U. S. TO ACT IF BRITISH SEIZE ANOTHER SHIP

May Throw Into Congress Whole Question of Allies' Inroads Into Commerce.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The next seizure and detention by Great Britain of an American ship or cargo bound to a neutral port will be made the subject of a special protest by the state department, which may even demand disavowal of the act. Such a protest, it is believed, will have the effect of throwing into congress the whole question of aggression by the allies on American commerce.

Department officials have heard that members of congress are preparing themselves for debate, in the expectation that congress will be called upon to formulate a plan for reckoning with Great Britain. An official stated today that while the establishment of an embargo might have the effect of bringing Great Britain to terms but cutting off a market which is vital to her, it might be open to the technical objection of being a retaliatory measure. He pointed out that the American notes had consistently denounced retaliation between Germany and Great Britain as wrong in principle.

Our gins will run on Saturdays only after this week.

Do You Like Your Wagon

Ask an OWENSBORO WAGON user this question and see what he says. There is a reason for any man liking an OWENSBORO. They run light; are built right and are right. Built from the very best timber, iron and paint and put together in a workmanlike way is the reason why OWENSBORO WAGONS run lighter and last longer than other wagons.

Every man using an OWENSBORO is pleased with his wagon. You'll be pleased, too, if you buy one of these wagons from us.

THE OWENSBORO has many special features that will interest you. Come in and talk wagon to us. We want you to see our wagons and learn what they are made from and how they are made. Just come in and say that you want to look at a wagon. You do not have to buy unless we can please you.

CONGRESSMAN DIES ON THE PRESIDENT

He Strongly Favors the Administration's Policy Relative to War.

Beaumont, Texas, Nov. 9.—Congressman Martin Dies does not favor increasing the army, but if the President wishes, Mr. Dies will not oppose a small increase in the naval force. He believes the United States with its present military strength is perfectly able to take care of itself. He strongly favors the administration's policy relative to the warring nations. He has nothing to say about the Mexican situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dies arrived here yesterday from their country home at Warren. They will spend a week or more in Beaumont and vicinity, and will depart for Washington in time for the convening of congress on Dec. 6. The purpose of his stay here, he said, was to investigate the local deep water situation and learn what Beaumont and Port Arthur want in the way of deep water improvements. Whatever is needed he will exert his best efforts in congress to secure.

"I am proud of the way the President has handled our relations with the warring nations. It is a god-send to this country that we did not have a rougher in the White House when the European war broke out. And speaking of war, you may say for me that I do not share the hysteria which appears to have seized upon the public mind with regard to what they call our 'un-preparedness.' I hope and believe that the excitement will pass off with the sober second thought of the nation. The American people are better prepared to maintain their liberties as against all foreign aggressiveness today than they ever were before in the history of the country. We have the second best navy in the world, and 3,000 miles of ocean lie between us and the armies of Europe and the Orient."

7,384,871 BALES COTTON GINNED TO NOV. 1

Washington, Nov. 8.—The fourth cotton ginning report of the season compiled from reports of census bureau correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt and issued at 10 a. m. today, announced that 7,384,871 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1915, has been ginned to Nov. 1. That compares with 9,826,912 bales, or 61.8 per cent of the entire crop ginned prior to Nov. 1 last year; 8,830,396 bales, or 63.2 per cent, in 1913, and 8,869,222 bales, or 65.8 per cent in 1912. The average quantity of cotton ginned prior to Nov. 1 in the past ten years was 7,954,534 bales, or 62.0 per cent of the crop.

Included in the ginnings were 69,204 round bales, compared with 23,182 last year, 61,577 in 1913 and 54,539 in 1912.

Sea Island cotton included numbered 69,204 bales, compared with 43,115 last year, 42,804 in 1913 and 28,887 in 1912.

W. S. Hotchkiss, superintendent of the state experimental station at Troup, came down in his car yesterday afternoon to meet G. T. McNess, superintendent of the state experimental station at Nacogdoches, who came in on the T. & N. O. Mr. McNess went up to Troup to look after some cotton experiments that he is making. He sent some cotton up to Troup to be ginned on the little gin that is used at the experimental station there.—Jacksonville Progress.

HAD A BIG DAY AT GARRISON YESTERDAY

The Largest Crowd in the History of the Town Present, and Entertainment Good.

From Friday's Daily:

It is generally conceded that the biggest crowd in the history of the town was present at Garrison yesterday and the town did herself proud in entertaining the visitors.

Good order prevailed throughout the day and there was nothing to mar the pleasure of any one.

Col. R. T. Milner of Henderson delivered a great address in the forenoon, which was listened to with interest by a great host of people. In the afternoon a couple of basket ball games were played between Garrison and Timpson, Garrison winning both. There were other features, among which was the awarding of prizes for different things as previously announced in the program.

Not much attention was given to business by the merchants, the day rather being given over to entertaining the crowd and renewing acquaintance with the people, and during the day many old friends had reunion with each other.

OPINION WILL AFFECT ALL TEXAS SHERIFFS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—An opinion by the attorney general's department holds that a sheriff is not entitled to $2 per day for waiting upon the court in the trial of a lunacy case; that the fees allowed sheriffs in such cases are exclusive and that such an officer is not entitled to the additional $2 per day for waiting on a court. The opinion will affect many sheriffs in Texas, it is said.

The Longview Times-Clarion sizes up a condition about right in the observation that "some men get more notoriety from the newspapers than other men, because they do things. A negative sort of individual who never does anything good or bad attracts very little attention."

The Sentinel hopes that its readers will not think it intruding, or fear an egotistical bearing, when it reproduces so many of the nice things the brethren of the press have been saying about it. They are "flowers to the living" with us—and the best evidence that we are "alive."

Nacogdoches now has a daily newspaper that is worth more as an effective booster than all the commercial clubs that ancient and classic city ever had. The old Sentinel has certainly come to life and Nacogdoches is in line for congratulations. — Longview Daily Times-Clarion.

The governor has issued a proclamation designating Nov. 21 to 27 as "Buy-it-Made-in-Texas" week. As in everything else going lately Nacogdoches is ahead, having adopted this policy early in the fall. But, then, Nacogdoches was the beginning of good things in Texas and it is natural to continue in the good way.

In an address at New York on the night of the 4th, in which the campaign for national defense was opened, President Wilson is quoted with saying: "The United States has no aggressive purpose, but must be prepared to defend itself to assume full liberty and self-development." Practically this contention is doubtless true, but the man who doesn't carry weapons of offense and defense seldom commits a homicide, and what is true with the individual is true with governments, made by people, on a larger scale.

A few nights ago the Crown Theatre of this city exhibited a special feature picture in five reels, entitled "The Governor's Lady," that carried with it a great lesson. A poor miner loved his country girl-wife—and she loved him. They lived happily in the hut they called home, and basked in each other's companionship. One day the miner stumbled upon a rich gold find which put his brain in a whirl and filled his mind with visions of luxury and affluence. The hut was abandoned and residence taken in the fashionable part of a great city where the man proceeded to live a fast life. The companionship of a beautiful girl, who was familiar with the ways of the new life and ambitious to be the wife of a rich man, was cultivated and her "heart" won. To further the alliance and the new interests a divorce was sought from the "common" old woman to which he was tied in matrimony. Principle and right finally prevailed, and through kind fate the governor was finally restored to his devoted wife and their affections restored, finishing the story with a happy climax, but in it a great lesson was exhibited—that "love flies out the window when ambition intrudes."

An exchange condemns the practice of one paper paying a compliment to another paper. The exchange evidently lives up to its philosophy, as we note that it carries nothing of the kind in its columns. We also note that its neighbors understand its wishes in the premises and do not intrude.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

And right here we might as well call attention to a fact that has been crystalized in the brain of the Telegram's exchange editor. The great daily newspapers have adopted a policy of impersonal journalism which the little papers have copied, to the great disadvantage of the little papers. People will buy and read a two-by-four newspaper if it has a personality. By following the lead of the big papers the little papers have cut out the personality of the editor and have ruined their chances of competing with the great sheets. Let us show a little of the personality of the editor, pay compliments when we please and have a lot of fun.—Temple Telegram.

