Washington Is 24th State To Join Wet Parade

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 30.—Wets won their 24th consecutive victory today as returns from three-fourths of the state of Washington's precincts gave repeal of the 18th amendment better than a 2 to 1 majority.

The count in 1924 of the state's 2,663 precincts was: For repeal 316,064, against repeal 132,359.

In earlier tabulations the metropolitan vote had given wets greater than a 3 to 1 lead, but the margin was reduced by reports from eastern and central Washington.

Two Are Held on Forgery Charge

Information was received by the Sheriff's department Tuesday that Milton Gilbert and Russell Connor Gilbert had been apprehended at Bellville in Austin County and had been taken into custody. These men were indicted by the March session of the Eastland County grand jury on charges of passing Lone Star Gas Company forged checks to two Eastland grocery firms.

These men were taken into custody at Bellville on charges of crime there, but since there will be no court there for several months, they were relinquished to Eastland County for trial at this time. Deputy Sheriff Steele Hill left Tuesday morning for Bellville to return them to Eastland.

Ranger's Part in the NRA Program

The N. R. A. plan is designed to put five million men back on payrolls in a short time.

When this is done, 20,000,000 people (assuming four to each wage earner's family) will suddenly be placed in position to buy the normal necessities of life. That means that the total trade volume of the nation will, upon the complete acceptance of this plan, be lifted by from 10 to 20 per cent.

Ranger will have a definite share in this increased prosperity to the extent that it participates in the plan, so there is a responsibility on every citizen here to co-operate to the utmost to make this gigantic national plan a complete success. Every employer and every consumer has a definite responsibility to assume.

The Employer's Responsibility

N. R. A. calls upon every employer to shorten hours of labor, so as to make room for more employees.

Each industry will before long adopt its own code which will fix the increased labor obligations to be assumed by all firms associated with that particular industry. Until that time all employers are asked to sign the President's Agreement and to meet the hours and wages established in that Agreement. This agreement is sometimes referred to as the Blanket Code.

The success of N. R. A. therefore calls for the cooperation of every employer.

It is to the employers self-interest to do this. Why? Because more people working, with bigger payrolls, will increase the market for his goods. Every dollar spent by an employer now for increased payroll will return many fold as business flows from a consuming public, once more able to buy to supply its unfiled needs.

So every employer should sign the President's Agreement at once.

The Consumer's Responsibility

Every individual, man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself and his community and to the nation, to buy only from those employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing payrolls to bring back prosperity. This is to the self-interest of the consumer because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation.

So every consumer should sign the consumer's pledge, which commits him to do his part in this great national economic experiment.

The duty of every citizen of Ranger is therefore plain. The President has said:

"On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this Nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society and of the Nation itself that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could even hope to bring about."

Ranger must do its part in this great plan. It has never failed when the nation called and it will not fail now.

DR. P. M. KUYKENDALL,
Chairman N. R. A. Committee.

BANDITS KILL POLICEMAN IN BIG ROBBERY

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 30.—Seven men held up two postoffice guards today, seizing a $30,000 payroll, shot down two policemen, killing one, and then in a frenzy, poured out a murderous fire from sub-machine guns as their two automobiles sped out of town.

The holdup was staged in front of the postoffice. One of the policemen, Leo Pavlick, was killed instantly. The other, John Yeaman, was critically wounded.

Two postoffice guards were on the steps of the postoffice building and two policemen were waiting for them at the curb when the deluge of bullets was released.

The first murderous burst from at least three machine guns killed Pavlick, who was standing at the curb at the side of the police car. His partner, Yeaman, armed only with a revolver, was believed to have shot one of the bandits in the abdomen.

Two of the bandits rushed up the steps to where the guards were lying prone and snatched the payroll satchel. Several spectators said they saw the bandit shot being dragged into one of the two cars of the gang.

Rio Grande Valley Citrus Season To Open Sept. 1st

M'ALLEN, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Lower Rio Grande valley opens the Texas citrus shipping season Sept. 1.

More than 5,000 persons had employment operating one of the southwest's most important agricultural industries which has physical properties valued at more than $125,000,000 and expected to produce more than $6,000,000 of marketable merchandise during the eight-month shipping season.

The valley faces its most promising citrus season. Commercial shipment of citrus fruit from Texas first began in 1921-22. It was not until 1923-24 that citrus began moving in large quantities. A half-dozen conditions indicate nothing short of a catastrophe can prevent valley growers and shippers from reaping a handsome profit this year.

A bumper crop, estimated by experienced citrus men to total from 10,000 to 16,500 cars as compared to average estimated yields of 14,000 cars is forecast. Care has been taken to prevent glutting the citrus markets and price collapses. For the first time in the history of the industry there is co-operation between independent shippers and the big co-operative marketing agencies. This has been brought about by rules and regulations under the Texas citrus standardization act and provisions of the national citrus code. Rigid control of fruit grades and fruit movements will be exercised by state and federal officials.

