The withdrawal of the U. S. troops from Vera Cruz is a good move, pleasing to Mexico and to the U. S. and the troops.

Every body can tell you how to save the country. Kane says put your cotton seed on your land. How then the needy one bale man is to buy bread he fails to say. Of course the big grower can do as he pleases. But the man who is starving doesn't get a smell, even when McAdoo sends out four million of Uncle Sam's money. The banks don't need it. The moneyless man can't get it.

The Sentinel published the Ed R. Kone article yesterday blaming oil mills for lowering the price of cottonseed by special request. It had been passed by as undesirable because it is so amazingly at variance with fact in many ways, and the Sentinel expected its glaring errors to be discussed by professional or expert writers adapted to the purpose. A writer in the Houston Chronicle says "if Mr Kone will take the trouble to inform himself I am sure he will make a public acknowledgement that his statement is badly in error." This puts it mild. Worse criticism will no doubt arise.

A bill was introduced into the house of representatives inquiring why the old Confederates don't receive their pensions. The old men need it, and should not be stood off. By the way, if the legislature will inquire they can find several serious defects in the pension law, especially as to the formalities of proof necessary to get a pension. Take for instance poor old Joe Muller and John Berry, as loyal to the last cause as any hero, but excluded yet, almost on starvation. And there are good old Confederates who are so situated that they are cut off from the required proof of service. These are instances of deserving patriots excluded by red tape rules. Every needy veteran who can satisfy his comrades as to his merit ought to have pension.

At a meeting of the business Men's League in St. Louis, plans were made for temporary cotton warehouses to store 250,000 bales. Certain suitable houses were discussed and a committee was appointed to get busy in the work. Some of the largest capitalists were leaders in the move. Other cities and corporations of many kinds have joined in the move to retire a large portion of the present crop from the market and to induce cotton growers to cut down the yield for next year. It does seem like success will be attained in raising the price of cotton and that very soon. The greatest necessity now on hand to accomplish this is for the spinners and factories to resume, and the obstruction to shipping be removed. If the war would only end all would be well with us and with the world.

Teachers Institute

Mr. Chairman: We your committee on resolutions, beg to submit the following report:

Whereas, the teachers of Nacogdoches County in their annual institute, have been extended the unstinted hospitality of citizens of Nacogdoches, and whereas many persons have very kindly contributed to the inspiration and usefulness of the institute at the opening exercises, and whereas, teachers place a high value on the leadership of the able educators of Nacogdoches County, and whereas, the teachers of this institute deeply appreciate the distinguished services of the present County Superintendent, therefore, be it resolved that the teachers of this institute express their highest appreciation of the citizens of Nacogdoches for their hospitality, and many discriminating courtesies;

Resolved, that teachers feel under many obligations to the city school board for use of the high school building;

Resolved, that the teachers hereby express their deepest appreciation to all those who so happily contributed to opening exercises of the daily sessions, namely; Rev. Johnson and McKenney, for their able addresses, the young ladies who rendered such excellent music, Miss Kenna for her most interesting reading and master Alton Thomason for his several most interesting readings, also Prof. Earl Huffer for readings.

Resolved, that we extend our sincere thanks to Drs. Judkins and Tucker for their most interesting and instructive addresses delivered before the institute.

Resolved, that we hereby express our high appreciation of the visit paid the institute by several Trustees of rural schools;

Resolved, that we express our appreciation of the fact that members of the County Board met with the institute from day to day, studying the many school problems now pressing for solution;

Resolved, that we, your committee on resolutions congratulate the teachers for their loyalty, earnest work, and the high degree of professional spirit shown the institute;

Resolved, that we express our thanks and kindly appreciation to Prof. Day, Adams and Balch, conductors of the different sections of the institution, for their untiring efforts;

Resolved, that we extend our appreciation and thanks to Prof. R. F. Davis for his untiring efforts to make the institute a success, and especially for his able address on "Turning Up".

Resolved, that we express our deepest appreciation of the distinguished services of Prof. W. B. Hargis, for his labors during the last four years to promote the school conditions and interests in Nacogdoches, county, and that we congratulate him for his success in placing Nacogdoches in the forefront of the progressive counties in educational progress in this State.

so much so as to be regarded as one of the model counties whose progress challenged the admiration of educational leaders throughout State. We heartily congratulate him for his distinguished services. It is fitting that in this connection we make some observation of the unprecedented progress of educational affairs during his administration, among which we beg to submit the following.

During his term of office forty one new school houses have been built, and eight have been remodeled, twenty four issues have been carried, and thirty-one districts have been carried, and thirty one districts have voted special taxes, Garrison has built a new brick school building, Cushing has remodeled and enlarged her school building, and increased her local tax from 25c. to 50c, Nacogdoches independent school district has increased her local tax from 41 2/3c to 50c. In fact, Nacogdoches county has shown such phenomenal educational growth during Prof. Hargis' administration, that it enjoys the distinction of being one of the five model counties in Texas selected by the State University for rural school study, and the Department of Education has already sent two special representatives to study the rural school systems of Nacogdoches county.

Be it further resolved that we, as an institute of teachers, well acquainted with Prof. W. B. Hargis do hereby endorse and recommend him to any and everybody with whom he may be associated or come in contact, as a noble christian gentleman, and a first class school man, that they may place every confidence in him, his energy, his honesty, integrity, and ability.

Further be it resolved, that we endorse the movement by the Department of Education for a school house day by the schools of Texas.

Resolved further, that this Institute endorse the work being done by the Conference for Education in Texas, provided that this organization frees itself from, and forever keep itself free from politics.

A kind friend dropped in this morning to get the Sentinel to prod the Nacogdoches Merchants to be as good as some merchants at Chireno and Alto, and take cotton on accounts at 10c a pound. Why, don't you know that some of them here have sent out circulars that they will take cotton on accounts at 10c and pay cash on balance to 25 per cent, and also hold it and pay all expenses till Jan. 1? We are still ahead.

There is trouble in Shelby county because the commissioners court decided to give $3,000 to help build a cotton warehouse in Center, but did not so favor any other town. Indignation resolutions were passed by a citizens meeting in Timpson, in plain words.

