It's a Butter Maker.

The following is self-explanatory:

Nacogdoches, Tex., Feb. 2, 1902.

I bought of Perkins Bros. a Dollar package of International Stock Food for my cows. I was getting 7 pounds of butter a week more than I was using in my family. When I commenced with the Stock Food the 2 cows began to increase until I got 11 pounds and milk in proportion. When the Food gave out the milk and butter decreased until I only got 8 pounds, so my wife said I must get some more International Stock Food. C. W. HARVEY.

B. Campbell, that said plunder was annexed Saturday February 7, 1903.

BAPTIST COLLEGE MEETING

ITS DOWN TO A MATTER OF GROUNDS.

Trustees Will Demand Abundant Grounds Conveniently Located to the Center of the City.

A representative gathering of citizens met at the court house Saturday evening to discuss the East Texas Baptist Institute proposition. The truck growers were holding their regular meeting, but adjourned to allow the school meeting use of the court house. The meeting was called to order by Rev. Bacon, who put E. A. Blount in nomination for chairman. Mr. Blount was elected unanimously, and on motion Prof. Spear was elected secretary. Rev. Holt stated that a committee representing the Baptist Education commission were present and moved that they be invited to address the meeting with reference to the matters in hand. Dr. J. B. Gambrell, president, Dr. Carroll, corresponding secretary of the commission, and Rev. Gambrell, president of the board of trustees of East Texas Baptist Institute spoke in turn. Dr. Holt introduced Dr. Gambrell of Waco, Dr. Gambrell is a very interesting speaker and while telling us all about colleges threw in several witty expressions and anecdotes. He said East Texas was the finest place to grow people he ever saw, especially Baptists, the woods being full of them. He dwelt at length on the value of colleges as influential in building up an intelligent Christian citizenship.

Dr. Carroll was next introduced as "the man who raised the money," for the educational institutions. He stated that when the Baptist church decided to take in hand the building of colleges several years ago, that there were nine schools in different parts of the state, each under an independent management, relying on the support of the immediate territory for existence, and that with the exception of two, all were hopelessly in debt. The Baptist money to pay off these debts (aggregating $200,000) and assuming control of the schools afterward. The scheme is to have two great institutions in different sections of the state. The East Texas Baptist Institute at Rusk is one of these. At these schools students will be given a practical education, one on which they can rely in the battles of life. If they desire a finished education they will be prepared to enter Baylor University. The $200,000 debts have been paid off and nearly $200,000 more has been raised for this work. He stated that he was sure the school would be moved from Rusk. He said if the school was put here it was the intention to make it one that our citizens would be proud of. Grounds would have to be convenient to the city, so students could get to it, ample grounds for campus were absolutely necessary. Dr. J. H. Gambrell, president of the board of trustees of the Institute, and also pastor of the First Baptist church at Tyler, was introduced. He explained that the educational commission would require first, ample grounds, second, that grounds be convenient to center of population, not further away from the square than the present college grounds, third that the people give the institution friendly treatment and co-operation. As to grounds, it was not a question of what the board will accept, but what we can put up with. The institution is to be a fixture, as it grows older more buildings will be required and room for expansion must be made now. In response to a question of how much ground would be needed, Doctor Gambrell of Waco stated that Baylor, at Waco has 25 acres and already more room is needed. Room must be made for a center building, two boarding halls and two or three mess halls, for the accommodation of students who want to club together, and reduce board by having their own cooking done. Don't know exactly, but thought it hardly probable that the school could get along with less than ten or twelve acres. Asked if half the college grounds, would be sufficient, he stated that it would not. The committee was not empowered to make final arrangements, but would receive a proposition and lay it before the commission who would consider. There is no hurry, the matter should be considered on both sides. They were looking for the best place and would carefully consider every point.

D. K. Cason moved that appointed by the chair to take charge of the committee and show them what we had in the way of suitable grounds. Carried. Messrs. Schmidt, Cason and Summers were added to the committee.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned sine die.

Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. Eugene Blount and Miss Rosine Shindler on Thursday evening Feb. 19, at 8:30 o'clock at Christ Church.

POSSIBLY ITS CALL OF

East Texas Baptist Institute Can Find Necessary Grounds.

Several of the gentlemen who had the Baptist Institute committee in tow Saturday and Sunday, showing them over the available lands, were seen this morning by a reporter and asked what the committee had had to say. Mr. E. A. Blount said he feared the entire deal was at a standstill, no grounds appeared to fill the bill with the exception of the University grounds. He referred the reporter to Dr. J. B. Dalton. Mr. Dalton said that the committee was willing to consider a proposition of three to four of the University grounds and a cash donation of $5,000, and while they didn't say so, this is about all that would capture the college for this point.

Freight Division.

Nacogdoches has been made freight division headquarters for the Texas and New Orleans. This will give us some new population to go with the roundhouse. It is rumored that Mr. Harrington has been notified to move his planer from the Davidson pasture within the next thirty days, but this cannot be confirmed, as he is out of the city. The under a 20 year lease which has 17 years to run and Mr. Harrington has the ground rented from Mr. Lee. We understand that mills owning seed houses along the right of way have been notified to move to provide room for additional track.

THREE FREIGHT CARS IN THE DITCH

Hold up Local Passenger Train and a Theatrical Company Half a Day.

The H. E. & W. L. has had more than its share of wrecks lately. A freight wreck at Lufkin Saturday night delayed the down train over a hour, and a little later the road was closed again by a wreck at the crossing four miles from town that held the freight cars up till wagon loads could not pass, and the local trains did not pull out till after dark. The railroads are all in bad shape now from the rains. It is due to the extreme care and vigilance of the train men that so few accidents happen to passenger trains, but the heavier freights will find out the weak places in the road bed.

Accidental Killing at Sacul

News reaches here of the accidental killing of Earl Walker, an employe on the Texas and New Orleans bridge gang at the Angelina river near Sacul last Thursday. Walker was working on the ground under the bridge, while the crew were unloading piling. Some one cut the ropes which held the piling on the car and the load rolled off, falling on him with the result stated.

