CRUDE PRICES ARE RAISED BY MORE BUYERS

HOUSTON, Sept. 9.—The Shell Petroleum corporation joined today in the general upward revision of crude oil prices. The top price was 90 cents a barrel for East Texas and Livingston crude.

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—Oil prices moved up today in the wake of enforcement of the national curtailment of Secretary Ickes. Gasoline prices rose one cent, with companies posting a price of $1.09 in the Conroe field, the much talked of goal of $1 oil was surpassed.

At Tulsa reports were current that another, the fourth since Secretary Ickes set domestic production at 2,409,700 barrels a day, was due early next week. A top price of $1.12 for Oklahoma and Kansas 40-degree gravity crude was mentioned as the next step.

Oil Council to Hold Meeting at Austin Sept. 15

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Electorates and committees of the Texas Petroleum council today were asked to meet Sept. 15 to plan steps in the application of the national code to this state's oil industry.

Chief Ordered "Machine Gun" To Leave Town

Chief of Police Jim Ingram of Ranger was telling Saturday how he ordered George (Machine Gun) Kelly out of Ranger last fall. At the time, however, the chief did not know that he had one of the south's most notorious bad men "on the pan."

Kelly, accompanied by a woman, came to Ranger in the fall and stayed in town for several days. He loafed around the corner of the Paramount pharmacy, wearing dark glasses most of the time, the chief recalls.

Ingram became suspicious of the man and woman and picked them up on suspicion. He took them over to the jail in the city hall and questioned them both. Neither gave any plausible answers to the questions and the chief decided that Ranger could get along without the pair, and told them so. He threatened to make it hot for Kelly, who gave some German sounding name which the chief does not remember, if he didn't leave town immediately.

Rio Grande Flood Crest Has Passed

RIO GRANDE CITY, Texas, Sept. 9.—With the crest of the latest Rio Grande rise safely handled by new flood levees, relief work was continued today.

People Are Urged To Enter Exhibits In Fair Tuesday

J. C. Patterson, county agent, and Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent of Eastland county, Saturday urged everyone in this section of the county to enter exhibits in the community fair, if possible.

The two agents pointed out that even though farm, garden and other produce might not seem to be up to standard it should be entered in the fair because the exhibits this year will not be up to the standard of former years and might be in the prize winning class.

American Victim Of Nazi Attack

Another Nazi assault against an American citizen that brought a protest from the U. S. Embassy in Berlin was the attack on Samuel Bernard Bossard (above), 21-year-old Princeton graduate studying in Berlin. Bossard, a resident of Chester, Pa., was struck while watching a storm troopers' parade in Berlin.

Judge Patterson Has Busy Week In 88th Court

Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th District Court has been very busy during this week, during which time he has relieved his docket of several cases. Possibly the most important was the one in which he refused the application of the plaintiff for the appointment of a receiver in master of chancery after a hearing of three days in the case of J. J. Parks vs. Hall Walker et al. This suit involved the title and custody of oil leases in East Texas on which five producing wells are located.

Another important case which was decided Friday was that of Lewis L. Loe vs. the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company in which an agreed settlement of a claim was made in the sum of $475, and setting aside a former ruling of the Industrial Accident Board.

On this same day a habeas corpus was heard for the reduction of bond in the case of the State of Texas vs. Chester White in which the defendant is charged with the theft of an automobile from Kenneth Falls.

White was remanded to the custody of the sheriff without any reduction in the amount of the bail.

During the week the case of Della McBee vs. H. L. McBee for divorce was heard and the divorce granted to the plaintiff together with the custody of the two children.

Rio Grande Flood Crest Has Passed

RIO GRANDE CITY, Texas, Sept. 9.—With the crest of the latest Rio Grande rise safely handled by new flood levees, relief work was continued today.

Richard Allen Douglass of La Feria died of injuries sustained; Reuben Flanders was killed 15 miles south of Matamoros. Gilberto Gutierrez was found dead in his home near the same city.

The body of a man was found beneath a wall at Brownsville. Albert Derrick, 36, Brownsville, died of a heart attack caused by the storm.

Red Cross workers continued to distribute food and medicine at headquarters at Harlingen.

NEW RESIDENTS
Eastland gladly welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Tom Flack and their little daughter, who moved from Fort Worth to Eastland the middle of last week, to make their home and are located in Hillcrest in a residence formerly occupied by the Vanns. Mr. Flack is associated with M. L. Kensler in the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Co.

HARVEY BAILEY PLEA DENIED BY U. S. COURT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 9.—The plea that Harvey Bailey, outlaw, is subject to "inhuman" treatment in his Oklahoma county jail cell, today failed to secure his release on bond.

