PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Chiefly because we have nothing else to do right now and like to appear busy in case the boss looks in, we are starting on this column this morning even if we have nothing about which we think we might write. If it appears rambling it is because we let it ramble.

One of the first rules we learned in bridge was "when in doubt lead trumps." The rule is more or less out of date now, but we have one just as good in conducting this column. "When in doubt, quote someone," so today we are quoting Prexy Anderson of Abilene:

"To fellow members of my profession in West Texas I heartily commend Mr. George H. Gentry, principal of the high school at Big Spring. Jar Mr. Gentry between the shoulder blades with your palm the next time you see him. Give his Big Spring Steers a streamer across your page upon the slightest pretext. Fellows, Mr. Gentry sends PASSES along with publicity on a game. Passes are things which save a newspaperman embarrassment at the gate if he goes to the game, and which make him feel kinder toward the person or institution that dishes them out, if he doesn't go."

There was a time when we knew we were going to cover football games. Back in the good old days we received a district pass early in the season that would let us in at any game in the Oil Belt. In those days we covered several football games in which the home town was not engaged and gave the teams more or less publicity. And, in those days, Prof. Holland over at Breckenridge, or someone, always sent out a couple of passes good at any Buckaroo game.

Now, we get a pass half an hour before game time, good only for a game being played that day and we never know whether we are going to see the next one or not. Conference games start in little more than a week, but we aren't worrying. If we get press passes that will let us in the press box we will go. If not, we won't. And that's that. There was a time when we got all hot and bothered over not getting press passes, but those times are gone forever. In other words, if we have a press pass in time to make preparations to get off long enough to take in the Eastland-Ranger game Oct. 21 we will go over and write it up. If not, we stay on the job and trust to luck that someone over at Eastland will get the story over to us. Eastland, by the way, passes out passes in time for a sports writer to know just what he is going to do about it all.

Our favorite subject—the futility of predicting the outcome of games—was borne out again last week when Abilene defeated San Angelo 20 to 12. Such predictors as Boyce House, Prexy Anderson, Blondy Cross, Jinx Tucker and others predicted San Angelo would win. Some of the predictions ran as high as 40 to 0. And Abilene won.

But, from all indications the Bulldogs will have no snap when the Mineral Wells Mountaineers come over to Lillard field for the first time since 1930.

The Mountaineers have played three games, won one, lost one and tied one. And in each case the game was won or lost by a one-point margin. They won from the Buckaroos by one point, lost to Central by one point and tied with North Side (Fort Worth) by a score of 6 to 6.

Which would indicate to us that they have a good defensive team, because few scores have been made against them, while they have enough of an offense to keep the team right up in the running throughout the game. We are told that they have a good passing attack, a strong line and a couple of good backs that are dangerous at any time.

Now that the weather has gotten a little cooler maybe the Bulldogs can go through a whole game without tiring very much and will be able to hold the Mountaineers, but looks as though they will have a lousy tough time of it. At least tough a time of it as they had against Central, and that looked like no snap from where we sat.

Testifies at U. S. Ocean Mail Probe

President Hoover's name was mentioned at the Senate ocean mail investigation when a letter from J. E. Deckendorff, president of the Black Diamond Steamship Corporation, saying he had to "go as high as the President" to block a bid for Shipping Board vessels, was read into the record. Deckendorff is shown above during the hearing.

Sale of Railroad Stocks Told In Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Sale of huge blocks of railroad stocks in 1929 by Dillon, Read & Co., and that firm's investment trusts were revealed today by Senate stock market investigation to have been for the purpose of avoiding income tax.

Ernest Tracy, head of the two trusts controlled by the company, said the sales were to offset profits and give a true picture of the operations for the year 1929.

The securities were common shares of Rock Island and Frisco, both now in receivership, which were acquired by Dillon Read and its affiliates in a joint trading account from July to November, 1929.

Boy Says He Shot His Friend Who "Beat His Time"

HOUSTON, Oct. 10.—Twelve-year-old Robert Rutledge told today how he shot a 14 year old playmate because the other boy was "beating his time" with a girl.

Robert was charged with assault to murder.

"I shot Everett Sayers because he was beating my time with a girl friend of mine," he told officers. Young Sayers' hip was shattered by the bullet.

Effort Made to Connect Underhill With Bank Robbery

TRYON, Okla., Oct. 10.—State fingerprint experts sought today to determine whether two men who robbed a bank here were Wilbur Underhill and El Dabis, noted desperadoes, as they boasted to a kidnaped young couple from whom they took an automobile.

House Passes a $5,000,000 Relief Bond Issue Today

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—The Texas House of Representatives today passed a $5,000,000 relief bond bill.

DR. JARRELL DENIES SELLING OF STATE JOBS

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 10.—Dr. E. J. Jarrell, Tyler, member of the state livestock sanitary commission, denied to a house investigating committee today that he had received any money for jobs on the commission, or had authorized anyone to sell them.

Replying to affidavits read before the house yesterday, Dr. Jarrell declared his accusers had sold the jobs and when they could not deliver them kept selling jobs to pay back clamorers.

He said he had told some of the persons to whom it is charged jobs were sold that there might be places open later. He said he did that as the job sellers told him they were about to win a lawsuit and would have funds to pay back all they had received.

He said he did not want publicity about the matter.

"I didn't want to report it because I thought it was just something the anti-Ferguson press would gloat over," he said.

Distribution of Government Pork Is Started Today

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 10.—L. L. Manchester, acting county relief administrator today began distribution of 5,125 pounds of salt pork to needy families in Tarrant, Palo Pinto, Johnson, Montague, Jack, Wise, Parker and Hood counties.

