Administrator

E. A. Ringold, who was named county administrator at a meeting of the county CWA board at Eastland Thursday.

Rindgold Named As Administrator For the County

E. A. Ringold of Ranger was named Eastland county relief administrator at a meeting of the County Relief Control last week to succeed Walter Gilbert of Carbon, who resigned. Mr. Ringold has also been recommended as administrator for Eastland county CWA. This recommendation is to go to the authorities at Austin for confirmation.

Mr. Gilbert, who was both Relief and CWA administrator, tendered his resignation to the County Relief Board, of which Earl Conner of Eastland is chairman. After due consideration the resignation was accepted, the board expressing the greatest confidence in Mr. Gilbert's honesty and integrity.

Mr. Ringold's appointment was said by county board members to have the approval of the Eastland county commissioner's court.

Mr. Ringold, who was a member of the county board, resigned that position. W. D. Conway of Ranger has been recommended for Ringold's place on the county board.

The board as it will be when Conway and Luther McCrea of Cisco are finally installed, will be: Earl Conner, Eastland, chairman; E. R. Yarborough, Carbon; Frank Kirk, Gorman; Luther McCrea, Cisco; and W. D. Conway, Ranger. No member of the county board draws any compensation whatsoever.

Frank Robinson Named on County Board for CWA

The Commissioners' Court Saturday appointed Frank Robinson of Rising Star, Texas, a member of the County Board to fill the unexpired term of E. A. Ringold who resigned to become county administrator.

Mr. Robinson lives in commissioners' precinct No. 3 which precinct has had no representation since the Texas Relief commission was organized but served under original program under the RFC set up which was handled through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

At the time the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission was established it was the duty of said commission to appoint county boards and at that time the commissioners' court endeavored to get the Relief commission to give each commissioners' precinct in the county a representative but it did not see fit to do so when the above vacancy occurred the commissioner from that precinct requested that his precinct be given representation on the board and his request was complied with.

It has been the feeling of the court that the county board should fill all vacancies on the board, the law now being clear on that matter, but Senator Hardin of Austin, representing the Texas Relief commission appeared before the court and today advised it that it was the court's duty to fill vacancies, whereupon Mr. Robinson was appointed.

In the appointment of Mr. Robinson on the county board the following towns are given representation as follows: Eastland, Earl Conner, chairman; Ranger, E. A. Ringold, county administrator; Cisco, Mr. McCrea; Gorman, Frank Kirk; Carbon, E. R. Yarborough and Rising Star, Frank Robinson.

TEAMS, TRUCKS PUT BACK ON CWA PROJECTS

Eastland county CWA officials on Monday received instructions from Austin to put trucks and teams back to work. These had been ordered discontinued the latter part of last week.

Orders were also received at the Eastland county office to limit the work time for each truck team and person to 24 hours per week in the towns and cities and to 15 hours per week in the rural districts.

Beginning Friday of last week and for the balance of the week a total of 1,200 men, women and children were engaged on local projects throughout the county. An additional 60 men will be engaged on federal projects in the county.

All pending projects have been returned from Austin with instructions that they be re-submitted on new forms that have just been adopted.

The Eastland county CWA officials also received notice that a carload each of flour, cheese, butter and meat was in transit to Eastland for distribution in Eastland and seven other surrounding counties. Eastland county's portion of these shipments were given as follows: Pork, 18,500 pounds; cheese, 9,306 pounds; flour, 17,750 pounds; butter, 1,800 pounds.

Hog Reduction Contracts Will Soon Be Ready

County Agent J. C. Patterson has sent out several hundred letters to farmers over the county, who have signified their intention of signing hog reduction contracts, advising them that he has not received the supplies for the contracts and that as soon as these are received he will notify them of places and dates for meeting where supplies may be obtained. All farmers are advised to watch the county newspapers for the dates and places of these meetings.

At these meetings you will be informed of the date on which these contracts will be signed. It is essential that everyone who is to sign a hog contract attend one of these meetings. There will be a meeting at each town where there is a cotton control committee. On contract sign-up day the work will be done where the cotton committee is working. It is hoped that all contracts can be signed up the one day set for that purpose.

The general reduction plan is: Those who sign up corn-hog contracts agree to reduce by 25 per cent the number of hogs raised for market per year average from Dec. 1, 1931 to Nov. 30, 1933. Payment will be approximately $5 per head on 75 percent of this annual average of hogs raised for market. You are not required to raise the full 75 per cent, but you must still be in the hog business. Signers who have during this time average 10 acres or more of corn will also agree to reduce the corn acreage 20 to 30 per cent and will be paid 30 cents per bushel on the corn that would have been raised on the rented acres. Producers must have raised an average of three letters of pigs per year to get in.

If you have not averaged 10 acres of corn you may sign a hog reduction contract without the corn portion, but agree not to increase the corn acreage on this or any other farm above the average. If you sign the corn reduction contract and have not averaged four litters of hogs, you need not reduce the hogs but do agree not to increase them.

The corn rented acreage cannot be planted to a feed crop. It may only be planted to permanent pasture or soil-erosion preventing crops not to be harvested. Attention is called to the difference in this and the cotton reduction contracts.