Denying the plea of James Mathers, attorney for the accused kidnaper and slayer, U. S. District Judge Edgar Vaught promptly and vigorously denied the writ of habeas corpus.

Bailey was not present in the courtroom. Clad in "shorts" with federal agents guarding him closely, he sent word from his cell he would like to show the court proof of his mistreatment.

After Mathers had made his statement the judge said: "Mr. Bailey with a gun escaped from a jail a few days ago. I regard Mr. Bailey as a dangerous man and I don't think he would hesitate to murder anyone in order to escape. I think it is the duty of the U. S. marshal that he be securely held and from your application I presume Mr. Bailey is being securely held."

Sam Sayers, Fort Worth, attorney for R. G. (Boss) Shannon, his wife and their son, Armon, accused with Bailey in the Charles Urschel kidnaping, presented three petitions to the court. He entered a demurrer to the charges. The judge overruled the plea and then overruled a request the three Shannons be given a severance of trial.

Sayers asked for a bill of particulars be presented by the district attorney outlining in detail the allegations against the Shannons. The court set next Friday for date of hearing on this request.

Methodists Still Retain Lead In Prize Campaign

The Methodist church continued to climb in the Prosperity Club campaign piling up more than 100,000 votes Saturday to pull farther away from the Church of Christ, their nearest competitors.

Other churches retained their positions in the standing. The standing of the churches in the tabulation made Saturday night was as follows:
Methodist 570,275
Church of Christ 373,420
Catholic 311,810
Central Baptist 229,200
First Christian 183,400
First Baptist 168,390
Presbyterian 34,475

Davis, teacher of business administration in the college; Miss Irene Chadwick of Houston, librarian at the high school and junior college; Jack Galloway, Hodges Oak Park, and Hubert Capps, Young school. Announcements were made for opening all schools for Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Formal opening of the high school and junior college Tuesday morning, 9 o'clock.

Many are reporting for enrollment in the junior college and prospects are bright for a splendid session. All teachers seemed happy to be back on the job.

Bulldogs to Play At Home Sept. 23

Coach Eck Curtis of the Ranger High school has announced that the Lubbock game has been postponed one week and that a home game has been secured for the Bulldogs for their first game.

The Stephenville High school Yellow Jackets will be the first opponents of the Bulldogs this year, the game to be played at Lillard Field Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23.

PIPE THIS! At Party With Huey—and See His Hand!

Tentative candidate for the "Kingfish" medallion which is to be struck off to honor the man who biffed Huey Long, is Captain A. Williams, the speed flyer. Evidence that he was the hero of the Battle of Long Island was the iodine-stained swollen right hand he revealed when, as shown here, he appeared at Roosevelt Field.

Court Transfers Frank Bida Case To Breckenridge

On Thursday, Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th District Court, on his own motion, transferred the case of the State of Texas vs. Frank Bida and its companion case, the State of Texas vs. Sam Baskin to the 90th District Court at Breckenridge.

On Friday morning the defendant, Frank Bida, entered into recognition in the sum of $1000, in open court with Frank Kirk and Arnold Kirk of Gorman and W. W. Gilbert of Carbon conditioned for his appearance before the 90th District Court at Breckenridge on September 18th.

In a telephone conversation with Judge Patterson Judge Hamlin of the Breckenridge court indicated that, although he was having Bida to appear there on the 18th of September, it would be about the 9th of October before he could reach the case for trial because of prior settings.

An indictment charging Bida with the burning of the building where he was doing business in Eastland was returned more than a year ago. Since then the case has been tried three times, twice while Judge Elzo Been was presiding, resulting in a mistrial each time. The last trial came before Judge Patterson in June resulting in a divided jury, the members standing six and six.

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—A 30-day reprieve was granted by Governor Ferguson today for Pantaleon Ortiz, Mexican citizen, waiting death in the electric chair Sept. 12.

FARMERS DIDN'T TRUST RELIEF

BELTON, Tex.—Bell county farmers were not willing to abide by the Texas electorate's decision on $20,000,000 bonds for relief. They canned 5,000 cans of vegetables and 2,000 cans of meats in R. F. C.-sponsored community kitchens for their own "winter relief."

VARNELL TRANSFERS
CISCO, Sept. 9.—E. H. Varnell, who has been teacher of vocational agriculture in the public schools of Cisco for some years, will go to Arlington where he will be connected with the North Texas Agricultural College.

RANGER VOTES 240 TO 151 AGAINST WITHDRAWAL OF MERRIMAN FROM DISTRICT

The vote on dissolution of the Ranger Independent School district, in which the residents of Merriman were seeking to withdraw from the Ranger school district showed a majority of 89 votes against dissolution in the Ranger city hall box, the only box voting in the election except Merriman.

