ALLIED NOTE ACCEPTED IN PRINCIPLE

Constantinople, Oct. 4.—The Turkish Nationalists have accepted in principle the Allied note regarding the Near Eastern settlement, it was announced here this forenoon. The communique issued by General Harrington, the British commander, regarding the Mudania conference which he is now attending, says that ference is proceeding satisfactorily and that the Ismet Pasha Nationalist representatives have re-established contact with the British.

TO READJUST FREIGHT RATES

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—Railroad Commissioner Clarence E. Gilmore left today for Oklahoma City to attend the conference of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission, and the representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, on freight rates in this section by the Oklahoma body. The complaints call for a readjustment of freight rates.

TRUCK GROWERS MEETING

To Our Farmers: You are invited to be present at our regular meeting at the courthouse Saturday, October 7th, at 2 p. m. Quite a number of our farmers have signed up to grow truck next year. We need others.

Come to the meeting, and help us complete our organization.

We need you. We welcome you. Respectfully yours, T. J. Lloyd, President Truck Growers Association.

Tax Collector Melton opened the tax rolls Monday morning and twenty-two receipts were issued the first day. It is a mighty good idea to pay taxes while the crops are being moved instead of waiting till the last moment and the money is all spent.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION AGAINST MAYFIELD

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—A notice is sufficient service on a temporary injunction restraining the secretary of state from certifying the name of Earle B. Mayfield as the Democratic senatorial candidate, Attorney General Keeling so informed Secretary of State Staples, in conference here this morning. Staples announced that the official ballot certificates will not be sent out for the time being. An injunction granted late yesterday in Navarro County District Court to C. E. King et al was granted under the act regulating the candidates' campaign expenses.

WAR SITUATION IN NEAR EAST

Without Date.—The former Premier Venizelos of Greece asked Ambassador Harvey today to send a message to Washington requesting that the United States government intercede with the Allies. He requests them to occupy Thrace pending a final disposition of that territory. An agreement has been concluded between the Allied generals and Ismet Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist representative, who have been in consultation at Mudania over the question of the armistice. It is expected, says an Exchange Telegraph message from Constantinople, that a protocol will be signed today.

LOONEY DECLINES APPOINTMENT

Greenville, Texas, Oct. 4.—Former Attorney General B. F. Looney has today declined the appointment as Presiding Justice of the State Commission of Appeals to succeed R. F. Spencer who has resigned. Business reasons were given for the declination. The offer was from Governor Neff.

CLARK RESIGNS FROM KU KLUX KLAN

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—Edward Young Clark, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan has resigned, it was announced here today at Klan headquarters. A reason has not yet been given.

KATY SALE POSTPONED

Denison, Texas, Oct. 4.—The sale of the Katy Railroad scheduled for today and tomorrow, was postponed today for the second time in this month. The main line is to be sold at Colbert, Okla., and the Texas lines at Denison, Texas.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—The postponement of the sale of the Katy was necessary, because the Interstate Commerce Commission due to the pressure of other work has been delayed in approving the securities of the road, it was announced here today. The approval is necessary before the sale can be consummated. The main line is to be sold on October 30, Texas line on October 31, and the Wichita Falls Northwestern Branch at Devol, Oklahoma, on November 1st.

STILLMAN DIVORCE CASE

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Justice Morschauser of the Supreme Court today reversed a decision on an application for a confirmation of a report made by Referee Gleason in the Stillman divorce case. He announced that he would make a decision known before Friday. He added that he was ready to confirm the report, but that the counsel for Mrs. Stillman had asked him to take his time so that if Stillman carried the case to the Appellate Division it could not be stated that the report had been confirmed without a careful study of its evidence.

WORLD SERIES

New York, Oct. 4.—The Giants National League pennant winners were ready today to engage with the Yankees American League Champions in the first game of the world series. Nehf and Snyder were to open the game for the Giants, Bush and Schang for the Yanks. The Giants will be the home team. The weather indications are fair with a capacity crowd.

When it comes to voting some citizens are registered and some stay at home with the aliens and convicts.

STRIKE SETTLED ON MANY RAILROADS

Chicago, Oct. 3.—A new agreement maintaining the old rates of pay and rules in working conditions was signed today by the representatives of approximately forty-nine railroads, subsidiaries, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors. The agreement will be in effect until October 21, 1923. All the disputes as to rules and working conditions that are now pending before the Labor Board will be withdrawn by both sides. The Western managers are said to have made some concessions.

Settlement is Extensive.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The agreement included the principal railroads entering Chicago and traversing the territory west of the Mississippi river. The roads included the Santa Fe, Rock Island, Fort Worth & Denver City, Texas Midland, Trinity and Brazos Valley.

OPERATORS AND MINERS GATHER FOR CONFERENCE

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—Bituminous operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America gathered here for a joint conference Monday afternoon to arrange for future wage scales in accordance with the agreement signed here August 15th, which ultimately ended the soft coal strike. The conference expected to take up the question of collective bargaining. The Cleveland agreement provides for the appointment of a committee to investigate the industry and another to formulate a method of negotiating new wage contracts.

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE COTTON BELT RAILROAD

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Daniel Upthegrove was today elected president of the Cotton Belt Railroad. He has been acting president since the death of President J. M. Herbert on August 5th. Mr. Upthegrove is a native Texan. He announced that the road was contemplating using oil burning engines on its Texas lines.

DRILLING IN RUSK

Overton, Rusk County, Texas, Oct. 2.—M. N. LeNoir, one of the experienced oil drillers of the Shreveport district, was in this city last week and closed a drilling contract with the East Texas Leasing Company for a deep test on a large block of acres north of Overton. Mr. LeNoir has two rigs, one of which has been working at Magnolia, Ark., and the other in the Haynesville territory. One of these will be moved in right away and put in operation. The tract to be opened up lies two miles west of the I. & G. N. Railway, about half way between Kilgore and Overton, a rocky, hilly section that has had favorable mention by several geologists.

When George & Jones came to build their derrick on their block of acres at Minden, in the southern part of Rusk county, they hunted out the oldest person in that community to drive the first stake, a negro man who answers to 104 years. He performed the function with great dignity and to the satisfaction of all concerned. With the arrival of machinery, which is now on the way, drilling will begin on this very promising tract. No wells have been sunk in the Minden territory, although it has long been considered a good field.

A. H. Sanders is in Rusk County again, after spending the summer in his home, West Hollywood, Cal. He has large holdings in the southern part of the county, adjoining the Garrison and Clark holdings. Mr. Sanders has not yet done any development work, but says he is surprised to find so much drilling under contract for the fall and winter. His lands lie in what is believed to be the shallow field, with gas in plenty all the way down. It is believed he will start something before going back to his home on the Pacific slope.

Bettie Stegall, colored, was arrested at her home Sunday by Sheriff Woodlan, who found 2 gallons and one pint of shinnies concealed in the cook stove. Bettie is in jail.

FOUND—A parasol was picked up on the street Tuesday noon. Owner can get it at this office. 3-dw1

PRaise CHALLENGE TO KU KLUX KLAN

Washington, Oct. 2.—The political campaign in Texas against the Democratic nominee for the United States senate on account of the Ku Klux Klan is attracting attention of Eastern newspapers.

The Washington Star tonight, under the caption, "Challenging the K Klux," says editorially: "The Ku Klux Klan is now under direct challenge, and it is to be hoped the challenge spreads and puts the organization definitely out of business."

"In Texas the opponents of the Klan accusing the Democratic nominee for United States senator of being in sympathy with it and representing it in his candidacy, have put up a candidate, a democrat, against him, and this independent is to receive, in addition to the support of independent democrats, the solid support of the Republicans of the state, who are well organized and have votes to deliver."

"Step in Right Direction" "The movement may not succeed on this first trial—Texas has for years been rigidly 'regular' in politics—but the step shows courage and is in the right direction."

"In Georgia, headquarters of the Klan, Governor Hardwick, standing for renomination, took his political life in his hands and lost it in the interests of open as against secret government. He declared, not for the disbandment of the organization, but for the unmasking of its members. He may rise again, he deserves to."

"The biennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which closed its sessions at Portland, Ore., Saturday, declared against secret organizations which stir up strife between man and man and set race against race and creed against creed." "We need no invisible empires, no invisible eyes, no tigers eyes in the conduct of our public affairs, but open government, openly administered."

THIS FITS ALL SECTIONS

H. H. Gregg, an old Confederate soldier of Houston, who is visiting his brother, J. T., of the McKinzie Church neighborhood, dropped into this office Saturday afternoon, making mention of the fact that while here of having seen only eight of those who wore the gray in his rounds of the fair throughout the day. He states that the line of these old heroes is getting thinner month by month and day by day, and within a few years the last survivor will have answered the last roll call and joined the mighty throng waiting in the Great Beyond.—Lufkin News, 2d.

TEMPORARY SUCCESSOR

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 3.—Mrs. W. H. Felton, eighty-seven years of age, of Cartersville, Georgia, was appointed by Governor Hardwick today, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson, until the people elect a successor in November. She will be the first woman to become a senator. At the same time Hardwick announced his candidacy to succeed Watson. A primary will be held October 17.

TURKS RETIRING

Paris, Oct. 3.—A Havas dispatch from Smyrna, the Turkish Nationalist headquarters, says it is announced Kemalists have evacuated the neutral zone along the straits of the Dardanelles.

Constantine Goes in Exile Palermo, Sicily, Oct. 3.—Former King Constantine of Greece, going into exile after his second abdication, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning with members of his party on board the Greek steamship Patria.

COTTON CROP REPORT

Washington, Oct. 3.—The reduction of 440,000 bales during September in the prospective cotton production of this year was shown in the Department of Agriculture's forecast of today. They placed the crop at 10,135,000 bales. The condition is fifty percent normal. Texas forecast 3,412,000, with conditions fifty-two percent normal.

Once in a while a woman is frank enough to admit that she would like to marry, but there are many who act their wishes instead of speaking them.

REPORT OF RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Austin, Texas, Oct. 3.—The final report of recommendations for the improvements of a higher educational system in Texas are being prepared by the Higher Educational Survey Commission, provided for by the last legislature, is in session here today. The recommendations will be presented to the next legislature.

UNITED STATES PROPAGANDA BLAMED

Washington, Oct. 3.—"Propaganda," originating in the United States is blamed for the recent revolt of the Mexican garrison at Juarez in a statement issued today by the Mexican embassy here. "Official information tends to show the mutiny at Juarez is due to propaganda emanating from the United States," said the statement. "The situation is normal and business is carried on as usual."

MOUNTED CUSTOMS INSPECTOR KILLED

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 3.—Mounted Customs Inspector Jot Gunter Jones was shot to death at a Mercedes dance hall Sunday night, when he attempted to arrest a man said to have possessed liquor. Officers from here will go to Mercedes to investigate and attempt to apprehend the slayer. The information of the killing was received at the Customs office here yesterday. Jones was the son of Tom Jones, a well-known Texas cattleman.

