THE BREWERIES PLEAD GUILTY.

State Penalties Aggregate Total of $275,000, Which Breweries Agree to Pay Up.

Sulphur Springs, Tex., Jan. 24.—An agreement was entered in the Eighth judicial court here today in the brewery ouster suits brought by Attorney General B. F. Looney, by which all the defendants, except the Dallas Brewing company pleaded guilty to the charges against them. They agreed to pay in a lump sum penalties aggregating $275,000, expenses incurred by the attorney general's office, totalling about $10,000 more, and the court costs and also to forfeit their charters and to accept an injunction restraining them from violating the state antitrust laws and contributing to political campaign funds in the future.

While the state announced its willingness to accept the agreement, it declared that trial of the cases must go on and that the huge mass of documentary evidence it has gathered in the last year must be presented in court.

The six defendants pleading guilty agreed to this, but will make exceptions and objections to testimony they deem irrelevant. This will be done merely for record as there will be no appeal if Judge William Pierson, presiding, overrules the objections.

The six companies entering into the agreement are:

Texas Brewing Co., Fort Worth; San Antonio Brewery association, San Antonio; Lone Star Brewing company, San Antonio; American Brewing company, Houston; Houston Ice and Brewing company, Houston; Houston and Galveston Brewing company, Galveston.

In addition to the conspiracy charge, the breweries are accused of having collected assessments at the rate of $1,200,000 a year for the past five years with which to promote anti-prohibition legislation; of having paid the poll taxes of thousands of voters that they might vote against prohibition, and that they have otherwise used their corporate assets illegally. The attorney general and several assistants are here for trial. The breweries are represented by a number of widely known attorneys.

INCOME TAX LAW UPHELD.

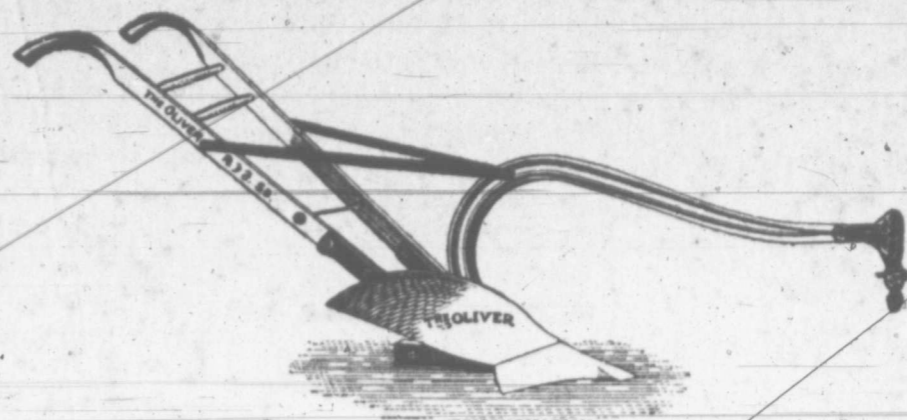

Washington, Jan. 24.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the income tax law.

Five separate suits to test the constitutionality of the new income tax were brought in the federal courts throughout the country soon after the law became effective and all found their way to the supreme court of the United States soon after.

The Genuine Oliver

We do not have to tell any man who has ever used an OLIVER "just why" the OLD GENUINE is the best plow for him to use. But we do want to talk to you—if you happen to be one of the very few who have not yet "Followed in the Trail" of one of the Old Reliable Olivers.

The man who has used the GENUINE OLIVER knows that it will "turn the sticky, gummy spots" where many other plows would "choke." He knows that it will "scour" clean, run light, and handle easily. He is more than satisfied with his OLIVER. Are you satisfied with the plow you have been using? If not come to our store at once and get a GENUINE OLIVER. Give it a fair trial and then smile with the other OLIVER users.

It's a "cinch" and we guarantee that you'll be well pleased.

MAYFIELD LYNCHED BY MOB AT BOSTON.

Boston, Tex., 25.—W. J. Mayfield aged 50, was taken from jail here a few minutes before midnight and hanged to a tree about half a mile south of town. There was no excitement, a crowd of about twenty-five masked and armed men, having gone to the jail, overpowered the jailor and made away with their victim. Few persons in the town knew of the occurrence at 1 o'clock this morning.

Mayfield was held on charges of having killed, with an ax, on Dec. 30, his father, mother and brother at their home a few miles from Boston. Saturday a jury was discharged, having failed to reach an agreement after having deliberated since Tuesday, in the first case—that of the mother.

The lynchers overpowered the jailer, it is said, almost before he was aware they were near, forced him to turn over the keys, opened the jail proper, broke the lock to Mayfield's cell and quietly left town with the alleged triple murderer. No guard was maintained in the jail itself, there having been no indications of mob violence.

Sheriff Baker had arranged to transfer Mayfield from Boston today to Franklin county, for retrial on the charge of killing his mother.

MARKET FOR POTATOES.

Mr. J. J. Greve local agent for the Sunset Central system, and a live wire who goes after business for his roads, helping find markets for stuff that will make tonnage for his lines, informs the Sentinel that he is in receipt of a letter from the A. B. Carr and Co., of Houston, offering to pay sixty-five cents per bushel for pumpkin yam sweet potatoes delivered in Houston, or fifty-five cents per bushel for them f. o. b. the cars here.

MR. STONE DOING NICELY.

From the attending physicians treating Mr. Alf Stone, the gentleman who had the misfortune to get kicked by a mule yesterday, mention of which was made in this paper, The Sentinel learns that the patient is doing nicely, and that no serious injury appears in his condition, giving hope that he will be able to be out again in a few days.

COTTON REPORT SHOWS SHORTAGE.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The ninth cotton ginning report of the season, compiled from reports of census bureau correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt, and issued at 10 a. m. today, announced that 10,766,202 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1915, has been ginned prior to January 16. That compares with 14,915,850 bales, or 93.8 per cent of the entire crop ginned prior to January 16 last year; 13,582,036 bales, or 97.1 per cent, in 1918, and 13,088,930 bales, of 97 per cent in 1912. The average quantity of cotton ginned prior to January 16 in the last 10 years was 12,231,494 bales, of 95.5 per cent of the crop.

Included in the ginnings were 106,996 round bales, compared with 50,942 ginned prior to January 16 last year, 96,807 in 1913 and 78,690 in 1912.

Sea Island cotton included numbered 90,736 bales, compared with 79,515 ginned prior to January 16 last year, 72,277 in 1913 and 70,758 in 1912.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Nacogdoches had two distinguished visitors today in the arrival of Hon. L. D. Smith, one of the editors of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Hon. W. B. Wortham, son of Col. Louis J. Wortham, a well-known statesman and publisher of the state.

These gentlemen are making their home at Fitze where Mr. Wortham is developing a system of diversified farming and stock raising which will make the country sit up and take notice one of these days, and where Mr. Smith is doing editorial work close to nature. These gentlemen are great friends of Nacogdoches, and watch closely the successive development of the town. And the friendship of such men is worth while because they are connected with people who do things in Texas and contributing a substantial part themselves. Greater still is the fact that they are two of the greatest, most congenial fellows in the world, and you can't come in contact with them without feeling better, loving your country more, and rejoice that such men have been turned loose in the world.

News has been received in the city that Miss Eleanor Thomas, the accomplished and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Thomas, who is attending the Kid Key Musical Conservatory, had received a high honor, being invited as a freshman to participate with seniors and teachers in a recital. This is indisputable evidence of the talent and progress in her studies of the young lady, and gives assurance that she will soon emerge from college a talented and most highly accomplished musician.

HAVE FINISHED THE BRICK WORK.

The brick masons employed on the new building of Nacogdoches High School finished their labors yesterday, and are taking their departure to their several homes.

The plasterers and wood-workmen are getting very busy now, and will push the work as rapidly as possible to completion, giving hope that the new building will be ready for occupancy at an early date.

This magnificent building is something our community can well be proud of. It will contribute one of the most prominent places in the future development of our little city, as well as furnish to us the great convenience and service that will be possible with it, of which we will have more to say from time to time.

Liars should have long memories to prevent the humiliation of getting their "wires crossed."

General Villa, the chief of Mexican bandits, has come to life again after another killing.

