WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

We put it off as long as we could.

And then we went to see the outdoor production of Texas, the musical drama by Paul Green which is being staged in the outdoor theatre at Palo Duro Canyon five or six nights a week.

This is the third or fourth year for the production. And we made two trips to see it June 29, our first and last.

It's not that we weren't impressed; the outdoor effect is extraordinary and the production is well worth whatever our free ticket was supposed to have cost. We'd recommend it to anyone we thought would enjoy that sort of thing and that doesn't include us, but then other people aren't as considerate as we are and insisted that we go.

We'd used up all the excuses for not going except that the Astros were playing baseball and we could listen to a live broadcast if we didn't have anything else to do. That, however, didn't work because the Astros play 162 games a year and all of them are broadcast and our advisor wouldn't let that excuse work; so to Texas we went.

Hot! It was the hottest day the Panhandle had had in 30 or more years. That wasn't so bad at first, though, because everyone knows that it cools off at night. But it didn't that night. It stayed hot.

Windy! Yegh, it was windy, but it was a hot wind and that made the heat more noticeable.

We'd been encouraged to eat prior to getting to the Canyon, but since we were going and had read that barbeque would be served prior to the performance, we insisted in "doing everything there was to do." That, also, turned out to be a mistake.

When we parked and got out of the car, the ballgame was just in the first inning and highly interesting. We hated to leave it; especially to go stand, in the heat, in line to get to the place where they served the supper.

The line was long and hot and got longer and hotter and windier before we got to the place where you paid. Up until then, we hadn't been in the barbeque line, we'd just been in a line to get in another line, which was the one for the barbeque, thank goodness.

The wind was getting worse and the heat wasn't getting any better by the time we got to the serving table and that was about the time, just before, they ran out of meat. The meat wasn't all fat, though, part of it was gristle. To eat it, we stood at a picnic table near a red ant bed and battled the elements and the insects and wondered how the ballgame was coming.

Also eating at our table was a well-dressed gentleman who had possibly been sampling the mini-bottles of Governor John Connally, who was at the barbeque and show that night.

This guy kept insisting, "Ain't it good!", as he ate his wind-blown cole slaw and kicked at the ants. He said that several times with all the enthusiasm he could muster but failed to convince anyone within hearing distance. . . . and that was quite a ways if you were downwind from him.

We got that over with, finally, and thought about slipping back to the car and the radio to see about the ballgame, but we were afraid we wouldn't have time. So we went on into (that's a poor choice of words for an outdoor show) the theatre and waited and waited and waited for it to get dark so the show could start. We would have had enough time to listen to two or three innings.

The show was good, frankly, and we don't want to knock it. We were impressed.

And would have been much more so if our attitude had been better and we hadn't been wondering about the Astros.

The lighting and sound effects plus the backdrop of the stage, which is the canyon wall, are beyond description for impressiveness. The awe which is felt by the crowd when the horse and rider appear at the top of the canyon wall is something to behold. That in itself is worth the price of a ticket.

The wind kept blowing and the dust kept stirring even inside the theatre, making a difficult job for the well-rehearsed ac-

BULL TOWN DAYS A'COMING! -- When mounted riders start appearing in downtown Bovina, Bull Town Days can't be far away. Del Ray Sudderth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenden Sudderth, is riding his paint Shetland in preparation of the community's annual celebration August 15-16-17. He's "parked" here at a stop sign at the intersection of Third and Main Streets.

August 15-16-17 --

Name More Committees For Annual Celebration

Additional committees and leaders were named for this community's 1968 Bull Town Days celebration at a meeting last week of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture directors and members of Bovina Roping Club.

The three-day event is scheduled for the third weekend in next month, August 15-16-17. Mrs. Roger Ezell was appointed head of the queen contest committee by Wendol Christian, general chairman.

PAUL EGGERS

Republican Candidate Sets Visit

A gubernatorial candidate is bringing his campaign to Bovina.

Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor, will visit here Wednesday of next week. His appearance here is scheduled from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. in the downtown area.

People of the area interested in meeting Mr. Eggers and visiting with him are invited to be on hand to do so," said Mrs. Vernon Estes, Republican precinct chairman.

Gov. Ronald Reagan will speak in Amarillo July 19th in the evening at a dinner, Mrs. Estes says, and she has tickets for the function. Those interested in purchasing tickets may contact Mrs. Estes.

Earl Whitten will be in charge of the cow calling event, which will have both men's and women's divisions.

Durward Bell was named to coordinate the banquet for ex-students of Bovina Schools.

Charles Smith will be responsible for getting wood for the barbeque cooking fire.

The committee heads may get others to assist them, Ezell points out.

Posters to advertise the celebration are presently being printed and should be ready for distribution this week, the general chairman said. The posters will be 14 inches wide and 17 inches deep and will be printed in colored ink.

Finance committee members, appointed a month ago, are Rouel Barron, Jon Lin Riddle and Thomas Beauchamp.

Attending to the fiddling contest will be Pearl Singleterry and Al Kerby.

