A Short Talk on a Grave Subject

Druggists as a rule don't go much on gravyards. Not all of them, but the end same as other people, but we mean during life. In his leisure hours, if a druggist's job puts him in the graveyard, if he is out for a stroll he is more likely to turn his steps away from it. This is usually for one of two reasons. If he is a good druggist and understands his business, he regards the graveyard as a sort of enemy which he is fighting all the time, trying to keep his customers out of it. If he is a dealer, he thinks of the graveyard as a place where his competitors are having something out of his pocket, and he is trying to get the doctors. It is our duty to help people, and we have sympathy for the doctors. We have sympathy for the graveyards, as most druggists, but we have our conscience troubles us. We stay away from the graveyard, and we are always sorry a little for our friends and customers, and we are always sorry for our own. We had nothing to do with his act, and we are sorry for it. We had nothing to do with his act, and we are sorry for it. We had nothing to do with his act, and we are sorry for it.

New Year.

On account of Saturday being Jewish New Year, my store will be closed from Friday evening from 6:30 till Monday morning. If you have decided to trade here Saturday, try and come Friday, or wear it on Monday and the favor will be highly appreciated. Simon Mintz.

The Nacogdoches Compress squeezed fifty bales, or so, of cotton last Saturday, that being the first run of the new season. It has made one or two short runs this week, just enough to keep up with the crop, which is coming in slowly.

F. Lewis, Esq. has returned from his trip to Austin on professional business. Mrs. Lewis and the children have also returned from a visit to the city.

Tom Smith Closed.

The splendid grocery establishment of T. J. Smith, of this city, has on account of financial embarrassment. Papers were filed by Mr. Smith at Tyler, and instructions came by wire about a week or two ago to the clerk to close up. The people were greatly surprised at the closure of the concern, which was one of the leading grocery establishments in the city. No information has been given to the public as to the cause of the failure, but it is believed that the establishment was overburdened with debt. Mr. Smith was a well-known and successful merchant.

There has been a heavy rain for all purposes, and much for cotton.

BUY GOODS AT HOME

You Know That Home Houses are Responsible

Why let a stranger that comes along? Why listen to the tales of some smooth chap that comes to you to sell you goods at retail from some wholesale house he claims to represent? You know nothing about him. You know nothing about the house he claims to represent. It may be a snake show or it may be a myth. You sign his contract. You get his so-called "chump" money. You are the sucker. He will go to another house, laughing up his sleeve at the profits he has made. They are generally commission men, and the more they can "chump" you the larger their commission.

We have merchants here who pay rent, who pay taxes, who help to build up your town and county, who contribute to your churches, help to build up your schools, and who are responsible, and advertise if their goods are not as represented to return them and get your money back. What more could you ask? What more do you want? You get good goods, you get good credit when your money is all gone, and yet there are a lot of people that will bite at every chance game that comes along.

We have heard some kicks lately about short weights from these so-called wholesale houses, and we are gathering the facts, and in a few days will publish them together with the person's name that is a kick coming Center Daily News.

We have finished moving into the store formerly occupied by Kaplan Bros. We have more room and are carrying a larger stock than formerly. The prices we will give will sound good to you. Remember we are one of our best bargains.

C. W. Batt.

Dr. E. M. Thresher has returned from Beaumont. He went out to the Thresher well to resume operations, having supplied himself with the necessary equipment for continuing work on the well. He will endeavor to continue this well in spite of the gas, though he is not sure that he will not have to abandon it and start a new hole. In any event he feels assured he will ultimately succeed in striking a strong vein of oil.

There is no abatement in the demand for rent houses. Several families have been compelled to locate elsewhere, and others are now boarding under compulsion because there are no dwellings to be had here.

HALTOM & HALTOM, Proprietors.
K. W. HALTOM, Editor.

The effort to start a yellow fever scare at Brownsville was a failure. Brownsville was never more healthy.

Has the Gautamala gone back to Gautamala after reinforcements? It held the center of the stage some weeks ago as a boll weevil exterminator but we hear nothing of it now.

The mammoth edition of the Houston Post on Sept. 1st, had a big lot of good stuff in it including an excellent writeup of Nacogdoches, city and county, with special reference to the development of the trucking and fruit industry.

The boll weevil commission has adjourned and the $50,000 prize is still pendant waiting for somebody to take it. It is curious enough that an impudent little bug can steadily defy all the inventive intellect of the country and go on his devastating way in perfect safety.

The state department has been informed by cable that the Russian wireless telegraph station at Che Foo had been dismantled. This is of no consequence. If the Che Foo liar himself had been dismantled the news would have been worth the price of the cablegram.

The finances of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College are reported to be in a muddle, and while there has been no misappropriation of funds there seems to have been some careless bookkeeping. At any rate there is said to be a shortage of $15,000 and an investigation has been ordered.

The beginning of the end of the big strike that has kept Chicago in turmoil for so many weeks seems to be at hand. The aggressive organization of the thousands of butchers who have been without work and wages since the strike was declared, is losing both its aggressiveness and its solidity and the indications are that the packers will win the fight.

Col. C. L. LYONS, the republican boss of Texas, says "This campaign is going to be a hot one, and we are going to make one of the most vigorous fights that has ever been made in this state." The democrats ask nothing better, for they are tired of the monotony of victories with no effort to win them. Anything to inject ginger and snap in the campaign.

If the railroad companies in Texas should pay all the damages claimed of them in suits brought during the past thirty days they might have money enough left to pay operating expenses, but dividends would come up missing. We expect to hear any day that some fellow who caught cold from the draught of a passing train has hired him a lawyer and wants $10,000 damages.

THE PARTY PROHIBITIONISTS.

