MR. JOHN BOOZER KILLED WITH AXE

ASSAULTED WHILE HE SLEPT IN HOME ABOUT 10:30 LAST NIGHT—WIFE TIED.

From Saturday's Daily.

One of the most deplorable tragedies in the history of Nacogdoches county occurred last night when Mr. John Boozer was killed with an axe while he slept in his home, and his wife was tied in a barn.

The tragedy occurred about 10:30 last night, and the particulars as near as we can get them from the officers who made the investigation are about as follows:

The son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boozer were away at an entertainment being held at Trinity school house, leaving the couple at home alone. They were sleeping on pallets made down on the floor, in the same room and near each other. While in this position Mr. Boozer was struck in the hand with an axe, knocking a great hole in his head and killing him instantly. When neighbors heard the outcry of Mrs. Boozer and came to the rescue, they found her out in the barn with a cotton plow line tied around her neck, with the other end thrown over the joist of the building, but her limbs were not fastened in any way, and she explains that the reason that she did not release herself was that she was badly frightened, following a spell of unconsciousness, that she had not thought of it, and had been unable to do anything further than scream for help.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Lambert, Constable Burrows and Esquire Frank Huston went out to the scene of the trouble and secured from Mrs. Boozer a statement in which she said that it was a man who came into their room, but she could not tell whether he was white or black, that he took her by the arm and lead her out, and that after leaving the room she became unconscious, finding herself in the position in which she was found by neighbors when she regained consciousness. She also said that he had a pistol in his hand, and threatened to kill her if she screamed.

The axe used belonged to the place, and signs of blood indicated that the party who used it had endeavored to clean off the blood on a stump in the yard. Constable Burrows brought the axe back with him.

The officers could find no tracks that would give them a clue, but say that a number of people had gathered in before they got there which would interrupt that part of an investigation. Nothing was torn up in the room, and no evidence of any struggle was to be found.

Esquire Frank Huston held an inquest over the remains of the dead man and a verdict was rendered to the effect that he came to his death with an axe in the hands of an assassin.

The news of the tragedy spread rapidly and practically the whole community gathered at the scene, while several went out from this place.

Mr. Boozer had resided in the community in which he died many years, and had the reputation of being a good citizen and a mighty good man, making the news come as a great shock to all. He had no designing enemies that the family knew of, making the assassination all the more mysterious.

Sheriff Spradley and other officers went out to the scene this morning, and will do everything in their power to run down some clue to arrive at the identity of the person who committed the assassination.

MRS. BOOZER ARRESTED; RELEASED ON BOND

From Monday's Daily.

After the funeral of Mr. John Boozer, who was assassinated while he slept in his home Friday night, report of which appeared in the paper Saturday, Sheriff Spradley and his deputies placed Mrs. Boozer, the widow of the dead man, under arrest and brought her to jail.

The unfortunate woman continued in a hysterical rage all night Saturday night, and on the advice of a physician the district attorney, W. B. O'Quinn recommended that she be released on bond pending an examining trial which will be held within the next few days. The amount of the bond was fixed by Esquire Frank Huston at $2000, which she readily made and was released.

A SAD FUNERAL.

All funerals are sad, but the service over the remains of Mr. John Boozer in the Trinity graveyard Saturday afternoon was especially so, the people seeming to feel deeply that a man had been ushered into eternity without a moment's warning.

Throughout the entire service, and the preparations incidental thereto, there was a hushed silence among the people of the community, who, in a spirit of beautiful charity, reserved their opinion in the matter and refrained from a discussion of the details of the tragedy.

Rev. Garard conducted the service, reading appropriate selections of scripture, speaking of the virtues of the life as he had known them, and offered feeling consolation to the bereaved ones. A large crowd was present, and all seemed to feel deeply the sadness of the hour.

MEXICANS FLOCK TO JOIN CARRAZA DURING CRISIS

El Paso, Tex., June 27.—Evidence that the possibility of war with the United States has healed the breach between the Carranza and Villa factions in Mexican politics continued to pile up here today. More than one hundred wealthy Mexicans who, prior to the surrender of the Villista garrison of Las Januarias had been active in supporting the bandit leader, and who since have been refugees in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande and were apparently received in good favor by officials of the de facto government.

Handbills, printed in Spanish, asserting that Villa himself had pledged to support the Carranza government in the event of a break with the United States were circulated in Juarez and to some extent in the Mexican quarter of El Paso. All reports, however, indicated that the bandit has not yet joined the Constitutionalist forces, but with a body of troops is somewhere in the Rio Florida district of Southern Chihuahua awaiting developments in the crisis.

Gen. Manuel Medina, former Villa's chief of staff, and Jose Ysabel Robels, minister of war in the Gutierrez cabinet, were guests today of Gen. Francisco Gonzales, commandant in Juarez. It was reported here that they will be assigned important commands in Gen. Trevino's army of the north.

Private advices here today said that several hundred men of the force of 10,000 Mexican troops which have been concentrated at Bustillos, 70 miles west of Chihuahua City, for the ostensible purpose of blocking any attempted American advance down the Mexican Northwest railway toward the capital, formerly were members of bandit bands, scattered and broken by Gen. Pershing's troops. Operating in conjunction with them, it was said, are the commands of Contreras and Canuto Reyes, former Villa leaders who recently were given amnesty by Gen. Trevino. Well-informed Mexicans here said today they had been informed that only a few of the scientific faction, the former wealthy land holders of the republic, are still under the ban of the authorities of the de facto government. Gen. Marcello former Orozco leader and adherent of Huerta, is now occupying a command at the Mexican field base at Villa Ahumada.

With the American demands before Carranza, the heaviest guard yet maintained was bivouaced about the two international bridges last night. From the Mexican side came reports that practically the entire former garrison was withdrawn to Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south. It is said a large command is entrenching there. The troop trains, to one of which is attached the private car of Gen. Gonzales and two cars of foodstuffs are waiting in Juarez to the field base should hostilities develop.

TWO MORE AMERICANS KILLED IN MEXICO

Douglas, Ariz., June 25.—William Robertson and Tom Snyder, American cattlemen have been killed by Mexicans southeast of Nacozari, Sonora, according to the statement today of Military officials from Agua Prieta. Officials at Arispe have telegraphed General P. Elias Calles confirming the death of A. R. Dickson, a British subject, who was wounded in the fight with Mexican cowboys in which Jim Parks, an American prospector, was killed.

A GOOD DISPLAY.

There has been on display at the drug store of Stripling, Haselwood & Co., a good display of agricultural products today, consisting of a stalk of corn about twelve feet long, a good stalk of cotton, and a bundle of Sudan grass.

The exhibit was brought in by Joel Birdwell, a stirring farmer of the Mahl community, who says that he has the best average, all around crop this year he has had in many years.

GRAVE YARD WORKING.

There will be a graveyard working at North Church Friday, July 7th. Bring hoes, rakes, pitchforks and wheelbarrows. Those interested who can neither come nor send some one may send a cash contribution to Mrs. Myrtle Lyles or myself with which to employ labor.

WORLD'S GREATEST FIGHTING SHIP.

It may interest Americans to know that the world's greatest fighting ship, pronounced the greatest battleship the world has ever known, was delivered to the United States government on June 1. An American magazine writer says the Pennsylvania takes her place upon the waters of the earth the superior of any craft that floats. Not only is the Pennsylvania the biggest battleship in the world but she has the capacity of hurling the greatest weight of destructive shells of all the nations of the world that enter the list as fighters upon the sea not one has a ship that equals the Pennsylvania in power. She mounts twelve great guns of fourteen-inch caliber, she is 600 feet long and 97 feet in width and is manned by 911 American seamen, 75 marines, 40 petty officers, 12 warrant officers, 18 junior officers, 25 wardroom officers or a population of 1,121 men. She has a speed of twenty-one knots, she is 13,400 tons of floating steel and in this one mighty ship has gone 8 cents for each man, woman and child beneath the flag, because she cost $13,000,000. Sea Power says so, and Sea Power is a magazine for the nation's defense. A fleet of Pennsylvanias should be able to sweep the seas and keep the peace of the world.—Fort Worth Record.

THE AMERICAN FARMER.

The Bache Review, issued by J. S. Bache & Co., New York bankers, had this to say last Saturday:

"Business has passed the first stages of extreme pressure and runaway price markets are no longer a danger. The peace talk and the recognition of the fact that at the end of the war, prices will have to come down to the level of new conditions, has created more conservatism, but this very conservatism has engendered more confidence. There is full employment of the people everywhere at good wages. Production of commodities in enormous quantities and at high prices is proceeding actively and labor is less restless, as the effect of wage adjustments all along the line. The crop reports are now receiving much attention. The Government weekly weather report is favorable for wheat, on the whole with denied improvements in the condition of corn in nearly all parts of the country. The weather for cotton also has been decidedly favorable this week. The first government report on cotton for the season, which came out June 1, shows a condition on May 25 of 77.5, compared with normal; 79.8 is the average for ten years to the date mentioned. The big 1914 crop however, showed at this time only 74.3. No calculation of acreage will be made by the Department until July 1, but an offhand estimate shows from 6 per cent to 10 per cent acreage gains, the larger increase being in the extreme South and West. The season is two to four weeks late, cold and droughts have retarded germination, but there are very few complaints of insects and the fields are generally well prepared. There has not been much replanting. Seed is scarce and high, but labor is plentiful. Acreage last year was nearly 31,000,000—the crop 11,955,000 bales. If the 10 per cent increase holds, there is under cultivation this year 34,000,000 acres. In the 16,000,000-bale crop of 1914 the acreage was 36,722,000. In 1912, with a 34,766,000 acreage, the crop was 14,000,000 bales."

