Campbell School House.

Dec. 2.—Grandma Powers is reported as doing very well. Little Nannie Risenger has returned to school after a week's absence, caused from sickness.

George Falkner, Jr., is building a bridge near the school house on the Nacogdoches and Sterne road. He says he is in favor of good roads.

Mr. Rube West is turning over the sod for another year's crop. The early bird is the one that gets the worm.

Mr. D. L. Campbell went to the city Saturday.

Messrs. Wilton Ingraham and Edgar Thomason were in our midst Friday bird hunting and reported good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Blacksher of Appleby visited Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Campbell Sunday.

Mr. J. G. Strahan and son, Walter, paid the hub city a visit today.

Mr. Whit Martin of Midway was seen in our midst

Sunday. Guess what for?

Mr. Benton Stack killed four fine hogs Saturday. He will have hog and homing at home next year. Little Joe.

worth doing is worth doing well. If you wish to be cured of Rheumatism use Ballard's Snow Liment and you will be "well cured." A positive cure for Sprains, Neuralgia, Bruises, Contracted Muscles, and all the ills that flesh is heir to. A. G. M. Williams, Navasota, Texas, writes:

"I have used Snow Liment for sprained ankle and it gave the best of satisfaction. I always keep it in the house." Sold by Mast Bros. & Smith.

Burette Pleasant, who has been making his home in Nacogdoches for some time, is in the city circulating among friends. Burette had an attack of slow fever during the summer, but from which he has entirely recovered.—Center News.

RECIPE MIXED OFTEN.

Druggists Praise This Simple Home Remedy.

Some remarkable stories are being told about town and among the country people coming in of this simple home-made mixture curing Rheumatism and Kidney trouble. Here is the recipe and directions for taking: Mix by shaking well in a bottle one half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Take as a dose one teaspoonful after meals and at bed time.

No change need be made in your usual diet, but drink plenty of good water.

This mixture, writes one authority in a leading Philadelphia newspaper, has a peculiar tonic effect upon the kidneys; cleansing the clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues, forcing the kidneys to sift and strain from the blood the uric acid and other poisonous waste matter, overcoming Rheumatism, Bladder and Urinary troubles in a short while.

A New York druggist who has had hundreds of calls for these ingredients since the first announcement in the newspapers last October stated that the people who once try it "swear by it," especially those who have Urinary and Kidney trouble and suffer with Rheumatism.

The druggists in this neighborhood say they can supply the ingredients, which are easily mixed at home. There is said to be no better blood cleansing agent or system tonic known, and certainly none more harmless or simple to use.

Rivers Overflowed.

Mr. J. W. Lowery, a prominent citizen of Smyrna community, came to the city yesterday afternoon and reports that the Attoyac and Angelina rivers are higher than they have been in a long while. A great many cattle and hogs have been drowned, and many farms are several feet under water.

In spite of the recent money panic and other hard times the young men and women are striving for higher positions in life. The father and mother who does not try and make a sacrifice for their children to go to school will regret it some day. And the young man who puts forth no effort to advance and prepare for life is making the mistake of his life. But the beauty is to see our girls preparing to be independent. It was supposed by our fathers that ladies were not fit subjects to attend to business or teach school, but it is a fact that they can and the business world is looking for the one who can be trusted and can do the work. So wake up, boys and young men, and let's not be behind.

NACOGDOCHES is sorely in need of a well equipped fire department.

HOUSTON had a disastrous fire Monday morning. The total loss is given at $477,500 with only $218,800 insurance.

This frosty weather will tend to make the possums more tender and juicy, and the potatoes more soft and waxy.

Every farmer in Nacogdoches county should appoint himself a committee of one to raise some extra produce for exhibit at the Nacogdoches county fair next fall.

The taxable values of Texas for 1907 have increased $414,000,000 over the assessment of 1906. That ought to be very encouraging to the Texas five million club.

The Nacogdoches county tobacco growers are beginning to prepare for next year's crop. Let every farmer in the county who has as much as an acre of suitable land plant a tobacco patch.

The Cushing Enterprise has completed the fourth year of its existence, and Editor Carter announces that his paper begins its fifth year with bright prospects. The Enterprise is a live, newsy journal, and a valuable aid in the development and growth of its town and community.

When the new municipal water works, now being installed by the city of Nacogdoches, is completed, and our fire department receives its equipment, our neighbors are requested to come to a live city and see some expert squinting done in the amplified form.

The San Augustine Vidette says: "Ex-Congressman Brooks' health has so much improved that his friends feel assured that he will be in the race for Congress. His announcement will appear later, judging from the numerous letters he is receiving from his friends over the district asking him to make the race. His home people think there is no doubt but he will be our next Congressman."

Texas congressmen are already making their wants and wishes known. Representative Henry has introduced a bill providing for a 2-cent interstate passenger fare, and other Texas members have bills prepared asking for public buildings. Mr. Burgess will ask for a building at Victoria and a site for one at Cuero. Garner wants a public building at Seguin, Floresville and Corpus Christi. Mr. Garner will also ask for a reserve city in Texas, without designating the city. Congressman Russell is said to have six bills prepared affecting the judiciary. "Our Congressman" Cooper has not yet said what he intends to do about a public building for Nacogdoches.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

The East-Texas Congressman to Resume Old Place.

Beaumont Journal.

Hon. S. B. Cooper, representative in the lower house of the national congress, left last night for Washington to resume the seat which he occupied for twelve years without interruption until two years ago, when he was retired by Hon. M. L. Brooks. Mr. Cooper left via the Southern Pacific for New Orleans, and will go thence to the capital over the Southern railway, and expects to arrive in Washington Thursday.

Speaking to a representative of the Journal last night, just before his train departed, Mr. Cooper said that he expected to be away until congress adjourns, and when he comes home again he will be an applicant for re-election.

"You may say," said Mr. Cooper, "that I will be a candidate for re-election and that I will make formal announcement at the proper time and in the proper manner. When I come back to Texas I will open my campaign."

Mr. Cooper thinks there will be no financial legislation during this session of congress. He believes that the wisest course to pursue is to leave the financial situation alone for the present and give the people an opportunity to regain confidence. The less the money question is stirred up now, the better it will be for the country, and any legislation, no matter how beneficial it might eventually be, would be calculated to further arouse the suspicion of the public and frighten away confidence, which can be restored only by letting the matter rest.

"Next year is election year," said Mr. Cooper, "and the republicans who are in control of the national legislature will be very cautious about new legislation and will in fact, be very careful of everything done. I do not expect to see any new or radical measures of any sort introduced, discussed and much less passed during this session. There will be no rivers and harbors bill passed at this session, and for that reason I cannot hope to secure any important legislation in behalf of the Beaumont deep-water project. Of course I will do all that appears possible, but I do not feel inclined to hope for anything. To be sure, if there is any of the present appropriation left unused after the 9-foot canal is finished, I shall endeavor to have that expended in deepening the canal.