A Dallas man has been given sentences aggregating 121 years in the penitentiary. It is doubtful if he will live over it.

Dispatches announce that there are now but three thousand cases of typhus in Mexico City. This would seem enough for one day.

It is reported that San Augustine will get the Santa Fe shops and division point of that railroad. This will be a great boost to our redland neighbor which is already a good town.

Early investments in Nacogdoches real estate, like bread cast upon the waters, is coming back to the wise investors finely buttered. History will repeat itself; invest your money in Nacogdoches city and suburban property and it will return some days hence with a handsome dividend.

Eighteen more of the Mexican bandits who slaughtered Americans in a recent raid have been executed—not so much because they killed Americans, but because they were followers of Villa, and another batch of the rebels, three hundred in number have been mowed down with their own guns by Carranza soldiers.

One of the latest Leap Year jokes recited in cartoon, is that a lady was looking for a man to assist her husband with some service, and approaching a young man with the statement "I am looking for a young man for my husband," the young man beat a hasty retreat without further explanation.

A Beaumont merchant has put one burglar out of commission for time and eternity. His store having been entered several times lately, he "set" a well loaded gun, with a cord fastened to a window, and when the window was pried open, pulling the cord, the gun fired, the charge of shot taking effect in a negro's body, killing him almost instantly.

An exchange uses a column of good space in an effort to establish a relationship between lagrippe and pneumonia. We do not know anything about the relationship of the diseases, but would accept the statement that lagrippe is best defined in General Sherman's definition of war, getting down in the European trenches in its final stages.

The Center Daily Optimist is, this week, giving away a bar of soap to each individual who pays one dollar on subscription. We do not understand the significance unless it be that the delinquents have kept their "filthy lucre" so long that a patriotic editor wants to let them down easy and at the same time preserve the civic attractiveness of his community.

The Tyler Signal, Col. Green's paper, utters a great truth in the statement that "just as long as you are on your feet, firmly and safely, people will keep the road open to you, but if you grow weak and fall down, you needn't look for assistance, for it isn't coming. You must get out of the bog yourself." Many men have been shipwrecked with some great adversity they could not avoid when they could have been saved, and lives of usefulness preserved, by the helping hand of some stronger one. Unfortunately, a condition obtains in the minds of the people which will make them shun one of their "best friends" when the probability of having to help them in some matter arises. Funny old world.

From the reading of the Nacogdoches Sentinel, it is learned that candidates are announcing or office in that county the same as they are doing in the good old county of Angelina. The News has a little comfort to offer them all, and that is that the best man may win. Have you paid your poll tax?—Lufkin Daily News.

In the three years just past the South has made two cotton crops of 13,000,000 bales and one of 16,000,000 and each of the two small crops sold for a good deal more money than the big crop. If such facts as these do not teach the farmers a lesson it is because they are incapable of learning.—Carthage Register.

We glean from the Port Arthur Record that building permits for residences are being let at the rate of three a day in that thriving little city. With its deep water, and extensive oil and gas interests, and the progressive citizenship which compose its population, Port Arthur is one of the coming seaport cities in the state. And this reminds us that the esteemed Record is growing apace, now publishing three times a week to keep up with the chronicle of local events.

With all this talk of preparedness in the matter of building a great navy and providing a large standing army at the expense, if necessary, of conscripting the youth of the country to six months service, one would think that some great, unseen calamity was about to swoop down upon us which would let loose the whole contagion of torment and open upon us a vein that would bleed our nation to death. Limited preparation is well and good, but we can't get away from the idea that politics and "big business" would be beneficiary in most of the preparation.

The following paragraph of mixed metaphor is credited by an exchange to the State House at Jefferson City, Mo.: "The rising sun of untrifled Democracy is blithely singing in the tree-tops of Progress. The hand of destiny has lifted anchor and foot by foot has climbed to the highest peak of scintillating success. Discord has been banished to the Arctic region of Oblivion there to hide its head in the burning sands of Shame. The rising tide of prosperity has put forth sturdy shoots and taken root in the rock-ribbed soil of Missouri's purling streams. What more need be said? I pause for a reply."

Longview citizens spread a magnificent banquet in honor of their moyer Thursday night which is reported to have been a most magnificent event attended by many distinguished guests. After finishing his report of the event, which took several columns of space to handle properly the editor of the Longview Times Clarion makes apology for the lack of other news in his paper in the following statement: "A small paper in a small town is something like Sam Jones' steam boat, which had a ten-foot whistle and a five foot boiler, and every time the whistle blew, the boat stopped. For instance, the banquet of last night, was about all one lone reporter was good for today.

REASONS FOR HOME TRADING

The Navasota Examiner Review gives the following reasons for trading at home:

Because you examine your purchase and are assured of satisfaction before investing your money!

Because your home merchant is always ready and willing to make right any error or any defective article purchased of him.

Because when you are sick or for any reason it is necessary for you to ask credit, you can go to the local merchant. Could you ask it of the mail order house?

Because if a merchant is willing to extend you credit, you should give him the benefit of your cash trade.

Because your home merchant pays taxes and exerts every effort to build and better your market, thus increasing the value of both city and country property!

Because the mail-order merchant does not lighten your tax, or in any way help the value of your property!

Because the mail-order merchant does nothing for the benefit of market or real estate value!

Because the best citizens in your community patronize home industry. Why not be one of the best citizens?

Because if you will give your home merchant an opportunity to compete, by bringing your order to him in the quantities you buy out of town, he will demonstrate that, quality considered, he will save you money!

It looks as though the average Englishman had just as soon live under the Kaiser's government as his own. And why not? Is not the condition of the laboring men in Germany as good or better than it is in England? Nothing is so destructive of patriotism as bad conditions, bad living, high taxes, poverty, and oppression. We have an abundance of evidence that the German government has taken better care of its laboring men than the average European government. It is true that the German government is in some respects the most paternal government in the world, and while the system is repugnant to Americans, the Germans seem to like it, as is evidenced by the fact that every German is willing to fight for his country. What we Americans should desire above all else, is the maintenance of the Republic with all its traditions, endearing it to all classes, and making it so just that it will appeal to the patriotism of its humblest citizens, so that the time will never come when the common people will refuse to support it in case of emergency. Something is radically wrong with a nation whose subjects refuse to go to its defense in time of peril.—Col. Milner, in Rusk County News.

Eight of Bell county's rural schools have received aid from the state in accordance with the provisions made by the last legislature. Not only will these schools receive the benefit that comes from the financial aid thus received, but they will be improved through having been standardized in order to meet the requirements. At the present rate of improvement, if kept up, Bell county will be listed at the top scholastically as well as alphabetically.—Temple Telegram.

Bell county's help is too small to count in comparison with what old Nacogdoches county has received, twenty-seven of our rural schools having been provided with nearly eleven thousand dollars new money through the source noted. The Bell County superintendent would do well to get in touch with our county superintendent and learn how to go after a better share of this money.

AMERICA AFTER THE WAR.

"Will America retain its place as the world's financial center after the war," asks Alexander Daniel Noyes in the February Scribner. The subject is treated at length. An extract follows:

What changes are likely to be witnessed in the present interesting and undoubtedly confused economic relationships after the war is over? That France, because of her peculiar facilities and adaptabilities in production will speedily regain her former place (as she has always done in rapid sequence to her military defeats of the past) may be taken for granted. Russia's immense natural resources insure a similar result. Austria's problem is political rather than economic; financially bankrupt in the course of the Napoleonic wars, European opinion has inclined to assign a somewhat similar fate to her on this occasion; for she entered the war in an exceedingly precarious financial situation. There are left, of the important belligerent states, the two real protagonists of this war—England and Germany—and the powerful neutral nation which for the moment has economically superseded both.

To the American mind, the question which first appeals is, whether New York will retain its present position as at least the world's financial center of the world. The question is not so simple as is occasionally assumed, either by those who predict continued occupancy of that position or by those who declare such a result impossible. England's primacy has been an outgrowth of her financial system's long unchallenged soundness—which is now, perhaps, in a way impaired. But it is also an outgrowth of her position as the work-shop for other nations; of the fact that both her productive facilities and accumulated capital have for centuries exceeded home requirements; of her free-trade with all the outside world, and of the world-wide predominance of her merchant fleet.

