REBEL WAR CRY HEARD.

Birmingham, Ala., May 16.—Heavy rain during the night had made the temperature more comfortable for the veterans and visitors when the first session of the 16th annual re-union of the United Confederate and other Southern patriotic bodies was called to order today. The Bijou theater, where the meetings are being held, was packed to suffocation when R. W. Massey, chairman of the local program committee, rapped for order.

The "Yip-yip" of the old war cry responded to the strains of "Dixie," "Old Black Joe," "Suwanee River," and other melodies of South. A group of veterans of Forrest's cavalry singing old airs also attracted considerable attention and brought tears to the eyes of many. When a lively jig was played, two old women of 70 odd years brought a cheer when they called on two old soldiers to join them in a breakdown dance.

Addresses of welcome by city and state officials and response on behalf of the visitors made up the morning program with the address of Gen. Bennett H. Young, commanding general of the veterans, the leading feature. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. J. W. Bachman of Chattanooga, Tenn., chaplain-general of the organization. CARROLL HOLT WINS DISTINCTION

Our townsman, Carroll Holt, superintendent of the light and water department, was recently summoned to a meeting of electrical engineers which had for its purpose a discussion of the nation's preparedness, and has been appointed a member of the board which will have this matter in charge in the future, working under the supervision of Mr. Edison and the other members of the board appointed by the president some time ago. There are five members of this board in Texas who are all registered engineers, and should the country ever be engaged in a great war the matter of looking after and providing for the Nation's preparedness in each locality in this state would be under the personal supervision of these gentlemen.

Mr. Holt is reticent in discussing the matter of his appointment or the work he would have to do in the event his services should be in demand, but is not without appreciation of the honor that has been conferred upon him, and like all patriotic citizens he will hold himself in readiness for his country's call at any time he can be of service. And should this call ever come to him, he will be in position to do his country a great service and at the same time be in position to win honor and distinction for himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Branch of San Antonio were here this morning en route to Nacogdoches. While here they were the recipients of the gracious hospitality of J. L. Brown and also had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. Victoria Bull with whom Mrs. Branch was associated when they attended Trinity College during the time it was located at Tehuacana Hills.—Jacksonville Progress.

The senior member of The Sentinel has joined a fishing party for a few days and thereby becomes the "fishing editor" of the paper, responsible for all fish stories that may be brought back. He promised to bring us a fish and if he fails he will be typical of the balance who go fishing under similar promise.

CALLED MEETING.

The Nacogdoches County Rural Letter Carriers Association is hereby called to meet at Nacogdoches, Tuesday, May 30, 1916, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing officers and delegates to the State Convention, and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

The carriers of the 2nd Congressional District are requested to meet with us.

W. P. BURROWS, County Chairman.
B. C. CASTLEBERRY, Secretary.

MRS. J. B. BURNS DEAD.
The information is gleaned from the Timpson Times that Mrs. Jno. B. Burns had died at her home in San Angelo and her remains had been brought back to Center, her old home, for interment.

Mrs. Burns came from one of the country's best families, and was a most excellent Christian lady, who was loved and admired by all who knew her.

If you fail to build a good sidewalk in front of your premises you not only deny yourself the convenience it would afford and the civic attractiveness it would be to your premises, but you deny your neighbor the opportunity of free mail delivery. Come on, you lazy rascal, and do your duty.

Bro. Lively of the Lufkin Daily News recently visited a circus, at peanuts and laughed at the antics of the clown. That was evidence of a perfectly human disposition, and it is herewith recorded in public print that it may be understood and known of all men.

The citizens of Timpson are in dead earnest in the matter of establishing an overalls factory, and another mass meeting of citizens will be held tonight to discuss the matter. Bully for Timpson! Factories and industrial enterprises help build towns and cities.

The information is gleaned from the Garrison News that T. G. Vaught, deputy sheriff of the precinct, is making the race for constable of Garrison precinct. Nacogdoches county never had a more fearless deputy sheriff, and his race for this position is at the earnest solicitation of many admiring friends who feel that the precinct needs his whole time.

The information is gleaned from the papers that a veterinary surgeon was killed while treating a fractious animal at Lufkin a few days ago. Many similar accidents have occurred in the profession, while many others have suffered serious bodily injury. The practice of veterinary surgery is a very arduous, dangerous occupation, and he who practices the profession is entitled to every cent he earns in the course of his practice.

The Southwestern Telephone Co. announces that it will not take those who may be called to service in the Mexican trouble off the payroll. This is quite a philanthropic move by this great enterprise, and the idea will doubtless be appropriated by some of the other big enterprises of the country, who receive the most protection from the preservation of the government and are waking up to the importance of doing their share in maintaining it.

The business men of San Augustine are arranging to make an automobile journey to the country districts and visit the farmers of the county. The idea is a good one, and could be employed with profit by the business men of Nacogdoches. In cooperation with the people of the country and the town depends the growth and success of both classes, and there is no better way to get together than the plan of social contact.

The County Convention held in Nacogdoches County strongly endorsed the Hon. Beeman Strong of that city as a suitable man for the San Antonio convention to consider as one of the delegates from this congressional district to the national convention at St. Louis. The Angelina County convention endorsed Mr. Norman Belk, who is most thoroughly qualified for one of the places. With these two men in St. Louis as delegates from this district, old East Texas could depend upon it that she would have able and faithful representation.—Lufkin News.

The Nacogdoches High School Baseball team met defeat at Jacksonville Friday—but that is only a part of the game. The best sometimes meet defeat, but defeat with this bunch of boys an inspiration for greater things and Jacksonville will be given a draught from the same cup before the season closes.

Too-much emphasis cannot be placed on the necessity for keeping the yards and alleys clean and free from anything which will attract flies and afford a breeding place. The warm weather will soon be here when all forms of life will multiply, so that if we are to guard against preventable diseases it is not too soon to begin. Typhoid fever is unnecessary—all that is required is strict sanitation. No flies, no mosquitos, no typhoid, no malaria. Why not?—Port Arthur Record.

An Oklahoma editor tells of an old Indian who came into his office to subscribe for his paper. The editor took the Indian's money, and the Indian wanted a receipt. After writing it the editor asked him why he was so persistent in wanting the receipt. He explained, "I die some time I go to gate and St. Peter aske me if I be good Indian. I say, yes. He say did you pay your debts? I say, yes. He say, did you pay your subscription to home paper? I say yes. He say, where is receipt? I don't have it. I have to run all over hell to find you dan get receipt."—Ex.

