

INCOME TAXES IN STATE ARE ON AN UPTURN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones announced today that income payments to persons in Texas in 1939 totaled nearly $2,600,000,000, or about $401 per man, woman and child. Texas ranks thirty-second among all States in per capita income payments.

The recently completed study of per capita income payments by States, Secretary Jones pointed out, reveals that in the eleven years from 1929 through 1939 per capita income payments in Texas declined steadily from $462 in 1929, the peak year of prosperity, to $258 in 1933, the turning point of the depression. From 1933 through 1939 there has been a general improvement in the per capita averages.

Almost three-fifths of the $2,558,000,000 total paid out in the form of income to persons in Texas in 1939 took the form of salaries, wages and other labor income (direct and work relief and unemployed benefits, workmen's compensation, pension payments, and related items). More than one-sixth of the total went to owners of securities, mortgages, and real estate. One-fourth went to owners of unincorporated enterprises.

Salary and wage items declined in relative importance from 56 percent of total payments in 1929 to 53 percent in 1939. Other labor income increased in most years rising from 1 percent of total payments in 1929 to 6 percent in 1939. Entrepreneurial income (income of self-employed persons) from unincorporated business accounted for 19 to 28 percent of total payments in all years from 1929 through 1939. Dividends, interest and rents combined to contribute between 14 and 16 percent of total payments in the different years.

Figures compiled by the National Income Division of the Commerce Department reveal that Texas, with 4.88 percent of the Nation's population in 1939, had 3.65 percent of total income payments. Over the eleven-year period, per capita income in Texas was lower than in all States combined. The State figure was 32 percent below the national average in 1929, 31 percent under 1933, 24 percent under in 1938, and 25 percent below in 1939. This difference in levels is measured by a 1939 per capita figure of $401 for Texas as compared with $536 for the Nation as a whole. Improvement was marked relative to the experience of the Nation as a whole between 1933 and 1939.

Fifty-nine percent of income payments to persons in Texas in 1939 were labor income items, a proportion below the national figure of 67 percent. Entrepreneurial income accounted for 25 percent of total payments in the State in comparison with 17 percent for the Nation. Income from invested capital provided 16 percent of income payments, both for the State and the Nation as a whole.

A breakdown of the total amount of income payments to individuals in Texas in 1939 reveals $1,363,000,000 paid out for salaries and wages, $140,000,000 for other labor income, $649,000,000 for entrepreneurial withdrawals, and $407,000,000 for dividends, interest, and net rents and royalties.

In making public the State per capita income figures Secretary Jones explained they are essential to better business planning, since they aid in establishing markets and show the number of persons in a given area who share in the income.

Registration Day Sees 583 Sign Up In City of Ranger

Although Registration Day was a momentous one in Ranger, as well as throughout the nation, it passed uneventfully at both registering places, it was reported today.

Crowds of men within the draft ages swarmed the registration places early Wednesday morning, lines forming before the opening at 7 o'clock. By noon most of the registration had been completed.

A total of 583 was recorded at the City Hall, while 186 registered at Young School and 39 NYA enrollees were registered, bringing the total for Ranger to 583.

Olden P.-T.A. Has Meeting Wednes.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Olden school met at the school October 10 for regular business meeting. Mrs. Victor Ginn newly elected president, presided.

The association voted to have a P.-T. A. booth at the school Halloween carnival October 31. Announcement was made that the association will sell subscriptions to the Holland Magazine for part of the proceeds.

On October 24 the association will hold open house at the school at 7:30. T. C. Williams, county school superintendent, will present a film at that time.

Mrs. McEwen had charge of the program, which was on patriotism. Mr. Hagar spoke on Patriotism in the School and Rev. Kirkpatrick spoke on Patriotism in the Home.

Approximately 20 attended the meeting.

Morton Valley Has H.D. Club Meeting

Mrs. Jeff Laughlin was hostess to the Morton Valley Home Demonstration Club Tuesday, with the business session conducted by Mrs. W. A. McMahon, president.

The officers for the incoming year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. W. A. McMahon; vice president, Mrs. Thad Henderson; secretary, Mrs. Cecile Eubanks; treasurer, Mrs. Clint Jones; reporter, Mrs. T. L. Wheat; council delegate, Mrs. Josie K. Nix; parliamentarian, Mrs. Riley Gordon.

The exhibit chairman for the Eastland County Fair, Mrs. Thad Henderson, discussed the club exhibits for the fair.

Present: Meses. W. E. Tankersley, D. W. Funk, Riley Gordon, Burton Tankersley, Clint Jones, W. F. Crouch, Jeff Laughlin, Ted May, Cecile Eubanks, Thad Henderson, T. L. Wheat, W. A. McMahon, N. E. Jensen.

Eastland Will Be Host To County Federation Oct. 19

The Eastland County Federation of clubs will meet in Eastland Saturday, Oct. 19, with the Eastland Federated clubs as host for the conference which will begin at 2:30 at the Woman's club-house.

All the federated clubs of Eastland county, which make up the County Federation, are expected to have representatives at the meeting Saturday. Mrs. J. LeRoy Arnold of Eastland is the president and will have charge of the day's business.

Special Meeting of Carl Barnes Post Is To Be Held Tonight

An especially important meeting of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion will be held tonight, it was announced today by Granville Jones, post commander, and all Legionnaires and ex-service men have been urged to attend.

