OFFICERS WORKING HARD ON PARRISH MURDER

The finding of the body of Dr. A. L. Parrish in a small lake near Garrison Friday afternoon was a shock to the entire county and surrounding country. John Peterson and his brother-in-law, "Shorty" Nations were in a boat fishing in the lake and at 3:30 in the afternoon discovered the dead man's breast and hand protruding from the water. The community was quickly aroused and a number went to the lake and assisted in removing the remains. Upon receipt of the news here, John Parrish, a brother of deceased; Sheriff Woodlan, Deputy Copeland and Judge V. E. Middlebrook hurried to the scene and began an investigation, which took rather a wide range.

The alleged facts as so far developed are as follows:

Dr. Parrish was last seen alive when, late on Thursday, May 25th, he, in company with Jesse Ramin and Alfred Simpson, had dinner at the Depot Cafe. Parrish and Ramin were partners in a contracting business and Simpson was an employee. The party had come from Douglas. When their car reached the Baxter Hotel, ostensibly en route to Haslam, Simpson left the machine and started for the home of his father, John Simpson, near Pisgah, 11 miles distant. His father states he arrived at home about 10 o'clock Friday, Saturday and Sunday he attended a singing convention at a church.

Nothing more was heard from Dr. Parrish until his body was found as noted above. It was found that after staying around Garrison for about ten days, Ramin had gone to Livingston. Sheriff Woodlan at once, after considering all the circumstances, decided to have Ramin arrested. Saturday morning he and Judge Middlebrook motored to Livingston and took charge of the man. In speaking to a garage man about the doctor's car, a Buick, the sheriff was informed that about a month ago two men had driven a Buick into his place for repairs of the brakes, and when informed it would require about three hours to do the necessary work, the men disappeared and the car had not been claimed; that it was still in the rear of his garage. Sheriff Woodlan investigated and was surprised to find it was Dr. Parrish's car, which still bore the license which had been issued to its owner—Texas 1922 tag No. 418627. The sheriff paid the charges on the machine and brought it and his prisoner back to Nacogdoches Saturday and placed the man in jail, where he still remains.

In the meantime Deputy Sheriff Copeland started out after Alfred Simpson and found and arrested him in the forks of the river near Etoile. He likewise was brought in and jailed. All day Sunday a morbidly curious crowd hung about the courthouse, where the doctor's car was parked, and viewed the "death auto". There were blood stains on the cushions back of the steering wheel, down which the sanguine stream had trickled to the floor, where it formed a pool. This indicated that the dead man had been shot from behind while sitting at the wheel. The body showed a bullet hole in the back of the skull and a badly crushed skull from a blow by some heavy implement.

Dr. Parrish's funeral was held at Tenaha Saturday afternoon. He formerly practiced medicine at that place, moving to Garrison about seven years ago and engaging in the contracting business, operating a number of teams Mrs. Parrish is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. B. Parker, prominent citizens of Shelby county, residing near Center.

An interesting and somewhat startling story in connection with the murder has come to light.

Some three weeks ago a young man named Fred Brodric, held in jail for a burglary at Garrison, told the officers a remarkable story. Brodric was shell-shocked in Europe during the war, and is now accounted insane. He will be sent to an asylum. In the course of the investigation by the officers in connection with the burglary charge, Brodric told them Dr. Parrish was dead. Asked how he knew, he stated it had come to him in a vision. He went into details, asserting that the doctor had been shot in the back of the head, his skull crushed with an auto jack and still further struck with a piece of thin iron. This statement was made 3 weeks ago and was what caused the officers to suspect foul play and begin an investigation. Brodric further said that the dead man's hand and feet had been tied with wire and a weight attached to his neck by wire and his body was in a river. When the discovery of the body was made it was found that every one of Brodric's statements was true except the remains were found in a lake or pond instead of a river. The sheriff's and prosecuting attorney's offices kept this matter quiet till the end of their quest.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

The officers are continuing the investigation of the circumstances attending the murder of Dr. A. L. Parrish, and new developments have occurred, though up to noon Tuesday no additional arrests had been made.

County Attorney Audley Harris has been, in conjunction with the sheriff's department, indefatigable in his search for clues leading to the apprehension of the perpetrators of the horrid crime. It was Mr. Harris to whom Brodric related his "vision" which started the investigation, and he has since pressed the search for the criminals.

Sunday morning some boys fishing at the Angelina bridge on the Nacogdoches-Lufkin road, brought up a package of clothing, but thoughtlessly threw it back in the water. It is fairly certain these were the clothes worn by Dr. Parrish at the time of his death. He had on a pair of dark blue serge trousers, and the boys' description of their find tallied with the description of the doctor's clothing. It will be remembered his body was found in a lake, entirely nude. Efforts to locate this package after it was returned to the river by the boys were unsuccessful, though the search was continued until a late hour.

