PRIMARY ELECTIONS SHOW MIXED TRENDCIES IN FIVE STATES IN VOTING TUESDAY

By United Press
The results of primary elections in five states yesterday, summarized today as follows:
Michigan—Frank Murphy, re-elected as high commissioner of the Philippines to campaign for the new deal apparently won the democratic gubernatorial nomination from George Welsh.
Sen. James Couzens, republican who endorsed President Roosevelt, trailed in the republican primary, where he sought renomination and Former Governor Wilbur Brucker seemed a probable winner.
Gov. Frank Fitzgerald was assured of renomination for governor in the republican primary.
Rep. Trentiss Brown, supported by the national administration was ahead of four competitors for the democratic senatorial nomination.
Massachusetts—Gov. James Curley, campaigning as "the original Roosevelt man in Massachusetts" won the democratic senatorial nomination.
Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., grandson of the U. S. Senator of the same name, won the republican senatorial nomination.
New Hampshire—Gov. Henry Styles Bridges apparently won the republican senatorial nomination over former senator George Moses.
Wisconsin—Gov. Phillip LaFollette, unopposed progressive and pro-Roosevelt, drew more votes than the combined republican total on the basis of early returns. The GOP only party to oppose the new deal, led the democratic vote total.

Ranger Man Buried In Eastland Today

Funeral services for Nugent Emmett Work, 44, who had resided near Ranger for the past 18 months, were conducted from the First Christian Church of Ranger Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in the Eastland cemetery following the church services. Rev. K. C. Edmonds conducted the services, with Killingsworth, Cox in charge of funeral arrangements.
The decedent was born at Santo on Aug. 18, 1892 and died at 10:30 p. m., Monday, Sept. 14. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jetty Work, one child, Louis Work, 9, and four sisters, Mrs. Willie Davis, Mrs. Ella Davis, Mrs. Fressie Britton and Mrs. Mamie Pistole.

Community Employees In District Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Canfield and Mr. and Mrs. Virge Johnson attended a division employees meeting at Olney Monday night, at which Community Public Service employees were present from over this section of the state, in addition to several from Fort Worth.
At the meeting Johnson delivered an interesting talk on the subject, "Methods of Detecting Gas Leaks on a Gas System," which covered the subject in a thorough manner.

Purdue Grigger Dead of Burns

Heading the 1936 list of fatalities among football players is the name of Carl E. Dahlbeck, of Purdue University, who died of burns suffered in a shower room explosion after a gridiron practice session. Five other Purdue players were seriously injured. Dahlbeck, veteran guard, is from Lyndonville, Vt.

RAINS BRING COOL WEATHER OVER TEXAS

Autumn slipped into Texas with cool winds Wednesday, dropping temperature levels in north Texas as heavy rains increased the flood danger along Southwest Texas streams.
Ranchmen and farmers saw the flood damage offset by the benefits pastures and fall crops would receive. The cool wave was expected to reach Central Texas by Wednesday night or Thursday, lowering temperatures from 68 to 62 degrees.
Additional rains Tuesday night caused alarm among those along the Concho river, swollen by a 12 inch rain at San Angelo and heavier rain upstream.
As cloudbursts near Kerrville converted a usually tiny creek into a torrent, causing the drowning of William Osborne, 75.
A dozen Mexican homes were swept away by the concho in the southern section of San Angelo. Traffic was halted on several highways and hundreds of head of livestock were lost.
Rainfall continued Wednesday at Abilene and Austin.
San Angelo reported a total rainfall of 13 inches in the last 48 hours, Kerrville 6.04, Lanna 3.4, Lampasa 3.5, Abilene 1.82, Dallas .02, Palestine .52, Houston 1.62, Galveston .18, San Antonio .28, Austin .48, Brownwood 4.10, Fort Worth 1, Albany 2.3, Ballinger 1.62, Brenham .58, Dublin .42, Eastland 3, Graham .09, Haskell .94, Miami .52, Plainview .28, Temple 2, and Weatherford 1.84.

To Reorganize K. of P. Lodges

Efforts to reorganize Knights of Pythias lodges at Rising Star and Cisco will be made soon, Herbert Reed, Eastland, district deputy for the Grand Lodge of Texas, stated Wednesday.
Reed stated $500 in lodge equipment will revert back to the grand lodge if the organization at Cisco is not reorganized in six months.
The Cisco lodge, Reed stated, disbanded about six months ago and many members transferred their membership to the "phantom" home lodge at Weatherford.

Rep. South Puzzled By Son's Suicide

LUBBOCK, Sept. 16.—Congressman Charles L. South of Coleman was puzzled today over the death of his son, Carl Wineman South, 18, who leaped to his death yesterday from the 10th floor of a local hotel.