"As for local legislation, however, I do hope and expect to get the report from the war department on the cleaning out and improving of the rivers above Beaumont and Orange. You remember that the engineers have been making these surveys and have filed their report, and I shall endeavor to get these reports and recommendations before congress, with a view of getting an appropriation sufficient to clean out the rivers, to the end that the the natural depth can be made."

Mr. Cooper will be an applicant, with reasonable assurance of success, for the membership on the ways and means committee which he held at the time of his retirement from congress. This is the most important committee in the house, and the few democrats who secure the appointment on the committee deem it an especial honor. Mr. Cooper thinks Speaker Cannon will be re-elected. John Sharp Williams will be the democratic candidate and therefore the leader of the minority, and as Mr. Cooper and Mr. Williams are very good friends, Mr. Cooper expects to be named on the ways and means committee.

Mr. Cooper was accompanied to Washington by Mr. A. M. John, who will act as his private secretary. Mr. John is a son of Hon. R. A. John and a direct descendant of Gen. Sam Houston. He is a very capable young man and should make an efficient secretary for Mr. Cooper. He has been attending the state university until recently.

In his campaign next year there is danger that Governor Campbell will find it much more troublesome to explain why the Bailey organ are advocating his renomination than to justify the laws enacted by the Thirtieth legislature. — Beaumont Enterprise

The Sentinel has no particular objection to urge against an agitator—especially one who honestly deems his cause just; but this paper abhors a trouble maker. And Governor Campbell is likely to be worried some by this latter class. The Sentinel is not the organ of any man or candidate, but we fail to see wherein it will be necessary for Governor Campbell to explain why any democrat is advocating his renomination. There is no reasonable cause for opposition to Governor Campbell's re-nomination or re-election, and despite the efforts of the political knockers and agitators, the Sentinel believes there will be none. Again, the sins of the Thirtieth legislature should not be charged against the chief executive, and the laws passed at his suggestion need no justification.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel contributes this bit of encouragement: "There has not been a single failure among all the county fairs in Texas this year." Shelby county should have one; her farmers can raise as fine products as any in the state, but it is necessary to show the goods to convince outsiders of the fact. — Timpson Times.

Nacogdoches county must have a fair in 1908. And, by the way, Shelby, Cherokee, Angelina, San Augustine, Rusk and Panola counties are invited to bring their exhibits and show them along with Nacogdoches county products.

December 19th, 20th and 21st, Dr. Adams, the Eye Specialist, will be at his office in Nacogdoches. Rooms 4 and 6, Bonita Hotel. See him if you want to be told facts about your eyes.

AMONG THE SCHOOLS

Our visit next brought us to Myrtle Springs school near Sacul. This is a tolerably small school, but as good work can be done in a small school as in a larger one, if the pupils have a mind to work. The only trouble is, the school session for a small school is short, and a child in such district needs a six month's session as well as in a larger school. Why not vote a small tax in such districts and lengthen the school term?

At Friendship we found Mr. and Mrs. Day doing good work. They need more school desks and the ones they have remodeled. We were informed that steps had been taken to repair the school house and school furniture. We hope this will be done at an early date so the present session may have the benefit of it. Here the house and yard were clean.

At Nat we found Mr. Lester and school hard at work. The school house here is well ceiled and comfortable. They have patent desks and are well fixed for good school work. Here we noted boxes for waste paper. This paper is taken from the boxes and burned, and not scattered over the school yard. We like this. We heard talk of a special tax here, but those that talked to me thought 20 cents on the hundred dollars inadequate to their needs. They thought 50 cents on the hundred dollars would about meet their needs. We can not see why a district should not be allowed to vote as much as 50 cents on the hundred dollars valuation if the people wish it. Why not by a majority vote also?

Salem colored school is in the Nat district, and is taught in a church house which is ceiled and comfortable, yet the school is small. The teacher promised to do all he could to get the children in school.

There was no school in session at Red Flat. We were told that the people in this district desired to supplement their state funds with a special tax and employ a first class teacher. We certainly think every school should look forward to the employment of the best teacher to be had.

At Lone Star we found the school moving along nicely. House well ceiled and comfortable surroundings. Floor and yard clean. Pupils seem well disposed, and both teacher and pupils were at work.

Teachers should know that success depends upon earnest, energetic endeavor. Inject interest, energy and soul into the daily work, and your success is sure. Every patron wants an energetic teacher as an example for his children. Let's be energetic.

At the Moral school we found poor conditions, though these people promised to do some necessary repair work. If windows are put in and other necessary repairs made, the teacher can do much better work, and the children can attend more regularly.

At the Bonaldo school we found much improvement. A new floor, new roof, and the old floor put up as a loft made things look snug. These improvements put a vigor into teacher and pupil alike. If you will make for your teacher good conditions, he will pay back in the quality of work he does. These improvements I understand are to be charged to Lawrence Montes. May his tribe ever increase. And let improvement along the line be the motto of teachers and people.

R. W. Tillery.

Letter From Mrs. Wilson, Editor Sentinel.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 29.—The earth is covered with water up here and the rivers are booming.

A street car turned over yesterday, killing one man, wounding 20 persons.

There are a great many idle people in this city who seem to have no thought for tomorrow.

No wonder the financial condition of our country is bad, when there is as much idleness and the farms are lying uncultivated. God says man shall eat bread by the sweat of his brow.

The porter on the train told us the railroad men have plenty of money, which we were glad to hear.

Arriving here yesterday morning we took a cab and drove to the home of Mrs. Eva Runyan, finding her quite sick.

This is the only town I ever was in where the ladies remained in doors for bad weather. Cold weather has already done its work with the flowers and grass.

ORDERS TO RAILROADS

They Must Purchase More Rolling Stock and Equipment.

The railroad commission has issued a batch of orders requiring railroads of the state to add to their equipment and rolling stock, as a result of the hearing held on the subject last September. Nineteen orders were issued and the orders embrace a period of three years in which the roads are to get additional rolling stock and equipment. The orders and the amount of additional equipment and rolling stock required to be purchased by these companies apply to East Texas roads as follows:

Houston, East and West Texas railway, for 1808, 8 locomotives, 3 passenger cars, 300 freight cars; for following year 2 locomotives, 2 passenger cars and 200 freight cars; for 1910, 4 locomotives and 100 freight cars.

Trinity Valley & Southern railroad, for 1908, 1 locomotive, 1 passenger car and 5 freight cars; and for following year, 1 locomotive and 5 freight cars.

International and Great Northern Railroad company, for 1909, 25 locomotives, 6 passenger cars, 1200 freight cars, including 150 stock and 100 coal cars, and for following year, 25 locomotives, 6 passenger cars and 1200 freight cars, including 150 stock and 100 coal cars; for 1910, 10 locomotives and 800 freight cars, including 100 stock cars.

A Prominent Visitor.