Granting that on this occasion the American financial system will emerge from the war-time period with a prestige superior to that of England—as attested by the depreciation on the exchange markets, in terms of American money, of the currencies of all the greatest states of Europe including England—this nation would hardly duplicate England's position as regards the other attributes. We shall not be, as England of necessity is, primarily the workshop of the outside world. A vast amount of home development still awaits our manufacturing output and our capital. We have not dared, and probably shall not dare for many years to come, try the experiment of free trade. We are giving no fair chance to our merchant fleet, so long as we letter it by absurd brand of protectionism, which seems to appeal irresistibly to the fresh-water navigators and the inland communities of the Great West.—Brenham Banner.

A dispatch from Connellsville, Pa., announces that two alligators, recently captured in nearby waters, have developed lagrippe. This reminds us of a family in Nacogdoches through which the disease was communicated from one to another until all had suffered its pangs, and the head of the family was ready to settle with the attending physician, when he happened to think of the family house cat and delayed payment until the limit of time had passed for it to develop the disease.

Montenegro has changed its notion about quitting the conflict in the European arena of war, and the dispatches announce that its army is back in the bloody conflict.

ONLY TWO WORDS.

Moralists will tell you that our consciences tell us when we have done a good deed, and that in the consciousness of having done a good deed, lies our reward, and that it should be self-sufficient.

Is it not a fact that the two words, "thank you," would be an added reward for something done for another that would, in many instances, assure you that you were on the right track and that what you had done from an innate sense that it was right was no mistake?

The following little story, taken from the Milwaukee Sentinel, will illustrate the point:

Frank Mercen was selling newspapers. It was a clear, braiding day, and Frank felt happy before the well dressed man came along.

"Paper?"

The man merely said, "Oh," took the coin, drew out Frank a $5 gold piece. He passed on.

Young Mercen detected the error at once. He stared at the shining piece a moment, and was tarting after his customer, when another newsboy laid a detaining hand on his arm.

"Say, wait a minute. Wait a minute. You ain't gonno give the shiner back, are ya?"

But Mercen disregarded the tempter's voice. He caught up with the man and made known the mistake.

The man merely said, "Oh," took the coin, drew out a pocketbook and gave the newsboy a nickel, waiting for change. Mercen dropped the four pennies in the man's hand, who, thereupon, turned on his heel and continued on his way. There was no word or display of gratitude.

"It doesn't pay to be a boob, does it?" grinned Frank's fellow newsboy, when Mercen returned. "Didn't I tell ya?"

TRUTHFUL WORDS OF THOMAS CARLYLE

"Many a man thinks that it is goodness that keeps him from a crime, when it is only his full stomach. On half allowance he would be as ugly and as knavish as anybody. Don't mistake potatoes for principles."—Thomas Carlyle.

There never came from the lips of man more truthful words than the above from Thomas Carlyle. It is an easy matter for a man in a comfortable home and a well-filled larder, to respect the law and merit by his acts and conduct the title of law-abiding citizen. The man who is supplied with the necessities of life and at times enjoys some of the luxuries, is but little tempted to become a law breaker. But the man who feels the pinch of hunger and the insolent sneer that is usually accorded the victim of poverty, is always treading the dangerous road that leads to a prison cell.

Every student of social question is realizing more forcibly than ever that POVERTY BREEDS CRIME.

The young lady surrounded by the comforts of life and shielded by the affection of loved ones, is deserving of no vast amount of credit, because she retains upon her brow pure and unsullied, the priceless crown of pure womanhood. But the woman who has met the storms of life's battles, who has felt the want clutching at her vitals and remained unsullied, is a heroine whose womanhood is worthy of the most glowing tributes that can be plucked from the flowers of rhetoric.

Criminals are the product of wrong economic conditions, and when the time comes that the earth will be blessed with a human civilization, man will become what he was intended to be, "the noblest work of God."—Trinidad Free Press.

SELF SUSTAINERS.

A good resolution that every man on the farm can make and carry out this year is to resolve first to raise his bread and meat and feed, his chicken and eggs and butter and vegetables, and then plant what cotton he can cultivate and gather. If this is done, nine chances to one, more farmers will be comfortable, independent and prosperous next year than ever before.—Brenham News.

The farmer who makes his farm support him is not the one who lifts up his voice out of the wilderness and beseeches the politicians to come to the rescue. The farmer who grows his own living on his own land does not need any rescuers. It is the speculating, unsettled, farmer, one who gambles his ground; his year's labor, his wife's pride and his children's schooling upon a single crop—he is the one who outries assails the political atmosphere. And just as the politicians never have helped any farmer improve his farming, so they never help any single shouter to hit his mark. They tell him many things that they are going to do for him, and then they go ahead and do nothing. Sometimes the men and women who get their living off their land will cease to listen to the elocution of the eloquent cutors—that is to say, the men will; the women, bless their characteristic intuition, never have believed in the promises of the great men who periodically propose to reform all creation. It is Woman's proneness to avoid speculation and loose talk that is largely responsible for the success of widow farmers. How many of us have seen a self-reliant widow improve her fortune and her farm when, after the loss of her husband, her own, and her children's safety and comfort depended on her leadership? The widow farmer begins first by being self-sustaining. After that, the money she takes in, whether it be much or little, is her own, not the store keepers. Besides as a general thing, a widow has got more sense than her late husband.—State Press in Dallas News.

PROBLEMS FOR 1916.

Nineteen hundred and sixteen presents its problems to the United States:

The great national problem is that of "preparedness."

The great social problem is the amalgamation or assimilation of the hyphenated.

The great industrial problem is justice for labor in a period of prosperity.

The great problem of the home is the economical independence of woman and her increasing importance as a wage earner.

The great child problem is that children shall not labor until they have attained mature growth.

The big national question of preparedness we are bound to settle this winter, but it is highly probable that we will just muddle through the others.—Shreveport Times.

Watchful waiting may be alright. Theoretically, it is beautiful, as is the admonition, "turn the other cheek." The outrages were committed on Mexican soil. Left unpunished, and they doubtless will be, these bandits will cross the river as they did in the lower Rio Grande country. Then the great American army will be rushed to El Paso and the northern Mexican frontier. In a "note" to Carranza the administration asks him to punish the bandits. Carranza has not yet been able to enter Mexico City, the seat of government. How can he be expected to quell riots in the wildest portion of the country.—Brenham Banner.

WHAT IS URIC ACID?

The Cause of Backache, Rheumatism, Gravel and Sudden Death.

Ever since the discovery of uric acid in the blood by Scheele, in 1775, and the bad effect it had upon the body, scientists and physicians have striven to rid the tissues and the blood of this poison. Because of its over-abundance in the system it causes backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, neuralgia and sciatica. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric," which will throw out and completely eradicate this uric acid from the system. He found "Anuric" 37 times more potent than Uvae Ursi, and consequently you need no longer fear rheumatism, lumbago, pains here and there or many diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anuric" Tablets, or obtain a 50c. package now at your druggist's.

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

The Sentinel is authorized to announce Prof. G. B. Layton as a candidate for County Superintendent of Public Instruction of Nacogdoches county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Prof. Layton has been teaching in the schools of Nacogdoches county the past twenty years, and no teacher is better known over the county than he. He has also taught in the public schools of this city, and bears the distinction of being of the county's best school men. With this knowledge of the educational interests of the county, acquired through many years actual experience, together with his ability as a teacher, he is well equipped to discharge the duties of the office, and if elected would make the county a good superintendent.

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

The Sentinel is authorized to announce Prof. Ernest W. Matthews as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction of Nacogdoches county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Prof. Matthews is a native son of the county, and is the son of G. W. Matthews of Melrose. He is a graduate of the Sam Houston Normal of Huntsville and has been teaching in the public schools the past nine years, giving him both a classical and practical knowledge of the educational affairs of the county, and equipping him for the discharge of the duties of the office.

If elected, he would doubtless make the county a worthy public servant in this capacity.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

Saturday afternoon about 1:30 a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist church in this city, the contracting parties being Miss Lois Simpson, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Simpson of this city and Mr. Carrol G. Smith of Dallas.

