PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Well, well, well! The Times finally won a ball game. And in doing so we moved over from our comfortable place in the cellar and are now sharing it with the Legion, Lions and Rotarians, each, along with the Times, with the magnificent percentage of 250. Which is somewhat better than the three goose eggs we have had to list in the percentage column after the name of our club.

Errors and base hits were profusely scattered over the scorebook at the end of the game, but only two were marked up against the Times, both being on the same play. And at that the Rotarians got four outs in the last inning. Maybe it was five. After two were down in the first of the seventh, with the score 30 to 2, Pruet hit to third base and was thrown out at first. Fire Chief Murphy, who was calling them on the baselines, ruled he was safe, but insisted he was out. Figure that one out. In other words he admitted he was giving the Rotarians a break, so no squawk was heard. Pruet went to second and was thrown out again, or at least it seemed he was, but was called safe, so Glazner fanned the next batter so there could be no doubt about the final out.

The game marked the return of J. A. Throver to the position of umpire, and he called a good game throughout.

Thrower Umpiring

Everyone who has tried to umpire any of these games admits that it is quite a task, because it is hard to tell whether one of the slow, floating, lobbing pitches, as several use at times, really comes over the base or not. However, correct calls were few and far between and those were in the nature of good fun and not complaints. The Rotarians were good sports throughout, keeping up their spirits and joking each other as the score was against them.

Urging their team mates to make at least one more out before dark in the sixth, when the Times ran wild and scored 10 runs before the second out was made.

"Herbie" Von Roeder, who caught a good game for the Rotarians, went after all balls within reach and many that were not. He is pictured below after he had jerked off his glasses and was going after a high one. We do not remember whether he caught it or not.

Von Roeder Snags One

He caught one runner out sliding into home plate and made a noble effort at another, which the umpire called safe and which Von Roeder called out. The umpire won the decision, which was probably close. At the time we were bumming a drink from Pat Coughlin, who had brought a thermos jug full of cold water out for the Rotarians. It may have been a Rotary jug, but we tapped it a couple of times. That's an idea. We hope she shows up at our next game with the water jug. In fact we are going to offer a motion to the effect that she be appointed official waterboy. Our photographer forgot to get her picture guarding the jug, or we would run it.

Gaston Dixon, who was playing his first game, did a good job of it, although the Times official photographer did catch him in this pose.

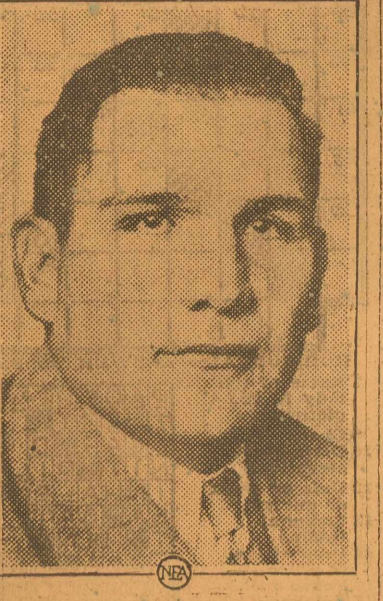

Dixon Muffs One

The official scorer marked up four errors against him, some of which were pretty hot and might have been hits. However, in spite of the four errors, he looked pretty good in the position, not to have played before, and will probably be played before, and will probably be played before.

Eastland Hopes For Allotment of N. I. R. A. Funds

That the city of Eastland might receive some of the funds made available by the National Recovery act seems very probable according to Mayor Donald L. Kinnaird and City Manager Guy Parker, who returned from Austin Wednesday where they had been to present the claims of Eastland to the state highway department. Knowing that some of these funds would be available for use in cities Messrs. Kinnaird and Parker made the trip to Austin to place certain projects before the commission for consideration.

Taking into consideration that there are so many men unemployed in Eastland at this time and that the crop outlook for this section is not every favorable just now on account of the dry weather, the city officials decided to present to the Highway commission all the projects that they thought might come within the requirements for handling these funds and thus attempt to secure as much for Eastland as possible with a view of relieving the unemployment situation.

