OLD GENTLEMAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Mr. H. Fitch Sustained a Fall Last Night and it is Feared His Hip Was Fractured.

From Wednesday's Daily: About three o'clock this morning Mr. H. Fitch, a well known old gentleman of this city, heard a noise downstairs in the building in which he resides, and thinking possibly it was a burglar he crept quietly downstairs without turning on a light. When near the bottom, and thinking he had reached the lower floor, he made an awkward step and fell several steps, in which he received very severe injury to his hip.

At the time this report was prepared it had not been definitely determined whether or not his hip was fractured or broken, and hope is entertained that this may not be the case. The injured member was placed in bandage with a weight attached to draw out the ligaments which seem to have drawn in the injury, and a further examination will be made of the injury today at which time a definite diagnosis will be made.

Mr. Fitch is about seventy-four years of age, and has not been in very good health lately, having recently suffered an attack of la-grippe from which he had not entirely recovered, making this untimely accident the more unfortunate. He is a most excellent old gentleman, and has a host of

SON SHOOT'S FATHER TWICE AT JOAQUIN

Joaquin, Tex., Feb. 28.—Friday night, shortly after dark, Floyd Cook shot his father twice, one shot taking effect in the back and the other in the hip. The parties reside three miles south of town. Domestic troubles is the cause of the affair. The old man, who is 62 years old, was in a critical condition Sunday. The son went to Center and surrendered to officers, but is out on bond. Dr. Carrall of Center was called, cut out the bullets and says the man will live.

County Agricultural Agent, Jas. D. Greer is now equipped with a new Ford car with which he can get over the county faster and keep better up with his work.

RESIDENCE BURNED THIS MORNING.

From Monday's Daily: About 1:15 this morning fire broke out in the living room of the residence occupied by Jesse Cruze on Logansport street, and the flames had gained so much headway before being discovered that it was impossible to save anything.

The Fire Department made a quick response and succeeded in holding the flames to the house in which they originated.

The fire is supposed to have caught from a sheet iron heater in the living room. The heater was but a short distance from the wall, and there was also some rich pine lying near, and the theory is reasonable that either the wall or the pine ignited from the heat of the heater.

The building was the property of Dr. R. R. Henderson, and was valued at $1500, on which he carried $1000 insurance. It was of the bugalo type and was nearly new and in fine repair.

Mr. Cruze's loss on his household effects is estimated at $750, on which he carried $400 insurance.

DISTRICT COURT

From Monday's Daily: District court opened on schedule time this morning with his honor, Judge Guinn, presiding, and District Attorney OQuinn present to represent the state.

The case of Emma Hightower, charged with unlawfully selling whiskey, was dismissed.

The case of Will Matthews, charged with murder, was dismissed.

Lawrence Haltom plead guilty to an aggravated assault, and was fined $50.00.

The case of Elmus Loftus, charged with forgery, was dismissed.

BOARDING HOUSE AT MILL BURNED.

The big boarding house at the mill of the Frost-Johnson Lumber Co., was put out of commission with fire Saturday night.

The mill has a fine water pressure and fire-fighting department of its own, and extinguished the flames before the house was entirely consumed, but the building and furniture was so badly damaged that it is practically a total loss.

The Sentinel is informed that the damage is estimated at about $3000, which is fully covered with insurance.

A LARGE CROWD HEARD MR. DIES.

The gentlemen who went from this city to Center Saturday to hear Congressman Dies speak say that the crowd was so great that the big court house would not hold all, fully one-third being turned away, and that he was given most respectful attention throughout his address, as well as a most cordial reception.

The speech was pretty much along the same lines of the address he recently delivered in Congress.

D. L. Campbell, the noted corn raiser of Appleby, was in to see us yesterday afternoon, and in conversation with the reporter said that he had sold one hundred bushels of seed corn and could have sold as much more if he could have supplied it. Mr. Campbell is the man who has been getting the premiums at all the corn shows lately. In the last contest he won first prize for the best single ear at the Texas Mid-winter Corn Show, and the prize for the best ten ears from East Texas. He has won five corn planters in the past six years, and has won many other prizes, ranging from good cash prizes down to smaller prizes. The Sentinel suggested to him that he should engage exclusively in raising seed corn, and he says that he will give considerable more attention to the matter this year, hoping to be in a better position to supply this demand another year.

"A thousand times more important than national preparedness for war is the preparing of our boys and girls for the great battles of life."—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Lufkin, our progressive neighbor across the creek, is voting on $200,000 bond issue today. The Daily News and other progressive citizens have put up a valiant fight to win this great step forward, and The Sentinel trusts that when the votes are all counted victory will be recorded. Good roads are the first essential to civilization and industrial development, and that community which provides good roads is on the way.

The Sentinel greatly appreciates the many words of encouragement it is receiving from its home people these days. It also appreciates the cordial relation it enjoys, with the brethren of the press who give evidence of their interest in the paper by the many articles they reproduce from its columns, and the friendly comment they offer. "We shall pass this way but once," and as we journey along we find the greatest fragrance in the "flowers for the living."

One of the queerest things in both national and state legislation is the fact that the lawmakers are so eager to compel the railroads to let them and other commoner folks ride for 2 cents a mile when the legislators themselves receive 10 and 20 cents from the national and state treasuries for riding expenses. However, this is perhaps one of the laws of the Medes and Persians and cannot be changed. We await with eagerness the name of the man who will first suggest that it be done away with.—Mrs. Walter Ferguson in Cherokee Republican.

The cotton seed oil mill of Jacksonville has given out the announcement to the farmers surrounding the town that they will install a peanut crusher in time to handle the season's crop, and will be in the market for all the peanuts they can get, for which they will pay the market price. This insures that a large peanut crop will be raised in the vicinity of Jacksonville, and that the farmers of that section, who are of a diversification bent of mind in their work, having hitherto accumulated much wealth in the growing of tomatoes and other truck, will continue to prosper.

The Athens Daily Review is advocating the idea of the organization of the newspaper men of East Texas whereby the editors may come together and make plans and work in harmony and concert of action for the development of this grand and glorious country of ours. The idea is good one, for "in the multiplicity of counsel there is wisdom," and "in unity there is strength." Banded together and working with a unity of purpose, we could accomplish much, both for the country and ourselves, and The Sentinel is in hearty accord with the proposition.

What would you think of a man when on the jury who, after hearing the evidence on one side of the case, would refuse to hear the other and render his decision accordingly? "Honest Indian" wouldn't you think him a fool and not capable of rendering a decision on the most frivolous matter? What about the thousands of men today who refuse to read anything that does not bolster up their pet theory and even attempt to make light of the man who does? They are the kind that our Savior had reference to when he said, "When the blind lead the blind they all fall in the ditch together."—Canton Herald.

Nacogdoches county is without a poor farm and there is no superintendent of a poor farm in Nacogdoches county. Nacogdoches county disposed of its poor farm several years ago. The Herald offers this information for the benefit of any who may be laboring under the impression that the county has such an institution.—Redland Herald.

"Behold, how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in peace and harmony." We are glad our contemporary has no inclination to longer withhold the information, and trust that he may be repaid in the "advertising value" he seeks in the premises.

The ancient, honorable and much loved Nacogdoches Sentinel has duly qualified an exalted seat in the councils of the "Flowers for the Living" club, and A. McBeath will take notice and be governed accordingly.—Longview Times-Clarion.

Being a member of the "Flowers for the Living" club is its own reward and anyone may join by desiring to do so. There is no machinery about the organization to become tangled up in politics. Anyone is to be permitted to adopt the idea and develop it to its fullest extent. We think more of the Sentinel because of its manifested good sense and judgment.—Temple Telegram.

Good roads are equally necessary to both the production and distribution of farm products. They are prerequisite, says M. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, in his last annual report, not only to economical production and distribution, but to the broader life of communities. The great need, obviously, is for roads which will get the products from the farm to the nearest station enabling the farmer to haul when he cannot sow or reap, and to haul at a lower rate to transport his children to consolidated schools, and to enjoy comfortably his social enterprise." There can be, indeed, no such things as community life without good roads. To assure such life there must be ease of communications and transportation.—Ex.

