Auto-Wagon Undergoes Repairs.

The pet machine belonging to Charlie Shindler otherwise known as an automobile, is again in good repair and a try-out was given yesterday afternoon. The fascinations of whirling along at a rapid rate, drinking in the ozone of this delightful climate, and enjoying the beautiful scenery of excellent East Texas, are entirely too exceptional to miss even a single opportunity, so extra time, over time and under time, was put in, in the effort to get the honk-honk, wild man, in first class, A 1, and spick and span condition.

The troubles with a devil machine are not always "little ones" according to the expressions of folks who know nothing about them, but the fellows who are well acquainted with the intricate, delicate little, fellows do not regard them more than feeding a large family of small cats with a spoon, or arguing politics with an army mule. All it takes to keep the things in in good humor is time and patience and a general refraining from any expressions calculated to arouse or excite the machines. They never balk or refuse to go except when one is far away from home and really in need of navigation. Mr. Shindler recently made a trip out on Orton Hill on some important and really urgent business. The honk-honk ran like a charm and climbed the young mountain like a European guide. Work finished, the return trip was begun. Down hill the puffing, snorting, chug chug wagon sped, until about half way, and then the by-gosh sulked. All the persuasion, mental, moral, physical and the side issues could not overpersuade the thing. Mr. Shindler is accused of quoting scripture by the armful, repeating whole chapters of MeBeth, reciting "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight" and winding up by singing a doxology. We don't vouch for the above—it is only alleged. The first introduction had, was when the auto came down the street at the rate of ten miles about every thirteen and one half hours—hitched to the rear of a livery rig with a twine string. But it's all right now and works as if it needed nothing in the wide world but more gasoline.

J. J. HANNAH UNDER ARREST.

Young Man who Formerly Wrote Insurance Here, Eludes Lutkin Officers But is Caught by Sheriff Spradley—Wanted on Several Charges.

J. J. Hannah, a young man well known throughout this section, and who formerly lived at Lutkin, and also who last year wrote a deal of accident insurance in and around Nacogdoches, was yesterday afternoon arrested by Sheriff A. J. Spradley, and placed in jail, where he now is, awaiting instructions. Sheriff R. V. Watts of Lutkin had been notified to look out for Hannah, and met the H. E. & W. T. train at noon expecting to arrest the man, but in some manner he eluded the officer. Believing that Hannah was on the train, Sheriff Watts telephoned from Lutkin to Sheriff Spradley, giving a description and advising the local officer to arrest and hold the man. Mr. Spradley had no trouble in locating Han-and was reared in East Texas. He is only about five feet, five inches tall and weighs about one hundred and fifteen or twenty pounds. Sheriff Spradley will hold him until instructions are received from the Coleman officials.

Late in the afternoon Mr. Spradley telephoned Sheriff Watts that Hannah is in Nacogdoches jail, and asked what he is wanted for and where. The information given is that Hannah is wanted in different portions of the state and on a number of charges, among them embezzlement, theft, and for shooting at an officer in Fort Worth recently. He is also wanted in Coleman City on a charge, and was out on bond and skipped. It is supposed he was making his way to Louisiana. ## Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer

It is not too late yet to use some on your late cotton. In fact every acre of cotton yet to be planted should be fertilized, thus making a largely increased yield and causing crop to mature early.

Hundreds of good farmers will tell you that it pays to use Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer. They have tried it and know.

Your corn crop yield can be doubled by use of fertilizer just as the stalk bunches for tassel. This is when the stalk needs support to form a good heavy ear.

Try a few acres this way and be convinced. We know that it is for your good.

A MEETING of all the Commercial Clubs of East Texas has been called for the 28 of this month at Pittsburg, Texas, the purpose being to discuss matters relative to this section. This a wise move and has been advocated by The Sentinel, along with some other East Texas papers, for many months. Did the wagons get your trash today?

SOME few of the exchanges are claiming that J. A. Arnold, president of the Commercial Secretaries of Texas, handed Governor Campbell a package containing the essence of real lemon, recently, in answer to the executive's assertions about lobbying etc. Mr. Arnold may have handed the package all right, but if it has no more effect on Governor Tom than the efforts of the Secretaries Association have had, the whole affair is merely a waste of time and breath. The man from Palestine is at the throttle during the present term, Mr. Arnold et al to the contrary notwithstanding. Remember the fair and lend your support.

UNDER the caption, "Does the Creamery Pay," the Paris News of recent day prints a communication from a rural subscriber, in which the writer gives some figures in reference to keeping cows. The correspondent states the results of fourteen cows during the month of March, and shows that he netted, above all expense of feed, care, etc, four dollars from each cow, and in addition had all the butter, milk and cream for home use. This same man is raising three calves and fattening twelve head of hogs with the skimmed milk, and has not taken into account the fertilizer added to his soils. The results are nothing more than could be gotten right here in this section. What one has done, others can do,—if one institution was located here. That is a creamery. A market for the product of the cows. Some of the people are already becoming interested in a creamery for Nacogdoches.

SOME Texas flour mills are offering as high as $1.30 per bushel for wheat, to be delivered not later than July 10, and agree to pay the market price if it is more than those figures. The shortage of the wheat crop is not placed as the cause of the soaring prices, but such is charged to speculators. Not long since there was an old negro, beyond the period of active labor, but who possibly enjoys his declining days as much as the aged millionaire miser, who was convicted of the theft of a piece of bread in one of the large cities. The big thieves who steal bread from everybody are unmolested. A free and independent people we are indeed!

BELIEVES LIFE IS SOUGHT--

S. C. Carter, Laboring Under The Impression That He is Hunted, Disappears From Home—Man Supposed to be Insane.

A man by the name of S. C. Carter, and who for several months made his home at J. M. Avery's, disappeared from that place a few days ago, and so far no trace of his whereabouts has been found. The man is thought by many to be insane, as on a number of occasions he has acted rather queer and talked in a demented way. Carter formerly lived in Oklahoma, where he came from here, is about forty years of age, seemingly very intelligent, aside from his hobby, and is nice looking and reasonably well dressed. Some four or five weeks ago he made a visit to the court house for the purpose of seeing an officer. To him Carter complained that he was being followed by two men who seek his life, and he asked for protection. The officer questioned him closely and he finally told him the story. A year or more ago while in Oklahoma a crime was alleged to have been committed, and people pointed to him as the guilty. He fled through fear of violence, and a few days later, he met two men on a train who attempted to arrest him. They had no papers and the conductor refused to let them take Carter with them. Later, the man claimed these same parties caught him and carried him back to Oklahoma, and one night put him out between two old houses where choloform was applied. When he awoke he noticed that the grass around his head was dead, and realizing what had been done, slipping away from the place during the following night, and traveling only between suns, he managed to elude a second capture and came to Texas. Way was finally made to East Texas, and work was secured near this city at Mr. Avery's. Carter claimed to the officers that these two men had again located him and he feared they would kill him. He stated that he had seen both of them here, and one was close enough to be easily recognized, and had followed him from place to place. The officer advised him to go back to work and if the two men were again seen to report the matter. A second trip was made and the same story told the officials. It having been clear to them before however, that Carter was in a demented condition, no attention was paid the affair other than to pacify the insane man. Mr. Avery was spoken to and stated that he seemed wrong on that particular subject, but along other lines was a bright fellow, absolutely harmless and one of the hardest and best workers he ever saw. A splendid man-about the farm and seemingly a very nice, quiet fellow, caused Mr. Avery to continue to keep him, and which he expected to do, giving him a comfortable home and paying him excellent farm wages. A few nights ago a neighbor went to Mr. Avery's and hailed at the gate. The gentleman went out to see who it was and when he returned, Carter was gone from the room, and since no trace whatever of him has been found. He is said to have run through the back door when the visitors hailed, but going where or even in what direction is not known. This latter act has led to the opinion that he is entirely demented on this question of being hunted. Whether or not the story concerning the affair in Oklahoma, is true, is a matter of speculation.

