LAWLESSNESS RAMPANT IN COUNTRY SUNDAY

Dallas, Texas, July 18.—Authorities in widely separated sections of the Southern states today are taking cognizance of a series of attacks in which the victims were tarred and feathered, apparently by widely organized secret groups. Several such attacks were made Saturday and Sunday in Texas, Florida and Missouri, the latest being that made on a woman at Tenaha, Texas, last night, who was stripped and tarred and feathered by a band of masked men.

The Tenaha Affair

Center, Texas, July 18.—Mrs. Beulah Johnson who was tarred and feathered and suffered the clipping of some of her locks by hands of masked men at Tenaha, this county, Saturday night, was brought to jail here yesterday and is being held to the next grand jury on a charge of bigamy. Mrs. Johnson was out on bond and was surrendered by bondsmen following the tarring and feathering.

Sheriff J. N. Smith of Shelby county, said the woman told him that the masked men gave her no instructions when she was freed on the streets of Tenaha, but asked her several questions about a man she knew.

According to information in hands of Sheriff Smith, Mrs. Johnson had been married three times, the first husband being deceased while the other two are still living. The third marriage, Sheriff Smith said, took place within the past eighteen months.

Riley ran through the business streets to his automobile and left hurriedly for his home at Diboll.

Rockefeller has disposed of his vast holdings in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, with the exception of a thousand shares of common stock, valued at $106,805, according to an account published in the New York World today. The World's list shows that John D. Jr., holds 452,080 shares of common stock and 88,970 shares preferred, the Rockefeller General Education Board 170,320 common and 5,679 preferred, the Rockefeller Foundation 196,000 common and 55,000 preferred and the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Memorial fund 40,000 common and 19,000 preferred.

RENEWS CHARGES

Austin, Texas, July 20.—In a message to the house today the governor renewed his charges of extravagance and graft at the state capitol. The governor gave no definite information but said he renewed every charge made in his speeches. He said he noticed where the speaker had said "it is high time" that the person making the charges substantiated them, and he would gladly do so if called upon. If not he would go before his constituents "with lips unlocked."

OUR TAXABLE VALUES

Austin, Texas, July 20.—The total estimated taxable values of Texas in 1921 is $3,370,469,702, an increase over the estimated valuation in 1920 of $49,639,058, according to a statement today by Comptroller Smith for the Automatic Tax Board as a basis upon which to fix the rate for the coming year.

FERGUSON'S PICTURE

Austin, Texas, July 20.—A debate whether James E. Ferguson's picture should be placed in the rotunda of the capital consumed practically the entire morning in the senate.

MURDERS CHARGED TO I. W. W. MEMBERS

Omaha, Neb., July 18.—Following two murders within 48 hours, alleged to have been committed by "floaters" carrying I. W. W. cards, sheriffs throughout South Dakota today wired the attorney general for aid.

COURTMARTIAL TRIAL FOR MEXICAN REVOLUTIONIST

Mexico City, July 18.—Court-martial proceedings await General Martin Herrera, leader of the recent revolt in the Tomico oil region, according to advices received from San Luis Potosi, where President Obregon and Secretary of War Estrada are visiting.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE TO SPECIAL SESSION

Austin, Texas, July 18.—In submitting his message to the first special session of the Thirty-seventh legislature today, Governor Neff said, in concluding the preface to the message: "In a state government democratically administered there are two matters of the highest importance to the people. One is the proper collection and distribution of tax money, the other a strict and impartial enforcement of the law." The message, based on these two points, a document 27 pages in length, was delivered to the legislature by a special messenger. The governor launched into facts immediately. Beginning with the financial condition of the state, he pointed out why he had vetoed approximately $5,000,000 appropriated at the regular session. He reiterated his statements that the state was topheavy with debt and he vetoed these bills because the state did not have the money to meet them. The governor devoted the greater part of his message to the enforcement of the law, and the measures he will submit to the special session, termed his law-enforcement program. He warned the legislature that "any bill proposing additional taxes against property, enterprises and institutions will be promptly vetoed." The message ended with a plea for state progress.

A Plea For Harmony.

Austin, Texas, July 18.—After calling the senate to order today and a quorum being announced present, Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson, president of the senate, in a short address made a plea for harmony. He said this was no time for crimination and recrimination between the departments of the state. He declared "It is no time for one branch to say that another is at fault; it is no time for practicing passing the buck. If one is wrong, both are wrong. The executive branch has been wisely vested with the constitutional power of the veto, and if the legislative branch has failed or fails to in its solemn obligation to give the people an administration of economy and lessen the tax burden, the chief executive should courageously use that power."

RUPTURE NOT IMPLIED BY DELEGATES' RETURN

Belfast, July 19.—The return to Belfast of Sir James Craig and members of his cabinet must not be taken as a rupture of the negotiations, Colonel Spencer, secretary of the delegation, said upon arrival here. It is thought the delegation will be recalled to London next week.

TOO RAW FOR A REPUBLICAN

Representative Frear, a republican congressman from Wisconsin, in a statement attacking the tariff bill of his party, declares it breaks the pledges of the campaign and many of the bill's provisions are "fundamentally indefensible." Further, he adds, the excessive duty will lead to the exactions of trusts and monopolies and increase the "burden the people must carry."

Had a democratic congressman assailed a republican tariff in that fashion, he would have been charged with partisanship. But a republican now makes the charge in which he is supported by many other members of the same political faith, indicating that the tariff must be atrociously wicked, if its own party assails it.

Republican statesmen know only one recipe for prosperity. It is the high tariff. If conditions change, as they have changed due to the war, and the only way a nation can get on its feet is to encourage trade with foreign nations so that our European debtors can square up, the only remedy the republicans have at their disposal is more tariffs—stone-walls of trade. What does it matter if Europe cannot trade with us and repay our war debts? To a republican protectionist that is nothing. The big thing is to enact a big tariff. But apparently some republicans are not going to swallow the dope.

GRADE CROSSING SLAUGHTER

A recent report by the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that in the last three months for which figures are available 632 persons were killed and 1,500 injured in grade crossing accidents. The menace of grade crossings in the early days of railroading was not great, but it has grown in that time. The travel on the roadways was not nearly so heavy as at present, and the movement of trains was but a fraction of that now.

There have been accidents ever since there were grade crossings, but the number has increased rapidly since the motor car became common. The worst phase of the situation is that a great majority of such accidents are due to lack of precautions. That more do not occur is due to good luck rather than any care taken, since many drive across railroad tracks without thinking it necessary to "stop, look and listen." So long as there are grade crossings and the people exercise no more precaution than they do now, accidents will not only continue to happen, but they will increase in number.

The only remedy for such loss of life and maiming is through elimination of grade crossings. This would involve an enormous expense, which neither the roads nor the public would welcome on a wholesale scale, though it would be of mutual advantage to both and therefore the expense should fall on them jointly. While removal could not be undertaken at this time on a large scale, the public has it within its power to reduce the number of accidents by exercising ordinary prudence in crossing a railroad. The man who races a train to the crossing is not only a potential suicide but he is also a potential homicide in that he may also wreck the train and kill those on board. A railroad has taken the step having the watchmen at railroad crossing advise automobile owners who neglect the precautions of safety of the danger of their action by mailing a card showing a picture of the result of an accident caused by just such neglect as theirs.

It seems strange that so many are so neglectful of the peril that attends a railroad crossing. We may in time reach the condition that already prevails in England and abolish grade crossings in order to protect those who are so reckless as well as those who are cautious, but since that consummation cannot be arrived at at once it would be the part of wisdom for the public to protect itself by exercising caution, while the law should step in to punish those who menace not only their own lives, but the lives of others also by their total disregard for safety. Even at best there will be unavoidable accidents as long as grade crossings remain.

THE WILSON FOUNDATION

As a tribute to Wilson the proposed foundation—similar in plan to other foundations—is in process of establishment. Its purpose is to further, foster and perpetuate the ideals and ideas for which Woodrow Wilson in his expression of the best thought, ambition and spirit of America, stood.