Judge J. R. Blades of Athens spent Saturday night and Sunday in Nacogdoches. Judge Blades had been engaged to deliver an address at the dedication of the new hall of Elm camp, Woodville and the World, Saturday night and though a message had been wired to his address at Athens, that the dedication had been postponed he was in South Texas and did not receive it. However, he will be here and fill his engagement when the dedicatory exercises are pulled off. Judge Blades is in the race for the democratic nomination for state comptroller, and being a citizen of East Texas, will no doubt receive a strong vote in this section.

ANOTHER RECRUIT.

Oscar Broyles Offers His Services for Military Duty.

Oscar S. Broyles, a young man from Lufkin, was enlisted Saturday at the army recruiting station in the Davidson building. He chose for his service the infantry branch of the army, and as he expressed a preference for a trip around the world, his papers were marked "Designated for Philippine Service," which means that Broyles will be assigned to the next infantry regiment to sail from San Francisco for Manila. Young Broyles left at noon Sunday for San Antonio, where after a few days preliminary instruction in the duties of a soldier at Fort Sam Houston, near that city, he will be sent to the station of his company. Lieutenant Chamberlain, the recruiting officer for this district, was in the city Saturday, registered at the Redlands. He announces that the Nacogdoches recruiting station will be closed about December 7, and a branch station opened for ten days thereafter at Lufkin.

A DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.

A Four Year Old Baby Accidently Kills His Uncle.

Report reached Nacogdoches of a deplorable tragedy which occurred at Cushing last Saturday.

It is said that Jesse Williamson, aged 17 years, and the son of Mr. J. M. Williamson, was shot and almost instantly killed by his little nephew, Bruce McMillian, aged four years, and the son of Mr. Oscar McMillian.

According to the report, the baby boy of Mr. McMillian was playing with the hammer of a target rifle that was standing in the store of Mr. Williamson when the gun was accidentally discharged, the ball striking young Williamson in the back of the head and passing out at the left eye. He fell unconscious to the floor and died in a few minutes.

The fathers of both boys are prominent citizens and business men of Cushing, and they have the sympathy of the entire citizenship in their sad bereavement.

Claude Barrett, who has been employed in the Houston, East & West Texas office at this place, left this afternoon for Logansport to take a similar position there. —Timpson Times.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by Mast Bros. & Smith, druggist, 50c.

REMOVE THE CAUSE.

How to Remedy Much of the Suffering in Nacogdoches.

The only way to cure the attacks of indigestion that are so common in Nacogdoches is by using Mi-o-na stomach tablets. They remove the cause of indigestion, strengthen the muscles of the stomach and bowels, and restore the whole digestive system to health and strength.

When the stomach is weak there is indigestion, flatulence, dizziness, headaches, sleeplessness and many other disagreeable symptoms. The only remedy that can be relied upon absolutely to cure this condition is Mi-o-na, for it removes the cause and restores health so that all food is easily digested without pain or suffering.

Stripling, Haselwood & Co. sell Mi-o-na under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it cures. Try a 50-cent box and see how much real good it does in strengthening the indigestion. 12

Death of F. S. Briley.

From Monday's Daily: Mr. F. S. Briley, an old and respected citizen of this county, died at the home of his son, Sam Briley, in the northwestern portion of the city at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Mr. Briley was in his usual good health until about 10 o'clock Sunday morning, when he was stricken with paralysis, and though all was done for him that could be done, he died twelve hours after being stricken.

Deceased was an old confederate soldier, and for a number of years resided near Chireno, where he was honored and respected by all who knew him.

His remains were carried to Chireno today where they will be interred tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Briley was 66 years of age and leaves three children, a son and two daughters.

Whenever you feel that your stomach has gone a little wrong or when you feel that it is not in good order as is evidenced by mean headaches, nervousness, bad breath, and belching, take something at times, and especially after your meals until relief is afforded. There is nothing better offered the public today for stomach troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion, etc., than Kodol. This is a scientific preparation of natural digestants combined with vegetable acids and it contains the same juices found in every healthy stomach. Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. It is pleasant to take; it will make you feel fine by digesting what you eat. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. dw

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Nacogdoches Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Nacogdoches readers.

W. D. Price, merchant of Lufkin Ave., Lufkin, Texas, says: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled considerably off and on with a dull aching in my back, caused, I believe, by a cold or strain. I tried several remedies, but without effect. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box. Finding great relief after using the first box I purchased a second and since finishing this I have felt no return of the symptoms and have no hesitation in recommending a remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills. They act as represented."

Muscular Pains Cured.

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedlar, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it." MRS. AMANDA ROBERTS.

Death of This Noble Christian Woman Last Night.

From Monday's Daily:

Died, at the home of her son, E. M. Roberts, on North street, Sunday evening at 5:45 o'clock, Mrs. Amanda H. Roberts, aged 68 years.

Mrs. Roberts had been confined to her bed for some time, and for several days last week her condition was considered critical, but she had so much improved that her family and friends had begun to hope that she might recover. Sunday she appeared to be usually cheerful and even at the very moment before her spirit left its flight she was joking and conversing with members of the family. Her death was wholly unexpected, and came as a sad blow to her devoted children.

She died just as the Sabbath's sun had gone down behind the western horizon, just as the rosy fingers of the golden twilight tinted the western sky with a sheen of glory. Surely a most fitting time for a pure spirit to take its flight heavenward. With the eye of faith one could see at the close of this memorable December day an invisible hand wave a signal, and a voice in softest accent on the evening breeze announce that God's angels were waiting to escort her in.

Deceased was born in San Augustine county sixty-eight years ago, but nearly all of her life has been spent in the city and county of Nacogdoches. In early life she joined the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and to the hour of her death she lived the pure christian life that she professed.

She leaves four children, they being N. G., I. J. and E. M. Roberts of this city, and Mrs. John Teutsch of Chireno.

Her remains were interred in the City cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the beautiful and impressive funeral services of the Baptist church being conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Miller.

The Picturesque Story.

The big story sensation of the 70's, The Hidden Hand, is a fascinating subject for the play writers. It has so much of real American character, such a picturesque background, so much of the heartiest fun and comedy, and most important of all, such a finely melodramatic and romantic plot that it has few equals in its amount of material for drama. A new play from the story will be at the Nacogdoches opera house Saturday, December 14. The author is an actor of note and dignified position in the profession, Eugene Moore.

How to Cure Constipation

Few people altogether escape a disorder of the bowels. You may catch cold, over-eat, over-drink, worry too much, not exercise enough or do a hundred and one other things that result in constipation or costiveness. When the trouble comes it is well to know what to do for it. In the opinion of thousands there is no better cure for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which anyone can obtain for 50 cents or $1 at a drug store. We all have constipation occasionally, and the sensible thing to do is to have a bottle of this remedy always in the house. You take it at night or retiring, for example, and when you wake up in the morning as your usual hour is produced its results. Your stomach instantly becomes lighter, your head clearer, your eyes brighter, you feel active and buoyant again. Your appetite has returned and you are ready to work with enthusiasm and vigor. All this may not have taken more than a dose or two, at a cost not to exceed two or three cents. Can you afford to feel bad when you can feel good for so little?

