FARMERS CALLING FOR TRACTOR OPERATORS.

The army is training thousands of tractor operators. The majority of these men enlisted to secure this training and are putting their best efforts into this work, with the idea of fitting themselves for good positions when they return to civil life. Most of them are young men who are eager to learn, and willing to work. The following is an outline of what training a man gets in this work in the tank corps.

Mechanically a tank is no more or less than a caterpillar tractor driven by a gasoline motor. Its operation and maintenance, on account of its armor, is more difficult than of any commercial tractor on the market. Tanks are so expensive that their crews are required to undergo a thorough course of instruction before they are allowed to handle them. The course includes driving, oiling, repairs, gas engines, carburation, ignition, etc. The instruction is conducted by officers especially fitted for that work and non-commissioned officers who have shown marked ability along that particular line. The courses combine theory with practice, and ample instruction equipment is provided to permit them to apply each day's work at once. The machines that are broken by students during their training are supplied with spare parts that are fitted and adjusted under the supervision of officers by the students.

When a man completes his school training, he is given a certificate showing the grade he attained in each course. Then the men take up the regular work of their organization and constantly apply what they learned in the schools throughout the remainder of their time in the tank corps. The result is they develop into well trained men, experienced mechanics that can operate any tractor that is built.

The utility of the tractor was fully proven through its use in the army during the war. The caterpillar tractors that pulled the guns went through obstacles that would have been out of the question for horse drawn vehicles. The tanks went into places where the movement of wheeled transportation was impossible. The practicability of the tractor was known before the war, but its extensive use was prevented because there were few men who understood tractor operation. Despite the large number of operators developed during the war, the supply is still far below the demand for those men. It is said that any tractor salesman maintains he could double his sales if he could furnish trained men to run the machines, the price of the tractor being worth half the amount I ask for the place. Better see me at once for we have a real oil field in three miles of Woden. This farm is one mile from school and one-half mile from church. Bargain if sold at once. See Ed King, Woden, Texas. ## Quick Justice Meted To Brutal Murderer

The Sentinel of Monday carried a brief story of the presence in this city of San Augustine county officers in custody of a negro, Ed Price, charged with a brutal murder as was ever recorded in the annals of crime in East Texas. The sequel follows:

Feeling in the neighborhood of the crime had become aroused to the point where the mob spirit was developed, and it was fully expected the officers would be met by vengeful citizens and the negro lynched. It is said the mob organized and awaited the officers on the main road between Nacogdoches and San Augustine, and it was poor guesswork on their part that enabled the officers to deliver their prisoner unharmed at the county jail of the latter town.

It is reported when the sheriff's posse started in pursuit of the murderer they left their auto at a lower crossing of the Angelina river. The mob, after forming on the main road decided the officers would return to the abandoned car, and so they determined to meet the sheriff at that point. They left the road and proceeded to the point where the car had been left, and the officers and their prisoner passed safely over the road just abandoned by the mob. Had the self-appointed avengers remained at their first post they would have encountered the officers.

Sheriff Wilkerson reached San Augustine with his man and the law-abiding residents of the town at once became active in an effort to prevent the lynching. Judge Adams of the district bench was holding court at Hemphill, but on receiving information of the situation he made the trip across-country in an auto and arrived in San Augustine in time to induce the enraged citizens to allow the law to take its course. To effect this, he immediately organized a grand jury, which within a few minutes returned a true bill. A trial jury was then empaneled, the negro brought into court, and an attorney appointed to defend him. The trial proceeded rapidly, and at its conclusion a verdict of murder in the first degree was returned against the defendant.

Judge Adams passed sentence and the condemned man waiving the delay of thirty days between conviction and execution, the time was fixed at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, at which hour he was hanged on the public square of San Augustine in the presence of an immense throng. It was quick work and the people are satisfied with the lawful manner in which the murderer paid the penalty of his hideous crime. It was much better than if a mob had inflicted the punishment the criminal evidently so richly deserved.

WILL DELAWARE RATIFY FEDERAL AMENDMENT?

