Saving on Paint.

If you intend doing any painting this season we feel sure that we can do you good. The whole matter of painting economically depends on getting the right paint at the right price. Some paint lasts twice as long as others. Who wouldn't pay more to be sure of such paint? Our intention is to furnish you that quality without it costing you more than poor—perhaps less.

Everything in the Paint Line—No matter what you wish to paint or how you want to paint it, we have what you need. When you are ready to paint we want to see you. We are glad to give quotations at any time.

It Costs Nothing to secure full and reliable information regarding fruit and vegetable growing in Texas. Nor will it cost any thing to learn where these crops are grown the most successfully. If you want to buy a home, to rent a farm, to establish a factory, or to make investments of any kind in Texas write to Sam H. Dixon, Pass. & Imm., Agent, H. E. & W. T. Ry., Houston, Texas for the little book "Industrial Development" just issued. It is full of facts which are valuable to the home seeker and investor alike. Every one desiring a home should read this book. It points out the way to success and happiness.

The members of the Knights of Pythias are considering seriously of erecting a two story brick, the upper to be used as their castle hall. The order in this city is one of the liveliest in East Texas, and the membership is being constantly increased. The roster now shows 40 working members in good standing, and it will be remembered that it is not yet six months old.—San Augustine Visitor.

Some of the young sports of Nacogdoches spent several days on the river this week and they had good luck hunting; but they returned to town yesterday gameless, gunless and horseless. Their horses got away with the guns and game tied to the saddle, and they had to "hoof it" to town. They did look a little tired, too, when they "drove up."

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Chief Engineer Blackwell Crushed Under the Wheels of a Caboose.

A most heartrending and deplorable railroad accident occurred just beyond Mahl late yesterday evening, in which Chief Engineer, E. E. Blackwell of the T. & N. O. Ry. was killed outright. Mr. Blackwell, spent the day in Nacogdoches yesterday and had enjoyed a most sociable time with his numerous friends and had taken a work, or mixed train to return to his camp out on the line. After leaving Mahl a short distance the engine struck a cow, causing the caboose in which Conductor Brooks and Mr. Blackwell were riding to jump the track. Both men became excited and Conductor Brooks called out to Mr. Blackwell to jump off, at the same time leaping to the ground himself, landing safely and escaping unhurt. Blackwell followed him but missed his footing and fell so near the track that the car struck him crushing the back of his head killing him instantly. He was bruised some about the shoulders but his face was not disfigured. Conductor Brooks ran to him immediately, but he was pulseless and Mr. Brooks says he does not think he knew what killed him.

The body was brought down on special and was met at the depot by John Schmidt, D. K. Cason, J. G. Smith, J. D. McKnight, Jos. Wolsifer, B. M. Isaac, B. S. Wettermark and J. D. Murray, and was placed in a coffin and shipped to Houston to be embalmed, from whence it will be shipped to Warrenton, Va., where Mr. Blackwell's parent reside, for interment.

The deceased was very popular in Nacogdoches, and his untimely death has cast a gloom over the community. He was a man of brilliant accomplishments, stood high in his profession and had the happy faculty for making friends that few men possess. His death is regretted by all who knew him.

At the approach of and during winter, the system needs some help because it will be heavily taxed. Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic not only drives out diseases, but it gives the needed strength and vigor to the system. You will not suffer with colds—little or big, with La Grippe, or with pneumonia, if you take Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, and use reasonable care and common sense. Get the genuine with a black wrapper.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

Is Nacogdoches in Danger of Getting Another Railroad?

From Beaumont Journal: Nacogdoches, Texas, Nov. 15.—The Journal correspondent learns on good authority that the railroad known as the "Windy," which connects Timpson and Carthage, will be torn up and built from Boren's mill near Corthage to Teneha on the Houston East and West Texas railway where it will ultimately connect with the Santa Fe which runs from Beaumont to San Augustine, from whence it will be built to Center and then to Teneha. This will give Beaumont direct and rapid connection with Longview and Marshall. The Cronister Lumber company, whose large mill is at Wells in Angelina county, is building a tram towards Nacogdoches, eighteen miles distant. The road has been completed to the Angelina river and will be built ultimately to Nacogdoches. It is also reported that the Frost road is being built southeastwardly from Huntington on the Texas and New Orleans railroad to Buna on the Santa Fe thirty or forty miles north of Beaumont, at which place it will connect with the Orange Northwestern which has been completed to Buna. This would give the Cotton Belt almost direct connection with Beaumont.

