RACE WAR WAXES WORSE IN CHICAGO

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 30.—Bitter fighting between whites and negroes spread last night and early today to all parts of Chicago, but with more serious injuries than previously during the race war.

The city police refused to call out state troops. Eight thousand troops are now here, but the governor hesitates to order them to charge. Twenty-seven persons are now dead and nearly a thousand injured.

All during the night men slashed each other's throats, shot others from ambush. White men were run down and isolated, and the negroes beat them to insensibility, and burned and looted houses.

All this time the troops here were idle. The police struggling to clear rioters from the Southside last night only succeeded in spreading the riots to other regions. On the north side the fighting proceeded several hours. On the west side Italians attacked negroes and burned the body of one victim. The whites again seemed to be the aggressors.

Adjutant General Dickson, after touring the racial riot district this forenoon reported the situation much improved, although the police are still facing a serious situation in the stock yards district.

State's Attorney Hoyne announced that the August grand jury will investigate the riots and fix the responsibility.

After entering the little girl to his room Fitzgerald told the police that he had strangled her to stop her cries.

Do You Buy Or Sell Hay At $40.00 Per Ton?

When paying 2 cents per pound for hay do you stop and think about those "little patches" of grass that you could have saved but which you DIDN'T SAVE?

Be a seller. It is more pleasant and profitable to sell hay at $40.00 than it is to buy at the same price.

We want to sell you a mower and rake. We'll make money when we sell and you'll make money when you buy.

Let's get together on this important matter. It's money to you, it's profit to us—but it's mighty hard on the fellow who has been selling you hay at 2 cents per pound.

Next spring will you be buying or selling hay? It's up to you.

WILSON WRITES SENATOR LODGE

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Wilson has written a letter to Senator Lodge, dealing presumably with the foreign relations committee resolution which asked for all documents used by the American delegates at the peace conference.

New York, July 26.—Ex-President Taft telegraphed the Associated Press today that his letters on the treaty reservations were plainly marked confidential, and were published yesterday without his knowledge. The Associated Press received the letters from a source which regarded them as confidential.

MAY CREATE A SPECIAL HONOR FOR PREMIER

LONDON, July 25.—King George is eager to bestow an honor on Premier David Lloyd George in recognition of his services in the war and the peace conference and the form the honor is to take is being discussed in court circles, says the Mirror.

Premier Lloyd George would not accept a peerage, the newspaper asserts, while knighthood of the Garter, which is the highest honor in the sovereign's gift, is practically confined to peers, although an exception was made in the case of Sir Edward Grey, in 1912.

The Mirror suggests that if the Gray precedent is followed, some special honor may be created.

FATE.

Many of us after making a failure are inclined to blame it on fate and quite a few successful failures are inclined to be fatalists. But on sincere thought and study would it not seem that man is the cause of all man's troubles? Looking genuinely at the root of things can any of us blame nature for our undoing? At any time, in any place, can any of us ever blame an unjust fate with our failure? Man violating the laws of nature, sometimes, and then somebody has to pay, whether it is him or somebody else. Man is born into the world incapacitated, and he sometimes blames it on nature. Is it nature's fault? Rather is it not the fault of a violation of nature's laws by his ancestors. The generation of the present day is intelligent enough to avoid the violation of nature's law. It is intelligent enough to be a hearty, healthy one in body and spirit. Earn right, eat right, sleep right work right and play right, and who shall say that any of us shall have cause to complain of our health. Down at the heart of things is it not a simple matter to produce a sturdy generation. All of us know how to do the above things—but we don't do them. And then when we have to pay some of us begin to blame fate.

We attempt a task that we believe we can't easily do. We fail, and then somebody else who we think is our equal, comes along and accomplishes it with ease. We consider that he is more gifted than us and blame it on fate, and our eyes are blinded to our own limitations.