Dover, Del., March 23.—Whether the women of America shall participate in the forthcoming presidential primaries and general election apparently rested today on the Delaware legislature in extraordinary session. Only one state is needed now to complete the ratification of the federal woman's suffrage amendment.

CIVIL WAR IN GERMANY

Wesel, Germany, March 24.—Six thousand government troops, reinforced by armed countrymen, skirmished with about 15,000 communists near here Tuesday night. Sixty-two were reported killed and over 100 wounded.

PLAN INTENDED TO IMPROVE THE ARMY.

Secretary of War Baker writes as follows regarding the great educational movement being developed for the benefit of the soldiers in the regular army:

The war department is at present engaged in putting into effect a carefully considered plan intended to improve the army, make it attractive to young men and demonstrate that it is a vital and natural part of the social organism of the nation. We are endeavoring to convince these young men that in serving in the army they are not only performing a patriotic duty, but are acquiring and are having their characters developed. The war department has arranged, with the advice and assistance of some of the best educators in the country, a school course for soldiers in the army which includes elementary subjects, some secondary subjects and a system of vocational training the equivalent of that given in a good civilian trade school. The plan is in actual operation at the present time and about sixty percent of the soldiers are availing themselves of these courses.

I believe that the army may be made still more attractive by opening to our soldiers an opportunity for higher education and training and it has occurred to me that one leading to and through our great universities to cadetship at the United States Military Academy at West Point each year, but it is believed to be desirable to broaden the scope of the opportunities offered them so that those who wish may pursue other educational courses than that leading up to a commission in the army.

V. L. Grimes of Oak Ridge was in the city Monday.

SPECIAL SESSION UNNECESSARY

Austin, Texas, March 23.—Assistant Attorney General Stone says the governor will be advised that in his opinion a special session of the legislature will not be necessary to meet federal demands for regulation in the alleged boll worm districts. He says the law is adequate for the federal requirements except the reimbursement feature.

FAMILY STRUCK BY TRAIN

Atlanta, Texas, March 23.—Dr. R. L. Long was killed, his wife fatally injured and two sons and two daughters seriously hurt today when a Texas Pacific train backed into them.

AIDING AMBITIOUS GIRLS

Denton, Texas, March 24.—Miss Lora B. Peck of Houston advises the College of Industrial Arts of Denton Texas, that the Woman's Club of Houston has raised a Student's Loan Fund of $1,000 to enable worthy ambitious girls to attend the College of Industrial Arts. The $1,000 has been deposited in the college bank and is to be loaned to such girls at 3 percent interest. The Woman's Club of Houston is certainly rendering a greatly needed service in this matter, because hundreds of qualified girls write letters to the college during each spring and summer making inquiries about loans, scholarships, endowments, and other financial aid to enable them to attend the College of Industrial Arts. It is probable, said President Brally, that other woman's clubs, and many public-spirited citizens, will follow the example of the Woman's Club of Houston, and establish loan funds to aid many of the worthy and ambitious girls of Texas in acquiring a practical college education. Of the 1,460 girls in the college this session several hundred of them earn some of their expenses while attending the college, but the college is unable, without contributed loan funds to help many qualified girls who apply for aid that they may attend the college. The expenses of the college are kept at a minimum and the democracy of the student body is one of the characteristic features of the college; all of the vocations and professions and occupational activities of the State are represented among the students. Any public-spirited citizen, or any woman's club, interested in establishing a loan fund should write to the president of the college.

NEW GERMAN CABINET

Copenhagen, March 24.—The formation of a new German cabinet is only a few hours off. The independent socialists are sure of a few portfolios, according to the Berlin telegrams. The gas, water and electricity works and the tramways are still idle as the independent socialists assumed a waiting attitude. It is said they were dissatisfied with the government's "soft methods toward traitors," while armed Sparticans are simply stood against a wall.

COUNTY AGENT ARRIVES

Mr. C. H. Debler, the newly appointed agricultural agent for Nacogdoches county, arrived Wednesday by auto, and will assume his duties on April 1.

