

THE WEATHER
West Texas—Fair tonight and Friday. Slightly warmer in Rio Grande Valley tonight and South portion Friday.

Ranger Times

UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

New York optometrists devise spectacles that cool the eye. These should come in handy at Christmas time, in gazing at those gift ties.

VOLUME XVIII

RANGER, TEXAS, THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 8, 1936

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NO. 111

BULLDOGS ARE WORKING HARD FOR CONTEST

Not discouraged over their first two defeats, and with hopes of winning over the week-end, the Bulldogs settled down to practice in earnest this week, with Coach Baker Wright putting them through stiff workouts in preparation for the Weatherford game to be played in Weatherford Friday evening at 7.30. The game was scheduled to be played in Ranger, but was transferred because the local stadium was not completed.

Hopes that the Eastland game could be played in Ranger were completely dashed this week when orders were received to shut down work on the stands while the work orders, or something, were revamped and a new setup worked out by those in charge of the government's part in the work. It was stated, however, that the wedding would be continued, as it is not part of the work coming under the shutdown order.

As is usual the day before a game, Wright is expecting to have only a light workout this afternoon in order to keep the squad in good condition, and no heavy drills will be attempted until next Monday, when the team begins its final week of drills before taking on the Eastland Mavericks at Eastland on Friday, October 16.

The squad is in good condition, and came out of the Abilene game with minor injuries, most of the injuries consisting of bruises caused by slugging on the part of the Eagles, and scratches, which have been healing rapidly.

"I don't believe there was any biting in the Abilene game," Coach Wright stated Monday afternoon as he put his squad through practice, "because so far I haven't found any teeth marks on any of the players, but biting is about the only thing that wasn't resorted to. I notices several instances of slugging, and called the officials' attention to it, but apparently they didn't see it until I asked about it. Then they did a few blows and inflicted a penalty or two."

But the determined crew of Bulldogs, usually called the Puppies locally because they are so small and so young, are trying hard to better the record of a much heavier and more experienced team of last year and hope to win at least one victory before the year is out.

Monday Last Day to Enroll In the CCC

Announcement was made here today that Monday would be the last day on which boys could enroll in the CCC for the coming enrollment.

Those who have planned on enrolling have been urged to be at the Ranger relief office Monday, as the office will be closed the remainder of the week, the announcement stated.

Dr. and Mrs. Logsdon Present at Clinic

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Logsdon spent Tuesday in Fort Worth, where Dr. Logsdon attended the surgical and medical clinic of the Tarrant County Medical Society. Dr. Logsdon stated that the lectures and demonstrations given at the all-day session were very interesting and instructive.

TAKES BIG LEAD

SINGAPORE, Oct. 8.—Taking a 4,000 mile lead over two rivals in a race around the world, H. R. Ekins landed here today.

Ranger Times has Guest Tickets Friday for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jackson R. F. D. No. 3 to see WALTER ABEL in "WE WENT TO COLLEGE" At the ARCADIA Call at Times Office

Doorkey Sought in Bride Slaying

At first called the crime of a burglar, more sinister motives are now read into the murder of Frances Brady (top) as she opened the front door (below) of her home at Covington, Ky. Miss Brady had just returned from a bridal shower given in her honor, a week before her scheduled wedding. A missing key to the Brady home is linked to the crime.

Walton Is Lions Club Speaker at Meeting Today

The Ranger Lions Club members will meet with the Eastland Lions Club next Tuesday at Eastland. This will be the first meeting of a five-weeks' attendance contest between the two clubs and the losing club will feed the winners and their ladies. The meeting in Eastland next Tuesday will take the place of the Lions regular Thursday meeting next week.

Lion Ross Hodges was program chairman for today and introduced Superintendent W. T. Walton of the city schools, who made a wonderful address on "Character Education." The address was very much appreciated by members of the club who were shown by Mr. Walton a very important part that each individual could take in forming character among the youth of the city.

Mr. Hargraves of California was the guest of E. A. Ringold at the luncheon. President Kelly called attention to the fact that Saturday was Lions day at the Dallas Centennial and announced that a luncheon would be held at the Dallas Country Club Friday night honoring the International president and International directors.

Bjorkvall's Plane Abandoned at Sea

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Swedish flier, Kurt Bjorkvall, was safe aboard the French trawler Imbrin today, but his plane had to be abandoned because of rising seas. Bjorkvall, after flying the Atlantic from New York on an attempted flight to Sweden, ran out of gas and was forced down 80 miles off the Irish coast. He was uninjured.

Black Legionnaire Sentenced to Life

DETROIT, Oct. 8.—Dayton Dean, who confessed the Black Legion murder of Charles Poole, WPA worker, and whose testimony involved nearly 40 others, was sentenced to life imprisonment in solitary confinement today.

COTTON CROP ESTIMATE IS ABOVE 1936

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The federal crop reporting board today estimated the 1936 United States cotton crop at 11,609,000 bales, compared with a yield of 10,638,000 bales last year.

The board reported that on Oct. 1, average condition of cotton was 51.8 per cent normal and that reports indicated 28,720,000 acres would yield 186.9 pounds of lint per acre. The board reported that 6,620,940 running bales of 1936 cotton had been ginned up to Oct. 1st.

During the month of September prospects declined in Texas but this loss was more than offset by improvement elsewhere.

The drought which affected the crop in all states from the Mississippi west was broken in September.

The report on indications on Oct. 1 showed Texas had 11,838,000 acres with 52 per cent normal condition.

Meeting Place Is Sought by HDC At Morton Valley

The Morton Valley Home Demonstration club met Tuesday, Oct. 6 at the gymnasium.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Josie K. Nix. The club prayer was led by Mrs. Bernice Tankersley. Mrs. Guy Stoker gave the treasurer's report.

During the business session a committee was appointed to look for a house to be used as the Morton Valley clubhouse.

Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, gave a talk on refinishing furniture. Several samples of wood were shown. The club adjourned to meet Oct. 6 at Mrs. Cecile Eubanks. Present at this meeting: Misses Ruth Ramey and Ruth Carter; Mrs. T. L. Wheat, Bernice Tankersley, T. C. Harbin, Bertie Matheny, J. B. Cowan, Cecile Eubanks, J. B. Rayfield, W. C. Wheat, Ted May, O. J. Tarver, P. J. Carter, Elmos Hensley, W. F. Crouch, Josie K. Nix, W. B. Peebles, Tobe Hamilton, Guy Stoker and Thad Henderson.

Father of Ranger Woman Is Dead

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ratliff and son, James, of Ranger, left this morning for San Angelo where they were summoned on account of the death of Mr. Wilson, father of Mrs. Ratliff, who died Wednesday night.

The deceased was a long time resident of San Angelo and had been in ill health for sometime.

Weapons Seized In French Fascist Raid

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Weapons and a dagger made in Germany were seized by police today in a raid on the home of Col. Francois de la Roque, head of the French Fascist party. The raid was part of a sudden descent on Paris headquarters throughout Paris by police acting on government orders.

Allred to Speak For Administration

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—Gov. Allred announced today he will take part in the national campaign, speaking in New Mexico and possibly Colorado.

He has accepted an invitation to speak in New Mexico at the close of the present term of the legislature, Oct. 28.

Man Charged With Theft by Bailee Executes His Bond

C. G. Green, indicted June 7, 1935, on a charge of theft by bailee, made bond of $1,000 to officials this week, district clerk's records showed Thursday.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Divorces granted this week by 88th and 91st district courts include the following: Belle Smith and Roy Smith. Dall Hallmark and Juanita Hallmark.

'Undercover Men' in Reich Army

A masterpiece in camouflage is this hiding place of an infantry outpost, on the "front" in the recent gigantic maneuvers of the German army, greatest held since the World War, in the province of Hesse. The steel-helmeted and gas-masked foot soldiers are entirely concealed from a foe in the air and only sharp-eyed advancing infantrymen would discern them before it was too late to escape death from their rifles.

Mavericks Will Play Strong Eagle Team at Abilene Friday Afternoon

Eastland Mavericks will meet their toughest opposition to date in the game against Abilene Eagles at Abilene Friday afternoon at 3:30.

The three-time state champions have what may be the district winner this year, according to many who have seen the Eagles in action.

Whether Eastland receives the same treatment given Ranger in a crushing 59 to 0 defeat last week depends altogether on a vast improvement in Coach Kitchen's charges.