Esquire J. Dawson, of Linn Flat, spent last night in the city.

Dr. A. M. Cooper, of Lanna, was in the city this morning.

Col. A. Wettermark of Henderson is in the city on a business visit.

A ten pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Parrish this morning.

Mrs. L. F. Holmes, of Tenaha, is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Spradley.

Grant Grayson, of Coushatta, is visiting relatives and friends in Nacogdoches and vicinity.

Dr. J. R. Cox and Dr. W. W. Ireland, of Swift, are in town today, and were pleasant callers at the Sentinel office.

Messrs. W. E. Menetzer and W. P. Page, two of Chireno's most prosperous farmers are in the city today.

Mr. Lincoln, a noted prospector from Idaho, is in this section of Texas, prospecting for ore and mineral. He is spending a few days in Nacogdoches looking at deposits in this vicinity.

Miss Mary Watkins and Miss Emma Whitfield left the early part of the week for Miss Whitfield's home in Stamford, Jones Co., where Miss Watkins will visit. They went via Henderson, where they will spend a few days.

A. K. Layton, of Attoyac presented the Sentinel office with a white radish yesterday that was a giant sure enough. It weighed 4 3/4 pounds, and was about the size of a foot ball which it rather resembled in shape. While it is not necessary for radishes to grow that size in order to be a paying crop it shows what this retiring vegetable can do in East Texas with proper encouragement.

Some twenty-five farm wagons were loaded with corn at the depot this morning. It is a new thing in the experience of Nacogdoches county farmers to have to buy corn by the car load. It has always been customary for the merchants to bring on a few car loads of corn every season, but for farmers to order it themselves and have it delivered to them on the track at the depot is a new thing.

After a hard winter nothing will do your horse or cow as much good as International Stock Food, Perkins Bros.

Weak and Low Spirited.

A correspondent thus describes his experience: "I can strongly recommend Herbine as a medicine of remarkable efficacy for indigestion, loss of appetite, sour taste in the mouth, sourness after meals with distressing mental depression and low spirits. Herbine must be an unique preparation for cases such as mine, for a few doses entirely removed my complaint. I wonder at people going on suffering or spending their money on worthless things, when Herbine is procurable, and so cheap." 30 cents a bottle at Perkins Bros.

THE KILLING AT CENTER.

The Report that Came Yesterday is Confirmed.

A later report from Center confirms the statement made yesterday concerning the killing of a man by H. F. Hatchell, formerly of Nacogdoches. The latest news received is that Hatchell and a man, about forty-five or fifty years old, named F. Judge, had been sitting around a drugstore joking each other for several hours, when Hatchell became very angry and made an assault upon Judge with his pocket knife, severing the jugular vein and disemboweling him. Judge died in a few minutes. Hatchell was arrested and is still in jail at Center. Hatchell is a carpenter by trade and is quite well known in Nacogdoches where he worked at his trade several years, and where he married Miss Mary Matthews, daughter of Mr. A. Y. Matthews, moving shortly afterwards to Center. The news of the unfortunate affair is received with sincere regret here.

Cancer Cured.

Mr. W. W. Prickett, Smithfield, Ill., writes Sep. 10th, 1901: "I had been suffering several years with a cancer on my face, which gave me great annoyance and unbearable itching. I was using Ballard's Snow Liniment for a sore leg, and through an accident I rubbed some of the liniment on the cancer, and as it gave me almost instant relief, I decided to continue to use the liniment on the cancer. In a short time the cancer came out, my face healed up and there is not the slightest scar left. I have implicit faith in the merits of this preparation, and it cannot be too highly recommended." 25c, 50c and $1.00. For sale by Perkins Bros.

A False Fire Alarm.

From Friday's Daily: A blaze shot out of one of the chimneys on the south side of the court-house about 10 o'clock today, and viewed from the public square looked like the whole top of the building was on fire. Great excitement prevailed for a few seconds. The regulation fire alarm was turned on by Deputy Sheriff Walters, several teams stampeded and the occupants of the upstairs offices on the public square had a general tumbling over each other to get down stairs and find out what was the matter. Most people thought a fight was on and somebody was getting killed, there being a great deal of yelling and shrieking. The soot soon burned out of the chimney and it was a very agreeable disappointment that there was neither a fire nor a fight.

The grocery stores of the city have taken off the 4 o'clock limit for delivering groceries, and now deliver goods at any time ordered, before dark.

Messrs. L. Parish and S. A. Davis, of Aken, Shelby Co., are in Nacogdoches trading today. Bad weather cannot keep people from coming here to trade.

The weather and roads have been, as every one knows, the worst of their kind, but the Nacogdoches merchants are reaping the reward of steady advertising, in the number of farmers who dare the unfriendly weather and come to Nacogdoches to trade because of the bargains offered and the fair treatment always received. Today the number of traders from other towns are unusually large for the kind of a day; and while business would of course be better if weather and roads would reform it shows the value of not only advertising but employing wide awake methods of business. In this, Nacogdoches merchants are second to none in the state.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months; the doctors stated he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and it cured him. That was six years ago, and since then we always kept a bottle in the house. We can not do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at Perkins Bros.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Troy Boles Horribly Killed Friday Night by T. & N. O. Train.

Jacksonville Banner:

One of the most shocking affairs that has occurred in Jacksonville in a long time was the tragic death of Troy B. Boles, the 18 year old son of Mrs. Mary Boles, which occurred at 10 o'clock last Friday night.

The young man was in the employ of the T. & N. O. railroad as night watchman, and after the arrival of the passenger train from Dallas, accompanied it to the Y north of the I. & G. N. crossing, where the train is turned for the outgoing trip next morning.

There are several conflicting stories as to how the accident occurred, but our understanding is that in reaching over the edge of the platform to see if the air break was all right, his head was caught between the bumpers and crushed. He was removed to the T. & N. O. depot and medical aid summoned, but he never regained consciousness and at 12 o'clock died.

Troy was known as one of the best boys in Jacksonville and had a world of friends who grieve with his bereaved family at his untimely taking away.

A WARM ROAST.