Circumstances, we say, circumstances come up over which we have no control, that prevent us from doing certain things. But when we begin to think about it they are few and far between, and rarely anything occurs that is not the fault of man. If the fault of man certainly it is not fate. Whatever there is of joy, pleasure, goodness and greatness in this life we shall have to attribute it to man. And in like manner, whatever there is of sorrow and pain, it is always the natural price that one has to pay for the violation of the laws of nature.

There seems to be a frequency of race trouble over the country at the present time, and in some places, as at the nation's capital, it has assumed appalling proportions. The vast difference between the way the negro is treated in the north and south perhaps is largely responsible for this. To a great extent the north believes in race equality, and many states do not believe in segregation. The south does not believe in race equality and does believe in segregation. The south treats the negro courteous and kind, and is willing to do all possible for his advancement and betterment, but it does not believe in intermingling nor treating him equal. It seems to us that this is the proper way. All races are not equal. In many ways the negro is not the equal of the white man, and most of the southern negroes know this. It is only when the negro gets to believing that he is that trouble comes up. Thus it would seem that the way the negro is treated in the north would cause him to give trouble when he comes south. Perhaps this is not the direct cause of the trouble in Washington, but in most instances it is the root of the trouble, and can be remedied only by the adoption of one policy over the nation.

It is announced that Villa and Angeles have disbanded their forces and will go to Japan to secure munitions to open up their campaign in the fall in earnest. Indirectly this affords the Carranza government an opportunity to establish themselves more firmly in the northern states formerly in the control of Villa. The Carranza government, though very weak, is about as strong as can be hoped for in Mexico at the present time. He has had more opportunities to establish himself than any other revolutionary president in recent years, and yet in many instances has shown ingratitude to the United States, who have practically sustained him in office by recognition. Let us hope that with this second chance that he will redeem himself, and make an earnest effort to establish his government on a sound basis.

A minister remarked this morning that we needed a revival of religion in Nacogdoches and one in Washington—if it would get rid of politicians. No one will dispute the fact that the politicians are having their day at the present time—and that all of us are hoping that the worst is passed.

It is said that the Germans are endeavoring to float a large loan in the United States. Germany can't hope to pay her war debt that way—it will take more money than she can borrow to do that.

According to the Associated Press, there was working as a porter in the Texas house of representatives during the special session just ended, Zeke Williams, a negro, who during the twelfth legislature in 1871 sat on the floor as a representative. The Scoville revival at Nacogdoches is leaving foot prints on the sand of time. Two hundred and fifty people had responded to invitations and had walked out for Christ up to last Sunday night.—Lufkin News.

Just to keep the record straight The Sentinel will have to correct the above statement. Two hundred and fifty people came forward Sunday alone, the total to date being between seven and eight hundred.

It is stated that the treaty with France will form a new basis of attack on President Wilson by those who are opposed to him. The president is having to fight for everything these days, all of which goes to illustrate the pettiness of man. A democratic president can do nothing with a republican senate.

Tomorrow is the glorious Lord's Day. It should have a new meaning to the people of Nacogdoches. Last Sunday was a great day for the cause of righteousness in Nacogdoches, when over two hundred people responded to the invitation. Tomorrow should be even greater. Be sure that you attend some Sunday school and then go to church.

A dispatch from Paris says that the foreign diplomats will not combat any charges that the United States senate may make in the peace treaty or league of nations, and that they will not stand by Japan if she objects to reservations in the Shantung question. It also states that Berlin will not object to a new treaty, as it couldn't be any worse. All of which may be true, but at the same time it is hoped that all of this will not have to be gone through with again.

This is the open season for protracted meetings, and virtually every town and community in the whole country will have had its revival of religion before the falling of the leaves. The News has had reports from several meetings up to the present time, and invariably these reports are most flattering, indicating that there is a strong inclination upon the part of the people to turn away from worldly things with which they have been engrossed so long, and partake of spiritual things, which if seized upon in all faith, yield those larger and richer returns altogether indescribable and which afford that peace which passeth all understanding.—Lufkin News.