The Mavericks, according to reports from Welch field where training has been held this week, promise to get their passing attack moving in the Abilene game and improve their defense. At San Angelo last week the Mavericks were helpless against the Bobcats.

Eight of reported 17 passes were intercepted by the Bobcats. Minor injuries are the only report from the Eagle nest. James Bean, who played quarterback against Lubbock, is reported still nursing a knee injury. The reports stated he will be the only regular to warm the bench during the Friday game.

Closest the Mavericks have gotten to a win over the Eagles was a tie (6-6) in 1930.

The score by years: 1926—Abilene 17; Eastland 0. 1927—Abilene 36; Eastland 0. 1928—Abilene 19; Eastland 0. 1929—Abilene 19; Eastland 13. 1930—Abilene 6; Eastland 6. 1931—Abilene 21; Eastland 0. 1932—Abilene 21; Eastland 7. 1933—Abilene 31; Eastland 7. 1934—Abilene 20; Eastland 0. 1935—Abilene 32; Eastland 7.

JAPS LAND MARINES

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8.—Emergency orders were issued to the Japanese naval landing party at Hankow today after an attempt of a terrorist to bomb a Japanese store there.

BOTH SIDES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Official views of the Republican and Democratic Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of twelve articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. The Republican and Democratic arguments are presented on alternate days.

By Lester J. Dickinson

WHEN a man makes a promise and breaks it, then makes another and breaks that, and continues to do this time and again, can he ever be trusted to fulfill any future pledge that he makes?

This is the situation that confronts President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal party as they stand today at the crossroads of American political opinion.

The facts are, and the record supports it, that President Roosevelt is the greatest promise-breaking chief executive in the history of the nation, and that he has never hesitated to turn from a pledge when political expediency demanded that action.

A glance at the Roosevelt record tells the whole tale. On March 4, 1933, Mr. Roosevelt swore to uphold and preserve the Constitution. During his administration he has fathered nine pieces of legislation declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT promised "a sound currency, to be preserved at all hazards." On April 30, 1933, he abandoned the gold standard in the United States by executive order; on May 12 of the same year he signed a bill giving him power to issue $3,000,000,000 in fiat money, and on Jan. 31, 1934, he fixed the gold content of the dollar at 59.06 per cent of what it had formerly been.

President Roosevelt called the spending of the Hoover administration "the most reckless and extravagant pace" discoverable in any peacetime government. He promised a saving of 25 per cent in the cost of federal government.

NEXT: J. F. T. O'Connor, controller of the currency, reviews the 1933 banking crisis and discusses soundness of New Deal banking reorganization measures.

CIGARET TAX DIVERSION MAY PAY PENSIONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—One third of cigaret tax collections will be transferred from schools to the old age assistance funds if the Texas senate follows the action today of the house of representatives.

At present two thirds of the $6,000,000 annual tax goes to schools and one-third to general revenue. As voted today $2,000,000 would go to schools, general revenue and old age assistance.

The senate took up employment insurance. A house attempt by Rep. Jasper Reed of Texarkana to postpone discussion of the James-Frazier omnibus tax bill until tomorrow was defeated.

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains presented a one cent per gallon tax on mineral water and a five cent a pound tax on crystals from being included in the omnibus bill.

Legislators were started on a new plan to finance old age assistance. Gov. Allred proposed yesterday an act to let pension warrants bear interest, if such warrants are issued. Allred said bankers would recommend their purchase, provided taxes are levied to assure redemption of the warrants.

Bus Drivers Told Carrying Students Their First Duty

Use of school buses for transportation of players to football games or for any other event must not interfere with the regular transportation of students to and from schools the county board of school trustees ordered this week in a resolution passed at a meeting in Eastland.

The board took the action since operation of school buses in the county is under their supervision.

Sticklers advising the drivers of the resolution will be placed in all buses. The drivers of the buses will be held responsible for adherence to the rule.

Use of school buses for purposes other than the regular transportation of students will be allowed only by special permission of the board.

China Clipper Is Safe Despite Fog

HONOLULU, Oct. 8.—The China Clipper arrived here at 11.22 a. m. today on the first leg of the first trans-Pacific passenger flight in history.

Converting the ship's lounge into a press room, six newspapermen guests conversed with ease as the plane sped on its way. The crew performed without a hitch. No concern was felt when a dense fog enveloped the plane.

36,652 Employed In WPA Offices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The WPA, chief target for Governor Landon's campaign attack on federal work relief policies, had 36,652 employees on its administrative payrolls, official figures showed today.

Their annual salaries accounted for a major part of the $63,596,535 WPA spent in the last fiscal year directing its $1,305,802,580 program.

Presidential Train Leaves For West

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The presidential special pulled out for the middle west today carrying President Roosevelt and his political aides, on an invasion of agricultural states.

The tour will take the president through 11 states in 10 days and will include an invasion of Gov. Landon's home state, Kansas.

ICE CREAM PAYS THRESHERS

FINDLAY, Ohio — While two rival threshing rings argued over which would thresh Clem Helfer's oats, a third ring slipped in and threshed the crop in return for Helfer's promise to provide ice cream at the group's annual picnic.

Eyes Turn Boy's World Backwards

Investigation by Eleanor Mengers, Moundsville, W. Va., teacher, of the reason 11-year-old Harold Elliott still was in the second grade led to the discovery that the boy suffered an unusual eye affliction that apparently makes him see everything backwards. When he writes, figures and letters are reversed. Miss Mengers is shown working with Harold.

E. ROOSEVELT THREATENS A LEGAL ACTION

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—A threat of legal action against his accusers was Elliott Roosevelt's answer today to charges linking him with contemplated deals in war planes involving foreign governments.

The 25-year-old son of the President, lashing bitterly at the two men in the aviation industry who accused him, came here today to confer with attorneys.

He denied the accusation by Frank Tichenor, editor of Aero Digest, and in testimony of Anthony Fokker, Dutch airplane manufacturer, released by the Senate munitions committee.

Former Mayor of Olney Sentenced to Serve 25 Years

ABILENE, Oct. 8.—Charles Richardson, former mayor of Olney, was found guilty today of murder with malice in connection with the death of his son, Elga Richardson, Jan. 1, 1934.

The former mayor was sentenced to serve 25 years in the penitentiary. It was his fourth trial. The son was shot to death on New Year's Day as an aftermath of a family quarrel said to have involved financial matters.

Lay Leader to Be Speaker at Annual Methodist Banquet

J. R. Edwards, Fort Worth, lay leader of the Central Texas Methodist conference, will be the principal speaker at the annual Cisco district banquet to be held Friday night at 7.15 in the Methodist church at Eastland.

Rev. E. R. Stanford, pastor of the host church, will be in charge of entertainment features which will include numbers by the 9:49 Bible class quartet of Eastland.

An attendance of over 200 is expected from the 21 churches of the Cisco district. Those who will attend include pastors, church officials and church members.

Annual reports will be heard from each church. A charge of 35 cents will be made for the meal.

Automobile Thief Is Not Identified

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—Witnesses failed, today, to identify Ernest Cumby, 29-year-old automobile thief, as the man who cashed travelers checks issued to two East St. Louis, Ill., couples missing since May 21, 1935.

CRISIS CAUSED BY FASCISTS' AID TO REBELS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Soviet Russia, angered at alleged fascist aid to the Spanish insurgents, plunged Europe into a grave crisis today.

Diplomatic sources at Geneva reported that unless the alleged fascist aid stopped at once, Russia was ready to speed airplanes and other war materials to the leftist Spanish government.

Such action would be a direct challenge to Germany and Italy.

Spanish insurgents completing preparations for the final phase of the civil war, launched their drive for Madrid today.

Airplanes bombed the Aranjuez railroad station and damaged it and the tracks, but the Madrid government's only rail outlet to the outside world, Red 1 planes and artillery launched lines on the Toledo front with damaging effects.

Rebel columns beat their way toward Madrid on highways from the west and southwest.

Reports to Hendays said the loyalists' Asturian miners with their home-made dynamite bombs, fought their way into Oviedo and killed 200 rebels.

Masons Will Meet At Brownwood

Indications today are that one of the largest groups of Masons ever to attend an event in this section of Texas will gather October 15 at Brownwood for a zone parley.