There is something mysterious about to happen down at Lufkin—and we hope it will be pulled off while district court is in session at the place to the end that the balance of the country may be saved from a spread of whatever it is. The News says: "Wives will take a hand in it;" "Court judges will take a hand in it;" "Jury men will take a hand in it;" "Merchants will take a hand in it;" "The ladies are sure to take a hand in it;" "Everybody will take a hand in it;" etc. The Sentinel would suggest that no time be lost in calling out the "reserves" and a patrol established on the border.

Just as we had about given up all hope of being able to solve the high cost of living problem, we stumbled over a life preserver in the shape of an item in one of our exchanges stating that weeds properly cooked are edible. Now, instead of turning all our hard-earned cash over to the butcher, baker and grocer, we can place it in the bank while we proceed to fatten up on bermuda grass, bull nettle, etc. Another advantage of living on weeds is that they are so easy to cultivate, requiring no care whatever. Besides we can offer another excuse for not cutting them around our premises now than the one of "not having time."—Polk County Enterprise.

An election for a bond issue of $50,000.00 has been ordered by the commissioners court of Angelina county, the money to be used in the erection and support of a county hospital. Nothing could be more humane than an institution of this character, and The Sentinel would rejoice in a similar innovation for this county. We have many people, from time to time, who are public charges, and in the absence of some systematic means of relief, much suffering results. With a county hospital the burden would be distributed so that it would not be felt by any one, and we would be saved from the disgrace of having sick people treated in the jail or allowed to go without any help.

THE "HITCHING" PROBLEM.

The Sentinel received the following communication in this morning's mail: "Kind Sentinel—In reading The Sentinel I find that the farmers, or any one else, can't hitch on the square, or anywhere else. Will you please publish in your next paper where in Christ are we to hitch our horses? Do you mean for us to carry our bundles vehicle and everything else around town with us? A Kind Reader of The Sentinel."

The communication was not signed by any person, which is against the rule of all well regulated printing offices, but as others may be troubled in the matter, we will answer with such information as we have at hand.

The correspondent is laboring under a mistake as to the scope of the "forbidden territory." An ordinance is now in "process of incubation," only lacking the legal publication and time, to make it unlawful to leave automobiles, vehicles and horses in the immediate front of the stores. This was done in the interest of public safety for the reason that it had become a practice to congest these places with standing cars and vehicles which blocks traffic. No such restrictions have been placed on the public square or the back streets of the town.

This ordinance will be more service to the farmers than other people for the reason that it opens up the way for them to pass in and out, and if necessary to drive up for a load that is too heavy to carry out to their wagons.

It is very dangerous to all concerned to block the main thoroughfares of the town with cars and vehicles, as well as an injustice to the merchants who would be cut off from serving the trade with such a condition.

The time is fast approaching—in fact, it is already here—when Nacogdoches should have a large free wagon yard where the farmers could leave their wagons until ready to load when in town, and there is no better time to begin planning for this enterprise than right now while the land could be gotten at a more reasonable price than would be possible with further growth of the city. This is a matter of which The Sentinel will have more to say in subsequent issues.

A MODEL ROAD.

Nacogdoches now has one mile of model road to which the town can point with pride, and invite their friends from other towns to ride over when sojourning in the city. This road leads up North street on which the work was finished yesterday.

This work was under the supervision of Wm. G. Reid, street commissioner, and Pat Murphey, superintendent of work, and reflects credit to their ability and efficiency in such matters. The road was graded up in the middle, making a crown with clay and gravel which will hold almost as securely as would concrete. Drainage has been provided at every place needed, and the whole work is one of the most substantial nature.

Another heavy expense that had to be encountered in this work was the extra amount of culverts necessary. The street is thickly populated, and it was necessary to put in culverts in front of many houses to make a passage to and from these premises.

The total cost of the whole work was $950.00, $183.50 of which was donated by the progressive citizens along the street, leaving the city to pay $766.50. In the item of expense defrayed by the city is included all new tools and equipment that was purchased for the work, feed of teams, etc., and it is estimated that the same class of work could as you never thought could be is yours to command quick as you buy some Prince Albert and fire-up a pipe or a home-made cigarette!

Prince Albert gives you every tobacco satisfaction your smoke-appetite ever hankered for. That's because it's made by a patented process that cuts out bite, and parch! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

PRINCE ALBERT

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

be followed up on other streets for possibly less money, ranging from $500 per mile up.

The gravel used was a home product, and enough can be found in the vicinity to build similar roads all over the city.

About a year ago Mound street was built up in a similar manner, and a few months ago Starr avenue was put in like condition, which now fills in the gaps and makes an ideal loop.

If there should be visiting cars here tomorrow, as well as the cars belonging here, they will find delightful driving up this street.

DOCTORS HOME.

Drs. T. J. Blackwell, R. P. Locky, A. E. Sweatland of this city, Dr. Carrier of Cushing and possibly others we fail to get, have returned from Galveston where they went to attend the State Medical Association of Texas, in session from Tuesday to Thursday inclusive, and report the best meeting ever held by the Association to date. There were over one thousand doctors present, and probably five hundred of their ladies. Papers were read from many doctors over the state, and visiting doctors from New York, Chicago and New Orleans. Much routine business for the advancement of medicine and surgery generally was handled by the house of delegates which necessitated their remaining in the house almost continually during the entire session. Probably the most important question by the various committees were those looking especially to the improvement of the medical colleges of the state of Texas.

Public health matters were also taken up by the public health committees and recommendations were made for the furtherance of laws looking to the improvement of the health of the state.

The last session Thursday of the house of delegates was devoted mainly to the election of officers for the ensuing year. Dr. Jas. M. Inge, one of the oldest practicing physicians in the state, who was made the president elect at the Fort Worth meeting last year, was elected president this year. Dr. H. Cary of Dallas was made president-elect. Dr. G. H. Moody, the out-going president of San Antonio, and Dr. M. L. Graves of Galveston, were elected delegates to the American Medical Association. Dr. Bacon Saunders of Fort Worth, and Dr. C. L. Rosser of Dallas, were elected the alternates.

The Association selected Dallas as the place of meeting for the Association in 1917.