Prisoners Carried to Pen.

Walter Bybee, Jim Horn and Chestnut Williams were today conveyed to the State penitentiary at Rus. An agent for the prison wired the Sheriff's Department this morning to have the prisoners at the train and he would receive them and carry them on. Bybee goes to serve a term of four years for horse theft. Jim Horn, a negro, was sentenced for five years for burglary, and Chestnut Williams is the negro recently convicted and given a life sentence for wife murder.

MRS. HOOD PASSES AWAY.

Young Woman Dies Sunday Morning About 3:30 O'clock—Buried That Afternoon.

Mrs. Jehu L. Hood, after a weeks illness, died Sunday morning about three thirty o'clock, at their home on Hospital street. Mrs. Hood was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Miller of this city, and had only been married about eighteen months. She was reared in Wilmer and Pine Bluff, Arkansas, and Beeville, Texas, the latter place and at San Antonio being where she was educated. She is survived by a husband, parents and two sisters, one sixteen years of age and one seven. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at five o'clock, in the City Cemetery, and was one of the largest attended in Nacogdoches. Revs. J. W. Mills and J. H. Davies conducted the funeral services at the grave, the mound marking the resting place of the remains being literally covered with roses and other flowers. Mrs. Hood was a young woman, with a host of friends and acquaintances, and one who drank in deeply the beauties of living; a most lovable character whose mission seemed to scatter sunshine. The many friends,—both young and old,—extend heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband, parents and sisters.

Caught Wrong Negroes.

Sheriff A. J. Spradley returned this morning from Keechi, La., where he went yesterday after the negroes, Verdie Millard and R. D. White, without the escaped pair. Mr. Spradley stated the constable there had the negroes, one a copper colored and the other an old man of about fifty years, chained together and seemingly tickled as a boy with red tick boots. The Louisiana officer was advised that they were not the right negroes and came no ways near the description sent out from this city. Of course the department here is disappointed in the mistake and not getting the runaways, and considerable criticism is made of the officers who arrested the suspects, knowing that they were not the convicts wanted here. The description sent from here is so thorough that it looks incredible that any officer would pick up a decrepit old negro and a young boy on the cards describing the ones wanted here, so explicitly. Before leaving for Keechi yesterday, Sheriff Spradley received a telegram from an officer at Orange stating that a negro answered the description of Verdie Millard was arrested there, but on account of the Louisiana proposition no answer to the message was given. This latter will be taken up today, as it is possible that the Orange man is correct.

A Sunday Wedding.

S.S.S. CURE'S BLOOD POISON

Removing the symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these outward manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all the hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases.

It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence, because its first symptom is usually a little sore or pimple so insignificant that it does not excite suspicion. But the insidious poison is at work on the blood and in a short while the patient finds he is more or less affected from head to foot.

No time should be lost in ridding the blood of this destructive poison, and in no disease is it more important to have the proper remedy. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system have brought misery and disappointment to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, usually of mineral nature, and when all symptoms had disappeared and the treatment was left off, found the virus had only been shut up in the system awaiting a favorable opportunity to return, with every symptom intensified.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes down into the blood and removes every particle of the poison, makes the circulation pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, all of which are healing and cleansing in their nature. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. will also drive out any lingering remains of mineral poison that may be in the blood from the former treatment. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

TOO INCONSIDERATE.

That people are not considerate enough of other people, neighbors, friends, etc., is one of the plainest things in this every day turmoil and skirmish for a livelihood. It is a naked truth, let it be said with regrets, that is causing many to fall by the wayside; to falter; to give up the battle. Along this line, Bert Walker, a contributor to the Dalhart Texan, preaches a sermonette worthy of reading and seriously considering:

My friend, do you know that you and I fall down in particular places as we wander down the pathway? We fail to pat enough fellows on the back and say, "good boy; you did well. Keep up your lick and I will stay with you." It would not take long to do it and it would scatter a lot of encouragement and sunshine. There are lots of fellows who are getting along in life with quite a struggle on their hands. They meet with discouraging words knocks from some of their neighbors. It doesn't take much to make a man who is carrying a heavy cross, give up the battle. But a kind word now and then stiffens the backbone and strengthens the muscle. It fills a worried mind with the hope that the end of the rough road may not be so far away after all.

When a poor devil is almost down and out it helps a whole lot to feel a friendly hand on the shoulder and hear a cheerful word whispered. Many a fellow has picked up and won out in the fight because of it. When you are sitting in the shade and things are coming your way, it is easy enough to tell about how much smarter you are than your neighbor. When you have to struggle along in the hot dust with a big load, it is altogether different. Another thing, don't forget—the man in the dust may sometime reach the shady side. He can help you then.

Our Mineral Waters

It is up to Nacogdoches to blossom forth as a health resort. A mineral well has been discovered, has no superior anywhere for its purity and health promoting qualities. Of course, it has no superior; it was found in Texas.—Houston County Herald.

A mineral water of efficacy in healing the affliction of humanity has been discovered in the city of Nacogdoches and the enterprising citizens of that place are placing it before the world by the liberal use of printers ink. It is easy to fore-see what the result will be—Nacogdoches as a famous health resort.—Garrison Gleaner.

Nacogdoches has her wonderful "Aqua Vitae" and Center her marvelous China berries, but Superior San Augustine still pins her faith to her pure ozone, which keeps both man and beast in such splendid condition that health waters and medicinal berries are not needed.—San Augustine Tribune.

Nacogdoches has a mineral well and a park and is now endeavoring to get into prominence via the health resort route. Excursion rates have been secured on the railroads entering that city for next Tuesday and the day set apart for the big opening of the historic old town as a full fledged health and pleasure resort. The effort is a commendable one and the Tribune trusts will prove successful, permanent and prosperous.—Lufkin Tribune.

Nacogdoches has discovered a mineral spring and is as busy advertising its virtues as if there were no other business interest in the city. Just await developments, Miss Timpson, and see what printer's ink and hustle might do for your mineral spring.—Timpson Times.

Safeguard of Health Free

The army and the navy are the safeguards of the nation, but the individual body also requires its safeguard. By twenty years' use in American homes of every shade and degree of wealth and intelligence, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been acclaimed "The Nation's Safeguard of Health."