Our vocabulary would not admit of the addition of a single word to the following editorial comment from the Lufkin News—and neither would we take a single word away. It is good enough:

"Of course the News could not and did not hope to maintain the standard of its initial entry into the world, and coming down to the class of The Sentinel was our aim. Now, if the merchants and business men of Lufkin show their appreciation of the venture to that extent which the publication hopes to deserve, Lufkin will continue to have as nice a little daily paper as exists in the whole of East Texas, and is pleased to make note of the fact that our esteemed contemporary across the way wishes us such a long life of prosperity—a thousand years, if you please, which is no mean length of time here below. We are told, however, in the Book of Inspiration, that away over "yonder," a day is considered as one thousand years and one thousand years looked upon as a day. Of course that reckoning of time does not apply over here in East Texas, Arkansas and other places that might be mentioned; but, pressing our palm to a classic brow, and glancing into that future of undiscovered beatitudes and pleasures, in which the whole of civilization stands in awe, the News will give voice to the absorbing hope that among those who have labored here in this land of flowers until the final summons comes, will be found The Sentinel force standing around in that happy land, looking over the scenery which we know will outshine that of Switzerland, the grandeur of the Rockies, the Alps, and every other pleasurable sight upon the face of the globe upon which all of us are now trying to cling, and that they will appear just as much at home as the News force hopes to feel when they set foot upon that Golden Shore."

FROM DR. L. L. PIERCE.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 30.—Editor of The Sentinel: Those in charge of the anti-tuberculosis movement have set aside the week of Dec. 5 as the National Prevention Week, and Dec. 8 as a national "Be Examined" Day. Perhaps it will give your thoughts an additional impetus when I tell you that every three minutes some one dies of it, and that in the United States alone there are 150,000 estimated deaths each year, which, with the government's estimated economic value of $8,000 to the individual, makes an increasing loss each year that we have to seriously consider, for tuberculosis is a preventable disease. The following is an extract from an editorial of the Asheville Gazette-News:

BE EXAMINED.

"Here is another example of the medical profession's efforts 'to work itself out of jobs' by the encouragement of measure to prevent disease: The state board of health has designated Dec. 8 as 'Be Examined' Day, that date coming within tuberculosis week, suggesting that both people and physicians generally observe it. Says a press article of the state board of health:

"The plan adopted for observing this national medical examination day is a practical one. It does not suppose that a large number, not all who would, could be thoroughly examined in one day, but it does suppose that public interest can be aroused as to set people to thinking seriously about the matter and finally to arrange for a medical examination at the convenience of their physicians and themselves."

"Schools, communities and factories are urged to observe this day by holding mass meetings or with special exercises in order that the movement may be brought to the attention of the people. And it is also suggested that special arrangements be made beforehand with physicians to make examinations on this day, free of charge. It is pointed out that in Michigan recently on a somewhat similar occasion, nearly 500 physicians engaged in such work."

"The importance of such a movement cannot be overestimated. It is generally recognized now that the danger of tuberculosis, as of many other diseases, lies principally in the insidiousness with which it takes hold of its victims; and that in most cases the disease can be successfully combatted if the treatment is begun in time. How often we hear of cases in which the victims are facing death almost as soon as the nature of the ailment is known."

"It goes without saying that the physicians generally will heartily co-operate in the movement; and as the people will be the beneficiaries, they should exhibit enough interest in it to make it worth while for the physicians to give their time to it."

The subject is a serious one, and I feel deeply in the matter. Let me urge upon you this slogan: Fresh air now and for all the time. Those acquainted with my case will recognize the truth that I was about ready for burial before I was aware of the fact that I had tuberculosis, and it is only by the grace of the greatest physician in the United States that I am alive.

I would earnestly suggest that during this date—week of Dec. 5—attention be given this in Nacogdoches. It would not be a bad idea to have a lecture by the physicians before all the students attending school.

Yours in the interests of health, L. L. PIERCE, D.D. S.

A paragrapher has discovered that "a man named Money has been arrested on a charge of extorting $500 each from two merchants." What else could be expected of the root of evil?

CAUSE OF PELLAGRA.

It appears that Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the staff of the United States public health service has demonstrated that unbalanced diet is the cause of pellagra and that if the proper diet was employed in its early stages, it cannot only be arrested, but permanently cured.

In co-operation with the Governor Brewer of Mississippi and the board of health of that state, Dr. Goldberger instituted an experiment station with a pellagra squad at the Rankin state convict farm. Twelve prisoners were selected for the experiment each being promised a pardon in the event that he followed strictly the rules of diet prescribed by Dr. Goldberger, which excluded as food milk, fresh lean meat, peas and beans.

The experiment began Feb. 15 last, and a diagnosis shows that six of the prisoners have pellagra in pronounced form, while two others show symptoms suggestive of pellagra.

The prisoners who have developed the disease will be immediately placed under curative treatment and Dr. Goldberger is confident that they will be restored to normal health within a few weeks.

Governor Brewer has issued a pardon to eleven members of the squad, the twelfth member having suffered a general physical breakdown several months ago and was released.

While the eleven convicts are free to leave the penitentiary if they so desire, Governor Brewer strongly urges them to stay for a few weeks and be nursed back to health, using prescribed diet furnished by the state and federal governments. It is expected they will do this.

Of course Dr. Goldberger is entitled to large credit in case his discovery proves to be a valuable one, as we believe it will, for pellagra has become so widespread within the last few years as to constitute a real menace. But when we give the doctor credit for the work he has done, let us not forget the twelve convicts who risked their lives in the experiments, largely, of course, in the hope of winning their freedom to science and the advancement of health are of large value, nevertheless.—Waco Morning News.

Something to worry about in editing a local daily on each Monday is the absence of the Lufkin Daily News, Timpson Daily Times, Center Daily Optimist and Longview Daily Times-Clarion. Upon these rocky days we have to appeal to our own resources, drawing upon the future and existing in the negative.

Dear Luke: Lon Moore is the landscape gardener at Kentucky State university.—O. P. G., in Temple Telegram.

Many new people are moving into Nacogdoches and vicinity for the benefit of our great schools, and many more will continue to come for a like reason. There is no greater asset to a town than a good school.

The other day a humble writer on a Texas paper passed away. He did not leave any money because he had not accumulated any. He had no official title for never in his life had he asked the people to so honor him. As one paper expressed it: "He was just a man."

Just a man who loved his family and always when the day's work was over went home to comfort the wife and play with the children.

Just a man ready to meet his obligations at all times.

Just a man who had a good word and a smile for those he met.

Just a man who would give a quarter to a hungry tramp or sit by the bedside of any sick neighbor.

Just a man who would vote his conviction on election day and abide by the results whether his favorite was chosen for office or not.

But few mourners were at the grave, because it was in the city and there one must have wealth or political fame to attract much attention. But nevertheless, a small bank of flowers covered the new made grave and among the roses and carnations, the ferns and honey suckles, tears from the broken hearts, could be seen to glisten like diamonds.

The family knew the value of that man, and whenever a family loses a valuable husband and father, the community and the state suffer a loss. No man is a good citizen who does not measure up to the higher standard at home and no man a bad citizen who carries comfort and joy to his friends.—Exchange.

JAMES CARRANZA TROOPS FOR FIRING

Major General Funston Sends Report on Battle at Agua Prieta to War Dept.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Carranza troops were the main offenders in firing across the border in the battle at Agua Prieta, according to a report from Major General Funston received today at the war department. The general says both Calles and Villa did all they could to prevent injury to American lives and property.

"I could not, in fairness, have opened fire on Villa without treating Calles the same," he added.

Gen. Funston's report, dated last night, described conditions as satisfactory, and added:

"I consider the immediate danger passed."

Washington, Nov. 5.—Confidential reports to the war department from official sources in Mexico indicate that Gen. MR. BEN T. WILSON DISCLAIMS LETTER

Editor The Sentinel: A great many of my friends have gotten after me about an article that appeared in the Houston Chronicle signed by B. Wilson.

I want to most emphatically deny having any connection whatever with this communication, nor do I have the least idea who this party is. I would like very much to know just who he is for my own information. I do not mind in the least standing up for what I think, no matter whether anybody agrees with me or not, but I most certainly do not want to take responsibility for what other people think.

In this particular case I was not in the court house half an hour during the whole trial; know nothing about the case except from hearsay, argument and discussion; have no interest in it whatever, and am entirely incompetent to have any opinion about it whatever, as I heard practically none of the evidence.

