COLLISION ON S. P.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—A Southern Pacific Railroad passenger train, west-bound from New Orleans, crashed into the rear end of the Sells Floto Circus special train early today near Adeline, La., according to reports reaching here. Four persons were killed and five seriously injured. The fast passenger smashed a number of sleeping cars on the circus train, a number of the occupants of which were killed or injured while asleep.

Said a Mouthful

During war time a lady went into a meat market and asked for 15 cents worth of porterhouse steak. The butcher replied: "Madam, you said a mouthful."

Of course the butcher was sarcastic and not any too polite. If we desired to "say a mouthful" to the people of this community it would be condensed into the statement that the dollar saved and deposited at our Bank will prove one of the best friends you can make in a life time. Just try it and see.

SECOND INJUNCTION IS ISSUED AGAINST MAYFIELD

Fairfield, Freestone County, Texas, Oct. 30.—A temporary injunction seeking to keep the name of Earle B. Mayfield off the ballot as nominee of the Democratic party for the United States Senate in the general election November 7 was granted by Judge A. M. Blackmon in the Seventy-Seventh District Court here shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and final hearing was set for November 1 in the district court at Groesbeck.

The injunction was issued out in the name of County Attorney L. E. Eubanks of Limestone county.

The petition was filed with the clerk of the Seventy-Seventh District Court at Groesbeck Saturday morning Judge Blackmon being engaged in holding court at Fairfield Saturday, the writ was brought here and presented to the judge in the afternoon. Both Freestone and Limestone counties are in Judge Blackmon's district.

"In effect, the injunction granted by this court is similar to that at Corsicana, with the exception that it was sued out in the name of a county officer, the county attorney of Limestone county," said Judge Blackmon, after the proceedings were over.

The new restraining order is directed against the Secretary of State, S. L. Staples and all county judges and members of county boards having to do with the printing of the ballots, and restrains them from certifying the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the ballot.

"The hearing was set for November 1, in order to give the defendants time to show cause, if any, why the injunction should not be made permanent," Judge Blackmon said.

The case is styled the State of Texas, ex rel, by L. E. Eubanks, county attorney of Limestone county, vs. E. L. Staples, secretary of state, and all election boards in Texas. The suit was brought on affidavits by William Kennedy and Robert Hanna, described as citizens of Groesbeck.

STOP PRINTING OF BALLOTS

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 31.—The printing of ballots with the name of Earle B. Mayfield as the democratic nominee for the United States senate, which was started in probably 100 or more printing shops Saturday, was not resumed Monday morning in many of those shops, due to the granting of an injunction at Fairfield late Saturday restraining the printing of Mayfield's name. County clerks over the state were advised by Luther Nickels, leading counsel for the anti-Mayfield forces, of that court's action and his unofficial telegram is generally deemed sufficient to stop the printing. It has been held that if a person who has been enjoined learns of the injunction from any source the injunction becomes operative without any further notice, it is pointed out.

Warning Telegraphed.

Copies of the following telegram were sent by Johnson Wakefield, district clerk of Limestone county, to all county judges as ex-officio chairmen of county election boards.

"Acting under the directions of court, you are respectfully advised that Hon. A. M. Blackmon, judge of the Seventy-Seventh Judicial Court of Texas, did this day grant an injunction against each member of your body prohibiting and enjoining you from in any manner, directly or indirectly, receiving from defendant S. L. Staples, secretary of state, or otherwise the certification of name Earle B. Mayfield, as nominee or candidate or otherwise upon any or all of the official ballots to be used at such general election, and from furnishing to any election judge or clerk any such official ballots with the name of Earl B. Mayfield printed or placed thereon or from receiving, distributing, printing or using or permitting the use of official ballots at said general election containing the name of Earle B. Mayfield as the democratic candidate or nominee for office of United States senator or otherwise; and has set the case for further hearing at Groesbeck, Texas, on Wednesday, November 1, at 10 o'clock."

EFFORTS TO HALT INJUNCTION FAILS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 31.—A petition for leave of file a writ of mandamus, filed in the supreme court last night, by Attorney General Keeling, was overruled by the court at 8:45 o'clock last night. The petition sought to restrain District Judge A. M. Blackmon of the seventy-seventh district court from proceeding with the injunction suit filed Saturday, seeking to prevent county election officials from printing the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the official ballot.

The application for leave to file petition was filed by Attorney General Keeling last night, but the nature of the proceedings was not made known until the court rendered its decision.

The application declared that the district court acted beyond its jurisdiction in granting the temporary injunction restraining election officials from printing Mayfield's name on the ballot. It also declared that the plaintiffs in the injunction suit did not have sufficient interest to bring the suit and to maintain it. Assistant Attorneys General John C. Wall and L. C. Sutton joined in the application. The decision of the court in overruling the attorney general's attempt to prevent further proceedings in the injunction suit came after an extended conference between Keeling, Wall, Sutton and the members of the court. All three of the judges were present when the motion was taken under consideration and concurred in the action overruling the motion.

Along with the attorney general's application was a copy of the brief submitted by the state in the hearing before the supreme court last week on the Corsicana injunction suit. The appeal bond for the attorney general's application was signed by Travis county election board members.

The supreme court's action last night in overruling Attorney General Keeling's motion for leave to file had no written opinion as is customary in such motions and assigned no reasons for the action.

TO REOPEN CONSULATE

London, Nov. 1.—Ambassador Harvey, it is learned from authoritative quarters, has received a note from the British government regarding the case of the American consulate at Newcastle, which was closed last summer. The note states that Great Britain is ready to compromise by withdrawing the charges against the consulate officials for discriminating against British shipping if the United States will reopen the consulate and replace Consul Slayter, Vice Consul Brooks and others.

It is understood the note suggests that Great Britain and the United States reach an agreement regarding the scope permitted American consular officials in drumming up trade for the United States. The question thus assumes a much broader aspect than the Newcastle consulate issue.

FUNDS FOR T. & P.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The receivers for the Texas & Pacific Railroad were authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to assume liability for the payment of interest and principal on $10,000 in 5 percent equipment trust certificates. With the funds from the sale of these securities and from other sources the road is being provided with about $1,000,000 worth of new equipment.

CYCLONE IN MISSOURI

Webb City, Mo., Nov. 1.—Efforts were continued today to find the bodies of four persons believed to have lost their lives in a tornado which swept the city just after midnight. One woman is known to have been killed and 15 persons injured and 30 houses demolished. The dead is Mrs. Nancy Frad, aged 52, and the seriously injured Mrs. Emma Lett.

REBEL LEADER EXECUTED

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 1.—General Francisco Murguía, the revolutionary leader, captured last night at Trehuanos, Durango, was executed by a firing squad at 9 o'clock this morning, according to a telegram from Mexico City.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST STAPLES, KEELING

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30.—A motion requesting that Secretary of State Staples and Attorney General Keeling be cited to appear and show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court was filed in the Court of Civil Appeals here today by W. W. Nelms, counsel for C. E. King and others. The motion is based on the notice to election officials Saturday from Staples saying to place the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the ballot. It is alleged that the action of the state officials was premature and was taken before final entry of judgment in the Court of Appeals setting aside the temporary restraining order granted at Corsicana.

Citation Prepared

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—The motion citing Attorney General Keeling and Secretary of State Staples for contempt in certifying Earle B. Mayfield's name before final action by the Navarro District Court has been prepared, according to a message received by Keeling from Luther Nickels, attorney for the anti-Mayfield motion, today. The message said the motion will be filed at Corsicana unless the state officials take steps rescinding their action in certifying Mayfield's name. Keeling and Staples conferred this morning on the new injunction granted at Fairfield seeking to keep Mayfield's name off the ballot. Staples answered inquiries from county officials saying to withhold printing the ballots as long as possible to await court action on the injunction.

Would Set Aside Injunction

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—Documents seeking to set aside the Fairfield injunction order were being prepared by Assistant Attorney General Sutton today.

Mayfield at Groesbeck.

Port Worth, Texas, Oct. 30.—Attorneys and campaign managers for Earle B. Mayfield conferred here today to decide whether Mayfield will go to Groesbeck November 1st for the hearing of the Mayfield injunction case. Mayfield announced he would be guided by the advice of the conference. No decision had been reached at noon. However, it became known that a petition seeking the dissolution of the injunction had been prepared and sent to Dallas.

MAYFIELD THREATENS COURT WITH KU KLUX KLAN

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30.—Words of bitter denunciations aimed at the name of District Judge Hawkins Scarbrough of Corsicana from the mouths of Earle B. Mayfield and W. P. McLean, Jr., and responding hisses and boos from the audience brought political fervor to a high state at Fair Park Coliseum Saturday night, when more than 5,000 persons crowded that auditorium to its walls in a Democratic rally.

During the course of his address, Mr. Mayfield referred to "one Hawkins Scarbrough, a disgrace to the judiciary of this State, who ought to be impeached."

There were cries from the crowd of: "Let the klan have him." "Let the Ku Klux Klan get to him."

And Mr. Mayfield replied: "They came very near to getting him down at Corsicana. I'd just like to have Judge Hawkins Scarbrough tell the people of Texas just what the Ku Klux Klan said to him."

INJUNCTION TOO LATE, STAPLES REITERATES

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—The injunction granted at Fairfield late Saturday restraining Secretary of State Staples from certifying Earle B. Mayfield's name for the general ballot, and restraining county election boards from using official ballots bearing Mayfield's name came too late to touch Staples, he declared today.

Secretary Staples reiterated his statement Saturday that he completed certifying Mayfield's name to all county clerks Saturday morning and that the matter was entirely out of his hands before he learned of the new restraining order. He said that he would, however, be guided by advice of the attorney general's department. Attorney General W. A. Keeling declined to make any comment on the new legal move.

MAYFIELD'S NAME WILL GO ON THE BALLOT

Cited for Contempt
Dallas, Texas, Nov. 1.—Secretary of State S. L. Staples and W. A. Keeling, attorney general, were yesterday afternoon cited to appear in the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals at 10 o'clock Monday, November 6, and show cause why they should not be adjudged in contempt of court by the Court of Appeals.

The citation of the secretary of state and attorney general followed motion for such action filed by counsel for the parties who sought to keep the name of Mayfield off the ballots and grows out of the case originally filed at Corsicana, Texas. In the motion asking that the state officials be cited, it was alleged that Mayfield's name had been certified to the county election boards by the secretary of state, who had advised with the attorney general before final disposition of the injunction case pending in the Court of Appeals.

Injunction Set Aside

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 1.—The Fifth Court of Civil Appeals last afternoon ordered set aside the temporary restraining order granted by Judge A. M. Blackmon of the Seventy-Seventh District Court Saturday, which temporary order forbade the placing of the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the ballots as the democratic senatorial candidate.

The ruling was given on application of attorneys for Earle B. Mayfield. The hearing on the case pending at Groesbeck was set for today.

The order of the Court of Appeals ordering that the temporary restraining order be set aside, directed that Judge A. M. Blackmon, at Groesbeck, "is hereby ordered, commanded and required forthwith to vacate and set aside the order heretofore entered by him on the 28th day of October, 1922, in the cause of 'State of Texas ex rel Kennedy vs. Mayfield et al,' restraining said S. L. Staples and other defendants in said temporary injunction, and he, the Hon. A. M. Blackmon, judge of said district court, is ordered and directed to abstain and desist until after the final disposition of this case by this court, from entering any other order enjoining any defendants in said cause from doing any act, or acts, enjoined them in said order, which is herein directed to be vacated and set aside."