No remedy but a laxative could win this laurel, for the stomach and the bowels are the basis of all health, and Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is for the stomach and bowels. Parents are given it to their children today who were given it by their parents years ago. It is not only a wonderful cure in constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, sour stomach, heartburn, flatulency, torpid liver and such complaints, but it contains wonderful tonic properties that build up the muscles of the stomach and intestines so that they again work normally and naturally. It is especially adapted to the uses of women, children, old people and all others who need a gentle laxative and who cannot stand violent salts and cathartic pills. This has made it the family laxative and it can be obtained of any druggist at 50 cents or $1 a bottle, with the guarantee that if you are a stranger to it and would rather try it free before buying, send your name to the doctor and a free test bottle will be sent to your home. In this way tens of thousands of people are learning to use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Louis Edwards, of Potomac, Md., wrote the doctor as follows: "I believe in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I will never use any other medicine for stomach troubles but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The sample has convinced me of its merits." Now you use it, either in the free trial or the regular 50 cents or $1 bottle, and you will soon share Mr. Edwards' opinion.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service.

Ending of a Romance.
J. W. Lockhart and Miss Katherine Burnett, neither of which are residents of this county were married Thursday afternoon, at the court house, Judge F. P. Marshall officiating. The story leaked out that the young lady had been at work in Dallas for some time, and the groom-to-be made a trip to the North Texas city the first of the week to see her. The father of the pretty girl found out about the trip and having some suspicious that a wedding was being planned, also went to Dallas. The couple possibly thinking they could not elude the parent there, came to this city.—Mr. Burnett however was on the train and landed here about the same time. The match was a foregone conclusion, so all three repaired to the court house and a license was applied for. The young man gave his age at 22 but looked younger, while the bride-to-be acknowledged that she was only sixteen. The papers were about to be canceled when the parent told the clerk to let them be issued. Judge Marshall was called on in his office and the ceremony performed at once, the young couple and parent going on their way.

Negro Boy Dies at Mayo.
The report comes from Mayo of a negro boy's death there a few days ago, and which may lead to an investigation by the sheriff's department. A crowd of negro boys, it is said, was playing, kicking each and wrestling, when one of the smaller ones suffered a rather severe kick from a much larger one. The boy after a few days died, and on examination some doubt as to the cause of the demise existed. Thinking probably that the kick several days previous may have had something to do with it, an investigation will likely be made.

NO SERIOUS INJURIES.
All Parties Who were Hurt in The Head-On Collision, Have Entirely Recovered—Track Cleared Last Night at 9:30—Three Men Brought Here.

No fatalities resulted from the collision of the passenger and freight trains on the T & N. O. yesterday afternoon at Mahl, as was feared. The young man, Guy Barren, news butch, who was rendered unconscious by the jar, came to about six o'clock, and was able to continue his journey last night to his home in Dallas. The other parties were only slightly hurt, and none to the extent that travel is impossible. Three of the men were brought in here last night, two of them however was Nacogdoches bound anyway, and the third expressed his gratification at having the privilege of stopping in such a splendid little city. Several citizens of this city were passengers on the train, but none were hurt beyond a shake-up. The south-bound came in here last night at ten o'clock, while the north bound proceeded on its journey Dallasward. The wreck train and a large crew of workmen came to Mahl from Jacksonville and by 9:30 o'clock the track was clear and again ready for traffic.

from their engines when they realized a collision could not be avoided, and thus escaped uninjured. The engines were badly damaged and the baggage car considerably crushed and otherwise splintered, but none of the other cars were damaged worthy of mention. Guy Barren, the news boy who was hurt, is a brother-in-law of H. F. Marr of this city. The physician tells a rather amusing incident in connection with the smashup. Two ladies were sitting in the rear coach, facing each other, and of course, talking. A couple of children with them noticed the commotion among the men, and came running to her mother trying to explain that something had happened. The mother endeavored to quiet the child, at the same time occupying a very conspicuous place in holding an animated conversation with the companion. After the crash had happened several minutes, the two ladies were informed that they were in a wreck. The fact that a considerable jolt had been given them, and that their train was at a complete standstill, had not been discovered. The conversation must have been interesting indeed. In the meantime, half of the men on the train were skirmishing around, complaining and talking as if they were half killed.

COMPLETION NEAR AT HAND.
Nacogdoches Sanitarium Will Be Best Appointed and Most Modern in This Section— Formal Opening Date Not Known.

The Nacogdoches Sanitarium is nearing completion, and within another week will be placed at the services of the people of this city and the public in general. This announcement was made yesterday afternoon, by a member of the Sanitarium Company, while showing some parties through the building. Visitors to the place are of daily occurrence, but the object of some of the gentlemen's trip yesterday was to become well acquainted with the institution, as far as possible, that such may be explained when the people of Nacogdoches are approached. It will be remembered that a committee was appointed recently to call on the citizens of Nacogdoches to aid in re-furnishing the Sanitarium. The chairman of that committee was the gentleman to which reference was made above and who has been, and at present is, showing a deal of interest in the institution. The physicians who are financially interested in the Sanitarium, have spent a big lot of money in doing what has been done, and feel—rightly too—that it is for the benefit of the entire town as well as the directly interested. The feeling is concurred in by a majority of the citizenship. To describe the institution as it should be, and give it the proper space, will require more time than is available at present, but later a detailed account will be given, and for the good of the general public. But back to the point. The Sanitarium must be re-furnished throughout. It is going to be re-furnished throughout, from basement to attic, and by the physicians—if the people of this city do not cooperate. This latter is the proposition. Sixty dollars per room, for ten rooms, is what is required, including the two wards. The committee will visit the citizens within the next few days concerning the matter. In the meantime the sound of the hammers and the buzz of the saws continues, and before lots of the good people of Nacogdoches realize the fact, they will have in their midst, the best appointed and most modern Sanitarium in the whole Southwest. The formal opening cannot yet be stated, but will be just as soon as the finishing touches can be applied, and for which due announcement will be made.

Two Horseless Carriages.
Two of the county officials have revolutionized the transportation traffic since their installation into their respective places. This revolution has been caused by the said gentlemen—becoming owners of the new horseless carriages, modern, handy, light running and practically inexpensive, according to their version. The two machines arrived several days ago, and therefore have already been in use, but not enough to wear the new nor the novelty off. To cap it all, the machines are rubber tired, nickel plated, automatic, ball bearing, good to look at, better to ride on, and as speedy as they can operate them. The said gentlemen, each live about three quarters of a mile from the elegant county court house, so the ting-i-tings (not honk honks) come in pretty handy in the daily travels and the side trips some times indulged in. The lucky owners of the new carriages are as proud of them as is possible for office holders to be, and when they stride the horseless, gasolineless, coal oilless, speed makers, there's moving around among the people to get out of the way. Whether Mr. Seale will bring the new bicycle into play in carrying out the duties of the District court, and whether or not Judge Marshall will call on his shining two wheel, pedal propeller, to assist in managing the Commissioners court, cannot be stated with any degree of accuracy, by suffice to say, the bikes are attractive looking enough to do either or both.