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER COMING TO NACOGDOCHES

The Sentinel is requested to give notice that Rev. Will B. Upshaw, a representative of the Anti Saloon League of America, will speak at the court house in this city next Tuesday night, to which the general public is invited. Mr. Upshaw is a distinguished speaker and writer, ranking with the leaders engaged in this work, and those who hear him will enjoy a great treat.

A special invitation is extended to the ladies, and people from all parts of the country are invited.

A speaker of this gentleman's renown should insure a great crowd.

Mrs. John Clark and son of San Augustine were in the city yesterday, coming for a consultation with a local architect who is drawing plans for a new house the family will soon build on the site in which their home was recently destroyed by fire.

To The Public.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion for the past six months, and it affords me pleasure to say I have never used a remedy that did me so much good."—Mrs. C. E. Riley of Illion, N. Y. Chamberlain's Tablets are obtainable everywhere. dw

Mr. Jas. D. Greer, county agricultural agent, went to Alto today where the National government requested him to deliver an address to the citizens in the matter of destroying the boll weevils. Mr. Greer has made a record for himself in this work, and the government looks upon him as a special man. He uses cultural methods, all experiments of poison having proven fruitless, and has in course of preparation a letter to the farmers of Nacogdoches county which will be published in the papers.

Nacogdoches adds another metropolitan air with an automatic street sweeper—but she hasn't caught suitable sidewalk fever, yet. What in the Sam Hill is the matter with this feature of our patriotism?

Secretary Lansing very wisely informs the Latin-American mediation committee that the United States government has nothing to mediate with Mexico. It is all we can do to keep the Mexicans off us while the diplomatic correspondence is in progress, and we haven't put up even a good defense so far.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel says that city has just added another metropolitan convenience, consisting of an automatic street sweeper. It is possibly a duplicate of the one which Lufkin has been using for so long. You can never tell about these things, unless you know.—Lufkin News.

The Sentinel would like to write an editorial about affairs in Mexico, dwelling particularly on the outlook for war, but we cannot risk our reputation as a prophet just yet. This much we can say without fear of successful contradiction—a few days of war are needed to clear the borderland of the cut throats and bandits who have no regard for our rights.

Good roads open the way for the development of the country—the arteries to the interior where people can travel in comfort and view the opportunities offered with good land, and afterward find a way to market with their produce. Likewise are sidewalks the arteries of the town, and we must have both before we ever reach that stage of development to which our glorious country is entitled.

Nacogdoches boys won the first game in the engagement with the East Texas Baseball League—and they will be heard from some more. Pin your faith to them.—Nacogdoches Sentinel. The Lufkin boys lost their first game; but it is said that a bad beginning usually makes a good ending—therefore watch Lufkin's smoke.—Lufkin News.

In explaining why the candidates of Angelina county met at the fire station for debate of their claims, the Lufkin Daily News says: "Be careful, brother; the candidates met at the place mentioned for the reason that they met there—and that was about all there was to it. They will meet there again."

An admiring subscriber has presented the Carthage Watchman with a cabbage weighing fifteen pounds. It is now up to the Nacogdoches Sentinel to again call attention to the receipt of a bale of hay.—Longview Times-Clarion.

Are you hungry, again? Nay, we will let you starve for the hateful exposure.

Col. Roosevelt has formally turned down the nomination for president on the progressive republican ticket, and the convention recommends that the progressives support Hughes and the regulars. Those of the progressive ranks who do not see fit to do so, can support the democratic ticket—and there will be many who will do so. Coming as a sort of prescription from the leaders who could not offer something better the enthusiasm of faith has been killed—and enthusiasm is a very necessary element in politics.

Irish potatoes should be put in storage and sold to the home market in the fall and winter months.—Henderson Times.

That is a great truth spoken in a few words. The writer once knew a merchant who would grow two or three acres in Irish potatoes each year, and at "digging time" would store them in a cellar. In the winter months when the price was at the top he would supply his store for the retail trade. Irish potatoes are easily kept if sane methods are used and no crop is more valuable if marketed at the right time.

The News gets the following through the mail from a local citizen and friend of the paper, and the question is asked can the editor do anything for it? The answer is that the editor can do absolutely nothing; he wouldn't know where to begin in the first place, and it is certain that he would not know where to end. If Kate caught cold in one place and got wet in another, whose business is it anyhow? The item follows:

"A teacher in one of the rural schools received the following note: 'Dear Teacher: Kate couldn't come today; she got wet in the A. M. and cold in the P. M.'—Mrs. G."—Lufkin News.

WAR AND HIGH PRICES.

War is responsible for high prices. There are millions fighting today who were producing food two years ago. The London Economist shows that the prices of food products are climbing sky high. The figures for May show a further advance of 129 points following an advance of 177 points in April. The present index number is 4,319, which reflects an increase of 96.3 per cent over the average quotations for the five-year period of 1901-'05, which is the basis of the compilation. This represents a further rise of 3 per cent over April, and 14 per cent over March. The advances during the month are most sharply emphasized in cereals and meats, as well as in other such food products as coffee and sugar. Further gains also are reported in textiles and minerals. Heavy goods, such as timber and leather remain stationary. Cables state that prices are rising steadily, especially for meat, which involves much suffering among the poor. The poor always suffer. In times of peace when business stagnation comes they suffer. In times of war when the price of necessities of life soar higher and higher, they suffer.

But there is another side. Wages are higher in Great Britain today than ever before and all who are willing to work, regardless of sex are given employment and are well paid for their services. It is the same in all the centers of activity throughout France and this holds good in all the belligerent countries.

There are few idle men in the labor or manufacturing centers of the United States. There has been an extraordinary demand for skilled labor and now that harvesting is on there is a call for thousands of harvesters throughout the wheat-growing sections.

This is a busy year the world over. Many organizations of skilled labor are demanding wage advances and shorter hours. European countries are not sending their surplus toilers to this land of the free.

They are busy at home. Since the beginning of the war 5,000,000 men have been slain. This must have made an awful gap in the ranks of the European army of producers of raw wealth. When war comes civilization must pay the price and the countries engaged are those which are taxed the heaviest, but neutral nations are never exempt from the cost.—Fort Worth Record.

A BAD PRACTICE.

Complaint is made that the practice is growing in this and other counties to impose on the candidates in many different schemes of public enterprise, some going so far as to assess them with a threat of boycott if they fail to respond.

Doubtless not intended as such, but it is a fact nevertheless, that such practice is a form of blackmail which is very unjust.

In the great body of candidates who offer for office, only one for each place can be elected. The defeated ones, as well as those who are successful, must of necessity lose about six months time in making the race, as well as several hundred dollars of legitimate expense. As a rule only men of moderate circumstances make the race for public office, the people of better circumstances having a better job, and it takes those who lose several years to overcome the loss, while those who are elected are robbed of much of the profit to which they are justly entitled.

We demand good, honest service from our officers, and for this service they are justly entitled to all the remuneration they receive for the work. We also want good, clean men in office, and if we demand such of them, we should give them a square deal in return, failure in which the better class of men will cease to offer for the various positions.

This practice has doubtless been developed in a thoughtless way, and will be discouraged by the better class of people when their attention is called to it, which we are endeavoring to do in these observations.

The Houston papers announce that arrangements have been perfected for piping gas from the Caddo oil fields to that city, and that as soon as the work was completed, Houston people will use natural gas for fuel. The pipe line will have to pass somewhere through this section, and if a committee of progressive citizens would get busy on the matter, Nacogdoches might be able to tap the line. For fuel purposes gas costs less than one-fourth the price of other material, is more convenient and sanitary, and the enterprise is worth going after.

Mrs. T. J. Tillery, living out on Route No. 2, presented The Sentinel with the largest beet and two of the largest tomatoes we have seen this season. The vegetables were grown by her daughter Miss Irene, who is a valued member of the County Canning Club Girls, and this exhibit proves her success.

THE WILSON ADMINISTRATION RICH WITH ACHIEVEMENT

Senator Culberson Writes Texas Democrats of What Has Been Accomplished and What is Planned.

Washington, D. C., June 22, 1916. To the Democrats of Texas:

At the outset of my candidacy for reelection to the Senate I recalled to you my modest share in the nomination of President Wilson in 1912 and pride which all democrats should feel in the notable achievements of his administration. These achievements are indeed more than notable. They are extraordinary and brilliant, and some of them are masterpieces of original and constructive statesmanship.

So much had the people suffered under Republican misrule and misgovernment that the President did not wait for the regular session of the Congress but called that body in extraordinary session, and it revised the tariff, imposed an income tax, and reformed the national banking system. The fundamental principle of the tariff act passed under this administration is that the rates were reduced to a competitive basis and the partnership theretofore existing between the protected interests and the Republican party in the use of the taxing power was totally dissolved, and this power restored to the people to be used solely for public and governmental purposes. When it is remembered that the protective tariff obviously fosters trusts and combinations in trade, by this prompt and decisive action in removing this protection to conspiracies in commerce this service to the public was greatly enhanced. Coincident with the revision of the tariff an income tax was imposed, making this a permanent part of the national system of taxation, under which one hundred million dollars in taxes is to be lifted annually from articles of consumption and placed on the wealth of the land because it is more able to bear it and because in the very nature of the case it enjoys the greater benefits of government. In fitting association with this legislation on the tariff and income taxation, the Federal Reserve Banking system was conceived and inaugurated under which combinations of banks, as in the panic of 1907, will be impossible and other important and useful banking purposes will be subserved. It is a legislative monument in itself to the administration, entitling it to the approval and endorsement of the country.