The party prohibition people have put out a state ticket in opposition to the democratic ticket. The republicans, the populists and the socialists have done likewise. All of them combined will not amount to anything in the campaign, for the democrats will elect their ticket by an overwhelming majority. We can see some reason for the republicans to keep up their organization. If their national ticket is re-elected, the party will give the spoils of office to the faithful workers in the state. But what do the party prohibitionists expect to accomplish? They have not the ghost of a chance to win. Beside this, the democratic party has given to us the best local option laws in the United States. These laws were given to us away back yonder, long before we had public sentiment to carry a single county for local option. This party has refused to listen to the liquor forces and drag this question back into politics. What more could we ask the party? Yet a little handful of men, some of them from the North and have not been here long enough to even vote, met the other day at Waco and nominated a state ticket with which to oppose our admirable democratic ticket now in the field. All the men on this democratic ticket are sober, devout Christian gentlemen, the peers of any set of men on earth. We have no patience with a movement that has for its object sheer and financial opposition to these first-class citizens. It shows a depth of ingratitude that is anything but commendable to the party that gave us our local option law. But they do not represent the local option sentiment of Texas. That sentiment which is everywhere adopting county and precinct local option will ever be faithful to those who have been faithful to us. The fact is, the democratic party of Texas is made up largely of local option democrats. They will not follow the party prohibitionists into their foolish state campaign. They are democrats and will stay with their party to the end. It is supreme folly to take any other view of the situation. Home and State, edited by G. C. Rankin.

It has remained for Hayti, the negro republic, to give us a new euphemism which de-faulting bank officials and other swell thieves of this country might do well to appropriate. When an official in Hayti robs the treasury they don't call him a thief but the legislature passes a resolution declaring that he is "responsible for the deterioration of public finances." Deterioration is good.

A DEBATE and select lynching at which nothing occurred to offend the most fastidious took place at Weimar in this state last Tuesday in broad daylight. A negro in jail there charged with attempt to rape was found dead in his cell suspended by a rope from the bar of the window. It is certain that he didn't commit suicide and the only conclusion is that the noiseless mob of three or four men supposed to have done the work, passed one end of the rope in to him through the grating and simply pulled on the other end after he had kindly adjusted the noose about his neck.

People who thought Bryan was sulking in his tent were mistaken. He has just offered his services to the democratic national committee to take the stump for Parker and put in the entire month of October for the democratic ticket wherever his services may be desired.

SHOCKING to relate, some people up in Wyoming, a northern state that gives republican majorities, dragged a negro from jail the other night and hung him to a lamp post until he was dead. He had committed what one of the Chicago papers calls the "petty crime" of assaulting a white girl.

MR. FAIRBANK is evidently determined that the Ides of November shall not find him a statesman out of a job no matter which way the election goes. He is the republican nominee for vice-president and also senator from Indiana and he has shown no disposition thus far to resign the latter position. He probably thinks Judge Parker made a fool of himself in resigning the chief justiceship before he was assured of the presidency.

It is rumored that there is a movement on foot to establish a first class republican daily in Texas. The plan is to get 250 republicans to put up $1,000 each for the purpose. We doubt if such a paper would receive support necessary to maintain it but we should welcome it to our exchange list. It gets tresspass in the trial of a case to listen to both the lawyers on one side of the issue; we like to hear the opposing counsel as well.

The plumber in winter and the ice man in summer are not in it with the lordly and arrogant cotton picker in Central Texas just now. He comes very near dictating his own terms and when he gets on the train the farmers fight for the possession of his precious person and bid against each other for his labor with reckless enthusiasm. Between the deadly boll weevil and the haughty cotton picker the Texas farmer is having the time of his life.

DR. KNAPP, of the United States Agricultural Department, who came to Texas some weeks ago to investigate the boll weevil problem, has gone over much of the state, given his best thought to the subject and reached the conclusion that there is no complete remedy for the evil. The only remedy, he says, is eternal vigilance; burning the stalks and rubbish on the ground in the fall, leaving a trap row at certain intervals. This is done by leaving a row of the old crop occasionally, which will develop earlier than the fresh crop. The weevils will congregate on this trap row and can be killed outright. It seems to be the policy of the department to encourage every possible plan of combating the weevil. The doctor says that it is not the purpose of the department to advance new theories to the farmers, but to collect existing proven principles and practices.

The republicans are badly split in Wisconsin in two factions which hate each other too heartily to be reconciled. This gives the democrats a good chance to carry the state especially as they have agreed on the nomination for governor of George W. Peck, the most popular man in Wisconsin with the masses and who has been twice previously elected governor. Mr. Peck is a newspaper man and the author of that celebrated classic, "Peck's Bad Boy."

We commend to our readers the strong and conclusive article entitled "The Party Prohibitionists" republished in this issue of The Sentinel from the Home and State. The article is from the pen of Rev. G. C. Rankin, an uncompromising Texas prohibitionist who shows with unanswerable logic the folly of giving any aid or countenance to the prohibition ticket now in the field in this state. The article makes excellent reading for prohibitionists who are democrats as well as those who are not.

J. B. RAYNOR, of Calvert, in this state is a shrewd and voluble negro orator of the democratic persuasion who announces that he will go to New York, put himself under the direction of Chairman Taggart and stump the state for Judge Parker. Raynor is a sure enough democrat and has been for years. He made a mighty good democratic speech in the court house here in Nacogdoches some years ago, and although he was a little loose in his grammar at times he was strong in logic and humor and power of illustration and seemed to be thoroughly sincere in what he said. Raynor would be a power on the stump up North as a democratic spell-binder and it would make those republicans open their eyes to hear a poor persecuted colored man from the South, as they have been taught to consider him, "whooping it up" for his persecutors.