MAYFIELD'S NAME NOT AUTHORIZED ON TICKET

Austin, Texas, 1:35 p. m., Nov. 1.—The probability that mandamus action will be brought by attorneys for Earle B. Mayfield to compel election officials to print his name on the ballots is understood here to be the latest turn in the litigation involving Mayfield's candidacy. Attorneys for Mayfield conferred today with the attorney general and secretary of state. The action of the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals yesterday ordering the temporary injunction granted at Fairfield dismissed in itself does not permit the printing of Mayfield's name on the ballot, it was said.

McNAMARA LOSES JOB

Graham, Texas, Oct. 31.—Mike McNamara, deputy oil and gas commissioner here and star witness for plaintiffs in the recent Earle B. Mayfield injunction suit held at Corsicana, was notified by wire yesterday that his connection with the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission will cease after today. The message was from J. W. Hassell of Austin, chief of the division. McNamara has wired a request for information as to the cause for action.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR QUILTS

Rome, Nov. 1.—Vittorio Rolandi Ricci, Italian ambassador at Washington, has presented his resignation wishing to leave Premier Mussolini free to choose his own trusted men for such important posts. It developed today that Mussolini had replied to a letter of resignation from Count Sforza, ambassador at Paris, reproaching him for his action and asking him to remain at his post.

Here's another scientist hoping to say something to Mars, but what the country needs is more politicians who will say something to the point.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

THE PISTOL QUESTION

From the Houston Chronicle.

It is rare that a day passes that the Chronicle specials do not record some tragedy in which a pistol was employed as the weapon of death.

Apart from the apparently insignificant value set on human life which such tragedies reveal, it is but little less lamentable that the very possession of a pistol shows in many cases a contemptuous disrespect for the law. To carry a pistol, except under certain specified circumstances has been a violation of law for 52 years.

Very soon after the law went into effect its constitutionality was attacked in the Supreme Court.

The attack was based on the ground that it was violative of the constitutional right to keep and bear arms, but the contention was overruled and the law upheld.

At a recent meeting of the American Bar Association a report was made by a committee of able lawyers recommending that the sale of pistols be prohibited by statute law—a recommendation which has met widespread approval.

If we can fairly judge by the way many people act with regard to the law against liquor, it will be safe to venture the opinion that a statute forbidding the sale of pistols would be frequently violated or evaded.

However, if it will have the effect to decrease tragic violence, that it may be evaded or violated is not sufficient reason why it should not be enacted.

Its constitutionality would be far more doubtful than was the act which is now the law in Texas, because many thousands—indeed, it may be said millions—buy pistols only for the purpose of keeping them in their homes as a means of protection.

Prermitting a discussion of that question, the habit of pistol-carrying can be abolished, or at least its exercise materially lessened—by a method entirely in harmony with established legal principles and abundant precedents.

It is established law that if it be shown that the defendant in a case of homicide brought about the difficulty, or that he did some act that under all the circumstances was reasonably calculated to bring about a conflict or encounter, and in the course of the conflict the defendant is put to the necessity of killing his antagonist in order to save his own life, he may, nevertheless, be convicted, because, having provoked the difficulty he can not take advantage of his own wrong, and his plea of self-defense is held to be imperfect.

To illustrate the meaning intended to be conveyed, an actual case will be used. One man called another a liar, and the insulted man resented the insult with a blow of his fist.

In the course of the resulting encounter the man who was insulted and who struck the first blow killed his antagonist in order to save his own life. He was convicted of manslaughter, and the conviction was approved, on the ground that his action in resenting an insult with a blow, being unlawful, his right to self-defense was limited.

Applying this principle to the existing statute relating to self-defense, that statute should be amended by a provision to the effect that in any case of homicide where it is shown by the testimony that the homicide was committed with a weapon carried in violation of law, that fact should have the effect to limit the defendant's own right of self-defense.

If men knew that if they armed themselves with a pistol or a dagger, in violation of the law, and while so armed slew a fellow man, they could not invoke self-defense; that knowledge would "give them pause," and very few men would carry forbidden weapons.

TARIFF AND A PAIR OF SOCKS

There is a growing conviction that the Fordney-McCumber tariff law must have been framed upon the theory that everybody is rich. The previous tariff act, which was in operation over eight years, levied a tariff of 30 percent upon cheap cotton hose. Under that law the importations were practically nil and the manufacturers enjoyed a monopoly of the American market.

For many years the United States has led the world in the manufacture of hosiery and knit goods, due in part to the fact that we produce the raw material, while our foreign competitors buy it of us and pay the cost of transportation to their own mills. In 1920 we sold in foreign markets $61,373,445 worth of hosiery and knit goods, or 18 times more than we imported. The importations were mostly novelties, such as "English Gold" hose and "French Lace Fronts." The Fordney-McCumber tariff taxes average 68 percent, which is about twice the old rate and four times the total wage cost of manufacture in this country. In manufacturing these cheap cotton socks an American girl operates 25 automatic machines, turning out 150 dozen pairs daily, at two cents per dozen pairs. She makes $3 per day, which is the highest wage in the world for this kind of work, but the lowest production cost to the manufacturer.

The American Fair Tariff League estimates that the new tariff of hosiery is an invitation to the manufacturers to add $289,000,000 annually to their prices. These socks sold in 10 cent stores last July at 10 cents a pair. They are rapidly being withdrawn, and in a short time will entirely disappear from the ten-cent counter. With the old tariff amply protecting the American manufacturer of these cotton socks, the Fordney-McCumber tariff of four times the entire labor cost of manufacturing them looks very much like legalized graft under the guise of protection.

SUICIDE

Doctors are more apt to resort to suicide than members of any other profession. This is revealed by the latest suicide records, which show doctors at the head of the list among professional men.

Discussing this in American Medicine magazine, Dr. S. Dana Hubbard, of New York city, reaches the conclusion that occupational strain is the greatest in the medical profession.

A physician is in constant danger, dealing with diseases in their most advanced stages, especially the incurable kind.

And unthinking public overlooks this meritorious service. You never heard a doctor backing out of a case because he fears the malady, however dread. A lesson in courage and self-sacrifice for the good of humanity.

In proportion to numbers engaged in the profession, the suicide rate among doctors in 1921 was not much higher than among lawyers.

Suicides last year totaled 86 doctors and 57 lawyers. But there are many more doctors than lawyers.

Both professions require courage, and the will power of endurance. They have this in common; years of costly education, then years of comparative inactivity; sitting around waiting until they have a paying business built up.

Forty-five seems to be the average age of suicide. Hence it must be the danger year, the blackest hour that comes just before the dawn of success.

At 45 a man is beginning to grow weary, after years of dogged effort, and is apt to become discouraged unless constantly on his guard.

Discouragement brings brooding. And brooding may result in the fit of temporary insanity in which most suicides occur.

The suicide ignores the lesson of countless centuries, this being the lesson: There is always a way out of any trouble. No trouble endures for good. Luck changes as surely as the ocean tide turns.

The suicide is like a man who, at 4 in the morning, gives up hope that the sun ever will rise again.

A mighty lesson for all of us, this truth, that it is always blackest just before dawn. It is part of the wisdom we have inherited from the past. And it is eternally true.—Ex.

HAYS GETS SASSY.

One man orders his paper stopped because we dared to report the proceedings of the Klu Klux Klan ceremonies. It's a free country and thank God America believes in freedom of speech as he expressed himself freely when he stopped the paper. Anyway, we are glad he stopped it, for we failed, unfortunately, perhaps, when young to learn how to please disgruntles and we're entirely too old now to begin to learn. Anybody else dissatisfied with the Tribune, just holler. Two others have squalled since the above was written and we will surely be disappointed if one other we know of don't come thru.—San Augustine Tribune.

SAME EVERYWHERE

We frequently hear people complaining about the road bond taxes being so heavily felt. Certainly it takes taxes to build and maintain roads. But listen: Our roads have been here about five or six years, and during that period they have been worth untold thousands to Jacksonville and everybody in the town. Commercially Jacksonville has doubled in importance since the good roads were built, which helps every enterprise and individual living here. And we are still growing in importance. Ten years ago ten miles was a long day for a person to come to trade, but now they come thirty miles to transact their business.—Jacksonville Progress.

A SPOOL OF THREAD

Every woman who uses a spool of cotton thread will be interested to know that she is a patron of the English thread trust. She buys the most of her thread of the American Thread Company, which is declared by the American Fair Tariff League to be the United States associate of the trust, which is owned by the English Sewing Cotton Company, and operates several large factories in the United States.

In 1914 the United States tariff commission found that a spool of 2 1/2 yards of sewing thread wholesaled for 8.92 cents and retailed for 5 cents. In 1922 there are only 150 yards to the spool and the wholesale price is 4.29 cents—a quarter less thread and a third of a cent higher price per spool.

The American Thread Company's profits from 1916 to 1921 ranged from $2,237,900 per year to $5,205,000. The exports are four times greater than the imports. The old tariff was 15 percent on a spool of thread, with practically no foreign competition. The tariff fixed by the Fordney-McCumber law runs from 20 percent to 35 percent.

While these new duties were levied under the pretense of protecting American labor, the American Fair Tariff League, which advocates adequate but not excessive protection, asserts that in some cases the new tariff exceeds not only the entire cost of labor on a spool of thread, but the entire cost of manufacture. The British thread trust makes profit of more than $13,000,000 annually, and England is said to be thoroughly aroused over its excessive prices and profits. The new tariff taxes levied by the Fordney-McCumber law are well calculated to start a similar agitation among the users of cotton thread in America.

We are certainly going the limit when we extend the principle of protection to an English trust. Senators attempt to justify the increased tax on thread on the ground that the trust must be compensated for a duty, levied for the first time on long staple cotton, to protect the Arizona growers of this product. Thus it would seem that the housewives of America are to be thimble-rigged on their thread to protect a few growers of long staple cotton in Arizona.

THE TARIFF AND GINGHAM

The American Fair Tariff League, an organization that believes the tariff should equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad has contributed some highly interesting information to the dissection of the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Law. To illustrate how the new tariff law operates to increase the cost of living, it has taken a large number of articles in common use, including household necessities and wearing apparel, upon which the tariff taxes have been increased.

Apron gingham, the cheapest cloth for women's and children's dresses and working men's shirts, were taxed at 15 percent under the old law. By a system of compounding four separate rates, the Fordney-McCumber law makes the tax 3 1/2 percent upon these cheap gingham.

There was no foreign competition in gingham under the old tariff at 15 percent as none were imported, due to the fact that we make gingham cheaper here than any other country in the world. Behind the new tariff wall the New England manufacturers will be able to raise prices to suit themselves with no fear of competition. Their monopoly of the domestic market will be complete.

The people will have to pay the increased price of gingham will naturally wonder why the tariff was raised 110 percent to protect the American manufacturers from competition that does not exist. An answer may be found in the admission of Senator Smoot on the floor of the senate that the committee adopted the cotton goods schedule, word for word, as it was prepared by ex-Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island, one of New England's prominent manufacturers.