It is to keep forever before Americans and the world the Wilson ideal—not the "idealism" which many have ridiculed, not the visionary things which scoffers have attributed to Wilson, not the dream which was no more than a dream—but the "Wilson Ideal"; the spirit of national service in international relations, the doctrine of unselfishness that is as practical as it is humane. It will be a splendid monument, and it will be more than a tribute and a monument. It will be a great institution for preserving and crystallizing the real American spirit. Franklin D. Roosevelt is the prime mover in that enterprise, and he is a worthy leader in such a movement.

And this strange thing happens: Hamilton Holt, a republican—but one whose Americanism coincides with that of the former president—is the next most prominent leader for this Wilson foundation cause.

THE NORMAL

The following item appeared in the Dallas News of Thursday as a special under an Austin date, and it is certainly encouraging to the people of this community who have labored so tirelessly and unselfishly for the establishment of the Stephen F. Austin Normal:

"Without any opposition the senate finance committee of the house appropriation committee voted $190,000 for the establishment of the Stephen F. Austin Normal at Nacogdoches, the town having previously given 208 acres of finely wooded land for the site. Of the amount $175,000 is for the first buildings and $15,000 for the improvement of the grounds. It was expected there would be much opposition because of the state's financial stringency, but it melted away. If the appropriation gets through the legislature and is not vetoed by the governor, as some apprehend, the new normal will open its doors in September of 1922."

THE CROP PROSPECTS

The forecast of the United States Department of Agriculture, based on the condition of the crops July 1, and indicating yields, with the possible exception of corn, considerably lower than those of last year, does not necessarily mean that the year is to be a poorer one for the farmer than 1920 was. From the standpoint of the farmer there was over production of a number of crops last year and the prices they received fell to points which returned little or no profits. With Europe increasing its output of agricultural products and unwilling to buy extensively of our crops except on terms of credit which we are unable to give, it may be just as well for us to cut down production. It was the sharp slump in prices of farm products that started the depression in commerce and industry. The farmers constitute an important section of the buying public, and when their purchasing power was seriously curtailed it was inevitable that demand in all lines of business should slacken. With the return of prosperity to the farmers the whole country will benefit.

If the drop in the prices received by the grower for his crops were passed on to the ultimate consumer it would not be so regrettable as it is; but no such reductions have occurred in the prices of bread, cotton and woolen goods, shoes and cigars as were noted last year in wheat, cotton, wool, hides and tobacco.

MUST PUBLISH ALL NOTICES

All notices heretofore required to be posted, must now be printed in some newspaper in the same county and for the same length of time as it was formerly necessary to post such notices. The posting of such notices is not now required, and is only that much extra trouble, as they have no legal value of significance. Act of 1917, Sec. 4, Art. 60 1912. Note particularly that posted notice is not legal notice, and no bond or other election is valid unless same is published as required by law.—Deport Times.

Oh, yes; tacking up those notices on the court house door instead of having them published as required by the Cates law does serve one purpose. It comes in mighty handy when a law suit comes up later and the lawyers want to knock the election or the sale or other action named in the notice higher than Mr. Gilderoy's kite. We heard one man say once that publishing legal notices in a newspaper was a useless waste of money; that nobody ever read a little county newspaper anyhow; and that fellow stayed mad with the editor a month because in a personal about his going over to a neighboring town the next week the printer got his initials wrong.—East Texas Register.

THE WORTHAM BARBECUE WAS A GREAT AFFAIR

About 300 farmers of Nacogdoches and adjoining counties Friday attended a barbecue-picnic given by Mr. William B. Wortham on his farm 15 miles east of Nacogdoches. The picnic is an annual affair given by Mr. Wortham to stimulate interest in the raising of purebred livestock. He is president of the Nacogdoches County Livestock Association and is considered one of the pioneer leaders of East Texas in the raising of thoroughbreds.

On the picnic grounds many choice hogs, Jersey and Shorthorn cattle were exhibited as an example of what Mr. Wortham has accomplished in his fight against razorbacks and poorly bred cattle. Many of the picnic guests were members of the Nacogdoches County Purebred Livestock Association, which is leading the campaign in this section for better livestock, and the message they will be able to carry to those who were not present will have a stimulating effect upon the industry throughout East Texas.

In an address on the picnic grounds C. C. French, industrial agent of the Fort Worth Stockyards, emphasized the demand on the market for purebred hogs. He told the farmers they need not have any fear of overstocking the hog market in Texas, declaring that it would require from ten to twelve thousand hogs a day to satisfy the trade territory out of Fort Worth. "But don't send us razorbacks," Mr. French said; "send the kind of animals you see here today, and then only will you satisfy your pocketbook."

The best methods to follow in raising hogs were discussed by A. L. Ward of the Texas A. & M. Extension Department. He stressed the need of getting rid of the razorbacks and replacing them with purebred hogs. "Make your farms a better place on which to live," was the message brought to the picnickers by Louis G. Wortham of Fort Worth, who is the father of Mr. William B. Wortham. "Give to your families a glimpse of sunshine," he continued. "Give them a bit of pleasure occasionally. Educate your daughters in domestic science so they will make happy homes—the mission of every honest woman of the land." Mr. Wortham declared that Texas, with its wonderful agricultural resources, should know no limits in its agricultural developments. He told the farmers if they are not financially successful in their farming they should adopt other methods, and if failing financially they should quit the farm.

Ninety percent of the ills of Texas farming are due to production problems rather than marketing problems, stated A. W. Buchanan, district demonstration agent of the A. & M. College. However, in speaking of the ills of the marketing system he pointed out that annually Texas imports $8,000,000 worth of molasses, $6,000,000 worth of tomatoes, 4,000,000 pounds of canned beans, many million pounds of pork products, 20,000,000 pounds butter and 15,000,000 pounds of cheese. Lack of diversification in farming is one of the farmer's principal faults. He asserted that there are 127,000 farms in Texas without any hogs, 100,000 without any chickens and 130,000 without any gardens.

"Quit raising cotton and raise something there is money in," County Judge Marshall said. In his talk he told of the better-highway program being carried out in Nacogdoches county. He said with several more roads to complete, the funds from the bond issue are given out, but the county, in its eagerness to aid the farmers, will complete the roads by the issuance of warrants.

Capt. I. L. Sturdevant was called for, and responded with appropriate words of appreciation and approval, saying, among other things, that the prosperity and happiness of our farmers is one of the things very close to the heart of the public-spirited business man of today.

Eugene Blount responded to an unexpected call in his usual happy vein. He stated that he was a farmer, and that as such, he was probably entitled to the "booby" prize for amount of work done, to honorable mention for the amount invested, and certainly to the croix de guerre for the amount of money lost in the business.

H. L. McKnight presented statistics showing that Denmark has revolutionized her economic condition by intensive live stock production. The average exports per farm in Denmark is $600.00, notwithstanding the fact that more than half her farms contain less than 13 acres each. He called attention to the fact that the Danish farmer is an uneducated farmer. Denmark is only one-twentieth as large as Texas, yet she has more than 100 agricultural schools. "The Danish farmer," he said, "is the best educated farmer in the world."

Among the hogs exhibited by Mr. Wortham were a sow which won first prize in the aged class at the Houston fair and a boar, "Wortham's Reese Pathfinder," a son of the famous "L's Pathfinder," a Tarrant county animal. "Wortham's Reese Pathfinder" was the junior champion at the Houston fair.

The picnic was a greater success from every standpoint than any heretofore given, which is saying a great deal. There was more than sufficient dinner for a crowd twice as large, and the barbecue supplied by Mr. Wortham ranked alongside the chicken pies, fried chicken, cakes and pies furnished by the ladies who attended.

Judging from the close attention given the speakers, it was evident that those present were there for information as well as a good time. It was a gathering of orderly, well-behaved, intelligent American citizens—which is the last word in commendation.