Plans for formation of a Home Guard unit for Ranger will be discussed and it is expected that suggestions for company officers will be made at the meeting.

Eastland County Girls Are Active At Denton School

DENTON, Oct. 17.—Eastland county is called home by ten girls at Texas State College for Women this year. Cisco and Eastland each are represented by three girls. Those from Eastland are Anne Clark, Nellie Miller, and Edith Rosenquest. From Cisco are Joy Miller, Betty Elda Clark, and Leola Isenhower. Mary Dell Stewart is from Gorman; Marie Monway, Ranger; Loretta Morris, Conway, Ranger; Loretta Morris, Desdemona.

Joy Miller, senior health and physical education major, has been appointed chairman of the student section of the Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Joy is an outstanding student at TSCW. She is a member of the Women's Recreational Association, Professional Club, and the Dance Club.

Edith Rosenquest last week was one of the busiest students on the campus. She was arranging the dinner and dance given by the TSCW seniors in honor of the Oklahoma University band. Each year the band visits the campus the day before the Texas U.-Oklahoma U. football game. Seniors entertain them, and Edith, who is senior class president, was in charge of the arrangements.

Several Eastland County students visited this week-end. Nellie Miller spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller of Eastland. Nellie is a junior in the college, majoring in merchandising.

Anne Clark, junior from Eastland, and her roommate, Mary Tomlinson, visited in Ardmore, Oklahoma. Betty Elda Clark met her mother, Mrs. F. E. Clark, and sisters in Fort Worth for the week-end. Betty is a senior vocational home economics major from Cisco.

Marise Chastain, Ranger girl now attending Oklahoma University, visited Marie Conway and other TSCW friends, Sunday.

Leola Isenhower, senior from Cisco, has joined the Sociology Club. Leola is a sociology major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Isenhower.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Price of Ranger visited their granddaughter, Sarah Jane Wynne, TSCW sophomore, Sunday. Although she lives in Boulder, Colorado, Sarah is well-known in Ranger.

Two Eastland county girls are on the Daedalian Annual (college yearbook) staff this year. Mary Dell Stewart is the sports editor. She is a senior physical education major from Gorman. Mary Alice Brown, Desdemona, is sophomore editor.

Tidbits of interest to Eastland county: Dr. C. D. Judd, once county superintendent of education in the TSCW government department. June Hyer, formerly of Eastland and now from Coleman, is student assistant in the physics department. Edna Clarke, who lived in Eastland for years, has withdrawn from school since her parents were injured in an accident a few weeks ago. Seen along TSCW street. Loretta Morris, hurray to class. Riddolph Dolgener, from Cisco, strolling with Leola Isenhower and her brother. A big blue car with a Rising Star tag on it. occupants unknown.

Legionnaires and Their Ladies To Meet At Albany

SWEETWATER, Oct. 17.—Reports of the National convention at Boston and discussion of Legion-sponsored home defense guards will feature the Seventeenth District meeting of the American Legion and ladies auxiliary at Albany next Saturday and Sunday, it has been announced by George D. Barber of Sweetwater, District Commander.

Among distinguished guests to appear on the program are Hon. Sam Russell of Stephenville, Congressman-nominee of the seventeenth district; Hon. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, state senator-nominee of the twenty-fourth district, both Legionnaires; and Mrs. M. H. Ehlert of Brenham, state president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The District Commander is to award a Legion wall plaque to every Post in the district that has reached its quota. Moran has already notified the donor that it will collect at the Albany session, and several other Posts may do likewise. The seventeenth exceeded its quota last year by more than 100 members and the goal this year is 200 in excess of the set quota.

Ranger's Real Pioneer Citizen To Have Open House Friday Afternoon An Evening on Her 90th Birthday

Editor's Note: Mrs. Martha Payne Rawls, who is 90 years of age Friday, has probably lived in Eastland County longer than any living citizen of the County. Friday she celebrates the 90th birthday anniversary in a long and useful life with an open house during the afternoon and evening, to which her multitude of friends is invited. The following account of her life was written for this paper by Mrs. Hagaman.

By Emma Whittington Hagaman Mrs. Martha Payne Rawls will keep open house in the afternoon and evening on Friday, October 18th, at her home on Cypress Street, celebrating her ninetieth birthday.

The life of this remarkable woman reads like a Pollyanna romance. Born in Tyler, Texas, October 18, 1850, the span of her life stretches from the days of the ox-cart and covered wagon to the train; from the train to the automobile, and from the automobile to the airplane. In her lifetime she has known four "registration days." First as a girl of 11, she saw the boys of Texas march away to the tune of Dixie to fight under the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy. Often have I heard her tell how the home-folks would wait eagerly for news of the war "at the front" and that often she was the messenger to carry the news to the neighbors and friends. Early in life, Martha Payne learned to share the sadness and suffering of her friends as the message she carried them was most often of the sickness or death of their soldier boys.

Then as a woman still under 50, Martha Rawls saw the Texas boys answer the call of the Spanish-American War. Again in 1917, she saw her grandsons and the sons of her many friends register for service in defense of their country. Many who answered the "last roll call" then were lads whom she had known. Again just Wednesday of this week she saw the last "Registration Day."