The decorations were beautiful in their simplicity, consisting of banks of ferns and other pot plants, enhanced by the mellow light from the church windows which seemed to reflect God's blessing. Preceding the ceremony "Because" was sung by Mr. Ulrich Wilson, cousin of the bride, after which Mrs. E. W. Spradley struck the opening chords of the Lohengrin processional and the bride and groom entered unattended, preceded by Miss Lella Wilson, little cousin of the bride, as ring bearer, and marched down the aisle to the altar where Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss joined them in the holy bonds of wedlock. The Mendelssohn chime was used for the recessional.

Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations of the assembled friends, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left over the north-bound T. & N. O. for Dallas, where they will make their future home.

The fair bride is one of our most cultured, accomplished and talented daughters. For the past several years she has been teaching expression in different schools—Timpson, Garrison and Center—and was engaged with a good class at the time of her marriage. She is universally popular with the people who know her, and has a host of friends who rejoice with her in her new-found happiness.

Mr. Smith is a son of A. M. Smith, a well known citizen of Timpson and is a young gentleman of sterling integrity and moral worth. He holds a good position in Dallas, and is popular in business as well as social circles.

NACOGDOCHES LISTED. FOR QUICK MONEY.

An "urgent deficiency" bill has passed congress which has for its purpose to provide immediate revenue for appropriations which have already been made for federal buildings, and Nacogdoches is listed in the class of "continuation of construction," with an appropriation of $5,000.

The full dispatch, from which this information is gathered, is as follows:

Washington, January 23.—The urgent deficiency bill, which has just been passed by the house, carries a number of items of interest to Texas cities having federal buildings, which are in course of construction, or upon which building operations are about to be begun. The urgent deficiency bill is framed to meet pressing needs of the various departments, needs which can not await the passage of the annual supply bills, which will not be put through congress for several weeks or months.

The bill carries the following items for the beginning of federal buildings in Texas: Bay City, $500; Beeville, $500; Commerce, $500; El Paso, $50,000; Yoakum, $500.

For the continuation of construction of various buildings the bill provides as follows: Belton, $12,000; Brenham, $20,000; Honey Grove, $500; Marlin, $700; Pleasant, $500; Nacogdoches, $5,000; Navasota, $15,000; New Braunfels, $20,000; Pittsburg, $500; Stamford, $10,000; Vernon, $500.

A GOOD RUMOR—IF IT IS TRUE

A rumor has gained currency that the contract for the new postoffice building for Nacogdoches was let at Washington on the fifteenth inst., but there has been no verification of the report.

The Sentinel reporter called on Hon. C. A. Hodges, who has had the matter in charge for the town, and he said that he had no verified report that he could vouch for, but that he was inclined to the idea that it was true. He said that he had written the department about the matter, and that as soon as he receives an answer, he will give the Sentinel a statement in the matter.

The appropriation having been made some time ago, title to the topographical survey having been made, it would seem that there would be nothing to cause further delay, which gives further hope that the report is true, but there is so much red tape to government operation the process is necessarily slow and we can only bide time with patience.

JUDGE BANKS IS DEAD

The News learns this afternoon, just upon the eve of going to press, that Judge E. J. Banks expired at his home in San Antonio this morning. He left the city of Lufkin some time ago, together with members of his family, to make that place his home. The announcement of his death will cause sorrow to many in Angelina County, where such a prominent citizen made his home for a number of years. The News cannot recall at the present moment, and in the hurry of this item, just what members of the family are left behind, but will mention Mr. Gerald Banks, residing at Carthage, Texas, as one of the prominent sons left behind. The News joins a vast number of friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones left behind.—Lufkin News.

Judge L. D. Guinn came over from his home in Rusk yesterday and remained over until this afternoon, coming to look after some legal matters. He is accompanied by his little daughter. When seen by The Sentinel man the genial judge said everything was lovely with him, and that he would be in the race to succeed himself as district judge, formal announcement of which will be made at an early date.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

JUDGE V. E. MIDDLEBROOK.

Judge V. E. Middlebrook, Associate Justice of the new Court of Civil Appeals at Beaumont, was in Nacogdoches yesterday, and when seen by the Sentinel editor, authorized the statement that he would be in the race for election to the place he was given in voluntary appointment from the governor at the time the new court was created.

Judge Middlebrook holds place No. 1 in the new court, and is a candidate to succeed the appointment in the same place, for which he invites the suffrage and good favor of the qualified voters of the district which is composed of the counties of Jefferson, Orange, Liberty, Hardin, Montgomery, San Jacinto, Tyler, Jasper, Polk, Newton, Sabine, San Augustine, Angelina, Nacogdoches, Shelby and Panola. And if the people of the neighboring counties knew him as well as we of Nacogdoches county, which claims his residence, it would not be necessary for him to make an extended announcement or special effort to press his claims for the position.

At the time of his appointment, the state papers carried an extended and most flattering biographical sketch of the life and career of this most excellent gentleman, the full length of which we will not encumber the readers of this article, but as many doubtless failed to see that review, a brief sketch will not be out of place as he goes before the people soliciting their confidence and support. Judge Middlebrook is a native of the good old state of Georgia by birth, but of Texas by choice and adoption. He came to Texas when a mere youth, settling in Minden, Rusk county. After making his way sufficiently through school to get a teacher's certificate, he took up the profession of school teaching, which he followed many years, spending six years in Rusk county and coming to Nacogdoches county in 1887 where he continued to teach school until 1898, when he was elected county judge, which position he filled two terms of two years each. In 1902 he was elected representative from Nacogdoches district, which position he held one term, and after which he quit politics to take up the practice of law. He studied law while teaching school, as well as keep up with his studies in the teaching profession, and made of himself a lawyer after the same fashion that he made a school teacher—by hard study and close application, having no resources except his own making, and being in all things what may be termed an ideal type of the self-made man. Another thing can be said to his credit that in all the political preferment Judge Middlebrook has enjoyed, it has been a case of the office seeking the man. He yielded to his race for county judge and representative at the earnest solicitation of democratic voters of the county, who elected him, and the present position he holds came to him voluntary upon the part of the governor of the state who recognized in him the most suitable man for the place.

Since engaging exclusively in the practice of law, Judge Middlebrook has enjoyed a very large practice, and he ranks as one of the most brilliant lawyers of the Nacogdoches bar whose opinions are sought in important legal matters, and who has made a record of few reversals in his deliberations.

Last, but by no means least, it can be said to the credit of Judge Middlebrook that he is a Christian gentleman who is always ready to do anything in his power for the advancement of the religious and educational interests of the country; a righteous judge who tempers justice with mercy and a patriotic citizen who never shirks anything that contributes to the welfare and upbuilding of his country.

With a man of this character and ability, for which the citizenship of Nacogdoches county will vouch, we feel that the voters of the district ought to allow him to hold the office for a reasonable length of time, and have an abiding faith in your integrity and sense of justice and right to remember him kindly at the polls.

In editorializing on the deaths and sickness in the community of the publication, an exchange says: "There have been twenty-six funerals here the past twenty-one days. The undertaker has been on the go every day and Sunday too." If the undertaker doesn't get the editor making the report next, the vitality of the community is at a low ebb.

The cigar editor of the paper was furnished yesterday with a cigar manufactured in Nacogdoches by the Wilson Banita Cigar company. The treat came about through the kindness of Mr. Garrison, the abstract man, and the smoke proved a good one, which gives still further evidence that the tobacco lands of this section of East Texas compare favorably with those of other localities.—Lufkin News.

Recently Kalamity Bonner of the Harpoon made the boast that he had received a check for payment of one hundred years subscription from one party, but we hope it was in better money than the twenty one dollars we received from an admiring subscriber in this morning's mail for one years subscription—a twenty dollar bill and a one dollar bill in Villa currency. We regret to embarrass the subscriber with the public statement, but an attempt to "spend" the new money forces the statement: We have been buncoed with "green goods," and if the aforesaid subscriber doesn't come across with something better we shall publish his name and tell some of the other things we know about him.

There is something more than a possibility that peanut oil may become as staple a product in Texas and other Southern States as cottonseed oil. Extensive experiments were conducted by several cottonseed oil mills in Texas and Oklahoma in extracting oil from peanuts during the past crushing season, and it is said that the commercial possibility of the new industry was thoroughly and satisfactorily demonstrated. The sandy valleys of the Colorado River and other streams of Central and South Texas, as well as the sandy uplands of many localities of the state, are admirably adapted to peanut growing and it may be made a profitable part of the farm diversification plan.—Austin American.