The projects presented included the repairing and resurfacing of South Seaman street, no certain class of pavement was mentioned; the widening of the bridge on the Bankhead Highway just east of the city limits; the construction of the Bankhead highway straight through Eastland on West Main street, cutting into the present road in the west part of the city and widening of the present highway by five feet on each side west on Commerce street to the city limits and east on Main street from the pavement to the bridge.

Old Dormitory Is Being Wrecked By T. & P. Railway

B. A. Tunnell, local agent for the Texas & Pacific railway, announced today that work had started on wrecking the old dormitory belonging to the railroad.

The building being torn down was at one time used for section crews and has not been used for a number of years. Eight local men have been obtained for the job, which is expected to last for a week or 10 days. The full complement of the crew has been selected from local workers and no additional help will be needed, Mr. Tunnell stated today.

Oil Code Given Administration

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The oil industry submitted its code to the national recovery administration today.

It was submitted in the name of the American Petroleum Institute and represents about 95 percent of the industry. It provides for a maximum of 40 hours a week and a minimum wage of between 40 and 47 cents an hour for labor.

OFFICERS MOVE TO PREPARE MURDER CASE

FORT WORTH, July 13.—Officers moved swiftly today to prepare an "air tight" case against four men held in the sensational triple murder case here and predicted a confession from one of the number within a short time.

District Attorney Martin undoubtedly will ask that they be sent to the electric chair.

Martin and Sheriff J. R. Wright worked all night on the case after the bullet riddled bodies of the three victims, who officers are confident were shot in a dispute over a $70,000 postal robbery loot, were found last night in the Trinity river at the edge of this city.

When pictures of the slain men were flashed on the quartet charged with murder they appeared deeply disturbed but remained silent.

Officers questioned one of the suspects, W. T. Howard.

The others charged are O. D. Stevens, described by police as the master mind of the robbery, the director of a narcotic ring and of the slayings; M. D. Howard and W. D. May, Stevens' neighbor.

The slain men were quickly identified as Jack Sturdivant of Eula, J. B. Rutherford of Dallas and his brother, Harry Rutherford of Abilene, who disappeared Saturday after they left Dallas on a mission that evidently led to their deaths.

Man Sentenced to Life for Possessing Liquor Is Freed

LANSING, Mich., July 13.—Fred Palm, sentenced to life imprisonment for possessing a pint of liquor, was paroled today by Gov. William A. Comstock.

Palm was the first to be sentenced under provisions of the habitual criminal act in Michigan, which made life imprisonment mandatory upon fourth conviction of a felony at the same time the dry majority in the legislature made violation of the prohibition laws. He was sentenced in 1927.

Closing Hour Urged By Two Associations

The Retail Merchants association of Cisco and Eastland have urged the co-operation of the Ranger Retail Merchants association in sponsoring closing of all stores in the three towns at 6 o'clock.

This co-operation was offered today by the Ranger association, the members of which have been closing at the stated hour for several years. It was pointed out in the requests for co-operation that if the Ranger merchants adhered to the closing regulation the merchants of both Eastland and Cisco would likely follow the practice.

State Secretary of Retail Merchants Visits in Ranger

Arthur Hert of Austin, secretary of the Retail Merchants association of Texas, was a visitor in the office of Ranger Retail Merchants association while on a tour of West Texas towns.

Italian Armada Again On Way

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Italian squadron of 24 planes en route to Chicago resumed its flight toward New Brunswick today, Mackay Radio announced.

The squadron, under command of General Balbo, which yesterday completed the difficult 1,500-mile leg of its flight across the ocean from Iceland, paused in Labrador for a night's rest and started this morning on its 800-mile flight to New Brunswick.

GOVERNMENT MOBILIZES AGAINST ALL KIDNAPERS

TEXAS COTTON CONTRACTS ARE NEARING GOAL

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 13.—At midday 3,979,035 acres of Texas cotton had been offered for retirement by growers in 202 counties, tabulation of contracts at state extension service headquarters here revealed.