The vote at Merriman could not be determined late Saturday night, but it was stated on good authority that the total voting strength of the box would not be more than 20 to 25 votes, far short of the 90 needed to overcome the lead against dissolution of the district polled in the Ranger box.

A total of 392 ballots were cast in the city hall box, one ballot being mutilated and 240 being cast against allowing Merriman to withdraw from the school district and join the common school district and 151 votes being cast in favor of the withdrawal.

Much interest was shown in the election in Ranger, particularly in the last few minutes of voting when a large number of ballots were cast. Throughout the day the voting had been comparatively light, but the last hour saw the number swelled by almost one-third of the total number of votes cast.

The election was originally called for Aug. 26, by the commissioners' court, with only one voting box at Merriman. This order was later changed to provide for one voting box in Ranger, with the date of the election changed to Sept. 9. The change in the election order probably accounted for the large number of votes being cast in the election and did much to swing the election against the proposed dissolution and the withdrawal of Merriman from the district.

Municipal Bond Issues Failed To Get by Voters

AUSTIN.—Despite the authorization of a $20,000,000 relief bond issue by the Texas electorate last August, the voter has decidedly turned "thumbs down" on the creation of bonds or other indebtedness in municipal financing.

Municipal bond issues reached their peak for the last five years in the 12 months ended Aug. 31, 1930, when $88,229,002 of bonds were approved, according to the charts of Antoinette Kuehne, editor of the University of Texas' semi-weekly Bond Buyers' bulletin.

Recent unpopularity of bonds is attributed in part to the voters' drive for lower tax burdens and to the state bond assumption law which freed counties and road districts from the necessity of voting bonds to furnish local highway aid.

Such road bonds eligible for state assumption approximate $108,000,000 in amount, according to official records. The gasoline tax fund enabled the state to pay its required portion of the principal on such road bonds since Jan. 1, 1933. In 1934, only 30 per cent of the state's required portion of the principal will be paid.

Rising Star Team Schedule Given

The conference schedule for the Wild Cats is as follows: Sept. 15, open; Sept. 22, open; Oct. 6, Clyde at Clyde; Oct. 13, Caddo at Rising Star; Oct. 20, Moran at Moran; Oct. 27, Baird (place for game not decided); Nov. 3, Albany at Albany; Nov. 10, Putnam at Putnam; Nov. 17, Pioneer (place of game not decided); Nov. 24, open; Nov. 30, Cross Plains at Rising Star.

Texas Relief Fund Will Be Matched

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Texas unemployment relief funds will be matched by the federal government dollar for dollar, it was said today by Relief Administrator Hopkins.

THIS for You, Dame Rumor!

In answer to rumors that they were planning a divorce, Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, famous dancers, struck this affectionate pose for the cameraman at Becket, Mass., where they are beautifying their Berkshire estate. Rumors of separation arose when Miss St. Denis abandoned dancing to appear in a play at Ogunquit, Me.

Body of Young Girl Found After All Night Search

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 9.—Apparently kidnaped, assaulted and strangled, the body of Margaret McCarthy, 10-year-old Somerville school girl, was discovered today in a clump of bushes near the Harvard Divinity school.

The girl went on an errand for her mother yesterday and never returned. Finding of the body climaxed an all-night search.

The victim lay on her back with one leg bent under her. Her features were contorted. There was evidence of a criminal attack.

W. S. Shannon Not Guilty

The jury in the case of the State of Texas vs. W. S. Shannon, which was tried in Justice Milton Newman's court Friday, returned a verdict of not guilty. This is the case in which Shannon was charged with swindling, or obtaining money under false pretenses, and grew out of a go to church campaign in which Shannon is alleged to have represented himself as one of the local pastors speaking in selling go to church stamps to the business men of Eastland.

Mail Robbery Suspect Held

LAKE CITY, Minn., Sept. 9.—Two mail robbery suspects, one of them critically wounded, were captured today after a gun battle. A third man escaped but also may have been shot.

The wounded man was not identified. The other prisoner gave his name as R. Peterson, Rockford, Ill.

Phoney Gravestone Racket Springs Up

EL PASO, Sept. 9.—A counterfeit gravestone racket has been brought to light here with the theft of a marble stone valued at $85 from Concordia cemetery. Fred O. Narzinsky, manager of a monument company, said the thieves made plaster of paris casts of the stone and sold them to poor persons who were unable to purchase real Italian marble stones. He said a few weeks after the theft models of stone "began to appear all over the cemetery."