Hot Shot Fired at the Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Lufkin Tribune:
Lufkin, Tex., Jan. 29, 1903.
Editor Tribune:

In the issue of January 26 there appeared in the Nacogdoches Sentinel a garbled, misrepresentative and libelous account of the assassination of my brother, Nath Magee, at the fruit farm of Manton. From reliable information received from parties who were present at the time and who could possibly have no cause to conceal the facts or pervert the same, I desire to correct the gross and unjournalistic methods resorted to by the Sentinel man, who attempted to gain a little moral notoriety by traducing and misrepresenting the character of a dead man, and more than likely, one whom he would not dare to face and make the same accusations were he not today occupying the grave of a man foully murdered from ambush by the same set of moralizers and cowards to whom the Sentinel editor is trying to pander and maintain the good will of.

As for the real facts in the case, which I am at any time prepared to substantiate to the satisfaction of anyone, with possibly the exception of the Sentinel Editor, they are about as follows: My brother, Nath Magee, went from Huntington to the Manton fruit farm about 6 o'clock in the evening and upon his arrival there found the usual state of affairs that generally exists about camps of that sort. A large number of Mexicans were there, drinking, singing and dancing and putting in their time almost any way they wanted to, as is and always has been their custom on pay days. There were also present, but taking no part in the hilarity, several negro women. Nath Magee, soon arriving at the camp found a comfortable place near the fire and lay down to rest and enjoy the warmth of the big log heap that had been previously started. It was while my brother was lying down and was about half asleep and half awake when the cowardly assassins opened up a fire from shot-guns upon the camp, the shots being fired at a distance of about 40 or 50 yards, the murderous assassins being concealed not only in the dark, but being also behind a dense under brush.

Who the shooting was really intended for, or who did it, are questions not necessary to dwell upon at present, but that the murder of my brother was a dirty, cold-blooded act, even a great moralizer or traducer and defamer of the dead like the Sentinel editor might possibly admit—unless the aforesaid Sentinel editor was afraid some of the cowards to whom he was attempting to defend were to get to him first and mould an opinion for him.

Now for the moral part of the question, as some parties are attempting to infect into this already deplorable affair:

If any law was violated, or if any conduct was being carried on or any acts committed there that was a violation of the law, there is certainly some other recourse than cowardly assassination, shooting from the dark, or murdering in cold blood men who were asleep and not expecting a reign of outlawry by such "good upright and honorable citizens" as the Sentinel editor seems so anxious to laud to the skies, pin wings upon and let loose to soar, honored and unmolested, over the grave of a man foully murdered: to gloat in their devilish glee over the wails of a virtuous and heart-broken widow and the three orphaned children of tender years, a boy of 6 years and two innocent, sweet little girls of younger age.

May God forgive and have what pity is justly due the base misrepresentations and defamations made upon the character surrounding another page in history—where a sleeping unsuspecting man was murdered—shot to death—by parties whom more than likely the victim had never seen nor heard of, nor ever knew anything about good or bad.

I know for a fact, and can at any time substantiate the same, that my brother, Nath Magee, was murdered from ambush; that at the time the dastardly crime was committed he was lying, either asleep or in a partially comatose condition, by the camp fire, ignoring the talking, laughing, or dancing of the others about the camp, and that he was totally ignorant of any hard feelings or intention on the part of anyone to take his own or anyone else's life at the time, and more especially to be shot from ambush in the dark by people whom the great newspaper and upholder of law and order, the Nacogdoches Sentinel, is and has attempted to justify in an un-American, cowardly and hellish deed, that only adds another black page in the history of the country, another deplorable feature being that one of the cowards like the Sentinel editor are the only ones who reap a reward from—a paltry subscription of a few cents possibly, from some cowardly, scurrilous assassinator, who gloats over the miserable newspaper protection he is afforded by the lick-spittle who would barter his honor, morality and Americanism in order to furnish his picayunish and pernicious standing with the cowards he is so prompt to defend, even at the expense of an assassinated man, a lonely, heartbroken man, who has been protected in that fully realize the great calamity that has fallen upon them.

Respectfully submitted for the consideration of those who might possibly form a wrong impression by the Sentinel account of the affair.

Fleet Magee,

Brother of the man who was assassinated by the cowardly gang whom the Nacogdoches Sentinel is endeavoring to justify.

We shall mail him a copy of The Sentinel and allow him to discover his mistake.

Who ever heard of selling pine tops at 35 cents each? Well, that is what hundreds of them sold for in St. Louis during the week before Christmas, and some of them sold for 50 cents each. They were used for decorating and were nothing more than the buds or tops of young long leaf pine bushes containing from 8 to 12 inches of the stem on which was a good bunch of long pine straws. Thousands of young cedar trees from 4 to 10 feet high sold readily for home Christmas trees. Baskets full of green Southern fern, and hundreds of wreaths of our ordinary-holly leaves sold readily, as also did the wreaths of magnolia leaves.—Tyler Diversifier.

Crackers With A Kerosene Flavor

They are known as the common bulk soda cracker. All grocers don't have them in this flavor—some of them do.

It's no fault of the grocerman. He sells bulk soda crackers because a few customers still buy them as a matter of habit. He also sells kerosene.

Between measuring out kerosene and putting bulk biscuit in a bag things will get mixed.

If you do not fancy the kind with the kerosene flavor ask for Uneda Biscuit in the In-er-seal Package with red and white seal.

Made with the utmost care; clean bakeries, clean bakers, best material. Packed in an air tight, dust proof package that does all that it was made to do—keeps the biscuit fresh, clean and dry. They reach you in perfect condition—just as they left the oven.

LANHAM'S ANTI-TRUST BILLS.

The Governor Wants Prompt Legislation on These Lines.

Austin, Feb. 5.—Governor Lanham today sent a special message to the legislature asking for anti-trust legislation along the line of three bills he presented to the legislature.

If these bills are enacted into laws, it is claimed, they will:

1. Define, prohibit and declare illegal trusts, monopolies and conspiracies in restraint of trade, and prescribe penalties for the formation or being connected with such trusts, monopolies and conspiracies, and provide for the suppression of same, and promote free competition in the state of Texas.