At that parley Judge W. Marcus Weathered, Coleman, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, will be the speaker and his subject will be "Rededication to Masonic Principles."

The program is being sponsored by the committee on education and service of the Grand Lodge of Texas and has the approval of the grand master. Similar programs will be held in all sections of the state during October and November.

"Masons everywhere are greatly interested in the zone meetings and the officers and members of the various lodges of the state are anticipating with much pleasure the opportunity of hearing addresses by outstanding Masonic leaders as well as the great fellowship that will be enjoyed," stated Goodner Bedford, secretary to Grand Master Weathered.

A large number of Masons in the 73rd district is expected to attend.

Drive For Demo Funds Launched at County Meet

The Eastland county drive for contributions to the national Democratic election campaign fund was launched Wednesday afternoon in the county courtroom at Eastland by appointment of the chairman for Eastland and Ranger.

Oscar Lyerla, county executive committee chairman, will be chairman of the fund drive. L. H. Flewellen was named chairman of solicitation in Ranger and Oscar Wilson for Eastland. Lyerla made the appointments.

Flewellen appointed the following as members of his committee: Hall Walker, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, R. V. Galloway, W. S. Adamson, L. R. Pearson, C. E. May, F. D. Hicks, L. E. Gray, Dr. P. W. Kuykendall, Dr. H. A. Logsdon, D. Joseph and Floyd Killingsworth.

The Eastland committee was named by Wilson as follows: Earl Conner, Sr., Albert Taylor, Earl Conner, Jr., P. L. Crossley, John White, Milburn McCarty, John Turner, Grady Pipkin, J. B. Johnson, Julius Krause, C. W. Hoffmann and Frank Sparks.

Lyerla will be in charge of contributions at Gorman, Rising Star and Carbon. The Cisco chairman has not been named.

The county quota is $1,442.

Charge Prepared In "Honor" Killing Case

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—District Judge Grover Adams prepared his charge to the jury today in the trial of Mrs. Bertha Estes, Houston grandmother, charged with the "honor" slaying of her son-in-law, J. D. Lamar, 23. Jurors were expected to receive the case late today.

RANGER TIMES

TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY, Publishers
211-213 Elm Street, Ranger, Texas Telephone 224

Published every afternoon (except Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person...

Obituaries, cards of thanks, notices of lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates...

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Ranger, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

Member Advertising Bureau—Texas Daily Press League

F. D. HICKS, Business Manager—W. H. MAYES, Jr., Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATE

ONE YEAR BY MAIL (In Texas) $3.00

Jingo In Each Of Us Put U. S. Into War

Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker spoke straight from the shoulder in urging his fellow countrymen to set themselves straight on the reasons why the United States got into the war in 1917.

There was just one real reason, says Mr. Baker, and it was the sinking of American ships by German submarines.

If bankers, munitions makers, and other wealthy gentlemen with axes to grind had anything to do with it, Mr. Baker never heard about it—and he was in a spot to hear, if anyone was.

That the former secretary of war should even find it necessary to issue such a pronouncement is a significant indication of the change that has come over American thinking in regard to the war.

For some years after 1917 we never questioned the thesis that we fought solely because of the submarine issue. Then, as we began to learn some of the inside history, we began to wonder.

Now Mr. Baker feels that we have gone altogether too far in that belief. A high cabinet officer, he was in the confidence of President Wilson from first to last; what he says is entitled to the most careful consideration.

And his statement is a useful reminder that we can go pretty badly astray by trying too hard to find a personal villain to blame for the tragedy of 1917.

As individuals, most of us gave up our neutrality some time before our government did. We started by feeling a mild, involuntary sympathy for one side or the other.

From that, we passed to a more or less intense partisanship. We rejoiced when "our side" won a victory and were depressed when it suffered a loss; we grew bitterly indignant at the atrocities of the other side and explained away those ascribed to "our side."

We got, finally, to the point where we felt that it was somehow weak and shameful for America to stand on the sidelines when the fate of the world was being decided.

Natural enough, all of this, certainly—but it got us ready for the war. It conditioned us, as the psychologists say, so that when the war was actually offered to America we could be sold on it.

The same danger will confront us when the next European war comes—confronts us now, for that matter, in the Spanish revolt. If we let ourselves get emotionally involved, identify ourselves spiritually with an overseas quarrel, we are removing the greatest of all barriers to our own involvement in it.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people.

Q. What was the date of the most disastrous Galveston storm? A. Sept. 8, 1900.

Q. When was the election held to locate the University of Texas? A. On Sept. 6, 1881.

Q. By what name was Goliad first known? A. Presidio la Bahia del Espiritu Santo was the name of the Spanish settlement that is now Goliad.

Q. Please recount the activities of Dr. Stephen F. Everett in Texas. A. He came to Texas from New York, where he was born in 1807; located in Jasper county, where he practiced medicine; represented Jasper in the convention of 1836 and was one of the tellers; served at one time as a Republic Senator; died and was buried in Jasper county in 1849.

Q. What is the size of the two large murals in the Texas State building at the Centennial? A. About 28 by 80 feet each.

Q. When was Fort Griffin, in Shackelford county, established? A. It was a camp as early as 1853 and was established as a permanent post in 1867.

Q. What is the size of the two large murals in the Texas State building at the Centennial? A. About 28 by 80 feet each. They are said to be the largest mural paintings in the world.

Crayon Projects In Texas History

It is easy to teach children history with penciled outline pictures of historical subjects and colored crayons. History taught in this way is never forgotten and a taste is created for more information.

Form for requesting 'Texas Under Six Flags' book, including name and address fields.

MAKKEIS

Table listing various stocks and their closing prices, such as Allied Stores, Am Can, Am P & L, etc.

Advertisement for Vicks VapoRub, stating it is 'Proved best by two generations of mothers.'

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse -- By Thompson and Coll FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS--By Blosser

Comic strip 'MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse' showing Myra North in a meeting with other nurses discussing international crises.

Comic strip 'FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS' showing a woman talking to a child about a man who didn't show up.

Market reports for various commodities including U.S. Steel, Nat Dairy, Ohio Oil, and various stocks.

Comic strip 'FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS' showing a woman talking to a child about a man who looks angry.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

PIKE'S PEAK undoubtedly is Colorado's best known mountain, and Long's Peak runs a close second...

Large advertisement for 'Lucky for You' cigarettes, featuring the slogan 'It's a Light Smoke!' and an illustration of a woman and child.

...for a clear throat—a clear voice! You—just as well as the stars behind the footlights, who must depend upon their voices—will find welcome throat protection in a light smoke—a Lucky Strike!

NEWS FLASH! "Sweepstakes" Clubs Formed

All over the country, groups of enthusiastic fans tell us they are forming clubs to take part in Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes." One group of 43 members in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, poezies as follows:

And if you're not already smoking Luckies, buy a pack today and try them, too. Maybe you've been missing something. You'll appreciate the advantages of Luckies—A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

Fire Fighters Are Warned of Danger Of Using Water

WASHINGTON. — While water is commonly used in fighting fires, strangely enough, it causes indirectly a large share of the farm fires occurring throughout the United States, Dr. David J. Price, fire and explosion specialist of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, told Pennsylvania firemen at their annual meeting at Williamsport today.

chemical action influenced by water is likely to cause the ignition of hay, cattle feeds, fertilizers, and other farm products when stored in barns, farm buildings, or any kind of storage place. The bureau's record of farm fires contains many strange stories. For instance, the average person possibly could not well imagine a fire starting in an ice house. Yet, in the bureau's files is a record of an ice house burning to the ground after the sawdust had become wet from a heavy rain followed by a period of very warm weather. The fire started from spontaneous ignition. The records contain accounts of many other strange happenings, including a fire starting in a carload of mixed feed while in transit. The feed had a high moisture content and again spontaneous ignition started the flames. Similar fires have been reported when fertilizers were in storage or shipment. A check showed that in each instance the fertilizer had a high moisture content. Furthermore, Dr. Price told the firemen, water isn't always a safe thing to use in fighting certain types of fires. It is a possible indirect cause of terrific explosions. This might happen when a full stream of water at high pressure knocks loose accumulations of dust or stirs up piles of finely ground combustible materials, which is likely in fighting fires in industrial plants. The flames ignite the dust cloud. The best procedure in the face of such hazards, Dr. Price said, is to use a vapor spray nozzle instead of the full pressure stream. Too, there is the ever-present danger of water combining with

Growing Up Fast

A poor little rich girl less than two years ago, when she was the center of her mother's battle for her custody, heiress Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt is rapidly becoming a big girl. She's seen here studying the program at a society horse show near New York.