While waiting for these contract blanks those intending to sign them might well be preparing data showing to whom hogs were sold and when as this plan finally simmers down to a payment of $3.75 per head for every hog sold (annual average) for which you can produce evidence of sale. This will compensate for considerable time in tracing down sales records.

Several other drawers, each of which contained $10 in cash, were not molested and only the top drawer was jimmied. Experienced thieves, the chief of police said, would have known how to open the cash register without so much work and would have opened all the drawers instead of looking in only one.

Patrolmen Urge Registration of Cars By Feb. 1st

Meyers and Daniels, state highway patrolmen for this section, have issued a warning to automobile and truck owners and operators against failure to pay car licenses before Feb. 1. The patrolmen state that the public seems to have the idea that the law in regards to car registration date was changed by the recent legislature and that there is yet plenty of time for payment without penalty.

Cars and trucks not registered by Feb. 1 cannot be registered without the payment of a 20 per cent penalty unless the application for a license is accompanied by an affidavit by the owner that the car was not operated during the previous month of January. Many people have the erroneous idea that if the car is not operated after Feb. 1 it may be registered at any time after that date without the payment of a penalty.

Although it was operated during the month of the previous January, the highway patrolmen also call attention to the fact that there is no light testing fees to be paid this year, the legislature having repealed that law.

The highway patrolmen are receiving many complaints about "one-eyed" cars on the highways and are asking the public to see to it that cars are fully equipped with the lights required by law, warning that if the "one-eyed" cars are not looked after by the owners they will have to do it themselves.

Eastland Debaters Defeat Baird Team

The Eastland high school boys' debating team composed of Edward Stafford, Fred Davenport, Frank Hutton and Edwin Herring, under direction of H. L. Hart, journeyed to Baird Tuesday night for debates with the Baird high school boys.

In the first debate Eastland was victorious by an unanimous vote of the judges. The second and last debate Eastland won by a two to one vote of the judges.

THIEVES ROB TWO RANGER FIRMS SUNDAY

Petty thieves were busy in Ranger Sunday afternoon, breaking into two establishments and stealing about $25 in money and a quantity of cigars as the combined loot of the two robberies.

Sometime between noon and 2 p. m., thieves entered the C. D. Hartnett Grocery company warehouse and took around 600 cartons of cigars. The time of the robbery was established by workers in the vicinity who were loading a car and who stopped for lunch at noon and returned to their jobs before 2 o'clock.

Chief of Police Jim Ingram was notified around 4:30 in the afternoon, when the robbery was discovered, and he went to investigate. It was thought that the other robbery must have been staged while he was investigating the wholesale grocery robbery.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon robbers, thought to have been boys, broke into the Killingsworth, Cox & Co. building, broke open a cash register drawer and took $10 in cash and then rifled the cash drawer in the office, taking around $15 in cash.

The time of this robbery was definitely established because Floyd Killingsworth was in the store at 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock John Tibbels entered the store and found the cash register had been opened.

Those who staged this robbery broke in a rear window and entered the store. From the size of the hole in the window glass it was evident the robbery had been carried on by boys as it would have been impossible for a grown man to crawl through the hole.

A screw driver, taken from the hardware store, was used to pry open one drawer of the cash register, and was then left on the counter nearby. Chief of Police Ingram was further convinced that it was the work of amateurs because the cash register was not locked and could easily have been opened without the use of the screw driver. The top drawer of the register was slightly damaged.

Several other drawers, each of which contained $10 in cash, were not molested and only the top drawer was jimmied. Experienced thieves, the chief of police said, would have known how to open the cash register without so much work and would have opened all the drawers instead of looking in only one.

These were the first robberies in Ranger in several weeks.

Payment Begins Monday Cotton Option Checks

Delivery of cotton option checks to Eastland county farmers is expected to begin Monday afternoon, according to County Agent J. C. Patterson.

Mr. Patterson states that 265 checks, totaling $14,754, are due to be paid the farmers of the county soon, and that farmers who accepted options as part payment on 1933 "flow-up" contracts will receive during January and February a total of more than $32,000.

Car Buying Is Causing Industry To Run Behind

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 24.—Steadily rising tides of new car buying today caught the automobile industry unprepared to meet the public demand for $250,000,000 of cars this month.

As a result the industry found itself swamped under a flood of dealer and individual orders. A United Press survey revealed that for the first time in five years cars are selling faster than they can be made.

Large corporations and the smaller companies reported orders ranging as high as 50 per cent above expected orders. In a number of instances unfilled orders exceeded the peak year of 1928 and 1929.

1,000 Families Get News In Weekly Times By Friday

The Weekly Times is issuing the fourth edition today and the Ranger merchants are taking advantage of the extra circulation offered by this weekly to invite the citizens of the rural communities and from over the trade territory to come to Ranger for their supplies. These merchants appreciate the patronage of their neighbors all around the city and are offering bargains that are bound to be of interest in addition to saving money for those who buy conservatively.

Read their messages from week to week—tell your neighbors of the bargains they can buy in Ranger and tell the merchants, whose ads you will find in this issue, that you read the Weekly Times and see their ads in the paper.

The grocery merchants in this issue, as well as in the previous issues, make special efforts to give you the best buy possible on Friday and Saturday. Check their specials carefully—you cannot go wrong in trading with these merchants.