TWO HOUSTON OIL COMPANIES ENTER NACOGDOCHES FIELD

The Packers Oil Company of Houston will start operations in the Nacogdoches field Monday. The drilling contractor will move onto one of their tracts there, where two derricks have been erected.

This is the beginning of the plan to drill 50 wells for Packers Oil. The work will be pushed rapidly and every effort made to complete the wells in the shortest possible time.

The Nacogdoches field is noted for its shallow wells. New developments are responsible for many operations moving in. Wells brought in within the last two weeks are showing high production, one producing 34 barrels per day. The wells there are operated at a very low cost and the oil sand is reached at a depth of from 175 to 385 feet.

Several deep test wells are being drilled in Nacogdoches county and are nearing the Woodbine sand, which is usually encountered at about 3,000 feet. Leading geologists have predicted wells of unusual capacity from this sand.

The shallow field is substantial and promises long life. Some of the wells drilled 30 years ago are still producing.

One of the recent arrivals in the Nacogdoches field is the Williams Petroleum Corporation of Houston, which has secured leases in the vicinity of the Olmstead wells and are preparing to start an intensive drilling campaign.

It is understood that the Williams

MRS. ROSINE RYAN

Relatives and friends in this city have learned of the death several days ago of Mrs. Rosine Ryan, who passed away at the home of a niece and namesake, Mrs. Rosine House, in Los Angeles, Cal., where she was visiting.

Mrs. Ryan was between 75 and 80 years of age and was the daughter of Adolphus Stearne, at one time one of the most prominent residents and largest landholders of this section. She was born in what is now the Hoya home, and was married there soon after the Civil War to Major Ryan of the United States army. For twenty years she was employed as an expert in the publicity department of the Southern Pacific railroad at Houston. Among her other notable work was that of assistant to Mrs. Potter Palmer in the work of manager of the woman's department at the Centennial Exposition at Chicago. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Daughters of the Confederacy. A woman of splendid mental equipment, she spent her life in upbuilding—in laboring for the future welfare of her country and her kind.

Mrs. E. H. Blount, Mrs. Frank Sharpe and Mrs. Anna Schott of this city are cousins, and a brother, Charles Stearne, resides at Palestine.

Her body was brought back to Texas and laid to rest beside her husband at Austin.

Mrs. Allan Seale, Everett and Elizabeth left yesterday for Houston, where they will join Mr. Seale and make their home in the future.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM IS REPORTED IN NEBRASKA

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR COUNTY-LINE BRIDGE

The contract for the long-needed bridge over the Angelina river at the crossing of the Nacogdoches-Lufkin road was let late Wednesday afternoon at a joint meeting of the commissioners of Angelina and Nacogdoches counties, sitting in this city to receive bids and award the contract.

Representing Angelina's interests were County Judge J. F. Robinson, County Clerk Otto Brittain and Commissioners Davis, Richardson, Scroggins and Sanders. Judge J. M. Marshall presided at the joint meeting.

The following bids were submitted: The Brown-Abbott Company, $21,277; Illinois Steel Company, $20,147; Austin Bros. Bridge Company, $17,663.

After a discussion of the matter, the contract was let to the Austin Bros. Co., their bid being $2,404 less than the next lowest figures.

The contract calls for an all-steel bridge 120 feet long, with concrete abutments, and the work must be completed by November 1.

The construction of this bridge will give an "open road" between Nacogdoches and Lufkin, and may form a link in an important transcontinental highway. Anyway, it will bring closer business and social relations between the people of Angelina and Nacogdoches counties, a consummation devoutly to be wished. After December 1st the bucolic Lufkinites can come to town and see things without having to swim the river or plow through the mud. It will be a great advantage to them. And we probably can buy out country produce cheaper.

SAN AUGUSTINE PETROLEUM CO. APPLIES FOR CHARTER

The San Augustine Petroleum Co. recently organized under a declaration of trust, made application Monday for a charter. The decision to make the change was arrived at in a meeting of the trustees of this company Saturday, the same being unanimous. Much encouragement is being received by the officials of the company in their operations, which, we are informed will begin in the near future.

Further report of developments by this home oil company will be given our readers from time to time.—San Augustine Tribune.

IMPOSTERS AT WORK

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—National headquarters of the American Legion has taken steps to prevent misuse of government benefits for ex-service men, according to a statement made today by Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant.

"It has been brought to our attention that a few men have deliberately falsified claims for compensation, vocational training and medical treatment," said Mr. Bolles. "Considering the large number of wounded veterans who are entitled to every benefit the government can give, the number of imposters is not large. But, few as they are, their action works a hardship on the disabled."

"Cases of deception have been more numerous lately, due to the rush of claims, following the Legion's fight for government efficiency. However, the Legion will find time and means to expose any imposters who come to us for assistance in pressing their claims."

All Legion posts have been instructed to furnish government bureaus with information they obtain about men concerning whose disability any doubt exists. The post activities in favor of the genuinely disabled will continue.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

(By J. E. Mayfield, M. D.)

Reverting to the original old town of Mt. Enterprise, away back in the 50's, we recall memories and conditions of more than ordinary interest, reaching into the decades next before and after this. Yes, verily, there were giants there in those days. Their names were not legion but they were such like as Birdwell, March, Haltom, Arrea, Johnson, Blanton, Furlow, Edmonson, et al. They were regular old-time sockdollagers, stiff and staunch old planters, or some other b'g-to-do's. And the magnetic center of this good land was Mt. Enterprise, a double name suggested by the small mountain nearby and the great enterprise that prevailed.

The first settler in the village built his house out of logs cut with pole axes in the convenient forest. A double room log house with a hall passage between rooms, located within a few steps of a bold spring of cold soft water. And he also erected a carding factory there. The remains of the old buildings were there many years after the town collapsed.

It is useless to recite the various business ventures that sprang up. The many neighboring big farmers owned slaves and raised cotton abundantly. Stores, shops, a postoffice and a big school were in the swim. Mrs. Collins operated a boarding house for the school. Maury Orton of Nacogdoches sent two daughters and two sons. James H. Haltom was one of the school boys. He married the oldest Orton girl. Their first child was born there. This was the lamented R. W. Haltom, who became an honored citizen of Nacogdoches. Finis Collins and the other Orton girl were sweethearts; ten or twelve years old R. R. Haltom became very wealthy and moved to Henderson. The others and their descendants are scattered in far away lands. One of them, a son named Ed, is now a prominent lawyer in San Antonio. He has a cultured family, and all can speak Spanish. A daughter lives in Canada. One son lost his life at Lake Charles, La., by an airplane accident in the army. The lawyer, Ed Haltom, was a son of Dr. Ed Haltom, who was fond of dancing and on one occasion he and Finis Collins went all the way to Nacogdoches to a big ball. Charley Hotchkiss was there and me too.

It is interesting to follow up and trace down the sequels and the descendants of these old times. Some of the Haltom family are in California, some in Canada, some in San Antonio and some in Nacogdoches. The modern new town of Mt. Enterprise is on the Haltom and Furlow lands.

The Birdwells likewise are scattered abroad from the original Col. Allen Birdwell homestead, which was about four miles south of Mt. Enterprise, near the Nacogdoches county line. His first year in Texas, 1849, was spent on the place that was later the Thomas McCuiston homestead which was once the Raiford Fulghum place, and is now a part of the Redfield farm, six miles north of Nacogdoches.

But Col. Birdwell raised his family at the Mt. Enterprise homestead. Joel Birdwell of Martinsville and Mrs. James H. Sutton, Deena Birdwell, were his children. So was Mrs. Collins, the mother of F. F. Collins, now a well known wealthy citizen of San Antonio.

