SAYS MEXICANS HAVE CONTEMPT AMERICA

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 23.—William Mitchell, former manager of the Bank of London in Mexico City, told the house rules committee today that the sending of two American military expeditions into Mexico and their subsequent withdrawal was largely responsible for the anti-American feeling in Mexico. He declared this caused the Mexicans to believe that America was afraid to assert her rights, and after the troops were withdrawn the Mexicans had contempt for the Americans.

Do You Buy Or Sell Hay At $40.00 Per Ton?

When paying 2 cents per pound for hay do you stop and think about those "little patches" of grass that you could have saved but which you DIDN'T SAVE?

Be a seller. It is more pleasant and profitable to sell hay at $40.00 than it is to buy at the same price.

We want to sell you a mower and rake. We'll make money when we sell and you'll make money when you buy.

Let's get together on this important matter. It's money to you, it's profit to us—but it's mighty hard on the fellow who has been selling you hay at 2 cents per pound.

Next spring will you be buying or selling hay? It's up to you.

Cason, Monk & Co.

A good second hand hay press, hay rake and gasoline engine for sale. We want to sell quick. Our prices will prove it

Which Method do You Prefer?

—the old uncertain way with yardstick and counter tacks, or the new and accurate Measuregraph way? The latter, of course! That's why we've adopted Measuregraph protection. Up to this time it has not been humanly possible to be certain that customers received full measure. But now have been installed on our piece goods counters and we have the keen satisfaction of knowing that our customers do receive full 36 inches for every yard. Not only that but the Measuregraph figures just how much is the cost of piece goods bought. There's satisfaction in that too. It avoids overcharge and delay.

Just one more way in which we can render better service

COUNCIL DISCUSSES RUSSIAN PRISONERS

PARIS, July 19.—The supreme council yesterday discussed the disposition of two hundred and forty thousand Russian war prisoners still held in Germany, and fed at the expense of the Entente Powers. Because many are infected with Bolshevism, Poland and other countries objected to them passing through those countries.

It is understood an agreement must wait further information of the military phases. No action was taken, but the council appears to hold the firm conviction that the former emperor must be punished or it will be impossible to convict the military, naval and civil officers of Germany.

THE STONE FORT HIGHWAY.

Rusk County News.

The Troup Banner is of the opinion that since Troup is responsible for the success of the election that voted bonds for roads in Smith county, that a straight line for the Stone Fort Highway is wrong. There is no doubt that the Banner voted for a crooked Stone Fort Highway. The Banner would not vote for the bond issue at all until it was crooked. The Banner is of the opinion that since the crooked part of that road is in Smith county it is no one's business how crooked it is.

So much for the habit of voting for crooked roads and serving notice on the public that they must be crooked in order to get the support of the Banner.

But the Banner has not reasoned straight if it thinks that the people of other counties besides Smith have no right to a straight highway running through Smith. These State highways belong to all the people alike. They are largely built and maintained by State and Federal funds. The Stone Fort Highway belongs as much to Rusk, Nacogdoches, Panola and Shelby counties as it does to Smith county. Something like 140,000 people in those counties are to be accommodated by this road.

It is not fair, it is not just that persons in the above named counties should travel sixteen or twenty miles further to get to Tyler and return merely to accommodate a very small population in and around Troup. If it were not a State highway, if it were a Smith county road the case would be different.

But the Banner is not to share a more blame than attaches to selfishness. Its fight is of that character which seeks gain, commercial and otherwise, that may come for service rendered, and the Banner rendered valuable service. Since the Banner is responsible for the success of the election the Banner is entitled to the Stone Fort Highway, although the original plan is to be lengthened eight or ten miles—the distance nearly doubled from the Smith county line to Tyler. That kind of argument will not endure.

The State Highway Commission was created to prevent just this kind of irregularity, and injustice to the public. The Highway Commission was not created to compromise political factions and to lend its power to this that or the other town in order that elections for road bonds might succeed. The Highway Commission was created to sit as an impartial tribunal to deal out justice to the people of the State at large. The Banner wanted something which fairness and justice had denied, and served notice on Smith county that unless it got it the bond election would be defeated. It was then that the whole scheme of things was changed. The citizens of Tyler, it seems were so anxious to carry the bond election that they agreed to use their influence to change the original route of the Stone Fort Highway from what everybody believed to be a fixture, some eight or ten miles further to Tyler from all points east of Smith county, and this was done without the knowledge of a single man from Rusk, Nacogdoches, Shelby or Panola.

No straight, honest, fair-minded

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crabs into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic strengthens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

person will ever be able to defend the present designated route except on the ground that Troup has a right to make the trip on the Stone Fort Highway eight or ten miles further as the price of Troup's vote.

If the Stone Fort highway's designation remains where it is it will constitute a precedent that will appear from time to time, like Barco's Ghost, and will serve to call time to come as a blunder to every traveler that may pass over it; the only explanation of which that can ever be given will be that it was somebody's price for somebody's vote.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

Just to keep the records straight, a correction as to that joke of Francis Rusche proposing to remove the big public well out of the public square is required. He had already performed some wonderful engineering feats that were loud and vociferous. He had erected the structure or pavilion over the well in style resembling a Japanese parasol with a top center elevation like the Kaiser's military helmet, and he had built the college cupola so tall that the fashionable lightning rod man could not top it, and the average clouds ran against it and knocked it out of plum. Wild school boys climbed inside of this tower rang the loud school bell and tried to pull off the huge acorn, thinking it made of gold. It was golden colored, and as big as a barrel. In a word the college cupola or belfry was a trouble maker and its name was mud.