GERMANY OR RUSSIA ARE NOT YET READY FOR WAR AS EUROPEAN WAR SEEMS LIKELY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A $10,000,000 corn loan program, which for the first time provides seed corn loans to assure farmers in drought areas of adequate feed for next spring, was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.
The program provides two types of loans on farm-stored feed corn. A loan of 75c a bushel on field-selected corn which meets requirements is provided for the first time. A loan of 55 cents on good quality stored corn which can be sorted for seed at a later date is also provided.
Officials are watching developments closely. Defiance between the leaders of Germany and Soviet Russia set new records in international discord. World peace hangs in the balance.
It is the consensus of leaders here that neither Germany nor Russia desires war yet. Neither is believed to be ready for such a struggle. It is believed, however, that only an unhappy "incident" is needed to ignite the powder magazine built up in the past 18 months.
The Spanish government fought for its life on the Talavera front today. The outcome of the civil war may be decided there. Despite heavy reinforcements from Madrid, loyalists have been pushed back.
The rebels made a strong flank attack northeast of Talavera to force the loyalists back. The rebel objective was to cut through the line and isolate the main body of government troops from the capital.
The American state department apparently feared some such outcome and Americans were given only 48 hours to leave Madrid.
On the north coast the loyalists were in a precarious situation. A starvation blockade of Bilbao, Santander and other ports was in effect. Rebels from San Sebastian began advancing westward on the start of a new offensive.

Corn Seed Loans Will Be Made By The Federal Govt.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A $10,000,000 corn loan program, which for the first time provides seed corn loans to assure farmers in drought areas of adequate feed for next spring, was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.
The program provides two types of loans on farm-stored feed corn. A loan of 75c a bushel on field-selected corn which meets requirements is provided for the first time. A loan of 55 cents on good quality stored corn which can be sorted for seed at a later date is also provided.

Pioneer Resident Of Strawn Buried Tuesday Morning

Funeral services were conducted from St. John's Catholic Church of Strawn Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock for Albert Talik, 65, of Strawn, who died at his home in Strawn Friday morning at 4 o'clock. The services were conducted by Father Paul Niedziela, with interment in Mt. Marion Cemetery, with Strawn Merchandise Company in charge.
The decedent was born in Wankavia, Poland, March 30, 1871, and received his education in Poland. Later he entered the coal mines of Poland. He was married to Miss Marie Golec, Feb. 17, 1894 and came to America in 1903, settling at Houston the same year. Later he moved to Fort Worth where he lived for a year and then moved to Palo Pinto county in 1905. He worked at the Mt. Marion coal mine until 1921. From 1909 until 1919 he lived on what is now known as the Bar B Ranch, southwest of Strawn. In the summer of 1910 he moved to Strawn, where he lived until the time of his death.
Nine children were born, of which seven are living, one son, Charles, and one daughter, Anna, having preceded him in death.
Surviving relatives are his widow, Mrs. Marie Talik, Strawn; four sons, Albert, Edwardsville, Ill.; Joseph, Detroit, Michigan; Stanley, Carlsbad, N. M.; and Jim Talik, Detroit; and three daughters, Mrs. Frances Supina, Carlsbad, N. M.; Miss Alice Talik, El Paso, and Mrs. Rose Ostholm, Detroit, and eight grandchildren.
Pal bearers were Joe Lovera, Albert Yell, Walter Wojik, Anthony Simeroski, Tlbert Wojik and Mickey Supina.

Navy to Have a European Squadron

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The U. S. Navy has decided to establish a "temporary" European naval squadron, it was revealed today.
After numerous denials the navy department announced today that upon the arrival of the cruiser Raleigh at Gibraltar, such a squadron would be organized.

As Mighty Colorado Bowed to Man

President Roosevelt's finger, pressing a button in Washington, loosed the torrents of water seen pouring from the outlets below Boulder Dam at the rate of 3,600,000 cubic feet a second. Visible in this remarkable aerial view are the 12 dam outlets, six on the Nevada side and six on the Arizona side. Constructed at a cost of $168,000,000, Boulder Dam, man's most ambitious effort to harness nature, will supply power and water to 30,000,000 acres. This photo was made from a Richfield-Oil Company plane.

ENROLLMENT IN SCHOOL HIKE AT DESDEMONA

100 pupils were added to the Desdemona school by the recent contracts with Lowell and Robinson Springs schools.
A contract transferring the scholastics out of Robinson Springs in Comanche county has been made for two years and another with Lowell, four and one-half miles in Lath county for one year.
Robinson Springs transferred 104 students and Lowell 44.
The transfer of the students of the schools increases the staff of the local school from 11 to 15 teachers.
For the first time commercial courses have been added to the study of the high school here.

Negro Is Held In Stabbing of a Man

HOUSTON, Sept. 16.—A 19-year old negro was held on a murder charge here today in connection with the fatal stabbing of Howard Guinn, 22, amateur baseball player. Guinn died within a few minutes last night after a fight resulting from a traffic dispute.

