1. Is or tries to be a monopoly.
2. Means "Charge it."
3. Means "believe in" or "have confidence in;" as for example the relation which exists between our customers and ourselves.

THE HAYWARD MILL.

The First Log Was Sawed Yesterday.

From Saturday's Daily:

The Hayward mill is now ready to begin cutting lumber in earnest. The first cut was made yesterday afternoon as a trial run and everything started off like a clock. Two logs were cut merely as a test of the massive machinery, and the test was a success beyond expectation. The mill will not run again until Monday when it will be put into motion in full blast. Today will be spent in cleaning up, oiling and examining the machinery and making ready so that when the next run is made it will be continuous. The company's managers are elated over the smoothness with which the gigantic plant made its start. A number of business men from the city were present, by invitation, to witness the sawing of the first logs, to whom the operation of such a mighty, complex mass of machinery was indeed a revelation.

A Correction.

Editor Sentinel:

You or I got things mixed in reference to our mission work. I meant to say the work was laid out on a basis of one thousand dollars. Rev. G. W. Jefferson is to do part of this work. There will be other men employed, stations filled and weak churches helped later on. Yours truly,

S. F. Baucom.

THE ELECTION.

The Entire Democratic County Ticket Elected.

Returns from yesterday's election have been received at this writing from all the boxes except Etoile, Nat and Lillbert, giving a sufficient majority for the entire democratic ticket to make it impossible for those boxes to change the result for any office. In the fifteen boxes heard from the total vote in the Sheriff's race, that being the only one in which the figures are given in the entire fifteen boxes, is 2477. Buckner's total is 1334; Spradley's 1,083; Buckner's majority 251.

The totals received by the other candidates on the county ticket are as follows:

For Representative: R. W. Haltom, 1222; W. F. Carnes, 755.

For District Clerk: R. W. Murphey, 1424; Forest Hudson, 701.

For Tax Assessor: Luther Swift, 1386; Oscar Murphey, 716.

For Tax Collector: Ltm Martin, 1309; J. M. McClure, 734.

For County Treasurer: Jno N. Gilbert, 1344; W. A. Bart, 740.

For County Clerk: P. M. Sanders, 1420; Leroy Fulmer, 643.

J. W. Byrd is re-elected county commissioner of Beat No. 1, over J. S. Allen, by a large majority. The vote in the West box, Alazan and Appleby could not be obtained.

For Justice of the Peace precinct No. 1, Martin Jones, 605; J. B. Nix, 208.

For Constable precinct No. 1, Will McMillin, 593; Hamp Rogers, 224.

Vote of Appleby and Alazan not included in totals for justice of the peace and constable.

It is believed that H. V. Siton has been elected county commissioner from Beat No. 2, and C. B. Patton from Beat No. 4, heretofore populist, which makes a solidly democratic commission court.

These figures are all given hurriedly and are not claimed as accurate. A tabulated report will be given as early as practicable.

The election was unusually quiet throughout the county and as will be seen, the vote was exceedingly light. But very few negroes voted and hundreds of white voters returned home from the polls without voting. It is estimated that less than a hundred negro votes were cast in the three Nacogdoches boxes, which has a negro voting population of at least three hundred. The heaviest negro vote of any box was polled at Linn Flat, it is said.

A Murderous Threat.

On Thursday morning of last week Dr. T. W. Largent of this city received an anonymous letter through the post-office in which he was warned of an awful death he was to suffer in three days. The note was written on both sides of a scrap of dirty paper, the words being penciled in a disguised hand and the sentences so disconnected that it was difficult to read. Dr. Largent paid but little attention to the villainous epistle, but rather considered it the product of a diseased mind and a depraved heart. He realized that anyone who would write such a letter would be too cowardly to look an honorable man in the face, to say nothing of putting his threat into execution, unless shielded from detection by the midnight darkness, hence he has suffered no uneasiness nor is he likely to do so.—Lufkin tribune.

A Negro of Old Nacogdoches.