Fort Worth, Sept. 14.—Word has been received at headquarters of the Farmers Union in this city that Peter Radford, National Lecturer, and W. D. Lewis, State President of this organization, who are at present in Washington, have been appointed on a committee that is preparing a resolution to be presented to President Wilson and Secretary of Treasury McAdoo, asking for an advance of $4,000,000 to Southern farmers to be used in financing distress cotton.

To a man up a tree the above looks a little like thirty cents. So does many other such things even the ware house bill and other visionary schemes. How, can we expect farmers to get hold of money without putting up good collateral, and if he can put up this collateral any bank will make him a loan. But if he can't do this his name is mud. And if he has the cotton he can borrow money on it by putting up a credible valid cotton receipt. Is the government going to give away the four millions, or loan it for thanks? Is there any charity in it? Quien sabe.

Price of Cotton Seed.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 15.—The following statement has been given out:

To the Farmers of Texas: Another peril to the cotton industry has developed in the cupidity of the cottonseed oil mills, and it involves comparatively as great or greater loss than is threatened by the war depression on cotton. I refer to the fact that with the decline of the price of cotton in consequence of the war from 15 to 7 1/2 cents the mill men have forced down the market price of cotton seed from $28 to $14 per ton.

The small farmer, deprived of profits on his cotton is forced to dispose of his cotton seed at whatever price it pleases the mill man to offer.

The emergency created by war conditions should enhance rather than depreciate the price of cotton seed, for, as a by-product of the staple, the seed is strictly a food product, and the prices of all food products have materially increased as a consequence of the war. For instance, the price of cottonseed lard compound has steadily advanced, while the price of the basic element, the seed, has as steadily depreciated. There is absolutely no excuse, much less justification, for this, whatever may be said of the conditions controlling the fluctuating values of cotton.

By way of illustration: Purchasing a bucket of lard compound manufactured from the cotton seed he sold the mill man, the farmer pays more for it today than he did before the war conditions arose. Yet today he gets but half for his cotton seed that he got for it before the war.

As to the mill man's profit under present conditions:

One ton of cotton seed will produce—
400 pounds oil at 6 cents $24.00
700 pounds meal at 1 1/4 cents $8.75
100 pounds linters at 3 cents $3.00
750 pounds hulls at 1-4 cent $1.87
50 pounds waste.
Total, $37.62

For one ton of cottonseed the farmer gets $12, or a profit to the mill man of $26.62 per ton.

It may well be asked if the farmers of Texas are going to submit to this outrageous piracy upon their depleted resources,

Cotton seed is worth more in the ground as fertilizer than $14 per ton, and I invoke the judgment of the cotton raisers of Texas, especially of heavy crops, if it is not their patriotic and humanitarian duty to meet this attempted ravishment of our greatest industry by refusing to dispose of a pound for less than its commercial value as a food commodity. Every farmer who possibly can should return every seed to the ground as fertilizer rather than feed it to cormorants at half price.

Ed R. Kone,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Deepest Well in Texas

Austin, Texas, Sept. 16.—The deepest hole ever bored in Texas soil is at Spur, in Dickens County, and extends into the ground for a distance of 4,489 feet, nearly one mile.

The hole was bored by S. M. Swenson & Son in search of a water supply for the city of Spur, and as a general exploration of the formations for the vicinity. It required five years and seven months to drill the hole and the experiment cost $50,000.

After encountering practically every formation known to geology, the project was abandoned last November, after losing a part of the drill in the hole.

The project has attracted attention all over the nation and many experts of the United States government have investigated it. The University of Texas has prepared a bulletin dealing with the exploration in detail and it makes an excellent reference book as it contains first hand information on the stratigraphy of a section covering one-fifth the area of Texas.

WHY WEAK LUNGS?

The toll of tuberculosis is claiming more than 350 victims every day in the United States, yet few realize their grave condition until the critical period arrives. Overwork, worry, weakness after sickness, catarrh, bronchitis, tender throats—all exert the weakening influence that invites consumption. To guard against consumption, thousands of people take Scott's Emulsion after meals because its rich medicinal nourishment strengthens the lungs, puts vigor in the blood, and rebuilds strength to resist tuberculosis. Scott's Emulsion is nature's strength-builder. Refuse substitutes.

Prof Geo. M. Hale, who is now in charge of the Woden school, held a reunion of his old students at Hickory Grove one night last week. This is where he lived and taught school for a number of years in the long ago. It was a boarding school and had a large attendance. So the old scholars regard it as a home coming meeting. Speeches, talks, addresses and free conversation and how-do were indulged in and freely enjoyed. The details which we failed to obtain would be very entertaining. Prominent people were present, and it proved a most delightful affair.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers. dw

Melrose community was well represented today. The following citizens were visiting here C. H. Walker, J. W. McBride W. F. Kendrick, H. T. Dickinson, W. R. Stripling. Visitors from their county community are O. E. Davis of Lone Star, Jeff, Ed and Tom Parrish of Woden, W. F. Medford Swift.

Caught A Bad Cold.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Dancan, of Tipton, Iowa. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by all dealers. dw

Misses Dorothy Hardeman and Lucile Reese, Messrs Jesse Stallings, Fred Buckner and Cullis Wilson of Melrose have joined the list of county students to enter school here. There is a large number of young men and women of the county going to school here.

Best Treat for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequal for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by all dealers. dw

Texas and New Orleans Rail Road in bad at Nacogdoches.

For years the citizens of Nacogdoches have begged this company for better train service north of the city. Some time ago an earnest appeal was made for a train that would arrive at Nacogdoches between 6 and 9 o'clock in the morning, and leaving same hour in the evening, thereby giving the local trade north of Nacogdoches an opportunity to use this train, also giving our people a double daily service to Dallas.

The management of the road did unbend enough to extend the night train running from from Jacksonville to Dallas on to Nacogdoches on an arriving and leaving schedule that made it next to impossible for for Nacogdoches people to use and with only two stops between Nacogdoches and the river. This action of course made the train a losing proposition from the very beginning and of no benefit whatever to Nacogdoches. The company will discontinue this train the 20th, and as far as Nacogdoches is concerned without protest, but the business men of Nacogdoches are going to act as one man (and that quickly) in bettering our traffic facilities both freight and passenger.