Eight Brick Houses Stolen, Says Owner

MONTREAL—William Budge, Baikié, wealthy houseowner, reported to police that thieves stole eight of his houses in Rosemount, a suburb of Montreal.
Baikié said the flats were unoccupied for several months, and the thieves apparently demolished and carted them away brick by brick.

Lufkin Farmer Is Released On Bond

TYLER, Sept. 16.—W. G. Funderburk, Lufkin farmer, was freed under $1,000 bond today on charges of attempted extortion. Funderburk was charged under the Lindbergh kidnaping law after he allegedly had written notes demanding $1,500 from his wife, saying he had been kidnaped.

FIRST PROGRAM DUE BY CISCO THIS EVENING

General Chairman Says Rain Might Slow Schedule, But Not Cancel
Despite rain which started Monday, the county's tenth annual fair will open today at Eastland. This assurance was given this morning by general chairman, H. C. Davis, who stated the rain "might slow the schedule, but won't cancel the fair."
Officials and workmen this morning began the placing of exhibits in the buildings one block east of the courthouse square. It was stated exhibits were numerous despite the rain which in some parts of the county delayed exhibitors arriving with their products.
Most pronounced of the results of the heavy rains was in the number of livestock arriving in that department, under the chairmanship of Rev. Charles W. Estes of Eastland.
An extension in time for arrival of exhibits was announced by Davis. County Agent, Elmo V. Cook's stated judging in the agricultural department was postponed until Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.
Cook started community exhibits had arrived from Flatwood and Morton Valley. Others were expected from Kokomo, Shady Grove and Scaranton.
Workmen were to begin at noon in the erection of equipment for the midway to be established off the square.
Cisco is scheduled to present the formal opening program, tonight at 8 o'clock. It was announced by secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce that the high school band and Harry Schaefer's orchestra will be featured in musical and novelty numbers. There will be brief addresses by Cisco citizens.
Officials were unable to determine whether the rain was heavy enough to necessitate the postponement of a free rodeo Thursday afternoon.
Rain insurance carried by the fair association is effective from 7 to 10 o'clock each night of the fair.

$50,000 ASKED IN LIBEL SUIT AGAINST STORE

Complaining that an article in a magazine which Bowen Drug Stores sold libeled the memory of his daughter, A. R. Lawson of Ranger filed suit in 91st district court asking judgment of $25,000 for alleged actual damages and $25,000 exemplary damages.
The petition named Anna R. Bowen and D. R. Gayle as operators of the Bowen Drug Stores in Waco, Sweetwater and Lubbock, where allegedly August, 1936, Official Detective Story magazines were sold with a story concerning his daughter, Louise Lawson.
Lawson stated in the petition his daughter was murdered, Feb. 28, 1924, in New York City, where she went to study music, and the murderer has not been apprehended.
Lawson's petition alleged the magazine story libeled his daughter's character. He said his daughter had been a member of the Columbus Street Baptist Church choir in Waco and had studied music in the musical department of Baylor University in Waco.
The petition was filed by Tom M. Hamilton and J. A. Kibler of Waco.

Tropical Storm Is Largest Charted

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 16.—A tropical storm, its gales hammering an 800-mile wide stretch of the Atlantic, with winds of 75 miles an hour, slowly moved northwest today. The hurricane was located about 300 miles southwest of Bermuda. It was described as the most extensive storm ever charted.

RESETTLEMENT AID IN COUNTY SAVES THE FARMERS

Guion Gregg, State Farm Debt Adjustment Supervisor, here today, reports that 19 farms have been saved from foreclosures during the Government's Resettlement Administration program in Eastland County since Sept. 1, 1935. The properties were saved by either refinancing or extensions of farm debts.
Farm debts in the state have been reduced $1,020,487 during the year by the Administration. The agency has arranged for payment of $179,233 in taxes, involving 597,252 acres of land. The farm-debt adjustment program was instituted at the request of President Roosevelt in October, 1933. It was formed to bring the distressed farm debtors and their creditors together to discuss their mutual problems and arrive at adjustments which would prevent wholesale foreclosure of farm homes, and to aid in agricultural rehabilitation. It arose out of a crisis in agricultural credit which had been aggravated by weather and crop conditions. Thousands of farmers found themselves hopelessly unable to meet their obligations, and the number of farm foreclosures was mounting rapidly.
The purpose of the Resettlement Administration is to aid the distressed farmers in adjusting their problems, whether on their personal property or on their land holdings. The service of the department is offered free of charge to the farmers. A committee of civic-minded citizens for each county in the United States serves as a board to investigate cases which are referred to the Administration.
The Eastland County committee acted upon 26 cases which were presented for consideration. The local committee is composed of F. S. Boland, Scaranton; Milton Newman, Eastland; and Dick Weekes, Ranger. Rural rehabilitation Supervisor, Mr. George I. Lane, and the District F. D. A. Supervisor, Mr. Guion Gregg, are in charge of the Resettlement Administration work in Eastland County.
The program was originally sponsored by the Farm Credit Association, but since Sept. 1, 1935, it has been under the supervision of the Resettlement Administration. President Roosevelt allotted $2,000,000 to provide salaries and

