NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1902

NO. 39.

PERKINS BROS.

Druggists, Jewelers and Stationers.

NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS, Sept. 1902.

To Our Customers, Friends and to the Public Generally:

By the time this reaches you we hope to be through the big job of moving our stock of Drugs, etc. from our old store where we have been since 1884 to our new pleasant and centrally located quarters on the Old Stone Fort Corner.

Twenty-four years ago we come to Nacogdoches from "the farm" (where we think all boys should be raised) and opened a small Drug store. For eighteen years we occupied the same stand but times have changed and business conditions must change with them.

To you, our customers and friends, we owe the success of our venture. You have given us your confidence and trade and we appreciate it. To show you our appreciation for your steadfastness, we decided sometime ago to give you the advantage of an up-to-date Drug and Jewelry store.

Our new store is not particularly fine but plain and neat. It is roomy, well arranged, well ventilated and convenient.

Our stock will be materially increased and we will, as heretofore, strive to keep everything that a Drug Store should have. If it's to be had it will be here. Our assortment will be complete.

WE HAVE NEVER BEEN UNDERSOLD, QUALITY CONSIDERED. WE WILL NEVER BE UNDERSOLD, QUALITY CONSIDERED.

Our prescription department will be enlarged and improved and in charge of a graduate pharmacist. In Our jewelry department we will continue to tell you just what the goods are and guarantee every article we sell you. Every feature of our business will be improved.

We cordially invite you to come in whether on business or not and give us the pleasure of showing you our new home. It will be a favor to us and will not take much of your time.

Most sincerely and truly yours,

PERKINS BROTHERS.

P. S. Drs. Barham, Tucker, Lockey, Turner and Terrevi have offices with us.

HAYSEED WRITES AGAIN.

Went to the Show and Saw "Millions In It." His Idea of Woman.

Hayville, Sept. 28.
Editor Sentinel.

Mrs. Hayseed and three lassies, who very much resemble their mother in facial beauty, have just returned from the Stone Fort, City, minus the stone fort, and so have I.

I went out to see 'em act in the theatre hall when I was there, and there wuz "Millions In It," and Navy tobacco signs "in it," and the prettiest girls "in it" I ever saw.

In fact, did you ever hear of or see anything that was worth a man's notice without a woman in it? We can't have even a sugar trust, an oil or coal combine, or a gold standard, without having old mother earth "in it" to start us off. I thought the prohibition party was everlastingly dead and buried once, but the women got in it, and it's getting to be the livest thing in Texas, outside of a theatre.

I want to say for a truth, if you want to see mortality in all its glaring horridness, you try to run a house keeping business without a woman "in it."

A woman never did occupy

a full ground on anything. She has ever been the meanest or the best, the ugliest or the prettiest, the weakest or the strongest, the silliest or the wisest being on earth. A man can't get nigher heaven as long as he stays on the earth than to run a house keeping business in partnership with a bevy of pure, innocent, pretty daughters and wife, and he can't get nearer the other extreme than to have a mean woman mixed up "in it." She has taken the raggy newsboy and made philosophers, and statesmen, and presidents, and kings, and millionaires of him; and she has made the biggest fools out of the wisest men and greatest statesmen, and the lowest vagabonds out of the richest men.

All of our natural scientists have been very shy and non-expressive as to the origin of woman. (except Moses.) Huxley and Tyndal, and Muller and Spencer and Darwin have talked and written to no end, trying to tell us how things came about, but in all they say I can't find anything out from any of them as to how the woman started, without it is what I gather from Darwin's treatise on the Origin of Species, in which he says all species and varieties that don't come about by the law of natural selection are a monstrosity, and as Darwin only gives us the lineal descent of man through the process of natural selection, I guess he would call her a monstrosity. But I lost confidence in Darwin's philosophy when he failed to tell me how woman started. As far back as anyone can learn she has been man's selection.

Whenever a man selects a good woman to begin business with as his life partner, why "there's millions in it."

HAYSEED.

His Life In Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee of Welfare, Tex., "illness and a lame back made life a burden, I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at Stripling, Hazelwood & Co's drug store.

THREE NEGROES SHOT.

Desperate Fight Between Will Smith and Will Dixon

About 5 o'clock yesterday evening a desperate fight took place between Will Smith and Will Dixon, both colored, in which both combatants were probably fatally wounded, and Henry Abraham, a colored barber who was acting as peacemaker, was shot through the bowels and will probably die. Abraham's wound was accidental. The fight took place in one of the buildings in the Bailey block on Church street, just north of the Sentinel office, used as a colored barber shop and restaurant, the restaurant being run by Ben Teel, colored, and the barber shop by Abraham. The shooting began in the kitchen of the restaurant. All effort to find out what the fight was about has failed. The cook, a negro boy, who seems to have been the only one present when the fight occurred, either does not know, or will not tell, what it was about. It is presumed that either a game of craps or a woman was at the bottom of it. Dixon was shot through the hips, the bullet entering the right side and passing entirely through him from right to left. Smith was shot through one hip, the bullet entering in front and passing out behind. They both had good guns, one a .44 and the other a .45 Colt six-shooter.