I sign myself Ben Wilson, B. T. Wilson or Ben T. Wilson, but never B. Wilson. I know of no one else except my friend Benton Wilson who might have written this article, and he assures me he did not write it, and, like myself, knows nothing of the case and was not in the court house over half an hour during the whole trial.

I am proud to count District Attorney W. B. O'Quinn, one of my very closest and best friends, and if I had heard this case and been familiar enough with it to express myself at all, I certainly should not have expressed myself about Mr. O'Quinn in any such manner as the B. Wilson article contained.

I would appreciate it very much indeed if you will give this communication, or such part of it as you see fit, space in your paper, as I do not want anyone, especially my friends, to censure me for the expressions of another party when I do not even know the identity of that party.

BEN T. WILSON.

CEMENT PAVED WALKS FOR SCHOOL GROUNDS

In an interview with Judge S. W. Blount we learn that in a short time about $1,000 worth of additional cement walks will be laid about the already beautiful grounds surrounding the Nacogdoches High school building. This work comes about in this way:

Nacogdoches university was chartered by the Texas congress in 1845 and the Republic of Texas donated to it four leagues of land and many citizens of Nacogdoches donated sums of money and tracts of land, most of which lands were disposed of by the university trustees many years ago.

Among other donations was a tract of 640 acres of land in Van Zandt county by Gen. Thomas J. Rusk, all of which was sold years ago except about 200 acres, for which there has never been a purchaser until recently. In the meantime the original charter of the university expired by its own limitations in 1860 and was renewed about 1875 by legislative enactment and extended for twenty-five years and again expired by its own terms; and the university ceased to be a going concern, its principal property, grounds and building in the city being conveyed to the Nacogdoches independent school district. In the meantime the heirs of Gen. Rusk brought suit against the university for the 200 acres of land still unsold, alleging that the university, having ceased to exist, the land donated by their ancestor reverted to his heirs. The district court of this county appointed trustees to wind up the affairs of the old university and sell the remaining property and they defended the suit in Van Zandt county for the land and obtained judgment for same. The trustees recently sold it for about $1,000 and propose expending this money in the construction of additional cement walks on the beautiful campus.

The present cement walks were constructed by these university trustees several years since with money derived from the sale of another tract of land which had belonged to the university for sixty-eight years.

Thus the old Nacogdoches university, as such, has passed into history and the magnificent High school buildings under the management of the public school authorities ornament the most beautiful school campus in the state of Texas—sic transit gloria mundi.

BLOCKADE ILLEGAL, SAID NOTE TO ENGLAND

Washington, Nov. 7.—The United States in its latest note to Great Britain, made public here today, covering exclusively British interference with American trade since the beginning of the European war, declares that the so-called blockade instituted by the allies against enemy countries on March 11, is "ineffective, illegal and indefensible." Notice is served that the American government "can not submit to the curtailment of its neutral rights," and it can not "with complacency suffer further subordination of its rights and interests."

Ambassador Page, to whom the note was sent by special messenger for delivery to the London foreign office, was instructed by Secretary Lansing "to impress most earnestly" upon the British government that the United States "must insist that the relations between it and his majesty's government be governed, not by a policy of expediency, but by those established rules of international conduct to which Great Britain in the past has held the United States to account when the latter nation was a belligerent engaged in a struggle for national existence."

Declaring that the United States "unhesitatingly assumes" the task of championing the integrity of neutral rights, the note proclaims that the American government will devote its energies to the task, exercising always an impartial attitude.

The note, nearly 15,000 words in length, was made public by agreement between the state department and the British foreign office.

MAYOR MATTHEWS' MOTHER IS DEAD

From Tuesday's Daily: Hon. Geo. H. Matthews, mayor of Nacogdoches, received a message yesterday announcing the serious illness of his sainted old mother at Athens. He went to Athens last night to be at her bedside and later news was received by the family that Mrs. Matthews passed away at 6 o'clock last evening.

Mayor Matthews' friends in the city and elsewhere over the country will deeply sympathize with him in his great bereavement.

While caring for a big hog he had in pen, Mr. J. P. Lovett of the East Texas Land Co., had a very exciting and painful experience which has caused him to have less love for the hog family. Getting over into the pen with the hog in some errand, the hog made an assault upon him, knocking him down and cutting a number of gashes in his body. Finally getting loose, Mr. Lovett summoned medical aid and had his wounds dressed, but it will be some days before he entirely recovers from his injuries.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the good people of Jamesville and Cove Springs communities for their aid and sympathy during the recent sudden illness and death of our beloved little daughter and sister.

We wish to thank the people of Fairview community also for their sympathy and aid in our recent bereavement.

A few more smokestacks and a better development of the agricultural resources tributary to the town will bring old Nacogdoches into its own as the leading city of East Texas—and the day is approaching. Both are on the way.

Preparatory to the working out of a street car system for Nacogdoches a combination passenger and freight line might be successfully worked out to run from the depot up town, meeting all the trains with a passenger coach and handling a freight flat car in the intervening space of time. "Giant oaks from small acorns grow."

In noting our appreciation of the neighboring daily exchanges yesterday we overlooked to mention the Jacksonville Daily Progress. If we were talking to the editors of that spicy publication personally we would admit that the Progress was the brightest star in the bunch, but couldn't go so far with the statement in print unless all would agree.

A court at Fort Worth has ruled that a mule is justified in falling upon a man when collided with a fast moving motorcycle, and that a valid claim for damages would not accrue with such a contingency. This friendly recognition of a mule's rights is noteworthy for the reason that it is the first legal consideration he has ever had, the balance being assumed with a physical action of the rear extremity.

It doesn't pay to knock on your competitor. Every time you place a broadside on a competitor's head you also jab yourself in the slats. If Peary, the Arctic explorer, had come out in a neat card saying he saw Doctor Cook pulling up to the North Pole just as he was at the edge of the hill on the return trip, both explorers would now be rich lecturers, wearing halos and eating and drinking with kings. But Peary knocked Cook and Cook knocked Peary, and the people of the world know them both as monumental liars.—Honey Grove Signal.

One hundred thousand dollars worth of improvement in a year with the panic "proclivities" that has afflicted the country, Nacogdoches will stand comparison with the livest wires in material development. Come to Nacogdoches.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

That does nicely, for a small place. The Rembert opera house, completed this year, and the federal building, now in course of construction at Longview, cost one hundred and ten thousand dollars, so, you see, we can skin you by showing only two cards. However, Nacogdoches is to be heartily congratulated on her phenomenal progress under adverse circumstances.—Longview Times-Clarion.

The white flag is herewith raised and we waft a prayer for peace across the breezes to San Antonio. We are "licked." We have been told of our downsettings and our uprisings, and a paternalistic mind unfolds the way to future greatness, failure or stubbornness in which we will be reduced to a wayside station. This mind speaks in authority as one who has "gone and did it," and prophetically as one who can look down the stream of time and fathom its innumerable possibilities. In analysis we have failed in the test. We have been weighed in the scales and found wanting—but the charity of the master mind appropriates its greater strength to the storehouse of knowledge, the superior class of gray matter and the prophetic vision to whom all things are so plain. We give up, and pray a kind providence to pin back the effulgent drapery of heaven with the twinkling stars that beckon the souls of the innocent, and upon the gentle zephyrs of thy undying love let us be wafted to Abraham's bosom before we commit suicide or "squeeze" the aggrieved gentleman out of another light plant.

It is all right for the farmer to produce all that he profitably can for his home supplies and in doing this he needs not the help of his neighbor. But before he can ever succeed in selling his surplus to much advantage, he is bound to have the business-like co-operation of all the other farmers who have a surplus. This question has been so thoroughly demonstrated that it seems that it would be a useless consumption of time to discuss it. All the farmers in the world who are successful in selling their products are doing it by co-operative organizations. Read the history of farmers' organizations in Europe and America and settle this question once for all.—Col. Milner in Rusk County News.

In his effort to secure for the county a lady instructor in canning club work, James D. Greer, county agricultural agent, is promoting a proposition that would be of incalculable value to the people of the rural districts as well as those of the towns. In an address from him, which will be found elsewhere in the paper, we learn that many million dollars worth of canned products are shipped into Texas each year. Not only could this money be kept at home with proper effort intelligently employed, but it would be of a fresher, better variety, and a greater home consumption would be enjoyed than is now possible with many people. Another great feature is the instruction in home economics, sanitation, etc., in all of which there is much deficiency with all of us, and room for much improvement. The government will share this expense with us, and the balance needed should be readily subscribed that the work may go forward.