Another development was the recovery from the river at this point of the surgical and medical kits of the slain physician. They were positively identified and are in possession of Sheriff Woodlan, who led in the search.

Other and more startling developments are probable.

CLOSED SHOP RATHER THAN SERVE NON-UNION MEN

Lockhart, Texas, July 5.—It did not take Henry Toin, proprietor of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass eating house at Yoakum, very long to make up his mind when asked by a S. A. & A. P. official how many strikebreakers he could feed. Toin replied that he could feed a good many of them but he would not at any price.

He was told that he was on railroad property and if he would not supply food for the strikebreakers that he would have to vacate. Toin pecked up his silverware, put out the cat and joined the army of strikers.

This occurred Sunday and the S. A. & A. P. eating house will be dark for some time.

GOING BACK TO WORK

Chicago, July 5.—Striking railroad shopmen who walked out in answer to the nationwide call from the headquarters of the six shop crafts unions here Saturday were reported as drifting back to work today in groups of uncertain size. Today was considered the turning point in the strike of 350,000 to 400,000 workers. Local union reports of the office of President Jewell of the shopmen reiterated the union assertion that the strike was 100 percent effective. The maintenance of way union, whose officers yesterday decided to delay the threatened strike, were given the sympathy and congratulation of the striking shopmen by Jewell. The decision of the track laborers does not weaken the position of the shop strikers, Jewell said.

A CALL TO ARMS

Dublin, July 5.—It is alleged on excellent authority, says a press association, that the Irish provisional government intends to issue a national call to arms tomorrow.

CONDUCTOR KILLS NEGRO, IS CRITICALLY WOUNDED

Dallas, Texas, July 5.—John H. Foster, negro, is dead and W. L. Page, a streetcar conductor, is probably fatally wounded as the result of Foster's alleged attempted violation of the Jim Crow law here late last night. The negro, according to the police, boarded the car and occupied a seat reserved for whites. The conductor asked Foster three times to move back to the negro section, when, without a word, the negro drew a knife and began slashing Page, who staggered back, drew a revolver and shot Foster dead. Page is in a critical condition.

CONDEMNED MAN INNOCENT ACCORDING TO OLD LETTER

Austin, Texas, July 5.—The appearance in Atlanta, Ga., yesterday of an old letter, which purported to be the dying confession of H. M. Sharp to a murder in Texas 38 years ago, cleared up a death for which A. L. George served a prison term. George died a year ago after a futile attempt to have the state of Texas right what he claimed to have been a wrong inflicted upon him. The killing occurred at Hottentot, a small town in South Texas.

BEAUMONT WOMAN KILLED BY NEGRO

Beaumont, Texas, July 3.—Mrs. Fanny Goldstein, wife of Harry Goldstein, who conducts a grocery and fruit store at Park and Emmett streets, was shot and killed shortly after 9 p. m. Saturday by a negro robber.

Entering the store ostensibly to make a purchase of a box of matches, the negro seized a gun lying on a shelf near Mrs. Goldstein and opened fire. The bullet entering her brain and death was instantaneous. The negro rifled the cash register and fled.

Five minutes after the shooting virtually the entire police force was engaged in the man-hunt. A cordon was thrown around the neighborhood in which the store is located, all persons being questioned as to whether they had seen a negro escaping from the direction of the store.

Mrs. Goldstein was about 50 years old and the mother of several children.

FINAL ASSAULT BEGUN

Dublin, July 3.—A final assault on the positions held by the republicans in Sackville street was begun at 9 o'clock this morning and is still continuing. The other areas held by the insurgents in various parts of Dublin were occupied by the Free Staters last night. The insurgents are responding vigorously to the machine gun bombardment.

INVITATION DELIVERED AFTER NEARLY THIRTY YEARS

Cairo, Ill., July 3.—Remaining undelivered for nearly three decades, an invitation to a party from a sweetheart or long ago has just been forwarded to A. T. Haines, of St. Louis, Mo., who formerly lived here. The girl lived at Smithville, Ky., and the invitation neatly folded and scented, reached Cairo, March 23, 1893, when Haines was in knee breeches.

The letter became lost in a crack of an old-fashioned desk in the Cairo postoffice for more than 29 years.

WILL KICK OVER TRACES

Washington, July 5.—Majority leaders in charge of the administration tariff bill were warned today in the senate by Senator Lenroot, republican, of Wisconsin, leader of the progressive group, that unless some of the high duties proposed in the tariff bill were brought down to within reason he would reserve the right to vote against the measure.

DEER HAS TRIPLETS

Gainesville, Texas, July 5.—One buck and two does were born to a deer owned by Jack Conley near here. Triplets are said to be unusual in the deer family.

THIRD ACCIDENT FATAL

Kennett, Mo., July 4.—For the third time in six months, Will Ledbetter, 68, a timber cutter, was struck by a train here Tuesday. He died 20 minutes later without regaining consciousness.