Walter Gilbert, who was walking along Main street and nowhere in range of any of the shots, was struck on the collar by a spent bullet, supposed to have been a glance shot. When he felt something strike him, he threw up his hand and caught the bullet, which had been mashed perfectly flat.

Henry Abraham died this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Accident Saturday

The La Nana creek on East Main street went out of its banks early Saturday and by 2 o'clock in the afternoon covered all the land from the foot of the hill near D. Rull's residence to Lee & Miley's saloon. A large number of people from town spent several hours on the bridge watching the surging water and assisting wagons and buggies in crossing from this side.

About half past 6 o'clock, Will Harmon and John Walls of Zona, John McCarty and Henry Goodman, of Denning, and H. P. Horton and E. J. Pyle, of Altma, appeared in their two horse wagons and undertook to cross from the city to Orton Hill. All succeeded in crossing safely except Mr. Harmon, who drove too far to the right beyond the bridge and was carried down the current. He kept his presence of mind, however, landed his wagon on the opposite bank and succeeded in cutting his team loose. Two mules hitched to the rear end of his wagon were also cut loose and saved.

It is extremely fortunate that no lives were lost, as several women and children as it crossed just previous to Harmon.

Farmers and Truck Growers.

There will be a meeting of the farmers and truck growers of Nacogdoches county held in this city next Saturday, October 4. The farmers will hold a meeting at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and the fruit and truck growers will meet in the afternoon. The object of the farmers is to discuss diversification and promote the interests of the farmer in general and to encourage the farmers institute which was organized last week. The object of the meeting of the fruit and truck growers is to elect delegates to attend the East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers Association which meets in Empson on October 12. A full attendance of the members is desired.

R. W. HALTOM, Editor

It was a lame voice laid up for repairs the country was expecting to hear of in the case of Mr. Roosevelt—not a lame knee.

Not in whole nor in part is the Houston Chronicle owned by John H. Kirby. Mr. Kirby says so in express terms and that ends it.

It is given out by ex-Senator Butler, one of the surviving forces of the late populist party, that that party will have a national ticket in the field next year. Wonder what for?

The big coal strike seems to be approaching the vicious stage and the Pennsylvania militia is almost on a war footing. Somebody is lying right along over the wires about the end of the strike being in sight.

The Austin Statesman wants to know "whether are we trending." We have our own opinion on the subject, but for exact information in a few words, apply to J. Pierpont Morgan. He's bossing the job.

It is now practically settled that Nacogdoches is to have rural free delivery at an early day, as will be seen by reference to the letter of the Acting First Assistant Postmaster General to Congressman Cooper, published in this issue.

The idea is advanced by ex-Lieutenant Governor Wheeler that one of the best ways to suppress pistol toting is to put a heavy tax on all dealers in deadly weapons. The remedy would be worthless unless the tax was made heavy enough to be prohibitive.

HENRY WALKERS will lecture over at Henderson in this State, October 4th. Henry is probably on the dodge from the "unclean birds" of the 400, whom he has been roasting fearfully of late and whose leaders have sworn to lick him on sight. The port of Nacogdoches is also open to Henry until the storm blows over.

HERE is the Wall street "idee" up to date, of the relative value of human life and property, as set forth in the last issue of the Financial Record by one of its correspondents: "Property in the United States must be understood to be more sacred than life, and the wealth and intelligence of this great country will gradually so make it in spite of all obstacles.

TOM BOWERS of the Texas Mule, is getting mad about this pistol toting business and demands to know "why in the name of God don't some of the screamers take the stump against the ever present deadly six-shooter?" You are right, Tommy. Every orator in Texas, sacred and secular, should roar at every opportunity against the gun toter. He should be made an issue in State politics.

CARTHAGE, over in Panola county, wisely concluded to come out of the back-number list last week and voted for incorporation by a good majority. It will now be possible to keep the Texas Mule within bounds.

The good old State of Mississippi is setting a splendid example to her sister Southern States. She has ceased to discriminate between white and black murderers, and is now hanging both kinds right along. She has hung some very notable white gents recently who had been guilty of the foulest murders, and they had both money and social influence.

It is said that London will furnish Texas an unlimited market at paying figures for all the Elbertas she can't dispose of in this country. And in these days of cold storage why can't London do as well by our surplus tomato crop. The incomparable Texas tomato, with the proper condiments, should hit the jaded London palate as effectively as the Elberta.

We cannot credit the statement sent out from Washington yesterday that the President abandoned his Western trip—not because of his injured knee and the peremptory orders of his physicians, but because it was deemed expedient by the party managers, and the injured knee was merely a pretext. Evidently the story was a piece of reportorial fancy. No President of the United States would degrade his great office by lending himself to such a dishonest trick.

The western tour of President Roosevelt was cut short at Indianapolis, Tuesday, in an unexpected and somewhat sensational manner. His knee got lame, as a result of the recent collision of his carriage with an electric car in Massachusetts, and it was necessary to take him to a hospital and submit to an operation to bring relief. The operation, hardly more serious than the lancing of a boil, was entirely successful, but the doctors said the tour must end, as the injured limb wouldn't get well unless Mr. Roosevelt stopped walking about for a while.

