Melrose School Notes.

Our School is progressing nicely and still increasing.

Our assistant teacher, Mrs. Stone has been real sick for several days but her part of the school has been successfully carried on by Mr. Colman Risinger.

We believe we have two of the best instructors in Melrose school this year that the state of Texas affords and we also have a number of hard working pupils.

We do not boast of quantity, but of quality, since the beginning of our course our faithful band has increased very fast, we have labored diligently to be a sister school to our fellow communities and to set a good example for those who shall follow in our footsteps.

Our basket ball boys matched a game with Oak Ridge Friday afternoon and after playing with the most profound skill, Melrose won the game by one point. The score being 8 to 9.

We want to thank the community for the courtesy that was shown toward us. We can say that the Oak Ridge community, is one of the most hospitable which Nacogdoches county possesses.

We enjoyed the exercise, rendered Friday evening very much, and each and every one of us feel that we were benefited by the lecture given by Dr. Tucker.

It was a great pleasure for us to attend the party given by Mrs. V. E. Simpson. We, every one, came home feeling as though we were not neglected in the least.

Longer Navy Training

Newport, R. I., Dec. 15.—Beginning today, the period of instruction for apprentice seamen in the United States Navy is extended to six months. The new order of the Navy Department cancels the four months' training period, which was deemed by naval experts totally insufficient for the men to become proficient in the several branches of their work. The new order will increase the number of men permanently stationed here from 900 to approximately 1300.

Denton, Texas, Dec. 10.—The school of missions held in previous years at the College of Industrial Arts has been expanded into a Federated School of Missions in which the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal South, Presbyterian U. S. A., Congregational and Christian churches will participate. The school will have a ten day session at the College in co-operation with the College Faculty beginning June 1st next, and the work will be under four divisions: Bible Home and Foreign Missions, Social Service, and methods of carrying on work in all these.

Mr. Huey, a cotton buyer for Loeb & Co., was in town Tuesday, and has gone back to Natchitoches, La., where he has been living, to bring his wife and two children and also their family belongings. He rented the J. J. Roberts home on North street, and will soon be living there. W. Leome.

City Council Proceedings.

The City Council is holding an important session today. There were several weighty propositions up. First, the resignation of W. E. Weaver, city marshal, was accepted. The appointment of a successor was postponed to consider other matters, but the names of three applicants for appointment as city marshal were presented, namely, C. M. Walters, A. A. Biggs and Jas. R. Buchanan. The graveling of North street was taken under consideration, and there was a popular sentiment favoring a plan that was proposed, both on the part of the council and of the citizens. Several citizens of the best class were present and their opinions were welcomed by the council. The plan proposed is substantially to gravel North street from the city line north to its southern end, in the style recently used on Mound street, which has proven quite satisfactory, and to get subscriptions from the residents of this street, the expense to be $600 a running foot, or 15cts. a foot for each property owners frontage, the city to undertake to do the work if the subscriptions were satisfactory. This plan is on conditions of adequate general participation and aid and was adapted.

Later — The council appointed Capt. John S. Doughtie as city marshal. Capt. Doughtie has held this office heretofore. He will make an active and satisfactory officer.

The trouble with a good loser is that he usually gives a continuous performance.

Married — On Saturday Dec. 12, 1914, in the city of Nacogdoches, Texas, by F. D. Huston, J. P., Mr. F. F. Jones to Miss Clyde Simpson. The young couple were accompanied here by relatives and friends, and they returned to their home in the Cove Springs neighborhood.

Finding the Answer.

Here is one from an exchange that we submit to the board of strategy of the council of Sons of Rest, with the hope that they may be able to get the answer:—Jacksonville Progress.

The allies' left is trying to move around the German's right, but the German's right is also moving around the allies' left, says the New York Morning Telegraph. Now if the left of the Germans' right moves around the right of the allies' left, then what is left of the Germans' right must be right where the allies' left. But if the Germans' right left is left right where the allies' left right was right before the allies left then the left is left right where the right was right before the left's right left the right's left.

Isn't that right? Or is it? Take it up in a serious way and devote a whole evening to it some afternoon.—Palestine Herald.

Sold Stock at Sacul.

R. O. Watkins and Thomas Bonner of Tyler, trustee in bankruptcy went to Sacul at at noon, where the latter will sell at public bid the mercantile stock of B. F. Moore, who recently bankrupted. The stock invoiced $7,000. Mr. Moore was one of the leading merchants of Sacul and was also officially connected with the bank at that place, but before going into bankruptcy he resigned from that position. —Jacksonville Progress.

Mystery Surrounds Reported Drowning.

Sheriff Guinn was called to the Neches river again yesterday to make further investigation into the reported drowning there last week of a young man who disappeared while with a party of hunters. Sheriff Guinn was met there by Sheriff Reagan of Cherokee county and others and an investigation made, but absolutely nothing could be learned and no trace of the missing man could be found. Sheriff Guinn says some of the relatives of the dead man suspicion foul play, but that no evidence has been revealed. The disappearance is as much a mystery now as it was when first learned.—Palestine Herald.

Shareholders Meeting.

