POLICE SEIZE HUGE NARCOTIC HAUL TODAY

By United Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Police-men, disguised as criminals and aided by coastguardsmen and customs agents, sprang a trap on a smuggling mob today, captured three men and seized $150,000 worth of opium after a gun battle on the Brooklyn waterfront. One policeman was wounded.

The opium was brought here on the S. S. Ida, from Italy, and was transferred in the harbor to a launch at midnight during a rain-storm.

The smugglers thought that their own men were aboard the launch, but it was manned by policemen in disguise.

The climax came an hour later when the policemen took the cans of opium to the pier and kept the rendezvous with the smugglers' shore gang there. In setting the trap the who's area had been surrounded with federal and city agents. Fifteen authorities took part in the gun battle and more than 100 shots were fired.

The Ida, meanwhile, had proceeded to dock, in Hoboken, N. J., and it was reported that federal agents had boarded her and had taken off three more prisoners.

Nazi Protest On Roosevelt Choice For High Posts

By United Press
BERLIN, Jan. 6.—German nazis, criticizing the appointment of Felix Frankfurter to the United States Supreme Court as not in accord with the desires of the American people, charged today that President Roosevelt has shown that he was reconciled to leaving the office in 1940.

The official German News Agency, DNB, sounded the keynote for nazi denunciation of the appointment.

Continuing the apparent effort by nazis to isolate the president from the American people as a whole, the official news agency linked the appointments of Frank Murphy as attorney general, and Harry L. Hopkins as secretary of commerce with the appointment of Frankfurter and said that all were made in defiance of popular will.

CZECHS FIGHT HUNGARIANS IN LONG BATTLE

By United Press
BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 6.—An official announcement tonight said Hungarian troops had driven Czechoslovak soldiers and irregulars back across the frontier after an all-day battle with artillery, machine guns and tanks, near Munjacs.

The cabinet of Premier Imredy was called for an urgent meeting in the afternoon to take measures for the protection of the Hungarian frontier.

While the cabinet was in session, military advices from Munjacs said that Hungarian reinforcements had arrived and repulsed the Czechoslovak forces, which had attacked before dawn with tanks and machine guns.

Artillery fire, which damaged eight buildings in Munjacs, was resumed at 3 p. m., reportedly from Czech territory.

The clash between the opposing forces centered at Oroszrev, a suburb of Munjacs. Official Hungarian messages said four Hungarian officers, five Hungarian soldiers and five Czech soldiers were dead.

In addition, it was said, the Czechs carried several other dead behind their lines.

The fighting is considered an outgrowth of the recent dispute over the Czechoslovak-Hungarian frontier. Officials asserted that Czech troops and the unit of the Ukrainian free corps attacked the suburb with machine guns and tanks.

If they had missed the trail they might, with one misstep, plunge over the side of the canyon, 5000 feet in depth. Sally shivered.

throwing back the hood of her parka to listen. She heard it again, a long, high call—could someone else be lost in the storm, too?

"I'm going on," Sally said flatly. "You can come with me, or not—suit yourself." She plunged blindly ahead, using the thin wheel of each ski pole to feel her way...

"I tell you we can't go on," he yelled at her once more, and Sally stopped to look at him. Poor Corey, he couldn't take it, after all.

"Look!" Sally gasped. Coming toward them was the figure of a man. A figure that even in this moment was familiar, raising an arm to wave to them.

She thought of Dan. If only they had taken his advice. Dan who knew these mountains so well, who would not have missed the trail.

SHE was so weary now it really did not matter whether they kept on or not. It would have been much easier to have given up, much simpler.

Refugees Furnish Interesting Feature For March of Time

This year's most discussed motion picture, March of Time's "The Refugee—Today and Tomorrow," is to be shown in the Arcadia today. This is the picture which political columnists, editorial writers, scholars, churchmen, reporters, students of international affairs, radio, stage and screen stars have all joined to extol as "The most courageous piece of news reporting ever to reach the screen." Its vigorous analysis of the pathetic story of millions made homeless through persecution and war has shown March of Time's editors to be "uncompromising screen journalists in the presentation of truth."

In bringing this story to the screen, March of Time has allowed the refugee to speak for himself. actual conditions in war-torn China and Spain are pictured, and against this background is portrayed Nazi persecution of all those whose politics, religion or race differs from the new German theory. The civilized world's condemnation of Hitler barbarism is brought into sharp focus. In discussing pictorially the future status of these victims of terror, March of Time shows the difficulties facing the world in its attempt to find them their permanent homes. It shows what has been accomplished by refugees who have emigrated to Palestine. It reveals why, from their achievement, the world takes new hope for large-scale refugee resettlement. The film ends on the hopeful note that from these millions of oppressed—given the aid of the democracies protecting man's right to liberty—may grow a people who will contribute in great measure to world civilization and advancement.

How to Ease CHEST GOLD MISERY

FIRST—massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. This relieves and distress.

THEN—to make its long-continued action last even longer, spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

LONG AFTER sleep comes, VapoRub keeps working—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—clears air-passages—eases coughing—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over. VICKS VAPORUB