In the Houston Post of Wednesday is an article from Capt John S. Doughtie of this city which corrects certain inaccuracies in a pamphlet recently issued by the Department of Agriculture description of Nacogdoches county and to which Capt. Doughtie adds some very interesting reminiscences of early days here, not generally known and worth preserving. The article is as follows:

"In giving a historical sketch of Nacogdoches the department has been imposed upon by some one not familiar with the early history of this county. On page six (6) the historian states: 'In 1778 some wealthy families came in from New Orleans, but the increase in population was so slow that the population of the village did not exceed thirty-six in 1833.' This is a big mistake, as the record will show at that time over 200 people from the different States were living here. On the same page another error occurs where the statement is made: 'In 1837 a colored man named Galons, put up a grist mill near the village. This was run by water power and was one of the first steps in the development which steadily progressed until in 1848 Mr. Ambrose Crain introduced the first cotton gin.' This latter statement is probably correct, but no such negro as named ever lived in this county. There was a mulatto negro by the name of William Goyens, who ran away from his master in Mississippi between 1815 and 1820 and came to this country, now in Nacogdoches county, and took up his abode with the Cherokee Indians. Goyens became a prominent man, not only with the Indians, but among the white settlers in that day. After many years of diligent search by his master he was located in this country and his master came to this town from Mississippi for his fugitive slave. In the meantime Goyens had accumulated considerable property and had gained such prominence among his neighbors and had married a white woman for a wife that his master proposed to sell him his freedom. This he readily accepted and paid over to his master $800 in gold. His emancipation papers were properly gotten up and signed and Goyens was a free man. After the Indians left this country he remained and a special dispensation was granted him by the Republic of Texas giving him permission to purchase and own slaves and he became a slave holder. He died without issue in 1856, and his bones are now resting in a grave yard long since abandoned, surrounded by cedar trees on the property of Mr. Joe P. Clevenger, four miles west from town. Frost Thorn erected and operated the first grist mill in 1833 in this country. This mill was on the Lanana creek a short distance south from town. The mill of Archibald Hotchkiss, on the Morale creek, seven miles south from town, also antedates the Goyens mill by several years, which was located on the Isleta creek, three miles west from town."

NINE governors have been invited and are expected to attend the approaching National irrigation convention in El Paso. As prohibition does not prevail in that city those nine governors will find no necessity for long waits between irrigation.

At last they have struck oil at Humble and it is reported that the Moonshine well there will be a 10,000 barrel proposition when they turn it loose. Excitement is high, the boom is on and land near the Moonshine is selling at $8,500 per acre. Humble is on the H. E. & W. T. Ry., about ten miles this side of Houston.

THE controversy between the Texas and Gulf railway and the Houston, East and West Texas as to the character of the crossing at Timpon has been compromised. Under the terms of the compromise the Texas and Gulf will operate its trains over the Houston, East and West Texas tracks for a distance of about a mile at a rent of $150 per month.

THE big Hayward mill, one of the finest saw mill plants in America, started up Monday for steady operation, and for many years to come it will be an important factor in the fortunes of Nacogdoches. It will benefit our city in many ways, directly and indirectly and the Sentinel speaking for the whole body of our people bids it good luck and a prosperous career.

At this writing the returns from the national election show the triumph of Roosevelt and his ticket by a decisive majority. No details are known in time for the weekly issue of the Sentinel but there is no doubt about the victory for the republicans. The South went democratic as usual. In Nacogdoches county the entire democratic ticket was elected by a decisive majority.

THE San Augustine Reporter is making determined war on the "blind tigers" alleged to infest that town. The editor of the paper has been abruptly ordered to "let up" by an individual there, and so far from obeying orders he opened fire hotter than ever. Blind tigers are a gross, flagrant violation of the law and it would seem that a newspaper is strictly within the limit of both its rights and its duty when it insists that the law shall be enforced.

A TEXAS man, J. T. Cowan, of Dallas, and 150 other people, most of them from the South, have brought suit for $500,000,000 worth of real estate in New York city, which they claim was leased to the city of New York by an ancestor, one Andrew Hartsfield in 1795 for a term of 99 years, and as the lease has expired they want the property. And we can all see them getting it right away. There are many forms of skin game in this inventive age and no lack of suckers to bite at them.

APPLEBY LOCALS.

Appleby, Tex., Nov. 6.—Our red land is still very, very dry. Wells are getting low and no stock water at all in tanks and creeks.

The crops are all about harvested. Corn turned out very sorry, but cotton has gone beyond all expectations. Our gins here have already gone beyond the previous years, but one reason is our gins are better equipped than lots of others around.

The health of our town is improving now. Very little typhoid here at present.

Mr. J. P. Coon has just finished a very nice dwelling on South street. It is an ornament to the town.

Dr. W. G. Hart is beginning a nice dwelling on one of his farms one half mile from town.