Money Lenders Are Target of Officials

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex. — A city license for all personal loan agencies other than banks was proposed before the Fort Worth municipal council by Asst. City Attorney George C. Kemble as a means of curbing unscrupulous money lenders.

Kemble said he would prepare an ordinance giving the city power to regulate loan agents who are not subject to state laws. The attorney said local money lenders circumvent state usury laws in many instances by "selling" hard-pressed borrowers coupons for groceries or other commodities, charging higher than 10 per cent interest rates. Ten per cent is the legal maximum interest that may be charged on loans.

Boat Seat, Hammer Bring In a Tarpon

By United Press
SABINE, Tex. — Orthodox methods of bringing in tarpon, prize game fish of the Gulf of Mexico, is with stout tackle, a stouter back and a gaff, but Frank and Herbert York turned the trick with a boat seat and a hammer. While being towed out to a fishing reef in Sabine Pass, the brothers saw a huge tarpon leap from the water and crash into a trailing skiff. The fish made another leap and landed in another small boat along, pinning itself under a seat. Herbert made his way to the skiff and killed the tarpon with a mechanics hammer. The prize measured six feet and six inches from tip to tip. The brothers displayed the tarpon's head as evidence.

LEGAL RECORDS

Instruments
War.—A. C. Robert et ux to Thomas L. Browning—SE corner of lot deeded to C. W. McClung by William and Mary J. Brown in the Wm. Funderburg surv., $125. War.—J. T. Brown and wife to Laura Brown—2 3/4 acres, SW 1/4, sec. 54, blk 3, H&TC and SW 1/4 sec. 54, blk 3, H&TC, $350. Apt. of Sub. Trs.—General American Life Ins. Co. to W. N. Tolleson—deed of trust recorded in the Eastland County records, vol. 37, page 385, see inst. 9776. New Cars Registered The Texas Co. 1936 Ford coupe. Guy Patterson Tire Co. Rudco Oil & Gas Co. 1936 International pickup. Desdemona, Texas.

LET'S GET HANES AND STAY HOME THIS WINTER!

DON'T be caught out on a limb when the snow starts to fly! Stock up with HANES Heavyweight Champion today. Think of your comfort and health now... see if you can't duck colds and save money this winter! HANES gives honest, accurate size. You can bend, twist, and reach—it won't pinch or bind. $1 up. See a HANES Dealer today. P. H. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, N.C. The Anti-Freeze Underwear for Men and Boys

BUY YOUR HANES UNDERWEAR NOW! Joseph's Dry Goods Co.

A Call To Feasting

The Hilton Hotels and their famous coffee shops call you with the tocsins of good service and fair costs. For these modern hotels are the present-day gathering places of those who would honor the friendly gods of Comfort and Contentment. You, too, will enjoy the Hilton Hotels.

Every Day in October is a VALUE DAY AT WARDS

You Save Up to $30!
Oversize Ward Washer with Gas Engine
$5 DOWN $74.95
Oversize tub holds 20% more clothes—saves 20% more time! Famous Lovell wringer, our finest mechanism!
With Battery Charger $79.95

Sale
The Finest Rayon Taffeta Wards Ever Offered in 4 GORE SLIPS 64¢
Regularly 69c. Made to fit. Tailored V top with embroidered monogram. Others lace-trimmed. Double stitched seams. Sizes 34-44.

Clearance Sale!
Floor Samples and Discontinued Model ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS drastically reduced!

Big 6 1/2 Cubic Ft. Size Models Now as Low as $104.95
$5 DOWN! CARRYING CHARGE
A real opportunity for sensational savings in brand new famous M-W Electric Refrigerators, fully guaranteed! Some one-of-a-kind, so hurry!
6 1/2 Cu. Ft. Regularly $104.95 $119.95, reduced to only $104.95
6 1/2 Cu. Ft. Regularly $79.95 $139.95, reduced to $79.95
8 1/2 Cu. Ft. Regularly $159.95 $174.95, reduced to $159.95
12 Cu. Ft. Deluxe $259.95 $350.00 value, only $259.95

Made Like MEN'S $1 SUITS 69¢
Quality cotton! Elastic knit comfort! Long Wear! 36-46! Boys' Union Suits. 49c

THIS WEEK ONLY! Red Arrow Specials

- 12-MO. BATTERY $3.45 Exch. 39 full size plates! Meets SAE requirements!
- GAL. BARN PAINT $1.15 Red or maroon. Best seller for over 21 years!
- KITCHEN LIGHTS 95¢ Fixture of porcelain and glass. Save exactly 50c in Sale.
- 35 LB. ROOFING $1.19 Smooth talc surface; roll covers 100 sq. ft.
- 10-QUART PAILS 19¢ Galvanized, leak-proof and rust-resisting. A nickel saved today!

CREPE Chiffons
Selling From $1 to $1.15 the Country Over
AT WARDS 79¢
● Look sheerer... out wear hose of same weight.
● Dull snag-resisting finish that slenderizes.
● First quality and full fashioned.
● Coordinated... each foot size has its own correct leg length!

Cement Production Continues to Grow

AUSTIN—The Texas cement industry during August continued to make highly favorable comparisons with the like month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Reports from the United States Bureau of Mines show production for the state 123 per cent above a year ago and shipments 44 per cent, the University Bureau's statement said. Stocks on hand August 31 were down 8 per cent from the corresponding date last year. United States cement activity also compared favorably with August last year. Production was up 73.3 per cent and shipment up 55 per cent. Stocks on hand at the end of the month were 15.5 per cent under those on August 31 last year. Cement plants in the United States operated at a substantial increase in capacity over last year, but at still only a little over half of the total capacity. For August, activity was at the rate of 56.2 per cent of capacity, against 51.8 per cent in August, 1935, and 51.3 per cent of capacity during July of the current year. Things balance themselves in time; a man named Abel is held for murder in Connecticut.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

PATHFINDERS for the PURSE

There have been many definitions of advertising... some of them simple, some of them profound. There is room for another one. Let us say simply, but truly, that the advertisements in this paper are Pathfinders for the Purse.

Figuratively and literally, that's what they are. Pathfinders. Trail-blazers. Official guides to the best values in merchandise and service. Time-savers. Money-savers. Menu-cards, if you will, for the diet to be found in stores and shops.

The modern mother has many things to do with her time. She simply cannot afford to fritter her time and frazzle her temper by tearing all over town to find the merchandise she wants at the price her purse permits. She therefore reads the advertisements before setting out.

There's a tip here, then, for mothers... mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers. Read the advertisements, as you read a radio or movie guide. Let the newspaper in the home spare you the turmoil of town. Read the advertisements.

MONTGOMERY WARD
407-9 Main St. Telephone 447 Ranger, Texas

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

CHAPTER XXV

The flying Mariner taxied up to the dock, and Kay, standing at Ted's side, saw the white faces of the island colony members awaiting them. Beyond the human fringe she could see the electric lights of the village, built in the jungle.

Ted's joy was mingled with brooding, for he had lost the secret of his gyropilot. But when the Mariner was safely moored Kay turned to Ted and put her arms around him. "Oh, Ted, you felt your way out of that storm!" she said. "Nobody else in the world could have done it!"

He answered gruffly, "Ridiculous! If the radio compass hadn't been out of order, it would have been far more simple than driving an automobile. The human element shouldn't enter at all into flying. It ought to be fool-proof. We can go ahead now, after this experience, and make some scientific adjustments on the direction finder."

Kay stood on tiptoe and kissed him. "Oh, you darling!" she said. "You and your scientific planning! That's all right when you're on the Mariner, but, from now on, it isn't going to be the rule in our private lives. When you're in home port, I'm going to have things my way!" She smiled down at her. "I'm so glad to see you safe that I could turn loose and do handspins. I want to dance a jig and I want to cry."

"Don't you do either!" she warned. "Here comes the naval custodian of the island. Look your dignified best, Mr. Captain."

Ted stood ready to receive the official, but he looked up and saw Illah standing before them in the chart room. Her face was resigned; there was the faint trace of a mystic smile about her lips. Illah had secured the secrets of the gyropilot and she was content.