Notice is hereby given of a meeting of the shareholders of the Commercial Guaranty State Bank to be held on the Second Tuesday in January 1915 same being the 12th day of January, said meeting for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of any other business which may properly come before said meeting. Eugene H. Blount, 4tw3td Vice-President.

Robertson's store at Decoy, 6 miles south of here on the H. E. & W. T. Ry. was burglarized 3nn night. Some groceries were about all that was taken. Sheriff Spradley has strong clues and is hot on trail of two men who apparently are hoboes.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington estimates the total cotton crop of the United States for 1914 at 15,966,000 bales. This is a record breaker.

The garage on North street not far from the court house, is nearing completion. It is spacious and stylish, that is to say it is well adapted to the growth and progress of the automobile interests of this locality.

There is to be a great Immigration Congress held at Washington D. C. on Saturday, Dec. 12, 1914. Many distinguished speakers, and leading business men will be there. It promises to be a prodigious convocation, and is designed to bring prodigious results.

At Orange, New Jersey, fire destroyed eleven large manufacturing buildings the property of the Thos. A. Edison company worth $7,000,000. This is a great public calamity. Mr. Edison said while the fire was raging that he would rebuild in the shortest time possible.

The German Emperor otherwise called Kaiser Wilhelm, was quite ill for several days, but is now reported better. Meantime the war goes on; and so it will do, regardless of persons or events. A peace conference is the only remedy. Fighting cannot decide or end the war. It is impossible.

The Garrison News has been bought by O. M. Gibbs, the founder and former publisher, who announces that he will try to "come back." He is capable and worthy of a strong support from his town and territory. A paper of merit is a public benefactor and should be supported and sustained by the people of its field.

The British navy has pulled off a grand victory over the German navy, and all of the Allies are exultant. Tomorrow the game will probably be of another form. The Germans will be shouting victory. But the war goes bravely on without a jar or jolt. And so the carriage, bloodshed and human woe doesn't even slow up. The whole world suffers from it.

The Sentinel, and other newspapers are flooded with all kinds of windy essays, many of them sensible and scientific, and nearly all of them lengthy, and often their publication is earnestly requested. They may be about the financial condition of the government, or statistics of industries, with arguments extensive, or theological or political essays of high order, or this or that great educational institution, but not suitable for a small newspaper. The reports of neighboring country schools or social functions and ordinary local events, are better suited for such purposes. Magazines and big papers are more latitudinous.

Governor Pardons Noted Convict Below is an item that comes home to Nacogdoches, as well as to Longview and all Texas. The bank robbery referred to was a day time record breaker. The Dalton gang was a terror, and in this instance they killed a cashier and another man, and wounded several, one of the wounded being our well known citizen, Mat S. Muckleroy who was at the time city Marshal of Longview, and was shot down with a severe wound in the groin, from a Winchester bullet. There were many shots fired at the robbers by the citizens. It was a hot time indeed. The entire state was shocked. Then followed a chase and search by officers, who finally killed the great leading Dalton, and captured some of his gang. Our present sheriff, A. J. Spradley joined in the pursuit, and came close to the closing death of the leader, which occurred near Ardmore, Okla., then called Indian Territory.

Austin, Dec. 10.—The governor has granted a conditional pardon to Jim Nite, the noted alleged Longview bank robber, who was convicted twenty five years ago and given a life term in the penitentiary on a charge of murder growing out of the robbing of the bank. Nite was a member of the famous Dalton gang which operated in Texas about thirty years ago, Emmet Dalton, one of the surviving members of the gang came to Austin and made a personal plea to Gov. Colquitt for executive clemency. The governor at the time said he would consider the matter. Nite had always maintained his innocence claiming that he was not a participant in the robbery and subsequent murder. He is now 42 years of age and a cripple and said to be a model convict.

To Relieve Jerusalem

Washington, Dec. 10.—The Turkish government, through Ambassador Morgenthau, has signified to the state department its willingness that an expedition be sent to the relief of the people in Jerusalem. The expedition is being organized by Hebrew philanthropic societies in New York which plan to send a ship through the Mediterranean to Palestine.

President Amused.

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Wilson laughed heartily today when a report was brought to his attention that Senator William Arden Smith of Michigan had said the evacuation of Vera Cruz was caused by an ultimatum from General Carranza giving the United States twenty-four hours to withdraw American troops. The president said that it was useless to comment on the report.

The Shreveport Journal gives account of another charming entertainment given by Mrs. Rudolph Latzko to honor Mrs. Francis Cates Ford whose visit there is about to close. A white suede-leather, variety case of daintiest appointment was presented to Mrs. Ford as a remembrance gift.

ON THE FIRING LINE

What it Means to Most Men.

There are many true heroes that have perished in the European war who "never smelled powder," but who succumbed to sickness after hard campaigning — coupled with bad water and lack of food. The sick and debilitated man is as much out of place in his struggle for life and existence as he would be on the firing line. On the other hand the strong, vigorous man, his veins filled with rich, red blood, has an enormous advantage in whatever position he may be tated to occupy, in war or business.

The prompt and certain action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in driving all harmful germs and impurities from the blood, sets in motion the repair process which works actively on the disease membrane where Catarrh flourishes unchecked or where the skin gives warning of the bad blood beneath by showing pimples and boils, also the skin clears up and becomes wholesome and ruddy.