NATIONAL NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION CHARTERED

Austin, Texas, Oct. 3.—Daughters of the American Republic National Non-profit Organization was chartered by the secretary of state today. The purposes are "Encouraging the cultivation of religious spirituality. Help to protect unfortunate. Encourage the Sunday Law observance, respect for God, Christianity, the church, state, flag and constitution. To take active participation in the enforcement of the law through regular channels." Tyler, Texas is to be the headquarters.

THEY ALL WANT U. S. SECURITIES

Washington, Oct. 3.—"Treasury savings certificates are finding favor in foreign lands as well as in every section of the country and our outlying possessions," said Lew Wallace, Jr., director of the U. S. Government Savings system. "Every state in the union has purchasers, and the treasury receives orders from Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico. But it is not alone in the United States and its possessions that the savings security is in demand. Orders also come from Canada, Cuba, Mexico, San Domingo and Peru, while just recently there was a request for information about the certificates from Rome, Italy. Some of the purchasers of the certificates in these distant lands take the limit, $5,000, while others buy the smallest denomination, a $25 certificate. This widespread sale shows that the savings spirit is becoming an American trait, for usually these purchasers of certificates are American citizens."

REWARDED FOR COURTESY

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 3.—Courtesy in the discharge of his duties as a postman won unexpected reward in at least one instance for Cecil Clyde Thompson.

The will of Mrs. Sarah Rose Bryant, who lived in Terre Haute for seventy-five years, provided for more than $6,000 worth of bank stock for Mr. Thompson "for the many courtesies and attentions shown me by during my life, time." The postman had carried mail to Mrs. Bryant's home for fifteen years.

THE TURKISH SITUATION

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The Turkish cavalry has retired from its advanced positions in the Chanak area, thereby decreasing the danger of conflict there. This withdrawal is described in messages from the Dardanelles as being slight. It was supposed here to be in consequence of word received by the Turks that the Mudania Conference was in session.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

From the Houston Chronicle.

The men and women who settled this continent and opened it up for civilization possessed many sturdy virtues. They were courageous, devout, patriotic and loved liberty.

They set many examples that we of this day and time would do well to follow, but they did not exhaust the supply of virtues, nor were they as superior to the people of this day and time as some are prone to paint them.

In a physical and material sense in the matter of comfortable living we are ahead of people in any age of the world.

Millions of wage earners live today in more comfort than kings and queens did a few centuries ago, and have more avenues of pleasure open to them.

When we recall social and moral conditions in the not very distant past and compare them with today, we can but conclude that the trend of social and moral conditions has been steadily upward.

A few illustrations will suffice for proof of the truth in this statement.

The time has been when nearly all men indulged in strong drink. It was kept in nearly every home, and many gentlemen of the highest social position often brewed their own.

Overindulgence in strong drink was looked upon lightly. Many men in public life drank to excess. Lawyers could and did drink to excess and yet maintained their professional standing, and doctors did the same. That would be impossible now.

Men whose names are as near immortal as that of any politician or statesman ever can be, notoriously drank to excess and gambled for high stakes without concealment. Today no man who drinks to excess habitually could be elected to any office.

It is history that one man on whom the presidency of the United States was cast by the sudden death of the president, when awakened to be informed of what had transpired arose from a stupor brought about by excessive drink.

That greatest American orator, if not the world's greatest, who was at the same time a great lawyer, was a personal devotee to the intoxicating cup.

These things are known of all men, and they know that such conduct would not be tolerated in this day and time.

In the "good old days" intelligent, useful men of high character went out into some secluded place and deliberately shot at each other with the intent to kill, and many a valuable life was taken on the so-called "field of honor."

A man who became president of the United States fought a duel and his antagonist fired the first shot, and having failed to kill the man, the latter called to him to "take the mark," and shot him dead.

It would be impossible now for a man who had taken human life in a duel to be elected president of the United States as it would be for an unpardoned soul to enter heaven.

To come down to the more recent past, the time was when the "bad man" ranged over Texas. Every county had its specimen of that "genus homo," and the same was true of many other states.

The "bad man" took human life with no more compunction of conscience than he would have killed a snake, and juries continued to acquit him.

He has wholly disappeared. He is practically as extinct as the dodo or the auk.

In the "good old times" the distillery and the saloon debauched and controlled politics. Liquor was sold in hundreds of thousands of saloons and the lives of men and women were wrecked, characters were blasted and poverty and crime were the fruits of the traffic, yet within the comparatively recent past thousands of people struggled and plead and voted to prevent abolition of liquor, but it is gone. The traffic has ceased forever.

Twenty years ago in Houston and in every other city of Texas gambling houses ran practically "wide open," and thousands were robbed by them every day. When it was proposed to abolish them and make keeping them a penitentiary offense the cry went up, "They are necessary to every live city," but they went and went forever.

A few years ago vice was segregated, and the "scarlet woman" set apart in a realm in which she ruled undisturbed by any officer of the law. Now her abiding place has been obliterated, her dominion has ceased, and she's a legal outcast.

The time was when woman had no voice in saying who should govern or legislate or serve as public servants. She was taxed and tried and held to full responsibility as a citizen while she sat dumb, bound and helpless. Now she is unshackled and free, and has come into her own.

The world grows better day by day. The leaven of social and moral righteousness is at work in human hearts, and while there is room for improvement these days are in many ways ahead of the "good old days."

SAFE CANNED FOOD

From the Shreveport Journal.

The public is familiar with such newspaper headlines as "Seven of Family Ill After Eating Canned Soup." Every year there are dozens of cases of such scares which revive the ignorant conviction that canned goods, though cheap, are dangerous to health and eaten at one's own risk.

The National Canners' Association is gathering proof and statistics to show that such is not the case. It begins work immediately after the printing of such a news item. Chemists and food specialists at the nation's great universities are called upon to help run down the truth in difficult cases. Although not widely published as yet, the results of these investigations are of general interest.

The large majority of the supposed canned food poisoning cases of the past 12 years have been found to be spurious. Not the canned food itself, but acute indigestion, excessive eating, the mixing of foreign substances with the food while preparing to serve it, dirty utensils in the home or eating place, deliberate fraud, and once, a leaky gas pipe in the dining room have turned out to be the causes of most of the deaths involved. Four murders and one suicide were concealed under charges against canned food.

The public is always warned that it must remove food from cans immediately upon opening the can and to use it promptly. It is the canner's business to see to it that only sound, wholesome materials are used, and that the process is carried on with absolute cleanliness. The claim that canned goods today are clean and wholesome is pretty well backed by facts.

THE MAN WITH INNARDS

From the Country Gentleman.

John Sharp Williams, we are sorry you have decided to leave the United States senate. It will be poorer for your going, poorer in color, in wisdom and logic. There was something in the vanished grandeur of Clay and Calhoun and Webster about you, something suggestive of the great past. For you had independence and real convictions and you spoke them.

You voted for prohibition, though you had the courage to say you did not practice it. It was not the fear of your constituents' whiplash that made you do it, but the belief that it was best for America. You had the manhood to denounce the hyphenates, the something-other-than-Americans, when other littler senators were pandering for their votes. You scour demagoguery and hypocrisy with all that vivid sarcasm and exquisite English that you so happily possess. You were wrong lots of times, mayhap, but you had convictions.

You will leave behind you as a senator the memory of a scholar and a gentleman. And as John Sharp Williams, just a Mississippi planter and lawyer, we wish you well.

LIGHTNING PERILS

From the Shreveport Journal.

What are the average person's chance of being struck by lightning? According to Charles P. Steinmetz, who makes lightning himself, and probably knows more about the natural article than any other living man, there is more danger of being bitten by a mad dog or being hit by a falling brick.

Perhaps that is not definite enough. There are no dependable statistics on mad dogs and falling bricks. Well, then, there are about 500 persons killed by lightning in this country every year, or about one in every 240,000. Anyone, therefore, who circulated around freely and took average chances, would be pretty sure to be hit by a bolt of lightning if he lived 240,000 years.

Inasmuch as the average length of life at present is short of 60 years, there would be one death by lightning in about 4,000 lives. On that basis, reincarnation might be faced with equanimity, as far as lightning is concerned.

Yet people, no doubt, will be scared by thunderstorms just the same as ever. Statistics are not a perfect antidote for primitive fears.

It may help, though, to bear in mind during the next thunderstorm, Dr. Steinmetz's statement that less than 1 percent of the lightning flashes strike the earth. The rest are discharged from cloud to cloud, and while they make a tremendous uproar, they spend themselves harmlessly. For practical purposes, electric storms are nearly all thunder; and thunder never killed anybody.

Mr. Daugherty's principal hardship lies in the fact that campaign psychology is pretty nearly the most useless thing in the world between cam-

WHENCE COME

THE MUNITIONS?

According to the old maxim capital is ever timid. Yet there always has been plenty of money for the waging of war. The reason is that wars are conducted by governments whose taxing powers guarantee the discharge of momentary obligations of nations. Of late, however, there have been serious misgivings on this point.

The world war impoverished formerly strong countries, or reduced them to a state bordering on repudiation of their debts. A good many people have viewed this situation with something of equanimity, if not satisfaction, since it seemed to forbid resort to arms for many years to come. This notwithstanding that guns have been roading in Europe and the Near East ever since the armistice.

Whence have come the funds for the wars after the war that was to end wars? And who has been supplying the belligerents with arms and munitions? To mention only Greece and Turkey, where have the armies of Constantine and of Mustapha Kemal got their equipments? It is safe to say neither country is capable of maintaining its fighting forces without outside assistance. Yet after a long campaign the Turks have not hesitated to threaten resistance to Great Britain, France and Italy combined, to say nothing of the several Balkan states.

To what extent are the present chaotic conditions in Europe traceable to America's aloofness?

EASY TO BE AN EDITOR

Most any man can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days a week, four weeks a month and twelve months a year, and edit such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Cactus Creek, let a can-opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry. While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Mr. Fang, while harnessing a bronco last Saturday, was kicked just south of his corn crib."—Yarmouth Light.

Mr. Daugherty's principal hardship lies in the fact that campaign psychology is pretty nearly the most useless thing in the world between cam-

When the Baby Laughs

YOU are being advertised to. When the sun shines, when the flowers bloom, when dinner sends out its inviting aroma—when any one of a thousand things happen to attract your attention, you are being advertised to.

The purpose of any advertisement is to attract your attention and arouse your desire; to tell you what is new and good; to guide you to something you ought to have; to make you happier and more comfortable; to save you money and make life easier for you.

So, read advertisements. They will give you the latest ideas and improvements. They will help you to live better at less cost.

You'll be surprised at the world of interest and the wealth of new ideas that you'll find in reading the advertisements in this paper.

Advertisements are daily records of progress. They are the reports to you of merchants and manufacturers who work for you, telling what has been accomplished for your benefit. Take advantage of them.