TOMATO GROWERS.

The tomato growers are called to meet at the court house in Nacogdoches Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the matter of important business to the association, and a good attendance is desired.

L. C. HANKS.

Judge W. S. Mayfield, who was yesterday appointed by the County Commissioners to fill the vacancy in the Justice Court, caused by the death of Judge A. A. Killingsworth, was on the job early this morning. He will hear his first case under the new judgeship this afternoon. A negro charged with gambling will be the defendant and he will plead guilty to the charge. Judge Mayfield was a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace in opposition to Judge Killingsworth. He applied for the appointment to fill the vacancy and the Commissioners Court made the appointment.—Longview Times-Clarion.

Judge Mayfield is a brother of Dr. Mayfield of this city and was once a citizen of Nacogdoches. He is known to many of the older settlers among whom he has many friends.

Save the Gears

One of the troubles of operating heavy machinery is the rapidity with which gears wear out.

We have developed a lubricant which will protect the heaviest gears under the greatest pressure.

We call it

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND

It is a rich, heavy lubricant which cannot be squeezed out from between the teeth. The pinions run on this heavy film—cutting and wear are stopped.

"Crater" resists weather, water, heat, and dust. It is particularly adapted for gears on oil mills, cotton compresses, tractors—wherever large gears need protection.

It is one of the high grade lubricants made by Constipation causes many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

Mr. Avey, the genial agent of the Western Union telegraph office at this place, has returned to his post of duty after a little vacation. He was due two more days' vacation, but the relief man was needed or wanted to go elsewhere and Mr. Avey graciously came on back to work.

Avoid Spring Colds.

Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and grippe, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tar Syrup. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. Its already prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years. dw

Waco, one of the fairest of Central Texas cities, is the latest to disgrace herself by burning a negro who was charged with murder and criminal assault upon a white woman. No one could condone the crime which deserves the severest penalty of the law, without delay, but such occurrences tend to cheapen the estimate of the majesty of the law and breed anarchy, making a drift to a condition that would destroy the government.

A Good Family Cough Syrup. Can be made by mixing Pine-Tar, Aconite, Sugar, Hyoscyamus, Sassafras, Peppermint, Ipecac, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Capsicum Glycerine. It is pleasant, healing and soothing, raises the phlegm, and gives almost instant relief. For convenience of those who prefer not to fuss, it is supplied ready made in 25c bottles under name of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Can be had at your druggist. Insist on getting Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and see that the formula is on the package. dw

KILLED MAD DOG.

Our friend, Matt Coats, of the Fairview community, was in to see us Saturday afternoon, and related quite an interesting mad dog story.

Last Friday, a stray mad dog passed through the Fairview community, biting dogs at the home of R. U. Coats, George Muckleroy and Ed. Muckleroy and some hogs at the latter place, and where he was killed by a posse that had formed and followed.

The dog was very vicious and was not known to any one in the community.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BASEBALL PROMOTERS MET AT JACKSONVILLE

The following report of a meeting of those endeavoring to promote a baseball league for East Texas is taken from Saturday's issue of the Jacksonville Progress:

At a meeting here last night of those who are endeavoring to organize a base ball league to be known as the East Texas Amateur League, the following were present: Ralph Hart of Palestine, Jordan of Crockett, L. M. Huey of Nacogdoches, Jim Kerr, or Rusk, Chas. Edmundson of Crockett. Besides discussing other subjects, it was decided to have a schedule mapped out and arranged, and Mr. Hart of Palestine was instructed to arrange the schedule and submit it at the next meeting. It is the purpose to have the circuit composed of the towns of Palestine, Crockett, Jacksonville, Rusk, Lufkin and Nacogdoches. All the other palaces except Jacksonville have expressed a willingness to go into the league, and the promoters are very anxious that our town be included in the league. Jacksonville will be included in the schedule that will be submitted in the next meeting. Now it is up to those interested in baseball as to whether we shall become a part of this league. If so arrangements will have to be made. We have a good ground, and substantial grandstand, and there is no reason why we cannot have some good games this season. We also have some pretty fair ball players who live here and we could secure others at a small cost. Of course it is up to the fans, if they want good base ball games and are willing to take the matter in hand and arrange to get into the league.

Done Wonders for Me.

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years, and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for this complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets is the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief," writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Spencerport, N. J. THOS. HALL WINS DISTINCTION

Our townsman, J. Thos. Hall, has just returned from a visit to Houston where he went to attend a meeting of the Federation of Insurance, and where he won considerable distinction for himself by being elected a member of the executive committee of the Federation and a member of the Board of Directors.

The Federation seems to be a new organization for this state, Texas being the fortieth state to adopt it. The purpose of it is mutual protection for insurer and insured, and Mr. Hall will endeavor to extend the scope of its usefulness to this section.

Rheumatic Pain Stopped.

The drawing of muscles, the soreness, stiffness and agonizing pain of Rheumatism quickly yield to Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the painful part. Just apply as directed to the sore spots. In a short time the pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth. Here's proof—"I have had wonderful relief since I used your liniment on my knee. To think one application gave me relief. Sorry I haven't space to tell you the history. Thanking you for what your remedy has done for me."—James S. Furgeson, Philadelphia, Pa. Sloan's Liniment kills pain. 25c at druggists. dw

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hall are leaving today, via Houston, for a month's vacation. They will go to Bryan first where they will spend a couple of weeks with their son, Oscar Hall. Next they will visit their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Brown and family, at San Antonio. One of Mr. Hall's neighbors informs The Sentinel that he "laid by his crop," which consisted of three stalks of corn, before leaving.

A Symbol of Health

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere. dw

OLD SETTLER OF SHELBY IS DEAD

Saturday's issue of the Timpson Times carries a report of the death of Mr. P. H. McLaughlin, possibly the oldest man in East Texas at the time of his death. "Uncle Pat," as he has long been known and tenderly addressed, was a native of Ireland, and was a typical Irishman with all the characteristics of honor, patriotism and chivalry for which the race is noted, and was eighty-eight years, one month and seventeen days old. Until the last year or two he has been very active, going where and when he pleased, and he was a general favorite with the people among whom he was known, finding a hearty welcome everywhere he went.

Rheumatism.

If you are troubled with chronic or muscular rheumatism give Chamberlain's Liniment a trial. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Obtainable everywhere.