Mr. Jno. Lewis from below Nacogdoches has just moved here for the benefit of the school.

Rev. Heffin was here Saturday and bought a home to which he will soon move to send his children to school.

The Carlton & Weatherly brick kiln has been torn down and tested and the brick are of the very best type.

The Nacogdoches County Teachers Institute met here Friday and Saturday and much interest was manifested and all visiting teachers seemed to be favorably impressed with our town and school, and we hope to have them come again.

Mrs. Emma Fears is organizing a Woodmen Circle here and all Charter members can get in at half price, so every one that ever expects to join had better come in now at the cheap rate. All who are interested in getting up this Circle are requested to meet next Saturday at 2 p. m. at Dr. Hart's office.

Residence Burned.

The residence of Mr. E. M. McCuiston, near Red Oak, was destroyed by fire Friday night together with its entire contents, except about one half of the bedding. Not an article of furniture was saved and but a few articles of clothing. The smoke house was also burned together with all Mr. McCuiston's plow tools and farming implements, which were stored under a shed attached. The origin of the fire is unknown and it is only supposed to have caught from a spark from the stove flue. The rear part of the house was falling in when the family woke and gained such head way that nothing could be done to extinguish it. The neighbors and friends of Mr. McCuiston are now at work assisting him in replacing his home.

A Missouri editor refuses to publish obituary notices of people who while alive did not take his paper, and gives this pointed reason: "People who do not take their home paper are dead, anyway, and their mere passing away is of no news value."

Up to date 3847 bales of cotton have been compressed at the compress in this city and there are nearly 400 bales on the platforms yet to be compressed.

Plant Gooders.

Paul E. Williams, of Paris, Lamar county, writes the Enterprise that he has received the sample vines of Spanish Peanuts sent him a few days ago and was wonder struck to learn that such fine goods were grown without cultivation of any kind, and especially when he found that they were planted the first week in June. He recommends that those who have Spanish Peanuts to save them for seed, in order that his neighbor may be able to take advantage of this money crop.—Cushing Enterprise.

This Celebrated NEW YORKER Will Open His Second Famous Mill Remnant Sale WITH Jno. W. Davis

On Saturday November 12th, and Will Last Ten Days Only

It is only necessary to mention Emory Mill Remnant Sale and you know the bargain event of the season is at hand. Past success is a guarantee of the future. We again offer you remnants from the Leading Eastern Mills shipped to us by Mill Agent Mr. W. T. Emory, who will conduct this sale personally. What Are Mill Remnants?

The explanation will be very readily understood and appreciated. Remnants are bound to come from the fact that no loom can weave perfectly all the time and the mill remnant naturally comes as a result of imperfect weaving. The slightest soiled place, the mere missing of one thread, makes a remnant. The goods are just as good as in the whole piece so far as service goes, but it is cut out and disposed of to large retailers for almost nothing by the manufacturer through their agent, Mr. Emory.

In order to make the necessary preparations for the opening of our sale SAT. NOVEMBER 12, at 9 a. m. we will close up Friday at noon and stay closed the remainder of the day.

Don't forget that this man Emory and his combination control all short lengths of imperfect weaves, misprints and in fact everything that goes to make up good jobs from all the big Eastern mills and this enables him to dispense goods direct from the looms to the consumer at actual mill cost with freight added, and when you knock out about 3 or 4 profits that usually stands between the maker of cloth and the actual wearer you make it look like it is being given to you. This is what Mill Remnant Sales mean.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

In this department of the store we feel that our stock is entirely too large. It was bought under the presumption that we would have some winter but, since summer has continued almost to the middle of November we are beginning to want to see the clothing move and have decided to throw it into our great sale with Mr. Emory at the sweeping reduction of 20 per cent on every article of men's and boys' clothing. This stock of clothing was bought right and marked close and with 20 per cent off the former very low price makes this clothing sale the greatest opportunity you possibly may ever have that makes $10.00 suits for $8.00, and $5.00 suits for $4.00, etc, all the way through.

the following statement concerning his Second Sale in Nacogdoches, which is to begin with JNO. W. DAVIS on Saturday November 12, and to last 10 days:

"My first sale with Mr. Davis, last May, was pronounced a success; the biggest on record for the size of the town; much larger than I anticipated, hence my preparation was hardly adequate, but for my coming sale I will be prepared in every line to meet the demands, and with Mr. Davis co-operation I shall expect to make this sale at least double that of the May sale. This will be done by advertising thoroughly throughout this territory the opening of this great Ten Days bargain campaign and when the throngs of interested bargain hunters begin to come and see a store house filled from floor to ceiling with clean, valuable new merchandise at half what others ask for it, they will go out as honest, earnest advertisers, glad to herald the value of the Emory Sale to every one they see. So by this means we expect to see the house crowded with shoppers every day. My Sales never grow old. I have customers in Texas with whom I've held an even dozen sales and every one with phenomenal success."