On the committee for buying the beef for the free, community-wide barbeque are Mutt Graham, R. L. Hoppingardner,

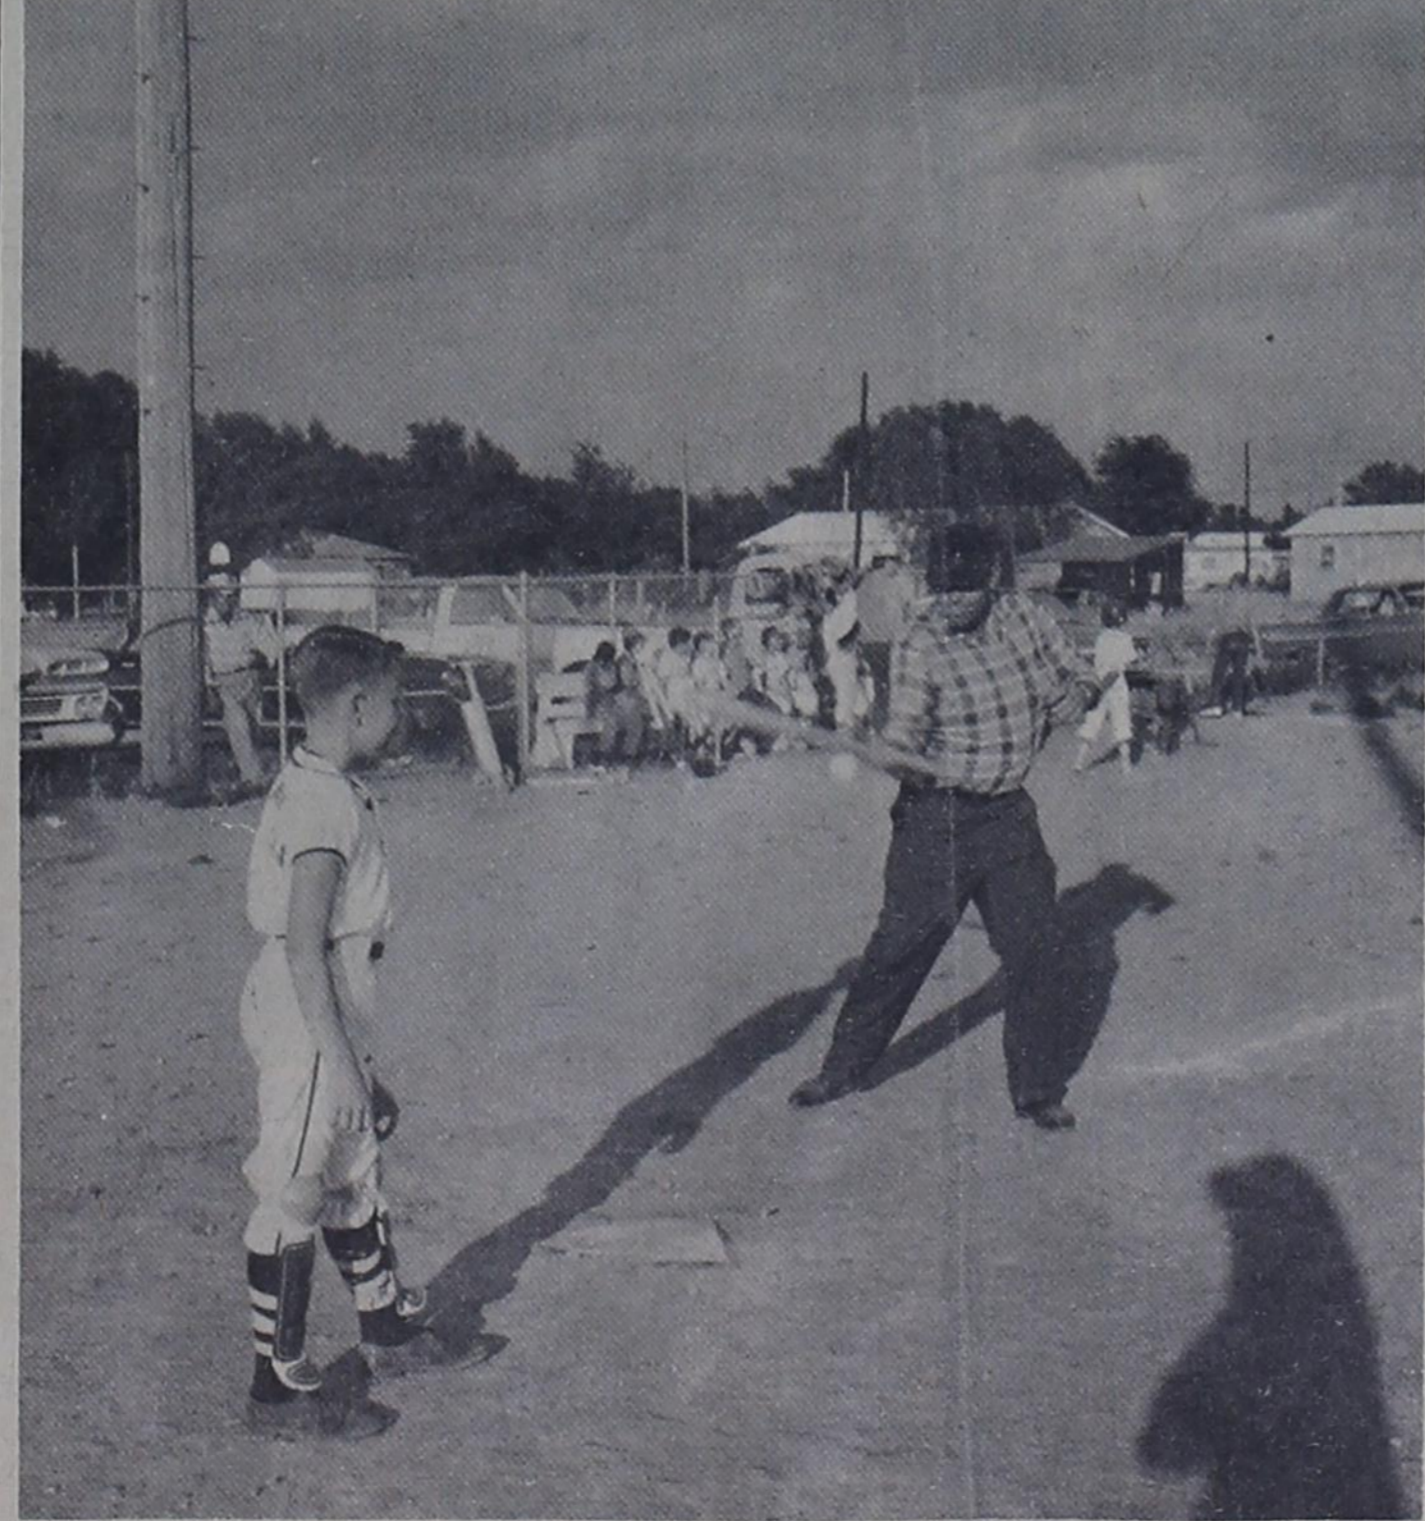

C. E. Trimble, Robert Calaway and Owen Patton.

The celebration is co-sponsored by the chamber and Bovina Roping Club.

An addition this year to the festivities will be carnival rides. They will be set up at the baseball field for six consecutive nights, beginning on Monday and continuing through Saturday. Members of Bovina Lions Club will serve as ticket salesmen for the rides.

At Monthly Meeting --

Med Clinic Directors Talk About Finances

Finances highlighted a regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of Bovina Medical Clinic, Inc. Monday night.

Following payment of current bills of the association, an indebtedness of approximately $5000 exists. This is borrowed from First State Bank of Bovina.

A total of $1295 on pledges and donations to the clinic had been received through Monday since the re-approach to collection of pledges June 30, reported Mrs. Earl Whitten, secretary-treasurer of the board.

The total of pledges outstanding is $3470, Mrs. Whitten said. Part of this amount is not presently due, however.

Still to be paid on the clinic construction, insurance and landscaping is approximately $1600, the directors estimated. In addition to this, the board will pay the utilities at the clinic for a period of one year. Estimate of the utilities is $100 per month for a $1200 total.

This is expected to put the corporation "in the red" some $8,000 in a year's time unless the outstanding pledges are paid or additional donations are made.

Bedford Caldwell, who has served as chairman of the building committee, met with the board requesting that his committee be dismissed. The building is near enough complete that a building committee as such is no longer needed, he advised. The directors approved his request with an expression of appreciation for the work of the building committee.

The x-ray machine, which was purchased by the clinic board has been paid for. The total amount, including tax, was $2040.

Mrs. Whitten said that stock certificates would be issued to those who had put up money for the clinic this month. Present plans call for the certificates to be filled out and distributed by the end of July. Some contributors donated money to the clinic fund while others made their donations in the form of stock purchases.

Those who made donations as such will not receive stock certificates.

Dr. Cornelius Blesius met briefly with the board. He expressed satisfaction with the clinic and with his practice which started July 1.

He said he had an average of eight patients per day since the clinic opened.

Normal office hours at the clinic are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Summer Showers Welcomed Warmly

