A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE PRINCE OF PEACE: Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The PRINCE OF PEACE.—Isaiah 9: 6.

This Matter of Twenty Millions in Bonds

If we don't do it, what are we going to do?

All other things being equal, The Times would no more advocate the passage of a bond issue in Eastland county or Texas at the present time than this newspaper would give editorial support to a proposed war with China. Here we are, in the midst of the worst and, at the same time, the most peculiar crisis civilization ever conceived could take place in a modern era . . . here we are, in the midst of an economic depression faced with the request that on top of all the bonds and other forms of expense with which we have burdened ourselves into this seemingly unscalable hole, will we vote bonds in amount of 20 million dollars more?

But . . . If we don't do it, what are we going to do?

It has cost Eastland county several hundred dollars a month to take care of the destitute and unemployed, a sum which up until now has been supplied by the federal government out of an appropriation of over a million dollars per month to the state as a whole.

Comes now the federal government and says that if the State of Texas, which includes Eastland county, fails to show a disposition to share the burden of this relief, there will be no more federal money.

The Times accords itself a pretty accurate knowledge of the character of this community. It is superfluous to mention that this community's character is of the type which always shall dictate an adherence to the principle, "I am my brother's keeper." That adherence has sent no man, woman or child hungry or destitute beyond the city limits.

Without federal funds, then, to perpetuate our record of continuous human salvation, we would need to raise in this county next year thousands of dollars.

Why, all the righteousness of purpose and Christian zeal in this community could not raise sufficient funds during the next 12 months? Because we would be lack-raised in our effort? No. Because the spirit of service would be weak? No. Just because of one simple thing . . . THERE ISN'T ENOUGH MONEY IN THIS COUNTY AVAILABLE BY ANY HITHER-KNOWN METHOD OF SECURING FINANCIAL DONATIONS.

And that isn't all. THE MOST THIS COMMUNITY EVER RAISED FOR CHARITABLE AND CHARACTER-BUILDING PURPOSES PUT TOGETHER IN ONE YEAR WAS LESS THAN THE AMOUNT NOW NEEDED.

The per capita cost would not exceed 50 cents. Provisions of the statute we are asked to approve calls for no additional tax on real or personal property but that the state legislature must discover elsewhere a source upon which to levy. A very important item of the issue we should approve is that in voting approval of a $20,000,000 bond issue, we are not voting an immediate issue of $20,000,000 in bonds, but we are telling our legislators to issue bonds up to that amount with interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent, redeemable in 10 years, as its wisdom dictates relief, unemployment, and threatened human destitution in the world's greatest public commonwealth demands.

Some opposition already has been voiced in this community to the bond issue. The Times accords anybody the right to their opinion. It accords anybody the right to support their opinion with what they deem are reliable facts. Such opposition as has been spoken emphasizes that the national recovery program now under way will have gathered such strength and created such results within two or three months as to dissipate demand for relief such as now exists hereabouts and in Texas at large.

The statement has just been made that The Times accords everybody the right to support their opinion with what they deem are reliable facts. But the suggestion that the recovery program will dissipate need of this relief is an argument not supported by fact. If a fact at all, it falls in the category of an anticipatory fact. It is a guess as to the future.

God knows that all of us hope and pray that this anticipatory fact will become a certainty. MARK WELL THAT IF THIS ANTICIPATION BECOMES A FACT THE LEGISLATURE WILL NEVER FIND OCCASION TO ISSUE ANY BONDS UNDER THE AUTHORITY WE HAVE VOTED.

If we don't do it, what are we going to do?

As Mob Sacked Presidential Palace in Havana

As word swept over the embattled city of Havana that the tyrannical regime of President Gerardo Machado was at an end, thousands of joyful celebrants swept into the presidential palace to loot and destroy. The result of the mob's frenzy is strikingly pictured above. Windows and doors were smashed; rich furnishings pulled down and carried away; state papers and records tossed into the court in a littered mass. Here you see members of the mob searching the debris, and others carrying loot from the palace.

Drouth Ruins Wheat Crop In Southern Area

GUYMON, Ok., Aug. 19. — A vast empire, larger than France, which normally pours millions of bushels of wheat into the nation's granaries, lies wasted this year.