Seventeen counties remained to be reported before it would be known if Texas had reached the quota of 4,493,000 acres set by the government in the national cotton reduction campaign.

Unlimited Coinage Is Not Seen As A Menace To the Nation

DENVER, July 13.—Will time-talism, the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at our present legal ratio, result in flooding this country with silver and deprive the government of gold?

That is a question usually answered in the affirmative with no proof, no argument, and no knowledge—by the majority of single gold standard advocates.

"See how plain a case shall put them down."

Suppose the impossible contingency that the nations of the world should rake every storehouse and bring five billion ounces of silver to the United States for coinage. And suppose the metal should be minted into our dollars and delivered to the owners. What would they do with the dollars? They could not present them at the treasury and take

TEMPERATURES SET RECORDS OVER STATE

Sweltering temperatures prevailed over Texas today, sending the mercury to new heat records.

Three persons, two men in Dallas and a Mexican laborer in Austin, have succumbed during the past 48 hours from heat prostrations.

Indications today were the local point of the hot weather wave would be in the western extremes of the state. At 10 a. m. today at Abilene the mercury had soared to 96 degrees as compared to 94 at the same time yesterday. The maximum of 106 degrees registered at Abilene yesterday set a season record.

Temperatures of 106 degrees or above were common in Texas yesterday.

County Farmers Agree to Plow Up Over 7500 Acres

County Agent J. C. Patterson announced Thursday morning that when the deadline for signing cotton acreage reduction contracts arrived Wednesday night at midnight a total of 7,666 acres had been signed. This acreage was signed by 745 growers. The tentative allotment for Eastland county was 6,700 acres.

While the time limit for signing contracts has expired the county committee still has much work to do completing contracts and getting them off to Washington.

County Agent Patterson again warns farmers not to plow up any cotton until they have been officially notified from Washington to do so. The fact that you may see in the newspapers that the cotton acreage reduction plans has succeeded, that does not warrant you in plowing up your cotton. Those plowing up their cotton without first having received official notice from Washington to do so, will not be paid for the acreage plowed up, Mr. Patterson said.

AUSTIN, July 13.—Bids on highway maintenance work in Texas, aggregating $300,000 or more in cost, will be opened by the State Highway commission here July 25, it was announced today.

All maintenance work will be financed out of state funds.

Final details in the distribution of $24,500,000 in federal highway aid probably will be worked out at a meeting of the commission next week, Chairman John Wood said today.

Stocks, Cotton Up; Wheat Shows Loss

NEW YORK, July 13.—Sensational advances in "wet" stocks, a pickup in rails, rubbers, utilities and sugars and broad advances in special issues brought the stock market into substantially higher ground today.

Volume was heavy and sales tallied 7,450,000 shares for the day, a record for 1933, and an all-time record for a rising market.

Cotton held a small gain, while grains eased off with wheat closing at net losses of more than a cent a bushel.

Bad Weather Holds Lindbergh On Ground

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, July 13.—Bad weather prevented Colonel Lindbergh and his wife from resuming their route-charting tour of the northland today.

A southeast wind near gale force, with fog and rain, prevailed along the southern section of Newfoundland today. The Lindberghs plan house on the prohibition question to start for Labrador as soon as at which time he will give statistical facts with reference to liquor.

$90,000 TO BE PAID OUT FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Work on four highway projects in Eastland county at an expenditure of $90,000 appears to be the result of the visit of the Eastland county delegation, composed of County Judge C. L. Garrett of Eastland, J. E. Spencer of Cisco and O. A. Kountze of Desdemona, to Austin the first of the week.

The delegation went before the highway commission, said Judge Garrett, with a view of not only securing a portion of funds for Eastland county but to also ask for a designation of some three or four new highways in the county, but upon finding that the commission was not favorably inclined towards designating many new roads in Texas now, the delegation decided it was best at this time to just ask for an allocation to Eastland county of its pro rata of the funds made available by the National Recovery Act recently passed by Congress.