IMMENSE KU KLUX GATHERING LAST NIGHT

From the Lufkin News, 1st. The News was informed this morning of a monster meeting of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at the old Skillern pasture between the hours of 9:30 and 1:30 last night, the white robed figures being estimated at something close to 2,500 and representing several counties in this immediate section. Six hundred autos were parked around the scene of the gathering, the ceremonies of which were the initiation of something like 500 candidates from the counties of Angelina and Nacogdoches, the visitors on the outskirts of the charmer circle being composed of men, women and children, drawn to the scene by the reports in circulation for the past day or so.

Long before the hour designated for the gathering the Lufkin-Nacogdoches highway was a stream of cars, the seemingly endless procession being composed of almost every make, the Ford predominating of course, each car loaded to capacity. The meeting was held in the old Skillern pasture of a thousand acres, a quarter of a mile east of the highway and a couple of miles beyond the Angelina bridge. With the parking of the cars around the prescribed spot embracing some 20 or 30 acres, the head and tail light of each car was left burning while the white robed figures paraded the entire circuit, holding in check the eager sight-seers and preventing the entrance of any other than members and those ladies present by special invitation.

The flaming cross blazed far into the night, presenting an impressive spectacle with hundreds of followers taking the oath of allegiance in the illumination of its blaze and in the presence of the silent group of shrouded and masked men.

From the reports gathered the meeting last night was the largest yet held in East Texas, and with the number reported as having been initiated this organization is attaining a strength and a membership that will make it a factor to be reckoned with in more ways than one.

The Sentinel received an invitation to witness the ceremonies described above, but it went astray and reached the office too late to permit any action on the part of the proposed guest.

It is learned from an authoritative source that the meeting was called by the Nacogdoches Klan, and the Angelina members were present and took part by invitation. About 2,500 klansmen were present and between 550 and 600 candidates were initiated into the mystereis of the order. By actual count there were 527 automobiles at the scene.

The Skillern pasture, where the meeting was held, is two miles and a half east of the Angelina river, in Nacogdoches county, near the Lufkin-Nacogdoches highway.

DRY LAW VIOLATORS HARD HIT AT DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, July 3.—Federal court closed Saturday afternoon with the sentencing of several persons by Judge James C. Wilson.

Sixty criminal cases were disposed of during the present term. Fifty-seven convictions were obtained, and three defendants were acquitted.

The session was marked by unusually heavy fines and jail sentences in liquor violations cases. Several $500 fines were assessed against defendants charged with unlawfully having whiskey in their possession. This is the maximum penalty fixed by the Volstead act.

WOMAN KILLED BY BANDITS

Washington, July 4.—Mrs. Thomas Cheney, the Mexican-born wife of an American employed by an American company in the Tampico oil region, was killed by Mexican bandits on June 29th when she recognized the leader, according to a report yesterday to the State Department from Consul Shaw at Tampico. As Mrs. Cheney is an American citizen by marriage, the department made immediate representations to the Mexican government recommending that the murderers be apprehended and punished.

France must learn to devote less energy to rocking the boat and more to rocking the cradle.

STUNT FLYER GROUND IN PROPELLER BLADES

Chicago, July 3.—Louis James, trick aviator, was ground to pieces by an airplane propeller in mid-air yesterday. Five thousand spectators saw his death.

James was an attraction at the Homewood American Legion celebration near Chicago. He would thrill the crowd by climbing from one plane to another in mid-air. James was dangling at the end of a rope ladder suspended from a plane a thousand feet in the air. He had just caught the ladder from the top of another plane.

The plane he had left slowed up for a second and James was caught by the propeller.

Parts of his body fell on the crowd below. The hands still clutched a bar of the ladder when he fell.

Several women among the spectators fainted.

FIRE AND BOMBARDMENT

Dublin, July 5.—Fire which started before noon in the Haman Hotel, a part of the irregulars' Sackville street stronghold, was extending this afternoon in a southerly direction and enveloping the Hibernian Bible Society building.

Bombardment by National artillerymen of the republican stronghold in Sackville street recommenced today after a brief lull.

MANY REPORT FOR WORK

Topoka, Kas., July 4.—According to a statement by John Purcell, in charge of all the shops on the Santa Fe system, 1,167 men reported for work at the Santa Fe's Topoka shops, the largest on the system, yesterday morning.

TWO MINISTERS KILLED AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Greenville, Texas, July 3.—The Rev. Harry Hagemeire of Terrell and H. T. Bingham, who resides east of Caddo Mills, were killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a southbound Missouri Pacific train at Caddo Mills. Rev. Payne of Fort Worth was seriously injured and was brought to Dallas. The Rev. Hagemeire was driving the car and had come from Terrell to start a revival meeting at Caddo Mills. The two ministers were on their way to the home of Mr. Bingham for dinner when the accident occurred.