Capt. Collins has lived in San Antonio forty years. He has a magnificent homestead in the well known Collins Gardens addition in the southern part of town, where he has lived sixteen years. He came to San Antonio a poor young man with a young wife and only son, Allan Birdwell Collins, who is now living in Collins Gardens with his family. Capt. F. F. Collins was born at the Col. Birdwell home in Rusk County, Texas, in 1844. He recently celebrated his 55th wedding anniversary by inviting his Confederate veteran comrades and many of his friends to his home, June 24th, 1921. He is an active Confederate Veteran, was in the battle of Galveston January 1, 1863, and barely missed the wonderful battle of Sabine Pass won by the heroic Dick Dowling, whom Collins knew well. Collins was in the service in Houston when General John A. Wharton was shot and instantly killed by Col. George Wythe Baylor in General Magruder's office April 6, 1865. He was with the guard detailed to hold Col. Baylor and protect him from the infuriated friends of Wharton. David Lee said that he saw General Wharton buried at the Grace place near Hempstead, Texas, and that he was interred with his feet to the west.

Capt. Collins has made five trips across the Atlantic ocean, touring the East, he visited North Cape in Norway, where the sun never sets. Col. George W. Backenridge was his personal friend.

The post-bellum history of new Mt. Enterprise is also full of interest. It would include many other stirring events during the decade of 1866 to 1876. The names of Sam Hayter and John E. Norvell from Nacogdoches, and their big wagon factory and other business ventures would figure largely. Dr. Thomas W. Matthews, and Dr. H. G. Long, Blanton Gragard Cory and others from Nacogdoches would be included. Also those school teachers, Ben Allen, Prof. G. M. L. Smith and James T. Cannon, were important factors. Mysteries and tragic endings occurred. Feuds, fights and fusses arose, and blood was shed. After sowing wild oats and reaping time came the town collapsed into innocuous desuetude. The birds vacated their last year's nest. Only foot prints on the sands of time remained. Mt. Enterprise has representatives at San Angelo, at Del Rio, at San Francisco, at Port Arthur, in Canada, in Mexico and elsewhere. San Antonio, Texas, July 15, 1921.

MARSHAL REFUSES TO EVICT "BUDDY"

New York, July 18.—The brotherhood of the navy proved stronger than the law recently when a deputy city marshal refused to evict from her home in Brooklyn the widow of John Jacob Nowaki, a steward who lost his life when the transport Lincoln was torpedoed in 1918.

When the deputy, John Hagen, appeared with his assistants, Mrs. Nowaki, with her three children clinging to her skirt, cried out that if her sailor husband had not been killed in the war, she would not be forced from her home. Hagen asked details, then said:

"Why, he was my buddy and as square a gob as ever lived. Here's where I quit." His assistants followed him.

GERMANY "COMING BACK"

What has become of the poor mouth Germany made before the reparation settlements became an actual fact? Then the country would go to the bow-wows if the Allies made her settle on the basis of indemnity levied. But now little is heard from the old empire along that line. Everything one sees these days is about how Germany is preparing to regain her lost trade, the extent to which her manufacturing establishments are being developed and the immense earnings some of her industrial magazines report.

Writing in the current number of a national magazine, F. C. Chappel, its London correspondent, points out how some of Germany's industries are growing. He says Germany is largely controlled by a dozen combines, the "Stinnes Trust" alone employing 250,000 men in the coal business. It has a capital of 1,208,000,000 marks, and there are a dozen others almost as formidable. Before the war Germany exported 850,000 tons of pig iron; she is now an importer. The war cost her 40 percent of her iron ore; but the gap is being rapidly filled up.

The Krupp Company, with its 500,000,000 marks, has for two years been very busy putting its house in order and in turning a loss of 36,000,000 marks in 1918-19 into a profit of 79,500,000 marks in 1919-20. The transformation of Krupp's is said to be the most remarkable feat in Germany's industrial history. In less than two years this vast arsenal city has been turned into a highly successful concern for making machines of peace. Its permanent staff at Essen and its other works numbers 50,000; the factory covers over 500 acres, and it makes all sorts of things. The operatives who formerly made gigantic cannon now produce farm machinery and enamel ware. It can turn out six locomotives a week and 30,000 cars a year.

Truly, Germany seems to be "coming back" and setting an example of industry to some other countries.

CHANGING THE VIEWPOINT OF AN OIL COMPANY

The Texas Company is trying to get a right-of-way for a pipe line from the Claude Adams farm near Bethany to Marshall. It had previously secured a franchise from Harrison county and this week the commissioners court of Panola county granted to the company a permit to lay the pipe in this county.

But, according to a story that comes from Elysian Fields, the Texas Company struck a snag when it comes to crossing a tract of land owned by DeWitt Furrh.

The right-of-way man was getting along fine until he got to the Furrh property. Then Mr. Furrh expressed his regret, but said he didn't want the pipe to cross his land. The right-of-way man insisted; but Mr. Furrh said he didn't care to sell at any price.

And the right-of-way stopped right there.

For a gas pipe line is not a common carrier like an oil pipe line or a railroad; it cannot have land condemned to force through a right-of-way. If the owner of land objects a gas pipe line can not be built across it.

The Texas Company wanted to know what would satisfy Mr. Furrh. He was already well satisfied, thank you. He did want to see Elysian Fields built up, though, and he thought a carbon black plant or two might help.

The Texas Company, it is claimed, had been vigorously opposed to carbon black plants in the Bethany field. Now it has changed its view; it is in favor of carbon black plants in the Bethany field.

At least, that is the story as Elysian Fields folks tell it.—Carthage Register.

HIGHWAYS TO BE GRAVELED

Last Monday about one hundred citizens living on the highway leading from Nacogdoches to Sacul and the highway leading to the Rusk county line went to Nacogdoches to meet with the commissioners court and insist on the county raising funds and surfacing the highways that are not surfaced and to build the necessary bridges.

Judge Hamlin, who lives on the road leading out to Rusk county line, was spokesman for the delegation and made a forceful argument in favor of issuing deficiency warrants for the purpose of completing the work. He stated that he realized that the warrants would have to be sold at a discount and that he did not like to see the county have to sacrifice in that way, but as the matter stands it is either that or let about three hundred thousand dollars worth of roads go to the bad. And another feature that he pointed out was that with the completion of the highways state aid would be granted that would offset the amount of the discount many times; but, on the other hand, if the roads were not completed the state would not give anything. It was learned that warrants had been voted by the court and that the action was withheld from the minutes on the suggestion of the county judge, as he contended that the action was not legal. The entire court, we understand, was in favor of the warrants.

As a result of the meeting resolutions were passed and recorded to the effect that the warrants would be issued, after the county judge took a poll of the audience, composed of about one hundred out-of-town people and forty or fifty Nacogdoches citizens, and all but two of the entire crowd voted for the commissioners to issue the warrants.

These warrants are to run from one to twenty-eight years, drawing 6 per cent interest, and will be redeemed from the 15 cent road tax that we have and will not require additional taxes.

We understand that the work will be started as soon as the warrants can be put out and disposed of.—Cushing Journal, 14th.

EVEN THE TRAINS

There were two wrecks on the H. E. & W. T. yesterday, each just a few miles out of Lufkin, one on the north and one south. While a box car or two were turned over, no one was hurt, and traffic was not delayed. Everything on the rails is rolling nicely today, and no further bad luck is expected.—Lufkin News, 16th.

It is possible the trains would rather jump the track than run into Lufkin from either side? Looks like it!

If peace ever comes to Ireland it won't seem like Ireland.

OUR LAWYERS BANQUET TWO VISITING JUDGES

Members of the Court of Civil Appeals, Ninth Supreme Judicial District of Texas, were tendered a banquet by members of the Nacogdoches bar at the Redland Hotel Monday evening.

On account of the illness of a member of his family, Judge L. B. Hightower was not present. Judge Walker and Judge O'Quinn were the guests of honor.

Hon. S. W. Blount was selected to Toastmaster Blount called up the head of the banquet table in a most pleasing manner.

After the spread had been disposed of in a manner which reflected credit upon the Nacogdoches Bar and the Toastmaster Blount called upon Judge O'Quinn requesting him to describe the sensations of a new judge who had stepped from the office of prosecuting attorney to a place upon the Court of Civil Appeals. Judge O'Quinn, in a fifteen-minute talk, entertained the company with a detailed explanation and recital of the many experiences, novel and interesting, which had come to him in the performance of his new duties as a judge of the Court of Civil Appeals. He spoke highly and touchingly of the comradeship existing between the judges at Beaumont.