Diversification has two most important values to East Texas. In the first place a farm that is intelligently cultivated to diversified crops will produce practically everything the family needs to eat and will supply a surplus to sell, and the farmer will still have time to cultivate a sufficient acreage to cotton.—The value is to him first because it enables him to live well and economically. The value comes next to the community as a whole. Unfortunately because East Texas has adhered so closely to the one cotton crop idea this section has gained a reputation as being a poor man's country, where a man could stay poor. Under diversification the country can be made to produce up to the best countries on earth, and pretty soon the outside world will change its views about our country. A visitor here a short time ago remarked that the people of this particular section did not appreciate their country. He compared it to his section, where there was practically no agricultural opportunities, and yet his country is a rich one. It has been made so by the people using what resources they have at hand.—Palestine Herald.

FAVORS DIVERSIFICATION.

Mr. B. M. Isaac, while engaged as a cotton buyer for a livelihood, is another of our progressive citizens who believes that the salvation of this country depends upon crop diversification and crop rotation, and is interesting himself in gathering data about the market price and market demand for sweet potatoes in different places.

Mr. Isaac is also a believer in the idea that we should have a dry kiln with which to prepare our sweet potatoes for market; that the oil mill should be equipped to handle peanuts, and that a better system of marketing country produce should be worked out, altogether insuring a new era of prosperity for our great country, while on the other hand, if we continue to depend on cotton as a money crop with the uncertain condition of affairs of the country, the probability of bankruptcy stares us in the face.

Mr. Isaac is right as all who will give the matter serious thought will admit, and that community which develops along the new lines will tide over any adversity that may be approaching, and grow in prosperity and wealth. Admitting these facts, Nacogdoches, first in history and many other things, could not do better than lead out with this development which would insure our stability and future greatness.

DON'T RISK IT.

In the first place he's gone cotton-crazy. Twelve-cent cotton has been too much for him; it has gone to his head and, displacing the little bit of reason knocked into it by six-cent cotton last year, has set him a-planning air castles already.

Even now he is visioning cotton on every possible acre, cotton in the fence corners, cotton along the roadside up to its very edge, little or no oats, little or no corn,—cotton, cotton, everywhere, with what he regards as the certainty of good prices, with constant affluence. He has already figured it out that the rest of the world will diversify, leaving the raising of cotton largely to him, and he's fully resolved to "make a killing."

He has some feed now that hard times made him raise, but he doesn't care whether he has any this year or not, for won't it be easy for him to buy all he wants with his big cotton crop? He planted peas in his corn last year but didn't save any seed and won't plant any this year. What's the use, he says, when you can buy plenty of commercial fertilizer on credit? He terraced some of his land and saved the barnyard manure last year; but what's the use, he says, of keeping up these things when a fellow's going to get rich raising cotton this year anyway? He had actually learned a few common sense economies and had apparently taken a few steps toward getting himself on a rational, live-at-home basis, but phaw! what's the use of a few low doing such things when cotton's twelve cents.

If this "other fellow" lies in your neighborhood it will be interesting to watch him. He's going to "make a killing" all right, but it may not be the kind he's looking for.—The Progressive Farmer.

Cotton will not be ignored this or any other year, but the success of our farmers will depend largely upon their ability to feed themselves during the cultivation of their main crops, whichever these may be, cattle hogs, poultry, vegetables, fruits and other varied products should be grown in addition to the money crop, whether this be cotton, corn, peanuts or tomatoes.—Alto Herald.

TROUBLE IN HOUSEHOLD.

The dispatches in today's papers, bearing Washington date lines, announce the danger of a split between President Wilson and some of the Democratic leaders over the proposition of whether or not Americans should be warned to remain off armed ships. The president is opposed to the proposition, declaring that European nations have no moral or legal right to interfere with traffic from this, a recognized neutral country, while opposing congressmen reason that serious trouble might be averted with a resolution of warning. Position of the congressmen is best expressed in the following extract from an interview with Congressman Slayden:

"A few thoughtless Americans who believe they must go to Europe persist in traveling on belligerent ships. They have a legal right to do so, but no moral right to do so when the assertion of the privilege may involve the country in war. In the Japanese-Russian war Great Britain warned her nationals not to travel on ships belonging to either belligerent and plainly said she would not be responsible for their safety if they did so. Why should we not take a similar precaution? It would certainly avoid the peril of war if we did, and surely no sane, patriotic American wants war with any country."

The Sentinel is in sympathy with the resolution. If any foreign ship were to assault an American ship, or American rights in any way, we would be in favor of the offending party being brought to strict accountability, but American people have no moral right to travel on the ships of the warring nations and expect protection from their own flag. It is just as reasonable to warn American people to remain out of the war zone of danger as it was to warn them to get out of Mexico when danger approached.

THE BOOSTER AND THE KILLER.

Nearly every town has two classes of citizens—the boosters and the killers. All the world loves the former, but even the devil shuns the latter.

Be a booster!
The town booster is known by everybody, for he is always doing and saying something to push his town along and its people along. He is the man who makes the town. The killer is the one who destroys it.

Be a booster.
The booster never loses anything by his boosting. He boosts other people and the other people boost him, and through this combination of boosting great things are accomplished. It is only the killer who falls of his own weight of his own words, of his own deeds.

Be a booster.
The booster is like a ray of sunshine on a cloudy day. He brightens everything and everybody around him. His geniality, his cheerfulness, his energy and his good deeds breed hope in the bosom of despair. His words and his acts help others and ennoble himself. But the killer only kills—just kills, kills, kills!

Be a booster.
This town has many boosters, and you all know them, you admire them, you respect them. And your respect is more precious to the genuine booster than is your gold. It is only the killer who stands alone, without friends, without hope for the future.

Be a booster.
There may be a killer or two in this town; but we hope not. But if there are any we hope they will cease killing and go to boosting. There is no honor or profit in killing, but there is much to be gained through boosting.

Be a booster.
We need the booster—we need more boosters. But we can exist handsomely without the killer, for the killer's principal diversion in life is to take a knock at the town, at its people, at their ways, and at every thing and everybody connected therewith—except the killer.

Be a booster!
If there are any killers in this town let's convert them, so we can all be boosters. The booster is of value to every legitimate thing with which he comes in contact, while the killer is not even of value to himself.

Heaven loves the booster—and hell is full of killers. Everybody boost!

No one can be blamed for making his money go as far as possible in the purchase of such things as may be needed. To the contrary, to do so is an evidence of thrift, but we sometimes make a mistake in quantity for quality, and do not realize the value we expect. To get to the point, no one should send away from his home town for anything he can get in the same value at home. With the destruction of the towns, which will result with a general patronage of the mail order houses, local markets and all the other conveniences will likewise be destroyed, and the condition will react with disaster to all classes. We should rather all work together, each serving the other with a feeling of personal interest, and when this condition obtains universally we will all grow and develop together.

A MINISTER TO A DOG POISONER.

Someone recently poisoned the little fox terrier belonging to Rev. Dr. A. A. Murphey of the Second Presbyterian Church of New Brunswick, N. J. The loss of his dog grieved Dr. Murphey very much and he addressed this open letter to the poisoner for publication in a local paper:

"Whoever you are I do not know, for fear I should despise you more than christianity permits. That little dog never harmed you or any other creature, human or brute. Had you come here he would have greeted you warmly. Why did you do it? Besides, if it had to be done, why not use chloroform? Why use that terrible poison that gave him two hours of agony before he passed away, but which he bore like the little hero that he was? If there be a dog's heaven—and who shall say there is no—the brave, honest little fellow is there, while you are still on earth. Repent, sir, for as sure as the God that created men and dogs is righteous, He shall hold you responsible for such an unwarrantable, cruel, evil deed. I say this without any idea of vengeance, for I have nothing but pity for such as you. No more will he accompany me in my rambles, nor when left at home, run to meet me with ecstasy of delight upon my return, yet, much as I shall miss my little friend—and he did comfort me in my loneliness—I would rather be the subject of his loss, with the last glance of his dying but loving eye in my memory than to be you with the consciousness of your bad, black deed in your heart."

Dr. J. K. Castleberry of Sacul is in town this afternoon looking after some business interests.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful to-night and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like the pleasant taste.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

And by some reason for it, I fear Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure you safely and certainly, if you'll give it faithful use. Mrs. FANNIE HARRISON, 202 South Hill Avenue, Dallas, Texas, says:

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I know it is good for it sure did straighten me out. I was where I could not do my work. I lay around all of the time. NEW OIL FIELD.