MURDERERS CAPTURED

Muskogee, Okla., July 5.—John Welch and wife, negroes, alleged slayers of Homer Toaff, deputy sheriff, were lodged safely in the state penitentiary at McAlistier this morning. They surrendered last night to a farmer near Brushy Mountain, the scene of the crime, which was committed over a week ago. It is said they will be confined in the state prison until the date of their trial.

FOUR GIRLS DROWNED

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 5.—Gladys, aged 21, and Reba, 18, daughters of Mrs. I. Davis; Lottie, 20, and Ruth, 18, daughters of M. N. Anthony, were drowned in the Brazos river south of Graham late yesterday. They were members of a swimming party.

FATAL RAIL WRECK

Atlantic City, N. J., July 3.—At least six persons were killed and about 75 others injured, half of them seriously, early today when an express train left the rails at Winslow Junction, 37 miles from here, and rolled down an embankment.

WOMAN FOR SENATE

Senator Kellogg, republican, of Minnesota will be opposed for re-election by a woman, Mrs. Anna D. Oleson, who was nominated by the democratic party at the state primary. Mrs. Oleson is the wife of a well-known school principal of the state and has a reputation as a public speaker and reform worker.

In 1916, when political conditions in Minnesota were considered normal, Hughes carried the state by a plurality of less than four hundred, so Mrs. Oleson would appear to have a "fighting chance" for winning in the contest for senator. Senator Kellogg will probably know, at least, that he has opposition.

In outlining the principles on which she will make the canvass for senator, Mrs. Oleson says she will work more for humanity than for property, and says she will seek legislation against child labor and for the general moral betterment of the people, keeping in mind the legitimate rights of labor generally.

The platform is not a new one, for others have gone before the public as exponents of similar principles. Some of them have been elected to congress and have been able to use their influence to bring about improvements in a national way. Encouraging progress has been made along the lines urged by Mrs. Oleson, and it is admitted there is something yet to be done before ideal conditions are reached.

Mrs. Oleson is the first woman to be nominated for United States senator by a major party, and if she is elected she will assume in public consideration an even more interesting position than that held by Rep. Alice Robertson. Mrs. Oleson proposes to make a thorough canvass of the state in the interests of her candidacy, and it is possible that she may even now be storing up a surprise for G. O. P. politicians in Minnesota.

ONLY ONE CANDIDATE FAILS TO PAY ASSESSMENT

The time for candidates paying assessments ended Monday night with all but one candidate as published in the Sentinel last week paying the assessment. E. C. Coon, candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 3 withdrew from the race. E. G. Williamson, who is a candidate for justice of the Peace from precinct 7 (Cushing and Sacul) did not have his application for place on the ticket in the hands of the executive committee at its meeting on the 19th. This application was later received by the county chairman, but not in exactly regular form. Mr. Williamson had secured the written consent of his opponent, J. F. Cash, to have his name placed on the ticket. According to the law, however, a candidate's name can not be placed on the ticket even if his opponent consents under these circumstances.

Forty-five of the 51 state and district candidates have sent the county chairman their assessment of $1 to have their names placed on the ticket. Those failing to send their dollar are: Cullen F. Thomas, R. L. Henry, E. W. Cole, C. M. Cureton, Thos. B. Greenwood and Andrew S. Jamison.

The total amount received by the county chairman from candidates was $1,544.00. An assessment of about 4 percent of the earnings was made against each office and this amount apportioned to the various candidates for the office. The committee has estimated the cost of holding both primaries at between $1,200 and $1,500.

CLAIMING THE CREDIT

It might be well as republican orators put forth their wonderful claims of "recovery" for the country since Warren G. Harding became president to ask them to specify just what the Harding administration has done in that direction. What healing there has been would seem to be attributable only to time, the natural recuperativeness of the American people and such helpful doctors as are in operation. Mr. Harding seems to be a success.

What single act has the new administration performed to help business? What did it do to relieve the millions who were long out of work? As a matter of fact the country has been recovering not because of anything done by this congress, but in spite of its do-nothing record. When the republican orators attempt to compare expenditures today with those under the closing years of the Wilson administration there surely will be some to point out that it is scarcely fair to compare war expenditures with those of peace time and claim that the reduction shown by the latter is due wholly to "business efficiency."

It is one thing to say that the country is recovering from the effects of war and another to claim that the republican administration had anything to do with the improvement. Rather the healing processes of time have been retarded by the republican majority in congress by delaying action needed for reconstructive purposes. Before President Wilson retired he tried repeatedly to get the republican congress to reduce taxes and enact other legislation required by changing conditions. Had it not been for the obstructiveness and reactionarism of Senator Lodge in fighting the treaty of Versailles, including the League of Nations, armaments would have been reduced two years ago and the world would have been much further on the road to recovery than it is today.

If the present administration would work more and talk less it would be better for all concerned.