We don't know who Victor Vandyke of Nacogdoches is, but we lift our hat to him, and may he live long and prosper. In the Houston Post of Thursday he has a long communication which takes for its text a recent insult to the South in the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and to say that he skinned the shameless old bloody shirt sheet is to put it mildly. Like all very coarse animals the Globe Democrat has a hide of uncommon thickness, but Victor Vandyke got through it and reached the town—that is if the G-D has any decent sensibilities left in it, which may be fairly doubted. The St. Louis paper had asserted that it was humillating for Missouri to be linked with the South in politics and that it was a discreditable affiliation, the implication being that the South was a disreputable section of the Union in whose company no respectable Western state would care to be found. Victor Vandyke's reply, admirable in tone, dignity and structure, is an overwhelming marshalling of historic facts brought down to date to prove that Missouri or any other state in the Union would be honored by political association with the South, and no impartial reader will deny that the writer triumphantly sustains his contention.

AN Austin man just returned from New York gives it out to the press that from what he saw and heard up there Parker is bound to win. We felt "hope up powerful" by this valuable intelligence until we saw in another paper that a Denison man just returned from New York declared it as his deliberate opinion after thorough investigation that Parker had no showing whatever and Roosevelt is sure to win. These conflicting reports are painful of course, and it may be best to wait until the votes are counted next November before reaching a definite and final conclusion on the subject, but we are willing to bet that that Denison man is a republican, which of course reduces the percentage of his accuracy as a political prognosticator.

As illustrating the beauties and benefits of the great military maneuvers now about to commence at Manassas, Va., a press dispatch from Washington tells us that there is to be a monster sham battle which will be as near the real thing as possible except that there will be no intentional killing of the soldiers engaged. The dispatch further informs us that during the marching and counter marching and charging of the opposing forces they will not hesitate to pull down a man's tences, tramp over his corn field or dig up his garden if necessary to meet the exigencies of battle. Out on whole business! It becomes more indefensible the more its details are made public.

ROOSEVELT is mighty quiet now and it is probable that he spends a good deal of his time out behind the house kicking himself for having written certain foolish books some years ago, of which he was very proud at the time, and in which he ridiculed and abused nearly all the presidents of the anti-bellum period. These books are now in evidence against him and his own language is quoted to show what a shallow and presumptuous egotist he was when he essayed the grave and responsible role of an historian. In his "Life of Benton" he characterized the illustrious Jefferson as "timid and shitty" and "the most incapable executive who ever filled the president's chair." He denounces President Madison as "incapable." President Monroe was "a man of no special ability" and as secretary of war under Madison "a triumph of imbecility to the last." The great Andrew Jackson he ridiculed as "ignorant" and Harrison, Taylor and Fillmore were "small presidents." Roosevelt doubtless blushes with shame now that his changed point of view enables him to see what an ass he wrote himself down with his glib and foolish pen in reviling and disparaging his illustrious predecessors. But he can't escape his own words, and the democratic campaign committee has discovered in Roosevelt's books a veritable mine of good material with which to show up the hero (?) of San Juan hill.

The republicans will carry Vermont next Tuesday as they have always done and the democrats have never expected anything else, but the republican press will crow over it as a great victory full of good omens for Roosevelt. The Vermont republican, like the Texas democrat, is a stayer in politics, and when he once makes up his mind as to which side he's on it's made up for life.

The Sentinel has all but acknowledged Lulkin's supremacy over Nacogdoches. Better late than never.—Lulkin Tribune.

The Sentinel acknowledges nothing of the sort. We don't have to, as long as Nacogdoches receives 16,140 bales of cotton against Lulkin's 2,883. Lulkin has some slight advantage over Nacogdoches in manufacturing enterprises and railroad terminals, and if it were not for those that town would simply be a bad place in the road compared to Nacogdoches. You'll never touch us, Bro. Tribune.

The recent speech of Senator Bailey of this state, up Brooklyn, which really marked the beginning of the national campaign, is attracting much attention at the North and of course provoked republican criticism. One of the best things in the speech was the speaker's reference to the Booker Washington lunch at the White House and its effect upon the negroes of the South. He describes that effect as follows: "In a town near his own there was a colored waiter at a hotel who promptly wrote President Roosevelt a letter of congratulation, and Mr. Bailey says he received a note of acknowledgment in reply from the White House. This made him tremendously important. But for that the white people did not care. He soon announced that Booker Washington would be next president of the United States, succeeding Mr. Roosevelt in that capacity. For that talk the white people did not care. But this enthusiasm steadily grew, until he finally began to predict that within ten years young colored men like himself would be calling on the white ladies of the village. This the townspeople would not stand for. There were rather plain intimations made that some rope might be necessary and the colored aspirant for social equality left rather rapidly for another part of the state."

Constable Doc Watson returned from Shreveport this morning with Peyton Fenley, colored, who was arrested there a few days ago as an escaped convict from this county. Finley was hired to Fred Harlocher several months ago on a county convict bond and ran off. He succeeded in keeping out of reach until a day or two ago, when he was located and re-captured at Shreveport.

Major Cooper, postmaster, returned from a visit to the the World's Fair and several other points north, including his old home at Lancaster, Pa., last night. He left Mrs. Cooper and Miss Mary Hoffman at Lancaster, to spend the remainder of the summer. The boys at the post office were delighted upon the Major's return, as things were going hard with them, owing to sickness of deputy postmaster, Ed Rice, who is now confined to bed with fever. Assistant Postmaster W. B. Pearson has been in charge during the Postmaster's absence.

FRIDAY'S LOCALS.

Rev. Jim Wilson, of Melrose, was here last night.

J. C. Hubbard, of Huntington, was in the city a short while yesterday afternoon. He returned via Lutkin.

Mr. Wm. Lynch, of Marshall, is in the city visiting his cousins, Mrs. Dr. J. A. Drewry and Mrs. T. J. Smith.

A. A. Morgan, the furniture man, came over from Athens this morning to look after his interests in Nacogdoches for a few days.

Emory Ray has taken the position of bookkeeper in the hardware store of H. T. Burk, and Robert Burk has gone to the Nacogdoches Mercantile company in the same capacity.