We are glad to see that General Joe Wheeler is home again after his foreign tour. We of the South take peculiar pride in this marvelous little man of marvelous career. Conspicuous hero of two wars a third of a century apart, with a long career of useful statesmanship between them as a distinguished member of congress from Alabama, this "rebel brigadier" rounds out his career as a General on the retired list of the United States army and globe trotter with the enthusiasm of a boy, honored by the great of foreign lands wherever he travels, hardly less than by his countrymen at home both North and South. His energy of mind and body is so irrepressible that he will never "go out of action" until he dies, and we are curious to know what resources to such an extent she cannot proceed with.

MR. ROOSEVELT was in the full tide of his crackjack speechmaking tour and was ripping open the great problems of the day in the most strenuous and enthusiastic way, when a mere "bile" on his knee, a pebble in a giant's pathway, resolved itself into the agent of Fate and put him down and out.

At the Soldiers' Home in Austin sixteen applicants for admission have been rejected because it was decided that they were physically able to make a living. There must be some mistake here. No Confederate veteran ever enters a Home when he's able to make a living on the outside of it, and if these rejected men are really able-bodied it may well be doubted if they were ever genuine Confederate soldiers. We are glad to learn that Governor Sayers is looking into the matter to see that no injustice is done.

EARLY in October the National Farmers' Congress will meet in Macon, Ga., and Governor Sayers has appointed delegates from Texas, including the alert and voluminous John Howard, who is better informed about Texas than most men and knows how to tell it, too. Georgia farmers will doubtless attend this Congress in large numbers, and if John don't talk a whole lot of them into coming to East Texas, where they won't have to spend from ten to twenty per cent of their incomes in buying commercial fertilizers to make the next year's crop, he is not the man we take him for.

OUT in California the country press in Santa Clara county has taken a new and radical departure. The members of the county editorial association have bound themselves to refrain from giving their support in any manner to either local or county political parties or nominees. They will sustain only national and state tickets as heretofore. Their reason is that the main object of the county papers is to give the news and report the resources of the county, instead of attempting to further the political ambition of office-seekers. It will be a long time before the county press of Texas can get so independent.

GALVESTON is feeling good all through because her sea wall is about to materialize, but the Tribune calls attention to the fact that the wall will only be a good start in the way of preventive measures to make the city safe. It says:

While the sea wall is a great stride it is merely the letter A in the alphabet of Galveston's future. The town will have to be raised behind the wall. The raising of the grade is part the second, but still the most important part of the scheme of the engineers to protect the town from calamitous overflow. That Galveston, without the aid of the grade-raising bill, which the next legislature will be asked to enact into law, will be able to raise herself beyond the possible danger the sea threatens, is manifestly impossible. The sea wall will sap resources to such an extent that she cannot proceed with.

WE are to have Uncle Russ Alger back in politics again. The republican State convention of Michigan has endorsed him for the United States senate, and that makes his election practically certain.

CONCERNING the production of tomatoes the Jacksonville Banner says that "we have a lot of very wise gentlemen in this country who claim that the business can't be overdone." We know some sensible people who say that the business hasn't been overdone, nor isn't likely to be just as it is getting a start, but we hadn't heard of the wise gents who say it can't be overdone.

SAM MCGARY, of the Beaumont Journal, charges us with the crime of pessimism because we said that street crowds in Beaumont didn't prove the greatness of that town. Just wait until you meet us, Sam, at that meeting of the East Texas editors next December, and we'll make you take it back. Why, man, optimism is our long suit, else we couldn't do business in Nacogdoches, where the boys chase a pessimist out of town like a dog of doubtful character.

THERE are still a few states' rights left in this country. The action of U. S. Marshal Houston in rushing himself and his deputies to Port Arthur to interfere in a local disturbance to which a few Mexicans were a party, was very promptly and properly rebuked by Governor Sayers, who notified the President that he hadn't called for Federal assistance in executing the laws of Texas and didn't need such assistance. Mr. Houston is apparently not familiar the law governing his official relations with the State of Texas.

The Nacogdoches SENTINEL and the Cherokee Banner are having a little argument on the over production question. Well, go to it boys, and hold your breath till you can hear from the truck growers next August, or earlier. The growers themselves are going to explode somebody's theories, for they are going to plant more truck than ever in the history of Texas truck growing. The best thinkers of the country are trying to study up plans for marketing by which glutted markets may be avoided, and if badly glutted markets can be avoided, of course there will be no such thing as overproduction. When the little village of Craft first started into the tomato business they were "pestered" with overproduction, and some of the weak-kneed fellows fell out of the ring on the second crop, on account of having no market for the amount of tomatoes they could raise. However, the majority of them are now entirely over their overproduction fright, right on top of the big crop just marketed. It seems they are learning what to do with their stuff about as fast as they are learning to make it. As long as they can keep this up there is no danger of overproduction. —East Texas Fruit and Truck Journal.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Two Interesting and Instructive Sessions Held Yesterday.

Saturday's Daily.

Two sessions of the Farmers' Institute were held yesterday, at 1 o'clock and at night, and many interesting talks were made, which were received with enthusiasm by large audiences.