As some people do not seem to understand the article in yesterday's paper which recites that $5000 was allowed by the National government under the head of "continuation of work," for the Nacogdoches postoffice building, a little explanation will not be out of order. The sum of $50,000 has been allowed for the building here, but in the process of red tape it seems the money has not been set aside or appropriated for the work, and this item of $5000 is merely an installment of the whole amount, the balance to be appropriated when the matter of appropriations comes up in congress later. In other words, this is an installment to meet an emergency for running expense until the whole amount is available.

THEORETICAL OBSTRUCTION

Beaumont Enterprise.

The organized National Guard today numbers 127,000 officers and men. Its military plant in armories, rifle ranges, camp grounds, arsenals etc., is estimated to represent a hundred million dollars. To substitute for this concrete organization a theoretical continental army would be folly, yet it is recognized that both could not be maintained in competition. The money and effort proposed to be spent on the suggested continental army, if devoted to popularizing and strengthening the National Guard, would promise tangible results. The supposed constitutional inhibitions of federal action are not insuperable. They are formidable as theoretical obstructions than actual obstacles. Experience has shown that it is the easiest thing in the world to discover supposed constitutional preventives of action not desired. Also that their removal is just as simple if not desirable.

To quote the Pittsburgh Dispatch: "The men who have given their time and labor to maintaining the National Guard in the various states are deserving of more consideration. Their experience in dealing with the problems of a volunteer force should be valued. Given the proper encouragement by the federal authorities the National Guard could easily be swelled to any proportions desired. Its efficiency has been greatly increased in recent years by co-operation with the regular army. Certainly, if we are to have a reserve force of any value, if it can not be evolved through the guard it can not through any system of continental volunteers."

The Tyler Signal, Colonel L. M. Green's new paper, has reached the Sentinel desk, and is a most welcome visitor. Colonel Green is a veteran newspaper man of East Texas, and is in the class of Colonel R. T. Milner and other veterans whose able pens have done so much for the country, regardless of the consequences to themselves. Long may the Signal live with its present editor, is the sincere wish of the Sentinel.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Colonel Green is famed in East Texas as the protagonist of pot liquor. He recommends that brew for all manner of hunger and sickness—even for broken hearts in the fair bosoms of young ladies. It is Colonel Green's contention that no girl can pine away on pot liquor, whatever may be the extent of the wounds upon her affections. But the colonel perhaps overlooks the main point in such a contention, i. e., that a girl disappointed in love abhors pot liquor. People who eat pot liquor have to be robust, active, merry-minded. No girl whose heart has been seared by the flames of love is like that. A bit of toast and a sip of tea are about all she can stand. To offer a broken-hearted girl gross dishes like pot liquor or pork and turnips or cornbeef and cabbage or sauerkraut and sausage is equivalent to offending every fibre of her quivering frame. When a girl has lost her lover, whether through his fault or her fault, the thing to do is not to try to fatten her up with victuals but to loosen the tension of her heart strings by showing her pictures of fishes in the sea that surpass the fishes that have been caught out of same. Many a good girl has been made to forget a trifling sun perch by bringing her attention to a substantial trout.—Dallas News.

FOR RENT—One mile of Mahl, four-room house, good water. Will take half the rent in work on the place. Address: S. R. Heidelberg, Jacksonville, Texas.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Col. B. F. George of Laredo, Texas, a prominent cattle dealer soldier and statesman from his section, is in the city with a drove of mules which he hopes to sell out and buy up a car load of cattle to take back with him.

Col. George made this office a pleasant call this morning, dropping in to make settlement for a little advertising, and we secured the following interview with him which will be of interest to the readers of the Sentinel:

He came to Texas thirty-five years ago and engaged in the cattle and mule business in Webb and Zapata counties. The western terminal of railroads was then San Antonio, from which place freight for his section had to be hauled with mule and ox teams. Land was worth only about fifty cents per acre, while it now ranges above $10 per acre.

Col. George says that we are now practically free from border trouble with the Mexicans. Continuing he said: "Last September I called on Governor Ferguson to come to Laredo and meet General Carranza, which he did in November. By diplomacy the governor did much for us with General Carranza—more than the Federal government has ever been able to do. General Carranza immediately placed 1000 guards on the Mexican border and no bandits have entered the Texas side since the day he met General Carranza. I have had a personal acquaintance with General Carranza and Governor Cabaorra of Tamiulipas, Mexico, and they are doing all in their power to encourage the better of Mexicans to return to Mexico and restore a stable government. Of 105 years of republican form of government in Mexico, only 31 years have been free of some sort of revolution, and that was under the dictatorship of our illustrious General Diaz who made more progress for us in Mexico than any other man. Of the eight hundred million acres of land in Mexico, the King of Spain granted ninety percent of it to only two hundred families. Forty-nine out of each fifty in Mexico own no land but live on large irrigated haciendas with a master and work for one peso of Carranza money per day, which is equal five cents in American money. The only trouble with Mexico is there are too many Mexicans in Mexico and not enough Americans. The Agarian system is a joke. The sandal-footed Mexican peon would not live on the land should the government give it to him. They only live with their masters on the large haciendas and work for small wages. I was compelled to remain in Mexico with cattle I had bought for four months one year ago. The railroads were destroyed and burned. I was compelled to drive my cattle to the Mexican border at Mattawean, arriving there April 6th. I found 500 or 600 killed and wounded Mexicans at the siege of Mattawean, which lasted five or six weeks and I was compelled to drive my cattle, and retreat into the interior of Mexico. The Villa army killed and ate about forty head of my cattle before I could escape. One year ago I was in command of Huastec Indian army at the siege of Hidalgo, Tamiulipas. A piece of shrapnel broke my leg and killed my saddle horse. We had no surgeons, and my soldiers split up the grub box top, made a splint bandage and did a good job of setting the bone, which is about well at this time."

In speaking of the future control and possibilities of Mexico, Col. George said: "We must use more diplomacy with the Mexicans and peace will be restored to the unfortunate nation which is now in a starving condition."

PE-RU-NA

FOR HEAD, THROAT, BRONCHIA, CHEST, STOMACH—AND OTHER AILMENTS

NO HOME SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT. ALWAYS-READY-TO-TAKE.

I have known General Gonzales, in charge of Mexico City, for a number of years. He is doing all in his power to restore a stable form of government in Mexico. Good lands can be bought in Mexico at fifty cents per acre today that were worth $2.00 per acre prior to the revolution. Our only hope is for an absolute dictator and not a president. We are not ready for a republican form of government. For thirty-one years General Diaz imprisoned or shot every man with political aspirations and saved us from revolution, and thousands of lives and millions of dollars worth of property were saved. I shall represent the seventy-ninth district in the legislature and I am hopeful of getting state aid to demonstrate to our large Mexican land owners that the time is ripe, and it is practical to store some of our storm waters for irrigation purposes. This will lead to a bond issue for the money to place our lands under irrigation.

In his military operations in Mexico, Col. George held a commission under General Carranza.

NEW HOPE.

There has been quite a good deal of sickness in our community lately, and some are still sick. Our Sunday School is progressing nicely. Everybody that can, is welcome to come and help us out.

Rev. W. R. Smith filled his regular appointment last Sunday. Miss Ruth Mae Wallace and brother, Elza, from Doches, to land in Mexico, the King of Spain granted ninety percent of it to only two hundred families. Forty-nine out of each fifty in Mexico own no land but live on large irrigated haciendas with a master and work for one peso of Carranza money per day, which is equal five cents in American money. The only trouble with Mexico is there are too many Mexicans in Mexico and not enough Americans. The Agarian system is a joke. The sandal-footed Mexican peon would not live on the land should the government give it to him. They only live with their masters on the large haciendas and work for small wages. Miss Nona Hartgraves of this place, and Mr. August Hill of Nacogdoches were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents last Saturday night. Rev. W. R. Smith performed the ceremony. We wish them a long and happy life.

YOUNG FRIEND.
If George Washington Could Rise From His Grave.