One of the worst droughts on record laid waste the rich Panhandle region of Oklahoma, Texas, Southwestern Kansas and the adjoining tips of Colorado and New Mexico. Rain the first of the month was the first appreciable moisture in 18 months.

Where waving fields of grain stood last year, the soil is as barren as if it had been swept by a huge broom into sand dunes along fence rows and highways.

Swept as if by Broom The unprecedented action of the elements, in fact, worked like a huge broom since Jan. 7 in the Panhandle. Sixty separate sandstorms, swirling up from the Texas plains, have ground out virtually all vegetation. These storms, during an 18-month drought, prevailed for as long as a week at a time. Gales blew up dust and sand at mid-day that obscured the sun. Street lights were turned on at noon many days. Chickens went to roost at 2 p. m.

Owners of the vast wheat ranches and the remainder of the populace are faced with starvation this winter. Of Texas county's 2,200 farmers, more than half now are on federal-state relief rolls. In the Oklahoma area alone, comprising chiefly Texas, Cimarron and Beaver counties—the worst sufferers—and the border counties of Woodward, Ellis, Harper and Woods counties, it has been estimated that an expenditure of at least $500,000 will be required before Christmas to forestall actual starvation in this land where practically every farmer owns his own ranch and home.

Texas County Suffers Texas county is one of the world's greatest wheat producers. For the past five years it has harvested an average of 6,000,000 bushels annually. Growers anticipated an 8,000,000 bushel harvest. They reaped but 8,000 bushels and not a combine was put into the field in the three counties extending over an area 100 miles by 30 miles.

Not a single garden in this stricken area could be raised. Cattle, suffering from water shortage, graze hungrily on parched sagebrush and yellow stunted forage.

Too Proud for Aid The farmers who till this plains country, which lies like an even floor as far as one can see, are too proud to seek aid. When Gov. W. H. Murray called the four-state relief conference here, representatives found for the first time the acuteness of the situation.

Residents of the area are looking forward to approval of flood control and reservoir projects along the storied Cimarron River, a flatbed stream that becomes a raging torrent when rain does fall, for their salvation. State officials have taken these appeals to the public works administrators at Washington.

Fireman's Mascot Is Out of Practice

MISSION, Texas.—When Jack, the "houn' dawg" mascot of the Mission volunteer fire department, tumbled from pumper No. 1 while it was answering a fire alarm, he made news.

Jack hasn't missed a fire alarm in four years. When he was thrown from the pumper as it rounded a sharp corner, firemen were surprised. They concluded it had been so long since there had FOUR great women athletes have come to the front in the last 10 years . . . one of them was Helen Wills, who started a decade of supremacy 10 years ago at Forest Hills when she finally beat Molla Bjurstedt Mallory.

Another was Babe Didrikson, who starred at the Olympic games last year, then turned professional and now is trying to make a golfer of herself.

Another was Suzanne Lenglen, who has left the courts with the reputation of having been the greatest woman tennis player that ever lived.

Her Memory Hears

STILL another was Gertrude Ederle, who pushed her own tortured body over that stretch of icy water between Cape Griz Nez and the white cliffs of England—the English channel . . . fame left Trudy quickly . . . she lives quietly now in New York, a little deaf from her arduous exploits, but still able to hear the roar that greeted her in that triumphal march along Broadway . . . the greatest tribute ever given to a woman athlete.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma With much publicity the World Economic Conference was opened in London some time ago. It seemed that the general plan was to make a determined effort to replace selfish nationalism with unselfish internationalism. Fine idea, but it had a hard road to travel with many rocks in the way—and it hit quite a few of them.

Some of our professors and leading members of the Brain Trust expressed the thought that no nation should be a law unto itself; that the world is no longer made up of a series of economic units, but is now one vast economic whole in which the distress or prosperity of any one nation must necessarily depend upon the economic health of the others. Fine idea again!

Our Brain Trust on this side of the water think they are right, and until the world accepts their ideas we cannot hope for peace, prosperity and the stability desired by all.

Well, we wish them luck, but dreams do not always come true.

Governor Failed to Keep Appointment

AUSTIN.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson summoned mayors and county officials to Austin by official proclamation, then failed to meet with them. Some had come long distances. Mayor Joseph McGill was here from El Paso. They were assembled for a state-wide conference on relief measures. The governor's absence caused alarm. Reports that she was ill were heard.