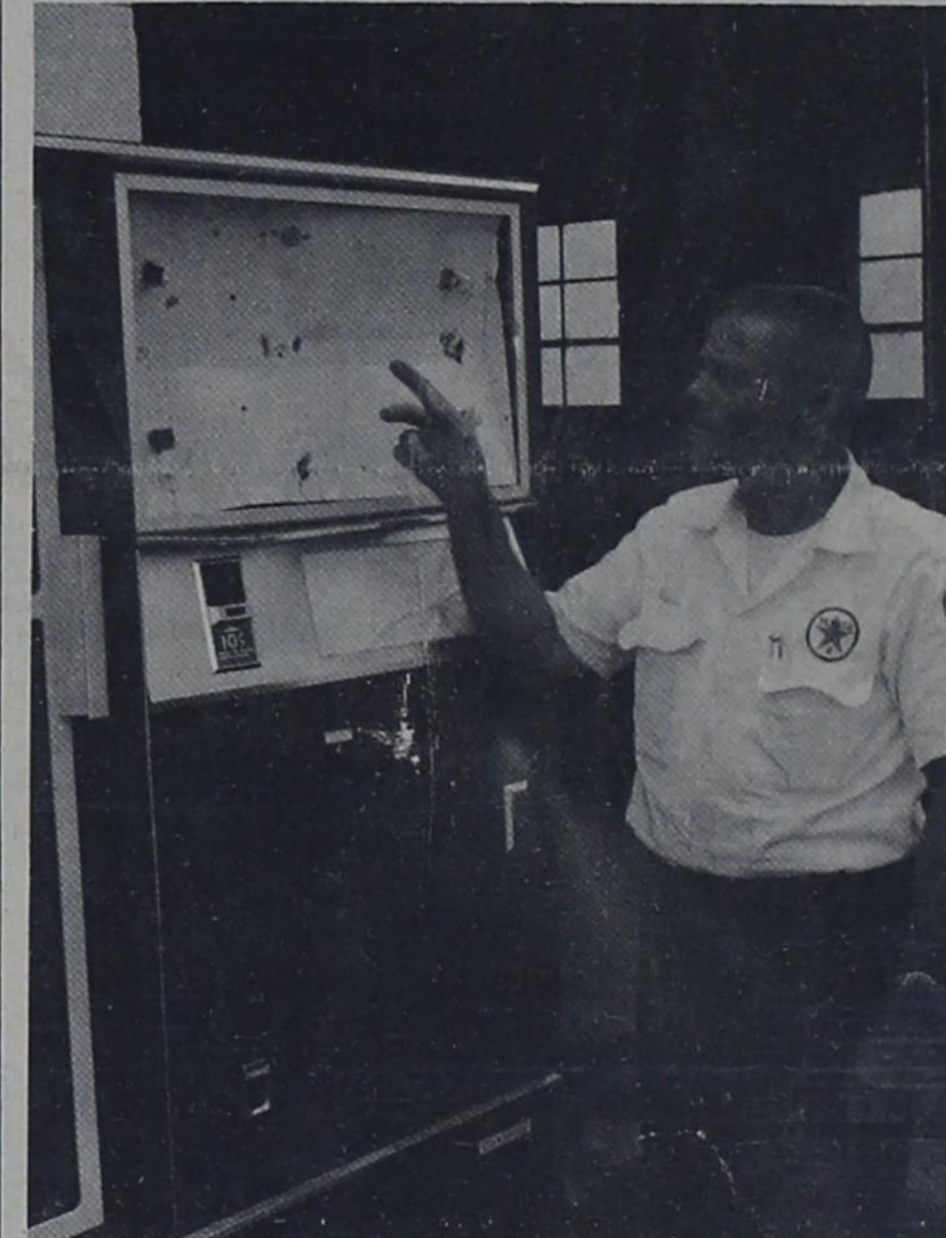

Summer showers, light but welcome, have been falling in the area during the past week.

The biggest rainfall during the past week was Friday afternoon when .6 of an inch was recorded in Bovina. Traces of rain fell Sunday night and Monday afternoon.

Rainfall Sunday night was heavier east of Bovina, near Hub.

Almost unanimously farmers are in agreement that nothing would suit them better than "a gentle three-inch rain." With the wheat crop all harvested, a general rain would harm nothing and would be highly beneficial to the growing rowcrops.

Rainfall would aid, too, farmers believe, in control of insects which are now invading mill fields. Intensive spraying is being done to artificially control the milo insects.

BEAT BOX -- Paul Jones points to his soft drink machine which came out second best in a bout with would-be burglars one night last week. Though the machine was heavily damaged, it was not broken into and no money was taken from it.

Vandals Damage Machine

A soft drink machine was damaged and a restroom door was torn from its hinges at Paul Jones Texaco Service Station Tuesday night of last week.

City Marshal Ronald Mitchell said the people who did the damage were evidently in search of money.

Entry to the soft drink machine was not made and no money was taken.

The machine was damaged with a hammer or other heavy tool, according to Mitchell. The machine was located outside the station building.

The door on the men's restroom, which was locked, was torn from its hinges.

The same night, a pay newspaper rack was stolen from inside the post office, Mitchell said. It was not known if there was any connection between the stolen rack and the station damage. The rack, which idispensed the Lubbock daily paper, was owned by Calvin McCutchan.

We haven't received the big one yet. But will get enough showers to make up for it.

Precinct Has New Grader

Parmer County Commissioner Precinct No. 2 (Bovina and Rhea) has a new $33,000 maintainer.

The new machine, which is one of four used by the precinct, was delivered last week, Charlie Jefferson, commissioner, announces.

The maintainer is a 1968 model Caterpillar 14, which is larger than the 12-year-old Caterpillar 12 which it replaces and which was traded in on the new one.

Jefferson pointed out the old machine was used for 12 years with maintenance costs of only $1345 during that time.

Cost of the old machine when it was new was $17,000. Trade-in allowance was $9841. Total cost of the new machine was $32,941, making the cash difference between the two machines $23,100.

The new maintainer was put to work immediately after delivery was made, Jefferson said.

Twirlers To McMurry

Drum majorettes and twirlers of Bovina Mustang Band will attend camp next week at McMurry College in Abilene.

The girls will leave Sunday and will be gone two weeks. They will take twirling lessons from a twirler from SMU in Dallas and also lessons from Terry Stevens, twirler from Texas Tech.

CAN, AND WILL,
GENERAL OVERCOME?

By W. H. Graham
Lovington, N.M., Daily Leader

About a week ago General Telephone Company announced it has made peace with the Communications Workers of America, the union which speaks for most of the company's employees. General has agreed to a three-year contract that will increase wages and benefits $3,670,000 or 18.5 percent in that period.