The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, New Hampshire, makes these gingham in large quantities, and it is reported to own the richest and most profitable cotton mill in America. Published figures show that this company has increased its capital out of profits from $4,000,000 to $44,500,000, and that during the last eight years. Possibly our lawmakers justify this additional tax burden upon the backs of the people on the ground that this is another "infant" industry that should be given a decent start in life.

The laudation of congress by the white house was all right, of course, and possibly just had to be done to help bolster up a tottering administration, but it interrupted some G. O. P. members who are up for re-election when they were right in the middle of their alibi.

OH, YOU KANSAS

It's too bad that Kansas had not been admitted to the Union when Paris whisked Helen away to Troy. A Kansan would have averted the whole Trojan war, and the Iliad and the Odyssey; a few thousands years later, too, a Kansan would have saved all that romantic nonsense of Romeo and Juliet, when Shakespeare mixed into the difficulties between the Montagues and the Capulets.

For we all know that it's an ill blizzard in Kansas that blows no new laws. And now from Kansas comes a movement that deserves the most earnest support of all persons who hold to the doctrine that they know better than any one else how to handle that other person's affairs.

The 1922 law which comes out of Kansas is an anti-petting law. It is being drafted by no less a personage than John Wall of Parsons, president of the Kansas Anti-Horse-Thief Association. The proposed law provides that the state may seize any automobiles in which petting is discovered in the same way that the government now seizes cars carrying liquor. When the Anti-Horse Thief Association was formed, stealing of horses was the gravest of all crimes. Thanks to Mr. Wall and a few minor circumstances horse-stealing has practically been eliminated. And it is proper that attention be turned to the next gravest evil.

It must not be thought that the petting evil is understood only by such far-seeing organizations as the Anti-Horse Thief Association. The gravity of the situation is appreciated by those acute politicians who are quick to seize upon popular issues as means to ride into office. None other than John W. McAlpine is relying solely on the anti-petting issue to obtain election. He is a candidate for justice of the peace in Winchell county, Kansas, a county which is infested with petters from both Kansas City, Kansas, and Kansas City, Mo.

Petting threatens to become important. It has been going on for some six thousand years. Or is it six million? It is time to stop it—at least the petting the other people do.

CHILDREN'S SAVINGS

From the Shreveport Journal.

The school children of America saved more than $5,775,000 in the school year 1921-22, according to figures compiled by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers' Association. The increase in the results of their thrift is 40 percent over the preceding year, and 100 percent more than the total for the year 1919-20.

One city, Louisville, Ky., reports that 98 percent of its 100,000 children have savings accounts. Wilkes Barre, Pa., claims first honors on the basis of individual deposits averaging $7.54.

It is a good sign. The acquisition of the habit of systematic thrift means as much in future happiness as does the mastery of the three R's, and since American parents show a tendency to neglect the teaching of thrift, we should give thanks that the American schools have tackled the job with such success.

It is a fact well recognized that the man with money in the bank is a poor prospect for the radical agitator. Under the circumstances, school savings work must take high rank as an effective means of Americanization.

HELP YOUR TOWN

No town, country or community will ever prosper where there is a diversion of strife of any nature. In helping others you invariably help yourself. "Opposition is the life of trade" and merit wins. No town will prosper and grow where a lack of enterprise and push on the part of its citizens is felt. The true motto of each an every citizen of a town is and should be to assist and help your neighbors, encourage business of all kinds—there's no danger of gouging the market in this line—units in the matter of improvement, in making the town attractive and giving it a homelike appearance.

When this is done, people from a distance will form a good opinion of the place and it will be an inducement for them to locate with us and become permanent and substantial citizens.—Exchange.

ARE YOU ALWAYS RIGHT?

Are you always right in your judgment? Many people think they are—no person ever is. Nineteen hundred years ago we had one perfect man, whose judgment was never at fault. Because of this perfection He died upon a cross, his agony shared by thieves. Since then the world has never known another. Why, then, should we, humble mortals that we be, imagine that our judgment is never at fault, or that we are incapable of falling into error? The next time you get into argument, and lose your temper, and are on the point of resorting to force, stop and think of the years that have flown since the manger ennobled the beginning and the blood-stained cross witnessed the end of perfection in mankind. It is barely possible that you may sometimes be in error.

The unspoken objection a lot of presidential possibilities have to tossing their hats in the ring now is that they wouldn't have anything to talk through for a couple of years.

The Chicago professor who advocates short, loose clothes and a few of them for girls evidently believes in the liberal view.

It is generally understood that the word "protective," as in "protective tariff," is not intended in any way to refer to the consumer.

The weakness of "Stop, Look and Listen" signs at railroad crossings is that they presuppose the ability to think.

As the congress that President to surpass New York, a situation which will make citizens of the latter city highly envious.

Americans are said to have dropped nearly a billion in German marks. It makes no particular difference where a sucker puts his money, as long as it is that kind of a proposition.

Mr. R. C. Gramling was celebrating his 77th birthday Monday, the 30th inst. He is still " hale and hearty," and the Sentinel hopes he may be with us to celebrate many more natal days.

HOGS AND POETRY

In Mississippi a profession has just been recognized, though for many decades its followers have been looked upon with something akin to respect. The profession is hog-calling.

Of course any farmer can go to the sty and cry "Sookie, sookie, sookie." He'll get results, too, if he has a pair of swill in his hand. But the hog caller of the South, as such, has a peculiar cry, one that entitles him to rank with those two other humble musicians, the gondolier of Venice and the herdsman of the Alps.

"You-u-u-oo-oo-o-o-o," goes the hog call. The moment is poetic, and we may forget what prosaic things hogs are. Adown the hills the echoes sought through the reddening pines. A voice has started the cry. Another picks it up in one direction, a third from a distance carries it on. In many a farm lot the hogs are trotting, the cows are slowly winding home.

So it is that in the town of Senatobia, Miss., a hog calling contest was held recently. The hog callers have developed voices, and the art of getting just the right note, the lingering insistence on the drawn-out cry, is a nice one.

Even hogs lend themselves to a poetic practice. There is nothing that we see every day, and call ugly and repulsive, that has not its beautiful side.

JAIL FOR PARENTS

Bermuda is jailing parents for the crimes of their children. A nine-year old boy, convicted of theft, is allowed to go free. His mother pays a fine and goes to jail a month for permitting him to become a thief. This is a typical case under Bermuda's new law, which is said to be working wonders.

Compulsory creation of parental feeling of responsibility would not be a bad thing in America. French detectives, dealing with adult crimes, say, "Find the woman." In juvenile crime the first rule should be "Find the parent."—Ex.

Returns being in from all parts of the country, it appears that the presidents was hardly justified in thinking the record of congress was anything to speak of.

600 PERCENT STOCK
DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—The Victor Talking Machine Company directors have declared a 600 percent stock dividend, announcement was made yesterday.

This action followed the recent authorization by stockholders to increase the common stock from $5,000,000 to $35,000,000.

The dividend will be payable to those stockholders of record of November 1, and the new stocks will be issued as soon as it is practicable to issue new certificates. Common stockholders will receive six shares for one now held.

SIXTH ANNUAL ROLL CALL

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 28.—The Red Cross Chapter at Texarkana, Texas, will conduct a unique parade to open its campaign for the Sixth Annual Red Cross Roll Call in this section this year. This will be a babies' exposition. The children's band will lead the parade of babies. There will be three trucks full of tiny babies from the rural districts and the town babies who cannot walk will be in decorated baby carriages. All the school children in the district as well as in the town itself will take part in the parade carrying banners and posters, many of which have been made by the children themselves.

The County Fair of Bowie County, Texas, also will be in progress at that time and the Red Cross Chapter has arranged a "parking space" for babies and children and will conduct a better babies' department and a baby show. Two handsome silver cups will be offered for the winner of the baby show.

This will be the initial move in the Roll Call Campaign, according to information received at the office of the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, from Texarkana. Roll call will begin on November 11th and continue until November 30. A Roll Call committee of prominent citizens of Texarkana will conduct the actual work of enrolling members for the Red Cross.

PREACHER IS SLAIN BY
WOMAN, WHO SUICIDES

Havre, Mont., Oct. 28.—Rev. Leonard Jacob Christler, rector of St. Mark's Church of the Incarnation, at Havre, the best known minister of Montana and widely known in the west as "the bishop of all out-doors", was shot and instantly killed in his home in Havre at 1 o'clock Friday morning by Mrs. Margaret Carleton, wife of former Judge Frank Carleton of the district court of Hill county, who then committed suicide, according to Mrs. Christler, wife of the rector.

MARTIAL LAW ON—OFF

London, Oct. 28.—Martial law was proclaimed in Italy today to take effect at noon, but the proclamation later was rescinded. This was stated in dispatches from the Stefani agency in Rome. It is explained that the withdrawal of the proclamation is the result of an improvement in the situation.

JUDGE RAMSEY'S FUNERAL

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—The funeral of Judge William F. Ramsey, federal reserve agent here, one of the most prominent bankers and jurists of the Southwest, will be held at his home here tomorrow. The body will be buried at Cleburne. He died last night, aged 67 years.

THE TARIFF AND A WORK SHIRT

It is estimated by those who have made a careful study of the subject that the new tariff taxes levied upon woolen goods by the Fordney-McCumber law add $300,000,000 annually to the clothing bill of the American people.

The most of our domestic woolen cloth is made in New England and the great bulk of our domestic wool is grown on the semi-arid lands of a few far western states. The statistics indicate that 17 percent of the farmers of the United States raise any wool, and that only 3 or 4 percent of them have large flocks. By a trading arrangement the members of congress from New England voted a high tax on wool and the members from the wool growing states voted for exorbitant taxes on woolen goods. Both of them got what they wanted in the new tariff law, and the consumer will get his when he buys the goods with the taxes added.

The hypocrisy and injustice of the wool and woolen goods tariff is well illustrated by taking an ordinary wool shirt worn by a workingman. It bears a tax under the Fordney-McCumber law of about 100 percent. It is made of 85 percent shoddy and 15 percent cotton. There is no virgin wool in it, yet the workingman is taxed 100 percent under the pretense of protecting the wool grower.

It is a beautiful combination. New England votes for a high tax on wool that increased the price of wool entering into the manufacture of cloth, and the western wool growing states vote to compensate the New England manufacturer with a high tariff on his finished product. And the workingman gets a shirt made of shoddy and cotton at an increased price! This sort of manipulation may help reactionary senators and representatives in a few states, but it does not help the American people. For $300,000,000 in additional taxes is quite a tidy sum. It would build 60,000 homes for American workingmen.

HARDING'S TRICK DIPLOMAT

Now it is the Ten Commandments and the souls of women that form the subject of amusement for President Harding's trick ambassador in London, Colonel George Harvey, who ordinarily confines himself to making light of America's part in the world war.

At a meeting of the Author's Club in the British capital the other night the man who holds the great office of representative of the United States at the Court of St. James seems to have served as clown. He took the position that women are not bound by any of the inhibitions of the Ten Commandments, and recommended that a new decalogue be devised at once for the spiritual government of femininity lest the latter discover what the Harding envoy regards as infernal permission for them to do things which men are forbidden to do.