There came near being a disastrous fire at Clevenger's mill Wednesday night, caused by the fire spreading from the shaving pile. It was discovered, however, and extinguished before serious damage was done.

T. F. Richardson, of Cushing, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Richardson says the boll weevils have literally ruined his cotton and he had a handful of grown bolls that had been punctured in hundreds of places, every one containing from one to a dozen larvae.

James Rice, of San Augustine, is visiting his friends and kintolks in this vicinity. Mr. Rice moved from this county to San Augustine four years ago and has engaged in diversified farming. He made four hundred dollars clear truck farming this year, besides a big crop of corn and eight bales of cotton.

Mrs. L. F. Elkins and baby left Wednesday night for Longview, where they will make their future home. Mr. Elkins is packing up their household goods and will follow as soon as they are shipped. He has severed his connection with the establishment of Cason & Richardson and has accepted a position in Longview.

FREE TO MOTHERS.—A box of Dr. Moffett's "Teethina" (Teething Powders) will be sent without charge to any mother writing Dr. C. J. County Surveyor George Meisenheimer and Steve King, Esq., have returned to the city from a trip of several days in the Etoile country on a surveying expedition.

J. D. McKnight left this morning for Corpus Christi on a prospecting trip. He is thinking of locating either in that section of Texas, or going to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, where his brother John now resides.

Cured of Bright's Disease.
Geo A Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N Y, writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I begin using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began using Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a black-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold by Perkins Bros.

INHERITED SCROFULA

When a child I had a very severe attack of Diphtheria, which came near proving fatal. Upon recovery the glands of the neck were very much enlarged, and after the free use of iodine, the right one was reduced to its normal size, but the left one continued to grow very slowly at first, until it was about the size of a goose egg, which began to press on the wind-pipe, causing difficult breathing, and became very painful. An incision was made and a large quantity of pus discharged. The gland was removed, or as much as could with safety be taken out. For ten years I wore a little piece of cloth about an inch long in my neck to keep the place open. During this time I had to have it cut open by the doctor every time I took cold or the opening clogged. In the Spring or early Summer of 1884 I was persuaded by my wife to use S. S. S., which I did, strictly in accordance with directions. I took twenty-six large bottles, and was entirely cured, for I have not suffered since that time.

Boy Wants Dog.

The man who stole the pup belonging to a small boy in Caro two weeks ago is a sinner beyond the pale of forgiveness. Sheep stealing is a virtuous pastime beside dog stealing. We said nothing about it, hoping conscience would smite him and he would see the error of his way and return said pup; but as he has not done so we make this appeal. The pup was part pointer and the rest dog; was black and white spotted, about four months old and answers to name of Bert; who was the only dog of his master, a ten-year old boy. The man who took him off (tied in the back of a wagon) is white and well known, and it might be well to return said dog to this office, as he would not like to see his name in the paper as a sequel to this story.—Caro Opportunity.

It is given out authoritatively that Railroad Commissioner O. B. Colquett will be a candidate for governor two years hence. Next.

VERMONT will elect its republican ticket today as a matter of course. The size of the majority will excite more or less interest throughout the country.

AND now Tyler has the oil lever. A salt formation has been discovered near that city and as salt is an indication of oil the citizens are happy in the hope of derricks and an oil field in the near future.

THE Russians officially announce that their losses at the battle of Liao Yang were 3200. That may go down in Russia, but not in this country. The Che Foo prevaricator must have cut off the last cipher.

THAT new baby at the Czar's house didn't bring the good luck that was expected. The day it was christened the Japs started in to win their great victory at Liao Yang and they won it.

BEAUMONT is taking steps to secure the location of a furniture factory in that city; which reminds us that here in Nacogdoches in the heart of a hardwood country is the proper place for such an industry.

COMPULSORY education is sure to come in Texas. No man has a right to let his child grow up an ignorant loafer on the streets with all sorts of devilment hatching in his idle young mind, and if the parent wont force the child to school the law should.

A VERY noteworthy fact in the New York political situation just now is that the Lawyers Constitutional Club in New York City composed of about thirty of the leading lawyers of the East, has declared without exception for Parker and every one of these lawyers supported McKinley in 1900.

WHEN the Russians abandoned Moscow to the great Napoleon they burned the city so that his troops might get no booty and find no shelter. The modern Russians seem to have pursued the same policy with the victorious Japs at Liao Yang. At any rate, when the victors got in they found the city in flames.

SENATOR CULBERSON IN NACOGDOCHES.