Liberty, Law's Dignity Are Not Incompatible

The line between liberty and license can be an almighty hard one to draw. The American solution usually is to allow a good deal of leeway on the side of license so as to make sure that liberty is not infringed; if somebody abuses the privilege that's just too bad.

But it isn't entirely impossible to draw the line, even when such an extremely important abstraction as the freedom of the press is involved; and it wouldn't hurt either the press or the bar of the United States to give a little sober attention to some remarks on court procedure recently made by Chief Justice William M. Maltbie of the Connecticut supreme court.

Justice Maltbie proposed that the courts draw up rules to govern press coverage of trials so as to avoid such threatening circus affairs as the Hauptmann trial.

With the rules which he proposes a great many newspaper editors will doubtless quarrel. Steering away from license, the justice may have a tendency to cut into liberty a bit. But with the general idea that press and bar can and should head off repetitions of such affairs as the Hauptmann trial, there can be little dissent.

Justice Maltbie urges that the only reporters admitted to a courtroom be those from the state and city directly involved, and from the great press associations. He would prohibit all picture-making in court and ban all movie and radio equipment. He would have the trial judge exercise supervision over the giving out by court stenographers of transcripts of the evidence.

Now the point to bear in mind, in any such proposal to reduce the hippodrome aspects of a sensational trial, is that one right is paramount—the right of the public at large to know precisely what goes on in its courtrooms. It is of the highest importance that the war-time trial of a Eugene Debs, for instance, be given the fullest kind of coverage. Once set a limit on the right of the press to tell what happens in court, and you provide an entering wedge for star-chamber sessions, judicial tyranny, and the very negation of democracy.

No set of regulations, then, can be approved by the American press if it in any way cuts off from the people a full and untrammelled knowledge of the facts.

Beyond that, however, there is a good deal that can be said for the justice's ideas.

Sensation-mongering is not an integral part of the essential reporting of the news. No judge need turn his courtroom over to the tabloids. The photographer need not exactly perch on the rail of the jury box. The radio and the movie, certainly, can properly remain outside the door.

For a criminal courtroom needs dignity and decorum, if for no other reason than that it is the arena for a supposedly passionless and unbiased search for facts. The rights of the man on trial and of the society which is trying him must be preserved. They are apt to get lost in the shuffle, in a trial such as that of Hauptmann.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By Deck Morgan

© 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty young nurse, applies for a job as stewardess on Overland Airways. In the Overland office she encounters TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot, who flies the trans-Pacific route. Largely due to Graham's intervention she is accepted for a trial period.

Two other girls, DORIS LEE and ALICE MILLER, are accepted on the same basis.

The three girls begin their preliminary training. Doris is first to win a regular job. Alice surprises the others by announcing her marriage to Chuck Jones, a pilot.

Kay is assigned to the western division, flying from Reno to San Francisco. She enjoys her work, but one evening, lonely and discouraged, she goes to a night club where she meets MONTE BLAINE, a pilot who tells her he is going to fly the trans-Pacific route with Graham.

Blaine has been drinking. He falls asleep in the living room of Kay's apartment. She lets him stay, locking the door of her bedroom.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII

(Posed by Mildred Shelley and J. M. Seymour of United Airlines.)

KAY saw it that Monte Blaine caught the afternoon plane for Oakland. She was on duty on this ship. Monte sat back in his passenger's seat, watching her idly and grinning when she passed him in the aisle. Once she saw him grimace with pain, and clutch his head. She came to him unsmilingly. "Will you have another bromo-seltzer, sir? Perhaps it would help your head?"

She came back again when they passed over the American river canyon, a gigantic black yawn in the earth. She wanted to show him the two forks of the river, like tiny silver threads weaving in and out in the black depths. But Monte was sound asleep in his chair.

He slept all the way to Oakland Airport. When he woke up Kay had his arm, and was shaking him.

She saw him talking to the pilot, and a moment later he was back. "At last I know your name! I'll be waiting in a taxicab outside the terminal in 10 minutes, Kay Dunn."

Twenty minutes later she came out of the airport terminal, and there he was sitting in the taxi cab. He opened the door for her, and helped her in.

"You're not going to walk out of my life, Kay. Now what shall we do? Fine first or go watch the Flying Mariner come in? She's due at 6 o'clock, and it's 5:45."

