If the average man would only keep a well-controlled mouth the rest of his faults might be endured without unusual difficulty.—New York World.

Many people from the country districts and from neighboring towns have been in the city today, coming in to hear the arguments of the attorneys in the Murchison trial.

MRS. MURCHISON WAS ACQUITTED

Jury Brought in a Verdict of Acquittal This Morning and the Lady Was Turned Loose.

From Tuesday's Daily:

One of the most interesting trials in the history of East Texas was brought to a close this morning when the jury in the case of Mrs. Murchison brought in a verdict of acquittal.

Newspaper readers of this section are familiar with the history of the case. Mrs. Murchison was charged with murdering her husband at Lufkin some months ago, and the case was brought to this city on a change of venue.

There were no eye-witnesses to the killing, and the defense set up the plea that he either accidentally killed himself, or deliberately committed suicide. The facts were as vague or indefinite in one theory as the other, through which much doubt was originated in every feature offered, and the defendant was righteously given the benefit of the doubt.

After the verdict was read, Mrs. Murchison thanked the jury, and assured them that now she was free from further prosecution she wished to again make the statement that she was innocent of the murder of her husband. She also spoke in terms of great endearment throughout the trial has never

Do You Like Your Wagon

Ask an OWENSBORO WAGON user this question and see what he says. There is a reason for any man liking an OWENSBORO. They run light; are built right and are right. Built from the very best timber, iron and paint and put together in a workmanlike way is the reason why OWENSBORO WAGONS run lighter and last longer than other wagons.

Every man using an OWENSBORO is pleased with his wagon. You'll be pleased, too, if you buy one of these wagons from us.

THE OWENSBORO has many special features that will interest you. Come in and talk wagon to us. We want you to see our wagons and learn what they are made from and how they are made. Just come in and say that you want to look at a wagon. You do not have to buy unless we can please you.

attempted to serve her own interests at the expense of the reputation of her deceased husband, a feature that has within itself won much sympathy and admiration for her.

The trial was one of the most closely contested legal battles ever witnessed in East Texas, and for some days past many people have suspended their business to attend the trial—not only at this place, but from many other places as well. Yesterday some admiring friends prepared and sent to her a beautiful floral offering, but the court would not allow the exhibit in the court room for the reason that he felt the effect would have bearing in the trial.

All of yesterday was consumed with arguments in the case, and the court room was indeed "a feast of reason and flow of soul." The speakers summoned all the eloquence, logic and reason at their command, and it was indeed a battle royal with them.

Now that the trial is over, and a jury of twelve good citizens of the county, who heard every fragment of evidence that was introduced in the trial, better enabling them to arrive at a verdict, fair-minded people will cease discussing it, and extend to the unfortunate lady the sympathy that is due one who has passed through the great ordeal to which she was subjected.

A BOX SUPPER AT OAK FLAT

The Sentinel is requested to give notice that a box supper and an entertainment will be given at Oak Flat school house Saturday night, Nov. 6, to which everybody is invited to come and bring a box. If you can't carry a box, others will have one for you.

A happy occasion is promised.

COUNTY COURT JURY LIST. MRS. J. P. CHAPMAN WITH THE DEAD.

Jurors to be and appear Nov. 15: Turner King, Douglas; B. D. Caldwell and H. M. Prince, Garrison; Ben Grimes, Douglas; J. W. Pitts, Harmony; S. M. Lucas, Nacogdoches; T. Simmons, Appleby; Ben Williams and C. P. Long, Garrison; Q. D. Jarrell, Nat; W. H. Williamson, Garrison; Dock Chancellor, Sacul; George Lowery, Etoile; C. A. Trawick, Nat.

Second Week.

Jurors to be and appear Nov. 22: L. M. Bruer, Nacogdoches; Lutner Whitaker, Cushing; W. J. Crossland, Nacogdoches; L. C. Bailey, Nacogdoches; L. M. Cook, Cushing; G. L. Barnhart, Nat; Thomas Self, Gilbert; J. J. Frederick and G. J. Grimes, Nacogdoches; L. J. Chisum, Woden; Luke Lucas, Sacul; T. E. Burgess, Nacogdoches.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Licenses to wed have been issued to the following parties since last report, one week ago, in this paper:

O. C. Stuart to Della Pickard. J. W. Sherod to Mrs. Ida Ragsdale.

E. E. McCormack to Miriam Satterwhite.

D. H. McMillan to Leita McCormack.

H. B. Lee to Annie Knous.

Walter Tarver to Estelle Scogin.

John B. Dorsey to Loreen Carriker.

J. A. Sealbach to Annie Halbrook.

Maurice Kahn to Madelyne Belle Zeve.

Elihu Petty to Mattie McGill.

Horace Moss to Lonnie Garrett (colored.)

O. L. Collins to Ilie Blankenship.

Elza Whitaker to Emma Holman (colored.)

Ralph Griffith to Mrs. Willie Lambert.

Mrs. J. P. Chapman, a sainted old lady of the county, died at the home of her son-in-law, A. J. Chism, at Woden last night, and her remains will be laid to rest in the cemetery at Jacobs' Chapel this afternoon.

Mrs. Chapman was about 76 years of age, and is survived by five grandchildren, her husband and only child having preceded her to the grave. She united with the Methodist church early in life, in which she lived a consecrated Christian life, and was loved and admired by all who knew her.

Mrs. Chapman was a native of the county, and died at the place where she was reared. With the exception of about four years which she spent in Angelina county, she spent her whole life in this county, and is well known to all the older settlers.

JUDGE TOM DIES

WAS A VISITOR

Nacogdoches had a distinguished visitor today in the person of Hon. Tom Dies, a prominent attorney of Beaumont.

Mr. Dies claims the distinction of being the one private of his family, having no political ambition, and taking but little interest in political matters. He was elected county judge once, which he filled with ability awhile, but tired of it and resigned, returning to the practice of his profession. He was attracted to the city on a business mission, and left this afternoon.

G. H. King visited Caro, Cushing and other places in the western part of the county yesterday, and is loud in praise of the excellent roads he found in that section. Mr. McMillan has been in that section for some time, which explains it all.

A "Journal Extra" says that "defacto is better than defuncto." Unfortunately, both conditions prevail with the object for which the little dart was inspired.

The Sentinel acknowledges with grateful appreciation season ticket for editor and lady to the Southeast Texas fair to be held at Beaumont.

When the weather makes you feel like getting into warmer clothes, remember the merchants and tailors who advertise in The Sentinel. They are inviting your trade and will treat you right.

Victor Hugo is accredited with saying that "in the presence of danger the beetle feigns death, the porcupine raises its quills and the guard forms a square." To which an exchange adds that the "Russians run."

With this, the close of another week, The Sentinel is in a pretty good humor, and will enter upon a new week bright and early Monday morning to make it just a little better if possible.

The cause of woman suffrage was given a setback in New Jersey a day or two ago when the proposition was defeated in the ballot box by a vote of about 55,000. But the women announce they will not give up the fight, and plans are already under way to stir the state.

The Sentinel greatly appreciates the many pretty compliments that are being showered upon it by both the brethren of the press and the people it is serving. These "flowers for the living" encourage and inspire one along the way, and it is the height of our ambition to make good all confidence reposed in us.

A business man, a firm or a corporation would not sell an enterprise or dispose of an investment with which he would have reasonably good hope of realizing 20 or 25 per cent on the money invested. The logic of the same reasoning would operate against the sale of the light plant if further investigation proves what now seems a reality.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel now has its new linotype machine in operation, and that, with the assistance of a new editor, has greatly improved the appearance of the paper. The Sentinel enjoys the distinction of being the oldest small town daily in East Texas, and the News is indeed glad to note the improvement.—Lufkin News.

"Every bitter has its sweet." While those Lufkin people were detained in Nacogdoches in attendance upon the court trial which was sent up from that place, they had the pleasure of spending a few days in the best town in East Texas. Some of 'em wouldn't recognize and admit the fact while here, but then some people are not so quick of comprehension, you know.

W. B. Lanham, horticulturist of the extension department of the A. & M. college, says the turpentine louse may be controlled by spraying with a mixture of one pound of ordinary laundry soap dissolved in seven gallons of hot water. This spray must actually touch the insect to be effective and as they are on the bottom of the leaf it is necessary to use a crook on the spray nozzle. These crooks may be obtained of dealers. Do the spraying carefully and repeat as often as necessary.

Our neighbor makes the "blow," penned with the fine Italian hand, that he will not accept whisky advertising. Neither do we admire this class of advertising and shall get away from it at the earliest possible moment—but there are two sides to this question. The merchant sells his goods to the saloon man, the drunkard and the gambler, prostitute and people from all walks of life, and the people from the purer and higher walks come in contact with them in making their purchases. People of different social and moral equal very often attend the same church, and sometimes actually hold membership together. The same is true with the schools and every avenue and feature of life, and by the logic of the neighbor's reasoning he will be the "goat" and roam a pasture of his own. In the meantime, remember that the "other fellow," discovered in your Italian library, is on the job.

In a Connecticut town last week a Mr. Findley ran for school trustee on the Democratic ticket, and his wife was a candidate for school trustee on the Republican ticket. Two trustees were to be elected, and, by some sort of manipulation, both Mr. and Mrs. Findley were elected, though there were several other candidates. Herein lies one of the dangers of making woman eligible to office. A man and his wife may pool issues, line up the kin on both sides, and pull the best offices into one family.—Honey Grove Signal.

The writer was at a country picnic near his old home recently when the wife of a neighbor called attention to her biscuits by remarking: "They are not so pretty and white as those made from bought flour, but I am prouder of them because we raised the wheat on our own farm." It is this sort of pride that will help get the South out of its slavish dependence on Western granaries, corncribs and smokehouses. Wheat cannot be profitably grown all over the South, but where it can be, it should be raised.—The Progressive Farmer.