We take pleasure in reproducing the following in a recent issue of the Silsbee Bee:

C. H. Debler, county agricultural agent for Hardin county, has resigned his position to accept a similar place with Nacogdoches county. Nacogdoches can not tell the world that she has the best hustler going and a man who knows his business and will attend to it. We hate very much to see Mr. Debler leave Hardin county, but will have to admit that he is going to a most prosperous and up-to-date county, where his superior knowledge and faithful work will be highly appreciated.

NACOGDOCHES WINNERS IN ARMY ESSAY CONTEST.

The winners of Nacogdoches county in the great army essay contest will be published in the next few days. The essays have been returned from Dallas recruiting offices to Lieut. Harant, local recruiting officer. In turn, they were immediately placed in the hands of the local board of judges, who will determine the winners and the prizes awarded accordingly on an appointed day.

The names of the winners, as well as the essay written by them, will be published in the local papers.

SCHOOL NOTES

Interscholastic Prizes

The business men of Nacogdoches have shown how much appreciation they have for athletics of the Nacogdoches High School by giving some particularly valuable prizes to the winners. Much enthusiasm is in evidence among all the school and it is expected that the Nacogdoches High will make a record for itself that will be the envy of all the other schools.

The Stone Fort National Bank has offered a prize of $5 to the winner of the shot put; Tucker, Hayter & Company has offered $5 to the winner of the discus throw; for the winner of the high jump, T. J. Kinsey has offered a $2.50 necktie to be selected by the winner; for the broad jump, Stripling, Haselwood & Co. have offered a seven jewel watch; the 50 yard dasher gets from J. W. Kennedy a valuable fountain pen; the 100-yard man gets from Swift Bros. & Smith a pair of solid gold cuff buttons; the 220-yard man receives from Thomas & Richardson a cash prize of $5; the Commercial Guaranty State Bank offers the 440-yard man a prize $5; Cason, Monk & Co. offer the winner of the 880-yard dash a present of $5; for the mile run J. F. Summers offers first prize, $5 and the Mot Motor Co. offer second prize of $5 and a meal or luncheon book worth $5; in the one mile relay the W. T. Wilson Grain Co. will give the winner $5; for the winner of the 120-yard high hurdle, the Queen Theatre offers $10; pole vault, the winner receives from the Ford Station $5; the declaimer who is winner receives, first prize, from Greene & Muller $10 and second prize H. L. McKnight $1; the winners get from Tucker, Hayter & Co. $10 in merchandise suitable to sex, and the individual appointment gets $10 from F. S. Heitman.

"These are all valuable prizes and it is indeed a gratification to the Nacogdoches High School to have them offered," were the words of a school man yesterday while talking about the matter.

The high school auditorium presented some quiet enthusiasm Tuesday morning when some live songs were sung during chapel services, and some speeches made by the faculty. Quite a bit of interest was shown by the school in the approaching athletic contests in which Nacogdoches is to play an important part. The boys are practicing every day preparing to evince some pride in the work which the business firms of Nacogdoches have shown so much interest in by donating various valuable prizes to the winners. The chapel services were a success, and very much appreciated by the students, who appreciate refreshing exercises giving them diversion from their strenuous duties.

NACOGDOCHES DEVELOPMENT.

This year finds Nacogdoches and Nacogdoches county in the midst of greatest prosperity in its history. Everywhere are evidences of it, and the land is resounding with the constructive spirit of progress. Many things are being added to the county and city which abundantly add to its attractiveness and worth, causing the name of Nacogdoches to command every day more and more respect. The name of Nacogdoches is known now where two years ago it was only known in a legendary way; that is to say, people who knew of Nacogdoches associated it with some event in history or the name of some great Texas leader. But now those who speak the name of Nacogdoches instinctively associate it with a progressive idea, the highest, and a place where men and women do things.