HAPPY DAYS DOWN ON THE FARM

From the Arlington Journal.
Dick McCarty of the Albany News and Jim Lowery of the Honey Grove Signal have been throwing fits lately about the joys of farm life. They remember with many sighs of regret their "boyhood's happy days down on the farm." They think that because their appetites were so voracious that they could eat with relish unlimited quantities of corn bread and sowl-belly, and their digestions were so good that an ostrich or a billy goat was a dyspeptic in comparison, they would be perfectly happy and contented if they only had an opportunity to follow "Old Beck" up and down the corn row 14 or 16 hours a day.

But then let them try it now and they will find that appetite and digestion are not all that fail with coming age. They will learn that their stone bruises have been exchanged for gout and belly-ache for appendicitis. Let them come dragging in at night with feet and legs worn and weary and having that raw and tender feeling that only a bath and talcum powder can relieve, let them spend weary hours night and morning acting as chambermaids for horses and dining room girls for cows, then let them get up in the night and go out in the rain to act as midwife to the pigs and some of their enthusiasm will ooze away. Let them see the frost kill the peaches, the green bugs sap the life of the wheat and oats, the early spring rains stunt and yellow the corn, the boll weevils eat up the cotton, the cholera get the hogs, the rats catch the chickens, the peacemaker gets what little of the crop the other pests leave and the banker and real estate loan agent foreclose on the farm, and then the clatter and din and noise of the printing press will be as the sweetest music in their ears and the smell of the print shop will be as a sweet savor to them.

A CHAPTER ON WOMAN'S RIGHTS

From Kalamity's Howler.

Miss Pearl Pugsley, a pretty, eighteen year old school girl at Knobel, Ark., was suspended from class meetings last September for dabbling talcum powder on her nose—said to be one of the dearest little noses blown in that state. Circuit Judge W. W. Bandy of the judicial district court declared the suspension was illegal and issued an order authorizing Pearl to blow that nose and smother it with talcum powder whenever she wished. This order settles the question of woman's rights, and she can do just anything she likes—just so she doesn't interfere with the United States mails.

A short time ago Ben F. Prior of Independence, Kan., was captured by two angry women whom he had been slandering, and they proceeded to "clean his plow" with a brace of cowhides until he squealed for mercy. A few such exhibitions in any locality might put the brakes on the tongues of such character assassins. It is far more merciful to murder an innocent woman in cold blood than to link her name with the vile and wicked, and send her to the grave in undeserved disgrace. I am not quite so savage as to stand and watch even the known character assassin burn at the stake—but I am powerful busy and would have no time to stop and extinguish the blaze.

Not in His Line

Down in Texas the short cotton crop forced a large number of country negroes to the cities. One of these applied for a job at one of the large employment agencies. "There's a job open at the Eagle Laundry," said the man behind the desk. "Want it?" "Tell you how it is, boss," he said finally. "I sure does want a job mighty bad, but de fact is, I ain't never washed a eagle."—Argonaut.

The weak-kneed man soon finds that he is not in the running.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

"Lest we forget—lest we forget"—or lest we run out of dope, let us dig up dirt around the good town of Garrison. Don't mistake it for a military station because of the name being built that way. Nor does it refer to the grand old sour abolitionist of slavery time. But the worthy Garrison family of old times in Rusk county swarmed to get into new bee trees and settled here in these woods. And they made this a hopey land to stick to.

Yes, indeed, the name Garrison stands for a great deal. And what is the town good for? First, it is good for good health, a popular health resort, on account of its ferruginous mineral waters. One of its mineral fountains is significantly called the Red Spring. Ho, everybody come and drink these waters of life freely; without money and without price.

And again, the people around Garrison can raise more peanuts, pindars, goobers, ground peas and sweet stuffs and raise less sand to the hand than Cain, though they raise worlds of sugar cane, etc.

They do use a little sand in making fireproof bricks without straw. And this brick factory is a brick, in fact: The bricks are as smooth as marble, as hard as flint and as durable in wear and tear as could be desired. They are often shipped to far away lands.

But where is this town Garrison? It is situated on the H. E. & W. T. railroad which runs from Houston to Shreveport, and then runs back from where it ends to where it starts on the same track, a distance of about 240 miles, passing through Nacogdoches, from which place it is distant twenty miles.

Garrison is only about forty years old. Long before this town got there, Uncle Bob Little's home was there. His dwelling stood on the hill just about half a mile west from the present railroad depot. He was a widely known, popular farmer and a patriarch: And about half a mile east of this depot was the DeLoney place. It was on the wagon road which extends from Nacogdoches, and crosses the Attoyac river at the old Greenwood bridge and leads on via Logansport to Shreveport. This road was the main route for hauling freight to and from Shreveport, by wagons drawn by oxen, mules or horses, once a big business.