At a meeting yesterday a committee was appointed to begin a canvas of every business interest in Nacogdoches for the purpose of pledging to the Nacogdoches and South Eastern & Cotton Belt roads all of our cotton, and out going freight also to have all shipments to Nacogdoches taken entirely away from the T. & N. O. Company when at all possible. This committee has begun work and will continue its efforts until every business man in the city is enlisted and obligated to this move. We are through begging the Texas & New Orleans Rail Road for anything.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers. dw

Mr. H. H. Abram and Miss Mary Nell Denman of Lutkin were married in this city last night by Judge Perritte. The young people are both from prominent families in Lutkin and are well known here. The best wishes of their friends is extended them.

Good for Biliousness

"I took two of Chamberlain's Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by all dealers. dw

Misses Mattie Stallings Vallie Price of Melrose and Miss Lamerle Kelly of Garrison have gone to Denton to enter C. I. A. These young ladies visited friends here a few days before leaving.

Public Lands Thrown Open.

Washington, Sept. 18.— Announcement was made at the Interior Department today that Secretary Lane had signed orders opening to settlement and entry under the enlarged homestead act approximately 3,600,000 acres of land in California, New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Colorado, Washington.

The lands are distributed as follows: California, 750,000 acres; New Mexico, 2,500,000 acres; Colorado, 100,000 acres; Washington, 250,000 acres.

Despondency.

Is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and quickly disappears when Chamberlain's Tablets are taken. For sale by all dealers. dw

There is a man over about Nacogdoches who has found that something else besides cotton can be grown and at a good profit. His name is R. S. Jordan, and he has just shipped his eighteenth car of hogs to Fort Worth, getting top prices for them. One Duroc-Jersey tipped the scales at 1060 pounds, and gave conclusive proof that hogs can be grown in Texas. Mr. Jordan is also interested in fine cattle, and has just recently sold four cows for $1000. Anderson county needs a few Jordans.— Palestine Herald.

Rheumatism Pains Stopped.

The first application of Sloan's Liniment goes right to the painful part—it stops the Rheumatic Pains around the joints and gives relief and comfort. Don't suffer! Get a bottle to-day! It is a family medicine for all pains, hurts, bruises, cuts, sore throat, neuralgia and chest pains. Prevents infection. Mr. Chas. H. Wentworth, California, writes:—"It did wonders for my Rheumatism, pain is gone as soon as I apply it. I recommended it to my friends as the best Liniment I ever used." Sudan Grass.

That Sudan grass seed dealers advertising their seed as "Creamhull" should be required to give a guarantee that no black blood will develop in the grass at the next harvest is the statement of Director B. Youngblood of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at the A. & M. College. Director B. Youngblood, who through the Texas Experiment Association gave Sudan Grass its start in Texas says that "Creamhull" type is an ideal and that it is impossible for the seed to be absolutely pure. When imported from Africa the seed had a certain amount of black blood in them, he says, and it will require several years of work with the grass before any grower can be certain that his seed are pure.

Sam W. Hunt Dead.

Sam W. Hunt, a widely known citizen of this county, died at his home in Appley, Sunday morning Sept. 20, 1914, at 10:30, after an illness, of two weeks, from disease of the kidneys and heart. He was born in Tennessee in 1842, and came to Texas in 1850 with his father, Absalom Hunt and family, who settled near where the town of Appley now stands, and here was his home all of his long and useful life.

He joined the Confederate army in March 1862, as a private in Company G. under Capt. Wm. Clark, in the 8th Texas Infantry, under Col. Overton Young, and served till the end of the war in June 1865. He fought in numerous battles, and was always true and brave when duty called.

In Dec. 1865 he was married to Miss Stena Richardson, who died about two years ago from a similar disease to his own. To them were born eleven children, seven of whom are now living, as follows: A. W. Hunt of Nacogdoches; Ellis Hunt of Hearne; Ed Hunt of Abilene; Horace Hunt of Appley; John Hunt, of Lutkin; Mrs. John Weatherly and Mrs. Bob Crawford of Appley. One sister, Mrs. B. C. Maroney survives him.

He was buried today at 10 a. m. at Bethel cemetery, near Appley. A second wife who was Mrs. N. Payne survives him.]

He was many years a member of the Missionary Baptist church.

A notable fact in the life of Sam Hunt was that he and his father built a cotton gin and he has continuously operated it ever since, over 48 years, and Hunts gin was always a leader, and never had any disputes. It is also a noted fact that Sam Hunt never had an enemy. One of his neighbors remarked that he had lived 49 years with and about him and never had a difference. All of his living children but one were at his bedside. Numerous friends gave sympathetic attendance. The funeral was attended by one of the largest assemblages of people ever seen at Appley. Every one that knew him had the most kindly feeling for him, and his friends vied with each other in their demonstrations of sympathy.

Sam Hunt is gone, but his works remain, and his reward is being enjoyed beyond.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up.

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war, the price remains the same. No opiates. Don't take substitutes, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. Swift Bros. & Smith.

Misses Lonnie Dee Power and Ruth Morris spent Sunday in Appley with Miss Power's relatives. They took dinner with Mrs. Alonzo Mangham and say the panic hasn't struck them from the many good things they had to eat.

The President's Triumph.

Saturday Evening Post: Any policy is entitled to be judged by its results: and by that test the president's Mexican policy is splendidly vindicated. Vagrant war item records that one Victoriano Huerta is marooned in London, presumably awaiting a chance to get into Spain. Little noticed amid bigger distractions, the constitutionalists took peaceful possession of the Mexican capital.

The future, perhaps, is anybody's guess; but Huerta is out, and a government that has some show to restore settled conditions is in, and only a few American lives have been lost. The president and the secretary of state were rather lonesome in adhering to the policy that has issued in this bloodless fashion; but when they look across at Europe they are entitled to deep satisfaction.

The country is horrified by the European slaughter. Everybody is horrified by war after it begins; yet only a month ago we heard a great deal about the merits of taking a strong stand with Mexico, asserting our national dignity, and the rest of the rigmarole that meant rows of American youths dead or wounded in a trivial cause.—Galveston News.