So the city officials refused to let Rusche remove the well, because in view of such feats they feared that he would leave such a hole in the square that the town would tumble into it. They got him to cut down the cupola about a hundred feet, and lower the big acorn that formed its pinnacle low enough for the school master to "teach the young idea how to shoot," pointing to the acorn and telling the school children that "talk oaks from little acorns grow."

This refers to the first brick college built here, which was built by John H. Cats in 1858, for the old original Nacogdoches University of that name and date. He was higher in name and building than the present Nacogdoches High school. Cato was an English brick layer or builder. He moved to Houston and helped build that city. He was a skeptic or rather a spiritualist. The first principal of the big school that opened in this pretentious school house was W. L. Alexander, from Chapel Hill, N. C. He and some of the big boys in his school enlisted in Raguet's cavalry company, that went to Santa Fe, N. M. in the Confederate war, and had hard fighting and hard service. Alexander became captain of the company serving till the end of the war, and dying at Quitman, Texas, in 1869. Marion Rainbolt, John T. White, John Norvell and Mat Whitaker are three of the few survivors of the company who went to Santa Fe. Raguet became major of Reiley's regiment, and was killed in the battle of Glorietta.

The first school house on the University grounds stood in the dense woods about where the Stone Fort building now stands. It was built of logs. The teachers name was Shepherd. He was an Episcopal minister. He owned a store house that occupied a place near Dr. Pierce's brick store house.

Before the Alexander school in the brick college, there was a flourish school taught, in 1857-8 in a house where the Methodist parsonage now stands, then owned by the Nacogdoches University, and which now stands back of this site and is owned by Pat Jenkins. Prof. G. M. L. Smith, father of Dr. W. I. M. Smith, was the efficient teacher.

THE BROADER VISION.

"No man liveth to himself" and this is also true of the community in which he lives. The Great War, which drew its quota of stalwart young men from every hamlet, was a visible proof of this verity. It takes a strong government to insure peace and tranquility to the cities, towns and farms within its confines.

The government of the United States has done its part to win the struggle for Democracy. Every community and every man, woman and child in every community, now has a chance to share in the victory. This may be done by investing in War Savings stamps, which is not only lending to the government but building a fund for the future use of the individual.

Investing in War Savings stamps does not take money out of the community where the investment is made. Instead the money in part or in whole is spent by the government right where it is secured. And while the government is using this money, interest is piling up with clock-like regularity for the owner of these securities.

Then there is another side to the proposition. Those cities and towns which are making an exceptionally good showing on sales of War Savings Stamps are getting some valuable publicity through the Savings division. As a matter of civic pride as well as because it is profitable patriotism, the citizens of this community should invest wisely and regularly in War Savings Stamps.—Ex.

COUNTY COURT.

The regular July term of the county court convened this morning, and the criminal docket was first called for trials. Because of the fact that county court may open at any time in criminal cases for pleas of guilty this docket is very light. It appears from the docket that since the last county court, that is, the last regular term, there have been forty-seven criminal cases disposed of by pleas of guilty, and $1,240.00 collected in fines, besides the jail sentences. This accounts for the light criminal docket.

The civil docket will be called next Monday, and it is likely many trials will be had, as this is a heavy docket. The third week, will be devoted to the trial of civil and criminal cases, if the business of the court is not disposed of during the first two weeks.

A jury was called and sworn in this morning, but it is not likely they will be needed for more than two days this week.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

HALTOM & GIBBS, PUBLISHERS

OUR DIFFICULT MEXICAN PROBLEM.

Mexico is not the least of our problems, by any means, and our apparently settled custom of ignoring certain things, or of refusing to take cognizance thereof for fear somebody may be trying to "put something over," is not making our problem easier.

For some nine years, nothing has been done about Mexico that we can point to as a substantial achievement. That little affair at Vera Cruz, and the chase of Villistas from Columbus into Mexico which culminated in a massacre of our soldiers at Carrizal, was entirely fruitless, in so far as they bore any relation whatever to the general question of our relations with Mexico.

It is admitted now, we believe, that many blunders have been committed, although they were blunders that grew out of our government's exceeding patience and willingness to overlook many outrages if thereby we might aid Mexico in restoring political and economic order and tranquility.

Yesterday a list of 317 American citizens murdered in Mexico since December, 1910, was published, with the statement that probably 200 additional names were to be added when all the facts were known.

Looking backward, there have been many atrocities which came to the attention of people in this country, but when men were disposed to demand reparation, answers have been forthcoming that the United States should not be put in the attitude of defending the speculators, adventurers or privilege-grabbers in Mexico; that Americans had no business there; that if they went into Mexico they ought to be at their own risk, and all that sort of thing.

In no case, it is asserted, has reparation been demanded for any of these murders.

Again the situation was complicated by reason of the European war. For two years before we entered it, German propaganda was in Mexico constantly striving to precipitate strife between the two countries, in order to keep the United States occupied with affairs at home to such an extent that it could not participate in the European struggle. During this period, it was deemed wise, and probably was wise, to manifest more patience than usual with Mexico so as to protect the infinitely greater interests of the nation which were necessarily involved and imperilled by the European war.

Whatever, therefore, may have been the policies of the past nine years, however wise or unwise, necessary or unnecessary, strong or weak, these long delayed adjustments with Mexico will have to be made. A policy will have to be formulated that will be helpful to Mexico and, at the same time, protective of our citizens who may for any legitimate reason find themselves within the boundaries of the neighboring republic.