Senator Culberson kept his appointment in Nacogdoches and addressed a very large audience at the opera house Saturday afternoon. He had been in a railroad wreck the night before which prevented him from getting any sleep and when he reached the city after many hours delay he hadn't the time to even wash his face and hands but hurried at once to the opera house where his audience had assembled and was impatiently awaiting his arrival. It was his first visit to Nacogdoches and a majority of the people in the house had never seen him before. The Senator has "a good front" and looks the statesman that he is. His large, shapely head and handsome, clean-shaven features full of refinement, intelligence and character would attract attention in any company. When he speaks there is no hesitation for words, and his language taken down in shorthand would need no revision to make it a model of clear, strong, scholarly English with just "frills" enough on it to give proper grace and ornament to the body of his speech. There is no straining for effect, no sawing the air and pounding the table, no "tearing of passion" to tatters, no ranting, but a plain, strong and unaffected presentation of his case in which the orator assumes that his audience cares more for what he says than how he says it. Senator Culberson's speech was the address of a statesman, an appeal to intelligence and patriotism and those who heard it with open minds could not fail to derive pleasure and benefit from it. He had a very fine audience, including many ladies, and he would not have been a southern orator had he failed to recognize the presence of the latter in graceful and appreciative terms. No synopsis of the Senator's speech can be given here and only some of its leading features can be referred to. He was introduced to his audience in brief and appropriate words by Hon. S. W. Blount of this city, and after speaking of the early Texas constitution and its excellent features and paying tribute to the men who framed it and won the independence of the commonwealth, the Senator turned his attention to the vital issues of the pending campaign and it was very evident from his speech that to his mind these issues were pretty nearly all embodied in the single word, "Roosevelt." Not forgetting that he was an American Senator, and that Roosevelt was President of the United States, he nevertheless spitted and roasted the war lord of the White House and did it so thoroughly that there was nothing left to be desired on that point. There was no coarse abuse of the president, no harsh and unbecoming epithets hurled at him, such as Tom, Dick and Harry might have used, but it was a presentation of that gentleman and his policies all the more effective for the absence of epithets, and which made it very clear to his audience that Roosevelt was a dangerous man at the head of the nation, without presidential wisdom or temperament. He referred particularly to Roosevelt's reckless tampering with the race question in the South which has so nearly undone all the good work of pacification accomplished by the wise and beloved McKinley, and in strong, ringing sentences he denounced the un-American militarism of the president which found its fitting expression in the martial displays now in progress at Manassas where during a period of profound peace with no prospect of war, many thousands young men are taken from their homes and business and put through the training of regular soldiers. His reference to Jefferson Davis and the shameless slanders printed and circulated against him by Roosevelt in his alleged historical works was a salient feature of his speech and aroused the full sympathy of the audience. He didn't forget populism, and while he expressed his respect for the masses of populists as good but misguided men, he was very forcible in exposing the errors of that party and its fundamental weakness. He said democracy wanted the people to support the government, but populism wanted the government to support the people and that the feudalism of the middle ages was not a more extreme form of paternalism than populism in control of the government would be. As before stated the Sentinel attempts no synopsis of the Senator's speech and refers only to some of its prominent points. It was a good, sound, democratic speech and it covered the case.

THE Russian government is reported to be greatly depressed over the defeat of Kuropatkin, but is making preparations to send him heavy reinforcements, fully understanding that the war must last another year at least.

STATE TOPICS is responsible for the unqualified statement that Mr. Hearst, the New York journalist, late candidate for the democratic nomination for president, will surely execute his long deferred plan of establishing a daily newspaper at Dallas if Judge Parker should be defeated.

A DISPATCH from Taylor in Williamson county says that several colonies of Gautemalan ants planted on the government's experimental farm on Washington Heights south of Taylor have mysteriously disappeared, whether from climatic causes or formation of the soil it is not known. Bringing these ants to Texas to destroy the boll weevil seems to have been a quixotic scheme, undoubtedly well meant, but with no merit in it. The ants have apparently thrown up the job in disgust.

TOM WATSON of Georgia, the populist nominee for president of the United States, is coming to Texas. He is set down for an address at Houston on September 23rd, and he is sure of an audience for Tom is always entertaining if not instructive. It has been charged that his candidacy is in the interest of the republican party. If this is so he is wasting his time coming here, and might as well take himself to some of the doubtful states, for Texas has the incurable habit of going democratic.

SENATOR CULBERSON agrees with The Sentinel that the big military encampment at Manassas, Va., where about 30,000 young Americans have been taken away from their peaceful avocations to be trained in the art of war, is simply a concession to the Roosevelt spirit of militarism which has no business in this country and is a count in the indictment which the democratic party has framed against Roosevelt himself. The senator said as much in his speech in this city Saturday afternoon. The Sentinel is glad to have this distinguished and conservative American statesman on its side in this matter.

ROOSEVELT might as well throw up the sponge. The Bible is "agin" him for a second term and if you don't believe it turn to Revelations where this verse will be found: "And there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies and power was given unto him for forty and two months." That makes up the exact time Roosevelt will have served from the death of McKinley to the end of the present term. We regard the matter as settled now and if Teddy is wise he will begin to look out for a job after the 4th of next March. A Kentucky editor is entitled to the credit for discovering the passage in Revelations.

THE SENTINEL has received some correspondence from the Emmett Memorial Commission of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, concerning a monument which it is proposed shall be erected in that town to the memory of Daniel S. Emmett, the old minstrel recently deceased, who composed both the words and the music of the immortal southern war song, "Dixie." Emmett was born in Mt. Vernon and died and was buried there and it is designed to erect a monument to him there by popular subscription. The South should feel a very tender interest in the man who gave it Dixie and many southern people will doubtless help along the monument fund.

Those young gentlemen in this country whose imaginations have been fired by Roosevelt's military program could take a look at war as it actually is around the walls of Liao Yang where wholesale murder has been at work, where thousands of uniformed corpses rot in the sun, where thousands of hapless human beings scream with agony in the hospitals and amputated arms and legs are piled up in great ghastly heaps all around, and where the panting, powdered, derelict remnants of the hostile armies, worn out with their dreadful work, are still compelled to stand up and keep at it through driving rainstorms and sickening sunshine, they would be thoroughly cured of the Roosevelt distemper. It is a pity that Teddy himself couldn't take a look at the Liao Yang field of carnage and get a whiff of its odors. He wouldn't feel near so warlike afterwards.

In a burst of phrase-making State Topics cries aloud that Governor Lanham is "the product of an impertinence," and with this epigram of doubtful merit and obscure meaning for a text it proceeds to renew its former and familiar abuse of the chief executive of Texas. Governor Lanham has been endorsed, re-nominated and will be re-elected by the people of Texas, and Jeff should really find some other subject to work on, let his readers yell Rats!

HON. DUDLEY G. WOOTEN, former congressman from the Dallas district, is a citizen of the state of Washington and is said to be making a name in politics. He is practicing law at Seattle, but it is impossible to keep a Texan from taking a hand in the great national game. According to advices from Seattle the ex-congressman was injured, shortly after his arrival, in a street railway accident and the company settled the case by paying him $10,000. The ex-Texan is hopeful that some day he will be sent to Congress by the voters of Seattle. —The Lantern.