The delegation was informed by the commission that they were endeavoring to prorate funds on a basis of population. Their estimate was that they could allocate about $100,000 to each 40,000 people. On that basis Eastland county would be entitled to about $83,000. Judge Garrett was asked that, in his opinion, the county's most important projects and he pointed out the four mentioned below, because he felt that under the plans of the commission these would be the ones most likely to receive funds.

The rebuilding, including the widening of the base and retopping of State Highway No. 67 from Carbon east to the Comanche

SUDDEN WAVE OF CRIME TO BE RUN DOWN

Justice Department Puts Best Men On Job Stamping Out Abduction.

The federal government mobilized its gigantic police powers for a war on kidnaping today, as racketeers displayed their contempt by releasing one of their victims on a main street and tell him how to reach the nearest police station.

Melvin Purvis, official of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice said the government would soon launch an unprecedented attack against gangdom.

John (Jake, the Barber) Factor was freed in Lagrange, Ill. He had been tortured and starved by his captors who had held him since July 1. He told the United Press he paid $50,000 ransom. It was learned, however, the $50,000 was only the first payment on the ransom demands and that more must be paid later.

In Albany, N. Y., the powerful bosses of the O'Connell democratic machine shooed away police depended upon underworld contacts to free their heir to their clan, John J. O'Connell, Jr., 24.

In Alton, Ill., the family of August Luer, 77-year-old millionaire banker, feared he might die while in the hands of his abductors. Many believed contact had been established with the kidnapers and a ransom was about to be paid.

Two secret service men have been assigned to guard the three grandchildren of President Roosevelt, it was learned today at the White House where it was said the recent epidemic of kidnaping caused the guard to be ordered.

Appeal to States To Change Laws Is Now Expected

WASHINGTON, July 13.—President Roosevelt was understood today to be considering an appeal to state governors to cause revision of state laws which now are in conflict with the National Recovery act.

The problem has arisen in connection with legal difficulties, including the possibility of court action, which faced the administration's effort to restore purchasing power through speedy application of the recovery act.

Some 16 or 17 states have laws which prohibit some of the practices permissible under the industrial recovery act.

BARGAIN BRIDIE

by KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELINOR STAFFORD, 29, falls in love with BARRETT COLVIN, 35, who has returned to New York after years abroad. Barrett has made a name for himself as an archeologist. Elinor returns his affection but her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor is a heartless flirt.

When Elinor's aunt, MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies she leaves her entire fortune to Barrett. Then drunken VANCE CARTER shoots BENTWELL STAFFORD, Elinor's father. Barrett, who does not want the Sexton fortune, tells the girl that if she will marry him and live in his home as a guest for a year he will give the entire sum to her to divide among the relatives. Elinor agrees, knowing the money may save her father's life.

The marriage takes place next day. Barrett still believing the lies Lida has told him, finds himself falling in love with Elinor again. Years before he shielded his half-sister, MARCIA, when a youthful romance ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. She is constantly in fear that her husband may learn this and she forces Barrett to promise he will never tell anyone the truth of the affair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII

AS Barrett made ready for the night he heard Elinor moving about in the next room. She had not turned the key in the lock, he realized, and by that small omission had made plain her trust in him. He dallied long over his cigarette.

He would make her as comfortable in his home as she could be, he vowed. She must have all the pretty things she had lacked. He would tell her next day that he had transferred to her account the exact sum that had been left him by Miss Ella Sexton's will. After that, he reflected, he would probably know further disillusionment. She might pay the bills for her father's illness, decide $1,000 was enough for the Thropes and keep the rest for herself. That, however, was not his business. He had done all he could to return the fortune to Miss Ella's relatives.

And sure enough there was trouble about the money, but not the trouble he had expected. Three days later Barrett arrived home toward the close of the afternoon to find Elinor waiting for him in the hall.

"She said, 'Barrett, will you help me? I'm sorry to trouble you but I've worked and worked and nothing comes right. I'm so stupid!'"