We take it that, recognizing the almost hopeless quandary the Mexican people and government are in, it will be a feature of our policy to avoid a clash at arms if it can possibly be avoided; that it shall include an effort to bring Mexico, politically and economically, to some condition of order that will stabilize its government and establish responsibility, and at the same time supply it with the means to make reparations to the nationals of all countries who have suffered in any manner through the lawlessness of bandits, revolutionists or others who have run at large in Mexico since the abdication of Diaz.

There is a spirit of chauvinism rampant in the upper classes of Mexicans that makes it exceedingly difficult for the United States to help Mexico as it might. Our government and our capitalists might do much but for this. But unless Mexico's government can find a way to deal with the disorderly elements that menace our own territory, our government may be compelled ultimately to do without Mexico's consent what it would like to do as a matter of helpful cooperation.

The United States can not ignore this long list of murders. It reproaches our government for its woeful neglect in failing to grant to citizens that protection which is the surest mark of a nation's greatness. When a flag of a nation doesn't hold the persons of its citizens inviolable it floats in vain. The lives of these citizens as well as the hundreds of early attention, and it is our privilege millions of property losses must have to require that similar consideration be given similar claims that European nations may hold against Mexico.

If these adjustments are made in a spirit of justice and friendship, Mexico's poor credit in the United States may be speedily repaired, and the way opened to procure the loans not only to make such reparations as are just, but to restore her industries and enable a resumption of her long retarded processes of development.

There could be no act of greater practical friendship for Mexico than to get all the claims against her for lives lost, personal injuries sustained and property destroyed on their way to settlement. As they stand now, they are operating as a bar to Mexico's progress.—Houston Post.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP AGITATION.

William Jennings Bryan has made the statement that some day the national government will run the newspapers of the country, and endorses the statement.

That is unworthy of Bryan. Uncle Sam might as well try to control the pulpit, or any other public service as the newspapers. After his experience with the railroads we are inclined to believe that he would think twice before tackling the newspapers of the country. From a financial standpoint it would take the government just about a week to go broke if it tackled this job.

And also it has not been forgotten the storm that the government created when it attempted a rigid censorship during the war. The people then claimed, as they will again, the constitutional rights of a free press.

A free press is essential to the normal and healthy life of a community. There is no excuse for government ownership or control. Only those periodicals antagonistic to the best interests of the country should be controlled, and it is evident that the government found a way to dispose of them during the war.

No business or industry contributed more help to the government during the war than the fourth estate.

While as yet there is no argument by any person in authority for government control of newspapers, in view of such a statement it might be well to say that should such a course even be considered it will bring such a storm as this old country has never known.

Bryan says that this is the ultimate goal of the newspapers—to be issued through government channels with the approval of the proper authority before it is printed. If so, God pity the newspapers.

Trouble is brewing in Mexico. Saturday handbills at a ship flying the American flag and robbed its attack being regarded in Washington as a direct insult to the American flag. The position of the government has not been announced, but a full investigation is being made by the State Department. The U. S. may yet be called upon to finish the job that was left undone in that country when we were forced into the war with Germany.

Many nations, large and small, are asking that they be placed under the plebiscite of Uncle Sam, but the name of Mexico is not mentioned among their number.

The French reparations commission has fixed the sum that Germany must pay to them as reparations at forty billion dollars. The French are willing to accept the reparation that Uncle Sam does not claim.

Man's life may be compared with the fruit of the trees. Its mission has been fulfilled and its larger purpose served when it has ripened and been plucked. Thus it is that a man's life is spent in ripening to maturity; that its purpose may be fulfilled in that other world when it has been plucked from mortal existence. Let us all get the idea that this life is but in preparation for the hereafter, and realize that worldly pleasures can not go further than the grave, and that they only hasten us to it.

In times gone by men have been driven in their work, as well as in other matters attending their existence. The gang boss has ruled his men with a rod of iron and cared little whether they liked it or not. Each succeeding generation is seeing this form of relation between employer and employe pass from existence. While it has always been true that a man could be led easier than he could be driven, it is getting to the point that he can not be driven at all. Employers are finding that it does not pay, and even though there are more strikes than there ever was, employer and employe are coming to a better understanding. In fact the strikes are the death knell of the old relations. The new relations are taking the form of sharing profits with the employes, etc., and all who have adopted these new relations with their men are finding that it pays.

Some Lufkin parties left here yesterday morning overland in a car for Nacogdoches, but had to abandon the trip on account of sticking in the mud this side of the Angelina river, and finally returning to town. Another citizen of Lufkin who left his car at Corrigan several days ago, and came home on the train, went down yesterday afternoon after his machine, hoping to bring it back. Pardon the question, but the News would like to know what is the matter with the roads in Angelina county?—Lufkin News.

What the outside world wants to know is what is the matter with the people of Angelina county—we know what is the matter with the roads.

It is announced that 35 republicans have signed an agreement that they will not sign the peace treaty, which is two more than the number necessary to prevent ratification. It is also announced that each of the thirty-five will resign before he will sign it. This resigning business is a false alarm. We will be willing to wager that they would be as hard to get out as Burleson—and if it isn't we must look for a wholesale resignation. And who shall say that some of us would not be pleased at such a course?