Who advertise in the Weekly Times in order to get their messages to you in time for you to take advantage of them by Saturday. The Times reaches all its readers the week it is published and gives the readers the opportunity of taking advantage of these bargains while they are still in force.

The Weekly Times press run today is 1,200—over 1,000 of these are paid subscribers. The paper is going into the homes of these 1,000 families because they want the paper and paid for it and because it reaches them, no matter where they live early enough for them to read it over and then come to Ranger in time to take advantage of these Saturday specials offered by the merchants, and does not reach them the following week, as do weekly papers mailed late Friday or Saturday morning.

Free circulars are all right in their way, but they do not weigh much, because most of the people want the news, as well as the advertisements, and most of them know the difference between news and scissor service in the free circulars.

There is no substitute for paid circulation.

$38,000 ROAD WORK STARTS IN EASTLAND

Foemming Bros., road contractors who specialize in concrete construction and who have the contract for the construction of several blocks of Highway No. 1 through the city of Eastland, are ready to begin work within a few days on the West Main street project.

The West Main street project, which is a re-routing of state Highway No. 1 through Eastland, is to be paved with concrete at a cost of approximately $38,000. The funds are being provided by the state highway department, which has Wesley Hall, a highway engineer, stationed in Eastland to supervise not only the work on West Main street but other highway construction in the county.

Mr. Hall's offices are located in the Eastland city hall.

The city of Eastland secured the right-of-way for the highway through the city, secured the removal of various water and gas mains that were in the way of construction work, connected up dead ends of water mains and lowered all mains. Labor for much of this work was secured through CWA and Texas relief offices.

Convict Suit Is Thought to Have Been Hamilton's

GRANDVIEW, Texas, Jan. 25. Officers revealed here today a convict suit believed to have been worn by Raymond Hamilton, young desperado who escaped from the Eastham state farm, had been found in a creek three miles east of here.

A negro farmer found the suit after two men and a woman, driving a small black coupe, had spent the night in timber on the creek several days previously.

The suit had been submerged in the stream by weights but a shirt got loose and came to the top. The suit bore the number 82.

NEW ISSUE OF RELIEF BONDS IS REQUESTED

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 25.—Gov. ernor Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a call for a special session of the Texas Legislature to convene Monday noon.

The proclamation convenes the session for the purpose of issuing additional relief bonds and passage of a new moratorium against real estate foreclosure.

Provision includes "such other topics" as she may suggest to the session after it convenes.

Announcement of the session was made by the governor after numerous conferences with members of the legislature who visited Austin today.

As worded, her call indicates a desire of issuance of the entire $14,500,000 relief bonds permitted under the constitutional amendment, allowing a maximum of $20,000,000 issue.

An issuance of $5,500,000 was authorized at the first special session of the legislature last September.

A moratorium law similar to that of Minnesota, which recently was upheld by the supreme court, will be offered at the special session, W. F. Pope of Corpus Christi said.

The former state moratorium against forced sale of real estate, does not expire until May 1, but the time to take advantage of its provisions has already passed.

It provided that such application must be made within 200 days from the time the act became effective on May 1, 1933. This time expired at the end of last October.

No mention is made in the call of any intent to submit amendments to the poll tax law, not to extend the time for payment of automobile and truck registration fees.

FURY of the JUNGLE

DONALD COOK, PEGGY SHANNON, ALAN DINEHART, DUDLEY DIGGES

NOVELIZATION BY ARRANGEMENT WITH COLUMBIA PICTURES

Matto Grosso, in South America, was the haven of refugees from all over the world. Among them were Richard Burns, alias Frenchy, wanted for murder, a knife thrower, who put his wife's throat; George Tarrant, embezzler, wanted by Scott and Yard; Dave Allen, ex-marine, escaped from Federal Prison in the United States; and then there was Parrish, a physician, who had been here for six years because of drink and a faithless wife.

Parrish had been a great surgeon, but in Matto Grosso he was no better than the worst.

Tarrant had become sort of a leader and ruler. He made the laws to suit his own fancy, and then took great delight in breaking them himself, although, he would allow no one to violate the letter of any one of them. "Woe unto him who broke one of Tarrant's laws, for that individual would have to swim across a river full of crocodiles, and should he escape with his life, he would probably pass his days minus one or more limbs."

To Tarrant, it was amusing to see a man fight his way across the river, and he would often sentence a lawbreaker just for the pleasure of seeing him devoured or mutilated.

Allen had previously been a native from meeting this fate by shooting a crocodile, thus incurring Tarrant's displeasure.

"You are the one they call Lucky Allen," said Frenchy, as he approached him. "Luck is a fine friend, Monsieur, but if you intrude in affairs, try to do me concern you, I will shrug his shoulders, 'she may prove tickle.'"

"You're kind of new around here,"

"You're kind of new around here," Taggart interrupted, "so let me give you a friendly tip. That popgun's liable to get you into trouble." (Posed by Alan Dinehart and Donald Cook)

Taggart interrupted, as he came up to the group, "so let me give you a friendly tip. That popgun's liable to get you into trouble."

Allen was unimpressed. "You sure give a lot of free advice around this place," he said.

As Allen moved away he approached Chita, a beautiful native girl, who fell into step beside him.

"You are very brave," she said with studied allure. "You have made enemies, and now, if you are smart you will try to make friends."