Three Hurt in Wreck.
Sheriff A. J. Spradley stated this morning that the passenger train wreck at Maytown, was a pretty serious one, and that the party who was stealing a ride is badly hurt. It seemed that he was riding between the engine and baggage car, the derailment throwing him into the air and landing him hard against the trucks of the tender which had gone wild. One side of his face is jellied from the blow, besides a number of other bruises. A negro and another white man, the latter enroute to his home in Louisiana, were considerably hurt too.

The Implement Man

One of the physicians who went to the scene of the smashup, was seen this morning and asked concerning it. He stated that the crash occurred about one mile this side of Mahl and on a nearly level piece of track. The passenger had almost come to a complete standstill, and the emergency brakes had been applied to the freight, but it was going down grade and its own momentum carried it into the oncoming passenger. But for the fact that neither was running fast, the wreck would have been a big one and no doubt a very serious one. The injuries to the men were caused by the jar, though ladies in the rear coach hardly felt it. The engineer and fireman of both trains jumped

GOOD ROADS OPINION.

People who have occasion to travel over it, pronounce the good road in very fine shape and are well pleased with the highway. Good roads always pay and good roads will come as near building Nacogdoches to a city as any other one thing.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Nacogdoches was one of the very first counties in Texas to secure a mile of public road constructed under the supervision of the Federal Government. Troupe secured two half mile sections a little later. These roads are a very great improvement over the roads our people have been accustomed to. With just a little attention from time to time they promise not only to remain the best roads, but to improve with age.—Troupe Banner.

We congratulate our neighbors upon having shown what may be done for the improvement of public roads. It is doubtful if there is another state in this Union that has greater need of better roads than Texas. But we have serious doubt of the adaptability of the plan of the Government experts to our requirements.

We are told on good authority that the one mile mentioned by the Sentinel, cost Nacogdoches county something over $800. At that rate 100 miles would cost $80,000, and there is not in all probability a county in East Texas but what needs that much good road, and at such heavy cost it puts good roads beyond our reach.

We think Cherokee county has come nearer solving the good roads problem. Last winter our Commissioner's Court decided to put the county convicts on the public road work instead of establishing a poor farm for their care. Since that time 12 miles of roads leading into Rusk have been completed which will, we believe, compare favorably with the roads built by the Government experts, while the total cost was only $650.

Those convicts are now working on roads leading into Jacksonville and have completed six miles at about the same rate per mile, namely, $55. In other words we have secured eighteen miles of road for approximately $200 more than the Government expert built one mile for.

The convicts will continue working roads leading into Jacksonville until twelve or fifteen miles have been completed and will then be moved to Alto district, and this method will be followed up until Cherokee county has a perfect system of public roads.

We believe this method is destined to solve the good roads problem, and do it without either Government aid or bond issues, for it proves conclusively that the regular road and bridge fund provides ample means for carrying on the work.—Rust Press Journal.

ANYTHING that is worth while is worth exerting the very best for. That's the secret of tomorrow's celebration.

The people in the North and East portions of the city have been doing some powerful nice and appreciated work the past two weeks. Yards and lots and streets have been cleaned, weeds cut and sidewalks built. The first kinds of improvements have been going on in ever part of the city, however, and the latter kind ought to have found lodgement also.

"NACODOCHES is undoubtedly the prettiest little city in Texas, and would be still more attractive if there were more sidewalks and some nice street crossings," said a visitor who was spending a Sunday here. Correct as the gentleman may have been, he didn't know just how much of such improving had been done the past few months. All together we push for Nacogdoches.

THE Senate has accepted an invitation to attend the meeting of East and Northeast Texas Commercial Secretaries which meets at Pittsburg the latter part of this month, and in open defiance of Governor Tom Campbell and his little sermon on junketing trips, indulged in by the law-making body. It looks rather bad that the solons of the great state of Texas will continue to draw the peoples money for looking after their interests, and at the same time spend so much time in cashing around to different portions and sections, regardless of the duties they were elected to fulfil. No doubt the Legislature would have jumped at the invitation to come to Nacogdoches next Tuesday,—but the citizens of this county would prefer the business at Austin wound up,—and then for the five dollars per day fellows to go home. Yesterday and today were clean up days,—have you heeded?

OPENING OF AQUA VITAE PARK ATTRACTS CROWDS

Despite the Downpour of Rain Monday Night and the Showers Tuesday Morning, Several Thousand People Assist in Nacogdoches' Debut as a Health Resort.

MANY PROMINENT RAIL ROAD OFFICIALS SPEND DAY HERE

Representatives of the Harriman System Guests of the City—They Enjoy the Virtues of the Wonderful Mineral Waters and the Beautiful Scenery—Day's Program Interesting—Splendid Dinner.

A crowd variously estimated at from thirty-five hundred to five thousand people, despite the down pour of Monday night, and the ugliness of the weather yesterday morning, attended the formal opening of the Aqua Vitae Park, and which marked the debut of Nacogdoches as a health and pleasure resort. The faces of the citizens of this city, and especially the management of the Park and the Committees who had labored so earnestly and faithfully, wore anything but the pleasing smile Tuesday, when the day broke forth cloudy and threatening, with an occasional sprinkle of rain, preceded by a night of thunder, lightning and downpour. Notwithstanding the mud and other weather inconveniences, hundreds of folks from near and far, began to arrive early, and by ten o'clock the streets were fairly thronged. The special train from Jacksonville arrived about that hour also bringing in several hundred more and at noon when the exercises began at the grounds, fully three thousand were in attendance. The regular trains on both the H. E. & W. T. and the T. and N. O. added hundreds to the masses, while people from the surrounding country continued to come in until long after the noon hour. The entire crowd totaled in the neighborhood of four or five thousand. The cloudiness and threatening condition of the atmosphere gave way to bright sunshine about the noon hour, and the depressed feelings of the crowd were succeeded by a more joyous spirit. The grounds were not in very bad way even before noon, and after a few hours of sun, were fairly good, the folks forgot such minor matters and entered into the occasion with all the zeal possible.

ELKS BAND ENTERTAINS

At nine thirty o'clock the Elks Band appeared on the streets, in full uniform, marching to the depot to welcome the special train. From there the music makers went to the Park, rendering a number of selections, returning to the city for the concert on the square. At noon they again went to the grounds where they remained during the day until the ball game at the other park took place. During the intermissions between the features of the program, the boys entertained, dealing out some exceptionally sweet music and winning for themselves a deluge of compliments for this delightful part. At the ball game the band also entertained with a number of pieces, and which served as a splendid introductory to the spirited exhibition of the great National sport.

WELCOME AND DEDICATORY ADDRESSES.