The Fourth Commandment, he says, certainly does not apply to the housewife whose duty is to prepare the Sunday meals. As for the Tenth Commandment, he said: "The deliberate failure to forbid coveting thy neighbor's husband implies a positive permission to do so. This creates a distinction which is unfair."

It is not a proposition or interpretation to be dignified by detailed answer. It is enough that for thousands of years the Decalogue has been viewed as applying generally to the human race, as binding upon one sex as another. Should any need of revision of the language be recognized, there should be regard for fitness of occasion and surroundings for discussing it. In view of the sacredness of the Scriptures to hundreds of millions, it will scarcely be held that the Decalogue is a subject for comical treatment, and particularly by a person holding an office supposed to be marked by the greatest dignity.

J. E. Bates has sold his grocery and feed business, located at East Main and North Church streets, to the McLain-Adams Company, and the store was closed Monday while an invoice was being taken. The new company is composed of P. H. McLain, Mrs. Bessie Adams and her father, J. H. Parrish. An effort is being made to have the place in shape for business Wednesday, the 1st prox. Good luck and every success to the newcomers. Mr. McLain formerly engaged in the grocery business here with J. I. Chandler, under the firm name of McLain & Chandler.

FRIDAY'S GAME

'Doches 59 and Jacksonville Didn't
Leave Anything to Count

Brother Against Brother

Jesse Summers, 'Doches' greatest quarterback, was very much stuck up all during the entire game. It looked like he didn't want to associate with the other players. Every time he got the ball he would run off with it. He made two touchdowns and made several broken field runs from twenty to sixty yards. The side lines were crazy about his running. Every time he ran the side would go wild. C. B. Davis, that mighty full-back, followed Jacksonville's line for five touchdowns and 33 points. He ploughed Jacksonville's line twenty-two yards in six downs for his fourth touchdown. The sideline would holler "hit 'em, Crip," and through it he would go. Wild Cat Bates played great football. He accepted every pass that was thrown his way. It made no difference to him how hard or how wild they were, Wild Cat hung his ten claws in the ball every time, except one for a touchdown. Penman also made a pretty good pass for a touchdown. Brewer and also Summers did some good passing throughout the game. Captain Red Parrish, the only hawk-eyed high school football player in Texas. He always kept those beautiful vamp blue eyes on the ball. Through the entire game Red always knows just where the ball is all the time. He goes up in the air for the passes and on the ground for the fumbles. 'Doches' back field robbed Burrows of the prettiest and the longest pass. That was every pass except on 'Doches' field was a touchdown. Too bad that 'Doches' back field was off sided. Burrows played real college football. Baby Boy was in every play that was made, if he wasn't on top he was on the bottom. Jacksonville only made two first downs against 'Doches' star line and 'Doches' only lost two downs. Teutsch threw his helmet off, it was too soft for his head. He always tackled everything that came his way. He could tackle four and five just as easy as one. White Headed Cotton recovered several fumbles throughout Jacksonville's line. It always will be a mystery to 'Doches' fans how Red and Cotton get through the line. Bryan's line did hold these two boys last year and they both are better, playing better ball this year than last season.

Jeffries brothers, George left half for 'Doches and Ted, left end for Jacksonville. The brothers left their brotherly love on the side line and played great football against each other. Ted made lots of good tackles. He tackled his brother pretty hard. George to Ted, "I was surprised, little brother, you are a real football player." Ted to George, "If I am as good as you say mother certainly I ought to be proud of her sons for you are not such a bad player yourself." From the score you know that 'Doches' whole team played real ball, every man, and 'Doches' fans are real proud of their high school team. No editor could write up this game without saying something about 'Doches' yell leader, Miss Blount, and her assistant, Mr. Wilbur Fouts. Many points of the score should go to their credit. They let the boys know that 'Doches' is with them, throughout the entire game. Miss Blount is one among 'Doches' greatest yell leaders.

Jacksonville Team, you are a clean team. You have lots of good players, and you have proven to us that you love good, clean, straight football. You won a warm spot in our hearts if you didn't win the game. Each of you are real sports and we wish you oodles of good luck.

NACOGDOCHES COTTON GINNED

There were 12,685 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Nacogdoches county from the crop of 1922 prior to October 18, 1922, as compared with 5,744 bales ginned to October 18, 1921.

SACRED HARP SINGERS
HAVE GREAT MEETING

The Trio Sacred Harp Convention held one of its best sessions at West End Tabernacle Saturday night and Sunday.

This organization of Sacred Harp singers was formed a little more than a year ago by representatives of Nacogdoches, Cherokee and Angelina counties, hence the name "Trio." Since its organization Shelby and San Augustine counties have asked for membership, thus increasing it from three to five counties. The organization meets on every fifth Sunday throughout the year, and, in addition, holds one regular annual meeting for the election of officers.

The officers of the convention are: President, J. M. Childers, Wells; Vice President, W. A. Barr, Appleby; Secretary, J. R. Behannon, Lufkin, Chaplain, Rev. Geo. H. Hines, Lufkin.

Regular attendants at this convention were agreed that the session held at the West End Tabernacle was one of the best organization has yet held. The tabernacle is almost ideally suited for a convention of singers. The building is well lighted and splendidly ventilated and its acoustic properties are far above the average. The good people of the West End community had made every necessary preparation to entertain the singers. Homes were furnished all visitors and at the noon hour Sunday a wonderful spread was laid on improvised tables, and everyone was fed bountifully.

Among the visiting singers were noted the following:

From Rusk County—Jim Compton, Rev. M. L. Vaughn, Buck Buckner, Charles and John Pruitt. From Angelina County—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Behannon, I. C. Skillern, H. A. Atkinson, Rev. Geo. H. Hines, Geo. Townsend, Jim McComico, Dave Owens, Tucker brothers, Mrs. French Williams and Mrs. Reeves. From Polk County—Messrs. Kirby and Smith. From Shelby County—J. M. Yarbrough. From Logansport, La.—Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keer. From Henderson County—Wade Owens and son, Louis.

Among the local singers were V. A. and J. P. Barr, Appleby; L. N. Lyles and Mrs. Arthur Lyles, Cushing; D. P. Goldsberry and wife, Trawick; J. C. Melton, Mrs. Bart Shirley, Mrs. Claud Ivey, Mrs. Joan Ivey, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lambert, Warren Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Page, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Page, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Page, Mrs. Acey Palmer and son, T. A. Hargis, Judge Frank Marshall and Mrs. Bob Williamson from Garrison.

The "Sacred Harp" was the song hymns and soul-stirring songs of book of our fathers. Its wonderful praise were familiar to the members of this country.

The men and women who are preserving the songs of our fathers through organizations of this kind are rendering a genuine service to society. All honor and love and praise for the Sacred Harp singers, and may they live to enjoy many, many returns of the day spent at West End Tabernacle. They are always welcome to Nacogdoches.

The next session of the convention will be held at Wells, Cherokee county, on the fifth Sunday in December and on Saturday night prior.

ROCKS, AT TEN PACES,
FATAL TO WOLF

Texarkana, Texas, Oct. 30.—J. M. McKnight, who lives about one mile northeast of the North Heights school house, a suburb on the Arkansas side gray wolf which has indtained in the town, Saturday killed a large gray wolf which had invaded his barnyard and killed a chicken. Mr. McKnight had no firearms on the place, and attacked the animal with rocks, after hemming it up in a corner of the yard. G. L. Logan, a neighbor assisted him in pelting the wolf with rocks until it was dead. Shortly afterward a second wolf appeared in the road a few yards away, evidently seeking its mate, but when the men gave chase it outdistanced them and escaped into the woods.

We are quite convinced that Mr. Harding's cup is overflowing with bitterness when it includes kissing a congress which contains Henry Cabot Lodge.

ADVICE FOR WOMEN

Waco, Texas.—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a blessing when taken during expectancy. I have taken it and was scarcely sick at all, and was always strong afterwards. I have now come to the critical time of life, and so far my health is good. I do all of my own work at home, besides other work, and I feel I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If more women would use this medicine there would be fewer operations.—Mrs. Ida Kendall, 1005 South 16th St. Send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANTI-DROUGHT BODY TO BACK MOIST CANDIDATES

Washington, Oct. 30.—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment announced in a statement last night by G. C. Hinckley, secretary, that it would support the 249 candidates for the senate and house who stood for a modification of the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

In a preliminary statement 10 days ago the association listed 202 candidates. The additional 47 are running in eight states and the statement said the association "would immediately get behind them, as it already has done for others who have been endorsed."

THEY KNOW WHAT WAR IS

A few minutes before adjournment of their convention, American Legion delegates in New Orleans registered what is by all odds the most important conviction yet voiced by the organization. That is a stand, assumed without a dissenting voice, for an international court that will outlaw war. The significance of this conclusion can not be overestimated, especially since it was conceived by the Inter-Allied Veterans' Association composed not only of Americans, but of men representing the armies of her old allies.

While various civil agencies which condemn war may be quite able to appreciate the insane folly of it without direct participation, when the fighter himself, reared in the traditional belief that war is the heritage of the young and brave, brands it in his disillusion an unspeakable evil, the case against war is indeed complete.

In war the soldier achieves incredible heights of courage and self-sacrifice, and many, but not all, non-combatants feel a sublime ephemeral patriotism. That is war's sole saving grace. For no conflict ever was waged that was not rooted in the greed of one or both combatants. The mouth filling phrases, "glorious," "righteous" and so on are the old euphemisms to describe the worst activity of humans, as well as some of the best. Wars are conceived because greedy men promote them an dweak men are impotent to stave them off. But soldiers the world over since 1918 have grown to see that they are the ones who pay for wars and continue to pay until their generation is dead.

Before the late war was the plea of the peace-lover that civil power be kept from the hands of the soldier. Today there are no safer hands than those of former fighters. If the same antipathy to war voiced by the legion and its foreign comrades were universal, another conflict in this era would be impossible. These men have been most intimately associated with war, and their verdict against it is a conviction brought in the blood of their kind.

AGED MAN CREMATED

Denison, Texas, Oct. 30.—Andy Moody, 90 years old, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his home five miles east of here early today. Flames drove back neighbors who attempted a rescue.