In a telegram announcing the settlement, L. Gray Beck, president of General, expressed his pleasure in avoiding a strike. But he also practically-promised telephone rate increases in the future: "The new contract together with the new 10 percent surtax will increase the company's operating expenses substantially... it appears to us that repricing of telephone service will be necessary in the light of these circumstances."

Beck assured that General "will do the utmost to absorb or minimize the effect of these increased costs by improving operating efficiencies and providing better tools and training programs which will improve employee production." This is calculated to soften the blow; however, it scarcely conceals what is likely to happen.

All enterprises, both public and private, suffer from rising costs, especially labor. In the case of regulated utilities, unfortunately, these increased costs are nearly always translated into increased rates. This is because the regulated utility, which is granted a monopoly in the area which it serves, is not spurred by competition, and is allowed to set rates that return a fixed amount on invested capital. Operating efficiency is a secondary consideration.

General can do much to improve its image with the public if in fact it does push through programs that raise productivity and lower unit operating costs. Should General be able to absorb rising costs and this new labor contract, but develop enough hustle to outrun the costs in the next three years, thus avoiding rate increases, it would earn the praise of the public. Inflationary pressures are running very strong these days. Public utilities that resist them and avoid rate increases are in a position to render an invaluable service to their nation as well as their customers.

tors in the play. But the show went on and those with contact lenses kept wishing they could slip out and wash them so they could see better and their eyes wouldn't water and hurt. We talked about leaving at the intermission, but we didn't want to be obligated to go back another time to see something we missed. So, during the intermission we got in the Coke line, another one, to attempt to satisfy the tremendous thirst brought about by the aforementioned barbeque. It didn't work. We were still thirsty, very, when the show was finally over. When we topped out on the flat highway after coming up out of the canyon, we noticed the car clock said it was after midnight. Our ballgame had been over for hours and we figured it was too late to get any sports scores on the radio, so we didn't try. We're proud we went, though. We learned something. Our governor is smarter than we'd given him credit for up to that time. He got to the deal about the same time we did and we watched him. He didn't stand in ANY of those dumb lines!

ROUGH... BUT TASTY

The rough fish problem is a lot like the weather -- every one talks about it, but no one acts.

Unlike the weather, though, this is one problem that can be solved by eating it up if enough fishermen would let their belts and overcome their repugnance towards the rough species.

The table qualities of many rough fish surprise even the most finicky eater, observe the experts at Mercury outboards. When properly prepared they become a gourmet's delight, as is the case with most anything that swims, flies or runs.

The list of common "trash" fish is long. It includes such species as suckers, carp, drum, chubs, mooneyes, redbone and buffalo.

Many of these are caught commercially, but find their way into the fish markets under assumed (and more palatable) names.

The "white perch" you buy may be drum; "boneless cat" is often the odd-looking paddlefish or spoonbill. Non-sport fish in saltwater receive an even more impressive array of monikers.

To popularize and make use of the tremendous number of rough fish that abound in our waters is a massive undertaking, acknowledge the Mercury lads. First, we must overcome our reluctance to actually bring a mess of "yaller" suckers or "thunderpumpers" home. Then we must know how to turn them into dishes that delight the whole family.

The latter task must be approached with all the dash and daring of a continental chef, for the old "roll 'em in crumbs and fry" methods usually won't do. Contact the state wildlife commission or university extension division for special recipes for marinating, for croaking, for a hundred different approaches.

If every fisherman could be so persuaded, millions of tons of rough fish could be removed from waters where they compete with sport species. Fishing would improve, and the eatin'... well, find out for yourself.

Hukill, Dopp Exchange Vows

Linda Hukill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hukill of Clovis, became the bride of Larry Dopp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dopp of Bovina, recently.

The couple exchanged vows in the home of the bride with Rev. Ellis Parsons of Plainview, brother-in-law of the bride, officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin and a shoulder length veil of illusion.

Miss Betty Hukill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Geneva Fish, sang "O Promise Me."

Jerry Stover of Clovis was best man.

Decorations throughout the home carried out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception. The serving table was decorated with traditional three-tier wedding cake and graced with pink and white appointments.

The bride is a graduate of Texico High School.

Guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Eugene Fish and daughter, Geneva, James Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stover and son, Miss Betty Hukill, Miss Patricia Hukill, Virgil Hukill, Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Parsons and sons of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Pruitt and sons of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hukill and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dopp.

MRS. BILLIE SUDDERTH

Cook's Corner

Mrs. Billie (Obereta) Suddorth is a native of this area in that she was raised in the Oklahoma Lane community. She came here in 1918 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John West.

Obereta met Billie Suddorth in Oklahoma Lane Community and they were married in 1934. The couple has two sons, Glendon of Bovina and Ronnie of Fourth Worth and three grandchildren.

Obereta has been active in Methodist Church and Woman's Society of Christian Service for a number of years and has been singing in church choirs ever since she was old enough to sing.

Her hobby is decoupage painting.

Having raised two boys, she knows what it means to cook. One of her recipes is refrigerator cookies which she says are nice in that they can be made ahead of time and sliced and baked as needed. The recipe also makes a large number of cookies and is good for parties.

Sift flour, soda, cinnamon and salt first. Cream shortening, and gradually add sugars, beat eggs until light and stir into creamed mixture. Add dry ingredients, about a cupful at a time. Lastly add nuts.