The Departing Soldier

"Farewell, dear wife," the soldier said, "my country calls and I must go, to wear a helmet on my head, and shoot at folks I do not know. And men whose names I've never heard will go for me with gun and sword; the whole blamed business is absurd, and I am sad, and slightly bored. I know not what the war's about, if wise or just I do not know; I only know I'm going out to make a target for the foe. But keep a cheerful heart I beg, for I'll return to home and farm; perhaps I will be shy a leg, and maybe I'll be short an arm but I'll come back, though battered sore, come back in flesh or as a ghost; I may be brought upon a door, I may be shipped by parcel post; some way, some time, I shall return, my soul, as ever, fond and true, to watch you trying hard to earn a living for our tarnished crew. You'll have to till our barren fields, and reap the scanty crops you raise, while I am packing swords and shields, and shooting holes through unknown jays. You'll have to thrash the meagre grain, and yoke the oxen to the plow, while I'm pirooting o'er the plain, a large brass helmet on my brow. I hate to leave these humble walls; our lives, dear wife are made a wreck, but I must go where honor calls, and get a bullet in my neck."

Grave of A Noted Texan

Says the Nashville Banner of recent date:

"Charles Marlin, Superintendent of the old City Cemetery, feels assured that he has located the grave of Senator Mat Ward, the writer of the Declaration of Independence of the State of Texas, who died in Nashville while on his way home from Washington in 1863. Senator Ward, it is said, was buried in the City Cemetery here.

"Mr. Marlin has received numerous requests from relatives of the famous Texan, asking that a search for the latter's grave be made. A grave has been found with the headstone bearing the inscription, "Julia Ward, 1861-1863," and adjacent to it the grave of an adult. There are but few records of this period and many burials were conducted by others than the sexton, but Mr. Marlin's investigations have convinced him that he has located the grave of the man whose name is so closely linked with the history of his state."

The Book Reviewer

He views the pile of printed junk, in covers made of cloth or leather, that he must read, to earn the plunk that keeps his frame and soul together; and as he views, his spirits sink, his mind grows bluer yet and bluer. "The idiots who wade in ink!" exclaims the heartsick book reviewer. The safe old junk, in gorgous lids, the same hack authors and their brothers! The writers new, who make their bids for fame by imitating others; the melodrama raw and red, the maiden and her vile pursuer. "Won't some one cure my aching head?" exclaims the wearied book reviewer. The book of verse that breaks the heart, with halting lines and doleful pitch; the novel resolutely smart, that treats of idle rich and riches; the Kauffman type of ripe romance, that takes us through the slum and sewer, and makes white slaves of palsied aunts—"God save us!" cries the book reviewer. And there is always Oppenheim whose diplomats and dukes are dismal and Austin Freeman, who in crime is sounding depths that are abysmal; the tired reviewer scans the heap for something better stronger newer, and scans in vain, then goes to sleep—his job has killed the book reviewer.—Walt Mason.

Editor Harrison Dead

San Augustine, Texas, Sept. 21.—Dale S. Harrison, editor of the San Augustine Tribune and the Center Champion, died Saturday. He had been ill for nearly a week, but his condition was not considered serious and his sudden and unexpected death was a great shock to his family and friends and the community in general. He leaves a wife and four small children in this city, and an aged mother, a brother and other relatives in Iowa. He was 88 years old, a man of splendid education and strong character. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

Commissioner Kone's Correction

Commissioner of Agriculture Kone has promptly corrected his statement issued to the farmers of Texas last week, in which he denounced the oil mill industry of Texas and gave out many erroneous figures and conclusions.

While the commissioner's statement of correction is not as full and elaborate as were his misstatements, it is indeed a happy departure from the role generally assumed by many public officials, who are too prone to make assertions for the benefit of their farmer friends, and who stand by what they say, no matter how absurd and misleading their pronouncements may be.

Commissioner Kone states that his article was not justified, and that it is withdrawn. He admits that at the present market price the oil mills make very little profit on the purchase of seed at $12 to $14 per ton, and certainly not an overprofit.

Commissioner Kone concludes his statement of correction by asserting: "I do not, however, recede from my advice to the farmer to use his cotton seed as fertilizer as long as the selling price is kept below $20, for it is worth $60 in the ground."

This is probably an erroneous conclusion also; it is a matter that each farmer can judge for himself probably better than the commissioner. The main point developed during the controversy is that the cottonseed oil industry of Texas is not a menace to the state, and that the men who have invested several millions in that industry are not defrauded and are not making the outrageous profit that was claimed by the commissioner.

As a matter of fact, the European war has not affected the market for cotton seed nearly as badly as it has the market for cotton. The farmer has been able, thus far, to dispose of nearly all the seed he had for sale at a price that is fairly good, considering the lessened demand for hulls, meal and other by-products secured from the seed by the oil mills.—Houston Chronicle.

Doubting Thomas says, "But if I put my seed on my land, how am I am to pay my merchant who supplied me to make the seed, or how can I expect further credit if I don't pay my debts, which I regard as my duty."

Who Can Help this Old Soldier

The editor of the Sentinel is informed by a good, kind hearted friend at Garrison that there is a poor, old Confederate veteran living near there, who is poor, helpless, illiterate needy and worthy. He wants to get a pension, but red tape is in the way. He cannot make the exact formal proof required. He served in Capt. Christians Company from North La. But no one here knows it, and His name is J. C. Goodwin, two witnesses must swear it. When more of them die there will be fewer witnesses. It seems like one of the many other hard cases.

Houston will have a deep water jubilee next November.

A What Is It Comes To Town

What has been described to us as the last, word in fall styles for men blew into the city today. The man in the clothes looked all right. He was a human all right, but badly disfigured by the togs that covered him. A hat that looked like an inverted wash-tub, with a butterfly bow on its side, and of varicolored ribbon; a coat that fit corset-like in the back, and the tail of which was fashioned much like a short bask, with the end of it stopping about the waist-line; pants (or trousers we should have said) that parted company with the shoe tops, and seemed disposed to crawl back up the leg; colored socks of wisteria color, and a loud necktie that seemed to sinitillate the colors of the rain-bow.