Don't let a day slip by without reading the advertisements

COMPULSORY CITIZENSHIP

In a recent speech Commissioner of Labor Davis said that he would Americanize foreign residents or get them out of the country. In other words, he would force them to become American citizens or return whence they came. This may sound all right to jingoes, but it hardly conforms to the American idea of liberty. Citizenship should result from freedom of choice and not from compulsion.

There's another way of putting the matter, which, while it may in the end amount to the same thing, is less repugnant to the American sense of fair play. Foreign residents who have been in this country a certain number of years can be returned to the countries from which they came if within the designated period they have not expressed a desire to become proposition of statesmen during the controversy with Austria years ago whose citizens in this country held that they could not cease to become subjects of the Austrian emperor even if they took out citizenship papers here. The proposition while not enacted into a law had its effect. It might work again.

Let's have no more Thrift Weeks. The profiteers have overdone it.

POSTAL SAVINGS

Increase in postal savings is an index of national prosperity. It is so in Great Britain and Ireland and it is so in the United States. Such is the significance in the decidedly upward trend in this particular form of thrift since the 1st of July. There were naturally heavy withdrawals in mining and railroad centers, where on account of strikes unemployment conditions were acute, but during August these were almost counterbalanced by increased deposits in a number of the larger cities. As it is the laboring class who avail themselves most of the postal savings system, these increased deposits may safely be taken as reflecting with considerable accuracy the state of business and working conditions throughout the country.

With both strikes now practically settled and industry resuming its normal course, it is the expectation of Assistant Postmaster General Glover, who has direction of the postal savings system in his particular charge, that the number and amount of deposits will go up by leaps and bounds. It is a reasonable anticipation.

There is always agitation when a group of persons gets the idea it is big enough to run the country.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Every day the world comes to an end—for somebody.

A short time ago, at Wynward, Saskatchewan, Canada, the people of that section, or at least some of them, thought the world had come to an end—for everybody.

A great meteor fell. It fell into the river that winds—all rivers have the habit of winding—through the town. There followed a mighty roar, the explosion shaking the village and countryside for miles around about. Colossal clouds of steam and smoke filled the sky. A great hole was made in the river where the meteor fell. Pandemonium reigned. Men and women climbed to the housetops and prayed for deliverance and for salvation. People thought the world had come to an end. Nobody was killed, nobody was harmed.

But there are many people in Wynward today who will hold that the falling meteor is a warning to the "wicked and sinful."

The world comes to an end every day—for somebody. And many are not prepared to die.

When it comes to cooking a tariff, it is most raw when overdone.

"IT'S YOUR FAIR SO BE THERE"

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Biloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to complicate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes. "Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and I had to be kept up nighty. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless. "I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good, warm meal and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work. "I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver." "Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere. J 64

SOUTH TEXAS FAIR.
Beaumont, Texas, Sept. 29.—Possibly no other fair ever held in South Texas will attract so much attention with its entertainment features as will the South Texas State Fair to be held here November 2 to 11, inclusive. Seven big parades will be held during the 10 days, every one of them to be resplendent in effect, and participated in by thousands of people. The opening parade, which will probably be one of the largest, will be headed by a 100-piece augmented band. The other parades are as follows:
Saturday, Nov. 4.—Industrial parade of Beaumont and adjacent counties.
Monday, Nov. 6.—Automobile parade at 1 o'clock.
Tuesday, Nov. 7.—Children and baby parade, with schools and teachers in charge.
Thursday, Nov. 9.—Joy night, beginning at 6:00 p. m.
Friday, Nov. 10.—Fraternal Day.
Saturday, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day at fair, gigantic parade of ex-service men, patriotic demonstration, fire works at night, with Red Cross and Boy Scout organizations participating. In all there will be a continual series of entertainments, wonderful free acts and outside attractions, with some of the best talent to be obtained by the committee in charge. Several thousand dollars is being spent for this part of the entertainment. Those desiring premium catalogues on the South Texas State Fair may have one by writing the South Texas State Fair Association, at Beaumont, Texas.

Mrs. B. F. Chalker, with her daughter, Miss Venie, has returned from Port Arthur, where she visited her son, E. L. Chalker, and also called on Isidore Reese, formerly with Mayer & Schmidt of this city. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Lizzie Chalker, who will attend school here. Mrs. Chalker reports a most enjoyable visit.

A SIN TO LET HAIR FALL OUT
35c "Danderine" Saves Your Hair—Ends Dandruff! Delightful Tonic

Hurry! It's your duty! Each day you see a little more hair falling out and you are making no effort to avoid baldness. What a pity. Falling hair means your hair is weak, sick, possibly dandruff is strangling it, or the hair root pores in the scalp are not firm and tight, thus wasting the hair-growing oils. Danderine almost instantly stops falling hair of men or women and cleans every particle of dandruff away, then the hair takes on new life, vigor and strength to grow strong, thick, and long. Danderine is delightful—not sticky or greasy. Go to any drugstore now and get a bottle. Use it. Have healthy, heavy, beautiful hair and lots of it.

JUAREZ FALLS INTO REVOLUTIONISTS' HANDS
El Paso, Texas, Sept. 30.—Immediately after United States army officials were notified early today that the Mexican garrison at Juarez, Chihuahua, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, had revolted, preparations were made to send troop reinforcements to the American side of the international bridge. Led by Captain Valverde, the 150 soldiers stationed at Juarez released all prisoners from the city jail, imprisoned the officers and took possession of the town, when looting began. Prisoners held on murder charges seized rifles and ammunition and first broke into a saloon and grabbed bottles of tequilla. The revolutionists wounded several and made Colonel Espinosa, commanding officer of the battalion, a prisoner. The police were disarmed. The revolt dazed Juarez residents, although they are accustomed to revolutions. It started at 2 in the morning. Commander Mendez of the garrison made his way to the American side of the river in an attempt to get into immediate telegraphic communication with Mexico City and ask that loyal troops be dispatched to Juarez.

Rebels Defeated
El Paso, Texas, Sept. 30.—Juarez today was again controlled by men in sympathy with the administration at Mexico City after being in possession of the rebel forces for four hours. In this brief period the fighting resulted in the killing of 10 men and wounding of twice this number.

BROTHERS ENJOYING A HAPPY REUNION
From the Tenaha Optimist, 27th. Monday afternoon Mr. John T. Wilson of Los Angeles, California, arrived in the city and called at the place of business of Mr. J. P. Wilson and renewed acquaintance with his brother, whom he had not seen before in forty-five years. They could not recognize each other for a time, but the visiting gentleman had the advantage with previous inquiry. The next day, Mr. W. P. Wilson, another brother, came up to join in the reunion which is doubtless one of the happiest events in the lives of these old gentlemen. From Nacogdoches county, his boyhood home, the wandering boy went to West Texas some fifty-one years ago, from whence he later journeyed to California. As communication had been discontinued for some time the resident gentleman did not know whether his brother was still living until they had word from him some weeks ago that he was coming. His wife intended coming with him when the trip was first planned, but she passed to her reward about a month previous. The three brothers are all getting up in years, Mr. W. P. Wilson being in his 79th year, Mr. J. P. in his 75th and Mr. J. T. in his 73d. The visiting brother talks very interestingly of the state in which he is now making his home, and says it is far ahead of anything in Texas in point of development. He also talks interestingly of conditions that obtained in this country at the time of his departure compared with the present. Maiden Hawthorne returned to Nacogdoches this morning after a short visit in the city.—Timpson Times, 27th.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES PEDDY OFF THE TICKET

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—George E. B. Peddy of Houston has no legal right to have his name placed on the official ballot for the November election as the nominee of the republican party for United States senator, held the attorney general's department Thursday in an opinion to the secretary of state, S. L. Staples. Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton, who wrote the opinion, held that the republican party is required to nominate by primary election "and a convention nominee is void, and Mr. Peddy, selected by the republican executive committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the convention nominee, has no legal right to have his name certified by the secretary of state." "Certificate Insufficient" The opinion holds that the certificate showing that the vacancy on the republican ticket for United States senator was filled by the executive committee must be signed by a majority and acknowledged. "A certificate of this kind, therefore," says the opinion, "signed by the committee chairman only and acknowledged is insufficient." After citing numerous authorities, the opinion continues: "Assuming, therefore, that the republicans had authority to nominate by convention, Mr. Peddy would be without a remedy to compel the secretary of state to certify his nomination if he voted in the democratic primary. Even though the statutes were complied with as to nominations, it would not follow that he could force the secretary of state to certify his name as a candidate."

Primary Required
Further, the opinion states, "It should not be seriously contended that the filling of the vacancy is valid unless the original nomination of Doctor Wilmont was valid. There could be no vacancy to fill in the absence of a valid nomination originally." The opinion does not deal with the remainder of the ticket, only with reference to the office of the United States senator, which must be by primary election as distinguished from party conventions. The contention that even if the nomination of Doctor Wilmont was originally illegal, it became valid and incontestable at the time of the resignation, since the statutes have provided a means of contesting nominations which have been availed of, is not sustained by the opinion. Campaign to Go On Peddy's campaign for the United States senate will "go right on", despite the attorney general's adverse ruling, it was declared Thursday afternoon by his leading Houston supporters. Mandamus proceedings probably will be instituted in an effort to require the state authorities to place Peddy's name on the ballot according to these supporters. Col. R. M. Johnston and other Houstonians interested in Peddy's candidacy stated that the people will write Peddy's name on the ballot if court proceedings fail to obtain the desired result. Fight Only Started Houston, Texas, Sept. 29.—Hary V. Fisher, who has been active in South Texas in the interest of the candidacy of George E. B. Peddy for the United States senate, said Thursday when informed of the ruling of the attorney general, that the fight was only starting. "We will carry it through to the supreme court in an effort to give the people of Texas an opportunity to select a candidate suitable to a majority of them," said Mr. Fisher. "There is every legal precedent for putting Peddy's name on the ticket and I believe that the supreme court will hold that it should go there."

SONS OF CONFEDERATE VETS GO TO NEW ORLEANS
Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—A meeting of the Executive Council of Division Commanders of Sons of Confederate Veterans will be held in New Orleans October 27th and 28th, it was announced today by Col. W. McDonald Lee, commander in chief.

If you live to a ripe old age, you may get your picture in the paper; but some people accomplish that by being rotten while young.