Thus by building up a new and perfect covering and carrying out of the system the Catarrh intested matter by way of the blood, liver and kidneys, Catarrh is overcome and permanently conquered.

There is not a drop of alcohol or any narcotic in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but in this safe vegetable remedy there is a mighty alterative power which by replacing the blood impurities with pure, rich blood, not only ends Catarrhal conditions wherever located, but vitalizes the kidneys, stomach, liver, bowels and every organ of the body. People who suffer humiliation and mental misery because of Pimples, Skin rash, Blotches, Eruptions, Boils, Carbuncles, are especially benefited. It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper. Send for free book on the blood to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Hebrew Governor

Idaho will have the distinction next year of being the only State in the Union to have a Hebrew governor.

Mr. Moses Alexander, who won by an overwhelming plurality at the recent election, was born of poor parents immigrants from Europe, and had scant schooling in childhood. As a boy he started to work his way up in the world, and, despite his early handicaps, he has succeeded wonderfully.

Twice chosen mayor of Boise, he enjoys the reputation of having given that city the best administration it ever had.

Many Hebrews have attained positions of high honor in this land of opportunity, which they have filled with credit to themselves and to their race, but Mr. Moses Alexander, it is said, is the first one to be elected governor of an American State.

Crop Rotation. My last letter was on the necessity of diversification, but in order to diversify so that you can build up the fertility of your soil, as well as increase the money returns per acre, it is necessary to carry on a crop rotation. Rotation means two things: "turning around" and "a series of appropriate crops." Therefore our farmers must turn around or rather away from their old method of one system farming and plant a series of appropriate crops in order to practice crop rotation on their farms.

It would not be good farm management in this portion of Texas where on account of the large number of crops grown and the area under cultivation to place the entire farm under one rotation, such as is seen on the Northern farms where smaller bodies of land are tilled, such as in Ohio where in the Southern part, you will see the entire farm under a rotation consisting of tobacco, wheat, corn, and clover. We can therefore divide our farms into several rotations, but as my space is limited will only speak of one in this letter.

A good three year rotation is cotton, corn, cowpeas, the cowpea vines to be plowed under. This would give you a legume every third year which, on account of the nitrogen stored up in its stems and leaves, would it plowed under increase the fertility of your soil upon which this rotation is planted. This is a simple rotation, and one which all of our farmers can follow. This rotation can be enlarged upon by planting what we call catch or soiling crops. What I mean is this: After you have picked your cotton instead of turning in the stock to eat what few leaves and immature bolls are left besides, leaving the stalks upon the land until spring, as most of our farmers do, plow them under deep, for this is the time to plow deep, and sow your land in rye, this will give you a winter pasture for your stock, and they will relish it more than corn or cotton stalks. In February plow it under and prepare your land for your main crop of corn plant peas in your corn and after you have harvested this crop plow under your peas and corn stalks and sow your land in fall oats which you will cut the following May, then plow under your stubble and plant cowpeas for seed, for which there is a ready market, as your summer crop and after picking off the peas plow under the vines.

This system of farming may mean a little more work than what you have done in the past on your farms, but the time is here when you must farm in an intelligent way, not only to make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, but also in such a manner that the labor and capital you put into your farm not only be permanent investment but the running expenses. Also bear you a profit above a mere living.

If your farm does not do this, then something is wrong and the sooner you change

Society Columns.

The following clipping was found in an abandoned drawer in the desk of the editor, and is a reply to an editorial in another paper rejecting the request to publish society news.

Baseball and football and other fun and pleasures are to be added to the clip. The name of the paper not known. "Life isn't all strive and strain any more than it is wholly beer and skittles. The society column should not be catalogued as one of the frivolities that hold men and women (mostly women) in the thrall of things of no account. Society is a part of our lives, just as books and newspapers and firecrackers and dolls and dominoes are. It is not a sign of weakness or an evidence of uselessness for a woman to want to put on a becoming dress and go somewhere to be among other women of similar tastes and in similar clothes. It is not necessarily a mollicoddled man who likes to don an open-faced vest, adorn his neck with a white lawn tie and hie him forth to meet other men so outrigged. And if the men and the women meet together and dance or play cards or eat salad and listen to music from behind near palms and call it society, what's the harm? Why not put in a society column and tell about the social diversions and relaxations of your townspeople? These things are not less worthy than many other things you (and we) print with eagerness. Many an editor has given a column to a political meeting at which twenty people were present and two inches to a social function in which two hundred participated."

I pity the man who can travel from Dan to Beersheba and say, "Tis, all barren!" And so it is, and so is all the world, to him who will not cultivate the fruits it offers. Sterne.

World Interested.

Under the above heading the Galveston Tribune of the 10th inst. has a leading editorial that is superb. The pith of it is given in the opening sentence, thus:

It now develops that the disinterested nations of the world — supposedly disinterested as to the European war — are really interested, after all, and the presumption that the balance of the world had nothing more to do than sit in the grandstand and watch the game go on is after all a tremendous fallacy.

Then follows a most forcible statement of the many ways in which the great European war is hurtful to every part of the world. One way mentioned is the dragging of other nations into the war, nations who prefer to stay out, and then still other nations who hold off, are imposed upon by the ravages of the participants.