THE WITNESS Brown, of Metropolis, Ill., has no hesitancy in saying that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the greatest of all laxatives and he frankly admits to his patients that if they need it when the stomach, liver or bowels get out of order they would have less need of him. It is without doubt the best cure for occasional or chronic constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, jaundice, sour stomach, lax liver, flatulency, dizziness, and similar digestive life in old and young. It is a thousand times better than salts or purgative waters, acts gently but surely, is pleasant to the taste, does not grip, and cures permanently. Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent or $1 bottle and see if our claims are not justified.

FREE TEST

Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. If you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease, get the most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home remedy. Tobacco Growers Meet.

The Regular monthly meeting of the Nacogdoches County Tobacco Growers' association was held at the court house last Saturday. Very little business was transacted, but it was decided that a special meeting be held on the second Saturday in this month, December 14, in the court house at 2 p. m. There is very important business to be attended to. One thing is to join in a deal for fertilizer and other requisites, so as to get reduced prices. The outlook is encouraging for a big acreage.

There is something about Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup that makes it different from others, as it causes a free yet gentle action of the bowels through which the cold is forced out of the system. At the same time it heals irritation and allays inflammation of the throat and lungs. It is pleasant to take. Children like it. Contains no opiates nor narcotics. PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The president in his message to congress says:

No nation has greater resources than ours, and I think it can be truthfully said that the citizens of no nation possess greater energy and industrial ability. In no nation are the fundamental business conditions sounder than in ours at this very moment, and it is foolish when such is the case for people to hoard money instead of keeping it in sound banks, for it is such hoarding that is the immediate occasion of money stringency. Moreover, as a rule, the business of our people is conducted with honesty and probity, and this applies alike to farms and factories, to railroads and banks, to all our legitimate commercial enterprises.

In any large body of men, however, there are certain to be some who are dishonest, and if the conditions are such that these men prosper or commit their misdeeds with impunity their example is a very evil thing for the community. Where these men are business men of great sagacity and of temperance both unscrupulous and reckless, and where the conditions are such that they act without supervision or control and at first without effective check from public opinion, they delude many innocent people into making investments or embarking in kinds of business that are really unsound. When the misdeeds of these successfully dishonest men are discovered, suffering comes not only upon them, but upon the innocent whom they have misled. It is a painful awakening, whenever it occurs, and naturally when it does occur those who suffer are apt to forget that the longer it was deferred the more painful it would be. In the effort to punish the guilty it is both wise and proper to endeavor so far as possible to minimize the distress of those who have been misled by the guilty. Yet it is not possible to refrain because of such distress from striving to put an end to the misdeeds that are the ultimate causes of the suffering and, as a means to this end, where possible to punish those responsible for them.

There may be honest differences of opinion as to many governmental policies, but surely there can be no such differences as to the need of unflinching perseverance in the war against successful dishonesty.

Interstate Commerce.
No small part of the trouble that we have come from carrying to an extreme the national virtue of self reliance, of independence in initiative and action. It is wise to conserve this virtue and to provide for its fullest exercise compatible with seeing that liberty does not become a liberty to wrong others. Unfortunately this is the kind of liberty that the lack of all effective regulation inevitably breeds. The founders of the constitution provided that the national government should have complete and sole control of interstate commerce. There was then practically no interstate business save such as was conducted by water, and this the national government at once proceeded to regulate in thoroughgoing and effective fashion. Conditions have now so wholly changed that the interstate commerce by water is insignificant compared with the amount that goes by land, and almost all big business concerns are now engaged in interstate commerce. As a result it can be but partially and imperfectly controlled or regulated by the action of any one of the several states, such action inevitably tending to be either too drastic or else too lax and in either case ineffective for purposes of justice. Only the national government can in thoroughgoing fashion exercise the needed control. This does not mean that there should be any extension of federal authority, for such authority already exists under the constitution in simplest and most far reaching form. But it does mean that there should be an extension of federal activity. This is not advocating centralization. It is merely looking facts in the face and realizing that centralization in business has already come and cannot be avoided or undone and that the public at large can only protect itself from certain evil effects of this business centralization by providing better methods for the exercise of control through the authority already centralized in the national government by the constitution itself. There must be no halt in the healthy constructive course of action which this nation has elected to pursue and has steadily pursued during the last six years, as shown both in the legislation of the congress and in the administration of the law by the department of justice.

National License For Railroads.
The most vital need is in connection with the railroads. As to these, in my judgment, there should now be either a national incorporation act or a law licensing railway companies to engage in interstate commerce upon certain conditions. The law should be so framed as to give to the interstate commerce commission power to pass upon the future issue of securities, while ample means should be provided to enable the commission whenever in its judgment it is necessary to make a physical valuation of any railroad. As I stated in my message to the congress a year ago, railroads should be given power to enter into agreements subject to these agreements being made public in minute detail and to the consent of the interstate commerce commission being first obtained. Until the national government assumes proper control of interstate commerce in the exercise of the authority it already possesses it will be impossible either to give to or to get from the railroads full justice. The railroads and all other great corporations will do well to recognize that this control is theirs. The only question is as to what governmental body can most wisely exercise it. The courts will determine the limits within which the federal authority can exercise it, and there will still remain ample work within each state for the railway commission of that state, and the national interstate commerce commission will work in harmony with the several state commissions, each within its own province, to achieve the desired end.

The Antitrust Law.
Moreover, in my judgment, there should be additional legislation looking to the proper control of the great business concerns engaged in interstate business, this control to be exercised for their own benefit and prosperity no less than for the protection of investors and of the general public. As I have repeatedly said in messages to congress and elsewhere, experience has definitely shown not merely the unwisdom, but the futility, of endeavoring to put a stop to all business combinations. Modern industrial conditions are such that combination is not only necessary, but inevitable. It is so in the world of labor, and it is as idle to desire to put an end to all corporations, to all big combinations of capital, as to desire to put an end to combinations of labor. Corporation and labor union alike have come to stay. Each if properly managed is a source of good and not evil. Whenever in either there is evil it should be promptly held to account, but it should receive hearty encouragement so long as it is properly managed. It is profoundly immoral to put or keep on the statute books a law nominally in the interest of public morality that really puts a premium upon public immorality by undertaking to forbid honest men from doing what must be done under modern business conditions so that the law itself provides that its own infraction must be the condition precedent upon business success. To aim at the accomplishment of too much usually means the accomplishment of too little and often the doing of positive damage.