A call to the mansion was answered by Mrs. Ferguson with the assurance that she was not ill. "When I have work to do Jim attends these gatherings," Mrs. Ferguson explained.

At her office inquiries had met the answer that Governor Ferguson was out of town.

Lower Utility Rate Urged In Valley

McALLEN, Tex.—Records of the Central Power and Light Company, water, electricity and ice utility serving more than 100 South Texas cities, may soon be investigated by a committee representing 30 of those cities.

The investigation was planned at a meeting in Beeville of representatives of McAllen, Victoria, Sabinal, Edinburg, Alpine and Beeville, which seek lower utility rates.

The utility has offered all its records for inspection and whatever statistics on its South Texas investments that may be desired.

The group of cities may employ engineers and accountants to study the company's records and financial organization, according to Mayor John W. Ewing of McAllen. The proposal will be considered at a meeting to be held soon in San Antonio.

Several South Texas cities have applied to the federal public works administration for funds with which to construct municipal electric plants.

Britain Discards A Veteran Engine

LONDON.—A battle-scarred British war veteran and ex-German prisoner of war, with a travel record of more than 1,220,000 miles, has just passed away.

This "hero" was Locomotive No. 2717, believed to have been the only British railway engine to have been captured by the Germans. It has just been withdrawn from service and broken up.

While in use on the British front at Cambrai in 1917, No. 2717 was captured by the enemy and for five months was used as a machine-gun post in "No Man's Land." Following the March retreat the Germans removed the engine, patched up the bullet and shrapnel holes, and used her for railway service until she was recaptured by the British in 1918.

On return to home duties after the war the engine was decorated with a plate recording its war services.

Texas Bishop Will Attend Conference On Catholic Charities

NEW YORK.—Rev. Christopher E. Byrne, bishop of Galveston, has accepted the invitation of Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York, to attend the 19th meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities here Oct. 1 to 4, conference headquarters here announced. The meeting, which will mark also the centenary of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, a far flung Catholic lay charitable organization, is expected to attract nearly 5,000 delegates and visitors from the United States, Canada and West Indies.

In measuring the worth of your telephone, don't overlook incoming calls

When your telephone rings, someone may have a message of vital importance to you. In measuring the worth of telephone service, consider the importance of incoming calls, as well as the ones you make. An employer may wish to notify an unemployed member of your family that a job is open . . . it may be the druggist saying that he now has the dye you wanted . . . a friend who will be unable to meet you at the time and place agreed upon. Incoming calls alone often justify the few cents a day that your telephone costs.

United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—Behind the scenes at the air ministry activity is increasing daily. France is preparing her bid for mass flight honors.

Realizing the world-wide impression of General Balbo's epochal flight to Chicago Air Minister Pierre Cot is preparing the heralded air tour of Africa, in which at least 25 airplanes are to cover 25,000 kilometers of the Dark Continent, with as much care and precaution as if the armada were going to fly to the moon.

Like Balbo's men at Orbetello, the French crews, which have just been selected, will live at Istres incommunicado for about two months, beginning Sept. 1. The flight is scheduled to start in the last week of October or first week of November.

The itinerary has been announced officially as follows: Istres, Carthage, Rabat, Colomb-Bechar, Odrar, Bidon V (desert filling station No. 5), Gao, Mopti, Bamaco, Tabacounda, Dakar, Kayes, Segou, Ouagadougou, Niamey, Zinder, Fort Lamay, Fort Arhamabault, Banki, and back to Adrar with the same stops, then El Golea, Touggourt, Tunis, Alger, Oran Meknes, Carthage, Perpignan, Istres.

General Vuillemin will command the flight, unless M. Cot himself decides to go, as has been rumored. Each plane will have a flying radius of 800 km. at 150 km. per hour. The planes will be taken directly from army service without any structural modification for the flight.

English Knock
U. S. Beverages

CLEVELAND.—Ice water with meals and chocolate sodas at drug store fountains are all very well for Americans, but a group of Englishmen here on an inspection tour don't think much of their inability to obtain tea and cakes.

"The coolest drink in the world," said Joseph Stuart, editor of the London School of Printing Record, "is hot tea. Cold tea is filthy."

"You 3:2 beer is wet and cold," said Alan Greenway, son of Sir Percy Greenway, the Lord Mayor of London, "but it is very, very weak."