With its railroad facilities, giving an outlet to every direction, with its industries of different kinds, ranging from small concerns to very large enterprises, with its good banking facilities, its fine schools, churches, patriotic, sociable, progressive people, and the substantial construction of the town along all lines, old Nacogdoches is getting ready to go forward in a manner that will make the country sit up and take notice. This immediate section of East Texas must have a city of metropolitan proportions of its own, and old Nacogdoches is on the way.

We are balled up again. It's getting harder and harder as the days pass by for a plain unassuming citizen to keep knowledge of simple, ordinary things on straight. A Brooklyn judge has declared that the tomato is a fruit, when we've always thought it was a vegetable. The Temple Telegram says the peanut is not a nut but a pea. State Press says it's neither a nut nor a pea, but an invention of his grandfather. We are daily expecting some high-browed, cloistered agriculturist to come forth with the declaration that the cabbage is not a cabbage at all but a rose of rare and ancient vintage.—Mineral Wells Index.

The speed limit for automobiles is six miles on the public square, twelve miles inside the corporate limits elsewhere about the city, and eighteen miles over public roads. These laws were fixed for the protection of human life, and if there is any law which should be rigidly enforced it would seem to us that this would engage first attention. By this statement we do not mean to indicate any gross violation of the law in this city, but, to the contrary, believe the ordinance is reasonably well enforced here, but as a caution to any who might neglect observance. Rightly used, the automobile is a great blessing, and every man who is able to own one should have it—but don't forget the slogan: "Safety first."

"In the world's broad field of battle, in the bivouac of life, be not like the dumb driven cattle—be a hero in the strife." But this being a hero is nothing like going to heaven on flowery beds of ease. In fact, it is hardly as comfortable as riding in a Ford car. It is not the act of jumping into trouble, but the happy tact of making the wrong right when encountering obstacles. A hero is the fellow who gives to the world his very service without blowing a horn about it or seeking the sensational, he who can master the problems as they come without weakening in nerve or being impressed by the wrong environment—it is a man who can stand up and be brave when his comrades shudder and fall. Therefore, we say, a hero is a real man who gives more to the world than he receives in return and does it without becoming a complaining pessimist who is continually seeking rewards from Carnegie.—Center Daily Optimist.

RURAL THRIFT NEED ED AS WELL AS CREDITS

We need a better system of rural credits in the South—no body believes that more emphatically than the Progressive Farmer which has so often pointed out the iniquity of usury and "time-prices"—but let's also be honest with ourselves and acknowledge that there is great need for rural thrift as well as rural credits. Here are two big facts to emphasize:

1. We must get the saving habit. "It seems to be a failing of Southerners," as Dr. Knapp used to say, "to let money run through their fingers without letting any of it stick." And it's so. We simply haven't got the good, old-fashioned much-needed New England virtue of saving and of being downright ashamed of ourselves if we wind up the year without having saved something—even if it's only a quarter. The amount is not so important as the habit. In Massachusetts everybody saves. They even have school savings banks operated in connection with the public schools and in three years time 1,400,000 deposits have been made in this way. The child is taught to save along with the multiplication table and the "Now I lay me down to sleep," and when he is old he doesn't depart from it. Massachusetts hasn't but 3,300,000 people, including men, women, children and infants in arms, but 2,250,000 of them have deposits in savings banks—nearly everybody old enough know a quarter from a dime it seems. There are five times as many savings banks depositors in that state as there are in all the twelve states of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana combined.

2. We must avoid buying "on time." This has been the bane of the South—the mother of poverty. Now and then somebody says that we need "easier credit." We don't need anything of the kind. We need cheaper credit, but in the matter of buying it ought to be harder rather than easier to get. It's because it's so easy to get—it's because our damnable crop-lien laws have made it so easy for a man to gamble on the future hopes of himself, his wife and little ones—that we are as poor as we are. Men who swear that 8 per cent interest is too high, go right ahead and pay 40 to 30 per cent interest in the form of "time-prices." And the pathos of it, as one writer years ago said, is that these slaves of the credit system are all the time "within just one year of freedom." They are just one year behind.

May we not then appeal to every debt-slave in the South to make just one superhuman effort for a year to get out? A man had better live on cowpeas, molasses, mush and sweet potatoes one season, get on the cash basis once for all, and be a free man ever after.

Let's make a fight for rural thrift and rural credits both at the same time.—The Progressive Farmer.

TEXAS FARMER THE FATHER OF 27

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 22.—John Autry, living near Smithfield, is one Tarrant county farmer who does not consider that the farmer is downtrodden and abused and was telling at the court house Thursday what he had done with 100 acres of sandy land in the cross timber section. Autry is the father of 27 children, 22 of them still living. His first wife died several years ago and he married a widow with five children, whom he has added to his own large brood.

In addition to rearing and caring for this family, Autry has accumulated about $18,000, solely as a result of his work on the farm, much of which he is now lending out to other farmers of the same community, who have what are supposed to be just as good farms, but have not the faculty of getting as much out of them.

After all it is admitted that the best way to get up in the morning is to get up slowly, yawning and stretching as much as you desire. This is a consoling thought to the one who has been urged to jump like a jack-in-the-box and bat right out into the day's work.—Temple Telegram.

A face of sanctity is not necessarily a face of fidelity or consecration. "By their works ye shall know them."

OVERALL EDUCATION.

For years, both inside and outside of pedagogical circles, the belief has been growing that there is something basically wrong with the American common school system. It seemed to be increasingly losing touch with life. The continuous experimentation with what have been ridiculed as "fads" represented a reaching out for improvement.

At last the public seems to have succeeded in placing its feet on the proper path. A big idea is at work. President Churchill of the New York school board expressed it yesterday at the opening of the vocational training exposition when he said that the day of overalls in schools had arrived—that it is time to cease concerning ourselves exclusively with the neat necktie and the starched collar. Pupils must be prepared for the lives they are to lead—must be fitted in some degree for the things they are to do.

The change in the curriculum through the addition of new things is a consequence of profound changes in social conditions. Time was when knowledge of reading and writing and primary arithmetic was utilitarian and vocational. The boys and girls soundly equipped with these rudiments had an advantage over their fellows. The enthusiasm for the common school was not wholly born of love for intellectual things. Parents felt that their offspring would have a better chance. But with primary education practically universal the common school does not return the practical dividends once it did. It is what a boy or girl can do in addition to reading and writing and figuring that counts. To give the common schools of the future the utilitarian value of the common schools of the past it is necessary to introduce what is called the vocational element. Besides the old instruction every child must have new training.

Another great change is the rise in dignity and profitability of manual labor. The artisan no longer envies the clerk. A good trade brings better return than office labor. Overalls less and less regard the starched collar as symbol of superiority. Intelligent parents want their children to improve their condition by knowledge of mechanic arts. The boys and girls of the future not given special training will not have a fair chance or start in life.

Let no one worry over the setting up of a utilitarian educational ideal, with a minimization of the intellectual and moral contents. The three R's are in no way to be abandoned. No door is to be shut that leads to general knowledge. It has been demonstrated that pupils can get the old education while getting the new. A boy or girl who makes something becomes "educated" in the progress. The boy or girl who reads plans or "figures a job" does not scoff at reading or despise the multiplication table. In the experimental schools trials have shown that pupils who carry vocational work easily keep up in the common branches with the pupils of non-vocational schools.

It is a big policy on which New York city is embarking. The biggest thing in an educational way that has happened since the common schools were established.—New York Globe.

We believe in the public schools as preparatory schools for college, but we do not think that these schools should train their pupils only for college entrance.

They should give more emphasis to things that are practical and more emphasis in some subjects at least to methods of study and research, so that the foundation will be laid for more advanced work in college or independently in later years. These schools need thoroughly well prepared teachers who have had enough experience to enable them to make their work vital in the minds of the students.

The teachers should be strong in character and training and practical application, all three.—R. A. Pierson.

The Sentinel added six new subscribers to its weekly edition and several to the daily list at noon today—parties from different places who dropped into the office. But such occurrences are not unusual with The Sentinel now; it is delivering the "goods" in progressive newspaper making, and is its own commendation to the reading public.

BOARD OF REGENTS ELECT PRESIDENT

Much interest centers around the selection of a permanent president for the University of Texas at the meeting of the board of regents on Oct. 26. Much conjecture is being made about whether Dr. W. J. Battle will be appointed permanent president or whether this appointment will be rejected.

Some time ago considerable argument resulted because Dr. Battle wanted to consolidate all the funds of the university and let the board of regents have control of the spending of this money. Not only did the comptroller become embroiled in the row but before long Gov. Ferguson began to take part in it. Gov. Ferguson has already announced his objection to the re-election of Dr. Battle.

Before Dr. Battle went on his summer vacation it was understood that he had a majority of the board of regents pledged to his support for the presidency of the institution. Whether events that transpired when he left Austin will have any effect on the membership of the board is not known.

Should Dr. Battle be named as the permanent president, the action of Gov. Ferguson will be awaited with interest. It might result in several of the regents resigning from the board, and should this be the case it is known that Gov. Ferguson would appoint men who would not be favorable toward Dr. Battle.—Austin American.

THE EDITOR'S CREED.

