THREE GUESSES

12-Year-Old Girl Aided In Capture Of Famed Bandit

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Dark eyed Geraldine Arnold, child who helped take the menace out of George Kelly, was secretly hidden away today from the possible vengeance of Kelly's underworld associates.

The 12 year old girl and her parents were moved and placed under cover by the government.

Charles F. Colcord, pioneer Oklahoman, said the committee of citizens that joined him in placing the $15,000 reward on the Kelly's heads probably would meet today to determine if the money should go to the girl.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—A 12-year-old girl wrote "finis" to the crime career of menacing George (Machine Gun) Kelly. The fugitive Katherine Kelly used the child as a blind in her flight from the law. The little girl masqueraded as Katherine's daughter while the nation's most-hunted woman drove a truck through Texas.

Finally, when the Kellys dismissed her at Memphis to go into hiding, the child rode 500 miles across country, alone on a train, to Oklahoma City to give the tip that captured the Kelly gang.

The fantastic, inside story of how the federal agents "nailed" the Kelly crowd was told in a copy-righted article in the Oklahoma News, which published a picture of the girl but withheld her name for "obvious reasons." The story:

With the Urschel kidnaping trial only four days away, three "mystery suspects" were arrested here Sept. 14 by federal agents, booked as John W. Williams, Katherine Gee and Cleo Waldrep, for "federal investigation."

Authorities hushed up the matter and announced Mann act charges would be filed. The trio was released. No more was said of the matter. What actually happened was this:

A week before the arrests, District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde received confidential information that Williams, whose real name is Luther Arnold, was the "contact man" for the Kellys.

Pretty Katherine Kelly was desperately making efforts to save her mother, Mrs. Ora L. Shannon, from prosecution in the kidnaping. The Shannon farm was used, allegedly by Kelly, Albert Bates and Harvey Bailey, to hide Urschel while the $200,000 ransom was collected.

Contacts were arranged. Secret service agents shadowed Arnold. He left here and went to San Antonio, Texas, where Hyde claims the Kellys were contacted. The fugitive pair was ahead of the agents however and escaped capture.

It was when Arnold returned here that he was arrested. Then he promised to help the government.

"The man continued his negotiations and contacts with Katherine Kelly," Hyde said. "Through-out this, Mrs. Kelly did not suspect that 'Williams,' arrested here, actually was her contact man."

The Kellys had Arnold's 12-year-old daughter with them. Mrs. Kelly and the girl were reported peddling vegetables from a truck in Texas.

Recently the gang moved eastward, to Tennessee, then Alabama. Monday night, the little Arnold girl arrived here on a late train from Memphis. Federal agents, with advance information she was coming, met her at the train.

Release of the girl had been the final step in Kelly plans to go into hiding. Federal agents, learning where Kelly was, concentrated on Memphis by airplane and caught him asleep.

Committee Appointed To Help Support The Ranger Band For The Remainder Of The Year

At a meeting of the parents of the members of the Ranger high school band, held Tuesday night, Felton Brashier was elected chairman of a committee to secure funds for maintaining the band for the coming year and C. E. May was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

It was pointed out at the meeting that R. L. Maddox had been directing the band for the past few years without any salary whatever and that he had spent much of his own money to furnish music and instruments in the past, a practice that has been expensive to him, but which was necessary in order that the band might be supplied with the necessary equipment.

At this time the band is entirely out of debt, though new music is needed and it is becoming difficult for the entire band to play together because of this lack of equipment.

It was hoped that a total of from $60 to $75 a month for the nine school months could be raised among the members of the band and the business men of the town, which would pay for the necessary equipment and would partly repay the director for the outfit of cash that he has made in the past. Mr. Maddox has purchased almost $200 worth of instruments in the past two years in order that the band could be maintained.

"As the band plays on all kinds of occasions, for parades, rodeos, special entertainments and other community occasions in addition to playing at the football games," Felton Brashier said today in discussing the plans for financing the band, "it is only right that the merchants and others in the town who receive benefits from having a band should aid in financing it. It is hoped that from $10 to $12 a game can be secured by the band from the athletic fund and the pupils and parents can pay in something toward the support of the band, though the remainder of the fund should be supplied by the merchants, who, after all, are the ones who really derive some benefit from the band."