The Sentinel is giving considerable space to another communication from Mr. E. C. Branch today for the reason that he seems aggrieved with the paper for making editorial reference to his former communication, but this is the last anent this matter to which we shall give space for two reasons. First, the original grievance pertains to a matter with which the present editor had nothing to do, and could not mend it if he would. We do not challenge Mr. Branch's claims in full, neither do we challenge the integrity of the gentlemen with whom he dealt. We accept it as a dead issue which has been settled by a legal agreement, and, as such, no cause of action remains. Second, our space is our stock in trade, and that which is not used in mercantile and professional advertising must be freighted with matter that will interest and entertain its readers if we do justice to ourselves and our patrons. We have no ambition to build and operate light plants, telephone systems and banks as the gentleman suggests, leaving that to the men trained in those lines; neither do we consider seriously advice as to how we should conduct our individual and public duty, being governed in such matters by our own experience and the dictates of our own conscience.

This would be a pleasanter world if the chronic kicker would only stub his toe oftener.—New York Times.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM MR. BRANCH.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 2.—Editor Sentinel: Referring to your issue of Oct. 28, in which you saw fit to publish an article from me regarding the light situation, I anticipated having nothing to say in the matter, but your comment on the article is so one-sided it calls for some comment.

I appreciate your position as a new man prone to advocate peace and shield past defeats as much as possible, and this is commendable, but why in your comment did you see fit to ignore and condemn the wrong done these citizens by forcing them to take $25,000 for property they could have gotten $40,000 for? And if it was worth more than $40,000 then, why is it not worth more than $43,000 now? You argue that as "much" money has been spent by the city in the physical improvement of the plant, together with the growing importance of the city, makes it worth more now than at the time of the transfer." In other words, the property has enhanced in value the difference between $25,000 and $43,000, or $18,000. Now then, if the plant was worth $40,000 at the time of its taken, and it has enhanced in value $18,000 since, isn't it now worth $58,000? According to your own reasoning it is worth it, and if you see it that way, ought you not as spokesman for the public demand the city get all it is worth? In my opinion it is worth it, and I believe it can be sold for that sum.

The present editor does not know me, and is no doubt justified in passing up as "hot air" the offer to sell the plant for the highest offer and return to the men who lost in the sale any sum I might get over this. I believe if you will talk to any successful business man there he will say if I undertake it I will come pretty close to doing it. The citizens of Nacogdoches may say this is no concern of mine as I have left the town for good, and not a dollar invested there. And strictly speaking, this is correct, but just and fair dealing on the part of the town is just as bending as just and fair dealing is demanded by individuals. I may be an old fogey, but am well grounded in the belief that any man who prospers by another's misfortunes is just as sure to get a "back-fire" as he lives, and is liable to get pretty close to some "fire" after he dies. And I am just as firm in the belief that the town that pursues this course is just as sure to go up on the breakers as is an individual.

Old Nacogdoches is a good old town, and could today have been a good-sized little city if she had not been throttled. She has some of the best people in the world, and a few of the sorriest. Did you catch the late definition of a sorry town? It is said to be one that has a few good people who can't get away.

Now Mr. Editor, you are a new man there, and you have a great opportunity before you, to-wit: To harmonize and build up the town. First as to the city government: Get all the officers and employers to step out and hire a city manager for two years. Get a competent, high-priced man. If you can't get him, go out of town for him. If you can get the right man, he will stop the waste, get the city on good financial basis and reduce the taxes. Second induce all your citizens to stop their bickerings and pull together. If you find a man is making money, encourage him; and if some other fellow wants to start an age it. Consolidate your hotels and have one good one. Consolidate your soda water factories. Have one good laundry and everybody patronize it, and let them all make some money.

If you have products that are made at home, let everybody use them. If a man is making money, brag on him, and be proud of his ability. It won't help others to discourage and pull him down. A newcomer can go into a town where everybody is making money and he can get some of it. Cut taxes down quit putting valuations out of sight. Men with money don't want to invest where taxes will eat them up. Make a list of all the young men who have left Nacogdoches within the past ten years and publish it, with their present occupations. It will surprise the public to learn that fifty to one hundred of these are now doing well. Hold these young men there, and encourage them in growing up with the town and accumulating property.

This is a big job I have advised you to tackle, but it is not impossible. I rustled there with them for a long time, and to encourage you in making the start you will pardon me in citing a few things I did there without any backing and little expense. I first built up a telephone system practically covering East Texas east of I. & G. N. railway to the Louisiana line, embracing more than 1000 miles of toll lines and some fifteen exchanges. Brokers and lumber men could have their headquarters in Nacogdoches and talk over nearly all the country for twenty-five cents for five minutes. Ask them how the service and prices from all this property was brought to Nacogdoches and left in banks or invested there. Find out how much of this touches Nacogdoches now. I built the light plant, with others and took the city out of the candle and coal-oil class. Ask the public how the service and rates compare now with what it was then. I formulated the plan and put into operation with other parties, the second bank for Nacogdoches, thereby giving better banking facilities. I formed the plan, and with others successfully operated the first commercial club the town ever had. I mention these things to show what a man with ordinary intelligence, no backing, but plenty of energy can do. And what has been done can be done again. So go to it, and if you get out of something to do, I get over there twice a year and will study up something else for you to exercise your surplus energy with.

There is too much of this, and I do not expect you to publish it. I have been in the paper so much over there the past twenty years I have gotten over the pride of seeing my name in print.

I would really be glad to see some man who had time and energy to get hold of those people over there and get them going. But they are in a rut and if they don't pull up and get together, the town will be a way station in a few more years. Then, too, I really think you did not make a full and fair comment on the article I wrote.

E. C. BRANCH.

The Waco Morning News lows: "Now that nearly every town in East Texas is getting a commercial secretary, we presume the hot air that is dispensed in that section will be of sufficient volume to ward off the chills." And when we get rid of all the chills, possibly we can promote a cotton palace of our own and not have to depend on Waco for the artistic quality of fictitious entertainment it offers. We have no authorized secretary of "hot air" dimensions, or "chilly sensation" in Nacogdoches, and nothing to defend individually, but it offends us for any source to spend disparagingly of Grand Old East Texas, the land of milk and honey, where a kind providence sends the rains and the seasons every year, and where the people are contented and happy.

THE OVERWORKED MOTHER

It is a mother's constant temptation to serve her children in lesser deeds that rob her life of her most important property—to forget herself and waste her soul in the routine demands made by her children. But let every mother know that the best way to serve her children is to keep alive in her breast the importance of her own personality. Let her know that the time will come when these little ones will need her companionship. They will need her to be large-minded, up-to-date, so that they may share their man's and woman's problem with her.

Happy is that mother who grows with her children! Happy she who keeps to herself in the childhood sacred hours for her own self culture, renewing ever the oil in her lamp that to them her supreme gift may be constant and increasing light.—Christian Century.

The girl of my heart will wait for me,
She's waiting now somewhere;
Only in thoughts her sweet face I see,
Only in thoughts her sweet face I see,

She loves me though we've yet to meet,
And knows that I love her;
As one her heart and mine doth beat,
In thought we both concur.

WILL SPEND MILLIONS IN U. S. AFTER WAR

France's Friendship for United States Will Bring Close Trade Relations.

New York, Nov. 9.—Five members of a French industrial and commercial commission landed here today from the steamship Lafayette and said they came to arrange for the purchase, at the conclusion of the war, of at least $160,000,000 worth of structural iron and steel, machinery and industrial supplies. All supplies of this character, the commissioners said, were formerly imported from Germany.

The commissioners said that while they are here primarily to purchase supplies necessary to reconstruct and modernize the French industries when the war is over, they will endeavor to establish reciprocal trade relations between the United States and France.

The commission is headed by Maurice Damour, formerly the French consul general at New Orleans, now secretary of appropriations for the French chamber of deputies.

Although this commission is not a government organization, it is backed, the commissioners said, by all the large industrial and commercial organizations of France and a majority of bankers.

Mr. Damour said: "It is now conceded in France that the great friendship shown by the United States will bring about close trade relations between the two republics at the conclusion of the war."