Besides a good representation of farmers from all sections of the county, the following prominent gentlemen were present: Wm. Doherty, Assistant Passenger Agent of the H. E. & W. T. Ry.; A. H. Atwater, Industrial Agent Southern Pacific Ry.; F. W. Mally, State Entomologist; Prof. C. E. Green, Chair of Horticulture, A. & M. College; Sam H. Dixon, Immigration and Passenger Agent H. E. & W. T. Ry.; W. H. Taylor, Freight and Passenger Agent H. E. & W. T. Ry.; W. R. Marchan, of the Texas Farm and Ranch; Prof. J. H. Connell, of the A. & M. College, and others.

The meeting was called to order by T. E. Burgess, president of the Nacogdoches Fruit and Truck Growers association and the opening address was delivered by Prof. Connell, followed by Prof. Green and Judge Middlebrook.

The Institute was organized with thirty-four members, and H. S. Edler was elected president, W. R. Falkner vice-president, J. D. McKnight secretary, and C. A. Hodges treasurer.

The address of Prof. J. H. Connell, of the Farm and Ranch, was very interesting. He spoke of the progress of crop diversification and the importance of further development and improvement, and urged that the time had come when the farmers of this country were compelled in self defence to turn their attention to other matters than the raising of cotton.

Mr. Sam Dixon spoke next, showing that the success of the fruit and truck industry depended entirely upon organization and co-operation. He gave several instances as illustration of the point and advised the people to see that the tomato crop next year was either sold at the depot or consigned to other points only upon guarantee. Mr. Dixon's remarks were a center shot to the local situation, and he was the recipient of numerous congratulations upon his strong talk.

There were several other speeches upon the same line, interesting and to the point.

The night session was opened by Prof. Atwater, his theme being "the undeveloped resources of Texas." He had at hand to illustrate his talk, pecans, peanuts, tomatoes, corn, cotton, silk and all the fibers that can be produced from cotton, weeds and grass. He also had samples of several hardwoods, all of which belong to this country and are very valuable. He made a special plea in behalf of birds, and stated that if their wholesale slaughter was not stopped the time would soon come when insects would make it almost impossible to raise any kind of crop. He intimated that the advent of the boll weevil was due to the destruction of birds. Several bird craws were exhibited, each being well filled with bugs.

Prof. Atwater stated that the soils of Nacogdoches county were well suited to almost every kind of cereal and fiber under the sun, and that almost every known money crop could be produced here easily if the people would only take the time and trouble to experiment. All these remarks were illustrated and enlivened by anecdotes, and his address was concluded with the remark that the people of Texas, besides living in the greatest and grandest state in the Union, had caused a dozen blades of grass to grow where only one grew before; they had made wool on sheep longer and better, the hair of goats finer and more valuable, the horns of steers shorter, the nose of the razor back reduced in length, fruit placed on trees hitherto considered worthless, the desert had been made to bloom as the rose, and last of all the bray of the jackass, human and beast, had been changed into a melody that chimes with the grand march of progress.

Prof. Atwater was followed by Prof. Connell, who in conclusion delivered a splendid address on "alfalfa and how to raise it."

The session was instructive from start to finish, and was attended by representative farmers from nearly every section of the county. Ideas were exchanged, questions asked and answered to the satisfaction of everyone present.

While our railroad friends, Messrs. Taylor and Doherty, did not deliver addresses, they were present shaking hands with the farmers, mingling with the people, talking, assisting and encouraging them in every possible way.

Rural Free Delivery Assured.

A private letter to the editor of The Sentinel from Hon. S. B. Cooper, just received, encloses one to him from the Acting First Assistant Postmaster General at Washington, concerning the prospects of rural free delivery in this county, which Mr. Cooper has been endeavoring to secure. As will be seen by the letter to Mr. Cooper, we have virtually a sure thing on rural free delivery at an early date. The body of the letter is as follows:

"I have this day received the report of Special Agent L. A. Thompson, recommending the establishment of rural free delivery, at your request, from Nacogdoches, Nacogdoches county, Texas. Early and favorable action will be taken on this report and you will be duly notified of the date when the department will be able to establish the service thus recommended."

We have closed our credit business for the season and are selling for spot cash, and being determined to reduce our stock we are offering bargains in all lines.

HALTOM & HALTOM, Publishers.

R. W. HALTOM, Editor

JUDGE REAGAN agrees with The Sentinel that the poll-tax dodger should be eliminated as a voter. It is purely a matter of his own volition—no poll-tax, no vote.

THE President has been compelled to submit to another operation on his injured knee, but the physicians assure the country that there is no doubt of the early recovery of the distinguished patient.

A LARGE number of the most distinguished men of Texas, including Governor Sayers, Senator Bailey, John H. Kirby and others, are in St. Louis to attend the exercises connected with the dedication of the site of the Texas building on the World's Fair grounds.

ONE of our esteemed contemporaries gets right at the heart of the subject, without circumlocution, and says: "Texas is a grate State." That it is, brother; and it will get grater and grater right along until it gets to be the gratest State in the Union, unless we are gratefully mistaken.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Shreveport Times, deserves congratulation on its magnificent, illustrated trade edition of last Sunday. It took a whole lot of educated brains and energy to get out a paper like that, and it put Shreveport in stronger light before the public than it was ever put before.

THE saloon-men of Tyler have employed counsel and will resort to the courts to defeat, if possible, the will of the majority in the late prohibition election in Smith county. It has not developed what special line of action they will take. The contest will be watched with interest from all parts of the State.