Hon. S. W. Blount, acting in behalf of the mayor of the city and her people in general, made the welcome address. Short and to the point, the talk was a most interesting and entertaining one, heralding the virtues of wonderful East Texas; Nacogdoches, the metropolis of the most favored section in the world; the peerless health giving mineral waters; in conclusion paying tribute to the good folks of our country, the beautiful women of this magnificent little city and the ambitious young manhood, for whom there exist so many excellent opportunities. Following, Judge James I. Perkins of Rusk delivered the dedicatory address, lasting about an hour and which might be summed up as the most optimistic and wholly enthusing talk that has been heard for many a day. Several thousand people gathered around the pavillion to enjoy the talk, and frequently the speaker was interrupted by applause. Judge Perkins' address dealt with the past, present and future of our section, including a brief history of this particular county, showing the progress made during the past decade, picturing the present in a highly pleasing manner, and painting a word view of the future that brought forth repeated cheering. The address was a distinct feature of the days program, and an enjoyable one. To the Aqua Vitae waters he frequently referred, predicting for them a world-recognized, and Nacogdoches as a splendid health and pleasure resort in the near future.

A MAGNIFICENT SPREAD.

At one thirty o'clock dinner was announced, and such a magnificent spread has seldom been prepared. The ladies of the city and the good people of the surrounding country seemed to have done their utmost in getting ready, both in quality and quantity. A number of tables had been arranged and committees had charge, while great pots of coffee were handy, and the adjacent spring of cool, pure water, furnished a milder liquid for those so inclined. The edibles were too numerous in variety to attempt a detailed account, but dinner was on hand in profusion, and the very choicest that the most skilled in the culinary art could possibly arrange. Special tables were arranged for the Band Boys and the railroad officials,

BLUES TAKE INITIAL GAME OF THE SEASON.

Nacogdoches Defeats the "Invincibles" From Jacksonville. In a Brilliant Nine Inning Battle, Witnessed by Record Crowd—Excellent Score of 1 to 0.

In one of the most interesting, hardest fought games, replete with brilliant plays, and equally as full of nerve racking situations, that was ever pulled off in East Texas, the Nacogdoches "Blues" yesterday afternoon defeated the Jacksonville "Invincibles" in the initial contest of the season, by the remarkably pleasing score of one to naught. The battle was spirited from the very beginning, and throughout there was not a dull moment, excitement being at a high pitch, evidenced by the pandemonium that reigned at close intervals in the grand stand, bleachers and along the lines. The attendance broke all former records, there being something between fifteen hundred and two thousand people who enjoyed the game on the inside of the park grounds and at least two hundred and fifty who occupied grandstand seats in the tops of the surrounding trees and on the houses. The crowd began to rush in fully an hour before the contest was scheduled to take place, and when the game was called, the grand stand and bleachers were packed beyond further occupancy, and standing room in the field was at a premium. The Jacksonville Rootorial Association was represented well, more than three hundred from that city being on hand to encourage their favorites. Nacogdoches was there en masse, doing the boosting act as of yore, and aiding the home boys in winning a victory more pleasing than on most any other occasion. Promptly at fifteen minutes past four o'clock, Umpire, Neal Ingraham announced the batteries and the "spectacular fire works" began, the visitors to the bat. Harry Smith, a recruit from near abouts, made his first appearance on the local diamond, and proved equal to the situation in every respect and became a favorite with the fans from the first delivery. He is probably the only twirler that ever occupied the box, who could get in such deep holes and pull out with comparative ease. John Rusche, as receiver, played the game as in days gone by, not losing a single ball nor allowing a solitary costly error. J. D. Sanders on the first, had nothing but a base man's mit, but it seemed as if the balls were going in a barrel, and none of them could get by. Urlic Rusche, endeared himself still more with the fans with his good work on second and made one of the prettiest doubles imaginable, pulling in a hot liner and killing a runner on his own plate. Ross Crawford occupied the responsible position of third bag, corraling some awful nice ones, and cutting off runners galore from reaching even the first bag. Earnest Stegall, the crack short stop, kept up his reputation, raised it a few notches and did stick work that brought forth applause in profusion. "Little Rob" Robson covered the left field to perfection and got all the chances that came in that direction. In the center Herb Lewis, the old time, "Home Run Heb," as he is familiarly known among the fans did the finest work ever, and wouldn't allow even one ball to get in the neighborhood of the big oak. Dave Eason did the proper work in the right field and handled the batting end with favor. The lineup was an exceptionally good one, about the same as last season, and the playing was just as fine as could be expected. Field work was especially good and errors were an exception. The Jacksonville bunch were ball-tossers too, and not until the last half of the ninth, with two men to the bat, and two strikes on the third one, was a score made, and that one being attached by a very narrow margin.

The "Invincibles" are expert players and without doubt, one of the fastest aggregations in East Texas. The battery was good and the field work up to the standard in every particular. The two teams were as evenly matched as could have been, and it was not until the very last moment that either could be picked as a winner. Neither team had had a great deal of practice, but the work came up to the very best and league teams could not have excelled it. The crowd was good natured all through, and each bunch of enthusiasts cheered at every opportunity. A number of individual plays on both sides were of the rather spectacular kind and at critical periods, relieving the awful nerve racking strain, and saving the day, as it was frequently expressed. Roberts, in left field for the visitors, made a remarkable catch, going against a barn and pulling down a long fly, saving his team from an earlier defeat. The lineup of the two teams was as follows:

Blues	Invincibles
J. Rusche, c	J. Francis
H. Smith, p	F. Fuller
J. D. Sanders, 1b	H. Chessher
U. Rusche, 2b	S. Taylor
R. Crawford, 3b	C. Olliver
E. Stegall, ss	M. Johns
D. Eason, rf	J. Roberts
H. Lewis, cf	H. Byrd
R. Robson, lf	C. Aber

Summary: Hits, off Smith, 4; off Fuller 4. Base on balls, off Smith 3; off Fuller 3. Strikeouts, Smith 12; Fuller 9. Errors, Nacogdoches 2; Jacksonville 4. Batteries, Nacogdoches, Rusche and Smith; Jacksonville, Francis and Fuller. Umpire, Neal Ingraham; time, one hour and forty minutes; attendance, 1700.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

UNTIL the citizens of Nacogdoches get together, become enthused with the necessity of work, pay their dues promptly, support and maintain a commercial club, and have a paid secretary to look after affairs, the folks of this city and section need not expect any marvelous changes in business of the Redlands city. —Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Neighbor, your proposition is true, not alone with respect to your city, but also with respect to any other city or town in Texas. There is a current saying that what is everybody's business is nobody's business. Ft. Worth has a fund of $16,000 per year, and Wichita Falls $10,000 per year with which to look after their respective interests and to pay secretaries and buy advertising. Stamford pays the secretary of her Commercial Club $200 per month and allows him $65 per month for a stenographer. Where can the world find three more progressive towns? Free things in church, in lodges or in commercial club activity are not worth much. —Troupe Banner.

Negro's Two Victims.