FUSION IN TEXAS

From the Nashville Tennessean. The proposed convention of anti-Klanmen at Dallas, Texas, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the United States Senate to oppose the "Democratic" candidate, Earl B. Mayfield, who has the support of the Ku Klux Klan, is something of an innovation in Texas politics. What is proposed is fusion of all the anti-Klan elements for the purpose of sending to the senate a man who owes allegiance to no secret organization and who can take his place in the national legislature without other obligations than to serve his state and country. The Democratic state convention threw away a splendid opportunity to set itself right with the party in the nation when it refused to adopt resolutions condemning the Ku Klux activities in that state. The failure is undoubtedly attributed to the influence of the elements which contributed so materially to Mayfield's success in the primary. Under these circumstances, it matters little whether the choice of the proposed Dallas convention is a Republican or a Democrat. Real Democrats will not hesitate to support the choice of the convention, regardless of the political label he wears, provided he represents Texas. It will be their only opportunity to voice their disapproval of an un-American organization that is morally bankrupt. There is nothing in common between the Democratic party and the Ku Klux Klan. The one founded by Thomas Jefferson, whose "An Act for Establishing Religious Freedom" was a triumph of equal rights over ancient prejudices and restrictions, and which is a fundamental part of the Democratic creed. The other is an organization of bigots whose mission is to stir up religious strife and race hatred. There is no common ground on which the Democratic party and the Ku Klux Klan can meet. The one is pledged to defend the constitution drafted by its founders; the other would dislodge the foundation stone of the republic that "all men are created equal." Texas Republicans did not hesitate to condemn the Klan, and as an earnest of good faith in the approaching convention their candidate for the United States senate has declined the nomination in favor of the choice of the convention. Anti-Klan Democrats can meet them half way, and it is not improbable that some staunch Democratic son of Texas will be selected to make the fight against Mayfield.

EVERY COUNTY MUST MAINTAIN ITS STATE ROADS
Texas stands in grave danger of having the director of the Bureau of Public Roads withhold his approval of any more federal aid projects on account of the failure of any one county in the state to maintain its portion of a State Highway on which Federal funds have been expended. The State has no fund that can be used for maintaining the State highways, and the result of the failure of any county to comply with the terms of its contract with the state would be that the State and counties that have planned and actually financed a program of road construction, would be penalized on account of the delinquency of that one county. We have millions of dollars now apportioned to Texas, already allotted to counties but not under project agreement with the Federal Government, that the people of Texas cannot afford to lose.

Another most forceful and cogent reason, in our opinion, why the legislature should without any unnecessary delay provide an adequate State fund for both construction and maintenance of State highways, lies in the fact that until these funds are provided, we will make very little headway in the construction of a connected State system. The people of Texas certainly desire such a system and every day the demand grows greater and greater. We really have been, and are still building county, not state roads, that only constitute a part of the State system; and until they are connected, they cannot rightfully be termed a State road. Our system will be changed eventually of necessity, so it occurs to us that the only practical and business-like thing for the legislature to do is to take cognizance of the existing situation and make the change at the earliest moment possible.

The United States will refuse to go to war with Japan over the fact that Fatty Arbuckle has decided to stay in that country. If there were no "radical aliens" to deport, how would Moosey Jim make a showing.

AGED TEXAS NEGRO HAS UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 30.—That he prepared the meat for the inauguration banquet of Sam Houston as president of the Republic of Texas and is one of the few negroes in Texas at the present time receiving a pension from the state for Civil War service, are the honors claimed by Isom Earl, Austin negro. Earl is 94 years old, having been born in 1828, he declares. According to his story, he came to Texas in 1860. Before that time he was a slave at Aberdeen, Miss. He also resided in Cotton Gin and Mobile, Ala. During the war between the states the negro served as a teamster under Capt. Jim Hewett, hauling cotton between Camp Mabry and Camp Dix, and between Fort McKavitt and San Antonio. The cotton was used for army purposes. Earl is one of probably thirty negroes included on the Texas pension list of more than 14,000, according to State Comptroller Lon A. Smith. The remainder of the colored pensioners are scattered throughout the state. Most of them served as slaves with their masters, it is stated.

TOM WATSON
From the Dallas News. Senator Tom Watson, who succumbed to asthma the other day, was one of the ablest and one of the least admirable men that Georgia ever contributed to the public life of the nation. Perhaps it was the harassing character of the disease which dogged the last fifteen years of his life, or, it may have been, as some have said, the loss by death of loved ones—but, whatever it was, something entered into the soul of the brilliant Georgian and made him a fountain of bitterness and vindictiveness which hindered his usefulness to his people and shamed them, for supporting his excesses upon the floor of the Senate.

Tom Watson was a master of words in the English tongue. His command of prose tended toward the warm colorfulness of Ingersoll's simplest and best. His historical writings, whatever may be their worth for accuracy and faithfulness to the traditions of historical research, have the power of rich and gripping romance. They breathe a lively concern for the onward and upward struggle of the plain, unlettered, unheeded people who suffered tyranny, felt want, burst shackles and rioted in bloody freedom under the leadership of ruthless and unworthy men. The scenes they made and passed through smoked and flamed and reeked anew under the pen of Watson, and yet through it all he interlarded the thread of his own confidence in mankind, somehow seeking, ever striving, always hungering and thirsting after the half-sensed righteousness of the greatest good to the greatest number.

Perhaps the bent which he received during the heyday of Populism, when he espoused the cause of the oppressed, as he saw it, against the power of the established order, turned him toward fighting majorities simply because they were majorities. Perhaps individual cases within his personal acquaintance poisoned his mind against the relentless determination of the nation to devote its whole power to the prosecution of the war in Europe. At any rate, from the date of the enactment of the Selective Service Act, Tom Watson set his hands against his country's spokesman and boastfully proclaimed himself "anti-Wilson, anti-league, anti-war," and so set himself down in the biography which he contributed to the Congressional Directory.

Now that his restless spirit is instilled and he himself stands in the court where irascibility and venom with their mean hopes and petty hates are all stripped away, the kindest thing that earth can do for Tom Watson is to forget the later years of his life and draw a veil over the malice of his ill-ordered intent, remembering of him only that once he loved the many and sought to serve them before the madness of Saul came upon him.

SHERIFF CONTENT ENDED NEW ELECTION ORDERED
From the Lufkin News, 30th. The case in which M. F. Cochran was plaintiff and R. V. Watts defendant, involving the democratic nomination for the office of sheriff of Angelina county, was brought to a close last night, and at the conclusion of the argument of attorneys about 10:30 o'clock Judge L. D. Guinn entered the following order on the minutes of the court and adjourned: "No nomination and the executive committee is ordered to direct new election to take place October 14, 1922 each party to pay costs incurred by him."

Thus ends the contest which has been on trial since Monday morning. Under the order as given above the county executive committee must proceed at once with the necessary arrangements for a new election for the democratic nomination for sheriff. During the trial of this case, which has attracted more than the usual interest, it has been impossible for The News to keep a reporter present, hence it is unable to give a synopsis of any part of the evidence. The reader, however, may draw his own conclusions in the matter without any comment from this paper.

The costs in the case will probably reach about $750, which, according to the order of Judge Guinn, must be paid by the contestants in proportion to the costs of each.

MEETING AT RED OAK
The good people of the Needmore (Red Oak) community held a very interesting and profitable meeting at the school house Saturday night. The occasion was a meeting of the literary society conducted jointly by the Union Cross and Needmore communities. This society holds two meetings each month, and alternate between the two communities. Those who attended the meeting Saturday night from town were Prof. A. W. Birdwell, H. L. McKnight and Miss Exier Lewis. Miss Lewis gave a very interesting report on the schools of the county, and showed how the progressive communities are meeting school needs by voting the necessary tax and raising other needed funds. Mr. McKnight led the audience in a bit of community "sing song", told a few stories, and then introduced Prof. A. W. Birdwell, who made a very able and very interesting educational address dealing particularly with rural school problems.

The good folks of Needmore community are fortunate in having secured the services of Prof. Casey, a teacher of wide experience and training to teach their school the coming term.

SOUTH TEXAS STATE FAIR GROWS BIGGER EACH DAY
As plans are formulated for the South Texas State Fair, to be held at Beaumont, Texas, November 2d to the 11th, extra buildings are planned and arrangements made to care for the many exhibits which are promised for this exposition. The people of South Texas and Southwest Louisiana are greatly interested in the fair which will cover a territory as large as the average state. The educational features of this fair will be outstanding. Each department will give information both practical and technical regarding the exhibits. The live stock, poultry and agricultural exhibits promise to be the very best obtainable from the surrounding state. Special attention is being given to the culinary, textile and art departments. Liberal cash prizes are offered for the best county or parish exhibits. It is estimated that an attendance of over one hundred thousand people will be at this fair. Those desiring premium lists in order to make entries in any department may write to the association and same will be forwarded. They charge to see Jesse James's old home. It was Jesse's will, probably. There never was a paramount issue that congress did not believe could wait.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

PRICE $1.50 PER YEAR.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

TEMPORARY INFLATION

The country is in for a period of higher prices, says the economists, and doubtless they are right.

That is, prices will advance above present levels as a result of an increasing demand for goods, of which there may develop a shortage along many lines in the next few weeks.

This is but natural. For months the wage-earner has been either out of work or employed but part of the time. Or, if fully employed, he has had his weather eye out for storms and not knowing what the future held has been guarded in his expenditures. Consequently he faces a period of returning prosperity with low reserves of clothing and other commodities of everyday use.

He has begun to spend money. He will spend more as he becomes more confident of continuous work. But going to market he finds the shelves of many merchants low in their stocks. The merchant has also been guarded in his expenditures. He has been buying conservatively.

This in turn will send the storekeeper to the manufacturer and the manufacturer is likewise short in his made-up supplies.

The result will be prosperity, but it also will mean higher prices for the moment due to large demand.

But this promises to be merely temporary. As the months go into years and prosperity continues, the keen competition that will be developed will result in price-shaving along many lines, with the result that the cost of living, after perhaps a temporary jump, should recede very gradually over a very considerable period. At least that is what has happened under somewhat similar circumstances.

SIX HUNDRED MILLIONS

Thinking of buying some of the Russian crown jewels now being offered for sale by the soviet government? The price, estimated by a French jewelry expert, is about 600 million dollars.

Included in this collection is the Orloff diamond. It was stolen from a temple in India and made its way to the palace of the czars. The theft was known, in fact it was one of the most notable of jewelry history, yet there was no compunction about accepting the diamond.

All the crown jewels are spread out on a small table. Two suitcases would hold them. They are in a secret place, guarded by a handful of peasants.

Does the temptation ever come to those men, bundle the swag up, take it across the frontier and dispose of it? The sale would be easy, and each of them would be rich for life.

If they have been tempted, they have not fallen. For these peasant guards, think what one may of their rulers past and present, are simple-hearted fellows, faithful to their trust. Honest and straight-forward dealing does not lie with czars and princes. It is common folk, even the bolshevists know, who can best be trusted with the jewels of the crown.

BUYING CLOTHES

A man selects a blue necktie for the same reason that he orders a chocolate soda. It is the first thing that comes into his mind. He usually walks away with the second hat the salesman shows him, and he can easily be argued into a pair of shoes that don't fit, and that he doesn't really want.

But does a woman ever act like that? Well, just ask the girl at the soda fountain or the young man at the gent's furnishing store about their women customers.