Mr. Brashier continued by explaining that the parents of the band members had to pay for cleaning and pressing of uniforms and other incidental expenses that arose from time to time and many of them could pay only a small amount each month toward the band's support. It was pointed out that if 25 to 30 merchants would pledge to pay only $2 a month each, this amount, together with that expected from the parents of the members of the band and from the athletic fund, would support the band, buy new music and repay the director for the cash he had had to pay out in the past few months.

It was pointed out that the band is often used, as at the county fair last week, with no revenue of any kind and that often the band had to make these trips and furnish its own transportation, in addition to the work of preparing and presenting a program for the city of Ranger.

In order that everyone might have an opportunity to aid in this work of supporting the band, the following pledge card was worked out for the merchants and citizens to sign, voluntarily. It can be mailed or taken to C. E. May, secretary, treasurer, along with the contribution from the donor.

C. E. MAY, Secretary-Treasurer, Ranger Band Committee. I agree to pay the sum of $..... a month for the support of the Ranger Band, beginning October 1 through May 1, 1934, in order that the Band may be maintained as a community asset. I enclose $..... cash as my contribution toward the support of the Ranger Band. Signed.....

Hunger, Disease Threaten Tampico Trade Committee To Meet Friday

TAMPICO, Mex., Sept. 27.—Hunger and disease threatened Tampico today as relief work was organized and search continued for bodies of hurricane victims. Water and light services were suspended. Food and medicine for the ill and injured were needed. Portions of the residential section still were under from 6 to 10 feet of water. Authorities feared many bodies were in ruined homes. The present death list stood at 80, but further up the Panuco river and the nearby Tamesi river, it was feared more victims would be added.

Walter Harwell, chairman of the Ranger Trade Expansion committee, announced today that a meeting of the committee and the merchants of the city would be held in the offices of the chamber of commerce Friday night at 7:30. All the merchants of the city and all members of the committee are urged to be present at the meeting in order that definite plans for a trade expansion program can be approved and the committees to have charge of the various phases of the work appointed.

AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—The witness list in the senate investigation of relief administration lengthened today, presaging a long controversy over the most efficient method of distributing part or all of the $20,000,000 in bread bonds authorized by the voters.

A day on which Former Governor Ross Sterling and managers of the three regional chambers of commerce will be asked to testify, probably will be set by a steering committee this afternoon.

Under Sterling's administration, the chambers of commerce distributed funds for relieving the unemployed at an administrated cost estimated to be less than 1 per cent.

Manager D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be questioned in regard to a claim the organization attempted to combine relief work with a membership drive.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson had set no indication today of a desire to testify. No invitation has been issued.

David F. Fyndall Named President Of Cisco School

CISCO, Texas, Sept. 27.—Acceptance by Dr. David F. Fyndall, Savannah, Ga., of the presidency of Randolph college removed all doubt that the institution would proceed upon the ambitious program mapped out for it by the late brother of the new president, Dr. John W. Tyndall, whose tragic death in a highway accident near Altus, Okla., Sept. 4, was one of the severest blows the institution has sustained.

Dr. David Tyndall, who will also serve temporarily as pastor of the First Christian church here, was elected by the board of trustees of the college Monday and accepted the place.

The new president, who will move his family to Cisco and assume his duties with the school after about a month, has been pastor of the Savannah, Ga., Second Christian church for eight successive years.

Somewhat younger than his late brother, Dr. David Tyndall is himself a noted Bible scholar and a teacher of experience. He has the degree of doctor of sacred theology and will have charge of the Bible department of Randolph as Dr. John Tyndall did.

The new president was drawn to Cisco by a desire to carry out the ideals of his brother in regard to the local school, and the program that was mapped out by Dr. John W. Tyndall will be generally followed under the new leadership, it was announced.

Unanimous Approval "We feel," said college authorities, "that a very auspicious choice has been made in the selection of a president who will not only reflect credit upon the institution, but who has ties that will enable him to carry on the interrupted program in the same ideals and spirit of his brother. There never was a more generally approved choice of a leader than the selection of Dr. David Tyndall."

Mrs. John W. Tyndall, widow of the late president of the school, remains in Cisco where she is giving full co-operation to the college program, and assisting in working out the plans that her husband had in mind, college authorities said.

Dr. and Mrs. Tyndall have one daughter, Hortez, a senior in high school this year.

He has been here for several days and will leave tonight or tomorrow for Georgia to make arrangements for moving his home to Cisco.

Prison Outbreak Quelled by Guards

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 27.—One of the most desperate outbreaks in the history of Eastern State Penitentiary was quelled today by prison guards, state police, city officers and firemen. Warden Smith, who was injured by a prisoner, led the squad of peace officers in a three-hour fight to subdue the 1,200 convicts in the smoke-filled, flame swept tiers.