Nacogdoches county has indeed a wonderful future and correspondingly the city of Nacogdoches has one equally as bright. The county is supplied with every element that promotes a greater and greater county. Nacogdoches county institutions are wonderful, and the reader will pardon the digression when the statement is made that the city of Nacogdoches has absolutely the finest, the most democratic, the most energetic high school to be found in Texas. True, the Nacogdoches High School may not have some of the equipment that other schools might have, but what it may lack in equipment it has abundantly in spirit.

Nacogdoches county is preparing to become the cynosure of Texas oil developments without a doubt. Its citizens are becoming more and more interested each day in the obvious oil resources in the county. Where oil seeps out of the ground, it is reasonable to think that oil in paying quantities can be found if only enough interest is taken to drill for it. But let that be as it may, oil companies all over the country are looking to Nacogdoches county lands with longing eyes and they are preparing to get some of the valuable soil.

The Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce is trying to get the farmers and the business men of the county welded together in a common cause, install a co-operative marketing system, promote livestock raising, and urge other progressive measures for the county. Things look truly good in this respect.

The moral of this article is to point out to Nacogdoches county people that just at present there is no place in Texas able to compare with Nacogdoches when it comes to prosperity; and of course with prosperity, under normal circumstance, comes happiness. If you are a Nacogdoches county man you should be proud of it, for Nacogdoches is getting to be nowadays a synonym of progressiveness. For God's sake be proud that you are of Nacogdoches, for you live in a land the envy of all Texas, and a place fit for the Gods. Catch the spirit and boost. It should be an inspiration and a pleasure.

SOME COTTON PICKER

From the Lufkin News.

The News carried mention a few days ago about the champion cotton picker of Oklahoma coming to Angelina county to farm this year, and establish a record in cotton picking that will lay the previous records in the shade. But perhaps he will not have very much to talk about when he hears of this: Joe Johnson is an arrival in Lufkin from Taylor county, on a visit to his brother, A. R. Johnson, of the Moore Grocery Company. Mr. Johnson is very modest in his claims as a cotton picker, and it was only by chance that the News learned of his record in cotton fields in his home county, where he has gathered as high as 1,200 pounds of the staple in a single day. At the price of $4.00 per hundred pounds for the picking, it can be readily seen that the high cost of living has no terrors for Mr. Johnson. The one thing that might give him concern would be to get into a community where there were enough fields to be picked without having to lose so much time going from one patch to another. Who else understands the art of gathering the fleecy staple?

When Abraham Lincoln, as president-elect, visited Philadelphia on his way to be inaugurated at Washington, seven lines in the newspapers announced his coming.

The man with an income of $2,000 a year receives just $870 in the value of the standard of 1913.

U. S. ARMY MOLDER OF MEN

By Prof. H. R. Reiter

Shake hands with the youth just back from the service and you will find a man's grip. You knew him when he left home, a pale, stupid, indoors person. You see him now a full-blooded, erect, out-of-doors personality. The look of his eyes spell stamina, tenacity, efficiency.

What caused the change? The Army. We found in examining our freshman at Lehigh University this fall, that the new class is distinctly above our average—an average formerly creditable enough. I am confident that this improvement is one of the blessings of the war. Many of these young fellows were in service abroad or in this country.

Just how the improvement was brought about? Perhaps a personal reference will best give my explanation of the answer. During the summer of 1918 I attended the Plattsburg camp. Because of my age, which was then 48 years, my attendance was a special dispensation of the War Department, granted through the efforts of Dr. Drinker, president of Lehigh.

At first I found camp life an ordeal. But gradually, as my physical and nervous organization adjusted itself to the demands, the daily work became easy and pleasurable. The outcome was that I returned to my duties at Lehigh in the best of physical and mental condition I have enjoyed since my college and football days.

If life in the army will thus renovate a man past the meridian of life, what possibilities must there be for a man in the sunrise of life? The answer is humbly embodied in the youths you and I see everywhere who have been in service. In their pliable period the army, by hygienic conditions, wholesome food, open-air life and athletic exercises remade them.