REVIEW OF THE CALLED SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, July 28.—The second called session of the Thirty-sixth Texas legislature accomplished before sine die adjournment on July 22 the main purpose for which it was assembled—the passing of appropriation bills for the support of the state government for the next two fiscal years, beginning September 1, 1919.

Total appropriations made by the session just closed are estimated at $29,250,000, and the state comptroller estimates that the revenue for which these appropriations were made will be $29,250,000.

Of the total appropriations, $22,102,389 was contained in eight general appropriation bills passed at the session just closed. This sum is divided as follows:

- Judiciary—First year, $1,465,438; second year, $1,423,763.
- Educational—$4,171,861 and $4,106,476.
- Eleemosynary—$2,769,864 and $2,633,104.
- Departmental—$2,280,702 and $2,264,583.
- Emergency—$217,708.
- Deficiency—$125,483.
- Miscellaneous—$464,376 and $244,091.
- Mileage and per diem—$35,000.
- The balance of the appropriations were made for various special purposes.

In speaking of the work on appropriations, Governor Hobby said:

"The called session just ended has performed its work under the most unsettled conditions that have prevailed since the war between the states. On the whole, I am highly gratified with the work accomplished. Texas is growing so fast that her old clothes won't fit, and there is too much now in Texas to take care of the changed conditions by appropriations that compare with previous ones. The country bids fair to continue on wartime prices, and so the financial problem of the state is the most difficult in our history.

The work of the legislature in disposing of legislation other than appropriations, however, is not considered so efficient, the governor said.

"I was liberal in the matter of submitting subjects for legislation," the chief executive continued, "because I believed that the more subjects submitted the less legislation would follow. The results, I think, have proven this to be true."

Approximately thirty-five laws general in character and effect were passed. This number includes amendments to laws previously on the statutes.

The early part of the session was devoted to ratification of the woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution, and then the Blue Ridge prison farm question received considerable attention. All through the session appropriation measures were pending, and not before the middle of the third week was a general law passed finally.

With the beginning of the fourth week the tangle was beginning to unravel, and during the last week action on bills became more frequent.

But the day before adjournment carried the record for business despatched. On this day the house enacted twenty-two general laws. When the morning session opened on that day these twenty-two measures were in the form of senate bills on second and third reading in the house. At the end of the night session, about 11 o'clock, they had all been passed finally; and that day's work in the house, as far as final results, aside from appropriations, are to be considered, was greater than that of all the preceding days.

Despite this late rush a number of subjects which had been submitted by the governor were crowded out of consideration. Among them were the proposed civil service regulations for state employes, conservation and reclamation measures, health regulations, and the soldiers' bonus bill.

A brief resume of bills passed includes:

An act authorizing the forming of corporations to guarantee bills of exchange on cotton.

An act extending the term of the commission of Appeals for one year, or until June, 1920.

A revision of hard mineral mining laws to make them conform with federal regulations.

A revision of the state depository law.

An act allowing owners of land sold with mineral rights to reserve one-sixteenth royalty on oil and gas.

An act authorizing the prison commission to buy machinery for factories which in their judgment can be profitably operated by convict labor.

The enabling act of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution, which prescribes stringent regulations of liquor traffic.

An act authorizing the land commissioner to lease state lands under tidewater and the shallows of the Gulf for oil and gas development.

An act to require oil and gas producers to keep records of their production.

A revision of the fish, game and oyster laws, which requires the licensing of professional fishermen, places a tax upon fish caught for sale from public waters, and provides that only citizens of the United States may obtain licenses as professional fishermen.

In addition there was a number of bills relating to the handling of school funds, creation of various school districts, etc. Other bills made more or less purely corrective amendments to laws previously passed, especially those of the regular session of the Thirty-sixth legislature.

During the closing days of the session members were predicting that another session of the legislature would be called at times ranging from November this year to February of next, but Governor Hobby has given no intimation where he would again call the Thirty-sixth legislature in special session.