A half dozen of the prisoners, among whom are 183 serving life terms and several guards, required treatment in the prison infirmary for cuts and bruises.

RANSOM MONEY FOUND BURIED ON HIS FARM

Justice Department Agents Dig Up Two Cans Containing $73,250.

COLEMAN, Texas, Sept. 27.—Department of justice agents today questioned a brother of Mrs. R. G. Shannon, defendant in the Charles Urschel kidnaping case, after $73,250 was recovered and identified as part of the $200,000 ransom for the wealthy Oklahoma City oil man.

The money was recovered from a cache in a cotton patch.

Department of justice agents, assisted by Sheriff Mills of Coleman county, arrested the man, Cass Coleman, about 45, at his farm home 14 miles from here early today.

It was indicated he would be charged with harboring George (Machine Gun) Kelly and his wife, both of whom were arrested yesterday at Memphis, Tenn. The Kellys are known to have visited the Coleman ranch in August.

A small motor truck was seized. The notorious fugitive and his wife used the truck in their flight in Texas from justice agents. The truck was deserted at the Coleman ranch after department of justice agents had been advised the Kellys were using the machine.

The money was found buried beneath a mesquite tree in the cotton patch. It was found about 3 a. m. by a federal agent sent from Oklahoma City.

The money was buried in two cans. A syrup can contained $27,250. A thermos jug contained the rest of the money.

Rain had obliterated any sign of the digging, Frank Blake, agent in charge of the Dallas justice department office, said.

At Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the department of justice division of investigation, in announcing the recovery said a total of $79,650 of the ransom money had been recovered.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 27.—Langford Ramsey, Memphis attorney and former brother-in-law of George (Machine Gun) Kelly, said he was sent by Kelly and his wife to a spot near Coleman to get part of the Urschel ransom money buried there, John Keith, head of the Chicago bureau of identification, said here today.

Federal agents today ordered Ramsey's arrest and he was placed in the county jail. Federal operatives said Ramsey drove Geraldine Arnold, 12, from Memphis to Oklahoma City.

Meanwhile Kelly's hearing on removal to Oklahoma before a U. S. commissioner, was delayed indefinitely on Keith's orders.

Rotarians Hear Inflation Talk

L. R. Pearson had charge of the program of the Rotary Club today, presenting an interesting talk on inflation.

He stated that most people thought inflation would be a Moses who would lead us out of the wilderness of depression, though a few of us really understood what inflation was.

He stated that there were two schools of inflationists the first believing in printing new money, while the second thought inflation could be carried out by a loosening of credits.

The administration policy on inflation which is expected within the next few days, he said, would probably embrace loosening of credit as the first step.

Details of the fall opening were discussed, and a committee composed of Dr. Kuykendall, C. E. May and H. P. Earnest was appointed to meet with the merchants next Friday.

C. E. May made a report on the financial condition of the band and the need for support at this time. No action was taken on the matter, which was referred to the directors.

Ben Whitehouse made a talk based on the monthly letter of the district governor, which showed Ranger club sixth in the district in attendance.

J. E. Lewis of Eastland was a visitor.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

DO GOOD TO ALL MEN: Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.
 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.—Galatians 6: 9, 10.

"TEXAS' FINEST HIGHWAY"

Central Texas county officials and citizens attended a celebration at Sequin today, of the opening of the new Seguin-San Antonio highway, called by sponsors of the ceremony as "the finest highway in Texas." The meeting was not only to commemorate the opening of this new traffic channel, but in evidence of the interest of the whole area in modern-type highways, adequate to the heavy traffic of Central Texas.

Every county in Central Texas has highway projects to be built in the early future. By taking part in this celebration of the "finest" new highway, they have shown an interest in adequate construction for themselves.

BACK-TO-FARM MOVEMENT

Use of part of the state bond issue to start a state farm colony plan for subsistence farms has been given official endorsement of Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt.

If the state will spend half the rehabilitation and relief fund in this form of rehabilitation it will achieve far more toward permanent solution of the unemployment problem than in direct relief. He might have added, or in building post offices.

Mr. Witt stressed the idea that this plan could be put into operation with a relatively small initial amount of money, using it as a revolving fund, letting the first beneficiaries pay back the cost of their land as they can, and then reinvesting their payments in extension of the plan.