In Memoriam.

At the expiration of four week's illness, on Saturday night, Oct. 15th, the spirit of Charlie B. Loveless was ushered into the vast expanse of eternity. He leaves a father and mother, three sisters and five brothers to mourn his loss. Charlie was born Feb. 8th, 1888, and was just entering upon the threshold of young manhood, when the death angel, with sickle keen, claimed him for his own. It was one of the most heart-rending scenes that the writer had ever witnessed, as all his loved ones, with bleeding hearts, stood around his bedside during his last hour, the funeral services were conducted by the beloved pastor of his parents, Bro. S. F. Babcom, and surrounded by a great concourse of sympathizing friends, his last remains were laid to rest in the old familiar burying ground of Union church.

Charlie bore his suffering with rare patience for one of his age. He was kind and obedient to his parents, clean in speech, upright in life and kind and affectionate to his brothers and sisters. While he had never made any outward demonstration of religion and did not belong to any church, yet judging from his circumspect walk, we are led to conclude that his heart had been touched by God's power divine.

To his sorrowing friends and loved ones, I would say, that we all know that everything in this world tends toward death and decay. That there is nothing here that is complete. But let us remember that there is a land that is complete, where the "way-worn traveler reaches his goal on the evergreen mountain's life. Charlie has but paid the debt that we all must pay, for we shall sleep but not forever! There will be a glorious dawn. We shall part again no never; On the resurrection morn.

One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it to highly." FAIRVIEW.

Melrose, Nov. 7.—The first Sabbath, 7th inst, was a good day at Fairview church, four miles east from the city of Nacogdoches. The good citizens of that community got it into their minds and hearts to build a new church, which has just been completed. Sunday morning by 11 o'clock 300 hundred people assembled there and heard Bro. D. S. Burk preach a very interesting sermon from Psalms 139:23, after which there was dinner on the ground of the richest and greatest abundance, everybody seemed to be happy. At 2 o'clock the people were called together for the purpose of dedicating the church. The church was presented by three of the official members of said church, J. D. Parks, R. T. White and C. J. Shofner, and received by the pastor, D. S. Burk, and was solemnly dedicated to the worship of God. L. W.

A Physician Healed.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate glands. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use" to all physicians for such trouble. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success." Sold by Perkins Bros.

CHICAGO is a mighty poor town to lecture the South on lawlessness. Sixteen people were murdered there during the month of October.

It is given out that the prohibitionists will endeavor to get the next legislature to increase the license on beer saloons which sell whiskey.

THE reservoir of the waterworks at Winston-Salem, N. C. burst yesterday and seventeen people were drowned in the flood which resulted.

W. F. FAULKNER, a Confederate veteran, died in Houston Thursday at the remarkable age of 100 years, 11 months and 3 days. He was a native of Edgefield, S. C., and had lived an adventurous life.

THE SENTINEL has received from the Department of Agriculture a copy of a pamphlet entitled "Soil Survey of the Nacogdoches Area, Texas" by W. Edward Hearn and James L. Burgess, accompanied by maps showing the various kinds of soils in this county and their locations. The pamphlet contains much useful information of both a scientific and practical character, and the analysis of the various soils with accompanying suggestions will be valuable to progressive farmers who "magnify their calling" and find something more in farming than merely plowing, planting and reaping along the old lines.

WHEN the next legislature of Alabama meets, it is said, there will be a strong effort made to have the state appropriation that is now being made for Booker T. Washington's school at Tuskegee cut off. This movement has been brought about, it is said, by Mr. Washington going into politics. The newspapers of the state have already begun discussing this question, and many favor electing members to the legislature who will vote to abolish the Tuskegee appropriation. One of the most prominent newspaper men in the state, in an editorial in his paper says he "is unalterably opposed to giving any of the public money to help build up a political boss, and a negro boss at that."