It was the first of this section's allotment of 60,000 pounds of government pork, obtained through the recent hog reduction campaign. That will be given families on the relief rolls in the eight counties.

Attempt Is Made To Save the World Arms Conference

GENEVA, Oct. 10.—America and England took the joint lead today in an effort to remove a French-German deadlock that threatened the life of the world disarmament conference.

Norman H. Davis, U. S. delegate and Captain Eden, chief British delegate, decided to coordinate British-American policy and seek agreement between France and Germany. It was understood Davis undertook to concentrate on demanding Germany to abandon her demand for stronger armament and that Eden agreed to negotiate with the French.

NRA CONSUMER BOARD TO BE FORMED SOON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The NRA consumers' board today arranged to put sentinels on guard in every town and city to help protect the public against price-gouging merchants.

Under an ambitious plan, worked out by Mrs. Mary Rumsay, chairman of the board, existing NRA committees throughout the country will become consumers' watchdogs.

In each county a county consumers' council will be set up, including members of the city consumers' committees, with rural consumers' groups being fostered by the agricultural adjustment administration and officials such as county agents.

The council will deal with complaints of profiteering, just as local compliance boards handle complaints against firms alleged to be violating wage and hour provisions of their Blue Eagle agreements.

Utilizing government fact-finding agencies, the board, at the same time hopes to provide information which will put the public on guard against unfair tactics such as concealing price advances by lowering the quality of goods.

Many Relatives Present For Mrs. Hill's Funeral

The tragic death of Mrs. Jeanette Beasley Hill, wife of Roscoe Hill, on Saturday night, when she was killed in an automobile accident on the Breckenridge-Caddo highway, brought a number of relatives to Eastland for the funeral services held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sallie Hill, the mother of Roscoe Hill.

The decedent was 34 years of age, and was a woman of charm and friendly disposition. She left two brothers, two sisters, and a son by a former marriage, Earl Barnes, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beasley, all of Lamesa, and who were here for the final services.

Active pallbearers were Dave Steele, Jess Williams, Weaver Hague, W. H. Taylor, Perry Barefield, and John Barefield of Ranger.

Honorary pallbearers were Guy Parker, Dick Hunt, J. A. Beard, D. J. Jobe, H. E. Lawrence, Loss Woods, and Judge George L. Daventport.

Final services were conducted at the Eastland City cemetery, by the officiating clergyman, Rev. G. W. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ranger.

A large floral offering attested the sympathy of friends, for the family, of Mr. Hill and his wife.

Florida Voting On Repeal Today

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 10.—Florida voted today on repeal of the 18th amendment, with impartial observers predicting it would be the 33rd state to repudiate national prohibition.

If these predictions are proved the repeal cause will be within three states of realization.

Wet leaders expected the doom of the 18th amendment in less than a month. On November 6 six states, Ohio, Pennsylvania, North and South Carolina, Utah and Kentucky vote and unless the overwhelming repeal trend is reversed, they will give the wets more than enough states for repeal.

Proud? Hugely!

She'll share the honors and the worries that go with the office of national commander of the American Legion for the next year. Here is Mrs. Edward A. Hayes, wife of the new legion chief, of Decatur, Ill., pictured as she attended the Chicago convention.

DEFENSE HAS FEW WITNESSES TO TESTIFY

Same Witnesses in Bailey-Bates Case Tell Stories of Abduction.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—The fate of George Kelly and his wife was expected to rest with a federal jury before night. A verdict today was possible.

Little if any defense was expected by the last of the 14 persons indicted in the $200,000 Urschel kidnaping.

United States District Attorney Herbert Hyde and Joseph Keenan, special assistant United States attorney general, made their campaign to send Kelly and his wife to prison for life along the same lines that netted them victory over Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon.

The same witnesses were called. They told substantially the same stories. Urschel again was the chief government witness, retelling the story of his abduction, nine days' captivity and ransom.

Kelly presented a sorry appearance in court. His head was battered. Over his ear was a discolored bump the size of an egg. He was struck by a pistol by his federal guard yesterday.

Humphrey Again At His Office In Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Chipper and suave William E. Humphrey, the man who has defied President Roosevelt's order removing him as federal trade commissioner, said today influential Republican party leaders were backing him in his fight to retain office.

For the second time this week he appeared in his old office, disregarding the ouster edict and the commission stand backing the president.

"You may rely that I have consulted with men high in the rank of my party and will continue to rely on them for advice and support in any action I may see fit to take," Humphrey said.

Country Club Will Hold Special Meet At the Clubhouse

A "Red" Neill, president of the Ranger Country Club, again today urged all members of the club to be present for a special meeting called for tonight at the clubhouse.

All members were urged to be present as matters of vital importance to the continuation of the club were to be brought up and the opinion of each member might be needed in order that the matters brought up at the meeting might be handled to the best advantage of the club as a whole and the members individually.

CHANGES IN BULLDOG'S LINEUP EXPECTED TO ADD STRENGTH TO WHOLE TEAM

Several changes in the Bulldog lineup have been made this week by Coach Eck Curtis, each of which is expected to improve both the offensive and defensive strength of the combined team.

The first, and probably the most important change made Monday at the regular practice session was when he switched Rankin Britt from fullback back to his old position at end, where he shone so brilliantly last year that he made all-district on every selection throughout the Oil Belt, an unusual record for an end his first year in that position. With the experience he gained last year he should receive all-state mention at the position this year.