A Jolly Good Time.

Last night the Woomen Circle held one of the best meetings within the history of its organization. Seven new candidates were waiting in the reception room and at the proper time they were duly initiated into the mysteries of Woodmen Circle. After the initiation and regular business had been disposed of, light refreshments consisting of cakes of all kinds, punch, grapes and bananas were served. If the Circle keeps on increasing in membership it will be necessary for the ladies to secure larger quarters.

Nacogdoches has diversified some more. Mr. Hense Burrows brought into The Sentinel office this morning a handful of exceptionally fine pecans, large and with thin shells, that he raised himself. This is the second year the trees have borne. They are ten years old, raised from the seed, and he has about thirty fine trees. Ten years is a long time to wait, but the trees were not in the way while they were growing, and in a year or two more Mr. Burrows will begin to realize on a crop that will add greatly to his revenue and is permanent and increasingly valuable.

Joe Clevenger relates a singular story of a deer. He says that while on a trip to Huntington more than a week ago he saw a deer fastened in a barbed wire fence on the side of the railroad rightofway. It was only a short distance this side of Huntington and he says he told some Huntington boys about it when he arrived there and they went back and killed the deer. The deer, to all appearances had been hung but a short time and had not been chased. It must have been playing about leisurely and in attempting to jump the fence had caught its hind legs in the wire in such a manner as to hold it so that it could not escape.

HALTOM & HALTOM, Publishers.

R. W. HALTOM, Editor.

AFTER four years of confinement in jail and several trials in the courts of New York for poisoning Mrs. Katherine J. Adams, Molineux has at last been acquitted by a jury and is a free man.

NEW ORLEANS has her hands full this week. She is entertaining the American Bankers' associations, the Daughters of the Confederacy and the American Federation of Labor all at the same time.

THE adoption of the poll tax amendment has attracted Teddy's attention to Texas and it is expected that he will be after the lilly whites of this state with his scalping-knife as soon as he gets through with the Alabama crowd.

UNCLE SAM is lucky in his banking business, so far as postoffice money orders are concerned. During the past two years, 76,959,708 orders have been paid, amounting to more than half a billion dollars, and out of this vast volume of business the government has only lost $251.

THE president is actually on his Southern hunting trip. In fact he has already arrived in the jungles of Mississippi, where the black bear is said to be plentiful. Teddy, it is said, is made up in true Western style and looks as natural as when he used to scout the Texas border as a rough riding ranger.

THE associated press dispatches say that two carloads of hunting apparatus were shipped out for the benefit of President Roosevelt's hunting party down south. We'll bet a coon skin that it wouldn't take six bits to pay the express back to Washington on all the game the whole "shooting match" will kill on the entire trip. But they will have a million dollars worth of fun all the same.

THE Shelby Democrat has been purchased by M. L. Massey, who will continue its publication at Center under the management of John McLendon. Friend Massey is without newspaper experience, but he is a hustler and is generally successful in any thing he undertakes. He will make a success of the newspaper business, or he will "quit'er cold" as soon as he gets the experience.

THE "move" of President Roosevelt to stamp out the lilly white republican of the South will make him trouble with the whites and accomplish nothing with the negroes. The Booker Washington incident made the president solid with the negro voter throughout the land, and was barely tolerated by the Southern white republicans, but this last move will not be passed off so lightly. However, if he is bent on reducing the Southern representation, this is a good way to start about it.

Editor John B. Long of the Industrial Press, published at Rusk, is laid up for repairs. Some one, we are told, slipped up behind him unnoticed and unseen and struck Editor Long over the head with that poll tax amendment—Tyler Courier.

John B. never will learn to look out for such dangers. He is always getting "struck" that way.