AN Associated Press dispatch sent out of Houston under date of Oct. 30th, says: "Edward T. Steger, president of the Denison Bonham & New Orleans railroad, has just returned from France, where he has been for three months arranging with one of the largest banking institutions of the continent for the financing of what will be the first through railway north and south in America. It is to run from Duluth, Minn., via Kansas City to Galveston, Tex., with subordinate lines. The construction will amount to 3,000 miles. The road is to be completed in five years. The contract with the French syndicate is for an investment of $78,000,000. Construction will begin in Texas within sixty days, according to Mr. Steger."

THE ONLY REMEDY.

When the parents in this state have a strong deep desire that the laws of the land be enforced and that desire becomes so strong the parents will have a heart to heart talk with their children once or twice each week, then will we begin a generation who will stand by the laws and demand their enforcement; and when there are enough people who really want ALL THE LAWS enforced we will get them enforced. But as long as the great bulk of the people are anxious that only part of them be enforced just that long will we have our present condition. * * * However it is a satisfaction to find so many papers nearby that have wholesome editorials, particularly among these are our county papers, and especially is it gratifying to note the tone of The Sentinel since its editor is soon to be our representative. Let us close by repeating. What we need is a better training at the fireside and in our schools.—Caro Opportunity.

Our Caro contemporary has reached the true solution of this tremendous problem of how to enforce the laws of the land. We may adopt temporary expedients and enact more laws and look in every direction but the right one, but calm, clear-sighted, courageous and adequate analysis of the evil carries us straight to the terrible fact that a degenerating home life and widespread, parental dereliction are the true causes of the unhappy condition which now prevails. It is useless to swell up with offended self esteem and deny this, for it is the truth, and the man who can't see it is blind—the man who won't see it is worse than blind, for he makes himself accessory to a continuing crime against all that is worth preserving in human civilization. Contempt for law in the mind of the child begins right in the home where parental authority is not strictly enforced; where the parent thinks its duty is accomplished when it has given food, raiment and shelter to its young and lets the public school do the rest. The curse of God rests upon any such theory of child training—precisely the reverse of the old system when, with an awful sense of responsibility upon them, both father and mother daily and nightly gave line upon line and precept upon precept to the tender souls committed to their keeping and trained them up in obedience to just authority, with intelligence to know the right and self control to avoid the wrong. Nor was an option given the child to obey these teachings or not as it saw fit; parental authority was enforced by physical measures, without argument or controversy, that brought prompt obedience, and there was no weak yielding to the mere animal instinct of parental love for its young which permitted the child to conquer the parent and give it its first lesson in contempt for law. Hoodlums in the tadpole stage are numberless in Texas today, roaming the streets like vagrant pigs, who were mammas' and papas' darlings but a few short years ago, and every hoodlum of them defies and despises the law because he did as he pleased at home and intends to keep it up away from home. His horrible life has no beautiful and tender and uplifting memories for him; no sacred and helpful recollection of gentle and loving counsels at a sweet mother's knee, and wise and earnest teachings, enforced by daily example and unyielding authority, from a grave and thoughtful father keenly conscious of his responsibilities for the future of the young creature committed by God and nature to his keeping. That kind of home—which was the rule once in this country—is now, alas! the exception to the rule; and because it is the exception we have a generation which has little fear of and less reverence for law, either in the jury box or out of it, and is without the inherent moral power and force of character to enforce the statutes of the state. We must travel a long road to find the remedy. No nostrums in statesmanship will serve the purpose, and until the reform begins in the homes of Texas and we have grown a generation taught from infancy obedience to just authority and to carefully respect the rights of others and to abhor idleness and ignorance, we will have no such enforcement of the law as will minimize crime and make Texas great in the world's esteem in something better than mere physical magnitude.

The country is often astonished and shamed by verdicts rendered by juries. Many censure the juries, and are right in doing so, but what else can be expected under our jury system and criminal practice. So long as these remain the same these shameful verdicts may be expected. These verdicts are symptoms; the cause lies back of them and is responsible for them.—Rusk County News.

The above paragraph is all right as far as it goes but it stops just short of the information everybody in this country would like to get. Specify what is wrong with the jury system and the criminal practice. The News is very right in deploring the shameful verdicts so often brought in by juries, in which justice is outraged and criminals encouraged, but give us the remedy, give us the remedy!