W. A. Barr of Appleby was in the city yesterday afternoon, and from him we learned that his brother, J. P. Barr, who was so dangerously ill a few days ago, is able to be up.

Whooping Cough.

One of the most successful preparations in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. S.W. McClinton, Blandon Springs, Ala., writes, "Our baby had whooping cough as bad as most any baby could have it. I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it soon got him well." Obtainable everywhere. dw

CERTIFICATE NOTICE.

Austin, Texas, 5-12-16. Sup't Jno. B. Stripling, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Sir: The State Department of Education will issue a beautiful lithograph certificate in lieu of any permanent certificate issued by the present State Superintendent. The exchange imposed no obligation whatever on the holder and simply means that any person who has received a permanent certificate since Sept. 1st 1913, can, by sending the old certificate to this department, receive in lieu thereof the new certificate which is preferred by those who have seen it.

Sincerely,
W. F. DOUGHTY,
State Superintendent.

The above is self explanatory, and I am publishing it for the benefit of those interested. If any teacher of the county holds a permanent certificate, and should desire this change, it will be well to take it up with the State Superintendent.

Yours Truly,
JNO. B. STRIPLING.

Are You Bothered With Constipation?

You will have grateful relief from the first dose of Po-Do-Lax. It is a compound laxative for it not only empties the bowels but stimulates the bile and other secretions. It attacks constipation at its source and you get permanent relief. Po-Do-Lax will give you regular stool and only occasionally you will need it. An excellent liver medicine. 50 cts. at Druggists. dw

Deputy Sheriff Myers locked up six or seven idle negroes yesterday charging them with vagrancy. The move is a good one if the charges are sustained. Now while there is so much work of every kind in the country there is no excuse for idleness among either whites or blacks.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Nacogdoches Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Nacogdoches citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

W. H. Wood, farmer, North St., Nacogdoches, says: "I was troubled by a constant, dull ache across the small of my back. I never thought for a moment that my kidneys were out of order until I noticed that the kidney secretions began to be scanty in passage. I tried several medicines without finding relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly did me a lot of good." (Statement given April 7th, 1905).

On June 4th, 1915, Mr. Wood said: "I haven't changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills since recommending them. I take them occasionally as a preventative but I have had little trouble from my kidneys since first using them."

TWO SUMMER SONGS.

(The following poem was written by Mrs. Karle Wilson Baker of this city and published in the "Texas Review," a magazine of the State University.)

I. Altair.

Three of them walk together,
Joyous and fair and high,
Through the still, heavenly weather,
Up in the summer sky—
Under their feet are the fountains,
The night-bird's heart outpour,
Flooding the mimic mountains
Of the shadowy sycamores.
Over the sky forever
She leaeth her comrades sweet;
No dream of our mortal fever
Troubleth her straying feet.
She lifeth the years from my shoulders.
She looseth the weight from my wings;
Long hidden from all beholders
An old, sealed fountain sings
Three of them walk together—
She is the fairest of the three;
And sweet as the heavenly weather
She maketh the heart of me!

II. Fairy Mountain.

All summer long, sick for the mountains,
Crouched under the scourge of the heat,
I found them one night, of a sudden,
At the end of my own village street!
Sheer, shadowy cliffs cutting skyward;
Wooded slopes, soaring daintily!
(By day 'twas our little church steeple
And a neighborly sycamore tree.)
But beauty had found them, and set them
Her heavenly avatars,
With a little blue valley between them
Prickling all over the stars.
So now, when the long day is ended,
And the sun his last javalin has hurled,
My heart-climbs the sycamore mountains,
And drinks all the winds of the world.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the torture of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

ANOTHER "SIDE"

Caro, Texas, May 14, 1916.
The Sentinel,
Nacogdoches, Texas.
Gentlemen:

Seeing articles in your paper in regard to patronizing mail order houses, it seems that all the articles are one-sided.

The truth of the matter is the farmer and merchant have both got to get closer together—there seems to be a mistrust somewhere. There will have to be a closer co-operation, then some of the mail orders will stop. Some things, we all know, there is quite a saving. To illustrate: Two years ago the writer wanted to buy 540 yards of sheeting. The best price made was 61¢, and when I told the merchant that I could buy it for 49¢ delivered at my station, he gave me the curt reply that he did not swap dollars. Now, if he could not swap dollars I certainly could not give them away. If this difference of $6.31 had to be given to merchants so they could give it back to our schools, our roads and our churches, I thought I would do the donating.

Now, in conclusion, the whole thing is a business proposition. The merchants buy where they can get the goods the cheapest, and somewhere they can get carried some for the money. We pay profit wherever we deal, with bank or merchant, which is right. The thing is the profit and the closer co-operation and you will see the mail order business dwindle.

Yours very respectfully,
H. R. HAMBLE

The Sentinel has no controversy to make with the general idea expressed in the communication. "Self-preservation is the first law of nature," and is right, but we must not let a single instance get away with our better judgment. The merchant who made your the curt reply was lacking in discretion and diplomacy on the one hand, and on the other it is not impossible that the article you bought from the mail order house at a less price was a leader on which a sacrifice was made for advertising purposes. Quality of goods must also be considered, and possibly the home merchant had a better quality. Then, too, he was possibly "hoggish" in his profit, and the other home merchants should not be made to suffer for his sins. These ideas must all enter into this discussion in a general way, but not in the sense of a controversy in the particular instance in which you relate.

The correspondent's idea of better co-operation between the buying and selling classes is fine and should be enlarged upon. The merchant should study the interest of his customers and give them a quality of service that would entitle him to their business. When he does this he has every moral and legal right to the undivided trade of his customers, and with this condition he can enlarge his facilities for their continued accommodation. These are the cold-blooded facts on both sides of this question, which are known and realized by all successful business men, and the biggest confusion comes from want of understanding and appreciation.