Not Repeat, but Amend.
The antitrust law should not be repealed, but it should be made both more efficient and more in harmony with actual conditions. It should be so amended as to forbid only the kind of combination which does harm to the general public, such amendment to be accompanied by or to be an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big concerns engaged in interstate business. This should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials. A beginning has already been made for such supervision by the establishment of the bureau of corporations.

The antitrust law should not prohibit combinations that do no injustice to the public, still less does the existence of which is on the whole of benefit to the public. But even if this feature of the law were abolished there would remain as an equally objectionable feature the difficulty and delay now incident to its enforcement. The government must now submit to irksome and repeated delay before obtaining a final decision of the courts upon proceedings instituted, and even a favorable decree may mean an empty victory. Moreover, to attempt to control these corporations by lawsuits means to impose upon both the department of justice and the courts an impossible burden. It is not feasible to carry on more than a limited number of such suits. Such a law to be really effective must of course be administered by an executive body and not merely by means of lawsuits. The design should be to prevent the abuses incident to the creation of unhealthy and improper combinations instead of waiting until they are in existence and then attempting to destroy them by civil or criminal proceedings.

Law Should Be Explicit.
A combination should not be tolerated if it abuse the power acquired by combination to the public detriment. No corporation or association of any kind should be permitted to engage in foreign or interstate commerce that is formed for the purpose of or whose operations create a monopoly or general control of the production, sale or distribution of any one or more of the prime necessities of life or articles of general use and necessity. Such combinations are, against public policy. They violate the common law. The doors of the courts are closed to those who are parties to them, and I believe the congress can close the channels of interstate commerce against them for its protection. The law should make its prohibitions and permissions as clear and definite as possible, leaving the least possible room for arbitrary action or allegation of such action on the part of the executive or of divergent interpretations by the courts.

Among the points to be aimed at should be the prohibition of unhealthy competition, such as by rendering service at an actual loss for the purpose of crushing out competition, the prevention of inflation of capital and the prohibition of a corporation's making exclusive trade with itself a condition of having any trade with itself. Reasonable agreements between or combinations of corporations should be permitted provided they are first submitted to and approved by some appropriate government body.

Congress' Power.
The congress has the power to charter corporations to engage in interstate and foreign commerce, and a general law can be enacted under the provisions of which existing corporations could take out federal charters and new federal corporations could be created.

an essential provision of such a law should be a method of predetermining by some federal board or commission whether the applicant for a federal charter was an association or combination within the restrictions of the federal law. Provision should also be made for complete publicity in all matters affecting the public and complete protection to the investing public and the shareholders in the matter of issuing corporate securities. If an incorporation law is not deemed advisable, a license act for big interstate corporations might be enacted or a combination of the two might be tried. The supervision established might be analogous to that now exercised over national banks. At least the antitrust act should be supplemented by specific prohibitions of the methods which experience has shown have been of most service in enabling monopolistic combinations to crush out competition.

The real owners of a corporation should be compelled to do business in their own name. The right to hold stock in other corporations should hereafter be denied to interstate corporations, unless on approval by the proper government officials; and a prerequisite to such approval should be the listing with the government of all owners and stockholders, both by the corporation owning such stock and by the corporation in which such stock is owned.

Lessons of Recent Crisis.
To confer upon the national government in connection with the amendment I advocate in the antitrust law power of supervision over big business concerns engaged in interstate commerce would benefit them as it has benefited the national banks. In the recent business crisis it is noteworthy that the institutions which failed were institutions which were not under the supervision and control of the national government. Those which were under national control stood the test.

National control of the kind above advocated would be to the benefit of every well managed railway. From the standpoint of the public there is need for additional tracks, additional terminals and improvements in the actual handling of the railroads, and all this as rapidly as possible. Ample, safe and speedy transportation facilities are even more necessary than cheap transportation. Therefore there is need for the investment of money which will provide for all these things while at the same time securing as far as possible better wages and shorter hours for their employees. Therefore, while there must be just and reasonable regulation of rates, we should be the first to protest against any arbitrary and unthinking movement to cut them down without the fullest and most careful consideration of all interests concerned and of the actual needs of the situation. Only a special body of men acting for the national government under authority conferred upon it by the congress is competent to pass judgment on such a matter.

Those who fear from any reason the extension of federal activity will do well to study the history not only of the national banking act, but of the pure food law, and notably the meat inspection law recently enacted. The pure food law was opposed so violently that its passage was delayed for a decade, yet it has worked unmixed and immediate good. The meat inspection law was even more violently assailed, and the same men who now denounce the attitude of the national government in seeking to oversee and control the workings of interstate common carriers and business concerns then asserted that we were "discrediting and ruining a great American industry."

Two years have not elapsed, and already it has become evident that the great benefit the law confers upon the public is accompanied by an equal benefit to the reputable packing establishments. The latter are better off under the law than they were without it. The benefit to interstate common carriers and business concerns from the legislation I advocate would be equally marked.

Pure Food Law.
Incidentally in the passage of the pure food law the action of the various state food and dairy commissioners showed in striking fashion how much good for the whole people results from the hearty co-operation of the federal and state officials in securing a given reform. It is primarily to the action of these state commissioners that we owe the enactment of this law, for they aroused the people, first to demand the enactment and enforcement of state laws on the subject and then the enactment of the federal law, without which the state laws were largely ineffective. There must be the closest co-operation between the national and state governments in administering these laws.

Currency Legislation Needed.
I again urge on the congress the need of immediate attention to this matter. We need a greater elasticity in our currency, provided of course that we recognize the even greater need of a safe and secure currency. Provision should be made for an emergency currency. The emergency issue should of course be made with an effective guarantee and upon conditions carefully prescribed by the government. Such emergency issue must be based on adequate securities approved by the government and must be issued under a heavy tax. This would permit currency being issued when the demand for it was urgent, while securing its retirement as the demand fell off. It is worth investigating to determine whether officers and directors of national banks should ever be allowed to loan to themselves. Trust companies should be subject to the same supervision as banks. Legislation to this effect should be enacted for the District of Columbia and the territories.

Yet we must also remember that even the wisest legislation on the subject can only accomplish a certain amount. No legislation can by any possibility guarantee the business community against the results of speculative folly any more than it can guarantee an individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual mortgages his house to buy an automobile he invites disaster, and when wealthy men or men who pose as such or are unscrupulously or foolishly eager to become such indulge in reckless speculation, especially if it is accompanied by dishonesty, they jeopardize not only their own future, but the future of all their innocent fellow citizens, for they expose the whole business community to panic and distress.