Coleman, Texas, Feb. 25.—Since the bringing in (partially the well not complete) of the Turner-Henderson-oil well there is quite a considerable activity in the field. A number of contracts for wells have been signed and activity in leasing is pronounced. Lease prices have advanced from 25 cents to even $7.50 per acre in some instances. On the ground now are the following, several of whom are watching further developments of the Turner-Henderson well though visitors are picking up leases here and there:

John Dyson, Wichita Falls, owner of a number of oil rigs.

R. H. Cook, Electra, driller, who will start a well on the lease of the American National Bank, Austin.

Mr. Johnson of the Standard Oil Company.

Hart & Son, with a group of oil operators at various points.

Mr. Wharton of Iola, Kan., has leased a tract.

Mike Siebert of Houston.

Representing the Producers Oil Company, Captain Jim Bell of Beaumont has purchased 100 acres at $100 per acre (former price about $25); Chestnut & McCleskey of Wichita Falls; Mr. Wild of Moran.

Representing Farmers Petroleum Company, Messrs. H. D. Conley, Bowser, Lee and Woodyard.

Mr. Dickinson, representing the Guffey Company.

Mr. Martin, an oil capitalist of Tulsa Okla.

Mr. Peggi, independent operator of Houston.

Henan & Sikes of Oklahoma, Mitchell & Stewart of Tulsa, Wiley of California, Brown of Houston, Ayres of Brady, Brooke Smith and G. N. Harrison of Brownwood, Chambers of Pittsburg, Barr of Fort Worth and Bakus of San Angelo. The interest is increasing. It is thought the Turner-Henderson well will be ready for operation by Saturday night.

SENATE CHECKS

TRAVEL WARNING.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The first attempt to introduce legislation warning Americans off armed belligerent ships made in congress today by Senator Gore, a Democrat, was summarily blocked by Senator Brandegee, a republican, and under the rules of the state cannot be resumed until tomorrow.

Mrs. W. S. Buchanan has returned from a few days visit to her mother at Texarkana. She left rather hurriedly in response to a message announcing that her mother was ill, but left her well again.

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles? Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat.

Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store.

INSPECTOR VISITED RURAL SCHOOLS.

In company with County Superintendent J. B. Stripling, Prof. C. A. Jay, rural school inspector for the Department of Education, visited the rural schools of Nacogdoches county which have made application for participation in the Million Dollar Fund last week. He begun Thursday, and finished up the work of inspecting the twenty-four by Saturday night, and makes a very flattering report.

All the schools were approved with a few minor exceptions, and instructions were left which, when complied with, may be received by the county superintendent and the appropriation granted them.

In speaking of the work being done in this county, he was very complimentary, saying that he found the requirements being met in an intelligent, satisfactory manner, and taken as a whole, superior to anything he had found in the state. He was particularly complimentary of the work he found at Nat and Woden. At Woden he found a splendid new building ideal in its arrangements, together with ten acres of land which is being developed in an agricultural department and plans under advisement for the erection of a teacher's home.

In those districts approved in whole the appropriations will be forthcoming at once, and the appropriations for the other districts will be forwarded as soon as the recommendations he made are worked out and approved by the county superintendent, in which there will be but little delay.

In addition to this appropriation, considerable appropriations have been secured for several of the schools for agricultural aid, and in most instances the appropriations will amount to more than the local taxes being paid. In speaking further of the work in this county, Prof. Jay also left a "flower for the living" for County Superintendent Stripling, saying:

"I think the county is to be congratulated in having a man on the job who is demanding that things be done right, and find that he is having effective work done, and arousing much interest with the educational interests of the county. Through his good work these schools are getting half as much new money as they pay taxes."

In speaking of the matter of levying taxes for school purposes, Prof. Jay said that he had not recommended any school to participate in this fund which supported less than a fifty-cent tax, and that through this arrangement, the aid money and revenue derived from taxes would enable the rural districts to enjoy equal advantages with many of the independent districts which derived help taxation of corporations and other wealth. The essential requirements of the rural school to participate in this fund are a house to meet certain requirements; a teacher who is competent, and an attendant of the pupils for at least three-fourths of the time of the term of public school. It is the idea of the Department to place this money where the most good will be derived from it, and for this reason it is exacted that all requirements be met.

NOMINATION OF FLETCHER.

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson's nomination of Henry Prather Fletcher as ambassador to Mexico, opposed by some republican senators, who insist that the time is not ripe for assignment of a diplomatic representative to the Carranza government, was favorably reported to the senate today by the foreign relations committee.

It will come up at an executive session tomorrow with administration leaders urging confirmation as soon as possible.

The committee vote was twelve to two, Senators Borah and Smith of Michigan, republicans, being the only ones voting negatively and Senator Lodge, ranking republican member, joining those favorable confirmation.

Administration senators believe favorable action by the senate itself is assured.

ANOTHER DOG POISONED.

Editor Sentinel:

I notice in the Daily Sentinel of the 24inst a minister's open letter to a dog poisoner. Here is another not from a minister:

My name is Frank, some call me a crank,

I live here in town, or so it appears;

I have a fine dog she can jump like a frog,

And in fact I have had her for nearly ten years,

She is jolly and sound her weight twenty pounds,

And for her the world over I would cheerfully jog;

But bad luck to the skunk, be he sober or drunk,

That tried to poison my poor little dog.

May his dog never hunt, may his pig never grunt,

May a ghost ever haunt him by day and by night,

May his hens never lay, his voice be a bray,

May his chicks fly away like an old paper kite,

May his ducks never quack, may his geese be turned black;

May his bed be a hole with some dirty hog,

May the scurvy and the itch never part from the bitch

Of the villain that poisoned my good little dog.

May his rooster never crow, may his head be bent low,

May his crows never grow, may he never have none,

May his feet have no socks may his door have no lock,

May his wife have no frock to shade her back bone,

May the bed bugs and fleas, this wicked wretch tease,

May a piercing north breeze, make him sneeze in the fog,

May some old tumble bug build a nest in the lung,

Of the scoundrel that poisoned my nice little dog.

May his pipe never smoke, may his stove be all broke,

And to that add the poke that his kettle not boil,

May he be poorly fed till the day he is dead;

May he be always fed on cotton seed oil,

May he swell with the gout, till his grinders fall out,

May he roar, howl and shout for just one drink of grog,

May his temples sprout horns may his toes sprout corns,

The wretch that poisoned my fine little dog.

May his children howl with both hunger and cold.

May his wife always scold till her brains go astray,

May the curse of each vag, that ever carried a bag,

Light down on this wag, till his hair it turns gray,

May the verments all bite him, his own shadow fright him,

And every man slight him; may he be without togs,

May the rats ever gnaw him, may the cats ever claw him—

The man that poisoned my innocent little dog.

MR. HOWTH COMING.

The Sentinel has a letter from Hon. C. W. Howth, candidate for congress, in which he says:

"Please advertise in your paper that I shall speak in behalf of my candidacy against Mr. Dies in Nacogdoches, on Monday, March 6th, at 2 p. m., and at Cushing on March 6th, at 8 p. m.

FAHMING FOR PROFIT.

The ten thousand dollar prize offer of the Texas Industrial Congress for best field crops, best livestock, and best gardens during 1916, not only provides opportunity and encouragement to learn and use the best possible methods of production, but it also emphasizes a phase of work that is overlooked by probably ninety-nine out of every hundred of our rural population, the question of net profit. The best field crop, meat animal, or garden is not that which makes the largest gross yield, but the one that yields its producer the largest amount of clear money after the cost of producing it has been deducted.

In stating the conditions of its prize offer the Congress says:

"The net production of the crop is important as the yield and will be considered in determining successful contestants. This rule applies also to the cost of feeding the livestock classes.

"The rent of the land, cost of breaking the ground, preparing the seed bed, seed planting, fertilizers, cultivation, gathering and weighing, feeding and every other item of expense must be reported.

"A careful record, by hours, of the amount of labor of every person and of every animal used in making the prize crops.

"A daily record must also be kept of the kind and quantity of feed and of every other item of expense incurred in the livestock classes."

Requiring contestants to keep books on their work gives them an understanding of the meaning of the net profit and enables them to visualize in a concrete way the fact that the purpose of growing crops and livestock is not just to live, but to make clear money; and making clear money, and understanding that fact is an argument for doing these things, that is more powerful and will have more effect in preventing the flight of the farm boys and girls to the city than any other that may be made. Those interested should write to the Congress at Dallas for its prize offer and application blanks to enter the contests.