Divide dough into 2 parts and shape into rolls about the size of a silver dollar. Wrap in wax paper and refrigerate for 12 hours or overnight. Slice very thin and bake at 350 degrees for 7 - 10 minutes on well greased cookie sheet. Makes about 8 dozen cookies.

HEAVENLY HASH
This dish requires the following:
1 package strawberry jello
1 package frozen strawberries
3 medium size bananas
1 small can crushed pineapple
1 or 2 packages dream whip
1 cup nuts

Mix jello according to directions on package then chill until slightly thickened. Whip dream whip according to directions then sweeten. Add all ingredients to the jello and whip. Chill well before serving.

BURGER FILLETS
Mix ground chuck with salt, pepper and savor salt and make into patties about the size of good fillet. Wrap in bacon strip and fasten with toothpick. Broil to taste. Serve with baked potato and green salad.

REFRIGERATOR COOKIES
1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
2 eggs
1 cup chopped nuts

Bovina Area Churches Welcome You!

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

©CHAS. CARTWRIGHT 756

"I see; you were rushing to get to church."

Read Romans 5:1-5

I will bless the Lord at all times: His praise shall continually be in my mouth. --Psalm 34:1
 One of England's famous prime ministers, William E. Gladstone, was once asked the secret of his remarkable activity. His reply was to the effect that in his experience he had been compelled to climb many hills of difficulty. In doing so, he had developed all his powers and prolonged his vigor.

Facing difficulties in life may often lead us to discoveries. This is true not only of science but also of spiritual things. The very difficulty can impart something for strengthening the fibre and stamina of the person who tackles difficulties and overcomes. God may not save us from the difficulty or trial, but He saves us in it.

If we reflect a moment, we can think of persons in history or persons in our community who have been faced with great difficulties and overcame them. Let us be of such a spirit that in the strength of the Lord we will turn the difficult things of our lives into victories.

PRAYER: O God, save me from every attempting things in my own strength alone. Teach me to rely upon Thee and to walk with Thee. At all times may I rest upon Thee and Thy sure promises and in Thy strength offered through Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

County FHA Loans Record

Credit programs of the U.S. Farmers Home Administration helped more than 135 families in Parmer County improve their homes, family farms and communities during fiscal year 1968, Supervisor Billy R. Boling of the agency's county office in Farwell announces.

Farmers Home Administration loans in the county totaled $1,673,820.00, a new record. Gains were especially noteworthy in rural housing loans and in operating loans.

Boling reports the Farmers Home Administration, which supplements all other credit available to rural people, has added $3,118,760 to the county's resources with loans the past two years through a range of programs.

With the turnover of funds invested by borrower families, associations and communities, the agency's work is estimated to have had a $21,831,320 impact on the county's economy during 1967 and 1968.

Boling says that $208,240 of the 1968 fiscal year lending total through his office was accounted for by the Farmers Home Administration insurance of loans funded by private leaders.

Housing credit has grown from the level of $19,200 in 1960 to $208,240 in 1968.

Family farmers who lacked other sources of credit turned to Farmers Home Administration for $50,000 in loans to secure farm ownership and improve their farms and $619,050 in loans for operating purposes during 1968.

The agency also loaned $751,020 to 72 farmers in the county to overcome losses suffered in natural disasters.

"I am pleased to have Mrs. Estes working actively for the Republican Party in Bovina and she will be a welcome addition to the Parmer County Republican executive committee," Lust said.

Soon the 4-H project work for 1968 will be over. Records are due in the agents office July 22nd for judging. The record of 4-H members is a part of their training and is important. It is becoming increasingly important that Americans learn to keep records or else they may find themselves on the short end when income tax day comes. The time parents spend in helping their 4-H'ers with records is a worthwhile effort.

MIND OVER MONEY In our materialistic society, money is very important. We tend to take a moralistic view of it; MONEY IS GOOD, we like it, it buys us the things we need; or MONEY IS BAD, it's the root of all evil, the cause of all our problems.

But actually money itself is neither good nor bad. It is simply a tool which simplifies the exchange of goods and services. Whether it serves us well or poorly depends on how we handle it.

Families who take a business like approach to handling -- use good management -- generally get more satisfaction from their spending than families who "drift and spend."

CARD OF THANKS I wish to say thank you to my friends and neighbors, their cards and flowers during my recent illness and stay in the hospital. Your kindnesses will always be remembered.

In this busy, hustle, hurry atmosphere we live in, it is hard to find leaders who want to take enough time to help with the training of youth in an objective, organized program. The adults who work so faithfully with our boys and girls in worthwhile projects (that have meaningful experiences) are certainly to be commended for their efforts. The fact remains, however, we have overworked leaders in 4-H. They are doing a fine job in training youth but we just need more dedicated leaders for the job.

CYGON PROTECTS COTTON AGAINST EARLY SEASON INSECTS

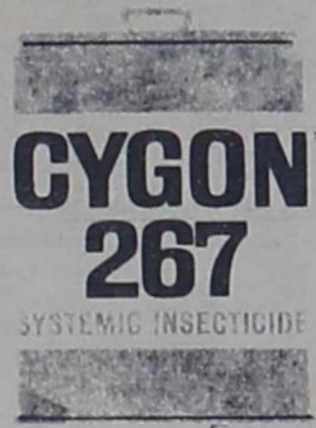

Kills by both contact and systemic action

This year--getting your cotton plants off to a good start is more important than ever! By controlling insects during the critical early stages Cygon* 267 helps in promoting vigorous growth and earlier maturity, better quality in the finished crop.