While his playing at fullback was good, his ability to smear plays on the defense and his ability to carry the ball from the end position, a play that is due to be used more often this year, he is expected to be at least 50 per cent more valuable to the team and will probably be more outstanding at that position than he could ever be at the fullback post. In practice yesterday he carried the ball on the end-run play that proved so valuable when in scoring position last year, looking even better than he ever did last year and showing that he had more possibilities at the end position than in the backfield. This change alone is expected to add much to the strength of the entire team.

Jacoby, who has been playing at left end, has been switched to right end, where his blocking ability can be put to better advantage. With his weight and speed he will be used as a blocker. On the defense he will be used at left tackle. Walsh, who has been playing right end, will also have a duel role. He will continue to play right end on the defense when Jacoby switches to left tackle, and on the offense will play left tackle, changing places with Jacoby.

Joe Briley, who has been starting in the backfield, will be switched to left half to be used as a ball carrier more often than he was at the right halfback position. Anderson will be switched to the fullback berth and Cole will remain at the quarterback position, with Anderson calling the plays most of the time.

Cleo "Speedy" Gray, who has been used little so far this year, will go back into the lineup regularly. He has been giving his ankle a rest and has been used but little so far this season. He is one of the most brilliant ball carriers on the squad, which will give the backfield three good ball carriers, Anderson at full, Briley at left and Gray at right half. Anderson will be used as a blocking back, a position at which he has excelled. Cole will continue to do most of the punting.

Either Gray or Briley, both of whom are fast and both of whom are good ball carriers in an open field, will play safety, while Love and Anderson will back up the line.

Hill, Love, Warden, Bunton and Payton will remain at their old positions, tackle, guard and center respectively. Coach Curtis said today that if they will put in everything they have at their positions he thinks they will be hard to beat.

With Britt and Jacoby at ends, better blocking is expected from these positions, while the backfield will have more speed and will have Anderson's weight for the line plunging and blocking. Although Britt will be missed some in the backfield his superior work at the end position is expected to more than offset this, making him much more valuable to the team in the position at which he stands out so brilliantly.

Stolen Clothing Given to Owner

Constable John Barnes and patrolman Guy Pledger Monday night located a suitcase of clothing belonging to Miss Theresa Powell, reported stolen from a parked automobile Sunday night.

The clothing and suitcase were found outside the city limits in the brush, where they had been hidden by the thieves.

THREE GUESSES

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

To lure the laggard appetite of the sick child back to the bland of health is very often a difficult problem for the worried mother. Eggs, milk, gruels, broths and fruit juices, cereals and custards sound fairly varied, but try serving them over a period of days and see how monotonous they become.

An ill child loves pretty dishes and food attractively served. If, in addition to this, some little surprise which appeals to his imagination is added, it will divert his mind and he will not only eat the food with more relish, but will look forward to its coming.

Egg in a Cabin
The familiar poached egg ceases to be just the regular egg when served in a little log-cabin made from sticks of toast. Put the egg, after poaching, on a hot plate, then pile toast sticks, log-cabin fashion, in a square around the egg. The toast will disappear like magic with the egg.

The egg in a nest is another way to serve eggs that is sure to appeal. To make this toast a piece of bread cut a little thicker than for ordinary toast. From its center cut a good-sized square, leaving only a thin layer on the bottom. Separate the white from the yolk of an egg. Beat the white until stiff and put it into the hollow square which has been cut out of the toast. Slip the unbroken yolk deep into the white of the egg. Put into the oven until the white of the egg is well browned and the whole is hot throughout. If there is no objection to a small amount of salt in the diet, the egg will be more palatable if lightly seasoned with salt before putting into the oven.

Surprise in Store

Almost anything will taste good to a small person if he knows there is a surprise at the bottom of the dish. Any small, attractive trifle which can be sterilized will be enjoyed if dropped into the bowl before the cereal is put in. A big red or green marble, a whistle, for a little girl a trinket, one of the cunning brass or china animals so popular just now, a coin—anything that is small will do. Put the article to be used into a pan of cold water and bring to the boiling point. Then boil hard for ten minutes and let stand in this water until ready to drop into the dish for serving.

Serve milk and fruit juices with sippers. When one is on a liquid diet and must drink something every two hours, it's a relief to do it a different way once in a while. Gruels and broths will usually be served with a spoon, but children love to drink through a straw, so keep them on hand.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY WILLIS THORNTON

WASHINGTON—As the Supreme Court convenes again, to sit until May or June, attention is focusing on the "nine old men" who are almost certain to have to make vital decisions on the New Deal social legislation. Dean now of the court, the liberal Justice Brandeis is within a month of his 77th birthday on Nov. 13. By the way, Princeton University Press will celebrate the day by publishing a new book which will show how many of Justice Brandeis' dissenting opinions have won acceptance in Congress and in the Supreme Court itself.

Ases of the other justices are: Hughes, 71; Van Devanter, 74; McReynolds, 71; Sutherland, 71; Butler, 67; Stone, 61; Roberts, 58, and Cardozo, 63. That's a total of 613 years of accumulated wisdom (or prejudice, according to your point of view) and sets definitely the average age of the "nine old men" at 68.

CONSIDERATION already is being given here to what would happen if the Supreme Court went the limit and threw out all the New Deal legislation, lock, stock, and barrel, as unconstitutional. There would be undoubted inconvenience and confusion, but Congress would not be as helpless as many resignedly believe. Faced by such a situation before, the elasticity of our "rigid constitution" met the test.

ing the number of members of the court. There have been, at various times, ten, six, seven and nine members. The last change was made in Grant's administration in 1869, when two members were added, and Grant saw to it that the proper two were added to get the result he wanted.