Very few local merchants are getting rich in business; in fact many of them are making no money above a living, while the mail order houses are growing richer each day and gradually monopolizing the merchantile business of the country. This idea is sufficient proof that the home merchant is not wilfully robbing his customers while it taints with suspicion that the methods employed by the mail order house that give out a bait. The Sentinel would not defend that merchant who would wilfully take advantage of his customers, because the mutual interest must be maintained if the country grows and prospers and each is entitled to the same fair and square consideration at the hands of the other, but for that good, honest home merchant who is content with a reasonable profit, who studies the interests of his trade, and who contributes his part to the good citizenship of the country, we would make overtures to the trading public, and in the interest of community prosperity that he have your trade so far as he can serve you mutually profitable. And we believe that in the whole year's trade his prices would show a saving in the annual expenditures. With equal interest we would insist that the trading public be given a square deal, if it is failing to receive it in any instance, and when this condition obtains more generally, with a fuller understanding and appreciation, a new era of prosperity will dawn in the industrial and commercial life of our country.

In the meantime, "lest you forget," don't forget about the sidewalk need of the city. That citizen who will build a good sidewalk in front of his premises is a benefactor with civic pride who would not only take advantage of the good opportunities that offer themselves, but will give co-operation to his neighbor to the same.

SOVEREIGNTY IF THE SOIL.

Who is entitled to the soil? This is a question which intelligent men will have to settle some of these days. "The happy hunting land" was not the property of primitive man in this country. Volumes have been written as to his right to the soil. The sovereignty of the soil he knew nothing about, and was never able to comprehend that term, which is the first step toward civilization. He had some vague notion that the country was his. Cicero gave an excuse for the expansion of Rome this simple bit of philosophy: "No people have a right to the soil who do not know how to use it." The Spaniards knew very little about the use of the soil and cared less. But they knew how to establish its sovereignty. Their ignorance of the use of it, however, and their stubborn refusal to go forward in any direction that required new thought and innovation were the causes that led to their loss of the largest and richest territory that ever fell to the lot of any nation of earth. The notion is growing in all parts of the civilized world that only those are entitled to the soil who till it. It is now a recognized principle of statesmen that large individual landed estates are contrary to the best interests of mankind. In answering the question why are they, the great land question looms up as the most important that now confronts the world.—Col. Milner in Rusk County News

A rural credit bill is about to get through congress which has for its purpose to finance a plan by which farmers can get cheap money, on long time, with which to purchase homes. Rightly managed, a plan of this kind would contribute much to the industrial development of the country.

A FINE RAIN.

A very fine rain visited this section last night which will be worth much to the growing crops. Since the rain of some days ago the farmers have had opportunity to work out their crops and were ready for the splendid season they have received. It rained about three hours, coming gently most of the time, and was followed today with cooler weather, preventing a scald, and making it more glorious.

CANNING AND PRESERVING BERRIES

(By Miss Bernice Carter.)
Blackberries and dewberries may be canned in such a way that they can hardly be detected from fresh berries. The following is the method to be used:
Assort and wash the berries carefully taking precaution not to break them. Wash and sterilize quart jars by placing them in a vessel of water and allow to boil for at least ten minutes. Fill the jars with fresh berries, shaking them down gently so as to get the greatest number possible into the jars. Place the jars into the oven of stove on an asbestos mat using a moderate oven. Let them remain from 8 to 10 minutes, or until the berries become heated. On top of the stove place a vessel of crushed berries and heat to boiling. Strain off the juice into a sauce pan and for every four cups of juice add one cup of sugar, bring to a boil and pour into the jar of heated berries, seal tightly and turn jar bottom side up on a table to cool. The boiling syrup gives sufficient heat to the berries to sterilize, yet they will retain their shape and firmness. They will also become permeated with the syrup and are ready for serving.

The following directions for preserving berries taken from Bulletin A-81, will be helpful.

Practically the same methods are to be followed in preserving and making jams of all berries. Berries should be gathered in shallow trays or baskets and not in deep vessels which allow them to be bruised and crushed. They should be uniform, ripe and sound. Select only large, firm berries for preserving; those for jam may contain the smaller and broken ones. All berries should be carefully sorted and lightly washed by placing in a colander and pouring water over them rather than putting them into a pan of water.

To retain the best possible color and flavour, sirup for preserved berries should be made of a berry juice obtained by crushing, heating and straining the softer, broken berries. Add 1 pint of sugar to each pint of berry juice and allow to boil 10 minutes. Weigh the choice, perfect berries after removing the caps or stems and allow 1 pound of sugar extra for each pound of whole berries. Add the extra sugar to the sirup before dropping the berries into it to prevent shriveling and toughening the fruit. Place over the fire and bring slowly to a boil and simmer until the berries are heated through, being very careful not to over-look; the berries should remain whole. Lift the berries from the sirup and place carefully into shallow pans. Pour sirup over them and allow to stand overnight. Pack cold, filling the jar with berries before pouring the sirup over them. Cap, process, and seal. The preserves may be packed hot, after removing from the fire, capped and processed immediately. The sirup in which berry preserves are packed should have density of 50 degrees and will often need to be boiled down to this density after removing berries.

The article in yesterday's paper, clipped from the Nacogdoches Chronicle twenty-six years ago, was greatly appreciated by many readers of the paper because of the local interest it carried with it. Some of the people it mentioned have crossed the Great Divide of time, others still live, and some are engaged in the same line of business they were at that time. The Sentinel has other old papers, including a copy of the Chronicle printed at the outbreak of the civil war, from which we will get some reminiscences from time to time as we have space to spare.

DOTS FROM LITTLE FLOCK.

The health of this community is doing fine, and our crops are progressing nicely. It has been quite a while since we have had a letter from this place, and I have decided to send in a few lines.

We are going to have services at Little Flock conducted by Rev. Joe Allen, Saturday, at 7 o'clock. Mr. Pit Judd came down Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Phillips. Mrs. Edith Phillips and Miss Valeria Vaught spent the day at Mrs. and Mrs. Leonard Biggers Wednesday.

Mrs. Schytie Hillen, the wife of Mr. Elzie Hillen that was accidentally killed on the railroad several days ago, is staying at his mother's a few weeks, but will make her future home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williams. Our sympathy goes out to her in her great loss, and May God's blessings rest upon her is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Irvin visited his mother Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Irvin gave a singing Sunday afternoon which was enjoyed by all that were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stanley and little daughter, Eveline, from Mayo, visited Mrs. Edith Phillips Thursday.

As time is scarce, and space too, will bid you all adieu.

SHAKESPEARE MEETING.

The Shakespeare Club, loth to separate themselves from the enticing joys and companionship of their Club for the vacation, met together at the home of Mrs. Penman Friday afternoon in a social meeting with a few friends and ex-members present.