"The purchases we will arrange for will be necessary to rehabilitate France's various industries after the war, but we will also take opportunity to modernize many of the plants. Before the war we were spending at least $160,000,000 a year for German machinery and industrial supplies. I feel sure this sum will now be spent in the United States."

Mr. Damour said the commission will remain in this country several months with headquarters in New York.

FORTY YEARS AS A FRONTIER PREACHER

The year 1915 seems to be a year of golden wedding anniversaries. Possibly because the youths who married during the civil war were hardy and hale, their married life extends beyond the half century mark. Rev. and Mrs. G. N. Weaver, who celebrated their golden anniversary on Tuesday, Nov. 2, are as young in appearance and activity as most people at 60.

They remember log homes and dirt floors and chimney cranes and ox teams as a part of everyday life long past. And as they used to pay 75 cents for a yard of calico, they now buy silk at almost that price.

They have eight children, all living and married, and each child a parent.

There are twenty-six grandchildren and one great grandchild. Rev. and Mrs. Weaver have spent their wedded life in Shelby county and have witnessed many vicissitudes of life in this part of East Texas. Mr. Weaver has been actively engaged in preaching for forty years and stands among the front rank of frontier missionaries.

He has established hundreds of churches and married hundreds of young people. And today he is superintendent of missions in East Texas. He is considered one of the best informed ministers of the Christian denomination in Texas.—Houston Chronicle.

BEAUMONT ENTERPRISE HAD $30,000 FIRE SUNDAY

Paper Stock and Large Press Loss in Blaze Which Threatened Entire Building.

Beaumont, Nov. 7.—The Enterprise company, publishers of the Beaumont Enterprise, suffered the loss of its warehouse and heavy damage to its press room and main building about 8 o'clock tonight, when fire broke out in the press room and spread to the warehouse. The greatest loss was in the destruction of its four and a half deck rotary press and the loss of white paper, there being several carloads in the warehouse. The warehouse also contained the city distributing rooms. The warehouse was a frame building and joined the main building. The loss is $30,000.

The central fire station is just across the street from the Enterprise building and it was due to the proximity of the fire fighters and the fire-department's best fighting equipment that the main building, was saved, although the first and second floors were more or less damaged. The press room and business offices were somewhat water soaked. The editorial rooms occupy the second floor. They were damaged by water. The mechanical department, on the third floor, escaped damage.

An item which will enter largely into the loss of the Enterprise is the major portion of a special edition of the paper which had been printed and stacked in the warehouse.

The Beaumont Journal has tendered its press to the Enterprise until the press has been rehabilitated or replaced.

COMING CAMPAIGN NACOGDOCHES COUNTY.

Announcement and Program For an Educational Campaign in Nacogdoches County.

A crew of workers consisting of Miss Amanda Stoltzfus and Mr. E. E. Davis, will spend nine days in Nacogdoches County beginning November 15th, and closing November 24th, 1915.

These people are sent out by the State University, at Austin, for the purpose of improving the conditions in the rural schools. Each of these lecturers have made a special study of rural conditions, and how to improve them and I feel that what they shall have to say and demonstrate will be of more benefit to the schools of Nacogdoches County in a practical way than any other agency which might be employed at the present time.

They bring with them the necessary equipment to show and demonstrate, as well as to lecture, and each day will be spent in showing the teachers and patrons how to improve home and school conditions.

The program rendered will be uniformly carried out at each point where lectures are given.

To reach all the schools of the county so that each may be benefited by their coming we will ask that the schools in the respective groups that I have heretofore outlined, suspend school, and teachers, trustees, pupils and parents all make a special effort to be present that day on which they will be in your group.

The plan is to have two or more lecturers in the forenoon and two or more in the afternoon and two or more at night. This being true it will be necessary for the teachers, pupils and patrons to carry their lunch and spend the entire day.

The three subjects used by Miss Stoltzfus are:

- No 1—School Hygiene.
 - No 2—Some forms of Community Co-operation and how to use them.
 - No 3—The relation of school life to life in the home.
- The three subjects by Mr. Davis are:
- No 1—Rural School Consolidation would mean.
 - No 2—Community Problems, and how to solve them.
 - No 3—The Public School as a Business and the Social Center of the Community.
- The following are the groups of the schools, places and time of meeting:
- Group No 1—Garrison, Center, Clear Branch, and Pine Hill, Monday, November 15th, at Garrison High School.
 - Group No 2—Appleby, Mayotown, Cedar Bluff, Happy Land, Campbell, Holly Springs, Pleasant Hill, Pisgah, Tuesday, November 16th, at Appleby High School.
 - Group No 3—Swift, Blake, Trinity, Shady Grove, Mt. Moriah, Libby Martinsville, Jamesville, Melrose, Fairview, Oakville, 17th, at Swift.
 - Group No 4—Chireno, Black Jack, Spring Hill, Bethel, Simon, Smyrna, Brewer's Chapel, Cross Roads and Odell, Thursday, November, 18th, at Chireno.
 - Group No 5—Woden, Dorr at Woden.
 - Group No 6—Harmony Spradley, Mt. Horeb, Alazan, Gravel Ridge, Edon, Moral, Bernaldo, Pleasant Grove, Saturday, November 20th, at Hafmony.
 - Group No 7—Nat, Douglass, Oak Flat, Flatwoods, Sacul, Myrtle Springs, Friendship, Libbert, and Cushing, Bonday, November 22nd, at Nat.
 - Group No 8—Linn Flat, Owensville, New Harmony, Union Springs, Lone Pine, Trawick, and Caro, Tuesday, November, 23rd, at Linn Flat.
 - Group No 9—Red Oak, Lone Star, Twilight, Sand Ridge, Hickory Flat, Mahl, Wednesday,

S. MINTZ

November, 24th, at Red Oak.

While these people are in Nacogdoches County we shall very much appreciate it if a number of citizens who are interested in education to make it a point to be with us. Better conditions in school matters means better conditions in other ways for the rural districts, hence better for the county in general.

To the teachers and school boards of the various schools I would ask that you lend a helping hand in this work and on these special days willingly dismiss your school and make it a point to be on hand for the instruction and inspiration you may get.

Yours truly,
JNO. B. STRIPLING,
Co. Supt. Nac. Co., Texas.

Concerning Miss Stoltzfus.

"Miss Amanda Stoltzfus, lecturer to Rural Schools, in the University of Texas, has passed through all stages of the Rural from the rural schools as a child, and later taught in them and helped improve them in Tennessee. Her school was so successful that it was made the modern rural school in connection with the great summer school for teachers at Knoxville. She has also had experience in the city school of Knoxville. Later she moved to Texas and established the rural agricultural high school at Tuleta. This school and community were built up from a bare prairie to one of the noted schools and communities of the State. Miss Stoltzfus as principal of this school, made it famous for the practical studies that she introduced and for the valuable service which the school rendered to the community through its Mother's Club, Farmers' Club and other organizations which had their home in the school-house. For the past three years, Miss Stoltzfus has been traveling through Texas, scattering aboard the doctrine of broader and more useful country schools. She has a great message to tell, and tells it with enthusiasm. Her lectures are illustrated by charts and lantern slides in such a way as to make real good things which she so well describes and explains."

Concerning Mr. Davis.

"Mr. E. E. Davis, extension lecturer to rural schools, in the University of Texas, has grown up in the rural districts of Texas, passed through its rural schools, and served a long time as teacher and principal in these schools. He has also had experience as principal of the high school at Kingsville and as a teacher in John Tarleton college. To his long practical experience Mr.

Davis has added thorough university training and a study of the systems of education employed in the rural schools of other states and other countries. For the past two years he has been in all sections of Texas, and is thoroughly familiar with all the problems and business of the rural school. He is an enthusiastic and inspiring speaker and has pointed the way to better things in many districts in Texas. It will be a great opportunity to hear Mr. Davis."

1,000 HORSES IN N. Y. HELP SAVE SOLDIERS

New York, Nov. 9.—One thousand horses in this city are being used to produce tetanus antitoxin for the armies of Europe, but Dr. W. H. Park, head of the city's bacteriological laboratory, today said that, since the large commercial laboratories have developed means for handling the industry, the department has decided to return to its normal output. He estimates that since the beginning of the conflict, 4,000,000 soldiers have received injections of the antitoxin.