It was a little dark before the Mariner reached Ship Harbor and suddenly the lights were switched on in the 30 portholes. It looked as if a flying hotel were coming down out of the skies. They heard the roar of the four 800-horsepower motors as the Mariner glided down toward the waters, still speckled with the glint of the parting sun.

The flying ship came to rest, settling down like a giant bird, and then taxied slowly to the landing.

The disembarkation was like that attending the landing of a trans-Atlantic steamer. Orders were barked. Bells rang. A gangplank was thrown over the side, and the porters went on to take off the mail and baggage. Twelve passengers came down to the quay, and waited for the customs examination.

KAY watched the passengers closely. What a story they told of this superhuman undertaking in the air. There was a missionary, home from China; a Chinese student coming to America; a Japanese merchant. One oldish couple, tourists, still had Hawaiian leis around their necks. An army officer strode down the gangplank, resplendent with spurs.

When Kay looked up again she saw Ted Graham coming down the gangplank with five other members of the crew. They all looked surprisingly fresh after the 16-hour flight from Honolulu.

Ted came down last, and stood there, watching the whole scene with a practiced eye. He seemed so proud of this solid achievement in the air. He didn't want to leave the ship until the last detail of disembarkation was complete.

In the five years of preparation for the trans-Pacific flight he had given his attention to much detail. The groundwork had been scientifically laid for this achievement, and Ted had seen it through from its infancy.

Mechanical efficiency was the thing. Steadiness. Rigid discipline. Keen calculation. Instrument work. Robots. Radio beams. Automatic steering devices. Flying ships that would withstand high seas and stay aloft. All this had meant but one thing to Ted Graham, chief pilot of Trans-Pacific Airways. Scientific progress.

The Mariners were the result of years of steady planning, not only in the aeronautical laboratories, but in the service. The crews had been carefully, painstakingly trained over lesser routes than the Pacific flight. They had put in thousands of hours in the air. They knew exactly what they were about. They didn't allow for mistakes.

TED had frequently said to the young, keen-spirited pilots under him: "There is no place, absolutely no place, for deeds of dereliction in long distance flying over water." Indeed he had once been held to say that the same thing held for successful long distance marriage in this modern age!

But suddenly TED turned around and saw Kay, and his face broke into the smile that distinguished her! He had recognized her! But Monte Blaine already was pumping his hand.

Monte drew Kay forward and said, "I want you to meet a swell girl I found in Reno last night."

Kay Dunn.

Ted laughed, and put out his hand. "I'd never forget that hair as long as I'd live," he said.

Monte was nonplussed. "Why, have you already met? Gosh, am I dumb! Or have I been taken for a ride by—"

"I once knew Mr. Graham for exactly three hours," Kay said. "He helped me get my job on Overland Airways. He was very kind."

Ted winked at Monte. "I've got a special interest in this girl." He faced her. "And what are you doing here?"

"I've spent one night a week for 10 weeks in Oakland, but you were always in Guam," she said, laughing. "Or Honolulu. Or Manila. I'm stewardess number 10, on the run from Reno to Oakland. I'm very much in the air."

Ted regarded her smilingly. "I told you our paths would cross." Monte had his arm. "Come on, let's go. Paint the town red."

Ted eyed him sternly. "Sorry. Not for me. I've got a lot of detail to attend to here. Report to my office in the morning."

"What—13 days in foreign waters and no whoopee!" Monte exclaimed.

"Not for me," Ted replied. "I'll be up half the night—checking the results of the last trip. Conditions were excellent for a re-check of the radio navigation devices, particularly the new direction finder. See you tomorrow. Good night."

He took Kay's hand, tipped his fingers to his cap, and was gone. Kay's spirits suddenly went low. This was the dramatic meeting she had awaited so long—the past two months!

NEW BALTIMORE, Mich.—A bit unusual is the hobby of Frederick C. Schlosser, New Baltimore hardware dealer, who for 30 years has been collecting handbills. Schlosser, unlike most people, welcomes handbills on his porch, lawn or in his mail box, says collecting handbills is a fascinating hobby.

COMPLAINING WITNESS JAILED WITH OTHERS
TOLEDO—Arthur Pantazopolis, of Cambridge, Mass., told police he lost $112 in a dice game. Police arrested the three men he named as winners of his money, then released them on bond. Pantazopolis, however, couldn't provide a bond, so he was jailed to assure his presence as a complaining witness.

In this column, answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

A. Newspapers report 5,000 acres in cultivation this year, producing a $100,000 crop, with the corn bringing two to three cents a pound.

Q. Why wasn't the city of Mexia's name changed? As I remember Gen. Mexia was a member of Santa Anna's army and an enemy of Texas. J. H. Q., Jewett.