In the football season just passed to standards of college teams were higher than ever. Playing on these teams were students who had returned from the army. To their spirit of discipline and fair play and hard fighting, I attribute the splendid grade of football that marked the 1919 gridiron season.

There is no doubt in my mind that the soldiers who have returned, not to college, but to the various trades and callings of American life, are carrying the same spirit. It is a spirit that will enrich our national ideals just as their improved bodies will enrich our American stock.

And so I say, let us salute the United States Army, moulder of men.

PEABODY SCHOLARSHIPS

As state superintendent of public instruction, I am authorized to award two scholarships in George Peabody College for Teachers. These scholarships have a value of twenty-five dollars each and are to be awarded by the State Superintendent of Texas. The following conditions must be complied with:

I. No scholarship is available in any state until public announcement of its offer shall have been made through the press of said state.

II. The scholarship is not available unless notice of its award with the name of the party shall have reached the college before June 1, 1920.

III. In making the awards superintendents should bear in mind that preference should be given graduates of normal schools, colleges of universities.

IV. The scholarship is not to be awarded to any person who is in residence at the college at the time of the award.

V. To become eligible applicants for scholarships must register for the entire quarter, June 9 to August 27, and agree:

1. To pursue not less than ten credit hours of work through the entire summer quarters.

2. To fulfill all conditions and requirements for credit in the courses they pursue.

Applications for these scholarships should apply by letter to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Austin, Texas. One man and one woman will be appointed. All applications should be submitted before May 15, as I expect to make the appointments by that time.

Respectfully,
Annie Webb Blanton,
State Superintendent.

There are thousands of wild horses near the Utah-Nevada line. They draw off domesticated horses to their company and tear down range fences. Even the illiterate natives of Egypt have become millionaires in amazing numbers because of the boom of cotton.

C. of C. HAS GLORIOUS MEETING AT CHIRENO.

At Chireno Wednesday afternoon the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce, represented by a delegation of Nacogdoches' most conservative business men held a most glorious meeting, accomplishing in the end some worthy results. Chireno, according to the returned Nacogdoches party, responded nobly to the cause and was a source of genuine gratification to all present.

Mr. Harry Fall was elected chairman of the meeting, and Mr. H. V. Fall made a deeply earnest talk to his farmer friends, telling them what the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce stood for to a rural development.

Capt. I. L. Sturdevant made a very interesting talk, as well as earnest talk, in behalf of the Nacogdoches chamber of commerce; and Prof. R. F. Davis responded in a most pleasing way, showing the meeting in unmistakable terms where the greatest benefit is to be obtained from the commercial club. Mr. Davis spoke of education in connection with his talk, and showed all where commercial development would go hand in hand with school development.

The meeting was a success, and the business men and farmers of Chireno responded to the call for membership generously. The Chireno State Bank subscribed $25.00; L. L. Moore subscribed $10.00, and the Southern Ice & Utilities Company, represented by W. D. Ambrose subscribed $25 to the Chireno cause. Mr. Ambrose made in connection with his subscription, a very sensible talk, deeply earnest, telling the Chireno people that the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce was honestly working, not to develop one section of the country at the expense of another, but to develop all the county. Mr. Ambrose's talk was very much appreciated by all those who heard it.

The following persons, according to the best information obtained by the reporter, attended the Chireno meeting: Chas. McClain, Lawrence Loden, Pearson McLain, Ben McElroy, Thos. E. Baker, Capt. I. L. Sturdevant, H. H. Wilson, J. O. Ray, Chas. Hooks, B. L. Williams, R. F. Davis, W. D. Ambrose, Robert Muckleroy, Carter Gaston, Henry Schmidt, Bowdon Cason, J. F. Floyd, W. L. McKnight, Dr. J. D. Ellington, and J. M. Weeks.

It was decided that Chireno would furnish one of the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce's board of directors. This privilege will also be allowed Cushing.