Unquestionably, periods when people were moving to the farms, were living on the farms and cultivating the soil, have been periods of prosperity. Equally true, every movement of people to towns and cities, every concentration of people in large cities, every era dominated by factory work as its outstanding situation, have been times of want and suffering and misery and backwardness and decline.

Voters of Texas 13 years ago gave overwhelming approval to just what Lieut. Gov. Witt is advocating—a state system of buying and furnishing land and farm homes to those who will go back to the farm; with easy state credit to those who will become farm-owners and live on their farms. Texas is just so much farther back in its onward march by having failed to work out its people's will years ago, rather than waiting until the unemployment problem had become so acute.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

The milk crop of the United States is the only year-round cash crop the farmer has, and the only crop that pays him a check every week, 52 weeks out of the year, regardless of the weather.

As an industry, dairying in this country has developed faster in the past 25 years than most agricultural industries have in the past 100 years. Scientific control of milk production, the building up of superior herds, the cooperation of farmers in dairy programs are proof that the dairy farms today is one of America's most alert business men with an eye to the future.

"During recent years dairying and cheesemaking have become our largest national industry. The national income from cheesemaking alone was more than $100,000,000 last year. Today there are more than 30 states in addition to Wisconsin and New York in which cheesemaking is an important industry and provides a substantial cash market to dairy farmers.

"The South, long regarded as the nation's most conservative agricultural section, has in ten years' time taken lengthy strides in the building up of the dairy industry.

"The recent opening of a great model cheesemaking plant at Shawnee, Okla. is significant. The first can of milk was brought in to the factory by plane, and cheese production began with the dedication ceremonies. The official opening was the occasion of celebration on the part of the business and farm community for many miles around. And well it might be.

What this plant—and plants like it all over the country—mean to the farmer, to the dairy industry, and to agriculture as a whole, should be recognized by every milk-producer and consumer in America. It indicates, first of all, that the farmers of the country have become dairy-minded in the best sense of the word. They are concerned, not only with the production of milk, but also with its scientific control. They are concerned with the immediate and ultimate market for their product."

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO DIVE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA

FRANK CRILLEY, champion deep-sea diver of the world, retired naval diver, holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the Navy Cross and other decorations, about to go over the side in a nerve-wracking, deep-sea descent. Crilley says: "I smoke Camels and have smoked them for years. They are a milder cigarette and they taste better. But more important than that to me—they never upset my nervous system."

DIVING FOR FUN calls for healthy nerves, too! You can smoke all you want and never have jangled nerves, if you switch to Camels. The costlier tobaccos in Camels are milder, and they taste better, too!

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

FRANK CRILLEY says: "Deep down under 300 feet of water, working feverishly under terrific pressure—no place for a nervous man! That's why a diver's nerves must always be in perfect condition. And that's why I smoke Camels and have smoked them for years. They are a milder cigarette and they taste better. But more important than that to me—they never upset my nervous system." His heroic feats prove his statement.

Camel's costlier tobaccos are milder, do taste better. They never get on the nerves. Men and women whose very lives depend on healthy nerves have discovered this. Your nerves will confirm it. Start smoking Camels today and learn the difference.

Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter At the Arcadia Today

Janet Gaynor And Warner Baxter Are Teamed at Arcadia

Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter are to be seen in their newest film today when "Paddy The Next Best Thing," the latest from the studios of Fox Films opens at the Arcadia Theatre for an engagement of two days. The two stars were last seen together in "Daddy Long Legs" and their success was so great that they were again assigned to complement each other. The thirteenth characterization for Fox, "Paddy," the madcap Irish lass, offers Janet Gaynor something absolutely new. Paddy's greatest asset is at the same time her worst liability. For she possesses the uncanny faculty of envying the affection of those with whom she comes in contact. It is an asset because it smooths the rough spots of life—a liability because it makes her an utter stranger to discipline. Miss Gaynor has what is reported as her strongest role to date. For in addition to her well-known wistfulness she is here required to display a newly-found spirit. She is a rogue—and she is irresistibly charming. As the man who brings her down to earth and convinces her of his love Warner Baxter is said to be in his most popular element. He is suave handsome and the gentlest of lovers.

Take the word of a "Man about Gobi"

Next to a Camel Chevrolet gives most miles per gallon

No argument about the camel. When it comes to miles per gallon, there's nothing in all the Gobi desert—or anywhere else—that can beat him. No argument about Chevrolet, either. It's the most economical full-size transportation on wheels.