A. Mexia was not named for Gen. Jose Antonio Mexia, but for Gen. Enrique Mexia, who owned a large body of land upon which the city was built.

Q. For what is tung oil used, where and from what is it produced? G. F., Longview.

A. Most of it is used in the paint and varnish industry and in the manufacture of printing inks. The supply coming largely from China. There is now an experimental tung tree orchard in Angelina county.

Q. Who is now the Chief of the Indian tribes in Livingston county? R. W., Guyon.

A. Bronson Cooper Sylvestine, whose Indian name is Ti-ca-che, a nephew of former Chief Sunsee, who died in October, 1935, and a grandson of Chief Co-la-he, the Alabama chieftain in 1836. He was installed as chief January 1, 1936, in a formal and impressive ceremony in which many Texans participated.

Q. When will the big telescope of McDonald Observatory on Mount Locks near Fort Davis, be in operation? K. K., Stephenville.

A. Dr. Otto Struve, director, recently stated it would be installed "in less than a year." The building is almost completed and telescope machinery has been installed and is awaiting completion of polishing the huge mirror.

Centennial Song Book

In the homes, in the schools, in public gatherings of all kinds, Texans are singing the best known typical songs of Texas—songs of the range, songs of the Texas home, patriotic songs—songs every Texan should know and delight in singing.

Twenty-eight of the best songs sung in Texas have been carefully selected by competent musicians, set to music, and published in a 36 page, 6 by 9 booklet on heavy coated paper with covers in colors. The booklet will be mailed postpaid for 25 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Prominent Club Woman of Ranger Commissioned Ambassador of Good Will by President of Texas Centennial

Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers Day at the Texas Centennial, Dallas, proved a red letter occasion for Mrs. J. S. Reynolds, of Ranger, who has long been a valued member and leader in Parent-Teacher association branches, having served as president of the Ranger City Council last year, and now is president of the first district of Parent-Teacher association.

Tuesday, Sept. 8, was designated to the organization with the Foods building serving as headquarters. Program theme was "Pioneer Texas Women," and Mrs. M. C. Taylor, president, presided with her co-leader, first vice president, Mrs. Fred Porter.

Greetings were extended from the home service department by Mrs. J. H. Emmert, director, sixth vice president, of Wichita Falls. Other prominent speakers were Mrs. A. T. Troutman, and Mrs. E. H. Marek. First, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth districts were featured and named the following as presidents: First district, Mrs. J. S. Reynolds; second, Mrs. Jack Little; third, Mrs. Henry Lineberger; fourth, Mrs. A. L. Morgan; fifth, Mrs. Edgar D. Johnson, and sixth, Mrs. W. P. Riley.

What the schools are doing in safety education, was the title of a splendid talk made by Mrs. E. B. Cauthorn, assistant superintendent of public schools of Dallas. "Paternal education and its relation to character," was given by Mrs. Noysie Darling Smith.

The honor was conferred upon Ranger's president when a colorful diploma was given, inscribed: "Texas Centennial Exposition," Mrs. J. S. Reynolds of Ranger, Texas, is hereby commissioned an ambassador of goodwill in recognition of eminence in the field of civic service and friendship for Texas. A. M. Florence, president, Texas Centennial Exposition.

An informal luncheon was served at the Century Cafe on the Centennial grounds, at 1 o'clock. It was extremely unfortunate Mrs. Reynolds was unable to attend this meeting. She remains confined due to an injured leg, but was under observation at a Dallas hospital during the session. Co-workers of Mrs. Reynolds, together with her host of friends, are offering hearty congratulations.

Author of Interesting New Game Brother of Ranger Woman

We claim to know our Texas, especially we West Texans, but when we play "The Centennial Traveler," we find we're just babes in the woods.

Interesting to old and young alike, because it teaches us our Texas history in a colorful and fascinating manner, we are not likely to forget, that's the new game, "The Centennial Traveler," Mr. Walton O. Anderson, of Denton, author of the new game, is a brother of Mrs. Weldon C. Alexander, of this city. Mary Sears, society editor of the morning Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and who chats so interestingly on "Texas History," will give a brief introduction of the game over WBAP, Thursday afternoon at 2:50 o'clock.

Young School P.-T. A. Officers Announced

Young School Parent-Teacher Association held their first meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium. The following program was enjoyed by a large group of members:

Song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; violin solo, Jack Pearson; reading, Polly Seymour; piano solo, Jane Matthews. Interesting talks were given by Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, founder of the organization, and T. C. Hill, principal of the school.

Officers who will serve this year are: Mrs. H. D. Bishop, president; Mrs. McGahaney, first vice president; Mrs. Roy Moore, second vice president; Mrs. Howard Elwood, third vice president; Miss Izetta Woods, secretary, and Mrs. T. J. Anderson, treasurer.