BREAKS ARM WHILE CRANKING AUTOMOBILE

While trying to crank an automobile Wednesday afternoon, Eugene Jeffries had the misfortune to get his arm broken very badly. The accident was caused by the crank kicking back. The knuck-bone of the gentleman's wrist was knocked off and the bone above fractured, making a very serious and painful break, but the patient seems to be doing nicely with his injury.

STATE TO PAY BALANCE DUE SCHOOLS LAST YEAR

This Apportionment Largest in the History of the State Department of Education.

An apportionment of $1,097,000 to pay the balance of $1 per capita due on the school apportionment for 1914-15 was announced today by State Supt. of Education W. F. Doughty. The announcement of this apportionment of the balance due on the $8 per capita for last year will be met with interest by thousands of school teachers, school trustees and depositories of the state because of the possibility of meeting debts contracted during the last scholastic fiscal year.

A recent ruling of the attorney general was to the effect that no part of the apportionment for the present fiscal year could be used to pay obligations contracted during the preceding year and that school trustees exceeded their authority under the law if such an attempt was made. Supt. Doughty, looking to the interests of some 25,000 school teachers, 40,000 school trustees and thousands of depositories for school funds, after a conference with State Treasurer Edwards, arranged for the apportionment of last year's balance.

Owing to the unusual financial conditions that have prevailed in the state, causing the delinquent tax rolls and unpaid interest accounts to exceed those of previous years, it was found impossible about Aug. 1 to pay the balance of $1 on the school apportionment announced for 1914-15, which totaled $8. This apportionment was the largest in the history of the state department of education. As late as Sept. 1, the close of the last fiscal year, it was found impracticable to make the apportionment because of slow returns on taxes.

Inasmuch as the largest percentage of taxes are returned to the state treasury by Jan. 1, it was deemed possible to make the balance of the apportionment due at this time, but no per capita apportionment will be made of the $6 total per capita designated for 1915-16 until after the first of the year. By this date it is believed the entire balance of the apportionment will be met.

State Supt. Doughty has also requested the county superintendents and school officers to encourage boards of trustees to practice the strictest economy in order to keep the schools open for as long a term as possible during the present year. The apportionment for the present year is $2 less than that for the year 1914-15 and every effort will be exerted by the state department to maintain the efficiency of the schools and to prevent any material shortening of the school terms.

Warrants for the $1,097,000 due on last year's apportionment will be issued at once by the department. Although the state is at present on a deficiency basis, it is believed that the steady remittances of tax collectors will make possible an early return to a cash basis. The department of education, through Superintendent Doughty, is highly gratified, however, over the clearance of last year's balance of the school apportionment and the ability to meet all debts contracted under last year's apportionment. The school trustees will thus be able to wipe old debts for the last year off the books and start anew on the present apportionment. No part of this will be allowed until after Jan. 1, however.

U. S. SENATOR SHEPPARD OUR GUEST SUNDAY

Great Crowds Heard Him Speak in the Afternoon and Are Highly Entertained.

As per previous appointment, U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard was an honored and distinguished guest of Nacogdoches Sunday, arriving Saturday night and departing Sunday night. At 2:30 in the afternoon the distinguished visitor was the orator of the occasion in the Woodmen exercises unveiling the monument erected to the memory of deceased Sovereign W. C. Chadwick, and delivered one of the greatest, if not the greatest, address ever delivered upon a similar occasion in this city. He spoke for over one hour on the beauties and benefits of fraternal relationship, with particular reference to the benefits offered by the Woodmen of the World, and those who listened to him were charmed with the rhetorical beauty of his language and the logic of his argument. Upon this occasion he was introduced by Hon. Audley Harris, a prominent young attorney of the city, who made a beautiful presentation speech and acquitted himself with honor in the effort.

In the evening the religious services at several of the churches were cancelled and the people gathered at the Methodist church to hear Senator Sheppard speak on the subject of "Christian Citizenship," and here they listened to another great address. In the course of his talk he went back to the beginning of time and reviewed all historical events which contributed to citizenship, as well as those things which destroy, drawing the pretty line of distinction which emphasize the fact that every righteous cause prospers and contributes to the upbuilding of good citizenship, while those things which are unrighteous tear down and destroy the social and moral fabric and wreck the citizenship of the country.

Both addresses were clothed in the rhetorical beauty for which this gifted son is noted, and the great crowds were so charmed with his eloquence and logic that not a whisper or any noise of any kind ever created the least disturbance in any quarter.

Senator Sheppard is very popular with Nacogdoches people, and has many warm personal friends here who are always delighted to entertain him, who feel honored with every visit he makes to the town and who hope to entertain him many more times in the future.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A small box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

A LUFKIN BOY MEETS WITH SUDDEN DEATH

Young Sam Berry Electrocuted This Morning in City of Port Arthur.

The News learns this afternoon that a sad affair occurred in the town of Port Arthur this morning, in which young Sam Berry, the son of Mr. Joe Berry of this place, lost his life. Just how the accident occurred could not be learned for this issue of the paper, but it seems that he was in the employ of the Gulf Pipe Line people, and while in the discharge of his regular duties this morning he came in contact with a live electric wire in such a manner that death resulted in a few minutes.

His body will be shipped to Lufkin for burial and any number of friends here will be sorry to hear of such a calamity. He was about 21 years old, single, and was looked upon as one of the model young men of the town in which he grew to manhood. It is sad to meet death in any fashion, and especially is it regrettable that one in life's green spring should be ushered into that other world without a warning.

The News joins all in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved.—Lufkin News.

HUERTA ILL; TAKEN FROM FORT BLISS

El Paso, Nov. 7.—Victoriano Huerta, former Mexican dictator who is facing a charge of violating American neutrality through the organization of another revolt, was removed from Fort Bliss late Saturday. R. E. Crawford, assistant United States attorney, who authorized his removal, said Huerta was ill and that his apartments at the fort did not furnish the comforts his condition demands. The old general was taken to his home in this city.

Deputy United States marshals will continue to guard Huerta's home.

Besides Varvarin and Nish, a number of other strategically important towns and between 3,000 and 4,000 Serbian prisoners have fallen into the invaders' hands.

FARMERS HAD MEETING SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The Farmers' Marketing association had a good meeting in this city Saturday afternoon at which many good features were planned and much new inspiration aroused in the noble avocation.

County Agricultural Agent James D. Greer appeared before the meeting with the proposition of employing a competent lady to superintend and promote canning club work in the county. All were pleased with the idea and a committee was appointed to canvass the various towns and communities of the county in an effort to raise funds with which to finance the proposition.

Another meeting will be held Nov. 29 to 30 for the purpose of getting the farmers of the county together in a school of instruction after the manner of the meeting of this kind here a few months ago, during which a special study will be made of seed breeding, dairying, soil work and the growing and handling of livestock. Distinguished men in this line of work from the A. & M. college and other places will be present, and the members are looking forward to the occasion with a great deal of interest.

On Dec. 1 a corn and livestock show will be held, at which time the best specimens of corn and livestock will be exhibited and reviewed.

In this great work the co-operation of every farmer in the county is solicited, and the farmer could not spend his time more profitably than attending the entire series of meetings.

METHODIST BANQUET A GREAT SUCCESS

Men and Boys of the Church Royally Entertained at the Methodist Church.

From Saturday's Daily: One of the most complete and enjoyable occasions of the season was enjoyed at the Methodist church last evening when about one hundred and fifty men and boys were entertained with a banquet.

This church makes a feature of this event, entertaining the men and boys in this manner once each year, and upon these occasions much inspiration is gathered which goes far in keeping up interest in Sunday school and church work.

At the appointed hour last evening the crowd was invited to the basement of the church where tables were groaning under the weight of the many good things which the gracious ladies of the church had prepared for their entertainment, and which was partaken with relish and fond appreciation.

Gathered around the festal board with Prof. R. F. Davis as toastmaster (and we digress to say that he is a rare artist in this line) rich and inspiring toasts were offered by Dr. Tucker, Capt. Sturdevant, Senator S. M. King, Presiding Elder L. B. Elrod, T. Tilford, D. K. Cason and W. T. Whiteman, all voicing the rich sentiment of the occasion and saying many pretty things that will long be remembered by those present.