Tomorrow is the Lord's day, and no doubt the services will be especially good at the tabernacle. See that you attend the services and give your spiritual nature the proper attention. Each church will have its Sunday school at the appointed hour.

A News reporter is informed that there are as many as twenty-one service cars in the city of Lufkin catering to the traveling public, meeting all the trains and answering all calls. If this be so, and there is no occasion to doubt it, there can be but one solution, and that is that somebody is going "broke." Lufkin is a big proposition, a town wonderfully and powerfully made, but it requires no philosopher to determine that we have not yet reached that stage in our rapid development where twenty-one service cars are required to meet the demands.—Lufkin News.

An explanation might be contained in the fact that in view of the condition of the roads in Angelina county the service cars charge much more than the regular price, and are able to sustain themselves in this manner. And then too, they might cooperate with each other in this way: For instance when one car sticks somewhere in the wilds of Angelina county with a passenger, another goes and picks the fare up, thereby working in pairs, insuring the passenger that he will get to his destination, and distributing the trade.

NOTICE TO ATTENDANTS TO THE GREAT MEETING.

It was very noticeable last night, that quite a number of drivers started their cars and drove off right in the middle of the service. We have been kindly requested not to do this. It disturbs the whole service and no one should start his car during the services unless it is an absolute necessity that he do so. I therefore request that in the future, no one will start his car and drive anywhere about the tabernacle after services begin until the conclusion thereof.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

GIRLS AND BOYS READ THE COMPLIMENTS BUSINESS MEN PASS ON OUR GRADUATES.

Here are a few extracts from letters of prominent business men who have had the proof as to the ability of our graduates:

"Having employed several of your graduates, I think your institution the best of its kind in this country."
"Of the seven young men you have sent us, six remain in our service, and the other has just joined the navy. All are making good."

"There is such a scarcity of business colleges who fit their students for real business, that we cannot refrain from writing and endorsing your college, since several of your students have proven competent in our office."

"As you know, I have had a number of your students in my office. I take this opportunity of saying that every student that I have had from your school shows superiority of training over students that I have had from other schools."

"I have given your graduates a thorough test, and have found them to be accurate and quick with their work. The thorough and practical training you give fits them for any kind of a position."

"We have one of your graduates as stenographer in our legal department at a handsome salary giving entire satisfaction. The work is extremely difficult, requiring the greatest skill and accuracy. She reads her notes like print. We wish to commend your school for turning out such excellent graduates."

"If all of your graduates are as proficient as the three young men we have in our office, you are certainly doing a great work for not only the young people, but the business men as well."

A large firm of Cotton Buyers of

"We predict continued success for your cotton classing department. It is thorough and up-to-date and is in charge of capable instructors."

"If the several graduates of your school that have been in our employ are fair samples, I cannot recommend your institution too highly."

GREAT SERVICE HELD LAST NIGHT

77 PEOPLE GAVE THEMSELVES TO CHRIST AT THE SERVICE LAST NIGHT.

The services at the tabernacle last night were one of the greatest held in the meeting so far. When the invitation was extended 77 people walked down the aisle to give themselves in the service of Christ. Dr. Scoville spoke on the Judgment last night, and his sermon was among the best he has given us while in the city.

Dr. Scoville read several passages of scripture on the judgment, as follows: "Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine eyes; and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment." Ecclesiastes 11:9. "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil." Ecclesiastes 12:13-14. "But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment." Matthew 12:36. Here the speaker paused in reading to say that he didn't believe that God believed in the intermingling of races, stating that Jew, Gentile, Catholic, Protestant and all alike were mixed together in the dance hall and other places of sin, but when they came to church each found his own place of worship. He made reference to the trouble in the nation's capital as the outgrowth of this intermingling. He also expressed the thought that all the churches had combined to give devil a black eye in Nacogdoches county, and were presenting a solid front.

The next scripture quotation was Jno. 5:22-24-27: "For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the son. Verily, verily I say unto you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of God, and they that hear shall live. And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the son of man." "And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness and of judgment. Of judgment because the prince of this world is judged." John 16:3-11. "Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before judgment, and some men they follow after." 1 Timothy 5:24.

In closing the scripture reading Dr. Scoville said that some of us can cover our sins and get by with them and even get by the court, but not God. We may hide our sins from the preacher, fight our fathers and mother's prayers, but the day is coming when our condemnation will be written on the wall. He also remarked that God smashes Sodom as an example to the sinners.

Mrs. Scoville sang a beautiful song on the judgment. The greatest service of the revival was announced for this morning at 10 o'clock, when the subject will be "Christian Science." No prayer meetings were held this morning, all attending this service. The subject tonight will be "Lepers—Ancient and Modern," in which will be pictured a great man, a great madman, a great miracle and a great mistake.

Dr. Scoville then read the following scriptures: "But why dost thou judge thy brother? why dost thou set at naught thy brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. For every one of ye shall give account of himself to God." Romans 14:12. "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done whether it be good or bad." 2 Corinthians 5:10. Dr. Scoville said that there never was a time when any of us were doing wrong when we could not have been doing right if we wished. If you are a weak Christian it is your own fault. "The end of a Christian are you?" "A most momentous day is ahead—our nation moves toward that divine event, the judgment. From the judgment all things will go on eternally for right or for wrong."

"If a panic is imminent the bankers get ready and prepare for it. If there is to be a shortage in cotton, silk, or any other commodity, the handlers get ready and prepare for it. There is something far more important than a panic ahead—that divine far off event to which all creation moves—the judgment."