COMANCHES COUNTY'S EXPERIMENT.

Comanche county's diversification to peanuts contributes an interesting story to the current news of the day. Comanche county has not grown poor because of cotton, neither has she grown fat. But last year, while not altogether pinning her faith to diversification, Comanche county conducted an experiment which has produced a remarkable and promising result. Cotton had been planted so continuously by her farmers that the soils had been much exhausted and the returns made leaner and leaner by year. So meager, in fact, were the returns from cotton acreage that the farmers not only was met with scant profits on his year's labor, but the cotton seed mills in the town of Comanche lay idle, for the most part, during the season when ordinarily it ran full time.

But last year, under the merciless law of necessity rather than from choice, Comanche county farmers discovered that they were getting better return than they had ever gotten from cotton, acre for acre. They made another discovery, which was quite important within itself, and that was that peanuts fattened hogs. This constituted a good investment, not only when shipped to market, but when used to support the family larder.

While all this work was going on the manager of the Comanche County Cotton Seed Oil Company, yielding to that same great law of necessity to which the farmer had yielded, also made a discovery. There was no cotton seed in sufficient quantity to keep the mill going, but there was a big crop of peanuts that might supply the absence of cotton seed. So this selfsame manager made some necessary alterations in his machinery and proceeded straightway to the production of peanut oil, cake and meal. Now this selfsame manager predicts a new and great industry in Texas, and the attractive part of the prediction is that it appears to be predicted on the results of an experiment that has really demonstrated that the peanut crop henceforth may be classed as one of the staple crops of thousands of Texas farms.

At any rate, it appears almost obvious that diversification, in any place where soil conditions invite departure to the growing of peanuts, may well come under the head of safe and sane diversification.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

WHAT IS TRUE SUCCESS?

Perhaps the commonest mistake about success is that it is for the few and is a matter of eternal accumulation; I believe, on the contrary, that success is possible for everybody and is a matter of inward achievement. This is only another way of saying what the Great Master said, that "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth," and what Canon Farrar said, namely, that "there is only one failure possible in life, and that is not to be true to the best one knows." And this last clause reminds me of an inscription I yet remember seeing at the Pan-American Exposition in 1901: "He Who Fails Bravely Has not Truly Failed, But is Himself Also a Conqueror."

Here then is my description of success, and I shall make it the text of all I am going to say:

That man is succeeding in life who has a worthy ideal and struggles toward it serenely and unceasingly.

Now this definition implies a lot of things. It implies that the successful life must be a life of energy directed to a worthy purpose, and that along with work, must go a serene and untroubled spirit.

Now it is hard to decide which one of these qualities should be emphasized first, but I am of the opinion it should be energy. If a boy is willing to work, he may start out wrong but is likely to get right later on, while if he is not willing to work and drive himself, it doesn't matter how fine his ideals may be, he is not likely to amount to anything. He is like a fine engine on the track pointed in the right direction but without fire in the furnace or water in the boiler. He will get nowhere. He will not get started.—The Progressive Farmer.

CALENDAR AND PURSE

The business manager of The Sentinel received a most beautiful calendar, mounted on wood with a match box attached, and a money purse, from his friend, Mr. J. V. Howerton, at Abilene, this morning. We don't know the significance of sending a calendar with a purse unless it was an intimation that he should time his expenditures, but anyway, a use will be found for both, and both are duly appreciated.

CHARLEY SMITH WAS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

News has been received in the city of the accidental death of Charley Smith, a former citizen of this county who has been making his home at Lake Charles for a number of years.

Mr. Smith was sitting on a high seat in a wagon when the shaft dropped and the horse jumped, throwing him out on the hard pavement and cracked his skull, causing him to die with concussion of the brain. The accident happened last Monday and Wallace Ireson of this city, who is a traveling man, happened to be in Lake Charles at the time and attended the funeral.

Mr. Smith was born and raised in this county, leaving here some twenty-five or thirty years ago. He is a brother of Mrs. A. B. Ireson, S. P. Smith, R. D. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Stephens and Mrs. Fd. Skillern, well known people of this community.

The Times-Clarion says that "the Longview munitions stock is picking up." Watch the speculators, Mack, and don't let them "water" it too much.

Colonel Bailey of the Houston Post finds a striking resemblance in men and old roosters, but gives the roosters credit in finding the roosting pole on a more regular schedule of time.

People with good health and average intelligence who can't make a living on an East Texas farm should go to bed and have a bottle of hot water put to their feet. If you will give nature half a chance it will yield up a bountiful support.

It will be four years before the 29th day of February visits us again and maidens of marriageable age, able to take suitable care of a husband, should not let the evening pass. Time and future events are uncertain quantities; the day is present with you.

The Palestine Herald utters a great truth in the observation that "speaking of hidden evidences, it takes a wise man to guess what is inside of an oil well, or well that has been drilled for oil. The only people who probably know about real conditions are not given to talking."

A man at Houston became too insistent with his views in a discussion of the subject of woman suffrage. He is dead now and his slayer languishes in the county jail. The moral is, think more and say less if you would live up to the good motto of "Safety First" in the discussion of public issues.

The "high cost of living" is not sparing the newspapers; to the contrary, we shall have to fight for existence if prices continue to soar the next few months as they have in a similar length of time in the past. Almost every month we receive notice from the supply houses that prices have advanced, and we are now in receipt of advices of a jump of twenty per cent.

The good roads bond issue at Lufkin Saturday lacked a few votes of carrying the necessary two-thirds majority, and was therefore defeated. The progressive citizenship of the community put up a valiant fight to win this forward step in industrial progress, but it seems that there were some they could not win over to their way of thinking, and who preferred to travel in the old "ruts."

Labor is the source of wealth. No other means of producing wealth have been or ever will be found. It must be wrung from the soil by patient toil; it must be brought up from the mines deep in the earth by the labor of man; it must be coined from the forest by the axman and the millman; it must be wrought out from the raw materials by the labor of human operatives. The curse of this and all other communities today, is that so many persons are trying to escape this Heaven ordained law, and to secure something for nothing.—Ex.

At a dinner given by the Gridiron Club at Washington Saturday night President Wilson is quoted with giving expression to the following beautiful sentiment which is shared by all patriotic Americans, but not many of whom could express it so well: "I would be just as much ashamed to be rash as I would to be a coward. Valor is self-respecting. Valor is circumspect. Valor strikes only when it is right to strike. Valor withholds itself from all small implications and entanglements and waits for the great opportunity when the sword will flash as it is carried the light of heaven upon its blade."

They live longest who live best. Worth weighs most. The simplest and most direct way of profoundly affecting our time and our race is to live consistently for those things which are true and beautiful and ideal and divine. The lofty life lifts.—Panola Watchman.

The peanut crop is destined to become one of the staple products of East Texas. The oil mills by the addition of machinery can manufacture oil and cake from the peanut, this enhancing its commercial value throughout the markets of the world. Its value as a feed and food product has already been established. Its productivity is no longer an experiment. On average sandy soil the yield is from forty to fifty bushels per acre, while the expense for cultivation and harvesting is less than corn. The feeding value of peanut hay is equal to alfalfa. It is also a legume, and therefore is a fine soil builder. The indications are that the acreage in this crop for 1916 will be in excess of previous years.—Col. Milner in Rusk Co. News.

People who have never tried the work of entertaining a number of people with a newspaper have but little idea of the task it imposes. People are creatures of their environments—and the environments of the people in the different avocations and professions are different. For instance, the man engaged in the pursuit of farming is interested in those things that pertain to the farm; the merchant is interested in things that pertain to the trade; the tradesman in things that pertain to the trade; society in the social events, and the good housewife in things that pertain to beautifying and adorning the home. The metropolitan press seeks to cover each feature, but the little paper with the little business to sustain it can not go so far, and has to rely more on the co-operation of the people it serves. But the little home paper is a part of the home community, sharing your sorrows, rejoicing in your prosperity, and entering actively into all the elements of life in a general way which the larger institution cannot approach, and will therefore continue to hold its own with the people. It works directly and individually for the advancement of everything that will build up the individual community in which it is published, and is the faithful "sentinel" which guards sacredly its community from outside attack. Living in the atmosphere of the community it serves and sharing the sentiments and matters in which its community is interested, it knows better how to specialize in the matters that pertain to the welfare of its zone of service, and the personality of the publisher enters into the work in a way that cannot be approached by the corporation press which is governed solely by the business office. In this statement, however, we would not discredit the big papers, for they, too, are a necessity. That community which reads most, leads in all the good things of life, and the ideal arrangement is for the press of both city and country to be neighbors and friends and work together for the common good, for there is room for both, and each can perform a valuable service, one in a general and the other in a specific way.