To be humbled by the responsibility rather than exalted by the power of the printed word. To seek the truth diligently and write it simply. To hold his pen to a strict account for intemperance and exaggeration. To judge no man nor speak ill of him unless by doing so, comes greater good. To speak plainly about public evils without fear. To keep an open heart for the needs of those who toil and an ear ready to the cry of the unfortunate. To visit scorn upon those whose power or wealth is earned by the oppression of the poor. To expose scheming and hypocrisy in high places. To accept fair criticism with candor and misunderstanding with a smile. To abate no jot of his convictions, whether to reader or advertiser for money's sake. To picture the world as God made it, darkened occasionally by war and passion but brightening from year to year as man deals more justly with his brother and as he sees more frequent and less broken glimpses of the divine plan.—Collier's Weekly.

THE TOUCH OF HUMAN KINDNESS.

Everywhere about us there are lives, cold and cheerless, and dull, which by the touch of our hand, in loving warmth in Christ's name, would be wondrously blessed and transformed. Some one tells of going into a jewelry store to look at certain gems. Among other stones he was shown an opal. As it lay there, however, it appeared dull and altogether lustreless. Then the jeweler took it in his hand and held it for some moments, and again showed it to his customer. Now it gleamed and flashed with all the glories of the rainbow. It needed the touch and warmth of the human hand to bring out its iridescence. There are human lives everywhere about us that are rich in their possibilities of beauty and glory. No gems or jewels are so precious, but as we see them in their earthly condition they are dull and lustreless, without brightness or loveliness. Perhaps they are even covered with stain and defiled with sin. Yet they need only the touch of the hand of Christ to bring out the radiance, the loveliness, the beauty of the divine image in them. And you and I must be the hand of Christ to these lustreless or stained lives. Touching them with our warm love, the sleeping splendor that is in them, hidden mayhap under sin's marring and ruin, will yet shine out, the beginning of glory for them.—Rev. J. R. Miller.

An exchange illustrates the idea of "turning the other cheek" very happily. The young man who came in contact with a hat pin on one side turned to the other.

SUMMER NIGHT, RIVERSIDE

In the wild soft summer darkness
How many and many a night we two together
Sat in the park and watched the Hudson
Wearing her lights like golden spangles
Glinting on black satin!
The rail along the curving pathway
Was low in a happy place to let us cross,
And down the hill a tree that dripped with bloom
Sheltered us
While your kisses and the flowers,
Falling, falling,
Tangled my hair.

The frail white stars moved slowly over the sky.

And now
Far off, far off,
The tree is tremulous again with bloom,
For June is here.

Tonight what girl
When she goes home,
Dreamily, before her mirror,
shakes from her hair
This year's blossoms clinging in its coils?
—Sara Teasdale, in Century.

What grim adventures has this dagger known?
How much of blood and terror
has it drunk?
Into how many bosoms has it sunk?
Bringing swift death with scarce
a sigh or moan?
Tyrants, perchance, this blade
has overthrown
Amid their sins, unshriven by the monk;
Under its touch vast projects
may have shrunk
Into a bleeding body, lying prone.

How many murderous hands have gripped this haft?
How many lovers, as they kissed

Have perished as this weapon came in play?
Not many—for this ancient-

GROANS.

The doctor cured my funny bone
And yet I could not see
The joke he cracked, as home I packed
Because I paid his fee.

He took a cinder from my eye;
I did not mind until
He made me wink, and in a blink,
I lost a yellow bill.

"The pressure on your chest," he said,
In manner kind but terse,
"Will pass away as sure as day."
It did—but took my purse.
—Elias Lieberman in The Medical Pickwick.

It is the disposition of too many people to look beyond the confines of home for great men and great achievements. If you would observe more closely around you, possibly you would find all the elements of your ideal in a home product. Some of the greatest men the world ever knew hailed from some obscure, remote corner, and some of the great achievements come as the result of the dreams from men who obtained prominence with them rather than from any geographical location.

REMAINING CONTRACTS HAVE BEEN LET

N. Church and Colored School Buildings Have Been Provided With Builders.

The board of trustees have let the contract for the erection of the North Church and the colored school buildings.

Bids were filed for this work as follows:

Thompson & Herrin	$7,000
John Hablin	6,923
W. P. Berry & Co.	7,600

Mr. Hablin, furnishing the lowest bid, was awarded the contract.

The contract for the high school building was awarded some days ago, as was the contract for the lighting and heating, report of which was made in this paper at that time. The bids filed on the new building were as follows:

Beinhart & Donovan	$28,400
G. W. Brillhart	29,985
W. P. Berry & Co.	25,500
Hart & Gaught	26,049
D. W. Powell	39,622
John Hablin	27,295
John Thompson	28,150

W. P. Berry & Co., furnishing the lowest bid, were awarded the contract.

The contract for lighting and heating amounts to $7,750, making a total of $40,242.

The board has used all diligence in getting the lowest, best bids for the work and reserved the right to see that the very best material was used in all work.

PROMINENT GARRISON MAN IN THE CITY TODAY

Mr. O. C. Dotson, a retired business man and a prominent citizen of the county residing at Garrison, was an arrival to the city on the noon train, coming down to look after some business interests.

Mr. Dotson was for many years engaged in the mercantile business of his home town, and at one time was connected with a store in this city, and in the days of his business activity ranked with the leading merchants of the county.

During his long residence in the county Mr. Dotson has been a patriotic and useful citizen. At his home town he has been retained on the board of aldermen almost continuously with the incorporation of the town for the reason that he has public spirit enough, coupled with energy and judgment, to look after anything and everything entrusted to his care. The same characteristics govern him in his church, as a neighbor and as a friend—and no one has more friends in the circle of his acquaintance than this elegant old gentleman. He has been one of the truest friends this writer ever had, and it gives us pleasure to join others he has befriended in this recognition. Long may he live, and may his shadow never grow less, is our sincere wish.

J. F. Stephens, a former citizen of this county who is now making his home at Neville, in Shelby county, where he is engaged in business, is in the city today, renewing acquaintance with old friends.

ANOTHER INTERESTING MEETING WAS HAD

The Citizens Went Into Investigation of the Light Plant Proposition.

As per previous announcement, a goodly number of citizens met at the city hall again last night for the purpose of making an investigation of the light plant proposition and discuss the feasibility of selling it.

Judge Blount acted as principal spokesman of the meeting and made an exhibit of an investigation, or audit, he had made through the day in which he claimed to have found that the property had been paying 25 per cent on the investment since the city had owned it. This made no allowance for depreciation, which was estimated at 5 per cent by the electrical engineers who were present the previous night, leaving a net income to the city of 20 per cent on the investment. The city is paying 5 per cent on its bonds, and thus, deducting all expenses, a net income of 15 per cent is left to the city. Added to this income the plant is increasing in value all the time, which correspondingly increases the asset side of the ledger.

In the course of the discussion of the two meetings it developed that the city has loaned a part of its profits from the light net income to other funds, and had not paid into this fund the charge made against the city for street lights, which explains the reason for the temporary embarrassment to meet present obligations and make some needed improvements. No one seemed inclined to censure the council for doing so, because it is a custom that is practiced by all councils and all business organizations to help a weak place with a stronger one, but this condition does not destroy the argument of the earning capacity of the light plant and its value as a revenue producer to the city. In fact, it strengthens the argument in favor of its retention, since with its disposal we would have to pay for street lights from taxes derived from the citizenship and lose the profit accrued with the enterprise.

After threshing the matter out pro and con, it was manifest that the sentiment of those present was almost unanimous in favor of retaining the ownership of the enterprise.

AN OLD SETTLER WITH THE DEAD

Mr. B. C. Maroney, a pioneer of this community and one of our time-honored citizens, died at 7 o'clock last evening and his remains will be laid to rest at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Maroney graveyard.

Mr. Maroney is survived by his aged wife and two children, Tom and John Maroney. Two children preceded him to the grave.

Mr. Maroney was born in Alabama and came to Texas with his parents when a small boy, settling in the neighborhood in which he spent the remainder of his life. He was about 72 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Maroney comes from a distinguished ancestry. His mother was a sister of the late General Thos. J. Rusk, and his father belonged to the old school of Southern pioneers who helped blaze the way for settlement and development of this section. His wife comes from the well-known Hunt family of Appleby, and she, too, belongs to the good people of past and present generations. Both united with the Baptist church in early life, in which they have lived consecrated Christian lives.

Having always lived at the same place, in the same community, they have many relatives and a great host of friends who are made sad with the demise of the old gentleman who has stood as a time-honored landmark of the community.

CALLED PASTOR.

At the prayer meeting service last evening the members of the Christian Church of this city called Rev. Mr. Thompson of Timpon to the pastorate of this church.

It will be remembered that Mr. Thompson held a protracted meeting here in the summer, at which time he won for himself the friendship and admiration of the people with whom he came in contact. He is a young man of good ability, full of life and energy, and if he accepts the call which it is believed he will, he will contribute his part to the spiritual life of the city.

Speed!

MOST of us are interested in Speed Tests—in the roaring flash of the racing auto, in the quick dash of the speed boat, and the thrilling sweep of the aeroplane.

The speed test, however, has an interest more than the spectacular to every man who owns an automobile, tractor, or any gasoline driven engine.

In order to attain this high speed,

Every Ounce of Power Must be Utilized

That is why so many auto racers, fast motorboat drivers, and prominent aviators choose Texaco Motor Oil.

Texaco Motor Oil has shown these people how a high grade lubricant saves power.

You owners of gasoline engines will soon find that Texaco Motor Oil means a saving of power, smaller fuel bills, a better day's work, and no trouble from cylinder wear or soiling of spark plugs.

Get some from the Texaco agent in your town. He carries a full line of Texaco Quality Products.

JAIL DELIVERY ATTEMPTED SUNDAY

Prisoners Attempted to Saw Out With a File and Were Inter- cepted in Time.

A jail delivery was averted yesterday in a manner that verifies the philosophy that a "guilty conscience needs no accuser."

