Chief.

Holding Up the Milk.

John Burroughs, the eminent naturalist, makes the following statement on this subject in the Outing Magazine:

"Most farmers and country people think that the 'giving down' or 'holding up' the milk by the cow is a voluntary act. In fact, they fancy that the udder is a vessel filled with milk, and that the cow releases or withholds it just as she chooses. But the udder is a 'manufactory'; it is filled with blood from which the milk is manufactured while you milk. This process is controlled by the cow's nervous system; when she is excited or in any way disturbed, as by a stranger or by taking away her calf, or any other cause, the process is arrested and the milk will not flow. The nervous energy goes elsewhere. The whole process is as involuntary as is digestion in man, and is disturbed or arrested in about the same way."

It is well for those who are inclined to use the milk stool on a cow when she refuses to "let the milk down" to remember Mr. Burroughs' statements, which are without question correct.—Quannah Friberg-Chief.

Some of the leading papers over the district are urging Hon. R. W. Hall to offer himself for the State senate to take the place that will be vacated by Hon. John W. Veal, since he will not stand for re-election in the approaching campaign. While Mr. Hall would be the man to send to Austin, either as a senator or governor, yet it is hardly likely that he will consent for his name to go before the people, owing to his time all being taken up with his law practice.—Vernon Record.

HIS ITALIAN TOUR.
 (By Walter Trumbull.)
The Bridge Fiend Speaks.
 The trip across was rather slow; I recollect the boat rolled so, Really we were scarcely able To keep the cards upon the table.
 Naples? Like fools we showed our packs And had to pay a custom tax. The light was poor at the hotel— One couldn't see the dummy well.
 I don't remember Rome. Oh, yes, That's where I took that club finesse When playing with Lord What's-His-Name; It saved two tricks and won the game.
 Florence was marvelous. 'Twas there I held that combination rare, One hundred aces in my hand; It was my deal—I made a "grand."
 The railroads? Say, don't talk to me Of railroading in Italy! It's quite impossible to play, You run through tunnels all the way.
 Venice was nice, but damp, you know, The cards all stick together so. At Genoa we took the ship And ended our Italian trip.

Travel of course, improves the mind, But, just the same, I am inclined To think you find as many dubs Playing abroad as in our clubs.

The Floral Club.
 The Floral Club was serenely gathered at the Tenth street home of Mrs. Ed Orr on last Tuesday from 4 to 6.

With one sweep of the eye, as we entered the cozily arranged parlors, we were carried from the designs of brush and chisel that vied with the floral clusters fresh from nature's scented wealth, that filled our souls with touches of the beauties promised, existent in a land of paradise.

Responses to roll call were the sayings of wise old Solomon from the book of Proverbs, many of which ran "Happy is the one that findeth wisdom for the merchandise of it is better than silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold."

The lesson was opened by a lengthy paper on the "Study of Botany" and its values to the progress of the Floral Club, by Mrs. Alex Kerr, followed by a general discussion of the best plans of work for the month of June.

After discussing the many phases relative to our purposes and aims, we surrendered all subjects to our hostess, who added to the pleasures of the afternoon by refreshing our pent-up

JUDGE RYE'S BOOK IS OFF THE PRESS
 Judge Edgar Rye, of this city has complimented the Times with a copy of his book, the "Quilt and Spur," a story of the frontier days in Texas, with old Fort Griffin as the scene. The book is an attractive volume from the press of W. B. Conkey, of Hammond, Ind., and contains 363 pages. The cover is especially artistic and typographically the book is as fine a piece of workmanship as any that has come under our observation. While we have not had time to read the volume we know that it will prove interesting to any reader and will be a valuable contribution to Texas literature and history.
 Judge Rye is eminently qualified to write such a story, having been located at old Fort Griffin many years when that post probably deserved the term "wild and woolly." While telling the story of those days on the frontier the author has woven into it the thread of a romance which makes the reading thereof all the more interesting.
 The volume is embellished with fifteen illustrations drawn by the author. The book deserves a more extended notice than is given here which is deferred until we have had an opportunity to read it.
 Ex-sheriff W. J. Howard, is the local agent for the book and we commend it to the people of this city.

With total resources of nearly ONE QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS, we are in a position to meet the reasonable needs of all customers.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE NEW YORK

New York, May 29.—And still the elusive members of the "Black Hand" continues to devote themselves to their favorite pastime of killing their enemies and such persons as are unwilling to share their wealth with the thugs. The police department is kept busy making a record of the daily outrages and investigating them. The result is invariably the same. The police find that the victim is dead, but never succeed in identifying or catching the murder or murderers. In view of that fact it is rather amusing that the state legislature has recently passed a law increasing the penalty for extortion or blackmailing from five to fifteen years. This makes one think of the old recipe for rabbit stew: "First catch the rabbit, etc." What good is there in making the punishment more severe if the men guilty of the offense are never caught.