W. P. Conway, a prosperous farmer living near Alto, shipped 126 head of fine, fat sheep to Ft. Worth last week. He was only offered $100 for the entire bunch. He shipped them back home. Mr. Conway says the people of Ft. Worth will get very hungry for mutton before he will ship them another bunch at such prices.—Jacksonville Banner.

Why didn't he ship them to Palestine?

The election has become a thing of the past, and Shelby is almost without representation in the various conventions, as the Democratic candidate only received 1170 votes, which gives us four delegates, one less than last year, when we should have had not less than ten.—Center Champion.

Panola county also lost one vote. Nacogdoches county only fill off 57 votes for governor and her representation is unchanged.

The East Texas Star, published at Timpson, appropriated about two columns of truck matter from our last issue, and marked it "Ex." Now, we don't mind to edit the press of East Texas, but we must insist on "credit to whom credit is due."—Texas Fruit and Truck Journal.

It is noticeable that several of our East Texas contemporaries adhere to that old lazy habit of crediting every thing to "Ex." And there is nothing that savors more of the "back number" style of journalism.

THERE has been several theories advanced as to the cause of the unusually light vote polled in Nacogdoches county at the recent election, involving local conditions only. But the returns throughout the State show the same light vote in nearly every county, and as there are few counties, if any, where the same conditions exist as they did in Nacogdoches, this theorizing is of little consequence. The people simply were not interested. There was not enough excitement in the recent campaign to call the boys out from the "forks," and they didn't come.

EDITOR REIN is worrying a great deal about a business league for Orange. A business league is quite the thing for a city, a sure enough city, but for a town like Organge, every citizen should constitute himself a league in the interest of the community. We have tried the "League" proposition in Nacogdoches and it was a failure. When Nacogdoches finds it necessary to do anything enterprising we all turn out and take a hand, and the effort is usually crowned with success. Leagues are high sounding and dignified, but they are not in it compared with the concert of action by the people of a community.

H. W. Overall, living near douglass, Nacogdoches county, was in Alto Wednesday trying the cotton seed market.—Jacksonville Banner.

Well, how did he come out? We have an idea that it would have paid him to fetch them to Nacogdoches where there is an oil mill and always red hot competition.

THE fate of the Old Stone Fort at Nacogdoches has aroused the United Daughters of the Republic with renewed activity in the effort to preserve the old historic land marks so prominent in Texas history. The demolition of the Old Stone Fort was permitted by sheer procrastination, and this association of Texas' patriotic women are determined that it shall not occur again and they have already inaugurated a vigorous move for the purchase and preservation of the old Missions near San Antonio. These missions are not threatened as yet by the march of commercialism, and as these noble women have begun an eatly campaign, we have every assurance that their efforts will be crowned with success.

OUR good neighbor, the Nacogdoches Sentinel, credits an article from the Alto News. Wonder if it has to go back two years to get exchange ideas, since it has been more than that length of time when The News' little pink toes were turned up to the daisies.—Alto Herald.

Don't know whether the article was two years old or not. Some of the Herald's items have whiskers. For instance, its issue of Nov. 14th says: "Last week the town of Nacogdoches was the scene of the quickest legal trial and execution in the history of criminal jurisprudence. A negro was tried, convicted, sentenced and executed within four hours." The Sentinel always credits some paper with what it uses that is not its own, even though it may disturb the dead, by mistake. Can The Herald say as much?

IF the president's opposition to the franchise amendments adopted by several southern states means that he wants a worthless element, who contribute absolutely nothing to the support of the government or any of its public institutions, to stand side by side with patriotic and loyal citizens, in the exercise of the rights of suffrage he will find his "move" to reduce southern republican representation in conventions more successful than he anticipated. The South has had nearly enough of this kind of thing, and if the effort at ballot reform is to be side-tracked decent people will soon desert the polls and leave the elections in the hands of filthy, stinking, ragged, whiskey-soaked negroes and low down white men who are scarcely better than they are. Texas honored herself in electing the poll tax amendment. We honor those republicans who voted for it and blush for democrats whose sickly "consciences" and puny intellect prompted them to oppose it as "unconstitioonal."