Saturday afternoon Will McMillan carried a man named Lee Franklin out to the road gang. The man told a negro on the works that arrangements had been perfected to saw the bars and let the prisoners out, and that he would have escaped this punishment if he had had a little more time. The negro confidentially told Mr. McMillan of the plot and Mr. McMillan hurried to town in his automobile to inform the jailer what was being done, finding matters as the negro said, and actual work in the plot under way. Investigation revealed that one bar in one of the upper windows had already been sawed in twain and another was about half sawed. A small file was used and recovered from the prisoners.

Had the plot not been revealed the prisoners in the upper story would doubtless have made their escape last night.

There were two prisoners confined in the upper story. Emery Dennis, a white man, and Enos Lofton, a negro, who are supposed to have been jointly connected in the work of escape. It is presumed that the file was given to them in some way from the outside.

Considerable sympathy has been aroused for the negro who put the officers wise to the plot, and many believe he should be pardoned from further service.

POSTMASTER EXAM. SATURDAY, NOV. 27.

The United States civil service commission announces that on the date named above an examination will be held at Nacogdoches, Texas, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Maytown, and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interest of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $406 for the last fiscal year. Age limit, 21 years and over on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a state where women are declared by statute to be of full age for all purposes at 18 years, women 18 years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application forms and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at Maytown or from the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission at Washington at least seven days before the date of the examination, otherwise it may be impracticable to examine the applicants.

ACCIDENT AT MELROSE.

Curtis, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rose of Melrose, happened to the misfortune to get thrown from the "gentle mule" last Sunday and sustained a fractured arm. He was brought to Nacogdoches for an X-ray examination which revealed the fracture.

Prof. Fulton Fuller, who is teaching the school at Swift, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office today, and reports his school moving along nicely.

An exchange suggests that just a plain cotton seed now makes the most attractive stud for a gentleman's shirt front, cotton seed now being more valuable than diamonds.

A pretty good sign of the prosperity that prevails over the state just now is the announcement of the great attendance and great interest that prevails with the state fair which has been in session the past several days.

It is commonly accepted with paragraphs that Mr. Onion, who is running for office in Illinois is the "strongest" man in American politics. This idea, however, should not be confused with the fact that "to the swift belongs the race."

The idea is generally approved by the press and many people of the state that while General Carranza is sending troops through Texas he clean out the border which has been giving the United States so much trouble and expense lately.

Mr. A. G. Lively, one of the best known newspaper men and most talented writers in East Texas, is again associated with our highly esteemed contemporary, the Lufkin News, in an editorial capacity—and is already making it "lively." Bully for the Tribune, and greetings to Bro. Lively.

We congratulate our neighbor, the Herald, on the purchase of a linotype machine, for which Bro. Davis closed a contract this morning. With two first-class linotype machines in operation, Nacogdoches is taking first rank in newspaper-making, and the praises of the good old town and county will be sung in the future as they have never been sung in the past.

John McLendon of the Longview Times-Clarion says something about The Sentinel's "accumen," which we suppose is all right. The operator says it is a very necessary adjunct or function in supplying gray matter for the new machine, and as we are not yet familiar with all the parts and particles of its mechanism, anything he says goes.

Some years ago farmers were anxious to get hold of a variety of cotton with small seed, and the experts devoted much attention to breeding along this line, but with the prices that are prevailing now we shall expect a change. In fact, it is time for some scientific gentleman to come forward with a variety that is all seed and make a quick fortune. Funny old world, is this.

The Sentinel has just finished the typesetting on the big delinquent tax list of Nacogdoches county. It will be published in the Garrison News three weeks, after which the county attorney is commanded to file suit on all unpaid taxes it contains. It takes eight pages, printed in small type, to accommodate the list, which will give some idea of the enormity of the vast amount of tax money due the county. There are several thousand tracts of land involved in this indebtedness and it would be well for land owners of the county to examine their tax titles, as under the new law, collection of any delinquency can be forced. You may have kept up with your own taxes, but some preceding owner might not have been so punctual in the matter.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS.

While, on Edison Day, the people of the United States were celebrating the thirty-sixth birthday of the electric light, great events were transpiring in other realms of science.

Sound—audible speech—was projected across the void which has the Atlantic for a floor. Washington talked to Paris.

The electric light has dissipated physical darkness and by so doing has made it possible for men and women to study at night, to advance individually, to broaden the scope of their understanding. Thus it is now dissipating mental darkness.

Individuals have progressed through this means but progress for all the people at once would be slow but for the methods of quick communication. What one person conceives another improves upon as the word is spread. The spirit of the land is expressed in higher ideals, greater accomplishments.

The telephone has become the great accelerator of progress. As advancement in the use and extension of the radius of telephone service is gained the benefits of this one greatest of all common utilities are compounded. The announcement of the fact that the Atlantic had been spanned and speech had been passed between Washington and Paris is likely to become epochal in history. It means the injection into world affairs of the greatest possible influence toward a common language. No more potent element toward peace and understanding and appreciation between the civilized peoples of the earth could have been devised than that so recently brought into existence by Bell telephone engineers.

"Every bitter has its sweet." While those Lufkin people were detained in Nacogdoches in attendance upon the court trial which was sent up from that place, they had the pleasure of spending a few days in the best town in East Texas. Some of 'em wouldn't recognize and admit the fact while here; but, then, some people are not so quick of comprehension, you know.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

This is the first clipped item that the new editor of the News, published in the town of Lufkin, has had anything to do with. It will be noticed that it is taken from the Nacogdoches Sentinel. Nacogdoches is situated on the E. & W. railway, upon a little stream known as Banita creek. That creek has been running for years; in fact, it has been running so long that even Oscar Matthews does not remember when it started—neither does old Sam Houston. Sam Houston, it will be remembered, dressed up one fine day away up in what is now known as Oklahoma and came to Texas to help the people here who needed help. He started in at Nacogdoches, and from there he began "discovering" territory until he got to old Washington, and not being satisfied with that, he proceeded to Houston, and there set up a form of government. Nacogdoches owes its allegiance to old Sam Houston until this good day, and so does Angelina and every other known county in this grand old commonwealth. Now, to be brief, let's all give one cheer for East Texas, enter into no quarrels, slap every fellow on the back, and when a Lufkin citizen happens to be caught in Nacogdoches unawares, may it so be that he will be accorded that welcome and that hospitality which will suffice until he can get his bearings and decide upon a change for the better. Lastly, the News editor wafts its felicitations to Brother Gibbs, the new man, and to Brother Haltom, the old one, and trusts that everybody is feeling fine.—Lufkin News.

Anything that is worth doing, is worth doing well; and anything well done is an element in future greatness.

INTELLIGENCE PAYS.

The methods of farming that have prevailed in all new countries have been such as to deprive the soil in a very short time of humus, or vegetable matter. As the humus would begin to disappear, farmers would complain of the soil wearing out, and to the forests they would go for more new ground. Some of our farmers still go to the forests, but the forests are not as numerous as they once were, and are not easily to clear. The wise farmers are going back to the old fields and demanding that they shall not only be restored to their primitive fertility, but that they shall be made more productive by far than ever before. The soils of Germany, Belgium, England and France are more productive now than ever before, and some of them have been in cultivation more than two thousand years. In those countries they are producing nearly three times as much wheat per acre as the United States. Intelligence, as well as industry, is a powerful factor in the cultivation of the soil. When this writer was a small boy, and long before the Dallas News had developed into a great agricultural journal, a farmer of large experience and who was accustomed to co-operate with the profane language in laying down grave propositions, hailed us as we passed his farm, and in a lecture on agriculture that scintillated with scientific knowledge, employing a diversity of language, the quality of which would have to be censored before turning it loose on a lot of Sunday school children, finally reached a climax, which, with certain terms omitted for the sake of euphony, was as follows: 'I know this soil, its adaptability, capacity and environment. I know the amount of moisture that comes in various ways to feed the plants. I know what is in the manure that I put on the land, and how it will behave, and when I plant the corn and the cotton I say to these acres, 'thou shalt produce so much corn and so much cotton,' and as sure as one day follows another they obey. I make this demand in no spirit of egotism or defiance but as a farmer who reads and understands his business and a farmer who doesn't acquaint himself with the great fundamental principles that underlie agriculture so that he may have some practical idea of what he is doing is neglecting his profession.—Col. Milner in Rusk County News.

THE OTHER WAY ROUND.

While out for a walk, Pat and Mike saw a little animal in a tree.

"Sure, now," said Pat, "I niver saw a rabbit up a tree before!"

"That's no rabbit," Mike replied.

"Faith, thin, and I'll show ye as it is," replied Pat indignantly, as he started to climb the tree.

But that animal was a small and very fierce wildcat, and presently there came to Mike's ears sounds of a wild combat and shouts for help.

"Pat, Pat," he called out, "shall I come up an' help ye to catch the beast?"

Above the crash of breaking branches came a hollow voice which said:

"Faith, no; but for pity's sake come up an' help me to let him go!"—Answers.

A GROUNDLESS FEAR.

Secretly in love with a handsome baseball player, Maida had never seen him play and knew nothing about the game.

One evening when Jim called he found her red-eyed and distracted.

"Jim," she asked, after a while, "what did the sport reporter mean by saying that you stole one in the ninth?"

He explained.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, blushing furiously, but evidently much relieved. "I thought—"

Then Jim stole several of the kind she had in mind.

NOTICE TO AUTO OWNERS.

Automobiles are getting to be so numerous in this county, and some drivers thereof are running at such unreasonable rate of speed upon the roads of the county as to endanger the safety of other traffic as well as themselves, that I must insist upon the officers of the county to enforce the "automobile law" of this state, which herein given in its entirety.