EDITOR COOKE of the Tyler Democrat-Reporter has opened up on bimetalism. The Waco Times man is responsible for it. Go for him, Judge, and drive the gold standard minion from the field, horse, foot and dragoons. Pierce him with argument, belabor him with precedent, overwhelm him with analogy and illustrations, paralyze him with figures and otherwise make him rue the hour his vandal hand reopened the grave of the sacred dead and exposed to the scoffing gaze of a degenerate gold standard age the pallid and beautiful corpse of murdered Free Silver at the divine ratio of 16 to 1.

THE greatest battle of the war in Manchuria has been fought around the walls of Liao Yang between the Russians and Japanese and after protracted and desperate fighting on both sides victory remains with the little brown men and the Russian hosts have abandoned the city, and are apparently demoralized. The slaughter has been enormous on both sides. The Japs admit to a loss of 10,000 but the Russians were too busy getting out of the way to count their dead and wounded and it is idle to guess at the number. The fighting both on this field and at Port Arthur, which still holds out, very clearly establishes the fact that the military parographers on the American press are wide of the mark when they impute a want of courage to the Russian soldiers. They are fighting in a bad cause and the great mass of them doubtless have little idea of what the row is about, but they stand by their master the Czar, with dog-like fidelity, and their valor is not to be questioned. We strongly incline to the opinion that the Japanese soldiers would differ with the newspaper parographers of this country if their testimony could be taken as to the fighting qualities of the Russian troops. They have no such military training as their adversaries, no such officers, and are not so nimble and enthusiastic, but they are foemen worthy the steel of any troops, and while we hope they will be everlastingly licked we none the less admire the stubborn courage with which they stand up to their work.

The business men of Temple, recognizing that in the struggle for trade it is the most enterprising community that gets there, are drawing the farmers and their cotton not only from Bell, but from adjoining counties by offering a system of prizes which form an inducement too strong to be resisted by the men who have produce to sell. A dispatch from that town to the Houston Chronicle tells how successfully the scheme worked last Saturday and gives the interesting details which we reproduce. Nacogdoches might as well get the habit, for merely waiting for trade when there are competitors in the field won't do in this strenuous age. The Temple dispatch says:

Temple, Texas, Sept. 5.—A great crowd of armers gathered in town on the market square Saturday afternoon to witness the prize drawing and to participate in receiving the premiums. A farmer who had no coupon was selected to draw out the duplicate tickets from a box in which they had been thoroughly mixed, and a committee composed of Chas. M. Campbell, George E. McClevey and W. A. Brady, awarded the prizes. Some of the larger prizes were awarded as follows: H. A. Jackson, first prize, $35; M. L. Cosley, second, $10; J. W. Lemmon, third, $10; W. B. Canipe, fourth, $10; M. J. Jordan, fifth, $5; Thomas Thompson, sixth, $5; J. P. Boley, seventh, $5; old negro Jonah, eighth, $5; S. M. Honea, ninth, $5; P. D. Spradberry, tenth, $5. There were 31 other prizes of smaller value awarded at the drawing. The prizes were distributed in all parts of the county, and a number of them went to other counties, especially to the western part of Falls and southern part of McLennan. It was announced to all present that each Saturday afternoon a number of prized will be awarded to the people who have sold their cotton in Temple during the week immediately preceding and this will be kept up for twelve weeks longer. Next Saturday the capital prize to be drawn will be a round trip ticket to the World's Fair, and a number of prizes of $10 will also go next Saturday. In the drawing which took place Saturday something less than 2000 tickets participated, which is an index as to the amount of cotton sold in this market this season.

THE annual trade edition of the Galveston News published on September 1st was as usual a first-class piece of work. The News has the habit of thoroughness and can't break it.

M. L. Robbins Hurt.

General Passenger Agent M. L. Robbins of the Central-East and West lines is confined to his home at 1602 McKinney avenue with injuries received while attempting to board a South End electric car yesterday about noon.

Mr. Robbins' injuries while not dangerous, are of a very painful nature, and it may be some time before he will be able to get out again.

An eye witness to the accident says that it occurred about 12:30; that the conductor failed to see Mr. Robbins making for the car and gave the signal to go ahead. Mr. Robbins then ran and attempted to jump onto the moving car, but missing his foothold, fell to the hard pavement. Several bystanders ran to his assistance, physicians were summoned at once, and every attention given the injured man. An examination revealed the fact that he had suffered a fracture of the right arm and a bad sprain to the left leg, besides many bruises of minor nature.

The accident occurred at the corner of Main and Texas, just as he was on his way home from his office; and after being properly attended to by the physicians he was sent to his home, where he will likely be confined for several days. He was reported resting well last night.—Houston Post.

ANOTHER WELL IN PROSPECT.

Nacogdoches Oil and Development Co. Will Bore.

Mr. T. J. Williams of the Nacogdoches Oil and Development Company, returned Tuesday from Beaumont where he purchased an up-to-date rig to be set up at once in the Nacogdoches Oil Field. It is the intention of the company to sink a well immediately either on what is known as the Sturdevant tract or the Schmidt-Driver tract. Either tract is within less than a mile south of the Oil-Springs, where flowing wells have existed for the past fifteen years. It is the intention of the Nacogdoches Oil and Development Company to develop the field and they are not merely sinking a well for land speculation. If they don't strike oil with the first well they expect to bore others until they get oil in paying quantities, if they have to perforate the whole face of the earth in that vicinity. The machinery will arrive today or tomorrow and will be hauled out to the field without delay.

Cancer Cured by Blood Balm—All Skin and Blood Diseases Cured.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings etc. have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others Mrs. B. M. Guernsey, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were as raw as beet, with offensive discharge from the eating sore. Doctors advised cutting but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guernsey is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching humors, scabs and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poison, carbuncles, scrotula, rising and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Druggists, $1 per bottle. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such a remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases.

