The Elks team of the Twilight league won a closely contested game from the Lions Monday afternoon by a score of 16 to 13. The game was long, lasting until so late that it was almost impossible for the batters or fielders to see the ball. Three men were struck out in the last of the seventh by Galloway after Wagner had hit a home run and Larson had doubled.

Methodist Church Still Leads In Prosperity Club Voting

An Herculean task confronted the vote counters for today's tabulation of the standing of the various churches in the Horn o' Gold Prosperity Club. The count includes practically all the votes cast Saturday and until late Monday afternoon and due to the unusually large number of small demonination votes required until almost press time to tabulate. To speed the counting of votes for the balance of the contest we ask the co-operation of the public to the extent that they save the small demoninations and before casting their votes exchange the small dominations for 100, or 500 or 1,000 vote size. Any member of the Prosperity club will be glad to make an exchange.

When all the votes that had been gathered up for today's standing had been counted the Methodist was still in the lead with a total of 101,850 votes. The standing at press time today is as follows:

 Methodist
 101,850

 Church of Christ
 67,555

There is some confusion among the members of the several churches, and for that matter, among some of the members making possible the cash prizes for the churches as to just how much the churches are to get. At the beginning of the campaign it was decided that if as much as $200.00 could be subscribed $100 would be given the churches in this manner; $75 to the winner of the contest and the balance of $25 split among the others according to their standing at the finish. The other $100 would go for the printing of the window cards, ballot boxes, votes, advertising and publicity. As the campaign gained headway others wanted to have a part in it and were taken in on the same basis as the first that is; ONE-HALF of all the money collected will go to the churches.

"CALIFORNIA, HERE WE COME"

California lawmakers, almost without debate and in both houses, enacted a bill providing the death penalty or life imprisonment without right of parole for kidnapers who kill or mutilate their victims. In addition, the California lawmakers appropriated $10,000 to be used as state rewards. Gov. James Rolph gave the measure his approval. Public sentiment appears to be crystalizing in the United States. It may sound the doom of gangs and gangsters. It began with the kidnaping and the violent death of the Lindbergh babe. Gen. Smedley Butler, "The Fighting Marine," has advised President Roosevelt to invoke martial law against kidnapers the nation over. As for the penalty, he advises adoption of military procedure, or military trial, and the punishment to be inflicted by a firing squad.

"Did you every stop to think that it is comfortable, tidy and illuminating to find in some single word the summary of a whole elaborate program or complicated movement? It may be that the thousand and one rules of the Rooseveltian new deal, the wildly and somewhat confusedly whispering hopes of a better day for America, can be found to hang busically just now on some such word. It may be that they hang upon the simple, old-fashioned word 'Honesty.' Honesty not only in the personal and direct sense in which the word has been conceived heretofore, but in a broader and much more public sense. Economic honesty, political honesty, social honesty. The honesty which stops men not only from personal grafting, lying, stealing, cheating, but which puts an end to demagogy to profiteering, to serving one's self or one's group in detriment to a social inteerst.

"The demagogue who invokes for his own ends a public feeling to which he himself does not really subscribe is not honest. The profiteer who disrupts the whole economic balance to take more than his share or to take out of turn is not honest. The man who serves himself or his crowd at the expense of society is not honest, whether he be a rich man or a poor man, whether his crowd is composed of the powers-that-be, the powers-that-want-to-be, or even of the powers-that-ought-to-be. You're always saying Chesterfields taste better

___I wish you'd tell me why

Well, I've worked in tobacco; I've manufactured cigarettes . . . and I'll tell you why Chesterfields taste better.

For a cigarette to have a good taste, it must have first the right kind of Domestic tobacco. This means ripe, mellow, sweet tobacco, filled with Southern sunshine. Then, blended and cross-blended with this tobacco there must be the right quantity of the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco . . . tobacco that has a pleasing flavor and aroma.

Aroma, as you know, adds to the taste. It's just like the pleasing aroma from certain foods. It's appetizing. It makes the food taste better. It makes the cigarette taste better.

Then again, for a cigarette to have a good taste, it must be made right. The size, the cigarette paper, everything about it must be right.

Just try Chesterfields.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY @ EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. They keep their marriage secret. Dick keep their marriage secret. Dick opposes Eve's continued employment but she is determined to go on working.

On her wedding night Eve is sent to New York to meet FREDA CARTER, dress buyer. There Eve meets THERON REECE, who is much attracted by her. She visits IRENE PRENTISS, former schoolmate who is playing the stock market.

A week later Eve returns to Lake City to find a new copy writer, MONA ALLEN, at the office. Mona is a trouble-maker. Eve and Dick take an apartment in an old-fashioned house. Eve becomes nervous from worry and Dick takes her on a weekend trip to the little town of Tamkinville. In an antique shop there Eve admires several pieces of furniture. Dick says they can not afford them but when Eve leaves she tells the shop owner she will send for them later. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV CHRISTMAS fell on Tuesday that year and Eve was overjoyed when Mr. Barnes said that she could have Monday as a holiday and thus be able to spend Christmas with her parents 500 miles o'clock each evening of the week before Christmas and Eve was obliged to spend at least part of the pipe while the other played toward the elevator.