"More advice, huh?" said Allen with a grim smile.

Chita came closer to him, and slipped her arm through his. "You are the most handsome man that ever came to Malango—so strong. You be my friend—yes? I can be helpful, smart, and also maybe there was meaning smile, 'nice, too.'"

Allen did not remove her arm as she snuggled close to him. His voice was brittle, and then, too, there was a twinkle in his eye. "What's your name little flower of the tropics?"

The girl was very pleased and smiled up at Allen coyly. "Chita," she said musically.

Allen took the girl's hand from his arm and held it. "Well, Chita, here are two kinds of women."

"Tell me what kind you like so hat I can be like that," said Chita.

"There isn't any kind I like, and besides you're big enough to walk by yourself." He dropped her hand and walked away, leaving Chita very sore and with plenty of fire in her eyes.

Parrish sat drinking when Allen entered the tavern. "What do you keep guzzling that stuff for?" he asked.

"Horrid word, guzzle," said Parrish. "I never guzzle—I imbibe."

Chita walked up to the table and leaned over toward Parrish. "I don't feel so good, Doctor. Do you think I have fever?"

The doctor patted her on the forehead. "You're all right. There's nothing the matter with you."

"It's the heat," said Allen with double meaning, as Chita gave him a dirty look and flounced over to Taggart in the background.

"Not much of a ladies man, huh, Lucky?" remarked Parrish.

On Texas Farms

By W. H. DARROW, Extension Service Editor

Paul Teinert's herd of dairy cows has doubled their milk production since November when he started feeding them ensilage from a trench silo, one of 34 such silos in Fayette county last summer, according to the county agent.

"I value my pantry complete at $591 but it is worth more than that to me and my family, and $8 is all the money I put out to get it," testifies Mrs. M. M. White who won first prize in the Lamb county farm food supply demonstration contest recently. She is a member of Sod House Home Demonstration Club.

An average labor income of $22.90 per boy was made by the 168 Van Zandt county 4-H club boys who made reports to the county agent of their demonstrations in better farming for 1933.

Half-acre gardens that cost an average of $8.22 to produce, yielded produce worth $75.62 in Williamson county last year according to reports of 4-H club girl demonstrators.

El Paso dairymen are efficient, the county agent claims. With the F. E. S. canning plant running short of cutters only one dairyman could be found with cull cows, and he could furnish but two animals.

Mrs. Roy Mathews intends to have a home that takes furnished. She makes them in her Hopkins county farm home and sells them through the local home demonstration club market. Saturday before Christmas she filled orders for 18.

An 80-acre field that cost $5 in cash and six days hard labor to terrace several years ago has been worth at least $2 more per acre each year since, F. A. Burnett of Young county has reported to the county agent.

Tenant Benefited By Cotton Plan

The tenant farmer, along with the landlord, is benefited by the operations of the cotton adjustment program now being put into effect throughout the South.

Tenants who pay cash rental to landlords, or those who are known as managing share tenants, furnishing their own work stock, labor and equipment in operating a farm, are eligible along with their landlords to sign contracts, as are any other producers, and thus may share in the distribution of the rental and parity payments offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Share tenants or croppers also are expected to receive their proportionate part of the parity payments to be made on cotton produced and sold.

In addition, share croppers are protected in the contract to such an extent that all reductions in acreage are to be made ratably among the tenants on a farm. In other words, it is not expected that a landlord will produce all of his cotton on the land farmed by one or more tenants and thus deprive another tenant of the opportunity of growing some cotton.

"It is expected that the landlords of the South will maintain as nearly as possible the normal number of tenants and other employees and will permit tenants to live in their houses on the farm, rent free, for the years 1934 and 1935," says Cully A. Cobb, head of the cotton section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

"It is our purpose that the acreage reduction campaign shall not upset the usual good feeling prevailing between share croppers and their landlords. We feel that landlords will have definite understandings with their tenants so that no harshly will be placed on any one tenant through the operations of the adjustment program."

Mr. Cobb also points out that the tenant will share in the better price to be received for cotton by erosion of the acreage reduction and will have the use of the contracted areas on which to raise his home supplies. Even though a tenant reduces his acreage for 1934 by 40 per cent, the better price received for the cotton grown on the smaller acreage is expected to bring him a greater total income for his share of the crop. As a result of these provisions, the tenant on Southern cotton farms should be eager to cooperate with his landlord in making the reduction program a success, Cobb says.

Flatwood to Have Preaching Sunday

The pastor, Rev. Ephraim D. Conway, announces that there will be preaching services at the Flatwood Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on Sunday morning and Sunday night. The subject of the sermon for the 11 o'clock service is "The Lord's Discipline." The night service will be at 7:15 o'clock. Subject of the sermon, "Why I Am a Methodist."

At the first quarterly conference of the Ranger circuit of churches held last Sunday at the Flatwood church, Brother J. C. Butler was elected Sunday school superintendent of the Flatwood Sunday school. Come to Sunday school and let us build for a greater and better Sunday school, for a greater and better church, for a greater and better Flatwood community. The quality of her community depends upon the quality of her citizenship.

FINED ONE CENT

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Perusal of police and court records has revealed that the smallest all-time fine here is one cent. It was assessed in 1922 against Edna Palmer who pleaded guilty to a liquor charge. Court records also showed that she paid the fine nine years later—without interest.