But Well Fixed for Riding and Fighting.

Mr. J. P. Popp, being referred to a certain gentleman at Beaumont concerning some timber lands, wrote to the said individual a few days ago and promptly received the following answer: Beaumont, Aug. 28.—Mr. J. P. Popp, Nacogdoches, Texas. Dear Sir: Yours of 25th to hand in regard to oak timber. My dear sir, I must say to you I have not an oak tree on earth of any kind or descrip. All on earth I possess is a horse and saddle, a pair of spurs and a good six snooter. Now, if you want either of them I will gladly accommodate you. I am yours very truly,

Mr. Popp has had no further correspondence with his Beaumont friend.

Obituary.

Mrs. Annie Layton departed this life August 9th, 1904, at her home near Attoyac, Texas. She was 42 years and 6 months old at her death. She was born at Sabine Pass, Jefferson county, Texas, Feb. 9th, 1862, was married to Mr. M. W. Layton on Dec. 30th, 1880. She joined the Baptist church at the age of seventeen and lived a faithful Christian until she was called to that bright world above where there will be no more sad partings. Her sufferings lasted only a few days. She leaves a husband, two children, a mother, three sisters and three brothers to mourn her loss. She has seven children who have gone on before. Aunt Annie was ever willing and ready to help in time of need. What has been and is now, one of the strongest feelings of our human heart, is not to offer words of comfort for the dead, but to utter words of sympathy to her companion, children, mother, sisters and brothers. Let me say you have not lost her. She has gone through airy channels, unknown and unsearchable, and is now with her Lord.

As the hour of death approached she was fully aware that her end was nearing and raised up in the bed and told them "she was just about gone."

The hour was a sad one, yet the sting of sadness was greatly displaced by that joy and happiness that seemed enthroned within her during the last moments of her life.

She passed away with hands raised with these words: "Farewell forever to all, I'm gone." Her Niece.

Given Up to Die.

B. Speigel, 1204 N Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with bladder and kidney affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me much relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Sold by Perkins Bros.

MANY CHANGES MADE.

Difficulty in Filling Places Along The T. & N. O.

Beaumont Journal. There were a great many changes made today in agents and operators along the main line of the Texas and New Orleans and also on the East Texas division between this city and Jacksonville. At the latter place, Willie Miles, formerly agent at Gladys, was checked in today, vice William Sayers, resigned. Mr. Miles left last night for his new home.

H. C. Stout who has been telegrapher at Jacksonville for the past year and a half, was transferred to Village, where he will act as agent of the road and operator as well.

J. T. Thompson, a day operator in the offices of the company in Galveston was transferred to Trawick, where he will act as operator and agent.

A. F. Gardner, agent at Rockland for the past few weeks, was transferred to Dayton, an office that has been vacant a couple of weeks, as agent and operator.

W. F. Coleman, who is relief agent at Gladys at present, will go to Nome just as soon as it is possible to put a man at Gladys.

W. C. Roberts, at present operator at Bear, a station this side of Houston, has been transferred to the Galveston office as night operator.

All of these places where agents were transferred are left vacant on account of the telegraph operators who are also agents. The union will advertise the jobs in their monthly publication in the next issue and an endeavor will be made to fill them just as soon as it is possible to do so. The Southern Pacific allows the unions to name their own agents at all small stations where the agent is also required to have a smattering of telegraphy.

When the East Texas division was taken over, it was not turned over to the unions, but a number of friends of officials were placed in charge of the stations. Ever since that, there has been nothing but trouble for the company on account of the inability of the men to handle the duties assigned them and their unwillingness to live up to the rules of the company. The officials of the road recognized the fact that for service of the best kind and also for the most reliable agents who took an interest in the company and obey the rules, the agents elected by the O. R. T., could not be surpassed, and last month notified the union to place agents along the East Texas.

The officials of the order at headquarters have been asked for good men to fill the vacancies made by the above transfers but they answer back that they cannot find enough men who are also agents that are idle. It will be a couple of weeks before they are filled.

J. O. Ray has filed papers contesting the result of democratic primaries in the race for county treasurer between himself and Jno. N. Gilbert. The case will come up in the September term of district court.

TRAWICK LOCALS.

Trawick, Aug. 29.—We failed to get the rain that most all around got a part of Friday night.

Most everybody has begun to pick cotton.

The Western Union Telegraph people have provided wire for the use of the railroad people, who get orders regular at this place now.

We are expecting the Express Co. to establish an office here soon, which will be of great benefit to all.

The protracted meeting conducted by Bro. Brown is in progress at Pine Grove this week. Several from here are attending. There will be a meeting here sometime in September.

Several are at work on the school house today, ceiling it, making preparations for fall school.

Mrs. Vannie Crawford and Eupha Baucom, who were ill with fever last week are up again.

The Fruit and Truck Growers meeting was a success Saturday. The membership was increased to 35 and officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, J. J. Trawick; Secretary, A. S. Brewer; Treasury, G. A. McCormack, and Standing Committee composed of Messrs. H. M. Crawford, W. A. Barry and J. B. Paine. The body adjourned to meet the last Saturday in September, being the 24th.

Health of community good.

A Cold Settled in His Kidneys.

A J. Jenness, 9201 Butler street, Chicago, writes: "I am a switchman and am out in all kinds of weather. I took a cold which settled in my kidneys and I was in bad shape. I tried several advertised remedies with no benefit until I was recommended to try Foley's Kidney Cure. Two-thirds of a bottle cured me." Sold by Perkins Bros.

Joe Kile brought the fifth bale of cotton in this morning off the demonstration farm. The average weight of these five bales was 507 pounds, and the average price they brought was 10.52 1-2. A few weeks ago Mr. Kile thought he would not get more than five bales off the ten acres in cultivation, because of the drouth and rust; but now he sees that he will get two or three more bales.—Timpson Times.

