Consumer Real Income Stages A Comeback In '38

MINNEAPOLIS—Mr. and Mrs. John Public enjoyed a substantial rise in their real income near the year-end, after witnessing a sharp decline in their spending power around mid-year, according to a monthly study of what people get and spend, made public here today by Investors Syndicate.

The Public's real income at the end of 1938 was 97 cents on the dollar of the same 1937 period. Their cash income was only 92 cents, compared with one dollar at the end of 1937, but their cash outgo, thanks to lower living costs, was only 95 cents contrasted with a dollar at the close of 1937.

The "real income" is not a mere subtraction of cash income from cash outgo, which would be an index of savings rather than real income, but an average relative figure of income and outgo designed to show how the cost of living affects the adjusted dollar income.

"Perhaps one of the best assurances of healthy business conditions during 1939," says the Investors Syndicate study "is found in the trends of cash incomes and prices since last summer. The cash income of consumers has continued to increase. The prices of things which the consumer buys have either remained unchanged or show actual decreases. During the early months of 1939, it seems safe to predict that consumers will enjoy a greater amount of spending power than at any time within many years."

"The wage dollar of 1937," states the Investors Syndicate study, "has returned to 94 cents, the salary dollar to 97 cents. Last July wages were only 87 cents compared with a dollar the same 1937 month. In the same month salaries were only 84 cents contrasted with one dollar a year earlier.

"Income from the sale of farm products, and business profits, near the finish of 1938 were 95 cents against a dollar a year before. This class of income, usually referred to as 'other income,' got down to 87 cents during July compared with one dollar in July, 1937.

"Income from investments remained the only laggard; only 66 cents was being received by investors, in the form of dividend and interest payments, for each one dollar they were receiving near the end of 1937. This investment income ended the year at its lowest level during 1938.

"All living expenses as the year neared its end averaged 95 cents compared with one dollar in the same 1937 period. This figure contrasts with the low of 94 cents for the year reached during October, 1938.

"Mrs. Public was able to buy the same amount and quality of food near the close of 1938 for 93 cents that she could purchase for one dollar at the 1937 year-end. The low level for her food bill in 1938 was reached in September, when 95 cents bought as much as one dollar in the like month of 1937.

"The apartment, cottage, flat or house as 1938 neared its finish cost only 97 cents compared with one dollar a year earlier. Thus housing accommodations hit their low levels for 1938 near the year's end.

"Clothing at the wind-up of the year was at its lowest levels during 1938. Mrs. Public could outfit her family for 94 cents against one dollar expended a year earlier.

"Medicines, movies, manicures and a long list of other items included in miscellaneous living costs were only 96 cents at the finish of 1938 compared with one dollar the same period of 1937. Such items during October hit a low of 94 cents compared with 100 cents for that same month the year before."

The train arrived at 4:18 p. m., and was met by Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Eastland Lions May Erect Signs On Highway One

Steps for the placing of signs inviting tourist members of the national organization to attend local meetings were taken Tuesday at the weekly luncheon of the Lions club at Connellee hotel.

W. Q. Verner of the sign committee reported that its members recommended erection of signs east and west of Eastland. The type of sign desired, it was told, was one eight by eight feet in dimension. Cost of two, with reflector buttons, would be $17.50.

The proposal was submitted to the finance committee to determine if sufficient funds were available.

Earl T. Williams, a new member, was introduced. T. C. Williams, county school superintendent, whose membership is in the Cisco Lions club, was a visitor.

Rev. J. I. Carlidge, president, urged 100 per cent attendance at future meetings. A plan was devised to provide that each member will be responsible for another's attendance. The person responsible for another's attendance will be fined.

R. S. Searls said he was to attend a Chamber of Commerce meeting concerning an Eastland golf course.

Relief Bill Given Right-Of-Way In The House Today

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The house agreed today to give the curtailed $725,000,000 relief bill right of way tomorrow and to end general debate at 2 p. m. Friday. This makes final action likely by late Friday.

President Roosevelt has asked for $875,000,000 to continue WPA until June 1, but the house appropriations subcommittee has cut the fund by $150,000,000.

The full committee will act on it tomorrow.

On the basis of present relief expenditures it was estimated that almost 500,000 of the 3,000,000 persons on WPA rolls would have to be dropped if the reduced fund is adopted.