Women pick out things for their men folks with taste and discrimination; that is, everything except cigars. No woman has any licence to buy cigars for any man, unless he has hiterto specified his brand. But in the clothing line they know what they are doing.

It would surprise you to know how many women in this town make the purchases for their husbands and grown sons. It bespeaks a pride that all concerned justly may be thankful for, and there is nothing in it to make the man ashamed. He will be better dressed for it.

True, once in a while one meets some old crocodile who has always been slouchy, and when he first appears in a neat and natty outfit that his wife picked out we are surprised and we laugh. But would his own selection have been better? Remember the derby hat? What an outrage upon intelligence it was. Now, they say, derbies are returning to fashion. Women have more sense than men. They won't allow a general return of the iron hat, we are sure.

ALWAYS ROOM AT THE TOP.

America, the land of opportunity! Once this was our proudest boast. Why not again?

Noting already a shortage of unskilled labor, which will become acute when our industry fully revives, Judge Gary says:

"Every impediment should be placed before the immigrant who cannot make a contribution toward the growth of the nation."

But men and women who qualify mentally, morally and physically for entry into this country should not be debarrd.

These people have something definite to offer the country—their strength and their allegiance.

The country has something definite to offer them—economic freedom and citizenship.

Each needs the other for mutual benefit.

Whatever self-interest colors Judge Gary's view, the foregoing is true.

Few aliens, however humble their start, stay long on the ladder's bottom rung. If not they their children rise from the unskilled to the skilled and make their way among the best.

What American who disdains our newest arrivals can cite a prouder ancestral beginning in the New World?

The criticism that most helps to solve the immigrant problem is not disdainful, but appreciative of the human values in the inflowing tide and earnestly co-operative to enhance them.

MUNICIPAL SERVICES

The pastor of the Main Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. M. C. Johnson, D. D., will be in Sherman next Sunday attending the Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian church, and, during his absence, the officers of the congregation will have charge of the services.

With the building of the Normal College, the moving of many families into the city, and the expected expansion of business and industrial institutions, it is thought that a civic or municipal service would be very appropriate for the occasion. Therefore, the pastor and officers of the church have requested Hon. V. E. Middlebrook to deliver an address on "Civic Righteousness," next Sunday at the morning service. Those who have heard the Judge on this subject say that he has a very fine and spiritual message on this line. The officers of the city, commercial bodies, and members of patriotic orders are especially invited to attend this meeting.

HAZING UN-AMERICAN

Two mishaps, one fatal, in connection with hazing at American colleges, as recorded in the news of the day, direct public attention to an evil that, it was thought, had been virtually eliminated. College authorities in recent years have adopted stringent regulations against the persecution of freshmen by upper classmen, but the most effective blow at the undesirable custom has been delivered by the students themselves by the adoption of a new policy at the leading institutions.

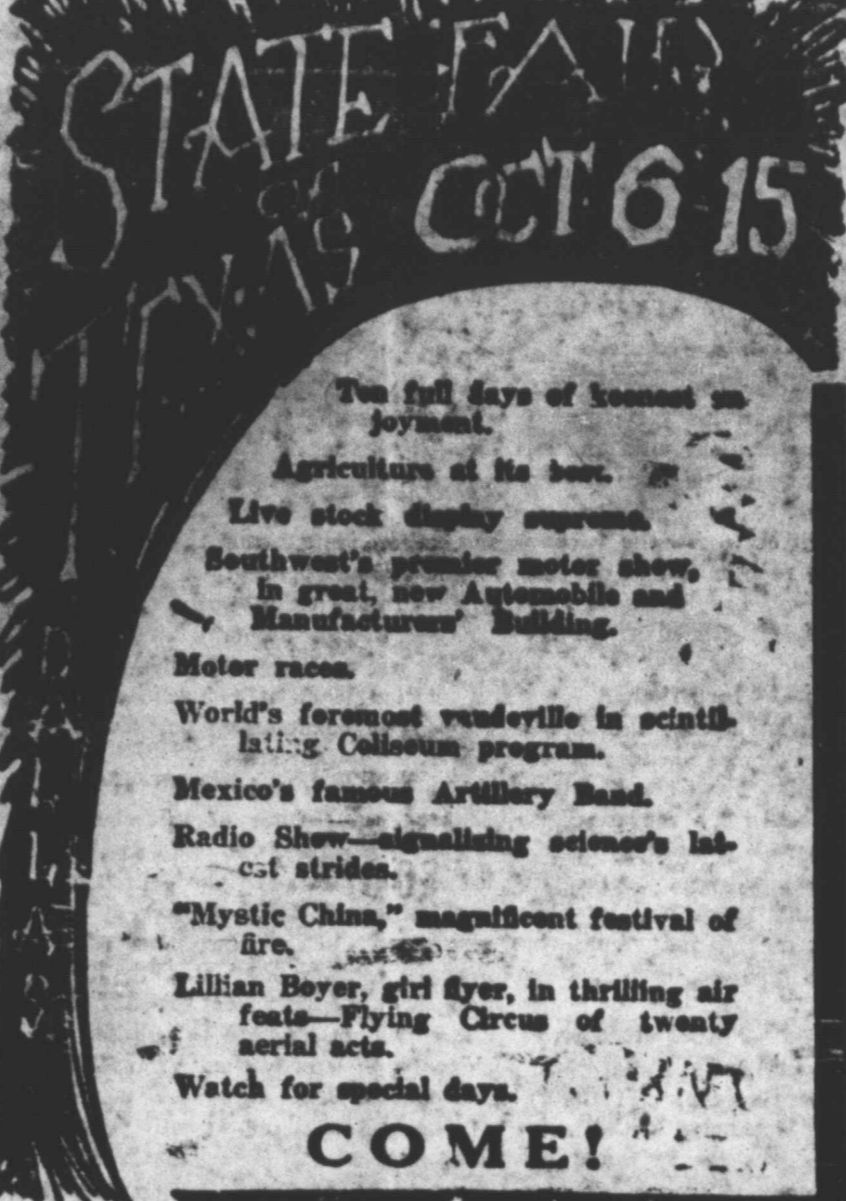

Hazing of a sort there will always be, the kind that gives expression to the upper classmen's assumption of superiority in rules requiring freshmen to wear a certain style of cap, to refrain from smoking within academic precincts or from carrying canes. These regulations are not especially oppressive, and the freshmen console themselves with the thought that the following year will bring their revenge. But the kind of hazing that has brought two colleges into unwelcome publicity is a revival of the old-time rowdyism that, it had been hoped, had been abandoned forever.

Hazing is cowardly, un-American and unworthy of college men who are supposed to have "put away childish things." Whenever it still exists it should be suppressed with a strong hand.

RESCUE CAR FROM ARGONAUT MINE TO BE AT STATE FAIR

STATE FAIR CROWDS TO SEE DEMONSTRATION OF RESCUE WORK OF FIREMEN

A big feature of the State Fair of Texas at Dallas, Oct. 6-15, will be demonstrations of rescue work by the crew of the mine rescue car which worked so faithfully at the recent Argonaut mine disaster, at Jackson, Calif.

The demonstration will be given in connection with a life-saving and rescue exhibition by members of the Dallas fire department, under Fire Chief Myers. A building is being erected before the grand stand, from which, as flames and smoke pour from its windows, a person supposed to have been overcome by gas and smoke, will be rescued.

Carried from the burning building by the firemen, the work of resuscitation, as obtains at a mine, will be carried out by the crew of the mine car.

The car will be sent to Dallas by order of the Bureau of Mines, and will be in charge of Foreman Miner W. P. Sullivan. The orders have been issued by the Bureau of Mines at Pittsburg, Pa.

VETERAN CHALLENGES ALL COMERS TO WALKING MATCH

John W. Dixon, a veteran of the Civil War, seventy-six years of age, has challenged all comers, over forty, to meet him in a five-mile walking contest on the State Fair grounds race track, Confederate Day at the Fair, Oct. 11. Mr. Dixon says he can do the five miles in an hour, and the only restriction he puts on his opponent is that he shall not be any taller than himself. Much interest has been manifested in the competition.

"SING-SONGS" TO BE FEATURE AT STATE FAIR

Massed sing-songs, such as proved so popular during the world-war, will be a feature at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 6-15. Arrangements have been made for three big screens to be erected before the grand stand. On these, through projecting machines, the words of popular songs will be thrown. A song leader will start the words, and to the accompaniment of a big massed band, the old familiar airs will be sung by thousands.

The race track at the State Fair grounds, Dallas, has been put in first-class condition for the world famous drivers who will try for new speed records there, Oct. 7, 8, 10, 14 and 15.

Lillian Boyer, the girl flyer, who will appear at the State Fair, Dallas, Oct. 6-15, electrified thousands at the Illinois Fair, Springfield, according to Springfield newspapers.

A new curtain and new scenery will grace the Coliseum stage at the State Fair grounds, at Dallas, when the State Fair opens, Oct. 6. The vaudeville numbers for the 1923 Fair are declared to be excellent, new and varied.

TEXAS NEWSPAPER MEN AT STATE FAIR OCT. 7

Special Program For Entertainment of "Fourth Estaters"—Many Expected to Attend.

Press Day at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, this year, will be Saturday, Oct. 7, and a special invitation has been extended newspaper editors and owners throughout the State to be at the fair on that day. President H. A. Olmsted is personally acquainted with most of the newspaper men in Texas, as is also E. J. Kleit, former president and this year chairman of the committee on Publicity, and they have joined their personal invitation with the formal one of the Fair itself.

A special program has been arranged for the entertainment and amusement of the editors and their families, including automobile races between recognized world's famous drivers on the race track.

It is practically certain that a majority of the editors and owners, who have aided so materially in this year's publicity for the fair, will be in attendance, including, of course, President S. D. Chesnut, of the Texas Press Association; Secretary Sam P. Harben; Vice President Will West and many others. Fair officials and newspaper men generally are looking forward to a visit by many of the "Old Guard," on the first Saturday of this year's Fair.

ENTER FINEST CATTLE FOR STATE FAIR SHOW.

Entries of cattle for the State Fair of Texas Live Stock display, closed on Sept. 15, with the most complete and varied exhibits of record.

Entries of horses, mules, jacks, ponies, sheep and goats closed on Sept. 25, and entries already made prior to that showed conclusively that the live stock industry in Texas is still one of the biggest in the state.

Judging will begin promptly at 9 a. m., Monday, Oct. 9, and on Saturday, Oct. 14 the grand parade of prize winning animals will take place before the grand stand.

Collin County will be well represented in the Live Stock department. The Collin County Pure Bred Live Stock Association has had Oct. 10 designated as its "day" at the State Fair, and members of the association with other Collin county people, will be on hand in force.

Fine cattle, shown at the Collin County Fair, Oct. 2, 3 and 4 have been entered and will be shown at the State Fair as well.