A splendid likeness of Shakespeare was exhibited as a prize for the best given excuse for being here. Some were pretty and some were witty, but Mrs. Guy Reavis carried off the honors with

"Tell me not in mournful numbers Life is but an empty dream, For at the meeting at Mrs. Penman's There will be visions of ice cream."

A very enjoyable social hour, full of fun and the pleasure of meeting with old friends, and new and good Victrola records then ensued, and as we sat around in this beautifully appointed home, in chairs made from the "historic old elm," we felt 'twas a perfect setting for the lovers of this wonderful portrayal of life.

A pretty plate of appetizers served in lettuce and pepper cups followed by the "visions" of Mrs. Reavis "come true" closed this afternoon of delightful pleasure.

Mrs. Castleman Andrews of Greenville, and Mrs. Teel, a sister of Mrs. Penman, to whom Mrs. Reavis presented the prize as a souvenir of the occasion, were the only out-of-town guests.

A GUEST.

THE GIDEAN BAND

"The Gideon Band" we have named ourselves, and as one we want to learn to speak in bible truths. We are studying God's word to find His will to us. We believe, as Paul declares in Gal. 1, "there is one gospel," so in Genesis, where we find that in "the beginning God created the heavens and the earth," etc., where man and women broke the law, and a remedy was given for our redemption, which remedy we want to learn

Our next subject is to be "Repentance." Now, we are simply studying the bible and want it to be our guide in our decision. We, like the Gideon army, want to be ready to speak the same thing when we get through the series of subjects that we have undertaken to study.

For the convenience of all that are interested in our little band, we have decided to state, through the paper, that we will meet every Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Penman, and all who are interested are cordially invited to come.

SUNDAY IN NACOGDOCHES.

Yesterday was a good day with the churches of Nacogdoches, and the spiritual side of life in this city doubtless received much benefit from the exercises of the day.

At the Baptist church a most interesting and successful protracted meeting was brought to a close; at the Methodist church a former much loved pastor, Rev. McKenney, was a visitor; at the First Presbyterian church a most interesting Mothers Day program was rendered in the afternoon, and good services and much interest was in evidence with all the other churches, the above being given personal mention for the special features they had.

Mr. Oscar Matthews, manager of the Nacogdoches Grocery Co., was in the city yesterday afternoon from Nacogdoches on business. He was a hurried visitor to the News office, and will read this paper from now on. The gentleman has many friends in this city, who are always glad to see him.—Lufkin News.

Dain Mowers and Hay Rakes

Did you ever see one? If you have not, then you should by all means look one over if you are interested in hay machinery.

DAIN MOWERS are very high clutched, consequently run very fast and do not choke.

DAIN MOWERS have thirty-three clutches and the cycle begins cutting the moment your team makes the first step. In this way it eliminates the constant back up to start.

DAIN MOWERS have the driving gears all very close together and in front of the axles or front, and are so constructed that the heavier the cutting the closer they mesh together.

DAIN MOWERS are built so that the heavier your cutting the closer the main drive wheels cling to the ground, and never buckle and leave the ground, causing your machine to choke.

Now, all we ask of you is a chance to show you this machine. Come in at your earliest convenience and look it over.

Yours to please

LADY MURDERED BY TRUSTED EMPLOYEE

Yesterday Mrs. J. S. Doughtie received a marked copy of the Macon Telegraph, Macon, Ga., giving an account of the murder of Miss Julia Catchings last Saturday night on her Quitman County plantation, near Eufaula, Ala. Miss Catchings had two plantations, one in Quitman county, and one in Caly county, Georgia. She was 66 years old and was never married, and managed her business. She had an overseer who had been with her for the past 30 years, but was away on a visit to the Clay county plantation. She was found on her gallery last Sunday morning, cold in death, and from the condition of her clothing showed that a great struggle had taken place, finger prints were on her throat, which showed she was strangled. On one of her clasped hands the coroner found, after prying it open, a ring, an article called a health ring. A negro on the plantation by the name of Henderson, and who had been in Miss Catchings employ for twenty years, and one of her trusted servants, was the owner of the ring, and after searching his house found evidence that showed he had been in a struggle. He was arrested and placed in jail at Georgetown, the county seat of Quitman county, and from the tone of the article the negro is no more by this time.

MR. V. RHEIN DEAD.

Mr. V. Rhein, father of our esteemed townsman, Mr. C. C. Rhein of the firm of Mayer & Schmidt, Inc., died at his home in Belleville, Ill., May 9th, at one o'clock in the afternoon, after a lingering illness of several weeks. Deceased was born on the 28th day of August, 1835, in Rockenhhausen, Bavarian Pfalz, Germany; moved to the United States with his parents when a child. This family took up their residence in the town where Mr. Rhein died.

Mr. Rhein was engaged in the merchant-tailoring business for nearly a half century, retiring about fifteen years ago—a success. He is survived by his good wife, three sons, three daughters and seven grand-children. Had he lived one year longer, Mr. and Mrs. Rhein would have been able to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Thus departed from this life with a clean record one of the early pioneers of Southern Illinois.

THE BOOSTER.

(Written by a ninth-grade boy of Nacogdoches High School.)

One of the greatest helps in the making of a live town is "the booster." He is the man who meets every visitor with a hearty handshake, showing him over the city, pointing out the advantages with pride. He also talks of the country which surrounds this town he wishes to up-build.

He is the man who attends the good roads' meetings and argues in their favor; he is the one who is on hand when new school buildings are to be discussed and discussed and adds a word of favor for these. In fact, any meetings for the good of the public attracts his attention. The smile which a lively man carries when he talks of the town has a way of making things "go."

Let's have more smiles and boosters so as to make old Nacogdoches the leading city of East Texas.

Rev. S. S. McKenney arrived in the city this morning from Houston. He will spend Sunday with his family, who are visiting here, and will officially visit the Marlin, Beaumont and Jacksonville District Conferences next week, in the interest of the Washington Representative Church, of which he is the Field Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Price and little son, J. M. Jr., left Sunday for Nacogdoches where they will consult the best physicians in the hope of benefitting their son, who was burned on the head when quite small. The many friends of the family sincerely hope that they will meet with encouragement and the little man may be given what nature intended him to enjoy, a sound body.—San Augustine Tribune.