HAVANA NOW NORMAL AFTER RECENT RIOTS

Warships To Continue To Guard American Lives in the Revolt Areas.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—American warships were speeded today toward completion of the naval encircle of Cuba as the state department received reports that many parts of the island were without effective government.

Reports expressed doubt that lack of government could continue without serious disorders. Simultaneously the navy department revealed new orders which dispatched the Mississippi to Havana.

The navy department said eight destroyers now assembling at Tampton Roads, Va., would be sent to Cuban waters as soon as all hands and equipment are on board.

At his press conference today Secretary of State Hull implied the United States was holding Cuba responsible for order. He took the position Cuba's fate lay in the hands of her own people. Hull did not mention intervention.

HAVANA, Sept. 9.—Cuban opposition to American intervention solidified today. The executive committee government sought to prevent any excuse for it but used the possibility of intervention as an argument to win support of political leaders and mar army officers.

Havana was completely normal. It was even more calm than in the days when the secret service men of Gerardo Machado ruthlessly maintained order.

Several Counties Fail to Send In Election Returns

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Nolan county was listed as one of 22 which had not forwarded returns of the August 26 election.

Secretary of State W. W. Heath indicated that if the returns are not in by Thursday the canvass of the election will proceed without reports from the delinquent counties, thus disfranchising voters from those counties.

Without the 40,000 votes cast in the 22 counties there was possibility the state beer revenue may be lost and relief bonds delayed, he said.

88th Grand Jury Return 24 Bills

The grand jury of the 88th District Court, which was empaneled Monday morning by Judge B. W. Patterson, recessed Thursday afternoon after working four days, and returned 24 bills of indictment, 23 of which were felonies.

The grand jury was empaneled for the duration of the September term of the court and will be subject to the call of Judge Patterson, if any need arises. The final report of the jury will be made at a later date.

PARDON IS GRANTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Governor Mirian A. Ferguson today granted a full pardon to A. J. Campbell, convicted in Johnson County in November 1932 for violation of the liquor laws and sentenced to three years.

NRA A SPLENDID STEP TOWARD BETTER ORDER OF THINGS

More and more it becomes clear that no matter what direction the great NRA program is taking us it can hardly be regarded as more than a tentative first step.

If it fails, the second step will undoubtedly be productive of even more fundamental and far-reaching changes than those which have already taken place. We cannot cancel a year's endeavor and sit back to wait for something to turn up. We are committed to a course of drastic action; if the first act flops, we can only make the second one a double dose.

But we do not believe that the step will fail. And it is in looking ahead to the course we must follow if and when this program has succeeded that we shall have to call on all the brain-power that the country possesses.

The NRA program is admittedly an emergency measure. It is an effort to surmount a crisis; as such, it has to meet the problems of the immediate present and let certain long-range objectives wait.

Taken altogether, it is a magnificent thing. But it does leave untouched the fundamental issue of the modern world—the queer, illogical way in which the tremendous increase in mankind's productive capacity has been accompanied by rising unemployment and poverty.

For the present we are trying to meet that problem by imposing sharp checks on production. We are spending vast sums to keep down our production of such basic commodities as wheat, pork and cotton. We are putting oil production under a curb; we are fixing things so that the great manufacturers may keep from making more goods than they can sell.

For the period of the emergency, such steps are good. Sooner or later, however we must find a better way of meeting the problem.

It is physically possible now for the world to produce at such a rate that every mortal can have all that he needs of everything. Somehow, once a fair measure of prosperity has been restored, we must find out how to do that. We shall have to start thinking about increasing production instead of checking it—our fields, our mines, our factories and our wells must bring forth more instead of less.

That is the direction toward which the next step after the NRA program must carry us.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

GUY GORMAN, EDITOR OF THE FLUSHING (N. Y.) JOURNAL, SAYS:

THAT business men—expert and successful in their own line—often display an abysmal ignorance of the matter of newspaper circulation, and hence cast some of their advertising money on fallow ground.

The circulation of the home city newspaper is a concentrated circulation, which means that its message, editorial or advertising, permeates every nook and cranny of the district, because it is the subject of conversation in the homes in which it goes and therefore is also the subject of conversation in the neighborhood.

Your home city newspaper is a local institution. It has served well its readers and its advertisers, and it is doing that most intensively now. Thus the newspaper has become recognized as the champion of the welfare of all the people.

The advertiser in the home city newspaper receives in full measure what he is paying for.

By advertising only in the really local and truly representative newspaper, the business men will encourage a local institution that has invested a great deal of money in the home city.

THE WISE BUSINESS MAN WILL GIVE HIS LOCAL NEWSPAPER HIS SOLE PATRONAGE IN ORDER THAT HE MAY THOROUGHLY COVER HIS OWN FIELD AT A MINIMUM OF EXPENSE.