Judge V. E. Middlebrook was next called upon, and entertained the company in his usual interesting manner for fifteen or twenty minutes.

S. M. Adams told of the invitation extended the court and the program which had been outlined for their entertainment at the famous Shawnee Springs, and invited all the members of the Nacogdoches bar to visit them in camp during the week.

Judge Walker, in a twenty-minute talk, at the request of the toastmaster told of the many troubles as well as the many pleasures which members of the court are called upon to dispose of, dwelling upon the fact that when lawyers and litigants have disagreed and the trial courts and juries have disposed of the issues, that the judges of the appellate court are then called upon to make final disposition of these disputed issues, always to the dissatisfaction of one of the parties. But at last, he stated, lawyers, practicing before the trial courts of necessity must play a dual part, speaking for his client on one hand and for himself upon the other. So the courts take it when motions for rehearing are filed, and the written page contains criticisms, caustic and harsh, at times, the lawyer is speaking for his client and not for himself.

June C. Harris spoke of Judge O'Quinn, stating that he has listened with interest to eulogies passed by different speakers upon the lives and records of many judges of the higher courts who have passed from life unto death, and that he now desired to offer a tribute to a living judge stating first, that few of us are aware of the fact that W. B. O'Quinn is a native born citizen of Nacogdoches county; that a friendship had existed between himself and Judge O'Quinn from their boyhood days, and that he knew, as a fact, that the achievements which Judge O'Quinn had accomplished have been wrought by his own hands and his own intellect inspired by high and lofty ambition.

Judge O'Quinn, at the close of the remarks of the last speaker, arose and touchingly referred to the tribute which had been paid him. The party dispersed at 10:30 o'clock with the understanding that no pains would be spared to make the visit of our distinguished guests one filled with pleasure.

HEAT THE SCAPEGOAT

When it is hot everything is blamed on the heat. "Crazy with the heat" is an old slang phrase which has no more pat application than that by which it is attached to those who make excessive heat responsible for everything from the loss of ball games to the birth of triplets. One cannot doubt that there are numerous cases of heat prostration and that some of them result fatally, but to many of the deaths credited to the heat the excess temperature is responsible only in an indirect way. Bather seeks the cooling river and is drowned—heat. Someone goes to sleep in a hammock which breaks and the sleeper is perhaps fatally injured—heat. Another suffers an attack of acute indigestion possibly due to eating food that should not be eaten in hot weather—heat again.

Heat brings an abundance of discomfort and it is wise to take precautions to prevent serious results following its trail, but there is no use becoming alarmed because the temperature hovers around 90 for a week or so. It exceeds that for long periods in the tropics and yet people continue to exist there.

Observe customs of living that all know are suited to hot weather. Somebody has said that heat is a state

About Texas and Constitutional Amendments

Election, Fourth Saturday in July, 1921

TEXAS: Area 267,072 square miles, each square mile 640 acres.

GROWTH SINCE 1866: Population 1866, about 210,000; in 1920, 4,663,228, increased 6 1/2 times. Foundation laid for public free school fund in 1866. Value in 1920, $71,892,959.93. State gave for free education of each child in 1866, nothing; in 1920, $14.50. Taxable values, 1866, $170,005,545; in 1920, $3,320,838,714, increased 19 1/2 times.

LEGISLATURE: 31 Senators, presided over by the Lieutenant Governor; he is called the President of the Senate; 142 Representatives; they elect one of their members presiding officer; he is called the Speaker; all get equal pay.

An informed citizen is the guardian of a just and liberal government.

Below, under "Form of Ballot," will be found the words by which the five amendments will be represented and the order in which they will appear on the "Official Ballot." The "Explanation of the Amendments," printed below will not appear on the "Official Ballot" July 23rd.

"FORM OF BALLOT"

FOR the amendment to Article 17, Section 58 of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.

AGAINST the amendment of Article 17, Section 58 of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.

EXPLANATION OF THE AMENDMENTS

This amendment proposes to abolish the offices of the three Penitentiary Commissioners. It is believed a management can be provided that will be more efficient and less expensive than is the present system. A change may save taxes.

Salaries now paid the "Executive Officers" are Governor, $4,000; Attorney General, $4,000; Treasurer, Comptroller and Land Commissioner, each, $2,500; Secretary of State, $2,000. They were fixed under the Constitution of 1866—55 years ago—when living expenses, duties and responsibilities of the officers were much less than now. About every colored person but these have had a raise in pay since then. Under this amendment the legislature could pay these executive officers not to exceed: Governor, $8,000; Attorney General, $7,500; Treasurer, comptroller, land commissioner and secretary of state, each, $5,000, and no more, but the legislature could pay them less. That proposed increase in salaries is too small to increase the rate because when compared with the total taxable values of the state, printed above, it will be seen that the pro rata part of one who pays a tax on $1,000 worth of property would be only one-half of a cent, of five cents on $10,000 worth.

FOR the amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910.

AGAINST the amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows.

If this proposed amendment to increase the amount of pensions for Confederate soldiers and their widows should be adopted, the tax rate would be increased from 5 cents to 7 cents on the $100 worth of property. Soon these worthy people will pass away. The question now is, are we willing to increase their comforts a little while they live among us?

FOR the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to the mileage and per diem of members of the Legislature of the State of Texas.

AGAINST the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to the mileage and per diem of the members of the Legislature of the State of Texas.

This amendment proposes to reduce the mileage or traveling expenses of legislators to one-half of what it is now; also proposes to pay them not to exceed $10 a day for a session of 120 days and $5 a day thereafter. The legislature could pay them less. They now get $5 a day for 60 days and $2 a day thereafter. They can neither complete necessary legislation within the 60 days nor pay their expenses with $2 a day. The records of the comptroller's office show that the legislature could, under this amendment, have a regular session of 120 days at $8 per day (their pay in 1866) for $19,501.81 less expense to the taxpayers than the one regular term and four special sessions cost during the last two years. So much time is lost in organizing and adjourning these short sessions that it is believed more bad bills could be killed and the good ones made better in one regular session of 120 days than is now done in so many short special sessions. It is clear the tax rate would not have to be increased. This would mean a better condition for legislation without any increase in the tax rate, and everybody agrees Texas needs it.

FOR the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting.

AGAINST the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive receipt therefor and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting.

Under the present Constitution foreigners are authorized to vote as soon as they declare their intention to become citizens. If this proposed amendment should be adopted they must become fully naturalized before they can be authorized to vote. Also, at present, all voters in towns of more than ten thousand people must get their poll tax receipt in person. If this proposed amendment should be adopted either the husband or wife could pay the poll tax and get the receipt for the other regardless of residence.

Also, if this proposed amendment should be adopted the legislature could authorize a person to vote in a general election without being present just as is now permitted, under the absentee voting law, in primary elections.

Lowe Brothers

"Yes, it's the old car, but it looks like a new one"

Two days before the picnic, Joe bought two cans of Lowe Brothers Auto Varnish Colors and spent a pleasant afternoon cleaning the car up and painting it. This morning it was bone-dry, and Joe says he's going to keep the car instead of trading it for a new model; it looks so good.

It's lots of fun to repaint your car if you use Lowe Brothers Auto Varnish Colors. Made in all the popular colors. Come in and ask us about them.

C. OF C. REMOVED

On Monday the headquarters of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce was removed from the old stand at West Main and North streets, where it has been at home since its organization, to the City Hall, where the multifarious details of the business of the important body will receive the customary careful and efficient attention heretofore bestowed by Secretary H. L. McKnight and his valued assistant, Miss Dorothy Washburn.

It would be difficult to measure the benefits which have flown from the chamber of commerce—benefits which have touched every walk of life within the community and county. And, under the capable direction of Secretary McKnight, backed by a bunch of live-wires who stand for improvement and advancement in all lines, greater accomplishments will be realized from the work of this progressive organization.