A HOPELESS CASE

John McCoy of Lufkin was in the city Thursday investigating agricultural conditions of the county with a view of locating here to farm. Occasionally a Lufkin man awakes to the fact that paradise is just north of Lufkin across the Angelina-Nacogdoches line, of course.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

For once, the News editor believes he will offer no comment on the above. If there is an Angelina county citizen contemplating moving from this section to the miserable county of Nacogdoches, it is perhaps best to let him go rather than reason with him and try to point out the error of his way. There are some hopeless cases in the world, anyhow, so why should we worry.—Lufkin News.

A. A. KING DEAD

News reached town this morning that A. A. King of Woden died last night at 7 o'clock. He was buried at Jacobs grave yard this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. King was 64 years of age and had lived in the Woden community all his life. He was a son of the late M. T. King. He leaves a wife and several children, all of whom are grown. Mr. King was a good man and was one of the most highly respected citizens in that portion of the county. The Sentinel joins the many friends of the family in extending sympathy and sorrow in this great grief. A more suitable write up of this good man will be furnished for publication in a few days.

H. P. TRAWEEK DEAD

H. P. Traweck, one of the prominent citizens of the Woden country, died at his home Saturday morning at 1 o'clock. He was buried at the family burying grounds in Angelina county Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Traweck was past 70 years of age and had lived in the Woden community for many years. He was a good man and has many friends who were saddened by his death.

THE PINK WORM MENACE

Dallas, Texas, March 20.—The severity of the pink boll worm quarantine erected against Texas by Southern states within the past few days is revealed in the summary of the quarantine rules now in effect, which summary has been prepared by the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Florida and Alabama prohibit the shipment from Texas into these two states of cotton lint, linters, waste, sweepings, samples, seed, cotton hulls, bagging, cotton gin and cotton mill machinery. Florida prohibits "all things or materials which have been used in connection with growing, harvesting, baling or manufacturing cotton lint or cotton seed." Alabama extends its quarantine to include "machinery used in cleaning or manufacturing cotton lint or seed and household goods or other articles containing prohibited cotton material."

Louisiana prohibits cotton seed and cotton seed products and makes it unlawful to import them without a special permit from the state entomologist. Railway and express companies, water craft and other common carriers are prohibited from accepting shipments for delivery in Louisiana without a signed permit.

Alabama designates Oklahoma, Arkansas and Mississippi as "permit areas," being adjacent to quarantine areas. All articles prohibited by Alabama from Texas are also prohibited from the "permit area" except by special permits, certificates of inspection or an affidavit that the shipment originated in the "permit area."

A committee of men representing the farming and commercial interests touching cotton will be appointed by the Texas Chamber of Commerce to handle the pink boll worm situation. This committee is to be named on authority voted the Chamber last Wednesday in Dallas at a conference of the leaders in the cotton industry.

MADE STRONG PROTEST

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The United States made "strong remonstrances" against the rulings of the reparations committee under the peace treaty by which German property in neutral countries might be forcibly seized if necessary to satisfy the initial payment of the indemnity. Under-Secretary Polk said a further protest was in preparation, and that the ruling was contrary to the interpretation exchanged with Germany.

Two policemen and another negro were wounded when the latter was mistaken for the suspect. The trouble started with a fight between two negroes in the theatrical district.

WORE NO SHOES FOR TWO YEARS

Los Angeles Woman Lived in Bed and Pillowed Chair Until She Started on Tanlac

"I had to be cared for just like a baby before I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Alice Murphey, of 1501 Pennsylvania Ave., Los Angeles, Cal. "Two years ago I had a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism," she continued, "and no one knows the pain and torture I have suffered since. My hands swelled until I could hardly work my fingers and haven't been able to put on a pair of shoes because my feet were swollen so. I had sharp pains through my back so bad that at times I simply could not keep from screaming. Some times I got so dizzy that everything seemed to spin around and then I would have sharp pains and a chilly feeling afterwards. I was so helpless that I lived propped up with pillows in a chair or in bed all the time and had to be helped from one place to another.