The DeLoney place was noted as being the only house in many miles on this road, and being twenty miles from Nacogdoches it was a favorite camping place the first night out, for wagoners. DeLoney catered to the favor of these freighters. Before the war of secession he boarded a school teacher named Gann, who taught at the Greenwood seminary, which was built of pine logs and had puncheon floors and benches, with peg legs. This was called a school house. DeLoney and Gann had a difficulty in which Gann was shot in the thigh with a derringer pistol and the bone was broken. His leg became shorter for life. DeLoney had relatives at Ruston, La.

To be more explicit we might say that Garrison is situated in the good lands about four miles eastward from old Brileytown. Everyone knows where Brileytown is, or where it really never was, except in name, and one small house built on the sand. It served as a kind of licklog for live stock that liked to lick up red licker and plow sand. John H. Richardson is one of the few surviving witnesses by whom these mythological yarns might be refuted, unless he holds his peace.

Among the most worthy and most highly esteemed families of the neighbors was the Stephens family whose well known hospitable home and premises then covered the Maytown site. The Stephens are all gone long ago, but not forgotten.

As to the population of Garrison, a traveler on the train asked the conductor and gets this reply: "We will arrive there in a few minutes. This is Sunday afternoon and they will all meet the train and you can count them." But they can not be discounted. It is a fine place to stop over. They know how to take a joke. You are on. J.E.M.

Many persons are more interested in having a hilarious time than in keeping their blood pressure at normal.

If Representative Voight wants the country to think well of him, he will let congress adjourn as soon and for as long as possible.

The government is reported planning a surprise move in mine strikes. Anything resembling action would be a surprise coming from the Harding administration.

Keep Pace With Evolution

DARWIN declared that the human race was merely an evolution of the monkey tribe. Some people agree with him. Others do not.

But there is no denying that even within the memory of most of us, there has been considerable of an evolution in the human mode of living. And today, this evolution is buzzing along faster than ever.

There has never been a time when conditions changed so rapidly—when life bettered itself so consistently. New comforts and conveniences are coming in all the time. And the rapidity with which they are invented and put before us vitally affects us all.

To take advantage of these things, you must keep yourself informed. You must know not only what they are, but also how much they cost and where and how to get them.

The only way you can know this is to be a regular reader of advertisements.

WOMEN THANK CULBERSON FOR STAND ON SUFFRAGE

The Sentinel has received a copy of the following letter, sent by Anita L. Pollitzer, national legislative secretary of the National Woman's party, from her office in Washington, to Senator Charles A. Culberson, expressing appreciation of the women for the senior Senator's stand on the national suffrage amendment:

Senator Charles A. Culberson, United States Senate, Washington, D. C. Dear Senator Culberson:

We have just received a copy of your letter of June 15 to George L. Beatty of Texas and thank you for sending us this splendid statement of your reasons for supporting the national suffrage amendment. Our records show that on Oct. 1, 1918, Feb. 10, 1919 and June 4, 1919, when the suffrage amendment came up for passage in the United States Senate, you gave your vote and your support, when they were most needed to this measure of justice for women. Very sincerely yours,

ANITA L. POLLITZER, National Executive Secretary.

DEATH OF A BABE

Earline, the 7-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullough, died Saturday night at the family home on Irion Hill. The little body was laid to rest Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the North Church cemetery, the funeral being conducted by Cason, Monk & Company. The bereft parents have the sympathy of all their friends.

Harry J. Lewis, the well-known showman, died of heart failure at Beaumont and the remains were taken in charge by Cason, Monk & Company, interment being made in the Appleby cemetery Sunday. Mr. Lewis some time ago purchased a farm near Appleby, where his show—a Wild West carnival—was quartered during the winter season. He had made many friends in the Appleby community and elsewhere in the county, and all sincerely regret to learn of his death. He leaves a wife and a stepson.

If Rip Van Winkle woke up now he could tell by the number of strikes in progress that there was a republican administration at Washington.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

"One by one the leaves are falling." John T. White has crossed over to rest under the shades of traditions. I learned this from a recent letter from John P. Davidson. He supposed I knew it. So he gave me no particulars as to where, when and how.

He was about eighty years old and had not been in good health in many years. He came to Nacogdoches county about sixty years ago, from Monticello, Ark., with his step-father, D. D. Greer, and his mother and the family.

The old Greer homestead four miles northeast of Nacogdoches was a well known landmark of those early days.

John T. White was not a noisy or conspicuous man, but he was an unusually active and energetic man, and he had a remarkable memory of varied experiences in a long life. First, he was a gallant Confederate soldier, leaving home before maturity with the noted cavalry company under the immortal Henry W. Raguet. He rode the long march to Santa Fe, N. M., and back. He served until the end of the war, four years, and bravely did his duty from first to last. He was many times under fire in battle and skirmishes. On one occasion he got an arm broken by the fall of his horse in an emergency leap across a branch. Later in life when he was living in Logansport, La., he got a gunshot wound with a badly broken arm.