"HISTORIC Pennsylvania Avenue," for decades the route of the nation's greatest pageants and parades, may be eclipsed soon by Constitution Avenue, and there is a movement to route future inaugural parades and other spectacles on this thoroughfare. It is being widened and soon may present a more stirring approach to the Capitol than the historic route. Constitution Avenue runs on a straight line from Union Station Plaza to the ellipse behind the White House, eliminating the awkward angle around the Treasury building, which always has marred Pennsylvania Avenue.

1 SHOT KILLED 2 RATTLESNAKES

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—Killing two snakes with one shot is easy if the snakes happen to be dancing. Don Smith Jr., driving along a rattlesnake infested road, saw two snakes twined together, weaving in a weird rhythm, nearly erect on their tails. Smith blinked, reached for a .22 caliber rifle, and fired once. Both snakes dropped to the ground. Investigation showed the single bullet had passed through both their heads.

How Cardui Helped Lady Get Stronger

"I was in a weak condition when I started using Cardui," writes Mrs. Oscar West, of Dayton, Texas. "I found it helped me greatly. My appetite was poor and I had lost weight. It was an effort for me to do my work. I felt tired all the time. I read that other women took Cardui as a tonic, so I decided it would help me. It strengthened me and increased my appetite, and I felt better than I had in a long time. I think it is a great medicine for weak women."

Town Votes Wet But Remains Dry Under a Ruling

AUSTIN.—The town of Maxwell, Caldwell county, which voted wet 67 to 3 in the Aug. 26 election, has just discovered that it still is dry, under a ruling of Attorney General James V. Allred.

And it can become wet only by an election in a precinct that no longer exists.

Maxwell was part of justice precinct 7 27 years ago, when a local option election declared the precinct dry.

Since then, a new precinct 1 was carved out, taking Maxwell and a small part of the old precinct 7.

Precinct 1, with Lockhart included, voted wet in the recent local option election, including the 67 to 3 vote of Maxwell. Now, it is held the transferred area still is dry, but that the Lockhart vote was sufficient that deduction of these votes will not invalidate the wet local option election of the rest of the Lockhart precinct.

First Assistant Attorney General Elbert Hooper ruled that, for Maxwell to go wet, an election must be called in the entire original area of the old precinct 7, and vote on repealing the ancient dry local election. Whether the people will pay for an election, and whether any agency can call an election in a precinct that no longer exists, and whether election officials legally can be named to canvass results in an area not in the present precinct, were questions for Caldwell county authorities to work out one by one.

Mr. Hooper said the same principle applies in all cases of changes of boundaries of subdivisions in which local option elections were held, and the repeal local option elections in all cases must be held in the entire original area that voted dry.

Mule From the Marines

PURDUE is being mentioned as a team that may beat out Michigan this fall. If it should turn out that way, a lot of the credit would fall upon the shoulders of one of the old "Mules" of Notre Dame—and an ex-marine at that—Noble Kizer. Nobody ever stepped into a tougher coaching assignment than Kizer took over three years ago, when Jimmy Phelan, after winning a championship, left the Indiana institution to go west. Kizer was left with a handful of veterans of the great team.

Building a Line

AT Notre Dame he had been a guard on the Four Horsemen team. He and Rip Miller, now coaching at Navy, were regarded by Rockne as the best guards he ever had. So at Purdue it was expected that he would produce strong lines. As a matter of fact, Purdue has had some splendid backfields during Kizer's three years, including the 1933 outfit, and Kizer's main worry has been to build that line.

With all but two of his regular linemen of last year lost by graduation, the young coach from Plymouth, Ind., finds himself again with a job on his hands.

Kizer happens to be one of the men who went to Notre Dame to study. After returning from a stretch in the marines, he finished his high school course at Plymouth. He starred at basketball, and though he received many invitations from schools where the cage game was strong, he chose Notre Dame, because it was near his home. His mother was in ill health.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