The radio operator from the land station came on board the Mariner first. His face was beaming.

"Hello, Ted! Say, you had us scared. What happened to your sending set? We knew you were fighting the storm somewhere over the ocean, but, you know—we haven't had a clear signal from you since you were over French Frigate Shoals. No messages at all!"

ILLAH'S face suddenly fell. "What was that? You heard no code messages from the ship? You mean—"

Ted's face was wreathed with smiles. He was beginning to understand. "We sent your message," he said, "but I doubt if it reached your pearly schooner at Wake Island."

The radio operator from the land station scooted. "I have the strongest station this side of Honolulu. If a code message didn't reach me, it certainly couldn't reach any ship on the Pacific Ocean. I guess your sending set went on the blink during the storm. Were you receiving all right?"

Ted chuckled. "Every message you sent. We had your station and the U. S. S. Mississippi, and came in by triangulating to find our position."

Illah's eyes flashed with cold fire. Her message hadn't gone through, and the figures were too complicated for her to remember. Ted had the secrets of his gyropilot safe!

He left her with the naval custodian, under arrest. Illah disembarked and became the island's first jail bird.

Ted devoted his attention to the other passengers then. The naval surgeon had gone ashore with the precious serum, and was already administering to the meningitis victims in the hospital. An epidemic would be forestalled.

Passengers were not allowed to go ashore on the quarantined island, but they were too excited to sleep. It was already 2 o'clock in the morning, and they stayed up to watch the dawn, which would break on Midway with a riot of tropical color. They had missed dinner the evening before in the giant flying boat on account of the storm. Now they dined on the best the steward could find in the ship's rations.

Only the crew members went to sleep, for they had to fly the ship next day. Ted went sound asleep and once or twice Kay went to glance at his sleeping face. How peaceful he looked after the storm! Engineers were making repairs to the radio loop. Tomorrow they would have to fly on to Guam.

KAY stayed on Midway to help care for the sick at the hospital. At first Ted had protested; he wanted to take her on to Manila and he was afraid for her health. But she was eager to prove her loyalty and he was of help to the men who were suffering, and at last he agreed.

Towards noon she stood on the dock and watched the Mariner take off for Guam. Its great silver hull throwing up gray spray again, the Mariner dashed along the surface of the lagoon, and took to air. Kay watched it disappearing over the ocean, her eyes filled with poignant tears.

How proud she was of Ted and how she loved him! She knew now, too, that he adored her. They had come together in the storm and Kay was sure that this new understanding would endure in the calmer life ashore. She had finally made adjustments in her own life, to meet the necessities of his. She had made Ted understand that she was a human being with needs far more complex and interesting than the robots and instruments in his flying Mariners.

As the flying boat passed out of sight, Kay thought of Dickie and how happy she would be to be back in the little house on the beach at Ship Harbor again. The home port. For Kay, it was home. A feeling of content arose within her. She turned and walked back toward the hospital on the lonely island in the middle of the Pacific Ocean.

TED sat in the chart room with the navigation officer, charting the course for the day. They would be in the island of Guam by night and in the Philippines the day after. It was a routine job. Back and forth, back and forth, year in and year out.

He walked back into the compartments to see how the passengers were faring. The army wives were asleep in their chairs. The Chinese merchant fanned himself, smiling back at Ted with the extreme courtesy of his race. The English explorer had the hood from the falcon's eyes, and the tiny black buttons looked out into the light with terror.

The missionary and the American traveling salesman were engaged in an argument over the progress of bathtubs in the progress of civilization. The young polo player walked up and down the aisle, trying his sea legs.

In the middle of his discussion the salesman yawned. It was catching. The missionary yawned, too, and then the English explorer, Ted laughed, and went back to work. On the trip today he would have time to make some corrections in the design of his gyropilot.

The four 800-horsepower engines hummed out a tune of the progress of science, of transportation and civilization. And, as he worked, Ted hummed, thinking about Kay. What pretty hair she had! And those green eyes! He'd be glad when this trip was over and he could take her back to Dickie and the little house on the beach at Ship Harbor.

of the children, it is not used for a toy and is always in place." Mrs. Guinn added.

WEATHERFORD—At a cost of 50 cents for seed and fertilizer, Miss Justine Stagg of the Spring Creek home demonstration club in Parker county produced 50 bushels of tomatoes on a half-acre plot, according to Miss Annie Mae Donaghey, home demonstration agent.

Miss Staggs kept the table supplied with fresh tomatoes and tomato juice, sold 11 bushels of tomatoes, and canned 502 containers of tomato products.

"I think my tomato production was largely due to the thorough preparation of the soil before the plants were set out," she said. "This land was flat broke first, scratched with a Johnson grass harrow, listed, and then scratched several times more," she said.

LIBERTY—Mrs. Arthur Sheppard, rug demonstrator in Liberty county, says that a vacuum cleaner will not clean soiled rugs.

"Take your hooked rugs out on the cement walk, brush them well, using an old broom or brush," Mrs. Sheppard explained.

"Then hang the rugs on the clothes line and rinse well with the hose. Press them before using and your rugs will look like new," she concluded.

LONGVIEW.—From a total expenditure of $67.05, L. P. Guice of Gregg county has had a gross income of $268.75 during the past three years from 65 vines of Concord grapes.

R. F. McSwain, county agricultural agent, reports that in the winter of 1932, Guice planted these 65 three-year-old-grape stocks over the sewage disposal well. In the summer of 1934, he harvested five pounds of grapes per vine. By correct pruning he harvested 20 pounds of grapes per vine in 1935.

In 1936 Guice spent $42.50 to build a trellis of concrete posts and No. 12 wire, using 2x4's as cross arms. This year, he harvested 3,750 pounds of grapes. Guice expects to increase his vineyard to an acre this winter.

EDNA.—A plan whereby he can harvest his own Dallas grass seed to plant additional pastures on the ranch has been devised by D. A. James, foreman of the Bennett Ranch in Jackson county, according to D. I. Dudley, county agricultural agent.

Dallas grass seeds freely in this section, often maturing as many as three crops of seed in a season, Dudley reported. In an effort to save these seeds, James has constructed a canvas basket which he attaches immediately back of the sickle on his tractor mower. The seed head falls into this as they are clipped, and are emptied into other containers as the basket fills.

The sickle is run high so as to clip as little of the plant other than the seed shoot as practical. Tests run on germination of this locally grown seed show that it compares favorably with that of seed obtained from other resources.

James has found that he can practically double the carrying capacity of his native range by the use of Dallas grass. Where the native grass required five to five and one-half acres per cow, the Dallas pastures are carrying a cow to three acres, and apparently in better flesh.

SALUTE TO Love

by Rachel Mack
© 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER I

HE men on the street of the little town of Shelby winked at each other when they saw Major Meed hitching his horse and phaeton in the public square.

"The old man's going to get lit!" one prophesied.

"Yes, the Major's depending on old Dobbin to get him home tonight!" Ordinarily Major Meed drove an ancient coupe, sitting erectly behind the steering wheel, his snow-white mustache and well-combed goatee proclaiming him, with almost bromidic picturesqueness, a gentleman of the old school. His blue eyes would twinkle and his leathery, tanned cheeks would crease in pleasant wrinkles as he called greetings to friends along the street.

"Day, Judge!" he'd quaver in his sweetly husky voice. "Mighty good fishin' weather we're havin'!"

"Howdy there, Jim Scott! How's your sick bird dog?" ... He drove slowly and listened attentively to the answers.

To ladies he was always especially courteous, their ages mattering not at all. Though he appreciated the fresh loveliness of the younger set, he was just as gallant in greeting Miss Cassie Drew, whose beauty had withered 40 years ago in the little notion shop where she spent her days. Every woman, young or old, somehow felt herself to be prettier, more charming and interesting after Major Meed had bowed to her and inquired solicitously about her health.

But when, as today, he drove the five miles to town seated in the old phaeton behind his small bay horse, he greeted no one. He was sad and downcast, thinking of his failures. He was about to get drunk.

Katherine Meed, the Major's 21-year-old granddaughter, was also in town today. Unaware of her grandfather's whereabouts she had driven in the family sedan and had stopped at a grocery store on Center street to do some marketing.