CANNING CLUB GIRLS WILL VISIT FAIR

An announcement which is calculated to arouse a great deal of interest in this County, particularly among the Canning Club Girls, is that just issued by Miss Bess Mason, county agent in charge of Canning Clubs and the Extension Department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

According to this announcement, the State Fair of Texas, in co-operation with the A. & M. and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has completed a plan to establish, in connection with the State Fair, a monster Educational Encampment for girls of the Canning Clubs. One hundred girls will be entertained for the full week as guests of the Fair management, and, it is slated, scholarships to be awarded on a competitive basis to the girls making the best records in their Canning Club work in the respective Counties.

"All preparations have been completed," Miss Mason said. "And this Educational Encampment promises to be one of the most valuable features ever devised to supplement the Canning Club's work. I am informed that special and very attractive quarters will be provided for the girls in a beautiful and commodious building right on the Fair Grounds, and that they will have their own dining rooms and their own kitchens, presided over by skillful chefs.

"The purpose of this Encampment is to give these 100 girls an opportunity to study the splendid exhibits of the State Fair at first hand, and these studies will be prosecuted under the direction of A. & M. regular staff of county agents.

"While the prime purpose of the Fair in this respect is educational, ample preparations have been made for the pleasure of the girls who are successful in winning scholarships, and they will have an opportunity, under reasonable chaperonage to participate in all the delights of the amusement side of the Fair.

"I am going to make a very special effort to help every girl in the local canning club who signifies her intention of competing for one of these scholarships, and I sincerely hope that the successful girls from this County will make records that will compare favorably with those made by the successful contestants from other Counties.

"The girls who attend this Encampment will be surrounded with every comfort, convenience and safeguard. Chaperones will be provided for all occasions, and strict discipline will be maintained. In case of illness, the State Fair Hospital, located on the Fair Grounds, is equipped with every facility for prompt and scientific treatment, and a competent staff of physicians and trained nurses will always be in attendance.

"I think that the management of the State Fair is to be warmly commended for its conception of this brilliant idea, and the generous manner in which it is being carried out, and I sincerely hope that the parents of Canning Club Girls will co-operate with me in having their girls compete for these valuable Scholarships."

Keeping up to the Mark. "Spring fever" is not always a joke. If you feel dull and sluggish, tired and worn out, suffer from backache or weak back, rheumatism, sore muscles, stiff joints or other indication of kidney trouble, it will pay you to investigate Foley Kidney Pills. They are highly recommended as prompt and efficient aids to health.—Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

COMPANY B ON WAY TO BORDER

Timpson Times, Friday. Answering the call to duty by President Wilson, The "Fory Fusileers" Company B, 3rd., T. N. G., left last night for San Antonio, where the entire guard of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico will be mobilized. The company was delayed somewhat in getting away by reason of the fact that several members lived a distance from the town, while others were in other parts of Texas and they had to have time to get here. Several recruits were received yesterday and when the company marched aboard the train last night there were 70 privates and three officers. Other members will join the boys between here and San Antonio and it is estimated that the full strength of the company will total more than a hundred. Two pullmans and a baggage car were used to transport the boys on their trip.

The scene last night, when the hour for departure was rapidly approaching, was not without pathos. Many were the tears that were shed, and the very hardest of hearts were made to soften when several old gray-haired mothers threw their arms around their boys and kissed them good-bye. The occasion was very sad to many, while others seemed to be very jolly. As the train pulled out the boys were yelling, and waving good-bye to those whom they could see under the street lights. Back at the depot there were left behind many sad hearts, hearts that will not be lightened until the boys return from their trip—and just how long that will be is not known. The cars were attached to the midnight passenger train and the company expects to reach San Antonio some time tonight.

The Timpson company left here under command of Captain R. R. Morrison, 1st Lieutenant Jim Taylor and 2nd Lieutenant Louis Brown. Upon arriving at San Antonio the entire company will be under the command of the 3rd regiment, which is composed of the following officers, three of them being former members of the Timpson company: Colonel George P. Rains; lieutenant colonel J. S. Hoover; majors, Holman Taylor, J. D. Jennings, A. R. Scholars; adjutant, H. W. Kinnard; commissary, E. R. York; quartermaster, Henry Hockwald; inspector small arms practice, C. G. Duff; battalion adjutants, Archie Cates, E. B. Clements; battalion quartermasters and commissaries, A. J. Tims, Gordon R. Bell. A. E. Devine, Jr.; chaplain, John J. Campbell.

Wednesday night a large number of citizens gathered at the Armory Hall to tell the boys "good-bye" and to let them know that Timpson appreciates them. R. T. Blair called the house to order and Prof. Hartt acted as chairman. He called on several leading citizens to make short talks, which received a hearty welcome by the boys. Major J. D. Jennings told the boys that when they reached camp he wanted them to be men, and to help keep up Company B's record as the best company in the state. Others making short talks were: Rev. A. T. Walker, Rev. J. T. Bradbury, Rev. T. N. Fore, Rev. J. M. Newburn of Jacksonville, T. S. Garrison and R. T. Blair. At the conclusion of the program a number of school girls sang "America." The visitors shook hands with soldiers and wished them good luck on their journey.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

I am a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 1, Nacogdoches County, Texas, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

I do not think it necessary to state reasons here, or to make any argument or noise about it, but I do want it known that I earnestly desire this office, and that I solicit the kindly consideration and support of all concerned.

The office belongs to the people and they are entitled to faithful and efficient service.

If elected I will do my very best.

Obediently yours,

Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement of the uterus and would have to have an operation. This I refused to do so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it cured me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of this Pinkham remedy."—Mrs. MARY ANNAN, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 509 Howe St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it."—Mrs. E. M. OSGOOD, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

A great writer said—"Man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn." How true, how impressive. To illustrate—only think of the inhuman war in Europe. But humanity is human after all and so is inhumanity also human, and we find it at home in many varied shapes. Nearly forty-five years ago, on the 14th day of December, 1871, where the town of Linnflat was the capital of a large section of this country, and did business to the extent that might be a wonder in the present day, although that village now resembles a last year's bird-nest, there occurred or began then and there a sensational turmoil that exceeded the comprehension of that day from any point of view. The modern town of Trawick has now superseded and almost displaced Linnflat. These two villages are located fifteen miles north-westward from the city of Nacogdoches, and less than two miles apart.