Mose Hill, a Creole negro, and a character well known in the Timpson section, and some portions of this country, this morning shot and killed one deputy sheriff and wounded a second one near Marshall, Texas. This information came in the nature of a telephone message to Sheriff A. J. Spradley from the Sheriff of Harrison county, who further stated that the murderer was headed this way. It is understood that the two deputy sheriffs went out to arrest the negro when he opened fire, killing the one and maybe, mortally wounding the other. The names of the officers were not learned, neither was the charge on which the negro is wanted. Mose Hill is known among his race as Creole Mose, and is a negro with a reputation bordering on the wild and wooley desperado kind. Very little is known of him in this particular section, though he is remembered by some of the negroes here. He worked for Maloney Brothers at Timpson for some time, and is thought to be making his way to that place now. Sheriff Spradley was notified and requested to look out for the negro. A reward of one hundred dollars is offered for his capture, the description being about as follows: Brown skin, stubby mustache, thirty five years old, about five feet, nine inches tall and weighs one hundred and sixty pounds.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering is avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would it be believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The Favorite Prescription has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless. Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended. A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

After filling a limited number of concert engagements Mr. Rice will sail for Europe in June 1909 to remain indefinitely.

U. S. Senator "Bob" Taylor of Tennessee says of him "Leon Rice is one of the sweetest singers I have ever heard. ### FIXED BLAME FOR WRECK.

Freight Crew on Texas and New Orleans Charged With an Error. Five Citizens Acted as Board of Inquiry.

Beaumont Enterprise. A public hearing was held here yesterday afternoon to pass upon the responsibility for the head-on collision which occurred on the Dallas branch of the Texas & New Orleans railroad on Wednesday, April 21. At the request of the management of the railroad five well known citizens consented to serve as a board of inquiry and heard the evidence, the rules of the company governing the operation of trains and all the facts and circumstances bearing on the accident, after which the board prepared the following which was given out by the railroad company:

"To the Public: "In response to the request of the management of the Texas and New Orleans railroad company that we give our opinion as to where the responsibility lies for the head-on collision between trains No. 161 and No. 156 near Mahl, Texas, on April 21, 1909. We desire to say, after hearing the testimony before the investigating committee and hearing the rules of the railroad company read, are of the opinion that the responsibility for the accident lies with the crew of freight train No. 161.

"While the above is our conclusion we have no hesitancy in saying that we are deeply impressed with the ability and honesty of the gentlemen censured and would recommend their retention in the employment of the company.

"D. P. Wheat,
"P. A. Heisig,
"J. F. Keith,
"Emmett A. Fletcher,
"R. A. M'Lauchlan, Board of Inquiry."

The accident occurred at 2:09 p. m. on Wednesday about one-half mile east of Mahl. It was caused by freight train No. 161 going on short time against passenger train No. 156, leaving Banita Junction without sufficient time to make Mahl and colliding head-on with the passenger train. There were seven passengers slightly injured, none seriously. Conductor J. L. O'Fiel and Engineer J. S. Rayburn were in charge of the freight train and Conductor W. W. Green and Engineer Will Gerald in charge of the passenger train. The damage to the rolling stock was about $1,600. In fixing the blame on the crew of No 161 the board of course meant the engineer and conductor and not all the crew.

There were present at the hearing in the Texas and New Orleans freight depot Superintendent A. S. Johnson, Assistant Superintendent T. B. Irvin, Trainmaster D. T. Watcher, Foreman J. L. Koerber of the roundhouse, C. A. Tanheiser, resident engineer and M. C. Sullivan.

San Jacinto Day.

April 21, 1836, seventy-three years ago. Texas threw off the oppressive yoke from Mexico and became a free and independent nation. Every man and woman in the state, and every child over the age of ten or twelve years is acquainted with the history of that period and of the terrible conflict through which the pioneers of Texas went, to accomplish freedom. Nacogdoches occupies a conspicuous place with reference to the history of the Lone Star state, and right about this period an incident occurred here, known in pages as "The Runaways."

The old timers are well acquainted with it, and to the younger folks who are not so well posted, we advise a conversation with some of them regarding such. Yesterday was a holiday in Texas. The schools were not in session, banks were closed, and in many places stores, other institutions and the postoffice did no business.

BODY OF MAN FOUND.

Telephone Message Received by County Attorney A. T. Russell Tells of Gruesome Discovery—Dr. Wilson to Investigate.

County Attorney Angus T. Russell was advised by telephone late yesterday afternoon of the finding of a man's body near Douglass. From all appearances the party had been dead several days, as the vultures were around the spot. The telephone message did not give further information, other than the body was so badly decomposed that it could not then be stated whether the dead was a white man or negro. Justice of the Peace T. C. Spencer was in the city at the time the news came and was notified, but on account of court matters could not go to the scene. Dr. Wilson was then telephoned to, and promised to go to the place and investigate last night. The Sentinel office endeavored to get Dr. Wilson this morning by phone and find out particulars, but that gentleman was enroute here, and after his arrival has not been located. There is some speculation as to the cause of the death of the party, and the officers expect to institute a thorough investigation.

DR. WILSON'S STATEMENT.

Dr. Wilson was seen about 11:30 o'clock and stated as follows: "The body is that of a negro, and must have been dead at least two months. There is no sign where any vultures have been about the body. The negro was well dressed, derby hat, and a gold watch and chain, and a silver dollar was found. The body is badly decomposed." Sheriff Spradley stated that he would look into the matter at once.

CIGAR TOBACCO OF EAST TEXAS

Some Conclusions Regarding This Valuable Crop
 Drawn By a Staff Writer of the Beaumont Enterprise
 ||—Cost of Production and the Profits Derived.

The industry of growing cigar tobacco in East Texas, which has its headquarters in Palestine, Nacogdoches, San Augustine and Grange, although it is probable that it may yet be found highly profitable in other sections, has grown to proportions that are little known to those who have not followed it closely in the past few years, and now has assumed a pace that will bring it to the front as one of the leading industries of East Texas in a few years, if the farmers can be found who will give time and attention to the cultivation of the crop.

The market for this Texas-grown weed is now assured, and there are now buyers in the field who are equipped with the necessary facilities for properly caring for the crop and for handling the output in large quantities. The preparation of tobacco after the harvest is a distinct industry and one that may be successfully followed by one of experience, so that farmers are urged against attempting to ferment and pack their own tobacco, for, while they may be successful and thus realize a much greater price per pound than for raw leaf, the chances are that they will make a failure and thus spoil the tobacco entirely for the market. It is therefore considered by the government experts that it is better for the farmers to sell their tobacco direct from their drying houses for 15 cents a pound than to undertake to ferment it, at least until such a time as they shall become more familiar with it.

There are two kinds of cigar leaf tobacco grown here, namely, wrapper tobacco from Sumatra seed, and filler tobacco from Cuban seed. The wrapper tobacco is grown under a specially constructed shade, while the filler tobacco is grown in the open field. The seeds are sown in the middle part of February, in a cold-frame bed, which has previously been burned and fertilized. After sowing, the seeds are covered with cheese cloth, as a protection against cold weather and insects. The seeds germinate in from ten to twenty days, and when they attain a height of about four inches, which will take about eight weeks, they are transplanted to the field.

The fields are flat broken in February, when the stable manure is applied and harrowed in. Early in March the field is bedded up in three-foot rows, the cotton seed meal and other special fertilizers sown in the drill and a list thrown back for planting.