Some automobile owners call those additions to the fenders skirts and some call them pants—according to the sex of the car.

FIRST BURGLARY IN 40 YEARS

GEORGETOWN, Cal.—Georgetown will remember 1934 as the "year of the burglary." The new year had advanced only a short time when a burglar entered the Miners Club and stole $400 in cash and a quantity of cigars.

Although petty thefts had been committed, this was the first professional burglary in Georgetown in more than 40 years.

HARD LUCK IS GOOD LUCK

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Ice jams which clogged main pipes in Buffalo's water supply system aided the water bureau in collecting delinquent taxes. The clogged pipes caused a slight water shortage in the city and hundreds of citizens flocked to the bureau to pay back taxes in the belief the water had been shut off for non-payment of levies.

Free Action for all 4 wheels plus the safety of a front axle and comfort of Cantilever Springs

A great deal of thought is being given today to springs. Various experiments are being tried in an effort to get independent action for an automobile's front wheels.

All of which is simply another tribute to the soundness of Ford engineering and the Ford V-8 for 1934. When you drive this car you get free action not only for the front wheels—but for all 4 wheels.

Ford transverse cantilever springs provide individual suspension for both front and rear axles. In the new Ford these springs have been made more flexible. This type of construction is not experimental and has the advantage of comfort plus the proved safety of a front axle. This new Ford combines V-8 power with gasoline economy—20 miles to the gallon at a speed of 45 miles per hour, in exhaustive road runs. It will do 80 miles an hour without difficulty. At 50 or 60 miles per hour it is actually running at ease!

This reserve power means acceleration unequalled by practically any other make of American automobile, regardless of cost. Before you buy any car at any price, drive the new Ford V-8 for 1934.

The Seniors have quit all their worrying at the present. I guess the only reason is because they have found out what they made on their exams.

This school is without a poet at the present. Robert Fenner's last poem was read by a teacher.

The Freshmen have quit playing with the girls. I guess ever since the Seniors caught a couple of Freshmen and put a red dress on 'em. If anyone wants more details about this, see Billie Mitchell or Angus Gentry.

CHEERING NEWS FOR TEXAS SHEEP AND GOAT MEN

William I. Myer, governor of the farm credit administration, has announced the continuation this year of a marketing plan for the wool and mohair clip similar to the one employed in 1933. He said in his statement the plan would assure the industry a much firmer price foundation than might otherwise exist "although it is an effort to prevent unnecessary fluctuations rather than to control prices." Avoiding both forced sale and with holding wool and mohair from the market the growers producing and marketing association and the farm credit administration will cooperate to market the clip in response to consumption demand. Moreover the plan is solely a method of orderly marketing prices of grease wool advance sharply throughout the greater part of 1933 following its institution. This year's price of wool, according to Myer would be determined by fundamental factors of supply and demand. He advised that no rise of such proportions as experienced in 1933 was looked for this year.

COTTON VALUES HIKED $6 A BALE

New Orleans is one of the great cotton markets of the world—as well as one of the great export markets. Cotton values climaxed a steady three weeks advance with a further rally of 85 cents to $1 a bale at the close Jan. 13. Indeed, final prices on that date represented a net gain of nearly $6 a bale since Christmas week. All of which was very gratifying news to the owners of cotton held on the farm or stored in the warehouses of the country.

Speaking of Texas and Texans all delegates attending the interstate commerce commission cotton rate hearing at Houston voted almost unanimously for a resolution endorsing the nomination of Walter M. W. Splawn as a member of the interstate commerce commission. President Roosevelt was congratulated in the resolution for his appointment of the former president of the University of Texas and speedy confirmation by the senate was urged.

A Texan, Sam Rayburn, is chairman of the house interstate commerce committee. He is one of the sponsors of Splawn. Indeed, it is said that Splawn has the united backing of the two Texas senators and the 21 representatives. A Texan, John H. Reagan, was responsible for the creation of the interstate commerce commission. Reagan was a member of the senate. He declined a place on the newly created commission tendered by Grover Cleveland, who was President of the United States. Reagan, who was the postmaster general of the Confederacy under Jefferson Davis, resigned his senatorship to accept appointment of the Texas state railroad commission. James Stephen Hogg was governor and the venerable Reagan was his loyal friend and constant adviser. Now a Texan has been named for the I. C. C. post the first since creation of this very important branch of the federal government.

Woman Plans to Run For Sheriff

FORT DAVIS, Texas.—Mrs. Louise Sprout plans to be West Texas' first regularly elected woman sheriff, she said when she announced as a candidate for the July democratic primary. Mrs. Sprout has served as sheriff since last February, when the commissioners' court appointed her to succeed her husband, Sherill Lee Sprout, killed by a boy tramp.

FROZEN FISH REVIVED

MEDFORD, Mass.—During a recently cold spell, Mrs. Henry Cameron found her two goldfish encased in ice in their globe in the sun parlor. She took the bowl into a warm room and 30 minutes later both fish were swimming around, unconcerned.

In justice to Babe Ruth, why shouldn't his home runs also be cut down to three bases?