The last session accomplished practically everything upon which the governor laid special stress, except a revision of the board of control law, and the general opinion at the capital

VIRGIN ISLANDS PORT IS REGAINING IMPORTANCE

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, July 5.—Correspondence of the Associated Press—This American port is beginning to regain some of its former maritime importance. Owing to the war improvements in this direction have been slow since the Virgin Islands were purchased from Denmark but now, after considerable agitation by business men of St. Thomas, American steamers are beginning to call here. This is the result of representations which have been made to Washington in behalf of the inhabitants of the islands.

The islanders feel that American steamship owners and especially the Shipping Board at Washington have heretofore overlooked the facilities of the harbor of St. Thomas for providing coal, fuel oil and other stores. While few American steamers have been calling at St. Thomas for supplies many have called at the neighboring British islands where facilities are not as good as here. The price of coal is cheaper at St. Thomas than at the British islands.

To bring this matter before the shipping board and to obtain all the help possible from the American people and congress, a meeting of the inhabitants of the Virgin Islands was held here. Resolutions were adopted calling the attention of the shipping board to the facilities of the port, such as a pier of 3,000 feet with 31 feet of water along side and all up-to-date appliances for the quick dispatch of waiting vessels for coal, water, fuel, etc.

The resolution was carried to Washington by Darwin O. Curry, collector of customs, who laid it before the shipping board. Mr. Curry has since returned and reported that the board and the members of congress and the American business men have promised to do all they can for the island.

Another oil depot is being erected here to meet increased demands. The people of St. Thomas believe it possesses far better facilities than most other West India islands and are determined to make known its availability as a port on call for supplying steamers.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER THE DEMANDS OF BELGIUM

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A commission representing seven powers will meet in Paris Thursday, July 29, to consider the demands of Belgium for reconsideration of the treaty of 1839 by which Holland annexed the territory on the south bank of the Scheldt river and the southern part of Dutch Limburg, an elongated strip of land between Belgium and Germany, says a Belgian official announcement issued here.

In view of this meeting, the Belgian Official Information Service has made public a statement by Dr. A. Hebbelync, rector emeritus of the University of Louvain, reviewing the treaties under which Holland obtained possession of the disputed territory and setting forth arguments in favor of Belgium's claims.

Dr. Hebbelync, who is now in New York, declares that "the contention of Belgium is that both for the safeguard of its military security in the north and for its economical development, it must have absolute control of the southern half of the River Scheldt, which implies possession of its left bank." This left bank from the North Sea nearly to the Belgian port of Antwerp now is controlled by Holland.

Belgium, Dr. Hebbelync says, was compelled by the treaty of 1839 to recognize Holland's sovereignty over this territory, now known as Dutch Flanders, of which he says, was demonstrated in 1914 when Germany called them "mere scraps of paper," and invaded Belgium.

"The experience of 1914," continues Dr. Hebbelync, "have made clear that unless Antwerp can even in time of war, maintain its free access to the sea, unhampered by the quibbles of a neutral neighbor, the position of Antwerp is rendered indefensible for any length of time. The peril is made all the more acute by the fact that Antwerp is the only sea port available in Belgium for big ships, such as army and ammunition transports.

"From the economical point of view it is an absolute necessity that Belgium obtain the right to manage without hindrance, as a sovereign and independent power, the whole water system, not only of the Scheldt river from Antwerp to the sea, but also of the low-lying lands of Northern

Flanders and of the ship canal from Ghent to the Scheldt river at Terneuzen.

"The keys of Antwerp are at present in foreign hands. Belgium claims them back on the strength of principles of international law, today universally proclaimed. He asserts that unless trouble arises from the manner in which Dutch government officials carry out the agreement over the use of the small harbor of Terneuzen, as an outlet of the ship and canal from Ghent to the sea through Dutch territory.

Expounding Belgium's claims to the southern part of Dutch Limburg, Dr. Hebbelync asserts that Holland's possession of this territory "lays the northeastern frontier of Belgium open to all attacks because the Dutch government recognizes the impossibility to defend Limburg against an invader coming from the east."