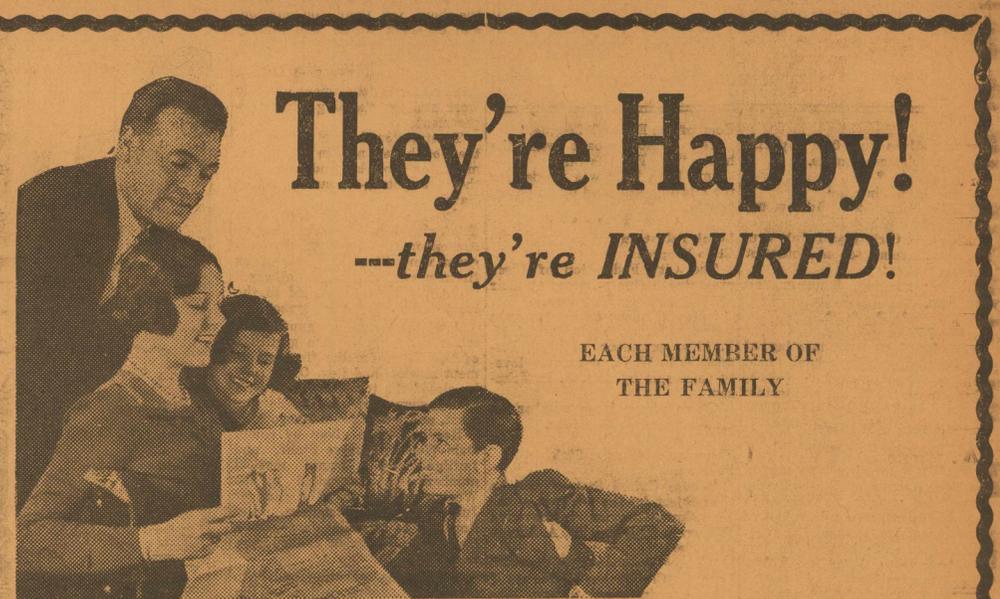

ALABAMA has nine tackles averaging 212 pounds... with the lightest 195 and the heaviest 235... and they say a team is as good as its tackles!... The ranking of Jack Crawford at the top of the tennis heap by A. Wallace Myers, British tennis expert, must have been a diplomatic gesture... since he seems to have forgotten England has a guy named Fred Perry using a racquet... and that Perry beat Crawford in the U. S. national singles... The word is out on Andy Pinney at Notre Dame... they say he's going to be the best back the Irish have had since Markey Schwartz.

How He Became Coach

ROCKNE noticed Kizer as a freshman, and placed him at regular guard on the varsity in 1922, 1923, and 1924. In '24, the year of the Four Horsemen, Kizer was picked on every team as All-Western guard and made many All-America elevens.

It was incidental that he became line coach at Purdue with Phelan. After graduation he took a job with the Studebaker Corporation at South Bend, and Prexy Erskine granted him leave to help put some power in that Purdue line. That's how he became coach.

When Kizer's mother died in 1924, the entire student body at Notre Dame visited the little Dame, because it was near his home. His mother was in ill health.

MUTUAL Insurance

The OLDEST Known Form of Protection and the LEAST Expensive!

—affords that feeling of security that comes with the knowledge that your loved ones will be provided for when you are gone.

MUTUAL INSURANCE—the one plan that rode the depression without a "MORATORIUM" OR RESTRICTION.

There is a difference, however, between a mutual and a stock insurance company in the disposition of the unused portion of the premiums.

In stock companies this unused portion of premiums is called profits and is paid or credited to stock-holders. IN THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE ASSOCIATION OF BRECKENRIDGE that portion is returned plus the face value of the policy at its maturity.

It is therefore expedient at this time, when reconstruction is the watchword and when SAVINGS are of paramount importance to bring to the attention of Breckenridge people and the surrounding country the fact that there is in their midst the Mutual Life Insurance Association operating in Breckenridge, Texas, which is reliable to the core—which has paid all losses promptly and which is chartered by and under the supervision of the state insurance department and can furnish you as good protection as you can buy at far less cost than other forms of insurance.

YOUR special attention is directed to our 250 dollar policies for children that can be carried on that boy or girl of yours from one to five years of age at the small cost of 8 1-2c per week.

You can carry a 500 dollar policy on that same boy or girl at only 15c per week.

These policies can be converted to $1,000 policies at no extra cost.

OUR 1,000 dollar policies and 2,000 dollar policies can be carried at approximately 50 per cent less than other forms of insurance.

Downstairs, the long tables were laid in white linen, and centered with bouquets of zinnias, cosmos and roses.

The barbecued banquet plate brought rabbit, goat and chicken, with a smart sauce; potato flakes, pickles, onions, coffee, and last course of apple pie with ice cream topping.

Rotarians Hear Reading by Miss Oneita Russell

EASTLAND, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Rotary club at luncheon Monday noon on Connellee roof, enjoyed a program of readings given by Miss Oneita Russell, and the Rotary songs led by Julius B. Krause, with Miss Clara June Kimble at the piano.

There were 18 members in attendance. No particular business was transacted, but after the luncheon the directors, called by President F. V. Williams, had a board meeting, and considered the questionnaires which were turned in by each member, and the replies which dealt with "What can we best do to help Eastland."

Several novel ideas were suggested and the following will be acted upon. The club will have Cisco Rotarians give a program at an Eastland meeting, and the Eastland club will give one at the Cisco meeting and the same procedure will be followed with the Ranger Rotary club.

Other unusual plans will be considered later. Directors present were Dr. W. E. Chaney, James Horton, Dr. J. H. Caton, Earl Bender, Leslie Gray, and F. V. Williams, president of the Rotarians.

Sales of Games Show Big Increase

MILWAUKEE.—An increase in the sale of games for both adults and children has been reported this fall by Milwaukee merchants. More adults started playing games during the depression than ever before and with the new NRA leisure sales are expected to hold up and even increase, one merchant said. Grownups and children have been stealing each other's games, another dealer reported. "Children, many only eight or nine years old, are playing bridge now," he said, "and their parents are deserting the card table for games of skill or luck which have developed recently."

students have marched out of building. The monitors must report to the floor captains, and the floor captains to the fire chief.

The fire drills will be started soon in Eastland high school, and captains and monitors will be elected.

Next Thursday's assembly program will be put on by the pep squad at the usual hour.

The 14" RULE — a measure of safety for your CHILD'S EYES

IMPROPER lighting frequently causes a child to bring her book much closer to her eyes than the normal reading distance—which is 14 inches.

If this is allowed to continue it may lead to defective vision, and so we suggest that you observe the kind of light your child is reading under. Only the very best is good enough, because, remember, about three-fourths of all the knowledge she will acquire through life will come through her eyes.

You can help your child make progress in her studies and reduce the possibility of future eye trouble by paying attention to proper home lighting NOW. We will be only too glad to consult with you.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, is in love with JOAN WARRING, pretty Memphis girl. He has come to Memphis in connection with his father's new test-plant. He first saw Joan on the train when she was returning home from college because of her family's financial difficulties.