It is not likely that corn will be cheap in this country at any time between now and the harvesting of next years crop. A recent report from Vinita, Indian Territory, which is in the heart of a corn growing country, says: "For the past few days the Indian Territory has been covered with a slow rain, which has caused all of the creeks and larger streams to rise. Much damage will result to the corn crop that is still in the fields, and the work of gathering corn and placing it on the market has received a substantial setback. There is a famije of cars in this country and buyers are storing their corn and thousands of bushels of corn has been piled up on the ground at all towns along the railroad. The price of corn in the northern part of Cherokee Nation has ranged from 28c to 32c per bushel delivered at the cars by the farmers. It is feared that much corn will rot in the fields now. The rain will be of inestimable value to the growing wheat crop which is now up and looking fine. Cotton pickers have been delayed on account of the rain. The corn fields are so soft now that the farmers are unable to pull full loads of corn over them."

A WRITER in a recent issue of the Plaindealer, signing himself "A Negro Subscriber," makes the rather ungallant insinuation that the negro women are responsible for the raising up of "bad niggers," inasmuch as they allow their boys and girls to grow up "hog wild," without restraint or training, or words to that effect. The imputation is a harsh one, but nevertheless true, especially about towns. The colored women not only raise bad niggers but they encourage them to be bad after they grow up. Negro men as a rule are lazy, shiftless and worthless, while the women are energetic, even if dishonest. The negro women about the cities and towns are of the lowest morals and they willingly work, steal or even sell their virtue to maintain the negro men. They have no interest in their offspring for the reason that they are born in crime and the mother could not in one instance out of ten tell who is the father of her child. We are speaking of the low class of about town negroes, from which element springs nine-tents of the negro criminals. There is a better element in the negro race, but the good is seldom conspicuous. The whole race is condemned for the bad there is in it. No wonder the self-respecting, law-abiding negroes are aroused and alarmed and are suggesting a law to make their women properly care for and train their children or take them away from them and see that they are properly raised. It cannot be expected that much improvement can be accomplished until this evil is corrected.

We are here to stay, and will guarantee every repair job done at the Saddle Shop. Mast & Stroud.

Homer Lyles.
 Homer, second son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lyles, born Jan. 6th, 1885, died of appendicitis Oct. 27th, 1902. Everything within the scope of medical science and the closest attention of loving friends was done, yet God called and Homer had to go, after fighting with a nerve and coolness which is seldom seen, even among men. When told of approaching death, Homer called father, mother, brothers and sisters, to his couch and told them he was prepared to go and sent a message home to two of his boy friends requesting them to meet him in Heaven, then phoned his old teacher that he was dying. Homer during all his short life was of a quiet unassuming disposition, kind and affectionate to all, one whom to know was to love and admire, at school an industrious, dutiful and obedient pupil, at home loving brother and affectionate son. Though Homer has been called home in dawn of manhood, yet he has accomplished that for which aged sires and stately manhood have been thriving since Eden's first morn—a haven of peace and rest. All that is mortal of Homer now, in Linn Flat's cold damp earth, sleeps the slumber, yet his noble virtues and unselfish disposition will ever dwell in the memories, and as a guiding star, of countless relatives and friends with whom he was associated in life. And when life's fleeting dreams are o'er,
 And we are called to go,
 May we meet him on that bright shore,
 Having conquered every foe.

Died From Her Burns.
 The Times neglected to mention the sad death of Miss Maude McDavid, daughter of W. P. McDavid, which took place at her father's home week before last. She received a serious burn at the fire at Omen where she was going to school, about the 18th of September, and for many weeks of suffering she was held by the brittle thread of life, while the best medical skill, and the constant watch of kind parents were bestowed in the most earnest endeavor to restore her. She was a lovely bright young lady and justly enjoyed the love and esteem of all who knew her.—Henderson Times.

The little tots in the room under the direction of Miss Elkins show great interest in their work. Miss Langley's pupils are enthusiastic. They chose the following officers: Wesley Shaw Pres., Allen Wilkins vice pres., Elsie Parrish sec. The room under the care of Mr. Watkins selected officers as follows: pres. Sam Dorsey; vice pres. Laura Burk; sec. Affie Middlebrook, critic, Manford Berger.