At the regular sessions of the Congress which have followed the special session just noted other great laws have been passed in the interest of the people. Present among these is the act creating the Federal Trade Commission, under which unfair competition in trade is provided against, and generally the Commission is authorized by appropriate legal proceedings to regulate trade, keep it within the limits of fair dealing, and thus avoid the creation of trusts and combinations. Allied to this is the law which is known as the Clayton antitrust act, which I handled in its passage through the Senate. Put in general terms, it supplemented the Sherman antitrust law of 1890, by making illegal acts, which in themselves may not amount to trusts but which tend to their formation. This law also contains provisions of transcendent importance to organized labor and which is thus justly characterized by the National Democratic Platform which was recently adopted at St. Louis:

"We have lifted human labor from the category of commodities, and have secured to the workingman the right to voluntary association for his protection and welfare. We have protected the rights of the laborer against the unwarranted issuance of writs of injunction, and have guaranteed to him the right of trial by jury in cases of alleged contempt committed outside the presence of the court."

Great interest in the farmer, also, has been shown by the National Democratic administration. Two years ago a cotton futures act was passed and approved by the President. At each recurring season government funds have been placed at convenient centers to assist in the movement of crops; and strenuous efforts have been made, though so far successfully resisted by the Republican party in the interest of the shipping trust, to provide ships sufficient to carry our products to foreign markets. Comprehensive Good Roads Bills have been passed by the two Houses of Congress and are now in conference. Under the Federal Reserve Banking system now in operation, and the Rural Credits Act which will soon become a law, provision has been made whereby rural credits are made available. By these acts the farmer has been placed on equal terms with the merchant, manufacturer, and other borrowers in the utilization of his capital. Beside these important matters of legislation the administration has given intelligent and highly profitable attention to the practical side of agriculture through farm demonstrations, which are of inestimable value to the farming interests.

If to these things done and accomplished there be added the fact that private and special interests have been driven from power and that popular government has been re-established it presents a record without parallel in party history.

Conspicuous as has been the course of the administration in our domestic affairs, it has perhaps been more so in our foreign relations, particularly with reference to the disorders in Mexico and the war in Europe. The Mexican situation, up to the point of the invasion of our territory, the destruction of our property and the murder of our citizens here, presented the single broad question whether this government should intervene between warring factions in Mexico and set up a government there by force of arms. It was simply civil war there between citizens of that republic with which we were not directly concerned. It has not reached the stage of war that shocks humanity and would justify intervention in the interest of mankind, as was the case of Cuba in 1898.

In such conditions the President, resisting importunities and threats from many sources, wisely and bravely held aloof and refused the demands for intervention. When, however, our territory was invaded, our property destroyed and our citizens murdered at Columbus, New Mexico, and subsequently at other places on the border whether bandits were abetted or not by the de facto government, a totally different question was presented, and the President promptly and vigorously asserted American rights and is now aggressively pursuing that policy. And it may be safely believed that he will not falter in his purpose until brigandage on the border has absolutely ceased and our people there are entirely secure in their lives and property. The war in Europe of course presents difficulties and dangers immensely greater than the civil strife in Mexico, and our relations to it have been conducted by the President with a courage and statesmanship which will win for him an exalted place in history. He has been actuated by the supreme desire and purpose to preserve the rights of the people of the United States incident to this conflict and he has preferred to do so through the ways of peace rather than through those of war.

On one side were the carnage and blood of battle, the destruction of life and property, and the arrest of the progress of the world, and on the other were the countless blessings of peace and orderly advancement of the nations. The service of the President in this titanic conflict has been a commanding contribution not alone to us and to Europe but to mankind and to civilization. When this is recalled and pondered it is astonishing and lamentable that criticism of his course should come from any quarter.

C. A. CULBERSON.

TWO DOLLARS.

Once there were two dollars in Honey Grove. They were as much alike as two peas, had the same glitter and the same ring. They were good dollars, full of patriotism and anxious to do their town and country a good turn. But those dollars had to separate. One of them fell into the hands of a loyal hearted man. He paid with it a debt he owed the grocer, but the dollar didn't stop in the grocer's till, for the grocer gave it to a countryman in payment for butter and eggs. The countryman paid it to the butcher, who paid it to a farmer from whom he bought a yearling. And so the dollar kept busy all day in and day out. It paid debts, it bought goods at the stores and on the farm. It helped to build school houses, it helped to build churches, it paid the preacher, it relieved distress, it provided comforts for men and women, it made the hearts of children glad. Today that dollar is worn sleek, having lost its polish from much use, but it continues its good work of rejoicing hundreds every month. Doubtless it has jingled in your pocket, and has brought gladness to the hearts of your children; doubtless it has relieved distress in your immediate community. The other fell into the hands of a man who cared not for his country or his people. He sent it away to a big rich mail order house, and from there it went into the coffers of a great foreign corporation. Today that dollar is covered with rust and is sleeping in a vault far from the people it would have gladly served. Every man is in a way responsible for the dollar that comes into his possession. He can make them serve or impoverish his country. Be careful where you send your dollars.—Honey Grove Signal.

THREE YEARS AND $1000 FINE EACH IN MILITIA CASE

Austin, Texas, June 22.—Federal Judge Gordon Russell yesterday passed sentence on E. E. Walker, former assistant quartermaster general of the Texas National Guard, and George J. Head, former captain of the Brownsville company of the Texas National Guard, on conviction of charges growing out of the conversion of condemned military stores and supplies.

Walker was given two years and a fine of $500 on the charge of conspiracy to defraud, on which he was convicted after a plea of not guilty. On plea of guilty he was given one year and one day and $500 fine on one joint indictment charging embezzlement and the other embezzlement and theft. The sentence was made concurrent, making Walker's net sentence three years and one day and $1100 fine.

Head was sentenced to two years and a fine of $500 in the conspiracy to defraud case, and one year and one day in the joint embezzlement case. He pleaded not guilty in both cases. Another charge of embezzlement, against Head was dismissed.

Neither Walker nor Head gave notice of appeal.

16,000 MEN FOR TEXAS

Austin, Texas, June 22.—In the event President Wilson issues a call for 400,000 volunteers, as is very likely, according to Washington dispatches Texas' quota will be 16,000 declared Adjutant General Hutchings. From the number of applications for enlistment and the formation of additional companies for the Texas National Guard, being daily received by the Adjutant general's department, it is not believed that any great difficulty would be experienced in getting the 16,000 volunteers for service in Mexico.

When the Texas militia has been mustered to its full war strength, there will be a total of 6220 men and officers, and should 16,000 additional volunteers be sworn in for service of the regular army, Texas would have supplied 22,200 men. General Hutchings has just returned from San Antonio, where it is understood he conferred with the military authorities at Fort Sam Houston, although General Hutchings declined to discuss the nature of his trip to Washington. He said that no orders had been received to recruit any of the volunteers as yet.

TO MAKE GUN COTTON

Dallas, Texas, June 22.—Dallas has one munitions factory in the process of construction and probably within six months another will be built. Machinery has already arrived here, a site has been surveyed and spur tracks constructed to a mill six miles south of Dallas, where gun cotton, a powerful explosive, will be manufactured. The plant is being constructed by M. H. and C. H. and F. D. Thomas of Dallas, and will have a capacity of 30,000 pounds of gun cotton daily.

It was learned Thursday that the new cotton mill to be erected at Maple avenue and the Denton branch of the Katy, by a firm headed by Alston Boyd of Memphis Tenn., will later in the season put in a bleaching plant to prepare lint for the manufacturing of gun cotton. This plant, however, may not actually manufacture the gun cotton, it is said, but will make the pulp which, when chemically treated makes the preparation explosive.

The Thomas plant has already closed contracts with a European government to furnish gun cotton. In addition to the manufacture of gun cotton, bandages and other surgical supplies.

Mrs. Geo. F. Rainbolt and children arrived home this afternoon from an extended visit to the lady's mother and other relatives and friends in Oklahoma.

LONGVIEW GIRL WILL BE ADMITTED TO BAR

Longview, Texas, June 22.—Advices received here today were to the effect that Miss Margaret Hill of this place had passed the examination for license to practice law, she having appeared before the board of legal examiners convening at Texarkana last week and took the examination. These advices state that the young woman probably will lead the entire class of some twenty-five in her general average. This examination was a special examination held for the benefit of students of Lebanon law school. Miss Hill will be engaged in the law practice with W. C. Scouts, an attorney here, for whom she has been employed as stenographer several years, and expects to act exclusively as counselor rather than an advocate or court attorney. She is the first woman to engage in the practice of law at this place.

FLEET CAN EASILY BLOCKADE MEXICO

San Diego, Cal., June 21.—The flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers, consisting of the Hull, flagship of Lieut. W. W. Bradley, flotilla commander; the Hopkins and the Truxton were in readiness early today for a dash down the Mexican west coast to join other units of the Pacific fleet which either are already in Mexican ports or on their way. The United States cruiser San Diego, flagship of Admiral Winslow, departed yesterday, presumably for Guaymas or Mazatlan, closely followed by the cruisers Pittsburg, flagship of Rear Admiral Fullam, commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet, and the Colorado.

Authorities here on naval matters said that Admiral Winslow, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet could blockade effectively within a brief space, every port on the Mexican west coast if events rendered such action necessary.

The armored cruiser Maryland which departed from the Puget Sound navy yard yesterday, was expected here in a few days. The cruiser South Dakota, scheduled to leave the Puget Sound yard today, was to take aboard every available marine at the northern port, call at San Francisco for the same purpose and proceed to San Diego for orders, it was announced.

The disposition of the fleet in Mexican waters will be substantially as follows by Sunday morning, it was learned today.

At San de Cabo, destroyer Hopkins.

At La Paz, destroyer Hull.

At Guaymas, cruiser Cleveland; supply steamer Glacier; armored cruiser Maryland.