"And see our cities lighted as bright at day, hear the whirl of the electric car, talk over a wireless telephone, send a message by wireless to a ship far out at sea, examine his own bones with an X-ray, view the snowy fields, sunny plains and canals of Mars thru a telescope, take a flight from ocean-to-ocean in an air ship, get run over by an automobile going ninety miles an hour—but what's the use going back a hundred years? A system of twenty years old is of but little use today.

As the steam ship has crowded out the sail boats, the typewriter the goose quill pen and pocket ink, so have the famous Byrne systems of business training, stenotypewriting and shot systems. The reason is plain; these systems cut the time and cost of becoming an expert accountant or stenographer in half, teach business as well as book-keeping, let the student begin earning while the student of the old systems is not half thru his course; they give the student a better practical working knowledge, which means a better salary.

These practical, modern, time-saving systems can be had in this section only at the Tyler Commercial College. You would not think of riding in an ox cart in preference to an automobile. Then why thing of studying the old ox cart systems of accounting and stenography when you can get the Byrne system which possess such wonderful advantages that they enabled the management of the Tyler Commercial College to build in the short space of fifteen years, the largest business training school in America, with an annual enrollment of more than 2,000; a school that has enrolled pupils from 36 different states and six foreign countries. PET BROWN TO WRESTLE HERE SATURDAY

Pet Brown, champion middleweight wrestler of the world, of Taylor, Texas, will be here to wrestle Alec Bean at the old court house Saturday night, January 29th.

This match is by far the biggest of the year and a great wrestle is expected. There will doubtless be many visitors here from neighboring cities to witness the bout, and are assured of a great match.

It will be remembered that Mr. Alec Bean has been staying here for several weeks and has pulled for several wrestling matches. Pet Brown has been wrestling in Texas and meeting every wrestler of any note before making his trip east. A suitable write-up of the wrestlers will appear in the Daily, as we are crowded for space.

Zeno Cox, Jr., left Sunday for St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati to purchase a stock of misfit and tailor made suits together with a general stock of gents furnishing goods. He expects to open up his line at once in the building formerly occupied by Louis Zeve.

COUNTY COURT.

From Wednesday's Daily:
The jury in the case of A. C. Schattenberg vs. H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. is still out, but is expected to report at any time.
The regular jury for the week has been discharged, but if a case should become available for trial the court will pick up a jury.

From Tuesday's Daily:
The attention of county court is being taken up today with the suit of A. C. Schattenberg vs. the H. E. & W. T. Railway Co. in which Mr. Schattenberg seeks to recover damages on the allegation that defendant railroad set fire to his nursery and ruined a considerable amount of nursery stock.

From Saturday's Daily:
Since The Sentinel's report of yesterday, two more bootlegging cases have been tried in the county court.

In the case of Roy Steel, a verdict of guilty, assessing a fine of $25 and twenty days in jail was returned.
In the case of Arch Duck the jury failed to agree and a mistrial was entered.
The jury was discharged for the week this morning, but the court will hold for the trial of probate matters and such non jury cases as can be agreed upon.

From Monday's Daily:
The bootleggers are still engaging the attention of county court. The toll of yesterday included a fine of $25 and twenty days in jail for Monroe Garrett, a fine of $25 and twenty days in jail for C. C. Clardy, and a fine of $25 and twenty days in jail for Henry Banks.
Catching up with everything available, the court adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon.

FOR SHERIFF.

To the voters of Nacogdoches County:
I am announcing for the office of sheriff of Nacogdoches county, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.
I am a native of Nacogdoches county, and was born January 18, 1888, five miles west of Garison. I am a son of W. F. Prince, who was also a native of Nacogdoches county, and who, I can modestly say, was reckoned among the good citizens of the county.
I was elected constable of Precinct No. 6 two years ago, and will refer you to the best citizens of the precinct as to whether or not I have done my duty as an officer.
Fellow-citizens, if you see fit to elect me to the office of sheriff I pledge myself to do my duty without fear or favor.
Thanking you in advance for a favorable consideration, I am
Yours truly,
LUTHER PRINCE.

FOR COMMISSIONER.

To the Citizens of Precinct No. 1:
I am a candidate for commissioner. Mr. Byrd told you in the last campaign that if you would elect him he had a plan to reduce the taxes and keep up the roads. Now if you have paid your taxes and recovered from the shock, compare your receipt with the two years that I served you, and how are your roads now compared with when I went out of office? Mr. Byrd misrepresented and deceived you. If he did it once, won't he do so again?
Respectfully,
M. S. MUCKLEROY

FOR COMMISSIONER.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for county commissioner of Precinct N. 3, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

I live near Appleby where I was born forty-five years ago, and where I have spent my life engaged in farming and stock raising.
I began working the road at the age of eighteen years. I think I have learned something of what the duties of commissioner's office are, and I believe that I can fill that office satisfactory to the majority of the people should they see fit to give me the opportunity.
JNO. D. SKEETERS.

FOR COMMISSIONER

To the Voters of Precinct No. 4.
I hereby solicit your support in the Democratic Primaries for Commissioner of precinct No. 4.
I am 45 years old, have lived in Nacogdoches county all of my life, and have never asked the people for a public office. Feeling that I am qualified to attend to the duties of a Commissioner, I come before you asking you for a support sufficient to elect me. In the event that I should be the lucky one, I feel that I can, and will make you a good county commissioner.
I believe in using the county's money to the best advantage, and where it belongs, and also looking after the public roads and bridges, all alike, without discriminating.
Yours truly,
J. H. (JIM) BARNETT

FOR COMMISSIONER

The Sentinel is authorized to announce J. F. Fulghum of Garison as a candidate for Commissioner of beat No. 3, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Fulghum has been engaged in the livery business several years, as a result of which he is fully alive to the value of road improvement. He is also alive to anything else that would be of benefit to the upbuilding of his country, and at the same time would be an advocate of economical administration. Because of elements in his make-up, he has been retained on the board of school trustees of his home school, and has made such a faithful servant in this capacity the people will not let him loose. He would employ the same faithful service as a county commissioner, and would make the county an ideal public servant in this capacity.

FOR SHERIFF

The Sentinel is authorized to announce the candidacy of Mr. R. H. (Bob) Yarbrough of Garison for the office of sheriff in the coming primary elections. In coming before the people, Mr. Yarbrough is no stranger, having been born and raised in this county. He is a man of sterling integrity and his past conduct as a citizen merits the confidence of the voters. He has never before asked the people for any office and promises if elected, to use his best endeavors to faithfully and fearlessly discharged the duties of the office he seeks

BI-CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

San Antonio's plans for a Bi-Centennial Exposition in 1918, celebrating her two hundredth anniversary, are maturing faster than even the most optimistic dreamed possible. The committee which made the trip to Washington has returned and reports the most ardent reception all along the line from President Wilson on down to the various department heads.

The project for the Bi-Centennial Exposition will be formerly launched at a three days' session in San Antonio January 25, 26 and 27, at which meeting hundreds of delegates from every city in Texas, from outside cities, from civic and commercial bodies and from Government departments will be in attendance. The lowest rates ever allowed by the railroad commission of Texas from every point will be in force for those three days, making it possible to visit the Alamo City for less than half of the regular round trip fare.

All Texas is interested in this Bi-Centennial as shown by the hearty response already given the project at the recent visit of committees of San Antonians to Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and many other smaller cities and towns. Further committees will be sent out this week to interest other cities so that proper representation of these municipalities will be in attendance at the launching meeting next week.

Some of the greatest authorities in the country have pronounced this Texas' one opportunity to get before the people of the United States and the Latin American Countries. The farther one goes into the project the more impressed he is with its great possibilities.

Coming at a time when closer business relations with the Latin American countries is eagerly sought, so that business houses of this country may be firmly entrenched in the business of our Southern neighbors when the European War is a thing of the past, the Bi-Centennial Exposition in San Antonio in 1918 is greeted as a great boon to this movement.

Already it has been openly indorsed and promised support by President Wilson. Cardinal Gibbons has heartily indorsed it and last Wednesday Senator Martin's Committee in the National Senate reported favorably upon the joint resolution extending aid to the Bi-Centennial Exposition and placed it upon the Senate calendar for immediate consideration. The Texas members of Congress have given it their approval and it will be but a matter of days until the resolution is passed in both houses.

Secretary Lansing is another who has given the plan careful study and approved, as has John Barrett of the Pan-American Bureau, and the heads of the Department of Commerce and Agriculture.