And this is the latest; but excuse us. We prefer to look like a plain business man, in a plain suit, than to look like a tool or a monkey. We had rather be a has been, than to be a walking advertisement for the last thing in fall togs as decreed by the fashion plates.—Palestine Herald.

How sweet is the Autumn, that's now at the door! The hot winds, dod rot 'em, will scorch us no more. The schools are in session, with blackboard and switch, the children are threshin' out fractions and sich; the schoolmaster's ruling, the kids' work the brain; too long were they tooling at home, raising Cain. No more are they pitchin' thier in door baseball; there's peace in the kitchen, there's calm in the hall. The cornfield is yellow, it glows in the sun, the husbandman fellow is counting his moon. Dame Nature, the tinter is staining the leaves, and soon we'll have winter, but nobody grieves; of grub we have plenty—our gods let us thank—and eighteen or twenty fat bucks in the bank. How peaceful and tender the Autumn world seems; it has all the splendor of worlds seen in dreams. The wearisome worry of summer is o'er; the hideous hurry is needed no more; there's loafing and languor where late there was work, from Boston to Bangor, from Yankton to York.—Walt Mason

The Sentinel is flooded with cotton literature and its incidentals. It comes in books, in circulars, in pamphlets, twpewritten and hand written. Nearly every paper is lengthy, if not windy. All are wise. They all know all about the why's and where-fores, but, as a remedy, hold your cotton for ten cents, and plant half a crop, seems to be the best.

Strenuous Strife.

When man discards the pruning hook, and takes up gun or sabre, determined, in his heart, to cook the gander of his neighbor, when he elects to turn his face to ruin, wreck and ravage, he shows that he, with all his grace, is still at heart a savage. He talks about the boon of peace—an ear his country lends him—and then he goes to knock the grease from someone who offends him. He swears by all the saints above that warfare shocks and galls him, and he'll support the White Winged Dove, whatever it betalls him; then some one steps upon his toes, which makes him yearn for slaughter, and he proceeds to tear his clothes, and grabs his sword and swatter. Is there an army in his path? You see him hack and hew it, still crying, in his noble wrath, "My neighbors drove me to it!" While wielding snicker-snee and creese, he says he is a martyr; he claims he is a peace, while acting like a Tartar. At last his neighbors tire of tricks beyond excuse or pardon, and so they break his head with bricks and plant him in his garden. The boon of peace! The human hordes will praise it loud and louder, and as they praise they'll grind their swords, and manufacture powder.—Walt Mason.

Maine Is Democratic

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—The Democratic victory in Maine's state election yesterday was measured by the 3587 plurality by which Oakley C. Curtis of Portland defeated Governor William C. Haines, Republican, for reelection, according to official returns from all but 37 of the 521 cities and towns today. All four congressmen, three Republican and one Democratic, were re-elected.

The comparative returns available from 484 cities and towns give: Haines (R), 57,662; Taft (D) 50,451.

Curtis (D), 61,249; Wilson (D), 50,451.

Gardner (P), 17,448; Roosevelt (P), 47,904.

The total vote at hand, 136,854, exceeded that from the same places in 1912 by 11,878.

The Republicans showed an increase of 81,541 against a Progressive loss of 30,861. The Democratic gain was 10,798. Incomplete returns on the legislature indicated that on a joint ballot the Democrats had 74 votes, a gain of nine; the Republicans 57, a loss of 7, and the Progressive 2, a loss of 1.

No material change was anticipated from the complete returns.

Dispatches from Taylor say an editor there was robbed of $62, a $90 watch, a $25 charm and a Panama hat, but the burglar overlooked a $800 diamond stud. A Texas editor with a "flash" like that would attract more homage and attention than royalty.—Houston Telegram.

Splendid Medicine Stomach Trouble

I Suffered for Several Years
Peruna Restored My Health

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, No. 508 Twelfth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Over Ten Years Ago.

General War Summary.

An official statement issued at Berlin says that the battle between the Oise and the Meuse rivers continues with sure indications that the allies are falling back. It is declared that the French attempt to cut through the German right wing failed and a sortie from Verdun, on the right bank of the Meuse, was repulsed. The German army is said to be advancing slowly but surely.

This statement evidently was issued late yesterday as the substance of it was received in this country under date of Sept. 17.

It was announced officially in Paris at 8 o'clock this afternoon that the allies had progressed somewhat. The western wing was declared to have repulsed a vigorous German offensive.

In proroguing parliament today King George said that he was compelled to go to war for the protection of the public law of Europe and the vital interests of the empire, and that fighting for a worthy purpose. Great Britain would not lay down her arms until that purpose had been fully achieved.

Mexico News.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Although yesterday's official reports indicated that the friction between Gens. Oregon and Villa was of insignificant character there was a pessimistic tone in the advices from Mexico which reaches here today. The local troubles in Sonora have given rise to the fear among some observers that Villa may attempt to quell the disturbances there independent of Carranza's orders.

As yet, however, nothing of a definite nature has reached officials on which a judgment of the trend of the future events can be based. Everything seems to depend, they believe, on the outcome of the national convention on Oct. 1, as it already is realized both here and in Mexico that a contest will ensue between the Carranza and Villa factions for political control of the assembly. It is doubtful whether the administrative questions which must be adjusted at Vera Cruz before the American troops can withdraw will be settled until early in October by which time it is believed Gen. Carranza will have retired as first chief in favor of Fernando Iglesias Calderon, who would be designated provisional president.

Important to all women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the results of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women. Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Improved Machinery.

There has recently been patented a cleaning and thrashing device, known as the Maury Cleaner and Thrasher of the latest improved model which is proposed to take the dirt and trash out of the cotton before it passes into the gins, thereby raising the grade of the cotton in value of from $2.00 to $12.00 per bale. I have installed one of these machines in connection with my gin and will give it a thorough test this season. The ginning fee will be the same as heretofore, 60 cents per hundred pounds lint.

Industrial Congress Will Offer Prizes For Grain Crops.

The Texas Industrial Congress announces its intention to offer prizes next year for the best yields, cost of production considered, on not less than five acres cultivated in wheat, oats, barley, and perhaps rice.