"It seems peculiar," said Joseph Bruton, "that no one ever thinks of serving tea and cakes."

The Englishmen are members of a group which is touring the principal cities of this country to inspect printing establishments and American printing and engraving methods.

Has Collection Of Gallstones

CINCINNATI, O.—John A. Williams is believed to have the largest and most representative collection of gallstones in the country. He is an attendant in the department of pathology at General Hospital here.

His collection of 33,000, acquired in more than 100 surgical and post-mortem cases, represents over 13 years of intensive gallstone gathering.

His prize group, containing 2,815 graduated gallstones, was contributed by one person, an adult male. It is an oddly assorted line of various hues and textures. They are variously brown, canary yellow, gray, chocolate and slate colored. Some are black, while others are white or of mixed pigmentations.

Physicians have evinced considerable enthusiasm over the exhibit, declaring it provides a perfect accumulation of "evidence" for those engaged in research to find methods of preventing the formation of the hard, pebbly deposits.

Killer Bear Eludes Arizona Hunters

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—A giant bear, known to ranchers as "Old Grizzly," is being sought by scores of hunters to put an end to his stock depredations.

His cunning has saved him from a pack of hounds and a party of five hunters, by eluding them in the wooded thickets of the San Francisco peaks.

Stockmen estimate he has killed more than 500 sheep in two years. At one time, 15 sheep were found dead. The grizzly kills at night, making it difficult to hunt him.

BILLY AND BETTY

Billy and Betty have been saving their "Prosperity Club" votes for their church the past week. Now, Billy has been to the picture show one time, has had four ice cream cones at the drug store and some candy at the grocery store, so altogether he has saved thirty-five votes for his church. Now, little Betty, has also been to the show, had ice cream cones and run some errands for mother, so she has eighty-six votes saved, and they are going to give their votes to their Sunday school teacher this morning for their church. One thing about Billy and Betty, they never forget to ask for their Prosperity Votes—Why don't you practice that habit?

Home Loan Corp. Now Ready For Your Application

Much interest centers at this time around the Home Owners' Loan corporation which is sponsored by the government for the purpose of providing relief for home owners in the way of refinancing mortgaged homes about to be lost. James Shaw, former Texas banking commissioner, is state manager with headquarters in Dallas. A. M. Frazier of Dallas is state counsel, while J. Frank Sparks of Eastland is Eastland county counsel.

Applications filed from Eastland county should be filed with Mr. Sparks, whose office is located in the Exchange National bank building in Eastland. This will give Mr. Sparks an opportunity to examine the applications, assist the applicant in making them conform to the rules and regulations of the loan corporation and thereby save time and work.

The first thing an applicant should do, it seems, is to get an application blank, which may be obtained at Mr. Sparks' office after Monday of this week, and with all of the information called for on that blank, go to Mr. Sparks and have him assist in filling out the blank and making up the application. If blanks are obtained elsewhere than from Mr. Sparks same should be carefully filled out before they are sent in as they will be returned if they are not properly filled out.

Home-owners desiring loans on their homes must have first exhausted all other means of obtaining the necessary money or extending the loan. When this is done, in regards to mortgages made prior to June 13, 1933, applications may be made to the Home Owners' Loan corporation. Loans made after June 13 1933, the date of the approval of the home loan act, will not be considered. Advances for necessary repairs, however, may be made, if approved, regardless of date.

Expenses incurred in obtaining loans are to be paid by the borrower. If the borrower is unable to pay them at the time the loan is made, the Home Owners Loan corporation may advance the amount and add same to the face of the loan.

Cash money for paying taxes on the property on which the loan is negotiated, may be advanced by the Home Owners' Loan corporation on certain conditions.

"New Deal" Song Is Written By Composer

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—NRA enthusiasm has sprouted musical wings here in the form of a song, "The Blue Eagle March," written by Walt Burgess, of Darby, Pa.

The song has been published by a Philadelphia company, and copies have been sent to President Roosevelt by the author.

The chorus of Burgess' song is: "Our hearts are true, The sky is blue, We praise the Lord that rules on high. Away with fear! Join in a cheer! We see the bluebird in the sky! The Deal is new, And we must do Our part until the very end! Strike up the band— And hand in hand We all can help our President!"

Cooperation of

stucco raised their pledges for a brick veneer.