The speaker said that there is no one theme in the bible that is so much of a unit as judgment. He stated that judgment was the natural outcome of all activities. Perhaps there is no plainer truth in all the universe. Whether we know it or not we are read by our associates every day of our lives. Judgment in the courts of the country is the result of man's activities. He said that the day of judgment had already been appointed, that it was December 25.

"If you have decided that you are not going to accept Christ and are not going to Heaven, you have decided to go to hell. We are saved or lost here and now. Christ says that if you are not with me you are against me."

Dr. Scoville then showed that the judgment of God was impartial. A judge on the bench in this country cannot be impartial. He sees his friend before the bar of justice. He sees his political adherents before the bar of justice. He sees the man of wealth and affluence with all of his surrounding power before the bar of justice, and the finite being, so situated may be swayed before the bar of justice, and the finite being, so situated, may be swayed by one or all of these ponderous influences combined. There is a human connection that prevents impartiality—it is hard to get judgment. This judge is impartial, he is no respecter of persons. "The little woman who has no brothers or sisters, no father or mother, or who perhaps is left a widow, and who may be forced to manure her finger nails on the washing board, or tanning her countenance over the ironing board, or in the kitchen or even the fields to support her children, who is slandered against by some evil minded person who stary whispering and whose unthoughtful slander is picked up by other willing defamatory tongues and given publication to humanity, will occupy a front seat in the day of judgment."

"Some of the biggest men will not be known in the judgment. God will not save one man because he is rich or poor. We have our hands, our money, our talents to go to hell with as well as to Heaven." The Doctor said that it was better to be a clean girl in the kitchen than a soiled girl in the parlor, and illustrated the vital importance of being clean.

Dr. Scoville said that we will all be judged by the same God. "Judgment is certain. God hath appointed a day, and God doesn't change his appointments. The man who will not have the Savior tonight will have the judgment tomorrow."

A touching illustration was given by the minister in the instance of a runaway horse with a young man in the buggy, the horse taking a street in which was an open draw bridge. A court judge was near the entrance of the street of the bridge, saw the situation of the young man, and knew the draw was open, and that unless the horse was stopped would mean sudden death for both man and horse. He did not hesitate, but ran into the horse, laid hold of the bits, and though dragged along by the frightened animal, continued to hold until he stopped him before the draw was reached, and both the young man and the horse were saved. The young man got out of the buggy, and with all his expression of soul and mind gave thanks to the judge who had risked his own life and received wounds and bruises for him. A few weeks later this same young man was arraigned before the bar of justice with this same judge on the bench, and after hearing the facts and argument of counsel, the judge pronounced the young man guilty and sentenced him to servitude in the pen. The young man felt that the judge had not recognized him, and arose and addressed the court. "Judge I do not believe you know me. I am the young man you rescued from death on the draw bridge. I cannot understand how you would risk your own life to save me from death and now pronounce sentence against me, taking more than life to me, from me, and disgracing me for life." The judge replied "I was your savior then, young man. Now I am your judge."

There is no appeal from God's judgment. When a man is tried by the courts he may appeal his case to the higher courts. This judge is impartial. There is no chance of bribe or appeal. Nobody will be judged by the sins of another, and nobody will be saved by the righteousness of another. Dr. Scoville remarked that someone here had said that he was the brother-in-law of Christ, and asked him what relation he was to the devil. "We can't swing into Heaven on our wife's dress skirts," said that he would rather be an ignorer and Chinese coolie and go without God to the judgment than to be an intelligent citizen of Nacogdoches and go without God. He said that some of us are going to wait until the hearse backs up to our door and gets our little wife who would give her eyes to see us come in, and then some day after her body is mouldering in the dust, sneak in the church. He arraigned the person who didn't come because there was a large crowd, and who would wait until the meeting was over and slip in the backdoor at a little prayer meeting somewhere when there is only a few present.

"Where is thy brother, Cain? Where is your daughter tonight? Where were you Sunday? You mean to come sometime you say? The Bible says come today. Don't put it off, put it over. All I ask is that you do now what you will wish in the judgment you had done." He asked that we follow our conscience—that God had placed a policeman in our body, and that policeman was our conscience.

The sermon was well received, and effectively so, by one of the largest congregations which has greeted the preacher since he has been among us. A large representation of which we are glad to note was from the country. On the invitation, many renewed their faith in God, and many others professed faith in Jesus Christ, as a personal savior for the first time, altogether 77 going forward. Surely this is the day of grace for Nacogdoches county.

PEOPLE STARVING IN THE WORLD'S RICHEST OIL FIELD

(By Associated Press)
BUZEU, Rumania.—By Mail—Here in the midst of one of the world's richest oil fields, people have actually been starving.

Before the war this part of Rumania produced big fortunes in oil, being one of the greatest sources of European supply. Today its wells are in ruins and the people are destitute. The invading armies requisitioned everything that could be pried loose and transported, paralyzing one of the wealthiest industries in the Balkans.

Workers for the American Red Cross, which is distributing relief in the form of foods and medicines throughout the country, have found people eating bread made of leaves, twigs and bark from trees. People were bartering the coats off their backs for small portions of corn and coarse bran. In one place the relief workers found a small local hospital in which the patients slept on boards with no mattress and little covering. At one home they found five fatherless children, the oldest only nine years of age, cooking a meal of tree bark and bran, while the mother was out at work in the fields.