It is given to only a few to live from the ox-cart to the automobile; from the "tallow dip" to the electric light; from the log school to the modern public schools and universities; from the pony express to the radio. Such has been the interesting life of this remarkable woman as she has watched Texas expand and develop from the Sabine to the Great Plains.

Why Not a Flag On the Derrick?

All Day Wednesday, Registration Day, a flag flew from the top of the derrick at the foot of Main Street, causing much comment. Flags were flown throughout the city, but the one on the derrick created more attention than all the others.

Which brings up the thought that if the flag created so much attention wouldn't it be a good idea to keep a flag flying from the top of the derrick each day? This is a project that would be ideal for the Carl Barnes Post, or the Elks or the Chamber of Commerce, and one which would cost but little. No doubt public donations would be readily made that would defray the entire expense.

A larger, heavier flag should be obtained, if the suggestion is adopted, and a short flagpole should be erected on top of the derrick, so the flag could be raised each morning and lowered at sunset. The Ranger Police Department has volunteered to see that the flag is properly displayed if such arrangements are made.

The flag pole could be built and the fittings attached by the boys in the NYA woodshop, the police would raise and lower the flag, so there would be very little expense attached to the project, and it would be one that would create much favorable comment and which would attract wide attention.

In times as troubled as the present, every time the United States Flag is displayed prominently it is a reminder that this is still a free country, unhampered by threats of dictatorship and where everyone is allowed to worship as he pleases and where freedom of speech is still known and appreciated.

At least the suggestion seems worthy of some thought.

Ranger Woman Is a Sister to Mother In Typical Family

Mrs. Gus Rasco of Ranger is a sister of Mrs. D. R. Leathers of Donley County, who, with her family, was chosen as the most typical in the United States.

Mrs. Rasco has received word from her sister that the family will make a second visit to New York, this time by plane, and that the family has been given a furnished home, an automobile, clothing, money and many valuable gifts.

The Leathers family, consisting of the father, mother and two children, were chosen as the typical West Texas family, and received a free trip to the New York World's Fair.

Thompson Flays Oil Body Critics

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson today replied to criticism of the state railroad commission for allowing increased oil production by suggestion that the oil men consider their situation under state control compared with that of cotton farmers under federal regulations.

The criticism had been made by David G. Gray, executive vice-president of the North Texas Oil & Gas association, Thompson said.

"This attack comes with ill grace from Mr. Gray since he personally appeared before the railroad commission recently as a witness asking for an increase in the allowable production of the KMA and Hull-Silk fields."

Thompson said the complaint was made before the stripper well association. "Certainly the stripper well owners cannot complain" Thompson said. "They get their allocation first of all they can produce up to the marginal well amount. Then whatever is left is allocated to remaining wells in the state."

"There are 95,000 oil wells in Texas and I know of only three that are having difficulty finding a market. Two of these three are trucking their oil to a pipe line."

Volley Ball Games Will Start Tonight At Corral Center

Volley ball fans who have been awaiting the inter-city games to be played at the Corral Community Center may see their first match tonight at 8:00 o'clock. A men's team from Mineral Wells and possibly one from Cisco will be here to play the Ranger team.

The Mineral Wells and Cisco teams are independently organized teams and the Ranger team is composed chiefly of directors from the Ranger WPA Recreation Project. There are also several other teams being organized in Ranger and it is expected that the competition in the tournament which will begin the first of next month will be quite strong.

Any teams wishing to practice tonight will have facilities available between the hours of six and ten o'clock.

THE WEATHER WEST TEXAS—Fair tonight and Friday. Cloudiness southwest. Little change in temperature.

Eastland Girl Is A Sorority Pledge

Miss Jane Ferguson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Ferguson, 1018 South Seaman, was named recently a member of the Texas Mu Chapter of Alpha Chi, national scholarship organization, by the scholarship committee of Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth.

She is among 25 students named who represent approximately the highest ranking 10 per cent of the membership of the junior and senior classes, with ratings based upon grade indices.

Miss Ferguson, major at Texas Wesleyan, is a music major. She will have a part in the Polytechnic-Texas Women's - Texas Wesleyan College Homecoming on the campus November 1, 2 and 3.

GERMANS AND BRITISH HIT AT EACH OTHER IN RENEWED AIR ATTACKS

L. R. Pearson Is Speaker at Rotary Meeting Wednes.

L. R. Pearson had the Rotary program yesterday and addressed the group on the "Texas Pension System." He traced the idea of disbursing public monies from the beginning of the constitution and the addition of the amendments which have created the schedule Texas is operating under today. The four to which he gave the most discussion were: First: Confederate Soldiers Pension. Second: Needy Blind and Destitute Children. Third: Teacher Retirement System. Fourth: Old Age Assistance Program.

Visitors Wednesday were: Rotarian Gary L. Smith of Cisco; Alvin-Alfred Assistant Safety Director for the Lone Star Gas Company, of Dallas, and Miss Doris Stanton of Olden, who represented the Girls' NYA School.

Texas Pioneer Passes Away At Eastland Home

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Eastland Methodist church for George Pace, 82, who died Wednesday afternoon at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. J. T. Cooper, 903 South Bassett street. Rev. P. W. Walker, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services. Hamner's Funeral Service had charge of the body. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery.