By this time the matter of building had reached a point that the board decided that a finance committee should be appointed to canvass the congregation for donations. J. E. Meroney, Edwin George Jr., and Lum Love were appointed. Brother Nichol, though not appointed by the board to assist them in their work. A part of three days was spent in the first campaign for funds and $2,410 was pledged. None but members of the congregation were approached by the committee. All pledges were solicited with the understanding that the pledge meant cash to the church as it needed it. Some of those who pledged stated that they would have to borrow the amount of the pledge but were perfectly willing to do so. In some instances the finance committee assisted in finding money that could be borrowed on easy terms. Such arrangements were necessary that the building be finished without having a debt on church property.

At this point it was decided that an architect should be employed. W. A. Tackett of Troup, Texas, was invited to come to Ranger to meet with the church board. He and his son, a builder, came and after looking over our supply of material and learning of our plans, suggested that we could build a two-story building that would look much better and be more convenient with about the same money, provided we would leave some of it unfinished till a later date. He presented the board with preliminary drawing and specification. He was employed and although he drew plans and specifications for a building to cost approximately $2,500, that is for material, the building and finance committee have managed to improve on the quality of material specified and the quality of workmanship employed to the extent that there has been pledged and spent on the building more than $4,500 cash.

The preliminaries outlined above brought us up to the holidays and all that had been done besides the raising of funds was the wrecking of the two dwellings that belonged to the church and the old community hall in the Texas & Pacific yard, north of town, that he had purchased.

Shortly after the first of the new year the old church building was wrecked and all the lumber from it and the other buildings stacked in proper order and the ground broken for the new building.

From the very beginning cooperation was manifested beyond what anyone could expect, not only on the part of the congregation but on the part of the entire citizenship. To date the R. F. C. committee has donated to the building labor amounting to more than $500. According to an almost perfect record kept on the job 100 different men donated labor in the constructing of the building. These men donate from one to as much as 100 days of their time. The donated labor if paid for at the low scale prevailing would have cost the church $500. Some of this donated labor was skilled labor, in fact a great deal of it was of that class.

The plumbing was all donated by Frank Overholser and Carl Page.

Claude and Walter Bolen opened up a wood shop near the building site and in this shop, under the supervision of Walter, all the millwork for the building was turned out, Walter donating his entire time to the task.

The wiring of the entire building was supervised by J. C. Walker. The rock used in the foundation was donated by the Tiffin rock crusher, the sand used was donated by J. B. Ames, Floyd Brewer and Carl Clemmer; the steel used in the foundation was donated by the Prairie Oil & Gas company, the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company and Carl Christian.

On account of financial conditions the finance committee did not want to burden anyone outside of the congregation with financial contributions but being solicited by a number of business and professional men to call on them for assistance when needed the committee received from this source approximately $200 in cash donations. It is needless to say that all donations, both financial and otherwise, were highly appreciated.

Although the building is not complete in every detail we have a much better building than was anticipated even by the architect. As the work progressed, interest grew and with it donations were added till at this time, though incomplete more than $4,000 in cash has been donated and spent. All bills are not paid to date but there still remains in the treasury almost enough to pay up and what is lacking will be supplied by the time it is needed is the opinion of the finance committee.

Today has been designated as the opening day although we have been meeting in the sub-floor for several weeks, but today will be the first time to have worshiped in the upper auditorium. It is the earnest desire of every member of this church that we shall continue to be considered a working body of people that stand for a letter and cleaner Ranger. An invitation is extended to all to attend services at the Church of Christ at any time. You are welcome.

Grandmother of Mrs. W. B. Crossley Celebrates 100th Birthday at Holland's Lake

Mrs. Elizabeth Akin Curry, who Saturday celebrated her 100th birthday, "a century of progress" all her own (at Holland's lake, at Weatherford, is a grandmother of Mrs. W. B. Crossley, Spring road. The first president that the brisk-speaking and alert little woman recalls was James K. Polk, only Mrs. Curry remembers him as "Jim" Polk.

About the "war" Mrs. Curry retains vivid memories. By "the war" she does not mean the World War, the Spanish-American war or even the war with Mexico, though she remembers the soldiers marching away, her own cousins in the ranks to capture the halls of Montezuma.

Many, many interesting events are recalled by Mrs. Curry aiding in composing one of the most eventful chapters ever to have been revealed and compiled in history form.