THAT there is more to any business than merely having a place to do business.

Securing the merchandise to sell is only the first step. The most important thing is the selling of merchandise and selling it right.

The right kind of merchandise, backed up by the right kind of advertising, will always build a profitable business.

Good advertising creates an irresistible appeal. Advertised merchandise is always best for the price. Advertised merchandise always creates good-will for any business because it gives satisfaction.

The demand for advertised goods is growing day by day.

Advertising always makes a wonderful impression on busy shoppers; they always read the ads before shopping in order to save time and money.

Truthful advertising has a wide range of appeal. It reaches everybody.

PEOPLE ARE ALWAYS LOOKING FOR QUALITY MERCHANDISE. THEY KNOW THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS CARRY THE FACTS ABOUT WHERE TO BUY. THAT IS WHY THEY READ THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS CAREFULLY.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

We're on the verge of a broad statement, brought on by disinterested observation, and a sudden thought.

There have been more laughs derived from the pointless game of bridge than any other small item of home life within recent years . . . no doubt the idea is as wrong as it's broad . . . but we continue.

The game has contributed to simple American life like: Cartoons, mothers-in-law haven't Cartoons, mothers-in-law haven't,

Divorces, night clubs often don't, Nervous indigestion, Wall Street didn't,

Tournaments and trophies, golf doesn't,

Slumped shoulders and mopped brows, the depression hasn't, Bitten finger-nails and rumped hair, football couldn't,

Starved husbands and hollow-eyed wives, beer won't,

Blundering fourths, July never will,

Stuttering kibitzers, sewing circles don't,

And . . .

Material columnists and cartoonists and reporters and comic strippers waste your time with.

Something ought to be done about the guy that invented aces and kings and other foolish royalty . . . score pads and salad courses and whispered gossip.

I don't know much about the game . . . neither do you . . . nor anyone else who strums his fingers on a card table and makes a jigsaw puzzle out of his face in the nerve-wracking endeavor to figure out what the other fellow has.

Dominoes make a lot of noise and even the best of friends fall out over checkers . . . little boys lose their hearts over marbles . . . and millionaires starve after a horse race,

But . . .

Even the courts honor a trumped ace.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Sept. 10.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 135: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations."

Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Proverbs 22: "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle. Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity."

"To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning." (p. 239).

Coach Ward Calls First Practice For Monday, 3:30

Tricky Ward, coach of the Ranger College Rangers, announced Saturday that football practice for the Junior college team would begin Monday afternoon at 3:30. Suits and equipment is to be issued Monday afternoon when the team reports for practice and the first practice will be held on the ground behind the high school building. It is expected by Coach Ward that an unusually good team, with a large squad, will represent the school this year. A number of good football players from the high school teams in this section of the state have enrolled in the college and the prospects for a team seem much better this year than last, when the college had a good team.

Elks Club to Be Sponsors of The Fights in Future

A change in the plans for the Elks club fights was announced Saturday, with the night of the fights changed from Monday to Tuesday.

The change was made to conform with the new boxing and wrestling laws, which have gone into effect, and to allow for arranging for bigger and better fights in the future.

Cyclone Fox, who has been promoting fights in Fort Worth, will aid in making the cards better and the change to Tuesday night was found to be necessary because of the Monday night engagements in Fort Worth.

The fights will be promoted by the club in the future instead of by Benny Wilson, though Wilson will be on hand to lend assistance and will help in arranging the cards and other details.

For Tuesday night a good card is promised, though it has not as yet been completed. The main wrestling match, however, will be between Paul Murdock of Waxahachie and Tiger Billy McEun of Pasadena, Calif. In the semi-final Jack O'Brien of Milwaukee will meet Kid Lewis of Chicago. Wilson claims these are the four best wrestlers in Texas at their weights. The winner of the Murdock-McEun go will meet Billy Edwards on the card later in the month.

The Lions got but nine hits off Pitcher Kindred of the Magnolia team, while the Olden team was making 16 hits to score their 13 runs against the visitors. This was the fifth straight game the Magnolia had taken by the Ranger Twilight league to retain their position at the top of the percentage column.

HICKS HELPS RANGER WIN FROM BRECK

The Ranger All-Stars, aided materially by the left-handed pitching of Frank Hicks, borrowed from Breckenridge to pitch the game, won from the Breckenridge All-Stars by a score of 10 to 3 Friday afternoon on the Young diamond.

The two teams had played three previous games, all of which had been won by the Breckenridge team and the pitching of Hicks for the Ranger team was enough to turn the trick and let the Ranger team win a game from their rivals of the year.