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rinin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Lucky Strike the fully packed cigarette

— no loose ends

Always the finest tobaccos and only the center leaves are purchased for Lucky Strike cigarettes. We don't buy top leaves—because those are under-developed. And not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. The center leaves—for which farmers are paid higher prices—are the mildest leaves. And only center leaves are used in making Luckies—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why every Lucky draws easily, burns evenly—and is always mild and smooth. Then, too—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company Saturday at 1:55 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC. LUCKY STRIKE will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Aida."

A TEXAS INSTITUTION

Connally Would Make Home Loan Bonds Acceptable

WASHINGTON.—A gleam of hope for millions of small home owners threatened with foreclosure, who have heretofore not been eligible for aid from the Home Owner's Loan Corporation, because holders of their mortgages refused to accept the Home Loan bonds, was seen here today in the statement of Senator Tom Connally (D), of Texas, member of the powerful Senate Finance committee, that he will advocate passage of amendments to the Home Loan Bank act, liberalizing its terms and tending to create a stable market for its bonds.

Senator Connally worked for the passage of the original Home Loan Bank act, and Home Owner's Loan act which is empowered to issue bonds to take up home mortgages. The Owners United States government guarantees the interest, but not the principal, upon these bonds, and for this reason many mortgage-holders have declined to accept the bonds.

"It appears that the small home owners of the nation cannot realize the fullest benefits from this legislation until Congress has liberalized its terms, so as to make the bonds readily saleable, so that they will be acceptable to all mortgage holders. Patriotic individuals and corporations throughout the country have already accepted millions of dollars worth of the bonds, and hundreds of thousands of small homes have been saved from foreclosure as a result. But the bonds must be made universally acceptable, so that every small home owner in the United States, who faces the loss of his property which often represents the savings of a lifetime of toil and struggle may take advantage of the liberal amortization terms offered by the Home Owners Loan corporation in refinancing such properties. I am extremely hopeful that the Congress, at the present session, may devise suitable legislation to accomplish such an extension of the benefits of the original act, and I shall give my support in the senate to whatever practical and sound legislation may be submitted with that end in view."

Latest reports here show that in Senator Connally's home state Texas, loans have been made by the Home Owner's Loan corporation on 1,830 individual small homes, totaling $4,556,660.59 while thousands of additional applications for loans are in process of examination by the bank officials.

Ruth Chatterton and George Brent Again Team In 'Female'

It's getting to be a habit with Ruth Chatterton to select her husband, George Brent, as her leading man in her pictures. In the past two years she played in five productions and Brent was her leading man in all but one.

Miss Chatterton's first picture after joining Warner Bros.-First National was "The Rich Are Always With Us." They were trying to find a leading man and many tests were made of Hollywood players. But after seeing one of George Brent both Miss Chatterton and the studio executives decided that the young Broadway actor was the man.

Later when she played in "The Crash" he was again leading man. When it came to "Frisco Jenny," however, there was no part that was suited to Brent's type of work, so he did not appear with her. However, when she played "Lilly Turner" he again played opposite Miss Chatterton.

Now in her latest picture, "Female," which comes to the Arcadia theatre today, he has the leading masculine role, and incidentally is the only lover in the picture Miss Chatterton is unable to bend to her iron will. Her role is that of a big business executive who flirts outrageously after office hours with the handsome young men in her employ.

She is as ruthless in love as she is in business until she finds the one who will not bend to her will, whereupon she discovers that he is the only man whom she can't do without, which revolutionizes her entire mode of life.

Brunk's Comedians Opens Here Monday

The Ranger fire department is bringing the "No. 1" show of the Brunk's Comedians to Ranger for a week's run beginning Monday evening, Jan. 29, under the management and direction of Fred G. Brunk, who has the original Brunk show. This visit will be the first he has made to Ranger in about six years, although other shows under the direction of brothers of Fred have appeared here.

The advance agent for the show was in Ranger earlier in the week and stated that show goes in Brownwood and Abilene have declared that the show is the best Brunks have ever had in this territory. He also stated that the show is equipped with new canvas and water and weatherproof, with five underground furnaces to warm the interior.

Advance information indicates that the entire program offered by Brunks is first class entertainment, with feature stage show successes on the books for the entire run with good comedy, romance and topped by a superthriller mystery show, "The House of Fear," which will be presented on one of the nights. Good music by Zeke Boyd and his orchestra, and Ted Edlin's band is a regular feature of the show, according to the advance man.

The tent will be located across from the city hall.

Stone Building in Cotton Patch Was Once a Big Fort

NEWCASTLE, Texas.—Casual passersby, traveling the road a few miles west of here, today would scarcely recognize the small stone building which stands in the center of a cotton patch—although it is one of the shrines of western history. Its walls are more than a foot thick, a building constructed for long wear. Its non-pretentious size, its drab color and its ordinary setting belie the importance that once was attached to it.

This description is furthered by the pigs that inhabit it while the cattle stabled in the rock ruins of nearby buildings give it an air of commonplace.

Once this spot was the center of social life of the Texas northwest. Here came gallant young officers from West Point to take their first lessons in the art of war; here was the outpost of civilization. A sightseer, uninformed, would hardly recognize this mouldering ruin as the place where Captain Sul Ross, famous Texan, outfitted his compatriots for the Indian expedition which was to return Cynthia Ann Parker, captured white woman, to civilization.