Can't Revise Tariff Now.
This country is definitely committed to the protective system, and any effort to uproot it could not but cause widespread industrial disaster. In other words, the principle of the present tariff law could not with wisdom be changed. But in a country of such phenomenal growth as ours it is probably well that every dozen years or so the tariff laws should be carefully scrutinized so as to see that no excessive or improper benefits are conferred thereby, that proper revenue is provided and that our foreign trade is encouraged. There must always be as a minimum a tariff which will not only allow for the collection of an ample revenue, but which will at least make good the difference in cost of production here and abroad—that is, the difference in the labor cost here and abroad, for the well being of the wage-worker must ever be a cardinal point of American policy. The question should be approached purely from a business standpoint, both the time and the manner of the change being such as to arouse the minimum of agitation and disturbance in the business world and to give the least play for selfish and factional motives. The sole consideration should be to see that the sum total of changes represents the public good. This means that the subject cannot with wisdom be dealt with in the year preceding a presidential election, because as a matter of fact experience has conclusively shown that at such a time it is impossible to get men to treat it from the standpoint of the public good. In my judgment the wise time to deal with the matter is immediately after such election.

Income Tax and Inheritance Tax.
When our tax laws are revised the question of an income tax and an inheritance tax should receive the careful attention of our legislators. In my judgment, both of these taxes should be part of our system of federal taxation. I speak distinctly about the income tax because one scheme for an income tax was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, while in addition it is a difficult tax to administer in its practical working, and great care would have to be exercised to see that it was not evaded by the very men whom it was most desirable to have taxed. Nevertheless a graduated income tax of the proper type would be a desirable feature of federal taxation, and it is to be hoped that one may be devised which the supreme court will declare constitutional.

The inheritance tax, however, is a far better method of taxation. The government has the absolute right to decide as to the terms upon which a man shall receive a bequest from another, and this point in the devolution of property is especially appropriate for the imposition of a tax. Laws imposing such taxes have repeatedly been placed upon the national statute books and as repeatedly declared unconstitutional by the courts, and these laws contained the progressive principle—that is, after a certain amount is reached the bequest or gift is life or death is increasingly burdened and the rate of taxation is increased in proportion to the remoteness of blood of the man receiving the bequest. These principles are recognized already in the leading civilized nations of the world.

Germany's Inheritance Tax.
The German law is especially interesting to us because it makes the inheritance tax an imperial measure while allotting to the individual states of the empire a portion of the proceeds and permitting them to impose taxes in addition to those imposed by the imperial government. Small inheritances are exempt, but the tax is so sharply progressive that when the inheritance is still not very large, provided it is not an agricultural or a forest land, it is taxed at the rate of 25 per cent if it goes to distant relatives. There is no reason why in the United States the national government should not impose inheritance taxes in addition to those imposed by the states, and when we last had an inheritance tax about one-half of the states levied such taxes concurrently with the national government, making a combined maximum rate in some cases as high as 25 per cent.

To Tax Nonresidents Higher.
The tax should if possible be made to bear more heavily upon those residing without the country than within it. A large progressive tax upon a very large fortune is in no way such a tax upon thrift or industry as a like tax would be on a small fortune. No advantage comes either to the country as a whole or to the individuals inheriting the money by permitting the transmission in their entirety of the enormous fortunes which would be affected by such a tax, and as an incident to its function of revenue raising such a tax would help to preserve a measurable equality of opportunity for the people of the generations growing to manhood.

We have not the slightest sympathy with that socialistic idea which would try to put laziness, thriftlessness and inefficiency on a par with industry, thrift and efficiency, which would strive to break up not merely private property, but, what is far more important, the home, the chief prop upon which our whole civilization stands. Such a theory if ever adopted would mean the ruin of the entire country, but proposals for legislation such as this herein advocated are directly opposed to this class of socialistic theories.

Enforcement of the Law.
A few years ago there was loud complaint that the law could not be invoked against wealthy offenders. There is no such complaint now. The course of the department of justice during the last few years has been such as to make it evident that no man stands above the law, that no corporation is so wealthy that it cannot be held to account. Everything that can be done under the existing law and with the existing state of public opinion, which so profoundly influences both the courts and juries, has been done, but the laws themselves need strengthening. They should be made more definite, so that no honest man can be led unwittingly to break them and so that the real wrongdoer can be readily punished.

Moreover, there must be the public opinion back of the laws or the laws themselves will be of no avail. The two great evils in the execution of our criminal laws today are sentimentality and technicality. For the latter the remedy must come from the hands of the legislatures, the courts and the lawyers. The other must depend for its cure upon the gradual growth of a sound public opinion which shall insist that regard for the law and the demands of reason shall control all other influences and emotions in the jury box. Both of these evils must be removed or public discontent with the criminal law will continue.

Injunctions.
Instances of abuse in the granting of injunctions in labor disputes continue to occur, and the resentment in the minds of those who feel that their rights are being invaded and their liberty of action and of speech unwarrantably restrained continues likewise to grow. Much of the attack on the use of the process of injunction is wholly without warrant, but I am constrained to express the belief that for some of it there is warrant. This question is becoming one of prime importance, and unless the courts will deal with it in effective manner it is certain ultimately to demand some form of legislative action. It would be most unfortunate for our social welfare if we should permit many honest and law abiding citizens to feel that they had just cause for regarding our courts with hostility. I earnestly commend to the attention of the congress this matter, so that some way may be devised which will limit the abuse of injunctions and protect those rights which from time to time it unwarrantably invades. Moreover, discontent is often expressed with the use of the process of injunction by the courts, not only in labor disputes, but where state laws are concerned. I refrain from discussion of this question as I am informed that it will soon receive the consideration of the supreme court.

The process of injunction is an essential adjunct of the court's doing its work well, and as preventive measures are always better than remedial the wise use of this process is from every standpoint commendable. But where it is recklessly or unnecessarily used the abuse should be censured, above all by the very men who are properly anxious to prevent any effort to shear the courts of this necessary power. The court's decision must be final. The protest is only against the conduct of individual judges in needlessly anticipating such final decision or in the tyrannical use of what is nominally a temporary injunction to accomplish what is in fact a permanent decision.

The president urges the passage of a model employers' liability act for the District of Columbia and the territories to encourage corporations to treat injured workmen better. He emphatically indorses the eight hour day. The president urges the states to fight the child and woman labor evil. He says:

The national government has as an ultimate resort for control of child labor the use of the interstate commerce clause to prevent the products of child labor from entering into interstate commerce. But before using this it ought certainly to enact model laws on the subject for the territories under its own immediate control.

Presidential Campaign Expenses.
Under our form of government voting is not merely a right, but a duty, and, moreover, a fundamental and necessary duty if a man is to be a good citizen. It is well to provide that corporations shall not contribute to presidential or national campaigns and, furthermore, to provide for the publication of both contributions and expenditures. There is, however, always danger in laws of this kind, which from their very nature are difficult of enforcement, the danger being lest they be obeyed only by the honest and disobeyed by the unscrupulous, so as to act only as a penalty upon honest men. Moreover, no such law would hamper an unscrupulous man of unlimited means from buying his own way into office. There is a very radical measure which would, I believe, work a substantial improvement in our system of conducting a campaign, although I am well aware that it will take some time for people so familiarized themselves with such a proposal as to be willing to consider its adoption. The need for collecting large campaign funds would vanish if congress provided an appropriation for the proper and legitimate expenses of each of the great national parties, an appropriation ample enough to meet the necessity for thorough organization and machinery, which requires a large expenditure of money. Then the stipulation should be made that no party receiving campaign funds from the treasury should accept more than a fixed amount from any individual subscriber or donor, and the necessary publicity for receipts and expenditures could without difficulty be provided.