LONG DISTANCE ADDRESSES TO BE HEARD AT STATE FAIR

Addresses by long distance telephone, delivered by prominent people, and made perfectly audible to thousands, will be heard at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 6-15, through the telephone "loud speaker."

A contract between the Fair Association and the telephone company will insure the wonderful instrument being operated throughout the progress of the Fair. It will be set up on the campus in front of the main exhibit building.

Whitesboro is a hustling Grayson County town. It will have its "day" at the State Fair of Texas, at Dallas, on Thursday, Oct. 12. Following the annual custom, many Whitesboro citizens will attend the Fair on that day.

A mard gras ball will be given in the big new Automobile and Manufacturers' Building at the State Fair of Dallas, on the night of Thursday, Oct. 5. The affair will tend to dedicate the new structure. Floored with maple, it will afford an excellent dancing floor. Fancy costumes of every description will be seen.

MR. D. W. EBAUGH WILL BE BURIED THIS AFTERNOON

Prominent Greenville Citizen Died Sunday Following Illness of Few Days

Funeral services for Mr. David Waring Ebaugh, prominent Greenville citizen, who died at his home Sunday morning, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of his brother, George W. Ebaugh, at 407 Pettigru street, with interment in Springwood.

Dr. George W. Quick, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Mr. Ebaugh was a member, will conduct the services.

Mr. Ebaugh's death came after a brief illness and was a severe shock to his host of friends in this city. He had been a resident of Greenville for thirty-one years, serving at once time as an alderman from Ward 4, and as president of the Chamber of Commerce. He was in his sixty-second year of life.

Mr. Ebaugh was born in Berkeley county on December 31, 1860. He was educated at the Charleston High School and the Carolina Military Institute at Charlotte. He was engaged in the fertilizer business in Charleston for some time, later moving to Greenville to enter the same business with his father who had built a plant on the Buncombe road, near where the Poe mill now stands.

In 1898 he organized the Mountain City Milling company and remained as the president of this concern until eight years ago. Two years later he became connected with the Carolina Oil Company.

In 1892 he married Miss Ebby Elia Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Smith. He is survived by his widow, a brother, George W. Ebaugh of this city, and a sister, Mrs. J. Ross Vaughn of Columbia.

Mayor Harvley, in commenting on the death of Mr. Ebaugh, said:

"In the death of Mr. Ebaugh Greenville has lost a citizen of the type that would be a severe loss to this city and community. Mr. Ebaugh was twice elected a member of the city council and served as chairman of the most important committee of the council, that being chairman of the finance committee. How well he served in this capacity is too well known for comment. He not only took the leading part in financing the city during these four years but a very active interest in all other departments and rendered a service to his city and her people that cannot be forgotten. It can be truly said that Mr. Ebaugh stood for those things that was best for the social, civic and religious life of Greenville and his death is a great loss."

The following will act as pallbearers. Honorary—Messrs. Alex. Rose, D. T. Smith, Edgard J. Gage, Dr. J. B. Earle, T. F. Hunt, E. F. Bates, Dr. Fletcher Jordan, C. M. Goodyear, Dr. E. W. Carpenter, A. M. Hayes, A. A. Bristow, John A. Russell, Wm. Goldsmith, Gaines Hamilton, and Dr. Will Sewell. Active—W. Lindsay Smith.

MOTHER!

Move Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

CALOMEL USERS

TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver and start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back to your druggist and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wildcat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone, which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and cannot salivate.

LAI'D TO REST

Sunday morning, October 1st, at 8 o'clock, the spirit of Sammy Lane, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, took its flight to dwell with the One who gave it.

She was one year and eleven months of age; but during this short stay here she had become so entwined about the hearts of her fond parents and other relatives and friends that to know Sammy Lane was to love her.

She bore her suffering well and all that medical skill and tender care could do, was done to fight the malady that had so possessed the little one; but all in vain. God saw fit to pluck this bright little jewel from among the many blossoms on this earth and transplant it in His own Kingdom.

Her remains were laid to rest in Fairview cemetery beneath a bank of many beautiful flowers, and the ceremony which was very impressive was performed by Rev. A. T. Garrard.

The friends wish to extend their sympathy and words of condolence to the bereaved ones during this trying time.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

It has been very noticeable of late that a number of automobile drivers have been disregarding the traffic rules of driving to the right through Main street, and more especially to strangers visiting our city.

At an early date new "Drive to the Right" signs will be placed on the ornamental lamp posts on Main street for the benefit of the traveling public and it is very essential that this traffic rule should be adhered to very closely, thereby avoiding the probability of some serious accident or any congestion of traffic.

It has also been noticed that the parking rule on Main street has not been fully complied with, in that some who park their cars in the angles when ready to start out will go froward instead of backing up and going around.

This too is a very dangerous practice and should be discontinued, and it is hoped that each person driving a car will use their best efforts in encouraging the "Safety First" motto by observing these rules more strictly. The Boosters.

THE EDITOR'S THANKS

The editor's sartorial circumstances are improving and he is beginning seriously to contemplate making an effort to get into the upper crust. It all came about unexpectedly. Thursday morning a delivery boy from Tucker, Hayter & Company's appeared at the Sentinel office and proffered a couple of neatly arranged packages. The editor's name was stenciled upon them, but he surmised there had been some mistake, and so informed the boy. The latter insisted that he was obeying instructions, and thinking the women folk of the family probably had made purchases unbeknownst, the editor received the goods. Poking into the packages a nice hat and nicer shirt were found. On a card accompanying were the names of ten considerate friends.

The editor now has two shirts and is in position to put on a few lugs. The hat is going to attract much attention when he appears wearing it in his rounds about town in pursuit of the elusive local. Tomorrow is circus day and that will be enough excitement for one 24-hour stretch, so he will not exhibit himself till afterward. Seriously, though, we appreciate the kindly spirit which prompted the generous gift and heartily thanks the friends who joined in presenting it. May they live long and prosper.

DRIVING HINTS

As was stated in yesterday's paper the driving regulations of our city are observed entirely too little. Who is to blame? Not all of us, but the most of us are guilty of not driving as carefully as we should. How can we avoid this irregularity? By you and I and everyone else just thinking one minute.

We say it's all right to drive this way just this time, Mr. Watson is not looking and if he does see me he will not make me pay a fine. Probably he will not. But do you stop to think that you might cause a serious accident just for one minute's time? What do you think when you are standing on the side walks and some fellow drives wrong. You think that person ought to be made to stick to the rules. Then just think if you were in that car would you do that.

Everybody's business is nobody's business. But everybody should be more careful about driving on the streets, thereby avoiding some accident that might be serious. Let's everybody get the habit of driving to the right. The drive-to-the-right signs are on the way. The Boosters.

THE GOVERNOR'S SALARY

From the Waco News-Tribune. Texans pay their governor a salary of $4,000 per annum. Texas is the largest of American commonwealths. Texas has a population of more than five millions of people. Texas is the fifth in population and wealth. Texas is the first in undeveloped latent resources and possibilities which are limitless.

Isn't the laborer worthy of the hire? Why not a salary in keeping with the importance of the commonwealth and the dignity and responsibility of the office? A poor man can illly afford to make the race or hold the office. There are a vast number of very poor men who are very able men. Really the intellectuals of history and the statesmen who have been, for the most part, men without fortunes. Many of them died as poor as a church mouse. This has been true of the statesmen of Texas as well as the unimportant states of the Union.

If the legislature to be elected in November should call a constitutional convention in 1923, those who draft the constitution should see to it that the salary of the governor is fixed at $12,000 to $15,000 per annum. A real executive is worth it, and the Texans of the future should be as careful in picking real men as they have been in the past.

U. OF T. ENROLLMENT

Austin, Texas, Sept. 28.—With the largest enrollment in the history of the University of Texas, fall term classes are beginning this week for 3,732 students. There is a gain of 114 students, compared with the number of 3,609 students enrolled at the same time last year. Students are still enrolling for courses, although a fine of $3 is charged for late registration. According to the present rate of increase, the total enrollment for the year will be considerably greater than the total for last year, which was 4,242.

BANK BANDITS GREETED WITH SHOTGUN FIRE

Eureka Springs, Ark., Sept. 28.—Three of five bandits who attempted to rob the First National Bank here at noon yesterday were killed and two others wounded and captured in a running battle with citizens, which followed the sounding of a burglar alarm.

The dead: St. Wilson, 40 years old, Cookston, Okla.; George Price, 40 Cookston, Okla.; Charles Price, brother of George Price, also of Cookston.

The wounded: Mark Hendricks, 45 years old, Park Hill, Okla.; a man named Cowan, driver of one of the two hand cars; his residence is unknown.

None of the half dozen citizens who engaged the bandits in the battle was wounded.

All of the $14,000 in cash with which the bandits ran from the bank at the opening of the battle was recovered.

The bandits drove into town over the mountains in two cars, one a smaller car bearing an Oklahoma license, and the other a larger touring car. Going directly to the bank, all with the exception of Cowan, who was driving the small car, went into the bank. None was masked.

E. G. Smith, cashier of the bank, sounded the alarm by stepping on a section of the bank floor which was connected with the burglar alarm.

Alarmed citizens met the bandits with gun fire as they emerged from the bank with their loot, carrying before them the bank teller as a shield. The bandits returned the fire.

Only Two Killed

Eureka Springs, Ark., Sept. 28.—Charles Price, the wounded bandit, who, with four companions, was shot down following the daylight robbery of the First National Bank here yesterday, was alive today. He had been erroneously reported dead. Physicians say he has a slight chance of recovery. The two other wounded bandits are in a hospital here. No word has been received from relatives of the two dead bandits, George Price and Cy Wilson of Cookston, Okla. A check shows the bandits attempted to take $74,000 in cash and securities.

PEDDY'S NAME ON TICKET

Austin, Texas, Sept. 28.—The certificate of nomination of George E. B. Peddy was returned to the State Department with the signatures of 19 of the 31 republican state committee members. It was returned last week to Chairman Creager of the committee for lack of the signatures of a majority of the committee members. Secretary of State Staples said he would accept the signatures as sufficient, but submitted the amended certificate to the attorney general. An opinion on the legality of Peddy's nomination is being completed by the attorney general's department.

NAVAL REINFORCEMENTS

Without Date.—Secretary Denby announced today the names of 12 destroyers ordered to proceed from Norfolk, Va., to Constantinople. The date of departure has not yet been announced.

The first phase of the Greek revolution ended with the abdication of King Constantine in favor of Crown Prince George. The revolution so far has been bloodless. Insurgent troops are occupying the capital and a provisional revolutionary committee, it is announced, will assume power and will punish disturbers of order, regardless of political party.

The Turkish Nationalists have notified the Allied High Commission that they will not tolerate the fortification of certain points in the neutral zone. Cavalry is advancing apparently with the object of isolating British advance posts.

SHERIFF IS ARRESTED

PRISON MACHINE CUTS OFF HAND OF FORGER

Oasining, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The irony of fate manifested itself in the retribution that came to Frank T. Elliott. His home is in the Bronx, New York City.