This fact, he adds, compelled Holland to let a whole Germany army escape through Limburg into Germany with its plunder carried from Belgium in November, 1918. The rector of Louvain also points out that Belgium needs a ship canal across Dutch Limburg in order to tap the enormous coal fields of Westphalia.

"Belgium, he concludes, "does not want to grab territory from Holland. It only craves a reconsideration of the iniquitous arrangements of 1648 to 1839 in the light of modern principles."

He points out that Holland should be compensated by obtaining from Germany the provinces of Ostfriesland and Cleef which, he says, are largely inhabited by Dutch-speaking people.

THE COAL MINERS STRIKE SETTLED

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 25.—The strike of approximately a quarter of a million men in the coal mines that threatened to paralyze many British industries was settled today.

LONDON, July 25.—The executive committee of the miners' federation met Premier Lloyd George and other members of the government Thursday morning in an effort to settle the dispute in the Yorkshire coal fields.

No settlement was reached at the morning session of the conference. The conference adjourned until evening to allow the miners representatives time to consider further government proposals on the question of piece rates growing out of the advance in the price of coal.

The exportation of Cardiff coal has been stopped by a government order issued Thursday.

The Lancashire miners at a mass meeting Wednesday protested against the six shillings advance in the price of coal and endorsed the action of their leaders. They adopted a resolution, however, to return to work.

The pump men and engine men of three South Yorkshire collieries have decided, apparently on their own initiative to resume work. Then thousands of men who struck in Derbyshire, Wednesday, have allowed enough of the operatives to return to keep the workings open to prevent flooding. The Daily Mail's labor expert learns that the temper of the strikers in the other districts is improving decidedly.

TO SELL ARMY FOODSTUFF SOON

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A resolution calling upon the war department to arrange for the immediate sale of a hundred and twenty million dollars worth of surplus stock army food stuffs is being prepared today by the house war investigating committee. The resolution will probably be introduced Monday, and will declare for a plan of food distribution "which will insure an opportunity for the people of the United States to buy." The committee charges the secretary of war with withholding foodstuffs from the domestic market to protect the interests from which the products were originally purchased.

COTTON TRADE WITH JAPAN.

These Texas cotton men who are en route to the Far East to study the conditions of the cotton trade are undertaking a mission which may prove of much importance to Texas growers of the fleecy staple.

Japan is rapidly becoming a great manufacturing nation and her cotton mills are increasing. Her natural trade territory takes in millions of people in the Orient, and with the increase in her cotton manufacturing facilities, she is becoming a strong rival of western manufacturing interests, and at the same time she is in position to stimulate the demand for cotton goods and cotton products among the people in that part of the world.

A great demand for cotton from Japan will work to the advantage of the Texas farmer, as it will bring new bidders into the market for his products and increase the competition among the buyers, tending to break the monopoly the European and American spinners have upon the market. A new outlet for cotton in large quantities will be welcomed by the grower.

Texas is favorably situated to profit most by the opening up of a larger outlet to the Orient through Japan, for with the Panama canal now in use, cotton ships can load cargoes at Texas ports and transport the shipments at reasonable cost, and within a reasonable length of time. The canal saves the long rail haul to the Pacific coast, and will prove one of the greatest advantages to Texas farmers in their trade with Japan.

The Japanese cotton trade is something Texas interests may well cultivate, and efforts in that direction should occupy an important place on our foreign trade program. The report of the Texas commissioners Messrs. Louis Lipsitz, Reagan Wofford and T. L. Camp will be awaited with interest.—Houston Post.

FRENCH TROOPS SENT BULGARIA

Geneva, July 24.—As the result of an attack on French soldiers by the Bulgarians, a French regiment has arrived at Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, to disarm the local garrison, according to the Rumanian bureau.

PARIS, July 24.—The French regiment was attacked by the Bulgarians as the regiment was landing on the river Danube, 22 miles southeast of Wain, a few days ago, according to a Belgrade dispatch. Three French soldiers were killed in a lively fusillade, which lasted three hours.