"I tried every medicine or treatment we could hear of, but it was money thrown away and I got so blue that I did not care to live. Then my husband read in the papers about Tanlac and by the time I had taken it four or five days I saw it was helping me. Now after taking several bottles, I can't praise Tanlac enough. My nerves are so much better that I sleep like a child all night long. I am already doing my housework again and it is the first time in two years I have been able to get around and wear my shoes."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Two young farmers, Carl and F. L. YBarbo, called at the chamber of commerce office Wednesday and asked to be enrolled as members of the organization. These young men are very much interested in the work the chamber of commerce has under way for improving agriculture in

GOOD MONEY IN GOOD LIVESTOCK.

On January 5th, Alexandria, Mitche & Jones, a firm of Childress county farmers who are raising registered hogs, held an auction sale at Childress, Texas. They sold 100 head of high class breeding stock for a total of $52,000, or an average of $520 per head. One sow brought $3,000, another $1,750, and a few others sold as high as $750 each. The cheapest hog in the bunch brought $200.

Childress county lies in Northwest Texas. It cannot be said that Childress county has any distinct advantage as a hog-raising section. Alfalfa grows well on the "bottom" lands, but the county as a whole is lacking in one of the chief essentials of a successful hog-raising county, and that is an abundance of running water. Nacogdoches county does not produce alfalfa. But experiments in hog raising and feeding prove beyond a doubt that Bermuda grass and peanuts, each in its season, together with plenty of running water, is a combination quite as valuable to the hog-raiser as alfalfa or any other single crop. Then, too, the Childress county hogs in question were raised on much higher priced land than the average in Nacogdoches county.

On March 3 and 4 the Purebred Livestock Association of Collin county held the first auction sale of registered livestock. The following is a condensed report of the sales as given in the "Daily Courier Gazette" of McKinney:

Seventy-eight head of purebreds sold in the first sale of the Collin County Purebred Livestock Association in McKinney for a total of $10,115.

Nineteen head of Jersey cattle sold for $2,500, an average per head of $131.57.

Nine head of shorthorn cattle sold for $2,370, an average of $265.55 per head.

Twenty head of Duroc Jersey hogs sold for $1,860, an average of $93.10 per head.

Twenty-one head of Poland China

hogs sold for $2,350, an average of $112.02.

Six head of Hampshire sheep sold for $382.50, an average of $63.75 per head.

Two head of Shropshire sheep sold for $125.00.

Collin county has very few running streams, produces alfalfa only in very limited areas and is poorly adapted to peanuts. It is primarily a cotton and grain section, with lands selling from $125 to $300 per acre.

If raising livestock is profitable on high-priced lands that possess no particular advantage to the industry, why will it not be profitable in Nacogdoches county, where lands are still comparatively cheap, where running water is abundant, and where peanuts, bermuda and sorghum can be grown under practically in all reasonable conditions?

Recently I rode over the far famed "corn belt" of Central Illinois. Snow covered the fields everywhere, while the farmer and his hired man sat by the fire, except at intervals when they were busy feeding the livestock that stood shivering in their stalls. There the farmer lives in a well built two-story house painted white and a basement which serves as a cellar. His barns are large and well constructed, painted red and frequently with half a basement for cattle stalls. These Illinois farms are selling for $550 per acre. Corn, small grain and hay are the only crops grown. But these crops are sold largely in the form of livestock and livestock products. If the corn, wheat and hay grown on these lands were sold direct, it is reasonable to say that the selling price of the lands would be cut in half. I looked out over the frozen landscape, dotted thickly with prosperous farmsteads, and I said, "When will our Southern farmers come to understand the advantage of livestock farming?"

Nacogdoches county, is by nature a better livestock county than Collin county, Texas, or McLain county, Illinois. Let's demonstrate the fact to the outside world; they are ready to pay us good prices for the proof when we produce it.

But the chief advantage in livestock raising for Nacogdoches county is not in producing a limited number of high-priced breeding animals, though that is by no means an insignificant matter, but rather in the practical possibility in shipping hundreds of cars of livestock each year to the markets. There is a cash market for livestock every day in the year. Through a co-operative livestock shipping association each farmer will receive directly, without the intervention of any "middle man", the full market price for his stock, whether he has five head or one hundred head to offer.