Born in Jefferson county Missouri on Oct. 16, 1858, George William Pace moved with his family to Fannin county, Texas, in 1868. Later he moved to Stephens county where he was married in February 1879 to Miss Martha Blocker. Nine children were born to this union, two dying in infancy and two others passing away after they were grown. His wife died a number of years ago.

Mr. Pace resided in Pecos county for some time. Later he moved to Ranger where he was engaged in the grocery business for several years. From Ranger he moved to Eastland where he had resided for the past eight years. He died on his birthday.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters and two sons: Mrs. W. T. Cunningham, Denton; Mrs. W. C. Marlow, Monahan; Mrs. Jodia Powers, Dallas; W. M. Pace, Ranger; and J. W. Pace, Midland.

There are also surviving 19 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren. The grand sons acted as pallbearers.

Draft Shows How Democracies Can Speed Up Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Dr. Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and newly appointed head of the draft, said today that the success in registering more than 16,000,000 men for the draft Wednesday shows that democracy can work efficiently and fast when necessary.

In the meantime, at Austin, Texas National Guard officers argued before the State Supreme Court for the right to maintain their civil offices when called out for one year of training next month.

Those affected include Orville Carpenter, unemployment compensation director; Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, and Sen. Franklin Spears.

Wilkie Demanding More British Aid

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—Wendell Wilkie, republican nominee for president, today demanded that President Roosevelt send further aid to Great Britain. Wilkie stated that the president claims material which could be sent to Britain is already on hand.

Except for heavy bombing raids by both the British and the Germans, the war today assumed an atmosphere of watching and waiting, with Russia still the major key to any future developments.

The Royal Air Force bombers reported heavy damage at the German-occupied French port of Brest and sinking of all five ships of a Nazi convoy. It was also reported that the Royal Air Force had made devastating raids on Bremen, the Kiel Canal and other vital German cities.

The Germans declared that they had struck back at London, despite poor flying weather, and returning pilots said that the district northwest of London's famed Waterloo Bridge is a "mass of blue flames."

Russia's army newspaper reported that the British were checkmating Germany's air raids upon England and were able to strike back effective blows against the Germans, and expressed the opinion that Hitler's offensive against the British Isles had failed.

Turkey grew more confident that Russia will help them protect the Dardanelles, if the axis powers threaten that outlet to the sea. This was expected, partly because of reports that the Germans were shipping submarine parts down the Danube River to the Black Sea, where they were being re-assembled, apparently for an attack upon the Eastern Mediterranean.

The Germans said that a Stuka bomber hit a submerged British submarine in the English Channel today, apparently sinking it and claimed that the British air losses since Oct. 6 had been three times greater than that of the Germans.

Two thousand trucks were awaiting the opening of the famous Burma Road, supply line to China, so they could speed supplies to the Chinese forces at Chungking. The Japanese have announced that when the road is opened to traffic it will be bombed from the air.

Chief Bars 'Reds' From Draft Board

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 17.—Police Chief H. F. Baker carried out his threat to prevent two men whom he described as "known communists," from serving as associate members of the Jefferson county advisory draft board.

Baker appeared at the registration place where the two men were stationed, and after a conference, the three drove away in the chief's automobile. Baker declined to comment on the incident.

The two men, members of the Port Arthur labor and trades council, did not report back for registration service, but one of them asserted that "you will hear more of this in court."

District Judge R. L. Murray, board chairman, had said the two men were among 150 persons who had volunteered and whose names had been submitted by the American Legion, veterans of foreign wars and the Beaumont and Port Arthur trades and labor councils.

Germany Claims Russian Friendship

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Adolf Hitler's newspaper, Voelischer Beobachter, reaffirmed the friendship of Germany and Russia today in commenting on a denial by Tass, the official Russian news agency, that Great Britain, Russia, Yugoslavia, Turkey and Greece had opened discussions on the Balkan situation.

"Since the conclusion of the German-Russian pact, nothing has occurred to affect the principles of the newly regulated relations of both states," the newspaper said. "On the contrary, the fundamental idea has proved so fruitful that the motives leading to its conclusion are even more timely now."

Siamese Ordered To Get Out of France

BANGKOK, Siam, Oct. 17.—The government today ordered all Siamese to leave France as anti-French demonstrations increased. There were demands for cessation of French Indo-China territory to Siam.

Farm Prosperity—
Made to Order

There's something a little nerve-racking about this thing they call the Farm Problem.

Primarily the objective of the farmer is pretty much the same as that of the man in the factory. Both want a fair return for their labor. But there is one difference: In addition to being a working man, the farmer is a business man in his own right, providing his own capital, shouldering his own overhead, seeking his own markets. And in that difference lies the Farm Problem.

When the depression came, the federal government decided that since both business, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the working man, through work-relief agencies, were being given governmental assistance, the farmer, as a combination of both, was entitled to some help. So Uncle Sam stepped in to see what could be done.

Well, here's what the situation looks like today: Of all the major crops in the United States, only two—soy beans and oats—are unsupported by federal loans. Soy bean farmers, however, are clamoring for governmental loans. And it may be only a question of time before oat-raisers decide that they better see about this pot-of-gold business.

The purpose of these loans? To keep prices up. Ordinarily, by the time a farmer harvests his crop, he is pretty nearly broke. He's got to unload and take what he can get to carry him through the winter and to pay off mortgages and interest.