Failure of any Ranger team to develop a pitcher of the calibre of Hicks or Shapiro, who twirled for the Breckenridge All-Stars prompted the Ranger team management to borrow Hicks to make the game more even. The plan worked out well, for Hicks tossed as good a game as has been seen on the local diamond. His hitting and base running also aided the All-Stars to down their ancient foes.

The Ranger team started off well, making three runs the first inning and retained the lead throughout the game. Shapiro was nipped for 10 solid blows, which, aided by four errors by his teammates, was enough to give the game to Ranger. Four errors by the Ranger All-Stars marred the record of Hicks, who otherwise would have held his teammates from Breckenridge almost scoreless throughout the game.

Box score for Ranger vs. Breckenridge. Columns: AB, R, H, E. Rows for individual players and totals.

Few hits were registered in the game, only 18 being marked up for Lone Star, while Sinclair was making but five. Sixteen errors on the part of the Sinclair players accounted for many of the runs, aiding the Lone Star team in piling up the heavy score.

As the game was played until dark, only six innings being played by Lone Star and seven by Sinclair, the box score had not been completed, but Lone Star batted around twice in the fifth inning, 19 men being at bat before the side was retired.

to Mother each week and she paid my expenses. But I put up such a good sales talk for handling my own money a year ago that I finally won out. Since then I've paid for my home and occasionally take wild prophesies about my financial future.

"I truly believe Atlas Copper will cover and we will be glad that it hangs on, Arlene. Why don't you tell your father about it? I think he'd see you through."

My father! Oh, that's precious. My father only believes what he sees. So he goes in for houses and—

It was a great relief to Eve when Esther's money came. She took the $200 to the brokerage office and protected her stock for the time.

AND Eve was concerned about Dick, too. The building which housed the theater was completed and Dick left for Chicago to clean up some loose ends of business in connection with the building.

Much would depend upon his next job, Dick had made clear to her before he left. It was scarcely likely that the Chicago firm would have another long contract in Lake City immediately.

She met Dick at the station the June morning he returned from Chicago. "Hello, sweetheart!" he greeted her.

"Darling," she murmured, kissing him regardless of bystanders. And in the taxi riding home she asked many questions except the one uppermost in her thoughts—him, she had wanted a really beautiful compact and this was doubly precious because he had chosen it for her.

"What do you mean?" asked Eve, her heart pounding with suspense. "I'm not going to have anything to do for a couple of months," he answered.

MARYA and Ray had returned from their honeymoon and twice Marya had lunched with Eve and Arlene when she was down town on shopping trips.

That morning she telephoned to Eve at the office. "Now that we are settled," Marya said, "we want you and Dick to come out and have dinner with us. We're inviting Arlene and Sam Holdridge, too. Ray and I both like Sam."

When Eve repeated this invitation Arlene protested. "But Sam is likely to be three sheets to the wind! I wish Marya would ask George Bliss instead. I can't think of a greater inducement to matrimony than submitting a man to the influence of Marya's romantic bungalow. And I'm going to wear my rose chiffon too."

Later when the three girls were together Eve said, "Marya tells me a storybook husband I expect to wake any moment and bed on that I've been dreaming. Sure, you have nothing to wish for!"

Jefferson Standard Company Issues a Financial Report

Meeting in semi-annual session recently, the board of directors of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company received from President Julian Price a financial statement and summary of operations for the first six months of 1933, reflecting excellent progress, and declared a semi-annual dividend of $3 per share.

Joseph M. Bryan was elected secretary of the company, succeeding Emory C. Green, who resigned that position in order to become executive vice president of the Pilot Life Insurance company. Election of Mr. Bryan to the important office of secretary of the Jefferson Standard follows an extensive period of service with the company and is considered a merited promotion. Julian C. Smith, general counsel for the company, was elected a director.

The meeting of the board was held in the directors' room on the fourteenth floor of the Jefferson Standard building. "Taken all in all," said President Price, "we have just closed the best six months in the history of the company."

In the report of Mr. Price attention was called to the company's capital and unassigned surplus of $2,510,000 as of June 30, 1933. He stated that a special fund of $800,000 is set aside to take care of depreciation of real estate and of investment fluctuations. Another special fund of $616,694 is set aside for payment of dividends on participating policies in the ensuing 12 months. He emphasized that, with the inclusion of these special funds, there is a total of approximately $3,925,000 capital and surplus for the protection of Jefferson Standard policyholders.

At the close of business June 30, 1933, President Price's report showed, the Jefferson Standard had assets totaling $55,149,137. Since Jan. 1, 1930, the assets have increased more than $6,400,900. Payments of policyholders and beneficiaries during the first six months of 1933 amounted to $5,023,993. Since organization the Jefferson Standard has paid to policyholders and beneficiaries $70,127,514. The interest rate paid on funds left with the company has not been reduced and remains at 5 per cent, it was recalled. Insurance in force as of July 30, 1933, totaled $309,277,149.