"Art. 1242. Automobiles: Regulating running of same. All owners of automobiles or other motor vehicles shall before using such vehicles or machines upon the public roads, streets or driveways, register with the county clerk of the county in which he resides, his name, which name shall be registered by the county clerk in consecutive order in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall be numbered in the order of their registration, and it shall be the duty of such owner or owners to display in a conspicuous place on said machine the number so registered, which number shall be paid by such owner or owners a fee of fifty cents for each machine registered.

"Sec. 2. No automobile or motor vehicle shall be driven or operated upon any public road, street or driveway at a greater rate of speed than eighteen miles an hour, or upon any public road, street or driveway within the built up portions of any city, town or village, the limits of which shall be fixed by the municipal officers thereof, at a greater rate of speed than eight miles an hour, except where such city, or town, may be an ordinance or by-law; allow a greater rate of speed, provided the speed limit shall not apply to race courses or speedways.

"Sec. 3. No person in charge of an automobile or motor vehicle on any public road, street or driveway shall drive the same at any speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the public road, street or driveway by others, or so as to endanger the life or limb of any person thereon.

"Sec. 4. All drivers or operators of automobiles or motor vehicles are prohibited from racing upon any public road, street or driveway.

"Sec. 5. Any person driving or operating an automobile or motor vehicle shall, at the request, or signal, by putting up the hand or by other visible signal from a person riding or driving a horse or horses or other domestic animal, cause such vehicle or machine to come to a standstill as quickly as possible and to remain stationary long enough to allow such animal to pass.

"Sec. 6. Every driver or operator of an automobile or motor vehicle shall have attached thereto a suitable bell or other appliance for giving notice of its approach, so that when such attachment is rung or otherwise operated it may be heard a distance of three hundred feet, and shall carry a lighted lamp between one hour after and one hour before sunrise.

"Sec. 7. Every one who violates any of these six sections shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100.

There is much complaint that automobiles race on the roads and drive without lights, both being very dangerous to other traffic, and from this time on all constables and other peace officers of the county will report all infractions of the law, and complaints will be pushed in every case.

There is considerable confusion in the matter of numbers on the machines. The clerk's book for numbering machines does not correspond with the numbers displayed on many machines, and I will have to insist that all owners have their machines numbered according to their registration. Under the law each owner must register his machine and display that number. Many machines that have changed hands still display the number of the original owner, which is a violation of the law and confusing to the officers in the enforcement of the law and all owners will see that their machines are registered in their own name and on the car. I notice on the streets in several instances that there are several cars with the same number, and in some instances some owners have never registered their cars at all. While others have registered but do not display any number at all. I trust that all owners will comply with the law at once and not be put to the trouble of a prosecution.

W. A. WADE,
County Attorney.

WILSON PUTS EMBARGO ON AMMUNITIONS

Prohibition Applies to All Factories Which U. S. Has Not Recognized.

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today declared an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico.

President Wilson signed a supplementary order, however, which excepts Gen. Carranza's government from the embargo and permits munitions to go through to him unhampered. The prohibition applies to the factions opposed to the government which the United States has recognized.

The President's proclamation is based upon the authority conferred by congress in 1912 and follows closely the terms of President Taft's proclamation issued when the revolution was on against Madero.

HIS UNSTEADY NIGHT.

The girl had a caller the other night—a girl caller—who worked for a family farther down the street. And the woman of the house overheard this conversation—it was about "fellers," as usual:

"I seen Joe out with you last night," accused the caller.

The other girl admitted it.

"He's your steady feller now, ain't he?" pursued the first speaker.

"I guess he is—that is, on Thursday nights."

"Aw, I seen him with you on Saturday nights, too!"

"Yes; but he ain't never steady on Saturday nights."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WHEN THE LIGHT CAME.

Their long acquaintance had ripened into love and he had proposed.

"Dearie," he asked, confidentially, "when did you first learn that you loved me?"

"When I found that I became very angry whenever I heard anybody refer to you as a brainless boob," she answered.

ACCOUNTED FOR.

"Come here, Hiram," said the lady, addressing the little boy.

"I wish to speak to you a minute."

"Me name ain't Hiram," said the boy, wriggling round, as boys sometimes do.

"Then why does everybody call you Hiram?" asked the lady.

"Becuz me fadder's a German, ma'am, an' muh real name is Hyphen," said the lad.

Any matter that is subject to public discussion is subject to newspaper publicity.

ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY.

A philanthropic lady visited an asylum not long ago and displayed great interest in the inmates. One old man particularly gained her compassion. "And how long have you been here, my man?" she inquired.

"Twelve years," was the answer.

"Do they treat you well?"

"Yes."

"Do they feed you well?"

"Yes."

After addressing a few more questions to him the visitor passed on. She noticed a smile broadening on the face of her attendant, and on asking the cause heard with consternation that the old man was none other than the medical superintendent. She hurried back to make apologies. How successful she was may be gathered from these words:

"I am sorry, doctor. I will never be governed by appearances again."—Argonaut.

FOOLED HIM.

"Excuse me, but do you mind keeping your dog indoors at night till the war is over?"

"Why?" said the surprised dog owner to the stranger.

"Well, your dog's barking sounds just like a 'special' boy shouting in the distance. My wife's got two brothers at the front, and every time she hears your dog she sends me racing down to get the 'special,' and says I've been too stupid to catch the boy."

SHE KNEW.

Olive, aged 4 years, went for a walk with her father one June morning. Hearing a bird singing by the roadside, she stopped to admire his beautiful black and white coat.

"Oh, papa!" she exclaimed, "see this bobolink?"

"How do you know it's a bobolink?" asked her father.

"Cause I 'tintly heard it bobble," was the reply.—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE TOUCH OF LOVE.

A scientist explains that a "pat pat" on the cheek is far superior to the kiss as an expression of affection and a whole lot more sanitary.

Through years have run their course away,
Still tender memories fondly seek

The gone yet unforgotten day
She patted my left cheek.

My soul thrills as I recall
The very day, the very year,
The very month—'twas early fall,
She tweaked me by the ear.

I still remember how the air
Was perfumed by the fragrant rose,
The day she came, so frail, so fair,
And tapped me on the nose.

Nor am I likely to forget,
Though round the warring world I roam,
That glorious day when first we met,
She bumped me on the dome.

The past is as an age unborn,
Yet, through its gray and fleeting mist,
I joy to think of that gald morn
She slapped me on the wrist.

—James J. Montague in New York American.

COMING BACK FOR MORE

What youth in white flannels is sailing those channels,
Where once I had moored my own bark?

What lad, fond and stupid, cajoled by young Cupid,
Is nursing an amorous spark?

Is he as courageous in grottoes, unbraveous
As I, when a nut, used to be?
No doubt he is happy and thinks life most snappy;
I know it will end dismally!

He's spending his money on rotten strained honey—
I once did the very same thing.
In getting her number, he's losing his slumber;
We all take a similar fling.

The poor boy is fated. Alack! he is slated
To answer one frigid good-by.
If he wants to leave her, you think I'd receive her?
Dunno; but I think I would try!

—J. M. Murray in Judge.

A SPINSTER'S COMPLAINT.

I feel a bit wicked. You've felt it, I know—
That restless rebellion that jostles you so!

I need to be wicked—and yet—I must own
It's awfully tame to be wicked alone.

I'm sure something's in me that ought to escape:
A devil, perhaps, or an ancestral ape—
And yet I must sit like a box on a shelf—
For how can a spinster sport all by herself?

—By Eva Dean, in New York Evening Sun.

OCTOBER.

Done with the spring's vernal and gleam,
The summer's toil and rich unrest,
With nothing left to seek or keep,
Before she turns to winter sleep,
Earth lays her golden head to dream

One month against the gold sky's breast.

REV. T. F. WEAVER FINISHES WORK

During His Sojourn With Us He Secured Another Church For the City.

In the rush of other work yesterday The Sentinel did not have time to note the departure of Rev. T. F. Weaver to other fields of labor, and suitably write up his work in Nacogdoches.

Some four weeks ago Mr. Weaver stopped off here upon his return from a visit to points down the T. & N. O., for the purpose of making connection with an E. & W. train going north. Friends in the city pressed him into service to preach a day or two, and knowing his reputation as a builder and progressive minister, the local membership at once prevailed upon him to remain long enough to launch and set in motion a building campaign. Having no pressing engagement at the time, he consented, and in two weeks a lot had been contracted for, together with material for building purposes, and in the four weeks he remained in the city sufficient funds were pledged to guarantee the building, and actual work in its construction begun.

Coming at a hard season of the year, following, as it did, a panic and a time of recounting old accounts, the achievement is considered a most remarkable one, and the membership is very grateful to him for his splendid work.

Some more money will have to be raised to finish an furnish the building, but as the bulk of it has been raised, the membership feels safe in going ahead, and secure in the belief that the balance can be raised from time to time as it is needed.

While engaged in the building campaign, Rev. Weaver also served the church as pastor, and his work was equally brilliant in this line, several new members being added, and so much interest and inspiration being aroused with the membership that they have contracted for a pastor for full time, beginning with the first of December.

Mr. Weaver is visiting with relatives and friends at Timpson and Center a few days before leaving for Galveston, where he has been engaged to promote the financing of a $75,000 church. Other places are making strong appeals for his time and he can only stay with a place sufficiently long to set in motion the campaign that will get the results if his instructions are carried out, but having some dear friends here, he remained with us until the bulk of the money was actually raised.