The three day session January 25, 26, and 27 will undoubtedly be the greatest meeting ever held in Texas and really the first of its kind, where all Texas will lend support to a movement which in its culmination will not only benefit the City of San Antonio, where the exposition will be held but every city and county in the state. At these meetings permanent directors will be elected and the plan for financing the exposition presented in its entirety.

Invitations have already been sent out for the three days session through the mail, through the press and from now on until January 25th they will be presented in person by various committees, urging the attendance of everyone who is interested in the growth and betterment of the Lone Star State.

WHAT GOOD GOVERNMENT HAS DONE FOR COLEMAN.

Coleman, Texas.—The city commission of Coleman has just completed and published a statement of the city government, finances, etc., receipts and disbursements.

The city of Coleman is fortunate in owning its waterworks and electric light and power plant. The service rendered by each of these plants is satisfactory, and while the rates are not high, each of them shows an annual profit to the city.

Comparative statements from the water and light department show as follows and reflect, not only the growth and prosperity of the city of Coleman, but most excellent management also by the city authorities.

Lights—
1914—Gross receipts $11,313
1915—Gross receipts 14,667
Increase, $3,353.

Water—
1914—Gross receipts $ 8,454
1915—Gross receipts 10,832
Increase $2,377.

Water and lights used by the city, if bought from another corporation would cost about $4,200 annually.

From water, lights and power the city of Coleman in 1915 had gross receipts of $25,756, leaving to the city a profit of about $10,000, besides $4,200 for water and lights for the city, which $10,000 is used in improving the service, improving streets and various other useful purposes.

The various funds of the City of Coleman contain in cash something more than $21,000, which is deposited in a bank and which draws its annual interest.

By careful management and intelligent forethought our city commission has reduced the rate of fire insurance by 10 cents on the $100 insurance. This saves Coleman policyholders over $3,000 in insurance premiums annually. The commission is contemplating other improvements in fire-fighting apparatus which will effect an additional saving of 13 cents in the key rate. When this is done more than $2,000 annually will be the additional saving to Coleman fire insurance policyholders.

Altogether it is doubtful if one city in 50 in Texas, or in the Southwest, can make as good a showing as does the city of Coleman.

MONTENEGRO BREAKS OFF NEGOTIATIONS

Paris, via London, Jan. 19.—The following official statement was issued today.

"The wireless news of the surrender of the Montenegrin army appears somewhat premature. It is now announced from another source that negotiations between Austria and Montenegro have been broken, the conditions of surrender imposed by Austria having been found quite unacceptable by Montenegro.

"The king, the royal family and the diplomatic corps are about to proceed to Italy."

WOMEN TO TRY TO STOP LIQUOR SALES.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 19.—Dallas women opposed to the sale of intoxicating liquors at the Texas State Fair may raise a general fund with which to purchase the liquor concession rights at the Fair this year and by this method prevent the sale of the beverage there. Tentative proposals to this effect were advanced today at a meeting of the Dallas Council of Mothers.

HOW TO INSURE HIGH PRICES FOR COTTON.

The Southern farmer, although he has produced less cotton in 1915 than for several years and much less than last year, has a much brighter outlook than for many years.

Some jump at the conclusion that this is solely because he has produced less cotton, but by no means is this the only reason. The bumper crop of last year would have brought 10 cents a pound, but for the business panic forced marketings, and false statements reiterated by practically all the so-called cotton "authorities." The smaller crop is responsible for a demand for cotton in excess of the supply, but the price can only be maintained by the independence of the producer.

When debts have to be paid in the South cotton must be sold and it is only by lessening the debts, by producing food and feed supplies on the farm, that independence can be maintained.

The cotton farmers of the South are going to get a good price for their cotton this year, as much because of the fact that they have diversified to a large extent as because of the fact that the crop is small. Had we been as independent of the supply merchants and as free from debt last year as we are this, it would have added at least two cents per pound to the price of cotton.

With cotton selling at a profitable price at this time, the South stands on the brink of danger, probably greater than ever before in her history. Safety exists only in maintaining the progress toward feeding ourselves, which we have made in 1915.

If we fail to sow a large oat and wheat crop this fall and seed the bare lands with cover, pasture and soil-improving crops, no power on earth will prevent a large cotton acreage next year. The cotton acreage will be increased next year, there is no doubt of that, but by sowing a large oat crop this fall and determining to produce all the feedstuffs and other supplies we need for 1916 the increase in the acreage of cotton will not be so great. We can not only hold down the increase in the cotton acreage, but also lessen the bad effects of any increase which may occur, only by starting now to grow next year's supplies.—The Progressive Farmer.

TEXAN KILLS FELLOW CONVICT.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 19.—Following an argument precipitated when one accused the other of spilling salt on his bread at the supper table last night, J. S. Jones of Texas, serving a 4-year sentence for forgery, stabbed and killed Henry Schmidt, a fellow prisoner brought here from Governor's Island, for desertion from the army, escape and larceny at the Federal prison when the men formed in line for dinner today.

The attack was made with a piece of steel which Jones had sharpened this morning and Schmidt bled to death in a short time.

Vernon, Tex., Jan. 19.—Elbert Armstrong, aged nine years, was drowned here this morning when ice upon which he was skating broke and he was unable to extricate himself from the water. His mother jumped into the icy water in an effort to save him and almost lost her life in the attempt.

A QUESTION OF FAITH.

Newspaper editors always theorize and attempt to give a reason for their views in the material affairs of life, but it is clear that they can not do it in matters from the bible and keep peace in the household of the fraternity—a condition that seems to prevail with the people in all walks and stations of life.

Recently The Sentinel took issue with Bro. Carnes of the Carthage Register in the matter of "getting religion," offering a material analysis in support of our contention. He does not accept the amendment, while the Port Arthur Record puts the two together and calls it a case of "free-lance." We reproduce the whole discussion, credit for the top paragraph belonging to the Port Arthur Record:

The average Texas editor is a natural free-lance writer, whether he knows it or not. He may cultivate a disposition of conservatism and conventionalism for business reasons, and in the main adhere strictly to this policy, but there are times when he feels he can play safe and pop off steam by letting drive an opinion that is not calculated to hurt business, and about the safest proposition of this nature is theology, if it is considered broadly and theoretically. As an example, take a slant at the following editorial utterances of two esteemed exchanges:

Our esteemed contemporary, the East Texas (Carthage) Register makes the assertion that "nobody ever gets religion." We are no authority on matters of theology and would confess to being a dull student, but we can't get away from the idea the Register to the contrary notwithstanding, that if some people would make an effort to "get" it they would succeed better. In the material affairs of life we have to "get" a thing before we possessed it—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

The question is whether man is active or passive agent in the process that makes him a new creature. We think the bible reason and experience all support the latter view. All man can do is to accept the terms offered by Divine grace and surrender himself to divine guidance. Of course "in material things we have to get a thing before we possess it," but not in spiritual things. Every good thought is an inspiration of God's spirit. Without it we are no more than beasts.—East Texas Register.

FIGHTING SHREVEPORT RATE

Austin, Texas, January 19.—Traffic managers from the chambers of commerce of several of the large cities in the State reached here today for the conference to be held tomorrow for the purpose of formulating plans to retain the Texas rate equality and resist the efforts of the interstate commerce commission to put in force the Shreveport rate decision. There was a preliminary conference held today of these traffic men when the plans were informally discussed. G. S. Maxwell, Dallas; U. S. Pawkett, San Antonio; G. N. Zimmerman, Waco; R. O. McCormick, Fort Worth, and J. A. Morgan, Houston, are here.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life. If your work is tiring, if your nerves are excitable, if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength. Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Condition along the line was discussed at great length. The interests of the company and the public also came in for a good share of remarks, and it was the opinion of all present that by serving their interests the employees serve their own.—Lufkin News

SOLICIT STATE AID

Austin, Texas, Jan. 21.—The committee on resolutions from the Shippers and Consumers' Traffic association is conferring with Governor Ferguson and members of the Railroad Commission today regarding funds necessary to carry on the fight in the Shreveport rate case.

The committee is asking for $3,000 to pay the lawyers for briefing the Texas case.