Because of their value for winter pasture and in preventing surface washing, and also because of their low cost of cultivation as compared with cotton, these grains are nearly as profitable as cotton in ordinary times, and are certain to be more profitable than an over production of cotton, in view of the European war situation. Small grains afforded an admirable substitute for cotton on much of the land cultivated in cotton this year, and which if the acreage is at all reduced, might not otherwise be utilized. The European war assures splendid prices for feed-stuffs of all kinds, and the farmer who plants winter wheat and other small grains this fall can count upon getting good prices, such as have not been realized for a number of years.

Guaranteed perfectly harmless and can be used with perfect safety on the most delicate fabric. Price 10c per Magic Stick or three for 25c. If dealer can't supply send stamps or money order to A. B. Will be Plenty of Apples.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Present indications are that the commercial apple crop of the United States this year will far exceed that of last year, according to announcement made today by the Department of Agriculture. Department officials say the problem of distribution will be somewhat complex owing to conditions resulting from the European war.

Attention is called to the fact, however, that in normal times, Europe takes less than 2,000,000 barrels of American apples. It is believed that with judicious handling, the home demand may be increased and the commercial crop marketed with relatively fair success to all.

To Popularize The Old Songs

If the mothers of a community can start a movement to popularize the old songs, putting them into the home, the schools, the social hours, and giving them a place above that of the cheap popular song, it will be a long educational step, says the Mothers' Magazine. They have, all of them, an appealing note that will make them quickly interesting to children. It isn't the fault of our boys and girls that dangerous sentimentality is the burden of their singing. They demand the lyric, the emotion, in their adolescent development, and, not recognizing this fact, we have left them alone to satisfy this need as best they could.

The musical taste of the average child is good. Put a volume of fine old ballads on the piano, and begin your child's education, not only in song, but in romance.—Gal News.

Spur Farm Lands.

Many farmers are making a hard or doubtful living on high priced lands in localities cursed with insect pests, or floods, or drought, or weed plagues, or other enemies to successful farming. The end of each year finds time and energy practically wasted no progress made. Spur Farm Lands offer relief from these conditions.

The tenant on the high priced lands further east can make a payment and be master of his own acres here. Any good farmer can pay for them from the products thereof. The Spur Farm Lands offer productive, virgin lands easily cultivated, at low prices and on easy terms. Splendid crops are raised without irrigation. No boll weevil ever know here. Altitude 2000 to 2600 feet.

Considering the reliable production of these lands—prices are lowest in Texas; new country, settling fast; splendid climate, no malaria, chills or fever; good churches and schools. We offer the homeseeker a wide range for selection and are selling direct—no commission to anyone; the purchaser receives full value in his lands in dealing direct with the owner as opposed to paying a middleman several dollars per acre.

STOCK FARMS AND SMALL RANCH TRACTS.

We also offer fine grazing tracts, perfectly adapted to this purpose—one section to fifty, at prices from $5.00 per acre up. Free illustrated booklet, giving all particulars on application to—

NEW GLADWAY SHOWS.

The World at Home Will Entertain State Fair Crowds Nov. 4 to 11.

A new form of entertainment will amuse the visitors to Gladway at the 1914 Louisiana State Fair. It will be known as 'The World at Home.' This is a twentieth century amusement enterprise, and is under the personal supervision of men of years of practical experience. The attractions will be of extraordinary character, and it is guaranteed that they will be clean and inoffensive. Features, novel attractions and exhibitions gathered from all parts of the universe will make up the aggregation of shows. There will also be plenty of strange and curious people, an abundance of excitement and samples of everything else a person could wish in the amusement line.

The World at Home is composed of ten shows and three riding devices. Dates of the Fair: November 4 to 11. Apply to Secretary L. N. Bruengerhoff for catalog and premium list.

FAST HORSES AT FAIR.

Louisiana State Fair Meet This Year Promises to Attract Fine Animals.

As usual, horse racing will come in for a good share of space on the amusement program at the Louisiana State Fair this year. Indications indicate that some of the fastest runners and harness horses in the country will be on the swift mile track at Shreveport during the five days set apart for these events.

The first program will be given on the opening day of the fair, November 4. The other race days are: November 5 and 6, and 9 and 10. Saturday, November 7 and 8 are skipped, Saturday being School and College Day and Sunday being Labor Day.

There will be at least two running events and as many harness races each afternoon. It is expected that there will be a large number of entries in each event, judging by the applications for information about the big annual meet. Heretofore some of the best one-mile slogs have been attracted here. They received good treatment, and promised to return, and it is safe to say that plenty of fine racers will be seen again this year.

In the matter of inducement the management has set aside $3,500 in purses. For additional information write to State Fair Secretary, Louis N. Bruengerhoff, Shreveport, La. Also ask for catalog and premium list.

Dates of Louisiana Fair: Nov. 4 to 11.

STATE FAIR CATTLE SHOW.

Will Be Record-Breaking This Year Premium Offers Liberal.

With inducements to the exhibitors including prizes aggregating $3,655 in cash to be distributed among different breeds, and conveniences among the best to be found anywhere, the cattle show at the Louisiana State Fair this year promises to be a record-breaker for the South. The number of inquiries about space reservations indicates that breeders of fine blooded stock will be on hand from various sections of the country, and visitors to the cattle barns will be assured of splendid entertainment.

In increasing the premium money and giving particular attention to the other features necessary for putting on a real big show, the State Fair management is recognizing the importance of the cattle industry in Louisiana and the Southwest generally. During the past few years there has been an amazing growth of interest in regard to raising cattle of pure first class breeds. The industry is becoming known as one worth the farmer's attention, not only for the enjoyment of milk and beef and the other products for home consumption, but as a marketable business. The State Fair exhibits and demonstrations of the past few years have played prominent part in arousing this interest. Each year sees an improvement in the class and quantity of animals exhibited, and a corresponding improvement in interest manifested, and encouraged by the results of the past, the State Fair officials this year have arranged for the best show of all.

It is expected that farmers from all over the state will be in attendance and it is especially desired that those of south and central Louisiana be represented, particularly from the cane districts, so they may be stimulated with a desire to diversify.

The prizes will be divided among the breeds of cattle as follows: Short Horns $1,500; Herefords, $500; Red Polled $250; Polled Durhams, $150.50; Aberdeen Angus, $300; Jerseys $668.50; Louisiana Jerseys, $171; Guernseys, $30 and Holsteins, $180; also $100 for dairy demonstration work. The total for the cattle display is $3,655, several hundred more than was appropriated last year for this division.