More miles on a tankful of gas. More miles on a filling of oil. More miles without worry and trouble and repair! And they're smoother, safer, more comfortable miles, too, due to all these features exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field: A cushion-balanced six-cylinder engine. Fisher body. Fisher steel-plus-hardwood construction. Fisher Ventilation. Starterator. And many more!

Travel in comfort and save as you go. Save with a new Chevrolet. In addition to being America's most economical car, it's also America's fastest selling car by the widest margin of leadership in history.

Captured Gang Linked to Sensational Kidnaping

Charged with robbery and murder, and suspected of the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany, five gangsters and their two women companions here are shown in New York police headquarters. A series of raids by Federal agents, state troopers and city detectives rounded up the band and their arsenal, and a pair of rusty hand cuffs which were believed to link them with the O'Connell abduction case, in which $42,500 ransom was paid. Left to right the men are: Fred Prentiss, Philip Ziegler, Leonard Scarnici, Charles Herzog and Anthony Reino. The women are Emma Reino, left, and Eleanor Scarnici.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

SNAIL RAISING is an important industry on the European continent. The demand for these so-called delicacies is so great that the supply is not able to keep pace, and in some sections closed seasons have been proclaimed, in order that the snail population may not become too scarce.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON.—The great coal code's chief victim is Miss Josephine Roche, the lady who for years has done most in the industry to further the present aims of the NRA.
The code sets for the Rockefeller and other mines of southern Colorado a basic minimum wage of $4.44 a day.
For northern Colorado it sets the wage at $5. That's where, Miss Roche operates as president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Co. and now pays her miners $5.25. She must compete with the Rockefeller coal.
Five years ago the handsome Miss Roche was Rocky Mountain's principal stockholder. Then nine guards shot and killed five Rocky Mountain strikers, wounding 21 others. Miss Roche, already sympathetic with the strikers, bought control and announced she would operate on a policy of industrial justice in co-operation with union labor.
PURCHASING power? In a good year her miners received average wages of $2100. Even last year the average was $1650. Employment? She and the miners worked out a rotating system so that no one was laid off completely. Last year her workers had 191 days of work as against a state average of 123.
"Sound business," says Miss Roche, who operates Colorado's only unionized mine. "We've proved that in our production figures."
Price wars, discrimination, credit boycotts and other methods were used to beat this "radical" woman.

Mrs. T. J. Earnest and Homer Booth of Spur were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stiles of Eastland. Mrs. Earnest is Mrs. Stiles' sister. Mrs. Earnest, who owns property near Spur, states that crops are fine in that section and prosperity and better times are a reality there.

Judge D. K. Scott, Cisco attorney, was transacting business in the city today.
Bill Campbell, who sustained some fractured ribs and was otherwise injured recently when his car was struck by another car on the highway, is able to be out of the hospital and is getting along well.

Judge W. S. Adamson of Ranger was among the visitors in the city today.

Mrs. Betty Harkrider, who spent the past several months here and at Cisco and Rising Star with relatives, has returned to her home at Carthage.

Crossley, A. W. Fehl, H. E. Lawrence, Guy Sherrill, H. C. Duke, Percy Harris, E. D. Hurley, Ira L. Hanna, O. M. Hunt, L. Herring, Bales, D. L. Childress, N. K. Prater, Hayes, and Miss Alva Hayes.
The session was closed with prayer by Mrs. Crossley.

SIX TONS SHOES MELTED

PITTSBURGH—They talk of the horse and wagon as a thing of the past, but read this: Six tons of horseshoes were hauled from the blacksmith shop of Thomas Mawhinney in the East Liberty district, to the melting pot of a South Side mill. The shoes, Mawhinney said, were used by him in his trade during the past 12 years. The six tons—about 6,000 shoes is enough to equip 750 horses for one year, Mawhinney said.

CAUGHT HAWK IN HAND

GRANBY, Mass.—An adult sharp-shinned hawk, intent upon raiding a brood of chickens, swooped down on the farm of Fred Constant. Constant, stepping from the barn, saw the bird, shot out his hand, and caught it by the head. He withstood its clawing and imprisoned it in a box.

WEEDS COST $75 PER MILE

WASHINGTON.—People who complain about the high cost of railroad fares, says the American Railway association, should remember that among the incidental expenses of the carriers is one for $75 per track mile per year for clearing weeds from rights-of-way.