"What am I here for?" he questioned, slipping from his coat with unusual haste.

"It's about Aunt Ella's money," she explained. She sighed, "I never was at all clever about figures."

"We won't worry over that," he comforted her. "We'll fix it in no time."

The gratitude in her glance made him look away.

"I wish you knew," she said, "how fine I think you are—how wonderful you've been about all this!"

"My dear child, that's ridiculous!"

"No, it isn't. It would kill me if you fell in love with anyone and were hurt by this. I don't know what I'd do!"

She was twisting a handkerchief, staring at him with eyes not yet world-wise enough to be able to veil any tragedy.

"You're an adorable child," he said, "and you're talking nonsense. Now suppose we go to the library and look over your problem!"

THEY settled side by side before his big desk. Humbly and with some embarrassment Elinor gave him a paper on which she had written very carefully large figures under the names, "Beattie," "Mother," "Father."

He considered these as his brows tightened. "But you'll have nothing left for yourself!" he objected.

"Why, I don't need anything! I couldn't, really, take it. I'd feel as if I'd been small, scheming, working for myself—"

He turned to face her. "Of course," he said slowly, "you'll have your alimony—"

"Oh, no! I couldn't take anything from you!"

"Look here, child!" He moved, speaking, to face her more fully. "We should have had this out before we were married but since we didn't, here goes. Do you think I would let any woman—or stubborn youngster—be my wife without seeing to it that she was provided for adequately when the time and circumstance makes her cease to be my wife?"

"I don't know." He had never seen her more feminine—madly, gloriously so. "But I can't," Elinor went on, "I really can't take any money from anyone—as things are. Don't you see?"

"No, I don't see!"

"How are you planning to care for yourself?" he broke in. Again he glanced at the page on which was charted her plan to give away every cent of Miss Sexton's vast fortune.

"Well," she explained slowly. "I can give music lessons. I thought of doing that when father was first taken sick but I realized I could only earn enough to support myself. I can do that, though. I'm sure I can!"

"Yes?" he queried grimly. He would see her doing it, he reflected satirically.

"Yes, really. And at night I could play in a restaurant."

HE laughed shortly. "But it happens," he pointed out, his lowered eyelids making his gaze a condensed sild, "that I won't have that! You playing in some damned restaurant!"

"I could clerk or be a social secretary—if you preferred that," she offered meekly. "I could do almost anything you thought to be suitable. I'm very strong—"

"My God!" he flung out. "Ex-

200 Children Swim At Willows This Morning
The delightfully cool Willows swimming pool attracted more than 200 children this morning between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock offered as free swim day through the courtesy of the Lions club of the city.

Mrs. George Armstrong, public health nurse and well known among all Ranger children was present, examining each child before entering the water.

Swimming parties made up of 10 children or more may enjoy a swim for only 5 cents each. In this way many more may take advantage of the refreshing diversion. It is generally known by this time the price for all adults has been reduced to 15 cents adding a larger number of persons swimming each day. The town may well feel proud of such a modern and attractive swimming pool far surpassing any other claimed in the neighboring towns.

Sunday School Department Entertained With Swim Party

The young peoples department of the Central Baptist Church of which Mrs. H. H. Stephens is superintendent, assisted by teachers, Mrs. Frank Hicklin and Mrs. Alice D. Andrews, enjoyed a delightful outing and swimming party at Trianon pool in Olden, last evening.

The entire group met at the church at 7:30 and motored in a body to the pool. Following the swim party a picnic supper was spread and done justice to by a large number of members.

Mrs. Hicklin Improving

Mrs. Frank Hicklin, who has been ill at her home, 718 Elm street, for the past two weeks, is much improved. Mrs. Hicklin has been greatly missed from church activities at the Central Baptist church since she has taken a very active part for the past three or four years.

Dr. Stephens and Daughter Attending Leaders Baptist Encampment at Leaders

He probably learned that as district governor it might do to address his fellow Rotarians, but when at bat it is better to address the ball instead of the umpire.