Mr. Weaver is an East Texas product, having been born and reared at Timpson. Being of an ambitious nature, he craved first an education, and, by hard work, succeeded in graduating from the lower schools, graduated from the Texas Christian university, later taking the courses of graduation from the University of Chicago, one of the largest institutions of learning in the United States, and, returning to Texas, took a special course in the University of Texas. As an evangelist and as a pastor, he has a brilliant record of achievement, and being yet a young man, the future holds much in store for him.

Mr. Weaver hopes to return for the dedication of the new building, in which event he will be received with the cordiality for which Nacogdoches is noted.

MR. JOHN SCHMIDT AT HOME AGAIN.

Mr. John Schmidt arrived home last night from an extended visit to Chicago, New York and other places, and is receiving the glad hand from his many friends.

Mr. Schmidt is prominently connected with the business affairs and industrial life of this city, and is one of our most progressive citizens. He is always ready to employ his time and his means for anything that has for its purpose the upbuilding of Nacogdoches, and anything that he is connected with must take the front ranks of the onward march of progress. It is said to his credit that many people would have suffered during the panic last year but for his activity. He never lost faith in his town or his country and kept building, through which many people secured employment and were thereby enabled to stem the tide of temporary adversity.

Mr. Schmidt had a very pleasant outing in his journey to the North, and his many friends over the country will be pleased to learn that he returns in the enjoyment of good health.

JIM DORSEY HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

His Automobile Collided With a Lamp Post While in the City Sunday Afternoon.

Jim Dorsey, cashier of the Cushing State bank, had a very close call for his life when he ran into a lamp post with his automobile in this city yesterday, wrecking both the post and his car. While driving his car in front of Mayer-Schmidt's store, near the intersection of North Fredonia street, he observed another car approaching with which he was about to collide, and, to prevent the collision, he wheeled suddenly to the left and lost his bearing in making the sudden turn and ran into the post noted before he could check his speed.

The post was broken off at the base, and in the fall broke in several other places, completely wrecking it. The front of the car was also wrecked, putting it out of commission until new parts can be supplied.

By some miraculous means Mr. Dorsey escaped personal injury save a little shakeup and fright, but his financial loss in repair of damage will be rather heavy.

Mr. Dorsey had come over from Cushing for a little visit with his parents in the city, and intended returning home in his car late in the afternoon.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church spent a very profitable meeting with Mrs. W. C. Finklea Monday afternoon.

The lesson was on the very interesting country of Korea and proved quite instructive. The hostess closed the afternoon with a delicious plate of refreshment.

Capt. T. S. Garrison was able to come to town this morning for the first time since he underwent an operation several weeks ago at Galveston. He looks well, and does not show to a very large extent the awful strain he has been through. He is not entirely well yet, but is rapidly improving.—Timpson Times.

Hon. W. O. Seale, county attorney of Trinity county, was an arrival to the city last night, coming in for a visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Seale is a native son of old Nacogdoches who has gone out into the world and made a record and a good name for himself, and has a host of friends in the county who are glad to claim his nativity.

PROGRAM CHANGE OF LA. STATE FAIR.

The Louisiana State Fair desires to make the following announcement: Ruth Law, who was booked for the fair, will not appear, and in her place DeLoyd Thompson, the famous "loop-the-loop" aviator will appear in her place. Thompson was at the state fair last year and his work in the air surpassed that of Lincoln Beachey. The state fair secured Thompson after considerable expense, and trusts that the public will accept his appearance in place of Ruth Law. He will fly on Wednesday, Nov. 3, and Sunday, Nov. 7. Low rates will prevail during the entire time of the fair, Nov. 3 to 8.

A SAINTED MOTHER WITH THE DEAD

A pall of gloom was cast over the Smith's Chapel community Sunday when it became known that Mrs. Cater McBee was dead.

The good lady was taken ill Friday and died Sunday morning about 4 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, one married daughter and two grandchildren, with whom a host of friends unite in profound sympathy. Her remains will be laid to rest in the Maroney cemetery this afternoon (Monday) at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. McBee was a devout member of the Methodist Church in which she lived a consecrated Christian life. As a neighbor and friend her life was a sweet benediction, and no one was loved and admired more than she, proof of which is noted in the fact that the whole neighborhood, men, women and children, visited the home yesterday and will attend the funeral this afternoon.

STATE BANKS IN GOOD CONDITION

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—Resources of the thirty state banks maintaining savings departments, at the close of business Sept. 30, 1915, amounted to $3,752,940, a favorable showing, according to a condensed monthly statement made public today, and of this amount $2,429,456 is first liens on real estate. Of the liabilities $3,704,455 is due depositors, $36,727 net undivided profits. Required reserve is $557,108, while the actual reserve on hand is $714,512, which latter amount is $157,403 in excess of the legal requirement.

CREAM OF THE CLASS.

Two small boys who lived on dairy farms in South Australia were sent at last to a little school in a neighboring town. At first the novelty of their surroundings kept them quiet. Then, after the first day or two, they began to whisper to each other and fidget about. "You must stop talking," said the teacher kindly. For an hour or so they behaved beautifully. Then the muttering began again. "Now, Tommy Smith and Willie Jones, if you don't stop talking I must separate you!" said teacher, more sternly. A large smile spread over Tommy Smith's face as he said audibly to his chum: "I say, Willie, teacher finks we's milk!"

SHOOTING AT DIBOLL; FATAL RESULT LIKELY

Ed Baucum, Master Mechanic of T. S. E. Railway, Is Shot by Engineer M. Smith.

A very deplorable shooting occurred at Diboll Wednesday afternoon about 6 o'clock, when Ed Baucum, master mechanic of the T. S. E. railway, was seriously, and it is thought fatally, wounded by Monroe Smith, former employe of the road as engineer.

The wounded man was shot three times through the abdomen with a .32 calibre Smith & Wesson revolver, in the hands of Smith, while he was lying on the ground, where he claims to have been sprawling by the hand of Baucum, after having been abused and struck once before by the latter.

The News understands that after the promotion of Baucum to the position of master mechanic a couple of weeks ago, in the promotion of engineers incident to his advancement, Smith was passed over. This caused Smith to resign last Monday, and on Wednesday afternoon he went to the office of Baucum for a settlement, with the result that a fight was precipitated with the above result.

Smith gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff Ed Dial immediately after the shooting, was brought to Lufkin and placed in jail, where he now awaits the result of the deplorable affair, before making application for bond. Dr. Sweatland of Nacogdoches was telephoned for to assist Dr. Mann, the company surgeon, in performing the operation necessary for the attempted saving of the wounded man's life, and whose existence hangs by a mere thread.

There was only one eye-witness to the tragedy, a negro, whose name has not been learned by the News. Attorney I. D. Fairchild, who is assisting the defense of Mrs. Murchison, on trial at Nacogdoches, was called to the city and employed, as counsel by Smith. Attorney Fairchild returned to Nacogdoches early Thursday morning after a consultation with his client.—Lufkin News.

Once used it is afterward a household remedy. Oxidine at Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

MARRIED AT PATROON.

Hugh Brittain of Hurst Town and Miss Zelma Bell of Patroon were married Sunday afternoon, Elder Doggett performing the ceremony. This is a popular young East Shelby county couple. Mr. Brittain is a son of Tom Brittain and is well and favorably known here and in different parts of the county. Mrs. Brittain is a daughter of Hamp Bell, a prominent citizen from that section of the county and has relatives here. She has visited here a number of times and has many friends here who will remember her. They will reside in that section of the county.—Center Champion.

The fair bride is a sister of Mrs. Frank Sublett and Mrs. J. D. Ellington of this city.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

KING'S HIGHWAY SURVEYORS HERE

They Are Locating the Line of the Historic Old San Antonio Road.

Capt. V. N. Zivley, with his helpers, arrived in the city yesterday. He is seeking and locating the original old road from Natchitoches, La., to San Antonio, Texas, which passed through this city. He is camped two miles east of town, and will shortly move their camp to a few miles west of town as the work progresses.

While in the city Capt. Zivley got busy looking up old-timers and getting data as to location of the original road. His plan is to mark the road by setting a post every five miles, labeling it to show the exact site and distance. He also places posts in every town, on road, at points most desirable, and takes a new start from these posts. He also places posts on county lines and other prominent places, the general purpose being to show where the road passed. He does not mark the intermediate points because it would require enormous expense and an endless job. The locations now established, in this section, passed a little to the west of San Augustine, where a post was set at the famous old mission hill there. It passes north of Chireno and goes through the northern edge of Melrose, coming westward by S. C. Patton's, and on to San Smith's.

Capt. Zivley does not know yet just how the line will enter Nacogdoches, but thinks he will make a mark at the southeast corner of the old stone fort site by nailing a mark on a post at that place. The next post will be set five miles west of town in the vicinity of T. J. Hill's premises.

Capt. Zivley is very much interested in the work from the standpoint of historical and civic value in which much public pride exists, and gathers up every fragment he can find which will be of service in a historical report which he will compile and have printed in some leading magazine. He is making a special study of the old stone fort and its historical lore, and notes other matters of interest in the city.

Dr. Mayfield, one of the best posted men on the early history of this community, has been out with Capt. Zivley, and to him we are indebted for the data of this article.

MORE TROOPS FOR BORDER OF TEXAS

The Troops Will Be Used by Gen. Funston to Give Protection to Small Posts.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The Twenty-eighth regiment of infantry has been ordered from Dallas to Harlingen, Texas, by the war department as a result of the renewal of bandit raids on Texas border towns.

The troops will be used by Gen. Funston to give added protection to small posts such as that at Ojo de Agua, where three soldiers were killed and eight wounded yesterday morning in a bandit attack.

The Twenty-third infantry, now at Jacksonville, Fla., in connection with the national rifle matches there, will be returned to Galveston, where it will be held in reserve for use on the border.