Careful preparations for marketing the crop have been made. The Texas Citrus Fruit Growers Exchange of Mission has local organizations in half a dozen valley communities. The Rio Grande Valley Citrus Growers association operates in the Mercedes community. The three co-operatives last year handled about one-third of the total crop. They own nearly a score of the modern packing plants. All have made wholesale contacts to all parts of the United States.

Nazis Leader Is Freed In Jailbreak

INNSBRUCK, Austria, Aug. 30.—All Austria's borders were closed today after an audacious jail delivery in which three men chloroformed two wardens and rescued Franz Hofer, Nazi chief of the district.

Seventy Nazis in the Innsbruck neighborhood were arrested as soon as the news reached police.

Hofer was imprisoned as an enemy of the government of the Austrian chancellor, whose fight to keep Austria free of Nazi influence has brought the country into a critical situation with Germany.

Five Confidence Gang Members Caught at Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—Three men and two women, alleged confidence operators, whose offices are bus terminals in the southwest, were in jail here today as officers sought to identify them as the professional swindlers who, in recent months, have stripped passengers of thousands of dollars.

When the members of the quintet were arrested yesterday, police found counterfeit tickets on bus lines all over the country, bogus currency, false press cards and other equipment necessary to their trade of fleecing victims.

September 1 Is New Year's Day For State of Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—Sept. 1 is New Year's day for the state government.

Its new fiscal year starts then. Salary cuts, averaging 25 per cent, become effective then.

All money appropriated for the fiscal year ending Sept. 1, that has not been spent, goes back into the state general fund. Only money appropriated by the last session of the legislature may be spent after that date.

Approximately $1,500,000 will be turned back to become subject to reappropriation. It will be impossible to know the exact amount for some time as contracts outstanding before Aug. 31 are payable out of the 1932-33 funds.

The state prison system is expected to operate at the greatest savings under its appropriation. It is now expected to turn back $500,000. The present outlook is that $350,000 will be turned back from the judiciary appropriation. A considerable sum is expected to be turned back also from the appropriations made for eleemosynary institutions.

The state game, fish and oyster department has also cut expenses but its fund is a continuing one, and not returnable into the general state fund.

Beginning of the new year will mark also the establishment of several new state agencies. The state commission to regulate boxing and wrestling will become officially a part of the state government. Its previous work has been voluntary in preparation for functioning under state authority. The state racing commission also becomes effective.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Aug. 30.—A cloudburst which turned the normally dry Barjita creek into a turbulent, flood-swollen river, today was unofficially blamed for the Golden State Limited wreck near here yesterday.

The downpour drenched the countryside for miles. Some here felt it was responsible for the crashing of a T. W. A. passenger and mail plane. The plane fell 10 miles south of here, killing the two-man crew and three passengers.

Eight persons died and 41 were injured when the passenger train plunged through the bridge.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Visited Memphis, Tenn., last week—the capital of the mid-south, perched high above the Mississippi River on the Chickasaw Bluffs. My friend, Ed Meeman, editor of The Pres-Scimitar, showed me the sights of his city.

Memphis is where DeSoto discovered the Mississippi, and a beautiful little park overlooking the river is named in his honor. Nearby are the municipally owned river-rail terminals where boxcars are switched onto barges. The Federal Barge Line and a number of private lines are playing an important part in the development of Memphis.

Memphis is the city that was almost wiped out by yellow fever back in the 70's. But it came back bravely, and today has a population of 233,143. The city has one of the finest artesian water systems in the world.

No trip to Memphis would be complete without a visit to colorful Beale Street. There the negroes have their theaters, stores, candy kitchens, hot cat stands, drug stores that specialize in liver tonics, hair straighteners and love potions, and where "paw shop row" does a thriving business. It was on Beale that W. C. Handy, the negro musician, composed the "St. Louis Blues" and the "Beale Street Blues."

Rio Grande Valley

Extension of the shipping season by the Texas department of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture from a five-month season to an eight-month season was brought about by co-operative efforts of growers and the two departments in extermination of the Mexican fruit fly. In recognition of this co-operation the federal government has provided 5,000 traps which will be scattered through the 80,000 acres of orchards. These new traps will attract the flies almost as soon as they enter a grove.

E. F. Miller, general manager of the Rio Grande Valley Citrus Exchange, expressed confidence the citrus industry will soon benefit from the government's recovery program. "There is every reason to believe," he said, "that citrus growers will receive their share of the benefit before the present season is over."