2. Amend article 745 of the Revised Civil statutes of the state of Texas so as to require the charter of a domestic corporation to state the place at which it proposes to transact business.

3. To require foreign corporations, before they can obtain a permit authorizing them to engage in business within the state of Texas, to designate the place at which they propose to transact such business, and prohibit foreign corporations, which are organized for a purpose for which corporations cannot be formed under the laws of the state of Texas, from transacting business within this state.

Shelby county is just now being discovered. That it presents a fine field for investment is proven by the tide of immigration that is headed this way, but it seems to be coming of its own accord and very little is being done to induce people to come here. An active campaign should be organized for populating the county and now is the time to

There is a bill before the legislature to concentrate the State court of criminal appeals held at Dallas, Tyler and Austin at the city of Austin. To do so, will unravel the fixed policy heretofore of the democracy to accommodate the people and with the convenience removed, load them with another weight of centralization. Besides this it will be in direct conflict with, or departure from, the established rule or policy of the democracy to place the courts so as to enlarge the accessibility and meet the wants of the people. There are bills now before the legislature to establish district courts in line of the boasted policy mentioned and to concentrate this court as designed will be an over act to encourage centralization—Industrial Press.

Editor Long, no doubt, pinned the above paragraph for the sake of criticising the democracy, with which he has been out of tune to these many years. But he is right for once. It's a departure from the principles of democracy and the motto "the greatest good to the greatest number," and it is hoped the legislature will not be guilty of the inconsistencies pointed out by the Industrial Press.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier, of Mannington, Ky., writes: "My three year old girl had a very severe case of croup; the doc-

ADMIRAL HIGGINSON'S GREAT FLEET

Its Coming a Great Event For Galveston and Texas.

Galveston, Feb. 6.—The coming of Admiral Higginson's great fleet to Galveston harbor will be a great event, not only for Galveston, but for Texas and the west generally. The halo which hangs about a warship has great fascination for them who live in land. The great fighting machines of the navy are as full of interest as they are of machinery, of men, of force, aggressive and defensive, and a day spent aboard one of the great ships Admiral Higginson will bring to Galveston will give a better and more comprehensive idea of the navy as it is than would the perusal of a thousand stories of the service. No picture, however lifelike, can give any conception of the massive strength of these great floating forts. To be appreciated they must be seen, must be explored. One must immerse one's self in the atmosphere of the navy to be able to appreciate, to comprehend—to understand the navy. The transportation companies appreciate the importance of the visit of the ships and will name rates that will bring visitors. The city of Galveston has a reputation as a host that insures a delightful welcome to her guests, and the indications are that squadron week will be one long to be remembered.

POCKETTS relieved a Shreveport juror of $20 while in the jury box.

THE cotton market has been guilty of several sensational rises this week.

THE Dallas News says the question up north is, "How is your coal bin?" That's a burning question,—its bin scarce.

SHREVEPORT linemen are on a strike, but so far the light, car and phone service has not been seriously interfered with.

ENGLAND has decided to give life imprisonment to colonel Arthur Lynch instead of death. England will yet become civilized.

THE Logansport Journal has reached the tail end of its third year. As one of the policies of the future the Journal has adopted the cash rule.

THE Timpson Times says Nacogdoches is not a place for two newspapers. Lets see Timpson has three and we understand that a half interest in one of them was exchanged recently for a thirty-dollar mule.

THE St. Louis papers are devoting columns of space to a bogus English lord, who married on the strength of his false title. The so called "lord" dropped his "h's," so the St. Louisans must have been rather easily taken in but both news and men must be scarce in that neighborhood.

A NEW religious cult promising every thing to its converts, has sprung into existence in New York, according to a Dallas News correspondent. We have been looking for this for some days. An off year in politics is an on year for new and strange religions, it has been about three weeks since the newspapers started a new one. This latest product purports to be the old Parsee sun worshipping, fitted up with rubber tires and run by electricity. And all the ills that flesh is heir to are cured by breathing as the May day man says to. Now wouldn't that take your breath?

A BILL was introduced in the House on Saturday that is of great interest to fruit growers. It provides for a board of entomology, the state entomologist to be inspector; and the object is to prevent the introduction and spread of crop pests, and to see that plants shipped in to the state are free from injurious and regulations. The main object of the bill is to keep the San Jose scale and yellows from gaining entrance to the state. Texas being free, so far, from both these enemies to successful peach growing. Mr. Frank B. Guinn, of Cherokee Co., who introduced the bill is a large fruit grower, president of the leading associations at Rusk and a director of the East Texas Association.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Advantages to Be Derived From East Texas Institute.

Editor Sentinel:

I feel constrained to say a few words on the great question now confronting our people. It seems to me it is the most momentous question that has ever come before us. A college given to us—Just think of it friends—A college given to us. They do not ask us to give them any thing—It amounts to this: They say "citizens, if you will select a suitable location in you town we will give you a college, with all the buildings and equipments that is necessary to carry it on." They don't want us to give them the land but only to give it to ourselves. It seems to me it is the simplest thing in the world. All they stipulate is, there shall be ground enough to give us all the necessary buildings—Could we ask more? Surely not. Shall we build less wisely than our fore-fathers, who gave lands in different parts of the state, besides the University grounds, to be used for school purposes only? Surely this is for school purposes only.

Bishop Kinsolving is from a school town, Austin, and knows what a college is worth to a town. He said, that this was an opportunity of a life time for Nacogdoches, and to miss it would be to miss the greatest thing that could come to her.

Mr. Sanger of the Waco firm, said, "That Baylor University was worth more financially to Waco, than the manufacturing, packing houses or any other industry." Many of our interprising citizens think that it would be worth more to the town than a railroad. Can we afford to miss it from a financial standpoint? But from an educational standpoint, which is so much higher, surely, surely, we will exert every effort to get them to locate here.

Look at Nashville Tenn., when Mr. Vanderbilt gave them the University bearing his name, it was the only one there, and now she has thirteen colleges, besides her Grammar and High schools.