At the date referred to a railroad had never been hoped for, but Linnflat was on the map, and not down in a flat, but high up in the lime-light.

This was just after the civil war, and Texas was under the iron rule of the carpetbag administration. E. J. Davis was governor because he was a republican. Democrats had been disfranchised because they had given "aid or sympathy to the rebellion." All the deserters of the Confederacy, all the negroes and a considerable part of the citizens who were good loyal union men, had turned tables, and followed the lead of newcomers who were sent here to hold office and hold down the rebels of the land.

They had nothing here except their carpet-bags, but they got gay and did stunts. Governor Davis, who had lived out on the wild western border and had commanded a so-called regiment in the federal army, organized a state police, out of this class of renegades, to keep order. This proved to be a travesty upon law and order.

Among those who became members of the Davis state police were Marion Hazlett and his son, Columbus Hazlett, who lived out in the brush eight miles west of the town of Nacogdoches and Bill Grayson, who lived out in the sticks, four miles north of Linnflat. "Clothed with a little brief authority" they thought themselves masters of the land, and not answerable to any civil government. They carried arms and rode around over the land seeking disloyal trouble makers. They had certain men spotted, both here and there, and they selected Linnflat for their field of operations because there was quite a sprinkle of republicans thereabouts, from whom they expected moral support.

They got into a fuss on the 14th of December, 1871, in the village of Linnflat, with David W. Harwell, and defiantly shot him to death. They proceeded to show their authority by loud and glaring words, acts and deeds by which they intimidated the citizens. "Squire Dawson, justice of the peace, was holding court there that day, and Squire Clute of Douglass, was there engaged as an attorney in a case on trial. These policemen were so disorderly that they not only disturbed the court, but actually broke it up. Squire Dawson issued warrants for their arrest but they belligerently defied all authority, even threatening to shoot any one who opposed them. Constable John Birdwell attempted to arrest them but they refused to yield. Harwell had been summoned by Constable Birdwell to assist him in keeping the peace.

Five days after this, during which these renegades had gathered a large band of armed negroes, Constable Birdwell was called out of bed at midnight, and when he opened the door of his dwelling he was shot dead. There was no doubt as to who did it.

The entire community became terrorized. These outrages backed up by armed bands numbering at first about fifty men, but soon increased to several hundred. What would follow no one knew. These war-like moves and gangs roamed over the country in a most boisterous and threatening manner.

The alarmed citizens sent runners to Sheriff R. D. Orton at Nacogdoches. He became at once the man of the hour and equal to the emergencies of the time. He quickly gathered a large posse and went to Linnflat. More runners came from there, bringing the most exciting news, which rapidly spread over the county, and brought more armed men to the sheriff's aid. It looked like "war to the knife and the knife to the hilt." The Hazlett band took several of the sheriff's posse prisoners and carried them away. One of these was Col. M. T. Whitaker who went to Hazlett to talk peace. Another was Sam White, who was considered disloyal. There were sequels to this, and other doings well worth relating, but space forbids their recital.

Sheriff Orton sent to Rusk and got Judge M. Priest, a republican, to come and try to influence these policemen to submit to law and order. But all to no avail. Orton sought and obtained a personal interview with Hazlett, and thus secured quiet, but no surrender. Hazlett and his gang of negroes and a few white fled. At last they disbanded and scattered, and peace followed the great war storm that had prevailed all over this county and Cherokee and Rusk.

The Hazlets never came back, but came to violent ends in Arkansas. Grayson was sent to the penitentiary but was afterwards pardoned and expressed penitence and lived orderly.

There was one noted fearless negro leader in the affair called Jordan King, who disappeared. He lived up near Nat.

This affair was known as the Linn Flat war. It was quite a sensational turbulence, and old timers recite many harrowing experiences that occurred. And in that day it was all the more exciting because there had been other political and military disturbances here, and several companies of federal soldiers had been stationed here to make the disloyal citizens cease to be rebellious.

There were giants in those days, self seen giants, who made the bad boys be good to the poor down-trodden negro—so they pretended, and disfranchised all such ex rebels, while the unrefined negro could vote and elect officers.

Terrible Croup Attack Quickly Repulsed By Old Reliable Remedy

Well known Georgia store keeper has mastered croup and colds for his family of ten with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The minute that hoarse terrifying croupy cough is heard in the home of T. J. Barber, of Jefferson, Ga., out comes Foley's Honey and Tar Compound—there's always a bottle ready. Here's what he says: "Two of my children, one boy and a girl, aged eight and six years respectively, had terrible attacks of croup last winter and I completely cured them with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I have ten in family and for years I've used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it never fails." Don't worry and save doctor bills—keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, in your home. One bottle lasts a long time—it's reliable and safe—and the last dose is as good as the first. Get the genuine. Stripling, Hazelwood & Co.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give

45,000 TROOPS ARE RUSHING TO BORDER

Washington, May 10.—Virtually the last American troops in the United States were being mobilized today for Mexican border service, with the National Guard of three States. They were under orders to hasten to reinforce General Funston's army.

The proposed military agreement between the Carranza and American government remained unsigned and General Obregon, Mexican war minister, after a three-hour decision with General Scott last night, arranged for still another conference today.

If the situation warrants, National guards of other States will be called out for border patrol duty, officials declared. Secretary Baker stated, however, no further mobilization orders are contemplated immediately.

MEXICANS PLOTTED TO TAKE TEXAS

San Antonio, Tex., May 11.—Additional arrests are expected to be made shortly by federal officials in connection with the plot for a Mexican uprising in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. The uprising, in which Col. Morin is said to be the leader, was originally set for May 5, then postponed until May 10, and further postponed beyond that date because of lack of funds.

According to agents of the department of justice, Morin's plan contemplated a general uprising in the three states. He is said to have 1,000 followers scattered through the territory. When the word was given by the leader it was planned to cut telephone and telegraph lines, destroy railroads, and attempt to capture certain towns.

Col. Morin may be brought to San Antonio for trial.

Farm Telephone Saved Child's Life

One of the Children fell into a water tank and was rescued unconscious and apparently lifeless.

The frantic mother telephoned to the doctor six miles away, and he started at once. In the meantime his assistant telephoned instructions and the mother restored the child to consciousness before the doctor arrived.

The telephone service saved the child's life.