Under the present labor conditions, stock-raising in Nacogdoches county is a better "bet" than cotton growing.

There are now in the country a limited number of breeders of good livestock. Some of these breeders have high class blood lines represented in their herds, and these are being constantly improved by the introduction of new blood.

A Nacogdoches Purebred Livestock Association will be organized at an early date. Preliminary steps have already been taken in this direction. Mr. A. F. Ward, secretary of the Texas Swine Breeders Association, with headquarters at the A. & M. College, will attend the meeting and assist in perfecting the organization.

In the meantime, I should be glad to get in touch, either by phone or letter, with every breeder in the county.

H. L. McKnight, Secy-Mgr., Chamber of Commerce.

A LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE ITS SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man Tells the Treachery of Calomel

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bowels and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and is pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It cannot be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children as it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

When the bowels are costive the wastematter ferments, producing gaseous condition that is disagreeable. To remove the impurities quickly a dose of Herbine is needed. It does the work thoroughly and pleasantly. Price 30c, 60c and $1.20. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Cold settled in the muscles of the neck, arms or shoulder makes every movement painful. Use Ballard's Snow Liniment. It relieves the pain and relaxes the muscles. Three sizes. 30c, 60c and $1.20. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Road work on the Douglass-Nacogdoches road is progressing nicely. Hills are being reduced and the workmen are kept busy. The Goens Hill has not yet been attacked, but will come in for genuine working unless plans are changed, causing the lay of the road to be different, and this will of course be a tremendous piece of work. Smith Bros., contractors, are doing the work. There is every evidence that the year 1920 will find Nacogdoches county among the leading counties of the state for fine highways.

For rapid healing there is nothing like Liquid Borozone. It mends torn flesh, heals cuts, burns or sores so quickly no time is lost from work. Price, 30c, 60c and $1.20. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Farmers are now planting their crops in preparation for a good year's crop. Fruit trees in the country are blooming, trees budding, and birds are singing, and of course the poets are sharpening their pencils in anticipation of the glory. Everything looks like Nacogdoches county will be blessed with a bumper crop in the year 1920.

Watch your children for symptoms of worms. They undermine the health and breed sickness. Use White's Cream Vermifuge. It expels worms and restores health and vigor. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Mr. A. J. Murphey, who has been very ill of influenza for four weeks, was reported somewhat improved Tuesday morning.

THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY IN THE SOUTH.

Cotton is the biggest and most important product in the South—the staple crop, the thing that brings more money into the cotton producing states than any other. The 1919 crop of Texas was estimated at two million seven hundred thousand bales, worth approximately four hundred and five million dollars. The crop of Texas and Louisiana together was worth four hundred and fifty million dollars.

The handling and financing of this tremendous business involves a great deal of specialized work classifying and stapling every bale. Samples from every bale must be graded several times during the journey of the cotton from the farmer's field to the factory. This work requires trained men. The demand for such is always urgent. The ability to grade cotton is essential to the coal buyer, employees of bonded warehouses and compresses, representatives of northern factories, cotton brokers and in many other branches of the industry. The farmer himself ought in protection of his own interests, to be able to grade cotton. He is completely at the mercy of the buyer. It is self evident that a man, in order to get full value for what he is selling, ought to know what he is selling.

We can make you a competent cotton classifier in a few weeks time, qualifying you for a position as buyer, or wherever the services of a cotton classifier are needed. Our course includes classing, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Munger's Gin Record, Merchants Cotton Record, warehouse record, cotton Office Stock Books, and other blanks necessary to the business. It opens the way for you to earn a good salary in a good position, and makes you familiar with the most important industry in the south. If you want to get into a good business with unlimited opportunities before you, take our course in Cotton Classing and Handling.

We also have a thorough course in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Finance, Telegraphy, any one of which will enable you to take a position in the Business world at a good salary. We secure positions for all graduates. Fill in and mail to the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, for a large free catalogue. Name..... Address.....