At noon a bountiful dinner was spread, furnished by members of the family. The gathering proved to be one of the happiest the family has spent in several years. Those sharing the hospitality of the Calverts, one of the pioneer families in this community, were: Mrs. Mabel Shelton and son, Jack, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Reese, and Truman Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Patterson, and Helen and Ben Earl Patterson, of Ranger; Mrs. Stella Biedleman and daughter, Mildred, of Stephenville; Mrs. Ruby Moseley, Mairine, Dorothy and Don Moseley of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Calvert and children, Gerald, W. E. Jimmie, and Margie Fay, Cheaney; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dean, Miss Bertha Yardley and A. G. Smith.

Motor Police Check Up On Accidents In A Thorough Way

AUSTIN, Tex.—Motor police cannot always be at the scene of a traffic accident, even if they were equipped with movie cameras to film the occurrence. As the next best means of picturing accidents, the State Safety Department has worked out an accident report chart that does all but show the actual photograph.

In one corner is a pictured roadway with cross road intersections on which the motor policeman must draw an illustration. Report blanks provide for information of the type of vehicles; age, sex and driving experience of drivers involved; names of the killed, injured and witnesses; property damage; approximate temperature and type of roadway where the accident occurred.

Road conditions are reported by checking 32 possible conditions. What the driver was doing is checked against 30 queries. The department must be informed if the driver was: Turning right, turning left, going straight through, slowing down, stopping, backing, skidding, parked, on wrong side of road, having right of way, cutting in, passing on a curve of hill, passing on wrong side, failing to signal, disregarding signal, turning improperly, failing to give right-of-way, driving off roadway or double parking, intoxication, defective brakes, improper lights, speeding, view obstructed, physical defects, hit and run, defective steering, other mechanical defects, tire blow-out and driver asleep as revealed if other blanks are checked.

Road conditions are checked under the following chart: Defect in roadway, road under construction, detour, open for traffic, curved road, straight road, level road, hill, concrete, earth, gravel, asphalt, brick, closed and barricaded, warnings posted, intersection, railroad crossing, dry, wet, muddy, raining, snowy, icy, daylight, dusk, darkness, artificial light—poor or good, foggy, clear, cloudy, obstruction lighted.

Local Methodist church, September 23, according to an announcement made this week. Representatives from this district are expected to attend.

Comings and Goings

G. Hinman, Ranger student, left the first of the week for Monroe, Texas, where he entered school. Young Hinman had the Times follow him to his new address.

Sport Glances. . . . .By Grayson

Half of the Polo Grounders hope they'll live long enough to win the National League pennant, the other half hope they hold together long enough.

When Bill Terry gave the St. Louis Cardinals Tarzan Parmelee, Phil Weintraub, and cash for Burgess Whitehead last winter, practically everybody told him that the North Carolina Phi Beta Kappa was too frail to play through a 154-game schedule. It was feared that Whitehead would collapse in August.

Whitehead hasn't, which is about the only thing that hasn't happened to the Giants.

The 41-year-old Terry's bad left knee won't permit him to play more than two games in succession. Sambo Leslie, filling in for his boss, has a torn muscle in his abdomen, which in running makes him look like a ship stuck on a sandbar.

The 33-year-old Stoney Jackson, who once owned the finest throwing arm in baseball, has water on the elbow and a pair of trick knees that are likely to pop out on him at any moment.

Joe Moore appears to be held together by strings and safety pins. The Texas outfielder is a mass of knots and bruises, the result of being hit by pitched balls more often than any other athlete in the league. He actually is held together by adhesive tape.

Dick Bartell has played through the Giants' remarkable drive with a jammed thumb on his throwing hand, which he keeps wrapped in adhesive.

Frank Gabler was treated for trench mouth until about the time the Giants launched their streak. The right-handed pitching star, scales 200 pounds now; last year he subsisted largely on liquids and his weight dropped to 170.

Until five weeks ago, Fred Fitzsimmons, who is 35, couldn't raise his good right arm above his head. Fat Freddie held the Pittsburgh Pirates to one run in 14 innings the other afternoon.

HAL SCHUMACHER's arm has bothered him until recently, and the St. Lawrence slinger still is something of an unknown quantity.

Arkansas May Throw Surprise In 1936 Grid Contests

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—Southwest Conference football fortunes of the University of Arkansas for 1936 will depend on a "lanky and rugged" squad—practically every member of which has worked on state highways or in oil fields the past summer, preparing themselves for a grueling season.

Many observers have expressed the belief that Coach Fred Thomsen's team will be the "surprise package" of the conference. Last year, Arkansas finished fifth.

Thomsen said a squad of powerful veteran promising sophomores will be in excellent condition and ready to go on the field. Fourteen lettermen will attempt to win additional laurels this year.