It may be compared to the disturbance of any local town or community by a personal fight or tend of two or more individuals. It is against the peace and dignity of the world. It disturbs the peace. It obstructs the pursuits and wishes of non participants, over the entire world.

On Tuesday there assembled in the city of Washington representatives of twenty nations comprising the three Americas for consideration of neutrality and protesting against violations of neutrality by trespassing warring nations. But this will not wholly succeed. Nor does this prevent injury to the innocent in ways too numerous to recite. And these injuries are not considered of any consequence by the nations in the war. Shall we tamely submit to all of these wrongs? It seems hard that violators of the public peace and liberty can not be restrained, as is the case in private conflicts where the trespassers are arrested and confined.

And again, to think of the trivial and unimportant quibbles that started all this trouble, and how great and inconceivable are the evil consequences to the innocent, as well as to the actors, it appears like a travesty upon principles of honor and humanity, or of right between man and man.

No Dodging This

When the new stamp duties on real estate conveyances go into effect on the first of December it will be of no avail to put down the consideration as nominal, as is now the case in nine out of ten transactions. Uncle Sam is going to get the money he is after, and the amount of stamps on a conveyance will tell substantially what the real consideration is. The new tax law is going to have considerable interest for the real estate assessors and the board of revision of taxes.—Philadelphia Press.

Bringing Trade to Texas

From many countries scattered throughout the world the demand for the oil products of Texas comes in ever-increasing volume. Month after month large cargoes of oil in cases, barrels and bulk are shipped to ports throughout the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

Up among the snows, down on the equator, in the miasma districts of Africa, East of Suez throughout the mysterious Oriental countries; back of the Red Sea into Persia and Asia Minor, in the Balkans and other parts of Europe, from Panama to the Magellan Straits, the money starts back to Texas in payment for the manufactured oil products of The Texas Company.

Conducting all its manufacturing in the State of Texas, giving employment to thousands of workers in Texas and support to a score of industries, the growth of The Texas Company in the export field is bringing trade of many millions to this State from the whole world.

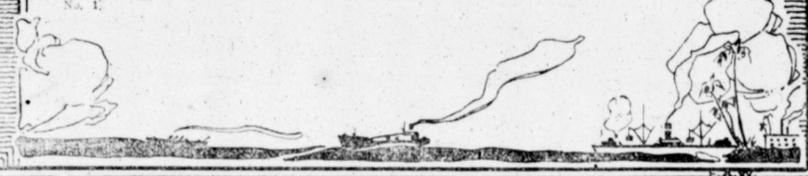

One thing made the growth possible—that one idea established by the founders of The Texas Company and carried out to this day—quality goods and adequate service.

Quality and service are bringing this enormous and rapidly increasing trade to the State. The quality and service which have made the five-pointed star and T emblem of The Texas Company known from the Atlantic Coast of America to the East of China.

You can secure this same quality and service in your town. A Texaco distributing station is at hand, our agent is ready to serve you.

Call on him, quality and service are of value to you as they are to the foreign users of oil. Take advantage of it by ordering from him.

The Main Question.

A man was arrested on the charge of robbing another of his watch and chain. It was claimed that he had thrown a bag over his victim's head, strangled, and robbed him. There was so little evidence, however, that the judge quickly said:

"Discharged!"

The prisoner stood still in the dock, amazed at being given his freedom so soon.

"You're discharged," repeated the judge. "You can go. You're free."

Still no move from the prisoner, who stood staring at the judge.

"Don't you understand? You have been acquitted. Get out!" shouted the judge.

"Well," stammered the man, "do I have to give him back his watch and chain?"

The article in today's issue of the Sentinel, written by Geo. T. McNess, manager of the Nacogdoches Experiment Station is certainly sensible, practical and well fitted to our home farms. It is plain horse sense, without any trills roaches, not book farming, but poor man's land work. There is one very important point that he seems purposefully to avoid, namely, the chemistry of fertilizing soils. Some lands need a very different kind of fertilizer from others. But his legume or peavine manure is a simple and all round good kind.

Santa Claus Employs The Boy Scouts

Times are hard, but Santa Claus does not want a single empty stocking in Nacogdoches City or County this year. The Boy Scouts are to be employed to distribute gifts, so that no poor child or orphan shall be overlooked this Christmas. The people were very generous in helping us to send many bags of good things on the great "Christmas Ship" for the children of Europe, and we are sure no gifts were more beautifully packed and bountifully filled than those shipped by the Boy Scouts of Nacogdoches. But it is now time to help the poor of our own city and county.

Let every Sunday School receive gifts on next Sunday morning for this purpose. That is, let every parent or child who feels disposed to do so, bring a package of nuts, candy or toys to Sunday school next Sunday, where a committee will receive them for distribution. Any business man or firm desiring to contribute can do so through Messrs. John Schmidt, Ben Wilson and Arthur Marshall who will act as our finance committee.

We ask all people who know of orphan children or poor children, either in the city or county, to notify us at once, giving us the name, street address or rural route of said children. Santa Claus will come in person to them Christmas Eve, or through the rural route carriers. Let all good people help.

Reports About The War.