A WORD to Sam Lanham, the next governor of Texas: Now that you are in East Texas on your canvass, don't forget that old Nacogdoches has more history, more politics and more possibilities than any other county in the State, and she wants to see you and hear you. Don't stand on ceremony or wait for a formal invitation, but make your own date and come right along.

LAST Sunday at his home in Edna, Jackson county, Hon. John M. Moore, secretary of state during the administration of Governor Sul Ross, died after a brief illness. Mr. Moore was a son of the great Texas jurist, George F. Moore, for many years on the supreme bench of Texas, and whose early professional life was spent in Nacogdoches. John Moore was a cousin of Mrs. John B. Nelson, of this city, and our recollection is that some considerable part of his boyhood was passed here. He was a man of strong and deeply cultured mind, and a polished and charming gentleman of high and spotless character in State politics.

THE people of enterprising little Teneha, north of us, have voted with only one dissenting voice to raise by special tax the sum of $4,000 to erect a handsome public school building in that town.

UP in New York the democratic state convention is in session and there's a big row on, with Tammany in the thick of it, as usual—likewise Dave Hill. The result is likely to have considerable effect on the next democratic national convention.

THAT noble old Presbyterian preacher, Rev. S. A. King, of Waco, after 40 years of faithful work in that city, has resigned his pastorate to accept a chair in the Austin Theological Seminary. Dr. King is widely known and beloved among Southern Presbyterians.

LAST Sunday's Post-Dispatch gives an entire page to Henry Watterson and his recent "mixup" with the "400." Public sentiment generally is with Mr. Watterson in that celebrated row, and when he lectures at the opera house in Nacogdoches tomorrow night on "Money and Morals," he could very appropriately supplement that lecture with a few impromptu remarks about "the unclean birds of gaudy plumage," who dazzle and scandalize the world with their gay doings at Newport.

THE brutal and bloody and senseless shooting match between two negro pistol toters in this city yesterday afternoon is another instance of the beauties of the Texas pistol toting system. It is not sufficient that these fellows shoot and mangle each other in their murderous affrays, but innocent lives are sacrificed or endangered and it is hazardous to walk along the streets of a civilized community, even on a peaceful sabbath afternoon. "Let no gun toter, white or black, escape," should be the motto of every judge, jury and peace officer in Texas, and with a stern, determined public sentiment to back up the officers we can reasonably hope to materially diminish the evil, if not abate it entirely.

NACOGDOCHES being a point where travelers to Beaumont via Shreveport stay a few hours and take breakfast, the hotel registers show some very celebrated autographs. Last week, some time, Miss Helen Gould passed through our city; capitalists by the dozen, with national reputation, stop here, and sooner or later Pierpont Morgan will come down to buy Beaumont and her oil fields and will register in Nacogdoches. This all makes hotel registers interesting to home folks and others, and we suggest that our hotel friends publish every day a list of the guests registered. It would certainly be an advantage to the hotels. When our rich county oil fields begin their development in the near future we will stop sitting on the fence watching celebrities go by, but until then we would like to know when they are in town for breakfast, anyway.

THE unreasonable and unreasoning prejudices of the not very remote past in Texas against railroads looks queer enough in this day when those same railroads are exerting their best efforts and employing their brightest men to go out among the farmers as the apostles of a new and better agriculture and help them in the great work of organizing Farmers' Institutes.

LAST Sunday in Corinth, Miss., a negro rape fiend, who murdered his victim, a lady of prominence, mutilating her body horribly, was burned at the stake in the presence of 5,000 people. He remained undetected for months after the crime, and was finally discovered through a quarrel with his wife, who informed on him. After his arrest he fully confessed his crime as well as many others committed prior to that one, and said that he deserved the worst punishment that could be inflicted on him.

AT last we have a Farmers' Institute organized in Nacogdoches county, with a good membership, earnest and capable officers, and ready for business. The work done at the court-house in this city yesterday afternoon and last night marks the beginning of a new era in the agricultural development of our county. Our farmers are aroused and are in rapidly growing sympathy with the new and better forces coming into our farming life. The day of the ramshackle farmer who follows a shiftless and profitless farming system from mere force of habit, lives hard and dies in debt, is rapidly passing. The admirable practical addresses heard yesterday and last night by so many of our farmers were seed sown in good ground and will bear fruit in due season.

THE SENTINEL is heartily glad to know that Judge Tom Davis, in his charge to the grand jury yesterday in this city, made it a special point to roast the pistol toters and urge the grand jury to the utmost vigilance in spotting and indicting them, regardless of race, wealth or social station. And the Judge hit the nail squarely on the head when he said that a fine of $200 and imprisonment in the county jail was the proper medicine for the pistol toting curs and bullies who outrage all decency as well as law by frequenting the country churches during divine worship, armed for murder and "fixed" for a row brought on by themselves. The whipping post and the chain gang would be even better medicine for such fellows, but in the absence of these remedies, the suggestion of Judge Davis is most excellent and the juries should adopt it in every instance. Our district judges, in their talks from the bench, can exercise a very strong reformatory influence in this pistol toting business, for they reach a large and representative audience, and the battle will be half won when the judiciary of Texas gets mad all the way through on the subject and acts accordingly.