Cygon's long-lasting qualities and low rates make it a most economical insecticide. Also--it requires no special precautions -- no protective clothing or equipment. And -- when used according to directions, there are no residue problems.

Cygon works two ways to safeguard crops: as a contact insecticide--and as a systemic protector within the plant.

This double-barreled action --provides protection from outside the plant and inside the plant. The insecticide within the plant remains on guard against insects when they attack and is also unaffected by sun or rain.

Council Grants 2 Pay Raises

Raises in pay were granted to two city employees by Bovina's city council at a regular monthly meeting Friday night.

Receiving the $25 per month pay increases were John Wilson, water superintendent, and Andy Garza.

A lengthy discussion was held concerning what the trash department should haul away in residential districts. There has been some confusion and complaints from citizens, it was reported at the meeting, in regard to this matter.

Council members finally agreed that anything which could be loaded on a flatbed truck by one man would be considered eligible to be hauled away without additional charge. Also, it was decided that Wilson is to be consulted if a question arises about what should be hauled and what shouldn't.

Blueprints for a municipal swimming pool were on hand at the meeting, but little discussion came up about the pool and no decisions were made.

The councilmen looked briefly at the recently-completed city audit report. Board members were asked to take a copy of the report with them to study. It will be discussed more at a future meeting, was the indication.

The swimming pool plans were provided by Ralph Douglas, city engineer.

Mayor Bedford Caldwell informed the council that paving contractor Jake Diehl of Muleshoe, who installed the city's last paving project last year, will seal coat the pavement last installed. This will be a part of the original deal with him.

The council then discussed having the rest of the paving in town seal coated. Approximate cost for the work will be 17 cents per square yard, Caldwell explained, and there are approximately 75,000 square feet of paving. The councilmen made no decision except to look at the city's financial hole card before deciding.

Members of the council agreed to permit closing of Eighth Street between North and Avenue A for the Mexican Festival during the weekend of the 16th of September. This was done for the festival last year. Three traffic signs will be Trying to cram just a smattering of culture down a man's throat is literally impossible.

The children and I dragged "Dear Ole Dad" to the opening production of "Texas" last Friday and I am not sure who suffered most. Him for having to go or the children for having to listen to the groans. To make matters worse, the weather was unbearably hot, the dirt was blowing and only it can in West Texas, the food was terrible and the opening show had the lags. It is too long a production; but once in umpteen years shouldn't make it too bad.

However, we feel that Dad wasn't alone in his suffering as we viewed a number of other male countenances which looked as if they had been cajoled into going also.

Fourth of July fireworks aren't over yet. Lula White says when her grandchildren arrive in August we can get ready for more. She is going to personally escort the youngsters over the town popping fireworks on all those lawns whose children used her driveway for explosion grounds. Hope she took careful note and noticed ours weren't among the juveniles.

It didn't rain on the fourth of July but as one observer noted we didn't try to have a picnic either. Several years in a row it rained on the Fourth and seemingly because Bovina had an annual picnic.

Guess if farmers need rain all they need to do is schedule a community picnic.

There are those who think the greatest part of the Golden Spread morning begins about 5 a.m.

Now I never have agreed with this theory, as matter of fact feel that few others do. The few times we have been up at this hour we haven't noticed many people out stirring.

Some of those who attend early morning classes at West Texas State are viewing the morning at this hour and for the most part we get disgruntled replies instead of that gibberish about it being a great day.

Most answer with a long sigh and a "bah, humbug" when confronted with that greatest part of the morning bit.

installed in the area of Bovina's new clinic by city marshal Ronald Mitchell.

Also, Ted Quillintine was authorized by the council to serve as a deputy marshal during special functions in town. This action was taken at the request of Mitchell.

Also discussed was a proposal to clean alleys in the business district. No definite action was taken, but it was agreed to check into the proposal.

Other routine business included approving a repair job for an older city-owned pickup.

1,200-Word-A-Minute Communications!

Shown with Teletype's new 1200 word-per-minute Inktronic terminal are Dan R. Carmichael (right), Teletype president, and Charles R. Winston, the firm's director of research and "father" of the machine.

CHICAGO, ILL. — A space-age advance toward solving the "information explosion" that is burying today's computer-oriented business and technical world in paper work, was revealed here by Teletype Corp.

The company has introduced a new high-speed communication machine that can send and receive information at speeds to 1,200 words a minute. This is 12 times faster than commonly used communications equipment.

Company officials say the new machine can print out the complete New York Stock Exchange closing transactions in less than 5 minutes. Up to now this would take one hour using a conventional 100-word-a-minute teletypewriter.

The equipment, called the Inktronic® KSR (keyboard send/receive) set, is the latest addition to the company's line of high-speed teletypewriters. It has a keyboard for "talking" to a computer and a page printer that operates at 1,200 words a minute.

Unlike regular typewriters and teletypewriters, the Inktronic set is not an "impact" printer. Instead, printing is done by electronically directing spurts of inexpensive ink from tiny nozzles onto ordinary paper. The machines are of solid state design and are virtually silent in operation.