At Topolobampo, gunboat Yorktown, destroyer Truxton.

At Mazatlan, cruiser San Diego; gunboat Annapolis.

At Manzanillo, cruisers Denver, Raleigh.

At Acapulco, cruiser Chattanooga.

En route: Cruiser Milwaukee from San Diego; cruiser South Dakota from Puget Sound.

MEXICANS ABANDON CITY UPON BORDER

Brownsville, June 21.—The evacuation of Matamoros, the Mexican town opposite here, which ordinarily has a population of about 5,000, of practically all civilians and soldiers and the establishment of Gen. Alfredo Ricaut's new headquarters ten miles inland, has given a new turn to the border situation here that is puzzling military authorities generally. Gen. Ricaut is in direct telegraphic communication with Mexico City.

The civilian population became panic-stricken this morning when the soldiers moved southward, and those remaining quickly fled in every direction from the city. The streets of the town are deserted, the postoffice and other government buildings closed and only a few soldiers, including a guard at the international bridge, are to be seen.

It was reported in Brownsville, following the evacuation of the city, that a liberal amount of dynamite had been placed in various sections, to be exploded in the event American forces crossed the river.

The country into which the Mexicans have gone is devastated and drouth-stricken, without water and without crops, and with what little remained either removed to the interior or killed for beef.

Gen. James Parker, commanding the Brownsville district, has withdrawn the soldiers stationed at San Pedro ranch, ten miles up the river, since the soldiers came back from Mexico Sunday. A company of auto trucks arrived today.

MEXICANS STARVING.

El Paso, June 26.—With reports that thousands of people in northern Mexico are on the verge of starvation and that the economic situation daily is becoming more acute, fears were expressed that the natives might attack an American motor supply train to obtain food. A refugee from Mexico City said that in northern Durango men and women who no longer had clothing to cover themselves crowded about the train and cried for food. He said they fought as beasts over orange peeling which fellow-travelers

THE REFLECTIONS OF A MARRIED WOMAN

It is not pleasant if she is delicate, run-down, or overworked. She feels "played out," her smiles and her good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself. This is the time to build up her strength—and cure those weaknesses or ailments which are the seat of her trouble. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength. It cures those disorders and derangements incident to womanhood.

Mrs. LUCINDA AMERSON, 3212 Dallas Avenue, Dallas, Texas, says: "My mother used Dr. Pierce's medicine over thirty years ago and recommended them to me. I have used the Favorite Prescription during my married life and found this remedy was all that was claimed for it."

"I ORDERED THE FIGHT" IS CARRANZA'S DEFI

In reply to Secretary Lansing's demand for an explanation of Mexico with reference to the Carrizal fight, the Mexican government represents that it was the order of Gen. Carranza that resistance be offered to American troops who attempted to go further into the territory of the republic, or break the course to the east or west. In answer to this arrogant reply the American government has directed the following communication which is considered to be equivalent to a declaration of war in military circles:

"You are hereby instructed to hand to the minister of foreign relations of the de facto government the following: "The government of the United States can put no other construction upon the communication handed to the secretary of state of the United States on the 24th of June, by Mr. Arredondo, under instructions of your government, than that it is intended as a formal avowal of deliberate hostile action against the forces of the United States now in Mexico, and of the purpose to attack them without provocation whenever they move from their present position in pursuance of the objects for which they were sent there, notwithstanding the fact that those objects not only involve no unfriendly intention toward the government and the people of Mexico, but are, on the contrary intended only to assist that government in protecting itself and the territory and people of the United States against irresponsible and insurgent bands of rebel marauders."

"I am instructed, therefore, by my government to demand the immediate release of prisoners taken in the encounter at Carrizal, together with any property of the United States taken with them, and to inform you that the government of the United States expects an early statement from your government as to the course of action it wishes the government of the United States to understand it has determined upon, and that it also expects that this statement be made through the usual diplomatic channels and not through subordinate commanders."

The action taken by the court clears up a serious muddle and makes it mandatory upon the state democratic executive committee to collect the assessments for the second primary.

THE TROOPS ARE IN FINE FIGHTING TRIM

El Paso, June 26.—Gen. John J. Pershing's erstwhile punitive expeditionary force in Mexico, about 12,000 men, is ready for action, if action is necessary.

Today, according to the best information here, his southernmost outpost, is in the vicinity of El Valle, less than fifty miles from Colonia Dublan, the main base. It is believed that from El Valle, a large and mobile army force may be pointed eastward toward the Mexican Central railroad.

Reports from the front indicate the highest morale among the men. Equipment has been put in the best of condition. Horses and mules have been tested until only the fit and strong remain. Big motor trains, already loaded with the necessary supplies for an advance, are lined up ready to be started.

There is not a wounded or incapacitated man with the force. All have been sent to the base hospital at Columbus.

In the meantime every empty motor truck which remained at Columbus has been sent to the front to aid in the speedy transportation of infantry.

Speculation on the border today dealt with the possibility that some action by the Mexicans might precipitate hostilities before the exchanges between Washington and Mexico City are concluded.

With the lines of the Mexicans and Americans stretching parallel for 150 miles, the rash action of some subordinate officer, it is feared here, might at any time embroil the main commands. Tension, consequently, grows with each hour.

Fear that events might be thus hastened prompted border commanders to redouble their vigilance. Troop dispositions were made with a view to meeting sudden and unexpected emergencies.

Five thousand national guardsmen are expected to come to El Paso, it was said today, and many of them may get there by the end of the week.

From Columbus it is reported that preparations are being made to take care of 10,000 guardsmen.

Andres Garcia, the Mexican consul at El Paso, today declared himself still optimistic that trouble would be averted.

"I do not see that there need be war, from my interpretation of President Wilson's last note," he declared. These seventeen prisoners ought not to offer any obstacle. We have received no information from the de facto authorities as to the questions on hand, and the whole matter is up to Gen. Carranza."

Mrs. R. D. Whitaker has returned from a visit to relatives at Wills Point and other places.

DOUBLE ASSESSMENTS TWO PRIMARIES UPHELD

Austin, Texas, June 24.—The supreme court before adjournment today upheld an opinion in which it upheld the right of the state democratic executive committee to assess county and precinct candidates for funds with which to defray the second senatorial primary. The opinion, which was written by Associate Justice Hawkins and concurred in by the court, held that under the acts of 1913 the state committee was clothed with the power to levy the assessment in order that a United States Senator might be elected by a majority of votes as prescribed by law.

The case at issue originated at Fort Worth late in May, when Sam S. Beene a candidate for justice of the peace sought to enjoin Chairman Paul Waples and the members of the state democratic executive committee from levying an assessment to defray the cost of second senatorial primary election. The case was presented on an appeal to the appellate court at Fort Worth and reached the supreme court on certified questions, four in number.

The first question, "Is section 34 of said act above referred to (general laws of 1913, special session, chapter 39, page 101) unconstitutional?" The court answered in the negative, thus making it unnecessary to deal with the three remaining questions.

Section 34 reads: "At each and every primary held for the nomination of a candidate for United States senator, the election shall be conducted by the duly appointed and constituted places and voting precincts throughout the state, who shall be paid as provided by law for holding elections in other cases."

The court held that the reference "shall be paid as provided by law," points directly to the general primary law and not to the general election law, inasmuch as the latter does not deal with the same subject.

The expenses of the general primary are not paid out in public funds, but by assessment against the state, district, county and precinct candidates.

The action taken by the court clears up a serious muddle and makes it mandatory upon the state democratic executive committee to collect the assessments for the second primary.

FEARED THAT CAVALRY WAS WIPED OUT

San Antonio, Tex., 23.—The two troops of the Tenth Cavalry under Capt. Charles T. Boyd were practically wiped out by the attack of Mexican forces under Gen. Felix Gomez at Carrizal, June 21, according to indications given in a fragmentary report received by General Funston from General Pershing tonight.

General Pershing's messages stated that seven survivors in all, including those who arrived last night, have reached the main column. All were enlisted men—but the report did not say whether there were non-commissioned officers among them.

According to the stories of the survivors, as outlined in General Pershing's report, a mounted force of Mexicans made a charge from the flank at the conclusion of a parley between Captain Boyd and General Gomez at the same time reached his lines.

Captain Boyd had ordered his men to dismount as the machine gun opened fire, and the combined effect of the Mexican charge, the machine gun fire and the rifle fire from the Mexican garrison of Carrizal, which had almost surrounded the little American force under cover of parley sought by General Gomez to discuss whether Captain Boyd should be allowed to pass through the town, stampeded the horses.

No details were made known to General Pershing as to whether the Mexican charge was checked.

TYLER COUNTY VOTES $75,000 ROAD BONDS

The voters of Precinct No. 1, Tyler county, have voted $75,000 worth of road bonds. This precinct begins at the north line of Mardin county and extends to within four miles of Woodville. Practically all of the road through Hardin county has already been improved. The road from Beaumont to Voth is one of the best roads in the county. With the improvement of the road in Tyler county, there will be a good road practically all the way from Beaumont to Woodville. Kirbyville Banner.

THE GOVERNOR'S VIEW.

Dallas, Texas, June 24.—"I want Texas people to realize that Texas is facing the gravest situation possibly of its history. Tonight we can not tell what the next border incident will be, nor what its ultimate outcome will mean. We all know that Mexico is a danger pit and that our army is in it."

"We know that the government is sending 100,000 men to the border at a cost of $500,000 a day. Before they reach the border posts to relieve the regular army they will have cost about $14,000,000. Is this expenditure being made with no ultimate object in view? The little delicate moves, the care being taken when the United States must make a definite conclusion for peace or war, leads me to believe that these troops are definite in their purpose.

FAIRVIEW LOCALS.