The little information given to the public about the great war in Europe has caused something of a feeling of indifference about the whole thing. The greatest events are slurred over and so mangled in the reports that their meaning and results are lost sight of. So far as interest is concerned a copy of any newspaper two or three days old contains about as much information, and is just as interesting to the average reader, as the copy so lately from the press that the ink is scarcely dry. When the end comes and the grand curtain falls on the last act, the world will know the result and will take far more interest in the situation than it does now. War news a month or six weeks old is scarcely better than no news at all. The monthly magazines have the daily newspapers beaten a mile when it comes to arousing interest in the war.—State Topics.

ekly Sentinel

J. M. A. HALTOM, Proprietor
GILLES M. HALTOM, Manager

C. A. Hotchkiss On Agriculture Editor Sentinel:

I have read in your paper several articles written by Mr. McNess, superintendent of the Experimental Station of this county, which I consider very valuable information to the average farmer of this county. Articles referred to are not only scientific, but good plain common horse sense. I am afraid that a great many farmers are prejudiced against scientific farming and will not heed such advice as has been offered by Mr. McNess and refer to him as a book farmer. If the average farmer would read more book farming they would get out of the old stagnation rut that they have been in for 50 years back. Mr. McNess is not a book farmer but both practical and scientific in his profession. He does not tell you what he read, nor what the other fellow did, but what he has done and is doing today.

The fertility of soil should be preserved, as it is the farmer's bank account. The scientists of today are devoting more attention to intelligent preparation and solid cultivation than ever before in the history of this country; and the business people in every community must assist in weeding out agricultural ignorance and replace it with agricultural intelligence, and we must ask the aid and influence of every intelligent citizen.

Soil culture has been neglected, and it is the duty of the State to place agricultural education within the reach of all its sons. Every business interest depends upon the product of the soil; upon the capital invested.

There are many types of soil in Texas; too many to enumerate or dwell upon here, as time and space will not permit.

Conservation of the fertility of soil means much to the American people. The increase in production is not keeping pace with the increase in population. Unless there is a change in the method of soil cultivation we will soon have no crops for export and our country will hardly supply our own demand for food stuffs. But that such a condition will confront us, I have no fear, for science has at least taken a hand at farming. We have begun to study the laws of nature relating to plant life, seed selection and preparation, crop production, plant foods and a source of supply.

When nature decreed that plants growing out of the ground should furnish food for man and animals, she did not provide a limited supply of plant food in the soil to soon become exhausted. There is no such thing as "worn out land." Soil once fertile becomes unproductive from the way it has been treated, because the productiveness of soil depends entirely upon its physical condition.

Soil may be rich, yet unproductive, because the soil-plant foods are not available. Soil may be devoid of humus or it may be poisoned with excrement from continued one-crop growing. Different types of soil require different treatment to make them productive, and different crops require different amounts of various plant foods, but all soil to produce big yields of fine quality, must afford a warm, moist, hospitable home for the root system of the plant and supply the mineral soil-plant-foods that enter into its development.

Raising big crops is a science based upon the simple laws of nature regarding soil formation, plant foods and the source of supply, conservation of soil moisture and maintaining the proper physical condition of the soil.

No chemists on earth can, by analysis of soil, tell what it will produce. Pot experiments are valuable in the study of plant life but are seldom duplicated in the field.

Fertilizers cause a chemical reaction in the soil, force an unnatural vegetable growth and air stimulants more than plant foods.

Out in the field, under natural conditions, nature beats all the chemical factories on earth making plant food (and all the scientists growing plants), and the agriculturist who studies his soil as a surgeon studies anatomy, and his crops as a physician his patient, will produce quantity and quality combined.

It has been said that the man that makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before, is a public benefactor, but the man who makes two and one-half inch seed beds to accommodate a 12 inch root system can never lay claim to fame as an agriculturist.

If we would maintain the fertility of our soil, then we must know soil. Science tells us that in the beginning the earth's surface was rock; the action of air, rain, heat and cold crumbling the surface of the rock, formed the first soil—rock soil, tiny grains filled with minerals; and the first soil grew tiny, low growing plants, like moss and lichens grow now. The decay of these plants and succeeding generations formed humus, deepening the soil, until higher forms of vegetable life flourished. Virgin soil, then, is disintegrated rock and decayed vegetable matter called humus).

The rock grains contained the mineral elements that constitute the inorganic constituents of soil, the mineral soil-plant foods. Humus is the agency through which bacteria work, and is the source of supply of soil nitrogen. It loosens and lightens the soil and permits the air, rain and sunlight to circulate through it, releasing the mineral elements, and making the plant food available to growing crops.

Thus we know the supply of soil-plant foods, the mineral soil-plant foods, iron, lime, soda, potash, magnesia, aluminum, silica, sulphur phosphorus and chlorine, are derived from the soil itself; air, rain, and sunlight supply carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen, while humus acts as an agent to unlock the elements, make them available and maintain the proper physical condition of the soil.

Nature has supplied in abundance the mineral and soil-plant foods, which while they are very essential, constitute only five per cent of the requirements of plants, while air, rain and sunlight furnish ninety-five per cent.