In our state we could find many examples of what great benefits colleges have been to towns and cities. Look at Belton, Texas, a little town of 5,000 or 6,000 people, and the school yearly brings to that town $150,000 besides the educational influence that goes into hundreds of homes, and which will never end.

Let us look to the future. Do not simply build for the present. Such a college as it is to be built, will not only benefit Nacogdoches, educationally, financially and morally. Nacogdoches will be the hub, around which the others will revolve. Do not let us be little to our selves and to our children. If that college is not secured by us, some body in East Texas will get it, and educationally we will go on in the same rut, we have been in, for the last fifty or sixty-five years, and let us remember this, they do not want to carry the land away from here, it will be just as much ours, after the buildings are put on it, as before only a vastly improved and beautified. Let us do the best we can for our town, our children and our country, and future generations will rise up and call us "blessed." Friends, we cannot afford to miss this great opportunity.

One who loves Nacogdoches and her prosperity.

The Kodol Almanac.

The editor of The Sentinel has just received with the compliments of the publishers, a copy of the Kodol Almanac and 200 year calendar, which is certainly a most unique and useful book.

With a copy of this publication at hand one is in possession of a calendar which covers the past as far back as the day of our National Independence, meets all the requirements of the present, and dates as far into the future as near the beginning of the next century.

By reference to this calendar the day of the week, of any given date in any month of the year, from 1776 to 1876, may be found at a glance. This information cannot be found in any other publication extant. Another feature of remarkable interest that this publication possesses, is its weather forecast. These predictions are not only full and complete, and as accurate and reliable as it is possible to calculate, but they are definite geographically, thus localizing the predictions and foretelling the weather which may be looked for in each section of the country.

Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, are sole owners and publishers, and will send one copy to any one enclosing a two-cent stamp, with a request for same, provided this paper is mentioned.

THE CENTER KILLING.

Said not to be as bad as Painted. But Bad Enough.

Center, Tex., Feb. 10.—Dear Sir: I think an article in a recent issue of the Times about the killing of F. Judge by H. C. Hatchell, does Mr. Hatchell a great injustice. Now, I have no inclination to make excuses or apologies for Mr. Hatchell's deed; the affair is deplorable enough at best. There can perhaps be no excuse for the deed, yet we should not make it worse than it was, and that is just what your article does.

The testimony of the witnesses at the inquest was that Mr. Judge had received a fatal stab when he fell to the floor. There is nothing in it to indicate that Hatchell knocked him down, and when Mr. Daugherty interfered, he turned on him with his knife and then "deliberately proceeded to cut the throat of the prostrate man." The substance of the testimony is that a difficulty arose between the two men; that the lie was passed; that Judge raised his right hand as it to strike Hatchell; that in the struggle which followed Hatchell, who had his knife open in his right hand, caught Judge's right hand with his left and then began using his knife on him. He cut till Mr. Judge (perhaps dead) fell to the floor, and then continued cutting, making in all 16 wounds. That is bad enough but it does not give it the fiendish, the inhuman air that your article does.

Nor is there in the quarrel with Hendricks what your correspondent would indicate. When you know all the facts it is quite different.

Mr. Hatchell has been in Center only a short time, but he has departed himself in a gentlemanly manner since he came. He is a member of the Methodist church here, and has been a faithful and interested attendant upon Sunday school. I have no direct interest in him; I write this because I like to see fair play on all hands. I deplore his deed but however bad it was let there be no coloring. Every one here regrets the tragedy, many feel a personal loss in Mr. Judge's death. Gentlemen in bearing, and kind and courteous in manner, he had found a warm place in many Center hearts.

To the Editor of the Sentinel—The above is a carbon copy of a letter I am today sending the Timpson Times.

Yours truly,

A. H. McKnight.

Frank Sublett returned from San Augustine yesterday, where he has been for the past week on a collecting tour for Mayer & Schmidt. Mr. Sublett has severed his con-cashier in the San Augustine National Bank, and Nacogdoches loses him as a citizen. The many friends of this popular gentleman are sorry indeed to have him leave the city, but while they regret giving him up, wish him the best of luck as he departs for San Augustine.

Arm Broken.

Yesterday afternoon while Jake the 13 year old son of J.

H. Summers was playing ball, he and another boy in running after the ball dashed together, Jake fell underneath and on getting up found that both bones of his arm had been broken below the elbow. The physicians pronounced it about as serious a break as they ever saw. Jake is full of nerve though and answered the phone himself this morning when the Sentinel inquired for particulars.

James J. Hill Gloomv.

New York, Feb. 9.—After briefly discussing the anti-trust law and the proposed department of commerce bill, James J. Hill, president of the Northern Securities Company said:

"As labor unions killed industrial England, so are they destined to bring about a grave financial reverse in the United States, and the country is swiftly approaching that crisis. It may come in a year; it may be deferred until the presidential year, but it is bound to come.

"There seems to be too much confidence in the ability of the country to walk right ahead of all other countries in manufacturing. The country can do it, but not without trouble and not without changing its present course. It is indeed a grave crisis we are approaching, although few seem to appreciate it. A few years may see the closing of many factories and the throwing out of work hundreds of thousands of men. We have been reaping the harvest and the reverse is coming. How quickly we will recover from it will depend largely upon who is at the head of the country when the break comes."

GETTING DOWN TO REAL FACTS.

One Colorless Report of the Wettermark Bank Failure.

Shreveport Times.

The Wettermark bank business will be wound up this week so far as making a statement of the assets and liabilities are concerned. People here have about ceased to talk about the recent bank wreck and business again has settled in its old time ruts. It is a matter of general congratulation that in consequence of the bank suspension not a single mercantile house in Nacogdoches was compelled to go out of business. Wettermark has not been heard from and it seems that the earth opened and swallowed him. Several people here who know Wettermark well in all his moods are of the opinion that he will never be found. No tidings have come from his movements since he is supposed to have left New Orleans for Mobile and until the return to this country of the Norwegian vessels Longspring and Fort Gains from Arundel, Norway, and Bocas del Toro, respectively, it will not be known for certain whether Wettermark ever sailed from Mobile. Sheriff Spradley who has had twenty years experience in the detective business and with all sorts of criminals, is of the decided opinion that from New Orleans Wettermark doubled back by rail and went to Mexico where he is now probably engaged in some kind of avocation in an obscure place under an assumed name. A gentleman who was closely related to the banker in a business way, states that Wettermark did not leave Nacogdoches with more than $275 and that he knew personally that if the calamity could have been averted ten days later than the date upon which it came, it would not have come at all.