In addition to the prizes, there will be other inducements in the way of cheap railroad rates on the cattle shipped for exhibit also for passengers to the fair.

There will also be two big auction sales. One will be held November 8 on Jerseys. About sixty head of registered cattle will be offered to the highest bidder. A similar sale last year was a gigantic success. A catalogue showing the registrations will be provided upon application.

The other sale will be on beef breeds and many fine bargains are expected. The cattle division will be in charge of experts. C. H. Staple, State university will be superintendent. He is also head of the State Jersey Breeders' Association. H. O. Moxley, of Shelbyville, Ky., will be judge of beef breeds, and H. G. Van Pel of Waterloo, Iowa, will judge the dairy breeds.

Catalogue and premium list will be furnished upon application to Louis N. Bruengerhoff, secretary of the Louisiana Fair Association, Shreveport, La. Remember the dates of the fair, Nov. 4-11.

Texas Town To Get Cannon

Washington, D. C. Sept. 16.—A bill was introduced yesterday by Senator Shepard of Texas, asking that the war department be allowed to furnish Victoria and Gonzales, Texas with a big brass cannon each for park purposes. It is thought the Texan's bill will meet with but very little opposition, if any. (Why not?)

General War Summary.

The third day of the battle of the Aisne finds the hosts of Germans and the allies facing each other along a line of some 200 miles stretching from Noyon, 55 miles northeast of Paris, southeast to the Swiss frontier.

The battle line proper extends roughly from Noyon to Nancy, about 150 miles. Here between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 men are engaged in a struggle that in ferocity and strategic importance bids fair to rival the battle of the Marne.

Each side claims a slight advantage—and no more. It is known only that the German retreat has been turned into a stubborn resistance. The allies assert that they are so close on the heels of the Germans that the latter were compelled to turn about and fight to escape destruction. German reports represent their armies as retreating to the strong positions following the withdrawal from the vicinity of Paris and again taking the offensive.

Thus far death is the only decided factor. It is admitted that his toll is already enormous—so staggering that official sources hesitate to reveal the facts.

Rain continues falling on the battlefield and has rendered parts of it impassable for guns and cavalry, while adding greatly to the distress of the men.

Conflicting reports of the situation in the eastern theater of the war are received from official and unofficial sources.

The several German army corps sent into East Prussia appear to have pushed back the Russian invaders of that territory with great loss of Russians. It is thought that a part of the German force may be diverted to the Russian Poland.

In Galicia the Russian successes seem to be continued, with the Austrians and Germans falling back on Przemyel. Enormous losses to the Austrians are admitted at Vienna, to which city thousands of wounded are being brought.

The latest official announcement at Nish claims less for the Serbian arms than have earlier statements, indicating that Austria still has considerable forces available to oppose the Serbian invasion. The Servians, however, with the aid of their Montenegrin allies, appear to be more than holding their own.

The most recent word from the Far East describes the Japanese troops as struggling through the flooded district north of Shan Tung peninsula trying to reach Kiao Chow. There is no indication of an early investment of that German stronghold.

The Turkish army is reported from Petrograd to be concentrating on the Bulgarian frontier.

The final attitude of Italy is awaited with intense interest. Demonstrations in favor of the allies at Rome and other places have been suppressed by the military. Meantime Italy is engaged with the serious situation in Albania, where the insurgents

EAST TEXAS FAIR

Timpon, Sept. 30 to October 3rd.

This is the sixth annual East Texas Fair that has been held at Timpon. This is more than an average county fair. Indeed it is a real East Texas Fair. It is now attracting exhibits and patronage from many surrounding counties. The exhibits of this fair are something wonderful in every line—agriculture, live stock, poultry, canned fruit, art a textile departments.

There one can see just as good exhibits, racing and amusements as are to be seen at the state fairs. Some special features of the approaching fair Sept. 30 to Oct. 3rd are an address by the Governor Elect, James E. Ferguson. Sham Battle by the Timpon Military Company, Old Fiddlers Contest, High School athletic contest, splendid racing programs, and two free acts daily. The railroads offering surprisingly low rates from all directions.

The East Texas people deserve a good fair and they are having it. Every East Texan ought to take a day or two off and attend this fair, forgetting for a while the troubles of life and have an all round good time.

Hear Jim Ferguson at the East Texas Fair, Timpon, Sept. 30th.

Cnrg Walters, Ed Buchanan, Dr. Holt and Willis Jones went out on old river, down near Douglass, last Wednesday and had a time. They caught fish and killed squirrels, and also killed a big diamond rattle snake. They say he was a bute. He was near six feet long, had sixteen rattles and a button and weighed xteen pounds.

Jones discovered the reptile while trying to get a shot at a squirrel, and just in time to avoid his terrible strike. The snake was coiled and was darting out his long ugly tongue from his upraised vicious looking dead. Jones stepped back and shot it dead. He brought the rattles and a section of the rattler to show, but he has failed to show the Sentinel. That snake was there ever since the ark left him.

Fighting Kings Related.

Analyze the blood relationships existing between the monarchs of the warring nations of Europe, and the great conflict now in progress becomes strictly a family quarrel, involving particularly the children and grandchildren of the gentle Victoria.

George V of England, William II of Germany and the czarina of Russia are all grandchildren of Victoria. So are the kaiser's brother, Prince Henry of Prussia; the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, the Grand Duke of Hesse, Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein, and the three princes of the house of Battenberg, all of whom are officers in the German army. On the English side is another of Victoria's grandchildren, Prince Arthur of Connaught, who will oppose his cousin, the Kaiser.

Should Norway become involved, another grandchild, Queen Maud, sister of King George, would be brought into the conflict. Greece would add another in the person of Queen Sophia, sister to Kaiser Wilhelm. Spain would add one more, Queen Victoria Eugenie.

Czar Nicholas and his empress are both first cousins of King George, and his whole family has intermarried so thoroughly with the German royal houses that in blood the Romanoffs are as German as is the kaiser. Franz Josef of Austria is connected by many blood ties with the kaiser and the czar, and by both blood and marriage with King Albert of Belgium. France alone, as a republic, has no blood ties with the other nations, though if the Bonaparte and Bourbon pretenders should be counted she would be related to all the other royal families.