COMING out of the store, Katherine stood on the sidewalk, looking up at the threatening sky, holding out an experimental hand to feel for raindrops. Her brown suit was two years old but she wore it superbly, her lithe, well-built body giving it flair and distinction. A green felt hat, smart in its ageless way, was pulled over her hair. From beneath it her bronze-brown curls escaped, giving an effect of carelessness and childish disorder. Her bronze eyes matched her hair. "Exactly," someone once said, "as if cut from the same piece of silk." The girl's eyebrows were arched but un-plucked. When her wide lips parted in their quick, warm smile you saw that her teeth were brilliantly white, but not entirely even. There was about her something magnetic and natural and boyish. Something eager and intense. People called her Kate.

Kate's gaze, honest and eager and very much in love, rested on him.

"Just a passing shower," she said with a smile to the little grocery clerk who was carrying out her bags to her car. "Did my sister remember to write down cream of tartar, Henry?"

"Yes, Miss Kate," he answered. "But Miss Caroline forgot to say whether she wanted light brown or dark brown sugar, so I put in a pound of each."

"Smart boy," Kate said. "I'm going to the drug store now. Close the car window when you're through, please."

She dashed up the street in the now briskly falling rain, her head ducked to miss the stinging drops. She felt someone seize her arm and shake her sharply. She had run pell-mell into a handsome, black-haired young man of about 25. While he pinned her elbows to her sides he laughed down at her. "In a hurry?" he asked.

"Morgan!" Kate exclaimed, and blushed with excitement and happiness. She had been thinking of him steadily for almost an hour, wondering if she would encounter him somewhere in town. He was, in a way, her fiancé. In the parlance of the small southern town, he had "rushed" her for several years, and one night at a dance last June he had proposed to her and she had accepted.

"Why, no, I'm not exactly in a hurry," she told him. "I could be persuaded to waste a little time, if that's what you mean."

"Then come on in here," he urged.

They were standing before a drug store. Retaining one of her elbows, she piloted her through the door, past the marble counter with its clustered imbibers and led her to the farthest table in the rear. Kate said, a little breathless, "You act as if I might bolt and run. That's part of your fatal charm, Morgan—treating women like captured trophies." She thought, "I banter him as if I had to. Why can't I just remember we're engaged and relax?"

MORGAN PRENTISS smiled. "What do you want to drink, honey?"

She told him a limeade, and he instructed the waiter to "make it two." She thought, "He's going to ask to come out tonight. I'll ask him for dinner. I'll hurry home and make a cake." It was Friday, and they almost always dated Friday night. It was an old custom, begun when she was a day pupil at the boarding school in town.

Kate's gaze, honest and eager and very much in love, rested on his face. She noticed for the thousandth time the way his crisp jet black hair curled above his forehead. The way his arrogant nostrils dilated when he inhaled his cigaret. The quick gestures of his well-kept, nervous hands. The movement of his surprisingly blue eyes that seemed to take in everything.

She watched him crush out his cigaret, saw that he was going to speak. Waited.

"Kate," he said, "how about my coming out Monday night? About 8?"

"Monday?" repeated Kate blankly. She had the dimly dawning feeling that a whole week-end had toppled about her ears, raising bumps. "Why—why yes, Morgan," she answered. "I'm not doing anything at all Monday night."

She thought, "Maybe he's going out of town on business." But his next words corrected that.

"The Ellwells have a visitor," he said, still not looking at her. "Eve's asked me for dinner to-night. There's something else planned for Saturday and Sunday—"

"I'm not sure what, but Eve asked me to keep both nights open."

"Oh," Kate said. She felt her cheeks growing hot with anger. Quite inconsistently the anger was all directed against Eve Ellwell. Eve knew how things were between Kate and Morgan Prentiss. She knew they were engaged, even though it had never been announced. Kate wore Morgan's fraternity pin in lieu of a ring, and she'd given up all her other beads for him. This, to a southern girl reared in southern traditions, was the public mark of surrender.

With an effort, Kate smiled at Morgan. "Well," she said, "when the college girls come home for vacation I'll bring up the old town considerably. This girl goes to Sweet Briar with Eve, doesn't she?"

MORGAN nodded. "Name's Barbara Lodge. From St. Paul. Quite a looker. She and Eve got in just about an hour ago. Eve was showing her the town before they went home to unpack."

"I guess they were in stitches over our rustic Main street," Kate remarked, with quick and thrusting intuition. "Eve always acts as if Shelby convulses her when she's showing it to a visitor."

"Well," said Morgan defensively, "Eve's been around, you know. The new postoffice couldn't possibly look as big to her as it does to the rest of us."

Kate finished her drink and looked at her watch. She had no need for hurry but she suddenly longed to be dashing off to some important appointment, leaving Morgan impressed and curious. However, she could think of nothing interesting to call her away. No civic enterprise needed her. No young men were pining for a sight of her. She had, a year ago at least, let them know that she was interested only in Morgan Prentiss. She had burned her bridges. Morgan, strange to say, seemed not quite to have burned his.

"Well," she said, rising, hating the prosaic excuse, "I must go back and finish my shopping."

"How's Caroline?" he asked, walking to the door beside her. His polite, impersonal tone made her think suddenly, "He doesn't care a damn how Caroline is. He's just breaking off our conversation."

She answered primly, "Caroline's fine, thank you. Goodby and thanks for the little get-together. I hope I haven't wasted too much of your time."

"Stuff and nonsense!" he retorted quickly. "As if I could use my time any better than being with you!"

Over in the public square she saw a familiar old bay horse hitched to a familiar phaeton. "Granddad's in town," she murmured in faint surprise. But the significance of the conveyance did not reach her. She was too deeply engrossed with thoughts of Morgan Prentiss.

(To Be Continued)

ALLEY OOP

By HAMLIN

ON TEXAS FARMS

Farm timber resources are coming into recognition in East Texas; it appears by the interest of the 150 farmers who attended the recent demonstration by Extension agents of a portable sawmill on the J. A. Page farm in Titus County. Methods of stacking lumber for curing without warping, and chemical treatments were also demonstrated, in addition to the sawing of trees, logging them to the mill, sawing the logs, and planing the lumber. The 1,250 board feet produced during the two-day demonstration will be used by Mr. Page to make improvements to his farmstead.

silos in Wood county in 1937 if a now growing interest in dairying in the county continues.

Inoculating cowpees at planting time produced 6,486 pounds of green vines per acre for C. W. Duncan, Cass county farmer. This was 1,716 pounds more than was produced on a plot where the seed was not inoculated, reports the county agricultural agent.

STINNETT.—"Since we use gas for lighting, the problem of having a light in the closet was one of the things that had to solve," Mrs. E. H. Guinn of Hutchinson county told Miss Lucile Chance, home demonstration agent.

"For $1.15 I bought a three cell flashlight which now hangs just even with the top of the door which throws a light all over the closet. Since it is out of the reach

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast

Bayer Tablets Dissolve Almost Instantly

In 2 seconds by stop watch, a genuine BAYER Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this glass happens in your stomach.

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get Genuine Bayer Aspirin

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take a real Bayer Aspirin tablet it starts to disintegrate as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly... headaches, neuralgia and neuritis pains start easing almost at once.

That's why millions never ask for aspirin by the name aspirin alone when they buy, but always say "BAYER ASPIRIN" and see that they get it.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

15c FOR A DOZEN
2 FULL DOZEN 25c
Virtually 1c a tablet

LOOK FOR THE BAYER CROSS

"OUT OUR WAY"

By William

cotton producers several million dollars in the near future.

Checks are being turned out in Washington at the rate of 40,000 a day to disburse the money received for certificates sold prior to the repealing of the Bankhead Act. The rate of payment to individual owners of certificates will be four cents a pound on about 17 per cent of the poundage submitted to the national pool since many of the certificates were still in the pool when the sale was closed.

COLLEGE STATION—Though Texas cotton contracts totaled about 735,000 for the years 1933, '34, and '35, there now remain unpaid only about 5,000 contracts. The principal cause for delay in clearing these contracts has been the getting of legal papers of estates in shape.

Any Old RAGS? Any Old SHOES

YOU REMEMBER THE MAN WHO SAID HE OWNED A SUIT FOR EVERY DAY IN THE WEEK -- THE ONE HE HAD ON. ALL OF US, THESE PAST YEARS, HAVE HAD TO MAKE OUR OLD SHOES AND HATS AND DRESSES DO DOUBLE DUTY -- WE'VE WORN THEM FOR MONTHS LONGER THAN USUAL SIMPLY TO SAVE MONEY.