Resolved that old maids are all right, and old bachelors are detestable, was ably discussed, and decided emphatically in favor of the old maids.
 Resolved that Santa Anna should have been put to death for his treatment of the Texas revolutionists was so very positively affirmed, that had Mr. Santa Anna fallen into the hands of the debaters his career as a warrior would have ceased much earlier than it did.

These are a sample of the subjects discussed.

Peach Seed Wanted.
 Any one having peach seed gathered, or who can gather good seed will be well paid for them in cash or in exchange for trees if they will apply to me and state the number they have or can get together. Remember also that I still have a full line of peaches, apples, pear, plum and fig trees of the leading varieties adapted to this section and will be glad to have your orders while they yet last. Ladies do not forget the rose garden this fall. I have a specially selected list which is best adapted to East Texas conditions and the plants are stocky out door grown and will be sure to give the best results. Rush the matter of peach seed as it will be too late to use them soon. Apply to me at Garrison, Texas.

MOTHERS
 TESTIFY TO THE BENEFIT THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF LAXAKOLA
 Having received your sample of Laxakola, I wish to say that it is the best medicine I have ever used for my children. It is so gentle and so effective that I can give it with perfect safety. I have used it for many years and it has never failed me. I have used it for my children and it has always given them relief. I have used it for my children and it has always given them relief. I have used it for my children and it has always given them relief.
LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, and any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.
 Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send for it and mention Your Druggist's Name.

The office of Dr. E. D. Williams at Chireno was burned Friday night. It is not known how the fire originated and is supposed to have been purely accidental. The building and contents were insured in a company represented by G. B. Layton, Esq., of this city.

Southern Philosopher.
"You look happy," ventured the tourist.
"Couldn't be more so, stranger," replied the lanky native.
"Didn't the lightning strike your place?"
"Yes, hit the woodpile an' split up enough kindling to last six weeks."
"How about the cloudburst?"
"Oh, that saved the old woman a week's washing. Just hung the clothes out an' the water did the rest."
"But the earthquake?"
"Well, that saved some more work. Churned up all the milk aroun' into butter. Nature is man's greatest help, stranger."

Blackbirds as Sentinels.
The blackbird, always skulking near bushes and diving into them with his chattering outcry at the alarm of a hawk, renders public service to such wild life in general as holds birds or beasts of prey in dread. The human poacher knows and hates him, too, while even the legitimate sportsman has sometimes reason to wish him in the next parish. You may take up your position at a corner of a warren to wait for rabbits, but if a blackbird chooses to resent your presence you may wait in vain.

Quick Lunch Music.
Funny thing happened down at Feedem's restaurant.
"What? Somebody get a good steak?"
"Oh, no; but Feedem put in one of these big organs that plays from a perforated strip of music, and one of the regular boarders threw a lot of punched meal tickets into the instrument."
"What happened?"
"It played the Dead March from 'Saul.'—New York Times.

Western Irrigation Work.
The government has begun to withdraw lands in Colorado and other western states from settlement in order to furnish sites for great reservoirs and other irrigation works under the provisions of the recent law. Work will be carried on as rapidly as possible, though on such a comprehensive scale it will necessarily be very gradual.

Mr. L. I. Wade is at home again for a day, or a day and a half, or two days. Luther is quite a meteor; anyhow, he is a shooting "star."

What has become of the Clever Black Jack correspondent for the Sentinel? We have had several inquiries about him lately.

The two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Walters died last night, and was buried this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the city cemetery.

Mr. J. P. Hartman and Miss Achshe Grubbs were united in marriage this afternoon at the residence of Mr. J. L. Pinkard, Rev. S. F. Baucom performing the ceremony. The Sentinel extends congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. W. P. Devereaux and her little daughter Julien left for Jacksonville yesterday. Mrs. Devereaux has been spending some months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Perkins, of this city.