The allies of Europe who are engaged in war with Germany are very anxious that the United States may be spared a war with Mexico for the reason that we would have to shut off the supply of war material now going to them. For the same reason Germany would doubtless like to see us engaged. Such is the example of European patriotism, but from the republics of South America we have the genuine article, those nations hoping that war can be averted in the interest of humanity.

The entire stock in hand of some two or three political aspirants for high office in Texas seems to be that they spent the early years of their lives engaged in hard, manual labor. But they must remember that there are not offices enough to go around, and there are about 97 per cent of us who not only labored in our youth, but are still digging away, and they've got to show the voters of great Commonwealth other qualifications than that of corn-scarred hands if they want the proper hoist.—Hamilton Record.

An exchange tells the story of a boy who was sent to market with a sackful of rabbits, lingering around town all day and coming back without selling them. When asked by his mother why he had not sold the rabbits, he said no one asked him what was in the sack. How many of our merchants are like this little boy? They have plenty of goods for sale but fail to tell the people what is in the sack. If you expect to sell goods in this day and age, you must keep open your sack, and keep shouting the merits of your stock in trade.—Meridian Tribune.

There is just one interpretation of the peace talk getting past the censors in European capitals. These peace suggestions are the beginnings of negotiation. They are thrown out with specified authority, but in the right place and stick. They are what Homer called "winged words." These tentative negotiations are just as carefully planned as any battle, and if the desired effect is not obtained they may cease. Even then, however, their results can not be withdrawn. Some knowledge of possible peace terms will get around, and in England and Germany, at least, peace parties will appear. When each passing day of war causes such irreparable loss the desire for peace can not be far under the surface.—San Francisco Bulletin.

WHY A $40,000 MAN GOT FIRED.

In the July Woman's Home Companion is the following story of how and why a $40,000 man got fired:

"A big commercial house in the middle West raised the salary of one of its officers to $40,000 a year.

"The officer was greatly pleased.

"Now my ambition is satisfied," he said.

"Within two years the concern had found a way to dispense with this officer's services. It was done cleverly and smoothly; the man never suspected the real reason why he was released.

"The head of the concern had overheard his remark. 'We want no men in this business whose ambition is satisfied,' he said. 'When a man is satisfied, when he ceases to plan and fight for the future, we begin to lose money on him.'"

COURTS AND JUDICIAL REFORM. LANSING WILL BE PRESIDENT FOR A DAY.

Judge Geo. F. Ingraham contributed the following very sensible article on the subject of "Courts and Judicial Reform" to Sunday's issue of the Houston Chronicle:

Will the payment of higher salaries insure better judges—judges who will work more and harder, give more of their time to their judicial duties and decide cases better and more satisfactorily? Will it not result in the election of the smoothest politician?

If the judiciary is to be placed upon a money-making basis mainly, won't it have the effect to make a greater scramble for the glittering prize? It by no means follows, in my judgment, that because a lawyer is a successful practitioner and makes a great deal of money that he will make a good judge.

My information is that one of the best judges the Supreme Court of this state ever had was rather an indifferent success as a practicing lawyer. It does not follow that because a man is a good floor manager in a courtroom he will be a good judge. My observation is the other way.

If you are in earnest about judicial reform, then I think, as is the case in all other reforms, you had better begin at the bottom and work up, and not at the top and work down.

A straightforward man is just as much interested in his $19.50 lawsuit as he would be in one for $19,500. Of course the amounts are quite different, but in each case such a man brings his suit because he believes he has been wronged and he wants the wrong made right and does all he knows how to get it right. No client I ever had was satisfied with the judgment of any court, high or low, that decided his case against him and contrary to what he believed was right, but when he had done his best all he could do was to submit.

These $19.50 cases can not be appealed; a man has to take what he can get and submit, and this is on the theory that it is better to have these little cases decided at once and ended, even where they are decided wrong. This same rule might be extended to other cases in larger amounts and thus cut off in larger lot of appealed cases. The rule is just as fair for the big man as the little one! Make it the rule and apply it to all litigants. Make it absolute up to $100 in justice courts and to $500 in county courts, without regard to any cross plea that could be filed in the case, the plaintiff's claim alone as to amount fixing the jurisdiction. Not let where plaintiff sues for $15 for a hog killed by a railroad be met by a cross action that the hog was guilty of contributory negligence, was a trespasser on the track, rooted it up and smeared the cow-catcher and thereby damaged defendant in the sum of $150, then sit by, offer some little proof under his cross plea, take the plaintiff's case to the county court and there offer no testimony except on the value of the hog killed, reducing it to $1, thereby throwing on the plaintiff the cost of one court and making the recovery of the value of his hog a regular Barmecide feast. It he has a cross action, let him bring his own suit on it independently.

With all due deference to the judges of the Supreme Court and the Courts of Civil Appeals, I think the practice that they have of writing briefs in cases would be "more honored in its breach than in its observance." Their business is to decide cases, not to brief them, in my humble judgment. Where they decide a point in a case, why string out a page of authorities? About the only good this does is to help the publishing company get out more books for the impecunious lawyer to pay for. Let the lawyers who practice law write briefs and quote authorities to their hearts' content. Most of them have plenty of time. But let the higher courts decide the law and not make arguments. All the reasoning of all the judges of the Supreme Court and Courts of Civil Appeals put together never convinced a litigant who believed in his case, of the righteousness of their decision in that particular case. He is just as much dissatisfied as the man who has lost his $19.50 case before a justice of the peace and can not appeal it. He simply submits.

Lawsuits are expensive luxuries and always have been. None but the rich can afford them, and it does not make any difference to them as to the costs; they can pay them. But if the cost of litigation—I mean the court cost—could be reduced, it were a "consumation most devoutly wished" that would be some reform. I am not worrying about the judges' salaries; they get enough for what they do, and if they don't like their jobs they can always quit; there are others.

A Supreme Court with a whole lot of judges and antechambers has long ago been tried in Texas and condemned as a flat failure. There is nothing in it. I am in favor of reform, but what is best? Certainly not exploded theories.

Secretary of State Lansing is to be the next president of the United States—president for one day—and the whys and wherefores of this situation are thus explained by the New York Tribune:

"The next president of the United States will be Robert Lansing, of New York, the present secretary of State.

"This is not in the nature of a wild political prediction, nor is it the inauguration of a boom for a democratic 'dark horse.' It is merely the statement of a fact which, barring the death or resignation of Secretary Lansing, is as certain as anything can be.

"Mr. Lansing's term of office does not depend upon the action of any political convention; it is likewise irrespective of any primary or direct election. In point of fact, it dates back to 1886, when congress passed an act, providing that in the event of death, removal, resignation or inability of both the President and the vice president of the United States, the secretary of state shall act as president.

"March 4, 1917, will fall upon a Sunday, and it is contrary to all precedent, although not in opposition to any law to hold an inauguration on Sunday. Therefore the incoming chief will take office on the following day, March 5. President Wilson's term commenced at noon on March 4, 1913; therefore, according to the constitution, which defines the term of a president as 'four years,' his tenure of office will be over at noon on March 4, and even, if he is elected to succeed himself, he cannot take oath of office until noon on the following day. Vice President Marshall, of course is under the same disability as the president. Therefore, the secretary of state Mr. Lansing, will be president of the United States for twenty-four hours and some minutes elapsing between noon on Sunday, March 4, and the time that the new president takes the oath of office on the following day.

"This brief term of office is not a mere formality. It is an actual occupation of the power of president, with all his authorities and prerogatives. Mr. Lansing—President Lansing for the day—will be empowered to occupy the White House, to issue pardons, to attend to all the other business of which the chief executive has control and to ride to the capitol should he desire, as the outgoing president on inauguration day."

ENCOURAGING PROSPECTS.

This country, as a whole, continues to enjoy a large prosperity—larger perhaps, than in any previous half year. If the harvests are as abundant as they promise the year 1916 will witness a splendid record in commercial progress.

The financial world is less affected by war news than it was a few months ago. Various business interests have adapted themselves to the foreign situation, and as there is nothing in sight to indicate an early ending of hostilities, but on the other hand, a long period of hard fighting, little or no change in the domestic industrial field may be expected during the coming six months.

Business conditions and market fluctuations will depend on the government's crop reports within the next few weeks than on any other influence. A large grain yield is assured, but in the South it is too early to form an estimate on the extent of cotton production, but the South's corn crop is highly promising, and diversified farming, including the raising of livestock, is sure to add millions of dollars to the value of the South's agricultural products.

The old-time cry of tight money resulting from the demands on the banks for moving the crop will be heard no more. The federal reserve banking system has changed all that; and unless something unforeseen happens the present summer will be remembered as one of uncommon business activity.—Beaumont Enterprise.

THE FARMERS' SHORT COURSE.

The Seventh Annual Farmers' Short Course will be held at the A. & M. College of Texas from July 24th to 29th, inclusive. The railroads have offered the exceedingly low rate of one cent per mile, each way, tickets to be on sale the 22nd, 23rd, 25th, and 26th, the return limited to August 1st.

The Short Course is a great school that opens up an unusual opportunity to practical farmers, business men and women, who desire to farm on a better basis and to make farming more profitable and to make the farm home more comfortable and attractive.

A person may come to the Short Course, which lasts only a week, and get information on practically any agricultural subject. Special instruction will be given in crops and soils, terracing and irrigation, all branches of livestock, dairying, fruits and vegetables, the latest types of agricultural machinery, the management of poultry, insects and diseases, veterinary science, and work in agricultural education for the benefit of those teaching agriculture in the public schools of the state.

A special feature of the work this year will be the work in home economics, arranged especially to meet the needs of rural women and girls. The work in home economics will be given by Miss Mary E. Gearing, head of the Home Economics Department of the University of Texas, assisted by Miss Bernice Carter and Miss Cornelia Simpson, of the A. & M. Extension Staff.