T. M. Melden, sales manager for the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers Exchange, recently returned from a trip through the north and east, where he found a "steadily increasing demand" for Rio Grande valley fruit. The market outlets, he said, are better than ever.

Former Governors Quit Political Life After Office Term

AUSTIN.—Dan Moody, once known as the "boy governor" but an even 40 now with thinning hair, has no desire to hold another public office. "I've seen too many political ghosts," said Moody recently when the prospect of becoming a candidate was broached. "I quit when I was still young enough to get out and make a living. I have seen to many men give all their youth to public office. For a time it seems that they can get anything they want. . . . time comes when they lose and, seemingly, are forgotten. "Go to any political convention. You will find the corridors plentifully lined with men who once were prominent office-holders. Former Gov. Pat M. Neff is another who quit public office in time to give unspent energies to a new vocation. He accepted the presidency of Baylor university. Former Gov. Will Hobby, ended his public life early enough to re-enter actively to the publishing business, banking and insurance. Former Gov. James E. Ferguson at 68, seems to have reversed the program. He is expected to seek re-entry to public office.

Mr. President!

The Humble Oil & Refining Company and its 10,000 employes subscribe without reservation to the NRA Code for the Oil Industry; we know that the principle behind your recovery program is not an experiment but a proved success.

The NRA Code for the Oil Industry lays down the broad principles of a "square deal" between employer and employe. The Humble Oil and Refining Company and its employes have recognized the soundness of these principles for many years; and insofar as it was practical for one company alone to do so, the Humble Company has put them into effect. The maximum hour week, minimum wage scales, and collective bargaining have been basic factors in Humble's management-employe relationship. In 1932 the Humble Company completed a progressive adoption of the five-day week, making it operative in all departments. Under this plan-- a leading feature of the President's recovery program--personnel has been maintained at a maximum; hundreds have remained at work who must otherwise have been let out, and more people were put to work. In the year which has passed since the Company's adoption of the five-day week, personnel has been increased by more than 10 per cent. So we know from experience, Mr. President, that your recovery program is not an experiment but a proven success. It must be equally successful in its nation-wide application. We subscribe to it without reservation; we will follow the spirit as well as the letter of our code.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant manager of Bibb's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City.

ON Sunday morning, as he had promised, Dick tucked Eve into the roadster and drove the short distance to the new building. The white brick and terra cotta structure loomed up 17 stories high.

They passed through the auditorium where the seats were being installed. The silver screen was already in place. Dick took Eve up in the dressing room elevator and she saw modern conveniences in almost luxurious form for the comfort of the actors and actresses.

She was particularly impressed with the laundry for the children and the nursery for the children of the stage-folk. Eve looked down at the stage from the fly-loft and became slightly dizzy.

"Now I'll show you the 'green room,'" Dick told her as they stepped into the elevator again. They descended to a room opposite the wings, beautifully decorated in white and gold.

"The first kiss on the new stage," he murmured. EVE was always to remember that Sunday. It gave her her first insight into the romance of building. Dick's employers, she knew, specialized in the construction of theaters but it was not until that morning that she appreciated the extreme skill required for this branch of work.

"I'll take you out to see the theater Sunday morning," he told her. "It's going to be ready for the public in two weeks. Just now the auditorium is being decorated and equipment installed. There will be quite a staff working Sunday because of the time limit for the opening."

When Mona returned to her desk she did not glance at either of the other girls. Her features were without expression as she folded a few sheets of fresh copy paper, picked up a pencil and left the office.

"She's probably gone to see George Bliss on the pretense of asking what's new in the rug department," commented Arlene. "Well, I've got plenty of work to do myself and I must say I can do it a lot better when Mona is far, far away." Arlene began to type rapidly.

HOOKS and SLIDES

BY BILL BRAUCHER

"Speed Magee's" Book
HAROLD JOHNSON, the man Kid Gleason used to call "Speed Magee," has turned out what is undoubtedly the greatest baseball volume ever compiled. And when you look over the ponderous pile of information in this newest "Who's Who" it is not hard to understand why the Kid called the veteran writer "Speed."

In a few months Johnson, assisted by Harry Neely, a number of sports writers and desk men, has rolled together a huge history of the game with pictures and sketches of the stars of today and yesterday.

In order to obtain accurate information, Johnson and his staff, working in Chicago, issued and edited thousands of questionnaires. The result is a tome nearly a foot tall, of 545 pages, with 500 half-tone illustrations, to retail at $3. (Buxton Publishing Co.)

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
ALL that the horses got out of that world polo series in Chicago was bruises and oats... yet they say the ponies are 50 per cent of the battle... Jack Sharkey as champion fought once a year... now that he is no longer a big shot he has decided to fight twice a month... maybe the moral is: When You're Not Important You Have to Work... The ancient grudge between Nick Altrock and Al Schacht has reached the point where they do not speak to each other at all... During the World Series this may reach the point where they will take another punch at each other.