When the war ended he married Miss Lizzie Rusk and settled and improved a home now owned by John P. Davidson and known as the John White place which is on the Carrizo about five miles northeast of town. His wife died and he quit farming and engaged in the cattle business. After this he was a live merchant in Henderson. John H. Cox was one of his clerks.

Later on John White was an extensive traveling salesman, and always a rustler. But he never accumulated property. Two years ago he was in San Antonio. He had no permanent home during his last years and became an inmate of the Confederate home at Austin.

"Here rests his head upon the lap of earth,
A youth to fortune and to fame unknown."

ASSISTANT CASHIER OF BANK AT THE AGE OF TWENTY

Mr. Clay A. Gibner of Spearman, Texas, is one of the youngest Assistant Cashiers in the country. He has the following to say in regard to his position: "Being only twenty years of age and now holding the office of Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank of this city, I feel that my record should be an encouragement to other young people who want to gain their independence. Before entering the above bank, I took a course in the Tyler Commercial College, and I take pleasure in recommending their courses to anyone who may want to qualify for a position in the business world. My observation is that the Tyler Commercial College is conducted in a very able manner, and their courses are well worth the time and money they require."

In our big illustrated catalogue are scores of other letters from our graduates. You will find them interesting. The catalogue is free. Fill in name and address and it will come to you by return mail. We prepare you for positions as bookkeeper, stenographer, accountant, private secretary, station agent, telegraph operator, cotton classifier and wireless operator. We also teach by mail. Positions secured.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our appreciation and extending our heartfelt thanks to those splendid neighbors and friends who so sympathetically and kindly came to our words and acts of comfort when our dear mother, Mrs. R. B. Booth, was so suddenly taken from us. They will never be forgotten by her grateful children.

Mrs. J. A. Hargis,
R. E. Booth.

Mr. W. G. Field is erecting a 112-foot derrick on the Guy Blount place, 12 miles southwest of the city, and will immediately begin drilling for a deep test. A car of machinery, including a powerful rotary drill and all tools necessary for the work, is now on the depot tracks and will be unloaded and conveyed to the well site as rapidly as possible. This drilling machinery comes from the California fields and is the last word in up-to-date equipment.

Captain Marvin Steen, assistant chief of staff, 138th Division, U. S. A., was in the city Friday to inspect and check up on the local military organization. He informed the Sentinel that he found everything in good shape and spoke in complimentary terms of our boys.

REUNION AND PICNIC

One of the most enjoyable Fourth of July picnics held anywhere in the county took place yesterday at the country home of "Uncle" George Faulkner, near Appleby.

Mr. Faulkner and his good wife have been married 45 years, 43 years of which they have spent in the home in which they now live. On account of poor health Mrs. Faulkner was not able to attend any of the several celebrations held in the county and her own children conceived the novel idea of giving her a special celebration in her own home. Acting on this suggestion, her sons and their wives and a married daughter, prepared a sumptuous feast in the way of a picnic dinner, brought it to the parental home so dear to all of them and with a few close friends and neighbors, enjoyed the occasion in true family picnic style. The lunch was served on the lawn of the Faulkner home.

Those present were George H. Faulkner and wife, Fanny Faulkner, together with the following children and grandchildren; Willie Faulkner and wife, Alma, with their children, Raymond, Florence; Cullen Faulkner and wife, Carrie, with their children, Olivet, Bernard, Fanny and Arthur; Ollie Faulkner and wife, Farlee, with their children, Ollie Lee, Forna May; George D. Faulkner and wife, Cardie, with their children, Emmett, Morris, the two latter being twins; Mrs. Mary McHain (a daughter of Mr. George Faulkner) and her husband, Ed McHain.

In addition to the above named children and grandchildren there were present a brother, L. C. Faulkner of Concord, Rusk county, with his two sons, Dr. Henry Faulkner and George B. Faulkner. Mrs. George B. Faulkner and son, Gene, were also present.

The following neighbors and friends were also present: J. H. Campbell, Jim Campbell, Jr., and wife, Alma, and their two children; Bob Campbell and his three children; John Baker, four of his children, Chyter, Emory, Faye and Lena; Joel Burrows and daughter; Grandma Cox and Mrs. Martha McHain.

The picnic dinner was enlivened with music produced from the organ, three violins and a bass viol, together with songs and stories from both old and young.

We congratulate "Uncle George" and his good wife on having raised such an excellent family of many boys and sweet women, and on the splendid collection of grandchildren coming on to bless the world.

The days of large families may be passing. Sociologists say that it is so, but we scout the idea that the "modern" American family of three will give us any better civilization than has come from our largest families. May the Faulkners—all of 'em—live to see many happy returns of this memorable Fourth.