"Typhus is very prevalent and there is an increasing amount of smallpox," says one American woman's report. "There is no doctor nor medicine in this village and absolutely no way of taking care of the sick. In another village which I visited the entire population of 500 persons was ill with some obscure form of contagious disease."

I had another attack of the same complaint some three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy to dozens of people since I first used it."

Scores of other negroes are being cared for at their homes. The racial clashes began at ten o'clock and continued until early this morning. The trouble was the result of several recent negro attacks on white women in the nation's capital.

Four negroes drove to the naval hospital near the White House at noon today and fired four shots at the sentry and four at the inmates on the hospital grounds, and escaped.

All the shots went wild. This is the first sign of negro riot retaliations.

GREATEST DAY IN SCOVILLE MEETING

250 RESPOND TO INVITATION—599 HAVE WALKED OUT FOR CHRIST FIRST SIX DAYS.

Yesterday was a record-breaking day in the history of the Scoville Union meetings in Nacogdoches. Altho the day opened, wet and rainy, each of the five Sunday Schools showed an increased attendance and this was heartily applauded, when reported by each superintendent at the tabernacle.

Dr. Scoville took for his morning text "What Manner of Child Will This Be?" He said the parents, the state, the church and the Sunday school must answer this. The address was a searching and most earnest appeal to parents who are responsible to the child and God and humanity to see to it that it is a fortunate thing to the child that it was born to the parents it has rather than to some other. Would your boy or girl be better off if they had been into some other home? Are you doing all you can morally, educationally and religiously for your child? Is your example worthy of following and are you all you will ever wish your child to be in your religious life?

The evangelist told of a Missouri boy whose sore leg was neglected until he had to be taken off to save the boys life. The state of Missouri rined against that child. Texas is sinning against some children too. Better go through life with one leg than to be morally, religiously or socially deformed, as some have grown up in this beautiful state. Thank God the saloon, one of the greatest curses to child-life, has been outlawed. The protection has been taken from the saloon and given to the child. Seventy-one persons responded to the invitation. Church had been dismissed but about ten minutes when the rain began coming in torrents.

"The Father and Son" meeting at 3:30 will never be forgotten by those who were there. The sermon was based upon the 15th chapter of Luke. The Wonderful Father and the Prodigal Son. It was a fervent appeal from start to finish for a closer relationship between the boys and their fathers. Tie up to Dad, be a worthy son of a worthy sire. Train up your boy in the way he should go by heading in ahead of him. The outline of the sermon was unique. Dr. Scoville took the letters of the word father and let each letter stand for a step in the career of the Prodigal Son F-A-T-H-E-R. His Freedom, Adieu, Trial, Hunger, Extremity, Return. He told of an old man in Illinois who went to the train daily for 15 years waiting for his son to return. You say he must have been a hard-hearted son? How long has God been waiting for you to return unto Him that you might have life?

Without any song and while the crowd was still sitting the invitation was given and 68 men and young men got up and went forward while the crowd applauded terrifically. One of these men was 72 years old and had never accepted Christ before. Many said it was the greatest religious service in the history of Nacogdoches.

It was raining again, slowly at church time Sunday night, but a great crowd that filled the vast tabernacle at least three-fourths full, assembled to hear the sermon, the text "What Shall the End Be of Those Who Obey Not the Gospel?" 1 Peter, 4:17-18. Not just what shall the result be tonight but what shall the end be? You may get by in playing hooky in school but what shall the end be? An ignorant, uneducated child disqualified for life.

You may deceive your parents, wife or husband go into sin, and get by with it, but you have put a flaw in your character—what shall the end be? At the testing time the flaw will cause your character to break and another human wreck adrift upon the sympathy of an already overburdened humanity, will be the result. What shall the end be? "It is appointed unto man to die, after that judgment." What shall the end, the eternal end, be? Without God and without hope.

The evangelist referred to those who refused to obey the appeal of Noah. Eight were saved, by obedience, but unnumbered multitudes were lost, what shall the end be? He also referred to Lot's wife and to Uzzah. He said Lot pitched his tent toward Sodom, then pitched into Sodom; then Sodom pitched into Lot and Lot had a lot of trouble from that on. A lot of Nacogdoches-ites are in the same lot. What shall the end be? Dr. Scoville gave a graphic illustration from the traditional life of Paul in Rome. It was of Paul's influence among the Roman soldiers and of forty witnesses for Christ. The call was made for forty witnesses for Christ, last night, persons who had not formerly come forward in these meetings, and 104 men, women and children hit the Glory Trail and walked out for Christ and His Kingdom. What shall the end be of those who obey not? Last night's service will never be forgotten by those who were there.

The music is one of the great features of each service. Mrs. Scoville's solos are listened to as closely as any sermon. Her morning solo "No Room in the Inn" was one of the very best so far. In the afternoon she sang "Somebody Came and Lifted Me, Who Could it Be But Jesus?" The men applauded heartily just as the evangelist's sermon was frequently punctuated with applause. Her night solo, "The Good Old-Fashioned Way," brought down the house with loud amens! as well as with applause. Mr. Underwood plays a cornet solo almost nightly and is always heartily applauded also. Mr. Harris in his own way starts the meeting with a great volume of tremendous song. There will be no meetings today nor tonight, as Monday is the rest day. The next great service will be held Tuesday night. Prayer meetings in all parts of the city Tuesday morning 9:30 to 10:00. The Great Judgment will be the theme Tuesday night.

CAMP MEETING TIME.