Officials explained today that the army was doing all it legally could do to check the border bandit raids. The situation, they said, was not a military one but a civil one, under the jurisdiction of Texas. Unless the governor should formally ask federal intervention, there is no authority for the establishment of a military zone and declaration of martial law. Many of the raiders live on the American side, officials believe. Army detachments guarding various towns may repel attacks, but cannot go beyond that without additional authority. As it is, the troops are acting beyond a rigid interpretation of their power in aiding in pursuit of raiders.

War department officials, however, will give every possible aid to the civil authorities in protecting towns and ranches.

The department of justice will detail more agents along the Mexican border immediately to co-operate with the war and treasury departments to meet raids and violations of the embargo on arms.

After receiving information from Secretary Garrison regarding border raids, Attorney-General Gregory conferred with President Wilson and announced that the number of department of justice agents would be increased.

Regarding the case of General Huerta, now held prisoner at Fort Bliss, the attorney general said he expected evidence would be laid before the grand jury within the next few weeks in an effort to obtain an indictment on a charge of attempting to violate the neutrality laws of the United States. No request for the extradition of General Huerta has been received from the Mexican government, he said.

5 NAMED ON THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Committee Unanimously Endorses the Administration of Wilson.

Dallas, Oct. 22.—In a fifteen-minute session of the Democratic state executive committee here today that body filled a number of vacancies on the committee, passed resolutions endorsing the administration of Woodrow Wilson and promised Dallas its support in securing the national Democratic convention in 1916.

Fourteen members of the committee attended the meeting which was presided over by Chairman Paul Waples of Fort Worth, with Chas. J. Kirke of Houston as secretary. Roll call showed that the majority of those present were from points considerable distance while committeemen from Central and North Texas were conspicuously absent.

Five new committeemen as follows were elected:

Senatorial district No. 11, C. J. (Church) Bartlett, Marlin, succeeds J. E. Yantis, McLennan county, resigned to accept a judgeship of the Texas supreme court; district No. 16, John Lang, Jr., Houston, to succeed John L. Wroe, Houston, resigned to accept private secretaryship to governor; district No. 20, Loyd Lochridge, Austin, elected to succeed John Brunner, Taylor, resigned to become postmaster; district No. 21, A. G. Reynolds, Lockhart, to succeed M. L. Hurst, Lockhart, resigned and moved; district No. 25, Milburn McCarty, San Angelo, to succeed W. D. Holcomb, Lockhart, resigned.

Cone Johnson, R. M. Johnston of Houston and several other prominent Democrats mingled with the committeemen.

George Washington—"Father of His Country"

EVERY AMERICAN knows that without "Immortal Washington" our National Independence would have been impossible. Few, however, know that the greatest battle of Washington's life was fought to secure for his countrymen the Constitution of the United States. Almost immediately after the Revolution it seemed that all the great sacrifice of blood and treasure had been in vain. The original thirteen states refused to work in harmony, either in spirit or in law. The new Republic was tottering to its foundations. At this critical period in American history the most brilliant men of each state met in convention and unanimously elected Washington as president—undoubtedly the most momentous gathering of its kind the world has ever known. Here he displayed as great ability as a lawmaker as he had as a warrior. For months the Fathers of the Republic labored, and finally adopted our present National law, which forever guarantees Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. This was in 1787. Seventy years later Anheuser-Busch established their great institution on the tenets of the Federal law which Washington did so much to create. Like all of the great men of his time, he was a moderate user of good old barley brews. For three generations Anheuser-Busch have brewed honest malt and hop beers. To-day 7500 people are daily employed to keep pace with the ever-increasing public demand. The great popularity of their famous brand—BUDWEISER—due to quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, has made its sales exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles.

Visitors to St. Louis are cordially invited to inspect our plant—covers 142 acres.

NEW DREADNAUGHTS TO BE BEST IN WORLD

Total Cost of Each Ship to Be $18,800,000—Will Carry Eighteen 14-Inch Guns.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The first two dreadnaughts to be constructed under the navy department's five-year program will be the largest and most powerful fighting ships ever built in the world. They will cost $18,800,000 each.

The total cost of the new construction planned in addition to the upkeep of the navy is estimated at $1,002,482,214.

It is planned to give the two world wonder dreadnaughts a displacement of 40,000 tons each. This is 8,000 tons greater than the present superdreadnaughts of 32,000. These two ships will carry eighteen 14-inch guns in the main battery.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tonic" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones, Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful at night and if it doesn't straighten you up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to take back to the store and get your money back. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels that sour bile and constipated which is logging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine months. Give it to your children. Harmless; doesn't gripe and they like pleasant taste.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

BUYING THINGS THAT YOU SHOULD GROW AT HOME.

When we buy at 25 cents a pound a strip of bacon or a ham that we might raise at home for 10 cents a pound, what goes with the 15 cents a pound difference? The man who grew the meat and the middleman get it, you say? Quite true, but in so far as you and I are concerned, doesn't this 15 cents a pound represent waste? Might we not as well throw the money in the fire and be done with it?

Then how about the fellow who buys canned stuff instead of getting it from his own garden and orchard; who buys corn, hay, lard, syrup, and even butter? This is pitiful waste—waste that has too long held the South in bondage to the supply merchant and the farmers of the North and West.—Brenham Banner.

GARRISON VISITORS.

Mrs. Ida Stalling, Mrs. John G. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stalling, Dr. D. M. Taylor, W. W. Turner, A. H. Hartt, J. C. Shipp, Wilbur Prince, J. B. Craig, W. T. Lakey, Dr. E. C. Beck, J. L. Grayson, D. M. McDuffie, O. C. Dotson and J. S. Watson were among the Garrison visitors to the city today. They came down in automobiles, and have been spending the day in the city listening to the arguments in the Murchison trial, and looking after some business interests. They will return home late this afternoon.

TRIBUTE TO MR. J. W. KING.

In reporting the sad death of our distinguished townsman, Mr. J. W. King, the Garrison News pays him the following beautiful tribute:

"This whole community was saddened last Friday when it was learned that Mr. Joseph Watts King had been run over and killed by a passenger train.

"Mr. King spent the most of his life in Garrison, having reared his family here. No man has ever lived here who stood higher or who left more sure-footed friends than Mr. King. He was everybody's friend and everybody was his friend.

"Mr. King moved to Nacogdoches several years ago to be near his sons, but he always felt like this was his real home and he often came back on a visit."

POSSES SLAY TEN MEXICANS MONDAY

Five Suspects Are Held—No Further Executions Reported Today.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 20.—This border today resumed quiet for the first time since the train wreck, robbery and murders by Mexican bandits Monday night. No further executions of Mexicans since yesterday were reported, the number of executions not exceeding ten.

Co-operation with Carranza authorities in Matamoros to run down the bandits was established today. Gen. Eugenio Lopez, commander at Matamoros, said that he sent a patrol along the river yesterday, but this patrol reported that it found nothing to indicate crossings of the river by any force of men. Col. A. P. Blockson, commanding the cavalry patrol along the American side of the river, submitted to American Consul Jesse H. Johnson at Matamoros, a report of the robbery, which Mr. Johnson transmitted to General Lopez. Consul Blockson and Sheriff W. T. Vann of this county, said today that they believed Mexicans in the robbery came from both sides of the border, but Colonel Blockson said that he thought if Mexicans crossed the river, they did so singly over a long front, gathering in a body with other Mexicans after reaching the American side.

Cavalry patrols reported that most of the Mexicans living between the scene of the wreck and the river had vacated their houses and fled early yesterday. Army officers said they did not know whether any of these Mexicans were connected with the robbers, or fled in fear of activity by authorities. Twenty-one cavalrymen reported that every one of seven houses along one path from the wreck to the river was found vacant. None of the patrols or posses has reported finding any Mexicans who belonged to the band of robbers.

CARRANZA TO GET $10,000,000 LOAN

New Orleans Bankers Arrange to Loan Money to New Administration.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—New Orleans bankers announced that as a result of the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico they closed contracts to lend $10,000,000 in gold to the Mexican administration. It also was announced that arrangements had been made to handle the entire Mexican sisal crop through New Orleans; that the sisal operators of Yucatan and Campeche were to erect a million dollar manufacturing plant here for the purpose of handling their raw product, and that Mexican capitalists were to establish a new transportation line operating six steamships between New Orleans and Mexican gulf ports.

It was said that negotiations for the loan to the Mexican government had been under way several weeks, and it had been agreed that upon recognition of the Carranza government the contract would be closed. The loan contract was signed by Sol Wexler, president of the Whitney Central National bank, and Lynn H. Dinkins, president of the State Banking and Trust Co., as representing a syndicate of New Orleans bankers.

Dr. Victor A. Rendon and Julio Rendon, representing the sisal growers, with the assistance of Gen. Salvador Alvarado, governor of Yucatan, who advised with them by cable, made arrangements for handling the sisal crop.

Sisal valued at $15,000,000 would be kept in storage here in the new state-owned warehouse and ship terminals at all times, it was stated.

The $10,000,000 in gold will be paid out in exchange for warehouse certificates on sisal stored here.

REPORT OF BAPTIST ASSN. MEETING.

The twenty-ninth annual session of this body convened with Prairie Grove church last Thursday night. The session was harmonious throughout, and was characterized by the spirit of love and goodwill and was a great spiritual uplift to the church and community. Messengers were present from all parts of the county and several visitors were present from other counties.

The moderator, being absent, the body was called to order by our beloved and efficient clerk, Bro. G. F. Fuller, of Martinsville.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. C. A. Ray of Rusk. His theme was, "Christ, Our Kinsman Redeemer." Friday morning the body was called to order by the writer, who had been elected moderator pro tem.