It would seem, then, that conservation of the fertility of soil means simply that the addition of humus from time to time to maintain a perfect physical condition, and deep plowing occasionally, to bring in contact with nature's forces more soil particles to release and make available the unavailable soil-plant food locked up in nature's storehouse ready for use as required.

Thus a rotation of crops and occasional planting of clover or legumes of some variety for two or three years, then a return to cultivation is most beneficial to the soil in maintaining its fertility, no one will dispute.

In conclusion, I would again urge deep plowing and thorough cultivation—as he soil and its intelligent conservation is the best industrial foundation and banking capital known to the human family.

Birthday Greeting.

Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Branch complimented their nephew, Holland Smith with a most merry evening's entertainment on last Saturday evening. The occasion to honor his 21st birthday, that's a very important date in every young man's life. The guests were the ten young ladies of the Bon Bon club and their escorts. Progressive Bunco was the medium of amusement until refreshment hour, after which some very enjoyable musical numbers from the guests were given. There is some delightful talent among this Levy of youngsters, both vocal and instrumental and this hour afforded an especial pleasure.

The club presented Mr. Smith with a beautiful birthday gift which carried with it a greeting in which it was hoped every annual would add all that could be gained.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 12.—The Colorado Coal strike which has cost the lives of 34 men, women and children, who were either murdered or cremated by the hired assassins of Colorado coal operators is ended.

Two hundred delegates representing eighty-four hundred members of the United Mine Workers of this state met in Denver this week and decided to end the most titanic industrial struggle in the history of the world.

Seven miners acting as a policy committee of the strikers submitted resolutions which were passed by a unanimous vote of the special convention.

This action was taken by the strikers of Colorado because of the action of President Wilson in appointing the Seth Low committee, the grievance commission named in this truce proposal of September 7.

The spirit with which the miners working under contract kept their word of honor in offering to waive the 10 per cent wage increase has been met by most of the smaller operators in announcing that they would continue to pay this wage scale although the terms of the agreement made at Trinidad in September 1913 would absolve them from doing so.

Cincinnati, Dec. 14.—

Friends of the Countess de Chambrun have received letters tolling of her activities in the European war zone. The countess was formerly Miss Clara Longworth, younger sister of Congressman Nicholas Longworth. She was at St. Mihiel with the Count when the war broke out. He was ordered to an outpost, and his daring American wife rode out on horseback each day to see him. When he was ordered to the front, she returned to Paris, where she is now staying with her children and her mother, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. She has on one or two occasions been able to take advantage of some military automobiles to get a quick trip to the front and get a short glimpse of her husband. The Count and his battery have been in the thick of the fighting around St. Mihiel.

Naco Mexico Arizona

The situation in Mexico has become serious, as to the United States, as well as to Mexico. At Naco, a town nearly due west from El Paso, located on the line between Arizona and old Mexico. The two antagonistic Mexican armies, or rather two sections of these factions, are carrying on an endless fight, or big skirmish. These two sections, one being of the constitutionals or Carranza faction, commanded by a general named Hill, and the other by a General Maytorena, (My-toray nah) of Gutierrez or Villa faction are not large but they are fighting, and their bullets, from one force or the other, often cross the line from Mexico to Arizona, and hit or kill people on our side. The Mexican leaders Carranza and Gutierrez have been requested to have it stopped, or else our soldiers will return the fire. These leaders are too far away to handle the case. They wire to the fighters, but the trouble goes on. Uncle Sam has sent his boys there under Gen. Bliss, to inaugurate a more blissful situation. Two bullets from the Mexican side barely missed him in a minute after he landed there. Now, what is to follow? The United States doesn't want trouble. Carranza contends that his side is not guilty. Both of the Mexican factions have been notified to stop it. But their soldiers are not well disciplined and are hard to control.

Need More Help.

This is the cry used in one of the larger dailies for the poor and suffering and should aptly apply to Nacogdoches. There is a large demand from the transient and floating population and the present subscription to the United Charities is only a very small ratio in proportion to the needs. A town of this size could easily support a $500 a month Charity Association Fund if the proper response was given and in turn the Association would easily take care of demands to that amount and relieve the public to that extent it had it. Help support the Charity Association while you can. You may be on the other side of the books some day, you never can tell, then you will feel that you are drawing the interest on the promissory note made them.

Let It Slip and Ruined for Life

What's the matter? Why are you letting this opportunity slip through your fingers? Don't you know that out there in the hustling business world opportunity is calling for trained men and women? How much longer will you stand aside and make excuses? Aren't you afraid that if you "put it off" to another time that something will arise between now and then to prevent you from getting this training?

Stop making excuses and delaying! Invest your hours—invest your powers while you have a chance.

Tick-tock! tick tock! Your chance is slipping by. Use your gifts—develop your latent talents—gain the ambition-arousing, skill creating confidence upbuilding training we stand ready to give you while you have the chance.

You can succeed. Other people—those who are succeeding—nature didn't give them a single extra bone or one more nerve or muscle than you possess. Their success was not a birthright. I came out of efforts—out of action. They used their gifts as you should. They gained a training that developed and broadened and increased their talents—as you should. They took aim at success and fired away until they hit it.