If you have not guessed, the crumbling ruin is old Fort Belknap. Beside it is the well that Robert E. Lee, then a young lieutenant, helped to dig—now filled with tin cans and automobile fenders.

There the old fort stands, for all its past dignity, a pig-sty in a cotton patch.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM
 Text: Matt. 5:1-48
 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 28

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist
 The Kingdom of Heaven begins in blessedness, and blessings are the portion of all who enter into it and who continue in it. Not blessings as the world too often counts them. Not the blessings of ease or of pleasure or of material satisfactions.
 Jesus never promised to his followers, and to those who would establish the truth in their hearts and lives, an easy way. On the contrary, it was to these that he offered burdens and sacrifices and ways of service.
 He told them, even, that they would not be free from sorrows and sufferings. But in a world where these things are the lot both of the good and of the evil, Jesus promised deep satisfactions and blessings to those who would find the way of light and love and truth.
 Our lesson begins in what have been called the Beatitudes—that is, the roll of blessings. It is instructive to study the blessings that are promised and those to whom they are offered. They offer to the persecuted and the harassed inner peace and satisfaction, but beyond this they express also great spiritual laws or compensations that are operative in life.
 The poor in spirit—that is, the ingenuous, honest, simple, earnest souls, who are not concerned about worldly gain, or power, or anything that enables them to dominate over their fellowmen—have the blessing of the Kingdom of Heaven.
 It well might be asked whether that blessing is possible for any other men than those of such simple honesty and earnestness.
 The blessing of comfort is offered to those who mourn. It is doubtful whether those who never have mourned ever have discovered the real meaning of comfort. There are spiritual satisfactions that one can know and understand only as one has felt the need of them through suffering and sorrow.
 Perhaps the strangest of all the blessings is the pronouncement of the inheritance of the earth for the meek. It seems to contradict almost all the experiences of human life, where it is apparently the aggressive, and the selfish, and the exacting, who win the greatest rewards. But it well may be asked whether the success of these is as great as it seems.
 It was this same Jesus who pronounced these blessings, who pronounced concerning the worth of a man who had all the world, but who had lost his own soul. Surely the world is full today of people who have attained great world success, who seem to inherit the earth, but in whose lives there is little that makes the soul either glorious or worthwhile.
 Does not experience, when we search into its meaning, reveal something of the truth that Jesus emphasized? The blessings upon the merciful, and the pure in heart, and the peacemakers, speak for themselves.
 The framers of this lesson have shown insight and good judgment in attaching to the Beatitudes the closing verses of the fifth chapter of Matthew, which lay stress upon the good human life as like the life of God in the boundfulness of its love and magnanimity.
 This triumphant description of the good life is closely related to the way of blessing. It is a life in which man is lifted into a different atmosphere from that of worldly and selfish passions and interests. It is a life in which even toward one's enemies reconstructive powers begin to operate when one meets enmity not with enmity, but with love.

 Selfishness never can conquer selfishness, hats never can conquer hate, but when one meets selfishness with unselfishness a foundation is laid for something new. There is a revelation of spiritual value.
 And when one meets hate with love, he has met something that is strong and deep with something that is even stronger and deeper.
 But there is no blessedness apart from the commitment of life to truth and righteousness and love.

 The 21 Study club held an extra meeting last Tuesday at the club house to have a program that was postponed from the time before when the annual business meeting had occupied more time than usual. Perkins of Eastland, and published in the Texas Federation News. Mrs. Plummer Ashburn gave an account of the notable conferences of 1933, including the Pan-American conference held in Monte Video just last month and the world economic conference held in London and several others of much interest.
 The club programs this year have included either a song or piano solo for each time and on this program all joined in singing the "Federation Song" to the tune of "America" A parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. W. C. Bedford, the topic being, "Voting." Mrs. W. H. Poll Tax Payments Slow In County

T. L. Cooper, county tax collector, Tuesday morning stated that currently his office was seized with citizens making payment for their auto and poll tax.
 Due to the rush of the past several days, Cooper was unable to furnish exact figures as to the comparison with those of last year. He was of opinion that, all in all, the complete figures were below those of last year because of lack of alacrity of payments by citizens the first three weeks of January.

If you want safe relief from Constipation

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

1. Regulate intestinal action gently—no "purging"
2. Measure dose to suit your individual needs
3. Avoid Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise use of harsh laxatives often does more harm than good.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains doubtful drugs, don't take it.
 Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain.

The liquid test:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics:

First. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the longest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

The bank has received subscription for all but $190,000 of the $1,602,000 worth of bonds left to be sold of the $2,750,000 issued.

Two Fort Worth banks and two Dallas banks advanced the money for the $1,148,000 sold in December, in order that the funds might be available immediately for direct relief. The same banks will underwrite the $1,602,000 worth as soon as the remaining $190,000 is subscribed, it was announced.

Tom Tyler Film To Be Shown At Columbia Theatre

Following up his enormously successful Monogram series of Western pictures, Tom Tyler, ace Western star, appears for the seventh time before audiences of the Arcadia theatre, in "Vanishing Men," which Manager B. E. Garner presents Saturday.

Tom has been seen here this year in such outstanding thrillers as "Galloping Thru," "The Man from New Mexico," "Two-Fisted Justice," "Partners of the Trail," "The Man from Death Valley" and "Single-Handed Sanders," but his latest feature is acknowledged to be even better than the previous attractions.