But if Uncle Sam steps in and lets him have some money on account, based on the current market price of whatever he's raising, the farmer can store his produce until the market price rises.

It looks good, but there's one other side if the picture. The defense commission recently reported that one-third of the nation is under-nourished. And according to Bruce Catton, Washington columnist, the farmer's domestic market would be worth about a billion dollars more than it is today if every person were able to buy as much food as a family with an income of $100 a month normally buys.

Which means that everytime farm prices go up, under the current setup, the folks in the lower one-third can afford to buy just so much less of the food products they need. Which in turn means that surpluses increase, and prices must continue to be kept up by artificial means.

Where will it all end up? How long can American economy go on in this vicious circle? At best, it's a guess, and yours is as good as anyone else's.

It's seldom that you find a reckless driver who also is a wreckless driver.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Ever hear of "rock wool"? This rambler never had until a few days ago when E. H. Whitehead, alert and capable manager of the Temple Chamber of Commerce, mentioned the material and added that a big plant was located right there in Temple. As the name indicates, the product is a wool-like substance and is manufactured from lime rock. It is an insulating material. S. R. Edwards, president of the Edwards Insulation Company, remarked, paraphrasing Mark Twain: "Everybody talks about the weather—but we do something about it."

Placed inside the walls of homes and other buildings, rock wool makes them cooler in summer and easier to heat in winter. A thickness of less than four inches is equal to 117 inches of concrete or 56 inches of brick wall so far as insulation is concerned. The fluffy, fine-spun material also is fireproof as Edwards demonstrated by holding a lighted match to a handful.

In many sections of the United States, almost all new homes are being insulated and existing houses, when remodeled, also are thus improved. The Temple plant—and Edwards, though young, is a veteran of the industry and supervised the construction of the machinery—employs 22 workmen besides the office personnel and the sales force; and this Texas industry is growing steadily.

Here's a real antique for the "old joke" contest:

A little boy who was having supper at a neighbor's house was asked, "Will you have some molasses?" He replied, "How kin I have no' lasses when I ain't had no lasses yet?"

And my Cousin Frank's favorite (and only) joke is, was and (I fear) will be:

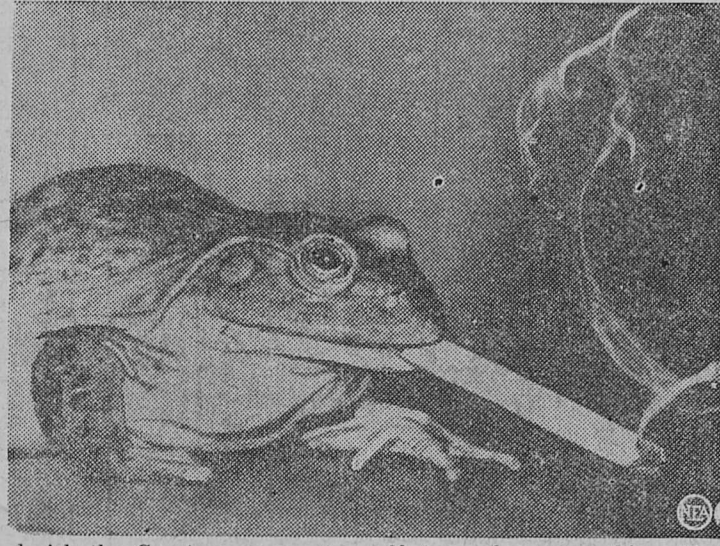

I have a goat without a nose. How does he smell? He smells awful. (So does that joke).

Designs A Motor To Run On Water

SPRINGFELL, O.—Using water instead of gasoline as "primary" fuel, a new type of motor has been developed by Harry L. Anderson, former railroad engineer.

The motor can be used in airplanes, locomotives and other machines, the inventor claims.

Motive power for the motor is developed in twin boilers. Steam is generated by electric coils in the first boiler and then passes through the second one, where it is supercharged before transmission to the compound turbine engines located in the wings of the plane or over the driving wheels of the locomotive.

A wind fan, located at the front of the plane or engine, operates a dynamo to create the required electricity for the heating coils in the boiler. The wind fan is operated automatically by the force of the wind when the plane or locomotive is in motion. When not in motion, the heating coils are fed from a standard starting device. Anderson describes his motor as a "form of perpetual motion" and claims it is silent as well as economical.

The motor can be made in various forms and sizes to meet the particular requirements of the various machines used, says Anderson.

Joseph's Features Newest Styles In Coats for Ladies

Goods of Ranger is showing the many advanced styles by Rothmoor. The Rothmoor coats are made for comfort as they are by all means fitted coats. Heavy, undiesome lapels have been pushed aside for a small neck line and none at all. Many styles give a more slenderizing effect. Materials are much lighter in weight but creation of new fabrics have made it possible to keep the same warmth and at the same time make these fabrics lighter. Black is by far the leading color or as it is more practical as well as being an alluring color to anyone. However tweeds are not to be forgotten as there are several who prefer them.

Joseph's is showing these coats in all sizes for any age.

Cowgirls To Be At Morton Valley

Scouter Tonahill, and the Texas Cowgirls, popular instrumental and vocal group from Fort Worth, will appear at 8 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 23, for a program in the Morton Valley high school.