Look around you! Wherever your eye turns you see some man or woman who had no better start than you —with no greater general education or "school learning" than you, but who was wise enough to become especially trained in some one special line and who today is going ahead fast and leaving in the rear those who thought special business training unnecessary.

You must not think of success as a kind of Santa Claus and expect it to drop presents into your stockings while you sleep.

You have the present hour—improve it. We are eager to give you the best, most thorough going training for business as a Stenographer and Bookkeeper, Auditor or an operator.

The best way you can improve this very hour that finds you reading this, is to take the first step towards entering in line with us. That will be your first step towards a great success.

You have made excuses and halted long enough. Your duty to yourself is to come to a decision now. Your best interests dictate a decision favoring an enrollment now. When may we expect you? Write or wire America's largest business training school, with 2000 enrollments this year, if further information is desired. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

The Boy Scouts will have a big parade Christmas Eve about 8 o'clock, which will be followed by the big wagon of Santa Claus filled with good things for the children. This is not considered a charity in any sense, and we hope no child receiving gifts or their parents will regard it as such, but it is an organized effort of Big Brothers to make this the very best Christmas the children of Nacogdoches county ever enjoyed—full of love, good cheer and contentment. Jim, Run This Editorial Tomorrow

THE law-abiding citizens of this city want the privilege of drinking beer—the drink of True Temperance. They are weary of blind tigers, speak-easies, blind pigs, holes in the wall, the off-springs of prohibition.

Prohibition has driven away the material prosperity of the people. It has cut off from this community the revenue derived from decent beer saloons and has increased intemperance. It has largely increased public expense in the vain effort to enforce laws which cannot possibly be enforced. It has added seriously to the burden of taxation. It has depreciated the value of real estate. It has thrown many out of work. It has discouraged investment—capital has learned to shun prohibition localities.

Give the people what they want—the right to drink moderately of beer and practice the teachings of True Temperance. —Advertisement

Bail It Down.

Correspondents are solicited by the Sentinel from all parts and points in the county, who will give news or facts about conditions. But many seem to think that the paper needs material just to fill up space. Wrong there. The views and feelings of the writers are often too lavishly expressed, and communications are objectionably long on words and sentiments, but short on desirable facts and news. The readers taste should be favored, and the writers personal interests suppressed, unless of interest to the readers in general.

Boy Scout Dinner.

The Boy Scouts of Nacogdoches observed their second anniversary by an over-night hike to "Camp Blount" on the beautiful Ahiita where they pitched seven of their big tents Friday night, preparatory for the turkey roast and dinner on Saturday. Roasting pits were fixed for fifteen big turkeys, the large dining tent was tastefully decorated with holly and smilax, and the scouts had arranged for many stunts to entertain the invited guests. Much to the regret of all the rain came on and kept many friends away, but this did not detract from the quality of the feast which was enjoyed by about one hundred people. The boys and their officers were delighted when several lady experts declared that the barbecued turkey was the most delicious they ever ate. The Scouts desire to thank each and all, guests and friends, yes, and the colored man who helped to make this feast in the woods a grand success.

REAPING BENEFIT

From The Experience of Nacogdoches People

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterance of Nacogdoches residents on the following subject will interest and benefit many of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. H. M. Reid, 412 S. North St., Nacogdoches, says: "I suffered from severe pains in the small of my back. At times I was unable to sleep. I got no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Switt Bros. & Smith's Drug Store. They made a permanent cure."

Oceans of Blood.

The war proceeds and Europe bleeds, she's reeling and exhausted; and kings, I feel, find martial zeal already badly frosted. They look around, and on the ground they see a million bodies, and war's a thing, no more, to sing, or toast in foaming toddies. The dullest prince must shrink and wince, when fairly he considers the woe and pain, the heaps of slain, the fatherless, the widowers. And in his dreams he must, meseems, behold the spectres gory of those who gave all for a grave on some red "field of glory." I'd hate, by jing, to be a king, a sultan, czar or Kaiser, and see the ghosts of butchered hosts along the Aisne and Yser. They may exclaim, "We're not to blame, we're meek as any kitten," but they must bear the curse and wear the same when all is written. No use for prince his words to mince, and say "It's not my doing," until he croaks the spectre folks his steps will be pursuing. And when he lands on Jordan's sands, the ghosts will gather round him, the men he slew, an awful crew, to startle and contound him.—Walt Mason.

A man moved to a certain town. - It was not his first move, and he knew what curiosity seizes upon a neighborhood when a strange family moves in. So he posted thign on his lawn, that all might read:

"My name is Piffon Wombat.

This is my first wife. We got along together pretty well.

My income is $900 per year.

My wife makes her own clothes.

She has never left me. The piano is nearly paid for."

Some of the neighbors think this man is a plain nut, but others claim that he's a public benefactor, considering all the trouble he has saved the local gossips.—Exchange.

East Texas Iron and Foundries.

Nacogdoches County has large fields of iron ore. None of this is being utilized. It was used during the civil war in a foundry at home for farming implements, and could be used now, by proper agencies.

Longview has an iron factory that is turning out andirons and grates that are being sold on the home market and are proving to be all right. Jacksonville could have a similar factory which could supply the people with home-made articles the same as does the one at Longview.