One Washington report has it that Secretary Weeks has been discovered walking back and forth in his office with his head down and his hands in his pockets, suggestive for all that a man is trying to commit something or other to memory.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGE, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown of some kind. I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, trembly, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you. In the way it helped Mrs. Lange and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years. Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

From the Houston Chronicle.
Barring more legal quirks, it looks as though Mr. Mayfield's name would appear on the ballot; not because of the merit of his contentions, but because his case was tried in the wrong court, and because the state was not a party to it.
Why was the state not a party to it? Why, in the proceedings filed Saturday at Fairfield, did George Peddy's attorneys find it necessary to hunt up a county attorney willing to represent the state.
Whether Mr. Mayfield violated any law, or not, he has been so charged. The attorney general barred Mr. Peddy on legal grounds. Is there no action he can take as to Mr. Mayfield on the same grounds?
If Mr. Mayfield spent more than the law allows, whose business is it to make inquiry, and uphold the majesty of the law?
Why was the state so interested in the Peddy case, and so indifferent to that of Mayfield?
Whether the court had jurisdiction or not, or whether the "proper parties" instituted the suit, or not, a jury has answered certain questions.
Is that of no significance?
Is that to be ignored?
Are there no grounds why the state should re-open this case?
Or does the legal sunshine fail to fall on all alike?
Such meticulous care on one hand; such easy going liberality on the other.
Insofar as the act of 1913 governs primaries, it must be rigidly enforced. In so far as it governs campaign expenses, why worry?
Does it make some difference whose ox is gored?
Have we come to a pass where we discriminate in favor of groups?
People would do well to think about this aspect of the situation. It is more important that the man we elect senator.
It touches the vitals of democracy, of clean government, of confidence in the established justice.
Mr. Mayfield has been charged with conduct in contradiction of certain laws.
The accusation has been heightened in its color by a jury verdict.
Under such circumstances it appears strange that the law can do nothing, except to say that his case was tried in the wrong court or brought by the wrong parties.
If it were the opposition candidate, would the law be so self-contained?
But let us turn to the election, where the people get their day in court.
Though the law has discredited Mr. Mayfield to a certain extent, it has saved him.
Though the law has not discredited Mr. Peddy, it has barred him.
Now comes the voters with their sharpened pencils.
Their opinion will not be limited to a matter of jurisdiction.
They will judge the issue on its merit and on its merit alone.
Those of them who can't write will be compelled to vote for Mr. Mayfield, or cast a straight republican ticket. Some, we suspect will choose the latter course.
Those of them who can write will exercise a free choice.
No illiterate can vote for Mr. Peddy.
Every illiterate who votes the democratic ticket must vote for Mayfield.
And after the election is over, Mr. Mayfield must face the United States senate, if he comes out victorious.
He must face the United States senate with the jury verdict on record, with the admission of membership in the klan, with the acknowledgment that he attended meetings of the klan after he resigned.
He must face the United States senate with a republican majority, and with both parties bidding for the Catholic and Jewish vote of the North and East.
He must face the United States senate with all the contingencies of politics as politics is played on a national scale, and with the admission that he would not be there but for some pretty sharp political play in Texas. (Political Advertisement)

Texas Women
Joining Stella
Vitae Campaign

Mrs. Katie Hill of San Antonio Tells Her Experience and Begs Other Suffering Women to Try This Wonderful Treatment.
"If every woman who is suffering from Female Troubles would take my advice, they would get some Stella Vitae and begin taking it right away," declared Mrs. Katie Hill, 311 Tilden St., San Antonio, Texas, in a letter received since the Better Health for Women Campaign, now in progress, was launched in this state.
"I know what I am talking about," she said. "This treatment has brought me so much relief and built me up so you would hardly recognize me as the same woman I was before I began taking it.
"No woman ever suffered more than I did with weak spells, nervousness and terrible headaches and backaches. I never wanted anything to eat and I fell off in weight until I was worried almost to distraction. I had constipation, too, and pains around my stomach at times that would almost double me up.
"I tell you I was miserable, but soon after I began taking Stella Vitae, I noticed my troubles easing up. I began to get hungry and my food didn't upset my stomach any more. I got to sleeping sound at night and picking up in weight and now I feel just fine in every way. That's why I say Stella Vitae ought to be used by every suffering woman. It's the greatest treatment on earth."
Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee to bring relief or the purchase price will be returned.

adopt the cotton tariff schedule just as Lippitt wrote it.
The chief lobbyist for an increased tariff on gloves was an ex-member of congress, Lucius N. Littauer of New York. He is always a familiar figure in Washington when a tariff bill is being prepared. He is a glove manufacturer and is thoroughly convinced that the tariff should always be revised by his friends. That he sincerely believes in a high tariff was conclusively proved when he was convicted of smuggling and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $1,000.
The tariff on leather gloves was from 8 cents to 46 cents per pair under the Underwood law. Mr. Littauer and his collaborators succeeded in having the rate fixed in the Fordney-McCumber tariff law at from 33 1/2 cents to $1.87 per pair. Under the old law our leather gloves were 13 percent of our total domestic production. Substantially all of the imports were of gloves not made in the United States, and they yielded the government some revenue.
The new tariff is practically an embargo on foreign gloves and the government will lose the revenue it received under the old law. At a time when the price of everything is fixed by some sort of trust, it is disheartening to see the congress of the United States rush on to the aid of the profiteers.
A tariff that equals the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, is all that the glove manufacturers could honestly ask, but the American Fair Tariff League, which protested against the extortionate rates, says they are more than three times the total wage cost entering into the manufacture of the gloves. A tariff of this kind is an invitation to plunder the consumer in the name of protection to American labor, and the invitation was extended by men who were elected to congress to represent that public.
About the time a man gets caught up on his summer expenditures he starts running into debt for winter necessities.

THE MOSQUITO PROBLEM
Second Method—Preventing Access of Anopheles to Well People

How do we prevent Anopheles getting to healthy people to bite them?
(1.) By screening the house; (2) by mosquito bars.
The screen should be No. 16 wire or No. 14 painted over to lessen the size of the mesh. All windows should be screened and all doors, if they are left open after dusk. All holes of all kinds by which mosquitoes can enter the house should be screened or closed, including the chimney. Screen doors should open outward. People should stay indoors after dusk, where mosquitoes can not reach them. Anopheles rarely enter a house in broad daylight. Screens with holes in them or that do not fit tight, may do harm rather than good can be "mosquito traps."
How may such screens do harm? Because Anopheles mosquitoes try to enter a house all night long and thus have time to find the smallest openings in the screening. They try to leave the house at first daylight, and if they cannot find the way out before broad daylight they are trapped in the house and hide in dark places, closets, under the bed, etc. and thus accumulate in the house, although Anopheles confined to a residence rarely live more than a few days.
How should mosquito bars be used? They should be of fine hobnibt, with no holes in them and with no slit up the side. They should not go over the head or the foot piece of the bedstead at night, but be placed under the mattress all around and never allowed to hang down to the floor. They will give some protection, but far less than screening.
Third Method—Preventing Infection of Mosquitoes
How can we treat men with malarial parasites in their blood so that they will not infect mosquitoes?
In two ways: (1) By treating everyone who has these parasites in his blood until he is cured completely, not just partly well, to relapse later. This is the doctor's business. (2) By keeping these people in a screened house, or at least under a mosquito bar at night, as long as they have these parasites in their blood.
Do people have parasites in their blood only when they have malarial fever?
No. A man may have parasites in his blood and be infective to mosquitoes which bite him and yet show no signs of sickness. People are likely to have parasites in their blood for some time—days, weeks, or even months—after an attack of malarial fever.
How do you explain that?
It takes a large number of parasites to produce enough poison to produce fever, the number differing for different people, and one may have many parasites and yet not enough to produce fever. (2) The sexless parasites which divide are the only ones which produce fever, and there may be only a moderate number of these in one's blood and yet enough male and female forms to infect mosquitoes.
What are people called who are well and yet are infective to mosquitoes?
They are called "carriers" and spread malaria in a community just as a sick man does.

REV. B. M. BRIDGES
GIVES FACTS IN HIS CASE

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.
One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooresboro, N. C., whose statement follows:
"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a rundown condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest.
"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully."
Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

PROTECT YOUR IMPLEMENTS

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Elimination of the greater part of a quarter billion dollar loss this winter by adequate housing of their agricultural machinery was asked of farmers by Guy H. Hall, director of the National Institute of Progressive Farming, in a message sent out today from radio stations.
Annual depreciation of machinery on farms valued at about three and a half billion dollars, is about eight percent, or $280,000, according to a survey made by the University of Minnesota, Mr. Hall said. Most of this is from rust, not calculating the indirect losses from machinery out of order at critical periods of the season.
"Winter, when farm equipment is most neglected, is again at hand and the institute wishes with all possible earnestness to urge farmers to do away with this terrible waste," said the message. "Ordinary care would save farmers $150,000, while scrupulous attention to protection would save a hundred million more."
"Many farmers will build a garage to house a cheap automobile and yet leave a $2,000 tractor standing in the rain and snow. A thrifty Missouri farmer this year harvested his hay with a mower purchased forty-one years ago.
"The modern farm really is a factory and the farmer who would succeed must protect his machinery just as the manufacturer does."

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose may Salivate, Shock Liver and Attack Your Bones
You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.
If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.
Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day. It loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.
It's getting to be a terrible bore to explain to every foreign visitor who comes along how Mr. Dougherty happens to be attorney general.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS IN INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

Austin, Texas, Oct. 31.—Reports of high school football games reaching the University Interscholastic League for the week ending Saturday show an unusual number of tie games. Many of these ties are with undefeated teams, and this fact makes it all the more necessary for a definite plan to be followed in future games in order that the various sectional championships may be decided not later than November 18th. According to one of the rules of the plan, intersessional games must begin the week of November 20th. The tie games which delay the sectional championships are: Atlanta 0, Tyler 0, Del Rio 0, Eagle Pass 0, and Bonham 6, Denison 6. Other tie games were Plainview 13, Paducah 13, Port Arthur 7, Houston Heights 7, Brownwood 13, San Angelo 13. Two surprises were uncovered in Masonic Home's 14 to 13 win over Denton, and Floydada's 13 to 12 victory over Lubbock.
The league has suggested a series of games in each section whereby the various championships may be decided at the earliest possible date, and all schools concerned are expected to co-operate fully. In most cases it means that the tie games should be played over this week.
The undefeated teams listed by sections follows:
Section 1.—Amarillo, Canadian, McLean, Pampa.
Section 2.—Floydada, Plainview.
Section 3.—Abilene, Ranger, San Angelo, Stamford.
Section 4.—Fort Worth (North Side), Wichita Falls.
Section 5.—Bonham, Dallas (Forest Avenue), Denison.
Section 6.—Atlanta, Paris, Sulphur Springs, Texarkana, Tyler.
Section 7.—Midland, Pecos.
Section 8.—Comanche, Junction.
Section 9.—Marlin, Milford, Teague, Waco.
Section 10.—Livingston, Nacogdoches, Palestine.
Section 11.—Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Hondo.
Section 12.—Austin, Giddings, San Antonio (Brackenridge), Temple, Smithville, Taylor.
Section 13.—Bryan.
Section 14.—Beaumont (South Park), Beaumont La Porte, Porth Arthur.
Section 15.—Kennedy.
Section 16.—Brownsville, Corpus Christi, San Benito.

ATTEMPT TO HARMONIZE WIDELY SEPARATED ORCHESTRAS

Louisville, Oct. 31.—An attempt to harmonize two orchestras playing simultaneously at two widely separated radio broadcasting stations will be made by the Louisville Courier-Journal station here and the Atlanta (Georgia) Journal station, according to Credo Harris, director of the Louisville station.

This is but a prelude, Harris announced, to an attempt to be made in the future to have a national radio orchestra with each broadcasting station sending out the tune of but one instrument.

A self-setting clock with a pendulum of half-second swing, according to the plan, will tune the pianos to 400 pitch and the radio apparatus at 360 meter wave length. A director will be in charge of musicians at both stations, and, at the stroke of the hour, both will start to play, marking time by the pendulum swings.

