When paying 2 cents per pound for hay do you stop and think about those "little patches" of grass that you could have saved but which you DIDN'S SAVE?

Be a seller. It is more pleasant and profitable to sell hay at $40.00 than it is to buy at the same price.

We want to sell you a mower and rake. We'll make money when we sell and you'll make money when you buy.

Let's get together on this important matter. It's money tot you, it's profit to us-but it's mighty hard on the fellow who has been selling you hay at 2 cents per pound.

We are quite naturally reminded of what Benjamin Franklin said about aeronautics 136 years ago. The French had just then made a few ascensions in gas balloons, and the probability of steering and propelling these crafts was being discussed-crossing the Atlantic was even then suggested.

Someone asked Franklin if he beheved an aeronaut would ever be able to steer this balloon: "The thing is in its infancy," said Frank in, "it is necesasry to wait."

"But what useful process will serve?" this questioner continued.

"It is a child just born,' replied Franklin, "let us wait and judge it when its education is completed."

I had gone to the grave of one who had been my best friend. I found there a plainly dressed, old mother of France. And she was weeping. Had she made a mistake in spite of that little American flag which fluttered under the white cross?

"Monsieur, his grave was given to me to keep green," she said. "His grave and the grave of the other boy over there. The women of the town had been tending the graves-and these two I have taken. I planted them and they all grew. And as I tended them I prayed for him, for I thought of him as my own Jean who died three years ago and is buried I do not know where. I prayed for his mother, who must be thinking as I have been thinking.

"But, Monsieur, when I came today, the vines were gone the plants were gone-all that I had planted with my own hands was gone. DOUBTFUL BILLS COAL SHORTAGE SIGNED THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, July 11 .- President Wilson still had before him today the appropriation bills and it seemed doubtful whether any would be signed this week. It is understood that the president feels the measures carrying appropriations for two billion dollars deserved deliberate consideration.

It was indicated that he was devoting considerable attention to the rider on the agricultural bill repealing the daylight saving law. In so far as is known the president's mind is open on this matter.

GREAT SERVICE AT THE TABERNACLE LAST NIGHT

Those who missed the services at the tabernacle last night missed the greatest service, no doubt, of the campaign thus far. There is more interest in the singing and truly the choir is furnishing the greatest volume of gospel song ever heard here before, and this with the cornettist and solos by Mrs. Scoville, prepare the people for the powerful sermons being delivered by Dr. Scoville.

The theme for the discourse last night was "God hath spoken," taken from Hebrews, and surely this was a sermon delivered that all who heard it will never forget the powerful appeal. The speaker held the congregation at close attention for about half an hour, and we know, without any doubt, that such a discourse is bound to prove fruitful in this campaign and years after it. should miss these sermons.

There is no question but that the Byrne Shorthand is the greatest system in use today. It makes better stenographers in less time and with less cost than any other. It may be written either with a pencil or any typewriter. It has over 30,000 enthusiastic writers; it holds the world's record for speed in a given length of time, is the most simple, legible and rapid system in use, as is shown from the following remarks by our students who first studied other systems:

"I take pleasure in telling the public that the Byrne Shorthand is the only system. I previously studied Pitman eight months, used it in actual practice for four monthsr. At the end of six weeks study of the Byrne, I was a better writer than I had ever been with the Pitman." "I have been a Sloan-Duployan stenographer for 15 years; I found the system inadequate.