The Cowgirls outfit is composed of five pretty young ladies who play fifteen different instruments. Three of the girls are teachers of their respective instruments and all five vocalize.

Dutch Larder Is Sufficient For Needs This Winter

By United Press
AMSTERDAM — Holland will come through the winter of 1940-41 without too great or too many hardships, according to all indications.

During the last two years, the Dutch economic departments piled up large stocks of the most essential foodstuffs as well as wool and textiles.

Naturally, the sudden reversion in the first weeks of May turned Holland, for the time being, from a seafaring nation into a country whose interest lies on Europe's continent. Holland, however, is not only a seafaring nation but also one of Europe's foremost agricultural and dairy producing areas. Since Germany also is taking over at good prices that what before May, 1940, went to Great Britain and other overseas places, it may be said that the Dutch farmer is not in need of new markets.

The Dutch farmer's great worry is that for the time being the support of fodder has ceased. Egg producers face the same difficulty, so it is likely that large numbers of cattle and chicken shall have to be sacrificed.

Although dairy farms are producing as usual, butter has been rationed drastically—250 grams per week per person—because Dutch authorities are preserving large stocks of butter, milk powder and condensed milk, fat and cheese for the coming winter.

In addition to Tonahill and the Cowgirls, Kay Lindsey, famous radio and stage comedienne, will appear in the hilarious role of "Shorty."

The Cowgirls are heard at 7 a. m. every week day from Radio station KGKO, 570 on the dial.

OUT OUR WAY

Meat soon will be rationed. Bread has been rationed for the last few months, but the amounts are more liberal, so that in many middle-class households the ration of 2,000 grams per week per person are not fully used. Laborers—normally heavy bread eaters—naturally consume all they get. Extra rations are permitted for those doing heavy manual labor.

If rye bread is taken instead of bread made of full wheat, an extra 25 per cent is allowed.

Vegetables and fruit are plentiful. Tea is scarce—only 50 grams per month per person—but coffee rations are somewhat more liberal—250 grams per month per person. However, householders cannot get both simultaneously.

Textiles and wools, as well as shoes, have been rationed, but the quantity is deemed sufficient.

Of coal and anthracite, 25 per cent of the winter supply have been distributed. If traffic permits, coal from Holland's own mines in Limburg will be forthcoming to warm the Dutch homes this winter.

Tobacco—especially cigarettes—are getting scarce. The dealers

By Williams Ranger Pioneer—

Mr. and Mrs. Rawls and their family came to Ranger in 1885—55 years ago. Mr. Rawls passed away November 4, 1894.

In the 55 years she has lived in Ranger, Mrs. Rawls has seen Ranger grow from a frontier village of a few hundred persons to a city of some thirty thousand in the days of the oil boom and then settle into a delightful home city of some five thousand. During her active years, Mrs. Rawls always took part in all activities to the welfare and progress of Ranger. Until the last few years she has taken an active part in the Baptist Church, of which she has been a member most of the years of her long life.

Mrs. Rawls keeps abreast with present day affairs and eagerly reads the daily papers for the latest "war news." She has read many of the late books and especially enjoyed "Gone With the Wind" and "and Tell of Time." These books deal with the lives and times of people she has known.

Dear Mother Rawls, we your friends who love you devotedly, have placed large orders in the Balkans for tobacco and it is expected that soon enough cigarettes will be available.

The housewives have more worries than before May, 1940, but they are happy they can provide enough for their families to keep them in good health, also—although according to law this is forbidden—both the Dutch and German authorities have closed their eyes to moderate hoarding and in most Dutch homes the cellars and lofts contain enough stock to see the family through the first war winter in Holland.

El Paso Has 15,000 Resident Aliens

By United Press
EL PASO, Tex.—For 18 years a resident of El Paso and for all practical purposes a legal American citizen, Jack W. Spittlehouse recently found himself locked out of the United States.

On his way back to El Paso from Juarez just across the Rio Grande Spittlehouse happened, in the course of a casual conversation, to tell an immigration officer he was a native of England.

That one statement kept him in Juarez for one week.

New immigration laws enacted this summer to prevent the seepage of undesirable aliens into America make it difficult for an alien to gain entrance into this country.

Technically, Spittlehouse was a citizen of England and, therefore, had to remain in the Mexican border town for seven days before officials could straighten the matter.

It cost him $10 and telegraph fees to get across the river. "It was worth it," Spittlehouse said. "Boy, am I glad to get back!"

The source of the trouble was his coming here after the World War to live and failing to take out the necessary citizenship papers.

wish that you may live to complete your Century of Progress.

A Lopsided Score of a Tie Game Is Always Expected When Lions And the Bulldogs Meet In Annual Grid Battle

The Brownwood High School Lions will play the Ranger Bulldogs at Bulldog Stadium Friday night.

And when these two teams

meet, the records of the past nine years show, one either wallops the socks off the other, or the game ends in a tie. This year should be no exception, with the Lions doing the walloping in a big way, if records of the two teams this year mean anything.

The Lions have played four games, in which only 15 points have been scored against them, while they have won three of their four starts against strong teams. In the meantime the Bulldogs have played four games, have failed to score and have been beaten not less than 40 to 0 in each start.