The Warrings have little money. Joan's father, a member of an aristocratic family, killed himself years before. MRS. WARRING looks for her daughters to have the social position denied her. Joan's younger sister, Pat, loves pleasure and pretty clothes. She is infatuated with JERRY FORRESTER, son of her employer.

BARBARA COURNEY, a society girl whom Bob knew in New York, is scheming to win him. Barbara invites Bob to a home party given by CAROL SHERIDAN. At first he refuses to go because of plans which include Joan. Then Barbara obtains an invitation for Joan also, hoping Bob will be displeased when he discovers Joan does not belong to their crowd.

The first afternoon of the home party Joan stays at home because she has no riding suit. She meets JIM WARFIELD and learns that Bob's friends believe he is in love with Barbara.

CHAPTER XI

JOAN looked at the stranger and smiled. "Hello," she answered. "I don't remember seeing you this morning," the young man went on. "Was I blotto?"

Joan decided this was a variation of, "Where have you been all my life?" and was intended to be flattering.

"I came this afternoon," she said.

"Oh—with Barbara's Bob?" Joan hesitated. "Yes."

"I heard he brought an extra along. But who would ever imagine anyone as beautiful as you being an extra! You should be the leading lady. By the way, I'm Jim Warfield."

"I'm Joan Warring."

"Now, we're friends. Will you please explain why I find a nice girl like you roaming around like a little lost ghost? You really gave me quite a start!"

Joan answered simply: "I didn't bring riding clothes. Why didn't you go with the others?"

"These merry canters are a pain in the neck to me. I'm incurably lazy, as they'll tell you. Just bored by all these pretenses of having a good time."

"Then why did you come?"

He smiled. "The penetration of these young things! Well, if you must know, my child, I like to see these fine old mansions afford. And the opportunity to lounge around in comfortable surroundings. But I was very bored until you came. From now on I'm at your service. What's the program?"

"I was planning to see the garden."

The dark, friendly eyes met hers. There was a humorous gleam in them. "Great Scott, she comes on house parties to see gardens! It simply isn't done except in moonlight, Joan. But, to show you what a good sport I am, lead the way."

He moved on beside her and presently they were in the garden, sitting on a stone bench while Joan amused him with her knowledge of the flowers and shrubs.

"So those little green things showing through are narcissus!

Imagine your knowing that. And that bush yonder is a peony. Oh, my!"

HE WAS absurd but entertaining. And he really liked her. Joan felt better already, comforted by his friendliness and interest.

Suddenly the lawn resounded with gay voices as the riders straggled in by twos and fours.

Carol and a slender, blond girl Joan had not seen before met her and Jim as they came out of the garden. "Joan, I've been looking all over for you! Was this a conspiracy of Jim's?" Not waiting for a reply Carol went on, "Joan, this is Enid French."

"You all weren't riding?" queried Enid.

"You couldn't drag Jim on a horse," said Carol. "And Joan was tired. Come on, Joan! We might as well dress. We'll probably be kept waiting by Barbara and Bob. I forgot to tell them we were going to Kay Tom's barbecue."

"Why?" asked Enid curiously.

Carol's laugh was a little embarrassed as she glanced at Joan. "There's no telling when those two will come in. We haven't seen a shadow of them since they left. Isn't it ridiculous the way people will pair off?"

"I'm beginning to be quite in sympathy with it," Jim grinned. "Nice, sensible pastime."

Joan was glad they were moving toward the house, glad all this meaningless chatter made it unnecessary for her to talk just then.

A few minutes later she was mechanically beginning preparations for a bath, tucking up her hair, securing the cloudy mass with hair pins. The dark, troubled eyes in the mirror met hers and she smiled faintly. Pat would be calling her a prize pup to show her feelings so plainly. Anyone could see she was unhappy.

When she returned to the bedroom she found Barbara sitting cross-legged on the bed, still in riding clothes. "Oh, we had a huge time! Too bad you couldn't have been with us," Barbara said. "How do you feel now?"

"Much better," Joan told her.

"That's good," Barbara replied, her eyes still on Joan. After a moment she opened the closet door and began studying the colorful contents. Joan took a dark blue skirt and short, youthful jacket from a hanger. It was a becoming outfit but tonight it looked home-made—as it was. Barbara had selected a light green woolen affair, trimmed with large metal buttons. She laid beside it a smart, dark green leather coat.

"It will be cool enough for a wrap," Barbara said carelessly.

JOAN thought of her dark traveling coat with a sense of misgiving. Well, what was the difference? Her whole costume was wrong any way.

"All aboard, everybody!" Carol said, entering the room. "Oh, you're dressed, Joan. Would your mind running down and rounding up the bunch? I must help this helpless infant dress. If I don't we won't reach Kay's until time for breakfast."

Joan saw Carol glance sideways, taking in her appearance in one brief, appraising look. Then she lifted Barbara's frock. "Barbie! she exclaimed "what a love!"

parallel lines, faced the speakers' table, all linen surfaced, and centered with bouquets of pink, yellow, and purple flowers.

The menu of baked chicken and dressing, candied yams, salad, creamed peas, cold slaw, had second course of apple pie, and coffee, served by Mmes. W. E. Coleman, Wayne Jones, June Kimble, T. M. Johnson, D. J. Jobe, Frank Castleberry, T. J. Haley, C. C. Robey, John Burke, and W. H. Kelly, under direction of Mrs. McGlamery.