TEXAS MAKES HER DEBUT. MORE EXPENSIVE "TALK."

Tom Randolph, a St. Louis banker, with eighty million dollars to loan is in Texas with the object in view of placing at least a part of this money in our state. This looks like the people of other states are looking on Miss Texas with favor, and her charms will soon be known to all the world.

Mr. Randolph said, "There is no reason why Texas should not begin right now an era of development such as the state has never seen," and this is just what loyal, progressive farmers and business people of Texas want to see—development in every direction, and we want such legislation as will turn Texas loose and make conditions such as will be inviting to big investments outside the state." Further the banker said, "Texas ought to be netted with railroads. In West Texas particularly you have a whole empire to be opened up." Here again has foolish and unfriendly legislation pushed its hydra head and impeded progress and development in this line. What is 1916 to bring us of changes in this direction?

Mr. Randolph thinks the Robertson insurance law should be modified, but does not think outside insurance companies care to re-enter the state unless the people of Texas want them.

As to getting more out of life in Texas than anywhere else in the world, Mr. Randolph said, "I have written Mrs. Randolph that we have been going to Eastern resorts every summer, while we ought to have been coming to Texas." This eminent gentleman has evidently discovered that we have all sorts of climate served up at a few hours notice, winter or summer. The scenery is beautiful and varied. The plains or the seashore is yours to choose. The half has never yet been told, just come to Texas and see for yourself.—Hamilton Herald.

FOREIGN-TRADE FIGURES.

Exports for January fell somewhat below the mark set the previous month, the total being $335,535,303 as compared with $352,800,000 for December. As compared with January a year ago, however there was an increase of nearly $68,000,000. Imports are still increasing, the total for January being $184,192,299, an increase of more than $12,000,000 over December. Nearly 74 per cent of the imports were free of duty, indicating increased imports of raw materials and decreased imports of manufactured European goods.

For the seven months ended with January the exports from this country totaled $2,181,312,322, or 64 per cent higher than for the like period of the preceding fiscal year, and 40 per cent higher than the former best records made in 1912-13. Imports for the seven months ending with January last totaled $1,096,979,173 being about $500,000 more than the former high record total of $1,096,484,767 recorded in the 7 months of 1912-13, and $166,500,000 more than for the corresponding period of 1914-15. The 7 months just ended showed an export balance of $1,084,333,149, being about 2½ times that for each of the corresponding 7-month period of the last five fiscal years.

Our international gold movements were comparatively small, imports thereof during January last amounting to $15,008,232, and exports, $10,213,517. The aggregate gold imports for 7 months to January 31, 1916, were $322,038,386, about nine times the amount imported in the 7 months preceding January 31, 1915; and gold exports aggregated $34,056,908 in the first 7 months of the current fiscal year, against four times that amount in a like period of the preceding year.

There is an old adage which assumes authority on the subject that "talk is cheap," but in these modern times all old ways and old adages have been swept aside with the "high cost of living."

The primitive methods of living in which the matter of light, water and "talk" were not considered in the expense bill of existence no longer prevail. Everything has been commercialized, and he who runs must pay. But in this review we would not condemn the new order of things because they offer conveniences which are worth a money value, and the only righteous kick we can ever have would be in an excessive price, which brings us up to the matter that is now being much discussed by the people of Nacogdoches.

With the bills for March service the patrons of the Southwestern Telephone Co. in Nacogdoches have received notice that effective April 1st the rates will be raised from $1.50 to $2.00 for residence phones.

There is much complaint over the matter with the patrons, and many are threatening to have their service discontinued, while others are clamoring for a new system.

In the absence of familiarity with the telephone business, in which would have to be taken into account the cost of operation, upkeep, interest on investment, and a fair dividend, the Sentinel is not in position to condemn the new rate. If the business legitimately demands the increase in rate, the company can not be censured for adding it on to the income, but if the change is made because it is a corporation with a franchise, and no competition, then the patrons have a righteous kick and will not willingly submit to it. These are matters which should be threshed out with deliberation, not condemning the telephone company because it is a corporation, and not submitting to any injustice for the same reason.

The Southwestern has been giving the community good service. It has built up a good plant and maintained it in a first-class condition, and for these reasons they are to be congratulated. For the same reason any friction between the company and the patrons would be regretted, but each owes to the other a duty, and any blame must rest where it belongs. In other words, if the telephone company expects "human treatment" from the people, it must give "human treatment" in return, and the company owes to the community more explanation than is contained in the mere notice of the raise, failure in which they will lose more in service than they will gain in the increase in price.

TURN STEEL INTO GOLD.

New York, Feb. 29.—Orders aggregating 4,000,000 tons valued at $240,000,000 have been placed in the street market since Jan. 1, and the crest of the boom has not been reached, according to statements made here today by leaders in the industry.

Contracts placed in the last two months indicate profits to the mills of $80,000,000, half of which is expected to flow into the coffers of the United States Steel corporation. Even this tremendous tide of prosperity, it is declared, will be surpassed before the close of the year. It is pointed out that prices have advanced $5 and $10 since New Year's day and further advances are expected.

Reports reveal strong efforts to improve and extend existing plants and it is predicted that the productive capacity of the United States will have been increased by 1917 at the rate of four million tons annually.

EXPLODED MYTHS.

There are no such things as hoop snakes. There is no such thing as a hydrophobia skunk. No serpents sting with their tails; water snakes are not deadly during dog days; cats do not suck the breaths of infants; the deadly upas tree is not deadly, alligators do not attack strong men and drag them shrieking to their muddy layers.

One by one we have had to surrender these delicious horrors beneath the cold light of facts. We let go of them unwillingly, but inevitably. Later, very later indeed some even more common and acceptable bugaboos have been laid. Whiskey is not good for snake bite; the bite of the rattle snake is seldom fatal. Tarantulas do not kill people unless people have weak hearts. The Gila monster is only horrible in appearance. Grizzly bears are big cowards who won't even fight a dog, if there's a chance of running away. Tiny germs are the only really dangerous animals left in this country, and life is losing all the romance furnished by the creeping and mordant creatures that can slay with a bite.

And now, there needed only this for complete disillusionment, some creditable authorities to state that the man-eating shark is a myth. Honolulu papers are printing articles from scientists and observers in which it is claimed that no shark ever bit any human being to his permanent hurt. It is a fact that ten years the manager of an Atlantic steamship line has posted a standing offer of a large reward to be paid by him to anyone who had ever been bitten or even attacked by a shark.—St. Louis Star.

STARTING A CAREER.

There was a time when the older generation arranged everything for those following after it. The entire destiny of youth was in the hands of parents. Vacation, religious and political belief, marriage, all were prepared and delivered as finalities to children coming to age.

There were rebels then, as now, against parental supervision, and the sum total of these revolts hastened the day when a larger freedom for self-expression should be accorded youngsters. No one of sense attempts nowadays to force the boy who is earnestly interested in mechanics one is best suited to do what he most desires to do.

Yet the majority must remain slaves of the machine. Civilization has not yet made work all joyous, and there is many a potential poet who finds no time for rhapsody after ten hours a day of toil, many a born inventor whose dreams are snuffed out by the hard job of keeping alive.—Ex.

OIL PROSPECTS AT JOAQUIN

W. G. Hooper of Joaquin is in the city today and stated to a reporter that the oil interest was running high in his town, there having been a half million dollars invested in oil leases, including the territory between Joaquin and Clear Lake in Panola county. The Guffey Company is now sinking a well near Clear Lake, across the river, with all rapidity, and the promoters and operators are confident that they will soon develop a well in paying quantities. Other wells will follow right away and soon the company hopes to develop handsome dividends.

Mr. Hooper says a wave of prosperity and enterprise seems to pervade over the town and new enterprises are being planned.—Center Daily Optimist.

THE TENANT PROBLEM.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 23.—Under the title "Migratory Tenants of the Southwest" Mr. William E. Leonard, of the University of Texas, discusses the classification of Southwestern farm tenants in the January 29 issue of The Survey, New York. He says there are two misconceptions of the tenant problem in general circulation: one is that all tenants are failing, which, he says, is not true, and another is that the tenant problem is of recent origin.