The Army.
The president recommends legislation to increase the number of officers in the army, especially in the medical corps. The rate of pay of officers should be greatly increased, he declares. There should be a relatively even greater increase in the rate of pay of enlisted men if we are to keep the army in shape to be effective in time of need. The president recommends severe examination of officers for promotion up to the rank of major. From that point promotion should be purely by selection. He speaks of the recent physical test of army officers with emphatic approbation and recommends a bill equalizing the pay of officers and men of the army, navy marine corps and revenue cutter service.

The Navy.
Concerning the navy the president says: In my judgment, we should this year provide for four battleships. But it is idle to build battleships unless, in addition to providing the men and the means for thorough training, we provide the auxiliaries for them—unless we provide docks, the coaling stations, the colliers and supply ships that they need. We are extremely deficient in coaling stations and docks on the Pacific, and this deficiency should no longer be permitted to exist. Plenty of torpedo boats and destroyers should be built. Both on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts fortifications of the best type should be provided for all our greatest harbors.

Until our battle fleet is much larger than at present it should never be split into detachments so far apart that they could not in event of emergency be speedily united. Our coast line is on the Pacific just as much as on the Atlantic. The battle fleet should now and then be moved to the Pacific, just as at other times it should be kept in the Atlantic. When the isthmian canal is built the transit of the battle fleet from one ocean to the other will be comparatively easy. Until it is built I earnestly hope that the battle fleet will be thus shifted between the two oceans every year or two. The battle fleet is about starting by the strait of Magellan to visit the Pacific coast. Sixteen battleships are going under the command of Rear Admiral Evans, while eight armored cruisers and two other battleships will meet him in San Francisco, whether certain torpedo destroyers are also going. No fleet of such size has ever made such a voyage, and it will be of very great educational use to all engaged in it. The only way by which to teach officers and men how to handle the fleet so as to meet every possible strain and emergency in time of war is to have them practice under similar conditions in time of peace.

The president recommends increased pay for both officers and enlisted men and advises promotion by election above the grade of lieutenant commander.

Foreign Affairs.
In foreign affairs, the president says, this country's steady policy is to have toward other nations as a strong and self respecting man should behave toward the other men with whom he is brought into contact. In other words our aim is disinterestedly to help other nations where such help can be wisely given without the appearance of meddling with what does not concern us to be careful to act as a good neighbor and at the same time in good natured fashion to make it evident that we do not intend to be imposed upon.

The president refers at length to the Hague peace conference. He believes it accomplished much good work.

Postal Savings Banks.
The president says on postal affairs: I commend to the favorable consideration of the congress a postal savings bank system as recommended by the postmaster general. Timid depositors have withdrawn their savings from the time being from national banks, trust companies and savings banks, individuals have hoarded their cash, and the workmen their earnings, all of which money has been withheld and kept in hiding or in the safe deposit box to the detriment of prosperity. Through the agency of the postal savings banks such money would be restored to the channels of trade, to the mutual benefit of capital and labor.

I further commend to the congress the consideration of the postmaster general's recommendation for an extension of the parcel post, especially on the rural routes. It would be a most desirable thing to put the fourth class postmasters in the classified service.

Other recommendations are: Deepening of the inland waterway, especially of the Mississippi river system, to make them great national highways. The repeal of the tariff on forest products, especially the duty on wood pulp. The amendment of the public land laws to make them more effective against land grabbers and more favorable to bona fide settlers.

Retention of the government's title to public coal and other mineral lands. Extension of the national forest reserves. Citizenship for the people of the Rico. Freer local self government in Alaska. Encouragement of the line, particularly of an line to South America. Remission of the duty on freer entry for coming to America.

Advice of the largest coffee dealers in the world is always to buy the old-fashioned Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee in the sealed packages. Don't ask for a pound of Mocha and Java, or buy by the price, for coffee fluctuates and you cannot get the same coffee for the same price all the time unless you pay too much for it. Most of the so-called Mocha and Java Coffee is simply masquerading, and is not nearly as good coffee for you as Arbuckles' ARIOSA, the blend of the Brazilian Coffees most suitable to the taste and health of American people. By the looks there is no difference between roasted Java and Brazilian Coffees; many people drink Brazilian but pay for Java. The principal difference is that Arbuckles' costs you less. It is a mistake to believe that a high price guarantees quality. When you buy Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, you get a full one pound package of the leading Coffee of the world. Its sales for 37 years are greater than the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees. By giving better Coffee for the money, we have built up a business exceeding the combined businesses of the four next largest coffee firms in the whole world. If your dealer will not supply the genuine, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.

Jury Failed to Agree.

The jury in the case of the State against Cal Griffin, charged with carrying a pistol, failed to agree in the county court, and a mistrial was entered and the case continued to the next term of court. The jury announced that they were evenly divided—three for acquittal and three for conviction.

This case grew out of the assault on the late I. M. Shepherd at Garrison last spring, and was one of the most interesting cases tried at this term of the county court.

Good Cough Medicine For Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by Mast Bros. & Smith.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Will Build to Rusk.

Definite announcement is made from official sources that the Texas and New Orleans railway will build to Rusk from some point on the Beaumont-Dallas line, probably from Recklaw or an adjacent station. For more than a year rumors have been rife that such would be done to forestall the extension of the state road, but now the announcement comes authoritatively. Within the coming month actual construction will be started. In Houston and elsewhere the railroad company is now forming its corps of roadbuilders and these are to be sent to the place as soon as the last and conclusive survey of a route is made. This is now being done, and is expected to be finished within two weeks or such matter of time. The distance to be built is hardly more than ten miles, but it will afford a direct route to the east for the products of the Rusk penitentiary, instead of via Jacksonville to make connection there with the Texas & New Orleans.—Houston Chronicle.

CATARRH YIELDS

To Healing Air of Homci. Sold Under Guarantee by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Catarrh is the most prevalent disease known to humanity. Probably ninety per cent of the people in this country suffer at one time or another with this common disease.

It is a germ disease and hence can be cured only by some method that will reach and destroy the germs.

This is best found in Hyomei, which may be called the direct method of treating catarrh, as its medication, taken in with the air you breathe, goes directly to every air cell in the nose, throat and lungs; kills all catarrhal germs; heals the irritated mucous membrane and vitalizes the tissues so as to render catarrh no longer possible.