The plan will be put in action, Harris declared, as soon as further details have been worked out.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

THE BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

Resolutions Adopted at Dallas Conference Saturday

At a conference held at the Coliseum, Fair Grounds, Dallas, Saturday, October 14, for the purpose of having the Bible placed in the public schools of Texas, an organization was perfected as follows:

Will H. Evans, of Bonham, was elected president; Vice Presidents, A. A. Duncan, Greenville, George C. French, Bonham; and Chas. A. Leddy of Dallas; Secretary-Treasurer, O. C. Hutson, Bonham; and Legal Adviser B. F. Looney, Greenville. Others to be added.

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

We submit to the judgment of our fellow-citizens that the following are evident truths.

That ours is essentially a Christian Nation, founded by Christians and that the principles of Christianity are woven into the web and woof of our habits, customs, social life, laws and organic structures of state and nation.

That in order to perpetuate our representative Democracy bequeathed to us by our sires, there must be a general diffusion of knowledge among the people based upon a comprehensive educational system that educates all the people, developing them along vocational, scientific, literary, moral, and spiritual lines; the development of the people being absolutely essential, without which other culture will curse, rather than bless mankind.

That the diffusion of a knowledge of the principles of Christianity among all of the people, by the systematic teachings of the fundamental rules of correct living found in the Old Testament and as spiritually interpreted by the life and teachings of Christ, will prove an absolute and final solution of all domestic and foreign problems, abolish war, allay domestic strife, insure industrial justice, will beget a reverence for and obedience to law, and will bring into the affairs of men (in their varied complexities) the principles of peace on earth and good will among men.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by this Association that we call to the attention of the next legislature these incontrovertible truths, with the suggestion that the non-sectarian teaching of the Holy Bible in our public schools to be made compulsory that its great principles of life be enjoined upon the student body daily, not in the narrow spirit of the sectarian, but in all embracing spirit in which the Master Teacher of mankind lived and taught these doctrines, provided, however, that attendance on such instruction shall not be made compulsory on any whose conscience is offended thereby.

RESOLVED further that this subject be brought to the attention of the Board of School Teachers, of all cities, Independent School Districts and County School Boards of the State, respectfully suggesting the propriety of their passing the necessary order, requiring the reading each without sectarian comment, on the Bible, with prayer and song, in each class and assembly room of the school under their jurisdiction; with the provision, however, that where parents or guardians of students object because of conscientious scruples students thus represented, may not be compelled to join in the exercise.

RESOLVED further that we respectfully suggest to the Legislature the propriety of creating a Commission, charged with the duty of deciding how, in a non-sectarian manner, the Bible or text books based thereon may be made teachable in the various grades of our public schools, that the Commission be composed of representative educators of the state, including denominational educators, from the various religious faiths, that the Commission be required to report with recommendations, to the Governor, who shall transmit the same to the Legislature at the first session of the Legislature, in either regular or special session.

SENATOR SHEPPARD ON VERGE OF BREAKDOWN

Washington, Oct. 27.—Senator Sheppard of Texas left Washington today for Atlantic City, where he will enter a sanitarium for treatment to prevent a physical breakdown which physicians say is threatened. He plans to remain there until his health is fully restored.

ARRESTED FOR BOMBING

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 27.—William Rawls and John Spurgeon, striking railway workers, after 15 hours of questioning, confessed to bombing the home of W. J. Coombs, a striker who had returned to work Monday, the police announced today. Rawls and Spurgeon were arrested yesterday. Officers say they found bombs and dynamite buried in Rawls' garden.

FOOLISH TO LET HAIR FALL OUT

35c "Danderine" Saves Your Hair—Ends Dandruff! Delightful Tonic

Quick! Don't wait! Every bald head started with just a few falling hair and a little dandruff—but soon the hair appeared thin, scraggly, and then the dreaded bald spot. It seems a sin to let hair fall out or tolerate destructive dandruff when you can quickly correct all such hair trouble with a bottle of delightful Danderine.

Millions of men and women know the magic of Danderine; how it corrects oily, dandruffy, itching scalps and helps the hair to grow long, thick, strong and luxuriant. Danderine is not sticky or greasy. It is the largest selling hair corrective and tonic in the world because it is not a humbug! Get a bottle at any drugstore.

AGED WOMAN SUICIDES BODY FOUND IN LAKE

Timpon, Texas, Oct. 26.—The body of Mrs. J. S. Halliburton, aged 62, was found in a lake near town late yesterday afternoon. The lady is said to have left the home of her daughter earlier in the afternoon, stating that she was going for a walk. The verdict of the coroner's inquest was suicide. A note found this morning is said to have contained a message of farewell and giving instructions regarding her property.

PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED

London, Oct. 26.—A proclamation dissolving parliament was signed by King George this morning at a privy council held at Sandringham, the royal estate in Norfolk. The proclamation will be gazetted this afternoon.

The proclamation fixes November 20 as the date for the new parliament to assemble. Andrew Bonar Law, as the leader of the Unionist party, in a manifesto today declared that one of the tasks of the party, if returned to power, will be to make good the Anglo-Irish treaty, both in letter and in spirit, and co-operate with the Irish government. He declared it will be the government's aim, if returned, to support the League of Nations, fulfill the obligations Great Britain has undertaken abroad and maintain friendship and good understanding with the United States.

UNCLE SAM INVITED

Paris, Oct. 26.—France, Italy and Great Britain have agreed to invite the United States to participate officially in the Near East peace conference which meets at Lausanne, Switzerland, on November 13.

OUTLINES POLICY

Glasgow, Oct. 26.—Premier Andrew Bonar Law discussed his policy at a meeting of the West Scotland Unionist Association here today. He said his belief is that the nation needs, above everything else, rest and tranquility. His policy will be a negative one in this sense. He said his policy would be to leave recovery from the war to the initiative of the men and women of the country.

ITALIAN POLITICS

Rome, Oct. 27.—Benito Mussolini, leader of the Fascisti, is expected to arrive here today to discuss the situation with Premier Facta. This action again caused rumors of the formation of another Facta cabinet, with the participation of the Fascisti as a possibility. King Victor Emanuel will arrive here tonight. He desires to consult tomorrow with the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies and leaders of the Fascisti and Nationalist parties.

Some read scandal news because they like it and others for sake of a delicious shudder.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS CANNOT OWN CARS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—Students of the University of Texas will be prohibited from owning automobiles while attending school here, effective next January 1, university regents ruled in session here Tuesday.

Austin students and graduate students are exempted from the ruling. Two hundred out-of-town students brought cars here.

MEXICO INDIGNANT AND CLOSES ALL CONSULATES

New York, Oct. 27.—The Mexican consulate general here was closed today upon receipt of an order from the Mexican charge d'affaires at Washington. The order quoted instructions from the Mexican government to suspend all business in the United States as a protest against the ruling by the New York courts against Mexico in a suit brought by the Oliver Maroda Lumber Company. The company obtained a writ of attachment against a Mexican.

PEN RELOCATION

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—The State Prison Relocation board will go to Belton November 1 to inspect the proposed site for the state penitentiary, Land Commissioner Robison, secretary of the board, announced today. The board includes the governor and attorney general.

DISTORTING THE FACTS

In another of those feverish attacks on the League of Nations which usually reveals their ignorance of the covenant's provisions, a republican newspaper says that "if we had gone into the League of Nations, we would now be furnishing men, money and supplies to control the Terrible Turk."

Well, let's see. Brazil and Japan are members of the League. They are not furnishing "the men, money and supplies to control the terrible Turk," nor if the Near East problems were exclusively in the control of the League it is probable that these nations would be furnishing men if there were need for men.

The first distortion of the League's purpose is the claim that soldiers would act at once to be used in the suppression of a recalcitrant nation. Under the scope of the League it is scarcely conceivable that the need for men would ever arise, for not any nation probably could survive the League's preliminary weapons of diplomatic and economic isolation. Cut the trade routes and all means of communication and the nation would succumb to the League's mandates without the use of force.

But should the force be necessary, who can believe that the nations of the Western Hemisphere would send troops to put down disorder in the Eastern Hemisphere, or vice versa? Should military force be needed it would be supplied by the League members close at hand. If these nations could not control the trouble, it would be the world war over again and the most remote nations would have to get into it just as the United States got into it.

The idea that American membership in the League carries with it the necessity to send its armies into every country of the world is the idea of a mind poisoned with partisanship. The principles of the League cannot be overthrown by such distortion. The question is still being asked of President Harding "what has become of your association of nations?" An official statement from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ says the world cannot be saved without the helpful hand of the United States. The logic of events is unchangeable. The right thing remains the right thing to do until it is done. America's responsibility has not been discharged to the world. Political patter cannot guide the hand of fate.

BREAK A COLD IN FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Acts Quick, Costs Little, Never Sickens!

Every druggist here guarantees each package of "Pape's Cold Compound" to break up any cold or end gripe misery in a few hours or money refunded. Stiffness, pain, headache, feverishness, inflamed or congested nose and head relieved with first dose. These safe, pleasant tablets cost only a few cents, and millions now take them instead of sickening quinine.

RANGERS CLOSE SHOWS AT TIMPSON FAIR

The State Rangers, stationed in this county, visited the East Texas Fair at Timpon Thursday night and demanded the closing of certain parts of the carnival showing there for the fair. Those parts closed were the gambling devices and the immoral shows. When these parts were closed it practically put the shows out of business. Citizens from Timpon here Monday, and stockholders in the fair association, commended the matter and stated that they should have been closed.—Center Champion, 25th.

CONTINUES TO SIZZLE

From the Houston Chronicle.

If Andrew Bonar Law thought to come into the premiership of Great Britain with the Near East problem nicely solved and laid away on the shelf for future reference he made a most gratuitous and unnecessary miscalculation.

While the big boys appear to have struck a pretty fair bargain, according to their own ideas, some of the little boys are not so well satisfied.

Mustapha Kemal, Frank Bouillon and General Harington got out of Mudania without making a mess of things. The Greek government—what there was left of it—agreed to evacuate Eastern Thrace, Italy nodded a general acceptance, while Belgrade and Sofia shrouded their attitude in silence.

And back of the whole show there are those irregulars, so-called; bands, regiments, armies, without much appreciation of responsibility, and looking for little save trouble.

There are Turks by the thousands and Greeks and Bulgarians and Kurds and nondescripts of every variety, who, though occupying no official place in the sun of diplomacy, and taking orders from no official source, represent a deal of power.

There are generals without a salary, diplomats without a post, agitators without a cause and soldiers without a country. But none of them are without a grudge, and very few without arms.

The whole region from Hungary to Mesopotamia is fairly swarming with restlessness and discontent. There is not a patch of ground as big as a man's hand that can justly claim a reign of law. There isn't a community but what is sitting on a volcano of malcontent and intrigue. There is not a region but what is infected with blood feuds.

Religion, politics, trade, racial antipathies, selfishness, greed, tradition, blasted hope, bleached bones, murder and pillage have combined to produce such a situation of hate, prejudice and passion as the world has seldom beheld.

The field is a fertile one for despots and revolution, riot and guerrilla warfare, for anything, indeed, save orderly readjustment.