THE expected has happened to Zola, the great French novelist. He was found dead in Paris yesterday under circumstances which leave little doubt of suicide by asphyxiation. He was a sad-faced, heavy-hearted man of genius, who preached the "gospel of dirt" in all his books because he could believe in no other. He lived an intellectual materialist, who scorned to avail himself of the license of his theories in his private life, and hence that life was clean and honest. Incapable of religious faith, and dissatisfied in his deepest soul with the scientific solution of the problem, he died the logical death of the man without hope, and is to be pitied more than condemned.

EVIDENTLY Colonel Nat Q. Henderson, the eminent but unappreciated Round Rock republican, is a careful reader of The Sentinel. Noting our recent reference to the undeserved obscurity into which his jealous party associates were seeking to force him, Colonel Henderson has girded up his loins and announced to the people of Texas that, in the absence of the regular nomination, which he has been unable to secure, he will be an independent republican candidate for congress from the Austin district. Now there you have it without mincing words. There are certain opportunities, facilities and privileges attached to even an independent republican congressional candidacy in a democratic district, which are not to be despised during these hard times, but Colonel Henderson is nobly indifferent to them. He seeks only to vindicate a principle. He has been snubbed, and he intends to show Eddie Green that he must be reckoned with if the republican party of Texas hopes to be born again.

THE SENTINEL heartily endorses the recent action of Dick Dowling camp of United Confederate Veterans down at Houston in adopting a resolution calling on the next legislature to provide means for suitably marking the spots on the various battle fields of the civil war where Texas troops were engaged. The inexcusably parsimonious policy pursued by nearly every Southern legislature in this matter does no credit to us as a section and is in humiliating contrast with the action of Northern legislatures on the same subject. On nearly every prominent battle-field of the great war handsome and enduring monuments mark the spots where definite bodies of Union troops were engaged; but except the Federal government itself has kindly done the work for us, there's precious little on any of these fields to show that any Confederate soldiers were present when such tremendous and heroic history was being made. The cost of such monuments would be paltry, and our Southern legislatures will meet with the warm approval of their constituents by promptly providing the means to erect them. Let the next legislature of Texas lead in the matter.

It is given out as a fact about which there is no secret that ex-Governor Hogg intends to be a candidate for Attorney General of Texas two years hence in order to make more vigorous war on the trust evil in this State. Mr. Wakefield, a prominent business man of Dallas, is authority for the statement and has the following to say on the subject, after a recent conversation with the ex-Governor in Beaumont:

"Governor Hogg declared that the conditions existing at Beaumont alone, to say nothing of the situation elsewhere in the State, call for drastic measures and that he is determined to do what he can to change the situation. He declares it to be his belief that the oil trust has the Beaumont field completely in its grasp and that every company that does not surrender to the trust will be quashed and ruined by it. He declares his purpose in again running for attorney general will be to free the Texas oil fields from the grasp of the trust. Governor Hogg did not seem to make any secret of his intentions."

When a man buys a W. L. Douglass shoe he has no reason for it, only Style, Comfort and Economy.

CONCERNING the story that he will be a candidate for Attorney General of Texas two years hence, Governor Hogg is discreetly non committal. He will wisely await developments. But what does an oil millionaire care about any less than the big prizes of politics?

THE long threatened street car strike in New Orleans is on at last and not a street car is moving in that city. The men demand shorter hours, more pay and recognition of their union. If the company attempts to operate their cars with new men there will probably be lively times in the Crescent City, with plenty of rioting and bloodshed.

EVEN the Commoner, away up in Nebraska, has got mad about it and is jumping on the Texas pistol toter. If Mr. Bryan can make him and his gun an issue in the next national campaign he may hear of all this roar the press is making on his account, but it is doubtful if he knows anything about it, bein' as he's strictly agin newspapers and all other educational influences, and hence don't read.

How Short is the Cotton Crop?

When will it Go to 10c per Pound?

Must We Sell for 8c, or is it Wise to hold for Higher Prices?

These are questions asked us daily. These questions we cannot answer. We, however, would like to impress on your mind a few facts that we do know and about which we are positively sure we are correct, to-wit:

That when you do sell your cotton you should always see our buyer, as we always pay the highest market price and pay it in the omnipotent spot cash.

That when you have made calculations how much money you can spend for fall and winter supplies---whether dry goods or clothing, shoes or hats, groceries or hardware, cook stove or shot gun, a paper of needles or a sewing machine, whether 'tis a five cent purchase or a $100 bill---you want to remember this fact: Do not invest this cash until you have examined closely and priced thoroughly through we are showing this fall in all lines at our place on East Main street where we occupy three stores all full with a bright new and well selected stock bought in the Eastern markets, where our buyer spent the month of August, at prices that enable us to meet and defy all competition.

We sell you honest values for your hard earned cash. Guarantee every article we sell. Your money refunded on any unsatisfactory purchase from us. Visit our store when in the city. It will be to your interest and we assure you to our pleasure.

Yours anxious to please,

H. V. Fall, Esq., of Chire no, is attending district court.

S. Wilkins, manager of Clevengers' mill is in the city today.

Cotton is selling at 8c and upward. Cotton seed went up to $17.50 yesterday, but are off again today.