The banquet was presided over by Rev. C. Q. Smith, who called on the chairmen of the board of each church for the financial reports to date, which will in turn be given at the annual conference, convening in Corsicana on Nov. 8.

Preceding the banquet, Wilda Drago and her violin group, Misses Clara June Kimble, Joe Earl Utz, and Margaret Hart, presented a program of music that was very pleasing.

The reports submitted at the request of the presiding elder, showed the enthusiastic determination of all to meet all local obligations.

All pastors of the district were present excepting two, absent on account of illness.

In this connection, a telephone call was put in to enquire into the condition of Rev. Sam G. Thompson, who is very ill at a sanitarium in Temple, and the answer came that the patient's condition was slightly improved. A motion was made to wire a message to Rev. Thompson, by those attending the banquet.

President J. W. Hunt of McMurry college was introduced as the speaker of the hour, in lieu of Dr. C. C. Seleckman of Dallas, who sent his regrets late Sunday evening.

President Hunt was preceded by Prof. Dodson of McMurry, professor of education, who made a few pleasing remarks, prefacing the introduction of the speaker.

B. E. McGlamery, district lay leader, was the closing speaker, bringing an appeal to the laymen of the district for co-operation with their pastors in rounding out the year's work.

High lights brought out by Rev.

"Well, I won't let a dress ruin the evening for me," Joan thought. She started down the stairs and was half way down when a door closed from the other side of the upstairs hall.

A voice called, "Wait a moment, Joan!"

It was Jim. "Joan," he said, "I hear the gang's going to a farmhouse. Will you drive out with me?"

Joan hesitated. They were down stairs now. In the music room a radio was turned on and several couples were dancing. Others were playing bridge. She heard Barbara laugh and looked upward. Barbara was coming down the steps with Bob, her arm linked through his.

"One of those two had a perfect sense of timing," Jim said. Joan said abruptly, "I'll be glad to go with you." She thought his eyes met hers with a flash of understanding.

"Hurray!" he said. "You really mean you'll drive over with me?"

"Why," asked Enid curiously, "appear enthusiastic. I'd love to."

She was thinking it had been fortunate that she had met Jim just then. At least she need not stand about miserably watching Bob shower attentions on Barbara. Pat was right. Joan decided she didn't know the least thing about men. How silly she had been to imagine Bob cared for her!

HE WAS coming toward her. "Joan, we're moving off," he said. Joan was suddenly tense. The sound of her name on his lips, the easy friendliness almost disarmed her.

"Joan's coming with me," Jim said slowly. Bob stopped and stared at Joan.

"Are you, Joan?"

"Yes."

"Darling," Barbara said lightly. "don't look so forlorn! I'd love to be second choice."

Bob looked toward Joan again. She returned his grim look unsmiling.

"That'll be fine, Barbara," he said. "Let's dash."

Jim opened the car door and Joan got in. "All set?" he asked. She nodded and Jim's car shot ahead.

Bob had been merely polite, Joan decided. Unless he cared for Barbara why had they come in from the ride so much later than the others? Almost an hour! Why had they stayed alone all afternoon, never joining the rest of the crowd? And why did the others all assume that Bob and Barbara were in love?

They drove in silence for a while and then Jim said suddenly: "You're lovely, Joan. I'm afraid I'm going to fall hard for you. But you seem very troubled. Are you troubled?"

"Yes," Joan answered honestly.

"Why?"

"I'd rather not answer. I shouldn't have come to this house party, for one thing."

"She's interested in Weston," Jim decided. "And that dumb idiot has given her the gate for a gilded edition of 1933 sophistication."

An automobile flashed past them and Barbara waved. Jim grinned. Well, perhaps he had been wrong. The Weston chap was driving like the very devil. People in love usually moved more slowly.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Only a partial crop of Boses, said to be the finest eating pear grown in the United States, will be harvested by northwest fruit growers this year. The harvest will be 25 per cent smaller this year because of an over-supply. The agreement affects the Medford and Hood River districts in Oregon and Yakima and Wenatchee regions of Washington.

MONTREAL'S HORSESHOE MURDER A MYSTERY
By United Press
MONTREAL—Montreal's famous "horseshoe murder" mystery appears destined to be placed on the list of unsolved crimes. Nearly two months have passed since Solomon Vineberg, 52-year-old clothing store manager, was found dead in the rear of his store, his skull smashed with a horseshoe. Police are no nearer a solution today than when the body was found.

MISSOULA, Mont.—An anonymous woman purchaser and a supporter of the Volstead Act made a profitable but, to her, surprising buy at a Missoula auction sale. She obtained a trunk for $7.50. On opening it, she found 48 pints of pre-war whiskey, valued at $100 or more by experts.

Cisco District Banquet Unfolds Numerous Plans

The banquet tendered the stewards, ministers and laymen of the Cisco district at Eastland on Monday evening, at the call of the presiding elder of the Cisco district, Rev. C. Q. Smith, had an attendance of over 200 represented in the delegations from Breckenridge, Bunyan, Caddo, Carbon, Cisco, Crosscut, DeLeon, Desdemona, Dublin, Eastland, Eolian, Gorman, Ranger, Rising Star and Seranton.

Hunt in his address, a witty, facile and thoughtful message, was the spirit of his entire talk, dealing with the pioneer Methodist preacher in West Texas, his trials and tribulations, yet ever with the central thought uppermost, "May God give us faith to take our places not as men, but as Christian men, remembering that God, and one man, is a majority anywhere," the keynote of his address.