Some individuals seem to have a highly exaggerated notion of their own value and importance in this world. An estimate often greatly at variance with that held by their contemporaries. Some woman asks half a million, to compensate her for a broken heart and the injury suffered by her reputation, while even her most intimate friends must admit that her reputation would not bring fifteen cents even among her friends and that nothing less than a seven-ton drop-hammer would ever make any impression upon her.

As a rule the basis for damages demanded in such cases is entirely imaginary. Even in bona fide cases of mental injury it is rather difficult to cents. A remarkable exception was presented by a suit for damages for unjustified arrest, which was filed in the courts a few days ago. The complainant in the suit claims that in consequence of the worry and humiliation caused by his false arrest he lost twenty pounds in weight. Inasmuch as the man demands $10,000 damages, this would indicate that he estimates himself at $500 a pound. Considering the fact that many a man or woman would gladly pay from $100 to $10,000 to get rid of twenty or more pounds of irksome excess flesh, this estimate seems rather high.

It has often been asserted that the insane jokes and pictures of "funny" sheets of the Sunday papers are a menace to the intellect of the readers. A case which happened here the other day proves that these alleged "funny" sheets may even cause physical injury to reckless readers. An old man was so bored by the reading of one of those sheets that he yawned and dislocated his jaw. The jaw was put in its proper place again after he had suffered considerable pain and the old man swore, after this that he would choose some more interesting matter for reading, like tables of logarithms or last year's annual report of the weather-bureau.

The case of the suburbanite in Mt. Vernon who was fined the other day because his rooster maintained the traditions of his species by crowing at day-break every morning, has caused the sympathies of the thousands of other commuters guilty of the crime of keeping chickens in their backyards. Many of them have studied the problem presented by the case with great seriousness and have evolved the most ingenious theories concerning the best method of keeping roosters from crowing. Philosophy, natural history, physics and psychology have been pressed into service but, strange to say, not one of the would-be advisors seems to have thought of calling common sense to his aid.

Rather complicated and peculiar relations are the result of a marriage which was solemnized here a few days ago. The son of a wealthy paper manufacturer living in Orange, N. J., married the younger sister of his father's wife, thus becoming the brother-in-law of his father and of his stepmother. His wife is the sister-in-law of her father-in-law and the daughter-in-law of her own sister.

The congressional garden seed did not come up very well this year.—Titus Times-Review.
We spend one year electing candidates to office and then for 12 months we wonder who will be in the race the next term.—Nocona News.
It is evident that Senator Bailey and Governor Campbell do not think alike on the sacredness of "platform demands."—Denton Record and Chronicle.
Has the Marlow Review an editorial donkey? It appears so from this item: "The man who wilfully and maliciously slanders his fellow man should be kicked to death by a donkey, and we would like to be the one to do it."—Duncan Review.

All this rot about Tom Campbell wanting to succeed Senator Culberson is hatched up by the Bailey papers for the purpose of opposing both Campbell and Culberson. No one except Culberson will be in the next race for senator. Campbell is a good man and would do honor to the office, but he could not and would not succeed Culberson.—Hall County Herald.
Don't send out of town for your daughter's wedding stationery, then expect the local newspaper man to violate the 10-hour law preparing a long-winded "puff" about the beauty, sweetness, refinement, angelic disposition, and so-forth of the young lady when she hooks up for keeps with her prominent, worthy, high-topped, and soon fellow. Don't.—Wise County Messenger.

Some men in this world claim to be enterprising citizens, yet they will force their wives to do all the chores about the house, milk the cow, do all the housework, and while they are sitting around with their feet propped up on their desk, order their wife to hitch up the horse and buggy, bring it to the office and then inform them that they can walk back home, sometimes half a mile, sometimes more. What do you think of the enterprise (?) of a man like this?—Byers Sentinel.

It seems that Stamford can get almost anything she wants for the asking. Wednesday, according to agreement all the business houses in the city were closed from 10 to 12 o'clock and the members of every church in the city met at the revival meeting that was being conducted by the Central Christian church, to make intercession for rain. The entire day was spent in honoring God. The ministers of every church in the city addressed the large audience. Their prayers were answered, for ere the sun had shone on another day a fine rain had fallen. It was the first rain Stamford had had for about six months. Stamford has the reputation of securing anything she asks for.—Monday Times.

A press dispatch from Gainesville today says that Judge M. M. Brooks has about decided to make the race for governor. This is not surprising. When the judge is not a candidate for some office or honor "it ain't him."