The house agreed to meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow and Friday so the bill can be disposed of this week.

HARRY HOPKINS QUIZZED ABOUT CABINET POST

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Harry L. Hopkins today defended his political and economic belief and his record as administrator of the relief program before senators who are considering his nomination as secretary of commerce.

Appearing before the senate commerce committee he met a barrage of questions, most of them from Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan.

Hopkins expressed regret he had made political speeches while serving as WPA administrator, an admission: "If I had the whole thing to do over again I would not make them."

"If the senate confirms me," he said, "it will do so knowing in advance that I am devoted to the cause of the president. I have tried to be loyal to him and it has been easy because I believe in him. I am on his team. That is the whole story."

Chairman Josiah W. Bailey, Democrat, North Carolina, replied that he did not deny Hopkins' right "to be on the team, but as the administrator of public funds I do deny your right to make political speeches."

Hopkins said the record of the Works Progress Administration was an open book and that he did everything he could to keep politics out of the program. He denied he ever had registered as a member of the socialist party.

Hopkins expressed belief that he would do a good job as secretary of commerce and said there was no ground for any major conflict between business and government.

Soil Conservation Contest of WTCC To Be Judged Soon

ABILENE, Texas.—The first annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Soil and Water Utilization contest closed December 31. All that remains to be done in this year's contest, which was entered by 108 West Texas counties representing 70,000,000 acres of farm and ranch land, is determining the winners.

Survey blanks on which participating counties will report 1938 accomplishments in soil and water conservation and utilization will be mailed soon and are to be returned to the WTCC by February 1. Counties previously have been asked to file reports showing conservation work done prior to 1938.

The contest will be judged by representatives of the WTCC, Texas Extension Service, Texas agricultural experiment stations, Texas Technological College, the farm press, Vocational Agriculture Department, Soil Conservation Service, and Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

First place county will receive $500, second place county will receive $300, and third place county will get $200. Winners will be announced at the WTCC annual convention in May. The prize money will be administered by the local soil and water utilization committees of the winning counties in promoting junior agricultural work.

"The winning counties will have substantial amounts of money with which to aid outstanding farm boys and girls in their work, but the chief benefit of the contest to any county is conservation of its soil and water resources. Many of the participating counties have shown wonderful accomplishments in the past year and every one of the 108 counties have benefitted materially," says Clifford B. Jones, Texas Tech president and chairman of the WTCC agricultural board.

Work for Four-H Youths This Year Told by Rosenberg

One hundred and sixty-eight boys have enrolled in Eastland County Boys' 4-H Clubs for 1939. Twelve clubs have already been organized, according to Sam E. Rosenberg, assistant county agent.

The clubs that have been organized are Morton Valley, Colony, New Hope, Gorman, Alameda, Lone Cedar, Ranger, Kokomo, Okra, Desdemona, Flatwood, and Hudnett-Grove. Plans are under way to organize Beys' 4-H Clubs at Romney and Carbon.

Among the one hundred and sixty-eight boys enrolled in 4-H club work, there are sixty-five boys planning to have swine demonstrations, twenty-three poultry demonstrations, forty-four peanut demonstrations, eighteen dairy demonstrations, eight beef calf demonstrations, eight other crop demonstrations, one turkey demonstration, and one rabbit demonstration.

The average size for the swine demonstration is one sow pig, says Rosenberg. The average size poultry demonstration recommended is one hundred baby chicks or twenty-five pullets. Crop demonstrations are usually from three to five acres. The average dairy demonstration for a 4-H club boy beginning this kind of demonstration is one dairy heifer. Beef cattle demonstrations may be composed of from one to three head of beef calves or for the boy starting into a beef cattle breeding demonstration he may select from one to three head of beef heifers.

Livestock demonstrations and feeding demonstrations are being encouraged, says Rosenberg. A livestock balance with the farm program to use home grown feeds is a more profitable route than the one cash crop system of farming.

Boys interested in 4-H club work who have not been in 4-H clubs or who have not enrolled in 4-H clubs for 1939 should write to Rosenberg, or see him at meetings of any of the organized clubs. If a boy lives in a community where no regular 4-H club has been organized he may enroll in the county-wide 4-H club.