He divides for purposes of description southwestern tenants into three groups, one of which is getting ahead and acquiring land, another that is enjoying a fair standard of living, and a third, or migratory class, that is beating about from pillar to post apparently unable to acquire even teams and tools with which to farm. He says that this class is likely descended from weak stock of colonial times and also from the generation weakened by the civil war and the reconstruction period. He says the landlords are also to be divided into classes from the worst to the best—the best being those broad-minded, fair-minded landlords who seek by right methods to build-up permanent estates, and to accomplish this, offer generous leases to secure good tenants. The hard-bargain driving class of landlords, he says "readily promise anything, and then trust to their luck in being able to skin both the land and the landlord."

"At the lowest level of tenancy," Mr. Leonard concludes, "the problem is more than a landlord's question. It is even more than a land problem. Although land reform is sorely needed for the whole body of tenants, yet this alone will not solve the problem for the class in question. Indeed, were these men given fertile land, fully improved, with interest at two percent, a few years would suffice to bring most of them again to their present unhappy position."

The problem he further declares, is to recast the whole life of these people, make them more intelligent, more prudent, and "careful as to their own numbers." They must be shown how to become more careful and trustworthy farmers, how to use properly their time and substance, and how to rid themselves of the burden of store credit.

NEW LUMBER COMPANY

The following is taken from the last issue of the Southern Industrial and Lumber Review, all the officers mentioned residing at Keltys:

The San Augustine Lumber Company is the name of the newest Texas lumber manufacturing and timber holding corporation which has just been chartered under the laws of the State of Texas with $100,000 capital stock all paid in. The offices of the company are:

Eli Weiner, president.
J. H. Kurth, Jr., first vice president.
Sam Weiner, second vice president.

E. L. Kurth, secretary and treasurer. This is an interesting company since it consists of two excellent sawmill firms, the Angelina County Lumber Company of Keltys, Texas, and the Pawnee Land and Lumber Company of Pawnee, La. The president, Eli Weiner, is secretary of the Angelina County Lumber Company, and has been with that concern as junior assistant to J. H. Kurth and Simon Henderson for more than twenty-five years.

After a pleasant visit with friends in the city, Mrs. W. B. Downer returned to her home in Center today.

DIAZ PROMOTING A NEW WAR.

Washington, February 28.—Felix Diaz who has been watched for several months by department of justice agents because of suspected activities in violation of American neutrality apparently has left the United States for Mexico with the intention of launching a new revolution against the Carranza de facto government.

Information reaching officials here indicates that he hopes to organize and lead the troops of his native state Oaxaca, and such other forces in Southern Mexico as he can gather about him.

Diaz left New Orleans Friday for Havana where several Mexicans whose names have been associated with his in respects of revolutionary movements were said to be waiting him. Theodore Dehesa, a former governor general of Vera Cruz and General Aureliano Blanquet, war minister under Huerta, were reported to be among them.

Although Diaz eluded the federal agents detailed to watch him department of justice officials said tonight that since no evidence warranting his arrest had been found and as he had left the country, according to reports as a private citizen of Mexico and not as an organized leader of any revolutionary movement, nothing probably could have been done to detain him.

WON'T CHANGE HER INSTRUCTIONS.

Washington, Feb. 28.—In a note to Secretary Lansing today by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, Germany assures the United States that it has no intention of revoking the pledges given in the Lusitana case.

The note says Germany can conceive of no reason for changing or postponing the new instructions to her submarine commanders to treat as warships enemy merchant ships armed "defensively" and that special precautions have been taken to prevent ships that are not armed from being attacked.

Baron Zwiedinek, charge of Austrian embassy, followed Count von Bernstorff to Secretary Lansing's office and conferred a few minutes. No statement was made as to his visit, but it is understood he told Mr. Lansing Austria's position was the same as Germany's.

OVER-PRODUCTION WASTE.

"Why sell fifteen bales of cotton for less than can be had for ten?" is a question that is being addressed to the cotton farmers of Texas.

The answer to that question will determine whether the farmers of Texas are to become prosperous or suffer privations and hardships.

If ten bales under the diversification plan will bring as much or more money than the fifteen it is clear that there will be a saving in gin charges, picking charges, bagging and ties, other labor incident to the handling of the crop and freight charges.

Then it requires but two-thirds of the time and labor and two-thirds of the land to produce the ten bales and the same amount of money that the fifteen would produce.

The remaining third of land that would be necessary to produce the ten bales and the other five bales can be utilized in the production of grain, forage or food crops to be consumed on the farm.

Thus at the end of the year the farmer would find himself with a lower store expense, because he will have supplied his farm table and fed his stock from the farm. There will be smaller outlay for food, bagging, ties, picking and other expenses and a correspondingly larger net profit from the cotton.

The difference is the difference between comfort and privation, between prosperity and loss, between financial ease and financial difficulty, between solvency and insolvency, between thrift and extravagance, between independence and dependence.

The advantage of a smaller crop under present conditions is so palpable that we do not doubt that the cotton farmers of Texas are going to choose the better plan.—Houston Post.

151 ARE MISSING.

London, Feb. 28.—Of the total complement of 411 passengers and crew on the Peninsular and Oriental line steamship Maloja, en route to India, which struck a mine and sank within half an hour two miles off Dover yesterday, only 260 are known to have been saved. Of the total 119 passengers, only 260 are known to have been received at the steamship company's offices. It is stated there that it is hoped that more names of persons saved would be received.

The bodies of three Lascars of the crew of the Maloja have been washed ashore, making the total of bodies recovered forty-seven. Many relatives are arriving at Dover to endeavor to identify bodies.

Among those rescued was a baby, warmly clad, which was found floating on its back. The child was taken into the engine room and after being warmed, it smiled at its rescuers, seemingly none the worse for the immersion.

The Maloja was 350 feet long and about 12,000 tons.

WAR NEWS.

London, Feb. 28.—The capture of the Navarin farm, in the Champagne, was announced by the Berlin war department today. French positions and trenches on both sides of Navarin farm over a front of about 1600 yards were taken. It is said more than 1,000 men and nine machine guns were captured. The French official statement today admits the loss.

This gain is only 100 miles from Paris.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and brethren, of Milam Lodge, No. 2, A. F. & A. M.

We, your committee selected to draft resolutions upon our deceased brother, W. E. Baxter, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, the Grand Master of the Universe, in His wise Providence, has seen fit to remove our deceased brother, W. E. Baxter, thereby weakening the chain by which we are united as brother to brother and man to man, who was born near the town of Nacogdoches in the year 1850, was reared near the town of Douglass, and was married in 1888 to Miss Lula Ramey, and moved to the town of Nacogdoches in the year 1892, where they raised a large family of children who are a credit to them. There fore be it resolved, that in the death of our deceased brother, W. E. Baxter, Milam Lodge No. 2, has lost a faithful brother, his wife a devoted husband, and his children a loving father, and the community a useful and substantial citizen.

Therefore, we commend our brethren to emulate his good quality and look to the Father above for their protection, that they, too, may ere long be laid in the narrow limits of the silent tomb.

Respectfully submitted,
F. D. HUSTON,
C. A. HODGES,
M. C. JOHNSON.

WILSON REQUESTED VOTE BY CONGRESS.

Washington, February, 29.—President Wilson decided today that he can not proceed with the German submarine negotiations while dissension in congress weakens his position before the world, so he called for a showdown on the pending proposals to warn Americans off merchant ships of the belligerents armed for defense.

Making it clear that he considers the president and not congress is charged with the conduct of the foreign relations of the United States, he wrote a letter to Representative Pou, acting chairman of the house rules committee, asking him to provide parliamentary means for bringing the agitation out into the open on the floor of the house for full discussion and vote.

Later he summoned Senator Stone and Representative Flood, chairmen of the foreign affairs committee, and Senator Kern, majority leader in the senate, for a conference at the White House tomorrow morning, at which he will request that one of the various pending resolutions be acted upon in both houses.

GALVESTON GRAIN EXPORTS ARE HEAVY.

Galveston, Feb. 28.—Exports of grain through Galveston during the present month amounted to 4,545,456 bushels. Wheat exports amounted to 4,322,600 and corn and kaffir corn made up the remainder of the total.