Each of the four great emperors at war—George, William, Nicholas and Franz Josef—finds himself now in the position of a soldier fighting against his own regiments and his own commander-in-chief. Each of them bears military rank in the armies and navies of the others. The kaiser is a colonel of the imperial Russian bodyguard, admiral of the Russian fleet, colonel of the First British royal dragoons, and fleet admiral in the English navy. Nicholas is colonel of the Prussian grenadiers of the guard and a German admiral. George is also admiral in the German navy and colonel of the Prussian cuirassiers. Franz Josef holds similar titles in the military establishments of his present enemies.

Austin, Sept. 14.—Governor Colquitt has appended his official signature to the warehouse bill recently passed by the called session and has ordered a number of copies printed for distribution. STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Sudan Grass.

Sudan Grass (Andropogon sorghum) is believed to be the wild form of our cultivated sorghums, and was introduced into this country from the Sudan province of Egypt in 1909. It was first grown in Texas in 1910 at Chillicothe on the Federal Experiment Station at that place by Mr. A. B. Connor who is now assistant Director of the Texas Station. The following year it was grown on the Sub stations of Texas and after various experiments as to the best time of planting, method of planting, and modes of cultivation, it has proved to be one of the best hay producing crops for Texas.

Sudan Grass has been grown on the Nacogdoches Station since 1912 and from the experiments conducted during three years the conclusions arrived at are that it can be made the principal hay crop of the county. When planted in April on a well prepared seed bed three cuttings of hay can be obtained, giving a yield of four to five tons of cured hay for the season as it will continue to grow until frost.

It can be planted as late as June upon land from which an oat crop has been grown and if there are no early killing frosts, two cuttings can be had. This year on the Experiment Station Sudan grass was planted in three different manners and at two different dates. Both plantings however being upon land that had produced a crop of oats the same year. On June 6th one tenth of an acre each were planted in 18-inch and 36-inch rows and broadcasted. On June 26th a similar planting was made.

The broadcast plats were cut last week and the tenth acre planted on June 6th produced 309 pounds or 3090 pounds a little over 1 1/2 tons to the acre, while the plat planted on June 26th produced 800 pounds or 1 1/2 tons of cured hay to the acre. And a second cutting will be obtained from these plats. The plats planted in rows are being held for seed production but in every case where the row plantings have been cut for hay they yield heavier than the broadcasted.

As the farmers of Nacogdoches will have to plant more feed crops this coming season, they cannot do better than to grow Sudan grass as their principal hay crop. All stock will eat it, and in only one case have I known a farmer to say that his stock would not eat it, and that was when he fed sudan grass which had been grown for seed and therefore the stems had become woody and of course his stock ate the peavine hay and left the woody stalks of the over ripe Sudan. I have fed it in all stages on the Station by itself and in every case the stock have eaten it clean.

Sudan Grass has the same feeding value as Timothy hay and is better than either Johnson grass or sorghum on account of having less crude fiber.

Commissioner Kone Corrects His Statements Regarding Oil Mills.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 22.—Commissioner of Agriculture Ed R. Kone gave out the following today:

"Some days ago I published an article advising the farmers of Texas to utilize their cotton seed as fertilizer rather than dispose of it at half the price it commanded last year, that half price being $14 per ton, the then prevailing price. In the body of that article I listed the by-products of cotton seed and their separate value on estimates from an authority I considered expert. Investigation has convinced me that those estimates both as to quality and values, were much overstated, and as I am not willing that any official or private statement of mine shall work an injustice to any man or interest, I state now, in the same public manner, that to the extent indicated the article was not justified and is withdrawn.

"From the analyses furnished me by several chemists of conceded reputation, there being very little and no material variance between them, I find that when the mill man has paid $14 per ton for the seed, and in addition the buying freight, handling and working up cost, and sold the bi-products at the prices I am assured are now the market prices, he has made very little and certainly not an over-profit.

"I do not, however, recede from my advice to the farmer to use his cotton seed as fertilizer as long as the selling price is kept below $20, for it is worth that much in the ground."

To Buy Cotton.

Three prominent business men and capitalists of Nacogdoches, Messrs. John Schmidt, Oscar Mathews and R. L. Hardeman, were in the city last Friday afternoon to take in the business situation and while here Mr. Schmidt gave it out that he had just three million dollars to invest in cotton this fall, and also that he would build a warehouse in Lutkin of sufficient capacity to store 3,000 bales and begin buying here at once. The News knows nothing of the plan further than the above, but it does know that Mr. Schmidt is one of the leading business men and financiers of East Texas who usually carries out his promises and if he enters the Lutkin market he will no doubt pay top prices for cotton right from the start.

All these gentlemen are stock holders in the Nacogdoches Wholesale Grocery Company of this city and Nacogdoches and were probably attracted here by reason of the splendid business done by the Lutkin house and the further advantage of the excellent railroad facilities we have as well as by the new compress which is now about completed and ready for business.—Lutkin News.

A Bad Bull Fight.

Jim Boatman relates an exciting experience that he witnessed yesterday. He and his wife drove out six or eight miles north west of town to visit their daughter, Mrs. Lee Carroll, who with her husband, is living at the home of a Mr. Jim Coats. It was discovered soon that a pet bull had attacked the old man and had him down and was trying hard to gore him. Boatman quickly secured an ax and ran to rescue Coats. As he approached the bull backed away. At first Coats thought he was not much hurt and he arose and walked. His clothes were badly torn by the bull. Later he had to be carried to a doctor.

He was driving the bull from a field where he had entered to another enclosure, when the bull suddenly turned upon him and, he could not escape or defend himself, though he tried every means in his power. He declares that Boatman saved his life.

Joe S. Russel, who has lived a long life in this county, is moving to Jacksonville, today.

W. H. Crouch of San Antonio, formerly a resident and prominent fire insurance man has returned to Nacogdoches to make it his future home and engage in his old line of business and has already secured good companies and is ready for business. He has many friends here from his long residence and fair business dealings with our people.