"Lloyd George did it," cried the British politicians, while Paris traded with the Turk to pick French chestnuts out of the fire, but the end is not yet, not even with another peace conference in sight.

FIRE LOSS $36,000

Sweetwater, Texas, Oct. 26.—Damage estimated at $36,000 resulted from a fire which broke out in the basement of a building on the south side of the square at 3:15 Wednesday morning. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

BONE DRY EVERYWHERE

New York, Oct. 27.—An American steamship cannot carry or sell liquor in any part of the world. This was held by Federal Judge Hand today in a decision dismissing the suit of two American steamship companies to enjoin the enforcement of Daugherty's prohibition ruling.

KILLED SON-IN-LAW

Canton, Texas, Oct. 26.—Albert Logan, 35 years old, was shot and killed at Martin's Mill, nine miles south of Canton, yesterday. G. L. Warren, aged 62, the father-in-law of Logan, was placed in jail in connection with the killing.

FASCISTI IN THE SADDLE

Rome, Oct. 26.—Benito Mussolini, the head of the Fascisti, has called together all the military leaders of that organization. Simultaneously he has ordered all military sections of the Fascisti to keep in readiness. The 800,000 workers who have joined Fascisti organizations were ordered to co-operate at the opportune moment with the military sections. This is interpreted here as a preparation for the assumption of power by the Fascisti.

Nowadays a smart king keeps on good terms with his army.

Genuine

ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians for over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headaches, toothache, sarache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetio-acidester of Salicylicacid.

PURPOSE TO LIMIT ALL CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

From the Dallas News.

In his argument in the senatorial case at Corsicana, Mr. Richard Mays said:

"The use of money corrupts control and does control often the fortunes at the ballot box. So the law-making power of this state has undertaken by the act of 1919 to fix a maximum limit for the man who undertakes to run for the high and exalted office of United States Senator. Other candidates are similarly limited. Unless the law is upheld the people will have no way to protect the ballot box and the liberties of the people."

Upon many occasions the News has commented upon the evidences of the lack of understanding of the effect of laws of this state and the failure to observe them. Presently many evidences have been presented of misreading, ignoring and failure to observe the act which Mr. Mays refers. What he says of this law is true, but is not an adequate description. For these reasons the News feels that a more extended comment is in order.

The purpose of the act of 1919 was not merely to prevent corrupt use of money in elections; nor yet to limit the expenditures of large sums of money in behalf of a candidate by anybody, or by all persons taken together. Such is indicated by the very title of the act.

Prior to 1919 Texas had a law requiring candidates to make public their expenditures. It was thought that the white light of publicity would act as a curb. It was observed, however, that large sums of money were spent by candidates, and that much money was spent by others in their behalf and not reported. The senatorial election law of 1913 limited the amount of money that candidates for the senate might expend; but as in the case of other candidates, it was observed that others spent money in behalf of the candidates. This was true not only in Texas, but notably so in Michigan, where Mr. Newberry disclaimed knowledge of the huge expenditures in his behalf.

The legislature of 1919 meant to cover the whole ground, as is shown by the title of its act: "An act to prevent the control of primary elections by the use of money." Here are the salient features of the law:

Corporations are wholly prohibited from expending or contributing money in behalf of or in opposition to a candidate.

Individuals and groups of individuals are so prohibited, except as the law specifically authorizes.

An individual may contribute his own personal services and pay his traveling expenses in behalf of a candidate, and may spend $10 of his own money in behalf of a candidate for certain purposes only.

An individual, or a group of individuals, may spend not more than $50 to pay hall rent, hire a band and to advertise a candidate's speaking in a locality, and must report such expenditures to the County Clerk within twenty-four hours.

Nor does the law permit of volunteer or clandestine managers. The candidate is required to file with the Secretary of State his appointment of a campaign manager. He may appoint an assistant campaign manager for each county, must file such appointment with the County Clerk. District managers are without legal status.

In the case of a candidate for the United States senate, a limit of $10,000 is set upon his campaign expenditures for both primary election campaigns. An assistant campaign manager may expend in the county for which he is appointed not to exceed $10 for each 100 qualified voters, but not more than $500 in all. This is inclusive of funds sent to him by the candidate or the campaign manager and also of funds contributed directly by persons in the county. And the assistant campaign manager is not authorized to operate outside of his county.

The expenditures by the candidate, by his campaign manager and by all of the assistant campaign managers throughout the state must not exceed $10,000, all taken together.

The law designates the purpose for which the money may be spent.

It requires the candidate, campaign manager and assistant campaign manager to keep accurate records of the names of all contributors and of all expenditures and to show the name of any person to whom more than $10 has been paid, and to file with the Secretary of State reports so showing.

The purpose of the law, The News repeats, is to limit and regulate the use of money in primary elections, and the limit is on all persons individually and collectively. The limit in the case of a candidate for the senate is $10,000, except that (1) an individual may spend $10, or (2) a group of individuals $50, in each case for specific purposes only.

The law has been misunderstood or else blandly ignored, or both.

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Madder, I always win the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick madder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal. And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the delicious kind of Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes.

Mrs. Bessie Adams of Houston is in the city, a guest in the home of Rev. and Mrs. George L. Parks on Houston street.

A marriage license was issued from the county clerk's office Wednesday afternoon to Mr. C. A. Calvitt and Mrs. Josie White, both of Timpson.

Claud L. Davis of Tenaha and Miss Mabel Kendrick of near Nacogdoches were married in his office at the courthouse at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon by Judge Frank Huston.

Rev. W. R. Smith returned Friday afternoon from Houston, where he had attended a three-day session of the Congregational Church conference. He appeared to be very enthusiastic over the work accomplished and the promise of future success.

About the only thing cars lack now is an accessory to curb pedestrians for getting in the way.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic
Is an Excellent Tonic for Women and Children.

Messrs. W. E. Thomason and H. L. McKnight were visitors in Lufkin Monday.

Mrs. Lillian H. Smith, teacher of the Pine Hill school, was in the city Saturday morning on business at the county superintendent's office.

O. M. Glenn and family have moved from Nacogdoches to Center and are residing on Nacogdoches street. Mr. Glenn states that he will probably build a home here and that he expects to enter business by next year.—Center Champion, 25th.

The Sentinel is indebted to its friend, Mr. Elwood Seale of Melrose for a supply of fine sweet potatoes left at the office Friday. He never forgets the printer and never fails to bring something of unusual excellence. He has our thanks.

E. C. Vickers, assistant secretary of the Texas Highway Association, is in town in the interest of the state highway system. Mr. Vickers will conduct a membership drive with the co-operation of the local C. of C.

A piano sold by Sheriff Woodlan under execution Saturday morning was knocked down to the music house which had sold it for the sum still due on the instrument. $68.

W. M. Byrne of the Fairview neighborhood was in the city Friday morning on crutches as the result of a prolonged attack of rheumatism. To add to his peace of mind he acquired a lovely case of dengue, which for a while rendered him indifferent as to his present or future estate.

G. W. Gibbs has bought the grocery business of R. C. Wallace, and will take charge about November 1st. We understand that Mr. Wallace will move to Nacogdoches.—Cushing Journal.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

BOX SUPPER AT FAIRVIEW

The box supper given at Fairview Friday night for the benefit of the school was a very gratifying success in every particular, the receipts being $35.30 and the participants having an unusually enjoyable time.

Rev. W. R. Smith made an earnest and impressive talk on the value of an education, and his remarks were well received.

Miss Lena Smith was the winner in the prettiest girl contest.

W. M. Byrne auctioned off the boxes, which brought good prices, and acquitted himself handsomely.

The importance of this function can hardly be estimated. The school is entirely without a fund for providing the things which are absolutely essential to the convenience and well-being of the pupils, such as oiling the floor, providing a water cooler, supplying crayons, etc. These must be had if the school is to do its best. Unless the money is available from the school funds voted by the patrons of the district—and in this case it is not—the school must depend upon other sources for the wherewithal for their purchases. As usual, the good women of the community have taken the matter in charge, and of course the necessary things will be forthcoming.

SHINDLER-SMELLEY.

Mr. Charles I. Shindler of this city and Miss Vera Smelley were married Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smelley, four miles north of Nacogdoches.

The groom is one of our well-known citizens and has many friends throughout East Texas who will join in wishing happiness and prosperity to him and his charming bride, who is a young lady of many womanly graces.

Particulars of the marriage, further than the mere fact that it has taken place, were unobtainable.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fancher were in the city Thursday morning en route to San Augustin to negotiate for the purchase of the Tribune plant and business. Mr. Fancher has for a long time been connected with the paper house of E. C. Palmer & Company and is well and favorably known to the newspaper fraternity of this part of the state, all of whom, we are sure, will join us in the very best wishes for his success in his new venture.

Miss Exier Lewis, county superintendent of schools, spent the week visiting the rural schools of the county and reports that the enrollment in all of them is very satisfactory, with mounting interest. In company with L. W. Rogers of the state educational department, who is acting on his special assignment as inspector of colored schools, she visited the Rosenthal school, in the Eden district, and found work on the structure progressing nicely. Mr. Rogers allowed an additional $250 for work on this building.

Mrs. B. S. Shirley returned Friday afternoon from Dallas, where she attended the meeting of the grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. At this meeting it was decided to establish at Arlington the home for the old indigent members of the Eastern Star, an enterprise which has long occupied the attention of the members of the order. It is generally agreed that a better selection of a site for the home could not have been made. The Masonic Home is located at Arlington and the Orphans' home is nearby.

The colored people of this section are making elaborate preparations for celebrating Armistice Day, November 11th. There will be a parade of colored ex-soldiers from the courthouse to Newtown, one mile southeast of the city, where addresses will be made, dinner served, games played and a general good time enjoyed.

BOX SUPPER AT TRINITY
There will be a Box Supper at Trinity schoolhouse on the night of Saturday, next, November 4, and the people of that community will do all in their power to make the occasion an enjoyable one. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the school. A liberal patronage is solicited.

ROAD COMMITTEE REPORTS

The subcommittee appointed by Judge A. T. Russell to draft a plan for road improvement met Wednesday and spent some time going over the entire road problem of the county. The committee is composed of T. E. Baker, chairman; Ayce Frazier, Martinsville; G. F. Partin, Eccole; J. W. Boatman, Union Springs; and Nim Hargis, Attoyac.

The committee prepared a rough draft of the different roads to be improved, and this draft is to be submitted to the entire committee at a meeting held Thursday, November 2. The proposed improvements will add approximately 115 miles of additional hard-surfaced road to the mileage now built in the county and will give every section of the county a hard-surfaced road.

MRS. DELIA CRAWFORD

Mrs. Delia Crawford, wife of C. H. Crawford, a well-known resident of the Reid's Lake community, near the city, died at 6:30 Wednesday evening, aged 54 years.

Mrs. Crawford had been ill but a short time, being one of the numerous victims of the dengue fever, which, complicated with other ailments, caused her death.

She leaves a husband and several children to mourn their loss.

The remains were carried to Appleby at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and interment made in the cemetery at that place.

The services were conducted by Rev. Lee Heffler.

The Sentinel joins the family's many friends in sympathy for the bereaved.