The man goes on to state that Wettermark owed a banker in Houston the sum of $10,000, which was due January 3, and he saw no way of meeting the obligation. He therefore wrote to the Houston banker in the latter part of December informing him of the situation and asking a ten days' extension of time. No answer came to this letter and about the 2nd of January Wettermark wired the same party if the time could be extended to wire at once. No answer came to this message and almost at the same time came the call from the Garrison merchant regarding the $6000 note which had been paid and presented for collection again. The very night that Wettermark left Nacogdoches a letter came from the banker at Houston, but following out previous instructions all mail was returned unopened and the contents of the letter were not known till too late. It now turns out that when Wettermark's letter asking for an extension of out of town on a bird hunt and did not get back in time to send the answer which would have averted the calamity. It is said on good authority that in the final letter the request was granted. From one viewpoint, therefore, it might be said that a bird hunt caused the collapse of a bank, the loss of half a million dollars, the one man and turning another into a fugitive besides a train of minor troubles too numerous to mention.

If it was notoriety, Teddy started in for he must have a "genteel sufficiency" by this time.

HOUSTON'S new city Hall will cost not less than $83,000, that being the lowest bid received for its erection and completion.

OFFICIALS of the T. & N. O. Ry., think the line will be completed and that trains will be running from Dallas to Beaumont by April 1st.

THE farmers of Louisiana are showing a special interest in fruit and truck growing and are copying after the movement in East Texas.

THERE IS NO use passing special road laws in the effort to improve the county roads. The roads of Nacogdoches county were never worse than they are now under the Calhoun road law, and the people would doubtless thank Representative Middlebrook to repeal the law as a failure.

THE Center Champion has greatly improved since friend Pinkston has bought an interest in that paper. We do not say this in disparagement to Bro. Jesse Padon. It is just a case of "two heads are better than one," without admitting that there is a "sheep's head" in the combination.

How much longer is that old "eye sore" to stand on the corner of Pillow and Fredonia streets? A three story building was started there about three years ago and has never gotten above the basement yet. What there is of it is now being used as a depository for filth and it is becoming a stinking nuisance.

THE Alto-Herald displays sound business judgment by cutting its garment to fit the cloth. In other words, when it has the business to justify it the paper is large, and when the business drops off the size of the paper is reduced. That's our motto, brother, and it is the only means a newspaper can adopt in order to live within its income.

THE situation does not improve in the Venezuela affair. In fact it seems to be growing worse. Mr. Bowen and the British ambassador at Washington have almost quarreled and the breach is gaping wider than ever. It is about to develop that Great Britain is responsible for the delay in raising and regulations. The main object, will be the law allow the allies "preferential treatment" for one month in the settlement of their claims against Venezuela, if at the end of that time all claimant nations be placed on an equal basis as to time and proportionate payments. They must either accept this proposition or the case must go to the Hague Tribunal. As the allies are very much averse to going to the Hague it is believed they will yield.

MISTER FLEET MAGEE.

In another column we reproduce an article from the Lufkin Tribune, which that paper heads "A Warm Roast," from the "fleet" pen of Mr. Fleet Magee. The writer attempts to vindicate his dead brother by denouncing everything that does not take up his cause as cowardly, and fails in any sense to contradict the reports that were published concerning the unfortunate affair. Calling folks and things cowards at long range is easy, and it is none the less cowardly to resort to the columns of an unfriendly sheet to give vent to such unmanly and indecent language as that used by Fleet Magee. The report was given by The Sentinel as it came to the reporter and was not published with any bias or prejudice. If the report was in any way erroneous, Mr. Magee could have had it corrected for the mere asking through the same columns in which the report was given. We know none of the parties, have no knowledge of nor any concern of the character of either the dead or living brother. This paper is not published in the interest of any individual, sect or creed outside of a desire to give the news, and like all other papers, gives the news from the best source from which it is obtainable. If Nath Magee was not a gambler, and if he had no connection with the negro women who were mixed up in the affair, why did Fleet not say so? He should have stated specifically wherein The Sentinel had erred. We did not, and do not, know a soul, living or dead, that had any connection with the Mantion killing, and we denounce as false Mr. Fleet Magee's statement that this paper attempted to justify the conduct of any individual or gang that had a hand in it. We are willing at all times to cheerfully correct any misstatement and make all reparation possible for injury done anyone and the columns of this paper would not have been closed to Fleet Magee or any other person interested to make a correction of any false impression that might have been made by its account of the sensational death of Nath Magee.

THE Diversifier has a lengthy article on "New Religion" in its January issue, and closes with the admonition "give them all a chance." This causes us to wonder how many of them Editor Cannon has embraced. He looks like a man who could stand a good deal of new religion.

being passed, providing for twenty depositories for the state's money. As the plan is to divide the money in the State treasury into twenty equal parts and invite bids on all or part. Any bid is admissible on one block or all twenty. As there is generally from one to two million dollars on hand there might be a handsome revenue derived from this manner of making use of it.

THIS is the third time the Fruit and Truck Growers' association has been almost rained out. In spite of this discouragement the organization is strong and thrifty, growing every day in strength and number, and rapidly adding to its roll every progressive farmer in the county.

THE government has appropriated $250,000 for work on the Trinity river. If this money is actually spent on the river all right, the people will get the benefit of its circulation, but we are pessimistic in the extreme when it comes to a proposition to make that creek navigable to Dallas.

MARK HANNA is calling Roosevelt's hand in bidding for the negro suffrage. Instead of practicing social equality, as the president does, Mark has introduced a bill to pension ex-slaves. This move is taken as conclusive evidence that Hanna will be a candidate for the presidential nomination.