Give Bigger Push To Construction

CHICAGO.—"There seems to be a deep-seated misconception that the Federal public works program is an end in itself," states Alvin C. Higgins, President of the American Society of Civil Engineers. "The Federal program was created as a stimulant to construction because it offers vast employment when a large program is carried through," declares Mr. Higgins. "On the face of things, the Federal program appears gigantic. But when all elements are considered it is apparent that the states and local communities must do considerable spending on their own account to make the Federal plan most effective."
"The amount of Federal money available for local construction projects is not large from the standpoint of forty-eight states broken into 3,000-odd counties which contain thousands of towns and cities—all eligible for government funds. Approximately one-half or $1,600,000,000 of the N. I. R. A. authorization remains to be allocated."
The National Recovery Act provides that the Federal Government may grant 30 per cent of the cost of material and labor of each project. The remainder may be borrowed from the Federal Government by the local community. However, recent announcements from the Public Works Administration indicate that in some localities the remainder of the funds for each project are being provided by the local community.

Obviously many communities can do all the financing over and above the 30 per cent provided by the Federal Government. As local communities make this a practice, the $3,300,000,000 of Federal money will go much farther and it will be possible to build many more projects.
We must remember that we are still engaged in a war against unemployment.

VOICE IN A WILDERNESS

A SHOPPER may wander, aisle after aisle, counter after counter, through a wilderness of "bargains." Things so cheap that yesterday's prices seem to have been ridiculously high, yesterday's purchases unwise and made too soon.

It is a fact that materials and manufacturing costs have been cut. Sound merchandise does cost less. But how often the "bargain," put to legitimate use, proves entirely a phantom. Furniture should be made to live with, not just to be sold. Shirts and socks should give service on the person and through the laundry, as well as appeal to eye and pocketbook in the store. Dress fabrics, cut into little frocks, must be exposed to sunlight, hard wear and repeated tubbings.

How, in this wilderness of manufactured things, can a person be sure of buying the genuine? What is to be his guide? Advertising is the answer! Advertising is the "voice crying in the wilderness." It is a message to you from merchants who have merited your confidence in the past and to whom that confidence means business life. Advertising brings the announcements of manufacturers who would not and could not presume upon your credulity.

In today's market it is more important than ever that you heed the advertisements—that you ask for and receive the kind of merchandise that can be advertised!

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

IS the man of your family a mighty hunter who sallies forth with a gun and traps through brush and mire and finally brings home game in the form of squirrel? And he tells you how good it's going to taste when you have cooked it. And you wonder how on earth you do cook the things.

Perhaps you have recipes handed down from mother to daughter. Our great-grandfathers relished the fresh meat and many tasty dishes were concocted for their pleasure.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Chilled sweet cider, cereal, cream, creamed strips, spinach, toasted rolls, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Open salmon and lettuce sandwiches, cucumber rings, cocoa, tea.
DINNER: Brunswick stew, endive and cabbage salad, pumpkin pie, milk, coffee.

Four over boiling water, cover tightly and stew gently for three hours. Add tomatoes, salt and sugar and cook an hour longer. Work butter and flour to a smooth paste, stir into stew, boil five minutes and serve.

Squirrel Pie
Two or three squirrels, 1 large onion, 1 lemon, 3 slices fat salt pork, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 cups water, baking powder biscuit dough.

Wash and dress squirrels. Skin and disjoint. Put into cold salt water to cover for one hour. Drain. Put into a kettle, add boiling water to cover. Add whole onion and simmer for 30 minutes. Drain. Sprinkle with lemon juice and roll in flour. Try out fat from salt pork and fry squirrels to a golden brown in the fat. Arrange squirrels in a deep baking dish. Stir flour into fat squirrels were browned in and add water slowly, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and boil two minutes. Pour over squirrels in baking dish. Cover with biscuit dough and bake 45 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Brunswick Stew
Three squirrels, 3 slices fat salt pork, 2 medium sized onions, 3 or 4 good sized potatoes, 2 cups corn, 1 cup lima beans, 4 cups tomatoes, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 quarts boiling water, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour.

The original recipe uses green corn cut from the cob. The amount of butter can be reduced to 2 or 3 tablespoons and the stew will still be quite rich.