EXPLANATION

To the Voters of Nacogdoches County: Ladies and Gentlemen:

On account of sickness of myself and my wife, I will not be able to make as thorough a canvass from house to house as I wanted to, but I will see as many as I can at the picnic, and I hope I will continue to have your good will and a good share of your votes on the 23d of this month. Prospects for me to be your next tax collector looks good.

Yours truly,
J. G. Frederick.

The sheriff's office has been advised that the man Smith, recently arrested and taken to Cuero by DeWitt county officers, was positively identified as the man wanted at Cuero. The information is that "Smith," who went under the name of F. W. Collins at Cuero, is wanted in LaSalle county on charges of bigamy and forgery, and in DeWitt county on similar charges. A warrant charging bigamy here also will confront him when the LaSalle and DeWitt county courts have finished with him. Notwithstanding his much-married estate, it was learned at the Sheriff's office Wednesday that Smith, or Collins, had all arrangements made for eloping with another misguided girl in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fore and family, accompanied by their niece, Miss Jennie Spurgeon, motored to the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Spurgeon, at Melrose on the Fourth, meeting a gathering of 31 people, and took part in a picnic celebration which included about everything imaginable in the way of eatables. A jolly time was experienced.

Luther, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Laneville, Rusk county, died in the sanitarium here Sunday night following an operation for appendicitis. The remains were taken by the Cason, Monk & Company here conveyed the remains to Laneville Monday morning for interment in the family burying ground.

Mrs. Elizabeth Koonce
Mrs. Elizabeth Koonce, whose home was in Oklahoma, died in the Smith Sanitarium in this city Tuesday and the remains were taken to Chireno in the afternoon by the Cason, Monk & Company here for interment. Deceased was visiting friends in the county when stricken with the illness which proved fatal.

Miss Levinia Dennis
The remains of Miss Levinia Dennis arrived Tuesday from Sour Lake, where she died Sunday were met at the train by Cason, Monk & Company's hearse and conveyed to her old home at Shady Grove, where her family reside. She was 38 years of age, and is survived by her parents, one sister and two brothers.

S. H. Hall
Mr. S. H. Hall, aged 70 years, who resided five miles north of the city, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday night and the remains were taken by Cason, Monk & Company to North Church where interment was made at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. His brothers, H. T. Hall of Stephenville and B. M. Hall of Dallas were here when he died. Three sisters also survive him.

Rev. E. Gerard Cooke, Mrs. Cooke and Miss Carrie Hodges of Nacogdoches; Miss Berenice Avery of Alto; and Rev. J. F. Wallace of Corrigan, all of whom made the trip in Mr. Cooke's car to Dallas, returned Friday at 6 p. m., making the trip easily, stopping at such points as Foreney, Terrell, Tyler, Jacksonville, Rusk, and Alto. The visitors report a most delightful summer school at the Southern Methodist University, where Mr. Cooke was instructor in a class in theology, and where all the visitors took other courses of study, winning honor certificates.

BAPTIST YOUNG MEN'S CLASS VISIT LUFKIN

Last Sunday morning the Baptist Young Men's Sunday-school Class visited the Young Men's Class down at Lufkin. This trip was planned to surprise the Lufkin boys and we believe we did. About thirty cars went down and waited for the entire bunch just out of the Lufkin city limits. Then we went through town and to their class.

It was a wonderful sight. It proved that we had 136 and they had 91. We are assured by them, however, that they will outnumber us in a short time. The class was great, we were greatly inspired and the spirit of good will and good fellowship between the two was what made the trip such a success. We greatly enjoyed the program they had arranged for us and for those speeches of welcome by members of their class.

Their teacher, Rev. Nutt, was out of town, so they called on our teacher, R. C. Monk, to talk to them. He spoke a few minutes and then Mr. Lufkin was glad to see us and we want them to come to see us.

Reporter.

Miss Genevieve Rix, who served high school faithfully and efficiently last term as teacher of English, left Sunday for Dallas, where she will visit for a short time with a brother, and then go to the western part of the state, where she will again engage in teaching. Her father, Prof. William S. Rix, who taught classes in Latin and history in the high school here, preceded her to Dallas. It is with genuine regret that the pupils of her class learn that their teacher, Miss Rix, will not be with them another year.

CASTLEBERRY HOME BURNED

The neat, new home of Dr. J. K. Castleberry, two miles from the city on the Douglass-Nacogdoches road, was entirely destroyed, with all its contents, by the fire which was discovered at 2:50 Tuesday morning. The loss was complete. It is supposed the property was insured, but no definite information as to this was available.

Dr. Castleberry and family were visiting at Saco, it is said, and there was no one about the place at the time of the conflagration. The fire is suspected of being the work of an incendiary, as Dr. Castleberry had recently shot at a prowler who annoyed him at night, and the opinion prevails that this was the incendiary's method of revenge. All the circumstances rather confirm this suspicion.

The doctor's friends regretted to learn of his loss.

There was a big crowd at the singing exercises at Fairview Sunday and all report a fine time.