Czechs, Hungarians In Another Clash Along the Border

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Jan. 11.—The Czech government today reported another skirmish with Hungarians along the border, where serious fighting occurred last week.

The Czech government charged that the Hungarians crossed the frontier. Shortly after the Hungarian government reportedly had threatened to invade the frontier to pursue attacks, if necessary, the Prague government said a band of 80 Hungarian terrorists attacked Czech frontier guards at the village of Beringkoi.

In two hours of fighting at least two Czechs were wounded, the government said.

ALLRED URGES EQUALIZATION OF SOME LAWS

By United Press

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—Gov. James Allred today urged the Texas legislature to equalize the penalties for crimes as he repeated his recommendations to the state's new law-making body.

The governor read to a joint session of house and senate his 42 page farewell message, reviewing his administration and offering suggestions for the future. The message already had been released for publication, with the exception of that part pertaining to criminal law.

"It seems to me," Allred said, "to be much better if in all cases if the penalties ranged from fines or jail sentences or both, up to a penitentiary sentence. Justice would be more evenly balanced if the state judges were allowed to determine the punishment rather than to leave it to the untrained and too-often uninformed verdicts of the juries."

Allred cited as inequities in the present law several cases where one defendant would get a life sentence and a companion in the same case would get the death penalty.

Suspended sentences in some cases, not now provided, were recommended.

His final message included a defense of the growing cost of government and the growing number of laws.

"Government is not so simple as it used to be," he said. "Quite frequently we hear the contrast between the low cost of government 20 or 30 years ago and the high cost today.

"But the fact of the matter is our growing population, our industrial development, our agricultural and other economic problems have made the task of government more difficult and more expensive."

Father of Eastland Man Dies Tuesday

ABILENE, Jan. 11.—C. W. Cecil, 56, oil operator, former dry goods merchant of Abilene and West Texas and father of Keith Cecil of Eastland, died Tuesday afternoon about 5:10 o'clock at the Hendrick hospital in Abilene. He had been ill for three months and in a critical condition for the past two weeks.

Born in Taswell county, Va., on July 25, 1882, he came to Texas in 1906 and settled in Quanah. In 1907 he opened a dry goods store in Olustee, Okla. He married Goldie Brown in 1909.

In 1910 the couple moved to Crowell and he opened a dry goods store there. In several years he expanded the store into a group of 10 stores in various towns of West Texas and Oklahoma.

He sold out his dry goods interests in 1927 and moved to Abilene. Here he opened a dry goods store, Cecil and Collier Dry Goods, on Chestnut street. Four years ago he retired as a dry goods merchant and entered business as an oil operator.

Up to the time of his illness he was active in leasing oil properties and contracting for drilling. He had holdings in Coke and Youkum counties and in New Mexico.

Freedom Is Not Unlimited

One of the most intelligent of all the recent comments on the free-speech-on the radio issue came the other day from Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

The American guarantee of freedom of speech, said Mr. Miller, does not compel any radio station to turn its air waves over to an orator who appeals to racial or religious prejudice. There is nothing in radio's social responsibilities, he added, which requires it to contribute to an assault on the harmony of the nation.

Mr. Miller mentioned no names and referred to no specific cases, but he pretty obviously had in mind the case of the New York station which refused to carry Father Coughlin's speeches and got picketed for its pains by a crowd of angry people who accused it of infringing on the right of free speech.

"The particular problem which we confront today is that of preserving the precious right of freedom of speech," remarked Mr. Miller. "However, the same constitution which guaranteed us freedom of speech also guaranteed us other rights, such as freedom of religion, and in protecting one right we must not violate other rights."

Mr. Miller has made an excellent point there, and the nation might well take time off to ponder over it a little. Freedom such as we Americans enjoy is a broad thing with no sharply defined limits. Perhaps the simplest way to define it is to say that it gives every man the right to speak or act absolutely as he pleases, provided that in so doing he does not infringe on the rights of others.

That means that freedom is not quite unlimited. Freedom of the press, for instance, does not give an editor the right to commit libel without paying for it. Political freedom does not give any citizen the right to get down on the floor of Congress and disrupt business by yelling his head off. The citizen's freedom to do as he pleases with his own property does not permit him to erect a slaughterhouse in his back yard, or to maintain a commercial building without due regard for the fire regulations.