The records of the past nine years show that in the nine games played Ranger has easily won three, Brownwood has won three, even more easily, and three have been ties. Back in 1931 Ranger won 21 to 0, in 1933 the Bulldogs won 27 to 7 and in 1934 they won 44 to 0. Brownwood's wins have been by a score of 39 to 0 in 1935, by a score of 50 to 0 in 1936 and another big score, 46 to 0 in 1937.

The tie games were played in 1932, when the score was 14 to 14, and in 1938 and 1939 when the teams battled to scoreless ties.

From these figures it can be seen that Ranger has not scored on the Lions in five years.

The records of the two teams

Baptists Will Meet In Houston Nov. 12

HOUSTON—The City of Houston will be host to 15,000 delegates to the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Nov. 12 - 15. This year will not only celebrate the centennial anniversary of Baptist work in Houston but will also mark the close of the best year in the state for the denomination during the past two decades. During the intervening weeks, 3,088 Baptist churches will stress mission gifts in a campaign designated as "the October round-up" endeavoring to exceed this year's million dollar budget.

Two large auxiliary meetings will precede the convention proper. The woman's missionary union, will meet in two day session, and will feature the work among young people with a giant pageant the closing night when several hundred boys and girls will be honored.

The pastors' and laymen's conference will convene simultaneously. Three thousand outstanding Baptist ministers and laymen are expected to attend.

This season are as follows:

- Brownwood
 - 7—Sweetwater 2.
 - 7—San Angelo 0.
 - 26—Ballinger 0.
 - 0—Kerrville 13.
 - 42—Totals 15.

"She Man" Is Only Woman Instructor In Flight Classes

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—Prettiest cog in Uncle Sam's defense machine probably is Lucyle Richards, self-styled "she-man" who gave up "bronc busting" to become the Southwest's only female CAA flight instructor.

Miss Richards, of Houston, Tex., will teach flying at Lon Morris College, Jacksonville, Tex. She attended a special CAA school here preparatory to taking over her initial class of 10 students.

Only 30, this svelte blend of feminine brawn and beauty has already packed the action of ten persons into her crowded life. Before she started flying she thrilled Southwest rodeo audiences with trick and bronc riding, and fancy roping. She even tried bulldogging and steer riding—the two most dangerous of rodeo events.

Always easy to spot in the rodeo ring because of the white gardenia that splashed her raven-black hair, this rodeo favorite cut a bizarre figure around the world. She climaxed her rodeo career when she won the International bronc riding championship for women in London in 1934.

At that time she was touring with Tex Austin's famed rodeo troupe.

Today, however, the thrills of tanbark rings fade in comparison with the thrill of a perfectly executed Immelman, lazy S, or falling claf—all aerial maneuvers performed on a "sky horse." She learned flying from Jim Allison, flying soldier of fortune (now with the RAF in England), and Charlie Scholes, noted acrobat of the sky.

"It's just like trick riding," she explained. "All you have to do is keep your head and dash into it—careless like."

Experience teaching "dumb little society" girls how to ride horseback gave her the idea for flight instruction. "I knew if I could teach them, I wouldn't have any trouble with intelligent college students."

When the CAA accepted her application for flight instructor's position, she became one of only three or four women instructors in the country under the government program.

Miss Richards wants to become an internationally prominent pilot. She also wants to see how many different feats she can master. Already she excels in marksmanship, dancing, swimming, and skating.

The world series will be remembered for its beautiful Indian summer weather—with no Indians.

NIGHT COUGHS

YOUR CHILD'S coughing at night—caused by throat "tickles" or irritation, mouth breathing, or a cold—can often be prevented by rubbing the throat and chest with plenty of Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

VAPORUB'S SWIFT poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, clears air passages, tends to stop mouth breathing, and invites healing, restful sleep. Try it.

CHEANEY NEWS

The people are real busy around Cheaney harvesting their peanuts. The majority have finished threshing and all have their hay in good shape except just a few crops that were rained on after being dug and before they were threshed.

Hatley Dean had bad luck with his peanuts Monday. He was stacking them and had about three quarters of his crop stacked when fire broke out and burned all he had stacked.

J. F. Scott of Anson is at Cheaney, his old home, looking after his interests here.

Walter Underwood and J. F. Scott are visiting Ranger, Gorman and other towns today in the interest of a peanut market.

A gathering at the school house last night was entertained by County Superintendent Williams and County Agent E. V. Cook, of Eastland and Game Warden

Freckles and His Friends—By Blosser

Woods of Breckenridge. School is doing just fine on its 3rd week and the new building is nearing completion.

University Key Man Isn't Its President

AUSTIN, Texas—Key man of the University of Texas isn't President Homer P. Rahey—it's Chief Janitor Sam Kieschnick.

For 14 years head of the University's 35-man janitorial staff, Kieschnick has charge of more than 200 keys, including grand master keys that will unlock practically every door in the school's 46 buildings.

Absent-minded professors are Kieschnick's main "extra-curricular" duties. "Few professors," he said, "lost their keys, but I get frequent calls to open offices when they forget them."

SERIAL STORY

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Sidney meets police, Captain Plowman and Sergeant O'Conner. He reviews the case, then accompanies Plowman to the Jungle. Plowman finds footprints of a small dog. Later he discovers the key of the Jungle door, hidden in the mouth of the Honess. The gun that killed Adam is also found, in the upraised hand of the Orans, beside the door.