At the close Dr. Hunt offered a special prayer for Rev. Sam G. Thompson.

Women stewards of the church, who were present, included Mmes. of Neil A. Moore, Joe C. Stephen, Ed F. Willman, Iola Mitchell, and a guest, Mrs. W. W. Kelly.

Each delegation presented a report of how their church was situated on the conference budget. The fiscal year closes in November.

J. A. Ussery Makes New Kind of Brace For Legs and Ankles

J. A. Ussery of Ranger has perfected a new type of leg and ankle brace for the use of a victim of infantile paralysis. The following story, taken from "The Safety Counsellor," a monthly bulletin for the promotion of safe practices and creation of good will in the Lone Star Gasoline company, explains the creation of the brace:

"A new type leg and ankle brace has been perfected by Mr. J. A. Ussery of the Ranger district machine shop, during his spare time allocated under the provisions of the NRA. It so happened that a certain person in one of our adjoining communities had been afflicted with infantile paralysis of one of the lower limbs. She had made a very extensive search for and had tried some four or five types of braces, but none seemed to give satisfaction. Finally after all available funds had been exhausted her case was called to the attention of the local Lions and Rotary clubs, which jointly agreed to assume the financial responsibility in connection with securing a satisfactory brace for her.

"Mr. Ussery's services were secured in this connection, and the final result was the perfection of a limb and ankle brace that has since been giving perfect satisfaction. Such worthwhile projects as this, especially when suffering humanity is being benefitted, is certainly to be commended. It no doubt goes without saying that the manager looks with favor upon those employees who see fit to put to some practical use the spare time which they may have at hand."

Don't Deaden Periodic Pain—Prevent It!

These Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets a few days beforehand and notice the difference. If yours is a stubborn case you may need to take them regularly for a few months. Persistent use brings permanent relief.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S TABLETS

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. Member N. R. A.

"OH! I Thought You Were Mr. JONES"

IT'S a bad moment—when you realize you've spoken to some one you don't know. Everybody makes mistakes, of course, but no matter how much poise you have, you feel a bit silly anyhow.

The chances are you didn't know Mr. Jones really well—or you'd never have made the blunder. You've never seen any one you'd actually mistake for your brother or sister or husband or wife, have you? IT'S CASUAL ACQUAINTANCE that leads to errors.

Just as people look alike, so do golf balls and flower seeds and hats and glasses of ginger ale. But, if you want to buy a Jones hat and you know all there is to know about a Jones hat, you're not likely to blunder and get one made by some one else. The same is true for a Sock-em Golf ball or a bottle of Whoosis Pale Dry.

.... and Talking About Mistakes

We all make them, but what about the man or woman who persistently insist on spending the money they earn in the community they call home in some city 100 or so miles distant—when the same person could patronize the home merchant and this would keep the money circulating at home. So far as right is concerned, people have the privilege of spending their money where they wish, but it is not right for people to earn money in a community and then go out of town to spend this money for clothes, automobiles, groceries or what-not, when the home merchant has the same article that you want, and AT PRICES THAT ARE IN LINE WITH THE BIG CITY MERCHANT. It takes the co-operation of all to build a city, and the very money we earn and call our own, is made possible because of the co-operation of the loyal men and women in the county who patronize their home merchant, and then when some one is in distress, the home merchant is the one that moves to the rescue . . . to support the churches . . . schools . . . and all for the betterment of the community. THINK IT OVER! . . . PATRONIZE YOUR HOME MERCHANT! . . . He will appreciate it!

Mutual Company Is Calling Attention To Special Policies

The Breckenridge Mutual Life Insurance association is today calling attention to the fact that this oldest known form of protection and the least expensive is the one plan that rode the depression without a moratorium or restriction.

Special attention is called to the $250 policies for children that can be carried on boys or girls from one to five years of age at a very small cost.

The company is one of the strongest companies in West Texas and is supporting the NRA 100 per cent. A. M. Smith of Breckenridge is president of the association.

Will Rogers at Arcadia Tomorrow

Will Rogers and Vera Allen have the leading roles in the new film from the studios of Fox, "Doctor Bull," adapted from the popular novel, "The Last Adam," by James Gould Cozzens. 2PB

Laud Dietrich, Director, Cast For New Film

Last night on the screen of the Arcadia theatre Hermann Sudermann's great literary classic, "The Song of Songs," with Marlene Dietrich as the star, brought to local movie fans one of the most interesting films yet seen in this city.

Played with restraint by every member of the notable cast, the story of the lovely young girl who meets tragedy solely because of her intense desire for love, is fine screen entertainment from the very beginning to the end. Each member of the cast contributed his bit in excellent fashion.

Miss Dietrich is especially appealing. She looks more beautiful than we have ever seen her look, and it can easily be said that "The Song of Songs" gives her her finest role to date. This is doubly impressive when one realizes that, in this picture, she plays, for the first time in her screen career, an innocent young girl who gets buffeted about by life.

The leading man, Brian Aherne, makes his screen debut with this picture. One glance at him on the screen and the spectator realizes why he has been dubbed the most romantic lover in Hollywood. Incidentally, he is the young Englishman who created a sensation on the New York stage with his role opposite Katherine Cornell in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

The other members of the cast are outstanding. Lionel Atwill, Allison Skipworth, Hardie Albright and Helen Freeman comprise the leaders of the supporting cast in addition to Mr. Aherne.

Beautifully produced, dramatic, human to the extreme and with interesting, understandable dialogue, "The Song of Songs" bids fair to remain within our midst for a long time.

The film closes its local run today.