And so it is with freedom of speech. You may have the right to say what you please; but if you elect to stir up race hatred and religious prejudice, you have no business trying to hide behind the freedom of speech clause. For you are using your kind of freedom to try to destroy another kind of freedom—and both are equally vital to the maintenance of the liberty we are used to.

Let that point be clearly understood. The American kind of liberty simply cannot survive if anti-Semitism is to be fomented here in the way it has been fomented in Germany. Tolerance is the greatest fundamental of our democracy. No conceivable right of free speech gives any man the right to try to destroy it.

The cotton surplus might be disposed of by stuffing it in the ears of southerners who are tired of hearing about "Dixie" Davis.

An Ex-Ranger Times Carrier Boy Visits Old Stamping Ground

Charlie Cooper, son of V. V. Cooper, Ranger, whose home is now at Tyler in the East Texas oil field, was a pleasant visitor in the composing room of the Times this morning.

Cooper in recounting some of the experiences as a news carrier stated that he had on more than one occasion caught one of his buddies asleep and put printers ink on his hand and would then tickle his nose and "smear" the ink would be all over his face. Usually after that said Cooper, a fight would be staged.

Cooper was also telling another experience of one of the carriers when collecting for the paper. The boy presented his bill for $9 for a year's subscription and the customer, who happened to be one of the big shots for an oil company said "son I am paying up now and you will cancel my subscription as I have been transferred to some other state." Cooper stated the man was paying in advance and did not know it and as it was around Christmas and the boys were a little short of money the customer was never told the difference.

"Such a life, said Charlie, those were the good old days."

Cooper has recently lost two fingers off the right hand in an accident in the oil fields and hopes to be able to go back to work in February. In addition to being an expert carrier boy Cooper was also one of the main stays of the Bulldogs in those days and played alongside such players as Bus Mills, "Pud" Hammett, Ox Himman and others.

Chaperau Enters A Guilty Plea To Smuggling Charge

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Albert Chaperau, confessed smuggler, pleaded guilty today to indictments naming him on smuggling and conspiracy charges with Jack Benny, radio and screen comedian. Sentence was postponed until after Benny's trial, scheduled for Jan. 24. Chaperau and Benny were accused of smuggling two diamond clips and a diamond bracelet. Chaperau smuggled the gems into the county in his guise as a commercial attache of the Nicaraguan legation, which gave him immunity from search by customs agents.

British Bomber Has 295 MPH Speed

LONDON—Details of the fastest bomber yet in service with the Royal Air Force are revealed in a bulletin of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors. The bomber is the latest modified version of the Bristol-Blenheim monoplane, which is in large production in three factories. Hundreds of these formidable planes have been delivered to the squadrons. Ingenious changes in design give the new Blenheim a top speed of 295 miles an hour, a speed which would be noteworthy in a modern fighter but outstanding in a bomber. This performance is said to have been obtained without sacrifice of essential and basic bombing requirements. Carrying full military load, the modified Blenheim will fly non-stop 1,900 miles. Power is supplied by two Bristol-Mercury VIII air-cooled engines merged into the wing contour which drive controllable-pitch airscrews. Much of the enhanced performance results from the adaptation of the engines to a high-grade fuel.

Woman Opposes Felix Frankfurter For Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of the book, 'The Red Network,' asked a judiciary sub-committee today to reject Prof. Felix Frankfurter for the supreme court. She charged that he had been a principal aide to the revolutionary movement in the United States. Mrs. Dilling, who described herself as an anti-red worker, told the committee Frankfurter was disqualified because of his connection with the American Civil Liberties Union.