A LETTER FROM AFRICA

CHAPTER X

AFTER establishing his headquarters in the 18th century drawing room, Captain Plowman questioned each member of the house party. Braitwood, as their lawyer, was present throughout. The captain sent first for Nella Langdon. With a little tremulous sigh, the girl sank into a chair, her thin hands locked in nervous tension.

"Don't be upset, Miss Langdon," the big policeman reassured her. "This is all routine. I need your help to get at the facts."

"I understand," she murmured. Her account of what she had observed differed little from Sidney's except that she had arrived the day before he came and had observed a great change in Adam Langdon.

"I have never seen my uncle so depressed and nervous as he was when he reached home," she told the two men. "He brought a little while we were having coffee in the Jungle, and appeared more his usual self."

"What cheered him, now?" Plowman asked.

"Being with his old friends again, I imagine. They had christened the lioness he had shot 'Martha' and we laughed about her being a foil for the big old lion we'd named 'Lesencoff.'"

"Lesencoff? I have heard that name somewhere."

"Mr. Lesencoff directed Miss Hempfield's last play," Nella explained. "He left her in the middle of the season."

"I recall reading about that. Wasn't there a quarrel?"

"Lesencoff had ideas about what her vehicles should be which differed from her own," Sidney interrupted hastily. "Temperament, you see—on both sides."

"Does Lesencoff visit here week-ends, too?"

"No," Nella hesitated. "He and my uncle were never intimate."

"Did you happen to be standing near the closed door when Togi was putting in lights?" Plowman went on.

"I had been showing Mr. Gundrum the collection of weapons in the gunrack, near the door. Later, when I heard steps, I had crossed to the coffee table. I hear unusually well."

"Mr. Gundrum was your guest, then?" Plowman's manner had become paternal.

The girl flushed in embarrassment. "He and Mrs. Langdon were old friends. I hardly knew him," she said hastily.

"Old sweethearts, maybe?" "I object," Sidney interrupted again. "Miss Langdon said 'friends.'"

Plowman did not press the point, but sent at once for Patricia Langdon.

A PICTURE of modernity and sophistication, Pat entered quietly and answered Plowman's questions without emotion. It was impossible to believe that she a bride, had been tragically widowed within the evening.

"When Hugh Langdon called to your husband to remain in the Jungle and take care of the ladies, did Mr. Langdon cross to the table where you all sat and attempt to reassure you?" Plowman asked.

"He did not," Pat replied. "Nor did I hear Hugh call to my husband, though later Mr. Braitwood told me that he had."

"You didn't suspect he had been shot?"

"I did not," Pat's dark eyes blazed indignantly.

"Would it have been possible for a shot to have escaped your notice?"

"Yes, during the loudest crashes of thunder," Pat was cool, collected.

"Can you remember where each of the ladies sat?"

"I remained behind the coffee table. Miss Langdon sat next me, Miss Hempfield at the end of the table."

"Then no one moved?"

"I didn't say that, Captain Plowman. Miss Hempfield became nervous when the men did not return. We all did. Finally she insisted she couldn't endure the suspense any longer. She imagined someone had been hurt, and she had to know who it might have been."

"We tried to dissuade her, but she insisted upon going upstairs. I heard, rather than saw, her push back her chair. There was a flash of lightning then and I recall seeing her empty chair. Then came more terrific thunder, followed by a sharp scream."

"I was too terrified to move at first. I sat where I was until the men returned with candles and then I saw her lying at my husband's feet. I didn't realize he was dead."

"Do you know any motive for the crime, Mrs. Langdon?" Plowman pressed.

AGAIN Pat hesitated. "At the time my husband was on his hunting trip, there was some gossip about his having a secret purpose in going into the African jungle. One of his bearers said that he often slipped off alone. That is dangerous. I never believed the rumors. Adam has always hunted."

"Isn't it true that Mr. Gundrum was jealous of your husband?"

"It is not true," Pat replied through pale lips.

"Do you realize that Mr. Gundrum could have returned to the Jungle while the other men were upstairs? The valet was in the furnace room. Who was there to see what Gundrum was up to?"

The color drained from Pat's face, leaving it ghastly under two bright patches of rouge. "In the darkness either might have done just that. I do not believe they did," she said steadily.

"The valet had no motive," Plowman's blue eyes bored into Pat's.

"If you are construing my former engagement to Mr. Gundrum as a motive for a horrible crime, you are ridiculous. Our engagement was broken by mutual consent. Her eyes flashed anger.

"Frankness is best in these cases, Mrs. Langdon," Sidney cautioned. He did not want her to do any more building for Gundrum's story. There had been no agreement and Marta was sure to disprove anything but the truth.

"YOU are right," Pat seemed to have made a decision. "Frankness in fairness to both Miss Hempfield and Mr. Gundrum."

"While my husband was away Miss Hempfield decided that marriage would broaden her art. Her choice settled upon him, and she wrote him to that effect. Unfortunately for her plans, he was no longer free."

"How could you possibly know such a thing, Mrs. Langdon?" Sidney burst out.

"I not only know it, I have written proof of what I say." Pat's scarlet mouth pursed cruelly. "It's extraordinary how much Miss Hempfield's handwriting resembles my cousin's. The letter she wrote Adam was forwarded from Nairobi, and since there was a blot on the address, I thought it was from my cousin and opened it."

"I'll take the letter," Plowman said.