The work in agriculture will be given by the full teaching staff of the School of Agriculture, the members of the Experiment Station staff, and members of the Extension staff, assisted by Dr. H. J. Webber, of the University of California, and Dean W. M. Jardine, of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

This able body of instructors is a guarantee to all those who attend the Short Course this year that they will receive the latest and best information obtainable on up-to-date agriculture. During the mornings, general lectures will be given; and in the afternoons, demonstrations will be given by the different departments.

Each night, a public lecture will be given by some noted expert. Moving pictures and musicals will also be a part of the night programs.

Aside from the valuable fund of information one will gain from the regular lectures and demonstrations, a great deal may be learned from the practical farmers and farm women one meets from practically every section of the state.

There will be one hundred demonstration agents from one hundred different counties, and thirty lady agents, who will attend the meeting. The students of the Short Course will be some of the most intelligent and progressive farmers of the state.

The social side of the Short Course is to receive special attention this year. In addition to the night entertainment, there will be baseball and basketball games, play put on by the Canning Club girls, and the Short Course barbecue, given on Wednesday.

The college is especially well prepared to take care of the Short Course students. The largest and best dormitories are to be thrown open for their accommodation. These dormitories are equipped with electric lights, running water in each room, and a shower-bath on each floor. The students, during the rest periods, will find convenient resting places under the many shade trees on the campus.

The Short Course is to be made a regular farmers' chataqua, where valuable information may be gathered, and, at the same time, individuals made to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

During Short Course week, the Texas Farmers' Congress, one of the greatest farmers' organizations in the United States, will hold its annual session. The programs will be so arranged that there will be no conflicts. The Congress will meet from the 26th to the 28th of July.

These farmers' meetings offer a splendid opportunity for farmers, farm women, girls and boys to spend a pleasant summer's vacation, and, at the same time, obtain valuable information.

CORN.

The corn crop of the county is made, but in some cases it might be well to give the corn another cultivation with a harrow or any other shallow running implement, for the purpose of killing the growth of weeds, and also to conserve the soil moisture.

Most people are in the habit of laying by the corn crop, at the time it is bunching or beginning to show tassel; this is a great mistake for at this time the corn plant requires cultivation more, than at any other time of its growth, for the reason that while it is making the ear it takes up large amounts of water and in order to give it all the water or soil moisture it may need to make a maximum yield of ears it should be cultivated at this time.

The time is drawing near when the up-to-date farmer should begin to select the stalks for seed corn from which to plant next year's crop. Good seed corn cannot be selected from the crib or bought from the store. Every farmer should save his own seed corn, and the right way is to select it in the field, so that you know what kind of stalk your seed corn grew on, if it was early in maturing, if it carried two or more ears to the stalk, if the position and manner of growth of the ears upon the stalk were high or low upon the stalk.

A good type of corn to save for seed, is a medium size stalk, one having good body but not too high, the ears should be placed about half way or a little under half way on the stalk with the shuck well over the tip of the ear. The ear should be pendulous upon the stalk, and not upright, for if it is upright it is apt to become damaged either by birds or the weather. In selecting stalks that have two ears, in order that your crop the succeeding year will be mostly two ear stalks.

It does not take much time to go over the field and select these stalks and they can be marked by tying a piece of twine around them, then when you harvest the crop, place a box in the wagon and when you come to any of the marked stalks place the lower ear in the box and the balance of the corn place in the wagon body for either feed or sale. Seed corn should be hung up out of the way of rats until it is dried out when it should be shelled and put in a box or can so the weevils cannot injure it.

The selection of not only seed corn but all other field crops for seed purposes is one of great importance upon the farm, and more of our farmers should try to increase their yields by this simple method.

At the farmers short course which will be held in Nacogdoches in August the saving of seed by the farmer upon his farm will be fully discussed, and it is hoped that the farmers of the county will take advantage of this three days farm school and attend in large numbers.

A Baby Majestic Range to Some Little Girl Absolutely Free

We are going to give—ABSOLUTELY FREE—to some little girl a "Sure Enough" range. This little range is the BABY in the GREAT MAJESTIC family and is built just like the big ones and will cook as well as any stove made. Look in our show window and you will see it is the "Real Thing"—A BABY MAJESTIC.

We are going to give this range to some little girl. Do you want it? Will you get it? You have as good a chance as anyone if you enter the contest early.

These are the rules and plans of the contest:

Contest will open Saturday
July 1st, 1916, and it will close Saturday, Aug. 31st.

Any little girl living in Nacogdoches county and not over 13 years of age can enter this contest at any time. To enter you must send us your full name, where you live and when you were born.

The winner of the range will be the contestant receiving the greatest number of votes.

Each and every FIVE CENT purchase at our store will represent ONE VOTE. Votes will be credited from duplicate sales slips which will be given to everyone who buys anything at our store during JULY or AUGUST. These duplicate sales slips show the date and amount of the purchase and will entitle the holder to votes at the rate of ONE VOTE for each FIVE CENTS of the amount. For example, a duplicate sales slip showing a FIVE CENT purchase will entitle holder to ONE VOTE and a slip showing a ONE DOLLAR purchase will entitle holder to TWENTY VOTES, etc. Bring the duplicate sales slips to our store each MONDAY and get a receipt for them. The receipt will show how many and to whom the votes are credited.

The duplicate sales slips must always be secured when purchase is made. No slips will be issued for sales after the purchaser has left the store or for past sales. No votes can be transferred after same are once credited. "Special Order" purchases will not be counted. VOTES will be allowed ONLY for purchase of goods from our regular stock.

Get busy girls right now and keep busy for you know this BEAUTIFUL BABY MAJESTIC RANGE is worth working for. SEE YOUR FRIENDS—all of them—ask them to buy something from Cason, Monk & Co., and save the duplicate sales slips for you. Remember the duplicate sales slips represent votes at the rate of ONE VOTE for each FIVE CENTS of the amount and whoever holds this slip can vote for the contestant they choose. By presenting duplicate sales slips given you by your friends you can VOTE FOR YOURSELF.

Do not wait to enter little girls. "Get in the game" right now and keep busy. Get all your friends to save the slips for you or vote for you and your chance to win is "mighty good."

If you do not understand all about this contest come to our store and ask about it. We want you to enter the contest and remember your chance to win is as good as that of anyone. Enter early and have an even start with the others. Send in your name as a contestant TODAY.

P.S. WE WILL NOT ALLOW ANYONE CONNECTED, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, WITH CASON, MONK & CO. TO ENTER THIS CONTEST.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

Mexico is a leading topic, now, but not altogether a new one. It is well to remember that Texas was once in Mexico, and so were then Mexicans in the State of Coahuila y Tejas. Saltillo was the capital of this Mexican State, which had previously belonged to Spain, and was called New Philippines—Nuevas Filipinas.

But Mexicans here are not like Mexicans there, never were, not at all. Here they are peaceful, moral, law-abiding people, generally patriotic and heroic. Many of our own Mexicans fought in the Confederate army, associated with our other soldiers. Among these were the names Flore, Montes, Ybarbo, Gonzales, Mora, Martinez, Lopez and others.

The habits and customs of our Mexicans of this day and time are not exactly as then. One of the early day Mexican customs was to smoke nothing but shuck cigarito. This name means little cigar. The cigarette of today had not then been invented. Shall we look up the inventor and give him honor—God forbid! But oh, for the last habit of smoking the delightfully odorous cigarito, made of corn shucks, artfully selected, cut, shaped, filled and rolled with the unpolluted pure old tah-wah-co, as the weed was called by these people. It was not necessary to counteract the odor by uncorking a bottle of high life, nor to vacate the room of the smoker.

And the Senoritas—Oh Dios! Chew gum? No Sir-ree, not them—never heard of it. They did occasionally chew sweet gum which they gathered from the tree just as God made it, and the odor of that breath was balsamic and celestial. The children gathered stretchberries and skillfully worked the elastic part of these berries into the gum—sweet gum—and could stretch it out like molasses candy in flat into balloon like shapes, or bubbles for their childish amusements.

There was also a kind of chewing wax kept in bulk in stores called chickity. This was of tar-like color, and of a beeswax consistency, and it possessed a faint pleasant odor, when chewed. Its use was considered cleansing for the mouth.

And the tamales and enchiladas, of that day were better—far better than now—made of genuine old lye hominy, made with lye in a wash pot, and mashed up into dough in a Mexican matate, a kind of stone bread tray with a stone mortar. Did you ever see one? Some few of the olden time families have one yet, kept as an heirloom, curiosity, or sacred memento of the past.

And did you ever see or even hear of a Mexican fandango? It was a frequent social function of that age. It was a kind of square dance, like the old cotillon and a round dance or waltz in which the gay couples went round and around the entire room at a dizzy speed. Nothing like all this is ever seen here now. It was a drawing card then, a most popular social enjoyment. At times some drunken rowdy, filled with fee-lay-tay, as they called whiskey, would raise a ruckus, and blood and noise ran riot. But cuss words in Spanish were not used. The language did not supply them. English was handy for profanity—nothing like it. Knives and pistols were used in these fights. Irish wakes would have looked tame beside these boisterous, drunken disturbances.

But hospitality was lavish at private homes. Everyone was a guest of honor and welcome. No gringos—all amigos—no jingoes, such words are modern. The name gringo originated in the Mexican war of 1846. The Americans had a cam song called Gree-grouns, the Meadow, and the Mexicans hearing this song adopted the word green-go as a slang contemptuous name for the Americans, who, in turn, called the Mexicans greasers. That all happened beyond the Reeco-grandy. It is not our fuss here at home. We are all amigos, friends; siempre, forever. And it can be taken as a rule that all Mexicans are Catholics, conscientious members of their Holy Catholic Church, regarding sacredly as God's only church.