No Borrowed Money
President Price directed particular attention to the statement of the insurance commissioners who held the tri-annual examination of the company, repeating from their statement these words: "The financial condition of the company is good, the policyholders' surplus is ample and their reserve basis is strong."

"During the past six months," said Mr. Price, "we conducted all business operations on an exceedingly economical basis and completed the first half of 1933 with a substantial operating profit. The company owns no bank stock and has no borrowed money. The capital, surplus and contingent reserves, totaling approximately $4,000,000, constitute by any yardstick ample protection for policyholders."

"We want these facts spread over our community and elsewhere. While we believe that the great good-will which helped to build our company to its present position will offset any unfair rumors that may have appeared, we want everyone to know and understand the strength of the Jefferson Standard and the part it is playing in the upbuilding of our city, state and the other territory in which it operates."

In discussing the remaining months of 1933, President Price was quite enthusiastic. "Trends which first were looked upon only as indications," said he, "have developed into definite and permanent improvements."

At the time of its organization in August, 1907, the Jefferson Standard was the 111th company doing business in the United States. It now occupies 36th position. The company's territory comprises 23 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. It has more than 60 field offices throughout the territory.

Business Increases
The agency department reported that the current volume of business continues to show an increase over corresponding weeks last year. So far, July of this year exceeds July, 1932, in volume of business received, the increase being 19 per cent. Approximately one-third of the business received in 1933 has been written on the lives of old policyholders, it was stated. Further indications of improvement in business are shown by the increase in the number of people buying life insurance in the first half of 1933 by comparison with the same period in 1932. During August the company will wage a special campaign commemorating the 26th anniversary.

Contest Winner Tells of Many Points of Fair

Mrs. Mae Healer is a very busy woman at this period of the year when school opens. She laughingly stopped her work long enough to answer a few questions concerning her trip to A Century of Progress.

"What do you consider the three most marvelous points of this great exposition?" was the first question.

She quickly answered: "The wonderful spirit of the people directing the traffic without undue congestion and ready at all times to courteously direct the thousands of strangers thronging the streets of the Loop and the fair grounds.

"The second was the architecture and color of these huge buildings built for 150 days of life, not for the 30 years that is the anticipated life of a modern building. The buildings for most part are unbroken planes and surfaces of asbestos and gypsum board and such other materials on light steel frames, rather than a parade of sculptured ornamentation.

"The bright colors shining above the blue green of the lagoons, and Lake Michigan grip you at once, filling you with that spirit of adventure and fun which is after all is said and done is essential to the enjoyment of a fair. I found that the architect had used 24 colors in this great mass of color—one green, two blue greens, six blues, two yellows, three reds, four oranges, two greys, white, black, silver and gold. In studying these dashing bold colors in relation to our modern spirit in all expressions, I thought here is a suggestion of a future American color harmony, that could change neutral sections of cities and towns, bring cheer and liveliness to workers in all dark buildings, and changing the order of color effects in the home.

"The third is the wonderful and marvelous lighting effects of the entire grounds and windowless buildings so that no one could miss the beauty of any exhibit.

"The new radio that throws differently colored lights with each tone of music is one wonder that is to be in the new modern homes.

"As I gazed at the wonderful colors of the skyline of the buildings from a steamboat on the moonlit lake I learned that the beautiful color lighting is that of rare gas tubes with currents of electricity passing through them; showing us the steady march of

Terraplanes Win Pikes Peak Race In Record Time

For the second successive year, the famous Penrose Trophy will be in the keeping of the Hudson Motor Car Company, by virtue of the record-smashing victory of Al Miller, driving a standard stock Terraplane 8, in the Pike's Peak Labor Day Hill Climb. Miller's time for the dash up the 12.5 mile mountain course, 19 minutes, 55.2 seconds, beat the existing stock car record by 1 minute, 25.7 seconds. Never before had the stock record been shattered by so wide a margin.

Only forty-eight seconds slower than the new record time came another Terraplane, driven by Chet Miller, who last year won the Pike's Peak climb in a Terraplane and established a record which was to be beaten again this year. To make it a clean sweep for Terraplanes, two others, driven by Otto Bollman and Paul Most, finished in third and fourth positions.

The Pike's Peak climb, most famous and most punishing of all recognized events of its kind, is under the sanctioned supervision of the American Automobile Association. The Terraplanes which competed in this year's race were chosen at random from the factory production line by a representative of the A. A. A. Contest Board and, after inspection, were certified to be standard stock cars.