The work of transplanting is begun early in April, when the plants are set 12 inches apart in the drill.

Cultivations is commenced as soon as the plants have taken root, and is continued once a week, and after every rain, until the plants are topped, which is done when the flower head appears, or about seven weeks after transplanting. In about ten days after topping the plants are ready for harvesting. In harvesting filler tobacco the whole stalk is cut, and from ten to twelve stalks spread on a lath. The laths are then hung in the barn about six inches apart, on tiers, which are placed four feet apart.

In about six weeks after harvesting the tobacco is cured and ready for stripping. The leaves are stripped off the stalk and tied into "hands," about thirty leaves to the "hand." The "hands" are then packed in boxes and delivered to the buyer's packing house, where it undergoes the fermentation process.

Wrapper tobacco is planted and cultivated in the same way as the filler tobacco, but is harvested in a different way. The leaves are picked from the stalk in the shade fields and carried in baskets on the barns, where they are hung on strings, which are tied to sticks. These sticks hold about forty leaves and are hung four inches apart.

The cost of growing filler tobacco is about $40 per acre. The yield averages 600 pounds per acre, and it is sold for 15 to 17 cents per pound.

The cost of growing wrapper tobacco under shade is considerably higher. The initial cost of erecting the shade, and the cost of erecting barns is about $140 per acre. The shade is good for six years, however, and the barns for a considerably longer time. The cost of cultivating is about $100 per acre. The yield averages 1000 pounds per acre, and the tobacco is sold for from 40 to 50 cents per pound.

The amount of fertilizer used per acre is as follows:

Filler tobacco—1000 pounds cotton seed meal, 200 pounds acid phosphate, 10 tons stable manure.

Wrapper tobacco—2000 pounds cotton seed meal, 150 pounds acid phosphate, 300 pounds sulphate of potash, 5 to 10 tons stable manure.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."
 —EMMA DRAFER.

Another Operation Avoided.
 Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."
 —MRS. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

NEW STREETS ARE OPENED.

Citizens in Neighborhood of Mound Street—Doing Some Excellent Work in The Civic Improvement Line—Have Banded Together for Progress.

Mound street is without doubt one of the prettiest thoroughfares in the prettiest little city in Texas. The assertion is made reservedly and with the full knowledge of the many other beautiful places. A trip into that portion of the city would prove surprise to most folks, as it did to some others, but a pleasant one indeed, and along with it the real enjoyment of an hour spent among majestic oaks and elms, flower gardens and grass lawns. The citizens of that section have banded together for progress, and are making strides that are a source of much gratification, and the cause of many compliments. Several hundred feet of sidewalks have been built. Not the concrete kind; the kind that people claim cost too much sure enough money;—but the economical, practical sidewalks that average about ten cents per running foot, last always, are nice to walk on, and add a great deal to the appearance of a home, same as the former. W. T. Wilson is designated as the initiator of the improvements, and along with his actual work has done a lot of talking that has brought others in line. His entire place is now surrounded by a walk,—possibly 500 feet in all,—and leading from his own property, as well as on the opposite side of the street considerable work of a similar nature has been done.

In building the walks, heavy plank, say 2x10 are usually used for the sides, but are not always necessary. The walk is filled it with dirt until level with the surrounding ground and then a coating several inches thick of sand is put on, making the passage way higher than the other lands for drainage purposes. This not only forms a pretty walk, but one that is always dry, excepting is extremely wet weather, and is a cheap walk too. Mr. Wilson stated that the cost of building such would never exceed five dollars, and in many cases half that much will suffice. There are lots of home owners, especially in that section, who are putting down just such walks, and the improvements set off the places more than one would imagine. Farther out on this same thoroughfare considerable improvement of a like manner has been going on for some time, and there remains but a short gap between the two sections, to be fixed, to make the entire street from the city, it might be said, well sidewalked. A new addition leading out East from Mound street has been opened up the past week too, and promises to be one of the prettiest localities in Nacogdoches. Dr. F. H. Tucker and W. T. Wilson, each gave right of way through their properties for a street, which has been nicely graded and fixed by Commissioner Peterson, while the lots have been laid off and leveled, doing entirely away with mudholes and mounds. This short street leading from Mound to Tucker, has been named Wilson Avenue, the gentleman whose name is used having formerly owned the properties on both sides. Tucker street promises to be an attractive thoroughfare, and a most desirable home street, when completed. It is reported that some lots have already been sold in that section. At present it has only been graded north, but the south or west portion will be opened up through the rear of Dr. Ford's property, and put in first class and fine condition. In addition to the street and sidewalk improvements, the yards and vacant lots and alleys have been rid of their rubbish, weeds and other unsightly stuff. Flower gardens and grass lawns are in profusion and trees have been planted. The streets in that section are already well shaded, but it is proposed to have them more so in a few years. The citizens of that locality are charged with holding owl meetings, or some other equally as strenuous gatherings, from the great amount of activity that has been going on. At any rate they are doing a splendid work in the civic improvement line and which will not only prove valuable in dollars and cents, but in comfort, convenience and appearance. Strolling along the highways and byways still further, one of the prominent young attorneys of the city, was discovered in the heroic act of slaughtering weeds and building a walk in his yard. Being assured that the excellent labors would be continued until the place would shine like isinglass, and that a sidewalk along the front would also grace the row of pretty homes, the return trip to town was commenced, not wishing to hinder the follower of Blackstone and Kent, more than was absolutely necessary. The unusual beauties of that section of Nacogdoches are appealing, even to a numb mind, and a second inspection of the former visited places was made, to thoroughly acquaint. Coming toward the city the palatial homes with their immense oaks and elms, were a source of much admiration. All nature seems to have joined in adding beauty to these handsome places, and the credit was about to be given for it all, when another expounder of the teachings of Blackstone, Kent, Greenleaf, et al, was seen wrestling with the grasses that threatened a rose garden. No more comment was necessary and with the sole and single vow that work is the only thing that wins, in sidewalks, streets, homes, yards, or any other proposition, the first chapter of "Nacogdoches improvements" came to a close.

LETTER FROM B. T. GALLOAY.

Department of Agriculture writes Mr. McNess Concerning The Recent Appropriation—In Hands of A. and M. College.

Immediately after the passage of the bill by the Texas Legislature, appropriating $2,000 for the tobacco industry in this country, George T. McNess of this city wrote the President of the A. and M. College of Texas and also B. T. Galloway, of Washington, asking a meeting of the departments with the tobacco growers of this county in reference to the expenditure of the money. Some days ago a reply was received from the College, referring the matter to the Department at Washington, and this morning a letter came from Mr. Galloway. From the tone of the letter, it is the expectation of the Federal Government that the State take the matter in hand, and on this version, correspondence will again be opened with the President of the Texas Agricultural College. The letter received today is:

Washington, D. C.,
 April 20, 1909.
 M. Geo. T. McNess,
 Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Mr. McNess:
 I have your note of recent date regarding the recent action of the Legislature of Texas in the matter of appropriating $2,000, to be used in a cooperative way in advancing the tobacco work in the Seventeenth Representative District. In view of the fact that the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas is authorized and directed to assist the National Government in this matter and that the funds appropriated are placed at the disposal of this Board, we must await the action of the Board before we can do anything. In other words, we consider it proper that the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College should take the initiative in the cooperative work.