Of the wheat exports 794,000 bushels went to Rotterdam for the account of the commission for relief in Belgium. The February exports were nearly double those for January and are the largest since December of 1914.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

Governor of Texas Issues Proclamation Calling for Observance of Event.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 28.—Governor Ferguson issued a proclamation Saturday calling upon the citizens of Texas to observe in a fitting manner March 2 as Texas Independence day and Flag day. The proclamation follows:

"March 2, 1836, 80 years ago, the fathers of this State in convention assembled at Old Washington, on the Brazos, declared to the world that Texas thenceforth was a free and independent nation.

By their proclamation they vouchsafed to themselves and their posterity a full enjoyment of that perfect freedom and positive protection, so necessary to the life of a free people.

"From considerations of civic loyalty and patriotic pride we are moved to again commemorate this memorable day and to pay tribute to our country's flag that beats with gorgeous wing the lifted winds of dawn, and folds its holy pinion to the dusk."

"Such an observance would be a violation did we not draw from this fount of Texas liberty a copious draught of the individual freedom of thought and action, in whose vitalizing force the defenders of the republic found a courage new and a strength untried.

"In this spirit I call upon the entire citizenship of Texas to keep March 2 as Texas Independence and Flag day, in such a manner as may fittingly comport with the character and purposes of our State's anniversary, to the end that they may be resolved to persevere in that progress of self-government which had its incentive in the establishment of this young republic among the nations of men."

HON. J. RAS JONES AMONG THE DEAD

Hon. J. Ras Jones, among the most noted men in the state in his day, died last night at his home near Clayton, Panola county.

Mr. Jones rendered valient service to his country in the Confederate army and after the civil war he returned to his East Texas home and by his rugged honesty, devotion to duty, and unselfish patriotism, won a place in the hearts of his countrymen that was truly enviable. He served his district in the State Legislature for several terms, with marked ability and success, and some of his good work will live after him for many years.

He was the father of Hon. W. R. Jones, who also, is a prominent and striking figure in the country of his adoption (the lower Rio Grande) and who came up to attend the funeral, which occurred yesterday. —Longview Times-Clarion.

THE BREAD AND BUTTER QUESTION.

The teaching profession is a noble, charitable one, but are you content to work in the charity department of your state when they allow you no pension or protection in old age? Are you willing to go into the great broad fields of business where you can lay up something for a rainy day, and provide your own protection for old age? Six thousand teachers quit the profession in Texas annually. Can you blame them when you compare their annual earning capacity with that of any other class of educated men or women? The bookkeeper, stenographer, private secretary, or operator, as a beginner, gets from $50.00 to $75.00 per month, 12 months in the year, and soon receives an advance in salary and it is not long if they are made of the right kind of stuff before they are promoted to assistant manager, or manager of a large business concern, or engage in business for themselves and are thereby enabled to lay up a comfortable living for old age. Make a comparison of the teacher, who after graduating from the high school spends from one to two years in the State Normal and hundreds of dollars preparing himself, and has been teaching five years in the public schools, with the bookkeeper, stenographer, or operator who has only spent from three to six months in obtaining his education after graduating from the high school, and from one hundred to two hundred dollars and has had five years experience in the business world, and you will find that the one who has spent only a few months in obtaining his education and a small amount of money is drawing twice the salary of the teacher regardless of the fact that the teacher spent more time and money in the preparation for their life work. More evidence on this subject can be had by writing the Tyler Commercial College at Tyler, Texas, for their large illustrated catalogue giving full particulars of America's largest commercial training school with more than two thousand enrollments annually and reading what teachers say who have attended this institution of the advantages it offers to those entering the business world where they can greatly increase their earning capacity, enabling them to own homes of their own and enjoy the comforts that should rightly be theirs.

MUCH DEPENDS UPON LOOKS OF THE LAND.

Make the Offering in Real Estate Attractive to Prospective Buyers.

"Before Southeast and East Texas comes into her own, the cut-over pine lands must be made habitable and attractive to the settler," declares Dr. H. H. Harrington, agricultural director of the Gulf Coast Lines of the Frisco.

"One of the most uninviting sights in the world to a prospective settler," said he, "is a tract of swampy, stumpy cutover pine land. That land may be fertile and may be adapted to a wide range of crops, but in that shape it isn't going to attract the best class of settlers. If the individual or company which owns the land would spend a little money on it, providing for drainage removing the stumps, putting up fences and building good houses and barns, they would attract a good class of homeseekers and the result would be that this country would be settled with good people who would build it up."

"The cut-over pine lands are fine for general agriculture. The soil is rich and adapted to a wide range of crops. With the proper cultivation just as good crops can be raised on cut-over lands as any other land."

"I understand some of the lumber companies are operating demonstration farms to show the quality and range of crops that can be grown on their lands. That is all very well, but it does not go far enough. The lumber companies ought to go farther and pull or blast the stumps from the land which they expect to put on the market and further improve it before it is offered to the settler.

"A great deal depends upon the class of settlers which are brought into this country. I have always had faith in the cut-over pine lands, and I believe if they are improved and the proper kind of farmers placed on them, that this section will develop very rapidly into one of the best farming sections of the State"

OLD SETTLER OF SHELBY DEAD.

M. M. Hussey of this city has returned from a visit to Shelby county where he was called by the illness and death of his venerable old father, J. W. Hussey, who died Tuesday and was laid to rest in the Cedar Yard cemetery yesterday in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

The elder Mr. Hussey was stricken with paralysis on the 14th inst., and was never able to speak any more. He was eighty years of age the 25th of last October, and was an old settler of the neighboring county, coming to this section when twenty-two years of age. He was a good, honest man, well liked by those who knew him, and had many friends in the circle of his acquaintance.

JUNIOR AID SOCIETY.

The Junior Aid Society of the Christian Church, a recent organization in our city, is creating much interest. It consists of a band of wide-awake girls ranging in age from seven to fifteen years. Their aim is identical with that of the Senior Aid Society and church—to help the Sunday School and church—and they are doing a most worthy and commendable work. Their efficient methods, and their interest and enthusiasm insure great results. They meet every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the homes of the different members. The officers are Miss Henrietta Emmons, president; Miss Letha Moorer, vice-president; Miss Sybil DuBois, secretary; Miss Jesse Emmons, treasurer.

The previous meetings have been with Mrs. Lynn Carl, Miss Violet Davis, Misses Herietta and Jessie Emmons, Miss Lorine Gibbs. There was a splendid attendance at each meeting, and some good work was accomplished. Refreshments were served. Any one wishing to become a member, or any visitor, is sure of a most cordial welcome in the Junior Aid.

The next meeting is the regular monthly social meeting at which there will be a special program. Mrs. T. P. Holt has requested the aid to meet with her at that time, Saturday, Feb. 26, at 3 p. m.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS WENT ON HIKE.

Saturday February 19th, chaperoned by Miss Lois Smith and Miss Bess Mason, the Campfire Girls of Nacogdoches went on their first hike.

The girls went out Logansport road about three miles. They reached "camp" at about ten o'clock, and during the time before noon "explored" the woods. They had a companion whom they called "fellow" or "puppy." He met them on the school campus and showed a preference for their society.

The girls cooked most of their lunch themselves over an open fire, and they ate it, too. Miss Smith carried an "Eastman" and pictures were taken.

After playing in the woods and following the stream, the girls started for home and arrived a little tired, but ready for another hike.

WAR HAS INFLATED PAPER MONEY IN EUROPE.

Taking the present position of the world at large, there is no doubt whatever as to the fact of paper-money inflation. Between July, 1914, and the beginning of 1916, Germany's paper currency increased $1,500,000,000, or something like 320 per cent. France added 1,519,000,000 to its note circulation within that period, or 113 per cent. In Russia, the Imperial Bank's note issues alone rose $1,783,000,000, or 217 per cent, and there was probably other currency put out. Austria has not ventured to publish the figures of her wartime paper-money issues, but they are certainly very large. The Bank of England's note circulation at the end of 1915, together with the special currency authorized when the war began, put out by the Treasury for account of the English joint-stock banks, and secured by government bonds and commercial paper—showed a total increase of $692,000,000, an expansion of 367 per cent. What might be thought to bear more immediately on the present discussion, the national banks of the United States, under a law passed shortly after the panic of 1907, issued $380,000,000 of "emergency" in the first three months of the European war, as against a previously outstanding national banknote circulation of $750,000,000.

GERMANS ADVANCING.