BOY SCOUT HIKE.

The gentlemen of the local Council, the governing board of about 30 men for the Boy Scouts of Nacogdoches, held a very interesting meeting last night. From the speeches and amount of business transacted by this Council, we believe the Scout work will exceed its previous good record and be a blessing to every boy who joins the order. Among the interesting items of business we mention the following:

The place selected for the summer encampment is Village creek, said to be the best fishing place in Texas, and the time will be Monday, July 3. It will last ten days. Each scout is

It has just come to the attention of The Sentinel that Horace Rainbolt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Rainbolt, left the forepart of the week for Rusk where he enlisted with a recruiting officer for service in the National Guard. Horace is a steady, athletic, patriotic young man and will make a good soldier in the cause of his country.

THE NORMAL.

The Normal students are working exceptionally hard just now since many of them contemplate taking the first series examinations, which are only a little more than a week off.

We were in error when we stated that the first examinations begin July 8. They begin on the 10th, continuing through the 13th of July. The agricultural class of the Normal is looking forward with much interest to Adams, instructor in agriculture, ment station in a few days. Mr. Adams, instructor in the agriculture, wants the class to see a silo being filled. If any man near town has occasion to fill a silo during the coming four weeks, he would be pleased to know it.

Miss Nadeen Clevenger of the 1916 class of Nacogdoches High School, was a pleasant visitor at the Normal today.

The feature of the chapel today was Mr. Adams' story, which he told to illustrate the importance of attention to little things.

D. K. Cason of Nacogdoches is here and will spend some time as the guest of Alva McKnight—Center Champion.

JAPAN ANNOUNCES SHE

WILL NOT AID MEXICO

Tokio June 23.—"Any claims that the Japanese government will assist Mexicans with munitions and arms are absurd," said Baron Ishii, foreign minister, to a correspondent of the Associated Press, who asked him today for his views on the Mexican situation. The interview was sought on the account of declarations attributed to Mexicans that assurances had been received from Japan that munitions and other assistance would be given to Mexico in event of war with the United States.

As for private Japanese companies selling arms to Mexicans," the foreign minister continued, "I consider it extremely improbable. As you know, all available rifles and guns are being furnished to Japan's allies to assist in bringing the European war to a successful issue."

"Let me say this with all the emphasis and earnestness at my command," said the minister, swinging around in his chair. "The Japanese nation sincerely hopes that armed conflict between the United States and Mexico may be avoided. Japan's interests in America, North, Central and South, being essentially pacific and commercial, any event bring disturbances into the American market would be felt keenly in Japan."

THE YOUNG PEOPLE

HAD ENJOYABLE DANCE

A party of young people, composed mostly of the junior set, are reported to have had a most enjoyable dance at Crystal Lake Monday night.

The event was gotten up by the young people within themselves, and was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blount, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ezell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Matthews.

Among the out-of-town visitors were Misses Ollie and Bernice Garrett of San Augustine, and Mrs. Patterson of Houston.

Miss Seppie Harrel visited Libbert yesterday where she attended the marriage of her brother, Pad Harrel to Miss Belle Cooper. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for Oil City, where Mr. Harrel has employment, and where they will make their home.

THE NEW STREET SWEEPER HAS BEEN INSTALLED

Some days ago The Sentinel made mention of the fact that the city council had purchased a new street sweeper. It has arrived and was put to work this morning.

The sweeper is known as "Austin Two-speed Sprinkler-sweeper." It is made in the form of a two-wheel cart, having a large revolving brush on the bottom and a tank of water on the top, the water being allowed to drop through the brush when it is in operation.

The new machine with an extra brush cost the city $425.00, and will be drawn with the horses from the fire station, thus saving an outlay for team hire.

BATTERY READY TO HURL SHELLS AT TORN JAUREZ

El Paso, Texas, June 22.—A battery of 4.7 inch guns, capable of throwing a 60-pound explosive six miles, pointed their noses threateningly over El Paso in the direction of battle-riddled Jaurez today, while developments in the situation arising from the battle of Carrizal were awaited.

Along the river machine gun companies from General Bell's command were ready to take their position at advantageous points, while at the remoter stations the remainder of his men waited for orders.

With every precaution taken for the protection of the city, hope continued to be expressed that the tension might abate. No shot will be fired from this side of the international boundary unless hostile action is commenced on the other side.

The Mexican officials here and in Jaurez expressed the opinion this morning that the fight at Carrizal should be regarded as a detached incident, without effect on the general situation. Inasmuch as they had been in communication with Mexico City during the night, observers here thought it possible that this might be the view of General Carranza and his advisers.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass.

AN EXPENSIVE MESSAGE.

It is hard for some people to learn that they must not write any kind of a message on anything but first-class matter intended for transportation in the mails, and sometimes they have to pay dearly for the lesson, as related in an instance with the following dispatch taken from one of the state papers:

Bellefontaine, O., June 14. — "I will be up on Saturday," written on one egg in a crate of eight dozen, caused an Urbana merchant to pay $5.78 for postage stamps.

The eggs were sent him by a Sardinian huckster by parcel post. The package was opened in the Wheeling postoffice for inspection and the message on the egg was found.

The package was weighed and was charged for at first-class postage rates.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headaches, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause incontinence all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

There were times in the earliest days of Nacogdoches when there was no court house. Of course there had to be a beginning, when courts had to hunt shelters, or improvised quarters in which to do business, but first the courts themselves had to be organized under the new laws of the republic, after Texas got free from Mexico.

Before 1836 the laws of Mexico ruled, and the state was styled El Estado del Coahuila y Tejas—the state of Coahuila and Texas. Courts of that period were somewhat on the order of our city courts, under one officer called an Alcalde, like we regard our mayor. These courts were held in any building chosen by the officer. The Old Stone Fort was thus used. And this was the case after Texas became a republic, until other arrangements were made. The Old Stone Fort thus became the first court house in which a Texas district court was held, in accordance with the new laws of 1836. This term of court was held in 1837, and the lawyers wound it up with a big blow-out in which they made speeches felicitating themselves and congratulating the country upon this great event which was a beginning of a new system of law and order. The minutes of this term of court are yet in the district clerk's office, and recite the details of this closing scene in a most interesting way.

The next court house was one built for the county, in the middle of our main public square, or plaza. It was two stories, or one and a half stories high, built of wood, a frame house in a square shape. It was mounted rather high up on wooden blocks, and the main door or front was on the north side. This door had a platform or landing on the outside, about eight by twelve feet in area and had steps leading up to this landing from the east and from the west.

This first old court house located in the public square, was used not only for courts and offices, but also for public meetings, political, religious and what not. There was no protestant church here then, and on one occasion at a night service for religious worship there was a most sensational tragedy at the front door of this court house. A young lady, Miss Eliza Grayard, was shot through the body by a young lover whom she had rejected. He had waited near the front entrance for her arrival and when she stepped upon the platform there, in company with the homefolks, he fired the shot. He was captured and punished by law. Miss Grayard was a most beautiful and lovely young girl of eighteen years, a sister of Mrs. N. C. Grayard, now residing in Jacksonville. The Grayards were orphans left by the death of their Norwegian parents, and raised by kindly Texans. One of the children was the mother of our mayor Geo. H. Matthews.

This original old court house was the scene of many sensations, especially political discussions and some of these were red hot. It was first started for a church, and was located on the north corner of North street and Hospital street. Later the G. B. Grain premises. It was sold to the county and moved to the public square in 1837. The father of Sam W. Reid was one of the men that moved it.

It stood in the public square twenty years, and then in 1857, it was moved to the west side of the public square to a lot that was sold to Asa Moore by Capt. F. Voigt, and later sold to F. H. Hoya, the present owner. The Masonic Lodge was in the upper story during all this time.

The question of removing the court house from the public square was a great trouble maker. Judge Bennett Blake was the probate or county judge, and a leader for the removal. The voters opposed it and the county commissioners balked at it. Judge Blake influenced them to vote a tie and let him decide it. This was done, and then when Blake was a candidate for re-election the dissatisfied voters got out an opponent named Gocher, a man of no special merit. The court house removal was the only political plank in question. The contest was hot, but Blake won by only one vote, or at most by a bare majority.

Then followed the first brick court house, begun in 1855 and finished in 1857 by John Cato, located on the spot where the next court house now stands, built in 1887, during the term of county judge James H. Sutton, successor of the present new court house.

The following letter is self-explanatory and apropos:

We, the undersigned Mayor, and Aldermen of the City of Nacogdoches having been informed that the County Court of the County of Nacogdoches have in contemplation to build a court house for said county and that it is their intention to cause the same to be erected in the centre of the Public Square of the said city of Nacogdoches, do hereby solemnly protest against the building and erection of the said Court House at the centre of said public square as the several acts of incorporation of said City of Nacog-

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

TRIBUTE TO STEPHEN SHARP.

Readers of the Sentinel will remember a report of the drowning of Stephen Sharp, a brother of Frank Sharp of this city, which occurred in the Sabine river near Blue Lake one day last week. Rev. Geo. L. Crockett, a well known Episcopal minister of San Augustine, pays the following beautiful tribute to the life of the young man, which we take from this week's issue of the San Augustine Tribune: "Stephen Blount Sharp was born in youngest son of Mr. Lafayette Sharp December 3rd, 1897. He was the son of Mrs. Ella Garret Sharp. His childhood was passed in his home and he never spent a night away from his mother until he was fifteen years old. He attended the San Augustine public school and made an honorable record there, believed and trusted by his teachers and schoolmates alike. In his home life he was an affectionate, obedient son and a loving brother, never losing his temper or speaking a cross word. He was baptized and received into the Presbyterian church upon profession of his faith in Christ on the 7th of September, 1913.