HAVE ORCHESTRA IN CHURCH

Pictureque Feature of Place of Worship Noted by Traveler in Old English Village.

A picturesque feature of the Sunday service in many parts of the old world is the survival of the orchestra. writes David Berry in the London Daily News.

In many village chapels of Primitive Methodist persuasion the old hymns are still sung with a combination of vocal and instrumental vigor that makes town singing seem anemic in comparison.

"I recently visited a village chapel of one story, nestling at the foot of one of the downs," he says. "Its remoteness from the madding crowd may be judged from the fact that even after the great war for freedom, it still observes an arbitrary old condition in its lease requiring the morning service to end before that in the established church begins."

"The unusually large congregation numbered some 30 souls. But the volume of sound when the cornet, harmonium and piccolo reached crescendo pitch in leading the equally lusty singing was out of all proportion to the size of the edifice.

"In competition with the two more robust instruments, the piccolo could scarcely be heard, but occasionally he stole a note in front at the opening of a verse. One could not blame the player for an evident desire to be heard somehow. Otherwise his efforts would have been completely submerged by the swelling strains of the harmonium. Still less could he have stood a chance when the cornet, with its powerful blast, triumphed over all.

"I left the building with a conviction that the little village chapel knows how to make a joyful noise, but I still entertain some misgivings as to the life of its roof."

SO THE DOCTOR LET HIM GO

Imprisoned Negro Had Altogether Too Good a Memory of Certain Happenings in France.

"Doctah, ain't yo goin' get me out a heah?"

The voice, plaintive and supplicating, came from the depths of the city jail of Birmingham, Ala., a few nights ago when Dr. Cecil Gaston, city physician and former overseas medical corps captain, dropped in on the warden.

Inside, the erstwhile private, first class, Ebenezer Johnson tarried because he previously had tarried too long with the moonshine when it gleamed white in the cup. Seeing the doctor, for whom he had been "dog-robber" in a French camp, he immediately hit upon an idea.

"Doctah, can't yo' make out a slip, sayin' Ah'm sick, an' take me ovah t' th' hospital so's ah c'n get outtah heah?" But the doctor was adamant.

"Say, doctah," he began, whispering to the former captain, "does yo' 'member de night w'en all 'of de officahs wuzz dry an' I went an' foctched dat coneyyak, an—"

"Send this man to the hospital. He's too sick for the jail," said the city physician, sharply, to the policeman in charge.—From the Stars and Stripes.

Ideal Health Certificate.

A very comprehensive form of health certificate is proposed for use in Germany, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. If adopted, it would form a record of the health of each individual at any stage of life, and at death would furnish a complete history of that individual's whole physical life. This record would constitute a single health certificate, in which would be combined the certificate of birth, of vaccination, the health reports of school medical examiners, and in later life the reports of health insurance societies, in which all Germans in industrial life are registered. The result would be of value, during the life of the individual, in furnishing an attending physician with a complete family history; and after death, these certificates would be collected in a central bureau, where they would furnish material for the study of heredity.

The Wifely Training.

"So you've graduated from college?" "Yes, sir."

"Studied abroad, too?" "Yes, sir."

"Consider yourself now fairly well able to get along and adapt yourself in any kind of society?" "I believe so."

"That's what I used to think, but I lived to discover this: no matter how many college degrees a man earns, and how carefully his parents may have trained him when he gets married there's always a lot that his wife still thinks is necessary to teach him."

Might Drop in Occasionally.

"Henry," said Mrs. Glipping, in one of her tearful moods, "if I were to die would you mourn for me?" "Certainly I would, my dear," replied Mr. Glipping, as he scanned the market page.

"And would you visit my—boo-boo—grave sometimes?"

"Of course. Why do you ask such a foolish question? You know the cemetery is right on the way to my favorite golf links."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Most Unusual.

"Anything unusual about this second-hand car?"

"Yes, indeed. It's the only second-hand car I know of that wasn't especially made for the general manager of the company which builds these motors."—Detroit Free Press.

ALONE FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS

Indian Woman, Abandoned on Desert Island, Finally Found by Party of Otter Hunters.

On San Nicholas island, which is uninhabited, a party of sea-otter hunters, landing to chance their luck, found, to their amazement, the imprint of human feet on the sandy shore—imprints freshly made. They scattered in search. But, the wind shifting and commencing to blow hard, they had to regain their vessel before the maker of the marks could be found. It was undeniable, however, a human being lived on this bleak, wind-blown island of sand and tall brushwood.

On returning to the mainland they reported the strange discovery, but nothing was done until a Roman Catholic priest was so moved by the news that he persuaded the captain of a small schooner to sail with him for San Nicholas. After two days' searching he discovered this lonely Crusoe—the first of a new kind. For he found inside a low hut of driftwood a woman more like a beast than a person.

She was clad in otter skins, and the feathered skins of the sea-fowl, and her companion was an otter, which she had caught very young and tamed.

The priest with difficulty got her story, for she had almost forgotten how to speak. Many years previously the small tribe of Indians to which she belonged—inhabitants of San Nicholas from time past—had been shifted by the government to the mainland. As they were being taken on board, her baby had fallen into the sea, and she had leaped after him, and in the dusk had been given up as drowned. She reached the shore, however, to find the child was dead. In utter loneliness she had lived there for 18 years.

NO RELIEF EVEN IN DEATH

Profiteering Claimed to Have Spread to the Undertaker and the Cemetery Manager.

Exploitation even at the side of the grave! Birth has long been regarded as a costly occasion, sometimes the occasion of profiteering. Diseases during infancy afford further opportunities for taking advantage of people's ignorance. Child labor and other ill-sets upon the youth almost before he enters adolescence, and fraudulent schemes of education may carry him into maturity. Adult life, of course, is a long stretch of abuses. Our food, our shelter, our clothes, our leisure—some where we are almost certain to pay the penalty of living; many of us even regard ourselves as underpaid. If we attempt to fly from these demands of exorbitancy the loan shark grins outside the door. Old age creeps upon us with leering malevolence. From the cradle onward we are harried. And now comes death to add its finishing touch of trickery, writes Winthrop D. Lane in the Literary Review of Quincy L. Dowd's "Funeral Management and Costs." St. Paul's question has been answered. The sting of death lies in its cost; the victory of the grave belongs to the undertaker and the cemetery manager. "We bargain for the graves we lie in."

Americans Killed With Escadrille.

There were twelve young Americans who gave up their lives for France while flying with the Lafayette escadrille or squadron. To perpetuate their names and memory a memorial tablet was modeled by a French artist at Sevres, France, in 1919, and executed under the direction of Sidney E. Veit, secretary of the foreign service committee of the Aero Club of America. The Lafayette squadron won imperishable fame by its success in aerial combats with enemy planes, of which no fewer than 190 were brought down by this organization alone. The names on the tablet: Norman Barclay, Julian Biddle, Andrew Courtney Campbell, Jr., Oliver Chadwick, Victor Chapman, Edmond Genet, Ronald Hosker Douglas McMonigal, James McConnell, Norman Prince, Kiffin Rockwell.

Whale of a Fish Story.

"It's a whale," more than one visitor asserted who visited Monk's wharf here recently. They were wrong. It was a sturgeon. From the tip of its tall to its snout it measured just 13 feet, and it weighed 988 pounds. This monster fish was taken with a drift net in the Pitt river by an Indian fisherman, and is said to be the second largest ever taken.—New Westminster Correspondence Toronto Globe.

Noah's Oversight.

"Don't forget to feed and water the canary birds," said Mrs. Meekton as she started for the train.

"I won't, Henrietta," replied Leonard; "though I can't help wishing sometimes that Noah, when planning to perpetuate animal life, had decided to leave canary birds out of the ark."