EN ROUTE TO PRISON FOR FAMILY REUNION

Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 28.—"There is going to be a family reunion for shore," John Davis, negro, said when he left here Wednesday in custody of officers for the state penitentiary at McAlester to begin serving a five-year sentence for burglary.

"I've got two brothers, an uncle and three cousins there besides a lot of other acquaintances," explained the negro.

Davis requested the judge Tuesday to give him the limit. "They's three good meals, tobacco and a good bed down there," he told the court.

NOT ACTUAL SENTIMENTS

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 28.—Among the important business matters before the Grand Army of the Republic, in annual encampment here, is consideration of the proposal to retaliate with resolutions against the statement by the Confederate Veterans that President Lincoln had been responsible for the War of the Rebellion. The proposition has lost much of its appeal to Northern fighters. Commander in Charge Pitcher made it known that he did not believe the Confederate Encampment resolutions to be the actual sentiment of the Southern soldiers, but was the product of a small minority slipped into the records during an interval when the convention hall was practically deserted.

TEACHERS QUIT

West Frankfort, Ill., Sept. 28.—Inability of the Denning and Frankfort townships to pay their salaries Wednesday caused 91 elementary school teachers to abandon their classes. As a result approximately 3800 children were sent home for an unexpected vacation of undetermined duration. Not a sad face was noticeable among the hundreds of children as they trotted home.

THE BIG CIRCUS

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey's big combined show gave two exhibitions in Nacogdoches Friday, and there is no doubt it was the best that has ever visited this section. Early in the morning people from the country districts began arriving in autos and wagons and buggies and on horseback, and long before the tents were advertised to be open the crowd had swelled to some 25,000 people. This may seem a huge estimate, but the consensus of opinion is that at least that number were here.

The outfit was late in arriving and the big tent was not open till about 5 o'clock, when the first performance was put on. Even after the show had reached the city the transfer from the trains to the grounds was hampered by the immense throngs upon the streets. The show people exercised much patience and the utmost care to prevent accidents, and to said to their credit that they succeeded under some very provoking circumstances.

To Chief of Police Watson and his special deputies, and also to the sheriff's department, are due the fullest measure of praise for the orderly handling of the crowds. They had their hands full, but so successfully did they perform their duties that not a single objectionable incident was recorded during the strenuous day. There were two arrests for intoxication, one by the police and one by the sheriff's force, but these were "quiet" drunks, and the men were put away in order to keep them from running into danger. Chief Watson went on the job about 4 o'clock Friday morning and stood by his guns till 3 Saturday morning. He deserves all the good things that may be said about him.

Everybody speaks with the utmost satisfaction of the show and the gentlemanly conduct of all connected with it, and if this same company should decide to come this way again they will be the means of bringing a still greater crowd together.

CHANCE FOR BALLOT TEST TO BE GIVEN

Austin, Texas, Sept. 30.—The official ballot for the general election next November will not be certified to the various counties in the state until an opportunity is given the republicans and independent democrats to test the decision of the attorney general wherein it was held that the name of George E. B. Peddy can not be legally placed on the ballot as the republican candidate for United States senator, said Secretary of State S. L. Staples, Friday.

Staples declared that it was not his intention to take "snap judgment" on the republicans or independent democrats, and indicated that the official ballot would likely be held up until at least October 6.

The joy of anticipation is lessened by the thought that another income tax payment will beat Christmas here.

FUNERAL OF REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES EDWARD CLARK

Long Beach, Cal., Oct. 2.—The funeral of Rear Admiral Charles Edgar Clark, retired commander of the battleship Oregon during the Spanish-American War, who died here yesterday, will be held tomorrow. He was seventy-nine years of age.

It was Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark who guided the battleship Oregon in its race against time on a voyage equal to half way around the world without a single serious mishap to men or machinery.

This remarkable race occurred during the opening days of the Spanish-American war in 1898. Clark, then a captain, was 54 years old. He sailed from San Francisco on March 19th. Between him and his destination was the continent of South America, the gales and turbulent waters of the Straits of Magellan where a Spanish torpedoed lurked also, and a fleet of formidable Spanish warships cruising in the Caribbean Sea. On the afternoon of the 67th day of sailing the Oregon steamed into Jupiter Inlet on the coast of Florida unharmed and ready for battle.

It is the world's record which probably will never be equaled—it probably will never again be attempted. The Panama Canal removes the necessity. A modern battleship could transferred from San Francisco to the Florida coast in time of war through the Canal in less than 20 days.

An interesting anecdote is told how Clark came to be placed in command of that difficult and dangerous voyage.

"Has he the stick-to-it-iveness to take him clear through?" asked a naval authority of one of Clark's friends who was urging his appointment to the command of the Oregon.

"Did you ever see him play chess?" the friend replied.

"What has that to do with the case?"

"Everything," was the answer. "Strategy as learned on the chess board is not a bad training as a preliminary to naval tactics," and he continued to outline Clark's characteristic determination, which was noticeable even while playing chess, until the appointment was won.

Rear Admiral Clark was born in Vermont in 1843. At the age of 20 he had been ordered to the West Gulf Blockading Squadron in the Civil War before he had finished his second year at Annapolis. A year later he was following Farragut over the torpedo beds and past the forts in the battle of Mobile Bay.

Clark's naval career was varied. He was shipwrecked off the coast of British Columbia in 1868 when the Suwanee foundered, and through the loss of his superior officers became commander of the 33 survivors. He organized them into a defensive party to hold off 400 hostile Indians until rescue arrived. He watched the Spaniards, whom he was later to engage in battle, bombard Valparaiso and Callao; he served in the Pacific, West Indies and Asiatic stations; was attached to the Brooklyn, Mare Island and Portsmouth navy yards, and instructed a class at Annapolis. He spent three years in surveying the North Pacific coast, and four years in inspecting light-houses.

He, on board the Oregon, helped to destroy the Spanish fleet at Santiago, and was advanced six numbers in rank for his distinguished services. At the age of 59 he again was advanced in rank, seven numbers, and promoted to Rear Admiral.

Rear Admiral Clark rounded out his career as commander of the League Island navy yard; as governor for Philadelphia; and as president of the Naval Examining and Retiring Board. He was retired from the active service in 1905, on his 62d birthday.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR NEW WAGE AGREEMENT

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Negotiations for new wage working agreements with Western railroads were begun at a conference of the General Managers Association. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, L. E. Sheppard, president of the Conductors, W. M. Jeffers, general manager of the Union Pacific headed the committee which represented the principal lines west of the Mississippi. Negotiations were started last February but were dropped when the shopmen struck.

TROOPS TO WITHDRAW

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—An immediate mutual agreement to suspend all movements of troops was expected here today. This is to be the first outcome of the Mudania Armistice Conference which is to meet tomorrow. The conference will discuss occupation of Eastern Thrace by detachments of interallied troops during the Greek army's withdrawal.

CONCERTED FIGHT ON WEEVIL PLANNED

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 30.—Concerted action to permanently exterminate the boll weevil in Texas will be taken by about 30 farming and business organizations at a meeting here Saturday.

Texas has lost approximately $100,000,000 annually in the past three years from the ravages of this pest, according to James Z. George, vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

A plan will be formed for starting the weevil by a simultaneous cutting down of all stalks just before the weevil's liberation, George said.

OLD FRIEND'S LETTER

Nacogdoches, Texas, Sept. 29, 1922
Editor Sentinel:

Having been about quite a lot recently in different parts of the state, I will tell you a little of what I have seen. The privilege of making those trips, and the pleasure I have received from them, was granted me by the railroads over whose lines I traveled and who have ever been kind to us in the Confederate Home. From Austin over the I. & G. N. to Fort Worth, then the Fort Worth & Denver to Wichita Falls, then the Wichita Falls Valley to Stamford on all sights ran, then to Spur over the Northwestern at the foot of the plains. From Spur to my destination thirty-five miles in an auto, Crosbyton. At this place on the plains I found my friends and relatives and with them I spent a couple of months and enjoyed myself to the extent of my ability to get about. This was quite a lengthy trip and at its end I was pretty well exhausted. There are autos at almost every home on the plain, the roads good and resting a while, I rode about considerably inhaling the cool breeze and soon I was about normal. All along the way up there it was very dry and the crops looked anything else but promising and on my return a couple of months later it was pitiful to see the women and children in the hot sun from the car windows picking at the cotton bolls about the size of hickory nuts. This month has certainly been had on Texas from the Gulf to the plains and there on. There was an occasional spot where rain had been a little shower of the ground was very low and things looked better. On the plains there was a much larger acreage of cotton than usual owing to their wheat failing to come up because of the dry weather and the result for them will be a larger crop of cotton than ever before if they can save it.

Their feed crops, kaffir and maize, are very indifferent. Their farms are generally large, cultivated by machinery, the pasturage great and not so many people. The chances are they will get through. The man who has tilled the soil anywhere in Texas this year, 1922, and has produced anything to eat or that can be made to wear, is entitled to the highest price for he has certainly been up against it in my opinion. The town or village along the way seem to be flourishing especially Fort Worth, which has become a great city and can say that even now with truth as does her neighbor. Its in Fort Worth. Its a fact all these seem to be growing while to one passing along the country seems to be on the decline. It may be the crop prospects this year produces this kind of feeling, but too many are leaving the farms for their own and their country's good. The plains in the winter are disagreeable—but in the summer delightful. They are also the most healthy and productive part of Texas. Anything will grow with less moisture and work and there is always a gentle breeze to fan the man at the hoe or plow. Some day they will sustain a great population.

Now here, in Nacogdoches town and county I am glad to see such evidence of prosperity and you should be thankful for you are almost especially blessed. You have made plenty of corn, potatoes, beans and peas to eat with pig in the pens for meat. Your cotton crop to me is a surprise. Old East Texas, wet or dry, always turns up with a living.

UNIQUE FOR TEXAS

From the Houston Chronicle
Whatever else may be thought of it, George E. B. Peddy's campaign for United States senator is bound to furnish Texas with a unique experience.

Lodged in a tangle of political paradoxes, it can hardly fail to shake some of those pet traditions which we have come to regard almost in the light of law.

Because of a peculiar set of circumstances, the republican party finds itself compelled to pick up an independent democrat; and, for precisely the same reason, independent democrats find themselves unable to put a candidate on the ticket save through the republican nomination.

A ku kluxed democratic machine on one hand, and love of party regularity on the other, tends to confuse the situation.

Thousands of citizens, if not hundreds of thousands, find themselves completely bewildered.

Disagreeing completely with the faction now controlling Texas democracy, the party pledge stares them in the face. They are still trying to decide whether it is right to vote against their convictions because of this pledge or to vote for them in spite of it.

They have come to that thin line of duty where partisanship leaves off, and citizenship begins.