P. F. Squyres of Lufkin and Hugh Davis of Cushing were appointed reading clerks and the letters from the various churches were read. The statistics showed that during the past year we gained 175 members by baptism.

At 11 o'clock Rev. B. G. Hallway of Jacksonville, one of our state evangelists, preached a soul-stirring sermon upon the theme, "A Call to Missions." At the hour a sumptuous dinner was spread, which had been prepared by the kind hands of the good women of the community. The good Methodist people of the community and others vied with each other in lending a helping hand in caring for the guests and making them welcome.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Moderator, Bro. Boynton of Nacogdoches; clerk, G. F. Fuller, Martinsville; corresponding secretary, C. A. Westbrook; treasurer, Frank Power.

Several fine addresses were made Saturday morning upon different reports. At the 11 o'clock hour Rev. C. A. Westbrook preached agreeable and comforting sermon upon "Four Incentives to a Faithful Life." The afternoon was given to business.

Saturday night Rev. P. F. Squyres of the Angelina County Association, preached a very helpful sermon on "What It Takes to Constitute an Ideal New Testament Church."

Sunday morning at 10 a. m. we had a fine Sunday school rally and a number of good speeches. At 11 a. m. a presbytery consisting of the writer, Bro. Boynton, Bro. Nash, S. A. Acrey, C. A. Ray and the deacons of the church set apart to the fall work of the gospel ministry, J. C. Hand. J. C. is now in school at Rusk academy and is the brother of Lawson Hand, who graduated there this year.

The ordination sermon was preached by Bro. Boynton for more than an hour the vast congregation was held spell-bound by his burning eloquence and sound reasoning. He used as a text 2nd Tim. 2:15, and the burden of his theme was that the minister should be thoroughly trained and equipped for his God-given tasks.

The next session of the body will be held with the Martinsville church.

REV. A. T. GARRARD. NORTH CHURCH COUPLE MARRIED.

Elihu Petty and Miss Mattie Gill of the North Church community drove up to the gate of Rev. W. F. Nash Sunday afternoon in search of a minister, which they quickly found, and were married seated in the buggy.

The happy couple was accompanied by the bride's sister and a young man whose name we did not learn. Mr. and Mrs. Petty belong to good families of the North Church community, and have many friends in the circle of their acquaintance who rejoice with them.

THANKSGIVING DAY DATE ON NOV. 25

U. S. Has Been Able to Assert Rights Without Breach of Friendship.

Washington, Oct. 21.—President Wilson today, in a proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving Day, called attention to the fact that the United States has been at peace while most of Europe has been at war.

"We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have had to deal," said the President.

The text follows: "It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year its praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of chances which have disturbed the world also a year of special blessing for us.

"Another year of peace has been vouchsafed us; another year in which not only to take thought of our duty to ourselves and to mankind, but also to adjust ourselves to the many responsibilities thrust upon us by a war which involved almost the whole of Europe. We have been able to assert our rights and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship with the great nation with whom we have had to deal and, while we have asserted rights, we have been able also to perform duties and exercise privileges of succor and helpfulness which should serve to demonstrate our desire to make the offices of friendship the means of truly disinterested and unselfish service.

"Our ability to serve all who could avail themselves of our services in the midst of crisis has been increased by a gracious providence, by more and more abundant crops; our ample financial resources have enabled us to steady the markets of the world, and facilitate necessary movement of commerce which the war might otherwise have rendered impossible, and our people have come more and more to a sober realization of the part they have been called upon to play in a time when all the world is shaken by unparalleled distresses and disasters.

"The extraordinary circumstances of such a time have done much to quicken our national consciousness and deepen and confirm our confidence in the principles of peace and freedom by which we have always sought to be guided. Out of darkness and perplexities have come firmer counsels of policy and clearer perceptions of the essential welfare of the nation. We have prospered while other people were at war, but our prosperity has been vouchsafed us, we believe, only that we might the better perform the functions which war rendered impossible for them to perform.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and, in their several homes, and places of worship, render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this twentieth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and of the independence of the United States of America, one hundred and fortieth.

"WOODROW WILSON. By the President: Robert Lansing, Secretary of State."

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN
How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

BUYING THINGS THAT YOU SHOULD GROW AT HOME.

When we buy at 25 cents a pound a strip of bacon or a ham that we might raise at home for 10 cents a pound, what goes with the 15 cents a pound difference? The man who grew the meat and the middleman get it, you say? Quite true, but in so far as you and I are concerned, doesn't this 15 cents a pound represent waste? Might we not as well throw the money in the fire and be done with it?

Then how about the fellow who buys canned stuff instead of getting it from his own garden and orchard; who buys corn, hay, lard, syrup, and even butter? This is pitiful waste—waste that has too long held the South in bondage to the supply merchant and the farmers of the North and West.—Brenham Banner.

SENTINEL LIKE A LETTER FROM HOME

In remitting for his paper, Dr. L. W. Raney, a native of this county who has gone out into the world and made good, now practicing medicine at Houston, he says:

"I enjoy The Sentinel like a letter from home. There are many pleasant bits of news in the editorial and notices from different parts of the county. I note especially, with great pleasure, the advancement in the educational interests taken by Prof. J. B. Stripling, your worthy county superintendent of schools. I believe the future citizenship will reap great benefits from these efforts in practical education—really applied education and very deserving."

T. L. Cornelius and family, who have been spending some months in Garrison where Mrs. Cornelius was drinking the mineral waters for her health, returned to Nacogdoches last night. Mrs. Cornelius has wonderfully improved in her general health, and increased some twenty pounds in weight, but was stricken with something like appendicitis a few nights ago, and was brought to the sanitarium for treatment. Her many friends will be glad to learn that she is much improved today, and now hopes to escape the ordeal of an operation.

REV. E. L. THOMPSON COMING TO THE CITY

We take the following notice of the resignation of Rev. R. L. Thompson as pastor of the Christian church of Timpson to accept similar work here, from Monday's issue of the Timpson Times:

"Rev. E. L. Thompson tendered his resignation yesterday as pastor of the Christian church of this city, to take effect the first of December. He was called several days ago as pastor of the Nacogdoches church of the same denomination and after considering the proposition carefully he sent his acceptance. Bro. Thompson is well known in Nacogdoches; he conducted a revival meeting in that city several weeks ago and started the movement to build a new church building, and at this time a handsome new building is under course of construction.

"Bro. Thompson has been pastor of the Christian church in Timpson three years and during that time he has won the love and admiration of the entire membership, and built the church up generally. He is a live wire in church work, and is a leader among the young people. The people of Timpson regret that he is to leave here, but at the same time they realize that as a preacher of Bro. Thompson's capability is due to climb higher and higher in his work."

NEAL DAVIS HONORED.

From "The Daily Texan" of Oct. 20 we learn that Neal Davis was elected the "freshmen member" of the Students' Council of the University of Texas in an election held last Tuesday. His vote was 162 to 124 for his opponent. All freshmen of the university have the privilege of voting in this election.

Nacogdoches High school is very much interested in this honor for Neal, since he is an alumnus of this school, having graduated last May.

MARRIAGE AT CUSHING.

Rev. C. A. Westbrook, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, reports that on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents at Cushing, he united in marriage Mr. Jas. D. Dorsey and Miss Lorene Carriker.

The happy couple belongs to good families of Cushing and The Sentinel joins their friends in congratulations and good wishes.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our many friends who rendered their kind help to us during the illness of my wife and mother.

W. C. MCBEE AND CHILDREN.

Eloise Walker, Robbie Hawthorn and Vernon Fite of Timpson were registered in the city last night.

CARL MEANS BRINGS AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

Carl Means, one of the county's most prominent farmers residing in the Appleby country, brought an agricultural exhibit to this office this morning that would do credit to a fair.

Mr. Means makes a close study of the science of farming, experimenting with new crops, and the crossing of two with each other to get a plant that is adapted to the climatic and soil conditions of his country, and is always rewarded with success. In the collection he is exhibiting now is a new feed crop which he has produced by crossing white maize and seeded ribbon cane in which a very fine grade of feed-stuff is made, being superior to either in its independent growth.

Mr. Means also brought along a bucket of fall grown Irish potatoes which would measure up with the finest spring product in this line, all of which have been on display in this office today, but too good for permanent display.

KAHN-ZEVE.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zeve, their daughter, Miss Madelyne Belle, was married to Mr. Maurice Kahn of Fort Worth, Dr. Wilner of Houston officiating.

Only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present, and after the ceremony refreshments consisting of tongue sandwiches, olives, wafers, wine, chicken, cream and angel cake were served.

The bride wore a blue coat suit, hat and accessories to match. Mr. and Mrs. Kahn left on the T. & N. O. train for Dallas, where they will attend the fair a few days, after which they will go on to Fort Worth, where they will make their future home.

The fair bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, belonging to one of the city's best families, and has many friends in the circle of her acquaintance who rejoice with her in her new-found happiness.

PRYOR-WHITEHEAD.

On last Wednesday afternoon about 2:15 o'clock, Mr. Jas. W. Pryor of Rusk and Miss Jimmie Whitehead of Melrose were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the home of Rev. Chas. A. Westbrook in this city.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple, accompanied by Messrs. Adlai T. Mast and Guy Stripling and Miss Lita May Blakey, motored to the station where Mr. and Mrs. Pryor took the train for an extended visit to Dallas and Fort Worth, after which they will return in their new automobile to Rusk where they will make their future home.

Mr. Pryor is a prominent young business man of Rusk, and the fair bride is one of the county's most worthy young ladies, both enjoying a large circle of friends who join in the wish that the future may attend them with all the happiness of wedded bliss.

Polk Roberts arrived home yesterday from a visit to his out-of-town trade.