The Governor promised favorable consideration of the request if approved by the Railroad Commission, and the members of the latter body now are considering it.

HOBBY CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

Hon. William P. Hobby of Beaumont has announced his candidacy for re-election as Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

"While it may seem a little early for such announcements, it might as well be known what my intentions are," he said.

He arrived at 12:30 o'clock by way of the Texas & Pacific Railway from Longview to spend a few days visiting in the city.

Formal announcement outlining his platform will be made in due time. He is completing his first term. He defeated Senator B. B. Sturgeon.

Mr. Hobby attended a banquet given Longview citizens last night in honor of Mayor G. A. Bodenheim.

"The affairs of Texas, so far as I can see, are going along satisfactorily," he said. "It seems that Governor Ferguson has firmly decided that he will not call a special session of the Legislature this year.—Dallas Journal.

Messrs. J. J. Greve and Claib Johnson have returned from a visit to West Texas points. During the absence of Mr. Greve, Fayette Bell was in charge of affairs of the depot and the railroads at this place which is a good distinction for him, the company usually checking in a man with an established reputation of an office the importance of this when the agent in charge is absent for any reason.

$20,000 FIRE IN ROGERS, TEXAS

Temple, Tex., Jan. 19.—Fire did $20,000 damage in the business section of Rogers, a small town near here, today.

The flames are said to have spread rapidly and efforts to check them proved unavailing.

LIBRARY NOTICE

The librarian at the Public Library is expecting a dozen or more new volumes which have been ordered and should arrive before many days. As it is impossible, however, with the limited funds at the disposal of the association, to keep up always with the demand for new books, the committee would greatly appreciate the gift of any extra volumes from private libraries of those interested in the success of this effort for the good of the community. A number of friends of the library, from time to time have mentioned having books that they would be glad to donate. If any such will be good enough to notify the librarian, arrangements will be made for collecting the books. A number of the boy patrons of the library have volunteered for this service, and they would be glad to call for any contributions, which will be greatly appreciated.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y.—"For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation."—Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

JUDGE W. J. TOWNSEND DIES AT LUFKIN HOME.

Lufkin, Tex., January 18—Judge W. J. Townsend Sr., for many years one of the most prominent attorneys in East Texas, died at his residence on South First street, at 6:45 tonight of heart failure.

Judge Townsend was born February 27, 1850 and moved to Angelina county while a young man. For many years he was associated with Judge E. J. Mantooth in the practice of law in Lufkin under the firm name of Mantooth & Townsend, doing an extensive practice.

He had been out of health for three years, and retired from active practice about 18 months ago.

Until he divided his estate about a year ago Judge Townsend was one of the largest land owners in Angelina county, his holding consisting of extensive timber lands and several brick business houses in Lufkin.

On November 14, 1914, Judge Townsend was very sick, and he did not think he could live. On that date he selected the pallbearers for his funeral, and those men will act in that capacity tomorrow.

The active pallbearers will be W. M. Glenn, A. P. Johnson, G. A. Medford of Lufkin, I. E. Baird of Huntington, Leroy Harvard of Manning and Green Spell of Rockland.

The honorary pallbearers will be Hal Tucker of Nacogdoches, W. D. Myers of Houston, G. J. Ivy of Huntington, S. W. Dirksen of Lufkin, W. E. Boykin of White City and J. E. Peavy of Lufkin.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church. Rev. C. B. Garrett officiating. Interment will be in Glendale cemetery.

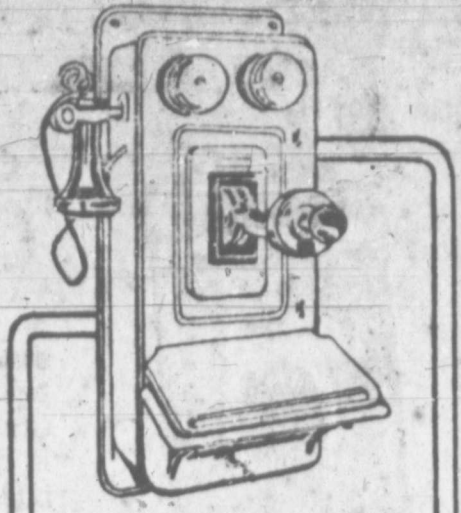

Judge Townsend was married twice. He leaves three sons by his first wife. They are W. J. Townsend, State Senator from Jacksonville; Sam H. Townsend, an attorney of Lufkin, and George W. Townsend, a planter, who lives near Monterey, Texas. He leaves two daughters, Miss Annie Marie and Rebecca, and one son, Stonewall Townsend all of Lufkin.

He also leaves one stepson, Richard Phyllen, and one stepdaughter, Mrs. S. R. Sayers, both of Lufkin.

BRYAN MAY TRAIL WILSON ON TOURS.

Washington, January 19—According to reports that were current here today, William Jennings Bryan is planning to follow President Wilson if the latter embarks upon his proposed trip over the country making speeches in support of his preparedness policy. Bryan will trail a day or so behind, so the story goes and attempt to offset the effects of Mr. Wilson's argument. If this happens, it will be significant as indicating the extremes to which Bryan and his pacifists party will go in their efforts to defeat army and navy legislation by the present congress.

The body will be laid to rest in the Biggars cemetery some exact hour to be decided upon when a son, Mr. R. A. Hearne, of Ft. Worth, arrives.—Center Daily Optimist, Wednesday.

MASONS OF LUFKIN BUILDING NEW HOME.

The following report of the letting of a contract for a new Masonic building at Lufkin is taken from yesterday's issue of the Lufkin Daily News:

In yesterday's News there appeared the statement that the contract would be let today for the erection of a Masonic building in the city of Lufkin. The News learns this morning that the deal was carried to a successful termination and that the Masonic home will consist of a three-story structure on the vacant lot opposite the post office building. It is going to be an ornament to the town, and The News rejoices with its many readers over the fact that such a thing is to be brought about.

The successful bidder for this new building was Mr. John Hablin, a contractor of Nacogdoches, who is well known in this city. The building proper involves an expenditure of $16,665, and the actual work is to begin within the next two weeks. The News takes pleasure in making announcement of this fact. It proves beyond all possible doubt that the queen city of East Texas is yet destined to make industrial such strides that none of her sister cities can ever hope to rival her. There are still other enterprises due to transpire in this city in the very near future, and The News will carry the information as soon as it breaks. In the meantime, the paper is content to let this intelligence of such an industrial affair suffice for the day. Read the paper tomorrow.

FRANK PARSONS CASE SET FEBRUARY 7.

The information is gleaned from the the Lufkin Daily News of yesterday that on the first Monday in February, which will be the seventh day of the month, the case of the State of Texas vs. George Frank Parsons will be called for trial in the Angelina county district court.

It will be remembered that Parsons is the man charged with blowing up the depot at Lufkin some time ago, making his escape out of the country and being subsequently captured in California and brought back to Lufkin for trial. A report in the state papers says that he will be tried on two counts, one for arson and another upon indictment of embezzlement of an insurance company.

Much interest has been aroused in the case all over the country, and the forthcoming trial will be watched closely.

KICKED BY A MULE.

From Monday's Daily: Alf Stone, a well known farmer of the community, was kicked by a young mule this morning, and received some very painful if not serious injuries.

The accident occurred near the court house. Mr. Stone had purchased a pair of young mules and was endeavoring to lead them off from the lot on the opposite street from the courthouse when they got into a play with each other and wheeled and pulled Stone off a few steps before kicking him. The injuries were in the face and breast of the gentleman, and as he was spitting up some blood, it is feared that he suffered internal injury.

Mr. Stone was carried to the Sanitarium for treatment where everything possible will be done for him, and his many friends trust that he will yield to treatment and that his injuries will not prove as serious as now appears.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Late news from Washington is to the effect that the citizens of the border-land of Texas are importuning congress to acquire the northern portion of Mexico. Ultimately we will have to take over the whole works, and now would be a good time. The installment plan would be too slow.

BREAKS A BAD COLD IN A JIFFY! TRY IT

You can end gripe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs by taking a dose of "Figs' Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, sore throat, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, dullness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing. "Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as Figs' Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store.

J. W. Hill, a well known citizen of Appleby, belonging to one of the prominent families at that place, has been in the city today visiting relatives and friends and looking after some business interests.