J. W. MCKNIGHT IS VICTIM OF MASKED MEN

J. W. McKnight, employed by the Smith-Hunt Plumbing Company of this city, went to Timpson Sunday morning, arriving about 4 o'clock. Almost immediately after he got off the train he was confronted by a man wearing a red bandana as a mask and ordered to throw up his hands. This, of course, he did without loss of time. McKnight edged up to the masked figure, and when within striking distance, smashed him in the face after knocking up his gun, and put him out of business temporarily. Four other masked men sprang from a nearby auto and rushed to the assistance of their pal, and a lively scrimmage ensued, but, after he thinks cutting two of his assailants with a pocket-knife, McKnight was dumped into the auto and driven a couple of miles from town, where he was beaten and left to find his way back to the station. His face was bruised and one of his hands cut in the first melee, and a severe bite suffered from one of the attackers. Upon reaching Timpson, McKnight telephoned his brother in this city of the occurrence and requested him to come in a car to accompany him home. The wounded man left Timpson, however, about 9 o'clock Sunday morning and met his brother en route. Reaching here about 2 p. m. news of the affair quickly spread, and McKnight told the story of his mishap to many inquirers. Some time ago a letter, in a woman's handwriting, signed "Ku Klux," was received by McKnight, but he deemed it a joke and ignored it, claiming there was nothing in his actions to excite the enmity of anyone, thinking perhaps some of his friends were trying a prank on him.

McKnight's three children are being cared for by a family who resided here for a while and recently moved back to Timpson, and his mission Sunday was to take money for the maintenance of the little ones. About $20 in cash and other valuables were taken from him by the whitecappers, he claims. McKnight states that in the scuffle attending his capture the masks of the men were displaced and he recognized all of them. He left here on the 1 o'clock train for Center, the county seat of Shelby county, to lay before the county attorney and start proceedings against his persecutors.

MCKNIGHT AGAIN IS VICTIM OF KU KLUX

J. W. McKnight, who Sunday morning was taken in charge by a mob at Timpson, beaten and robbed, again fell a victim to the lawless element Tuesday night. On Monday McKnight armed himself with a pumpgun and went to Center to enter complaint against his assailants, all of whom he claimed to have recognized. At Tenaha Tuesday night he met a deputy sheriff who volunteered to keep him company until train time. McKnight informed the officer that he had a revolver tied up in a newspaper in his coat, and was informed that it was all right. About 9 o'clock this deputy told McKnight he would have to arrest him. To this no objection was made, and the prisoner, the deputy and another man entered a car for the trip to Center. A short distance from Tenaha the headlight of the machine failed and a stop was made to locate and adjust the trouble. Just as the lights came on again an automobile with several men aboard drove up and stopped beside the car and the officer was ordered to hand over his gun, which he did without protest. McKnight was then seized, dragged from the machine, stripped of his clothing and given a whipping, after which he was driven, naked and blindfolded, to Timpson, his clothing thrown upon the ground and he was stood upon the garments, the mob disappearing.

McKnight made his way to Garrison, from which place he telephoned his brother, Lee McKnight, who met him in a car and brought him home, arriving about daylight.

The mob's victim was badly beaten, his back being cruelly lacerated, while his side was injured by brutal kicks.

McKnight is planning, it is understood, to invoke the aid of federal authorities in securing protection. If the Department of Justice takes cognizance of the matter, there is prospect for a whole lot of trouble for somebody.

A traveling salesman who was in Timpson Tuesday told Sheriff Wood-an of this county that a party at Timpson remarked to him that "we have got two of the Nacogdoches bullies, and we're going to get others." Perhaps they may; who can tell? When the members of a mob become blood-mad they are not apt to consider the guilt or innocence of an accused person; they are out to kill or maim, regardless. In other words, they become a group of insane savages, irresponsible and dangerous in their

MORE REPORTS FROM NACOGDOCHES OIL FIELD

Reports that are Credited to Be Authentic and Reliable Continue to Come In

In looking at this field from all tangible viewpoints, one will find many interesting and unusual features. One of the most remarkable and outstanding is the result of two tests that were recently made of the refined stock—a 500-mile block test and a 500-mile road test. These were made in two popular makes of cars. At the conclusion of the tests the oil was drained from the cars into glass containers and allowed to settle. About one-eighth of an inch of sediment was found in the containers, and the body of the oil was apparently the same as when put into the engines. A further test showed that this oil had only lost five points in viscosity as against a loss of 25 to 30 points in other oils. From this comparison with other high-grade oils it will be seen that the Nacogdoches product shows up par excellence.

The Nevada-Midway Oil Co. secured a lease of 150 acres from the Wm. Cameron Co., north of the Fort Worth Drilling Co., and have completed their first well for two barrels production at 375 feet in a five-foot sand. They are spudding in on their second well at once and expect to continue drilling until the entire lease is fully developed.

The Oregon-Nacogdoches Oil & Gas Co. have their representative on the field, Mr. A. E. Kenworthy. This company owns 480 acres of leases in the northern end of the field and, according to Mr. Kenworthy they expect to commence drilling in the near future.

In county court Tuesday morning Judge Marshall called the appearance docket, set casts and adjourned the court till Monday of next week.

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

RAINBOW DIVISION HOLDING REUNION

Cleveland, Ohio, July 14.—The Rainbow Division, one of the most famous American divisions that participated in the world war, opened its second annual convention here yesterday. Several thousand are expected to attend the three-day event.

The Cleveland Chapter will entertain 25 wounded Rainbow men still in hospitals.

The division was recruited from 26 states. The infantry regiments came from New York, Ohio, Alabama and Iowa, the artillery from Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

After training at Camp Mills, Long Island, the division sailed for France in October of 1917, the fourth division to arrive.

After three months of intensive training in France the men went into the trenches near Baccarat. From then on it was continuous heavy fighting and hardships, at Champaigne, where the division was a stone wall against the great German offensive; from there to Chateau Thierry salient; and then followed the St Mihiel, where in two days over 2,000 prisoners were taken. The division was engaged in two important phases of the great Argonne-Meuse offensive and finally ended up at Sedan on November 7.

From December, 1918, to April, 1919, its members were in the Army of Occupation and finally arrived home in May, 1919.

Col. M. A. Tinley of Council Bluffs, Ia., is president of the division organization.

COTTON SIGNED UP

Dallas, Texas, July 14.—Thirty thousand Texas cotton growers from 142 different counties have sent in contracts to deliver a total of 560,903 bales of cotton to the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers Co-operative Marketing Association and contracts are still pouring in, according to a report made by Walton Pettee to the Committee of Twenty-One, which originated the movement, expect to make a million-bale pool.

Ellis county leads the state in the number of signers, having put in 43,800 bales. Numerous counties signed between fifteen and twenty thousand bales. Foard county, in West Texas, got its full quota nearly a week before the close of the drive. The greatest interest in the cotton pool was shown in West and South Texas. Nineteen bales was the average number signed in each growers contract.

Complete plans have been made for the election of the board of directors and for the setting up of sales agencies to dispose of this cotton.

PRO DIRECTOR SAYS DRY NATION SOON

Washington, July 15.—Roy Haynes prohibition commissioner, after a month in office, prophesied today that the United States will be a literal Sahara Desert under a plan he has evolved to central all responsible for enforcement in state directors.

Commissioner Haynes admitted that the task before him is a "whale of a job", but he believes he is equal to it, and through greater efficiency which he aims to establish, he predicted that the liquor "leaks" will be closed, that liquor lawlessness will gradually subside and that public sentiment will become more strongly crystallized in favor of rigid enforcement.

Reminded of the predictions of his predecessors that the United States would not be dry in 100 years Haynes said that in the future work would not be characterized the "sad mistakes" made in the first year of the prohibition experiment and that he is confident of stamping out the illegal traffic.

By banishing politics from his organization, Haynes expects to inject greater efficiency. He said the principal handicap is inadequate funds to check liquor violators.

OKLAHOMA JUDGE IS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

Tulsa, Okla., July 14.—District Judge Lucien B. Wright of Sapula was arrested last night on charges of bribery and later released on bond. The charges were filed in justice's court by Attorney General Freeling and grew out of the famous Tommy Atkins oil case, which was heard before Judge Wright recently.