SUMMER CAMPS PROMISED FOR NATIONAL GUARD

The militia bureau, war department, has authorized the holding of camps of instruction during the present calendar year for units of the National Guard of the United States and the State of Texas, which includes Troop I of our city.

It is probable that they will be held during August either at Camp Mabry, Austin, Camp Travis, San Antonio, or Camp Stanley, Leon Springs. Camp Stanley would unquestionably be the preference of cavalrymen. The camps will be authorized for a period of 15 days, exclusive of the time necessarily used in going to and returning therefrom.

In order to draw pay, each unit must have an average number present for duty for the whole camp period of more than 50 percent of its prescribed minimum strength of officers and not less than 80 percent of the prescribed minimum enlisted strength. This means at least two officers for each company or troop, and at least 56 enlisted men. No officer will be excused from attendance except by authority from the department commander in each case, and for a stated reason. No enlisted man will be mustered for pay at camps of instruction who has not been a bona fide member of his organization for at least two months prior to leaving for camp. Captain Lee says he will take no men who can not qualify in the manual of arms.

Ex-Servicemen Wanted.
However, men who have served in the United States army, or any recognized military organization during the recent emergency may be enlisted in the National Guard units and attend the camp and be paid. The same rule applies to officers and enlisted men who have attended the training camps for 60 days or more within two years under United States army officers.

Chance to Sign On.
The cavalry troop of this city has a few vacancies in its enlisted personnel, which can be filled by enlistment. Ex-soldiers are invited to enlist in this organization, and they will go on to the camp. Equal ranks to what they have held will be given so far as possible. The cavalry will be glad to have any of them. This, of course, also applies to those who served in the marines. They can enlist for a period of one year or for a period of three years, as they may choose.

Members of the troop who have not yet been issued uniforms should get theirs at once. Some sizes of shoes, etc., will have to be exchanged, and all this must be accomplished before the troop leaves here. Seventy uniformed men will go from here, none without uniform.

The government pays the entire expense of the camp of instruction, and the instructors will be regular army officers. At the earliest practicable time definite announcement of place and date will be made. The war department is very anxious to have the cavalry units of the National Guard in shape for any emergency that may arise, as speedily as possible, and every effort is now being made by the officers of the Texas cavalry to bring this about. The camp of instruction will materially assist the organizations in becoming a militant force.

"The officers of the First Brigade Cavalry will meet in Austin Sunday, 8 o'clock a. m., July 27, for conference. At this conference the general condition of the organizations will be discussed and preparations for the encampment made."

CLARENCE OUSLEY GOES TO THE SIMPLE LIFE

COLLEGE STATION, July 24.—Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture, who recently resigned as director of the extension service of A. & M. college, was given an ovation here yesterday on the occasion of an address before the county farm and demonstration agents of the college and the students of the farmers short course. While Mr. Ousley resigned July 1 this was regarded as his farewell address and the audience stood as he rose to speak. Declaring that his business connections in the east are only temporary, Mr. Ousley said his ambition of many years to retire to a Texas farm to spend his last days would still be carried out and that upon his return to the state he expected to discharge his duties as a citizen and would always be found supporting the interests of education, the extension service, agriculture and a rural life. And prior to his return to the state for permanent residence he expects to come back whenever there is anything of a public nature doing, and have a part in it, he said.

REPUBLICANS MAY ACCEPT THE LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Former president Taft, who has written several republican senators suggesting reservations to the peace treaty which might be acceptable to both sides today opened correspondence on the subject with prominent democratic senators, including Hitchcock of Nebraska. Taft's communication to Hitchcock was not made public, but it is understood to be similar to those sent republicans. Hitchcock and other administration leaders declare at present at least, they will continue their efforts for ratification without reservations.

Take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten right up better than calomel and most griping or making you sick I'll give you $10.00 to go back to the store and buy your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you feel weak and sick and nauseated. You lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling great, perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything after.