Governor Campbell, after cutting down the appropriation bill two-and-a-quarter million dollars, approved. The total appropriated by the Thirty-first legislature was $11,531,985. The State University was the greatest sufferer from the governor's pruning knife, as an even $100,000 was lopped off. The governor says this was done at the suggestion of the board of regents.

Georgia is having a big strike on account of negro firemen. No negro firemen are now employed in Texas, all of the big systems declining to use the blacks on the cabs many years ago. On some of the logging roads in East Texas, and possibly in the lower regions of the gulf coast, negroes fire the engines, but these are not looked upon as railroads with competent, transportation facilities. The danger of the Georgia trouble extending to this state is therefore remote.—Abilene Reporter.

Illinois' New Senator.
The election of William Lorimer to the United States senate by the Illinois legislature breaks a deadlock that has existed for four months, but it has not cured the dissensions which produced this remarkable struggle. On the contrary the spirit of faction has been complicated. Lorimer's election was brought about through a coalition of a minority of the republicans and the democratic membership. As desirable as the defeat of Hopkins was, it is doubtful if the situation has been improved by the election of Lorimer, and it is certainly disgraceful that any democrat should have had a part in it.

There are some respectable republicans of ability and character in Illinois. That these should have been rejected for a low type of machine politician such as Lorimer is bad enough, but that the result should have been effected through the connivance of democrats means a degree of faithlessness that will make it difficult for the party to regain a substantial footing in Illinois soon.
Before his election to congress in 1896, Lorimer was a leading spirit in the corrupt republican machine of Chicago. So unsavory was his reputation in municipal politics he has never been able to secure the support of the Chicago republican press in any of his political contests. It has been his practice to co-operate with the corrupt elements of the Chicago democracy and his intimacy with them is responsible for the deal which brought about his election.

There is no doubt that there has been a deal of some character and a deal that would not command popular admiration or confidence if it were exposed. It probably involves municipal politics in Chicago, but it is none the less a National disgrace on that account.
It would have been far better had the democrats remained aloof and balloted for a respectable democrat until the end of the session by limitation. It would have been better for Illinois to have had but one senator for two years than to have William Lorimer in the senate as an exponent of her ideals and statesmanship. It would have been better for the republican party to have endured a vacancy than to have elected a man like Lorimer.

The climax of the long struggle strongly directs public attention to Illinois' decadence in the senate. The drop from the old General Palmer to Billy Mason was a tremendous fall, from Mason to Hopkins was worse, but the drop from Hopkins to Lorimer is abysmal. To consider Lorimer in a chair once occupied by men of the caliber of Douglas, Trumbull, Yates, Oglesby, Logan, David Davis and Palmer is quite discouraging to those who like to think of the ideals of the country as advancing.—Houston Post.

NEWS FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Memorial Day will be observed Monday throughout the Northern States and three days later a similar holiday will be kept by the South in commemoration of the birthday of Jefferson Davis. Both days will be marked as usual by the dedication of the numerous war and other memorials. Probably the most notable of these events will be the dedication of the monument on the Gettysburg battlefield in memory of the "regulars" who fought and fell there. President Taft will deliver the oration and the memorial will be unveiled by Miss Helen Taft.

Another interesting event of similar character will be the unveiling of the Lincoln monument at Hodgenville, Ky. It is planned to have speakers of national reputation at the unveiling ceremonies, and it is expected that a large crowd will be present.

The dedication and opening of the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific exposition in Seattle will take place on Tuesday, and will be made the occasion for interesting ceremonies. President Taft in Washington will press the golden key that will flash the telegraph signal for the opening of the big fair.

The case of the government against Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, owners of the Indianapolis News, in the Panama criminal libel case, is to come up for a hearing in the Federal Court at Indianapolis.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer will present the diplomas to the graduates of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis Friday. The social and other festivities that always mark the closing week at the academy will continue through the entire week.

Commencement exercises at several other institutions will attract attention during the week. At the University of Missouri commencement Dr. Charles W. Elliot, ex-President of Harvard, will be given an honorary degree, and McGill University, Montreal, will confer a similar honor on Hon. James Wilson, secretary of the United States.

After a long and distinguished career in the army, Lieut.-Gen. Arthur MacArthur will be placed on the retired list Wednesday on account of old age. As a result of Gen. MacArthur's retirement Major General Leonard Wood, now in command of the Military Department of the East, will become the senior officer of the army.