Tis sweet old summer time once more, You used to hear the question Are you going to the Meeting? Now that sounds country, you hear some say, And I'll admit it does not sound quite like today. You seldom hear of a camp meeting, they seem a thing of the past, But would it not be like Heaven, if they could always last. But they tell me in our little city of 'Doches fair, They are now having a meeting you ought to go the preacher hear. They say he is a great man with a voice very strong, So go and hear him tell of our Dear Savior who never did a wrong, Now I have never met him, for on a bed of affliction I've had to stay, But it does my heart good to know he's here and for the meeting I can pray. And the singing is something grand, its something you ought to hear, To hear God's praise in sweet, sweet song is O' so very dear. I can hear it from my window, and here I want to join the band, It makes us think the Angels sing so sweet in the Heavenly land. May God's spirit reach out to every unsaved one in my prayer, And may old 'Doches' people be one band of workers for our dear Lord up there. And not leave off their work when meeting's over, and preacher gone. But just keep up their little prayer meetings, praising God in prayer and song. But now days it is the custom, to have religion as long as the meeting's in away, And when it's over so many are so indifferent and cold and turn another way. Now dear friends, our dear Lord said love ye one another, let me beg you this do. Be the same sweet kind christian after the meeting's over, ever work for your savior true. Now friends, if old 'Doches' will do this, will it not be something fine, Then this would seem like Heaven, we would no longer pine.

Foley Kidney Pills

help weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to normal and healthy action, so that the system is freed from waste and poisonous matter that causes backache, pains in side, sore muscles, stiff joints, lumbago, rheumatism, puffiness under eyes and kindred symptoms.

"Mrs. J. D. Miller, Syracuse, N.Y., writes: 'For many years, old and on, I suffered from kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe backache and felt miserable, and I got to a place where I had to do something. I bought Foley Kidney Pills and after taking two bottles I can say my backache is gone, and where I used to lie awake nights with rheumatic pains, I now sleep in comfort and enjoy a good night's rest. Foley Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me, and I recommend them.'

AMERICAN IDEALS LIFT RUSSIANS FROM DESPONDENCY

PARIS.—By Mail—Half a million Russians in Germany who formerly were prisoners of war have been lifted out of despondency within the last four months, partly by a course of training in American ideals, American sports and American spirit, said Major James R. Babbitt, of Philadelphia, when he returned recently from Germany on his way to the United States.

Major Babbitt is a professor in Haverford College, and a member of the American Football Rules' Committee. He was chief of the Bureau of Medical and Surgical Relief for the American Red Cross in Germany and visited nearly all the camps where Russian prisoners were interned.

"We found the Russian war prisoners in a state of complete lassitude, mentally and physically," he said. "They had spent four years in the neglect and misery of German internment camps. It was enough to break the strongest man's spirit. Their own country had forgotten them, and no word had come from their relatives and friends. There was no future in Germany nor hope of anything better in their country. Hundreds of thousands of Russians who had fought valiantly for the allied cause were slowly dying from depression, mental inactivity and physical malnutrition.

We put them to school like children. Athletic games were introduced into the camps and these stimulated the prisoners physically while motion pictures and other mental recreations brightened their dull hours. Their hospitals were provided with every needed medical and surgical requisite. The camps were organized under the command of the American army personnel. They began to take on a new physical aspect and the men showed signs of returning life and courage. Although they at first regarded us with suspicion, this was soon changed and they looked upon us as friends. They formed camp committee which brought all their needs, grievances and fears to our attention.

PEOPLE OF NACOGDOCHES MAY SECURE THE GRENADE BANKS

Hand grenade, just like those hurled into the Hun lines by the American soldiers, can be secured as war souvenirs by the boys and girls, men and women of Nacogdoches. These grenades have been made into savings banks and are being distributed locally by the Stone Fort National Bank.

When the Germans gave up the United States had a large quantity of these grenades ready to send across. The War Department had no further need of these "weapons of war" so turned them over to the Savings Division of the Treasury Department and they have been transformed into "weapons of peace."

It is a simple matter to obtain one of these grenade banks. The boy or girl obtains one from the local bank so that he or she can save. When enough money has been earned and saved to buy a $5 War Savings Stamp and it is purchased, the grenade becomes the property of the boy or girl. Adults may also obtain these grenade banks by saving and investing in at least three $5 War Savings Stamps of the 1919 issue.

Only a limited number of these grenades could be obtained for Nacogdoches. This will be the only opportunity to earn a real weapon of war as a souvenir. When these grenades are gone, it will be impossible to secure any more. Those interested should arrange today to get their grenades, which can be obtained in Nacogdoches from the Stone Fort National Bank.

Buy War Savings Stamps regularly.

Ten thousand others have settled in or near Pirot, close to the Bulgarian border, either through sheer exhaustion, or from news that their old homes in Central Serbia have been destroyed.

One Red Cross major and an American army sergeant brought enough food into a hundred villages of the Pirot district to feed 150,000 people.

HAS FOUND A SURE WAY OF AVOIDING CHILLS AND AGUE

Takes Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic Before Disease Gets Hold of System.

Mr. John Glasco of Dierks, Ark., has the right idea on avoiding malaria and similar ailments. He always keeps a bottle of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic on hand, and begins taking it before the disease has time to get going. He says he uses it for all stomach disorders, too.

Other sufferers from malaria, ague, etc., are equally as hearty in their praise of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. And many others find it just as effective for colds and grippe as it is for chills and fever.