Stripling, Haselwood & Co. give their absolute guarantee to refund the price to any catarrh sufferer that Hyomei fails to benefit. 12

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicine—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests, and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better remedy than any other for curing the most stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of the bladder, this agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and the stomachic troubles, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, besides curing all the above distressing conditions, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the passages or of the stomach, bowels or other organs. Even in its ulcerative stage it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In chronic catarrh of the nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membrane. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

CONDITION IN COREA.

Interesting Events That Transpired in the Texas Conference.

In reporting the proceedings of the Texas conference, now in session in Houston, the Chronicle records the following interesting events:

Rev. Walter Mills, of Nacogdoches preaches at Alhambra hall Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

John W. Stevens of Laurelia, an old pioneer, made a humorous report on the good work done. He said the people wanted him back but he did not want to go. Bishop Candler said with a smile that the remark was almost contempt of court.

The most impressive event of the Friday morning conference session was when, in pointing an application to do work among foreigners, Bishop Candler paused and began to talk about Corea.

He has just returned from that country and was full of its unhappy destiny and its religious future. Corea, said he, "is the broken hearted nation, industrially ruined and religiously helpless. She preferred the suzerainty of China because it was weak, or that of Russia because it was far away, anything but that of Japan, which was both close and strong.

The old Buddhist religion has been crushed out. When the capital was moved to Seoul the Buddhists were not allowed to enter and the only religion the people had was taken away from them.

"A poor and imperfect religion is far better than no faith," he declared, "and Christianity would be cruel indeed if it robbed the heathen nations of their old faith without given them something better. During all the time I was preaching there I never got outside of the gospel of John except once, when I preached on the text 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.'

"The country is starving for Christinity. In nine months there have been 30,000 converts in that country.

Many churches are being built and as compared with the homes of the people they are as good as ours. They cut bamboo cane and plait it together and daub it over with mud, and God meets with them in those humble places. When Iseral lived in tents God also dwelt with them in a tent, but when they lived in ceiled houses of cedar they had to build a temple or God would not come."

The Bishop then described the work of the missionaries and especially that of Mr. Yunn, former minister of state of the country, who became a Christian in America and went out to become a missionary among his own people. If Americans were heathen and Secretary Root were the best officer the country had had for 500 years, and if he were to be converted and were to go to preaching in an old shed, the case would be the same.

This former secretary of state, whose father was secretary of war, has gone out to preach the gospel in a ginseng shed, and it is filled so full by the people who crowd to hear him that there is not room for a cock sparrow. The nation is so eager for Christianity that Southern Methodism alone could bring it to Christ in one decade.

"I saw Yunn's father release the Confucian grip upon his son," the bishop said. "I said, give him to us. We have plenty and you have nothing, and we want him to sit upon the wall and pass down to his people what we put into his hands, and the father said, you can have him. I sent him to America and you sent him back different from all Coreans. He would walk straight. Then, turning to the son and using the affectionate form of the personal pronoun that is used to servants and children, he said: 'Thou, I have given thee to Bishop Candler for this service.'

"Oh, my friend, if you put the leaven in Corea you will catch China on the one hand and Japan on the other. I have never seen a mission field like it. It is no longer the hermit nation. When I shut my eyes I can hear them singing, 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus.'

The Bishop himself and most of his auditors were weeping when he concluded. The eloquent story had come as an interlude in the work of the morning, and encouraged the pastors telling of their labors in unappreciative fields amid gospel-hardened congregations.

SKIN DISEASES

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth and free from blemishes, but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These humors get into the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there is a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. Generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; and in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to be soft and pliant, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a leathery appearance. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black heads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin trouble is Salt Rheum; its favorite point of attack is the scalp, sometimes causing baldness. Poison Oak and Ivy are also disagreeable types of skin disease. The humor producing the trouble lies dormant in the blood through the winter to break out and torment the sufferer with the return of Spring. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and removes the humors so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they soothe the itching caused by skin affections, can never cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of foreign matter and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby permanently curing every form of skin affection. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class druggists.

The Hall Remedy Co., Dallas, Texas. Iowa, Ia., July 9, 1904.

Dear Sirs—I have tried a great many Chill remedies, but have found none equal to Hall's Chill Cure for Malaria. A few years past I had a severe attack of Chills and Fever and took many kinds of Chill cures, but they did no good and I just had to wear them out. They commenced on me last year the same way, but in a worse form. A friend recommended Hall's Chill Cure and I bought it. It broke up the Chills and Fever and stopped them entirely. Whenever I hear of anyone having Chills or Malaria, I tell them to get Hall's Chill Cure. It will make them well if they will take it. I never can get enough for Hall's Chill Cure. Yours truly, MRS. FANN LIGHTNER.

A SAD DEATH.

The Last Words of Mrs. Paula Weaver-Brewer.

Sad was the message that came Monday morning reporting the death of Mrs. Albert Brewer. Mrs. Brewer's illness was not lingering and the sweet and bright life passed away in youthful womanhood Sunday night, Nov. 30, at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Brewer was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Weaver, and was reared in this city. Paula, as she was called by her associates, was loved and esteemed by everyone who knew her. She possessed a frank and cheerful disposition and became a Christian in early youth. As an evident fact of her Christian fortitude, we quote her last words: "Oh, how open and bright is heaven! Heaven is my home. I am fighting my last battle on earth."

Mrs. Brewer died in Houston and the remains were brought here to her old home for interment in the City cemetery, where the last sad rites were paid yesterday afternoon by a large crowd with many beautiful floral tributes.

She leaves a husband, one child, father, mother, seven sisters and two brothers to mourn her death. The town at large and The Sentinel in particular extend their sympathy to them in their sad bereavement.

To stop that pain in the back, that stiffness of the joints and muscles, take Pineules. They are guaranteed. Don't suffer from rheumatism, backache or kidney trouble, when you get 30 days' treatment for $1.00. A single dose at bedtime proves their merit. Get them today. Not Necessary to Delay.
Will Continue Right
Through the Christmas Holidays

Owing to the large number of students in attendance, many coming from so great a distance that they could not afford to go home for the holidays, the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, will continue school right through the holidays, with the exception of Christmas day, for those who do not care to be absent on Christmas week. This arrangement also enables new students to enroll at any day during December, take up the work to the very best advantage, and continue without interruption during the holidays.

Any student who wants to enter at once, but is hindered from getting the ready cash, owing to the temporary financial crisis, may come right on to school, bringing such money as he has at his command, in the form of money order or currency, and make satisfactory arrangements for balance.

Bees Laxative Cough syrup for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough grows in favor daily with young and old. Mothers should keep it on hand for children. It is prompt relief to croup. It is gently laxative, driving the poison and phlegm from the system. It is a simple remedy that gives immediate relief, guaranteed. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. w

Last night some malicious person borrowed Mr. Henry Harris' horse and buggy while he was at work, and during their drive they broke the shaft which cut a gash in the horse's side several inches deep. Mr. Harris is very anxious to find the person who drove the horse.