When in the market for a first class wagon, at reduced prices, go and see the "Bain" at Cason, Richardson & Co.

W. P. Garrison, of Garrison, is among the attendants at district court from his section of the county.

Miss Annie Collins, of San Augustine, came up from Tenaha where she is visiting on a few days visit to friends here, and on a shopping expedition.

Stalk cutters have begun to move, we sell the "Deere" none better, many not as good---though high in quality yet moderate in price. Call and see them.

Messrs J. W. Armstrong, Buck Herring, Willie Rogers, Fletcher Fisher and Jim Armstrong are all in the city today from Macune. Mr. J. W. Armstrong was a pleasant caller at the Sentinel office this morning. He reports things dull in his section, and says the rain was heavier if anything there than here.

Dr. H. A. Drewry, an old and well known citizen of Nacogdoches county, died at the home of his son, Dr. J. A. Drewry, of this city, at about 9:30 o'clock this morning, after an illness of but a few days. His death was mainly due to old age, he being 76 years old. His home has been for many years in the northwestern part of the county, sometimes at Linn Flat, and at times other points, but of recent years he has made his home near Looneyville. A few days ago he came down to visit his son and was taken sick with bowel trouble, from which the kindest watching and most tender nursing could not relieve him. He leaves three sons, Dr. J. A. Drewry, of this city, Oscar Drewry, of Timpson, and Sam Drewry, of Huntsville. His remains will be buried in the City cemetery tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Monday's Daily.

Garrison: A home company is preparing to build a fine hotel near Mineral Springs. Some damage reported from rain Saturday.

Martinsville: The Attoyac river is all over the bottoms today and travel between this side and Shelby county is suspended. Terrapin creek is very high but no damage is reported.

Moral: Heavy damage done. Nearly all the fences were washed away and cotton beat out.

Appleby: Creeks very high and serious damage to cotton reported.

Procella Crossing: River all over bottom and lacks only two feet of being as high as the June flood.

Alazan: Creeks all high and crops injured.

Attoyac: No damage reported from the rain Saturday.

The Nacogdoches Drug Co., is moving to its new quarters in the old Perkins' building this morning, and will in the future do a retail as well as wholesale business. The new stand is one of the best in the city and the Drug Co. being so well and favorably known, will doubtless do well in the retail branch of the establishment. The members of the firm are old drug store men and have nothing to learn about running a first class drug store. They are awfully busy today, but will have everything straightened out and in running order very soon.

Our millinery stock is now complete, our stock is new, our milliner is at work. Come see our line and be pleased, hear our prices and be astonished, buy a hat and be happy. You could not be otherwise with a hat so nice and stylish at the low price that you will pay for it.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.---Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Perkins Bros.

America's Famous Beauties

Look with horror on skin eruptions, blotches, sores, pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one who uses Buck's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or salt rheum vanish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Intallible for piles. 25c at Stripling, Haselwood & Co's drug store.

Douglass Politics.

The Independent primary which has heretofore been referred to as being ordered in the Douglass beat has gone by default and as the matter now stands there will be two candidates for county commissioner up there.---J. O. Thomas and Geo. Carnes. Matters are in a muddle and will most surely result in the election of the democratic nominee.

Bilious Colic.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. If You Are Free

And do not belong to any one; if some one has not gotten you tied up, and if you are at liberty to buy your goods just where you choose without asking any man's consent, we can be of interest to you, and would be glad if you would come to our place and see what we can do for you in prices. We have the goods you need and must sell them. We are too poor to carry goods over; haven't money enough to let it lay idle, but must keep it going. We carry coffee, soda, matches, can goods, shoes, hosiery, tinware, crockery, lamp goods, glassware, staple dry goods, oil, axle grease, tubs, buckets, small wagons, hardware specialties, clocks, combs, brushes of all kinds, and have the biggest lot of undershirts and drawers for ladies and gentlemen in town. We have other lines that we haven't space to mention. We haven't a fancy store, and don't charge you fancy prices. Come, look and price and you will be sure to do business with us.

GREAT FEAST LAST NIGHT.

Hardy Dial Keeps his Word and Gives a Memorable, High-class Feast.
 Friday's Daily.
 Last summer Hardy Dial promised his friends that when he opened his new saloon on the north side of the square he would give them a "blow-out" equal to the biggest and best ever seen in East Texas on an occasion of similar character. The saloon, a most elegant one, named "The Palace," was opened some weeks ago, but Hardy wasn't quite ready for the promised blow-out. Last night, though, he redeemed his word, and it was a big promise faithfully kept. For days the preparations had been in progress, and on such a scale that it was almost like preparing for a county barbecue. Dave Goldberg, our famous local caterer, whose official connection with any gastronomic event is a guarantee of its excellence, was put in charge, and those two trained veterans of many a barbecue in this old county, George Weaver and Josh Henson, were his efficient aids in preparing the big feed. Beef, pork, mutton, venison, ham, chickens, fish and oysters in great quantities were prepared with the skill of consummate culinary artists, in many appetizing forms and along with them such an array of salads, stews and sauces with all the proper garnishings, fruits, grapes, etc., that our vocabulary fails us to complete the bill of fare. A long table was spread in the spacious rear compartment of the Palace saloon; invitations special and general, had been issued on a generous scale to the citizens of Nacogdoches, city and country, and yesterday evening at 6 o'clock the royal feed was announced ready. A large company, perhaps 150, assembled around the table loaded with good things, and Hardy Dial, the embodiment of hospitality, was there to urge every one to do full justice to the viands. And they did. The spread was irresistible, and a jollier set of men never made better use of a great opportunity. But that was only a starter. The biggest part was to come. The table was reset, and after the performance at the opera house was over an immense crowd lined up, all nice folks and representative citizens, including the male members of the Krause-Taylor Big Company, present by special invitation. It was a good-natured crush, but there was plenty for all and every guest enjoyed himself. The ladies of the theatrical troupe were remembered in a basket of appetizing lunches sent them by Mr. Dial. The occasion was a grand success, without a discordant note from start to finish, and Mr. Dial came in for abundant congratulations on his generous hospitality. The Sentinel reporter left at a late hour and the affair was still in full swing, with plenty of grub and beer still left.