SOME OLD MONEY

Mr. E. M. Roberts of the Roberts Electrical Company has in his possession a valuable curiosity in the shape of several bills of Continental money, some of which were issued nearly 150 years ago. These bills are of (to those living now) queer denominations. There is one $3 bill issued in 1776, a $40 bill issued in 1778, a $35 bill of 1779, a $60 bill of 1778 and an $8 bill of 1775. This currency is printed on strong white paper and bears the legend, "This Bill entitles the bearer to receive (the amount named) Spanish Milled dollars, or the Value thereof, in Gold or Silver, according to the Resolution of the CONGRESS, held at Philadelphia, the 10th of May, 1775. VIII (or specified amount) Doll. Wm. Jarvisson." Another name signed to the bills was illegible. The printing was done by Hall & Sellers, Philadelphia. An oddity is the old-fashioned form of some of the letters, the "r" being practically the same of the "f" of the present day.

These bills were presented to Mr. Roberts by Captain R. J. Brailsford of Burkesville, Newton county, 35 years ago. They came to Captain Brailsford through his father, who probably received them from a Revolutionary ancestor. Mr. Roberts treasures this old money very highly and is very careful that the bills are not damaged in handling.

PROUD OF HIS SCHOOL

The Tenaha School District has just cause to be proud of her school, and the fine young people who took the loving cup with their brilliant work in the athletic meet at the East Texas Fair at Timpson Saturday. Truly, Tenaha school leads in all things these days, both in the work of the institution and the moral support of the community.—Tenaha Optimist, 27th.

FOXES ARE "LIT UP."

John Womack says that it will be dangerous to go fox hunting out in the vicinity of where all that sour mash was poured out last week as the foxes feeding upon it would run the dogs out of the woods.—Tenaha Optimist.

A box supper at the Libby school house Friday night yielded about $60 which will be expended for the school. Messrs. W. E. Thomason and H. L. McKnight attended this affair and reported a pleasant time. A similar function at Blackjack schoolhouse which was attended by Miss Lewis and President A. W. Birdwell of the Stephen F. Austin Normal, also was a happy affair and the receipts were approximately $60. Still another at Attoyac has not been reported.

Mr. S. Mintz of Dallas arrived in the city Thursday afternoon on business and for a visit with friends, all of whom are glad to see him. He informed us that his son, Leo, is in the drug business in Dallas and getting along fine. Mr. Mintz says there is always a warm spot in his heart for Nacogdoches, where he resided and did business for 32 years.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas
County of Nacogdoches
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. C. Monroe and Monroe, partners, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return date hereof in some newspaper published in your county to appear at the next regular term of the county court of Nacogdoches county, to be held at the courthouse thereof in Nacogdoches on the 3d Monday in November, 1922, the same being the 20th day of November, 1922, then and there to answer to a petition filed in said court on the 6th day of July, 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 1629, wherein, A. J. Spradley is plaintiff and W. C. Monroe and Monroe are defendants. Said petition alleging that plaintiff is a resident of Nacogdoches county and defendants are persons who moved from place to place and have no fixed residence, and for cause of action, plaintiff represents that on or about the 1st day of June, A. D. 1921, at the special instance and request of the defendants, plaintiff sold defendants fifty thousand feet of hardwood timber for which defendants, and each of them, promised to and agreed to pay to plaintiff the sum of four dollars per thousand feet, due and payable as said timber was cut and shipped by the defendants. Plaintiff says that defendants were camped upon plaintiff's premises and cut said timber and sawed it into blocks and shipped over the Houston East and West Texas Railway Company's railroad, and while so camped on plaintiff's premises and so engaged in cutting said timber, defendants were using two horses which belonged to plaintiff and while using said horses negligently caused the death of both of them. That said horses were of the value of seventy-five dollars each and plaintiff says the defendants, and each of them, promised and agreed with plaintiff that they would pay him the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, the value of said horses. Plaintiff says that all of said indebtedness is due and though often requested, defendants have failed and refused to still refuse to pay plaintiff the sum of their indebtedness to him, which is the sum of Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars, or any part thereof. Plaintiff says that he duly and regularly demanded of defendants the sum of said indebtedness more than thirty days prior to the filing of this suit and that he has employed attorneys to represent him and is entitled to a judgment for Twenty Dollars attorneys fees against defendants.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that citation issue to said defendants, and each of them, that upon a final hearing hereof, that he have judgment against said defendants, and each of them, for the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars and for twenty dollars and fifty dollars the amount of his debt, and for twenty dollars attorneys fees, for cost of suit and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not but have you before said court, on said first day of the next regular term thereof this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed same. Given under my hand and seal of said court in the town of Nacogdoches this 12th day of October, A. D. 1922

(Seal) J. F. Perritte,
Clerk of the County Court of Nacogdoches, Texas.

Prof. B. C. Stallings of the Appleby school was in the city Wednesday afternoon and favored the Sentinel with an appreciated call. He promised us a weekly contribution of school news from Appleby, a department which the Sentinel will be glad to give a place in its columns. We would like very much to have similar weekly reports from other schools in the county.

Judge Snodgrass, attorney for the State Livestock Commission, was in the city Wednesday night and left Thursday morning for Fort Worth, accompanied by Inspector A. B. Tumlins of the local force.

LITTELL'S
LIVID SULPHUR COMPOUND
It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbes which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely. Littell's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Tetter, Barber's Itch, Psoriasis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyance caused by chiggers and mosquito bites. In the treatment of ECZEMA—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known. Small size 50 cents bottle. Large size $1.00. JAMES F. BALLARD, Prop. St. Louis, Mo.

COW HIDES WANTED
We are paying 10 cents per pound for green hides. It is absolutely necessary to salt every hide just as soon as it is removed from the beef, else it will spoil. Ship them to us in boxes by express. Put one tag inside of box and one on outside.

Attorney C. C. Watson returned Tuesday night from Center, where he had been attending district court.

Dr. J. D. Ellington is out of town on account of the serious illness of his brother, who is in a sanitarium at Center.

Accompanied by Dr. F. R. Tucker, Dr. J. D. Ellington left Tuesday morning for Center, having been called by the critical illness of his brother.

Miss Lillian Blakey of Lawton, Okla., has returned home after a ten-days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Arch VanOrden.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, one of the Sentinel's good friends of the Appleby community, was a pleasant visitor at this office Tuesday morning.

Miss Ollie Booty, chief operator here for the telephone exchange, is reported the latest of the force to succumb to the dengue.

Miss Jessie Burgess and Mary Allgood, accompanied by Messrs. Townes Windham and Grady Stripling of Center, were attendants at the Shreveport Fair Sunday.

The Halloween party given by the Epworth League at the Methodist church Tuesday night was a very successful and profitable affair. There were confetti battles, trips to the moon, fortune telling and other amusements, and the booths did a fairly good business in the sale of sandwiches, etc. The net receipts were reported as approximately $60.

"It is idle, of course, to discuss the repudiation of the republican party throughout the country," quoth Postmaster General Work. Not denying, however, that it will be repudiated.

COMPETENT JUDGE HERE FOR SWINE EXHIBIT

Secretary H. L. McKnight is in receipt of a letter from Mr. A. L. Ward, secretary of the Texas Swine Breeders Association and Swine Specialist of the Extension Service of A. & M. College, stating that he will be here to judge the hogs on November 18th. This will be good news to all our people, and especially to our hog men, who are very fond of Mr. Ward. They recognize him as a man who really knows his subject and who has a keen personal interest in the welfare of the rural public.

Secretary McKnight is in correspondence with a number of poultry specialists with a view of securing a competent man to judge the poultry exhibits and also to give a practical demonstration on how to select laying strains. An announcement concerning the poultry lecturer will likely be forthcoming next week.

E. C. Vickers of the Texas Highway Association, who had been in Nacogdoches for a couple of days in the interest of the state good roads movement, left Wednesday afternoon after enrolling 35 members of the association here. He received the hearty co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Boosters, as well as the citizenship at large.

Mr. W. H. Wood received a letter Wednesday morning notifying him that he was a grandfather once more, his daughter, Mrs. Bernard Richards, having presented her husband with a fine girl on Sunday, October 29th. Mother and babe were reported as doing nicely. The happy parents reside at Dalhart.

If your child eats ravenously at times and at other times has no appetite at all, look out for worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is the remedy to use. It clears them out. Price 35c. Sold by Swift, Bros. & Smith.

HALLOWEEN PARTY FOR MR. AND MRS. SAGE

The Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church spent a most delightful evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hill Monday evening. The house was decorated in black cats, grinning faces and other Halloween symbols until one almost screamed everytime one turned around and one at a time the masked ghostly figures came until nervous people had best be at home.

The incentive for this most delightful evening was to be with Mr. and Mrs. Sage, who are leaving soon to make their home in Jacksonville. Mrs. Sage was presented a beautiful cutglass bowl by the crowd of boys and girls "in appreciation of your faithful leadership."

Dainty refreshments was served at a late hour and all went home happy. But we will miss "the Sages."

GREAT CARNIVAL AT CHIRENO

For the benefit of the Chireno high school an interesting program consisting of patriotic plays, Virginia reel, folk-dances, popular songs, etc., will be rendered on Thursday night, November 9th, at the High School Auditorium.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock there will be an unusual parade in which you will witness some comical impersonations; also the Spirit of the World War will be thoroughly demonstrated.

Everyone come and be prepared to stay all day, as the ladies will serve lunch from 11 o'clock until 1 o'clock, after which several games of ball, sack races, relay races, baby contests, and old fiddlers' contest, etc., will take place.

The great day will be brought to a more successful close by our negro minstrel on Friday night. You will see an up-to-date as well as first-class minstrel and you will laugh until your sides hurt. If you miss this you will have missed one of the best numbers of the entire carnival.

Come, bring your friends and spend two nights and one day in a regular holiday fashion.

Rusty nail wounds, festering sores, burns and scalds heal rapidly when Liquid Borozone is applied. It is both antiseptic and healing. Price 30c, 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by Swift Bros. & Smith.

AT PLEASANT GROVE

On the night of Saturday, November 4th, there will be a box supper at Pleasant Grove schoolhouse for the benefit of the school. A cordial invitation is extended the general public to attend, aid in a laudable undertaking and at the same time enjoy a pleasant evening.

Parties drilling in the neighborhood of Chireno report the very best of indications—in fact, oil has been struck and at a depth of 416 feet is being bailed out in quantities to lead the promoters to believe a few feet deeper will give them what they want.

Small boys make strenuous efforts to conceal their ears, also; but occasionally parents insist on a wash-up.

CANE PARTY

A happy lot of young people enjoyed a cane party Monday night at the home of Mr. George Reese, north of the city. Those comprising the party were Messrs. Dorothy Washburn, Edna Earl Dent, Ina Bates, Anita Huston, Hazel Andis, Nan Wright, Maud Gaston, Kate Morgan, and Sallie Mae Metzger. Messrs. Elbert Reese, Grady Stallings, Guy Stripling, Rufus Miller, Robert Monk, J. C. Blake and J. B. Burk. Mr. and Mrs. Will Pack and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hill were chaperones. It was said to have been an unusually enjoyable affair.

Editor J. G. Williams of the Cushing Journal was a business visitor in the city Monday.