Among the out-of-town visitors were Rev. L. B. Elrod, presiding elder of the district whose home is at Timpson and W. T. Whiteman of Caro.

Once used it is afterward a household remedy. Oxidine at Stripling, Haselwood & Co. tf

TRINITY DISTRICT VOTES SCHOOL TAX

News has reached the city that Trinity school district, one of the most progressive school districts of the county, has voted a 50 per cent tax.

The district has previously been carrying a 20 percent tax which was too small, and the spirit of progress with the good people prevailed upon them to increase it to the limit.

Budweiser

THE DRINK OF YOUR FOREFATHERS

THREE generations of Americans have pronounced Budweiser the king of all bottled beers. Its reputation is international. It sparkles with life—has a brilliant glow—seethes and bubbles with nutriment—is snappy, mild and inviting to the taste—the combined soul of American Barley and Saazer Hops—the cream of the harvest fields. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

A GOOD REPORT.

Rev. L. B. Elrod closed his first year's work Sunday as presiding elder of the Timpson district, and he will carry a most excellent report to the annual conference, considering the condition of the country.

Bro. Elrod preached at Center yesterday and came home last night to spend a few hours with his family before leaving for conference, which convenes at Longview this week. Bro. Elrod has endeared himself to the hearts of all the people in the Timpson district, and we feel confident he will be returned to this work. He is among the best preachers of America, and to hear him preach is to be greatly benefited. The Timpson people have enjoyed the residence of his family. Mrs. Elrod has been a great help to the church and is the teacher of a large class of ladies. She is also a splendid worker among the young people in the Epworth league, and if the bishop should not return this excellent family to Timpson again there will be much disappointment among the entire citizenship, and we can go further and say—the entire district.—Timpson Times.

Hides Wanted.

Hides are in good demand and are bringing good prices, and it is worth while to handle them right. In skinning try not to cut or score the hide. Spread it out, flesh side up, and give it a heavy shower of salt. This is absolutely necessary at this time of the year. Fold it up and put it in a sack. Write your full name and address on two tags. Put one inside of the sack, and one outside. Ship by express to A. Golentnek & Co., Tyler, Texas.

Until further notice we will pay 13 cents per pound for hides handled according to the above instructions. We remit the same day that we receive the shipment and we also furnish shipping tags. Horse hides bring from $1.50 to $3 each, according to the size. We also handle wool. A. Golentnek & Co., Tyler, Texas.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. DON'T STAY BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Clean Your Sluggish Liver Better Than Calomel and Can Not Salivate.

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver. If you are bilious; feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of energy, vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable, liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak.

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Made Me Well and Strong.

MACEDON, N. Y.—"I was all run down and very thin in flesh, nervous, no appetite, could not sleep and was weak, and felt badly all the time. The doctors said I had poor blood and what I had was turning to water. I took different medicines which did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED CHACE, R. No. 2, Macedon, N. Y.

The Change of Life.

BELTSVILLE, MD.—"By the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I have successfully passed through a most trying time, the Change of Life. I suffered with a weakness, and had to stay in bed three days at a time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I am praising it for the benefit of other women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. W. S. DUVALL, Route No. 1, Beltsville, Md.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WOODMEN SUPPER BY SWIFT CAMP

From Saturday's Daily:

A party of Nacogdoches Woodmen attended a Woodmen supper at Swift camp last evening, and participated in a big initiation of members promoted by the camp. The visitors say that it was one of the finest suppers they ever enjoyed, and was so bountiful that two turns were taken in the process of devouring the good things; one in advance of the exercises, and one after, leaving enough in the final attempt to feed as many more.

The party going out from Nacogdoches consisted of County Judge Perritte, County Attorney Wade and Messrs. A. A. Seale, C. C. Watson, L. H. Thrash, Monroe, H. J. and Charley Hudson, R. H. Wells, Earl Cole, Jake Summers, Walter Muckleroy, John Turner, Robt. Chadwick, Marshall Stone and Frank Hart.

GREAT SOUTHERN LIFE TAKES OVER EQUITABLE.

The Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Houston has made a reinsurance contract with the Equitable Life Insurance Company of San Antonio, which will give the Great Southern more than $35,000,000 of insurance in force $2,100,000 admitted assets.

The deal was made by James A. Stephenson of Dallas, vice president of the Great Southern and right hand man of O. S. Carlton of Houston, the president.—Dallas Journal.

BIG SAWMILL PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

West Lumber Co. Plant at Onalaska Went Up in Smoke Tuesday Morning.

The News gets the information that the big mill at Onalaska, Polk county, known as the West Lumber Co., was destroyed by fire last Tuesday morning. Details of the conflagration were not furnished, but it will be remembered that this was one of the largest sawmill institutions in the Southwest, or at least in Texas, and the well-known Mr. J. M. West of Houston is at the head of the business. The planer and lumber yards were saved.

This mill worked both night and day shifts, had a capacity of 300,000 feet of finished product per day, and employed something like 800 men in its operation, not all of whom will be affected by the disaster. About 30,000 feet of lumber was also destroyed. The loss sustained has been conservatively estimated to be $250,000, and the management of the company has already issued the statement that they intend to rebuild at once.

The News recalls that this model plant, composing the very latest in sawmill construction, was built and equipped by the Lufkin Foundry & Machine Co. of Lufkin, Texas, and the accompanying cut is a god likeness of the structure before the flames struck it. Of course the News does not know what arrangements will be entered into for the rebuilding of the plant, but inasmuch as the plant destroyed answered every purpose so well, it may not be beyond the reasonable expectation of many to hear that this far-famed Lufkin institution will be called into the case again when the ground has been cleared for action, and the time for rebuilding arrives.

Since writing the above, the following information has been obtained and is hereby given.

The fire started at 9 o'clock in the morning, originated by a hot box under the "gang" and burned rapidly, destroying the mill in twenty-six minutes. The company had close to 10,000,000 feet of lumber at the plant, but it was all piled up at a safe distance from the mill.

The company had large advance orders on hand for material, and while it will be handicapped for a temporary period, deliveries of existing orders will be made. Thos. W. Blake, general sales agent of the company, stated Tuesday that the work of rebuilding would be commenced immediately. The company has mills at Westville and Milvid.—Lufkin Daily News.

TIMPSON MAN WINS FIRST PRIZE AS BEST FIDDLER

Tony Richards of Timpon, Texas, a bearded veteran of many a hoe-down and reel, walked off of the coliseum stage with the grand prize in the old fiddlers' contest at the fair Thursday, leading a procession of winners in which he was followed by W. E. Carson, Red Oak, La.; J. C. Childers, Hughes Spur, La.; J. C. Boisseau, who had the best fiddle; T. B. Frazier, Minden, worst fiddle; N. M. Romby, worst string and best bow; R. H. Garrett, best strings; H. B. Williams, worst case.

Everyone won a prize and no one was disappointed. Not even the large audience that gathered to hear the strappings and shufflings of their grandfather's days. T. Foreman Parker officiated as superintendent of the contest, and Jim McCann uttered the fatal words. The decisions of both these experts met with the entire approval of the candidates for fiddling honors and everybody concerned left the big building with a smile of happy recollection.

WILL DRILL FOR OIL IN THIS SECTION

The Civil Oil Co. Will Make an Alliance With Nacogdoches for Oil Developments.

Messrs. T. J. Spain and M. T. Ryan, experienced oil men with headquarters at Houston, and being a part of a company known as the Civil Oil & Gas Co., are in the city selling lots in a three-cornered alliance which proposes to drill wells in the vicinity of Nacogdoches, Humble and Batson.

This company has some good holdings in both Humble and Batson which they will incorporate with holdings they have here, and the purchase of a lot carries with it an interest in all three fields. The lots being sold are 40x40, containing sixteen hundred square feet and carry an interest in all three fields, the revenue derived therefrom being put together in a co-operative development fund and 50 per cent of the amount being deposited with the Commercial Guaranty Bank of this city for expenditure in the Nacogdoches field. The agreement has also been made that the first well will be drilled in the Nacogdoches holdings to a depth of 3,000 feet, if necessary, and work will be begun on the proposition at an early date.

The proposition is considered especially safe and interesting for the reason that it carries with it an interest in proven fields as well as insure an experiment in this section where a good deposit of oil and gas is believed to abound.