NOW THAT THINGS ARE BRIGHTER, IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO TAKE STOCK AND STOCK UP. WHILE FALL'S STILL YOUNG, INVEST IF YOU FEEL ABLE, IN A NEW SUIT, A NEW HAT, A NEW RUG FOR THE LIVING ROOM, PERHAPS A NEW REFRIGERATOR, OR A NEW VACUUM CLEANER! PRICES ARE LIKELY TO BE LOWER THAN YOU EXPECT -- AND AFTER ALL, DON'T YOU DESERVE A CHANGE OF SCENERY, PERSONAL AND HOUSEHOLD?

ONE WORD -- WATCH THE ADVERTISING IN THIS PAPER CAREFULLY BEFORE YOU BUY. REAL MONEY CAN BE SAVED BY JUDICIOUS BUYING -- AND JUDICIOUS BUYING IS OFTEN A MATTER OF FIRST READING THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS! READ THEM TODAY AND REAP...MORE FOR YOUR MONEY!

RANGER DAILY TIMES

ARCADIA Last Times Today ENTHRALLING! ENTHRALLING! STAR STUDIED TUNE THRILLING! DREAMY DELIGHTFUL ROMANTIC JOAN BLONDELL DICK POWELL WARREN WILLIAM 'Stage STRUCK' FRANK McHUGH 'The YACHT CLUB BOYS' Plus These Features 'Sport Magic' 'The Bully Frog' Paramount News

Society

ARRITTA DAVENPORT, Editor Office Phone 224 Residence Phone 668-W

Jack Davenport Visiting Parents Jack Davenport is here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Davenport, Spring Road, before leaving tomorrow for Kilgore. He has been at Shreveport, La., where he was engaged with a popular dance orchestra.

Mrs. Frank Haney Is Hostess Mrs. Frank Haney was hostess at her home, Illinois Pipeline camp Wednesday afternoon to members of the Cleaners class of First Baptist church.

Mrs. C. E. Maddocks Elected President of P.-T. A. Members of Young School Parent-Teacher Association added another successful meeting to its series of interesting sessions Tuesday afternoon and elected during the business period Mrs. C. E. Maddocks as president to succeed Mrs. H. D. Bishop, who has moved from Young Addition to another section of the city.

County Union Meeting In Ranger Tonight Representatives from Eastland and Cisco will be in Ranger tonight for the Christian Endeavor union meeting to be held at the First Christian church. A program has been arranged and the meeting promises to be a very pleasant one.

Attention, Mothers Mrs. Mae Healer asks mothers of pep squad members to meet at the high school Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, from which place they will motor to Weatherford for the Ranger-Weatherford game to be played at 7:30 o'clock.

Business Visitor Odella Bailey of Fort Worth is in Ranger this week transacting business in the interest of his company. The Baileys made this place their home until a few months ago, when Mr. Bailey was transferred into the head office.

Hallowe'en to Be Observed By Local Woodman Circle Chapter Hallowe'en, which usually proves gala and is widely observed will be taken advantage of this month by the local Julia Alexander grove No. 1954, Woodman circle chapter, according to plans made at the Wednesday afternoon meeting held at the IOOF hall and presided over by guardian, Mrs. Edna Williamson. The attendance was not so good since many members are confined to their homes suffering from colds.

Hallowe'en hostess names Mrs. Lena Patterson, with refreshment committee, Mrs. Ruby Greer, Eula Blackwell, Ava Nell Burks and entertainment committee composed of Mrs. Bessie Harris, Viola Cash and Mrs. Ruby Milburn.

Attending Manager's Meeting Dave Cooper, manager of J. C. Penney store, is in Abilene for the purpose of attending a two days meeting bringing together managers of the Penney stores in this district, totaling fifty.

Surprise Trip Into 'Dry Dock'

Like a fish out of water, this boat is helpless as it rests, high and dry, on the rocks of the Devon coast near Barnstaple, Eng. The craft, a fishing ketch, was tossed onto the rocks during a recent storm. Apparently intact, and with sails set, all it needs for navigation is water.

One hundred percent confidence in Ranger has been excellently proven by the Gentry Grocery and Market company, and as sufficient evidence an attractive change in their store arrangement offers special appeal to the grocery customer.

No doubt the first change to catch the eye is the handsome new floating cabinet, filled with the most complete line of meats one can imagine. Its clever design displays these cabinets glow with a soft, rich lustre, obtained only by an exclusive hand-finishing process.

New shelves come in for their share of mention finished with matching color design. Many minor details are to be completed later including grocery displays and general store arrangement. Friends and customers are enjoying their visits and the Gentrys are receiving many congratulations upon the successful undertaking.

Through the personal efforts of one man, Dr. A. W. Springs, the village of Dewmaine-Dolph, four miles away, has probably one of the most unusual WPA projects in the nation.

It was Dr. Springs who in 1930 organized a breadline for his fellow neighbors forced out of work through the shutdown of the last coal mine in the district. In 1932 Springs brought the first relief organization to the town and when WPA was organized he found sponsors for the project of reviving primitive industries.

Son of a half-breed Cherokee Indian and a slave-mother, Dr. Springs is unselfish in his efforts in behalf of his people. Educated at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., and the National Medical College of Chicago, Dr. Springs has spent two years at Dewmaine-Dolph.

Outstanding for his physical vigor, even at the age of 67, Dr. Springs has been the hero of two mine disasters in the region. In 1914, he aided in the rescue of 350 men trapped in a gas-filled mine at Royalton, Mine.

Three years after at the same mine he was credited with saving many lives through his speed and sureness in treating victims. He has gold medals from the bureau of mines and minerals from the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association for his work in the latter disaster.

Given much needed encouragement through the WPA aid to their primitive arts, citizens not employed in basket weaving, construction of swings and jumping ropes, building of corn-shuck furniture and the like, are working at road building jobs and construction work nearby.

Michigan Will Trap, Transplant Moose

HOUGHTON, Mich.—The moose population in Michigan's upper peninsula will be boosted again this winter, if plans of the Michigan State Conservation Department are approved by the National Parks Service.

Department officials are awaiting sanction to start a $6,000 project for transplanting moose from heavily populated Isle Royale to the Keweenaw peninsula of the Michigan mainland. The proposed program allows for the moving of 50 to 60 animals.

Trapping of live moose necessitates the isolation of a small crew on the island throughout the winter months. This crew sets the traps, takes care of the corrals and feeds the captured animals. In early spring the moose are taken to the mainland and released.

VISITOR IN RANGER D. E. Daniels, jovial manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., with headquarters at Mineral Wells, was in Ranger today on business. Daniels has been in the employ of the telephone company for a long time and is strong in his belief that times are better, and says if the weather holds off freezing for three or four weeks farmers and truckers will raise a crop of feed and produce since the rains started a week or so ago.

"Safe automobile driving taught in many schools." In our time we couldn't have our best girl accompany us during our homework.

By NEA Service IF you are trying to economize and would like to have a meatless meal that is distinctly different, try this mold of spinach and noodles.

It is a nourishing dish, to be sure, but so good that the family will eat their spinach—and like it. The noodles used in this casserole dish can be bought at any grocery and are described as "fine" in contrast to the "wide" variety.

With a well-flavored sauce it is quite delicious enough to serve at a guest luncheon in cool weather or for a Sunday night supper.

Florentine Mold for Six One cup chopped, cooked spinach, 3/4 cup thick white sauce, 1 egg, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cups cooked noodles. Grease a casserole thoroughly and put in a layer of noodles.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Grape juice, cereal, cream, soft cooked eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Creamed mushrooms on noodles, fruit salad on lettuce, chocolate cupcakes, tea, milk. DINNER: Tomato bouillon, Florentine mold with tart sauce, mixed vegetable salad with French dressing, fried apple pies, cheese, coffee.

Turn the mold out on a warmed platter and pour this sauce around it. Tart Sauce One cup medium white sauce, 1 tablespoon green pepper, minced, 1 teaspoon onion, minced, 1-4 cup Mayonnaise, 1-4 teaspoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons pepper relish, juice of 1-2 lemon. Make the white sauce of 2 tablespoons of butter, blended with 2 tablespoons of flour, and 1 cup of milk. Season with salt and pepper.