To swallow the regular democratic candidate in spite of a ku klux brand, or to bolt in order to rid both the party and the state of such an incubus, is the all-important question.

On its answer depends the size of Mr. Peddy's vote.

Other states have had their splits and flarebacks, but Texas has gone along a smooth and easy rut.

Not for nearly 50 years has there been so much as respectable opposition to the regular democratic ticket, and with this condition the state's vote has grown proportionately smaller and smaller.

In the last election, Missouri, with a million less population, cast 1,300,000 ballots. Texas never cast 800,000 in her life.

In the last election, Kentucky, with about one-half the population of this state, cast 900,000 ballots, while Indiana cast 1,200,000.

We claim to be 100 percent American in Texas, but fail to prove it by the size of our vote.

There is a feeling that the colored population presents a clear alibi, but it doesn't.

Eliminating the 700,000 or 800,000 negroes who dwell within her borders, Texas still has a greater population than Indiana, Missouri or California. Yet, Texas has never cast anywhere nearly as great a vote, either at an election or a primary, as these states.

Manifestly, we need some stirring up. Manifestly, the indifference of people toward public affairs is more dangerous than any issue that can arise.

At any event that promise to shake us out of our lethargy is good, and if the Peddy campaign does that, it will have served a bigger purpose than any particular issue involved.

It were better and safer for this state to have the people vote, than to have them lined up, tagged and delivered from year to year by a party machine which can easily fall into the hands of an organized minority.

We need parties to express ourselves in an organized way, but first of all we need something to express and the spirit that will express it. To let the vehicle run away with the thing it is supposed to carry, to let the party become paramount to individual opinion under any and all circumstances, is to give the government over to political groups. This is one of the possible contingencies that George Washington took pains to warn us against.

What Texas voters may do in regard to Mr. Peddy's candidacy or what democrats may decide as to a party pledge, is difficult to forecast. It may be well to state, however, that if so-called party loyalty were to be applied to the country at large, our form of government would become immobile, impractical and impossible.

Two years ago, for instance, Mr. Harding received something like 16,000,000 votes as opposed to 9,000,000 for Mr. Cox. If those who voted the republican ticket were to remain loyal, the democrats couldn't hope to gain control of the government in 1,000 years.

Independence is the only factor that enables us to make a change in our government, and it works just the same way and serves just the same ends within the state or within the party, as it does within the nation.

Dengue fever is now raging in many places in Texas. The dengue fever fills a fellow with aches and makes him long to shuffle off this mortal coil and live in a better world. But dengue fever has not provoked men to as much profanity as the oil fever and the auto fever.—Honey Grove Signal.

AU REVOIR, 67TH CONGRESS

The sixty-seventh congress has recessed and will give itself and the country a much-needed rest. Unfortunately there is prospect that the president will call it into extra session in mid-November. More unfortunately, the sixty-eighth congress, which is certain to be an improvement, will not regularly convene until December of 1923, unless the president should summon it earlier, which is almost inescapable.

If ever any congress has deserved the name of the "do-nothing" congress it is the sixty-seventh. The supreme achievements of this congress have been a revenue bill that was accepted with loathing by Penrose himself, then chairman of the senate's finance committee, and a tariff bill that, 20 months in the making, receives the condemnation of many of the most powerful republican leaders and newspapers. Third in importance among the achievements of the sixty-seventh session has been the passage of a bonus bill in a form which it was known in advance the president was sure to veto.

The trouble with the sixty-seventh session has been that it became possessed very early of buck fever at the prospect of a political reversal in 1923. The only course that could have averted such a reversal was one of conscientious attention to the public business upon a basis of common sense and merit. Instead of pursuing such a course, congress as a body entered upon an orgy of political logrolling, double-crossing and pandering for votes without parallel in recent history. The sixty-seventh congress tried to carry water on both shoulders and, not having the intelligence for the task, spilled it.

A number of the familiar faces in the counsels of the national legislature were erased in the primaries. More stars will go into eclipse in November. The nation has had enough of demagogues and political figureheads and will settle down to the business of electing a few congressmen of intelligence, courage and independent judgment.

The alien must remember that those of us who were born on this side also have a few rights under the constitution.

The man who wants to say something foolish never seems to look for opportunities.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Our word for it!
You'll never know how delicious
Corn Flakes can be till you eat Kellogg's

Positively—the most joyously good any-time-cereal any man or woman or child ever put in their mouths!
Such flavor, such crispness! Such big sunny-brown Corn Flakes! How you'll relish a generous bowl-filled-most-to-overflowing; and a pitcher of milk or cream!

Never was such a set-out! Never did you get such a universal vote as there'll be for Kellogg's Corn Flakes! Big folks and little folks will say "Kellogg's, please, mother!" Leave it to their tastes —and yours! Prove out all we say!

For, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a revelation in flavor; a revelation in all-the-time crispness! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! Insist upon KELLOGG'S—the original Corn Flakes—the kind in the RED and GREEN packages!

The Good Roads Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will attend these meetings as above indicated for the purpose of submitting the proposed plan of road improvement for Nacogdoches county.

GOOD ROADS ENDORSED

The Good Roads Committee from the Chamber of Commerce explained the proposed plan of road improvement to a group of Appleby citizens assembled at Bethel church Wednesday, and secured practically a 100-percent endorsement of the plan.

Among those who spoke publicly for the plan were John Westberry, Bob Crawford, B. Melton and others.
The Appleby people take the position that they could not afford to oppose any reasonable plan to give other sections of the county the same quality and kind of road that Appleby enjoys.

ELECTION NOTICE

Whereas, on the 11th day of September, A. D. 1922, the Commissioners' Court of Nacogdoches county, Texas, at a regular term of said court granted a petition signed ed by more than fifty (50) qualified voters and freeholders of Appleby Independent School District No. 72 and Happyland School District No. 68 adjoining and now consolidated with Appleby Independent School District, and both school districts there adjoining and being consolidated, in Nacogdoches county, Texas, praying for an election for said designated territory to determine whether or not horses, mules, jacks, jennets and cattle shall be permitted to run at large within said territory, which territory was,
by the Commissioners' Court, set aside and designated for Stock Law purposes, a subdivision of Nacogdoches county, and said election was ordered to be held for said Appleby and Happyland Consolidated School Districts on the 21st day of October, A. D. 1922.

Now, therefore, I, J. M. Marshall, in my official capacity as County
Judge of Nacogdoches County, Texas, do hereby, in obedience to said order of said court, order that an election be held for said Appleby Independent School District and Happyland School District consolidated on the 21st day of October, A. D. 1922, at the new school house in and near the town of Appleby in said district, to determine whether or not horses, mules, jacks, jennets and cattle shall be permitted to run at large within the limits of said Appleby and Happyland School

How Malaria Fever is Taken

How do these malaria parasites get into the blood?

In only one way: Through the bite of a mosquito. Malaria is not acquired by eating improper food, by drinking bad water, bathing in the sun or in any other way than by the bite of a mosquito. True, if one already has malaria, that is, has these parasites already in the blood, doing these things will develop it—"bring it out" —so that he may have a malarial attack which he could otherwise escape;
but only if he is already infested with malaria.

Do all kinds of mosquitoes transmit malarial parasites to man?

No. Only Anopheles mosquitoes carry malaria, and only some kinds of Anopheles.

Are mosquitoes born with this power of carrying malaria?

No. They acquire it only by biting a man who has these parasites in his blood. The parasites are taken from a man by a mosquito and go back from the mosquito to another man where the parasites first started we do not know.

How then does malaria spread?

Exactly like yellow fever. A female mosquito of a certain kind feeds on a man infested with malaria and sucks up his blood with malarial parasites in it. She can not convey malaria to those whom she bites for some days (a week or more) after this, but after waiting a while (the reason for which will be told later) she injects these parasites into other men whom she bites and infects them with malarial fever.

What, then, is necessary to spread malarial fever?

LITTELL'S

It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbe which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely.

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Tetter, Barber's Itch, Psori-asis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyance caused by chilgers and mosquito bites.

In the treatment of ECZEMA
—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known.

A clear colorless liquid that will heal wounds, cuts, sores and galls is the latest and best production of medical science. Ask for Liquid Borozone, it is a marvel in flesh healing remedies. Price 30c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Swift Bros. & Smith.

WHAT IS THE REASON FOR THIS?

For more than seven years, by distributing explanatory literature at an expense of hundreds of dollars, I have been trying to tell the people of this community, that Osteopathy is as effectual in ACUTE as it is in CHRONIC diseases. That there is no other known treatment that equals Osteopathy in controlling fever—be it DENGUE, typhoid or any other; and yet, most of them seem to have missed the vision. Why is this? Is it a lack of thinking seriously, of failing to investigate, or what is it? Why this sleeping on so vital a fact? Osteopathic adjustment prevents as well as cures. Which is the wisest course, to render one's system immune, by a few adjustments, or to just let the disease take hold and right it afterwards? It is a matter of record, that during the Flu-pneumonia epidemic, those who were under Osteopathic care during, or just previous to the outbreak, did not take the influenza, while all other members of the same family did. Why was this? There was a reason. It is a well established fact, too; that during the epidemic an accurate record of hundreds of thousands of cases under Osteopathic treatment, showed a fatality of less than one-half of one percent. While no other mode of treatment showed a mortality of less than TEN percent. These are statistical facts, not just loose statements.

Do they mean anything? Because of his ability to influence the nerve centers in the spinal cord, which control the great blood and lymph streams in the body, the Osteopath's conquering of fever, is much like pouring water on a fire to extinguish it. Both will do the work if enough of the remedy is used. Truly, none are so blind as those who will not see. Here is hoping that a little inquiry and investigation, will roll the clouds away, and clear the horizon enough to permit the visualizing of a vital and important truth. ALL CURABLE diseases are amenable to Osteopathic treatment.

Thank you,
Dr. Bruce.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks and appreciation for the assistance rendered us by the doctors and our dear neighbors, who were so faithful during the severe illness and death of our darling Sammy Lane. May God's richest blessings rest upon you and when sorrow comes your way, our prayer is that you may possess as many sympathizing friends who will stand by you in your dark hours.

MILLARD THOMAS

News came from Dallas Monday (too late for the paper) that at 11:30 that morning Mr. Albert Langston Thomas and Miss Lera Millard were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the First Methodist Church at that place.

This unites two of the oldest and best families in our county. Mr. Thomas is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Thomas, who, after he graduated here in high school finished with honors at Rice Institute, after which he spent two years at Harvard.

Mr. Thomas served in the world war and received his commission of lieutenant before he was twenty-one.

Miss Millard is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Millard, being one of the most beautiful and accomplished daughters of the state over which she has enjoyed quite a deal of popularity, her education came from Brenau College, Atlanta, Ward-Belmont, Nashville; and the University of Alabama.

Thus the romance began here in high school culminated in marriage and after a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be at home to their many friends whom the Sentinel joins in wishing them all the joy and happiness that comes with a long and useful life.