Very sincerely,
 B. T. Galloway,
 Chief of Bureau.

Mr. Clevenger Sells Home.

A real estate transfer was recorded yesterday, the parties to the transaction being Joe P. Clevenger and his brother, W. J. Clevenger. The home place is valued at one thousand dollars and gin plant at two thousand. W. J. Clevenger recently moved here from Douglass. It is reported that J. P. Clevenger will purchase another home here.

Object to Strong Medicine.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. though at each and every one a corps of workers was stationed and lent aid to the people who thronged the grounds,—in seeing that all were well fed. And they were. If there was one single person who went away without dinner, it was nobody's fault but their own, for enough of the spread remained to have satisfied hundreds more. To the ladies who worked so diligently in preparing the spread, who assisted at the tables, and to the gentleman who also helped in dealing out the splendid feast, much praise is due, for on their shoulders rested the "burden of proof."

MESSESS. ATTWATER AND PROCTOR.

After the dinner hour, Prof. H. P. Attwater, industrial agent for the Sunset Central routes, made a most enjoyable talk on "The Neglected Opportunities of East Texas." The address was illustrated in that happy, good natured way, peculiarly the speaker's own, and carried with it the most practicable points possible. Prof. Attwater is not only a fluent talker, a splendid entertainer, a practical man, but one who is considered the best advertiser in the South. His talk was not to one class of people, but to all, and even the small children could readily understand and profit there by. The gentleman knows his country, material and otherwise, and gets right down close to the folks, showing them convincingly

Harriman system in Texas, known as the Southern Pacific and Sunset Central routes, arrived in the city on the early train. Tuesday morning, in their special car by a delegation of citizens and were immediately made guests of Nacogdoches. They came especially to attend the opening exercises of the Park and also to look over Nacogdoches and her possibilities. The gentlemen visited the McNess Tobacco Packing House in the forenoon, spending several hours too, in meeting the people and looking over the city. All were pleased with the day, expressed their opinion of a splendid future for this city as a resort and in other ways, and seemed to enjoy the festivities greatly. The party returned to Houston at midnight in their private car. In the party were: Joseph Aellen, General Passenger Agent for the Sunset Central lines; Joseph Radetski, head of the Immigration Department; T. J. Anderson, General Passenger Agent for the Southern Pacific, and Prof. H. P. Attwater, industrial agent for the Harriman system.

DANCING AND OTHER PLEASURES.

At three o'clock the band pavillion was given over to the young people who indulged in the delightful pastime of dancing until a very late hour. The orchestra furnished some excellent music, a feature thoroughly appreciated by the many couples who spent the closing and the initial trip to the most splendid little city of Southwest was indeed a treat. Nacogdoches did herself proud and in making her formal bow to the world as a health and pleasure resort, outstripped the expectation of her thousands of citizens and entertained in a way that will result in abundant benefit in the immediate future as well as in the years to come.

Attends Brothers Marriage.

Prof. R. F. Davis of superintendent of the Nacogdoches High School, who came over last evening to attend the marriage of his brother, remained over and spent the day in the city renewing acquaintance with his many friends. He honored this office with a pleasant call, and in course of conversation with the reporter took occasion to express delight at the growth of Center and his appreciation of the people. Prof. Davis received a part of his education in the Center High School, and like all others who have gone out from it has made a success in life, achieving distinction in his field of labor, and our people are justly proud of him and the splendid achievements he is making in life.—Center Daily News.

WEATHER MAN ACTS UGLY.

Down Pour Last Night Interferes With Attendance, But Program Will be Carried Out—Large Out-of-Town Crowd.

The weather man did not treat the picnic quite as it was hoped he would. The "threatening" prediction made yesterday must have meant "threatened to wash the whole affair away." The down pour last night is being termed today as a "gully washer," "trash mover," "garden soaker," and other equally as damp expressions, though it was hardly so bad. It was bad enough to cut the crowd way down though, and it is doubtful if one third as many are here today as would have been, had it not rained. The Park is not in such a muddy condition though and the crowds will tramp it hard in a few more hours,—if the pretty rain don't come down again. The dinner is at the ground in plenty, tables are all in place, the pavillion have been decorated, ferns have been placed to beautify, swings are up, tennis courts are in use, old Confederate Veterans are on hand, and the people who are here, seem to be enjoying the occasion immensely.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. just what actually is and what should be. The address was a rare treat, and from a business standpoint promises to result in much good to the people of Nacogdoches and sister counties. R. F. Proctor of Tyler, agent for the Agricultural Department of the Federal Government, followed Prof. Attwater, in a splendid fifteen minutes talk to farmers, in which he urged diversification, intensity and cooperation.

THE OLD SOLDIERS

A prominent feature of the big day at Avua Vitae Park yesterday was the "fall in" of the old Confederate veterans. They formed on the public square and marched to the park, where they were honored with seats from the speakers stand. From there they were marched to a special table where they were waited upon by lovely ladies, who served to them the choicest delicacies in unlimited abundance. Everybody on the grounds honored these grizzly old patriots and heroes in greatest respectful veneration. Their number was about 120, all told.

OFFICIALS, GUESTS OF CITY.

The railroad officials of the hours of the day in paying tribute to the Goddess of Dance. The dozens of swings and seats and the pretty shades of the mammoth forest trees, proved attractions for hundreds, while the island, with its entrancing spots captured lots of folks. The spring way off to itself, the shaded nooks in more secluded localities and the beautiful Lanana came in for a large share of attention at the hands of the pleasure inclined. The day was one fraught with keen enjoyment, and not one whose good fortune it was to attend, but what appreciated the occasion to the fullest possible extent and regretted when the shades of night made it necessary to break away. The Park was not at its best yesterday, owing to the inclemency of the weather previous to the afternoon, but the out-of-town visitors could not realize the place as it appears at times, and therefore enjoyed it much more than the home folks. There were many people here who were never here before. There are many of them who are coming again. They said so. They were delighted with Nacogdoches in every way,

Coco Colas Defeated.

The Nacogdoches base ball team accepted the challenge of the Coco Colas, and came up Saturday afternoon and proceeded to carry off the honors. The scores stood at the close of the game 11 to 20 in favor of Nacogdoches. Neither side did the playing that was expected of them, the game being a very sluggish one. The Coco Colas can play ball, but somehow they were rattled on that occasion. The Nacogdoches boys seemed to have enjoyed their trip and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the treatment received at the hands of the Coco Colas and the Teneha people generally.—Teneha Messenger.

Mrs. Jones Seriously Ill.

Rev. T. W. Fowler stated to a Sentinel reporter yesterday afternoon that Mrs. A. L. Jones, who lives in the Red Oak community is in a very serious condition, and it is feared she will not live. Mrs. Jones is well known in this city and section, and her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Best Treatment for Colds

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon?