THE "Recollections and Letters of General Robert E. Lee," edited by his son, Robert E. Lee, Jr., has recently been issued. Newspaper correspondents say that in this publication will be found final proof of the story long published and long denied, that General Lee was offered command of the United States army at the beginning of the civil war. A New York correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in a review of this book, says: "In 1868 General Lee wrote to Senator Reverdy Johnson in regard to a debate in the senate in which Senator Simon Cameron had made certain statements. In this letter General Lee said: 'I never intimated to any one that I desired the command of the United States army; nor did I ever have a conversation with but one gentleman, Mr. Francis Preston Blair, on this subject,

GRANDMA'S LINIMENT

No medicine chest at home, no trunk or traveling bag, while traveling is complete without a bottle of Grandma's Liniment. In emergency it may save life and limb.

None Genuine Without the Picture of "Grandma"

To imitate is sheer flattery, and as worthy preparations are often imitated, the public will find on the market many so-called Grandma's remedies, each claiming to be genuine. Scrutinize carefully the picture of Grandma Park, which has been duly copyrighted, and where you detect fraud on the face of it, and the name of the Park Laboratory Co. illegally used on any other package but our own, a liberal reward will be given the informer or detector of such a counterfeit.

Grandma's Liniment is prepared from an old and tried family recipe of the celebrated Dr. Park, of Baltimore, and was employed successfully for many years in his practice. After his death, this formula was used by his wife who was universally loved and esteemed by the afflicted whom she had oft before aided. This same formula is now the property of THE PARK LABORATORY CO. of New York, who are the sole manufacturers of this wonderful preparation, and who continue to call it "Grandma's Liniment", a name by which it has been favorably known since 1872.

This is a Wonderful Cure—Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Wounds, Bruises, Sprains, Cuts, Flesh Wounds, Scaldhead, Insect bites of all kinds, and all pains where a deeply penetrating liniment is necessary.

If your dealer doesn't keep it, write us direct, enclosing 25c in stamps, Post-office or Express Money Order, and we will see that you are supplied.

New T. & N. O. Schedule.

A Beaumont dispatch of Nov. 3rd says: "The Dallas branch of the Texas and New railroad is figuring on a new schedule between this city and Dallas, which will be of great convenience to the traveling public. Within a short time a mixed day train with sleeper and combination baggage and coach will be put on. It will make the trip in 13 hours and 50 minutes, the train to leave here at 9:15 a. m. and arrive at Dallas at 11:15 p. m. This will give the traveling public the convenience of going up as far as Rockland in the morning and coming back the same evening. Mr. Atkinson, division freight and passenger agent of the road here, says that the new schedule for the new train is now being prepared, and that it will be in effect within a few days."

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone has written a catechism for children with questions and answers concerning the Confederate war, the cause of it, the results etc. The catechism is a very interesting little pamphlet of twelve pages, and is sold for ten cents with one cent added for postage. It is good reading for grown folks as well as children and ought to have a place in every Southern family. Mrs. R. C. Shindler has a few copies, which may be obtained for 11 cents each until her supply is exhausted. The proceeds from the sale of this work will be donated by the author to the Galveston monument to soldiers' and sailors of the Confederacy.

OFFICERS of the executive committee of the National Farmers' union, which body has 200,000 members, held a meeting Thursday night in Dallas with President Peters of the Texas Cotton Growers' association, at which it was agreed to recommend to the farmers that they hold all unmarketed cotton for not less than 12 cents. It is thought that farmers will do as requested. It is stated that they control over 1,000,000 bales of unsold cotton.

PERILS OF LAND AND SEA.

Captain Willnef's Remarkable Escape Shows What to do in Time of Trouble.

For many years, Captain Willnef, says the Times of Gloucester, Mass., was one of the best known seamen in the Gloucester Fleet, but the catarrhal troubles with which he suffered for fifteen years made him dread the nights at sea, being unable to lie down and sleep on account of the constant catarrhal dropping.

Captain Willnef went to two different hospitals for treatment, but could get no lasting benefit. He constantly raised yellow and green phlegm and his trouble became so unbearable and nauseating that he was ashamed to go out in company. When despairing of ever getting relief, his wife purchased a Hyomei outfit for him, and trying it before going to bed, he enjoyed the first whole night's sleep for ten years. Captain Willnef says "I have used less than two bottles of Hyomei and have been cured by the remedy. Hyomei kills the germs of catarrh and makes lasting and permanent cures. Stripling Haselwood & Co. sell Hyomei under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief."