TIMES WINNER OVER ROTARY BY 30-2 SCORE

The Times team of the Twilight League won a ball game Wednesday afternoon from the Rotary club, taking the game by a score of 30 to 2. Base hits by the Times players, who accounted for 25, and errors on the part of the Rotarians who made 13, were responsible for the one-sided score, while the Rotarians were making but five hits off the delivery of "Kingfish" Glazner, who struck out seven of the Rotarians and walked but one.

Two errors were chalked up against the Times, both coming on the same play when a deflected grounder was recovered by another player and a wild throw made to first.

The Rotarians were held scoreless in six of the seven innings they played, making both their runs in the fifth, while the Times scored from three to 12 runs in each inning after the second after being held scoreless in the first.

Bunch of Stars From The Ranger Twilight League

Eck Curtis, who makes catching for the Elks a serious business. Eck's hitting was not up to what he thought it should be at first, but he is now slapping them out at a .500 clip or better, to make up for his first day at bat, when he went hitless.

J. C. Smith is the manager of the Rotarians, and does a good job at it. Because of weak legs or charleyhoes or something, he is always given a runner after reaching first base. Dr. Haslam has done most of J. C.'s running for him in the Rotary games.

Clint Davis, spark plug of the Legion team. Clint gallops up and down in the outfield, climbing rock piles and dodging clothes lines while picking all hard hit flies. At times he pitches when P. O. Hatley's arm gives out. His hitting is largely responsible for most of the Legion scores.

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy plays a mean game at first base, any way you take it. He is one of the outstanding first basemen of the league, though he developed engine trouble in a practice game when he wore cowboy boots that were too small for him and he hit a three bagger. However, he is back in the game and going strong.

Grocers Win From Guards Wednesday

The Robinson Grocery team defeated the Guards Wednesday afternoon by a score of 16 to 8, making the third win out of four games played between the two teams. The guards defeated the Grocers last week, being the only game lost by the team this year.
Home runs were knocked out by Landers, Robinson and Mace for the Grocers, while the Guard center fielder played the most outstanding game.

"Man often forgets the present," sagely observes a college president. Many wives will agree that this is true on wedding anniversaries.

Penney Store Is Well Stocked With Many New Blankets

The J. C. Penney store has been remodeled on the interior in order to take care of the enormous supply of blankets that is being received to supply the winter trade demands.

The front balcony railing was moved back to provide storage space across the entire front of the store and blankets, all of the same kind, fill almost the entire space. In the rear, behind the shoe department, large boxes of blankets, stacked almost to the ceiling, are today being opened, marked and placed in stock.
Roy W. Gilbreath, manager of the store, explained today that he had received a bulletin to the effect that the rising cost of cotton and wool would make the prices on blankets much higher before the first of August, so he ordered enough to last for some time. This foresight on his part will mean a big saving, in this item alone, to the people of Ranger.

Prices on many of the items now carried on sale are much higher in the markets now, and everything received after July 15 will bear a higher price. This is true of cotton goods, woollens, shoes and practically every item carried in the store, it was stated today.

Puts An End To Bunion Pains

No Need to Suffer Another Day
There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflammation of swollen toe joints and help get them down to normal and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning.
Ask Paramount Pharmacy or any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if one bottle of Emerald Oil does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.
Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and banches are reduced to normal.

Honors Birthday Of Friends

One of the novel and delightful entertainments of this week, was the supper hostessed by Mrs. Robert Sanford, and Mrs. K. S. Harris, Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sanford on Foch street, honoring those friends whose birthdays came in the month of July: Mrs. Fred Hayes of Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. John Miller; Mrs. Effie Crow; R. S. Harris Jr., and Randolph Railey.
The little party gathered on the lawn where the long table, linen covered, was centered with a gorgeous bouquet of sunflowers, and place cards indicated covers of the guests.
A toothsome menu of baked chicken with dressing was served and fried chicken with gravy, salmon, potatoes, fruit salad on lettuce, pickles, relishes, iced tea