Dan R. Carmichael, president of Teletype Corp., says the Inktronic line is a giant step toward bringing communications terminals in step with today's super-fast computers that businessmen and scientists have come to depend upon.

"Moving information more swiftly to unburden people is only part of the problem," comments Carmichael. "Computer time changes and telephone line transmission costs are directly related to speed of communications. Get the information out of a computer and over a line faster and money is saved."

Charles R. Winston, director of research for Teletype and "father" of the Inktronic

Freezing Prepared Foods

By Cricket B. Taylor
Parmer County Extension Agent

During hot summer months, it is easier to open the freezer for baked goodies or casseroles than to spend hours in the kitchen. Freezing is the only method to preserve many of these baked or cooked goods.

Miss Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist, says to cook most breads, cakes and pies before freezing. Cool them and wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material.

Use standard recipes for breads and cakes. For quick breads use double-action baking powder. Biscuits and muffins are better frozen uncooked. Bran muffins, fruit and nut breads are better if baked before freezing.

You may freeze bread and rolls baked or unbaked. It is suggested that you use a recipe with a fairly large amount of fat and sugar. Baked products may be stored as long as 9-12 months.

If you want to freeze dough, allow it to rise until double in bulk. Doughs shaped before freezing may be inferior, even when stored only two weeks.

Prebaked cakes containing fat may dry out slightly after two months, and after four months, flavor changes may be expected, says the specialist.

Use pure extracts as imitations may produce off-flavors. Angel food, yellow sponge, chiffon and fruit cakes baked before freezing will keep up to a year.

Uncooked confectioner's sugar frostings freeze best. Boiled and other soft frostings containing egg whites and cream fillings are not suitable for freezing.

Fruit, vegetable and chiffon pies freeze successfully. Fruit pies may be frozen either before or after baking. Crust is more tender and flaky and flavor fresher when the pies are frozen before baking.

The agent advises against freezing lattice top pies. Don't cut steam vents in top crusts of frozen unbaked pies until they have been removed from the freezer.

Final Ballgames Feature Upsets

Bovina Wheat Growers-Bovina Insurance pulled the upset of the season Tuesday night in Little League play by upsetting Bovina Gin-Tuloma, 8-6. Bovina Gin-Tuloma was undefeated going into the game.

Monday night action completed the season's play in the Little League and Pee-wee divisions.

Bovina Gin-Tuloma provided proof that its domination of the league was no fluke by bouncing back Monday night to down the bottom team, Custom Farm Services, 15-4, to close out its already-successful season on a winning note.

BWG-BI lost Friday night's tilt to First State Bank-Lawlis Gin, 11-9.

Bovina Gin-Tuloma had a mark of 11-1 over the 12 game season. BWG-BI and Bank-Lawlis tied for second with identical records of 6-6.

Custom Farm Services was 1-11.

upset of their own in the pee-wee league Monday as they won their first game of the year with a 4-2 verdict over Big Nick's Little Machines. The Blades had been winless going into the final tilt.

Sherrill Lumber-Bonds Oil won the pee-wee league with a perfect record, going undefeated throughout the schedule. Sherrill-Bonds wrapped up its perfect season with a squeaker, a 2-1 decision over Big Nick Friday.

Big Nick's team finished second to Sherrill-Bonds in the three-team league and The Blade was third.

Bovina's two Pony League teams, playing in a league with two teams from Texico-Farwell, tied for second place in that loop. Charles Oil Co. and Sherley Grain Co. each had 5-4 marks over the nine game schedule.

Helton Oil Co. was the league champion with a record of 6-3.

Security State Bank was fourth with two wins and seven losses.

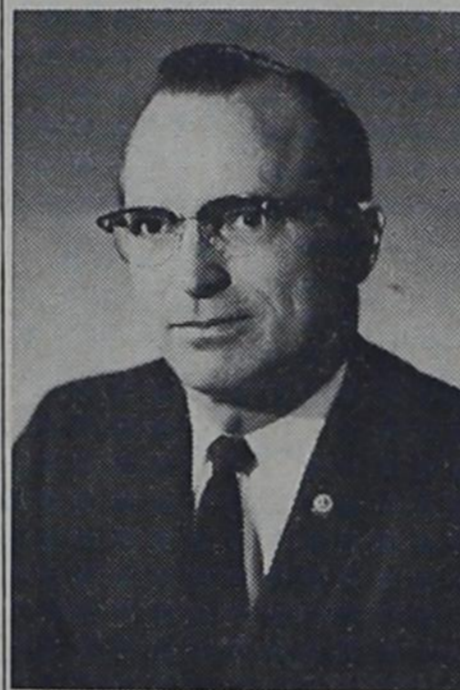

In all-star games played here Thursday, July 4, the first and fourth place Little League teams combined to beat the second and third place teams combined, 10-5, and the Bovina Pony League all-stars blasted the Texico-Farwell all-stars, 12-4.

While the boys' baseball program has been completed for this summer, the ballpark will not be inactive. A men's slow-pitch softball league is scheduled to get underway this week.

PESTICIDES
The increasing use of pesticides to keep homes free of insects and protect plant life requires certain precautions on the part of the user. First, read the directions on the label of the container and note all cautions and warnings. Second, keep pesticides away from children or pets. Third, make certain the container is tightly sealed and never transfer the contents to another unlabeled container.