The brilliant aerial attack that proved to be one of Arkansas' most effective gridiron weapons last season probably will be used again this year. The Razorbacks also should have a fast running attack. The backfield averages only 166 pounds.

Coach Thomsen will depend on four juniors—a quarterback and three ends—to carry on his aerial bombardment. Jack Robbins, of Stephens, Ark., a 170-pound back, will do the passing, with James Bente, Ray Hamilton and Bill Hunter on the receiving end.

Of the 14 returning lettermen, nine are on the "forward wall." Despite this, however, Coach Thomsen faces a weakness in the line. He has only two lettermen for the tackles, Captain Cliff Van Sickle and Raymond Spillers, 193-pound senior. Other men being trained for tackle are Bob Stout, 200-pound sophomore, Lunday Corbett, 225-pound sophomore, and Fred McKnight, 212-pound sophomore.

For the center position, Thomsen is grooming two lettermen, John Donaldson and Kenneth Lunday, and two sophomores, Henry Jaquay and Lloyd Woodell. All four are in the 180 to 185 pound class.

Nine fighting youngsters are putting up a stiff battle for the guard posts, with the three lettermen, George Gilmore, Percy Sanders and Savoy Seamster, holding a slight edge.

The Razorbacks face a "tough" season this year, according to Coach Thomsen. From the opening game through the long season which closes Dec. 5, Arkansas will play some of the strongest teams in the nation.

On Oct. 16, the squad will journey to Washington, D. C., to play George Washington University in one of Arkansas' two inter-sectional games. It will be the first time in the school's history that a Razorback team has gone further east than Memphis, Tenn., according to Boyd Cybert, business manager of athletics.

Arkansas' other inter-sectional encounter will be with Louisiana State University at Shreveport, on October 24.

To celebrate the Texas and Arkansas Centennials, the University of Texas will play the Arkansas state school Dec. 5 in Little Rock's new stadium. The stadium, now under construction, will be the largest in the state.

Car Registrations Above August '35

AUSTIN—New passenger car registrations in Texas during August were moderately below those of the preceding month but were still well above sales during the like month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has pointed out.

Reports from fourteen representative Texas counties show total sales of 5,329 cars, a decline of 16 per cent from July, but an increase of 11 per cent over August last year.

Sales in the fourteen counties during the first eight months totaled 49,627, an increase of 20.6 per cent over those of the corresponding period last year.

Texas Girls Declared Naturally Beautiful

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—Southwestern girls naturally have the complexion that New York girls have to get out of powder boxes, in the opinion of John Murray Anderson, noted dance director.

"Southwestern girls have what our 42nd Street hofers get out of powder boxes," he said. "The healthy sun tan with just a few freckles—ah, Texas girls are really beautiful."

Sale Scheduled of King's Own Cattle

CALGARY, Alta.—Canadian and American cattlemen will have an opportunity to improve their herds this fall with pedigreed shorthorn cattle from King Edward VIII's "E. P." ranch a Pekisko, Alta.

Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the royal ranch, has announced that because of a comparative shortage of feed, 40 head of the 160 registered Scottish shorthorns, raised on the ranch, would be disposed of at public auction at Downsview, Ont., on Oct. 26.

Included in the offerings will be several head of pure bred yearling heifers and bulls, a number of imported cows with calf at foot, and the show herd of 14 head which captured many prizes this summer at fairs in Western Canada.

Wives Are Cheaper Among the Arabs

Prices once ranged from $45 to $250, according to the age, size and other attractions of the woman. Now they have dropped to a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $150.

The reason is simple. The strike has interrupted the normal work of the village women, such as working in the fields and bringing eggs and vegetables to the town for sale, and marriages, therefore, are being postponed. Another reason is that the strike has caused a lack of purchasing power among the Arabs.

Sport Glances. . . . .By Grayson

Half of the Polo Grounders hope they'll live long enough to win the National League pennant, the other half hope they hold together long enough.

When Bill Terry gave the St. Louis Cardinals Tarzan Parmelee, Phil Weintraub, and cash for Burgess Whitehead last winter, practically everybody told him that the North Carolina Phi Beta Kappa was too frail to play through a 154-game schedule. It was feared that Whitehead would collapse in August.

Whitehead hasn't, which is about the only thing that hasn't happened to the Giants.

The 41-year-old Terry's bad left knee won't permit him to play more than two games in succession. Sambo Leslie, filling in for his boss, has a torn muscle in his abdomen, which in running makes him look like a ship stuck on a sandbar.

The 33-year-old Stoney Jackson, who once owned the finest throwing arm in baseball, has water on the elbow and a pair of trick knees that are likely to pop out on him at any moment.

Joe Moore appears to be held together by strings and safety pins. The Texas outfielder is a mass of knots and bruises, the result of being hit by pitched balls more often than any other athlete in the league. He actually is held together by adhesive tape.