A letter received from Mrs. Cone Johnson by the Daughters of the Confederacy, states that her promised visit is deferred until the first of December. Consequently the reception which was to be next Saturday, is postponed, as it was to be in Mrs. Johnsons honor, and all plans are now indefinite.

Judge W. G. Davis and wife, of Woodville, are visiting Maj. and Mrs. Geo. T. Walker and other relatives. Judge and Mrs. Davis were citizens of Nacogdoches a good many years ago. Judge Davis came to Nacogdoches the first time 54 years ago. Of course he sees great changes in the old town.

This country can live, thrive and be happy on collards, if every thing else gives out, judging from the specimens Mr. A. L. Jones brings in by the wagon load.

Dr. W. F. Shepherd, son of I. M. Shepherd, of Garrison, has returned to Memphis, Tenn., where he will take a five months course in the Memphis Medical College.

Dr. R. B. Booth, who has been practicing medicine at Garrison for some time was in to see us today and says that he has moved back to Aiken, Shelby county, where he will continue the practice of medicine.

The first consignment of tomatoes from Garrison canning company that we have seen, is in the city. This factory is not only a fine thing for Garrison but for the county. It can easily put up only the best quality, and the magnificent qualities of tomatoes raised in this section will give the Garrison company a world wide reputation in time, if it keeps the grade up.

A new section, 14 1-2, on the H. E. & W. T. Ry. has been established at Nacogdoches for the convenience of the section hands in looking after the yards and switches here. It will be located in the Davidson pasture for the present, one of Dr. Mayfield's houses having been rented for that purpose. This section includes a portion of both sections 14 and 15.

The Fifth Sunday meeting will take place at Melrose. It begins on Friday and lasts through Saturday and Sunday. Rev. S. F. Baucom, will take up the mission work of the county, and particularly wishes a large attendance. Every one interested in the mission work—and every one ought to be, should attend. The weather promises to be beautiful, and a helpful and interesting meeting is looked forward to.

A very interesting plan for celebrating Thanksgiving this year has been decided upon by the pastors of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Nacogdoches. The services will be held in the Baptist church, that being the largest, and will consist of song and prayer, and short addresses by four representative professional and business men of the city—Hon. S. W. Blount, Dr. J. E. Mayfield, Prof. R. F. Davis and one other, whose name has not been given. The program will be published in due time.

A negro, Simp Hooper, living near Roster, became enraged at his wife last night and beat her up with a stick of wood. Her right arm was broken above the elbow and the left forearm was broken, besides various bruises about her back. The woman's wounds were dressed and her vicious husband is behind the bars of the city bastille.—Tim pson Times.

Where Shots Strike.
Of every 110 shots which strike some soldier, forty-three will lodge in the legs, thirty-three shots will lodge in the arms, twenty-two strike between neck and waist, one in the neck, and eleven shots some part of the soldier's head.

Boy Kills Large Eagle.
A fifteen-year-old boy in the canton of Grisons, Switzerland, came across three large eagles the other day, engaged in a deadly fight. He killed one of them with his stick, whereupon the others took to flight.

Some Negro Statistics.
Two hundred and sixty-four thousand two hundred and eighty-eight negroes in the United States own their homes. There are altogether about one and one-half million negro families in the country.

Berlin Imports Much Fruit.
In the year ending April 1, 1900, Berlin imported from Italy fifty carloads of cherries, 357 of table grapes, 345 of summer fruits, etc. In the following twelve months the business doubled.

Fashion of Old Times.
Steeple-pointed caps, sometimes four feet in height, came into fashion in Italy and France in 1843. They fitted the head, ran to a sharp point above, and at the end the veil was fastened.

Shows Long Life of Whales.
A whale recently captured in Arctic waters was found to have imbedded in its side a harpoon that belonged to a whaling vessel that had been out of service nearly half a century.

Sand in the Mersey.
Twenty-eight million tons of sand have been dredged from the Mersey bar in ten years. In the same period 35,000,000 tons have been taken from the estuary channels.

Gold From Alaska.
The first gold was found in the Klondyke in 1886 by a man named Franklin. Since then Alaska has given the world nearly $21,000,000 worth of gold.