Mr. H. R. Doolittle has moved his family from Appleby to Nacogdoches and will make this his home. He is now busy opening and placing goods in the Weaver building formerly occupied by C. W. Butt. He has closed up his business entirely at Appleby.

THE THRESHER WELL.
 Terrific Flow of Gas at 426 Feet.
 From Friday's Daily:
 Mr. J. M. Thresher, who has been sinking a well on the McKinley land in the oil district, came up yesterday and reported that at a depth of 426 feet he had struck a strong flow of gas, which blew out with such force that mud, water and oil were sent up to a distance of sixty five feet above the ground. Nothing further could be done until casing could be secured to shut off the mud and water and the well was capped. Mr. Thresher started for Beaumont to report to the company and secure the casing necessary. The gas was reached after going through a thin strata of hard rock, when the drill dropped several inches as though a vacuum had been reached. Mr. Thresher is confident that he is on the threshold of a regular spouter it indeed he does not find it so as it is after the water and mud are cased against. The indications have been exceedingly favorable ever since the well reached a depth of three hundred feet. Mr. Thresher went on to Beaumont last night.

BREATHE HEALING BALSAMS.
Hyomei's Novel Way of Curing Catarrh.
 Stripling, Haselwood & Co. Guarantee a Cure.
 Two or three years ago when a physician had a patient who was troubled with catarrh, the prescription would be, according to his means, to seek a change of climate, or to take a tonic or blood purifier. Today, the advanced physician will tell his catarrhal patient to breathe Hyomei.
 This novel treatment for catarrh consists of a hard rubber inhaler of a size convenient to be carried in the vest pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. By its use it is possible to breathe while at home or at work, air which is almost identical with that of the mountains or health resorts where the air is laden with healing and health giving balsams.
 No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomei in the treatment of catarrh. The first breath soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and its regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn cases.
 Stripling, Haselwood & Co will sell a Hyomei outfit with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei, for your word decides the question as to whether you pay for the remedy or not.
 The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a life time, and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

Law and Order at Cushing.
 Rev. A. J. Holt, who has been assisting Rev. S. F. Baucom in conducting a protracted meeting at the Baptist church at Cushing, returned to the city last night. He reports that a determined law and order league was organized at Cushing Monday night for the purpose of suppressing alleged violations of the local option law.
Beautiful Women.
 Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten. 50c. Mrs. Wm M Stroud, Midlothian, Texas, writes May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria." Sold by Perkins Bros.
 At San Augustine yesterday the district court sustained the objection of the defendants that the court in San Augustine county had no jurisdiction to try Shelby county election contests and referred the Redditt vs Jones case back to this county. As the election comes off in November and the district court does not sit again until January, it begins to look like Mr. Jones will be elected clerk before his opponent can get his contest before the courts.—Timpson Times.

Death From Hydrophobia.
 One of the most heartrending scenes imaginable occurred at the jail between the hours of 12 o'clock and daylight, Monday morning last, resulting in the death from hydrophobia of J. H. Poole, who was bitten by a rabid dog in Houston county some six weeks since. He went up to Alto, soon after being bitten, and applied a madstone to the wound, which refused to take. Thinking from that he was all right Mr. Poole returned to his home in Houston county, but several days ago symptoms of that dread disease became manifest and his son brought him to Lutkin for further treatment. Arriving here he became so much worse that his friends decided to take him to the county jail, where he suffered untold misery, until relieved by death. We learn that his remains were taken to Houston county Monday morning.—Lutkin Herald.
Sprains.
 S A Read, Cisco, Texas, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c $1. Sold by Perkins Bros. w
 The truckers around about Caro are going to engage in experimental growing winter onions from the seed. South Texas has made a great hit in onions the past season, and there is no reason why the onion industry should be confined to any particular section of the State.
Neglected Colds.
 Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c, 50c and $1.00. W Aken-drick, Valey, Mills, Texas, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by Perkins Bros. w
 T. S. DeLamar and family from Henderson, have moved to Nacogdoches. Mr. DeLamar is a contractor and builder and will engage in that business here. He is the father of Mr. P. E. DeLamar, of this city.

Best in Existence.
 "I sincerely believe, all things considered, Hunt's Lightning oil is the most useful and valuable household remedy in existence. For cuts, burns, sprains and insect bites it has no equal so far as my experience goes." — G. E. Huntington, Eufala, Ala. 25c and 50c bottles. w
 Mr. Kevin M. Fenneman, U. S. Government Geological surveyor, has been in the city several days. He spent yesterday in the oil field, and so far as he will express himself, he leaves the impression that there is bound to be oil in vast quantities in this vicinity. He went up to Redfield today to take a look at the tobacco prospect.
They Should.
 "My honest conviction, based upon my own experience and that of my friends, is that 'Hunt's Cure' will cure a larger per cent of skin troubles, especially of an itching variety, than any other remedy. Certainly those afflicted with any form of itch should try it." — J. O. Monroe, Atchison, Kan. 50c per box. w
 After an absence of some three weeks, during which time she visited her mother and sister at Ledbetter, Texas, and the St. Louis fair, Miss Bertha Shoenberg, the efficient and popular principal of the stenography and typewriting department of the East Texas Business College, will return and resume her position in the college on the 10th inst.
Seeks No Further.
 "No more nauseous doses of quinine and the like for me. Cheatham's Laxative Tablets are surer in effect and far more pleasant and convenient to take. I seek no further for a safe and sure cure for chills, biliousness and malaria." — Edw Dubois, Baton Rouge, La. 25c per box. w

Abcess.
 W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abcess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J F Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Col.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world." Abcesses, with few exceptions are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by Perkins Bros. w

The Nacogdoches Mercantile company congratulate themselves upon securing the services of one of the most accomplished, up-to-date milliners who ever came to East Texas, and she is now buying and selecting the stock for the company in New York and St. Louis.