It seldom takes more than three days to break up malaria chills with Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. And no purgative has to be taken with it—the tonic itself acts gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels. It contains no calomel, and is tasteless and pleasant to take.

For over twenty years Swamp Chill Tonic has been the favorite prescription of a great many physicians. They endorse it because they know it is good.

Sold by all dealers—60 cents a bottle.

THE SOUL OF THE WAR

The United States decided both the military outcome and the moral issues of the war.

That America was predestined to be the soul of the conflict was apparent in its earliest stages.

Long before our intervention became even a remote possibility the United States was recognized intuitively by both central powers and allies as the embodiment of the world's conscience and justice.

The utterances of our chief executive were seized abroad and gradually became the real issues, displacing the original battle cries of land disputes and broken treaties.

Having shifted the issues and guided their development into maturity, America's intervention was inevitable as soon as the attainment of these issues hung by a slender thread.

The conversion of American morals and ideals into material operation in Europe necessitated the use of a material instrument—our armed forces.

The strength and accomplishment of these armed forces were of a magnitude in keeping with the tremendous spiritual force they represented.

Of the 4,800,000 Americans who donned uniform, 2,083,635 went overseas, where two out of every three took part in battle.

In the 17 days of the Meuse-Argonne battle 1,200,000 American troops were engaged.

In the final four months of the war our divisions held a longer line than the British. In October, 1918, they manned 23 per cent of the entire western front—101 miles of first-line trenches.

Americans in fighting used 2698 airplanes and 3500 pieces of artillery. Our artillery fired 1,000,000 shells in four hours at St. Mihiel.

American troops fought in 13 decisive battles.

This gigantic fighting effort cost the United States more than a million dollars an hour for over two years. The huge cost was small, considering that it saved civilization and planted undying seeds of American ideals and morals throughout the world.—Beaumont Journal.

LARGEST CAVE IN MEXICO HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, July 22.—Workers in a mine at Matehuala, near here, have discovered a cave which is said to be one of the largest in the republic. It is more than 300 feet below the level of the mine and is fifteen feet in width. Its length has never been estimated, but exploring parties expect to survey it carefully in the near future. One of the most fantastic of its many grotesque adornments is a sulphurous fountain which pours out continuously a stream of blue water.

Bunco was the game played and Miss Elstna Hanna came out winner, and for souvenir received a pretty crepe de chine kerchief, while Miss Louise Beeson for consolation for poor luck was kept busy and interested for awhile hunting for a doll that was well concealed in a big box. Louise found it though, and was happy. This afternoon of pleasure was closed with a dainty plate of refreshments. Miss Winnie Davis King was an interesting out-of-town guest.

EX-DEPUTY SHERIFF IS NOW OUT WITH FACTS

"We Know From Actual Experience What Tanlac Will Do," Says Joe Chadwick.

The imposing list of men now endorsing Tanlac who have held, or are now holding, some responsible public office grows longer day by day. To the large number of representative men whose statements have been published in the press of the country is now added the name of Joe Chadwick, formerly deputy sheriff of Bexar county, Texas, for fourteen years, and who enjoys the esteem of all who know him. Mr. Chadwick lives at 125 Krempkau street, San Antonio, and made the following statement detailing his wife's experience with Tanlac.

"I've just come in to get another bottle of Tanlac for my wife," said Mr. Chadwick, "she has already taken two bottles and her improvement is simply wonderful. My wife has suffered for ten years from a disordered stomach that gradually got worse, and about eight years ago she noticed a distressing feeling of gas after eating and it caused painful smothering spells to come on. The gas seemed to press on her heart and cause palpitations that would nearly overcome her and she would lose sleep on account of it. She couldn't sleep on her left side at all, for the pain was simply unbearable when she tried to. She had a morbid appetite and seemed to be hungry all the time, but couldn't digest what she ate very well, and early in the mornings she would often get sick at her stomach and begin vomiting.

"Her condition got to be so serious I worried a lot about her till she started taking Tanlac, then she began to improve at once and I became more hopeful of her recovery. She sleeps like a top every night now and she can sleep on her left side just as restfully as on the other, and she shows no signs of her old trouble. Her nerves are quieter now and she eats better and everything seems to agree with her and gives no distress afterwards. She is stronger and has more life and energy than before, and says she feels more like working now than she has in a long time. We know from actual experience what Tanlac will do and are telling all our friends about it whenever we see them."

PAY US A VISIT WE SAVE YOU MONEY

SAYS FOOD PRICES CLIMB TO LEVEL NEVER DREAMED OF

LONDON, July 22.—Prophecy that the price of food next winter will "climb to a level never dreamed of," was uttered by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Minister of Reconstruction, in an address at Crewe recently.

A member of the audience shouted, "more wages." Sir Auckland replied that there would be no money to pay wages because it would have to go overseas to pay for food.

The Minister warned the public that it was squandering its money in a colossal way on things that did not matter.

"You cannot live like millionaires," he said, "if you are as poor as a church mouse. This nation is now poor. It is living as if it were wealthy."

More beer was brewed in Great Britain yet people complain of a shortage. This he attributed to a doubling of the amount of beer consumed because, since the war, there was more time to drink it in and more money to pay for it.

By sending overseas for beer, silk for stockings and feathers for hats Sir Auckland said, the people were increasing Britain's debt for things that did not matter. "What you ought to get are food and raw material," he declared.

Sir Auckland denounced the limitation of output as "stark staring lunacy." The mill owners, he said, limited output to obtain higher prices and the operators limited it to make work for more people.