The School Bond Issue.

A Sentinel reporter today interviewed the school trustees with reference to the date of the forthcoming school building bond issue. The consensus of opinion is that no bonds will be issued till next spring. It is understood that the legislature, which meets next January, will validate the title to the University property, after which it will be perfectly safe to go ahead and issue bonds.

Good Health

and pure blood are inseparable. If your blood is bad, your health must suffer. Poor blood allows the body to lose vitality just as a poor fire under the boiler allows the steam to run down. From poor blood to impure blood is but a step, and impure blood is mother to a large percentage of human ills. Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic is an antidote for both poor and impure blood, for it is both a builder and purifier—a food and a medicine. It is the best combination of the kind known to medical science, and its success for nearly half a century has led to its endorsement by thousands of medical men who have been unable to find a substitute.

Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic

will insure you against the many evils resulting from impure blood. Scrofula, pimples, blotches, kidney disorders, rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, female weakness, anaemia, chlorosis, etc., are a few of them; but the greatest evil, the greatest danger, is the general weakening of the whole system, which affords an opening for every passing disease.
 The following is one of the thousands of testimonials we have received:
 Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10, 1901.
 I commenced using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic when prostrated from a severe attack of rheumatism. After using three bottles all traces of this disease were completely eradicated from my system, and my general health was restored. As a blood purifier Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic has no equal, and I most sincerely recommend it to all persons suffering from indigestion, fatigue, rheumatism, and the many weakened conditions of the system produced by impoverished blood.

JUDGE INGRAHAM

Thinks Mr. Imboden Has Misquoted the Liquor Law.

Sept. 25th, 1902.

Editor Sentinel:

Hon. W. M. Imboden, nominee for district attorney by the democrats, writes a letter, dated Sept. 10, 1902, full of good advice to the liquor dealers of the district in which he will be elected in November next, and says among other things:

"In addition to the civil penalty of $500 for each infraction of the bond, for which sum the sureties are liable to the amount of $5,000, article 411b of the penal code denounces the violation of the bond in any of its terms a penal offense, punishable by fine or imprisonment and makes each day a separate offense."

Article 411b in Wilson's Criminal Statutes, 4th edition, is as follows:

"Any person or persons who shall sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters in quantities not authorized by his or their license, or who shall sell otherwise than authorized by the license, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum from fifty to one hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail from ten to thirty days, in the discretion of the jury; provided that each day any person, firm or association of persons in his or their employ shall engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters in violation of this article shall constitute a separate offense."

I cannot see how article 411b has any connection with the bond required of saloon keepers, and being "from Missouri" would like to be shown. Respectfully,

GEO. F. INGRAHAM,

Around the Courthouse.

Thursday's Daily.

The grand jury returned the following bills of indictment yesterday: Mayfield Elliott, murder, two cases.

Joe P. Clevirger, murder. Will Durst, colored, murder. Green Day, assault to murder.

Charley Roberts, murder. W. E. Wilbern, assault to murder.

Milton Revall, murder. Mayfield Elliott was re-arrested, and gave his recognizance at $1500 in each case, the bond being reduced from $2500 in each case. The trial is set for Wednesday of the third week.

The Stock Law

A petition was presented at the last session of the commissioners' court praying that a general stock law election be held in this county at the general election in November. The petition came in too late, however, and will receive attention at the next session of the court. With two or three exceptions, the stock law, so far as it applies to hogs, sheep and goats, prevails all over the county. The cause from which comes the idea of a general law seems to find reason in the fact that where two precincts are contiguous, one of which has and the other has not the law in effect, has resulted in much confusion and trouble. The consensus of opinion is that the law should be general throughout the county, or not at all.

MOTHERS

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF

LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of bowel troubles. I have given up castor oil and give my baby nothing but Laxakola and find it cheaper and a great deal better. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Smith, of Union and Purchase sts., Lowell, Mass.

Enclosed please find 25 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully.

Miss JOHN FASACAL, Union and Purchase sts., Lowell, Mass.

I wish to thank you very much for the good Laxakola has done my little niece, Marion Lurline Bass. She is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you would call a natural movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid of convulsions, it hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.