"There was universal mourning when it was known that 'Buddie,' as he was affectionately called by every one, was no more. Few persons ever grew up in any community more universally beloved by all, old and young, high and low, comparative strangers and most intimate friends, than he. The sincerity of his character and manliness of his deportment won for him complete respect from all he met. The unflinching good humor and courtesy which marked his intercourse with others, and the entire absence of anything approaching to arrogance or undue self assertion made everyone his friend. His manly qualities of courage, endurance and laudable ambition to excel in all legitimate lines of effort compelled the sympathy of everyone. Finally, his fairness and the candor with which he admitted defeat, or failure turned his opponents into well wishers and partisans for his success. Some years ago while that organization was first in existence he was a member of the Boy Scouts, and we cannot think of any better description of his character than the law of the scouts: 'Trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.'

POSTMAN CARRIED 25 DINNERS.

Temple, Texas June 20.—Dinner by parcel post is a novelty that has been introduced through the medium of Feaster Griffin, a rural mail carrier employed at the Temple postoffice. The services of the rural carrier were requisitioned and proved equal to the occasion. The menu was complete in every detail as ordered and the postage on the meals netted the post office department the sum of 40 cents.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE.

The Sentinel had a brief mention yesterday of a man being killed by an automobile. F. M. Loper was his name, and he was a father of Mrs. L. V. Aldridge of Garrison. The following particulars of the tragedy are taken from the Jacksonville Progress: Mr. Loper, with his wife and little son, had started to town when, about to cross a small bridge, the Ford car, being too near the edge, turned turtle, pinning Mr. Loper underneath. Mrs. Loper and the baby escaped with minor injuries. Mrs. Loper screamed for help and C. H. Henderson, nearby, came to their assistance, but with the aid of E. F. Bearden, who also came efforts to lift the car from the suffering man, were futile. Mrs. Loper seeing the situation, performed a literal miracle when she, evidently supplied

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work. If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

COTTON JUMPS 30 POINTS TO 13.75—CROWDS 14 CENTS Bulls in the cotton market, not content with the "spring drive" that put their old adversaries, the bear side, in full flight, struck the enemy's center a broadside Thursday, after nibbling at his flanks a fortnight. On a heavy covering in the July position, which was followed by active buying in all months, helped by the strength of the spot situation, cotton was marked up in Houston at 13.75 middling, an advance for the day of 30 points. This exceeds by the same number of points—30 the previous high quotation for the year.

Cotton, say the bulls, is now coming into its own. The 14-cent mark is being crowded and some of the big interests in the market predict it will come before any material recessions set in. The market was buoyant Thursday.

Ruth Chadwick won the first prize, a box of candy, by guessing forty-five, there being forty-eight petals. Ruth Eddington was given the booby prize, a handkerchief, by guessing the smallest number. Ice cream and cake were then served.

Mr. Tinkle has been suffering with some trouble in his knee and elbow joints, in which pus has formed, and these members will be opened up in the operation. He is a mighty good man, and has a host of friends over the county who trust that he may have a speedy recovery.

TO PATRONS, ROUTE NO. 1.

You are doubtless aware that several routes will be changed on July 1st. No. 2 out of Appleby will be discontinued and supplied by carriers from other offices.

Now, it is my desire to give service that will be satisfactory to every one, and to that end I ask co-operation of everyone. In the erection of boxes carriers can be of much service to the carriers. The regulations say that you should put your box in a convenient place and keep the approach free from all obstruction. I would request that you put them on post four feet and three inches high, on arm extending at least twelve inches from the post.

Route No. 1 will be practically thirty-one miles long. All know that is a good day's drive, so I would request that each of you keep a supply of stamps, or preferably stamped envelopes, on hand at all times, and have all mail properly addressed and stamped before the carrier comes along. If you have parcel post matter to send off, have it securely wrapped and tied with a cord strong enough to hold it securely; also have it properly addressed, and with your address preceded by the word "From" in the upper left hand corner. This is required by the Department for your protection. Don't put pins in a package for that is strictly against the rules. Now I am writing you all this because, first, the department requires that this be done; second, I will not have time to stay and wrap your package or address your letter, or wait for you to address it. I will be compelled to go off and leave your mail if it is not properly addressed and stamped.

I regret to give up the patrons I will lose. I also regret that I can't stop at Mr. Robert Means' watermelon patch, but perhaps there will be some who have been feeding the "coon" in the past; if so, I have the "power" to take care of Mr. Coon's part.

I am not going into the merits of the re-adjustment of the several routes at this time, as time alone will prove whether the more is or is not. Let us hope that everything will work out all right in the end.

The Department made these changes without asking the advice of any one, and they will be the sole judge as to whether it is best or not. I have been hoping to hear that the several routes would be left as they are at present, but I have now given up all hope and fully expect to start out on a thirty-one mile trip Saturday. To you who will be affected, I especially ask your co-operation and hope to know all of you personally and number you as my friends.

Thanking you in advance for any favors you may show me, and asking your indulgence for any mistake I may make, I am

Yours to serve,
CHAS. D. POWER,
Carrier, Rt. 1.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas,—
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:—

You are hereby commanded to summon Della Edwards, by making publication of this Citation once each week, for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 1st Monday in September, A. D. 1916, the same being the 4th day of September, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of June, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 405, wherein Ed Edwards, is the plaintiff, and Della Edwards, is the defendant, and said petition alleging:

That Plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of Texas and has resided in Nacogdoches County, Texas, for more than one year next preceding the filing of this petition.

That Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married to each other on the 3rd day of January, A. D. 1900, and thereafter lived and co-habited together as husband and wife until on or about the 15th day of December, 1913, when Plaintiff was compelled to leave the Defendant with the intention of forever remaining away from her; that prior to said separation Defendant was guilty of immoral conduct, in that she committed adultery with various and sundry male persons.

That during the time they lived together as aforesaid Plaintiff made Defendant a kind and dutiful husband, but unmindful of her marriage vows, Defendant persisted in a course of adulterous conduct with other men.

That as a result of said marriage there were born unto Plaintiff and Defendant four children, Jewel Edwards, a girl 12 years of age, Lillian Edwards a girl 10 years of age, Tommy Edwards, a boy now 7 years of age, and Edna Edwards, a girl 5 years of age; that because of the conduct of Defendant, who is now a transient woman, Plaintiff alleges that she is not a proper person to raise and educate said children, that he is able and willing to provide, care for and educate said children, and prays for their custody.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays that Defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that upon a final hearing hereof, he have judgment dissolving said marriage vows now existing between them, for the custody of said children, for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, this the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1916.

CLAUDE C. WATSON,
Clerk, District Court, Nacogdoches County, Texas.

To the Voters of Nacogdoches County:

I want to thank my friends all over the county for their splendid service while I was out of the county on account of the serious illness of my wife. Due to their kindness I found my candidacy for the legislature even in better shape when I returned than when I left. I know the people of Nacogdoches county well enough to know that they expect a man to put his family ahead of everything else on earth, and that you would not support a man for any office who does not do so. I do not believe any man has ever had cause to regret doing right, and I know I did the right thing in this instance.

WANTED—Reliable party to represent licensed insurance company writing fire, tornado, lightning and hail insurance. Must furnish bond or best of references. Good proposition to right man. Address, 1005 Foster Building, Houston, Texas. 29-4tw

RUSK AND NACOGDOCHES WILL PLAY JULY FOURTH

The Sentinel is informed that arrangements have been perfected for a game of baseball, to be played at this place July 4th, between Nacogdoches and Rusk, and that a large delegation of people are coming over from Rusk for the game.

With a full complement of "rooters" on both sides, much interest and enthusiasm will doubtless be aroused in this game.

Mrs. Eli Napier and daughter of Center are visiting in the city, guests of Mrs. Joel Brown. Mr. Napier once lived in Nacogdoches, and has a number of friends here among the old settlers who will be interested to learn that he is making the race for sheriff of Shelby county.

The papers have carried the announced recently that the government wanted motor truck drivers for service in the National Guard, and Mack Monk of this city has filed his application for one of these positions.

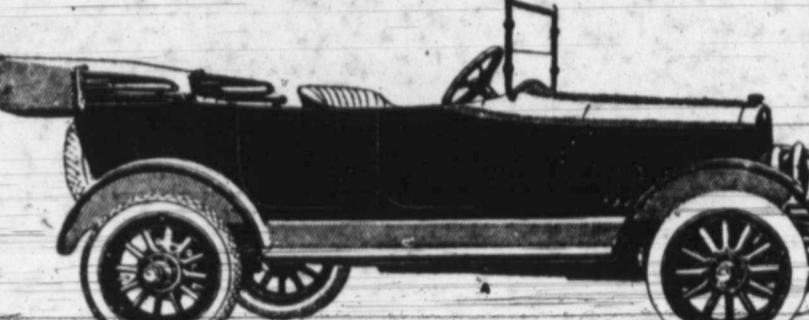

Buy a Car You Will Want to Keep

In the whole history of the Automobile Business there has never been a time when real care in selecting a car, is more imperative than to day. No longer is it possible to buy any make of car, drive it 12 to 15 months, and then trade it in for a new car at one-half or two-thirds of its original cost. The market on used cars today will not permit this.

Consider then, the importance of buying a car that will give you such service and satisfaction that you will enjoy running it season after season, until you have realized every last dollar of the price you paid—BEFORE YOU EVEN THINK OF TRADING.

Buy your car on this value getting basis and it will be a DORT. Westinghouse Electric Starter and Lighting.