London, Feb. 24.—German forces are now only six miles from Verdun and the French are sending heavy reinforcements in an effort to prevent capture of the fortress.

London, Feb. 24.—Further gains for the Germans in the region north of the French fortress of Verdun were reported by the Berlin war office today. The statement says the entire wooded district northwest and northeast of Beaumont and the forest of Herbe are in possession of the Germans.

Announcement also was made of the capture by the Germans of the villages of Brabant and Samogneaux, in the Verdun region. Haumont was taken yesterday.

Loss of Brabant is admitted by the Paris war office. Fighting is continuing with undiminished intensity north of Verdun, the French war office announced.

NOMINATION CONFIRMED.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Henry Prather Fletcher as ambassador to the government of Mexico. The vote was 49 to 16.

The nomination was taken up in the senate late yesterday and confirmation failed only because of the lack of a quorum. On a motion to confirm, the roll call showed 34 affirmative and 12 negative votes. This was three less than a quorum, and it was decided to postpone negative action until today.

Republican senators opposed confirmation on the ground that it would commit the senate to the administration's recognition of the Carranza government, in the stability of which they did not believe.

GERMANS TAKE 10,000 PRISONERS.

Late dispatches from the great European war, condensed, are as follows:

Spurred onward by the active presence of their emperor, the seven army corps of the German crown prince (280,000 men), which have undertaken to break at probably its strongest link the Anglo-French chain of steel thrown across Northern France, have struck again. Friday's communique from Berlin recorded another bend in the French line—defending the fortified fortress of Verdun, with the capture of six villages and farms, all fortified, and total captures in three days of more than 10,000 Frenchmen.

By storming these positions the Germans have penetrated a mile and a half further into the French line about Verdun, and their furthest capture brings them within five and a half miles of the fortress itself.

TRUNK LINES MUST DIVIDE.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The Interstate Commerce Commission's order requiring trunk line railroads and tap lines reaching the Southern yellow pine lumber districts to divide the through rate on a basis of the mileage hauled over the tap lines, was upheld today by the supreme court.

After the supreme court's decision in 1914 permitting the tap lines to share in the through rates, the commission, finding some of the allowances to tap lines to be in the nature of discriminations and rebates, ordered that the allowance be placed on a mileage basis.

The practical operation of the order was that tap lines hauled their product the greater distance and thus traffic trunk lines intersecting the tap lines at intermediate points. The New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railroad company was thus excluded from Lake Charles, La., and brought suit in the federal court of Louisiana to have the order set aside, or modified so as to permit it to give the tap line an allowance equal to that accorded the tap line if it hauled the freight the maximum distance. The district court dismissed the suit.

LARGE CREAMERIES FREEZE OUT SMALL.

College Station, Texas, Feb. 25. Legislation to prevent large creameries which buy quantities of butter fat over a large area from paying too large a price in the territories of smaller plants is urged by Clarence Ousley, director of extension at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.

"This sort of commercialism calls for stringent legislation," declared Ousley today, "for it means, sooner or later, the monopolization of the creamery business, through the suppression of local enterprises."

Steps to combat the work of professional creamery promoters in localities where conditions do not justify are being taken by the college's extension service.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINGEBACH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DIVERSIFICATION" VS. "SAFE FARMING."

When Joe Hirsch, president of the Texas Bankers' Association, came to Fort Worth a few days ago, he had a deal to say about "safe farming," but never a mention of "diversification."

The explanation is that Mr. Hirsch believes with many others who have devoted themselves to a serious study of the needs of the farmer that the word "diversification" has been misunderstood to such an extent that its mention frequently has hurt its own cause.

Not a few farmers take "diversification" as meaning the substitution of one crop for another, while as many others take it to mean the planting of as many different crops as can be crowded into the earth.

"Safe farming" more nearly describes it after all. If such a term is misunderstood, it certainly sounds interesting enough to inspire the farmer to investigate. In a nutshell, it means a breaking away of the absolute tyranny of cotton.

Safe farming has made good for itself in Texas. The telltale figures of the state department of agriculture show that feedstuffs shipped in from other states in 1915, the year that saw the real birth of safe farming, amounted almost to nil. Farmers raised more than enough feed crops to tide them over for the year and many of them have laid up supplies for two and three years. As to foodstuffs, Texas is almost literally feeding herself and she rather likes the menu too.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel complains because there are not enough rent houses in that city to meet the demands for them. The Sentinel should bear in mind the fact that it is far better to be short in houses for families that want to live in Nacogdoches than to have a surplus of unoccupied homes.—Tyler Signal.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT FOR T. J. ROQUEMORE.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Milam Lodge No. 2, A. F. & A. M., Nacogdoches, Texas:

We, your committee, selected to present resolutions expressing the sentiment of our Lodge on the death of our deceased brother, T. J. Roquemore, who died November 17th, 1915, beg to submit the following:

T. J. Roquemore was born near Macon, Ga., July 30, 1842; came to Texas when a youth, receiving his degree in this ancient order in Murvall Lodge, Panola county, in 1870, and was married to Miss Nancy C. Lacey, who yet survives him; and has resided in the city of Nacogdoches for the last several years where he was known and much respected. He was a devoted husband and father. He was kind and generous gentleman and true to his friends. Therefore, be it

Resolved, first, that the Ancient Order to which he belonged has lost a true and faithful member, whose life was in accord with the tenets of Ancient Free Masonry, and Masonry has lost one of its noblest noblemen.

COUNTY MEET.

The Nacogdoches County Athletic Meet will be held at Nacogdoches, Saturday March 18th.

In order to reduce the number of contestants, the county has been divided into four districts corresponding to the commissioners precincts. These district meets will be held at Cushing, Chireno, Nacogdoches and Garrison on March 4th; and all schools in these respective precincts are invited and requested to send representatives to these district meets. The successful contestant in each event at the district meet will represent that district in the particular event in which he wins, in the county meet.

At the county contest, the boys' declamation and debate will be held Friday night, March 17th. The other literary contests will be conducted Saturday. On Saturday night the girls' contest in reading will be held and a musical program will be furnished by the different schools.

By having these preliminary contests it is possible for every school in the county to have a chance to be represented in the final county meet and it is very much hoped that the plan will be received enthusiastically by the teachers.

For further information inquire of your district manager or Mr. M. A. Shaver of Garrison. COUNTY ATHLETIC COMMITTEE.

We were informed Monday that Judge Middlebrook had gone to Austin to incorporate an oil company and that development work would commence at once on the Dr. R. B. Forrest lease.—Huntington Herald.

CAUTION!

With a shortage of ships to move our cotton to foreign shores; with no indication of the end of the war; with the Nation stirred over preparedness for eventualities; with the buying power of the entire world gradually lessening day by day, it becomes our duty to issue this formal warning as the time of planting is at hand.

Let everyone encourage the farmer to be on the safe side by raising plenty of food and feed for the community as well as for himself, his family, and his live stock. (A calf, a pig, chickens, and a garden often mean the difference between want and money ahead.) Economical and safe living for all as well as "safe farming" must be the rule if prosperity is to abide with us.

Six-cent cotton this fall would spell disaster in the cotton State. Low prices follow over-supply as certainly as the night the day. High prices and prosperity over the South this year prove what voluntary reduction of cotton acreage does. Any marked increase in acreage over last year is going to result in a great loss to Southern cotton producers, merchants, and bankers.

In making an editorial comment on the recent eclipse of the sun The Sentinel seems to have "started something" with the brethren of the press that will take some good diplomacy to stop. The Temple Telegram attempted to supplement the comment with some scientific information which was entirely unsatisfactory to the Grimes County Star, and as a second effort to explain the matter the Telegram follows with another "Editor's Note" as follows: "When the moon came between the sun and the earth, a shadow was cast; to the eye of the unformed observer the shadow was on the sun. Let the heathen rage."

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

BEAUTIFUL WORD PAINTING.

The following beautiful bit of word painting is clipped from the editorial column of the Temple Daily Telegram, of last Saturday:

"Out beyond the farthest point in charted space there are other stars and worlds and stellar systems that have been hurling through the trackless void since the beginning of time—if there was a beginning of time—and these same celestial bodies have been controlled through the operation of some law that has held them to their certain course through all the countless years. Within the limits of our knowledge the sun, the moon, the stars the earth, and all the elements of which they are composed perform their functions in response to irresistible law. Shall we believe that the destinies of nations are not controlled in any way by that same law that controls all other things?"

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.