To the white sauce, add all the other ingredients and mix well. Serve piping hot. This amount will serve six adequately if other vegetable dishes are on the menu. For dessert fried apple pies would be nice. With a heavy main dish, such as this, a salad is in order. Instead of having other vegetables, a salad of mixed fall vegetables with French dressing would be excellent.

Every fire in this town costs YOU money. Help Prevent Fires and Insure with me for your own protection. C. E. MAY Insurance in All its Branches Including Life 214 Main St. Ranger, Texas

H. H. VAUGHN SERVICE STATION 100% T-P Products PINE AT AUSTIN Washing—Greasing—Storage

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES Texas Electric Service Co.

SIMPLICITY PATTERNS Every Pattern Guaranteed HASSEN COMPANY, Inc. Ranger, Texas

AMBULANCE SERVICE Killingsworth, Cox & Co. Ranger, Texas Phone 29, Night 303-J "Watch Our Windows"

Remember Us On that tank of Gas or Oil Texaco Gasoline Texaco Motor Oil Havoline Oil Pennzoil Cities Service Oil Quaker State Oil COME TO SEE US Al Tune & Son New Highway Just North of Main Street

Chiropractic Service By Aid of the New Radio-Clast Instrument We can easily find and measure perfectly your trouble; also what organism involved. No guess-work, but everything is scientifically measured. Chiropractor E. R. GREEN 434 Pine St. Phone 58

Make a Note of what you want insured, bring the memo to us at once, and we will issue a policy that protects you NOW! McRae Insurance Agency Gholson Hotel Ranger

IT PAYS TO LOOK WELL! Try us for your next Haircut, Shave, Shampoo, Massage, and all kinds of scalp treatments. GHOLSON BARBER SHOP L. E. GRAY, Owner

APARTMENTS for RENT 2-3 and 4 Rooms. Furnished or Unfurnished. JOSEPH FIRE PROOF APARTMENTS Apply Room 229 or Phone 521.

CLASSIFIED

0—LODGE NOTICES Stated meeting Ranger Royal Arch Masons on Thursday night at 7:30. All chapter members urged to attend. B. C. JOHNSON, Sec. R. E. HARRELL, H.P.

2—MALE HELP WANTED MAN—reliable, to become an automobile and accident claim adjuster in your territory. Insurance experience unnecessary. No selling. Write Associated Adjusters, Box 767-L, Milwaukee, Wis.

7—SPECIAL NOTICES FOR SALE—REAL chicken salad sandwiches. Yeager's Cafe, Strawn road. BROWN'S TRANSFER & STORAGE CO., BONDED, 111 S. Marston st., Ranger.

17 MONEY TO LEND on autos. C. E. Maddocks & Co. 12—WANTED TO BUY WILL BUY your mules. J. B. Ames, Ghoulson Hotel 18—For Sale, Miscellaneous PIANO FOR SALE—If you want a good piano, come look. 425 Mesquite. FURNISHED apartments for rent. 325 Elm street.

Shaggy Animal

HORIZONTAL Answer to Previous Puzzle 1 Buffalo or 5 Label. 8 11 formerly roamed North America in 13 Decays. 14 Domesticates. 16 Debatable. 17 Data. 18 Courtesy title. 19 Peak. 21 Tiny vegetable 22 Small herds are found in Park. 26 Last. 27 Opposed to lee 28 Confection. 29 White lie. 31 To impel. 32 Tardier. 34 Musical note. 35 Far away. 37 Toward. 38 To boast. 40 Sound of dis-

12 To pierce with a knife. 14 Money drawer 15 Drunkards. 18 To kill. 20 Kettle. 23 Makes dear. 24 Scripture. 25 Nay. 26 Food. 28 Brief. 29 Distant. 30 Wager. 32 To loiter. 33 To steal. 36 To affix. 38 Proffer. 39 Bugle plant. 40 Valiant man. 41 Social insect. 42 Ovary. 43 Seed covering. 44 Above. 45 Makes lace. 46 Small flap. 48 Verb. 49 Age. 51 Humor. 53 3,1416. 55 Afternoon.

Grid for Shaggy Animal puzzle with numbers 1-51.

NEW SOMETHING IN TIRES GOOD YEAR SURE GRIP Your car or truck will pull through anything with new Good Year SURE GRIP tires on the wheels. Get set now with this "go anywhere" tire for slippery driving. Ask for prices on your size. AS LOW AS 80c A WEEK

QUICK • MORE HEAT IS YOURS WITH A GOOD YEAR CAR HEATER NOW HERE—5 Great New Models 62c WEEK UP

GOOD YEAR SERVICE STORES J. W. McKinney Lee Russell 108 S. Rusk St. Phone 40

CHEVROLET Anderson-Pruet Inc. Sales and Service Wrecker Service Phone 14

QUESTION!! If a jockey can make a horse fly, and a blacksmith with the fire fly, can a boarder make the butterfly? When we get a "hurry-up" job on a car, we sure "fly" around until the work is finished and we do the work in a manner that is intended to make a steady customer. It's repeaters and boosters that count with us.

Gentry Grocery Is Entirely Remodeled

Former Rangerite Writes of Trip to The Pacific Coast F. A. Overholser, who for 17 years was a resident of Ranger, writes an interesting letter to the Times, in which he tells of a recent trip he and his family took. The letter follows: "We just returned from a 6,000-mile trip, going north from here to Hobbs, N. M., then west to the coast and south to Los Angeles and from there back home.

"Conditions in general were bad in most places, except along the coast. There we found considerable activity in the building line and people in general seemed to be in better spirits. "Hobbs is coming out of a slump caused some time ago by a big building strike and now looks like they might be going to make a town out of Hobbs. Don't think Texas got all the rain. I think we have had some 10 inches of rain the past month.

"Hope all are O. K. and doing well there. You know living there 17 years makes it seem somewhat like home. But as we are now away we are glad to get Ranger Times, and look forward to each issue, so please find attached check for one year more. "Yours very truly, "F. A. Overholser and Family"

Negro Village Is Trying Old Art

CARTERSVILLE, Ill.—Through the personal efforts of one man, Dr. A. W. Springs, the village of Dewmaine-Dolph, four miles away, has probably one of the most unusual WPA projects in the nation. The 1,500 population of Dewmaine-Dolph, all negroes either born in the deep South or with blood ties with the region, look upon Dr. Springs as their "chief citizen."

It was Dr. Springs who in 1930 organized a breadline for his fellow neighbors forced out of work through the shutdown of the last coal mine in the district. In 1932 Springs brought the first relief organization to the town and when WPA was organized he found sponsors for the project of reviving primitive industries.

Son of a half-breed Cherokee Indian and a slave-mother, Dr. Springs is unselfish in his efforts in behalf of his people. Educated at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., and the National Medical College of Chicago, Dr. Springs has spent two years at Dewmaine-Dolph. Outstanding for his physical vigor, even at the age of 67, Dr. Springs has been the hero of two mine disasters in the region. In 1914, he aided in the rescue of 350 men trapped in a gas-filled mine at Royalton, Mine.

Name of Firm Is Officially Changed

Announcement was made by D. Joseph today that since he has opened his furniture store in Ranger the firm name in the future shall be Joseph's Dry Goods—Furniture. The Joseph Dry Goods Co., "Ranger's Foremost Department Store," has been the official name of the firm for the past 15 years. The public is notified in the announcement that from now on the firm name is changed to Joseph's Dry Goods—Furniture.

MASONS TO MEET

Officers of the Ranger Royal Arch Masons announce that the regular meeting of that body will be held tonight at 7:30. The session will be called to order promptly at the above hour. All members are invited to attend. Visitors are welcome, according to the announcement.

Visit Brings Hint of Coughlin Quiz

Dispatches dealing with the visit of Cardinal Pacelli, above, papal state secretary, to the United States, were given added interest by speculation that the cardinal would probe political activities of the Rev. Charles Coughlin, "radio priest." Sources near the Vatican said the cardinal would examine "unofficially" the situation of the Roman Catholic church in the United States.

LOWE BROTHERS NEPTUNITE VARNISH STAIN Lowe Brothers Neptunite Varnish Stain. Finish last night, dry this morning. Cuts and scratches vanish as if by magic. Will not mar white. "Got everything in paint." BURTON-LINGO LUMBER CO. Telephone 61 Ranger

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Croscote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Croscote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Croscote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Croscote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)