Signs And Tokens

The autumn days will soon be over, the winter tempests soon will roar; among the flowers and in the clover the busy bees are seen no more. Out in the woods the nuts are dropping; the coal is poured in yawning bins; and we should haste to do our shopping before the Christmas rush begins. Across the seas the cannon thunder, Death's harp, is playing a mighty crop; today we see one army under, tomorrow it may be on top. But here at home no shells are popping, there is no struggle, born of hate, and we can do our Christmas shopping before it is too doggone late. In Mexico all things seem quiet, but quiet there's a thing of doubt, for any hour may bring a riot, to turn the country inside out. The generals are always swapping their threats of death, with ugly leer, but we may do our early shopping, and none will dare to intertere. The fall is with us gentle reader, the crops are garnered on the farm, the turkey hunts the highest cedar, the goose is viewing with alarm; the football coach is wildly hopping, his victims hear him rant and rate; and we should do our Christmas shopping before it is too all fired late.

Walt Mason

Well Said

The Houston Chronicle closes a very comprehensive, concise and complimentary comment upon president Wilson's message to the present congress as follows:

On the whole, his message constituted a very clear review of the greater general needs of the nation, and its suggestions, while based on defects, convey the impression that the president is very optimistic as to the outlook for industrial development, provided the proper means are adopted.

You can't use cuss words in polite society, but you can always substitute a cursory glance.

Thanking the New papers.

One of the Brenham pastors in winding up his final sermon of the conference year, thanked the choir, the choir leader, organist, ushers, sexton, towards, congregation and others for their kindnesses toward him. Then being a man who believes in flowers for the living, he thanked the local newspaper for its kindness in throwing open its columns to the churches.

The deed was so rare in human history, so fraught with the untorsen and unordained order of things that one of the Banner-Press men in a near front seat had to paw the air for breath. It staggered him, for it was the first time in over twenty years that he had heard a pastor or other public man rise in public and tender thanks to the newspaper.

Far too many regard the newspaper as a public servant to be ridden, poorly fed and unclothed, and they look upon it as a personal affront if the newspaper wants fair credit for its work. The his own congregation and by everyone else with whom he comes in contact. He not only preaches the gospel of repentance and the hereafter, but he lays much stress on the doctrine of credit where credit is due and flowers, for the living.

His name is Emil E. Schueiser, and he is pastor of the German Methodist church. When his work on earth is finished and he joins the innumerable caravan that moves, a golden crown will be ready for him that he gave a newspaper just credit and thereby broke all former world records.—Brenham Banner.

A meeting of special importance is to be held in Lufkin tomorrow afternoon on the occasion of a "Safety First" convention of the employees of the Sunset-Central, East & West Lines. Those in attendance will include engineers, firemen, conductors, agents and operators of the Houston, East & West Texas and the general officials of the Sunset-Central system, as well as representatives from the operating departments of connecting lines.

In addition to a discussion of the "Safety First" principles, this meeting is intended as a promoter of better acquaintance between the employees and the officials and among the employees themselves.

Lufkin is the central point on the Houston, East & West Texas line between Houston and Shreveport and it is only a matter of a short time until this road is going to develop into one of the most important lines of the entire Southern Pacific system. In fact it is said to be one of the best now from a revenue producing standpoint, and as the country grows and develops the road will develop also until it will be one of the best equipped of the system. There are many of us here today who have watched it grow from a dinky little narrow gauge to its present proportions and still it grows.—Lufkin.

Man Missing.

Alton Melton, of Maydelle, Anderson county, went a hunting with three other young men near the crossing of the state railroad on the Neches river, and failed to show up at camp at night, and can not be found. The sheriffs of Anderson and Cherokee counties and hundreds of people are searching for him. It is a very mysterious occurrence.

The case, which has been on trial in district court part of last and the greater portion of this week, was brought to a close Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock when it was turned over to the jury. It is a case that has caused considerable interest, as evidenced by the large crowd in attendance throughout the trial, and the speeches of the opposing counsel made the closing day, were sufficient attraction to draw a crowd among which were a number of ladies, that taxed the court room to its capacity. King and Strong represented Mrs. Parsons while J. T. Garrison of Houston and Messrs. Moothoot & Collins represented the railroad, and the speeches made by the attorneys engaged were such as to justify the expectations of all present. The arguments of all were strong and forcible, especially that of Attorney King, whose summing up of the case and arraignment of the railroad company was masterly and caustic to a degree.—Lufkin News.

To raise money to pay debts falling due, I have decided to again cut my prices.

Every article in the house will go at from 5 to 50 per cent below our former sale price. If you wish to save money it will pay you to call and investigate.

Did you read your thermometer this morning? One man said his was down to 18 which he said is two degrees lower this morning than it was yesterday morning. Another man said his was just the same both mornings at 7 o'clock, 21. Any way, we have surely had two very cold mornings for this town, where the temperature seldom falls below 20.

Mrs. Arthur Marshall had the Friday Bridge Club meet with her Friday afternoon. Miss Leah Zeve made high-st honors. Mrs. A. A. Nelson, Mrs. A. H. Smith and Mrs. Chas. Williams supplemented for the absent members. Mrs. Marshall treated the players to a lovely refreshment course after several very interesting games were played.