AN effort is now being made to increase the pensions of Texas Confederate Veterans so that they may be maintained the same as federal pensioners are. If this measure succeeds it will result in the abolition of the Confederate Home, which it is claimed has not been a success, or at least, has not been satisfactory. The funds have never been sufficient to maintain the Home, as it has been desired by its promulgators.

OUR old friend, Albert Priest, has buckled on journalistic armor again and is once more in newspaper harness, as the editor and proprietor of the Rusk Journal. Priest is an old timer, and this is not the first time he has had

law. The scoundrel comes back and there's no curing it without an application of printer's ink. He has our profoundest sympathy in this last attack, and we sincerely trust that he will effect a permanent cure by never ceasing to apply the remedy. He is an able newspaper man, thoroughly practical, and the people need his weekly counselings and his wholesome teachings through the channel in which he is a post graduate.

A-VERSE TO THE BOLL WEEVIL.

Last week's Farm & Rancho has a rather previous illustrated poem to the boll weevil, entitled "Ode to the departed." The weevil and family are pulling their freight, chased off Texas soil by Messrs. Mally, Sanderson, Connell, Hunter and Aldridge, these learned gentlemen bearing a singular facial resemblance to each other, and "bearded like the pard." We hope the picture suggests the truth, notwithstanding the libel it is on these gentlemen, and that the weevil is on the run. Next year is too early to tell definitely, for some farmers did not follow the suggestions as to burning stalks etc., until too late. But if subsequent years prove that the pest is conquered, Texas belongs to the men whose earnest scientific research have succeeded in driving back the worst foe since Mexico claimed Texas soil. As to the poem, it is inexcusable, it sympathizes with the invader and begins "Poor old Boll Weevil." We are positively against such seditious sentiments. The poem of the future on the boll weevil will read this way.

We are able now for to raise de cotton crop. Ole Boll Weevil gone fur to stay. Massa Mally say dat de evil gwine to stop, And what he says is jes dat 'er way.

We would suggest in conclusion that the very title to the outrageous poem in the Farm and Ranch, is false. We owe nothing to the departed boll weevil, on the contrary he owes us about a million dollars for the cotton he ruined last season.

We trust our readers will forgive our tardiness in getting out this issue. The Diversifier is interested in the development of East Texas, and our Smith county edition was so popular that we just had to keep on printing them, and were at last forced to turn down an order for 1000 copies in order to get out the January issue at all.—Tyler Diversifier.

Now, look here, Cannon; that sounds mighty "snaky" for a paper that is only issued once a month. You are not printing all that lie-notype matter on a "G-Wash," are you?

It is an unusual thing for anti-prohibitionists to petition for local option elections, but they have done it in Dallas county. It is also strange and unusual for prohibitionists to oppose an election on this question at any time, yet the prohibitionists of Dallas county are now on record as being as contrary as the ants. The cashier in the San Antonio tax expired, but the antis wanted it to come off before and got up a petition accordingly, which was strongly opposed by the pros, even Sam Jones advising them to let it go by default and not make a fight until later on when they are better organized. It looks like a case where both sides are scared.

THE Houston Post says the Waterbury strike is about wound up. Now watch it go.

JUDGING from the descriptions read of the proposed Texas building at the Worlds Fair, Texas will have one of the most unique and striking buildings at the exposition in 1904. Mr. Louis J. Wortham, the general manager suggested the idea which is to have the building in the shape of a five pointed star; the dome in the center surmounted by a statute of Liberty holding aloft a Texas star, which will be blazing with electric lights, as will the entire building, at night. Texas will be represented at this World's Fair as never before. She is attracting attention from the world as no other state in the union, no other country on earth is doing it. At the St. Louis Exposition all eyes will be on the Texas star, and the portion of Texas that has the best exhibit will reap the most benefit. Where will Nacogdoches county be?

THE St Louis Post Dispatch says that no community can thrive without an independent newspaper that finds the truth, and tells the truth as it finds it. This brings the papers straight confronting Pilate's baffling question, "what is truth?" Men have died on either side of a great question, each believing that to him and him alone had the truth been revealed. Telling all the bad and wrong and evil in a city through the columns of the daily press is not the truth, truth though it be in itself; nor is indiscriminate eulogy any nearer the sought for end. Truth as men see it, so often exaggerates into fanaticism or degenerates into policy, and in doing either blinds the follower into believing he is still following his white light. Pilate's question has never been answered, never will be on earth, and neither men or newspapers, sincere though they undoubtedly often are, can be quite sure that the truth is as they see it. Nor can they sit as court of last appeals on facts that come before them.

It is odd that "knocking" should be used as a slang for undermining and injuring others. The first hammer used, metaphorically, was Thors. His hammer was truth, and he used it against illusions with great effect. Now it is the truth that gets the knocks. The Houston Post has a most instructive and timely editorial against knockers, but omitted the hall mark of the tribe. The knocker is one who can do nothing of himself. A good brick layer rejoices in his own work and does not envy a U. S. Judge, but it is the man ward rendering the earnest effort of others futile by well aimed blows. He it is that opposes movements toward improvement and progression in a town. He, who sneers at leaders in the cause and murmurs "self interest." He, who knowing his own incapacity wants the whole town to sink into obscurity with him. He is the first of the hammer fraternity for while the others hurt individuals he kills the town.

NACOGDOCHES UNIVERSITY.

The House Committee on Education has reported favorably on the bill introduced by Representative Middlebrook to revive the charter of the Nacogdoches University.

The bill providing for the re-chartering was drafted by Hon. S. W. Blount of this city. The university was originally chartered in 1845 and expired by limitation in 1867. It was revived in 1873 by act of the legislature and again expired by limitation in 1900. Last year the people of Nacogdoches independent district voted a $32,500 bond issue for the purpose of erecting new school houses. In view of the fact that the question of legality might be sprung the trustees thought it best to have the charter that expired in 1900 revived with the specific statement therein that all acts of the trustees concerning said university property in the interval between 1900 and the present time be valid.

Judge Blount has prepared a written statement of all the facts concerning the incorporation into an independent school district and the vote on the bond issue, which has been submitted to the attorney general. Upon his decision in the matter will depend the legality of the proposed bond issue.