Her oldest son, J. C. Curry, 79, whom she is visiting at Weatherford, remembers incidents and reminds his mother of the day they could hear the cannon booming as the battle of Pulaski was in progress.

There will be a birthday cake marking Mrs. Curry's 100th anniversary. Most of her descendants are expected to attend. There are four sons, three daughters, 41 grandchildren, 58 great-great-grandchildren, the youngest being Marion Faye, four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crossley.

Mrs. Curry was born Aug. 19, 1833, in Maury county, Tennessee, on a farm her grandfather had settled upon 50 years before. She and her husband came to Texas in 1884, settling five miles southwest of Breckenridge, then a village of three stores.

Some of the biggest and best known wells of the Breckenridge oil boom were destined to be drilled on part of the farm, which is now owned by a son, O. Curry of Breckenridge.

Numbered among large numbers of descendants enjoying this unusual and delightful occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Crossley and young daughter, Marion Faye.

Mrs. Hunt Home Following Extensive Visit With Relatives

Mrs. Ida Hunt returned the latter part of last week after an extensive visit with relatives. Her first visit was spent at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Jackson of Harlingen, with later vacations in Fort Worth with her niece, Mrs. H. L. Parker, Mrs. E. P. Buce of Weatherford, N. O. Hunt of Pampa, and W. H. Butler of Muskogee, Okla., a brother, whom she had not seen in 25 years.

After a short visit at her home, South Rusk street, Mrs. Hunt will return to Harlingen, where she will remain throughout the winter at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Jackson. Another guest at the Jackson home will be Miss Vera Hunt, younger daughter of Mrs. Hunt, who has spent the summer in Harlingen.

The Times team of the Twilight league, after getting off to a ragged and erratic start, came from behind in a wild sixth-inning rally to defeat the Prairie team, playing its first game of the season, by a score of 17 to 7. Eleven runs were marked up by the Times in their big inning, in which five home runs, three in succession, were hit.

The Prairie got off to a good start, making two runs in the first inning, while the Times was held scoreless. Neither team scored in the second and at the end of the third the count was three to two in favor of the Prairie, and the score was tied at three-all in the fourth.

When the fifth came up the Prairie filled the bases and Evans hit for three bases to score three runs after one had already scored. The Times came back in their half of the fifth to make three runs and bring the score to 6 to 7 when the 11-run rally ended the game.

About this matter of minutes and miles

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

The speedometer is a little thing, but can be a big source of wrong conclusions.

On a recent test, two cars of different makes, with speedometers set at 0, were given each two gallons of gas, and driven the same road till they stopped. The top car went 7 miles farther down the road than the low car, yet the low car's speedometer showed that it had gone farther than the top car. Paper miles and road miles may be two quite different things.

It is easier to build a speedometer that will read 70 miles an hour than a car that will go 70 miles an hour.

A Detroit man who has a summer home in Northern Michigan, began several months ago to drive his first Ford V-8. He says:

"My watch tells me that I go up north in less time than I did before, but my Ford speedometer says that I go at slower speed, and the trip registers fewer miles. In my former car the speedometer speed was higher, my mileage greater on this trip, but with my Ford V-8 I go in less time and use less gas."

There is no mystery about that. His former mileage, speed and gas consumption were delusions. He figured by a speedometer that did not measure accurately, and was not meant to. All his costs—operations, repairs, upkeep—were calculated on a wrong basis. A wrong speedometer misleads on all these items.

Some car manufacturers justify this practice. They say it is just as well for a driver to think he is going 70 miles an hour when he is going only 62. Well, let that pass as to speed; does it justify telling every driver that he is getting more mileage out of his car than he really is? A speedometer measures speed AND mileage: should it cheat on both?

Speeding up a clock cannot create more hours any more than speeding up a speed-meter can create more miles. An hour is sixty minutes long. A mile is 5280 feet long. Ford mileage and Ford speed are accurately measured—they are there—you get them—no one gets more.

Anyone can buy speedometers and have them "fixed" anyway he wants them. We deal with manufacturers who know our strict stand on accuracy and are glad to meet our specifications. The limit of variation in Ford speedometers, a limit that cannot be avoided in manufacture, is 2½ at 70 miles.

We get our speed and mileage out of our engine and wheels, not out of our speedometer.

Henry Ford