The visiting gentlemen are greatly impressed with the indications in this section, and express the belief that a great field can be developed here if a sufficient test is made, and invite Nacogdoches capital to line up with them in making the test which, if successful, would prove a most profitable investment.

Judge E. B. Lewis is associated with the Nacogdoches end of the company and will take pleasure in furnishing any further information desired. He is also authorized to make sale of lots, and invites his neighbors to come into the proposition with him.

Just as the News man looks around for the last news item of the day, not knowing what it would be, he reaches out to take the hand of Mr. Oscar Matthews, one of the heads of the Nacogdoches Grocery Co., which firm maintains a branch house in this city, which Oscar is here today to see about, and also meet with his friends. He lives in Nacogdoches, which is next to living in Lufkin, and he would be living here were it not for the fact that he was brought up in our neighboring city and likes that place better. Nothing simpler, is there? And no one blames him. No visitor ever comes down this way from across the classic Angelina who meets with a more cordial welcome among all classes, and the writer is glad to make announcement that this is a true statement of affairs.—Lufkin News.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

This, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Gardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Gardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Gardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Gardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

ATTENDED FUNERAL OF R. C. NEILL

Dr. W. W. Hall of this city attended the funeral of R. C. Neill, who will be remembered as the man who was found dead in his room in a hotel in Houston a few days ago, a report of which appeared in The Sentinel last Monday.

The remains of Mr. Neill were brought to this city and held pending the return of his family from a visit to California, and were accompanied to Henderson by Dr. Hall.

The unfortunate man was related to some prominent families in this city and other places in East Texas, and had a host of friends in this section who were made sad with the news of his untimely death. Since leaving East Texas he had attained to considerable prominence in the business world, and was a man of integrity and pleasing personality who made friends wherever he went.

When you hear a man say that he has never made a mistake just ask him if he has ever made anything else.—Macon News.

Dr. K. C. Deason, veterinary surgeon, who was formerly located in Nacogdoches, has returned and will make this his future home. He will have an office at Stripling, Haselwood & Co.'s drug store and will make Davis Bros.' barn his place of practice.

Those who suffer in silence, if they so suffer, have plenty of ways of making their suffering known.—Deseret News.

THE GREAT VALUE OF CANNING CLUB WORK

It may be news to many people to learn that $5,000,000 worth of canned sweet potatoes, $6,000,000 worth of canned corn and similar amounts of cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, cucumbers, vegetable soups, jellies, preserves and canned fruits are shipped into Texas annually. But it is not news that Texas is the home of such products, if properly developed, and that this amount of money could be kept in Texas. Appreciating this fact, we are working upon a plan to get a competent instructor in the art of canning to employ full time, in this county, in instructing and assisting the people in canning club work.

Another condition that is worthy of note in this connection is the fact that many cases of disease of various kinds is traceable to bad food and unbalanced rations, and this would be another evil this teacher would correct, as well as give valuable advice in home economics and civic pride.

To employ this teacher it will be necessary for us to raise about $200 with which to supplement the government appropriation, and we solicit the cooperation of the ladies of Nacogdoches and other towns in the county to assist us in raising this money.

The work in the hands of a competent lady instructor would mean great things for the people of the county—not only the producers, but the consumers, as well, and I feel that it is a matter in which every one should feel an interest.

If we take this service, it is necessary that it be inaugurated at once, and those inclined to help us are earnestly requested to get busy. J. D. GREER, County Agricultural Agent.

RAISES TROPICAL FRUIT.

E. E. Wallace, a former citizen of this county, living at Cushing, but who is now making his home at San Antonio where he holds a good position with the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Co., is also winning some notoriety as a fruit raiser. Of the matter we take the following from a recent issue of the San Antonio Light:

"Choice specimens of penderosa lemons, oranges and bananas were offered at the Light office Friday morning by E. E. Wallace as proof that tropical fruit of almost every kind does well in San Antonio. All of the products came from the yard of his residence at 208 Loretta place, South Park Terrace. He said the penderosa lemon tree, planted three years ago, is loaded with about 300 lemons."

RAILROAD WRECK.

A wreck occurred on the Santa Fe yesterday between Tenaha and Gary, and has caused considerable delay in traffic over this line. The train which runs from Longview to Beaumont derailed by way of this city today and over the E. & W. to the main line at Tenaha. No train has reached Timpson from Center since last Saturday, but a large crew is at work repairing the track where the wreck occurred and traffic will be resumed as soon as possible.—The Timpson Times.

People who use Peruna

Mrs. T. Frech, R. R. 1, Hickory Point, Tenn., writes: "I am happy to tell you that I am cured of catarrh. Having been afflicted with catarrh and stomach trouble for seven years, and after having tried four different doctors, who only relieved me for a little while, I gave up all hope of being cured. I was induced to try Peruna, and to my great surprise I am now entirely well. My health never was better."

FOR INDIGESTION

Mrs. W. R. Whitehead, R. R. 1, Pryor, Oklahoma, writes: "I am happy to tell you that I keep free from my old stomach trouble; feel no catarrhal symptoms at all. I am able to do my work, eat and drink what I want, and rejoice to know that I found a sure cure in your valuable medicine. I think it saved my life. By beginning in time with Peruna I was cured sound and well."

FINE COLLECTION OF BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

I am very grateful to Mr. Will Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gintz for the excellent collection of books, magazines and journals that were sent me this morning. Two or three others have notified me that they have a collection on hand and I am expecting to send for them this afternoon or tomorrow.

As stated before this will be an excellent means by which to supply the children in the rural districts with good reading matter.

I again repeat my request to the citizens who have journals, magazines and perhaps valuable books that they have no other use for, that we should be very glad indeed to have them in the schools of the rural districts, and if you will notify me of any that you may see fit to give I shall be glad to send for them.

When I shall have collected these books and journals I shall appoint a competent committee to go through them and classify them, after which I shall place them in the schools where they will be most appreciated and used to the best advantage.

Let me add, further, that I shall very much appreciate it if I can get a collection of pictures which would be appropriate in decorating the school buildings, and let me say just here that from this date on as fast as journals and magazines collect in your home I shall be glad to have them for the benefit of the schools and I ask that you lay them away and notify me.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY ELECTED OFFICERS

At the meeting yesterday afternoon the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church met with Mrs. Ella Swift and elected officers as follows:

President, Mrs. A. D. Parnell; vice president, Mrs. E. P. Williams; second vice president, Mrs. E. O. Gee; third vice president, Mrs. N. G. Davis; secretary, Miss Emmons; treasurer, Mrs. Luther Swift.

Bro. H. C. Willis, who is now stationed at Nacogdoches, is in the city today, having arrived on an early train. He is very popular here and the people have kept him busy shaking hands all day. He says that he is pleasantly situated and that he likes his new home. He says that he can note quite a lot of improvements here since he left.—Times Clarion.

METHODIST CONFERENCE IN SESSION AT LONGVIEW

We take the following notice of the convening of the Methodist annual conference from the Longview Daily Times-Clarion, published yesterday afternoon:

"The Texas annual conference of the M. E. church will convene in this city tomorrow in regular annual session. Many of the delegates are present today and the time is being devoted to the organization of the various committees and committee work.

"Seventy-five automobiles have volunteered to meet the trains today and tomorrow and convey the visitors to the homes that have been assigned them.

"Bishop McCoy arrived today at noon and was driven immediately to the home of R. M. Kelly in South Center street, where he will be entertained during the session.

"The examining committees were busy all the morning and most of the afternoon. They have been holding their meeting upstairs in the Baraca hall. The committee on admissions examined eight applicants. The committee on admissions on trial examined seven applicants. The committee on first year examined twenty. The committee on second year examined twelve. The third year committee examined seven, and the committee on fourth year examined fourteen. The fourth year committee had probably the most arduous duty of all, inasmuch as they have to read carefully the sermons of all applicants. These committees are made up of the best men in the conference.

"When the conference assembles at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Methodist church, Mayor Bodenheim will deliver an address of welcome to the assembled visitors in which he will tell them how glad the city of Longview is to have such a gathering of distinguished men. He will deliver to each and every one of them the keys to the city, with the assurance that the entire citizenship heartily endorses everything he says."

Oscar Harris, a prominent farmer from the northeastern part of the county, was an arrival to the city on the noon train, and made this office a pleasant call while here, joining the big family of Sentinel readers while in.