When the aviator reached the ancient capitol of the Incas, the big bird was still accompanying the airplane, apparently preparing to attack it.

MRS. KABER CONVICTED GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber was found guilty today of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation for mercy by the jury which tried her on a charge of plotting the killing of her husband. Under the verdict the woman must serve the remainder of her life in prison.

When the jury made its official report on the verdict Mrs Kaber was lying limp in the arms of a deputy sheriff. Asked if she had anything to say, she merely shook her head. Judge Bernon then pronounced sentence and Mrs Kaber was taken back to her jail cell. The jury took only three ballots, it was said, the first two being nine for mercy and three for first degree murder without mercy. Before balloting the jury discarded the insanity plea of Attorney Poulson, who said he would not appeal the case. Counsel for both sides said they were satisfied with the verdict.

THE SWINE GROWERS

Chicago, Ill., July 16.—The national Swine Show will be held in Peoria, Ill., this year, from October 3 to 8, it is announced here by the National Swine Growers' Association. The show has the assistance of a $15,000 appropriation recently voted by the state legislature, and under the same aid it will be held again next year in Peoria. Contracts were signed this week.

Prizes totalling $20,000 will be awarded this fall, W. J. Carmichael, secretary of the swine growers' association, adds to the announcement. This is the largest amount ever offered on this occasion.

Prospects are bright for the best college students' judging contest yet held at the national swine show, five different colleges now planning to enter, Mr. Carmichael reports.

The same states that led in the hog production ten years ago hold their relative positions today, according to a review of recent census figures in The Hogman, organ of the National Swine Growers' Association. This is its list:

Swine on farms in 1920:
Iowa, 7,864,304.
Illinois, 4,640,447.
Missouri, 3, 888,677.
Indiana, 3,757,135.
Nebraska, 3,441,917.

MOONSHINER IS SHOT

Texarkana, Texas, July 16.—Sheriff John Strange and a force of deputies made a raid on moonshiners in the Shios community, ten miles south of the town, yesterday afternoon, capturing two 50-gallon stills, completely equipped, 15 gallons of white corn whiskey and 1,500 gallons of mash.

Otto Medley, a young farmer, was found at one of the stills but he ran when he saw the officers. He was called on to halt, and when he failed to obey, one of the deputies fired on him with a shotgun. One load of buck shot struck him in the back, bringing him down. He was brought to the city and placed in jail. His wounds are not dangerous.

PLANS TO EXTERMINATE THE PINK BOLL WORM

Dallas, Texas, July 16.—The pink boll worm will cover the entire state within from three to five years unless something is done to check its spread, according to Dr. W. B. Hunter, member of the Federal Horticultural Board, with headquarters in Houston.

Because the pink boll worm may be carried in cotton seed it is not necessarily confined to certain areas. It may break out hundreds of miles from the point of original infestation according to the doctor.

The Pink Boll Worm Commission which returned from Mexico last fall found that the damage done by this pest averaged 50 percent of the yield and in extreme cases 80 percent of the crop was destroyed.

Damage to the Texas crop within the next five years will approximate $75,000,000 a year, according to Dr. Hunter, and it will cost from a million to a million and a half dollars to eradicate the pink boll worm in Texas.

He states that it has been definitely proven that the pink boll worm can be eradicated by a three-year non-cotton zone such as was put into effect in the section around Hearne and where at the present time the pink boll worm does not exist.

It is planned that the farmers shall receive full compensation for such losses as may be suffered under the non-cotton plan of eradication. It is expected that one-third of the expense of eradication will be borne by the national government and two-thirds by the state.

There are two sections in the state now suffering from the ravages of the worm, one in South Texas, consisting of Jefferson, Harris, Galveston, Liberty and Brazos counties, and the other in West Texas, consisting of El Paso, Hudspeh, Pecos, Ward and Reeves.

The Central Pink Boll Worm Committee, representing 17 state commercial and agricultural organizations, has appointed a subcommittee to assist in formation of a law and a plan for extermination. Following is a personnel of the committee: J. W. Jarrell, Houston; A.P. Gordan, Pierce W. L. Stallings, Houston; and C. M. Bassett, El Paso.

DINING ROOM ENJOYMENT

(Thursday Health Talk No. 13.)
(By R. W. Zilar, D. C.)

Dining room enjoyment waits on appetite, but there are many ravenous who dare not eat. To these the dining room is like the entrance room to a palace of horrors.

Chronic indigestion sufferers are not all dietetic fools, nor gluttons. In fact a healthy stomach, barring abuse, gives no trouble. There are many to whom no change of diet, nor any restriction of quantity, makes much difference. They suffer just the same.

The cause of chronic stomach weakness of this character is pressure upon spinal nerves at "stomach place" in the spine. A disturbance of the alignment of joints at this point causes pressure. The result of a stomach weakness that in some cases amounts to almost paralysis. Chiropractic spinal adjustments will restore alignment and remove the cause.

"I suffered twenty years from chronic stomach trouble and piles. I tried all kinds of drugs, patent medicines and several doctors without permanent relief. In June, 1919, I started Chiropractic. I was relieved of my stomach trouble and the piles showed a gradual improvement until well."—J. S. Lumbley, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1266-L.

AN APPEAL TO TEXAS VOTERS

To the Editor:

Next Saturday, July 23rd, the voters of Texas will pass upon the amendment to change our present system of prison management in Texas. The present commission should be abolished, so the state legislature will be free to make laws for the management and control of the penitentiary and prison farms. Under the present law of Texas the Governor cannot control the penitentiary, neither can he remove a prison official for flagrant violation of the law. The brutal treatment of prisoners now going on in Texas is a disgrace to civilization. No attempt is ever made to enforce the law against brutal convict guards. The abolishment of the prison commission is the first step toward redeeming the good name of our state, and the banishing of bull whips, clubs and chains as instruments of torture heaped upon helpless human beings.

Vote to abolish the prison commission.

George W. Dixon,
President Texas Better Prison League,
Houston, Texas, July 18, 1921.

BELIEVES TANLAC KEPT HIM ON THE JOB

Tulsa Citizen Declares His Wife Was Also Greatly Benefited by Taking It

"It was certainly money well spent when I bought Tanlac, for I doubt if I would be able to be on the job today if it hadn't been for this medicine," says J. E. Chandler of 32 Olympia St., Tulsa, Okla.

"For a long time before I got Tanlac I was troubled with what I believe was rheumatism. I had awful pains and soreness in my shoulders, and many times my arms were so stiff I could hardly raise my hands to my head. I don't believe I could have been in more misery had some one been sticking me with a knife, and it was just all I could do to stay on the job. I couldn't find anything to help me, and I was certainly in bad shape.

"I have taken six bottles of Tanlac, and it has relieved me so completely that I never have an ache or pain and I have regained full strength and energy.

"My wife was not well and had no appetite to speak of. She took Tanlac at the same time I did, and it has given her such a splendid appetite that she said to me the other day it looked like she would eat us out of house and home. I believe Tanlac is all that kept me on the job, and there are so many others in ill health that I feel it is my duty to tell everybody I can about it."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

BAD SLOUGH BRIDGED IN ANGELINA BOTTOM

Through the joint efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the county the bad slough across the highway in the Angelina river bottom is to be bridged with a substantial structure at once, so that cars can pass this place without having to be pulled through with teams.

Secretary McKnight and County Judge Marshall went to the river early this morning, where they met Commissioner Lyles and after a careful study of the situation decided that the structure should be built.

The temporary bridge will be 300 feet long, and will be constructed by laying three heavy logs across the muddy section and flooring these timbers with heavy oak slabs, securely nailed, so that autos can cross with safety except during time of high water.

Turner King and Rufe King of Douglass have the contract to build this crossing and are to have it open for traffic by Friday night.

A list of business firms contributing to this worthy cause will be published later. This piece of road work will be very much appreciated by the traveling public, locally as well as over the state.

Mr. H. S. Crews of La Rue was visiting in the city Sunday and Monday.