Nights and Days
In the publication, all the famous players of the major leagues, officials, coaches, trainers, umpires, immortals, sports writers, statisticians and others collaborated. Direction of this tremendous work by Johnson in such a way as to bring it to the presses a few months after the job was conceived must have kept "Speed" on his toes through many of the wee morning hours of a hot summer in Chicago.

The parade is complete. Storied characters who marched through baseball's early years—Radbourne, Rustie and others—are sketched together with modern heroes of the diamond. All the colorful old lads of whom the boys in the back room like to read, such as Bill Donovan, McGinnity, Waddell, Joss and Alexander, are there in the flesh.

$50,000,000 Sport
THE story of baseball is traced in the new "Who's Who" in an intimate, human way, from its inception to the present day when the major league clubs have a book value of more than $50,000,000.

Johnson has put his 36 years of hobnobbing with ball players to a splendid use in this valuable new reference and authority for the fans.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON.—The press conference has become one of the most important institutions in Washington.

It never used to amount to much. But now it is being taken with extreme seriousness by all concerned.

Hoover press conferences were relatively dull, frigid and barren. You wrote out your questions in advance and they might or might not be answered. Often the White House conferences were canceled.

But Roosevelt set the publicity pitch differently. On behalf of the newspaper-reading public, correspondents fire questions at will. Roosevelt answers with almost complete freedom, for publication or otherwise. Everybody laughs and has a good time.

Cabinet members and emergency administrators followed suit. They all spill stuff "off the record," using Roosevelt's expression.

GEN. HUGH JOHNSON always shows up in shirtsleeves and with his collar unbuttoned. His conferences are scheduled twice a week, but recently NRA, with an innovation strikingly demonstrating the new "freedom of the press" here, established a schedule of daily 15-minute conferences with each of 18 deputy administrators, advisors and other NRA officials.

At a Department of Agriculture conference you always find Secretary Wallace and a galaxy of "big shots" ready to answer your questions.

Secretary of State Hull has a press conference every day. Secretary of Labor Perkins had to be persuaded, but consented to one conference a week.

This administration believes both in frankness and in propaganda.

GENERAL JOHNSON becomes more worried daily by indications of a vast amount of "chiseling" by employers who sign the NRA blanket agreement and seek to evade its aims of spread work and more purchasing power. Asked what figures he had on the total of agreements signed, he answered, frankly enough: "Even if I had any, it wouldn't mean anything. It all depends on how many people comply."

THE beautiful estate of Secretary of War Dern needed a grass-cutting badly. A call went from the War Department to Fort Myer and four soldiers were sent with lawn mowers. About that time Dern was making a speech in California and telling how the New Deal was providing jobs for everybody.

Somebody here squawked about that lawn mowing and the soldiers were suddenly returned. The fort commandant explained it was all a "mistake."

stands as the official game.

Both teams started off well, the Barbers making five runs on five hits in the first inning, while the Legion was making four runs on four hits in their half of the first. In the second the Barbers batted around, aided by walks and errors, to make eight more runs, while the Legion scored three. The Barbers continued their batting spree in the third and fourth, making 11 runs in the third and six in the fourth before the game was called because of darkness.

The Legionnaires, in an effort to check the onslaught, shifted practically every man in the field, to no avail.

CUBS BUY HIM

In order to pack a heftier punch on their current eastern invasion, the Chicago Cubs spent $25,000 to buy Adolph Camilli, above, first baseman of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League. The youngster will take Manager Charles Grimm's place on the initial sack, Grimm going to the bench to confine his efforts to directing the Cubs in their drive for the pennant.

Century of Progress Expects an Increase

"That's nice!" is Mary Boland's comment on everything that happens in "Three-Cornered Moon," latest Paramount hit coming today to the Arcadia Theatre. As head of the "crazy" Rimplegar family, she is co-starred with Claudette Colbert and Richard Arlen. No matter what happens, she says, "That's nice!" even when it's as momentous an event as butting in on this love scene.

PARIS STYLES

PARIS.—Before designing this season's fabrics Pierre Besson, of Chatillon, Mouly, Roussel, went out and took a walk to investigate the tree bark. Just what had this above was the first one over here to produce the latex wools that have been going so strong. Incidentally this idea came from America (Ha! Ha!) and even the French admit it's good.

Among other elastic fabrics to be found this winter are a number of jerseys, baptizied zouka, zoulux and zouangor all of which look something like tweeds, or hand-knitted things.

As for colors the deep reddish browns, prunes (off-purple tones) and the fine moss and old English ivy greens.