Clean, wash and disjoint squirrels. Let stand in cold salt water for an hour. Chop salt pork very fine. Put a layer in a broad, flat iron pot and add minced onions and potatoes pared and cut in thin slices. Add a layer of corn, beans and all the squirrels. Cover with minced pork and vegetables. Season each layer with pepper and just a dash of cayenne.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

A Football Shires
SOMETHING of the muscular quality that Cecil Smith brought all the way from Texas to astound polo, plus some of the linguistic effects that Art Shires bestowed upon big league baseball, now appears on the Harvard gridiron in the person of Cliff Jackson, from Houston.

After two years of service as a scrub two years that have wilted the stout heart of many a young man - good old Cliff is right back in there again, crying for more. His shout takes the form of that ear-piercing rebel yell making the stadium reverberate as scrubs and regulars maul one another in scrimmage.

Lets Captain Know
CLIFF was sent in at end one day last fall against Capt. Carl Hageman. He introduced himself to Hageman, "You may be captain up here in the north, Carl, but down where I come from I'm a kumel, and a kumel is better than a captain in any man's army." Wherewith he flashed past Hageman and spilled the ball carrier for a five-yard loss.

When good old Cliff returned to his position, he shouted across at the quarterback, "Give me something hard!"

Coach Jimmy Knox tells a story about Cliff in the game between the Harvard and Yale seconds at New Haven last November. Harvard was ahead, 7 to 6, when Knox called Cliff and told him to go in at end.

For the Nerves
"NOT just yet, coach," was the Texan's surprising reply

What's the matter, don't you feel well?" asked Knox.

"Oh, I feel fine," Cliff came back. "But give these fellows a chance. Wait until we're behind and then put me in. We don't want to win by too much."

Whether he gets into a varsity game this year or not, Cliff Jackson is pretty sure to be a big help to his squad. Football players often become jittery or discouraged, but this won't happen with Cliff around. He's tonic for the Casey-men's morale.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY
EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in the Adirondacks. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to go with him.

MONA ALLEN, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is constantly causing trouble. She is responsible for several mistakes for which Eve is blamed. Mona is friendly with BERNIE BEEBE, who forces unwelcome attentions on Eve.

Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market, borrowing money from her mother and sister. She loses this, as well as all her own savings and $500 Dick left in the bank.

Following a misunderstanding at Christmas, several weeks pass in which Eve does not hear from Dick. She is too stubborn to admit herself in the wrong or apologize. Eve works harder at the office, trying to forget her troubles. Her mother comes to visit her and tells Eve she should give up her job and go to Dick. Eve is almost persuaded. Then she learns that BERNIE BEEBE, advertising manager, is leaving the store and that she has been selected to succeed him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLV
WITH new energy Eve plunged into her work after she learned that she was to take charge of the department when Barnes left for Chicago. She put more enthusiasm into all her tasks, driving herself relentlessly.

Easter Sunday arrived and Eve had Mrs. Penney as her guest for the day. She found the little widow's companionship restful. Mrs. Penney was always poised and untrifled, no matter what happened. Eve felt that she drew strength from this friendship.

They attended church together, dined at an attractive restaurant and then strolled along the avenue in the afternoon sunshine. They watched the Easter promenade and it was to them more than a popular diversion. They looked at the smartly dressed men and women not because they admired their attractive costumes but because this parade of new finery was a measure of the success of Bixby's advertising campaign as well as the advertising of other stores.

At last it was twilight and they were having tea in Eve's apartment. The telephone bell rang and the voice of Marya's mother came over the wire to Eve.

She turned to Mrs. Penney with the announcement, "Marya has a baby! Marya is the lovely little artist who was at the store before you came. How like her to have a baby girl on Easter Sunday! Somehow I believe Madonna lilies would always make me think of Marya even if she had not been an Easter bride."

MARYA's friends at Bixby's were delighted with the news. One of the girls exclaimed, "Now she has everything!" And so it seemed to Arlene and Eve when they went to see Marya and her little daughter. The baby's name was to be Carol. Marya regarded the tiny infant with pride and tenderness and then smiled serenely at her old friends.

Ranger Students Enroll in Universities
 Remember when they filled their pockets with toads and tops . . . braided their hair and wore socks? Yesterday you packed them off to scissors and crayons and pastes. Today they have plastered their trunks with gala stickers, and gone forth in varsity sweaters and high heels.

The reading and writing they learned under the shadows of the derricks, goes with them . . . to bigger shadows and more reading, but what a noticeable lack of writing. We hear mother and dad sigh.

And so they lay aside their jumping ropes and bicycles to take up more serious playthings . . . fraternities, sororities, dormitories, and love affairs.