The climb is a merciless test of performance and stamina. The elevation at the starting point is 9,150 feet, and at the finish at the summit, 14,109. There are upwards of one hundred sixty turns of all descriptions. The stability of the car in rounding these curves is a tremendous factor since the loss of a fraction of a second on each would hopelessly out-class the car. The low center of gravity of the Terraplanes enabling them to cling to the road on the turns, plus their high power-to-weight ratio, providing outright climbing ability, demonstrated their value here today.

At the conclusion of the race, the cars were turned over to the A. A. A. Contest Board for re-checking, after which certificates of victory will be awarded.

science and only hinting to us the marvels which the future may produce."

"Which did you consider the most educational part of the exposition?" was the next question.

Her brown eyes twinkled merrily as she answered: "I especially cautioned my friends to forget that I was a teacher but in that marvelous Hall of Social Science I couldn't resist taking notes. Two Boy Scouts passed me and I heard one whisper, 'Some school teacher making it hard for some kid.' I spent hours in that hall and the Hall of Science.

"The travel and transport building where there was everything of the ages from wagons to wings, was intensely interesting. I wish that every schoolchild could visit the Field Museum of Natural History, containing contemporary and ancient exhibits from all parts of the globe; Shad's aquarium with specimens from oceans, rivers, and lakes are displayed amid dramatic surroundings which counterfeited the natural settings in which the fish are found.

"The Adler planetarium was most beautiful, instructional and inspiring. Once every hour, visitors admitted to a circular room, to sit beneath its domed white linent ceiling. The light is dimmed to twilight and everything seems to fall away but above the blue sky sparkling with millions of stars and a milky way.

"It is then the lecture under the direction of Prof. Philip Fox begins. The great Zeiss projector, the only one in the United States, and most noted one in the world stages a spectacular drama of the heavens not only in the present but for a year ahead.

"Numerous other buildings and villages; reproductions from all over the world among which the Belgian village is outstanding, are too numerous to mention."

"What are the most laughable instances that you can recall?"

"The unusual questions that people asked were humorous. The boys who took a flying lesson in a small plane. It was very laughable as they held the sticks as the plane tilted, turned over and did various stunts. The various ways people had of picking up and putting down their feet in the late afternoon would have been funny if I had not spied one looking at our own peculiar walk."

"Do you consider the trip to have been really worth the work you put into winning this contest?" was the final question.

"Indeed, yes," she answered quickly. "Both myself and my son, Leo, appreciated the trip as educational, inspirational and a true vacation. We wish to thank the Ranger Times and cooperating merchants many times over and all who helped me win this contest and make this splendid trip possible."

Little Theatre Is Planned In Ranger

Ford Motor Company,
Dearborn, Mich.

But who wants to drive
80 miles an hour

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

The Ford V-8 will go 80 miles an hour. But how many people wish to drive 80 miles an hour?

Hardly any. The speed is there for another purpose. If a car is to be alert and comfortable and economical at 50 or 60 miles an hour, it should be capable of going faster than that.

A car, like a man or a horse, should have reserve power to do ordinary things well, without showing strain or effort.

When you drive at your usual moderate rate, and yet to keep up that rate your car runs at nearly its top speed, you are not getting an easy ride and your engine is not doing an easy job. It is wearing itself out.

That is why the Ford V-8 is built to precision standards and engineered to do 80 honest road miles (not speedometer miles) an hour — so that it might go 60 or 70 miles an hour all day with the utmost ease, and with no strain on car or driver. Let us add, and without excessive use of gas and oil.

It is the margin between what you have and what you use in an engine that makes for comfort, longevity and economy.

It is much safer and far more economical to run 60 or 65 miles an hour in a car built to do 80, than it is to run at the same speed in a car built to do 65 or 70. There will be no excess noise — no overheating — no heavy laboring — no straining mechanism — because there is power in reserve.

The benefits to the customer of having a Ford V-8 able to do 80 miles an hour, are numerous. In the first place, such a car must be extra strongly built. It must have a better steering gear. It must be perfectly poised and balanced. Its wheels, springs, axles, frame and brakes must be of the finest strength and design.

In the second place, a car thus built for the higher speed ranges proves most alert in the lower speed ranges. In traffic it is not speed you want so much as quickness. You want instant response and quick acceleration. The high speed reserve of the Ford V-8 gives you that.

The advantages of a high speed car are not in the speed alone. You may never drive at high speed. Few people do. But to make speed possible, the car must be built to last longer, to run smoother, and to use less fuel.

Everything must be up to the 80-miles-an-hour standard to give you superlative performance at the lesser speeds.