"OUT OUR WAY" By Williams

SERIAL STORY NO TIME TO MARRY BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Yesterday, Lance breaks the bad news to Janet but she remembers something she knows Lance doesn't even guess. Later, she is to recall this with bitter amusement. CHAPTER IV JANET watched three dead leaves flutter down to the ground at her feet before she spoke again. 'Well,' she said at last, almost gayly from her secret knowledge that all this didn't really matter, 'at least we can still eat.' 'Eat? But, Jan, you don't understand. I had budgeted everything on the basis of the salary I was getting—the payments on the house, running expenses, insurance, service, entertainment—' 'Well, surely we might manage for awhile without entertainment—and you can skip the item for service. . . Or do you imagine I'm too dumb to learn to cook? Why, Lance, it would be play in that lamb of a kitchen!' 'Let my wife scrub and stand over a hot stove? I couldn't bear that, Jan—your lovely hands!' His lips on her finger tips were angry. 'Besides, what would people think?' 'I didn't know you intended me for a museum piece,' Janet said, and was sorry when she saw the misery in his eyes. 'If it only weren't for the payments on the house, we could live as well, suitably—on what I'll still be earning. . . If only the house were paid for, Jan!' 'I'll tell him now, Janet thought. She must word it carefully in order not to wound that hot pride of his. THE excitement of anticipating his surprise made her words stumble a little. 'Lance,' she began, 'there's something I've never told you. If you'll let me, I can help.' 'I don't understand,' he said after the briefest of intervals. He did not turn toward her. Indeed, he did not move at all. Yet in his very stillness she sensed something that puzzled her. It was—why, it was almost like anticipation—as if already he knew what she was about to say, and still wanted very much to hear it. But that was nonsense, of course. 'I have some money, Lance,' she went on. 'It isn't a lot; but the income must be enough to make the payments on the house until—until times are better. If you'll let me, I'd love to.' 'When he did not answer at once, she hurried on. 'After all, it is our house, isn't it?' She hardly knew just when understanding came to her, or why. Perhaps it was because of the very der to hit and kill one of these animals. I have seen cars drive on the wrong side of the highway in order to kill opossums and a coon, and I am sure that other cases can be cited. It seems that most drivers will try to miss skunks, because of the after affects, but at that there were 114 skunks killed in this period that records were kept. These records cover Brown, Coleman, Comanche, Callahan, Eastland and Erath counties. Here are a few figures on the number of birds and animals that were killed: 114 skunks, 2 coons, 51 opossums, 165 jackrabbits, 31 armadillos, 134 cotton tails, 7 fox, 3 doves, 3 cardinals, 1 barn owl, 1 great horned owl, 25 house cats, 2 road runners, State Game Warden Frank O. Etheredge made the following counts during November and December: 25 opossums, 48 skunks, 93 jackrabbits, 144 cotton-tails, 18 armadillos, 12 house cats, 1 quail, 2 road runners and 4 field larks. In this count there were 783 individuals killed in a period of seven months over 22,133 miles, or an average of one individual killed every 28.26. This count could not be called complete but it will give an idea as to the number that one driver will go out of his way in or-

JOHN T. FLYNN

APPARENTLY some people are sold on the idea of the new trick bookkeeping which the President is playing with in order to abolish the deficit. Readers write to defend the plan. But they overlook a most important factor. The plan is to keep the government books in such a way that all expenditures for the current operation of the government would be put down as expenditures, but all expenditures made to increase the plant of the country would be called investment and not expenditure. In the same way it is said if the government puts out money on its plant in such a way as to increase the earning power of the country, then the money thus spent should be called investment and not expenditure. In looking this over, the citizen should be careful to keep in mind the difference between the government and the country. They are not the same. The country includes all the people. The government is merely one public agency set up to serve all the people in certain very limited areas. Everything that belongs to the government belongs to the people. But everything that belongs to the people does not belong to the government. If we were to keep a set of books on the business affairs of the people as a whole, the asset side would include all the wealth; the liability side would include the total obligations. The income side would include the total in-

With Our Wildlife BY JOHN R. WOOD, State Game Warden Birds and Mammals Killed On the Highways By Automobiles In the past seven months the author has kept a record of the birds and mammals that he has seen killed on the state highways by the fast moving automobiles. I am sure that everyone has driven down the highways and have seen the many rabbits, fur-bearing animals, and birds of several species lying in the road dead because they could not get out of the way of the traffic. Seeing these wildlife species along the road does not usually impress the average driver, because he does not see a large number and does not take into consideration that the same thing is happening along all the highways in the state. This is a serious problem and there seems that little can be done to remedy this situation unless each driver will do his part in trying in a small way to avoid killing these species. In many cases one can miss the animals with the least effort. The case usually is that the driver will go out of his way in or-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomachs, you get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.