THIS from the Conroe Courier, is to the point on the good roads question: "From all over Texas comes a roar over the horrible state of the country roads and imperative demand, addressed to nobody in particular, for their betterment. This same sort of thing has been going on ever since Texas has had a population strong enough to roar, but very little progress has been made in the matter of road reform, and that little in spots. The present road law is an admitted failure for anything but a slight improvement in the roads until the first heavy rain comes, and until there is a comprehensive law on the subject, based not upon the theories of an enthusiastic, but upon practical engineering skill and the successful experience of other states in modern road-building, the present state of affairs will continue to afflict us. In this connection it is worthy of note that a bill has been introduced in the Senate at Austin providing for a general road law, creating a bureau of public highways and authorizing the use of short-term convicts on county roads. It is to be hoped that this bill will meet the requirements of the situation."

Good resolution that ought to have been made by every farmer on or about New Year's day, ne buys, contract no debts, burden himself with no interest for once in his life, be a free and independent citizen. To reach this happy condition, however, he must have all the old debts of previous years paid in full.—Farm and Ranch.

A fine resolution. Would to God it be enforced. But when farmers are compelled to make this year's crop on Kansas corn, and did not make enough cotton last year to pay old scores, it looks like a hopeless proposition at this crisis.

LOOK OUT

For Colds—La Grippe!

Protect yourself, and don't trust to Providence. Considering the harm done, "neglect" before and after taking a cold is a physical crime. You may prevent a cold, or, if too late, you can insure yourself against the "after effects," for there is the greatest danger, by using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic. Few die from Colds, or La Grippe, or Catarrh. They die of the after effects. These diseases all weaken, and to a weakened body come flocking a host of diseases that fasten on weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidneys, and other weak parts that we seldom think of.

The easiest and best thing to do is to fortify the system so that you will not catch cold, but if too late to do that, then you must see that no lasting injury is done. Medical authorities all agree that iron is the fighting element of the blood enabling the system not only to ward off disease, but to fight it after it has obtained a foothold.

is just the remedy needed, as it supplies the blood directly with the iron it requires to combat Colds or La Grippe. Take it before, during, or after. If taken in time, it will prevent; if taken during, it will shorten the course; if taken after, it will prevent all bad after effects.

Women are especially benefited by Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, as they seem to suffer from the weakness of Colds and La Grippe longer than men, and they are particularly susceptible to the action of a blood builder such as this.

The Easy Pill.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers do not gripe nor weaken the system. They cure biliousness, jaundice, constipation and inactive livers, by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach, liver and bowels that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely. These famous little pills exert a decided tonic effect upon the organs involved, and if their use is continued for a few days there will be no return of the trouble. Perkins Bros.

According to law it is a misdemeanor for a man living outside of a hog law district to allow his hogs to run inside of one. It is a fineable offense, aside from the pound penalty. Representative Middlebrook says he will endeavor to have misdemeanor feature repealed, so that a man living on the outside would not be liable to prosecution for the trespass of his hogs.

GAP OF ONLY 20 MILES.

Trains Will Be Running Between Dallas and Beaumont About April 1.

Galveston News: Engineer George W. Boschke of the Southern Pacific returned yesterday morning from Jacksonville, where he made an inspection of the construction work in progress on the Texas trunk extension, the Sunset's new line from Dallas to Beaumont. He says there remains a gap of only twenty miles between the north and south ends of the track. The grade is practically finished for the entire distance and a large force of workmen are engaged building bridges and track. He expects to have the entire line from Dallas to Beaumont in operation by April first or the 15th at the latest. Trains are being operated on either end of the line and two construction gangs, one from the north and one from the south end, are working toward each other.

The building of this direct line of the Southern Pacific from Dallas to Beaumont means the joining of the Texas Trunk, a short line extending out of Dallas about seventy-six miles, and the Sabine and Texas road, another short line about ninety-nine miles long, from Sabine north through Beaumont to a point about sixty-nine miles. When finished the new line will be the most direct line from north Texas to east Texas by nearly sixty miles. It will be 289 miles from Dallas to Beaumont almost as straight as the crow flies and the next shortest route into this territory is via the Houston & Texas Central to Houston and thence to Beaumont via the Southern Pacific, which is 348 miles.

To conduct the two short lines, 114 miles of the new road had to be built and it proves one of the hardest pieces of railroad construction in this State. The line had to be carried through a dense be-tent. This undeveloped section was simply teeming with malaria and other unhealthy germs, to say nothing of the obstructions Nature had piled up, and it was almost impossible to keep the construction forces

THE KILLING AT CENTER.

Body of Helpless Victim Horribly Butchered.

The Timpson Times, Center correspondent furnishes the following particulars of the murder of S. Judge, a contractor, by H. C. Hatchell, which occurred at Center on the 5th inst. The Times says. It seems that the trouble came up over a joke. Hatchell struck him with a knife, knocking him down, and then sat down on the prostrate body and deliberately cut his victim's throat from ear to ear. After almost severing the head from the body he took it by the ears and bumped it against the floor several times. Dave Daugherty, in whose store the trouble occurred, tried to stop Hatchell from his murderous work, but Hatchell turned upon him and he had to release him to save his own life. Hatchell then deliberately resumed cutting on Judge's throat. Constable F. E. Hunter arrested Hatchell and lodged him in jail. On the way to the jail he told Hunter there was no use to send for a doctor for Judge, that he had fixed him. Judge was badly cut all over the body.

The sad news came over the phone this morning that little Mary McLauren, the niece of Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Donegan, died in Denning, yesterday morning at six o'clock of pneumonia. Mary was a remarkably intelligent and beautiful child about ten years old. She attended school in Nacogdoches, and every one who met her was attracted by her bright smile and her utter unconcernness of her own beauty. All who knew her loved the little one dearly for her sweet disposition and merry light hearted ways, and the news came as and joy to die. It is impossible to express the grief felt, but her mother and father have the consolation slight as it is, of knowing that all Nacogdoches loved their little girl, and sorrow with them at her loss.