In "Vanishing Men" Tom plays strong role as the honest sheriff of a small cattle county who is determined to clean out a powerful gang of cattle rustlers, although he is hampered by the double-dealing of his best friend. Action highpoints include numerous gun battles, sensational rides, thrilling leaps from galloping horses and over cliffs, and the gallant defense of a deserted cabin in which Tom is trapped by the marauding gang.

In the exceptional cast are such well-known players as Yakima Canutt, the rodeo star, W. L. Thorne, Raymond Keane, James Marcus, John Elliott, and pretty Adele Lacy. Harry Fraser directed from the screen play by Wellyn Totman.

moneys—these indictments are only the beginning," declared M. R. Kelly, federal investigator for Hidalgo county, who, with the district attorney and assistant state attorney general Dick Waters of Austin, is leading the investigation.

Reyna was named in 28 charges of forgery and 35 charges of "making false reports on distribution of relief funds."

Goss was indicted on a charge of misappropriating for his own use $412 of relief funds while a relief board member.

District Judge Bryce Ferguson by whom the indictments were received, set bonds total $32,000.

Action of the grand jurors came after Harry Hopkins, national relief administrator at Washington, signalled for an intensive nationwide war against graft in the handling of federal and state relief funds.

The Hidalgo grand jurors recessed until tomorrow, when they will resume their work.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 23.—O. D. Stevens and M. T. Howard, triple slaying and mail robbery suspects, today were moved to the Dallas county jail, because, United States Marshal J. R. Wright said, they have been receiving information from outside the county jail here.

"Every time we dig up anything new, they find out about it," Wright said.

Wright said a floor drain system in the county jail here was being used as a speaking tube by prisoners for communication from floor to floor and possibly by outsiders.

HILLSBORO, Texas, Jan. 24.—Officers were puzzled today over where the trial of H. L. (Chili Red) Cobb, charged with murder in the slaying of 18-year-old Thomas Gullett of Whitney, would be held.

by Kelly Rush said they had evidence that Cobb and Gullett met near the latter's home last Friday night just before the tragedy, but the question for which they sought an answer was whether Gullett had been killed in Hill county and his body taken to the hay barn, or whether he had been lured there and killed.

District Judge W. L. Ray of Hillsboro said no decision had been reached as to the place of trial, but that unless evidence appeared to establish the place of the slaying the trial would be held in Cleburne, since the body was found in that jurisdiction.

Cobb was held in jail here. The suspect denied the charges when questioned.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Jan. 24.—Two young boys who admitted they shot and killed Claude Autry, their father and brother-in-law respectively, declared in jail today that they acted to save other members of the family.

Dubois Autry, 16, son of the slain man and Johnnie Curtis, 17, brothers of the victim's wife, both faced murder complaints in connection with the death of the elder Autry.

He threatened to kill our entire family, and he cursed us and abused us frequently," Dubois told officers. "So yesterday Johnnie and I loaded out shotguns, climbed on the roof of the barn and waited for him to come out to milk."

"When he got close to us we both shot him," the son said. "We thought it would be better for us to take one life than to permit him to take several."

FARM BILL PASSES
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate today passed the $2,000,000 farm mortgage refinancing bill, designed to remove some of the debt burden from the farmer.

BEAUMONT, Tex.—A campaign for payment of poll taxes has just started here with the added impetus of possible voting on the Neches river bridge injected into the political front this year.

The Young Men's Business League, which sponsors an annual drive for poll tax payment, will place new emphasis on the camaign this year because of the bridge controversy.

Concerted efforts are underway to get at least a 185-foot clearance for the ship channel bridge. Plans for a lower span would bar large naval ships from the channel, business men here have pointed out.

Members of the Young Men's Business League believe the question finally will be submitted to residents of Jefferson county, hence the extra efforts to get poll taxes paid.

Prison Break High Spot In "Fugitive Lovers" at Arcadia

All the sensations of a rapid, thrilling cross-country trip are promised by advance reports to audiences at the Arcadia Theatre when "Fugitive Lovers," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer melodrama opens here for a two day engagement, Monday.

A huge "road cruiser" rolls out of its terminal in New York City and, on its first night out, encounters a prison break as it passes a penitentiary. Repeated firing halts the bus. Robert Montgomery, in the role of Porter, leader of the break, manages to climb onto the luggage rack.

Later, in clothing stolen from an unlocked bag, he enters as a passenger. Inside, Letty, New York chorine (played by Madge Evans), is repelling the advances of the gangster backer of her erstwhile show. In the role of "Legs" Caffee, the gangster, Nat Pendleton, is trying to force Letty to return with him to Atlantic City. Porter enters the bus and befriends Letty. "Legs" plots revenge. Then, suspecting Porter to be the man whom the police are hunting, he attempts to aid in his capture.

Montgomery gives an exciting performance in his effort to evade capture and at the same time protect the girl with whom he is in love. Daly, the cold-blooded detective, is played by C. Henry Gordon, ace character actor.

As on any cross-country coach, the bus in "Fugitive Lovers" is filled with variegated passengers, some humorous, some pathetic. Ted Healy is a jolly traveling salesman; his three stooges compose an hilariously funny vaudeville team, and Ruth Selwyn is another interesting passenger.