Now, football. You really never cared a great deal for football. But it does seem that Bickford College has a better team this year than before . . . and Dudley University is just bursting with pigskin stars. Yeah. We know. You're a college man's dad.

And sororities. There's nothing much to them except a depleted bank account and dances and things. But it seems this year's work is serious . . . there's a lot of necessary culture crammed in those three Greek letters. Hmmm. We know. You're a college girl's mother.

And so they have left us to take up their pennants and professors and Alma Maters.

Drifting away, and yet remaining close to home, Misses Lennis Powell and Waldean Wheat are learning to type and keep books and run an office in a business college in Abilene. J. W. McKinney took some work in the same institution, but has returned to Ranger for the year.

The College of Industrial Arts at Denton has claimed two of our outstanding daughters. Misses Melba Gamble and Frances Glazner. Hence to the land of arts and industries, pretty girls, and regulations.

Ranger's girl's scholarship landed in the capable hands of Miss Ada Mae Hinman this year, and off goes Miss Hinman to Belton, where Baylor college offers four years of excellent training in the art of everything. Miss Hinman has walked right into one of our most liberal girls' schools.

Turning aside from general universities and their equally general curriculum, we see Miss Lorene Crow learning all about Our Lady of Victory college in Fort Worth, and absorbing practical medical knowledge in St. Joseph's School of Nursing. Miss Crow aspires toward the rustle of a starched apron and a thermometer.

With the opening of the university of the Lone Star state, Lewis Gregg, James Smith, Nicol Crawford, and Saunders Gregg motored toward fraternities and new buildings. Lewis came back to us, because of an inability to matriculate in a number of needed classes, but the others go on in the capital city, learning the ups and downs of Austin . . . of which there are, we understand, many.

Away from Texas' sandstorms and cacti . . . over to the land of gangsters and machine guns . . . we send two of our best. Roy Jameson and Tom Lauderdale are added to the University of Oklahoma's student body. Both fraternity men, Ray has recently been pledged to the university "Rough-necks," pep organization.

And so to you, college men and women, and others who are plodding along the ruts of education and whose names and institutions we do not know, we wish collegiate success. Bon voyage, and a lot of careless luck.

Personal

Miss Gracie Hilliard of Comanche is a guest of Mrs. W. B. Crow, Travis Avenue.

Miss Maudie James, student anesthetist in Tulane University, New Orleans, La., today attended the funeral of her father, J. E. James, Bullock, who was instantly killed Monday night when struck by a car.

Mrs. W. R. Calder and young son of Big Spring are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cash the first of the week.

DERRICK SHADOWS
 By V. MARIE STEPHENS

There are times when we turn longing eyes toward the illustrious profession of traveling salesmanship.

It must be a great feeling to have such utter confidence in one product. Its quality, usefulness, and complete ability to recompense for all individual needs.

We wrestled with one yesterday . . . a word battle. We assured him of the embarrassing condition of our bank account. It failed to dent the man's suave surface.

We took a fresh grip on the desk and introduced more evidence . . . namely, our inability to use the product in mind. It poured off him like the proverbial water off the duck's back.

We opened our mouths to offer other ideas . . . and the man began. Whereupon, we sat in stolid silence for 28 minutes and listened.

Slowly our patience dwindled away.

Slowly we looked about for the most deadly weapon in the place.

Slowly we reached for it . . . and, The man was folding up his wares, smiling sweetly at us, regretting that we were too negligent to take advantage of this perfectly wonderful opportunity, thereby branding us narrow-minded, half-witted, and dumb.

We considered the worth of our life, compared it with the satisfaction of viewing the man and his wares scattered about over the room, and grimly released above-mentioned weapon.

He really wasn't worth the shock of the chair.

But, our nerves . . . shattered. Our time . . . gone. Our disposition . . . ruined. The man's products . . . still his. His voice . . . husky. His opinion of us . . . lowered.

What a price for a few minutes bout with a traveling salesman.

Our room is a mass of opportunities presented us by such men . . . for which we signed on the dotted line in order to obtain peace.

Our magazine stands are littered with material we haven't time to read . . . ah, how many boys owe their school days to us. Yes, we wonder how many. It does make a good story, doesn't it?

So, you see, they've even destroyed our faith in mankind.

We already have writer's cramps from signing off checks and things . . . no desire for dotted lines and bargains.

And still there are times when we turn longing eyes toward the profession.

Just to find one article with which to cure the evils of the world . . . and a chance to play beneficial Santa Claus to the biting public.