An event of interest in the naval circles will be the presentation of a magnificent silver service to the battleship Mississippi by the State of Mississippi. The presentation is to be made Tuesday at Horn Island, near the mouth of the Mississippi river. Thursday evening if the sky is clear, there will be an unusually fine opportunity to see a total eclipse of the moon. The phenomenon will be visible over the greater part of North America, and can be seen without the aid of glass or telescope.

Important conventions of the week will include those of the National Travelers' Protective Association at Asheville, the Fraternity of Operative Millers of America at Chicago, the National Railway Mail Clerks' Association at Atlanta, the United States Brewers' Association at Atlantic City, and the National Association of Retail Grocers at Portland, Ore.

Collier & Hendricks

MENS' AND BOY'S OUTFITTERS

PIANO RECITAL.

Program:

1. Duet—'Forty Little Players'—Maylath—Blanche and Thelma Kahn.
2. '2nd Valse'—Godard—Edna Walker.
3. 'Morning Prayer'—Streabog—Blanche Kahn.
4. 'A May Day'—Rathbun—Ethel Raney.
5. 'Mirth and Gayety'—Kern—Lora Maxwell.
6. Duet—'Primere Danseuse'—Zitterbart—Lucile Hagy and Imogene Brown.
7. 'The Book of Gold'—Streabog—Thelma Kahn.
8. 'The Shepherd Boy'—G. R. Wilson—Imogene Brown.
9. 'Prince Charming Polka'—Rosenfeld—Lucile Hagy.

The above program was rendered by Miss Lucile Brooks' music class on Friday afternoon at the piano recital given at her home, 610 Scott avenue.

The performance of each pupil evidenced the most careful and painstaking training in the art of piano playing and the expressions of appreciation and praise by the patrons and friends of the class after each piece rendered, were indeed justly deserved by teacher and pupils.

After the conclusion of the program Miss Brooks addressed those present in a few well chosen words and a gold medal was awarded to Miss Lucile Hagy for faithful practice and notable progress.

A pleasant surprise awaited the young teacher when Miss Imogene Brown, in behalf of the members of the members of the class, presented her with a handsome souvenir spoon as a token of esteem and in appreciation of her patient and enduring work with the pupils.

Delicious refreshments were served, while Miss Brooks, upon solicitation, played two piano solos to a delighted audience.

Before taking a vacation, Miss Brooks will instruct a summer class from June 1st to August 1st.

Edwards' Skin Clothes

Young men's suits with plenty of grace and full of ginger—built in a way that grey-beards won't fancy and built in that fancy way because they're not meant for old-folk. Wide-shouldered coats. Built-out chests and shapely waists. Full-pegged trousers with the new wide spring cuff at bottom. The shape that you find in 'em the first day will last to the last. It's permanent—tailored into the cloth—a matter of needle work—not pressing.

They wear so much longer that they're by all odds the cheapest clothes when you divide the number of months through which they give satisfaction into the price you give for them.

GET SEATS MONDAY

Be sure and be on hand early on Monday at the Mater-Magner drug store, as the sale of seats for the Elks' Minstrels opens at 9 o'clock. Everything is about in readiness for Mr. O. E. Maer, the Interlocutor, to say "Gentlemen, be Seated," when the Elks will open their big laughing show. New songs, new acts, and above all, real new and up-to-date jokes will be presented in a manner that will do credit to the best traveling minstrel shows. The costumes to be used are gorgeous and the special scenery is a work of the painters' highest art. There will be no long waits in this show. The curtain goes up on time (8:30) and everything will go with a dash and vim that denotes splendid stage management, as well as good active performers, who have real minstrel ability. The Elks will give a big parade in Tuesday at noon, when fifty of the best looking minstrel men will parade the streets, arrayed in fancy minstrel regalia, to the music of the band. Be sure and get your seats early for the big show, as you really can't afford to miss the event of the season.

THIS IS MY 51ST BIRTHDAY.

Marc Klaw, one of the foremost of American theatrical managers, was born in Paducah, Ky., May 29, 1858, and was educated in the public schools of Louisville. After leaving school he studied law and was admitted to the bar, but soon abandoned the legal profession for theatrical business. He became a theatrical manager in 1881 and soon attained prominence. He became associated with Charles B. Jefferson, son of the late Joseph Jefferson, and with Abraham Erlanger, under the firm name of Jefferson, Klaw and Erlanger. A few years later Mr. Jefferson dropped out and the business has since been conducted by the firm of Klaw and Erlanger, which now controls numerous theaters throughout the country and has under contract scores of well-known players.

The ladies of the Cometary Association will meet at the Baptist church at 5:30 Monday afternoon.

The same old song. Ice for the rich in summer and for the poor in winter. An insurance company writes a $50,000 policy on a baseball manager and wouldn't write a Chinese laundry check for a poor umpire.
